The first game of Tuesday evening's Little League competition found the Cardinals and Dodgers going into the seventh inning with the score tied at 0-0. The game was called because of the time limit agreed upon by the League, and in order that the second game of the double-header might begin. The Dodgers out-hit the Cards, but neither team was able to score a run.

Shell Dredging Rules Amended By Commission

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, in a regular statutory meeting in Austin Wednesday, amended the mud-shell dredging proclamations of 1963 and 1964 to prohibit the taking of oystershell within one-half mile of the shore line now defined as nursery and/or wildlife-food producing areas in the Texas bay system.

The exact request as presented by J. R. Singleton, executive director of the Department, is as follows:

Whereas, the bays, bay shorelines and adjacent shallow areas have been and are the subject of continuing intensive study by Department and other biologists; and

Whereas, these studies now have more clearly defined the areas constituting the major portion of the nursery grounds for the more important fish and shellfish that make up the sport and commercial fisheries; and

Whereas, the marginal zone also has been found to be very significant in the production of food for waterfowl and other wildlife species; and

Whereas, it has been shown that these shallow productive areas frequently extend considerable distances from the shoreline; now therefore

Be it ordered by the Parks and Wildlife Commission of Texas that orders of this Commission dated November 1, and December 11, 1964 which orders established the policy for removal of shell and mud-shell from the various bay areas of this State be amended by adding the following provision; that shell dredging operations may not be conducted within one-half mile of any shoreline or in marginal water less than four feet in depth in those areas now clearly defined as nursery and/or wildlife-food producing areas, and that such areas are specifically excluded from any permits now in effect or which may be granted hereafter under authority of this Commission.

Hearing of Dredging Fishing Bay Bills

Austin—Rep. Dick Cory, Victoria, recently was attacked bitterly by commercial fishermen and shell-dredgers on his bill to close bay areas around the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge and Espiritu Santo Bay to dredging and commercial fishing.

He responded as hotly, urging the House Parks and Wildlife Committee to report out his Espiritu Santo Bill and that by Sen. Bill Patman, Ganado, as local bills.

The hearing wore on through the evening, with dredgers taking the last two hours to voice opposition to any limitation on dredging in San Antanio Bay.

Cory had four bills for committee consideration.

The first was to declare a marine sanctuary in much of the bay waters in Aransas and Calhoun counties, to protect the whooping crane. The second was to do what he and Patman thought they did four years ago — close Espiritu Santo Bay to commercial netting. It turned out that they did not cover it all.

Patman's version, already through the senate, would close the entire portion from the intracoastal waterway to Mustang Island. Cory's version would close only the east and west ends, leaving the central portion open.

It was this which led to opposition testimony from Wiley Morgan and J. D. Hawes of Port O'Connor and Matagorda Island. Cory came back to say they had called him a liar, and hotly asked the committee to insist on an apology. Both men came back to say they had not meant to call Cory a liar, but they insisted that he was closing open waters to them as commercial fishermen.

Cory's strong appeal for full protection of the feeding waters of the whooping crane from both fishing and dredging was supported by conservationists and sports fishermen. But Morgan and Hawes contended that the whoopers were just the excuse—that it was really being done just for the sports fishermen.—S. A. Light.

NAME OMITTED

Motorists crossing the Mackinac Bridge between the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan no longer have to pay a "toll."

They still pay, but the bridge authority decided that the word "toll" sounded bad, so motorists now pay a "fare."

DON'T FIGHT ODDS

A recent survey in our neighboring state of Arizona indicates a driver's safest bet is to pass up hitchhikers.

The American Automobile Assn. reports a police check along one stretch of Arizona highway revealed that of 100 hitchhikers stopped and questioned, 84 had criminal records. Twelve others were either juvenile runaways or servicemen absent without leave.

This means only four of the 100 investigated were without some kind of police record. It would be stupid to gamble against odds like that.—Albuquerque Journal.

NOW OCEANS IN DISPUTE

Ownership of the ocean bed was a detail that probably never entered the mind of Sir John A. MacDonald and others of his time. It just didn't seem to matter. The ocean bed simply was Davy Jones' locker, up to relatively recent years.

"Man marks the earth with rain," Byron wrote. "His control stops with the shore . . . "For his time this was correct but times have changed. Now there is talk of the ocean bed and its ownership becoming an international issue.

Who owns it or any part of it? It long has been acknowledged, of course, that there are "territorial waters." They are part of shore-lines and affect fishing rights, among other things. But oceans are more remote, or at least until recent times that was their status.

Growing populations and an increase in encroachments on such real or claimed holding are likely to provide if not provoke further tensions. To a small degree they already exist.—Windsor (Ont.) Star.

