

On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

It is just a month now until the Golden Jubilee.

You know we have told you that we are shooting for 50 pages in the special Golden Jubilee edition. That is our goal and should be the goal of every business in town for their home paper to come out with a page for each year the town has been in existence.

We are getting along fine on the edition—but time is fast running out on us. Right now we have run into a bottleneck that is holding us up. The bottleneck is that a number of business concerns are holding back on giving us their advertising copy. We need to break that bottleneck as of now.

As we have told you, our equipment and help is limited and it is a monumental task for us to publish this size paper without plenty of time in which to do it.

I feel like every business in town will want an ad in this special paper. It will be worth a lot to the town as a whole and each individual business. I feel sure that no business will want to be left out of it.

We plan to get the edition in the mail on Monday, September 17. In order to do that we must have all advertising copy in not later than Friday, August 31. We are working just as fast as we can to sell every business about an ad, but in case we have not seen you we would appreciate your coming to the office to talk to us about it.

The special edition that will be mailed on Monday, Sept. 17, will be the only paper published for that week.

Tax Relief Given Farmers Of Area

Drought stricken farmers have been provided income tax relief on the sale of livestock by Public Law 629 approved June 29, 1956. When a farmer has to sell his livestock, in excess of the number that he usually sells in his ordinary business, due to a drought, he can consider the sale as an involuntary conversion. The tax relief provisions relating to involuntary conversions have in the past applied to such things as the burning of your house, insurance by flood, etc., on which insurance is collected. No tax is due on the sale of property due to an involuntary conversion if the property is replaced with like kind within a specified period, generally before the end of the following year.

Mr. A. E. Fogle, Jr., Administrative Officer of the Abilene office stated that farmers who are having to sell livestock due to drought conditions will qualify. He pointed out that the Farmers Tax Guide for 1955, Internal Revenue Service Publication 225, sets out the procedures the farmers must follow in Chapter 13. Publication 225 is available at Internal Revenue Service offices and at county agents' offices. Thousands of farmers used this publication in preparing their 1955 tax returns.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallmark visited Mrs. Henry Beights and Tiny in Abilene Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Butler accompanied them and visited her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin.

A. L. McCarley of Andrews spent Thursday and Friday with his sister, Mrs. S. H. Hart.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Bowlin Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dillard and children of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford and children of Coahoma visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lankford, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall are visiting their son-in-law and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Milsap, in Arlington this week.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schroeder during the weekend were his mother, Mrs. A. J. Schroeder, and sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schweers, Beverly and Gary, of Hondo, Texas.

Mrs. Ocie Vest and daughters Linda and Oene, and Mrs. Walter Davenport, of Hermleigh visited in the Alva Vest home Saturday.

Mrs. C. W. McAnally and Pete left Sunday for Odessa, where they are visiting relatives this week.

Were You Here?

Whether you were here in the early history of Loraine or not, you are sure to be interested in some of the things that will take place during Loraine's Golden Jubilee September 21-22. A program is being worked out that will be both entertaining and informative.

There's one thing you will not want to miss and that is the parade that opens the two-day celebration at 2:30 Friday afternoon of September 21. This parade promises to be well worth seeing.

Then there will be the Jubilee Show on Friday night that will be very entertaining. This show will include a style show of the costumes worn by the ladies of the community and should be interesting and enlightening.

Saturday morning the old timers will get together at 10 o'clock and hear Congressman George Mahon, himself an old timer of this community, speak.

At noon there will be a barbecue for old timers—and by the way, if you want to get in on the barbecue you had better register either with J. W. King or Mrs. Buce Johnson. If you do not register, you'll probably have to buy your barbecue.

What will take place in the afternoon of Saturday has not been completely worked out but there will be something doing.

The two-day celebration will end with a big square dance on Saturday night.

Everybody is looking forward to the Golden Jubilee.

One thing that will stand out will be the big Golden Jubilee special edition to come off the press a few days before the celebration opens. And by the way, if you haven't reserved a copy you had better do so right away as the supply is rapidly dwindling away.

