Economist Says 'Slant Drilling' Held Down Texas Oil Allowable

By CARLTON F. WILSON
United Press International

DALLAS (UPI)— Texas oil pirates stole so much oil from beneath leases of legal owners with the help of bribed state officials that it kept every honest well in the state from getting a larger share of the limited production allowed by law.

That economic impact of the slanted hole oil well drilling scandal in East Texas was the testimony of an economist from the University of Texas bureau of business research at the close of three days of public hearings in Dallas this week.

Robert Lockwood told Texas House investigators that if it had not been for illegal production of some 200,000 barrels of oil a month, the state allowable would have been more than the eight days it has been held to for most months during the past three years.

As the hearings recessed until Sept. 10, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said he had only begun to expose the widespread use of bribery of state railroad commission officials in the oil scandal. Wilson estimated the theft of oil may total more than $50 million.

Bribes of $58,000 to L. D. Murphy, former East Texas district engineer for the commission, and $47,000 to Nelson Decker, an ousted field inspector, were testified to at the hearings before a standing-room-only crowd of about 200 persons in a Dallas courtroom.

Both Murphy and Decker were fired from their jobs May 14 when they refused to take lie detector (polygraph) tests in the investigation by Texas Rangers.

Decker was one of eight well-dressed witnesses who refused to answer 169 questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination. Murphy was out of the state. Others and the number of times they took the Fifth Amendment were:

E. B. Hearn Jr., Longview drilling engineer, who refused to answer 23 questions; Billy Bridewell of Tyler, 16 refusals; E. W. (Jelly) Scates, Tyler, 29; W. S. (Bull) Barber, Kilgore, Tex., 10; G. U. (Pappy) Yoachum, Kilgore, 36; A. E. (Cadillac Jack) McCubbin, Kilgore, 32; and J. Rex Stegall, Kilgore, 7.

All sat next to their attorneys at a small wooden witness table in the beam of photographer's lights and read from a slip of paper, that "I respectfully refuse to answer that question on the grounds that my truthful answer might tend to incriminate me..."

Other witnesses were cooperative. There was William (Whipstock Bill) James of Kilgore, an oil field roughneck who said he had been drilling wells at greater than the legal slant of three degrees since 1936.

James proudly explained that a whipstock is a metal device used to angle a hole so expertly it can be put under a stake a half mile away. He estimated that there are 350 illegally slanted oil wells in the East Texas field.

James said a slanted well cost $35,000 to drill compared with $5,000 for a straight well, because "it is harder on the equipment." It is also against Texas law, unless a special permit is obtained from the state railroad commission which regulates the oil and gas industry.

James told of installing plastic pipe under a lease from which investigators traced royalty payments to Murphy. The plastic pipe allowed oil to be pumped without detection so two illegal wells could produce the total allowable for eight wells on the L. R. Jacobs lease in Rusk County.

Multiple-Death Accidents Boost Holiday Traffic Toll

HERE'S ONE WAY—There are many ways to spend a holiday. Tomorrow Pampans join with the nation in observance of Labor Day. Some will head for the mountains, lakes, golf courses, fishing spots, and others will stick close to home and picnic areas. If yours is the latter choice, you probably will be doing what the boy and girl shown here are enjoying as they dive into a king-size piece of watermelon. They are eight-year-old Jamey, left, and Leslie, four, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallemore, 2218 N. Nelson. (Daily News Photo)

Patrolman Stalks Prey, Closes In When It Lights On Kitchen Cabinet

Pampa police get all kinds of calls and all kinds of assignments—even some that might be classed in a category "beyond the call of duty."

But, like the fabled postman, they go -- through rain, sleet or snow.

For instance, at 8:45 p.m. Friday a call came from a resident in the 1500-block of N. Faulkner that a bat was flying around inside the house.

Patrolman Charlie Matson drew the assignment.

Now, rounding up a bat is no easy job. It's not as easy as roping a steer or milking venom from a rattlesnake.

A bat is just naturally a mean critter when cornered. But, Patrolman Matson stalked his prey into the kitchen of the home and when it perched on top of the kitchen cabinet, Matson clapped an empty shoe box over the intruder and then eased it off the end of the cabinet and at the same time eased the lid onto the box and secured it.

Patrolman Matson filed this simple report on the incident:

"I caught it and took it out to the city dump grounds and let it go."

The assignment was completed and duty performed. A happy taxpayer had praise for the ingenuity of a member of the Pampa police department.

Prowlers Still At It In Pampa, Say Local Patrolmen

A prowler discovered in the back yard of 909½ E. Francis shortly after 11 o'clock Friday night fled through the back gate and got away.

Mrs. Irene Hogan, who lives at the address with her two daughters, reported that she and a friend heard a noise in the yard as they returned home.

Dale Mercer, 2225 N. Sumner, said he ran to the rear of the yard and saw a man run east in the alley and disappear in the darkness.

Patrolmen Loren Pigg and Charles LaFever answered the call and combed the neighborhood, but the prowler had vanished.

Officers said they discovered a footprint in the mud beneath a north bedroom window and found the screen partially ripped from the window.

Mrs. Hogan said two window screens had been partially damaged in previous prowler incidents.

Mrs. Carolyn Timmens, wife of City Fireman Terry Timmens, 401 Magnolia, notified police that about 9 p.m. someone knocked on the front door and minutes later rattled the back door in an apparent attempt to gain entrance.

Lloyd A. Adamson, manager of the M & H Laundromat, 708 Prairie Center, notified police that sometime between 6 p.m. and 11:40 p.m. Friday someone broke a large hole in an 8-ft. by 8-ft. plate glass window in the laundromat.

Fred Spears, 412 Louisiana, reported the theft of a tank full of gasoline from his parked pickup truck.

Mrs. Josephine Eshom called police at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and said it appeared that someone had rammed a car or truck into one of her rent cabins on Louisiana.

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Department of Public Safety reported Saturday the Texas highway fatality toll for the year is up 5 per cent from last year at the same time.

The DPS reported the death toll through the past week is 1,469 compared with 1,394 to date last year.

Safety Officials Fear New Fatality Record

By United Press International

A rash of multiple-death traffic accidents—including 22 persons killed in just four accidents—occurred in the first day of the long Labor Day holiday.

Safety officials feared the nation would set a new record in the number of highway dead this week end.

A traffic count at 9:30 p.m. EDT showed that 129 persons had died in traffic accidents.

The breakdown:

Traffic	129
Drowning	7
Boating	0
Planes	0
Miscellaneous	13
Total	149

California, Minnesota and New York each had nine traffic fatalities. Indiana was next with eight and Illinois counted seven.

Worst Mishaps

The worst mishaps included:

Six persons, including the widowed mother of 15 children, in a two-car head-on crash near Litchfield, Minn. A car carrying three teen-agers attempting a U-turn rammed into a car carrying six persons. Killed were Mrs. Austin Casey, 50, Darwin, Minn., mother of 15; John Damsgaard, 49, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Edward Lohse, 54, Darwin; and Larry Andreen, 17, Robert Clayton, 19, and David Lindell, 18, all of Litchfield.

Six persons were killed in a head-on collision on a rain-slick road near Jonesboro, Ark. The victims were Florence Stuck, 63, Jonesboro, driver of one of the cars, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Self, Little Rock, Ark., and three teen-agers in the second car—Jessie Stevenson, 17, and his sisters, Marlene, 15, and Bessie Mae, 13.

Five unidentified persons met death near Schuyler, Neb., when their car was involved in a collision near Schyler, Neb.

Four men and a woman were killed on the West Virginia Turnpike near Charleston when a compact car collided with a tractor-trailer. The victims, not identified immediately, were two men and a woman in the car and two men in the truck.

The president of the National Safety Council, Howard Pyle, said the death rate—six every hour

'Wanda' Hits Hong Kong; 16 Are Dead

HONG KONG (UPI)— Typhoon Wanda battered Hong Kong Saturday with peak winds of 114 miles an hour and torrential rains, wreaking death and destruction in the refugee-crammed British crown colony before slamming into Communist China.

A preliminary official police statement said 42 persons were presumed dead and 180 others were reported injured. Thousands were left homeless.

But it was feared the toll would rise—there are almost 3 million refugees from Communist China living in flimsy shacks and hovels.

Commission To Discuss Tax Hearing

Pioneer Natural Gas Company's protest on the city's valuation of its property for tax purposes will be one of the top items on the agenda when the Pampa City Commission meets in regular session at City Hall Tuesday night.

The utility has charged that the $552,770 valuation figure set by the Pampa Board of Equalization is too high and is unacceptable to the company.

Indications are that the company will be advised that its only relief now would have to be obtained in District Court.

However, the Commission has granted the hearing and the City Tax Assessor - Collector Aubrey Jones has been asked to present in writing to the utility reasons for the Tax Board not decreasing the gas company's 1962 taxable valuation.

Members of the Board of Equalization also are expected to be invited to the Tuesday night hearing before the Commission.

Other commission business will include action on authorization of the first and final payment of $4,000 for horse stables at Recreation Park, and the second reading of an ordinance governing parking meters in certain downtown areas adjacent to City Hall and the new Citizens Bank & Trust Co. building.

Mariner-2 Nears The Million-Mile Mark On Voyage

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Mariner-2 approached the million-mile mark Saturday on its long journey toward Venus amid indications Russia tried but failed to beat the United States in a discovery of the secrets of the fog-shrouded planet.

Launched last Monday, Mariner-2 was scheduled to pass the million-mile mark at 4 p.m. pdt (6 p.m. est) on its 180.2-million-mile flight aimed at bringing it within 10,000 miles of Venus.

From that point in space, the vehicle with its sensitive instruments will be able to send back to earth telemetric data on the nature of the planet, scientists said.

Russia's apparent attempt to unveil the secrets of Venus was disclosed in Washington by a spokesman for the National Aeronautic and Space Administration (NASA).

He said American trackers discovered four fragments of the Soviet space vehicle orbiting the earth. The launch apparently was made last Saturday but the Soviet Union, as is its custom, did not publicize it.

But Citizens Resist Civil War

Two Armed Factions In Algeria Are 'Squared Off'

ALGIERS (UPI) — Bristling armed forces of two rival Algerian factions faced each other west of Algiers Saturday across two miles of rocks and brush. But the prospects of a battleweary population apparently had stilled the hand of civil war.

For the second consecutive day thousands of men, women and children paraded through Algiers streets, demanding a peaceful solution to the struggle for leadership in their newly-independent nation.

Some 150 miles to the west, about 2,000 troops and artillery of forces backing leftist strongman Ahmed Ben Bella faced a hilltop post of soldiers loyal to dissident military leaders who were firmly in control of this capital city.

Communist-Supplied Tanks

Eighty miles south of Algiers, another Ben Bella column with Communist - supplied tanks remained poised for a possible drive on the capital.

But the powerful Ben Bella units appeared hesitant to plunge Algeria into civil war by trying to crash through roadblocks set up by troops of the Algiers military district.

In the Algiers Casbah itself, elements of the two rival forces faced each other at almost bayonet point. Pro-Ben Bella guerrilla leader Yacef Saadi and a small force of his men had barricaded themselves in a group of buildings and were surrounded by anti Ben Bella forces. It was there Thursday that a brief clash between the two forces killed 13 men.

In Algiers streets surging crowds chanted, "long live peace—seven years of war was enough." The chant recalled the more than seven years of bitter war with the French that led to Algieria's independence early in July.

For the first time since independence, French security units sent out patrols in force in the streets of Algiers.

The patrols went out after French President Charles de Gaulle issued strict instructions for the protection of nearly half a million Europeans still living in Algeria.

Confined to Barracks

France still has about 300,000 troops in Algeria but most of them were being confined to barracks while the uncertain situation continued. Officials said the police patrols were aimed at enforcing the confinement of troops to barracks as well as protecting French civilians.

Balkacem Krim, a vice premier in the now almost defunct government of provisional Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, issued a call for a peaceful solution of the current power struggle.

"We must build, not destroy," Krim warned in a handbill distributed throughout Algiers. "certainly differences have broken out among leaders, but these must not be settled by force of arms."

Soblen Suicide Watch Intensified

LONDON (UPI)— Brixton Prison officials Saturday were reported to have intensified a suicide watch over convicted Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen whose last legal hopes of escaping deportation to the United States were quashed Friday.

The bail-jumping fugitive's attorneys were preparing a plea for mercy to the Home Office in a desperate last-ditch effort to keep him from serving a life prison term for spying for the Russians during World War II.

But informed sources said there was little chance Home Office Secretary Henry Brooke will revoke the deportation order on the basis of "representations" Soblen's lawyers said would be given him on Monday.

Castro Charges US 'Fabricated' Plane Incident

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro Saturday said Cuban naval vessels did not fire on a U.S Navy plane off Cuba last Thursday and charged the reported incident had been "fabricated" by Washington to try to intimidate Cuba by "brutal threats."

(Adm. Robert L. Dennison, commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, indicated Saturday in Norfolk, Va., that the Navy would call up attack planes if any more American patrol aircraft are fired upon over interntional waters near Cuba.)

The bearded revolutionary leader, in an official statement broadcast by Havana Radio, said Cuba will not be frightened and cautioned U.S. troops "to be ready

Full-Scale Soviet Military Base In Cuba Is Reported

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A full-scale Soviet military base is being installed near the Port of Mariel, newly arrived Cuban exiles said here Saturday.

"This is Fidel Castro's answer to Guantanamo (the U. S. Naval base at the east end of the island)," one declared.

The port area where large numbers of Russian "technicians" have been quartered is a restricted zone and has signs reading, "Russian zone, no admittance" (zona Rusa, prohibido el paso), the refugees here declared.

Russian soldiers are guarding the area, they added.

Some speculated on the possibility that a military pact may have been signed between Cuba and Russia, granting the latter the same military rights which the United States enjoys at the Guan-

US Officials Cite Reasons For . . .

The Soviet Decision To 'Prop Up' Cuba

By DONALD MAY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union appears to have made a major policy decision to prop up the faltering Castro regime in Cuba and draw it more closely into the Communist camp, expert U.S. observers said Saturday.

They viewed this as the most significant fact to emerge from a week of stormy Cuban developments climaxed by U.S. charges that two of Communist Premier Fidel Castro's naval vessels fired on an unarmed U.S. Navy plane over international waters Thursday.

Because of the incident, the United States sharply warned Castro that American military forces would shoot back if fired upon in the future.

This was a big switch from President Kennedy's diplomatic efforts to isolate Cuba from the other Latin American nations.

(In Havana, Castro bombastically denied that his vessels had fired on the plane 15 miles north of Cuba.)

Administration officials who a week ago reported a big increase in Soviet military aid to Castro, gave this updated account of the situation:

Supplies Unloaded

Military supplies believed to include transportation, electronics and construction equipment which had been reported being unloaded at Cuban ports during late July and early August, apparently are being transported to sites around the island.

Officials feel it is a "pretty safe prediction" that the supplies will turn out to include Soviet anti-aircraft missiles similar to the U.S. Nike. But there is no confirmation of this yet. The prediction is based on other equipment which has been identified and the fact that Russia has given such missiles to Iraq and Indonesia.

A number of small patrol craft arrived as deck cargo aboard Soviet ships. It is not clear whether they were "torpedo boats" as reported Friday by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.

There is no evidence yet that Moscow has sent equipment to monitor U.S. rocket launchings at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The electronic equipment which arrived appears designed to bolster coastal and air defenses. But it is not out of the question that sooner or later Russia might propose that Cuba monitor activities at Canaveral.

It is "theoretically possible" that such equipment could be used to interfere with ground signals that control the Canaveral rockets. But officials doubt that Russia or Cuba would try this. The United States could retaliate. The result would be a very expensive rocket "jamming war."

It is considered very improbable that stations located in Cuba could send out signals to alter the course of U.S. rockets. This would mean obtaining the exact secret codes by which the rockets are controlled.

Probable Estimate

The "most probable" estimate of the number of Soviet technicians to arrive in Cuba recently is 3,000. It could be 5,000. There is no good estimate of what percentage are military technicians, but probably more than half are.

Though there are still many rumors that the military technicians are "troops" organized into combat units, all U.S. information from "trained observers" indicates the contrary. They are

Clyde Watts To Defend All-Around Cowboy Title In Boys Ranch Rodeo

Clyde Watts, a former Longview, Washington, boy and the Junior All-Around Cowboy of the 1961 Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, is riding for the senior title during the rodeo being held over this Labor Day week end, today and Tomorrow.

Although Clyde had only been at the Ranch a few months when he won the junior title last year, he came out of the rodeo with a total of 87 points out of a possible 100. Contestants in the famed rodeo ride under R. C. A. rules on professional rodeo stock that is taken to the Ranch.

