First Storm Brings Rain & Damage

The season's first storm blew into Collingsworth about 4:45 p.m. Monday, May 6, leaving some property damage, dumping as much as four and five inches of rain in some communities, destroying wheat, then leaving other parts of the county bone dry.

The Quail and Lillie areas bore the brunt of the storm in this county, where small grain was reported beaten into the ground and fruit destroyed.

The brick home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Overton northeast of Madge, Okla., was destroyed by a twister that dipped down.

Property damage was reported from an area about three miles west of Wellington. J. C. Hartman, Jr., reported three windows knocked out of his house by hail, a barn damaged, and a considerable amount of fence damaged.

Wayne Martin reported a barn destroyed on the property he operates in the same area.

Wellington received 1.5 inches of moisture at the Vumore tower at the west edge of town and 2.38 inches at the Weather Bureau station a mile east of town for Sunday and Monday.

Ted Wheeler of Lillie reported hail and rain fell at his place for an hour and a half. His rain gauge was broken during the storm but he estimated he received about 6 inches.

Lightning killed one of his Black Angus cows and knocked another into the fence, Mr. Wheeler said.

The storm was lighter to the east and south of his place, he added.

At Quail, Mrs. G. T. Stephens said the storm came in from the north about 4:45 p.m. and lasted approximately an hour, with hail falling three times, ranging from pea size up to the size of large marbles.

Three inches or more of rain was reported through the Quail-Marella area, fruit was heavily damaged, Mrs. Stephens continued.

All fields still had lakes Tuesday.

M. A. Ray of White Deer, who recently bought the Guy Owens farm two miles east of Quail, said his wheat was beaten out and fruit knocked off the trees.

The Overton home northeast of Madge was considered 100 percent loss. Mr. and Mrs. Overton were in the house, crouched in a closet, and escaped serious injury, according to reports received here.

George Henry, manager of Greenbelt Rural Electric Co-operative, Inc., reported that the co-op lost 19 power poles in cyclones in four locations. Eight of these were in the area of the Overton home, the others were at Vinson, Quail, east of Lefors and west of Wellington. At one point north of Hollis, a cyclone went through the Greenbelt lines in four places, he said. Linemen were still checking Tuesday for additional damage.

North of Salt Fork, Marvin Knoll of Lutie reported that a total of 1.8 inches of moisture fell in that area Sunday and Monday, and only a little hail fell along with the rain Monday.

A little more hail fell in the Dozier area, but no damage.

Junior-Senior Production

"Music Man" Opens Friday for Two-Night Run in Auditorium

"The Music Man," Meredith Wilson's Broadway hit musical that still gives delight wherever it is given, will be presented by the junior and senior classes of Wellington High School as their combined annual production.

There will be two performances, Friday and Saturday, May 10 and 11, at 8 p.m. and these will be the first of a dramatic nature in the new Wellington High School auditorium.

Boys and girls from the sixth grade up will be involved, said Mrs. Bob McAllister, director.

There will be an orchestra from musicians of That Skyrocket Band to play the overture, directed by James Larson. Cherry Lewis will play the piano accompaniment for all songs of the musical.

The one dance number was choreographed by Jan Glenn, a senior at Texas Tech.

The lively story skips about Chris Hubbard as Professor Harold Hill, the charlatan salesman of musical instruments, who promises residents of a small Iowa town that if they will buy his instruments, he will form the boys into a band and teach them to play.

The hard fact that he doesn't know a note of music eludes almost everyone except the town librarian, Marian Paroo, part sung by senior Tanya Horton.

All is not smooth for the professor, and trouble comes from the Mayor Shinn, aptly played by Nat Holton, and the School Board, Jacey Squires (Harry Patterson), Ewart Dunlop (George Kopp), Oliver Hix (Barry Johnson), and Olin Britt (David Groves). These four also appear as a quartet singing one of the favorite numbers of the musical.

But the professor manages to horswoggle everyone — except the librarian.

Wellington audiences will hear some of the favorite tunes of "The Music Man," among them "76 Trombones," "Till There Was You," "Wells Fargo Wagon" and "Goodnight My Someone."