June Alsbrook Graduate Of Nursing School

Miss June Ann Alsbrook of 5307 1/2 Tremont, Dallas, was a member of the 1956 graduating class of Parkland Memorial Hospital School of Nursing who were presented diplomas at Oak Lawn Methodist Church at 8:00 p. m. Friday, August 10, 1956.

Dr. Harold Craslineck, a member of the faculty of the University of Texas, Southwestern Medical School, gave the commencement address. Mr. Edw. R. Maher, Chairman of the Board of Managers of Dallas County Hospital District, presented the diplomas.

Following the graduation, a reception was held in the Louis Olsen Memorial Room of the Staff Residence for families and friends of the class.

Parkland Memorial Hospital School of Nursing was the first diploma program in Texas to receive full accreditation by the Accrediting Service of the National League For Nursing. Students are now enrolled in a four-year course, which begins in the freshman year at Texas State College for Women. The sophomore and junior years are spent on the Parkland campus. One semester of the senior year is spent on the Parkland campus and one semester is spent at Texas State College for Women campus.

A block of experience in Public Health Nursing, with the Dallas City and County Health Departments, completes the program of instruction. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Alsbrook and Mrs. Mattie McCloskey of Loraine were present for the graduation and reception.

Mrs. R. K. Thornhill, accompanied by her granddaughter, Kay Treadway of Colorado City, left Monday for Gainesville, Ga., for a two weeks visit with her son, O. M. Thornhill, and family.

Mrs. Doris Martin left Tuesday for El Paso, where she will spend two weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Reagan Martin.

Deadline Set For Jubilee Advertising

Friday, August 31, is absolutely the last day on which advertising will be accepted from Loraine merchants for the Golden Jubilee special edition.

Because of the work involved in getting out such a paper it is necessary for us to make this deadline.

If you want an ad in the edition, which will be the only paper published for Jubilee week, please bear in mind that copy for your ad must be in the office not later than Friday, August 31.

Mrs. Payne led in closing prayer.

HOST CLASS

The Western Theme was used when Mrs. A. J. Barron and Mrs. Rex McDaniel hosted the Friendship S. S. Class meeting in the Barron home Thursday night.

The members had been asked to come dressed Western style. On arrival they were greeted by a VJ band, and seated around a campfire as they sang western ballads.

Mrs. Bobby Rine brought the devotional. After which the social hour was held. Everyone had a chance to show their skill at rummy and at horseshoe riding. An assortment of ranching equipment was displayed and named with odd names.

After the business meeting freezer cream and cookies were served to Meses: George Mahoney, Bobby Rine, E. J. Schroeder, Howard Tart, Herbert Mearse, Edger Baumann, Jack Brewer and Bill Bowles.

GLENNERS CLASS MEETS
Mrs. Marshall Bruce and Mrs. C. C. Hamilton were hosts at the August meeting of the Glenners Sunday School class in the Bruce home Tuesday afternoon.

Meeting opened with group singing the class song, What A Friend We Have In Jesus, and prayer by Mrs. J. E. Price.

Mrs. Bruce directed the Bible study lesson, when others discussed characters of the Bible. Mrs. Jim Johnson and Mrs. J. D. McDonald discussed Gideon, reading Judges chapters 6-8; Mrs. Bruce read Judges 4-5 and gave the life of Barak; Mrs. Price read Judges 13 thru 16, discussing the life of Sampson; Mrs. T. C. Wilson and Mrs. C. M. Duke read chapters 1-30 from 1st Samuel and gave the life of David.

Closing the lesson period, the group repeated the Lords Prayer in unison, after which Mrs. McDonald, president, presided at the business meeting.

Hostesses served refreshments of frosted punch and cake to one visitor, Mrs. R. H. Gardner of Madison, S. D., and eleven members.

