Eddy Arnold Sings At Prison Rodeo Opener

Huntsville, Tex. — Eddy Arnold, America's favorite singer of folk songs, will be the featured guest performer on opening day of the 20th Annual Prison Rodeo at Huntsville, Sunday, Oct. 7. Appearing on opening day only, Arnold heads the list of stellar guest attractions booked by the rodeo management for appearances between acts of the famed convict show. Accompanying Eddy when he performs in Prison Stadium will be Roy Wiggins, "the mighty little man with the big guitar," one of the nation's finest steel guitar players.

Rodeo Manager Albert Moore, who has directed the show for the past 18 years, promises that this year's rodeo will be even faster and wilder than any of the previous shows. Each Sunday's performance will include novelty acts along with standard rodeo events performed by the convicts, such as Saddle and Bareback Bronc Riding, Bull Riding, Calf Roping, etc.; and such exclusive prison rodeo features as the famous Chariot Race, Wild Mare Milking, and the breathtaking Mad Scramble.

Governor Allan Shivers has been invited to officially open the show and the first Sunday has been designated as Governor's Day. While in Huntsville, the Governor will be the guest of O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System. Members of the Texas Legislature have also been invited by the Prison Board to be guests of the management that day.

It's an unforgettable spectacle, one you can't afford to miss. There is no other event like it in the world. Convict riders, who have waived all rights to damages, compete for cash prizes.

The show opens with what is perhaps its greatest act, the Mad Scramble. Ten chutes fly open and ten wild bulls with ten wild riders are turned into the arena at once. The next act opens while they're still picking up victims of the Mad Scramble. The show moves at that high pace for the next two hours, interrupted only by specialty acts and puest entertainers.

Price for reserved seats are $2.40, tax included, and may be ordered by mail or wire if remittance is enclosed. Address all orders for reservations to L. J. Craig, Prison Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas.

In Fulton Beach Field, Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 8 Copano was completing on perforations at 6,966-72 feet, where on drillstem test through ¼ inch chokes working pressure was 1,600 pounds in 20 minutes. Daily flow estimated by 12-hour test, was 1.75 million cubic feet of gas and 6 barrels of distillate.

Sun No. 7-69, Fulton Beach Field, was at 7,161 feet, running log and preparing to set pipe after coring good shows in the B Zone. Placid Oil Co. No. 2 Nana Holden was coring at 7,175 feet.

DRENCHING RAINS BREAK DROUTH

There was 15.46 inches of rainfall in Rockport the latter part of last week, according to the weather gauge at the marine laboratory.

The rain fell slowly here and has gone down into the ground where it fell, instead of draining into the low spots and causing floods as it did in many localities near here. Rockport feels that this rain is all that is needed to insure a prosperous winter.

CP&L Will Stop Delivery Of Wholesale Ice

The Central Power and Light Company will discontinue wholesale delivery of ice, effective Sept. 26, 1951. This will affect fish houses and fishermen, largest wholesale buyers of ice.

Ice will be sold on the platform where it is manufactured at $4.50 per ton, $1.00 less than the fishermen have been paying when it was delivered, but they will have to make arrangement for the delivery of the ice themselves. If the local plant does not produce enough ice the manager will find out where the purchaser will arrange for the delivery.

The Central Power and Light Company has a few trailer trucks, but not enough to handle the vast volume of ice used this summer and they have been forced to hire private concerns to make the deliveries, making the ice cost the company more than they received for it.

There will be as much ice as formerly, at $1.00 less per ton and the customer pay for the hauling.

Health Talks

The foods outlined as basic for the body needs are those which each part of the body requires to perform its special task or tasks. If some part of the body fails to get the kind of things it needs for proper functioning, that part cannot operate at its best. Every part of the body seems to have marvelous powers of overcoming odds against it and though the essential ingredients may be lacking in a diet, the body usually manages to keep performing its duties for a long period, despite the abuse.

Without the proper vitamins and minerals, however, some part of the body is not functioning up to par. And such is the inter-relationship of the body, that when one part fails to function at its best, sooner or later by chain reaction other parts of the body, too, will have to change their function, either to carry the load for the original source of trouble or because the other parts are not receiving the material they need.

