Defense Scores Triumph In Testimony Of Dr. Peter Sunden That Examination Failed To Prove Attack

Grocer Testifies

Witness Tells Of Youthful Dancer Breaking Up Home To Inject New Angle In Sensational Trial

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—The defense rocked the trial of Alexander Pantages on a statutory charge late today with the testimony of a doctor that an examination he made at the request of the state produced no evidence of a criminal attack on the theater man's alleged victim, youthful Eunice Pringle.

The physician, Dr. Peter Sunden, was brought into the sensational proceedings while a storm was raging over the testimony of Leo Zaket, a grocery man.

No indications Dr. Sunden said that August 13 he was instructed by District Attorney Buren Pitts to examine Miss Pringle. That was four days after the alleged attack. He said he found no indications of an attack.

The state asked him but one question in cross-examination. "Was the examination made at my request?" Pitts inquired. "It was," the doctor replied quickly.

Document introduced The defense followed with a motion to exclude the testimony of Leo Zaket, a grocery man.

Wintry Blast Is Felt With Rains

Lubbock Gets Half Inch Of Moisture Thursday Night As Precipitation Spots Entire South Plains

Another blast of approaching winter was felt in Lubbock last night as lowering clouds and darkened skies released a cold rain throughout the South Plains section while the mercury dropped to around the half century mark.

At 11 o'clock last night precipitation of nearly one-half inch had been recorded at the state experiment station, three miles east of this city. Indications were that additional moisture would fall later in the night and early this morning.

All roads leading into the city were reported as very heavy through buses were holding almost to schedule. From Lamesa to Amarillo and from eastern New Mexico to the east of Lubbock, all points received varying downfalls.

As a result of last night's fall, which started about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, work in fields again will be delayed following halts occasioned the latter part of last week and the first of this.

A drenching downpour was reported to the morning Avalanche all the way from this city to Roswell, N.M., by way of Brownfield, Amarillo, Levelland, Crosbyton, Tahoka, Canyon and Littlefield, all reported heavy falls with prospects for even more during the night.

Plainsview, Sudan, Falls, Slator, Florida, Lamesa, Lockney and Tulla reported only light showers though at all points indications were that additional moisture was expected while temperatures were dropping.

WOODWARD, Okla., Oct. 17.—If their first-born, who arrived today had been a boy, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Ferguson of Woodward would have been enriched by $10,000. But it was not. It was a girl baby which has claimed so much of their affection that they said the money made no difference.

In the hope of an heir to continue his extensive cattle business, W. M. Ferguson, the child's grand father, has offered $10,000 for his first grandchild.

The Rev. John Gobet, above, discharged as assistant pastor of Aimee Temple, has created another hubbub for the noted woman evangelist by placing charges of misappropriation of funds against Mrs. McPherson. District Attorney Buren Pitts is investigating the charges.

Attorneys Clash On Condition Of Ailing Defendant

Albert B. Fall listens to testimony in his behalf in bribery trial; lawyers disagree

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The condition of Albert B. Fall's health led to disagreement between opposing counsel today as to whether and how his bribery trial should continue, with the result that the ailing defendant ultimately sat through the afternoon session while presentation of testimony on his behalf went on.

Defense attorneys asked at a noon conference with Justice Hills that the former interior secretary be excused from the session because of setback in his illness. Government counsel insisted that if Fall was too ill to be in court the case should be recessed until tomorrow.

Denby Testifies Much time today was occupied by testimony by the late Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy in the Harding cabinet, and the late Edward L. Doherty Jr., given at the Fall-Doherty conspiracy trial here three years ago. Denby in his testimony took responsibility for letting the Pearl Harbor contract, for which the government alleges Fall accepted a bribe of $100,000 from Edward L. Doherty.

Family Holds Reunion Near Lubbock After Fifteen Years Of Separation

AFTER fifteen years of separation from her family, Mrs. S. J. Fenn, living two miles south of Lubbock, celebrated her eighty-second birthday Thursday by having all of her children at home with the exception of one. Approximately 35 persons were gathered at the home to pay honor to the woman who had, as years passed, watched her seven children grow to manhood and womanhood and leave her. And some of them have not been back for over a quarter of a century.

A vast array of presents lay on a table in the house while in the dining room two large birthday cakes were in evidence.

Minister Charged With Abduction Of Small Children From Mother

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Rose Phipps swore out a complaint charging abduction against the Rev. Paul Phipps, 27, of Littleton, Colo., today after she reported to police that three men kidnaped two of her children, Thomas 7, and Dorothy Mae, 6.

Mrs. Phipps who said she is a widow, identified the Rev. Phipps as her brother-in-law and a Presbyterian pastor. She said her oldest child, Melvin, 11, witnessed the alleged abduction.

Melvin Phipps told police he and his brother and sister were returning home from school when a large automobile drew up beside them and one of three men stepped out and forced the two younger children into the car. He said the man was his uncle Paul who told him to "run away for the police are coming after your mother."

Proposed Railway Extensions Given Approval Of City

Lubbock Board Of City Development Votes To Lend Aid To Amarillo, Santa Fe In New Projects

Three proposed railway extensions by the Santa Fe railroad were discussed at a called meeting of the directors of the Lubbock Board of City Development Thursday, at which time a vote was cast to lend aid to Amarillo and the company in the proposed.

Action on the part of the directors was expressed as a reciprocal for Amarillo's cooperation in securing the extension from Lubbock to Seagraves, and also the officials of the local body viewed the planned extensions as providing better freight and passenger facilities for traffic from this city to northwestern points.

The proposed rail extensions are from Amarillo to Los Animas, Colorado, Spearman to Dumas, and from Peit, Okla., into northwestern New Mexico.

Directors also adopted a resolution to petition the State highway commission to route or locate state highway No. 1-A from Weatherford to Mineral Wells on the shortest and most practical route from an existing and construction stand point. The resolution pointed out that the relocation of the highway, as contemplated, would divert traffic from what is known as the north loop of the Bankhead highway to the detriment of all towns north of Highway No. 1-A. Adoption of the measure would do.

President Hoover is known to oppose frequent general tariff revision because of a fixed belief that this makes for uncertainty in business and industry and consequently it is unlikely that he would favor prolonging the tariff controversy far into the regular session.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

High School Seniors Will Name President Today

An election will be held today at Lubbock High school for the selection by the senior class of its president, according to an announcement made yesterday.

Campaigning for the past few days is said to have been waged rather brisk with two major candidates running neck-and-neck in the race.

Nina Watkins, outstanding athlete of the school, has lettered in football and track and is now president of the L. club.

Rob O'Hair, yell leader, a De Molay and president of his class two years ago is Watkins' rival for the honor.

Several qualifications have been listed as necessary in a senior president and they include loyalty, faithfulness, scholarship, efficiency, personality and honesty.

"Liquor prolongs life and adds to its joys," observed Dr. Martin, who is a white haired and 70, "but it must be used moderate."

Fort Worth 16-Year-Old Slayer Found Not Guilty In Dramatic Murder Case

Boy Kills Boss Who Threatened To Put Glue In Pants

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17.—A jury verdict of not guilty and a dramatic embrace by a fond mother ended the murder trial in juvenile court today of Arthur Lee Lane, 16, who last Friday shot and killed Howard Colwell, 21, foreman of the glue department of an upholstering company.

Lane who described his work of "general flunky," said Colwell threatened to put glue in his trousers. Testimony was given of a difficulty between Lane and another youth the day preceding the shooting when fifty cents were offered a boy to throw Lane out of the room.

Makes Threats At that time Lane told Colwell and the other youth that they would be killed "if you don't leave me alone." A Brandt, owner of the company, told Lane coming to him and asking that he keep the employees from bothering the "general flunky."

Lane the next morning took his father's pistol to work. The youth said he had never fired a pistol until he pulled the trigger as Colwell made a lunge for me.

Stimson Selected U. S. Delegate To Naval Conference

Secretary Of State Named By Hoover To Head Group At Limitations Parley In London

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, has been determined upon by President Hoover as head of the American delegation to the London naval limitations conference in January.

Whether Stimson will be the sole American delegate remains for future determination, but there seems to be a strong inclination in some official circles that such will be the case.

