APRIL 4 TO 10 CLEAN UP WEEK

Double Duty Voting Chore Confronts Citizens

SELECT 3 TRUSTEES SATURDAY AND TWO ALDERMAN TUESDAY

No Competetion In Trustee Balloting; Ticket Blank As Yet In City Election

Cross Plains people have a double duty voting chore to do during the next five days. Three school trustees are to be named Saturday, then Tuesday two city aldermen must be elected.

In the school election only three candidates have presented themselves for the three posts. They are: Porter J. Davis, E. I. Vestal, and L. L. (Doc) Montgomery. Both Davis and Vestal are present members of the board, however, Montgomery has never served heretofore. He will fill the vacancy caused by the retirement from the board of Edwin Erwin.

As yet no petetions of nomination have been submitted to L. W. Tyson, city clerk, for the city election scheduled Tuesday. Terms of Willis J. Brown and H. C. Freeman are to expire in April.

Terms of school trustees are for three years and those of city councilmen two years.

Jurymen Are Hard To find Constable Informs Populace

Constable Bert Brown this week furnished the Review with the following statement concerning the difficulty in getting juries for justice court in Cross Plains:

"I was called to summons a jury here Monday morning of last week for a special session of justice court. I ran into so many excuses that it became a very difficult problem. The excuses ran about like this:

"The first man summond was sick.

"The second was partially deaf.

"The third had not been in the county long enough.

"The fourth had conscientious scruples.

"The fifth had already formed his own opinion in the case.

"Sixth was a business man and all of them are excused as are members of the fire department.

"So, I am still wondering how to go about selecting a jury in Cross Plains".

(Signed, Bert Brown)

Home Making Hints

Having their farm yard serve as an experiment in cooperation with the Southern Great Field Station is the purpose of the Silas Havens family, of Cross Plains, in their yard planting and improvement.

The Southern Great Plains Station carries on such experiments for the purpose of gathering facts of value to the people of the region the commercial nurserymen, and the state and Federal activities concerned by making studies of actual experimental plantings in various parts of the region. The Southern Great Plains Region includes the plains section of Texas, parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, and Colorado.

Yard planning to make best use of the plant material available is under the supervision of the county tension Service who is the county home demonstration agent. In such plantings it is the intention to determine the best methods of planting, pruning, trainig, and general management as well as to see the varieties of ornaments adapted to the locality.

Only those farmers are selected who have an interest in, and a knowledge of how to handle such material, and who are willing to enter into the undertaking as experimenters. They must be established farmers and have the intention of operating farms personally for a number of years to come. Farms of these cooperators must also be located on main highways as otherwise located so that plantings may be of greatest value to the greatest number of people and passers-by.

Callahan County is eligible for two such experiments. The second family has not yet been chosen.

Raising food at home is a cooperative afair in the home of Mary Belle Franklin, demonstrator in garden work for the Denton 4-H Club. Mary Belle, who lives about two miles east of Denton, says, "In working together this year my family plans to raise all our vegetables, meat and chickens and some fruit. As a 4-H club girl, one of my goals is to preserve food for victory."

The family, consisting of 4 girls, Mary Belle, Maxine, Billy June, and Betty who are all 4-H members, their mother and their younger brother, has worked out plans for te production of food on their farm. They keep records on expenses and receipts of products sold from the farm.

When she visited the Franklin home, the county home demonstration agent found Mory Belle using a team and harrow in preparing land for planting potatoes. A planting bed for tomatoes and pepper had already been started. Two tub gardens for tomatoes and pepper had been prepared near the house for having these vegetables for fresh table use.

Maxine claims the three pigs being raised for home use as her project and has a nice start with them. She has already experienced the use of crankcase oil for treatment of parasites on the pigs.

Billy June and Betty are raising chickens. They now have 150 hens and 300 baby chicks are in their brooder house.

Of their younger brother, Mary Belle says, "He is too young to be a 4-H boy but he is helping by doing odd jobs for the rest of us.

Age is no determiner of the quality of 4-H work being done by the 4-H girls of Callahan County. Belvyn Jo Edwards of Denton and Ma Jaunta Jo Betcher of Oplin, are proof of this. Each of these girls is 10 years old.

Ma Jaunta Jo says,"I am doing my best to help win the war for I am buying war stamps every week and helping my mother and father on the farm." Typical of the spirit of 4-H members this year, she is raising a frame garden and two lambs and is now starting with some baby chicks. She helps her father with the sheep and her mother with the house work.

Bevelyn Jo who is also interested in growing food for her family, has two small gardens. One is planted in onions and the other has beets, carrots, radishes, and lettuce. She has 25 baby chicks being raised with a hen. Of these she plans to eat a few and sell the rest.

In Memory Of Mother Respess

Again the "Death Angel" has entered our home and bourne away the spirit of our dear mother to realms beyond the "Great River" which we all must someday cross.