The time of "The Music

Man" is 1912, and the cast, more used to mini-skirts and levis, will appear in authentic clothes of the period.

Others with speaking parts are the conductor, played by Glenn Barber; traveling salesman: Andy Lowe, Stevie Davis, Jimmy Neeley, Jerry Woolbridge, Calvin Culpepper, and Jim Kutch; Charlie Cowell, the salesman who attempts to unmask the professor, Alan Fires; and Marcellus Washburn, good friend of the professor, Billy Neeley; Mrs. Paroo, Marian's mother, Nancy Sikes; Amaryl-lis, Marian's piano student, Gwen Lewis; Winthrop Paroo, her brother, Dickie Johnson; Eulalie Mackecknie Shinn, the

The Rural Electrification Administration on May 3 announced a $838,000 loan to Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., to finance 73 miles of distribution line.

George Henry, Greenbelt manager, said this will serve 333 new consumers and provide for extensive system improvement.

Word of the loan approval was received by The Wellington Leader from Senator John Tower, Congressman Bob Price, and Senator Ralph Yarborough.

The improvements will include four miles of new tie lines and conversion of 132 miles of existing line and related facilities.

Of the funds in this loan, $779,000 are for use in Texas and $59,000 in Oklahoma.

Part of the expansion comes at Sherwood Shores, new residential development on Greenbelt Lake, seven miles north of Clarendon.

"This is a sizeable chunk, but it is concentrated and not much main line will have to be built," Mr. Henry said.

Greenbelt Rural Electric Co-operative, Inc., built into Sherwood Shores on its old loan, and the development phase will come under this new loan.

Thirty meters have been connected there in the last two months, Mr. Henry said.

Other expansion will come from oil field connections, farm residential consumers, and some irrigation extension, Mr. Henry explained.

In some areas, expansion is coming through the construction of new farm homes, and this is especially true in Armstrong County, where Amarillo commuters are building as far out as Goodnight, he continued.

The Pampa area is experiencing similar growth.

On completion of the facilities provided for in this and prior REA loans, Greenbelt will be serving 4,430 consumers over 2,106 miles of line in nine counties in Texas and two counties in Oklahoma.

Payments on REA loans by the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative include $1,438,770 repaid on principal as due, $255,495 of principal paid ahead of schedule, and interest payments of $813,516.

The Farmer Looks Ahead to 1980

COLLEGE STATION.—Do we dare look at 1980? What's in store for agriculture? These questions were asked by W. E. Black, Extension economist at Texas A&M University. Farmers are especially concerned about the future because of the current price-cost squeeze, he said.

A study entitled "Food Needs and U.S. Agriculture by 1980" by Dr. Earl Heady and Leo Mayer of the Center for Agricultural and Economics Development at Iowa State University, projects that farmers will produce their crops for lower prices in 1980. Their projection assumes that present farm commodity programs will play a lesser role in the future.

They assume also that the free market will continue and encourage efficiency and technology to develop at the present rate. Under these circumstances they project prices per bushel as follows:

	1965	1980
Wheat	1.34	1.27
Feed grains*	1.10	.75
Soybeans	2.49	1.23
Cotton	.28	.17
*Corn equivalent

These prices are projected, Black emphasizes, to cover the cost of producing the last bushel needed—and since the last unit is the most expensive to produce, they would offer a profit on each of the previous units.

In the absence of a government commodity program to hold prices at artificially high levels, these would probably be the prevailing market price levels, concludes the study.

Water will boil at less than 212 degrees F. at high altitudes because of the reduced atmospheric pressure.

Be Alert for Screwworms

With warmer weather, conditions are more favorable for an increase in screwworm fly activities. Officials of the Screwworm Eradication Program remind stockmen they should continue to be alert for this pest. They point out that most of the sterile flies now being produced at Mission are being distributed in Mexico to halt the buildups in that country.

HemisFair Time, When the Limping Is Easy

Aching feet can be a drag on HemisFair fun. Sunny days and sizzling sidewalks call for footwear that will keep you cool and dry.