Advisers Named. Should Stimson be the only delegate, he undoubtedly would have as his chief advisers Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium and Rear Admiral Hilary Jones, U. S. N. Retired, who were the American delegates to the tripartite naval limitations conference held at Geneva in 1927 by call of President Coolidge.

Admitted Slayer Surrenders After Wichita Shooting

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 17.—Roy Grundy, a real estate operator shot June Hilburn, an oil man, three times downtown here today and then surrendered to police, telling them that family troubles had led to the shooting.

Hilburn died almost instantly. The shooting took place in front of a restaurant. When the first bullet, fired at almost point blank range, struck Hilburn he tried to run into the cafe, but two other bullets hit him before he reached the door and he fell to the sidewalk, dead.

Mrs. Ruth Grundy, who was divorced from her husband last month said that his unjustified jealousy of her had been one of the reasons for the divorce, and denied that he had had any cause for jealousy as far as Hilburn was concerned. Hilburn, who had been a neighbor for 12 years, was divorced several months ago.

Officers of the Toread, Tech student publication and of the La Verna college yearbook, have been divided, according to the editor of the publications. The office of the Toread is located in the east half of the room formerly reserved by both staffs, while the Lavertina is in the west half of the same room. Both are on third floor of the Administration building.

HOUSEMOTHERS MEET
A round-table discussion based on rules and regulations for women students was held at a meeting of the housemothers yesterday. Rules that were not clear, were explained by Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of women.

There are 70 houses in Lubbock approved for boarding and rooming for women students. About 306 girls of the college stay in them. Figures in the Dean of Women's office show that 30 girls do light house keeping and that 24 live with their relatives. Of the 306 enrolled, the rest live in Lubbock with their parents.

On the first day of registration 14 Lubbock girls registered to 103 out-of-town girls.

T. C. U. OR TECH?
Letters recently received on the campus show that a great interest is being taken in the T. C. U. game, according to members of the Toread staff.

One student has received a letter from her father who played football for T. C. U., when that school was known as Add-Ran university. He declared that "in those days football was a 'he-man's' game. There were two periods of 30 minutes each, with an intermission of only five minutes. There was no rules against vicious tackling nor an occasional punch in the face. The football suit had precious little padding if any and the shoes were every-day ones with cleats nailed on them by the local cobbler."

The letter reads on to the effect that the former T. C. U. man has a daughter in Tech now. For the past 30 years the man has lived on the South Plains and has always supported Tech in former games. The question he asks of his daughter is "What am I to do now that I have a chance to see my Alma Mater play for the first time in 30 years?"

The WOMAN'S DAY

The mannequins that peacock around in the smartest shops are long and thin—don't let anyone tell you they aren't; in fact, they look thinner than ever in their long skirts, but college girls are heavier. Not only plumper, but stronger and healthier, according to Dr. Julia A. Anop, the staff physician of Barnard College, whose job, every fall when school opens, is to check up on the health conditions of the freshmen girls. She comes out and attributes this greater health to the sun tan, which made girls go stockinged and backless this summer, and to take sun baths in the altogether whenever the necessary privacy from intrusion presented itself.

Dr. Osley says that the health reports show that the hemoglobin test of the blood is better this year than it has been for 10 years. Approximately one-half of the students who were examined registered a hemoglobin percentage of 90 per cent or over, which for women constitutes the normal. The remainder showed a hemoglobin count of only a few points below normal.

The tanning of the body, whether accomplished by low-back and short-sleeved dresses worn without stockings, by bare back bathing suits, or regular sun baths, is one reason for the exceptionally high vitality and lack of anemia among our freshmen.

Through the delicate skin, the blood in the capillaries absorbs the ultra-violet rays of the sun and carries them to the deeper circulation of the blood. These ultra-violet rays are then supposed to stimulate the blood-forming organs.

"Certainly, there can be an excess of sunburn or windburn that will dry the skin of the two, windburn can be more harmful than the sun. But the healthy tan that the present custom has given the younger generation is making them healthier and happier.

"In my opinion, the fad for thinness is over. Young girls, if we generalize by the observations of the college girl, are favoring a little plumpness and a little more femininity in appearance.

"I find the average girl is trying to bring up her weight rather than lower it, indicating that the thin, and often unhealthy silhouette is going out of style."

NATURE'S REMEDIES Doctors and beauty experts agree that sunlight and sunshine are worth more than pills and potions, for our outside and inside as well.

Mrs. Dougan Tells Of Cooking Needs

Schools Are Opportunities For Mothers To Keep Up With Scientific Methods In Preparing Foods

An opportunity for mother to keep up with daughter is to be offered in the Avalanche-Journal cooking school to be conducted by Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan, opening next week at the Uptown Dance Palace.

For the daughters know much more about the science of cookery and home economics than many of their circumspet elders, leading educators declare.

It is the belief of Mrs. Dougan that "this business of being a woman" should in truth be treated as a business. It is Mrs. Dougan's mission in life to teach women the fundamentals in home making and point out to them the new and more scientific ways of preparing foods into tempting dishes.

"The biggest single factor in health and happiness is food," says Mrs. Dougan. "Beginning in the seventh grade and continuing through high school and college, girls are taught the scientific planning of meals, perfectly balanced and attractive to the eye. This is done with the thought that such training is essential to these girls who expect to make a success of their home management."

The five day school of cookery will give to the women of Lubbock and vicinity an opportunity of receiving first hand information from a recognized expert along these lines. Economy will be stressed in these lectures by Mrs. Dougan, for she feels that the woman who can excel in the art of cookery and at the same time save something from the family budget, is after all, the true artist.

The lectures will be free and all women are invited to hear this series of illuminating talks.

It was not—but they did not get the beneficial results from a point of view of health, of the girl who went out and put on a real coat of tan.

In complexion, as in many other respects, it pays to get the genuine article.

Dr. Osley says that the health reports show that the hemoglobin test of the blood is better this year than it has been for 10 years.

Through the delicate skin, the blood in the capillaries absorbs the ultra-violet rays of the sun and carries them to the deeper circulation of the blood.

"Certainly, there can be an excess of sunburn or windburn that will dry the skin of the two, windburn can be more harmful than the sun. But the healthy tan that the present custom has given the younger generation is making them healthier and happier.

How to Achieve Beauty

A famous French artist said very recently that if a woman's hair was beautiful she was always pleasing to the eye. He went on to explain that the hair could soften any face and give to it a reflected charm. And in my opinion the French artist is right.

So in these articles, which will review the fundamentals of a beauty regime, I shall begin with the hair. It seems to me deplorable that the fashion for the bob has lessened the attention women pay their hair. Governmental statistics show that the sale of brushes has fallen off considerably since the vogue for short locks. This is indeed calamitous, for bobbed hair needs as much, or more, attention than long hair. The brush should be as prominent on the modern dressing table as it was 25 years ago.

Dry massage is wonderfully stimulating to the scalp. It starts the blood circulating and prevents dandruff. After the hair has been brushed in the correct manner (away from the head rather than down), place the palms of the hands flat against the sides of the head and move the scalp in a rotary movement. Repeat the movement at least a dozen times and do it daily. Oily hair should be washed approximately once a week, dry hair about once in two weeks, using a liquid soap. Here is a fact which few women realize—that giving oily hair an occasional of shampoo is very beneficial. A dash of vinegar in the last rinse water will keep the hair soft. The hair should be dried by hand, using the warm rays of Old Sol to assist whenever possible.

I told you in my last article, that the coming season brings a flair for the feminine, so that whether the hair is bobbed or long, it should be arranged to lend soft enchantment to all the features. The coiffure, by all means, should be arranged to harmonize with the feminine mode.

Westerners Meet Electra Tigers On Tech Grid Today

Bengal Crew Out To Avenge Defeat Of Previous Year

Second Conference Game Of Season Finds Lubbock Eleven Ready To Start Drive For Title

A snarling Electra Tiger invades the stronghold of the fighting Lubbock High school Westerners today on the college football arena in a conference game destined to throw considerable light on the 1929 race in District One of the interscholastic league.

Considered one of the underdogs in the district chase, the Electra Bengals, under the tutelage of Coach Harvey Stanford, have donned their heaviest football armor to carry on the field this afternoon at 3:45 and have warned the Westerners that Lubbock is in for a battle royal.

