City Misses Tax Rebate

Colorado City did not receive payment this period for city sales and use tax allocation.

Acting City Manager Brenda Tarter said that she contacted the state comptroller's office in Austin to investigate the matter.

Mrs. Tarter was informed that Colorado City had a large taxpayer who had been paying taxes on non-taxable items.

When the taxpayer was audited and the error was found, the money–totalling some $14,000–was refunded.

Thus, the city's sales tax rebates were affected.

For the period ending Feb. 1, Colorado City did not receive the $7,600 which was collected. For the next period, Colorado City will have to pay the state a balance of $6,314.39.

Mrs. Tarter noted that although Colorado City will not be receiving the expected sales tax rebates, it should not have too great an affect on the budget.

"Overall, our anticipated funds for state sales tax will still hit pretty close," said Mrs. Tarter.

For this same period last year, Colorado City received $4,635.13. Payments to date for 1979 total $5,254.98, in comparison to $11,370.17 payments to date for 1978, marking a 53 per cent decrease for this year.

Area towns received the following:

PERHAPS ONE OF the most unpredictable aspects about West Texas is the weather...don't let the sunshine fool you, for snow is likely to follow. Thursday started as a balmy, spring-like day but by afternoon, a dust storm had hit and by evening, snow was in the forecast for the weekend. Thursday, the temperature reading at City National Bank showed 76 degrees, but Friday, the sign told a different story–with a 50 degree drop.

My World

BY GARRY PEEBLES

This is my first column ever for the Colorado City Record, only time will tell whether it will be my last. Since columns generally give the writer an opportunity to sound off on whatever happens to be on his mind at the time, no matter how trivial it may be, that's what I'll do, sound off on a trivial subject.

If you're still with me and if you'll look back up the head of this column, you'll see that my name is GARRY PEEBLES. In my case, "Garry" has two "r's" and the "Peebles" part is simply that.

I suppose I can excuse the people who insist on spelling "Garry" with one "r" since I happen to live in a world populated with "Garys." If I had known I was going to be that much in the minority, I might have objected just for simplicities sake on the day the tag was first scribbled out on my birth certificate, but I probably wasn't aware of very much of anything at the time outside of perhaps being hungry and wet.

I do have trouble, however, excusing those souls who insist on spelling "Peebles" as "Peoples," "Peeples," or the worst one of all, "Pebbles," even after I have spelled it out distinctly and plainly and sometimes even taken my paws and written it out distinctly and plainly.

It's as if there are people around who refuse to believe that such a tag as "Peebles" could possibly exit. I'll grant that it isn't the most common name around, in fact there really aren't very many of us, but there are a few, including a much more prominent newspaperman than I, Dick Peebles, Sports Editor of the Houston Chronicle.

Actually, we Peebles have been in the country for quite a while now. We came from Scotland (there's a town there by that name and there's also one in Ohio) and supposedly we got our start in this country through a fellow named David Peebles who lived in England during the 1600's.

He was supposedly a man of some wealth and prominence and he was also a supporter of King Charles I. That was his mistake because he was backing a loser.

If you'll go back and read your history, you'll find that after a time the first King Charles incurred the extreme displeasure of certain elements of English society and government and in 1649 lost his head both literally and permanently. He was succeeded by Oliver Cromwell.

When this happened, Mr. David Peebles must have had some thoughts and perhaps bad dreams about the same thing happening to him and shortly thereafter he made his first appearance in this country, in Virginia I think.

Anyway, that was the beginning and some 300 years later I appeared on the scene as one of his descendants. If he was wealthy, I've wondered what happened to his money. Evidently either he or somebody else after him must have blown it because I don't know of any Peebles that have any of it now.

That's my trivial gripe which I've wanted to get off my chest for quite a few years now; thanks for the opportunity.

I've wondered what it would be like to have a more

Landau Rings Up Final Sale

The end of one era and the beginning of another occurred this week when Colorado City's Landau's Department Store was sold.

The firm was established in 1937 and was sold by owners Willie and Selma Landau this past week to Feaster Enterprises, Inc. Feaster Enterprises consists of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Feaster, Mr. and Mrs. David Feaster, Don Feaster and Dan Feaster.

The store, which will continue to be known as Landau's, will be operated by David Feaster and his wife, Linda.

Feaster and Landau both stressed that the store will continue to be operated as it has been in the past with the same friendly sales staff and will carry the same famous brand names of men's, women's and children's clothes.

"We feel that we have one of the finest department stores in this area," Landau stressed.

Willie and Selma Landau will continue to be associated with Landau's as buyers and also as sales persons. They expressed their appreciation to everyone for their support and friendship over the past four decades. "Without your support, the success of Landau's would not have been possible," Landau stated.