It is quite true that all people do not have the same needs of foods. Some are born with organs that have not the capacity for proper functioning and others develop some sort of illness that changes the function of the organ. But even at that, the basic requirements which are called the "seven basic foods" make up the normal, adequate diet and any change in the diet that is made by the doctor is made with that diet in mind, as it must be applied to each individual.

Two people can eat the same foods, the same amounts of the same foods, and one will grow fat on the diet while the other will remain underweight. That is proof that it is not the intake of food alone which governs the size of a person. Consumption of the seven basic foods is essential to good health; after consumption comes combustion, the way in which the body uses those essential foods it is given.

Through those years when you eat what you want without any thought except for your pleasure in food that tastes good, you probably do not give your body all the things that are considered essential. And through those years some parts of your body are probably not receiving the ingredients that keep it in fit working order; after years of abuse, you can see that some part of your body may be slightly out of whack, not completely displayed but enough off the track to keep you from feeling your best.

Overeating or putting on excess weights overworks many organs of the body. Those organs have adjusted themselves as well as possible to the strain you've put on them. If you suddenly change the diet completely by picking up some fad reducing diet, you can see further that such a drastic change in diet will affect the whole body and not just the digestive system.

That is why your doctor and all his fellow-workers repeat again and again not to take up some wild diet that is guaranteed to take off a pound a day or even five pounds a week. Unless an emergency exists, the most weight that should be reduced is two to two-and-a-half pounds a week. Since 15 to 20 pounds above normal weight for your age and height is considered overweight, you can see that a reducing diet should be a 7 to 10 week affair, never a 10-day-wonder.

The only way to reduce your weight without threatening your health is to eat less of the seven basic foods, including some fat, though that is what you will cut the most. For all purposes you must eat less of those foods than you have been eating until you get down to the proper weight and then, though you may eat a little more than you were while reducing, you must eat less than you did while you were putting on extra weight.

There is no short cut to reducing without an accompanying threat to your health. A reducing program means a change in the amount of food you will consume from that time forward. You need some exercise while reducing not only to help a little in using up the stored fat but mainly to keep your body from getting flabby when the fat is taken off parts of your anatomy. You need vitamins in the food you eat, which you will get in the seven basic foods; if some of those foods must be eliminated from your diet, you will need supplementary vitamins to keep your body in proper order during the reducing regime.

And you must have sufficient bulk of food in your diet to keep you from getting constipated. This last item is the one most often overlooked in the popular reducing diets, accounting for months and years of discomfort when the excess weight may no longer be a problem.

The only one of the seven basic foods which is usually excluded from an authorized reducing diet is cereal. All sweets will normally be cut out, including candy and sugars, carbonated beverages and sweetened drinks, with saccharin used to sweeten. Though bread will be included, hot breads, coffee cakes, hot cakes, sweet rolls and waffles will be excluded, along with cakes, cookies, pastries, puddings and all rich desserts.

Avocado and drier fruit are not part of a reducing diet nor are fried meats and such fatty meats as goose, pork and sausage or fish canned in oil. Cream soups and thickened soups won't help you take off weight and dried beans and dried peas are not considered slimming. Catsup, chili sauce, cream sauce, gravy, nuts, olives, pickles, relish, and alcohol are taboo when an honest attempt at taking the pounds off is underway.

There are a few other broad general omissions in the reducing diet, but those listed above are the essentials. If you just omitted those foods and kept on with your regular diet you'd probably find yourself losing some excess poundage as time goes by. That would probably be the least painful method but would take a little more time than others.

THE ORIGINAL SELF SERVICE

EVERYBODY AT THE BAR-RIER—Fancifully, the character on the right could be telling a bartender: "Give my friends anything they want—and make mine double! Better skip the second fellow down from me, though—he's gotta drive." Actually, however, the guy on the right isn't saying anything and is just one of the seven-pup brood of Kam of D'Essendane, a 140-pound Great Dane whose master lives in New York. For holding still long enough to have their picture taken, their master later gave the pooches a nice warm drink—all, we hope, except the guy fifth from the left—he's still gotta drive.