Tigers Coming Along
The invading gridsters, after getting off to a poor start, have rapidly gained their stride within the past week and are likely to give the Franks-Morgan forces a tough scrap. Bill Crass, 148-pound full-back and Hub White, stocky quarterback, are touted as dangerous ball-toters. These veterans are expected to carry the brunt of the Tigers' running attack.

In case of a wet field, the Electra crew will hold a decided advantage over the Westerners, due to the consistent kicking of Crass, who is capable of booting the oval high, wide and handsome. Coach Franks said last night that only the breaks of the game would determine the outcome if the gridsters encountered a slick turf this afternoon.

Arrive Thursday
The Tigers arrived Thursday afternoon and took a light workout on the college field, despite a cold rain that was falling. The squad reached here in splendid condition and appeared ready for its first conference tilt.

Lubbock snook troops gave the high school regulars their last glimpse of Electra plays yesterday afternoon as the locals polished off their defense for the versatile running attack employed by the Tigers. The majority of Electra's plays are based around the style of attack used by Howard Payne in the Texas conference and the Golden Tornadoes of Georgia Tech.

A rousing pep rally in the downtown section last night could not be stopped by a heavy downpour of rain. Led by the high school pep squad, the Westerners roared an impressive demonstration on the principal street corners.

Scouts Expected
District One scouts in the stands today as the Westerners will likely be forced to dig deep into their back Amariello, as usual, will be represented by Line Coach Marshall May. Scouts from Vernon and Wichita Falls are also reported enroute to witness the contest.

Despite the anticipated presence of these "friendly enemies," Coach Franks intimated last night that the Westerners will be sent on the field with instructions to exercise their best running and passing attack. Hereafter, the locals have been able to "get by" with little other than straight football, but more will likely be needed in today's engagement with their conference foe.

Following are the probable starting lineups:

LUBBOCK	POS.	ELECTRA
Frinell	Left Tackle	J. Smith
Crawford	Center	McDannald
James	Right Guard	Curfman
Williams	Right Tackle	Koerthart
Hardberger	Right End	Johnson
Green	Quarterback	Head
Smith	Right Half	White
Lawson	Fullback	Crass

TO BE REPRESENTED
OTTAWA, Oct. 17. (AP)—Canada and the other members of the British commonwealth of nations will be represented at the five-power naval limitations conference in London in January. Ramsey MacDonald, said today after his arrival from Toronto for conferences with Premier Mackenzie King.

Special Train To Sandy Game

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock schools, Thursday announced that arrangements have been made for a special train to run over the Santa Fe railroad to Amarillo, November 3, for the Amarillo-Lubbock high school football game. A special rate of $2.50 will be charged and plans call for a train of more than 16 cars. It will leave here at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, November 3, and arrive in Amarillo about noon. Return will be made that night. Plans of school officials call for the largest out-of-town special train ever run from the city. The high school band, pep squads and students will accompany the train. A large number of fans of the city will also make the trip, it was said.

Tech Rifle Team Will Meet Miners

The rifle team of Texas Technological college will meet that of the Texas School of Mines in a shoulder to shoulder shoot on October 25 at El Paso, according to an announcement yesterday by L. H. E. Killin, coach.

This contest will mark the first of its kind ever participated in by a Tech team, though last year an exceptional record was made in pistol shoots.

The teams will be composed of five firing members each with one man on each side firing alternate shots at the same target. Each man will fire 40 rounds at a range of 200 yards of slow fire.

A complete lineup has not been made by Tech, only two men having been definitely selected as members of the team. Capt. W. S. Galloway will lead the locals. Galloway is an expert rifleman having won high honors at the national rifle shoot at Camp Perry during the past summer. The other selected member is Cadet Major Earl H. Cain. The remainder of the team will be picked this week. Record of the team last year was five wins in nine matches. Harvard university, University of Southern California, Leonard Stanford, University of Washington and Texas School of Mines all fell before the Matador cadets. "With seven-letter men of last year's team from which to pick, together with a host of new material, prospects for a winning group this year are bright," said L. E. Killin. "We are planning some good matches and efforts will be made to get Harvard university to come here for competition." The team will leave this city the day before the match and return immediately after.

Bob Shawkey Is Named To Pilot New York Yanks

Former Yankee Pitcher To Succeed Late Miller Huggins At Helm Of American League Entry

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—The plans of Miller Huggins for the Yankees were so far-seeing that the midge manager actually provided, as long as five years ago, a course of action to be followed in the event of his own death—which occurred three weeks ago. Jacob Ruppert, commander-in-chief of Ruppert Riffles, had such great faith in even the slightest suggestion of his diminutive field marshal that he faithfully followed Huggins' lead in announcing tonight that Robert J. Shawkey would be the next manager of the Yankees.

Huggins Wanted Art
The veteran pitcher and recent coach of pitchers for the Yanks was second choice of the managerial man. Arthur Fletcher was first in the Huggins hand-capping but the former Giant infielder and Philadelphia manager told Colonel Ruppert he would prefer to remain in his present capacity as coach of the Yankees.

It was recalled that both Huggins and Ruppert always had thought highly of Shawkey's abilities both on the field and in the dugout, and that the late manager welcomed the former pitcher back into the fold as coach last spring after Bob had finished his active career in Montreal.

Shawkey signed a contract for one year before departing some days since for a hunting camp in Quebec, where he is now with a party of friends. He will return to New York on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week to begin rebuilding the Yanks.

Began Career In 1911
Shawkey, one of the game's best right handers in his day, began his career at Harrisburg in the Tri-State league in 1911. He was purchased by the then champion Athletics for 1912 delivery, and optioned to Baltimore for that season and 1913. Recalled from the Orioles in mid-season of 1913, Bob fitted into the championship picture so well that he remained under the big top until 1918 when he obtained his unconditional release that he might sign with Montreal.

The Yankees obtained Shawkey from the Athletics in mid-season of the first Ruppert-Warhon campaign in 1915. Jack Wuhop, E. S. Cotterell and a fat check were turned over to Connie Mack for Bob's release.

In announcing Shawkey's appointment, Colonel Ruppert said: "Before announcing the new Yankee manager, let us go back a few years. Miller Huggins came to me and said we ought to make some provision for somebody to carry on for him in case of his own retirement or inability to continue at the head of the club. We added such a man to the Yankee coaching staff when Arthur Fletcher came to us after finishing at Philadelphia.

Shawkey Valuable
"Both Huggins and I looked upon Bob Shawkey as valuable timber for the council room after his playing days should end. He was returned to the club this season as a coach of pitchers. Huggins' second managerial choice, Fletcher preferred to remain a coach, so Bob Shawkey is the man, the new manager of the Yankee ball club."

Jacob Ruppert was speaking, but it really was the voice of the midge manager from the grave.

SALISBURY PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 17. (AP)—Wind of, Bloomfield, N. J., and Joe Turness of Elmford led the field at the end of the first thirty-six holes in the J. J. Lannin Memorial tournament here today. They each had rounds of 80 and 75 over the No. 3 and No. 4 courses, giving them a total of 155. Cyril Walker of Tenafly, N. J., national open champion in 1924, and Walter Kosak of Dougleson, recent winner of the Metropolitan P. G. A. title, were tied for second with totals of 156. One hundred and eighty-six players were in the event which was marred by bad weather, high winds sweeping the two courses all day and the thermometer registering around the freezing point. Predictions are that 25 theatres in Hudson will have talks this week.

Fumbled Kick-Offs Cannot Be Recovered By Team That Kicked

By CHESTER L. SMITH
NEA Service Special Writer
Football fans will recall the rule in force last year that prohibited a team that had punted from recovering and running with the ball if it was fumbled by the opposing safety man. As soon as the ball was fumbled it was free to be recovered by either side, but if the kicking side managed to reach it first, it was theirs but could not be advanced.

This rule, which was written in order to encourage one of the prettiest plays in the game—the run-back of punts—is still in existence. However, it has been amplified. A fumbled kick-off (in addition to the punt) can no longer be recovered and advanced by the team that made the kick.

Defense Takes It
Suppose, for example, Jones of Yale kicks off to Brown of Harvard. The latter fumbles on his own 10-yard line and Smith, a Yale end who is racing down the field, picks up the ball on the five-yard line.

Formerly he could run the remaining distance for the touchdown unless Harvard stopped him, but this season it will be Harvard's ball on the five-yard line.

But if Brown, who fumbled, or any of his teammates recover the ball they are free to advance it as far as they can.