Boys entered in the senior division of the rodeo will ride Brahma bulls and bucking broncs while the smaller steers and calves are reserved for the younger boys of the junior class. All of the boys will have some part in the rodeo, including the little five - to - six-year-old youngsters who will appear in special feature attractions.

In addition to the excitement and thrills, a new rodeo arena is expected to attract a record number of visitors to the two afternoon performances of the rodeo. Located south of the Ranch picnic area, the arena is shaded by large cottonwood trees and has elevated bleachers to assure all spectators a good view of the action.

It is a rodeo for and by the 300 boys who now make their home at the Ranch. Only outside participation is by the Amarillo Air Force Base band. All indications are that the 18th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo will be the fastest, most competitive and thrilling the boys have ever had. The rodeo's two performances will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Area Couple Attends Rites For Relative

PANHANDLE (Spl) — Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Edwards have returned from Bryan, where they attended funeral services for his cousin, Robert Neal Craig, 50, who died unexpectedly following a heart attack.

Funeral services were at a Bryan funeral home with Dr. Richard H. Poss, minister of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in the Bryan Cemetery.

Craig, son of the late Mrs. Eva Craig of Panhandle, was an associate professor in the Agricultural engineering department at Texas A & M College. For six years he had been in charge of the adult education program as an agricultural specialist for the Texas Education Agency at the college.

He had taught more than 16,000 farmers and ranchers in adult specialist programs. He had also conducted special course for approximately 95 per cent of the agriculture teachers of the state. Due to his efforts, more than 300 schools were able to set up shop programs. Last year he received the Farm and Ranch Award of the Texas Safety Council for his efforts in teaching farm safety. He was a 1937 graduate of A&M College and had been with the college for 16 years.

During World War II he served in the 91st field artillery battalion and was awarded the bronze star. He was a retired lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve at the time of his death. Before going to the college he was with the John Deere Company in Pampa for several years, following World War II.

Survivors are his wife, Irene; one daughter, Donna Faye Craig of Bryan; a son, Bob Craig of Houston; a sister, Mrs. Truman New of Hattiesburg, Miss.; a brother, Jack Craig of Plainview and two grandchildren. His son, Bob, is married to the former Madelyn Lemmons of Panhandle.

Rain Helping To Dent Drought In Areas Of State

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)— Rain helped dent drought conditions last week in Central Texas, the Blacklands and the Upper Coast, but the Trans-Pecos, Edwards Plateau and South Texas still need moisture badly, the Texas A&M College agricultural information office said today.

Cotton harvesting over the entire state reached a peak and coastal cotton pickers worked on a crop now 50 per cent finished.

Defoliation got into full swing in the Blacklands as bolls opened under the August heat, the service said. Showers over the Blacklands slowed harvest activities now about 14 per cent complete. Plains cotton harvesting got underway and many High Plains farmers applied their last irrigation preparing for picking.

Lower Valley cotton is now 93 per cent in the gins and South Texas reached the three-quarter mark in its activities. Central Texas picking advanced rapidly and about 57 per cent of the crop has been harvested.

The grain sorghum harvest along the Upper Coast, in the Lower Valley, South Texas, and the Coastal Bend is completed, according to the service. Central Texas sorghum is nearly completely harvested a full month ahead of combining last year, and the Blacklands move to the 85 per cent mark in their combining.

Rites Are Held For Father Of Area Woman

PANHANDLE (Spl) — Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Poston have returned from Ainsworth, Neb., where they attended funeral services for her father, Guy Clayton Foster, 62, who died Aug. 23, in a Tulsa, Okla., hospital, following a long illness. The Postons had been in Tulsa several days, prior to his death.

Funeral services were in the Wisda Chapel, with burial in the Ainsworth Cemetery.

Mr. Foster was born Sept. 3, 1899, in Madison, Neb., and was married in 1917 to Miss Ruth Millard in Long Pine, Neb. She is among the survivors. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

In 1937 he moved to Borger, where he was employed by the Phillips Petroleum Company until 1947. He later lived in Panhandle, where he operated a chicken and produce farm. He had lived on a farm near Grove, Okla., for the past four years.

Survivors are a son, Kenneth Foster, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; four daughters, Mrs. Ray Kime, Ainsworth; Mrs. Justus Schenk, Johnstown, Neb.; Mrs. Poston, Panhandle; and Mrs. Ed Kaczmarek, Omaha, Neb.; 18 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Mutual Funds No More Successful Than Market

EDITOR'S NOTE: The operations of mutual funds recently was the subject of an exhaustive study. The following dispatch is an analysis of how effective they are in investing for their shareholders in the stock market.

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A major study of the mutual fund industry comes to the conclusion that the funds as a group have done no better in the business of making money in the stock market than the market itself.

That is, the funds' performance about equaled that of the Standard and Poor's 500-stock average.

This comparison raises the provocative question of whether the average investor might not just as well play the market directly as indirectly by buying shares in a mutual fund. A mutual fund is an investment company whose business is buying securities, chiefly common stocks.

Prof. Irwin Friend, head of a four-man team at the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, which examined the mutual fund industry, said the answer to the question is this:

—If investors bought a random selection of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, they would on the average do as well as a mutual fund. The word "average" in this case means the sum of losses by some of these investors and profits by others.

Which gets to why people buy mutual funds. They don't want to choose which stocks to buy. They feel they don't know enough about the market and they don't have the time or background to find out.

Moreover, they don't have enough money to diversify their investments for safety's sake—to buy a sufficiently broad variety of stocks so that they don't have all their money in one or two industries.

What about the 8 per cent sales commission most mutual funds charge? Can't the direct investor avoid that?

For the small investor who can ill afford large risks, Friend said, achieving diversification comparable to that given by a mutual fund could cost more in brokerage fees than 8 per cent. There also are the costs and inconvenience of bookkeeping, he noted.

However, Friend observed that purchasers of "front end load" monthly investment plans may realize "only limited returns" if they drop the plan after one or two years. Because a sales commission figured over the life of the plan is deducted at the "front end," it may exceed 50 per cent of first-year payments and 30 per cent of payments in the first two years.

Most people with a few hundred or even several thousand dollars in a fund probably would conclude from the study that, all things considered, they might as well leave their money in. Not a few undoubtedly are satisfied if they do only as well as the market — at least in a rising market.

Since the first open-end investment company was formed in 1924, the mutual fund industry has grown enormously. After nearly being extinguished by the 1929 crash, the industry began to recover.

Its great days came in the bull market after World War II. As of Dec. 31, 1961 there were 244 open-end mutual funds with assets of $24.4 billion. An estimated 5.3 million individuals were shareholders. (Open-end means no limit to the amount of money the fund can take in and invest.)

The Wharton school study of 189 funds, made for the Securities and Exchange Commission, is the most exhaustive examination of the industry in more than 20 years. Although nominally analytical, it breaks out in several places with clearly implied criticism.

Probably its most pointed observation is that there are "potential conflicts of interest" in fund practices and in their affiliations with investment advisers and stock brokers.

The discussion of "potential conflicts of interest" was based on the funds' managements profiting excessively at the expense of their shareholders. More specifically, advisory and brokerage costs appear higher than they need be, especially for the larger funds. Lower costs could be reflected in increased dividends to shareholders.

The funds undoubtedly will have more to say about this. They already have said that fees paid advisers, based on fund size, are inadequate when a fund is young and small. Therefore, it would be unfair to scale fees thefun dhmt tmhs hms tmhrfw down as they grow with a fund, even though the cost of advising the fund rises less rapidly than the fee.

Friend said his study team was making no ethical judgment about funds, although he did say they encourage economic growth by lowering the cost of capital. He declined to describe the 595-page report as either favorable or unfavorable to the industry.

Wall Street In Review

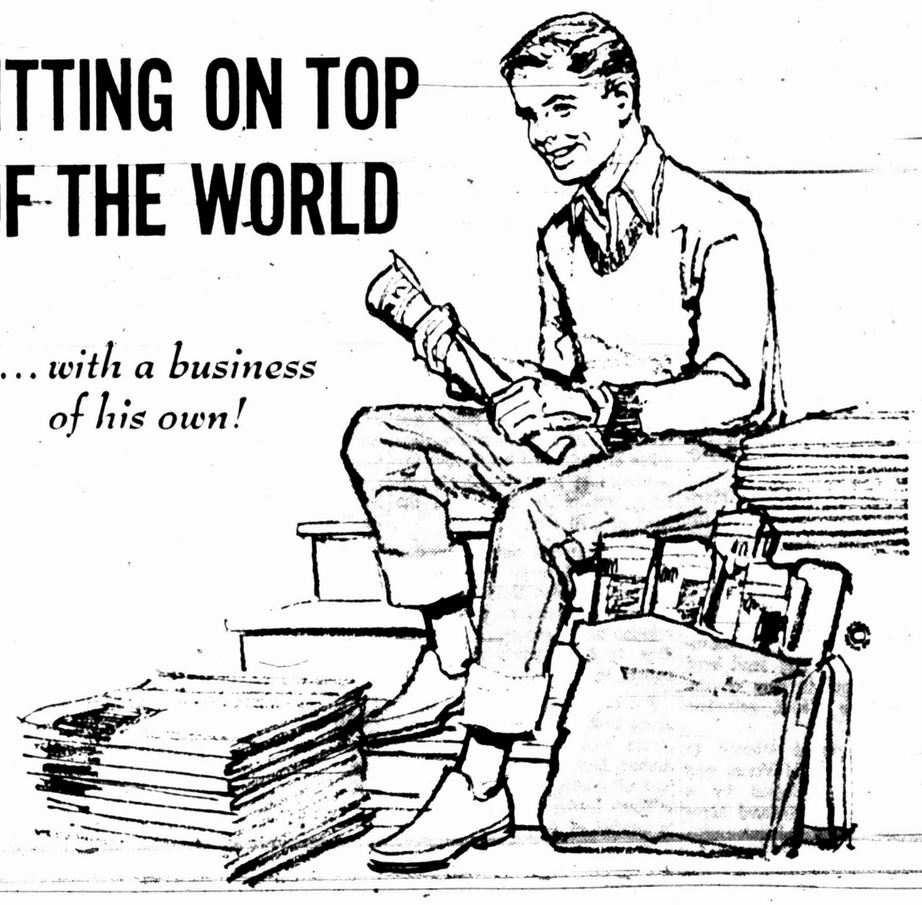
NEW YORK (UPI) — Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. says a period of hesitation and consolidation with the industrials average testing and holding above the 595-600 area would be the most constructive market action at this tme.

He claims this would further restore confidence, give some of the relatively backward issues a chance to catch up and strengthen the base pattern necessary to support a broader upswing expected between now and election day.

The jury is still out as to whether we are in for a long period of consolidation or a slide below the 600 level and into a major test of the June lows, says Thomson & McKinnon.

SITTING ON TOP OF THE WORLD

... with a business of his own!



We'd like for you to meet the Executive Officer of a thriving business . . . the boy who delivers your daily newspaper.

As the owner and operator of his newspaper route, this Junior Independent Merchant must solve problems and shoulder responsibilities, just like all other businessmen.

He buys his product, your newspaper, at wholesale and then retails it to his customers. He must make daily deliveries, do his own accounting, billing, and even struggle with a collection problem here and there.

He is discovering, through actual experience, the rewards for promptness, dependability, self-reliance and initiative.

One of the rewards is his profit, the difference between the wholesale and retail prices of the paper. His route means money for a savings account for college, a new bicycle, a week in camp, many things.

But he is earning even greater rewards. As he learns about sales and salesmanship, he is equipping himself for the future. From boys who learned the principles of business as newspaperboys have come presidents, governors, mayors, industrialists and professional men . . . those who determine the quality of our civilization in their generation.

It's his world to conquer . . . and he's off to a good start.

Altrusa Club Starts Project To Salute 'Courteous Drivers'

How are your traffic manners? Are you a courteous driver?

With the belief that courtesy pays big dividends in traffic safety, the Altrusa Club of Pampa is conducting a campaign to find "the most courteous driver" of the month, according to club officials.

The project is in cooperation with the City Traffic Commission's new program of promoting traffic safety through various projects sponsored by civic and service clubs. The police department, in cooperating with the Altrusa Club, will assist by spotting courteous acts in traffic.

The project starts this week and will continue through eight months, September through June. Each month, patrolmen will be on the lookout for courteous acts performed by drivers in traffic, residential and business streets.

When a motorist is stopped by a patrolman, the result might not be a trip to the police station to pay a fine, but instead, the driver will be commended by the patrolman and will receive an award from the Altrusa Club for courtesy shown to fellow - drivers. The motorists and patrolmen will be guests of the club at the Monday luncheon held the second Monday of the month in the Coronado Inn.

"In line with the club's overall objective of service to the community, we are most interested in helping to promote traffic safety through a courtesy award," Mrs. Lorene Locke, Altrusa president, stated. "We feel that considerate acts in traffic can promote safety and that is why we want to spotlight polite drivers," she added.

In accepting the responsibility for assigning a patrolman to spot and stop courteous drivers for the award, Chief of Police Jim Conner said, "We are always happy to see anyone interested enough in safety to do something about it."

The traffic courtesy project is under the direction of the Public Affairs Committee whose chairman is Mrs. Jack P. Foster. Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, committee member, will be in charge of the traffic safety project.

filled out police, firemen, military personnel and civilians in a massive relief effort. Hospitals were jammed and urgent calls were broadcast for doctors and nurses.

Heavy flooding was reported—in some places water stood five feet deep. Houses were flattened, automobiles overturned, power lines blown down and the streets littered with smashed windows and other debris.

Tidal waves whipped up by the driving winds swept over the small fishing villages along the coast of the "new territories" north of Hong Kong. The towns of Shataukok and Shatin were reported hard hit.

There were reports that some victims were blown into the sea or hurled against buildings by the winds that dashed ocean spray five stories high along the Hong Kong waterfront.

Others were electrocuted by fallen high-tension lines, crushed beneath flattened buildings or struck down by flying debris, including jagged pieces of corrugated iron from ripped-off rooftops.

Scores of persons evacuated skyscraper apartment houses because they feared the buildings would topple. None of the larger buildings did but at least seven smaller ones collapsed.

A Nationalist Chinese trawler broke loose from its moorings and crashed broadside into a ferry pier and sank. Countless smaller boats were hurled up on the shore or swamped.

The colony had buttoned down for the blow. Offices remained closed and all public transport was shut down as vanguard winds of 100 miles an hour began lashing the city shortly after breakfast.

Record

was a record pace on the nation's highways.

Warning Sounded

"A new record of tragedy will be established if this trend continues," Pyle said. "Unless this trend is reversed we fear that more than 500 Americans may be killed before the week end is over."

As Americans took to the roads by the millions to pile up billions of miles of travel this week end, authorities everywhere were beefing up law enforcement and urging vacationers to observe good safety habits.

Pyle said at midday that the actual death rate was six an hour, even though the rate of deaths reported to news media varied from hour to hour.

The Safety Council earlier had estimated that from 410 to 490 persons would be killed on the nation's highways during the holiday ending at midnight Monday. In 1951 a record total of 461 persons perished on the highways during the Labor Day holiday. Last year's comparatively safe holiday resulted in 386 deaths.

Many states cancelled days off for highway patrolmen and pressed additional patrol cars, airplanes, helicopters and radar into use to curb speeding and other unsafe practices.

to die" if they attacked the Caribbean island.

Charges 'Phony'

Castro branded as "absolutely phony" the charges made by the U.S. government that two naval vessels presumed to be Cuban fired on a U.S. Navy plane on a training mission over international waters off western Cuba.

The U.S. statement, which also was broadcast by Havana Radio, added that U.S. aircraft and naval vessels have been authorized to employ "all means necessary" to protect themselves against any similar future attacks.

Castro's statement said that U.S. military ships and planes have violated Cuban air space and territorial waters "hundreds of times," but Cuba "never answered provocations with provocations."

A communique issued by the Ministry of Armed Forces later in the day said there were two violations by U.S. planes of Cuba eastern air space on Thursday. It said a jet flew within one mile of the coast off Imias Bay while a PV2 patrol plane made three low passes over a Cuban ship near Nipe Bay, Friday, the communique said, another PV 2 buzzed a Cuban vessel twice.

Routine Mission

Washington said that a U.S. Navy SF2 attack bomber on a routine mission with three naval reservists was fired on about 15 miles off the port city of Cardenas, 100 miles east of Havana.

Castro said the Washington report "is a purely fabricated incident, according to a method long used in Yankee policy."

"There is nothing strange that after the shameful and criminal attack against the city of Havana by ships armed in Florida, where they sought refuge after the attack, the Washington government should appeal to this cynical and unprincipled resort."

(The attack on Havana was carried out by anti-Castro Cuban exiles and the two vessels involved later were impounded by the U.S. Coast Guard. U.S. authorities had deplored the raid and warned against any repetition.)