With apologies to the band whose slogan used to be: "The Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven," we must reserve that theme for the astronauts when they heard their motor fire to bring them out of their moon orbit.—Elizabethtown (Ky.) Tribune.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Mark Your Equipment

Equipment not only can be lost or stolen on a camping trip, it can become mixed with that of your companions or left at camp when you depart.

It is wise to plainly mark each piece of your property with name, address and phone number, using a ballpoin pen to keep markings waterproof.

A laundry marking pen is ideal for such purposes.

Cleaning a Boat—A fishing trip can get a boat in one holy mess. Get the rig clean while on your way home by pouring three or four gallons of soapy water into the boat (with drain plug closed). The sloshing back and forth of the soapy water in the boat as you travel will give you a bang up thorough cleaning job.

Washing Equipment

When you get home from a camping or fishing trip, fill a washtub half-full of water. Add detergent and stir well.

Then toss in all pieces of tackle such as stringers, bait buckets, scalers, cleaning knives and sacks used to carry fish.

Let them soak for an hour or two. Then empty the suds and rinse.

This procedure will clean your gear of fish odors.

Be sure to dry equipment well before storing.

Dry Wood for Fire—Sometimes dry wood is scarce around a campsite. But dead trees can be found most anywhere. Locate one near camp, tie a stone to one end of a rope, throw stone over a dead limb and pull. Your firewood should come down with a crash.

Versatile Reels — Unlike a casting reel, both the spincast and the spinning reel can successfully cast a fly. However, the spincast reel is the least adaptable of the two. But the spinning reel, using a bubble, does an excellent job.

Combination Fly Rig—Some ambitious fly fishermen use a spinner to make their fly more attractive to bass. This combination works well, but such a rig is difficult to cast properly.

Cancer-Causing Drug May Help Eradicate Disease

A chemical favored to suppress rejection of transplanted organs, implicated in recent months as a cause of cancer, may actually turn out to be a helpful clue in the battle against cancer.

Houston immunologist Dr. William T. Butler made that point Thursday in reporting that he and researchers in other U.S. and foreign centers are studying that possibility.

"It certainly could give us insight into cancer," he said. "This may be a clue."

The chemical is antilymphocyte globulin (ALG), a substance especially prepared to act against the white blood cells which have an important role in the body's immune defense system.

White Blood Cell

Wisconsin immunologist Dr. Fritz Bach earlier this week in Washington reported that a white blood cell cancer called lymphoma has developed in 15 of 400 kidney transplant patients checked, much higher than the normal U.S. rate. He found this very suspicious.

Apparently, he explained, ALG cansuppress cell defenses against cancer as well as against transplanted foreign tissue.

Dr. Thomas Starzl, head of a Denver transplant group which introduced ALG into practice in 1966, first called attention to a possible cancer link last fall, but then this week he said the question involves all drugs used to suppress rejection, not just ALG.

The lymphomas have appeared in long-term transplant patients, pointed out Dr. Butler, associate professor of medicine at Baylor College of Medicine, a center widely known for its transplant work.

The number of cases, the scope of the cancer-link problem is so small in comparison to the problem of transplanted organ rejection that he does not regard it as significant in current transplant work, he said.

Goal Cited

It is more important to be concerned about whether a transplant patient will survive a year, he added, than whether he will develop a tumor after three or more years.

Dr. Butler discussed these points in an interview during annual meeting of Texas Medical Association, which opened Thursday at the Convention Center.

Ultimate goal, he told a symposium on cardiovascular diseases is to go from today's broad-action means of suppressing rejection to the induction of specific tolerance for a graft without impairing body defenses.

"It's theoretically possible," he said during the interview, and could become reality "in the next decade or so."

Kidney Transplants

A doctor's question about whether kidney transplant work is ready to move "from the ivory tower to the community hospital" brought a negative answer from a Denver transplant team member in panel discussion.

(About 4,000 kidneys transplants reportedly have been performed since the early 1950s.)

Dr. Lawrence Brettschneider, University of Colorado School of Medicine, said a kidney transplant program requires special facilities in addition to surgical ability, including such aids as facilities for compatibility matching of donor and recipient tissues. It also requires enough cases to maintain competence.

"The general community hospital is probably not the logical step in the near future," he said. There is a trend however, toward developing that capability in regional centers.

Officials of any hospital considering this he added, should look at transplant records showing "a great disparity in ultimate results" between groups doing many transplants, and those doing few.—San Antonio Express.

Two Graduates Are Honored

Misses Margie McNorton and Debora McLead, members of the 1969 graduating class, were honorees at a luncheon Saturday, May 3. in the Islander Club Room on Key Allegro Isle.

An arrangement of midnight blue roses and silver ribbon in a silver campote centered the luncheon table. This color theme was repeated in smaller arrangements of roses, ribbon and midnight blue net along the length of the table, carrying out the chosen colors of the senior class.