Flimsy, non-porous canvas or plastic shoe materials can trap moisture and heat, multiplying foot discomfort.

Leather has built-in "air-conditioning" system. Its millions of tiny natural pores permit a continuous change of air inside the shoe, while simultaneously absorbing foot moisture. The breathing action keeps feet dry and helps prevent chafing and blistering.

For sight-seeing the current crop of leather pumps and sandals prove good. They are available in leather, from sporty brushed, waxy and antiqued leathers to the dressier smooth, suede and real patent leather finishes.

Color at your feet for summer '68 includes the pales (grey, pink, banana cream, nude) and the brights (poster green, yellow, orange, salmon). Also stepping lively will be navy, dark brown, red, and, of course, white.

Mayonnaise vs. Salad Dressing

The difference in mayonnaise and salad dressing is told by the label. Both products contain vegetable oil, an acidifying ingredient, as vinegar or lemon juice, and seasoning.

The oil may be from soybean, cottonseed, peanut or corn, and in mayonnaise it must total at least 65 percent of the weight. In salad dressing to a minimum of 30 percent by weight. Food standards such as these insure honest and fair dealing for both consumers and manufacturers.

Mayonnaise was made for Louis XIV of France who was a gourmet devoted to sauces. When

Mattress Pads Save Wear

COLLEGE STATION.—Mattress pads are worth their small price in the protection they give, says Jane Berry, Extension home furnishings specialist with Texas A&M University.

Easily machine laundered, mattress pads absorb perspiration and stains, saving wear on the mattress.

Like most household articles, mattress pads vary greatly in quality. Better ones have close, neat stitching in a quilted pattern that keeps the filling from shifting. Edges should be tape-bound and double-stitched, and the fabric should be pre-shrunk. The best filler is bleached cotton or a synthetic fiber such as dacron or nylon, says the specialist. Some pads are plastic covered or coated so they can be sponged off between washings.

Mattress pads are also made of latex foam rubber and urethane foam. They vary in thickness, usually from one-half to two inches, and offer cushioning as well as protection. Many mattress pads have elastic corner bands to keep them in place.

There is also a combination pad and mattress cover which fits somewhat like a fitted sheet, protecting the sides and ends of the mattress as well as the top. Pads are made to fit extra-large as well as standard beds.

If you have an old mattress, a pad may add greatly to the comfort of the bed. Old quilts may be used as a satisfactory pad until you find the mattress cover you need.

Food's a Bargain

Total food expenditures, and per capita food expenditures are at record highs in the U.S. for 1967. But, percentages of disposable income spent for food was a record low, according to USDA's Economic Research Service. The percent of disposable income spent for food dropped from 18.3 percent in 1966 to 17.7 percent in 1967—the lowest on record.

Glass Stains Can Be Removed

COLLEGE STATION.—Cleaning and stain removal are often major problems for owners of antique glassware, but the problem can arise even with everyday glass articles.

Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University, suggests the following solutions to common cleaning problems in glassware.

Minerals in water often result in such cleaning problems as lime deposits and surface discolorations. To remove lime deposits from the bottom of pitchers, bottles, or decanters, put tea leaves on the stained surface and fill the container with a vinegar solution. For surface discoloration on decanters, rub the glass with half a lemon, or wash with vinegar. Or partially fill with uncooked rice and vinegar and shake vigorously.

A well known research laboratory finds this method of removing hard water deposits which have dried in designs and etchings. Soak glassware in a solution of one part muriatic acid and four parts water. This acid, available at drug or hardware stores, should be handled with rubber gloves. After soaking in the solution, rinse the glass thoroughly and dry.

Vinegar cruets often become stained and should be rinsed with diluted ammonia before washing. Stains in flower vases can be cleaned with a chlorine bleach solution. To brighten glass coffee makers, use a teaspoon of baking soda in the rinse water.

Glass is never permanently stained, according to the Glassware Institute of America. It has a hard, smooth, non-absorbent surface that cannot be penetrated by stains, and the surface discolorations can be removed with these treatments.

