"this period is rather large for the first school period. This is espe-

Safety In Numbers Was Not So Safe For Two Burglars

HUTCHINS, Texas.—Two young men who were here recently tell you the adage "safety in numbers" is wrong when it comes to incorrect telephone numbers.

The curiosity of a telephone operator led them to the conclusion.
At 3:30 o'clock one morning the operator received a call from a local store. A masculine voice gave her a number. The operator found there was no such number.
By then her curiosity was aroused.

"What are you doing in the store at this time of night?" she asked.

"Click!" replied the telephone.
She then called Bob Atwell, the store's owner, and reported the mysterious proceeding. Atwell hurried to his store, found $4 missing from the cash register and the place ransacked. With local officers he set out on a search.

Between Hutchins and Dallas they found two men in a parked automobile. One of the men had $4 in his possession. Atwell said the bills were folded as were the bills in his cash register.

The men were arrested, brought back to Hutchins, and required to call the vigilant operator. She said one of them sounded like the man who called her earlier from the store.

STATE MAY BE DIVIDED INTO NEW DISTRICTS

AUSTIN, Oct. 24.—The state of Texas may be carved into new senatorial districts to assure the return of Senator Archer Parr, who held a tenth of the state in almost federal control for a quarter of a century.

The topic has not been submitted to the legislature by the governor. She is considering it.

The proposed bill creates a new 27th senatorial district comprised of Hidalgo, Cameron, Brooks and Willacy counties, in which Parr lost by a majority vote. The 26th district is revised to include Duval and Webb counties, home of Parr, who was defeated this year.

In the proposed bill Palo Pinto county is redistricted with Archer, Clay, Throckmorton, Young, Jack,
Baylor, Wise and Parker counties.

Terracing Lines Can Be Run With Out Any Expense

Terracing projects in Eastland county can now be worked out with little, or no expense to the farmers, through the co-operation of the county relief administrator, it has been announced by J. C. Patterson, county agent.

Where as many as 20 farmers sign up to have as much as 1,000 acres of land terraced, the relief office will run the lines, furnishing all the labor for this work free of cost.

The farmers must agree to do the terracing themselves, and must agree to have it completed within six months in order to have the relief offices furnish the labor for running the lines.

More than 1,000 acres, but that is the minimum on which the relief office can furnish this work,

Tax Certificate Pool Will Close On November 10

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Tentative plans for closing the surplus cotton tax-exemption certificate pool for the receipt of surplus certificates on Nov. 10 were announced today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Purchase of certificates from the pool it was emphasized, would continue so long as the pool had certificates on hand.

E. L. Deal, manager of the pool, said it was felt that all holders of surplus certificates who wish to turn them into the pool will have had that opportunity by Nov. 10.
State allotment boards have been urged to assist producers who wish to turn in surplus certificates to

"OLD-TIME RELIGION PRAYER BAND"

We're a band of Christian women,
Working daily hand in hand;
Our name? I know you'll like it,
'Tis "The Old-Time Religion Prayer Band."

What are we working for? you ask us;
Not for honor, not for fame,
But to reverence our dear Master
And to glorify His name.

Wednesday we met to do some quilting;
Who it is for, you never can guess.
(For there are many quilts under construction)
But this one is for Johnnie, yes.

Just after we assembled, deliberating,
And wondering just where to begin
We were honored by a dedicated number by Dock,
"When the Saints Go Marching In."

Then those needles clinking, clinking;
Oh, those dear old quilting frames,
Holding a quilt for our dear Johnnie,
With its six hundred seventy-two names.

We had been praying, crying, shouting,
Singing, Scripture reading too;
It was a consecrated bunch of ladies,
All in all, about fifty-two.

We had a bountiful, beautiful luncheon,
Fried chicken, cakes, pies, all so good;
And our dear sweet Sister Scriven Invoked God's blessing on this food.

In the afternoon, when we were all worked down,
All feeling so tired and forlorn,
In came good Brother Meroney
With his arms full of bags of popcorn.

Some of us worked, some of us bossed,
Some looked on and smiled;
We were all proud to have a part
In this work for some mother's child.

The next day (Thursday) we met again;
We worked, sang, cried, and prayed;
We worked, and worked, and worked,
Till you'd think we never had played.

We sang some beautiful numbers
And as the music went around,
"Jesus Lover," "What a Friend,"
And "Amazing Grace, How Sweet the Sound."

"We'll Work Till Jesus Comes,"
What a beautiful sight to see,
"How Firm a Foundation"
And "Love Lifted Me."

"The Old-Time Religion,"
These all made the welkin ring;
What a joy it was to think and plan,
And love, and pray, and sing.

Even Pearl Hunt knew what it took
To keep us out of the old, old ruts,
For about 4:30 o'clock in he came
With a lot of popcorn and peanuts.

We don't want to be boastful,
(But our name's all over the land;
Our name? Yes, you'll like it,
'Tis "The Old-Time Religion Prayer Band.")

Appellate Court Held Hearing On Underpass Friday

Preferential consideration promising an early decision, will be given by the 11th Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland to the case involving a proposed Butternut-Cypress street railway underpass for Abilene.

Hearing on an appeal of 45 Abilene property owners, who sought an injunction in 42nd district to restrain the city of Abilene, the Texas & Pacific railroad company and the state highway commission from constructing the underpass, was held before the Eastland court Friday. Supreme Justice Judge J. E. Hickman and Associates O. C. Funderburk and W. P. Leslie were on the bench. Judge Milburn S. Long in district court at Abilene on October 13 refused the plaintiff an injunction and dissolved a temporary writ granted on October 6.