Humble Will Broadcast Football For Eighteenth Consecutive Season

Humble Oil & Refining Company launches its eighteenth consecutive season of football broadcasts this weekend with five big intersectional games. The Texas Aggies open Southwest Conference fire on the rest of the nation Friday night when they invade U.C.L.A. Southern Methodist tangles with Georgia Tech on Saturday, as the University of Texas takes on powerful Kentucky. Saturday night Baylor engages the University of Houston, while T. C.U. and Kansas square off in another night contest.

All five games will be broadcast over the Humble networks of radio stations which dot most of Texas. Listeners will hear familiar voices describing the action as the veteran Humble announcers return to the microphones for the 1951 season.

Charlie Jordan and Eddie Barker will broadcast the A&M-U.C. L.A. tilt from Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, as Angeles, Calif. Broadcast time will be 9:20 p. m. (CST) on stations KPRC, Houston, WOAI, San Antonio; KRIS, Corpus Christi.

The S.M.U.-Georgia Tech meeting will be described by Ves Box and Jerry Doggett, from Grant Field, Atlanta, Georgia. Broadcast time is set for 1:20 p. m. on stations KTRH, Houston and WOAI, San Antonio.

Kern Tips and Alec Chessher will give the account of the clash between Texas U. and Kentucky, from Memorial Stadium in Austin, beginning at 1:50 p. m. on stations KTSA, San Antonio and KRIS, Corpus Christi.

Baylor versus the University of Houston will be covered by John Ferguson and Dave Russell. The broadcast, direct from Houston Stadium, will begin at 8:00 p. m. on stations KABS, San Antonio and KTHH, Houston.

Bill Michaels, backed by Bob Walker, will describe the T.C.U. season-opener with Kansas in T.C.U. stadium, Ft. Worth. This game will be broadcast at 8 p. m., over stations KXYZ, Houston, and KMAC, San Antonio.

Mrs. Mollye Davis left for Houston Wednesday to attend the National Bridge Tournament. The person winning high score in this tournament will receive a new car for their prize. Mrs. Davis will visit her daughter, Mrs. Earl Ward and family, while she is in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Aistrop of Dallas, are visitors in the W. S. Coaker home this week.

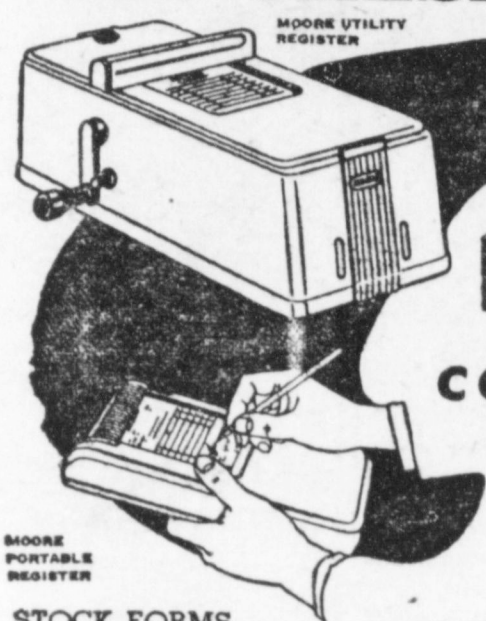

LEAGUE CHAMPS CALL UMPS CHUMPS—These pictures, taken while the Chicago White Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers led their respective leagues, prove that managers will be managers when the humidity, score and umpire's decision are close. At right Pale Sox pilot Paul Richards belabors arbiter Ed Rommel during a game in Washington's Griffith Stadium. And at left, umpire Scotty Robb listens to Dodger boss Chuck Dressen unburden his soul. The Dodgers were matching might with their arch foes, the Giants.