Fishing Opens at Lake Marvin

Lake Marvin, located 14 miles northeast of Canadian, will be opened for fishing and camping June 1. The lake was closed in September of 1966 and chemically treated, drained, cleaned out and then restocked with bass and channel catfish. According to lake officials the chemical biologist stated that fishing should be excellent with fish weighing approximately 1 1/2 to 2 pounds.

The concession building at the lake will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Roger McFarren and will feature a good selection of bait, fishing equipment, and camping supplies as well as soft drinks and candy.

There will be eight cabins overlooking the lake which may be rented by the night or by the week. There will be cabins completely furnished with refrigerator, stove, beds, and linens while others will have only beds. All cabins have showers, private baths and hot and cold running water. Personal boats with small trolling or gasoline motors will be permitted on the lake.

A contest will be held the opening week end and a tackle box will be given to the person catching the heaviest fish during the first and second of June. Fishermen must register their catch at the concession building between the hours of 7 a.m. June 1 and 6 p.m. June 2 to be eligible.

According to lake officials, the lake is full and the water is trickling over the spillway for the first time in many years.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

Boss Has Some Rights

It can be justly argued that an employer is guilty of unfair discrimination when he refuses to hire a well-qualified, honest and ambitious man or woman because he doesn't approve of the skin color.

But there remain broad fields in which special qualifications are justifiable. If a hotel wants a 6-foot doorman because he would look impressive in his epaulets that should be the hotel's business. If a man chooses a beautiful receptionist over a plain one he has a right to argue that the girl would help decorate the office.

United Airlines decided that it wanted only unmarried stewardesses. Every applicant was made to understand that if she married she would be expected to quit. Because attrition was naturally high United has had to keep training new stewardesses, but it has been willing to accept the cost. Nobody has been deprived of any fundamental rights. If a cadet marries before graduation at West Point, Annapolis or the Air Force Academy he, too, is kicked out.

Three United stewardesses married secretly. The company found out and fired them. The California Unemployment Appeals board has ruled that the stewardesses were improperly fired. It says California law voids any contract restraining marriage of an adult.

Next test case: Will the California board require the Archbishop of San Francisco to reinstate the next Catholic priest who is dropped because he decided to marry? This could be interesting.

When an adult freely enters into a contract restricting marriage while on the payroll he does it as a voluntary responsible act. This business of telling the boss who he can't fire is getting out-of-hand.

Support Existing Industry

Every community, if it is to be progressive, should strive to bring new industry into its fold. Community leaders should and do work long hours in trying to work up necessary information for prospective industrial plants who may desire to settle in a city.

However, there is a very important step in industrial or economical development which is often overlooked. This step is, in our opinion, equally as important as or perhaps more important than all the preliminary work. This step is the recognition and support of existing industry.

All too often, we, as community leaders will go to any lengths in trying to bring new industry to town and then as soon as the new wears off we are prone to forget this industry, feeling that we have done our part. However, when industry plans to relocate one of the first groups they seek out is existing industry. It behooves us then to ever keep in mind industries we already have and be sure that they are not neglected and that they receive our support.

The News plans to try a series of feature stories on industries of the area in order to acquaint our readers of what we do have in way of industrial plants which are contributing so much to the economic life of the communities where they are located.

It is hopeful that the Chamber of Commerce will keep this in mind and appoint a committee whose primary function will be to visit with industrial leaders of the community to offer assistance if and when needed.

Let us all work for new industry, but let us not forget that we already have some fine industries in our midst and one of the best ways to attract others is to keep a very friendly and fine relationship with those we have.

STATE Capital NEWS
By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—Texas Liquor Control Board is heading for an early showdown test of its new get-tough policies on subterfuge private clubs.

In a surprise order, the Board outlawed cash sales in all bottle clubs.

Some club operators, who already were complaining mightily about an earlier LCB directive prohibiting manager-members from issuing guest cards to walk-in customers, were hard hit. One promptly filed a lawsuit here to enjoin the board's regulations.

Net result of the cash sale requirement will be to eliminate the casual guests since operators wouldn't want to run the risk of granting total strangers a month's credit for a highly perishable commodity.