Mother was a semi-invalid for more than five years and bore it all with the greatest patience. Although confined to her room most of this time, she never complained and was always cheerful. Her last illness started early in January. First she had a slight cold from which she seemed to have recovered, later her lower limbs and hips gave away, making her almost helpless except through her arms and shoulders, which were also weakening. But she was well cared for by the untiring efforts of many sweet friends, neighbors and relatives, also a good family doctor who saw that nothing was left undone to relieve her suffering for which she always seemed grateful. Until the very last she seemed rational, even when she sank into that peaceful coma which ends only in death.

She kept wondering through all these last weeks of illness, if in some way her children could all come in home and be with her throughout her last few days. We tried to assure her that they would. All were present the last day. Her children and home have always been her first thought, but her neighbors and friends were also loved and reverenced. Never was she known to be selfish, vain or in any way ill tempered, but she was nobly humble, self denying, and seemed willing to suffer almost any hardships for those whom she loved so well. She became a member of the Methodist Church when only twelve years of age, and has lived true to her faith since then.

Our sweet silver haired mother seemed willing to go and unafraid to die. She said several times, "The end is very near and I feel ready to go." She prayed, over and over; "Dear Savior, give me rest,' or "Blessed Savior, give me rest or give me death." We loved to think of her as being happily reunited with our noble father, (now deceased 16 years) and both of their children and other loved ones.

We commend her spirit to the Great Maker, God.

More Scrap Needed!

American homes, farms and business institutions are being called upon to yield more scrap, from which can be manufactured the badly needed implements of war. If the Allied Nations are to have enough of everything on every front, there must be no slackening in our pace of gathering scrap materials. If you have scrap about your place, bring it in to us at once. Our nation needs these materials and is willing to pay a fair price for them. Do your bit now by seeing that they reach the proper channels without delay.

When a Feller Needs Another Hand

Butch is in a predicament . . . one that isn't covered by military training. While he certainly could use another hand, we're betting that Butch will find a way to handle the situation.

In fact, most every businessman, farmer, stockman . . . every producer in West Texas today . . . knows just how he feels. They, too, need another hand.

Your Electric Servant has the same problem. Right now, we're being called on to balance good service and low rates against fast-climbing operating costs and shortages of material.

We're doing it, too. Filling every wartime order ahead of schedule in addition to your normal peacetime needs. And besides that, we're balancing a big plate of taxes.

Don't get us wrong. We know the necessity of heavy wartime taxes. We're proud that ours was a sizable portion of the $620,000,000 in taxes paid last year by America's business-managed electric companies. That was 23c out of every dollar paid for electric service. The total of $620 million dollars was enough to outfit 1,687,762 soldiers like Butch.

We're proud, too, that there has been no rationing of electricity . . . and no increase in cost to you!

How is it possible to do this . . . pay heavy taxes, overcome shortages of material and manpower?

Well, the credit goes to sound, well-balanced business management. And because our trained and experienced organization of men and women are working together as a team.

But while America's electric companies, under business management, are doing all this, government and municipal (politically operated) power systems are not paying a penny in taxes to help win the war.

Shouldn't every one do his full share?

METHODIST NOTES

Grizzly Pete says, "In the day time I'm too busy to worry and at night I'm too sleepy."

Learn to live one day at a time; do the best you can today, and do not worry about tomorrow.

When we find ourselves busy attending the services of our church and inviting others to attend, we are likely to have a greater appreciation for the church. We are happy to see the growing interest in the church school also in feel like some of our classes are going to have 20 or more in attendance next Sunday.

Rember self-consciousness is a weakness. God-consciousness is power. Think less of your self today, and more of God. Be in your place in the church of your choice Sunday and invite someone else to attend with you.

GOSPEL MISSION HAS NEW PASTOR HERE NOW

Rev. V. M. Lightford, formerly of Hico, has moved to Cross Plains and assumed the pastorate of the Old Time Gospel Mission, in the East part of the city. The Rev. Mr. Lightford is a minister of 15 years experience and comes to Cross Plains with a very successful record.

Services at the church, to which the general public is welcomed, are held Thursday, Saturday and Sunday nights beginning at 8:30. Sunday school begins at 10 o'clock and the regular Sabbath worship at 11.

TIPS ON NEW FARM MACHINERY RATIONS

Certificates from county farm machinery rationing committees will be necessary for purchase of one-row, horse-drawn riding cultivators, B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board, announced this week.

County quotas now are being established and this type of machinery will be handled similarly to other quota items.

Texas farmers also were advised that the Department of Agriculture no longer will control distribution by manufacturers of garden planters and of two-row or larger horse-drawn riding cultivators.

Purchase certificates, needed to buy rationed farm machinery and equipment, are issued by county farm rationing committees on approximately 75 types of farm machinery.