A change also has been made in the case of a blocked kick which does not cross the line of scrimmage. Formerly, either team could recover and run with the ball; this year if the side that has made the kick recovers, the ball is dead and it counts as a down, only the receiving team being allowed to run with it in case it is retrieved by them.

Another alteration has to do with kicked balls that are fumbled in the field of play and then roll out of bounds.

"Muff" and "Fumble"
To understand this section, it is necessary to learn the difference between a ball that is "muffed" and one that is "fumbled." The "muffed" ball is one that has been dropped without the player committing the error having had it in his possession; for example, a punt that slips through the fingers of a juggler and then strikes the ground. A "fumble" occurs when the receiver apparently has the ball under control, takes a step or two and then drops it.

If the receiver or team B player "muffs" the ball and it rolls out of bounds it belongs to team B whether team A has touched it or not.

But if he "fumbles" it and then with team A player, member of the side that has kicked, touches the ball before it rolls out of bounds, it goes to team A.

Keep in mind the distinction between a "muff" and a "fumble" and you will have little difficulty understanding the rule.

Early Reconciliation Between Army And Navy Football Teams Is Likely; Cadet Commander Opens Negotiations
West Point Superintendent Sends Telegram To Navy Head Suggesting That Classic Be Resumed

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Definite overtures for resumption of the annual football rivalry between the Army and Navy were made today by General William R. Smith, superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, and for the first time since the service schools broke off athletic relations nearly two years ago an early reconciliation appeared likely.

In a 300-word telegram to Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson, superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, General Smith made the outright suggestion "that football games be resumed" and extended an invitation to meet him, preferably in Washington, where the situation can be discussed in detail and something accomplished toward renewing athletic relations between the two academies.

Eligibility Mentioned
Concerning the matter of eligibility standards of which the Army and Navy have long differed, General Hoover has let it be known that any member of either body who is declared eligible by his academy authorities will be eligible to play in this game.

The Army has always asserted its right to allow transfer athletes from collegiate institutions the opportunity to compete on the same terms as any other student.

General Smith's telegram, conciliatory in tone, pointed out that public opinion is strongly in favor of resumption of the colorful Army-Navy classic. He also took occasion to observe that while the Cadet averages nine months older than the Midshipmen, the Navy has a compensating advantage in that its corps numbers 2,000 as compared to the West Point enrollment of 1,200.

The action of the military academy head follows upon the activities of Representative Fred Britten of Illinois who advocated a post season game this year at Chicago. President Hoover has let it be known that he too is in favor of resuming the annual game.

Tech Squad Off Today For Scene Of Indian Clash

Colorful Battle Promised Saturday Between Matadors And McMurry; Wet Field Anticipated

An overcast sky and intermittent rain failed to slow up the Tech football warriors Thursday afternoon as the college mentors sent their charges through the final workout prior to their departure today for Abilene where Saturday they will tackle the powerful Indians of McMurry college.

Fear of another wet field this week caused the Tech coaches to change slightly their plan of attack in tomorrow's encounter with the Redskins. Additional drill was put in on old plays and several new ones were introduced which will be used against the Tribe.

Several minor injuries may hamper the Bull Fighters' running game tomorrow. Ransom Walker is slowed down by a painful foot injury and Dick Green, diminutive quarterback, is suffering from a leg bone bruise that may hold him back. Calvin Swift, Matador center, was still out with a leg injury yesterday and is not likely to see action Saturday.

The Matadors leave shortly after noon today for Abilene by bus. In case the roads will not permit travel overland, the squad will be forced to take the train to the scene of their week-end battle.

Last night's weather forecast indicated the Matadors and Indians will meet on a soggy field Saturday, but the Tech gridsters are out to break their wet-weather jinx that sent them to defeat last week in the Daniel Baker encounter. Rain or shine, the game tomorrow is certain to be one of the hardest of the season for both schools.

Razorbacks Off For Baylor Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 17. (AP)—With fifty gallons of "Ozark Hill" water in their knibags, twenty-three men, including two crippled regulars, left here tonight for Waco where the University of Arkansas eleven will meet their second Southeastern Conference foe, Baylor University, Saturday.

The pair of veterans out of the lineup are Van Sickle, all-conference tackle and Dale, halfback. Both were injured last Saturday. Several sophomores, will probably take the tackle berth, and Thompson, reserve back, will try to fill Dale's shoes.

Crabough, tackle, benched last week for breaking training, was back in lineup at the final signal practice Thursday.

Fete Planned For Superintendents

Superintendents of departments of the Panhandle-South Plains fair, board members of the chamber of commerce and the Retail Merchants' association and city commissioners will be entertained with a luncheon at the Hotel Lubbock, October 29, by officials of the fair association. It was announced yesterday.

The luncheon will be an occasion for expression of appreciation for cooperation of the various departments and at the same time also some announcements will be made as to plans for the 1930 fair.

Total profits resulting from the 1929 fair receipts cannot be announced until an audit is made, the fair association officials announce.

Captains 1929

Portrait of a man in a suit

Five dangerous opponents appear in the path of Yale's football team, captained by Waldo W. Grethe, above, and coached by Mai Stevins. The Eli eleven has high hopes of going through the season undefeated. Before them lie games with the University of Georgia, to be played in the south, the Army, Dartmouth, Princeton and Harvard. Stevens has a husky forward wall, in which the mammoth Green plays guard. The East leader is a tower of strength and bids fair to be one of the outstanding forwards in eastern intercollegiate circles.

Steers Off Today For Scene Of Tilt

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—The University of Texas football squad went through a long signal drill today and made a final display of the Oklahoma attack as outlined by Marty Karow, assistant coach, who saw the Sooners in action against Creighton last week.

The Steers yesterday took part in their last scrimmage before the Oklahoma tilt at Dallas Saturday. Thirty men will make the trip which will start at noon tomorrow.

Minor injuries showed up here this week. There was a leg down after the long Arkansas game by Saturday to put up a great fight against their old rivals.

Oklahomans Poise Attack For Battle

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 17. (AP)—The University of Oklahoma Sooners polished off practice today for the University of Texas game at Dallas Saturday and were prepared to leave for Dallas tomorrow afternoon.

When the thirty Huskers left the Longhorn arena, Curtis Berry, veteran tackle, probably will have a sideline assignment. He was a casualty in the Creighton game a week ago. Indications were that Hillary Lee, giant sophomore, and his brother John, would have the tackle positions.

PLEADS INSANITY

SHAWNEE, Okla., Oct. 17. (AP)—A petition for a sanity hearing of Arthur L. Fumble, Shawnee wholesale merchant who has related a dramatic story of being a prisoner and awaiting trial at a blacksmithing gang, was filed today in Pottawatomie county court by Randall Pittman, county attorney. The petition asserted Fumble, who is held in jail, is subject to hallucinations and had sent various letters to citizens of Shawnee.

Grid Rivals Of Long Standing To Meet In Dallas

University Teams From Oklahoma And Texas On Edge For Conflict At Fair Park Stadium

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Indications tonight were that Saturday's interconference struggle between Oklahoma and Texas universities at Fair Park Stadium here would be witnessed by a capacity crowd of 15,000.

A majority of reserved seats for the spectacle already have been sold and the last-minute rush was expected to pack the wooden bleachers. Special trains will bring 4,000 Oklahomans down for the fray, another will carry 1,000 Longhorn rooters to the battle site. The Texas Cowboys cheering corps will lend color to the game.

The game, itself, promises to be one of the most vivid on the season calendar. The two schools have been gridiron rivals since 1909, when Southwest football was in its swaddling clothes.

Texas proved its calibre last week in smothering over four touchdowns on Arkansas, and the Sooners gave an adequate warning by their victory over a strong Creighton eleven. Creighton could do nothing with the Oklahoma line, making only 26 yards from scrimmage and one first down.

Both squads were scheduled to reach here Friday, probably in time for brief workouts before dawn.

Manchuria Freed Of Russian Army After Big Raids

Forces Withdraw Following One Of Most Expensive Raids Of Present Fight Between Soviet, China

TOKYO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Russian forces apparently have withdrawn from Central Manchuria after one of the most extensive raids in the history of the Soviet-Chinese conflict.

Rengo dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, today said the Soviet troops had retired to the Russian frontier after penetrating more than 100 miles inland along the Sungari river to near Hsiao (Samsing) and Fugdin (also Fuchin).