LIVES TO TELL ABOUT IT—Linda Morgan, who was carried away alive on death-dealing prow of the Swedish liner Stockholm after her collision with the ill-fated Andrea Doria, greets her rescuer, seaman Bernabe Polanco Garcia, as he visits her in a New York hospital. Garcia sighted Linda lying in twisted wreckage of the prow, which had shattered first class cabin which she occupied. Killed were her stepfather, correspondent Camille Ciarfara, his eight-year-old daughter and his wife, who together with Linda, occupied cabins 22 and 51 of the ill-fated liner.

A GIFT FOR THE BAPTIST CHURCH LIBRARY

The Golden Jubilee scheduled in Loraine has inspired a former member of the First Baptist Church to make a contribution to the church library. Miss Annie Gregg of Abilene sent $10 which will be used to start a fund for a slide and filmstrip projector. Visual aids play an important part in seeing the mission fields and make other important information clearer than words alone.

Another $5 has been contributed to the fund. Perhaps others will want to have a part in this gift to the library.

POLITICAL LICENSE — Max Gutierrez, of San Francisco, Calif., views one of the "Like 1956" stickers you're apt to bump into on California highways during the Republican national convention, which opens Aug. 20. The license-like bumper stickers feature black numerals on a yellow ground and are very similar to California's official auto registration tag. In place of the "56" for year designation they substitute the word "FOR," so that sticker reads: "CALIFORNIA FOR IKE 1956"

MAGNET—Sight-seers who took to a boat to view shattered prow of Swedish passenger ship Stockholm are seen through twisted wreckage of the craft as they take pictures of her in New York harbor before she is moved to drydock. It was this icebreaker prow which mortally wounded the Andrea Doria, sending the queen of Italy's merchant marine to the bottom off Nantucket Island.

TUBA FOR TWO—All wrapped up in his work, Murray Robinson, a New York reporter, runs through a practice session under the youthful instruction of seven-year-old Joey Alfidi. The youngster, from Yonkers, N.Y., can play a dozen instruments. He also sings and tap dances, but wants most of all to be a conductor. Having studied the proper procedure of handling a baton for only seven months, the musical genius has already led several symphony orchestras.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Simms from Monday until Thursday last week were her mother, Mrs. John Bush from Water Valley.

Maurice Coldewey brought Gloria and Glenda Richard home Sunday after they had spent last week in their home in Midland. Gayle Richard returned with him to spend this week.

Make Sure Medicine Cabinet Is Child-Proof

BY EDNA MILES

In the hands of your child, even that safe and standard household remedy, aspirin, can become dangerous. Children often confuse pills with candy and every day small victims of their own curiosity are rushed to hospitals.

Best solution to this problem is to see to it that the medicine cabinet is not accessible to the small fry.

Since it must be accessible to adult members of the family, some families provide a special lock for the medicine cabinet.

Others keep only those remedies in the cabinet which absolutely cannot prove harmful.

Whatever your choice, it's a good idea to clear the entire medicine chest from time to time and restock it with fresh supplies.

Medicines gone stale are useless and some may prove toxic.

Among your supplies should be a non-poisonous and stable antiseptic for cuts and scratches that may be kept safely for long periods.

Such an antiseptic is now on the market in liquid form.

It's used for insect bites and poison ivy as well as for cuts and scratches.

Twice dangerous is situation posed, above. Little girl should be discouraged from "mountaineering" and YOU should keep all drugs, strong medications under lock and key ALWAYS.

The Soil Bank and the Drouth Farmer

In his clamor to relieve the bad situation of our nation's farmers, through the recently adopted and inaugurated soil bank program, the administration is all but bypassing the very farmer who needs help most—the drouth farmer.

Payments have already begun for those who choose to relieve surpluses by plowing under crops or letting potentially productive soil remain idle. But, for the farmers whose land refuses to grow crops because nature's water supply has been temporarily withdrawn, no help is forthcoming.

The intent of the program passed this year by Congress is to base soil bank payments on normal production, with the main purpose being elimination of surpluses.

A realistic interpretation of the measure would base consideration on production from a normal 10-year period. As it stands now, payments are being based on 11 seasons' potential production. This leaves hundreds of drouth-ridden Texas farmers out in the cold with a small token crop failure sum, plus the right to graze their grassless land.