Landau's was started as a men's wear store in 1937 at the corner of Second and Walnut where the mini-park is now located. Landau, a native of Colorado City, was 19 at the time. The store was moved to its present location in 1958 and expanded to include women's and children's apparel.

David Feaster, 30, also is a native of Colorado City. A graduate of Colorado High, he attended Texas Tech and returned to Colorado City about three years ago. He and his wife of 1½ years live on Route 3.

Mrs. Feaster, 23, is from Carrollton, and attended University of Texas at Arlington.

Feaster, who worked at Landau's while he was in high school, returned to the sales staff of Landau's last fall.

"We're looking forward to serving the people of Mitchell County," Feaster said. "We invite everyone to come by and get acquainted."

LANDAU'S Department Store, established in 1937 and one of Colorado City's oldest firms, was sold effective this past Monday. Willie and Selma Landau, left and right respectively, have sold the store to Feaster Enterprises, Inc. The store will be operated by David and Linda Feaster, center.

Will City Hire Mason To Solve Money Case?

"Any way that people can benefit from the city's services, that is what should be offered," Ray Mason explained to the City Council of Colorado City Thursday night as that body conducted yet another City Manager interview.

Mason, 33, present City Manager at Tahoka, was stating part of his philosophy concerning the city's responsibilities toward its citizens and he had many such thoughts on that and also on his own responsibilities as a City Manager.

At another point in the interview when the discussion turned to taxes Mason stated that, "The city should tax people enough to break even on its services and no more."

At still another time in the discussion he stated his personal feelings toward any position dealing with the public by saying that, "Any time you work for the public, it's a 'good' hard job because you can't ever please all the people." He explained this further by saying that any public position will always be hard work because there will be problems which must be dealt with every day but was work which he enjoyed.

He added that he felt that, "Dealing with people is my strong suit."

When asked why he had applied for the Colorado City position, he stated that he wasn't unhappy with his present position but was simply looking for an opportunity to make a step up to a larger city. He also stated that, "I feel that I can do a good job for you as I feel that I have done for the City of Tahoka."

He was also asked how he felt about coming into a city facing the economic situation faced here and he stated confidently that, "If I was worried about handling Colorado City's financial problems, I wouldn't be here tonight."

The council quizzed Mason for 1½ hours concerning every aspect of his experience and background.

He has been City Manager at Tahoka since June, 1976. Before that he was a coach and teacher for three years in that same city. He has also served as a coach and teacher for eight years in Hermleigh, Springtown and Sonora.

He is a native of Denver City and a graduate of Denver City High School. He is also a graduate of McMurry College in Abilene, having earned a B.S. Degree in physical education and public speaking in 1968.

Mason stated that in Tahoka he oversaw a budget of about $337,000 and had 17 city employees under him. He went on to add that as of Jan. 31, the general fund there had a cash balance of about $36,000 and the water and sewer fund had a balance of about $22,000.

He also said that he had been involved in a 50-50 grant with the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife for renovating a park in Tahoka and had come withih a few points of obtaining several other grants.

Mason and his wife, Brenda, have two sons ages 10 and 13.

Mason finally stated that his salary at Tahoka was $19,500 plus the use of a city car which was leased at a cost of $125 per month. He implied that he would have to have at least that figure before he would consider the Colorado City position.

Mason wasn't the only person scheduled to be interviewed Thursday night.

Dwight Mays, City Manager of Choctaw, Okla., had a 7 p.m. interview scheduled. However, 7 p.m. came and went and he failed to show up. At 7:30, Acting City Manager Brenda Tarter called his home and upon reaching him was informed by the man that he had tried to call earlier in the day to remove himself from consideration for the position but had been given the wrong number by the operator.

After Mason's interview, which ended at about 10 p.m., the council spent about an hour discussing the man and his qualifications and trying to set up a time to go to Tahoka and check on him and also to go to Henrietta, Tex., and check on Joe Benton, another city manager applicant who was interviewed last week.

Finally, after extensive discussion and deliberation on the matter, the council tentatively set up Wednesday and Thursday as the days for Councilmembers Jody Neff, Jessie Munoz and Buddy Hertenberger to go to Tahoka and Henrietta.

The three councilmembers also made plans to go to Sweetwater this past Friday to check on Benton.

Benton is currently Director of Utilities at Sweetwater but previous to that served as City Manager at Henrietta.

The council's next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday night when a workshop on the 1979-80 budget is planned.

DALE WILSON (pictured) of Colorado City will be operator and manager of The Style Shop, a new business offering hair care for men, women and children. Located at Bojo's by Lake Colorado City State Park, The Style Shop is owned by Bob Tammen. The Style Shop will officially open Tuesday.