Shen Hung-Lieh, commanding Chinese Sungari river forces, sent the following communique to Harbin:

"The Soviet force which occupied

Linkianghsien on the night of October 13 exceeded the Sungari in overwhelming numbers, consequently gravely endangering Fuchin and Hsachuan.

"However, the Chinese fleet co-operating with the Kirin fifty-seventh brigade succeeded in compelling the Russian fleet to withdraw to Sankiangkow on the night of October 14. Following the Russian retirement the Chinese vanguard entered Linkianghsien.

Gunboats Invade

"The Russian invading force consisted of seven gunboats and twelve airplanes. Soviet marines looted the granary at Linkianghsien before withdrawing. We are maintaining a vigilant watch to prevent repetition of the invasion."

This raiding the Soviet commanders are expected to justify as reprisal for Chinese attacks on Soviet navigation in the region of the Sungari and Amur rivers confluence.

Business Men Contend That Eating Without Chaperone Is Quite Innocent; May Resort To Court Proceedings

HOUSTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—All within the restriction, are left without choice in the matter of meals.

Persistent reports of dice games and like diversions at the noon hour led to the no-lunch-room proclamation, which was protested by merchants, some of the parents and some students at a meeting Monday night.

Members of the board of education, resisting both the pleading of the students and the prayers of the business men, held their ground yesterday under a verbal barrage seeking the downfall of the board's edict that students should eat either at the school cafeterias or in their own homes.

YOU CANT RIDE ON A GRUDGE

Do you carry grudges? Cast them aside. Your burden in life is heavy enough without them. Do you boast of your grudges as a sign that you are a free man? Don't do it. Though you may have created your grudges and though you may feed them, they are your masters. You may carry your grudge uphill through life, but it will carry you only down.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

To the government it is important that a place should be known by one name—properly spelled—and that it should not be called by any other. It has therefore created a Geographic Board which has the power under executive order to do for rivers, capes, lakes, mountains and islands what Adam is alleged to have done for the animal kingdom in the Garden of Eden.

AVOIDING BOOKKEEPING

First Assistant Postmaster General Coleman is quoted as saying: "We carry government department mail free because it is much more economical to do so than to impose a bookkeeping department overhead to record the mail sent by each government bureau and charge for the same."

THE SAFE WAY TO DO IT

If the blister is inconvenient in its position, it is probably safer to remove the fluid by the following method: Cleanse the area thoroughly with some antiseptic, such as alcohol, tincture of iodine or mercuric iodine; then sterilize a needle by heating it first in a flame; tunnel under the skin into the blister, and the fluid will come out through the tunnel and the tissues of the body will take care of the rest.

The Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Croves

HELEN PAGE feels hopeless in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT. After meeting a dandy beggar, CHARLES NELLIN, Brent changes his plans for Helen's future. Soon after he tells her that she is the only grandchild of a millionaire, CYRIL K. CUNNINGHAM. Brent takes her to Cunningham and offers proofs which the lonely old man accepts, as he had been searching for the child.

Among Helen's new friends are EVA ENNIS and her brother, ROBERT. Helen falls in love with Brent. Brent finds another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin to prove Helen as the heiress. He also becomes jealous of Bob and plots to secure Helen for himself quickly. Hearing the doctor say that a sudden shock would kill the old man, Brent gets the servants out of the way and rushes into the sick room shouting wildly that Helen has been killed. His plan works and when the attendants re-appear, Cunningham is dead. Then, acting as sympathizer and appealing to the doctor, Brent secures Helen's promise to marry him. He tries to break off a love affair with Eva without arousing Helen's suspicions.

A chance meeting between Helen and Bob reveals their love for each other, but she tells him she is promised to another. Helen goes to ask Brent to release her and finds CARMELO NELIN in his apartment. Carmelo throws herself in Brent's arms before he sees Helen. This makes it easier for Helen to demand that their engagement be broken, but Brent refuses to release her, saying that he had given up marriage earlier and devoted his life to her so that now she has no right to reject him as he has devoted his life to her, and that Carmelo means nothing to him. When his arguments fail to hold her, Brent resolves on more drastic methods.

Meanwhile, SHALLIMAR MORRIS, a school friend of Helen's, arrives for a visit and meets Bob, who angry over Helen's evasion and lack of explanation. Shallimar challenges him to a flirtation, and is surprised when he says, "I'd like to fall in love with you — to forget someone else."

"So I did," she was fair enough to admit. "Well, shall we say we're engaged? Then I can tell Helen it would break my heart to leave."

She was laughing at him but Bob squirmed just the same. "Let's not be evaded."

"But you will give yourself every chance to learn to love me, won't you?" she pressed. "You will spend every free moment you have with me?"

"To keep his promise, they stayed until the dancing was over for the night at the club house, and drove home through the morning mist that hung over the banks of the river like a crowd."

"I wonder if I can get in without waking the house?" Shallimar mused when her eye chanced to fall upon the small clock in the hall.

"Don't try," Bob said shortly. "Oh, so you've been to know what time I get in?"

"Bob was ashamed at once of his pettiness. Driving in Helen's car had awakened bitter feelings in him. "I really don't think she ought to be disturbed again tonight," Shallimar replied earnestly.

"Again?" Bob questioned. "Something happened before dinner that upset her. She wouldn't tell me what it was. A telephone call. For a while she was deeply agitated, she seemed to put it out of her mind and when your sister arrived, she was as gay as Helen. Helen isn't exactly exuberant, is she?"

Bob made no reply. Undoubtedly, he was thinking. Helen had heard from the man she had promised to marry. But no matter what had passed between them before she reached Bramblewood, she was sufficiently to put him before everyone else in the world. If the other man wanted her, she must marry him! Not just an excuse for letting him down!

"What will I do with the car?" he asked Shallimar when they reached Bramblewood. "Drive around, so the garage," she directed, "and if we can't get in we'll leave it in the driveway. Nice little bus, isn't it? Helen is one lucky girl!"

When they stepped before the garage she insisted that Bob kiss her. "You don't know how much it will help you to love me unless you do it," she teased.

And Bob kissed her on her chin. "Don't be funny," she cried and pulled his face back to smother it in kisses.

"For the Lord's sake," Bob pleaded when he could get his breath. "What do you think you're doing?"

"Making you love me, boy. Weren't you ever kissed like that before?"

"Never. Is it a common practice in your life?"

Shallimar confessed reluctantly. "I just had an impulse. Maybe I'm going to fall hard for you after all. How do you feel?"

"You haven't worked any magic on me so far," Bob told her, and meant to be discouraging. He was beginning to regret that he had let himself in for something with Shallimar.

"How in the world will you get home?" she asked him when he at last succeeded in getting out of the car.

"Oh, I'll hop a milk wagon or walk to the nearest telephone and call a taxi."

"Why not come inside and phone?"

"And wake up everybody?"

American Federation of Labor Convention Favors Court Injunctions in Labor Disputes

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 17. (AP)—Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention prepared today to record their views on the use of court injunctions in labor disputes, elect officers, name a meeting place for next year, and suspend 1922 proceedings.

A decision upholding the educational enterprise represented by the workers' educational bureau was reached by the convention in advance of the injunction dispute. The same committee report endorsing the educational program was adopted, referred to the executive council a proposal by the Wyoming state federation for a nation of a national labor college to be maintained by assessments on labor unions for the purpose of training trade-union organizers.

Dinner Coat Is Capitol Favorite

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The dinner coat still is popular at the White House even though the arbiters of fashion have decried it as passe for all except the most formal of occasions.

President Hoover, whose distaste for formal dress of any kind is well known to his friends, makes a concession when there is a dinner for a prime minister or an ambassador. Otherwise he appears for dinner in a tuxedo. And those who are invited to the White House for the rather large dinner gatherings of which the President and Mrs. Hoover are so fond are told beforehand that the "black tie" and the short coat are the things to wear.

MOVES TO RENO

RENO, Nev., Oct. 17. (AP)—Lady Mary Heath, noted British aviatrix, has arrived in Reno presumably to file suit for divorce from her wealthy husband, Sir James Heath, British ironmaster and colliery owner. She has taken an apartment for a three-month period.