Three motions were placed before the Eastland court Friday by A. K. Doss and T. P. Davidson of Abilene, plaintiff counsel. One was for supersedeas of the judgment in district court, the second was to mandamus Judge Long to fix the amount of a supersedeas bond, and the third, an alternative motion, was for a writ of injunction to hold in abeyance of the underpass until the appeal is settled.

J. M. Wagstaff of Abilene, representing the T. & P., contended before the Eastland court that the plaintiffs did not have cause for action in the original application, and further for the reason that the temporary writ granted by Judge Long has expired. Wiley Caffey, of Abilene, also represented the defense at the hearing.

Protective relief was sought, the plaintiff counsel said, who cited cases wherein the authority of civil appeals courts was upheld in issuing an injunction similar to the one they were endeavoring to secure.

Watch it bubble up, then drink it. You will be amazed at the almost instant relief.

It is called Alka-Seltzer because it makes a sparkling alkaline drink, and as it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid.

After trying many brands of medicines—so-called relief for gas, and all of them a failure, I gave up hopes. By chance I tried Alka-Seltzer—I am more than satisfied. Geo. Bennett, New York, N. Y.

RANGER-ABILENE GAME
SATURDAY OF INTEREST TO ENTIRE OIL BELT

Barring upsets of the dope bucket District Two's football champion will be decided this week when the Eagles of Abilene High School fly into Ranger High's Bulldogs at Ranger Saturday afternoon. The Abilene Elephants, Bulldogs are taking their second crack at Oil Belt opposition.

Abilene and Ranger were picked in pre-season prognostications to control the situation in this sector. Both clubs received about the same rating at that time, but the Eagles are now being given the preeminence over the Saturday's rivals.

Not only have the Taylor county lads piled up huge scores on Coleman, Sweetwater and Wichita Falls, but they looked more impressive than did Ranger against two clubs that met them both, namely San Angelo and Lubbock.

Abilene Ties Lubbock
Lubbock High School's football squad, which ranks as number one contender for the Texas schoolboy gridiron title, whipped the Ranger eleven by a 27-14 margin three weeks ago. Abilene sent its Eagles out for a combat with the same Westerners, last Friday, and the teams fought to a 7-7 deadlock.

Both the Bulldogs and Eagles took San Angelo at the same clip, 19-0, but the Elephants tallied with more ease and looked stronger against the Bobcats than Ranger did.

Abilene boasts of a 175-pound line and a midget, but capable, backfield while the Canines have a fair front line and a heavy quartet of backs.

At the time Abilene was earning its 7-7 verdict with Lubbock the Ranger boys were administering an unmerciful 34-7 lashing to the Eastland Mavericks. The Mavericks had lost to Breckenridge 26-7 in their first conference tilt a week previous.

On Friday of this week the Eastland aggregation jaunts to Weatherford for an entanglement with the Kangaroos of that city in a non-conference scrap. The game should be a close affair.

Breckenridge and Cisco furnish the gridders for an Oil Belt struggle at Buckaroo Stadium Friday afternoon. The Buckaroos and Lobos, traditional rivals appear to be about evenly matched for this contest, according to their showings against Brownwood, and are due to wage a bitter fight. Saturday of last week the Bucks beat Brownwood 13-0. Cisco, eight days before, turned Brownwood back 14-0.

It was apparent in both games that the winning clubs could have made at least one more touchdown had it been needed. Dexter Shelley sent in his second string linemen when his Lobos had a first down along about Brownwood's 10-yard marker. They used up the allotted four downs after that and were still short of the goal line, giving the Lions an opportunity to kick the oval out of danger.

Breckenridge lost the ball on a fumble deep in Brownwood's territory in their conquest of the Lions Saturday, and Coach P. E. Shotwell kept his star quarterback, Stud Taylor, on the bench a good portion of the time.

Cisco took last week-end off, confining its activities to practice and scrimmage sessions.

The New Deal, it is reported, has cost only $1,000,000 since July 1, but there's so much yelling about it, you'd think those zeros meant something.

At least the government could make the women feel they're getting the New Deal cheap, if it reduced the figure to $999,999,999.98.

Copy of Almost Forgotten Portrait
Of Houston Found

HOUSTON.—A copy of an almost forgotten portrait of Gen. Sam Houston that had rested 82 years on the dusty shelves of an old New York print shop presented to Capt. W. B. Wood of the cruiser Houston during recent visit here.

The presentation was made officials of a welcoming committee during an intermission of formal ball for officers of cruiser that carried President Franklin D. Roosevelt to his cent trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

The portrait was found in New York by C. L. Plack of Aus whose hobby it is to collect things that reflects truly the spirit and purposes of the first Texas Governor.

While looking through the Printing shop of New York, he discovered an old lithograph from a daguerreotype of Sam Houston. The lithograph carried copyright date, 1852, from Hartford, Conn.

The portrait was believed to have been made by General Houston was in Washington as Texas' first senator.

Arrangements were made to have the lithograph reproduced. It was this oil reproduction that was presented to the cruiser Houston's executive personnel.

Indian Collection Offered Ft. Worth By Cleburne Man

FORT WORTH.—One of the greatest Indian collections in the southwest, assembled through perilous searches by its collector, has been offered the city of Fort Worth.

The collection is owned by W. J. Layland, of Cleburne, a plumbing contractor, whose hobby has been the gathering of Indian relics. His only stipulation is that a suitable place be provided for the collection.

Layland's collection is valued at $10,000, a value which is calculated with increase proportionately as time goes on. The collection consists of many thousands of pieces from all over the United States, Canada and the West Indies.