Hotel-motel clubs who expect to solve the problem by putting club charges on room tabs may find the Board's definition of a cash sale quite restrictive: "It shall be deemed that a cash sale has been if payment for a service or commodity is made on the same date or within eight hours after the occurrence of such service or the delivery of such commodity." Clubs also received a long list of new instructions for keeping records and running their affairs according to by-laws and through a board of directors.

More rules are expected to be forthcoming from the LCB. Times may be hard for all but strictly-private and proper clubs in the near future.

LCB Attorney Lynwood Elliott said he thinks the cash sale directive will restrict clubs: "I feel, quite frankly, that when you prohibit a club from making a cash sale it will be less inclined to serve the public at large and will start serving properly screened members."

Situation is expected to bring new pressure for liquor-by-the-drink legalization. Club owners claim they are being made political footballs.

Riot Control Training

All Department of Public Safety officers have undergone an intensive, accelerated riot control training program. Plans are drawn for maximum assistance to local authorities. State also is buying $200,000 worth of anti-riot equipment for use of National and State Guards.

DPS reported it stands ready to make "major commitment" of personnel and equipment on request from a local law enforcement agency—although it hopes none will be necessary.

Courts Speak

Supreme Court held taxable natural gas used as fuel for engines that pump oil.

In a variety of other opinions the High Court ruled:

- Lower courts were right in concluding that a Houston fireman was suspended improperly for buying two mink stoles and a color tv set (believed to have been stolen) from another fireman. (Suspended firefighter denied any knowledge of stolen goods.)

- Women should be enjoined from operating an alleged house of prostitution near Brenham.

- American Travelers Insurance Company, Ltd., a Bahamas-based corporation, cannot do business in Texas without a state permit.

- A Refugio County woman who granted a pipeline easement across her property in 1943 is still stuck with the deal for future extension of parallel lines.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held that a firm must pay $11,556 in sales taxes, plus interest and penalties, on the cost of transporting materials to job sites.

Same Court also ordered a new trial in a landowners' suit against the city of Temple for damages due to inadequate drainage of property; found the movie "Blood and Black Lace" doesn't have to be labeled "not suitable for young persons"; and gave Austin's Texas State Bank a go-ahead to move its quarters from the University of Texas area to the downtown district despite objections of neighbor-to-be City National Bank.

Bruce B. Conway of Houston is the new director of power and communications for the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

State Bar of Texas appointed Leon Jaworski of Houston and W. O. Shafer of Odessa to the governing house of delegates of the American Bar Association.

Rupert N. Gresham of San Antonio was reappointed to the ABA house for two years.

Vets Bonds Sold

Texas veterans land bonds worth $30,000,000 sold for an average interest rate of 4.33%.

First National Bank in Dallas, Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Houston, and First National City Bank of New York and Associates were successful bidders on bonds.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, chairman of the Veterans Land Board, said the sale was necessary to continue purchase of land for the Texas program recently revived by constitutional amendment.

Before used for buying veterans land, money will be invested in short-term government securities to offset any interest costs accruing against the Veterans Land Board. Sadler said AAA bond rating and the excellent pay record of the Veterans Land Board made it possible to sell bonds below market.

Business Drop-Off
Both building and business activity dropped off sharply in March, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research barometer.

Construction index fell almost 31 points from the previous month and was eight percent below March, 1967. However, the January-March overall average of index this year still is 12 percent above that for the first three months of 1967, due to the record February bulge.

March business index was eight percent below the February value but was 3.3 percent above March 1966, Bureau reported.

Short Snorts

- Rep. GGus Mutscher of Brenham not only is assured of election as Speaker of the House of Representatives next January, but reportedly has a second term as speaker virtually nailed down.

- Texas Aeronautics Commission certified Kin gFlight Services, Inc., of Wichita Falls for scheduled service with Dallas.

- Number of draft delinquency cases in Texas decreased from 1,028 to 970 in first quarter of 1968, State Selective Service Director Col. Morris S. Schwartz reports.

- As a part of the new Texas Hill Country Trail, Texas Tourist Development Agency has arranged for President Lyndon Johnson's boyhood home, located 13 miles west of John-

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Well-publicized candidate for President promises that if elected he will cure crime by abolishing the causes thereof, instead of merely repressing the criminals.