Guests at the luncheon, in addition to the honorees, were Misses Rose Ann Elliot, Charlotte Hale and Mary Pat Wallis, all members of the senior class, Darla Rae Dobie of Mathis and Patricia Clark of Corpus Christi. Also present were Mrs. E. J. Johnson, grandmother of Debora McLead, Mrs. Reanna Casterline of Portland, and the hostesses for the occasion, Mrs. M. D. McNorton, Mrs. Elton McCabe and Mrs. Norman McLead.

The city reported two water connections were made in the month of April. There were no new sewer connections.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

My wife came across the following quote from the writings of Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, founder of the American Association of Retired Persons, which I think is worth passing along to readers of the Pilot:

"What our deepest self craves is not mere enjoyment, but some supreme purpose that will enlist all our powers and will give unity and direction to our life.

"We can never know the profoundest joy without a conviction that our life is significant—not a meaningless episode. The loftiest aim of human life is unselfish service to others."

I appreciated receiving the following letter:

Dear Mr. Kinsey:

Please send me two more copies of the 100th anniversary issue of the Pilot. I enjoyed it very much. I learned quite a bit I didn't know.

I look forward to the regular issue every week, especially your column. My wife also enjoys your candid comments and I hope we get a chance to meet you this summer when we get down there.

I am also an avid Rockport supporter, and I would move down there tomorrow if I could make a living.

Since I feel so close to Rockport, if you need someone from out of town to finance a week of coffee at the C of C, let me know.

Keep up the good work.

Best regards,
Bob Murray
San Antonio, Texas

P.S. Happy birthday.

A well known local lady, a widow and devout Christian, was admitted to Spohn Hospital this week for a series of tests. She wanted a private room. The only one available was on the third floor, the maternity floor. She said, "That's fine." Since then she has been receiving some interesting congratulatory messages.

CONGRATULATIONS to The Rockport Pilot on the CENTENNIAL EDITION. The early history by Mrs. Will Wood was especially good.

SECURITY continues to advertise unimproved lands for investment as a part of a complete line of Aransas County real estate. This part of Highway 35 will not be re-routed and this property will double in value within 3 years. To be sold in one parcel only. First time offered for sale within the past 24 years.

Approximately 4500 feet of Water Front on Copano Bay between the Spencer home on the North, Aransas County Airport on the South, Farm to Market Road on the East and Copano Bay on the West. To be sold in one parcel.

The South one half of Block 24, Denver Heights, where the action is, a new Texaco Station, a new Humble Station, a ROBO car wash, adjoins the high school and Junior high school campus, ideal for a drive-in food store or a franchise drive-in eating place. Get the benefit of the national advertising on one of the franchise deals. Also, in the same block an ideal location for a beauty shop and boutique or a washateria.

For the small investor some of the five acre tracts in the Burton and Danforth Subdivision which will become more valuable when the highway expressway 35 is built. You want to get in on the ground floor. The County expects to be buying right-of-ways for the project within six months.

No prices on these tracts are quoted here for the reason that we think that if you are interested, not merely curious, that you will ask.

Boating European Style

Inflatable boats, popular for years in Europe, are gaining favor in the United States. This model comfortably seats three persons. With a 35-h.p. outboard supplying the power it tows a skier with ease, yet can be carried in a car trunk or station wagon when deflated.

Oil News

Continental Oil Co. No. 46 St. Charles Co. slated 13,700 foot Aransas County St. Charles Ranch Field wildcat 8.5 miles south-southwest of Austwell, was ready to drill ahead after setting 9⅝ inch casing to 9,360 feet.

Cherryville Corp. and Flournoy Production Co. No. 1 State Gas Unit 212-200, wildcat located four miles southeast of Rockport in State Tract 212 jn Aransas Bay, was making hole below 5,647 feet on a 10,500 foot permit. Earlier 16 inch conductor pipe was set to 60 feet and 10¾ inch casing at 2,076 feet. Flournoy Drilling Co. is contractor.

Neil E. Hanson and Flournoy Produciton Co. have teamed to drill a deep explorer four miles southeast of Rockport in Aransas Bay.

Projected to 10,500 feet, the No. 1 State Gas Unit 186-185 scales 1,000 feet from the east line and 467 feet from the south line of State Tract 186.

JUNE DRAFT CALLS FOR 1,366 TEXANS

Austin, Texas. — The June draft call for Texas is 1,366, down from 1,453 for May, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

This is the state's share of a national quota of 25,900 men, 23,900 for the Army and 2,000 for the Marine Corps.

A total of 8,202 men is scheduled to be forwarded for armed forces pre-induction physical and mental examination in June to prepare for future calls, Colonel Schwartz said. This compares with a total of 8,234 in May.