For 48 years Layland has spent from two to four months each year roving over the western world, digging in ancient graves and houses, buying when necessary, and following a hobby that started, when as a schoolboy, he dug up an Indian sword in Illinois.

Twice he faced starvation in deserts in western United States. He penetrated the deserts before the days of automobile roads and on two separate expeditions was forced to eat grass to keep alive. Many times his life has been in danger.

Four times he has gone to Europe to trace-down important bits for his collection. His collection of Indian clothing contains a rare dress beaded with 1000 elk teeth and another with 86,000 colored Indian beads. There are relics also from the family of Quanah Parker, famous Comanche chief.

Myriads of arrowheads, ruby knives, green jade, pink jade, moonstone, glodstone and obsidian pieces are contained in the collection new housed between bathtubs and water heaters in his shop in Cleburne.

Among the rare prehistoric pieces are two turquoise pendants which he obtained years ago in the now famous Canyon del Muerto in Arizona. He knows of only one other in existence, owned by the National Geographic Society.

Layland once intended to build a museum of his own in Cleburne. He made considerable preparations for the museum but gave it up after several years of depression.

In view of the fact the federal government has taken over virtually all Indian burying grounds and ruins, and has restricted archaeological exploration by private individuals, the collections becomes all the more important as a private collection.

ISLAND CONCEALED STILL. WILSON, N. C.—It remained for a couple of deputy sheriffs, cruising leisurely over the waters of Wilson's Silver Lake, to find what county and federal agents have hunted for a long time—a corn 'likker' still hidden in the recesses of one of the small islands of the lake. Kill 'Em All Liquid Fly Kuller that's guaranteed to get the mosquitoes. Pints only 43c. At Mickle's.—Adv.

Urges Program of Small Refuges For Waterfowl

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Praising a campaign for waterfowl sanctuaries on private lands recently inaugurated by the Mississippi State Game and Fish Commission officials of the U. S. Biological Survey today appealed to landowners in other states to make similar efforts as part of the national program of wildlife restoration.

In Mississippi, according to reports received by the Bureau from State Director of Conservation Hunter Kimball, game wardens throughout the State are explaining to owners of small ponds and lakes the seriousness of the waterfowl shortage and urging them to make their water areas inviolate sanctuaries. In one county seven parties have already offered to provide such refuges.

"With emergency funds and with the proceeds from the duck-stamp sales," says the Biological Survey, "the Federal Government is carrying on a restoration program that will result in the establishment of refuges on the breeding grounds and flyways in the United States. Many additional refuges will, however, be needed for the full realization of wildlife restoration in this country, and the establishment of numerous small areas will go a long way towards meeting this need. For administrative reasons the Government is confining its land acquisition to large consolidated areas, but no pool or slough that attracts the wild fowl is too small for a private sanctuary. Thus a nation-wide small-areas-for-waterfowl program will be a valuable supplement to the Government's work."

Strange that the present administration should be collecting back taxes, while previous ones have given taxes back.

THE SECOND QUESTION A DOCTOR ASKS . . .

Here is some information that has relieved whole families from Constipation

When anyone is "out of sorts" the doctor's first question is about the bowels. And the second, what is being taken to help them. Doctors use laxatives, and expect you to use them. But they prefer a liquid laxative. Do you know why?

Doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives because they've seen the damage sometimes done by highly concentrated drugs in the form of pills or tablets! They know that a properly made liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative) does not do this harm. And they use liquid laxatives to relieve the bowels, because the dose can be easily regulated.

What to Use. There is a preparation of fine herbs, pure pepsin, cascara, and senna which does away with all need of harsh cathartics. The active senna in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is laxative enough for any adult, mild enough for any child. And there are other valuable ingredients in this delightful syrup.

Syrup Pepsin will usually relieve a case of constipation overnight. If a further dose is necessary, you give a smaller dose, each time less, until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all! If you have a youngster who doesn't eat, doesn't gain, gets upset and bilious no matter how careful you are about the diet—don't resort to strong cathartics which may only make matters worse.

My husband, who is a druggist, first recommended Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to me. It has always helped me and made me feel better. I have used it as a laxative for the entire family for 22 years. Mrs. M. McMaster, Peoria, Ill.

Make this Test! If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition or your age. Try the help of Syrup Pepsin until you are relieved and nature restores your regularity.

When your bowels continue then to move regularly, comfortably and completely every day—you'll know why most doctors favor a liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

HAMILTON IS SOUTHWESTS NO. 1 BAD MAN

DALLAS, Oct. 23. — Raymond Hamilton today was the most bad man of the Southwest. His accession to front ranks was announced yesterday by the roar of the guns which took the life of "Pretty Boy" Floyd.

Frank Hamer, former Texas ranger, who lead the group that killed Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker was reported to be hunting Hamilton in East Texas.

Department of Justice agents are tracking him, also, and it is expected other federal men will be put on his trail now that Floyd, Dillinger and Barrow are out of the way.

J. A. Bates, formerly of Ranger, was superintendent of the plant at the time of the explosion, but was not injured. The exact cause of the explosion was not determined, though it was attributed to explosion of gas vapors.

Ranger Dog Wins Two Places at The Fort Worth Show

General Cracks Ascot, wire-haired terrier exhibited by Van W. Wether of Ranger, won two places in the dog show just ended at Fort Worth, in competition with 30 dogs from over the United States, including an international champion.

The dog took second place in the puppy class and third place in the toy class in spite of the fact, that its owner did not have any experience in showing dogs and had bathed it the night before the show, making its hair fluffy instead of wiry.