You, too, may have a clear skin

THOUSANDS of people have weak, impure blood—to this may be attributed pimples, boils, eczema, "run-down" systems, rheumatism and even more serious ailments.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get the number of your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, those pains usually called rheumatism, boils, pimples and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to disease.

Throughout more than a hundred years S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It is Nature's own blood tonic for improving the appetite, clearing

Bingham Assumes Responsibilities

Connecticut G. O. P. Solon Defends Employment of Manufacturers Head As Tariff Adviser

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Full responsibility was assumed today by Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, before the Senate lobby committee today for his employment of Charles L. Eyanon, an officer of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association, as a tariff adviser at the time the tariff bill was before the Senate finance committee.

Bingham, member of the finance committee, praised the work Eyanon had done and said "if any one ever served a Senator loyally, it was he."

Serves Two Masters
"Except he was serving two masters," observed Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, member of the lobby committee.

"Senator Walsh, I don't think that is fair," replied Bingham. "He worked as hard for the fisheries as for the manufacturers."

At the same time he was your aid and assistant, he was being paid by the Manufacturers' association," replied Walsh.

"Certainly, there is no secret of that." Bingham then said if there was anything "wrong with it, the fault is mine."

"Well, do you think there was anything wrong with it?" asked Caraway.

"Possibly I made a mistake," said Bingham, adding if he had known it was "considered proper for government employees who were hired to do one job to be used by senators to help do another job" he probably would not have asked the Manufacturers' association to "loan" him a man.

There are now about 75,000 women civil servants in England.

Murder Theory In Death Of Senator

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Washington Evening Star says today that Senator Bleese of South Carolina, had received a letter expressing the belief that the late Senator Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut, was murdered.

At the time of his death in 1924 a coroner's jury reported death had resulted from suicide.

The Star added Bleese had received the letter from a woman and proposed to place it before a senate committee investigating the Washington police department.

Murder Theory In Death Of Senator

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Washington Evening Star says today that Senator Bleese of South Carolina, had received a letter expressing the belief that the late Senator Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut, was murdered.

At the time of his death in 1924 a coroner's jury reported death had resulted from suicide.

The Star added Bleese had received the letter from a woman and proposed to place it before a senate committee investigating the Washington police department.

Politicians, Farmers And Temperance Workers Join In Common Cause Thursday At Dallas State Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Politicians, temperance workers and farmers were banded together today in a common cause to make Thursday at the State Fair a success. Today has been officially designated as legislators' and state officials day, W. C. T. U. day, and Oregon day, not to mention Dallas County Women's Democratic Association day and Texas Feeders-Breeders day.

Honors Divided
Honors were divided between the Agricultural and Mechanical colleges of Oklahoma and Texas in judging Percheron horses. The Oklahoma institution entered the grand champion stallion, while the Texas mare entry took the grand championship. A yearling jack, owned by J. W. Sheppard of Plano and named for Dallas' mayor J. Waddy Tate, was selected for grand champion. Mr. Sheppard presented the jack to Mayor Tate.

Making the highest score yet recorded in the band contests, the North Texas Junior Agricultural college of Arlington was awarded first place in the junior college band competition. The band scored 93 points.

Ishbel at New York Social Centers

Those were busy days in New York for the celebrated visiting welfare workers, Ishbel MacDonald. Following a program almost as strenuous as her father's, the daughter of the British Premier had "the best time" of her visit when, as pictured at the top, she sat beside Judge Franklin Chase Hoyt on the bench of the Children's Court and heard him dispose of two cases. She visited other social service centers, too, and is shown below, surrounded by girl pupils, in a class room of the Manhattan Industrial High School.

Both U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle and Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Watts referred to the syndicate as "an international ring, with agencies in England, Canada, and elsewhere." At the same time they revealed that the syndicate operated not only along the Jersey coast but practically controlled all illegal importation of liquor from Maine to the Virginia capes.

"I Feel Just Fine In Morning Now"

Amarillo Railroad Man Says His Troubles Are All Disappearing After Taking Orgatone And He Is Gaining Daily

"I get up in the mornings now feeling like a 2-year-old, and I've gained in weight and strength since I started taking Orgatone," said L. D. Priest, when he was talking to the Orgatone representative, Mr. Priest, who lives at 2108 Roberts St., is in the railroad store department for the Santa Fe Railroad, which position he has held for the past ten years.

"I suffered terribly for more than five years," he continued, "and got in an awfully run down condition. I got so I didn't want anything to eat and what little I did force down would cause me trouble from the gas that would form on my stomach. I would have smothering spells and a choking sensation in my chest, and I want to tell you this is real suffering. My kidneys bothered me a great deal which made me very restless at night and I would get up in the morning feeling so tired and worn out. I actually hated the thought of going to work, and then when I did go out to the shops I would feel bad all day. I took everything I could find trying to get some relief, but I just got worse and worse and there's no telling what would have become of me if it hadn't been for Orgatone."

"I heard a lot about what this Orgatone was doing and read so much in the papers where people all over Amarillo were being helped by it that I decided it might do me some good, and I tell you it was the best day's work I've done in a long time when I started taking Orgatone, for I'm a well man now and my nerves are as steady as a steam engine. I can eat anything I want without a bit of suffering and I enjoy every mouthful. I noticed before I had finished the first bottle my appetite was improving and now after taking four bottles of it, it seems like I can't get enough to eat. It sure is a fine feeling to sit down to a good dinner, like I do now and know you can eat everything on the table and not have any trouble afterwards. And sleep, why I never wake up until time to get up and go to work and when I start out I feel as fine and full of life as a boy going hunting with a gun."

"Yes sir, this Orgatone has got me feeling like my old self again, and I know it's the right medicine for me. Everybody I know asked me what's making me look so much better and I don't lose any time telling 'em 'Orgatone', and I'm glad to tell you about it so you can publish it and let other suffering people know what Orgatone has done for me."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowens Drug Store. Adv.

Reporter With Canadian Air Hunt Paints Vivid Pictures Of Probable Fate Of Eight Lost Birdmen Explorers In Wilds Of The Vast Northwest

EDITOR'S NOTE: Far up in the Canadian northwest, under the rim of the Arctic circle, the greatest airplane search in American history is being carried on for Col. C. D. H. MacAlpine and his lost party of Canadian mining explorers whose two planes disappeared in the bleak wilderness on September 11.

At the left, above, are Captain Sutton (with pipe) and Jack Rogers, two of the trio of searchers who were forced down and narrowly escaped starvation in the bleak wastes of the Canadian northwest. Below is a camp of the Dominion Explorers on the rocky coast of Hudson Bay. In country like that where the trio was held stormbound for eight days, killing Arctic birds for food. At the right, A. L. Reading, third member of the party and field geologist for the Dominion Explorers, is telling the story of the adventure to Emmett E. Kelleher, NEA Service and Avalanche representative in the field.

BY EMMETT E. KELLEHER NEA Service Reporter with Canadian Aerial Expedition Searching for Lost MacAlpine Party THE PAS, Manitoba, Oct. 17.—The most perilous regular airway in the world are the lonely airways that skirt the Arctic circle over the desolate wastes of the barren lands of northern Canada. Somewhere along these air lanes eight Canadian airmen are missing, and the search for them, conducted on a bigger scale than any airplane search in the history of North America, is demonstrating the full extent of the risks shouldered by the flyers who cruise along these lanes for a livelihood.

Furthermore, a forced landing can be terribly serious, even when the ship lands safely. If the aviator escapes being killed in the crash he has an excellent chance of starting to death; and he also has the comforting knowledge that even if an airplane comes out to hunt for him, the snowy barrens make such a poor background that the plane could fly directly over him without seeing him.

Col. C. D. H. MacAlpine, famous Canadian mining man, and seven companions, took off from Baker Lake, 120 miles from the west coast of Hudson's Bay, on September 8, to fly 2,000 miles on an exploring trip to Aklavik, nearly due west. Since then the two planes carrying the party have not been heard from, and the best flyers in Canada have been searching for them daily. Practically all of Canada's star pilots have been brought here.

Weather conditions seldom very good, are occasionally downright vile. When a gale comes howling down from the North Pole, bringing sleet and snow and fog along with it, there simply isn't any flying until it is over—and any pilot caught aloft in the storm is apt to be out of luck.