State monthly draft calls for the first four months of 1969 have been as follows: January, 1,363. February, 1,564; March, 1,572; and April, 1,737.

The order of selection to fill draft calls through June may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26 in the sequence in which they have volunteered, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years, single and married, oldest first, with those married after August 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section 49-d-1 to read as follows:

"Section 49-d-1. (a) In addition to Texas Water Development Bonds heretofore authorized to be issued by Sections 49-c and 49-d of Article III of the Constitution, the Texas Water Development Board is hereby authorized to issue $3,500,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of bonds. ## HEALTH and SAFETY TIPS from the American Medical Association

535 N. Dearborn Street
Chicago, Illinois, 60610

Mumps is a virus infection of the parotid gland, one of the salivary glands, immediately below the ear lobe and behind the angle of the jaw, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

The best sign of mumps is a tender, smooth, firm swelling that covers the corner of the jawbone where it turns upward toward the ear, the magazine reports.

Mumps in a child is usually only mildly incapacitating and moderately uncomfortable. Many cases in children are so mild as to go unnoticed by parents. A mild medication for fevor and the discomfort of mild headache and muscle aches may be used as needed.

Normally the child recovers in five to seven days.

In the teen-ager or adult mumps is more serious. The virus is more likely to involve other areas such as the pancreas, and to result in nausea, abdominal pains and severe food or fluid intolleranances.

The tendancy for mumps with its attendant pain to settle in the ovary or testicle is well known. The chance of sterility is highly and emotionally overrated, however. Physicians usually prescribe complete bed rest for adults with mumps. Greater physical activity brings greater chance of complications.

Mumps is not excessively contagious and almost direct contact with the afflicted—such as drinking from the same cup or being sneezed at is required to contract the disease.

One can get mumps twice, but it is a rare occurence. Most cases of "mumps the second time" were the result of previous misdiagnosis of swollen neck glands from an infected throat. Odds are about one in 400 of having bona fide mumps as a repeat illness.

Mumps cannot be prevented at present, but recent research promises a vaccine soon.

May 11 Important to Episcopal Diocese

Sunday, May 11, will be one of the most important days of the past decade for the 60-county Episcopal Diocese of West Texas. It will be the day when each parish and mission will know whether or not it has succeeded in raising its quota in the Everett Holland Jones Episcopal Advance Fund campaign.

It is hoped by the Rt. Rev. Harold C. Gosnell, D.D., bishop of the diocese; the Rt. Rev. R. Earl Dicus, suffragan bishop; Robert M. Ayers, Jr., general chairman of the EAF, and their army of 2,550 volunteer campaign workers in all of the churches, that pledges of $1,775,000, to be paid over the next three years, will have been made by May 11, which was set earlier as the target date for completion of the effort.

This is the first EAF campaign in nine years and will set up a revolving loan fund for diocese churches, church school and camp buildings, finance scholarships for Texas Military Institute and provide for missionary projects in Japan, Okinawa and Mexico. Thus, it will help all churches in the diocese as well as church projects inside and outside the state.

The EAF is built around a there which emphasizes "'The Need, the Challenge and the Faith," Bishop Gosnell and lay chairman Ayres, San Antonio, reported.

"We hope May 11 will be a day of victory, a day for rejoicing, a day when hope will have become a reality," the church leaders added.

Thirty-four thousand Episcopalians are being canvassed. Each church and mission has its own clerical, laity and women's chairmen and other volunteer workers.

For St. Peter's Church, Rockport, the respective clerical, lay and women's chairmen are the Rev. Lester G. Hill, John Rayburn and Mrs. Dorthea Montgomery.

Library News

If you have not visited your Aransas County Public Library recently you will be interested to know that nearly 300 new books have been added to the collection during the past month.

This number includes both adult and juvenile fiction and non-fiction. Many of the best sellers will be found on the 7-Day shelves.

A new section has been started for the young adults, and will constantly be enlarged.

In April, a total of 1286 people visited the library, many using the reference section or reading the periodicals. There was a circulation of 1625 books, and 38 new readers cards were issued.

There is a large number of overdue books out, and it will be greatly appreciated if those who have overlooked returning these books will do so at once.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The sound of sirens calling in volunteer firemen always creates a feeling of dread in my mind, yes, dread of the threat to loss of both life and property. But most of all for those unselfish and dedicated men who give so freely of their time and effort for our protection.

Each time these fine people start these runs, they literally take their lives in their hands. They must of necessity travel at high speeds to the fire source; there is the ever present danger of some excited person crashing into the engine; the fire could result in a shattering explosion of natural gas or flaming petroleum thrown all over, or a falling wall, or a collapsing roof, all of these are constant threats to their lives.