General Cracks Ascot is a grandson of the international champion Eden Aristocrat, which won highest honors at the Fort Worth show, and there are five generations of champions or international champions in the strain. Eden Aristocrat, grandfather of the Ranger dog, sold for $8,500.

Mrs. Davenport Is Named As Acting Ranger Postmaster

J. E. Meroney, for the past eight years postmaster of Ranger, received a message from the post office department in Washington, stating that Mrs. Mills Davenport had been appointed acting postmaster of Ranger, and instructing Meroney to check the office over to her at the close of business on Saturday.

Mr. Meroney was appointed postmaster eight years ago and has served in that capacity ever since. In relinquishing his post to Mrs. Davenport he expressed his sincere thanks to the citizenship of Ranger as a whole for the wholehearted co-operation that has been extended him during his tenure in office, and urged that the same co-operation and consideration be extended to the new postmaster.

Mrs. Davenport was elected to the position in September when a meeting of the post office patrons was called by Congressman Thomas L. Blanton several weeks ago and the assembly was requested to vote upon three names submitted Mrs. Davenport, on the second ball, secured the most votes and it was stated by Congressman Blanton that she would be appointed to the position in the very near future.

Mr. Meroney will devote his entire time to the oil and gasoline agency he purchased several months ago.

BANKERS ARE READY TO AID THE NEW DEAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The nation's bankers are prepared to cooperate with President Roosevelt in a permanent recovery program based on "liberal, sound business doctrines and rational humanitarianism," Francis Law, president of the American Bankers association, said today.

Speaking before the American Bankers association convention, Law said bankers' efforts the last year had been aimed at constructive principles instead of criticism of the new deal.

There is hardly a sane banker in the country who is not only willing, but eager to make good loans. Superabundance of bank credit is available, but the demand for credit is distressingly low, he said.

Business Up, Says Company President

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 22. Business conditions are improving, and indications are that the upturn will continue at an even swifter pace during the fall and winter months, President L. Richardson of the Vick Chemical company declared in an interview here today.

As an evidence that the Vick Company is backing this opinion, Mr. Richardson pointed out that Vick advertising appropriation for this season is larger than ever before—over $2,500,000.

Mr. Richardson attributes much of the tremendous sales of Vicks preparations—over 53,000,000 packages last season—to honest, consistent newspaper advertising of highly meritorious products.

"Our nearly 30 years of experience have convinced us that the newspaper provides the most flexible and reliable form of advertising," he stated. "Newspapers, as always, head the list of media we are using this season. Especially heavy schedules will be run in connection with the new size of Vatro-nol. This handy half-size package—convenient for instant use at any time or place—is now available at all drug stores, in addition to the regular large size."

Two work relief projects, which if approved will mean employment of 57 men and the expenditure of over $9,000, have been sent to Austin, H. E. Driscoll, county administrator, announced Tuesday.

One of the projects of Cisco origin, calls for construction of a new state fish hatchery three miles north of Cisco. Included in the Cisco project is laying two pond bottoms to prevent seepage. Okra residents will benefit if the project of cleaning out the surface of a tank located in the community is approved. The project will call for the removal of 2,500 cubic yards of mud from the tank to conserve the water supply. Expenditure of $331 will result in the employment of 15 men, if the project is approved.

ASK THE MOTHER who has made this change

If you have a boy or girl who "headachy," "bilious," or subject "little upsets," try this!

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

If you want to know what a tremendous difference this means to any youngster, just inquire of any mother who has tried it!

An Interesting Experiment

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a violent cathartic.

Give that bilious boy or girl a gentle liquid laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly without need of help.

Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not harm or upset a child's system.

Once you change to California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you'll risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result. Those little upsets and complaints just to disappear as a rule, child is soon normal again.

Remember—It is not wise to give laxative strength to a child, cause you give it less free or in less amounts. Stomach and bowel troubles of many boys and girls can be traced to unwise practice.

Get a bottle of California Syrup of Figs of any druggist. Like its agreeable taste, agrees with them. No need a child anything stronger. Fruity syrup is laxative indeed, many adults use preference to pills and tablets.

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve constipation, or colic, in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative the proper strength for the child's age, and use it.

Second: give the dose until bowels are moving and you have help at all.

An ideal laxative for the case is California Syrup of Figs, which every druggist keeps stock.

o the man without God who is in drink, the father of sin, nothing is promised but eternal death. The only true death is the separation of man from God.

To the Christian is promised fellowship with God in Christ Jesus, with other Christians here as we journey along life's path and eternal life.

In the Christian's yearning to know more of God in all his beauty and holiness a new character and personality is developed when the heart cry is heard and the spirit renewed with strength from day to day. Their conscience is not stifled but responds to the wooing of the Holy Spirit to higher standards of living where their will is lost in the will of the Father.

They find true happiness and freedom in consecrated service to the Lord of Lords by taking each hour as it falls from the hand of God and holding it high above the mud of sin and strife.

This does not mean long and dutiful faces or the giving up of happiness.

Understanding God's will fills a life to overflowing with the spirit and all events of life will fit in with this making the happiest of all lives.

They will take great joy in sharing the ministry of Christ who came "to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound."

To comfort all that mourn;
To give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified." (Isaiah 61:1-3).

So "it pays in every step of the way to keep after the spirit filled life.

And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the spirit. (Eph. 5:18 Golden Text.)

In Memory of Mrs. J. B. Cravey Let us not weep for the bloom of youth.

Or the faded cheek to us so dear.
Let us not weep for the lips un-kissed,

Nor shed the sorrowful tear;
For our empty arms and aching hearts,

For though we are lonely and sad;
Let us remember that a radiant

And for ours among them be glad.