Castro said Cuban ships and planes have never "committed any hostile acts" against ships, planes, installations or the territory of the United States.

Castro said that his revolutionary government had protested time and again that the United States "is preparing an aggression against our fatherland."

British Methodist Exchange Pastor In Farewell 'Chat' With Kiwanians

A farewell "chat" with Pampa civic club members was given by the Rev. Ronald Pearce of Kenton Methodist Church, Harrow, County Middlesex, England, as he spoke to The Pampa Kiwanis Club at its Friday luncheon in First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Pearce has been filling the pulpit at First Methodist since Aug. 3 in an exchange of pastorates with Dr. Hubert Bratcher of the Pampa church.

The British pastor spoke of his impressions of Pampa and the United States.

"If the rest of the country is like Pampa and the Panhandle, the United States is a jolly good place," Rev. Pearce said.

Pampa's community interest is particularly impressive to the visiting minister from England, he stated.

"There is competition among you," he said, "but, this is secondary and very helpful to your community life and bespeaks a healthy situation."

Another thing that has impressed the Pearce family, he said, is the individuality that exists among citizens here and the lack of red tape he has found during his nearly four-week stay in Pampa and the surrounding area.

He spoke of a visit to Pampa High School Thursday, where he said he and his family were welcomed and allowed to visit the school — even a class that was in session.

"This is impossible in England," he said. "The schools there are guarded almost as much as the prisons."

The degree of friendship and hospitality the Pearces have found in Pampa, he stated, has been beyond anything they have discovered in their homeland or anywhere else.

"We have been tremendously impressed by our visit here," Rev. Pearce said, "and you will have no better ambassadors than the four members of the Pearce family when we return to England."

And then he added:

"The greatest things in life do not come from the mind, but from the heart. The heart of America is not necessarily in San Francisco, St. Louis or New York. It is to be discovered right here in Pampa and the Panhandle."

The Rev. Mr. Pearce will preach his final sermons at First Methodist Church this morning. He and his wife and their two daughters, Heather and Catherine, will leave this afternoon for the return trip to New York and then to their homeland.

The Rev. Dr. Bratcher, who has been filling Rev. Pearce's pulpit in Kenton, and Mrs. Bratcher are due back in Pampa Tuesday.

Youths Qualify As Lifesavers

Two Pampa boys, Scott Radar and Phil Davis, both qualified as senior lifesavers in the Pampa Chapter of the American Red Cross, recently completed 30 miles of a 50-mile stay fitness swim.

The program is part of a Red Cross swim and stay fit program. Each person participating is required to swim a quarter of a mile at one time with monitors watching to see that the required distance is covered.

Radar and Davis have been taking their quarter mile swims in the Pampa Youth and Community swimming pool.

According to Red Cross officials, a card for each person will be issued to anyone who will swim the quarter mile distance at a single swim.

The required distance in the program has been set at 50 miles. When the 50-mile swim is reached the Red Cross will issue a gold and white emblem.

not in uniform and appear to be limited to installing the new military equipment and training Cubans in its use.

One thing which does stand out among the week's events is a possibly dangerous rise in U.S. and Cuban tensions.

A week ago Friday, two boatloads of Cuban exile students from Miami shot up the Havana waterfront and slipped away under the noses of the Cuban navy, which was on maneuvers off Havana.

This forced Castro to put his military forces on a general alert.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., has called for a U.S. invasion of Cuba and Keating has accused President Kennedy of withholding information about "Soviet troops" from the American public.

Officials believe Thursday's firing on the U.S. plane probably stemmed from heightened tensions.

There is no evidence that Castro has ordered his ships to shoot at U.S. patrol planes. But it is probable that with the bearded revloutionary again trumpeting fears of a possible U.S. invasion, his forces are becoming "trigger happy."

Air Conditioning experts agree...

WATER cooling is BEST!

Youngsters learn mighty early about the cooling effect of water when the weather's hot. And air conditioning engineers know that water cooling is far more efficient than air cooling. The reason is simple . . . 85° water can absorb more heat from your home than 100° air.

That's why ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley's GAS air conditioners are WATER cooled! Water cooling, plus Sun Valley's "no moving parts" principle, gives you two big advantages unavailable with other air conditioners. One, a Sun Valley gives you CONSTANT EFFICIENCY, while air cooled units lose as much as 15% efficiency. Two, Sun Valley operating COSTS REMAIN CONSTANT, while air cooled equipment operating costs rise as much as 23%.

KING-SIZED FILTER double Sun Valley's double filtering capacity STOPS ALL HOUSEHOLD ODORS! It even tames cigar and fish odors, giving your home Spring-like freshness all year long.

NO MOVING PARTS . . . in the heating or cooling cycles of the Sun Valley . . . nothing to wear out or break down! Sun Valley is year-around comfort for the mortgage life of your home!

CONSTANT EFFICIENCY Sun Valley has no comfort-robbing friction to run up your operating costs. It doesn't cost a penny more to operate the Sun Valley for an hour when it's 115° than it does when the temperature is 90°.

Old Buster Keaton Movies In Comeback

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Sad-faced Buster Keaton, a performer who never smiles on stage or screen, has good reason to grin these days as his old silent movies make a boxoffice comeback.

Keaton, who lives in the near-by San Fernando Valley with his wife, two cats, a parakeet, chickens and a giant St. Bernard dog named Elmer, expects to earn a fortune releasing his old pictures.

"I've managed to get control of almost all my silent picture prints," he said. "I've got 10 features and 18 of my two-reel films."

Keaton got financial backing from German interests and took one of his old pictures, "The General," to Europe.

"I used a semi-symphony orchestra and put music into the soundtrack," he said. "There is no other sound."

His picture was released in 10 German towns and he says it played to crowded theaters.

Crowds Attend Shows

"The shortest run it had was four weeks," Keaton said. He now plans to release two of his old pictures each year.

A showman who started performing when he was four years old, Keaton was surprised at the response to his old clowning.

"To be taking bows for something you did 36 years ago is one for the books," he said.

Keaton, long absent from motion pictures, is now working in the comedy film "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

The movie costars a large cast of world famous comedians, plus Spencer Tracy. Keaton said he's never worked with so many stars in one film.

"The other day we did a scene involving two taxicabs and a car," he said. "I was in the car with Spencer Tracy and the two taxis had Rochester, Sid Caesar, Phil Silvers, Peter Falk, Buddy Hackett, Mickey Rooney, Jonathan Winters, Terry Thomas, Dick Shawn, Edie Adams, Dorothy Provine and Ethel Merman. And that was just for one scene!"

Drops Movies For TV

Before television, Keaton had a movie acting and writing career that started in 1917. But in recent years, he's been active on stage and in television shows. He also earns top money for video commercials.

"I lost interest in pictures when television came in," Keaton said. "I found that it ended the program picture. Unless you made those multi-million dollar pictures you couldn't get your money back."

Keaton has production ideas of his own and hopes some day to activate them.

"I'd like to remake one of my old pictures, 'The Navigator,'" he said. "It was released in 1924 and became the biggest boxoffice gross I ever had.

"If I could make it again I'd use Dick Van Dyke in my part and Carol Burnett would play the girl. Then I'd give you one of the funniest pictures in the last 20 years."

'Music Of Bernstein' Replaces Mantovani

The Pampa Community Concert Association has announced that due to the illness of Mantovani, all of his 1962-63 concerts have been cancelled. Mantovani was scheduled to appear here on Oct. 31.

The concert board, however, has obtained the Sol Hurok Production of "The Music Of Leonard Bernstein" to fulfill Mantovani's engagements. The date for this attraction will be Oct. 31, as originally planned.

The production is in three parts and presents all the music of Leonard Bernstein. First, the operatic production, "Trouble In Tahiti"; then, The American Ballet Theatre production of Jerome Robbins' "Fancy Free," and last, the hit tunes from "The West Side Story," "On The Town" "Candide," "Wonderful Town," and "Peter Pan."

Heading the superb cast is Robert Rouseville, star of the original "Candide" and of the motion pictures "Tales Of Hoffman", and "Carousel." He is a leading tenor of the New York City Opera and prominent artist on recordings and television.

Featured also is Claire Alexander, brilliant young lyric coloratura discovery, who has already scored in opera and operetta and on such television programs as the Perry Como Show and Omnibus.

Dancers of the American Ballet Theatre, soloists, and orchestra will be presented in a production which will be one of the season's major delights.

The first production of the current Pampa Community Concert season will be the appearance of Carlos Montoya on Oct. 22 in the Pampa Junior High auditorium.

You Can't Hide A Swimming Pool!

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A swimming pool is a rather difficult thing to conceal.

You can't very well hide it under your coat without leaving at least a suspicious bulge. Nor does it help any to try to pretend that it is merely a bird bath or a fish pond.

I am therefore unable to understand why so much secrecy was involved in plans to install a swimming pool in the new 100-million-dollar office building that our congressmen are erecting for themselves.

House officials who for so long denied that any pool was contemplated must have known that sooner or later there would be a leak of information if not of water.

It was Republican Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski of Wisconsin who finally let that cat out of the bag, or, if you prefer, the plug out of the drain.

Detected Inconsistency

During debate on a public works bill this week, O'Konski detected a certain amount of inconsistency in complaints by some lawgivers that federal funds might be used to finance community pools.

"We certainly should not deny others what we furnish ourselves," he opined, going on to say that in the new office building there would be "a nice, fancy, expensive swimming pool" for members of Congress.

A few discreet inquiries then elicited the information that plans for the pool were approved recently at an unannounced meeting of the building commission.

The way the matter was handled seems to indicate that certain parties would just as soon we taxpayers didn't know about the aquatic project.

Good heavens, fellows! What do you think we are? Cheapskates?

Of course we want you to have a pool. Our only regret is that you aren't making it larger.

Not Too Big

The plans call for it to measure 20 by 60 feet. That doesn't provide much room for skin diving and water skiing.

Any soreheads who might be inclined to carp about the expense should be silenced when they learn that Dr. George Calver, the Capitol physician, recommended the pool on medical grounds.

He is reported to have told the building commission that a place to swim would help our lawgivers keep fit.

This will be especially true a few years from now if companion plans to build a subway from the office buildings to the Capitol come to fruition.

At present, House members must walk the distance. But when the subway goes in, they will ride back and forth, and thus be deprived of the exercise.

The swimming pool should take up the slack nicely.

Play Written By Texans To Be Produced

DALLAS (UPI)— The play "Joshua Beene and God" written by Dallas playwrights Clifford Sage and Hal Lewis, will be produced on Broadway in New York during the 1962-63 season, it was announced today.

Paul Baker, director of the Dallas Theater Center, said he will produce the comedy-drama in association with Roger Stevens.

Rehearsals were scheduled to begin in New York in mid-December, and the Broadway opening is scheduled for late February, Baker said.

Baker said actor-director Burgess Meredith has been contacted and "wants to direct the play if certain pending commitments will allow."

Lewis is co-author, is managing editor of the Dallas Times Herald.

The play was produced in the Dallas Theater Center last December starring Burl Ives. Baker said Ives has first refusal on the title role in any Broadway or subsequent movie reproductions.

Stevens, the co-producer, has had several Broadway hits including "West Side Story," "Mary, Mary," and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," which also starred Ives.

Quarterback Club Plans Barbecue This Thursday

Plans for a pre-season Football Warm Up Barbecue will be completed at a meeting of the Pampa Quarterback Club at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the High School Cafeteria.

Forrest Hills, club president, said a special film, "Pedro Running Wild," will be shown through the courtesy of Coach Joe Kerbel of West Texas State College. The film will show the highlights of West Texas State's games with Texas Western and Wichita last fall.

The Warm Up Barbecue has been set for 8 p.m. Thursday immediately following the Pampa Harvesters' warm up scrimmage with the Hereford High School football team.

The warm up session between the two teams is scheduled for 5 p.m. Thursday. The barbecue will be held on the grounds behind the football stadium.

Hills stated all football fans and Harvester supporters are invited to the Quarterback Club meeting Tuesday and to the barbecue on Thursday night. Tickets for the barbecue will be $1.50 per plate.

Terry Gets 20th In Yankees' Win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Terry became the American League's first 20-game winner Saturday and celebrated the occasion by collecting three hits to lead the first - place New York Yankees to a 3-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Deprived of a shutout by Jerry Lumpe's 10th homer in the fourth inning, Terry singled home the tying run in the fifth and then coasted in after Elston Howard's two - run triple off loser Bill Fischer broke the deadlock in the sixth.

With one out in that frame, Tom Tresh smashed a hot one-bouncer off Fischer's right shin. The Kansas City pitcher chased the ball toward the first base line and made a valiant throw to first base while falling face-first to the ground, but Tresh beat it out for a hit and then advanced to third on Mickey Mantle's single.

Tresh was tagged out in a run-down when Hector Lopez bounced back to third baseman Ed Charles, and then Howard laced his triple over center fielder Bobby Del Greco's head to score Mantle from third and Lopez from first.

Terry, beaten 10 times this season, scattered seven hits while striking out five and walking two.

Fischer suffered his seventh loss against four victories.

Reds Top Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Left-hander Joe Nuxhall, with ninth inning relief help from Jim Brosnan, fashioned the fourth victory since he started his comeback campaign at Cincinnati and Vada Pinson cracked five hits Saturday while the Reds defeated the second-place San Francisco Giants 10-5.

The 34-year-old Nuxhall, back with the Reds after being released by two other clubs this season, was batted out in the ninth inning as the Giants rallied for three runs, one of them unearned. Then with men on first and third, Brosnan came in and made Felipe Alou fly out to end the game.

Nuxhall now has allowed seven earned runs in 43 1-3 innings without suffering a loss since the Reds brought him up from their San Diego farm team in July.

Indians Scalped

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Brooks Robinson's 21st home run of the season highlighted a four-run explosion in the third inning Saturday as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Cleveland Indians, 8-2.

The blast came off starter rookie Sam McDowell, who was charged with his seventh loss of the season. McDowell, a bonus southpaw, has yet to win a start, although he chalked up two victories in relief.

Tigers Edge Sox

DETROIT (UPI) — Southpaw Hank Aguirre tossed a nine-hitter Saturday to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox and lower his league-leading earned run average to 2.29 a game.

Aguirre had a shutout until the ninth inning when pinchhitter Jim Landis doubled and scored on a two-out single by Nellie Fox.

Aguirre posted his 13th win of the season against six losses and kept the Chicago hits well-scattered until the ninth. Only two White Sox runners advanced as far as third base before the shutout was snapped and both reached third after two were out.

YANKS SIGNED ROOKIE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cecil Shamberger, a 19-year old outfielder from Asheboro, N.C., has signed a "modest" bonus contract with the New York Yankees and will report to the club's Fort Lauderdale farm club next spring. Shamberger, a left-handed hitter and thrower, played amateur ball in Philadelphia this summer.

Cubs Cuff Colts

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago Cubs' rookie second baseman Ken Hubbs tied a major league record of 73 consecutive games without an error Saturday in a 4-3 Chicago victory over the Houston Colts.

Ron Santo's two-run homer off relief pitcher Don McMahn put the Cubs ahead to stay in the seventh inning. The blow over the left field fence also scored Kick Bertell and gave the win to Dick Ellsworth, who was removed for a pinch hitter in the inning.

Hubbs matched the major league record of 73 error-less games set by Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox in 1948.

Twins Stumble

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox scored twice in the last of the ninth Saturday, the winning run forced in on a bases-loaded walk, to defeat Minnesota 5-4 and knock the Twins four full games back of the winning Yankees.

Boston's second victory in as many games of the current series with Minnesota came after Harmon Killebrew smashed his 36th homer of the season for a 4-3 Twins lead that stood up until the last of the ninth. In that inning, reliefer Frank Sullivan walked the leadoff batter and gave up singles to Frank Malzone and Bob Tillman for one run.

Sullivan was lifted for Bill Plais who threw a wild pitch to advance the runners and walked Pete Runnels to fill the bases. The veteran Ray Moore, third Twin pitcher in the inning, then came on to pass Chuck Schilling and force in the winning run.

Bucs Tip Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-6, Saturday night when Elroy Face put out a Phils' ninth inning rally with a double play ball.

The Phils, trailing 7-4 and held to three hits by Tom Sturdivant and Jack Lamabe, rallied in the ninth when Roy Sievers singled and Wes Covington doubled with none out after Lamabe had pitched three perfect innings in relief.

Face came in and got Don Demeter on an infield out which scored one run. Clay Dalrymple singled home the second and then Ruben Amaro closed out the rally when he hit into a double play.

Sturdivant, pitcher of record when the Pirates chased Jim Owens with a three-run rally in the sixth, won his eighth while the Phillies' pitcher, in only his second start since July 5, dropped his fourth against two wins.