A brush fire, house or barn on fire must be extinguished. This can be done only by hard work skillfully applied; you and I may be asleep as those firemen were, or eating our meal, perhaps visiting friends as they were. They gave up all these pleasures with complete unselfishness and are not paid. Would you and I do it? I do not think so.

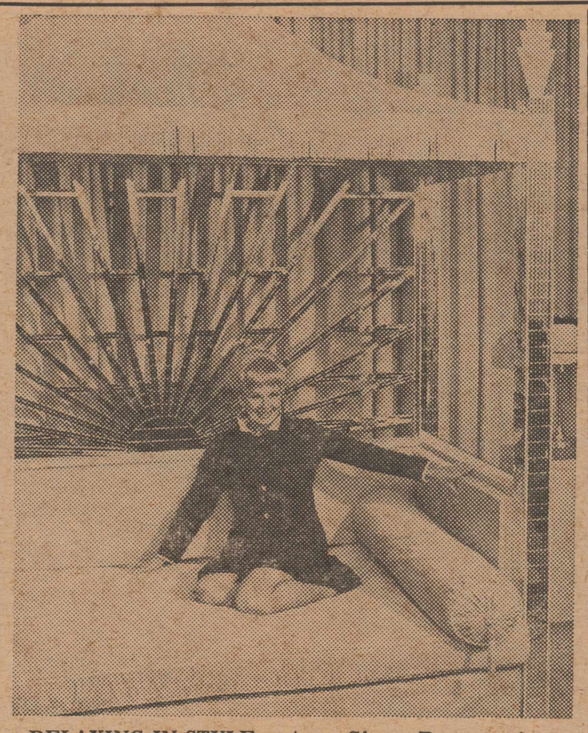

There are many reasons why we would not, or could not do this. But we can and must make some gesture of appreciation. We must support a program for a new firehouse, each of us (10,000) ten thousand citizens of this county should see to it that these fine people have a recreation hall with sufficient land around it to picnic and entertain. Do you realize these men are not insured while saving our lives and property, It could be your child they saved from drowning.

I mentioned to a group of citizens that we must do three things, build a firehouse, a recreation hall and pay the insurance for these volunteer firemen.

One local elected official spoke; his words were "we have already contributed much expensive equipment," this is the very point in question. All the equipment we could buy is useless if it were not for these firemen who operate it and care for it.

If we were to watch these men at work, we would see that they never hurry home until the last spark is dead however hungry or tired they might be.

"Section 51-a. The Legislature shall have the power, by General Laws, to provide, subject to limitations herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions and regulations as may by the Legislature be deemed expedient, for assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and any other services included in the federal laws as they now read or as they may hereafter be amended, providing matching funds to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care, and for the payment of assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and other services to or on behalf of:

"(2) Needy individuals who are totally and permanently disabled by reason of a mental or physical handicap or a combination of physical and mental handicaps;

"(3) Needy blind persons;

"(4) Needy dependent children and the caretakers of such children.

"The Legislature may prescribe such other eligibility requirements for participation in these programs as it deems appropriate.

"Supplementing legislative appropriations for assistance payments authorized by this Section, the following sums are allocated out of the Omnibus Tax Clearance Fund and are appropriated to the State Department of Public Welfare for the period beginning September 1, 1969 and ending August 31, 1971: Three Million, Six Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,600,000) for Old Age Assistance, Two Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000) for Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled, and Twenty-Three Million, Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars ($23,900,000) for Aid to Families with Dependent Children. Such allocations and appropriations shall be made available on the basis of equal monthly installments and otherwise shall be subject to the provisions of currently existing laws making allocations and appropriations for these purposes.

"Provided further, that if the limitations and restrictions herein contained are found to be in conflict with the provisions of appropriate federal statutes, as they now are or as they may be amended to the extent that federal matching money is not available to the state for these purposes, then and in that event the Legislature is specifically authorized and empowered to prescribe such limitations and restrictions and enacts such laws as may be necessary in order that such federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care for or on behalf of needy persons.

Question and Answer Column

Series No. 69-18

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I made a mistake on my return and failed to claim a deduction to which I am entitled. Can I file for a refund on this even though I have not received the refund I requested on my original return?

A—Yes, you can correct this filing error now even though the refund on your original return has not arrived. Obtain a copy of Form 1040X from your local IRS office and follow the instructions on this form for correcting the mistake. You will receive a separate refund for the additional amount claimed.

Q—Should I keep the extra forms you sent me for estimated tax? I only needed one to make my declaration.

A—Yes, the other three preaddressed voucher forms in the estimated tax package should be used for your remaining estimated tax payments. Be sure to keep your estimated tax worksheet since the figures on it will be used to determine your payments.

A reminder notice will be sent to taxpayers in advance of the quarterly payment due in June.

Q—I mailed my return just before the deadline. When should my refund come?