Home Town Gossip

Those magic words of childhood "the circus is coming to town" will be ringing up and down the streets and alleys and everywhere children congregate within the next few days. For a circus, believed to be by far the largest ever to play here, has billed Cross Plains for Thursday, April 22. Advance agent for the circus was in Cross Plains Tuesday and made arangements to show here under auspices of the school. The show will be located on the vacant lots just across from the cemetery.

Sunday morning's mail came with appreciated victory letter from Major Norman G. Morris—remembered here as "Beans"—who now a squadron leader for the United States air forces somewhere in the far Pacific.

Although it is known from Associated Press dispatches that "Beans" has been in the thick of the fights with the Japanese, his letter gave no hint of the excitement he had experienced or the hero role that his friends here are said he filled. It is really gratifying to know, however, that amid the tumult of war our fighting men still think of the simple doings of home and find time to write and inquire of the things which seem so small as compared with the intense acts they see and participate in each day.

"Beans" and the hundreds of other local boys who are carrying on gallantly on the several fighting fronts—incidentally, the old home town paper is a regular visitor in North Africa, Australia, Ireland, England, Iceland and many other distant points—all say the people back home are doing of you every day and praying for the day when peace will have been won and you can hit the "long, long trail" homeward.

This is 'clean-up week in Cross Plains. Governor Coke R. Stevenson, Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin D. Hall and others have decided that an extensive statewide clean-up program is necessary to prevent the cropping up of epidemics of contageous diseases this Spring and Summer. With so many men called into the armed forces, it is pointed out, an epidemic could possibly reach uncontrolable proportions. To forestall such a possibility, let's all pitch in and clean up our premises spic and span. Cross Plains has long been known for its cleanliness. Let's not let our reputation suffer. Too, we folks of the ol' home town to look attractive to our soldiers, sailors and marines when they are privileged to spend a furlough with their folks.

Think about the clean-up program, and in the clean-up program, let's augment your friends upon cooperation in the clean-up program and above all let's keep our families, friends and neighbors healthy by clean, sanitary surroundings.

The peanut warehouse movement which has become shrouded with much talk and little action appears to have finally taken a step in the correct direction. A committee is now at work in an effort to raise the necessary funds to purchase a suitable building. The one under consideration is brick and 120 by 120 feet. It should store plenty of peanuts and if weather conditions are favorable there will be plenty of them to store in Cross Plains next Fall.

The elections passed very quietly in Cross Plains since the Review called at your home. Three of the trustees and two aldermen were named in referendums Saturday and Monday. Citizens are to be treated with an attractive little parade Friday afternoon at 3:15 when the victory boys of Cross Plains high school march down town to demonstrate their ability in executing military commands. Remember the time and place to be on hand to see the kids do their stuff. Hean those boys and girls bark out commands as sharply as a West Point drill master. They're really good and if you miss the parade you'll regret it.

Will Play Under Auspices Of High School; 6 Big Elephants With Troupe

After a lapse of several years Cross Plains is to be entertained by a three ring circus. Dailey Bros. Circus has arranged to give afternoon and night performances here Thursday April 22, under the auspices of the high school. Supt. Leo Varner, having signed the contract this week.

This circus will exhibit in Abilene Monday and Tuesday of that week, then at Baird Wednesday and here Thursday, going from here to Coleman. The city of tents will be erected on the four acre tract North of the cemetery. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 P.M. regardless of weather conditions.

The Dailey Circus is one of the three ring affairs that keeps a person busy trying to see it all, as its two hour program is presented in three rings, on the hippodrome track and in mid-air. It is a Texas institution but tours about 15 states annually. It opened this season last Saturday at LaGrange.

People who are on the show grounds will see the six big elephants do many things not advertised on the bills as they help the workingmen erect the tents and make things ready for the two performances. They will raise the huge center poles, pull up the peaks of the big tents, shove the heavy loads into position, carry seat plank into the tent and do many other things to help. Later they will produce a remarkable act.

Another unusual feature with the Dailey Circus is the presence of a big steel cage with thirty giant baboons in it. These untamable ferocious beasts were recently rescued from the Malaya war zone just prior to the fall of Singapore. They present a sight not soon forgotten.

The Dailey Circus does not boast of its magnitude but does insist its ring performance is unexcelled and that the two hour program presents a greater variety of acts and features than other similar shows offer.

The high school will receive a share of the receipts from the sale of tickets to all performances given in Cross Plains and as they have a laudable use for their share of the receipts they are hoping for an ideal day and old time circus crowds.

S. F. BOND BECOMES 'WEATHER MAN' HERE

S. F. Bond, veteran weather observer and prognosticator, has taken over supervision of the weather bureau rain gauge in Cross Plains, formerly maintained by the Review. Mr. Bond is looking forward to checking his weather predictions with actual receipts of the locality.

The weather bureau now has a complete record of the precipitations in Cross Plains for the past three years.

In addition to the gauge kept by Mr. Bond, Henry Williams maintains another for the soil conservation department at his farm two miles East of town.