Veto Band Clause Is Given Approval

EADEN-BADEN, Germany, Oct. 17.—The American delegation to the Bank of International Settlements conference, led by M. A. Traynor of Chicago, today won its fight for the adoption of a veto clause having particular bearing on the position of the federal reserve bank. The clause places the federal reserve bank in the position of never having to assent to any international bank operation or of having to dissent unless it so wishes and yet at the same time prevents the bank from doing anything contrary to federal reserve policy. The conferees also adopted the final text of the permissive international bank functions, but the press sub-committee has not divulged details, saying the provisions generally are those already contained in the annex to the Young plan outlining the bank's proposed functions.

Wall Street Awakes To Fact That It Has Become Biggest Sucker Of All

BY JOE COPPS
NEA Service Writer.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17. — Wall Street, where millions are made by smart folks and millions are lost by suckers, has awakened to the fact traded in a bucket shop or bought a wild-cat stock. While timid souls are parking $10 bills in hat of shoe to foil prowling bandits, Wall Street is sending billions of dollars through the streets in the not-always-tender care of 15,000 boy messengers. They are as nonchalant as hucksters peddling apples, and about as responsible.

Carefully selected, trained and heavily armed, guards like the one pictured here transport billions of dollars in cash and securities about New York every day. Each man is bonded for $5,000,000.

$512,000 Recent Stolen.
Obviously, Wall Street's losses are large. So are those of the bonding companies which must charge high rates for their own protection. But it took an incident like the recent theft of the $512,000 bundle of securities from R. V. Hiscoe and Co., to make Wall Street realize that something must be done about it.

Billion Dollar Deliveries.
"On a heavy trading day, transfers of securities from the stock exchange alone will total around $700,000,000," said an official of the New York Stock Exchange. "Transfers on the curb and over the counter will amount to at least $300,000,000, bringing the total amount of stock delivered during the day up to a billion dollars in money value."

"Bond houses hire young, unreliable boys for $15 or $20 a week rather than pay a responsible man $35 or $40, and we are helpless to prevent it," said Ranulph Kingsley, vice-president of the National bank can discover that the paper has been stolen."

Surety company, the largest bonding company covering securities in New York.

"The small boy bond-carrier has been an easy prey to thieving rings ever since 1919, when crooks discovered how to cash in on so-called non-negotiable securities," Mr. Kingsley said. "With a bond in his possession, the thief now goes to some outside city and opens a bank account."

Forty paid boys like Milton Alter, top, are depended upon to deliver vast fortunes in securities. Alter confessed to taking part in a half-million dollar robbery and implicated Carl Forman, below, as the "brains" of the theft ring.

"Guaranteed Messengers.
In an effort to set an example for its own protection, the National Surety company now has a department entirely devoted to hiring messengers and furnishing these reliable couriers to their clients. They have placed some 500 of these men around the financial district and guarantee their integrity."
Last spring the New York Stock Exchange, for the protection of its members, organized the Stock Clearing Corporation which handles bonds in much the same manner as a clearing house handles checks. Bonds for delivery are all sent to a central point, where bonded messengers sort and carry them to their destination without a duplication of effort in delivery. This system is growing in popularity and

Future Rulers Of Italy

They're the future King and Queen of Italy. It's at a court wedding in Rome—though not their own—that Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and pretty Princess Maria-Jose of Belgium here are pictured together for the first time. Their engagement has been announced and it has been reported that they may be wed by the Pope.