Since it's obvious that without criminals there wouldn't be any crime, it must be the candidate aims to abolish criminals, which could be a more bloodthirsty than just repressing them.

Some folks will argue that repressing is more humane than abolishing, and nobody can be sure it wouldn't work just as well, since the high courts have seen to it that very few criminals have been repressed lately.

Medicare Book to be Mailed

Older people in the Panhandle will soon be receiving an updated copy of "Your Medicare Handbook," a new up-to-date guidebook on their Medicare benefits, how the program works, and how payments are made.

Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager, said the new Handbook highlights the changes enacted in the 1967 social security amendments which improved protection and simplified Medicare procedures. The book has been written to make it easier to read and understand.

In developing the new edition, Briggs said social security sought the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts and representatives of professional organizations.

Delivery of the new red, white and blue edition of the handbook to the 10½ million Americans enrolled in Medicare will be spread over the next six weeks.

Everyone should have their copy by the middle of June, Briggs said.

Those who need further information or want help concerning their Medicare or any other social security matters should get in touch with their social security office. Offices are located at 1006 S. Adams in Amarillo, and in the Hughes Building in Pampa.

Aggie Muster Gets Feminine Touch from Former Countian

A former Wellington resident has become the first woman graduate of Texas A&M University to attend the Aggie Muster in her area.

She is Mr. O. C. Chapman, who teaches in the Rocksprings School, and who received her Master of Education degree from A&M in August 1966.

The former June Winters, she is the daughter of Mrs. W. E. Winters, 1111 Galveston Street.

Mrs. Chapman was a speaker at the Aggie Muster at Junction. This is the annual get-together of all former students of Texas A&M everywhere when they commemorate the Battle of San Jacinto and pay tribute to those Aggies who have been "mustered" by their Maker to The Great Beyond.

In her talk, she cited numerous examples to support her belief that A&M had "the nicest students," "the best faculty," and "the hardest courses" of any school in the world.

Mrs. Chapman received her Bachelor of Education Degree from Texas Christian University.

She began graduate work the first year women were accepted at A&M, but because she could attend only one summer, she explained, that there were others, mostly wives of A&M professors, who were granted degrees before she was.

Her husband, Oscar Chapman, also a former county resident, is one-up on his wife when it comes to A&M degrees, for he has both the Bachelor of Science and Master of Education degrees, plus another B. S. degree from Texas Tech.

Mrs. Chapman has taught at Rocksprings seven years, five of these as special education instructor.

While visiting in Wellington recently she said that when she began these classes, no guidelines had been set up, so new was the program. Her work in the field is considered a standard to be met.

She bases her teaching of retarded children on their interests. As an example, an older child interested in David Crockett learned to read simple material about him, although the youngster would not be interested in material offered in the first grade reader.

Mrs. Chapman respects the pride and sensitivity of the children and uses these qualities to help the learning process.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Supporters of Preston Smith were gratified that he was able to enter the second primary in a field of nine opponents. They were also pleased that his opponent will be Don Yarborough instead of Briscoe or Carr, whose political ideologies are somewhat the same as those of Lt. Gov. Smith. It is thought that the majority of the Carr and Briscoe supporters will go to Smith. Despite these and other favorable factors, there is danger in such complacency for it is obvious the coming runoff will be a bitter fight between the moderates to conservatives who are for Smith and the liberals who will vote for Yarborough.

Absentee balloting will be important in the governor's race just as it will be in every other contest. Memorial Day, May 30, falls on Thursday, making a long week end with the election falling on Saturday, June 1. In addition the ballot will be extremely short with no interest rousing referendums such as legalized race track gambling and liquor by the drink. Add to this the fact that thousands of Texas people will not be at home on election day and the prospect of a painfully light vote becomes more of a reality. Getting out the vote will be most important to precinct candidates as well as state candidates.

If you have any doubt as to where you will be on election day, vote absentee. Absentee voting starts May 22 and ends May 28.