Angels Defeated

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Catcher Bob Schmidt's home run with two out in the 11th inning gave the Washington Senators a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles Saturday night after the Angels Leon Wagner had hit his 33rd home run in the ninth to tie the score.

The winning home run came off Don Osinski. It was Schmidt's first time at bat as he entered the game in the 10th inning after catcher Ken Retzer was lifted for a pinch-runner.

Washington's winning pitcher was Ed Hobaugh, who pitched one inning and survived a bases-loaded jam. Seafors starter Tom Cheney was two outs away from a two-hitter and his second consecutive shutout victory when Lee Thomas blooped a single to left with one out in the ninth. Wagner then homered to tie the game at 2-2.

Superb Putting Does It

Joanne Gunderson Wins Title In U.S. Women's Amateur Play

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)— Blonde Joanne Gunderson, giving a superb exhibition of putting, routed 17-year-old Ann Baker of Maryville, Tenn., 9 and 8 Saturday to become the sixth contestant in history to win the U. S. Women's Amateur golf championship at least three times.

Miss Gunderson, who lives in Kirkland, Wash., 30 miles from 1961 titleholder Anne Quast Dicker, whizzed over the first 18 holes of this 36-hole match-play final over the sloping country club of Rochester course with a two-under-par 70. The torrid round was the best ever recorded by a woman over this 36-36-par 72, 6,161-yard layout, and pushed Joanne to a 6-up lead at the halfway mark.

Mrs. Jean Trainor of Rochester, N. Y., a member of the host club, netted a one-over par 73 on Sept. 6, 1961 for the best previous round. Miss Gunderson's 70 will not go into the record books here because of a pair of conceded putts on the first 18 holes.

Record Six Times

Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare Jr. won this tournament a record six times.

Miss Gunderson, who seemed to be more serious about golf Saturday than in six previous matches, overwhelmed the Tennessee teen-ager with her long-range drives and deadeye putting.

Joanne ended the match on the 28th, a par 5, 525-yarder and the granddaddy of them all here. It was on this same hole that she notched the only eagle of the tournament earlier in the day.

Miss Gunderson, who said the women's amateur ended her tournament schedule for the year, really proved her pre-match statement that "I'm on the verge of playing very, very well." She felt she was nearing her peak in the 3 and 2 victory over American Curtis Cup teammate Phyllis Preuss Friday in her semi-final match.

Miss Gunderson converted birdie putts of 4, 7, 5 and 15 feet in covering the first nine holes at one-over par 37 for a four-up lead.

Booming Drives

Two booming drives got her within 18 feet of the pin on the 10th and she stroked it in for the eagle 3. Miss Baker had won only one hole to that point—with a 30-inch putt for a par four on the 410-yard sixth.

Joanne, who had four bogeys to eight for Miss Baker over the first 18 holes, went 6-up with her five-foot birdie on 13. Miss Baker, who won only three holes all day, cut the margin to 5 by nudging in a four-foot birdie putt on the par 5, 455-yard 15th.

Miss Gunderson retailiated with a 15-foot birdie on 18 and started the second 18 with a six-up bulge.

The champion canned a 14-foot birdie putt on the 20th and a 1-foot par putt on the next hole to extend her lead to 8-up. Miss Baker, playing in her third Women's Amateur, interrupted with a two-foot par putt on the 193-yard 22nd hole for her last threat.

Harvesters Bump Heads For 1st Time

Workouts for the 1962 Pampa Harvesters football team got into full swing Friday when head coach Otis Holladay put his varsity team through drills and offensive blocking maneuvers.

Saturday saw the Harvesters on the practice field for two separate workout sessions.

In the forenoon, linemen and backs ran through defensive drills.

During the afternoon workout, more drills and then the first inter-squad scrimmage were held.

Eural Ramsey, assistant coach, stated that the morale of the 48-man squad was "real good" following scrimmage.

Several team boosters were present during Saturday's workout sessions and the coaching staff said that anyone interested in watching the practices is welcome to attend.

Two more practices are scheduled for Monday morning at 8 a.m. with more drills, blocking and another scrimmage during the afternoon workouts.

Reed Takes 5-Set Net Victory; Russian Ousted In First Round

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — Whitney Reed of Alameda Calif., a tournament flop since being named America's No. 1 player for 1962, pulled out a five-set victory over Davis Cupper Dennis Ralston in the first round of the U. S. singles championships Saturday and an unheralded California collegian bounced out the first Russian with the help of a disputed linesman's call.

Reed ripped Ralston, a Bakersfield, Calif., power hitter who was the goat of the costly U. S. doubles defeat in the recent cup series with Mexico, 4-6, 6-2, 10-8, 2-6, 6-3. Ralston double faulted frequently, just as he had as Chuck McKinley's doubles partner in Davis Cup play.

Lefthanded Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., a 21-year-old student at the University of California and America's 35th-ranking player, came from way back in a marathon that started Friday to eliminate Russia's Sergei Likhachev, 4-6, 16-18, 12-10, 6-1, 6-4.

The Russian led, two sets to one, when darkness halted the match Friday night and after play resumed on the center court Saturday he couldn't get his game going.

Title favorites Rod Laver and Margaret Smith of Australia both blasted their opening foes but Mrs. Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, surprise runner-up at Wimbledon had to go three gruelling sets to defeat Madonna Schacht of Australia, 8-6, 1-6, 6-4.

Tommy Bolt In Dallas Open Golf Tourney Lead

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — Tommy Bolt, who once boasted that if he could putt his rivals would play for second place, rode a red-hot putter into the halfway point lead in the $35,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament Saturday with a five-under-par round that gave him a 36-hole total of 137.

The 44-year-old Bolt, who has finished in the top 10 but twice all year, smoothed out Oak Cliff Country Club's rough greens with healthy birdie and par putts for a 31-34—65 that exploded him from a 12-way tie for 12th into a one-stroke lead on the field.

Chunky Billy Maxwell was his closest pursuer with a par 35-35—70 for 138.

Bolt birdied the second hole from 10 feet, the fourth from 12 feet, the fifth from 9 feet, the seven from 12 feet, the 10th from 5 feet and the 12th from 15 feet.

He salvaged pars from four missed greens with similar curling beauties of from 5 to 8 feet away. His only bogey came on the 11th hole when a bit of mud stuck on his ball after his drive. The mud deflected his approach and he stopped short of the green. He rolled to within three feet of the cup, but blew that one.

Baseball's Big Question

To Spit Or Not To Spit?

SPORTS PATROL
By Steve Snider

NEW YORK (UPI)—To spit or not to spit?

Baseball still is trying to enforce its unpopular rule against the spitball and all it gets for its effort is a series of black eyes as charges of illegal spitters are levelled at certain pitchers on almost a weekly basis.

As spitball charges fly, it gets to be a moral question. Spit may be a horrid word but if the nation's kids believing rumors that certain pitchers are sneaking over a spitter—in defiance of baseball law—they're getting a mighty poor example from a sport that generally tries to cultivate the younger set.

Attempts to restore the spitter to good standing have been made in recent years. The idea was to give pitchers another weapon in their constant fight for survival against the hitters in an era of the big inning and the home run. Those efforts failed.

Commissioner Ford Frick, a spitball advocate, now suggests enlarging the strike zone as an aid to the pitchers.

Maybe the pitchers do need that sort of help. However, there have been five no-hitters this season—pitched by Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, Bo Belinsky of the Angels, Jack Kralick of the Twins, Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette of the Red Sox—and the hitters will tell you the pitchers don't need any more help.

Kids, though, always need help. They look up to their idols and copy their ways.

If baseball can't prove spitball charges against certain pitchers, it ought a muzzle the men who make the charges in public, hold hearings in private and provide drastic penalties for the pitcher found guilty or, if proven innocent, against the player or manager who brought the charge.

That's the hard way, of course. Legalizing the spitter would make it easy.

Latest to be trapped in spitter charges is Hank Aguirre of the Tigers. He got the full treatment in a recent game against the Red Sox.

Lew Burdette of the Braves is the usual whipping boy. Whitey Ford of the Yankees has been accused of moistening his pitches this year. Bob Purkey of the Reds, Jim Bunning of the Tigers, Don Drysdale of the Dodgers and occasionally Early Wynn of the White Sox are among those mentioned as possible spitball throwers.

They haven't been proved guilty. But they haven't been cleared, either, and that's just as important to a game that sells integrity with every ticket.

Game, Fish Commission Says Dove Hunting To Be 'Far From Excellent'

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas dove hunters may have better success this year, but the hunting will be far from excellent, Game and Fish Commission officials and sportsmen said Saturday.

The season opened in the Panhandle Saturday.

Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the commission, said reports from biologists are that the dove populations "are generally better than last year, but not good."

Dodgen said Central Texas dove areas show "spotty" concentrations of doves, but no outstanding prospect in any area.

The Texas season will allow hunting in the North Zone Sept. 1-Oct. 30, inclusive and the South Zone Sept. 25 - Nov. 23, inclusive. In counties having whitewing season in the South Zone, the mourning dove season, is Sept. 25-Nov. 21, inclusive. The whitewing dove season is Sept. 7 and 9 this year.

Game Sanctuary

It will be unlawful to take white-winged doves of Chachalacas south of U.S. 83, which was formerly Texas 4, in the southern tip of Texas, because it is the game sanctuary. It is also unlawful to take the two species in the Big Bend National Park of Brewster County.

The law provides that shotguns used must be plugged permanently to three-shell capacity, and can not be larger than 10 gauge. Hunting doves with rifles is prohibited.

One feathered wing must remain attacked to each bird taken in this year's two-day whitewing season.

The shooting hours for mourning doves are 12 noon to sunset, except in areas having whitewing season, where the shooting hours will be from 2 p.m. to sunset Sept. 7 and 9. The whitewing hunting hours are 2 p.m. to sunset.

Georgetown Area Good

Reports from Central Texas show varying populatinos of the doves. Bud Otto, a biologist at Llano, says the hunt will be disappointing in that area. But Edgar Arthur at Georgetown reports more doves in that area are more plentiful than in a few previous years.

Game Warden W. F. Sumbling in Comal County says dove hunters have little to look forward to in that area.

In northern Mexico, whitewings seem to be plentiful. The Austin American outdoor editor, Russell Tinsley, reports he heard from Vincent M. Stevenson that large flights of whitewings have been sighted in the area south of Brownsville. He said some estimates range up to 450,000 birds in the area. The Rio Grande Valley itself seems to have a good supply of the birds.

BLAA! BLAA! BLAA!—This is baseball at its noisiest. Plate umpire Bobby Haack is ignoring the ire of Tulsa catcher Hank Kuhlmann after he was ejected from a game against El Paso for protesting Haack's calls on balls and strikes. Sun Kings Pace Texas League's All-Star Team And Pennant Race

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The El Paso Sun Kings, who threatened to make a shambles of the Texas League pennant race, did the same thing with the league's official all-star team by placing six players.

The Sun Kings' shortstop Charles Peterson, one of three players chosen unanimously, also was the same overwhelming choice for the league's most valuable player award.

Peterson, his second base teammate, Jerald Van Robinson, and San Antonio third baseman Don Eaddy were the unanimous choices for the mythical team, which had two first basemen when Charlie Dees of El Paso and Paul Snyder of Austin tied for the first-place vote.

In addition to Peterson, Van Robinson and Dees, the Sun Kings also spotted outfielder Jesus Alou, catcher Tim Talton and righthanded pitcher Lazaro Gomez.

Tulsa placed three players, including pitcher of the year Gordon Richardson, a southpaw. Other Oilers were utility infielder Clyde Bloomfield and center fielder Joe Patterson.

The Austin Senators placed Snyder and left fielder Raymond Withrow, while the Albuquerque Dukes captured the other place with utility outfielder James Small.

The Amarillo Gold Sox failed to place a player.

'Little Chloe' Favored In Ruidoso Feature

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (UPI) —Little Chloe, the speedy filly who has been beaten only once in six starts, shaped up Saturday as the probable 8-5 favorite for Monday's running, of the $222,850 All-American Quarthorse Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

The Colorado-bred two-year-old, drew the outside post position in the 10-horse field, and will be a slight choice over Hustling Man, her only conqueror to date, and Oscar Jeffers' Oklahoma-bred Mr. Juniper Bar in the run for the $96,425 top money at 400 yards.

Little Chloe's only defeat came a week ago Saturday when J. B. Ferguson's Hustling Man nipped her in the futurity trials by four one hundredths of a second, 20.44 to 20.48. The filly, which has won Jack and Xenia Casement of Padroni, Colo., $46,570, broke sluggishly from the gate for the first time in her career.

Mr. Juniper Bar, winner of six of eight starts and a placer the other times out, was expected to be a 2-1 choice of the crowd expected to reach 10,000 for the Labor Day sprint spectacular. He has accounted for $37,922 in purses this season. He won his trial heat in 20.45.

Hustling Man, the Texas pride, has been in the money 10 of 12 starts, including five victories, but has won only $4,646.

The big race, fourth and richest of the futurities, will be taped for a national television showing next Saturday (ABC's Wide World of Sports). The gross purse makes the futurity the third largest stakes race in the nation this year, surpassed only by the Arlington-Washington $350,000 Futurity and the $301,000 Garden Stakes at Garden Park.

Tiny Charger, the top California challenger owned by Western Stables of Los Alamitos, figured as the best dark horse in the field. He was expected to go to the post at 6-1, followed by Sidney Vail's Will I Win and Florida-owned Big Reward at 8-1.

Christy Go, owned by E. K. Johnston of Amarillo, Tex., and Bar Depth, owned by Lester Goodson of Magnolia, Tex., figured to be 20-1 longshots, while Lightning Belle, owned by L. R. French Jr., of Odessa, Tex., and Dan's Sugar Bars, a Rhoades Brothers and Meek entry from Lovington, N.M., were due to be 30-1 or higher in the wagering.

Goodson's Go Eagle Go was the top alternate entry in case of a late scratch.

The purse breakdown will be worth $42,427 for the runnerup, $34,713 for third place; $19,285 for fourth; $9,000 for fifth; $7,000 for sixth; $5,000 for seventh; $4,000 for eighth; $3,000 for ninth, and $2,000 for 10th.

EMERGENCY OPERATION — Dr. Phyll, "resident surgeon and medical doctor" for her doll "patients,"-sits in her home "operating room" and "hospital" and performs a head operation for a doll accident case.

'Dr. Phyll' Available

Doll 'Hospital' Ready For All 'Emergencies'

By WANDA HUFF
Pampa News Staff Writer

Dolls suffering from worn out voice boxes, clipped wigs, loose arms and legs and cracked or broken heads, can find relief in Doctor Phyll's Doll Hospital, 716 N. West.

Mrs. Lloyd Laramore, known to the child "parents" of her doll "patients" as "Dr. Phyll," has been unable to cure only one doll patient in a year of "practice."

A graduate of the nine - month correspondence course offered by the Doll Hospital School in Los Angeles, Calif., she did her "internship" by repairing 200 dolls for the VFW's annual Christmas party for underprivileged children.

For serious cases, requiring careful concentration, she operates on a homemade operating table, invented by her husband out of a revolving brace and belting to hold the "patient" on the table.

When "sick," limp dolls are brought to the hospital, the usual treatment is restringing the loose arms and legs, because the elastic, "like old body cells," wears out and has to be replaced with a stronger rubber loop.

For cracked, fractured legs, arms and necks, she inserts a pin or metal roll as a brace and fills the cavity with plaster. If necessary, she can make an entire new rubber arm identical to the injured one by pouring soft rubber over the arm to make a mold. When the mold is removed, she pours in rubber and a new arm is ready. For some doll fractures, she applies a splint or clamp to hold the crack together until the glue dries.

"Dr. Phyll" performs plastic surgery for injured dolls by rebuilding chipped noses, missing toes and fingers with doll paste, adhesive and paste hardener. After toes are rebuilt, her husband, the assistant physician, carves out the shape of toes and fingers and Dr. Phyll paints flesh color on the new toes and fingers.

"If it is an old doll, we mix brown paint with the flesh color to keep the repair from looking like a patch job. Otherwise, we would have to remove all the paint, sand it down and re-paint the entire area. It is much less expensive to do it the other way," Dr. Phyll said.

Dolls past repair go to the "bone yard," for salvage of usable parts. Dr. Phyll asks the parents of "sick" dolls not to discard their old, worn-out dolls, but to deposit them in her "boneyard."

Typical boneyard cases are dolls left in the sun or sandpile so long they fade white or turn grimy or one left on the furnace until it was twisted out of shape.