Are the drouth farmers whose crops failed to come up relieving the surplus problem any less than those who set aside productive land for the same purpose? Our parched but otherwise fertile farms are just as idle as any soil banked in producing areas this season.

The soil bank system should not reward a man for plowing under a productive crop and then penalize a man for having a crop failure. The results are the same in both cases. Neither produces a surplus of goods, if that's what the program is for. The soil bank could be one of the easiest means of providing vitaly needed aid to farmers suffering from drouth. The matter of interpretation is the key that can mean the difference between relief and repression to our farm people.

Fort Richardson, Alaska—Specialist Third Class Charles E. McCarver, 28, grandson of Mrs. Nola McCarver, Route 3, Colorado City, is scheduled to leave Alaska for the continental U. S. this month as part of Operation Gyroscope, the Army's unit rotation plan.

He is a member of the 71st Infantry Division, which is changing stations with the 2nd Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Specialist McCarver, who arrived in Alaska in March 1955, is a radio repairman in Company C of the division's 271st Engineer Battalion.

A 1952 graduate of Heald Engineering College in San Francisco, he entered the Army in May 1954.

His wife, Willie Ruth, is with him in Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Haralson and Ken returned Sunday after visiting several days in Corpus Christi with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt Barber and vacationing at the Barber cabin at Freepoint.

Mrs. Edgar Herm and children of Ackerley spent Monday night with her father, J. W. Richburg. Mrs. Mattie Herm returned home with them for a visit.

Eddie Herm of Ackerley is spending this week with his cousin, David Little, and with his grandfather, J. W. Richburg.

Miss Mollie Davis returned home Monday after visiting her sister in Midland during the weekend.

Mrs. Bessie Johnson returned home Monday after spending ten days in Abilene with her grandchildren while Dr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson were on vacation in Old Mexico.

Bible Comment:

Truth Is Fabric of Bible's Imagery

A FACT which we ought to bear in mind as we read the Bible is that it is a book of the East, with all the Eastern imagery and traditional manner of figurative speech.

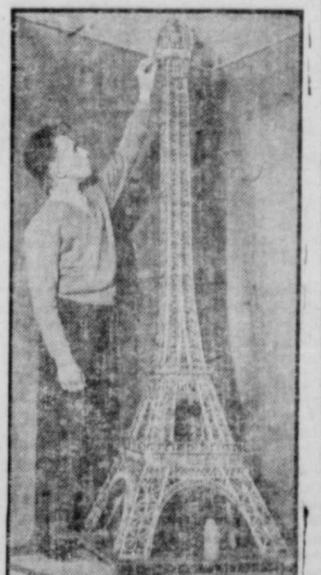

It is a mistake to interpret something which is figurative or symbolic as literal, but it is equally a mistake to imagine that the truth of the Bible is any less real because it is sometimes expressed in parables.

The woman who lost the piece of silver might have been an actual woman that Jesus had in mind, or she might have been symbolic of those who earnestly seek and find.

In the story of the prodigal son, we have all the facets concerning sin and salvation presented in the imagery of the parable. Salvation does not mean that the consequences of sin are entirely removed. When the prodigal sinned he suffered, and there are sins that leave indelible marks which cannot be removed.

This does not mean that sin cannot be forgiven, nor does it mean that there cannot be spiritual restoration, though the consequences of sin often go on and on.

The great fact is that God acts toward His human children like the good father of the parable. The parable's imagery shows that when men turn from their sins, He is full of forgiveness and willingness to restore them to their rightful place.

MATCHMAKER—Take 50,000 matches, several tubes of glue, 700 hours and a young ambitious man with unlimited gobs of patience. The result is an eye-fel Eiffel. Jules Pardon, a 24-year-old radio technician from Louvain, Belgium, made the elaborate model of Paris, France's famed landmark. The baby Eiffel Tower has an electric motor running up the shaft and a tiny radio set mounted on top.