THIS CHANGE gives Children a Chance

Avoid the mistake made by so many parents in treating children.

If your girl or boy is occasionally upset or ailing, why not make the "liquid test" described here?

Perhaps you have tried all sorts of ways to keep a child's bowels in proper condition, and failed.

Yet, a child who has been constipated in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Try This Way:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults. Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset a child's system.

Give that headachy or bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less when constipated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly of their own accord.

Doctors Say This:

A liquid laxative is safest for children of any age, because the dose can be regulated, and its action controlled. It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts.

Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing boys and girls can often be traced to this mistake.

When you change to pure California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too.
Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal again. Try it!

Farm News of Interest to the Farmers of This Section

Save Local Seed Old or New For the 1935 Corn Planting

WASHINGTON.—Because corn does not do well if planted long distances from the locality where the seed is grown, farmers in certain sections of the corn belt are faced with unusual problems in locating seed supplies for next spring. Dr. M. T. Jenkins, who is in charge of corn investigations in the U. S. department of agriculture has toured the corn-growing states where the drought was most severe and offers the following suggestions to insure adequate supplies of locally-adapted seed:

The first recommendation is that farmers in Kansas, Missouri, and southern Iowa—where some of the 1933 crop is still stored under seal—take advantage of the plan recently announced by the agricultural adjustment administration whereby options may be obtained to sell the corn at $1 a bushel on or before May 1, 1935. This corn will be used for seed. The danger is that most of the corn under seal in these states will be used for feed this winter unless farmers co-operate with the AAA in saving seed supplies. Already this old corn is moving out of storage at a rapid rate.

Another area where there is sure to be a shortage of good seed for next spring includes North Dakota, northern and western South Dakota and the northern half of the corn-growing area of Minnesota. There is practically no sealed corn in this area and the crop this year is very poor.

Stored corn in southeastern South Dakota can safely be shipped west for 100 miles without serious loss in yields, and this seems the logical source of supply for farmers in this part of South Dakota. In the Red River valley the crop this year is very poor. All corn in this area that is fit for seed should be conserved. The southern half of the corn-growing area in Minnesota still has some stored corn. This is the best source of supply for counties to the north.

North Dakota—except for the eastern counties which can get some seed from the Red River valley—will be dependent mainly on corn carried over from last year. There is no other locality from which it can import seed that will make a crop of grain. Seed from the south will mature fodder but no grain.

The third area where there will be some shortage of seed next spring includes Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Arkansas can safely buy seed from Tennessee and Mississippi. Oklahoma and Texas, however, will have to utilize every bushel of corn grown in creek bottoms and other favorably situated spots. In Texas some corn is grown also on irrigated land, and this will help to supply seed.

Even in areas where the crop this year is poor and there is no outside source of locally-adapted seed farmers can expect reasonably good corn from bunnies of a good strain if the kernels are well developed. This is true because such corn has all of the hereditary characters necessary to produce good ears under favorable environmental conditions. This fact is often overlooked in selecting seed corn.

The importance of saving locally adapted varieties may be illustrated in the case of Kansas and Missouri, says Doctor Jenkins. If the stored corn in these states is used for feed and the farmers buy seed from Iowa they are certain to take a loss of from five to 10 bushels an acre in the yield next year.

Certificates Are Available Out of The National Pool

C. W. Ewing, county Bankhead act administrator, has announced that his office is in a position to supply growers with exempt certificates, out of the national pool. The cost to the producers is announced at four cents per pound of lint cotton.

Growers are instructed to bring a post office money order for value of certificates wanted at four cents per pound made payable to certificate pool manager.

Farley Disapproves Cattle Brand Stamp

MIDLAND, Texas.—Postmaster General James A. Farley couldn't approve the cattle-brand postage stamps requested by Marion F. Peters, gas company manager here, but he did stamp a personal cattle brand on a sheet of paper for Peters' approval.

Peters is an autograph collector of a unique sort—he collects autographed cattle brands from world-famous persons.

Farley's letter to Peters said: "Cattle raising is indeed one of America's basic industries and recognition thereof in a proper manner would be most appropriate. Our stamp program for this year has taxed the capacity of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving and we are unable at this time to give serious consideration to additional issues.

"I note that you ask that a sketch a symbol used as a brand in your cattle industry and return it to you on a separate sheet of paper. This rather a new experience for me but I tried my hand at it and the result of this effort is herewith as you requested.

"Your letter and enclosures were very interesting and I thank you for writing me on this subject."

A deep-sea diver has gone to Loch Ness, Scotland, to hunt the monster reported there. But why should he? With prohibition repealed, he could get just as good liquor here.

Farm Program Case of Beginning Cure By Shock, Said Farm Agent

Miss Kate Odell Hill, district demonstration agent from A. & M. College Station, spoke before the Eastland County Federation of Women's Clubs Saturday at Eastland on "When the AAA Came to Texas, What Did It Find?"

Her address in part:

"Back in June, 1933, when the announcement of the plow-up campaign came to agricultural Texas, everybody in Texas who had any touch with agriculture was aghast at such a drastic measure and even those completely urban people who are affected only by the farmers purchasing power, were surprised. It was a clear case of beginning a cure by shock, and then proceeding into orderly treatment. It is conceded that throughout Texas and the south the performance involved in the plow-up campaign was the most thorough, rapid and sudden feat ever accomplished in agricultural history.