"The Doll Hospital School tests each new kind of doll by trying to be as "destructible" as they think a child could be. After the doll is torn up, they fix it and send us instructions for repairing any damage possible. That's why I took the course, because we are taught the best and easiest methods of repairing dolls, are kept up to date on changes the manufacturers make in new dolls. We learn how to make novelty dolls from plastic squeeze bottles, pipe cleaners and Devil's claws, wood and shells," she said.

Dr. Phyll's curved needles, right angle needle nosed pliers, reverse action pliers, soldering iron, sand bags, cord, nails, glue, hooks, plaster, metal rolls, pins and paint sound more like machine shop tools than surgical tools and supplies, but they can make a broken, aging doll look like she just came off the factory's assembly line.

Just as real mothers and daughters need occasional facial repairs, little girls' dolls need retouches for faded faces and that tired, run down look. Dr. Phyll's doll fashion and beauty shop shampoos and sets doll hair styles in the latest fashion and repairs doll wigs and rooted hair when it is ruined by a quick snip of the scissors.

If an angry little hand is overeager in punishing a "bad," undisciplined doll, and breaks its teeth, eyelashes, eyes, or even its tear ducts, a few days in Dr. "Phyll's Doll Hospital ca nrepair the damage.

"When we dress a doll, we suit the doll personality with the material. A Shirley Temple doll would be dressed in taffeta, but a teenage doll would wear almost anything from blue jeans and a sweatshirt to a skirt and sweater or a crisp party dress. For old-fashioned, china dolls, a 'period dress' for the era the doll was made would be suitable, where some contemporary dolls call for the latest in high fashion," says Dr. Phyll.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is the proper attire for women attending a Garden Club meeting where they exchange plants, bulbs, soil and fertilizer? Some of the members come dressed in high heels, fancy hats and rhinestone jewelry like they were going to church. Others come in house-dresses and flat shoews. I am—

FRANKLY CONFUSED

DEAR FRANKLY: When women get together for social chit chat they may get dressed up in their fancy go-to-meeting clothes. But if they meet to fool with fertilizer and dabble in dirt, they should dress down to earth in flats and wash dresses.

DEAR ABBY: We just bought a very nice house in a neighborhood where the houses are kind of close together. The lady who lives next door must have nothing better to do all day but stand at her window and look through mine.

Now I am 50 years old, and I don't need a bodyguard. Should I go over and ask her to please quit looking in my window? Or should I stand there and try to outstare her?

LOOK AT

DEAR LOOKED: Why don't you just pull down your window shade and forget about it?

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 42-year-old man who must go down to the cellar for a smoke in his own home? That man (?) is my son. The reason he can't smoke in the house is because his wife is a nut on smoking. She claims smoke makes her sick. Well, that song and dance is making ME sick and I told my son yesterday that if he wasn't man enough to stand up for his rights in his own home he should move out to the doghouse. Will you give this nutty wife a few jabs in your column? She reads it daily. I'll be watching for it. Thank you.

SOMEBODY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps your son should have one room in the house where he can enjoy a smoke if he so choses. But if HE doesn't object to going underground to please his wife, keep your jabs to yourself and don't try to stir up trouble.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

THE OLD SUMMER routine went flying out the window this week as school opened its doors . . . but we are not sorry to see it go . . . . we've been clicking off chores and errands as fast and furiously as a checker in a supermarket on Double Stamp Day . . . each year we know weeks before of the many things that must be done before school starts . . . but we always wait until the last minute and get in a rush . . . but the same things happen with our Christmas shopping . . . so we might as well admit we are not efficient . . . besides it's rather interesting to be "snowed under" on these remaining hot summer days.

Doris E. Wilson

Pampa News Women's Editor

Gather around all ye club chicks, while this Old Mother Hen cackles away for a few paragraphs about publicity pointers that will help chairmen get their club's and organization's activities into print.

In other years, we have printed a series of three or four articles covering the many phases of being a "newspaper reporter." But since everyone is getting to be an "old hand" at the game, this year just a "refresher course", will be printed.

We suggest that new publicity chairmen refer to articles that have been printed and which are probably now glued to the pages of publicity books of other years. These are the best sources for a "do-it-yourself" story.

While we can't possibly hope to answer all of the questions, in this article, that will arise during your year as publicity chairman, the information for specific questions is as close at hand as your telephone and we will be delighted to answer them and be of any help that we can.

Here are Ten Commandments, which will stand every good publicity chairman in good stead during her year of writing for her organization:

1) Thou shalt forget the word "publicity!" If your group is doing something noteworthy, it is NEWS.

2) Thou shalt report each story in its own time! Remember, a story grows shorter, and weaker, with every day it ages. Give it to the newspaper as soon as all details are complete and as far in advance as possible.

3) Thou shalt have full details ready at hand! Be ready with full names, addresses, committee lists, dates, places and all other pertinent information!

4) Thou shalt speak with an honest tongue at all times. Be specific. Give facts, not glowing adjectives!

5) Thou shalt not bother an editor when his deadline is upon him. Visit the office and learn best times to consult about story possibilities.

6) When talking to newspaper people, thou shalt avoid the word "SCRAPBOOK." Nothing is as insulting as the reminder that you want publicity for a scrapbook instead of the opportunity to give information to the public.

7) Thou shalt not give orders to the photographer. A news photographer must follow newspaper policies, as well as the technical requirements of his art.

8) Thou shalt not nag! Make only essential calls to an editor or reporter.

9) Thou shalt not ask a newsman to write for his supper! Be sure he knows he is welcome at your Group's meeting or banquet, but don't invite him as a social favor. Remember, what you are saying is "come and work overtime as my guest. . ."

10) Thou shalt follow through! Too often, news chairmen provide reporters with reams of advance information. . .then during the event, itself, when the real spot news is happening, everyone is too busy to give newsmen any information.

You don't have to be a writer to be a publicity chairman, but you must be alert, accurate and informative. Stories should be typed triple-spaced, but if you don't have a typewriter available then write with that clear, bold penmanship hand you learned in grade school. Print all names so that vowels and consonants will not be confused.

Use a married woman's full name, i.e., Mrs. John D. Smith. You may call her "Mary" at club meetings, but in using her name in public form for the newspaper, it should be her full married name. The exception to this is a widow or divorcee, who then are Mrs. Mary Smith. In the widow's case, the name she prefers is the one that is used; either her husband's name or her own first name.

Stories should be turned in within THREE days after the event (this applies to stories for the the women's page only; the news department and sports desk have different deadliness).

For weekday stories, copy should be submitted by noon of the day BEFORE it is to appear in print. For Sunday editions, your articles with pictures should be in the office by Thursday noon. For articles without pictures, Friday morning is the absolute deadline for Sunday's issue.

Don't crowd these deadlines, for someone may have been an "earlier bird" than you and got their stories in first!

For meetings featuring a speaker you will find you have a more interesting story if you can get two or three quotes and a summarization of points stressed in the speech.

This year, we are going to be miserly about space, don't turn in lengthy reviews of a program. It will be much more interesting, if you will do the editing yourself before you turn in the story. If you leave it to us, you may find that we have condensed the story to merely "they met, they set and they et."

Always give your name and telephone number at the top of your story, so you can be identified as the news source in case there are any questions.

News items for "Mainly About People" may be phoned into the women's editor. These are the only stories that are taken by her over the phone however. They are brief and to the point and take little time to process for the teletype setters. We invite you to call in to us about your out of-town guests, trips or vacations you have had.

Changes or additions for weekly meeting notices in the social calendar, should be phoned in on a Friday of the week before they are to appear.

As most of you know by now, the women's department does not take club reports over the telephone. Your story may be short, taking only 10 minutes to give over the phone, but multiply that by as few as six calls a day (and there are often more), that is one hour spent in conversation. Then when these stories have to be edited, often re-typed and a "head" written for them, you can see it is time-consuming. Stories left in the News Office can be processed in a third of the time, they can be taken over the phone.

From time to time during the year, you will want pictures. Appointments for women's page pictures should be made with the women's editor. Appointments should be made at least one day in advance, or sooner, if possible.

The time you want a picture taken may conflict with a previous commitment, so we will appreciate your cooperation in trying to set up an earlier or later appointment.

Whether or not we are always able to meet your request for a picture, we do want a story of the meetings.

This wraps up our "instant-journalism" course for 1962 - 63, but we know your questions are as varied as the different types of women's clubs. So, when you have a question that is not answered here, do call us and let us get acquainted.

Happy "News" Year.

Marjorie Frances Sayles Is Bride Of John Edwin Grist

Mrs. John Ewin Grist
. . . nee Marjorie Frances Sayles

ABILENE — Marjorie Frances Sayles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Welcome Sayles of 1118 Sayles Blvd., became the bride Monday evening of John Edwin Grist, son of Mrs. John Walter Grist of Canadian and the late Mr. Grist.

Family sentiment enriched the wedding for which the Rev. Joe David Ruffin was officiating clergyman at Central Presbyterian Church. Bill Grist of Canadian, brother of the bridegroom, was best man; John Robert Sayles, brother of the bride, was junior groomsman; children in the bridal party were cousins of the bride and her aunt, Mrs. Hugh B. Tandy of Moody, was a soloist.

Frank Carver of Canadian was also a soloist. Mrs. J. Gordon Weir was organist.

BRIDE

Mr. Sayles gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown a Murray Hamburger original fashioned of white bouquet taffeta. The bodice was molded, with long sleeves coming to points over the hands. Handrun Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls was at the extended neckline. The same lace topped her bridal crown banded with open design of pearls and crystals. The skirt of the gown was bell shaped in front; unpressed pleats gave added fullness to sides and back. The aisle - wide train extended from the waistline to cathedral length.

Her veil was of illusion. She carried white roses with stephanotis atop a white Bible belonging to Sharon Nugent of El Paso, a bridesmaid in the wedding. Her only jewelry was a diamond and pearl lavaliere, a gift from the bridegroom.

Martha Minter was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diltzie Louise Bland of Ozona, junior bridesmaid were Marilyn McDonald, June hunger of Ozona and Miss Nugent. They wore azalea pink satin sheath dresses with full length overskirts of American Beauty satin. The neckline of the sheaths came to a deep V in back. Long white kid gloves complemented brief sleeves. On their hair each wore a large satin rose, Miss Minter s American Beauty, the others azalea pink. They carried cascades of Briarcliff roses with ivy tendrils.

Rex Robert Bland was acolyte.

Steven Montgomery Bland was page, Marjorie Rebecca Bland flower girl and her twin brother, John William Bland, ring bearer. The flower girl's dress was a bouffant floor length dress of white nylon. She dropped rose petals from a white net basket and her brother carried the wedding rings on a heart shaped cushion of lace.

Groomsmen included Bill Nix, Harold Yarnold and Kenny Abraham, all of Canadian. Ushers were Ronnie Vance of Fort Worth and Bobby Newsom of Lubbock.

The bride's aunts and uncles, Mrs. Tandy, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bland Jr., of Ozona and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knight, joined Mr. and Mrs. Sayles in hosting the wedding reception at Abilene Woman's Club.

An imported white linen cutwork and lace cloth was on the bride's table where a five-branched silver candelabrum held white butterfly roses. Nosegays of gardenias were at the base. Tall white tapers in silver candelabra lighted silver appointments.

Foursome tables in the Great Hall were laid with white linen cloths. Pink pompons in bud vase arrangements were flanked by votive candles which with white candles in cathedral candlesticks lighted the Great Hall. Floor baskets of white gladioli and stock were added floral decor.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride was wearing a designer's suit of champagne wool. Two large pearl buttons fastened the cropped jacket which had notched collar and three quarter dolman sleeves. Beige kid gloves, brown lizard pumps and handbag and brown mink halo hat completed her travel ensemble. She wore a corsage of white butterfly roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School and has attended Texas Technological College where she will be a junior during the coming year. Her major is elementary education. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority. In her freshman year she was chosen one of the Top 50 La Ventana Beauties. She made her debut at the Abilene Cotillion Club's 1961 Christmas Ball.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Canadian High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society.

He was graduated Aug. 25 from Texas Technological College where he received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree with major in industrial management. At Army ROTC commissioning exercises conducted Saturday morning he received his commission as a 2nd lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve Corps and was named a Distinguished Military Graduate. He was president of his class during his junior and senior years and received the All-College Recognition for Leadership award. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity and belonged to Scabbard and Blade, Saddle Tramps and Interfraternity Council.

After Sept. 10, the couple will be at home at 2224 9th St., Lubbock.

Abilene Country Club was scene of the rehearsal dinner Sunday evening. Hosts were cousins of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Sayles and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sayles.

The party decor emphasized colors chosen for the wedding. Places were marked for approximately 40 guests at tables covered with azalea pink cloths. White cherubs held carnations in shades of azalea pink and American Beauty.

A skirted taffeta cloth was on the punch table where a bisque cherub supported a green Venetian Glass bowl filled with carnations.

New Junior Service League Of Pampa Formed From Parent Education Club

Since adjournment at its Spring meeting, the Parent Education Club has streamlined its format and adopted a new name. Henceforth, it will be known as the Junior Service League of Pampa.

The group has been, primarily, a study group but has always been interested in civic work. Since 1956 it has been especially interested in the exceptional children's program in Pampa. But in the future, it will not be limited to this particular project.

The purpose of the new organization will be to broaden its scope of service; there will be no formal study club programs and it will no longer be a member of the Federated Clubs. It is planned to broaden the interest among members in the educational, cultural and civic conditions of the community.

The broadened scope of the League will also allow former members, who are interested in the projects, to rejoin the club as active members.

Officers are Mmes. Jack Osborne, president; E. R. Sidwell, vice president; A. J. Carubbi, secretary and Buz Tarpley, treasurer.

The first activity of the newly-organized League will be a formal Charity Ball on October 4 in the Pampa Country Club with a "name" orchestra playing for dancing. There will be a limited number of tickets available.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be given to the Exceptional Children's classrooms in Sam Houston and Pampa Junior High School.

The Parent Education Club was formed as a study group in the American Association of University Women in July 1940 and became federated in 1941.

Throughout the years it has been interested in charitable projects that were of benefit to the youth and the community.

About That BCD 'Divorce'

It seems to us there should not be too much quarrel with the City Commission for its proposal to 'divorce' the tax supported Board of City Development from the Chamber of Commerce.

If past differences are forgotten and everyone puts his shoulder to the wheel, the result should be an even stronger Chamber of Commerce.

We do not believe the Chamber of Commerce should be supported by compulsory tax dollars paid by every property owner in Pampa. The Chamber of Commerce should be supported by those who gain most from it — the business and professional people. And we believe they are perfectly willing, for the most part, to give that support.

It has been the practice in Pampa since 1928 for the Chamber of Commerce to lean upon the taxpayers for a portion of its financial support.

The BCD was born in a city ordinance passed Oct. 15, 1928. Since that time the BCD and the Chamber of Commerce have functioned as one body.

That original ordinance set forth in Sec. 6 that "the directors of the Board of City Development shall have general supervision over all matters pertaining to the work of the usual Board of City Development, Chamber of Commerce or Commercial Club, such as the legitimate fostering, encouragement and development of the agricultural, stock, industrial, jobbing, distribution and wholesale and retail commercial resources, the securing of desirable immigration, encouraging social and commercial intercourse, improving transportation facilities, desirable publicity, more and better highways, and in furthering the advancement of existing agriculture, stock, industrial, manufacturing, jobbing, distribution and wholesale and retail interests, city planning, city charity, and any other matter or matters that have for their purpose the upbuilding and growth of Pampa or benefit of its citizens."

Sec. 7 of the ordinance provides that the expense for maintenance of the BCD should come out of the city's general fund with a sum not to exceed two mills on the one dollar valuation of taxable property to be paid each year.

Pampa taxpayers have been paying this portion of the tab for some 34 years. This fund has allowed chamber members—chiefly business and professional people—to ease along with only a minimum of financial contributions to the Chamber of Commerce.

The present City Commission believes that if city tax money is used to assist the Chamber of Commerce, it should be channeled directly into the "legal studying of its (the city's) industrial climate, fostering encouragement and development of the city of Pampa to make it more useful and efficient for its industry and its economy, both present and for any industries, businesses and trade, that may or will be attracted to Pampa and locate in Pampa or in the trade territory of Pampa in the future, to generally study and make recommendations to the City Commission of the City of Pampa of the things that may be done by the City toward its proper planning for growth and expansion."

The City Commission proposes that the BCD make regular monthly reports of expenditures of the tax money, these reports to be made in detail describing the various services performed and the benefits derived by the BCD."

The principal change from the present situation would be that the BCD would operate as any other tax-supported city department. It would be responsible to the City Commission and the City Manager. Likewise, the chief function of the BCD would be to work on the industrial and business development of Pampa.

There is not a single member of the City Commission who does not go along with the idea that the Pampa Chamber of Commerce should be supported and supported loyally.