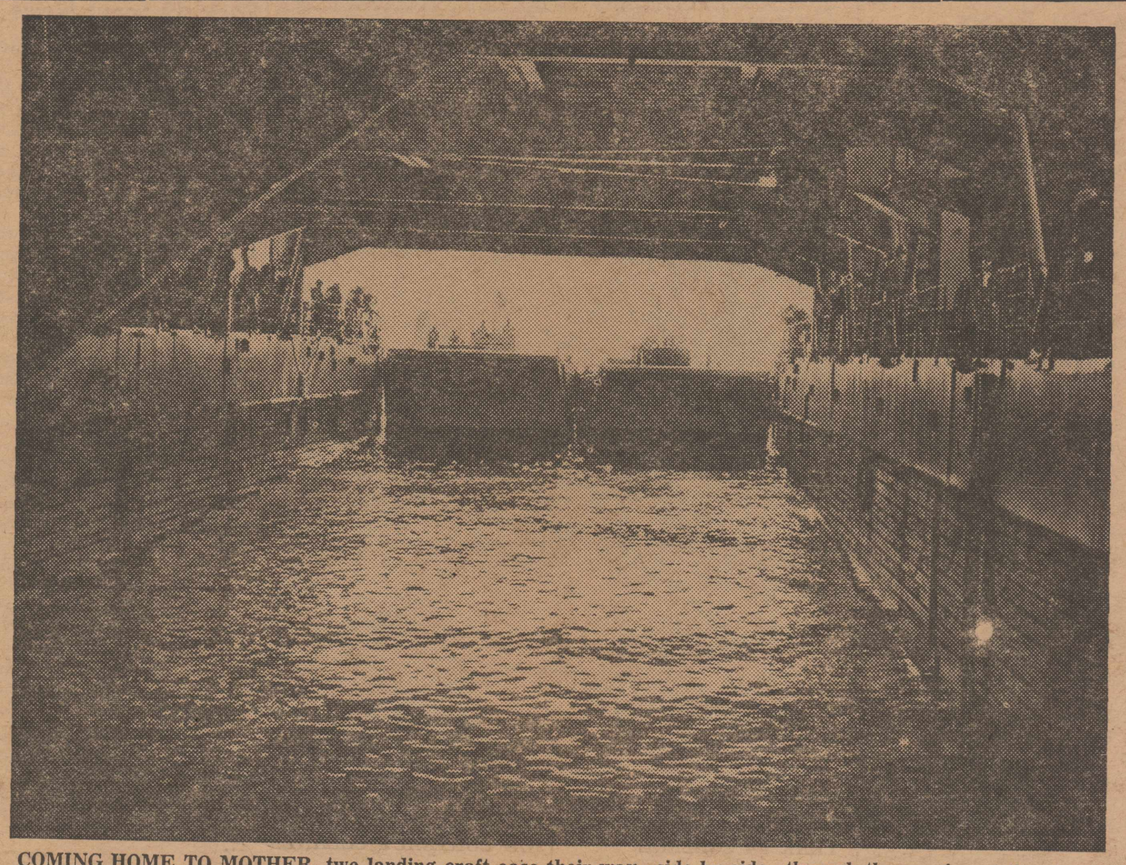

A—The increased volume of returns received by IRS offices during April should extend slightly the 5-6 week proceesing cycle for refund returns that are accurately and completely prepared.

You should have your refund within 10 weeks from the date you filed or, in any event a letter from IRS explaining why it is delayed.

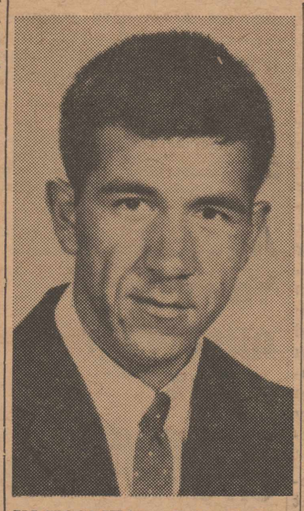

Q—What right does the IRS have to seize somebody's property or bank account for unpaid taxes,

A—Federal tax law provides several actions that IRS can take to protect the government revenue when a taxpayer refuses to satisfy his obligations voluntarily.

Before enforcement action is taken, a person who owes taxes is given ample opportunity to voluntarily pay his tax liability. A taxpayer is sent several written notices and afforded conferences. If in response to any one of these notices the taxpayer cooperates, no enforcement action is taken. Only when all attempts to gain the taxpayer's cooperation in regard to the settlement of his tax liability have failed, does IRS initiate action to enforce the law.

BROWNIE TROOP 431

Brownie Troop 431 learned some new songs and dances on April 16. They had their flag ceremony, first, then roll call and dues collection. After dancing they rested and had refreshments.