–Scurry, $12,511.70 total county tax revenue with $1,876.76 as the county's 15 per cent remittance. For Snyder, total city tax revenue was $11,315.34 with $1,697.30 as the city's 15 per cent remittance.

According to State Comptroller Bob Bullock, mixed drink sales in Texas for 1978 totaled more than $653 million, with mixed drink sales for October, November and December of 1978 adding up to more than $166.8 million.

Texas cities and counties receive a 15 per cent rebate of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the law that legalized the sale of mixed drinks seven years ago. The state retains the remainder in the General Revenue Fund.

Sign Up Deadline April 30

Sign up period for the 1979 feed-grain-wheat set aside programs began Thursday and will continue until April 30.

The sign ups will be held in the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service office.

This year producers may certify their fall-seeded crops–barley and winter wheat–during sign up and not have to make a separate visit to the county ASCS office, according to Don Stewart, ASCS executive director.

Stewart said farmers should consider taking advantage of pre-measurement service before planting to guarantee the size of their fields. Details of the pre-measurement service are available at the Mitchell County ASCS office.

Loraine Holds Public Hearing

The final public hearing was held in Loraine Tuesday to enable the town to apply for a community development grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

About 50 people were on hand to discuss what improvements would be included in the application for the grant.

"As an outcome of the meeting, it was felt by all concerned that Loraine has a chance of receiving help on the water system, closing the old landfill and opening a new landfill, street improvements and housing rehabilitation," said Rev. Fred Witta of Loraine.

Witta noted that each item will be considered separately on the grant and each one is a "one shot" deal.

Cost of the proposed improvements for the grant will be about $250,000.

Within six weeks after HUD receives the pre-application, Loraine will be advised on the possibility of obtaining the grant and will then make full application.

Mayor Vance Dickenson presided over Tuesday's public hearing.

Witta noted that numerous people had been instrumental in helping Loraine to prepare for application for the grant, beginning with members of the Business and Professional Women's Club who conducted a survey of Loraine during the summer with the results used in the grant request. Blondie Hamilton, school tax assessor-collector, prepared a map from the survey which will also be used in the grant application.

I do have other names. Here at work I'm sometimes referred to as "Bimbo," or "You Turkey," but the people who call me that are just jealous of my creative mind and my many talents.

* * *

I've been here in Colorado City since the middle of October and awhile back because of my hometown, I was placed in kind of an unusual situation.

I'm from Slaton. During the week before the bi-district game between the Wolves and the Tigers I kept getting the feeling that I was almost a spy behind enemy lines because, if you'll pardon me for this, I had to be for Slaton. It's tough to change your sentiments after living in a town for 20 years or so.

I still have difficulty though in believing that Slaton had a reasonably decent team. Before the moderate success which they've enjoyed over the past four or five years, they suffered through many, many seasons and many more games in which they enjoyed about the same amount of success as Napoleon was having on his retreat from Moscow. They reached bottom one night years ago when during one infamous contest they managed to give up 90 points in three quarters. The only reason the score wasn't higher than that was because both Slaton and their opponents (I'm not saying who it was) spent the entire fourth quarter punting the football back to one another as neither team had any further use for it. So much for that.

I will close until my next column or whenever...

Chamber Of Commerce

By LARRY WINDERS

Negative attitudes have stopped more people and more communities than any other one thing. It has been my experience that if you expect the worst to happen, you subconsciously cultivate the circumstances that make it almost certain to.

Personally I say it's a darn good day when a man can put on his shoes and go to work.

I have known very few persons who felt better when griping, and none that really added anything to their day. As Ruskin said, "Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces up, snow is exhilarating; there is no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather." Now there is an idea that is worthwhile.

Most of us will never do great things, but we can do small things in a great way. Can't we? Be enthusiastic.

The word enthusiasm, from the Greek word ENTHEOS, means God in you, or full of God. So when we claim for enthusiasm the power to work miracles in solving problems we are actually saying that God Himself in you supplies the wisdom, courage, strategy and faith necessary to deal successfully with all difficulties.

One of the basic laws of success is this: Act as if you are going to succeed. When you assume that you will succeed a bit of magic happens. You begin to make it possible by improving your present performance. And success breeds a positive attitude.

Saving The Home

Rev. Bobby Chaney,
Pastor
Christian Fellowship

The Apostle Pauls' answer to the Philippian jailers question concerning being saved in Acts 16:30-31, was "You must believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shall be saved and thy HOUSE." Paul is referring to getting the jailer and his family into the Kingdom of God. I know his home and home life must have changed tremendously. There are many homes today, Christian and non-Christian alike that are not experiencing the delightfulness that togetherness can bring. Homes all over the land are literally falling apart. But, on the other hand, people all over are experiencing the joy of a real, exciting family life. A number of folks are interested in getting their home in order. Those who are desirous of getting out of the humdrum, defeated type home life into the exciting, loving and enjoyable life of togetherness; can do just that; and you are the ones I want to share with! I tell you, your home life does not have to be a drag! You do not have to be weary and miserable in your home.