That loyal support includes an increase in financial contributions from its members.

The City Commission is not proposing to cut off its financial help to the Chamber of Commerce. It merely is asking that the BCD, if it is to be financed by the taxpayers, become an integral part of the city's operations and function the same as any other city department.

Actually, the Chamber of Commerce should not have to use the tax supported BCD as a financial crutch at all. We would hate to think that Pampa's progressive business and professional people are not capable of full financial support for an up and doing Chamber of Commerce.

We have to go along with City Commissioner Will Graham when he says that "the city should not direct or subsidize the Chamber of Commerce and that the BCD should be an integral part of City Government, and cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce."

Pampa Joins Fight On Polio

Announcement that Pampa will join with Amarillo, Borger and other towns throughout the Panhandle in a mass polio vaccination program starting on October 7 is welcome news.

Commendation goes out to the Top O' Texas Medical Society and the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce for their joint sponsorship locally.

This is a movement the entire community should participate in wholeheartedly — and by that we mean everyone in Pampa and the surrounding area should avail themselves of the opportunity for immunization against polio.

The vaccine to be given will be the Sabin oral vaccine with Type One scheduled to be given on the October 7 date. To complete the immunization three separate vaccines should be taken so plans have been made to give the shots on three separate Sundays six weeks apart.

You may not be asked to help in the forthcoming vaccine program, but you should accept the responsibility of seeing to it that every member of your family is immunized.

Even if you don't think the polio virus will be inconsiderate enough to attack you or your children, you may be a carrier and transmit it to others. Anyone can be a polio version of Typhoid Mary —the person who does not suffer from a disease but who is an active carrier.

The Sabin vaccine does not call for a vaccination or shot. Two drops of liquid are placed on a cube of sugar. You eat the sugar and the immunization process has begun. Three doses of the vaccine, given a few weeks apart, provide immunity against the three known strains of the disease and prevent the immunized person from becoming a carrier.

The Medical Society is underwriting the cost of the program, but you will be given the opportunity to make a donation. However, nobody will be turned away for the lack of a donation. Those who can't afford to contribute will get the vaccine free.

It's not enough to immunize yourself. Get your friends, neighbors, employes and fellow club members to take the vaccine. It's good citizenship to take part in this voluntary program of community wide immunization against polio.

No goverment aid and no government compulsion is involved. You don't have to, and if you don't want to help pay for it you won't be required to. But be a good citizen and join the milions who will enjoy immunity from a great crippler.

TRUTH-FORUM

With Ed Delaney

For a financially secure future, get back to the farm. Even though you know nothing about farming, get some acres of land and notify Agriculture Sec. Freeman in Washington that you propose growing wheat, corn, cotton or maybe sun flowers and an emissary of the Dept. of Agriculture will probably communicate with you and make an interesting proposal. He will arrange to pay you up to $50 per acre not to do any work, not to grow anything. This Kennedy - Freeman farm program is the greatest boon to chiselers, drones and professional panhandlers since the days when Harry Hopkins was dispensing the taxpayers' dollars hither and thither to keep the New Deal dynasty in power.

Ostensibly one is supposed to be a "farmer" to qualify for this gravy train, but that is a mere formality. Last year the city of St. Louis, qualified as a "farmer" under the Kennedy - Freeman gravy train program and got $12,203.91. The Farmers Investment Co., Tucson, Ariz., also was rated as a farmer and collected $94,092. Billie Sol Estes, the Texas wonder boy who seemed to know the right ones in politics, got $22,875 from the Kennedy - Freeman till last year, which is more than was received by the 35,000 farmers in Maine, New Hamphsire and Rhode Island. The Louisiana State Penitentiary received a niggardly $6,818 of the taxpayers' remittance to the federal treasury. Under the Kennedy - Freeman gravy train program, as recommended to Congress this year, these gifts must be accepted by the "farmers" who are obligated to continue their "no growing" labors under threat of fines or being incarcerated in a penitentiary. Sen. John Williams of Del., raised the question of just how Sec. Freeman would put a penitentiary in a penitentiary if the directors of that state institution decided to grow tobacco, corn, wheat or barley on their "farm" instead of taking the hand - out not to grow anything.

The Ford Motor Co., of Calif., the Reynolds Metals Co., and the California Packing Co., all listed on the New York stock exchange were qualified as "farmers" under last year's Kennedy - Freeman gift program. They got more of your tax dollars from the U.S. treasury than was paid to all the 52,000 farmers in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. And never forget that there are no "federal funds" because the federal government has no funds. The federal government has no money. All it gets is what it collects from the people. Sure, it gets billions from banks —which it borrows and on which the interest is piling up at over a million dollars each hour of the day. This boondoggle is part of the New Frontier program to scatter more and more of your tax dollars where they will produce votes in coming elections.

Last year the Agriculture Dept. of the New frontiersmen paid $1,118,233,97 of the taxpayers' funds to farmers throughout the country — and those such as the Louisiana State Penitentiary that qualified as a "farmer", for taking acreage out of production. At the same time the Kennedy-Freeman team leased 4,881,000 acres of cropland to farmers at an average of less than $3 per acre — to produce crops. Also the Bureau of Reclamation paid out millions of dollars to bring an additional 113,700 acres into production. This reclamation spending cost the taxpayers anywhere from $159 per acre up to $1,227 per acre.

It is not a case of the right hand not knowing what the left hand is doing. They know perfectly well what they are doing. It is scattering your tax dollars far and wide for the purpose of holding onto states where the voters are expected to support the New Frontier and to extend that "frontier" into enemy territory.

No 'Estes' Law Seen This Year

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Most significant fact about the new farm legislation just approved by the Senate is that it contains not one section which was in any way influenced by Billie So. Estes case investigations, disclosures and scandals.

The same thing is true of the farm bill passed earlier by the House. Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., did get an amendment on the original House farm bill which would have provided penalties for offering gifts to influence the administration of farm programs.

But this bill was recommitted by a five-vote majority in the House. In the second farm bill which came before the House, the Bass proposal was killed on a day when the congressmen voted on the floor to drop all amendments to the main provisions.

To repeat, therefore, 1962 farm legislation as it stands today does nothing to correct any of the wrongs Billie Sol Estes may have been guilty of.

When the Estes case first broke, there was a lot of big talk that this was the beginning of the end for farm controls by government. At last the evils of acreage allotments, marketing quotas, subsidies and grain storage payments had been exposed. All farm programs would soon be ended and at last American agriculture would be free. So it was said.

It now appears that the greatest irregularity in the Billie Sol Estes operations under government farm programs was in his juggling of cotton allotment. He found loopholes in the government regulations and he made millions through them.

But the new farm legislation as passed by both Senate and House doesn't even mention the word "cotton."

Several cotton bills have been introduced in this session, to change the present program. But indications are now that none of them will be acted on this year. So the old acreage allotments and marketing controls will remain in force for next year, unless the Department of Agriculture can change its own regulations.

What Senate and House actions show, however, is that Congress is by no means ready to junk the whole price support system with rigid controls on production.

It is still too early to say what is going to be in the final farm legislation emerging from conferences between Senate and House Agriculture Committee members. They must work out a compromise between the two widely differing measures.

It is now admitted by Department of Agriculture officials that administration of existing farm programs by committees of farmers is too complex. The wonder is that the system had not broken down long before the Billie Sol Estes case ever came along.

Recognizing this weakness, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has had a 10-man committee working on it. The group includes former secretaries Claude Wickard and Charles F. Brannan. Dr. Joseph Hadja of Kansas State is heading the staff. It hopes to submit a report by the end of September on how the committee system and regulations can be simplified.

In this connection, it is recalled that nearly every Democratic and Republican party platform has for years called for "a farm program run by farmers" at the grass roots level and not by the bureaucrats in Washington.

It sounds wonderful in a political speech in the farm belts. But the system which Billie Sol Estes was able to corrupt to his own great profit was "a farm program run by farmers."

The trouble was that the bureaucrats in Washington didn't police the system hard enough. An attempt is being made to correct that by better inspection and auditing methods. A few official heads are rolling as a result of that, as sacrificial offerings on the altar of honest government. And Billie Sol Estes will apparently get whatever justice is coming to him from the courts.

What else may emerge from Congressional investigations of the Estes case is as yet uncertain. The House Government Operations subcommittee under Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., has stuck pretty closely to grain storage matters and hopes to have a report on that before adjournment.

Sen. John L. McClellan's committee, which is probing the whole range of Estes operations, may not conclude hearings before the end of September. Its report may not be ready until after the election. So no "Estes" law will pass this year.

SOCIAL SECURITY?

By Willis E. Stone

EDITOR'S NOTE: Willis E. Stone is author of the Proposed Liberty Amendment and Chairman, National Committee for Economic Freedom, Los Angeles, Calif.

Three interesting questions concerning our Social Security Administration were raised in a recent article by its Los Angeles manager: (1) How much money is in the reserve fund? (2) Are receipts paid out "payday to payday"? and (3) Has the fund been used for other purposes?

In answering these questions, he asserted that the program is "financially sound," and added that: (1) The "fund" has a balance of over $20 billion, (2) The "program is in close actuarial balance," and (3) The funds are "kept separate."

OPPOSITE APPROACH

Mr. Robert Myers, Chief Actuary of the Social Security Administration in Washington recently took off in an opposite direction. In answer to a question regarding the asserted "actuarial unfunded imbalance of $298 billion" in the Social Security Fund, he wrote as follows:

"I believe that the so-called $298 billion deficit that you refer to was really an incorrect description of a figure that I gave to Committee on Ways and Means. I was asked what would be the unfunded accrued liability of the system under the assumption, which I pointed out at the time is unrealistic and arbitary, that there would be no new entrants (generally at the younger ages) into the system in the future (despite the fact that in virtually all cases the law provides for compulsory coverage). The computation of this artificial, theoretical concept yields a figure that I stated to be about $320 billion, rather than the $298 billion that you quote."

Mr. Myers' letter continued as follows: "The concept of actuarial soundness as it applies to the Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance system differs considerably from this concept as it applies to private insurance although there are certain points of similarity, especially as concerns private pension plans. In a private insurance program, the insurance company or other administering institution must have sufficient funds on hand so that if operations are terminated the plan will be in a position to pay off all the accrued liabilities. This, however, is not a necessary basis for a national compulsory social insurance system. It can reasonably be presumed that under Government auspices such a system will continue indefinitely into the future. The test of financial soundness, then, is not a question of there being sufficient funds on hand to pay off all accrued liabilities."

MEANING

This is a statement of unpleasant financial facts:

1. Social Security has obligations $320 billion greater than its ability to pay. This is a separate and unpublicized debt about equal to our published national debt.

2. It represents the amount of "tax contributions" which have been paid in and spent.

3. There is no fund set aside for our "rainy day."

4. Future benefits depend on new and continuing compulsory payments collected under the guise of saving for the future.

5. The Social Security Administration considers it "unrealistic, arbitrary, artificial and theoretical" nonsense to operate the system in "close actuarial balance." According to this reasoning, federal bureaucracies should not have to meet the same ethical and legal requirements of "ability to pay" imposed upon private enterprise for public safety.

Dillard Stokes, Washington Corcespondent, in writing about Social Security in 1937, declared that "millions do not get what's promised them. . .Will you?"

SOLUTION

It would appear that the system should be divested of its legal immunities and transferred to private operation where the concept of "equal and just" laws will apply. Enforcement of the "equal and just" concept can be attained by applying the terms of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 23, and already approved by Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

"Sec. 4. . .Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and or gifts."

Write to me, in care of this newspaper, for full details on the LIBERTY AMENDMENT.

ENCOURAGE INDUSTRY

United States industries are up against world competition as never before. To expand and modernize they must have capital. To attract capital the investor must get a fair return on his money.

Taxing dividends twice, as our federal income tax does, weakens incentive which investors need to risk necessary growth capital.

In 1954, Congress granted some relief from double taxation by permiting shareowners to exclude the first $50 of dividends from taxable income and to take a 4 per cent tax credit on the remainder. Now it is proposed to repeal this small measure of relief.

Our competitors abroad enjoy a more enlightened policy on dividend taxation. England, Japan, West Germany and Canada, for example, have considerably lessened double taxation by liberal tax credit or other means.

We need to expand our economy to achieve full employment, defend our democratic way of life, and preserve our free enterprise system. Such an economy must have millions of people willing to invest money to provide industry with the tools it needs.

As an incentive booster at least the first $100 of dividend income should be excluded from personal income tax and the tax credit on the balance should be increased to at least 10 per cent.

The time to encourage the investor and the industrialist is now—not after foreign competition has licked the pants off us.

Bid For A Smile

A little girl of seven or eight years old stood one day before a closed gate. A gentleman passed slowly, the little girl turned and said to him:

Little Girl — Will you please open this gate for me?

Gentleman — Why, my child, couldn't you open the gate for yourself?

Little Girl — Because, the paint's not dry yet.

—O—

Then there's the playboy who kept calling his girl friend sugar and ended up lending her a lump sum.

Marjorie Frances Sayles Is Bride Of John Edwin Grist

Mrs. John Ewin Grist
. . . nee Marjorie Frances Sayles

ABILENE — Marjorie Frances Sayles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Welcome Sayles of 1118 Sayles Blvd., became the bride Monday evening of John Edwin Grist, son of Mrs. John Walter Grist of Canadian and the late Mr. Grist.

Family sentiment enriched the wedding for which the Rev. Joe David Ruffin was officiating clergyman at Central Presbyterian Church. Bill Grist of Canadian, brother of the bridegroom, was best man; John Robert Sayles, brother of the bride, was junior groomsman; children in the bridal party were cousins of the bride and her aunt, Mrs. Hugh B. Tandy of Moody, was a soloist.

Frank Carver of Canadian was also a soloist. Mrs. J. Gordon Weir was organist.

BRIDE

Mr. Sayles gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown a Murray Hamburger original fashioned of white bouquet taffeta. The bodice was molded, with long sleeves coming to points over the hands. Handrun Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls was at the extended neckline. The same lace topped her bridal crown banded with open design of pearls and crystals. The skirt of the gown was bell shaped in front; unpressed pleats gave added fullness to sides and back. The aisle - wide train extended from the waistline to cathedral length.

Her veil was of illusion. She carried white roses with stephanotis atop a white Bible belonging to Sharon Nugent of El Paso, a bridesmaid in the wedding. Her only jewelry was a diamond and pearl lavaliere, a gift from the bridegroom.

Martha Minter was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diltzie Louise Bland of Ozona, junior bridesmaid were Marilyn McDonald, June hunger of Ozona and Miss Nugent. They wore azalea pink satin sheath dresses with full length overskirts of American Beauty satin. The neckline of the sheaths came to a deep V in back. Long white kid gloves complemented brief sleeves. On their hair each wore a large satin rose, Miss Minter s American Beauty, the others azalea pink. They carried cascades of Briarcliff roses with ivy tendrils.

Rex Robert Bland was acolyte.

Steven Montgomery Bland was page, Marjorie Rebecca Bland flower girl and her twin brother, John William Bland, ring bearer. The flower girl's dress was a bouffant floor length dress of white nylon. She dropped rose petals from a white net basket and her brother carried the wedding rings on a heart shaped cushion of lace.

Groomsmen included Bill Nix, Harold Yarnold and Kenny Abraham; all of Canadian. Ushers were Ronnie Vance of Fort Worth and Bobby Newsom of Lubbock.

The bride's aunts and uncles, Mrs. Tandy, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bland Jr., of Ozona and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knight, joined Mr. and Mrs. Sayles in hosting the wedding reception at Abilene Woman's Club.

An imported white linen cutwork and lace cloth was on the bride's table where a five-branched silver candelabrum held white butterfly roses. Nosegays of gardenias were at the base. Tall white tapers in silver candelabra lighted silver appointments.

Foursome tables in the Great Hall were laid with white linen cloths. Pink pompons in bud vase arrangements were flanked by votive candles which with white candles in cathedral candlesticks lighted the Great Hall. Floor baskets of white gladioli and stock were added floral decor.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride was wearing a designer's suit of champagne wool. Two large pearl buttons fastened the cropped jacket which had notched collar and three quarter dolman sleeves. Beige kid gloves, brown lizard pumps and handbag and brown mink halo hat completed her travel ensemble. She wore a corsage of white butterfly roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School and has attended Texas Technological College where she will be a junior during the coming year. Her major is elementary education. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority. In her freshman year she was chosen one of the Top 50 La Ventana Beauties. She made her debut at the Abilene Cotillion Club's 1961 Christmas Ball.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Canadian High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society.