"Through the supervision of county home demonstration agents in 144 counties in Texas, 25 of whom were appointed since January, 1934, and more than have ever been employed—30,000 home makers in Texas are on active rolls of home demonstration clubs. In each of these clubs there are from two to three women enrolled as demonstrators in some phase of home making, such as bedroom improvement, yard improvement, wardrobe, farm or ranch food supply, garden, or home industries who assume the obligation to receive the agents individual supervision in developing an object lesson, to all the community, which we call a demonstration. All other members of the club and all other people in the community may be co-operators, who do certain parts of the demonstration for the development and improvement of their homes.

"There are 18,237 girls in 1,047 clubs in Texas, carrying on a phase of agricultural home making adopted to the teen-age girl, following the same plan as that outlined for the women.

"The fostering staff, or organization which has supplied the information and guided the organization of these rural women, is the extension service of A. & M. college, in co-operation with the U. S. department of agriculture and the commissioners court in each county. The extension service staff is composed of a director, O. B. Martin, a vice director and state agent for men's work, a state home demonstration agent for women's work, an assistant state home demonstration agent, nine district home demonstration agents and nine district agricultural agents, parallel supervision of extension work in each district, as are the county home demonstration agents and county agricultural agents parallel workers in each county, each co-ordinate with the other, but neither subordinate to the other, and eight subject matter specialists.

"After the first frenzy of the plow-up campaign had cleared away, when the voted acceptance of more than 28,000 farmers of the south brought about the passage of the Bankhead bill, when the wheat reduction, the corn-hog contracts, the cattle, sheep and goat buying program became no longer emergencies, but steps in a long time program of planned agriculture, which the rural population accepted and approved, in the main, we began to realize we would have to have an expanded form of organization which would take in the rural men also. It became necessary to get accurate information regarding the world cotton situation, as it influences the action of the Bankhead bill to the entire rural population of Texas. It became necessary in order that the people might vote intelligently in the soon to be held referendum as to whether the Bankhead bill will be continued. It became necessary in order that efficient work might be done through the county agents office in administering all phases of the AAA.

"In June, a specialist in organization for men's work was appointed by the extension service, in the person of R. H. Bush, who will work parallel with Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, in effecting community organizations among the rural men, women, boys and girls in the counties of Texas where there are extension agents employed. And now, as a parallel organization to the already existing home demonstration councils, Texas is to have farm demonstration councils, which are to consist of three members of each county commodity control committee in the county (cotton, corn-hog, cattle buying) and as many local commodity control committees as are required to represent all important communities in the county.

"Accurate, dependable information is being put out by the department of information of AAA at Washington—working through the land grant colleges in each state, and W. H. Darrow, former extension editor has been loaned to work in eight southwestern states including Texas—anything that you see in the press under a College Station date line regarding the AAA is reliable. Programs are being prepared jointly by Mrs. Barry and Mr. Darrow for the use of home demonstration clubs which your council chairmen and home demonstration agents will place in your hands. Those of you who are members of town clubs will find it an interesting addition to your own club programs if you will ask the members of the home demonstration clubs who are giving this material to their own clubs, to give the same programs to your clubs, and I am sure they will be glad to do that for you.

"So, here we are—rural communities working together, to understand the economic facts that are influencing our world today—working together in the common interest of improving the communities we live in by better homes, farms and ranches, by demonstrations in home-making and agriculture, by recreation as a part of these community meetings, supporting the churches and schools and making agriculture more than making a living—making it a mode of life."

Goats for Relief Clients Arrive

Eight hundred ninety-nine goats were delivered Tuesday to shipping pens of relief offices over the county for future consumption by relief clients.

The goats will be delivered one a week to a family on the rolls. Delivery will be by disbursing orders, H. E. Driscoll, county administrator, stated.

"In all events the goats will be slaughtered and pelts returned to the relief office as evidence that the goat has been slaughtered," Driscoll explained.

"The goats should be slaughtered by relief clients, but in event they can not slaughter, they are to be at the relief client's expense as no funds are available for this," he concluded.

Ranger received 300 of the goats, Cisco 150, Eastland 149, Rising Star 150, and Gorman 150.

$1,440 Appropriated For Agent Salary

An appropriation of $1,440.00 was made this month by the county commissioners for part salary of an agent who will be assigned to this county by the A. & M. college extension service.

The commissioners order filed in the county clerk's office read that discontinuance of the order could only be made in the month of October by one of the co-operating agents. Written notice is to be made thirty days prior to the discontinuance, the order stated.

America Is Behind In Education of Medical Profession

HOUSTON, Oct. 22.—America is behind every other civilized country in the matter of schooling medical students in obstetrics and gynecology, Dr. H. J. Stander, director of one of New York's largest maternity hospitals, said while visiting here.

Dr. Stander, an obstetrician, said more than half the 20,000 who died "in childbirth" in 1933 could have been saved.

"I am strongly in favor of obstetrical training in our medical schools," he said. "This is no doubt where we are falling down and the reason we are behind every other country in the world in this schooling.

"The maternal death rate in the United States is seven mothers out of every 100 live births," he continued. "These figures are supported by the census bureau. The figure includes only deaths within a few months after the child's birth.

"By adequate pre-natal care, the number of deaths from toxemia, or illnesses peculiar to pregnancy, could be reduced from 20 per cent to 10 per cent," he said.

This country is just beginning to wake up to the terrible waste of the lives of its mothers, yet it remembers that with the proper care, no woman should have any fear from pregnancy."

The trouble with that $400,000 libel and slander suit a New Dealer has entered against Dr. William Wirt of Gary, Ind., is that Wirt may feel he isn't getting enough as superintendent of schools.

Upton Sinclair pronounces it "Epic" to distinguish it from the poetic term, and others will agree there's no rhyme nor reason to the plan.