The first point in saving the home is recognizing the importance of the home. Jesus spoke highly of marriage to the point of ruling out divorce except in the case of fornication. Jesus states in Mark 10:6-8 "From the beginning of creation, God made them male and female. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife, and they two shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh."

Your mate is part of you. You have joined yourself (joyfully and full of love) to another and you have become one. Think about it! Your mate has been grafted to you. Ephesians 5:28 declares "Men ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself." Once you have been blessed with a mate, you have the privilege of considering that part of you. The question is: How shall I take care of that half of me! Jesus compares the marriage in the same light ast His relationship to the church. We find written in Ephesians 5:29-30 "For no man ever yet hated his own flesh but nourished and cherished it, even as the Lord the church. For we are members of His body, of His flesh, and of His bones. Then in verse 31, Paul repeats Jesus's statement: For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh. Am I inconsiderate of the one whom the Lord has given me? Am I "quote" so spiritual that I run all over the place, but do not nourish that part of me? I have heard many women say "I don't care what by husband thinks, I've got the Holy Ghost and never consider that the word says subject your self to your husband." Check the word husband, and wife see how important your home is.

The second point I want to make is a home is not a home until Jesus Christ becomes the center of it. In Matthew 6:33 Jesus says, "Seek you first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things (provisions) shall be added unto you. Only those that are seeking the Lord, has been joined together by the Lord. He will bless that marriage that has come together in Him. Folks, that marriage outside of Jesus is just barely existing. Real life comes into the family when Jesus comes in. The Lord will not sanctify the home until the individuals become His. A believer married to an unbeliever can cause his or her mate to be saved or sanctified by the dedicated life to Jesus, (check 1 Corinthians 7:14) "The unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband." But you will avoid trouble and heartaches if you will settle the question of salvation first. But the point to be made is that Jesus Christ will cause your home life to be one of joy if He is the center of it. He will calm the storms, solve the problems, and give peace in all turmoil. Won't you consider Jesus for your family?

The third point, (many tremble at this point) is Divine Order. Just as there is an order for the body of Christ, there is a Divine Order for the home. The Bible gives us good instruction concerning the construction of the home. When we become one with the Lord, we will have oneness with one another in the body of Christ and in the family. If we are not one something is wrong. Folks, division is wrong. Now, if we are one, we will honor one another.

Just as the body of Christ has parts, so has the family. Everything that is a whole usually has parts. Each member is a part of the whole family. Each member has a part to supply, and that part should be honored or subjected to. if we are one flesh, whether body or family, we will subject ourselves to the part being supplied. Keep in mind that the ultimate goal is to being the whole (family or body) into the likeness and image of Jesus Christ. The scriptures are clear concerning the family members part. Allow me to share with you these parts. I will not have space to go into the scriptures indepth, but I challenge you to study all the scriptures. Here is a list of scripture for study: Ephesians 5:22-33, Ephesians 6:1-4, Colossians 3:18-21, Genesis 3:16, I Peter 3:1-7, I Timothy 5:14, Titus 2:4-5, I Corinthians 7 and several in Proverbs concerning training the children.

These scriptures say to us: 1. Husband love your wife, minister to her the word, know her feelings, honor her, as the weaker vessel, provide for her, do not be bitter or harsh toward her, and sanctify her. Fathers train your children, do not provoke them to wrath, correct and love them. 2. Wives love your husbands, obey and reverance them, set yourself array under them, win lost husband with quiet and meek spirit, be keepers at home, guide the house and train and correct and love your children. 3. Children obey, honor, love your parents, which is right and pleasing to the Lord, and will bring you long life.

You are to supply your part regardless of what the other member does. But walking in your part will cause others to supply their part. Thus, all parts operating will make a whole; then you will know what it means to be one flesh.

If you are looking for a purer home life, apply these three points to your home life. May the Lord's blessing rest in your household.

What is replacement cost insurance on your home?

In most cases, homeowners are fully protected against partial losses. However, in the case of losses of significant size, they must be sure to have maintained their coverage at 80 percent of current replacement cost to collect the maximum amounts permitted under their policy. This means no depreciation will be taken on the house in case of a loss.

Rising costs, inflation or other factors can leave you short of this 80 percent minimum. You could be disappointed to discover that you are not covered to the extent to thought.

Your independent agent will be happy to discuss this subject with you.