He was graduated Aug. 25 from Texas Technological College where he received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree with major in industrial management. At Army ROTC commissioning exercises conducted Saturday morning he received his commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve Corps and was named a Distinguished Military Graduate. He was president of his class during his junior and senior years and received the All-College Recognition for Leadership award. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity and belonged to Scabbard and Blade, Saddle Tramps and Interfraternity Council.

Until reporting to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, May 13, 1963, to begin two years military service he will be in Management Training at Sears, Lubbock.

After Sept. 10, the couple will be at home at 2224 9th St., Lubbock.

Abilene Country Club was scene of the rehearsal dinner Sunday evening. Hosts were cousins of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Sayles and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sayles.

The party decor emphasized colors chosen for the wedding. Places were marked for approximately 40 guests at tables covered with azalea pink cloths. White cherubs held carnations in shades of azalea pink and American Beauty.

A skirted taffeta cloth was on the punch table where a bisque cherub supported a green Venetian Glass bowl filled with carnations.

New Junior Service League Of Pampa Formed From Parent Education Club

Since adjournment at its Spring meeting, the Parent Education Club has streamlined its format and adopted a new name. Henceforth, it will be known as the Junior Service League of Pampa.

The group has been, primarily, a study group but has always been interested in civic work. Since 1956 it has been especially interested in the exceptional children's program in Pampa. But in the future, it will not be limited to this particular project.

The purpose of the new organization will be to broaden its scope of service; there will be no formal study club programs and it will no longer be a member of the Federated Clubs. It is planned to broaden the interest among members in the educational, cultural and civic conditions of the community.

The broadened scope of the League will also allow former members, who are interested in the projects, to rejoin the club as active members.

Officers are Mmes. Jack Osborne, president; E. R. Sidwell, vice president; A. J. Carubbi, secretary and Buz Tarpley, treasurer.

The first activity of the newly-organized League will be a formal Charity Ball on October 4 in the Pampa Country Club with a "name" orchestra playing for dancing. There will be a limited number of tickets available.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be given to the Exceptional Children's classrooms in Sam Houston and Pampa Junior High School.

The Parent Education Club was formed as a study group in the American Association of University Women in July 1940 and became federated in 1941.

Throughout the years it has been interested in charitable projects that were of benefit to the youth and the community.

About That BCD 'Divorce'

It seems to us there should not be too much quarrel with the City Commission for its proposal to "divorce" the tax supported Board of City Development from the Chamber of Commerce.

If past differences are forgotten and everyone puts his shoulder to the wheel, the result should be an even stronger Chamber of Commerce.

We do not believe the Chamber of Commerce should be supported by compulsory tax dollars paid by every property owner in Pampa. The Chamber of Commerce should be supported by those who gain most from it — the business and professional people. And we believe they are perfectly willing, for the most part, to give that support.

It has been the practice in Pampa since 1928 for the Chamber of Commerce to lean upon the taxpayers for a portion of its financial support.

The BCD was born in a city ordinance passed Oct. 15, 1928. Since that time the BCD and the Chamber of Commerce have functioned as one body.

That original ordinance set forth in Sec. 6 that "the directors of the Board of City Development shall have general supervision over all matters pertaining to the work of the usual Board of City Development, Chamber of Commerce or Commercial Club, such as the legitimate fostering, encouragement and development of the agricultural, stock, industrial, jobbing, distribution and wholesale and retail commercial resources, the securing of desirable immigration, encouraging social and commercial intercourse, improving transportation facilities, desirable publicity, more and better highways, and in furthering the advancement of existing agriculture, stock, industrial, manufacturing, jobbing, distribution and wholesale and retail interests, city planning, city charity, and any other matter or matters that have for their purpose the upbuilding and growth of Pampa or benefit of its citizens."

Sec. 7 of the ordinance provides that the expense for maintenance of the BCD should come out of the city's general fund with a sum not to exceed two mills on the one dollar valuation of taxable property to be paid each year.

Pampa taxpayers have been paying this portion of the tab for some 34 years. This fund has allowed chamber members—chiefly business and professional people—to ease along with only a minimum of financial contributions to the Chamber of Commerce.

The present City Commission believes that if city tax money is used to assist the Chamber of Commerce, it should be channeled directly into the "legal studying of its (the city's) industrial climate, fostering encouragement and development of the city of Pampa to make it more useful and efficient for its industry and its economy, both present and for any industries, businesses and trade, that may or will be attracted to Pampa and locate in Pampa or in the trade territory of Pampa in the future, to generally study and make recommendations to the City Commission of the City of Pampa of the things that may be done by the City toward its proper planning for growth and expansion."

The City Commission proposes that the BCD make regular monthly reports of expenditures of the tax money, these reports to be made in detail describing the various services performed and the benefits derived by the BCD."

The principal change from the present situation would be that the BCD would operate as any other tax-supported city department. It would be responsible to the City Commission and the City Manager. Likewise, the chief function of the BCD would be to work on the industrial and business development of Pampa.

There is not a single member of the City Commission who does not go along with the idea that the Pampa Chamber of Commerce should be supported and supported loyally.

That loyal support includes an increase in financial contributions from its members.

The City Commission is not proposing to cut off its financial help to the Chamber of Commerce. It merely is asking that the BCD, if it is to be financed by the taxpayers, become an integral part of the city's operations and function the same as any other city department.

Actually, the Chamber of Commerce should not have to use the tax supported BCD as a financial crutch at all. We would hate to think that Pampa's progressive business and professional people are not capable of full financial support for an up and doing Chamber of Commerce.

We have to go along with City Commissioner Will Graham when he says that "the city should not direct or subsidize the Chamber of Commerce and that the BCD should be an integral part of City Government, and cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce."

Pampa Joins Fight On Polio

Announcement that Pampa will join with Amarillo, Borger and other towns throughout the Panhandle in a mass polio vaccination program starting on October 7 is welcome news.

Commendation goes out to the Top O' Texas Medical Society and the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce for their joint sponsorship locally.

This is a movement the entire community should participate in wholeheartedly — and by that we mean everyone in Pampa and the surrounding area should avail themselves of the opportunity for immunization against polio.

The vaccine to be given will be the Sabin oral vaccine with Type One scheduled to be given on the October 7 date. To complete the immunization three separate vaccines should be taken so plans have been made to give the shots on three separate Sundays six weeks apart.

You may not be asked to help in the forthcoming vaccine program, but you should accept the responsibility of seeing to it that every member of your family is immunized.

Even if you don't think the polio virus will be inconsiderate enough to attack you or your children, you may be a carrier and transmit it to others. Anyone can be a polio version of Typhoid Mary—the person who does not suffer from a disease but who is an active carrier.

The Sabin vaccine does not call for a vaccination or shot. Two drops of liquid are placed on a cube of sugar. You eat the sugar and the immunization process has begun. Three doses of the vaccine, given a few weeks apart, provide immunity against the three known strains of the disease and prevent the immunized person from becoming a carrier.

The Medical Society is underwriting the cost of the program, but you will be given the opportunity to make a donation. However, nobody will be turned away for the lack of a donation. Those who can't afford to contribute will get the vaccine free.

It's not enough to immunize yourself. Get your friends, neighbors, employes and fellow club members to take the vaccine. It's good citizenship to take part in this voluntary program of community wide immunization against polio.

No goverment aid and no government compulsion is involved. You don't have to; and if you don't want to help pay for it you won't be required to. But be a good citizen and join the milions who will enjoy immunity from a great crippler.

TRUTH-FORUM

With Ed Delaney

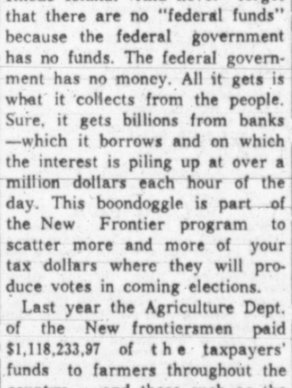
For a financially secure future, get back to the farm. Even though you know nothing about farming, get some acres of land and notify Agriculture Sec. Freeman in Washington that you propose growing wheat, corn, cotton or maybe sun flowers and an emissary of the Dept. of Agriculture will probably communicate with you and make an interesting proposal. He will arrange to pay you up to $50 per acre not to do any work, not to grow anything. This Kennedy - Freeman farm program is the greatest boon to chiselers, drones and professional panhandlers since the days when Harry Hopkins was dispensing the taxpayers' dollars hither and thither to keep the New Deal dynasty in power.

Ostensibly one is supposed to be a "farmer" to qualify for this gravy train, but that is a mere formality. Last year the city of St. Louis, qualified as a "farmer" under the Kennedy - Freeman gravy train program and got $12,203.91. The Farmers Investment Co., Tucson, Ariz., also was rated as a farmer and collected $94,092. Billie Sol Estes, the Texas wonder boy who seemed to know the right ones in politics, got $22,875 from the Kennedy - Freeman till last year, which is more than was received by the 35,000 farmers in Maine, New Hamphsire and Rhode Island. The Louisiana State Penitentiary received a niggardly $6,818 of the taxpayers' remittance to the federal treasury. Under the Kennedy - Freeman gravy train program, as recommended to Congress this year, these gifts must be accepted by the "farmers" who are obligated to continue their "no growing" labors under threat of fines or being incarcerated in a penitentiary. Sen. John Williams of Del., raised the question of just how Sec. Freeman would put a penitentiary in a penitentiary if the directors of that state institution decided to grow tobacco, corn, wheat or barley on their "farm" instead of taking the hand - out not to grow anything.

The Ford Motor Co., of Calif., the Reynolds Metals Co., and the California Packing Co., all listed on the New York stock exchange were qualified as "farmers" under last year's Kennedy - Freeman gift program. They got more of your tax dollars from the U.S. treasury than was paid to all the 52,000 farmers in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. And never forget that there are no "federal funds" because the federal government has no funds. The federal government has no money. All it gets is what it collects from the people. Sure, it gets billions from banks —which it borrows and on which the interest is piling up at over a million dollars each hour of the day. This boondoggle is part of the New Frontier program to scatter more and more of your tax dollars where they will produce votes in coming elections.

Last year the Agriculture Dept. of the New frontiersmen paid $1,118,233,97 of the taxpayers' funds to farmers throughout the country — and those such as the Louisiana State Penitentiary that qualified as a "farmer", for taking acreage out of production. At the same time the Kennedy-Freeman team leased 4,881,000 acres of cropland to farmers at an average of less than $3 per acre — to produce crops. Also the Bureau of Reclamation paid out millions of dollars to bring an additional 113,700 acres into production. This reclamation spending cost the taxpayers anywhere from $159 per acre up to $1,227 per acre.

It is not a case of the right hand not knowing what the left hand is doing. They know perfectly well what they are doing. It is scattering your tax dollars far and wide for the purpose of holding onto states where the voters are expected to support the New Frontier and to extend that "frontier" into enemy territory.



That most-American word "Yankee" became a part of our language thanks to the influence of the Dutch of New Amsterdam and the Hudson Valley. It is a nickname which actually means "John Cheese." The Dutch also furnished such basic Americanisms as: Santa Claus, bakery, cookie, boss.

Long felt want — maybe: A group of British experts have developed a new alphabet which it hopes will help children to read in half the normal time now required. That's the key point — it eliminates the confusion caused by the standard alphabet in words like "rough" and "puff."

No 'Estes' Law Seen This Year

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Most significant fact about the new farm legislation just approved by the Senate is that it contains not one section which was in any way influenced by Billie So. Estes case investigations, disclosures and scandals.

The same thing is true of the farm bill passed earlier by the House. Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., did get an amendment on the original House farm bill which would have provided penalties for offering gifts to influence the administration of farm programs.

But this bill was recommitted by a five-vote majority in the House. In the second farm bill which came before the House, the Bass proposal was killed on a day when the congressmen voted on the floor to drop all amendments to the main provisions.

To repeat, therefore, 1962 farm legislation as it stands today does nothing to correct any of the wrongs Billie Sol Estes may have been guilty of.

When the Estes case first broke, there was a lot of big talk that this was the beginning of the end for farm controls by government. At last the evils of acreage allotments, marketing quotas, subsidies and grain storage payments had been exposed. All farm programs would soon be ended and at last American agriculture would be free. So it was said.

It now appears that the greatest irregularity in the Billie Sol Estes operations under government farm programs was in his juggling of cotton allotment. He found loopholes in the government regulations and he made millions through them.

But the new farm legislation as passed by both Senate and House doesn't even mention the word "cotton."

Several cotton bills have been introduced in this session, to change the present program. But indications are now that none of them will be acted on this year. So the old acreage allotments and marketing controls will remain in force for next year, unless the Department of Agriculture can change its own regulations.

What Senate and House actions show, however, is that Congress is by no means ready to junk the whole price support system with rigid controls on production.

It is still too early to say what is going to be in the final farm legislation emerging from conferences between Senate and House Agriculture Committee members. They must work out a compromise between the two widely differing measures.

It is now admitted by Department of Agriculture officials that administration of existing farm programs by committees of farmers is too complex. The wonder is that the system had not broken down long before the Billie Sol Estes case ever came along.

Recognizing this weakness, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has had a 10-man committee working on it. The group includes former secretaries Claude Wickard and Charles F. Brannan. Dr. Joseph Hadja of Kansas State is heading the staff. It hopes to submit a report by the end of September on how the committee system and regulations can be simplified.

In this connection, it is recalled that nearly every Democratic and Republican party platform has for years called for "a farm program run by farmers" at the grass roots level and not by the bureaucrats in Washington.

It sounds wonderful in a political speech in the farm belts. But the system which Billie Sol Estes was able to corrupt to his own great profit was "a farm program run by farmers."

The trouble was that the bureaucrats in Washington didn't police the system hard enough. An attempt is being made to correct that by better inspection and auditing methods. A few official heads are rolling as a result of that, as sacrificial offerings on the altar of honest government. And Billie Sol Estes will apparently get whatever justice is coming to him from the courts.

What else may emerge from Congressional investigations of the Estes case is as yet uncertain. The House Government Operations subcommittee under Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., has stuck pretty closely to grain storage matters and hopes to have a report on that before adjournment.

Sen. John L. McClellan's committee, which is probing the whole range of Estes operations, may not conclude hearings before the end of September. Its report may not be ready until after the election. So no "Estes" law will pass this year.

SOCIAL SECURITY?

By Willis E. Stone

EDITOR'S NOTE: Willis E. Stone is author of the Proposed Liberty Amendment and Chairman, National Committee for Economic Freedom, Los Angeles, Calif.

Three interesting questions concerning our Social Security Administration were raised in a recent article by its Los Angeles manager: (1) How much money is in the reserve fund? (2) Are receipts paid out "payday to payday"? and (3) Has the fund been used for other purposes?

In answering these questions, he asserted that the program is "financially sound," and added that: (1) The "fund" has a balance of over $20 billion, (2) The "program is in close actuarial balance," and (3) The funds are "kept separate."

OPPOSITE APPROACH

Mr. Robert Myers, Chief Actuary of the Social Security Administration in Washington recently took off in an opposite direction. In answer to a question regarding the asserted "actuarial unfunded imbalance of $298 billion" in the Social Security Fund, he wrote as follows:

"I believe that the so-called $298 billion deficit that you refer to was really an incorrect description of a figure that I gave to Committee on Ways and Means. I was asked what would be the unfunded accrued liability of the system under the assumption, which I pointed out at the time is unrealistic and arbitary, that there would be no new entrants (generally at the younger ages) into the system in the future (despite the fact that in virtually all cases the law provides for compulsory coverage). The computation of this artificial, theoretical concept yields a figure that I stated to be about $320 billion, rather than the $298 billion that you quote."

Mr. Myers' letter continued as follows: "The concept of actuarial soundness as it applies to the Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance system differs considerably from this concept as it applies to private insurance although there are certain points of similarity, especially as concerns private pension plans. In a private insurance program, the insurance company or other administering institution must have sufficient funds on hand so that if operations are terminated the plan will be in a position to pay off all the accrued liabilities. This, however, is not a necessary basis for a national compulsory social insurance system. It can reasonably be presumed that under Government auspices such a system will continue indefinitely into the future. The test of financial soundness, then, is not a question of there being sufficient funds on hand to pay off all accrued liabilities."

MEANING

This is a statement of unpleasant financial facts:

1. Social Security has obligations $320 billion greater than its ability to pay. This is a separate and unpublicized debt about equal to our published national debt.

2. It represents the amount of "tax contributions" which have been paid in and spent.

3. There is no fund set aside for our "rainy day."

4. Future benefits depend on new and continuing compulsory payments collected under the guise of saving for the future.

5. The Social Security Administration considers it "unrealistic, arbitrary, artificial and theoretical" nonsense to operate the system in "close actuarial balance." According to this reasoning, federal bureaucracies should not have to meet the same ethical and legal requirements of "ability to pay" imposed upon private enterprise for public safety.