WON FOR THE MONEY—Here's a scene of high (about a foot and a half) finance at the Fifth Air Force's 49th Fighter Bomber Wing airbase in Korea. Sitting behind the mountain of currency—$15 million in Korean Won—Cpl. Phillip A. Hiatt, left, of Richmond, Ind., and 1st Lt. Kenneth W. F. Feltham of Anniston, Ala., compute the pay of a crew of civilian laborers who work at the air base. The U. S. has always paid well, but before some of you taxpayers blow your top at what you think is overdoing a good thing, it may be wise to tell you that at the current exchange rate of 6000 to one, this stack totals only $2500 in American money.

SANDMAN IS COMING—WITH FRIENDS—This could be taken for a winter scene except for one thing—that "snow" is sand that has been baking in a temperature hovering between 130 and 141 degrees. The soldiers, being tried for stamina under desert fighting conditions and, in turn, testing new equipment, were caught in this photograph by an Army photographer as they crawled on their stomachs over sand dunes in the Imperial Desert of California.

Surf Joins Theatres Of State Celebrating 'It's Movie Time in Texas'

Joining with the more than 1,500 motion picture theatres in the state, the Surf Theatre this week begins the celebration of "It's Movie Time in Texas," a period in which the management will feature a series of special events as well as presenting the year's outstanding pictures.

The entire movie industry is behind "It's Movie Time in Texas." These activities precede a similar nation-wide movie drive embracing as many as 16,000 additional theatres, which will not get under way until October.

The idea behind "It's Movie Time in Texas," which has been enthusiastically adopted by both New York and studio executives expanded into coast-to-coast proportions, originated with a well known Bonham, Texas theatre man. Col.

H. A. Cole, chairman of the board of the Allied Theatre Owners of Texas conceived the thought of a project to marshal all theatre men, their employees and their families, into a movement to offer the public the finest of entertainment and to bring about a closer and friendlier relationship for the theatre with the community at large.

What was originally a Texas campaign exploded into national proportions. All of the big studios promptly revised their plans. The finest productions, many of them in color, were set for release during the celebration of "It's Movie Time in Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinsey and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kinsey and son, of Corpus Christi, visited in Rockport Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hamblin, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Allemand and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Johnson.

SHAPELY CHAMP — Mrs. Penny Duncan, above, shown just after being crowned Mrs. New York City of 1952, hardly got used to her title when she walked off with new top honors in the Mrs. America contest. Measurements of the 22-year-old winner were 36-24-36.

Mrs. Trudie Caspary left for Mexico City Saturday, starting on a month's vacation touring Mexico.

GROWN (GROAN!) — Where has the time gone that screen actress Margaret O'Brien—who, it seems only yesterday, was playing tearful moppets in films—should look as grown up as this? Here, lovely Miss O'Brien is shown at Nice, France, where she had stopped momentarily on her European vacation.

Social Security Benefits For Small Business Men

This year, for the first time, self-employed persons are under the federal family insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

If you are the owner or operator of a grocery store, plumbing shop, beauty parlor, or any other type of business, you are building credits toward retirement of survivors insurance, according to H. M. Cleveland, manager of the Corpus Christi office of the Social Security Administration.

Since the system applies to net earnings from self-employment of as little as $400 a year, the small business man has this insurance protection for himself and his family, as well as the owners of large establishments.

"Net earnings of $400 or more, but not over $3,600, in a taxable year are reported as self-employment income when your income tax return is filed for the taxable year beginning Jan. 1, 1951," Cleveland said.

Self-employment income is not to be reported quarterly as are social security tax returns on wages of employees; rather the self-employed report once a year on the regular income tax return. The tax on self-employment income is 2 1/4 per cent on net income up to $3,600 in the taxable year.

The self-employed person will need a social security account number card before he makes his first return, to give him standing in the system. This number, which identifies his personal account, is entirely separate from the identifying number of his business for employee returns.

Cleveland said identical qualifying provisions apply to the self-employed person as apply to a wage earner. The same benefits likewise are payable. Monthly retirements benefits are not less than $20.00 a month, and they may be as great as $80.00 a month.

Information booklets are available at the Social Security office, 424 Taylor Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Mrs. J. M. Ivey is visiting her uncle, Mr. Grady in Gary, Ind., and with Mr. and Mrs. Cantwell and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper in Indianapolis this week.