On April 23, after opening ceremonies and refreshments, they went to the park at Copano Causeway. There they saw a catfish that was dying and a dead blow fish. They saw crabs, barnacles, and collected many varieties of shells. One girl found a tiny oyster.

On May 1 they had a meeting and talked about Day Camp. They all want to go. Then they worked on Mother's Day gifts.—Contributed.

Well, What Do You Know?

fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

What is a mirage?

Suppose you are riding along a country road on a hot day in summer. If you look ahead about a quarter of a mile, you may suddenly see a silvery lake covering the road. You may even see another car reflected in this lake, as in a mirror. When you come up to the place where you saw the lake, you may find that the pavement is perfectly dry. What you saw was not really water. It was only an appearance that is called a mirage. The lake seemed to be there because of something that happens to light rays passing through the air. Usually the light by which you see things travels through the air in straight lines. This is true as long as the air is all at the same temperature. But air, like most other materials, expands and becomes less dense (thinner) when it is warmed. As a result, light is bent aside when it goes from a layer of air at one temperature to a layer at a different temperature. On a sunny day the road becomes quite hot. This warms the air just above the road, while the air higher up stays cooler. Light coming down from the sky through these layers is bent upward again to your eyes. The bright patch of light looks like water.

How did Mother's Day originate?

Mother's Day was first observed in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on May 10, 1908. Six years later President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed the second Sunday in May for public observance of Mother's Day. It is now observed in countries all around the world, including England, France, Sweden, Denmark, India, China, and Mexico, where the celebration lasts 2 days. Carnations are the Mother's Day flowers. Children honor their mothers on this day with gifts, visits, and the wearing of carnations.

What is the difference between a rabbit and a hare?

Rabbits are generally smaller than hares, and their ears are not so long. At birth the young of rabbits are blind, naked, and helpless. Newborn hares are wide-eyed and fully furred. They are able to hop about on the day of their birth. Hares make their nests in ground hollows. Most rabbits, on the other hand, dig far-reaching burrows and bear young in an underground nest.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER NINE ON THE BALLOT (HJR8)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 5, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 5. The Legislature shall meet in regular session each year at such time as may be provided by law and at other times as convened by the Governor. When convened in odd-numbered years in regular session, the Legislature shall devote the first thirty days to the introduction of bills and resolutions, acting upon emergency appropriations, passing upon the confirmation of the recess appointees of the Governor and such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages to the Legislature; provided that during the succeeding thirty days of such session the various committees of each House shall hold hearings to consider all bills and resolutions and other matters then pending; and such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor; provided further that during the following sixty days the Legislature shall act upon such bills and resolutions as may be then pending and upon such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages to the Legislature; provided, however, either House may otherwise determine its order of business during this session by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of its membership.

"Regular sessions in even-numbered years, commencing in 1972, shall not exceed sixty days and shall be limited to legislation on the subjects of providing funds for the support of functions and activities of the state government and emergency matters submitted by the Governor in messages to the Legislature. At each regular session, commencing in 1971, appropriations shall be made for the support of functions and activities of the state government for the next fiscal year."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on August 5, 1969, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to provide for annual legislative sessions."

A new lake now being built on the Texas-Louisiana boundary line can swallow any other body of water in Texas.

No doubt it will furnish one of the greatest recreational areas available to residents of the southwest. In fact it could be that this new lake may even have more appeal than the Gulf of Mexico for the man who wants to play.

Toledo Bend Reservoir is its name!

It will be created by a huge dam now being constructed across the Sabine River near the little town of Wiergate, some 20 miles east of Jasper.

When completed the dam itself will be nearly two miles in length. River channel at this point will be a little more than 100 feet in depth.

Water will back up the Sabine for 65 miles to Logansport, where Panola and Shelby counties corner at the Louisiana state line. It will cover 180,000 surface acres and impound something like 5,000,000 acre-feet of water. Approximately one-third of the reservoir will be in Texas, with the remainder in Louisiana.

But figures beyond this point are mostly for engineers and bankers. To the outdoorsman they mean that Texas and Louisiana will have a lake much larger than Lake Texoma. Furthermore, it will be in some of the most beautiful and productive areas of the southwest.

There is no question about the fish it will produce or the recreational advantages it will provide.

Toledo Bend Reservoir is being built without federal aid. (Something really great in this country.)

It is a project of the Sabine River Authority, which built the Iron Bridge Dam, now impounding the waters of Lake Tawakoni, not far from Dallas.

Sabine River Authority is financed with money borrowed under provisions of joint legislation, passed by both the Texas and the Louisiana legislatures. Revenue derived from the sale of water and power will pay for the dam.

If the authority follows its announced intentions, fees also will be charged for recreational use.

The Sabine River itself is an historic stream which forms a 170-mile meandering boundary line between Texas and Louisiana. It passes through agricultural and timber lands and a great deal of timber now is being removed.