HOUSEWIFE. Mrs. Charles Daly says: "Camels pick up my energy when I feel tired, and they have a mild, delicate flavor that a woman likes."

AIR HOSTESS. Miss Marian McMichael: "When the run is over, my first move is to light a Camel. A Camel quickly relieves any feeling of tiredness."

SPORTSMAN. Rex Beach, famous fisherman, says: "When a big fellow is safely landed, I light a Camel and feel as good as new."

Have you ever tried this enjoyable way of heightening energy?

Crawford Burton, the famous American steeplechase rider, is speaking: "Whether I'm tired from riding a hard race, or from the pressure and tension of a crowded business day, I feel refreshed and restored just as soon as I get a chance to smoke a Camel. So I'm a pretty incessant smoker, not only because Camels give me a 'lift' in energy, but because they taste so good! And never yet have Camels upset my nerves." Note these important points: that Camels taste so good. And that they make available your stored-up energy.

Science tells us that Camel's "energizing effect" has been fully confirmed. Try Camels yourself. You can smoke them constantly. For Camels are made from finer and MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS. They never taste flat...never get on your nerves.

CONDON SURE HAUPTMANN IS CONTACT MAN

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 25. Dr. Frank Condon has become convinced that Bruno Hauptmann is the mysterious "John" to whom he passed the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom, the United Press was informed by a reliable source.

The decision came at the conclusion of a surprise visit of Dr. Condon to the cell of Hauptmann yesterday.

For more than an hour Condon spoke to Hauptmann along the lines of his conversation with the ransom negotiator in a New York cemetery. When he left he was convinced for the first time that Hauptmann and "John" were the same person.

County Teachers Attend Oil Belt Meeting Monday

Many Eastland county school instructors were in attendance at the Oil Belt Education Association meeting in Abilene Monday. Curriculum revision needs were told to the district educators which numbered over 600.

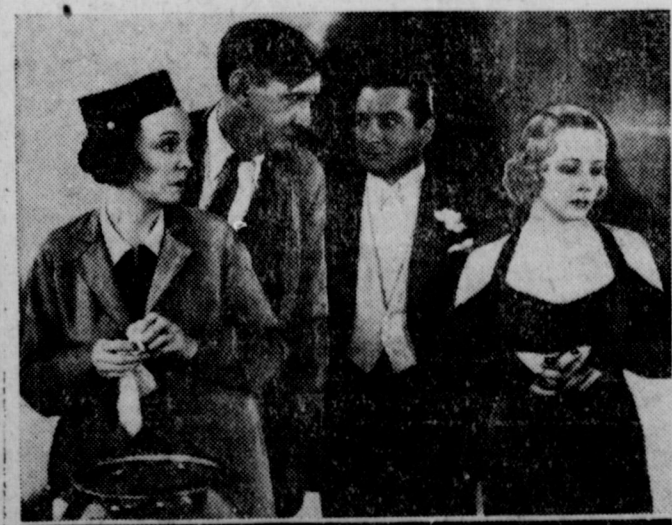

R. F. Holloway of Ranger, president of the Oil Belt Teachers Association, had a part in the program.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins of Abilene, one of the speakers, stated that "The definite goal of teaching must be to develop American citizens, not to pass examinations." Dr. Wiggins cautioned against what he termed "methodizing" in curriculum revision.

Teachers and school officials from the immediate district were: Mrs. Mac Smith, Breckenridge; W. W. Jarvis, Jr., P. O. Hadley, Ranger; Lee Clark, Cisco; Marjorie Spencer, Lillian Smith, Eastland; Estelle Cope, Breckenridge; Mrs. C. W. Hampton, Nettie Thornton, Eastland.

EASTLAND BANK WILL OPEN NOV. 15

COMMITTEE HAS COMPLETED ITS DETAIL WORK

Message Telephoned From Dallas Saturday Afternoon.

Eastland is to have a National Bank, which is to open on November 1st.

That was the brief message telephoned from Dallas Saturday afternoon by members of the depositors committee, which had been working for several months in hopes that some day in the near future that glad word could be broadcast throughout the city of Eastland.

Several months ago when plans for a bank for Eastland, which was considered the most outstanding need of the city, were in an embryo state, a committee composed of P. L. Parker, J. A. Beard and Jess Williams was appointed to work out some feasible and workable plan by which the bank could be assured.

The committee immediately began work and through personal contact with a great majority of the depositors of the old Texas State Bank, secured their approval of the plan whereby it was possible to give the county seat a bank.

Many trips were made and many messages were exchanged with people in various parts of the country in order that the bank might be made a possibility. The aid of the RFC was asked and several trips were made to conferences with RFC officials.

It was while on one of these trips that the committee finally, after several months of hard and patient work, completed all the minor details and the opening of the bank within less than a week was assured.

When the First National Bank of Eastland opens its doors a week from next Thursday, it is expected that a large line of depositors, awaiting their first opportunity of patronizing a local bank for three years, will be on hand ready to make their deposits.

EVERY TOWN IN THE COUNTY REPRESENTED

Representatives from practically every town in Eastland county at a county-wide relief meeting Saturday at Eastland indicated that applications would be made in the near future for work relief projects. Promptness is essential in the preparation of suitable projects to uphold the amount of money Eastland county receives each month, H. E. Driscoll, county administrator, stated.

The meeting which was held in the county courtroom was called by Driscoll who stated the purpose was "to see what can be done or rather form an outline in the way of outlining work projects for the county."

Vital was the problem that existed in the county so said Driscoll who stated that 35 per cent of money in relief work should be allotted to work projects.