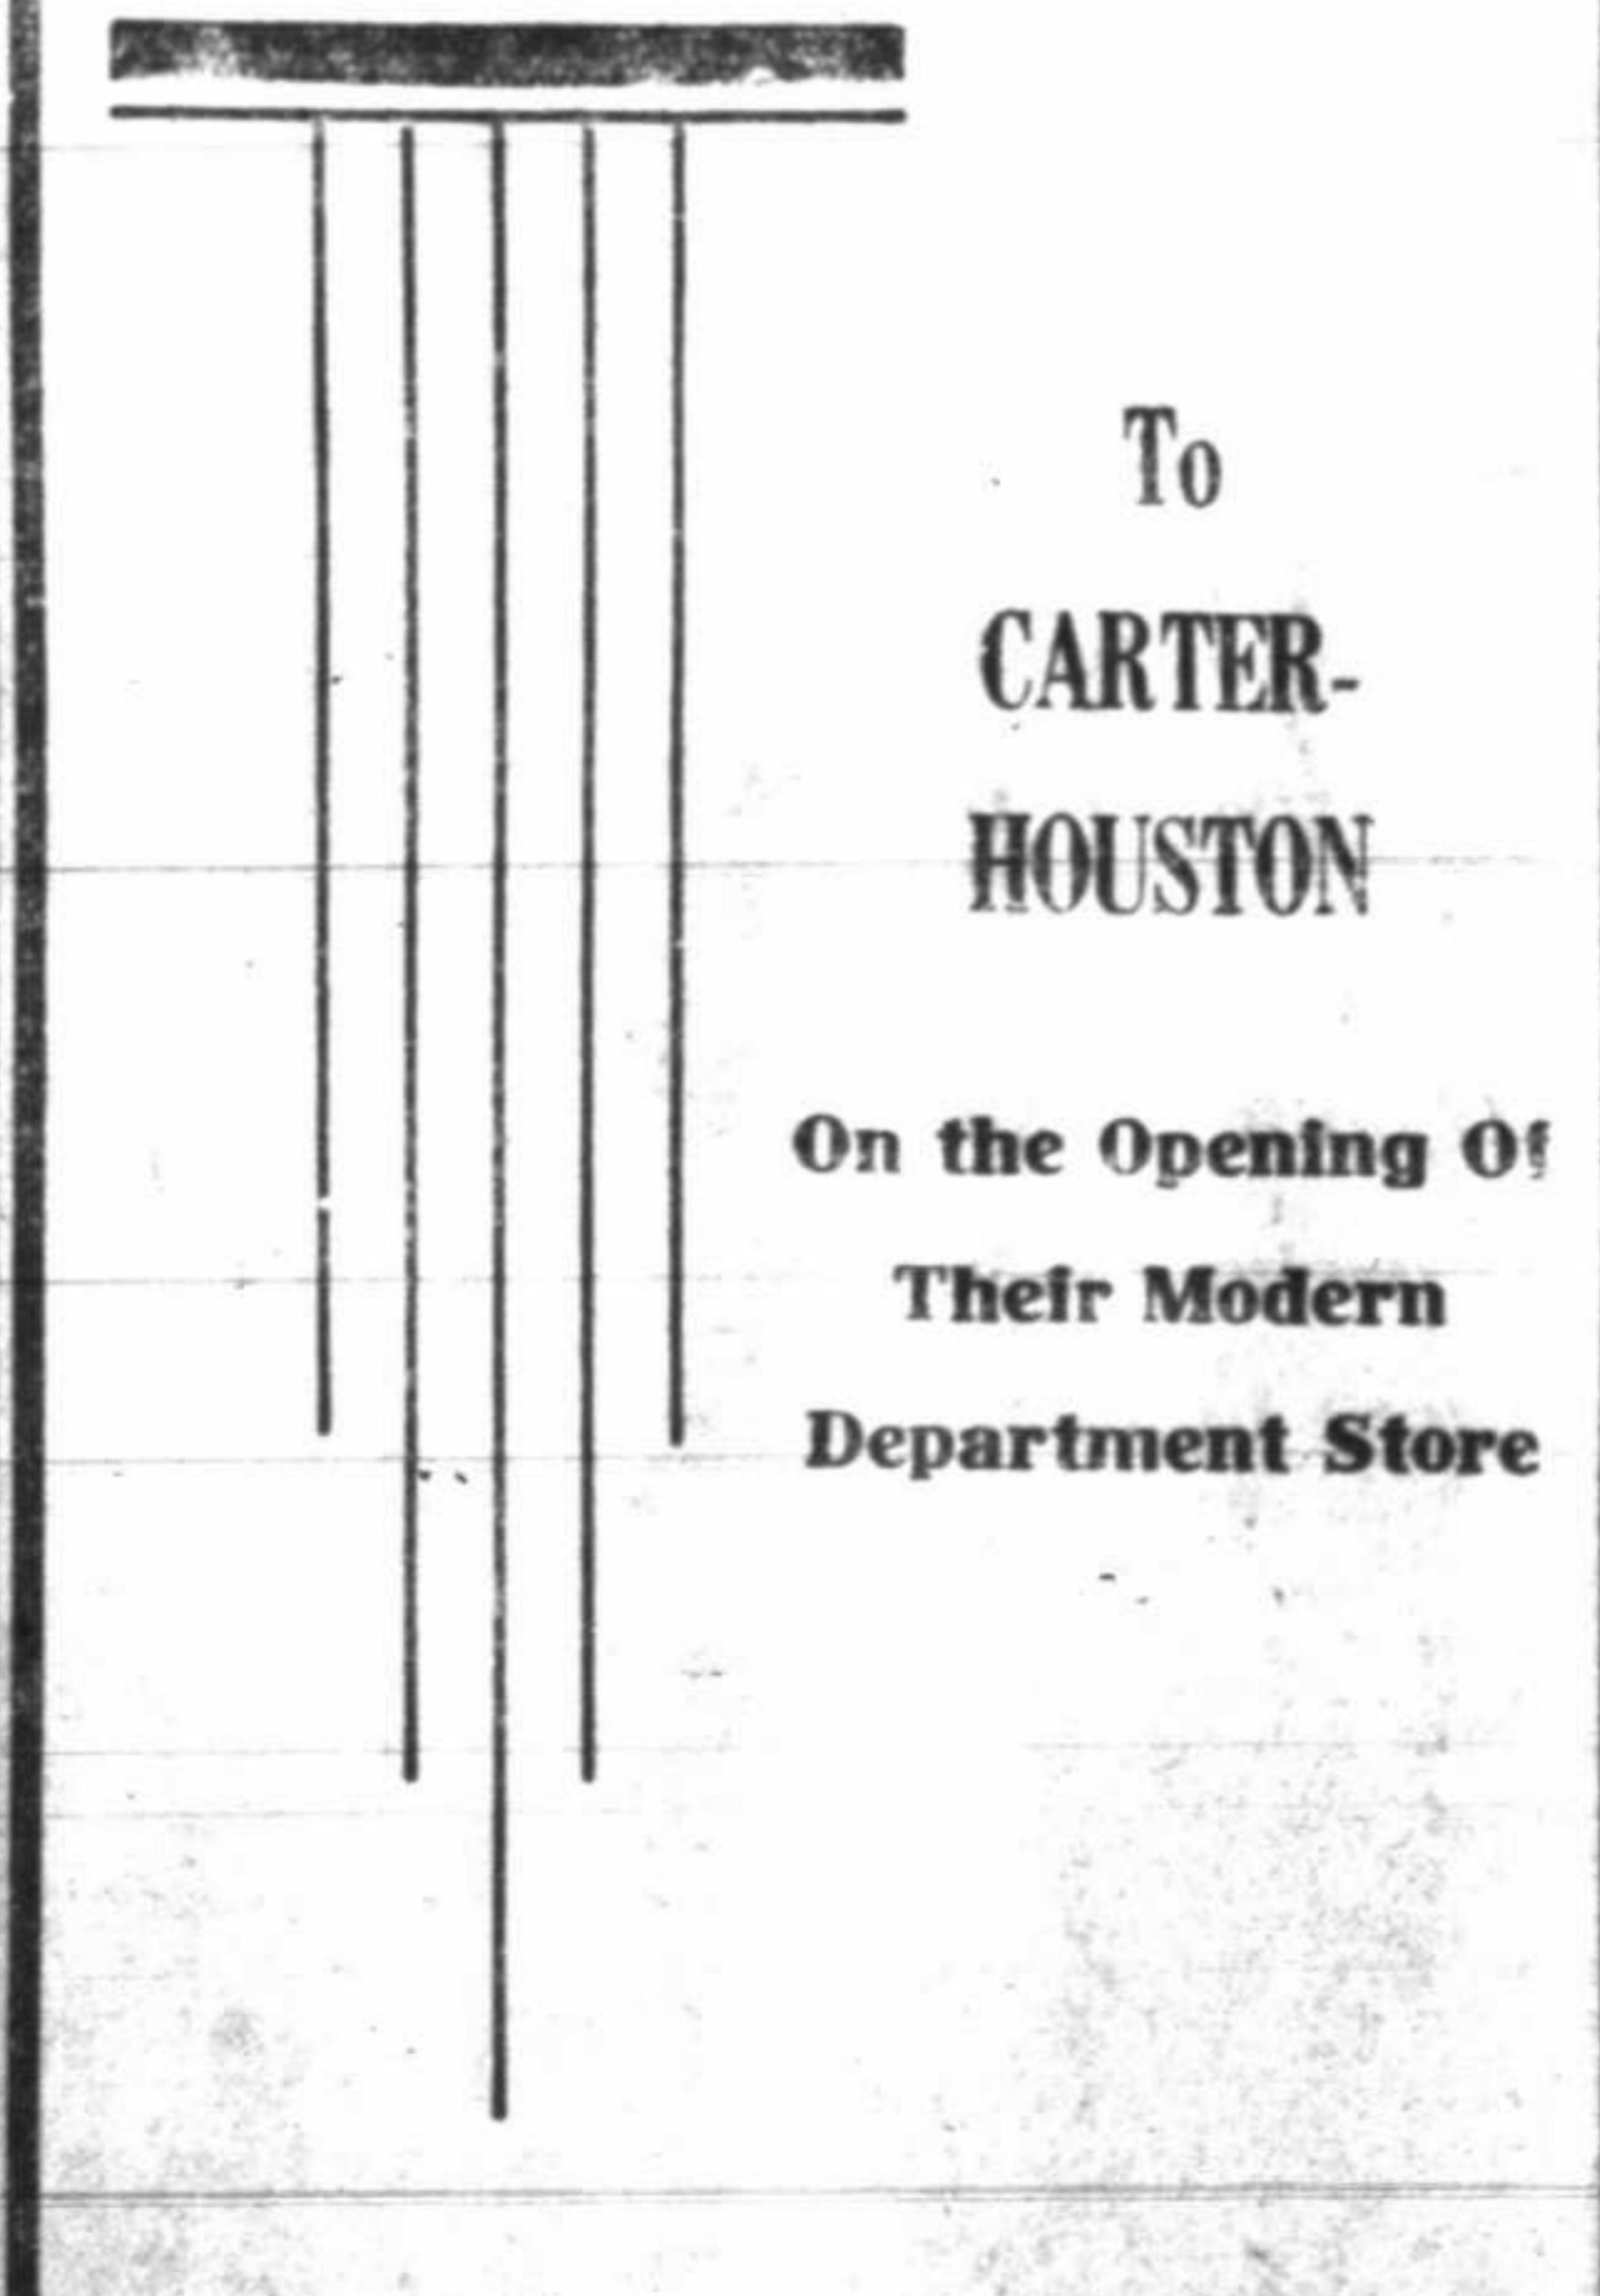

may be the solution of the present money and securities in burproof vaults for months and then send it out at the mercy of a 13-year-old boy. W. R. Huntington, an official, said: "Our trucks handle money for the New York banks like so much groceries—and we've never lost a dime. In the morning we go to the Federal Reserve bank and get the day's supply of money and deliver it to six or seven hundred banks throughout the city."
"The New York banks don't like to pay interest on surplus money, so every evening we requisition the banks and bring their extra money back to the Federal Reserve bank where it is counted and baled and made ready to go out again in the morning."
"We have four men on each truck, but they never work together on consecutive days. Every morning there is a new shuffle of men and routes and there is absolutely no chance of a plot hatching among the guards. A few years ago when the Federal Reserve bank moved to its new building, we transported four billion dollars in a day and

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 17. (AP)—Albuquerque's missing girl mystery having been solved, a missing boy problem presented itself today.
Munson Scott, 15, disappeared after leaving a note to his father, Charles D. Scott, railroad engineer, saying he was going to Amarillo, Texas. Police are searching for him.
Myriam Nolting, 12, was safe at home with her parents, after she had been gone 30 hours.
"It was going to Hollywood," she told William E. Chapman, Albuquerque business man who picked her up in his car several miles south of Albuquerque. Chapman took the girl to Gallup, read about her disappearance in a newspaper and left her at a hotel for a few minutes. When he returned, she had left him a note saying she had changed her mind about going to California. Chapman later found her with two tourists between Gallup and Thoreau, N. M. He notified her parents, who met her at Laguna, N. M.