Dillard Stokes, Washington Correspondent, in writing about Social Security in 1937, declared that "millions do not get what's promised them. . .Will you?"

SOLUTION

It would appear that the system should be divested of its legal immunities and transferred to private operation where the concept of "equal and just" laws will apply. Enforcement of the "equal and just" concept can be attained by applying the terms of the LIBERTY AMENDMENT pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 13, and already approved by Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial; financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

"Sec. 4. . .Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and or gifts."

Write to me, in care of this newspaper, for full details on the LIBERTY AMENDMENT.

ENCOURAGE INDUSTRY

United States industries are up against world competition as never before. To expand and modernize they must have capital. To attract capital the investor must get a fair return on his money.

Taxing dividends twice, as our federal income tax does, weakens incentive which investors need to risk necessary growth capital.

In 1954, Congress granted some relief from double taxation by permiting shareowners to exclude the first $50 of dividends from taxable income and to take a 4 per cent tax credit on the remainder. Now it is proposed to repeal this small measure of relief.

Our competitors abroad enjoy a more enlightened policy on dividend taxation. England, Japan, West Germany and Canada, for example, have considerably lessened double taxation by liberal tax credit or other means.

We need to expand our economy to achieve full employment, defend our democratic way of life, and preserve our free enterprise system. Such an economy must have millions of people willing to invest money to provide industry with the tools it needs.

As an incentive booster at least the first $100 of dividend income should be excluded from personal income tax and the tax credit on the balance should be increased to at least 10 per cent.

The time to encourage the investor and the industrialist is now—not after foreign competition has licked the pants off us.

Bid For A Smile

A little girl of seven or eight years old stood one day before a closed gate. A gentleman passed slowly, the little girl turned and said to him:

Little Girl — Will you please open this gate for me?

Gentleman — Why, my child, couldn't you open the gate for yourself?

Little Girl — Because, the paint's not dry yet.

—O—

Then there's the playboy who kept calling his girl friend sugar and ended up lending her a lump sum.

Bray, Continental Oil Company, Denver.

Opening the one day meeting will be NGPA Director J. B. Taylor, Vice President of Signal Oil & Gas Company, Los Angeles, who will share principal address honors with Charles F. Hood, Public Affairs Consultant to the President, American Oil Company, Chicago. The title of Mr. Hood's address will be "It Pays to Dream."

Technical papers to be heard on the morning session will include: "Application of Flameless Infra-Red Heaters in Gas Measurement Service", by Fred Wehrle, Colorado Interstate Gas Co., Colorado Springs, Colo.; "High Speed VS Low Speed Compressor Engines" by Heath Poole, El Paso Natural Gas Co., El Paso, Texas; and "Functional Coatings for the Petroleum Industry" by Tom S. McCurry, Empire Coating and Chemical Co., Denver.

Also on the morning technical session is a discussion of LP-Gas specifications and their relation to producers by Lance F. Ellis, Tuloma Gas Products Company, Tulsa.

Following Hood's address, which opens the afternoon session, the audience of about 125 gas processors will participate in a panel discussion on "Plant Modernization and Automation in Today's Competitive Industry". Panel members include R. K. Bray, Continental Oil Company, Denver; Jack Tiehen, Gas Processors, Inc., Denver; W. C. Blackburn, Continental Oil Company, Casper; and representatives from Stearns - Roger Manufacturing Company, Denver.

Closing the day - long program will be the traditional "Cooling Tower" of the Natural Gas Processors Suppliers Association, followd by an evening banquet and entertainment. Ralph Foster, Ingersoll - Rand Company, Casper, will head the suppliers' function and C. E. Ptiley, Mountain Fuel Supply Company, Salt Lake City, will be the toastmaster for the banquet.

General Chairman for the meeting is R. K. Bray, Continental Oil Company, Denver. He will be assisted by session chairmen Charles Shinn, Colorado Interstate Gas Co., Colorado Springs, and Bill Westhoff, Shell Oil Company, Denver.

Texas Oil, Gas Facts Published

DALLAS — In addition to the production of almost a billion barrels of crude oil a year, Texas' 200,000 - plus wells produce thousands of statistics, which Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association has distilled to "62 Facts About Texas Oil & Gas."

Vital statistics about the state's oil and gas industry, published in the free leaflet, include these:

Texas has 18.6 billion barrels of oil reserves — 14.8 billion in crude oil; 3.8 billion from natural gas liquids (47.9 per cent of U.S.).

Texas has 119 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves (44.8 per cent of U.S.).

Texas operators spent $751 million drilling in 1961; $205 million lost to dry holes.

Texas petroleum industry's 1961 tax payments to state government were $213 million.

Last year Texas produced 35.8 per cent of U.S. oil — total of 938,017,000 barrels.

Texas receives more than a third of a billion dollars a year for gas sold to other states.

Texas uses more natural gas than any other state; more than rest of world outside U.S.

Texas refineries processed 799 million barrels of crude oil in 1961, an amount equal to 85 per cent of state crude production.

During 1961, 6.1 trillion cubic feet of Texas gas we marketed.

Texas Permanent School Fund in 1961 received $32,326,989 from petroleum industry for lease rentals, bonuses, royalty payments; total since 1932, $393,049,120.

More than 2,000 miles of pipelines have been constructed in coastal area to carry fuel and products in chemical industry.

Oil is produced in 196 Texas counties.

Radio and Television

Some 9,750 radio stations were in operation or under construction throughout the world in October of 1961, which was a gain of about 390 in 12 months. It was estimated that 351,314,000 radio and 78,500,000 televisions receivers were in use in October of that year, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Two of every 10 U.S. youths do not reach the senior year in high school and one other fails to graduate on becoming a senior.

Drilling Practices Course Scheduled For October 15th

M. L. (Mike) Powers of the University of Oklahoma Business and Industrial Services Division, has announced the scheduling of an "Advanced Drilling Practices Course for Engineers" starting Oct. 15.

The program is to be held in the new Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education located on the South Campus of the University at Norman, Okla.

The purpose of the course is to provide the engineers engaged in drilling operations with a sound knowledge of basic engineering functions encountered in drilling and the application of theories to drilling operations, with the ultimate object to reduce well drilling costs.

As the material to be presented is fundamental, it will materially benefit both the experienced and the unexperienced engineers, Powers feels. The course covers every variable affecting the rate of penetration in drilling in a condensed and concise manner. The broad headings for the course material include: the selection and control of drilling fluids; the factors affecting the rate of penetration; a complete study of hydraulics including air and gas; a discussion of optimum weight and rotary speed; bit selection for minimum cost operations.

An engineering degree or education and experience equivalent is required for admission to the course. Two hours graduate credit may be received by the student provided he completes all of the work assignments and passes all of the required examinations. The instructors for the course are Professors Frank W. Cole, Arthur McCray (Authors of the AAODC sponsored text book "Oil Well Drilling Technology"), Preston Moore, and Charles E. Porterfield.

This will be a two - weeks program starting Oct. 15 and continuing through Oct. 26. Further information concerning the program may be obtained through the Dallas office of the AAODC or from Mike Powers at the University of Oklahoma.

Gas Course Set In Shamrock Sept. 13

The Sixth Annual East Panhandle Gas Course will get underway at 8 a.m. Sept. 13 in the American Legion Building in Shamrock.

S. C. Walker will give the first talk, on "Dry Flow Meters," at 9 a.m. Walker is with American Meter Co.

Following a coffee break, what will possibly be one of the most interesting portions of the program will be conducted. . .a panel discussion on salt water disposal. N. E. Turnbo of Kewanee Oil Co. will be panel moderator and members of the panel will be Joe McArthur of Pan American Petroleum, Jim Hamilton of J. M. Huber Corp., Don Hester of Texaco and Harry Williams of Cities Service Oil Co.

Ever wonder which industry's employes take home the largest weekly paycheck? As of August 1961, the highest weekly wages were earned by the building construction workers. Their weekly rate averaged $128.06. This rate was closely followed by the wages of workers in other industries: bituminous coal and mining, products of coal and petroleum and iron and steel.

Executive Says Engineers' Ability Is Now Better Than Predecessors'

Industry should not be concerned about the impending shortage of engineers, because present engineering graduates have the ability and equipment to accomplish considerably more work than did their predecessors.

This is the theme of a paper to be presented at the 1962 Fall Meeting of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME, Oct. 7-10, in Los Angeles. The speaker will be Douglas Ragland, engineering manager for Humble Oil & Refining Co., Houston.

Ragland will state: "The current decline in engineering enrollments is a result to be expected from the sharp upgrading in quality of engineering education witnessed during the past decade. Far-reaching developments in engineering applications and understanding of mathematics, high - speed computing, and the physical sciences have resulted in dramatic increases in engineering efficiency."

"Many engineering graduates of today are capable of doing engineering jobs singlehandedly which, in former years, would have required dozens of engineers of lesser qualifications if, indeed, the work could have been undertaken at all."

Ragland will state that industry and educators must answer the call for rapid changes in educational patterns so as to realize full potential from the newer engineering technology. He advocates a four - year degree in pre - engineering to be followed by professional engineering training at the graduate level and leading to the Master of Engineering degree as the first engineering degree for all engineers.

God hath not promised
Skies alway blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way,
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,

Mrs. Kelley Retires

By WANDA HUFF
Pampa News Staff Writer

Mrs. J. H. Kelley, 1602 Christine, business manager for the Kelley & Laycock Clinic for 12 years, retired Saturday.

She was born in Snyder and moved to Clarendon with her parents when she was 8. She met J. H. Kelley while they were both studying music in Clarendon College. They were married in the parlor at the College in 1904.

"About two and half years after we were married, Dr. J. H. definitely decided he wahted to be a doctor and we moved to Dallas for him to attend the Southwestern Medical School. He studied his last two years in the medical school at the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky.," Mrs. Kelley said.

In 1910, they moved to Miami and Dr. J. H. started his practice. Mrs. Kelley was Dr. J. H.'s Girl "Friday." She went with him on his calls and took care of the "front office." For 19 years they worked together, caring for the sick in and near Miami.

"We moved to Pampa in 1929, because he did a lot of surgery and wanted to work near a hospital. He first went in with Dr. Walter Purviance and Dr. Archie Cole," she said.

Their sons, Frank, Harry and Bill, were born in Dallas, Clarendo nand Miami respectively. In 1938, Dr. Frank graduated from Baylor Medical School and came to Pampa to practice medicine with his father.

They set up the Drs. Kelley and

'Operation Motorcide' Underway

In an intensive effort to reduce traffic deaths, injuries and property damage over the Labor Day Holiday, the Department of Public Safety will conduct "Operation Motorcide" from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, September 1 through 11:59 p.m. Monday, September 3, Major Harry Hutchison, Cammander of the Department of Public Safety, Region No. 5, has announced.

"Operation Motorcide" — an all out traffic safety campaign which calls for constant patrolling of Texas highways by officers of the Highway Patrol, Motor Vehicle Inspection, License and Weight and Safety Education Services — is geared to eliminate the "Terrible Three," and as many more accidents as possible of a predicted total of 30 highway deaths for the state during the Labor Day week end.

The Department of Public Safety predicted the 30 death total after a careful study of traffic accident statistics, including the figures from the last eleven Labor Day week ends which have accounted for 338 lives lost for an average of 30.7 persons per year. The largest holiday toll since World War II was in 1951 when 46 persons were killed in 33 accidents. The lowest figures for any year was last year when 2 persons were killed in 19 accidents. According to the Regional Commander, figures proved that most fatal accidents are caused by traffic law violations.

In mid-August, big Sikorsky helicopters with U. S. Marines at the controls and some 4,000 South Vietnamese troops aboard lifted from fields below Saigon for the biggest attempt yet to clear Communist Vietcong from South Vietnam's southern delta.

This week impressive early successes were being reported, including the severe mauling of two Vietcong battalions.

The campaign also was unearthing impressive new evidence of the depth and frustrations in this political and military war to which the United States has committed itself.

The French could not control this area when they held Indo-China, and it never has been under the control of the present government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Waist-High Mud

When, in the current operation, the soldiers dropped from the helicopters into the waist-high mud and water of the canals and paddies, they moved into tiny villages whose huts displayed prominently garlanded photos of North Vietnam's Communist President Ho Chi Minh.

As in the past, most of the Vietcong guerillas had faded away before the sound of the approaching choppers, but some were caught and killed in the muddy waters of the paddies.

Then, the villages "cleared", the regular South Vietnamese troops withdrew. Militarily, the operation was a success, politically a question mark.

The frustrations are many in this dirty little war in which some 7,000 American "advisers" risk their lives and also sometimes die.

Frank Apraisal

Early this summer, in a well guarded military compound near the outskirts of Saigon, this correspondent talked to a Vietnamese officer who was perhaps more frank than wise for his own good.

To use his name now simply would expose him to reprisal. He is an officer in South Vietnam's psychological warfare section and this is the gist of what he had to say:

The government has made mistakes. It has had poor administrators and village chiefs often have not acted in the interests of the people.

The Vietcong gained fame and admiration as resistance fighters against the French. Now they have the same admiration as resistance fighters against the Saigon government and the Americans who are presented as invaders.

Twenty-five thousand hard-core Vietcong have perhaps one million supporters among the people who provide supplies, carry messages and sometimes fight.

AMARILLO Tex. — Nuclear physicist Dr. Edward Teller, commenting on a report that China may set off a nuclear device within a year:

"The spread of nuclear weapons is unavoidable. It won't make a serious nuclear power of China. But it will increase the nuisance power of China, which is already high enough."

ALBANY, Ga.—Integration leader Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., announcing a day of demonstrations which may land some of its participants in jail:

"After the morning meal, there may not be so many left for the dinner hour. After the dinner hour there may not be many left for the supper hour and after the supper hour there may not be any left at all."

WASHINGTON — A spokesman for Bethlehem Steel Co., one of four steel firms which announced they would ignore a Senate subcommittee's subpoenas:

"Secrecy of data as to the cost of individual products is an essential element of our free enterprise system, and it is vital to the protection of American steel companies in their competition with foreign producers."

WASHINGTON—Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, 79, in a letter to President Kennedy explaining why he is leaving the bench:

"To retain my seat on the basis of a diminished work schedule would not comport with my own philosophy or with the demands of the business of the court. I am thus left with no choice but to regard my period of active service on the court as having run its course."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., said Congress was proposing to use "a sledge-hammer, a giant cannon, to kill a gnat."

He was referring to the proposed constitutional amendment, now going to the state legislatures for approval, to outlaw poll taxes as a qualification for voting for President and members of Congress.

Poll taxes still are collected in only five states—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia. The anti-poll tax amendment was advertised as a civil rights measure to encourage Negro voting.

Like others who took part in House and Senate debate on the amendment, Lindsay quoted from the 1961 report of the Civil Rights Commission, which said:

"... with the possible exception of the deterrent effect of the poll tax—which does not appear generally discriminatory upon the basis of race or color—Negroes now appear to encounter no significant racially motivated impediments to voting in four of the 12 Southern states: Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia."

The inference was drawn that Congress was firing with a constitutional amendment at just two Southern states, Alabama and Mississippi. The commission said there was still discrimination against Negro voters in those states.

House action came under procedure which permitted only 40 minutes of debate. Under such procedure, said Lindsay, Democratic leaders "casually and cynically tinker with the U.S. Constitution, for political reasons, to get off the hook on civil rights."

Some Southern opponents of the amendment agreed with Lindsay's analysis. But they disagreed with his remedy. He said Congress could outlaw poll taxes by mere passage of a law.

On five occasions in the past two decades, the House has approved bills to kill poll taxes by law, only to see the legislation die in the Senate. Southerners always argued that such legislation was an unconstitutional interference with state election laws. Many but not all of them also objected to the proposed constitutional amendment. But they never really put their hearts into a filibuster to stop it.

The Senate approved the constitutional amendment approach this year for the second time. This time the House bought it. Thirty-eight state legislatures now must approve it before it can become the 24th Amendment.

Auto Inspection Stickers New For This Year

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a new-type motor vehicle inspection sticker is now available for the new inspection year beginning September 1.

"The only thing new about the inspection this year is the sticker itself," he said. "This new sticker is a dry mount decal which we believe will adhere regardless of weather conditions and one which has been used very successfully in other states."

More than five million vehicles registered in the state are required by law to be inspected at one of the 5,000 official inspection stations between this date and April 16, 1963. Owners of vehicles not displaying the current inspection sticker after that date will be in violation of the law.

Garrison urged motorists to get their vehicles inspected as early as possible, and pointed out:

"With hard summer driving coming to an end, fall is an excellent time to have vehicles safety checked in preparation for the winter months."

In announcing the new inspection period, the public safety director said the Vehicle Inspection Program in Texas has proved itself to be a valuable tool in reducing accidents on Texas streets and highways.