It will be necessary to relocate a score of roads, hundreds of homes and more than a dozen cemeteries.

Prediction is that the dam will be completed in 1970.

From a recreational standpoint the lake should be fabulous. Lower end, where the lake is widest, will be cleared of all brush and timber, making it an ideal spot for water sports. Upper end of the lake, however, will retain much of its undergrowth to provide ideal conditions for both fishing and waterfowl.

East Texans already are predicting that Toledo Bend lake will yield 12-pound black bass. Perhaps this prediction is based on the tremendously large catfish presently being taken from the Sabine River. Many catfish weighing 70 pounds or more have been taken from the river.

Toledo Bend also should make one of the finest crappie lakes to be found anywhere. Mostly they will be black crappie. These require a lower pH factor than do the white crappie of Central Texas lakes.

Kentucky spotted bass, now found in Texas' deep - water lakes, also will provide a great many thrills for anglers at Toledo Bend Reservoir.

Texans can look forward with pleasure to this great new lake, larger than anything else available in the Southwest.

Does LSD Cause Mental Illness?

No drug has caused more controversy, with the possible exception of marihuana, than the strange compound known as LSD.

Here are some of the questions people frequently ask about the mysterious drug. The answers are factual, not preachments. The answers are based on current scientific knowledge.

What is LSD?

It is a powerful man-made chemical, lysergic acid diethylamide, generally called LSD. It was first developed in 1938 from chemicals found in ergot, a fungus that grows on rye—a common grain plant.

LSD is classed legally as a hallucinogen, a mind-affecting drug. It is noted mainly for producing strong, strange mental reactions in people. It causes striking distortions in their physical senses: what and how they see, touch, smell, and hear.

Does LSD increase creativity?

Some users believe it does. But studies of paintings, writings, and other works done by drug users have failed to support this. In many cases, works done by people under LSD influence appeared noticeably poorer.

Is LSD dangerous?

Hospital and other reports warn of definite dangers: accidental deaths, panic, temporary but possibly recurring paranoia (suspicious fear), and the possibility of acute and even long-lasting mental illness.

How does the law view LSD?

Because LSD is a dangerous drug when not used for research under medical supervision, it is closely regulated by Federal laws. These call for strict penalties, imprisonment and fines, for illegal production, sale, or disposition of LSD and other similar drugs. State laws also provide stiff penalties, some for possession as well as use, sale or disposition.

What is the Institute doing about LSD?

Because we need to know more about this powerful drug, NIMH is supporting and encouraging research on a broad front to get full answers about its chemistry, pharmacology, animal and human effects, and whether it has any real medical or other value.

The Institute's Center for Studies of Narcotic and Drug Abuse is currently supporting studies of LSD and birth defects, for example, as well as of its long-term effects.

Phone Company Ads Stress Humility

Concern for "the little guy" is a built-in charcteristic of American life. We cheer the underdog and admire the man who gets to the top against all odds.

Therein lies a challenge for large companies to avoid being cold and impersonal—the challenge of treating "the little guy" like the individual he is.

One such business, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has launched an all-out effort to avoid acting like the only phone company in town—which it is in Rockport.

"Our new advertising slogan says it best" said Bud Richards, manager for Southwestern Bell. "We call it WMBTOPCITBWTNTALI. We've been accused of having a secret code or mysterious key club, but those letters really just stand for 'We may be the only phone company in town, but we try not to act like it'."

But Richards said the company is trying to make the WMB . . . letters mean more than an advertising slogan.

"We realize that, although we have competition in some phases of our business, there's no one else in Rockport a customer can turn to for basic telephone service," he explained. "That's all the more reason for us to avoid acting like the only phone company in town.

"We're examining all aspects of our service to make sure we're treating our customers as fairly and courteously as possible," he went on. "And when we're not, we want our customers to tell us."

Richards admitted the WMB program could boomerang. He said—as the saying goes—you simply can't always please everybody. And a customer who feels he has been treated unfairly might very well throw the WMB. . . slogan back in the telephone firm's corporate face.

"But we think very highly of the people we serve," Richards added. "We've learned that when we're fair and courteous to our customers, most of them are just as fair and understanding toward our problems and mistakes.

"We have a lot of machines, equipment and customers," he said. "But our company still consists of people. In fact, we have some 60,000 of them in the territory our company serves. We're human, and sometimes we drop the ball.

"Yet the WMB theme means that we want to correct our mistakes fast, because the public is our boss."

He said the WMB. . . advertisements are being seen now in newspapers and also are appearing on television. They will be heard on radio later this year.

"We may be the only phone company in town, but we're going to try not to act like it," Richards assured. "After all the man who started it all—Alexander Graham Bell—was one of those 'little guys' himself."