Figures cited by Driscoll showing the necessity of approval of more applications for the county were as follows: In Ranger, 360 employable men and 31 women on work projects and only 62 employed in that type of work; In Rising Star, 204 employable men and 24 employable women with only 22 engaged in that type of work; In Cisco, 358 employable men and 42 women with only 115 engaged in that type of work; In Gorman, 333 men, 23 women with 18 engaged in that type of work; In Eastland, 323 employable men, 41 women, with only 128 working on relief projects. Totaled, Driscoll stated, figures showed that only 345 in the county were working on work projects when the number of employable was over 1600.

Representatives of communities speaking to the group which numbered over 100 spoke on what their communities were doing in regard to working up projects.

Chief Murphy of Ranger said Ranger was ready any way possible to help the situation. He said the city had from $12,000 to $16,000 worth of projects ready to go soon. Handicap of the city was that truck hire was not available, he stated. Murphy said city equipment was available for use in the relief projects. Chat transportation from a crusher about three miles presented a problem, Murphy said. Road improvements were among the projects named by Murphy.

R. F. Holloway, superintendent of schools, stated projects the schools had in mind were improvement of football field, tennis courts and basketball grounds.

The American Legion of Cisco, Civic League of Eastland and the fire department of Ranger, it was brought out at the meeting, conduct repairing of toys each year for children at Christmas.

Mayor T. J. Beery of Cisco said projects were being prepared by the city which would be beneficial. Projects included were: street improvements, cleaning of Cisco watershed and park improvement.

R. N. Cluck, superintendent at Cisco, stated that projects to improve the schools were being considered. Projects included, repairing of roofs and erection of sidewalks. The fish hatchery projects of Cisco would be ready to submit soon, it was stated.

Guy Parker of Eastland, city manager, stated the city was handicapped under the old setup and it had been nearly impossible to do anything. He said projects would be submitted next week that required only labor. An engineer to aid in the working up of Eastland projects would be secured this week, he added.

B. E. McGlamery, county school superintendent, stated that as far as rural schools were concerned, there it was only possible project to be submitted were drainage of grounds at several rural schools.

H. C. Davis of Eastland, speaking in behalf of Lion, Rotary clubs and the chamber of commerce said Eastland had approximately 60,000 worth of projects representing 200,000 hours of labor are being worked up and submission would probably be next week.

W. E. Tyler, Rising Star mayor, mentioned projects the city had in mind.

Judge Earl Conner, chairman of the Eastland county relief board, stated that promptness was a matter of necessity if Eastland county was not cut down in its relief allotment.

P. B. Bittle of Eastland, superintendent of schools, stated that a remodeling of a building in Eastland for a negro school building would be a suitable project. The present is undesirable, he stated.

Present at the meeting: E. T. Dawson, Rising Star; R. F. Holloway, Ranger; R. N. Cluck, Cisco; E. E. McGlamery, Eastland; K. B. Tanner, Eastland; B. M. Collier,

Tax Exemption Is Ordered Upon Many Bales Cotton

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Orders received by the national surplus cotton tax-exemption certificate pool to date for surplus certificates are equivalent to 638,260 bales of cotton, with indications that the total demand may be equivalent to as much as 750,000 bales, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today.

On all of these orders, the purchasers expect to pay 4 cents a pound, the rate fixed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, several weeks ago as the standard selling price for surplus certificates purchased through the national pool.

In order to meet this demand, all county assistants in cotton adjustment in those counties having an excess of surplus of tax-exemption certificates are being requested by Cully A. Cobb, chief of the cotton production section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to devote their entire time for three days, beginning on Wednesday, Oct. 17, in aiding the surrender of surplus certificates to the national pool.

Likewise, producers having a surplus of tax-exemption certificates are being requested to surrender their surplus certificates to the pool through their county assistants. Producers will be paid approximately $20 a bale for all certificates sold through the pool. When the pool is liquidated, each producer will be returned his share of any certificates the pool does not sell. These may be used next year in the event the Bankhead Act is made effective for 1935.

E. L. Deal, manager of the pool, emphasized that the cost of handling certificates through the pool would be a fraction of a cent a pound and that the pool will be closed and payments made just as soon as all producers having a surplus have had an opportunity to surrender their certificates and all prospective purchasers have had an opportunity to buy.

In commenting upon the unusual demand for certificates, Mr. Deal said the demand for certificates is not to be construed as indicating the size of the crop. For example, the State of Texas, according to the Oct. 8 crop estimate, shows a production of 2,345,000 bales, as against an allotment under the Bankhead act of 3,237,530 bales. This would seem to indicate that surplus certificates equivalent to 892,530 bales would be subject to transfer from Texas, whereas actual requests from Texas to the National surplus certificate pool already have approximated the equivalent of 100,000 bales.

Prison Bars Mean Home to a Veteran

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 19.—Prison bars mean "home" to Owen Boulter, 61-year-old Spanish-American war veteran of Amarillo.

His attachment to the Potter county jail has presented a perplexing problem to county, state and federal officials.

Boulter, called "Major" by other prisoners, got into jail after he pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace and asked the judge to "give me the limit." He was sentenced to 71 days.

At the expiration of the term, he was turned out, penniless, homeless and forbidden to return to his cell.

He begged officers to allow him to stay, but they sent him to the county farm instead. That didn't suit him so he came back to the jail where he spent two nights. But officers refused to let him stay longer.

He is back in jail on a charge of defacing government property—and officers are scratching their heads.

The steamship company owning the ill-fated Morro Castle asks the government to limit its total liabilities to $20,000. And still they want the government to keep out of business.