Morris Higley in The Children's Index:

More and more you are going to read about Preston Smith—the man you should elect Governor of Texas.

Preston Smith is a most unusual politician in that he is the one person all of the writers claim has no personality, no drive, no glamour. The writers overlook one fact that makes the people want to vote for this man and in all probability will make him Governor of Texas.

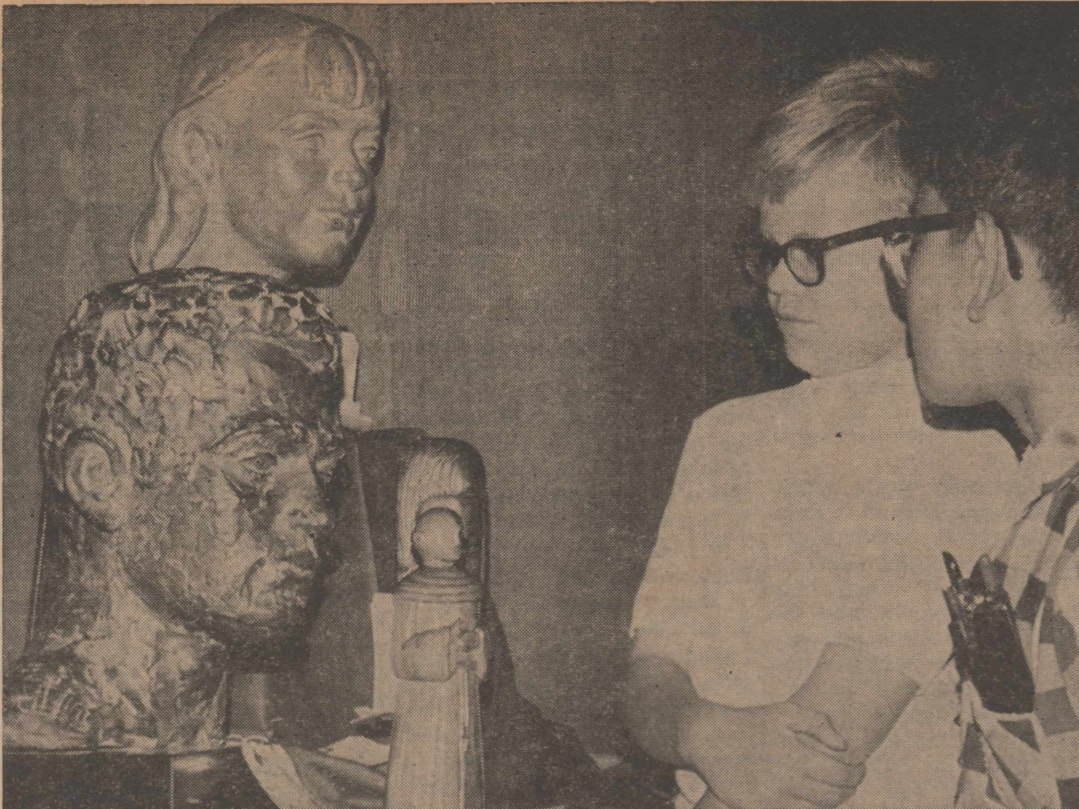

It is the sincere honesty of the man.

You need only to talk to this man for just a few minutes and you will find that he is a man you trust—a man that would be good for your state.

A most important meeting on water conservation will be held in Wellington on May 17. The Salt Fork Soil Conservation District has invited the corresponding agencies from seven other counties to what amounts to a regional meeting on water, soil, markets, industry, etc. Among those things that will be discussed are the development of water resources for recreation, wildlife, flood prevention, and agricultural, municipal and industrial uses.

There are many efforts that will be discussed and one of these is new industries for the products of the area and improved markets for crop and livestock. The water projects that are contemplated will be larger than any single county. While these first meetings will be composed mainly of soil conservation people they are open to the public.

Honors Presented

Jaycees Install New Officers on Saturday

"Jaycees isn't a civic organization. I call it the largest University in the world," Calvin Hornsby, state vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, told the Wellington organization Saturday evening.

"The things we teach are leadership training, and we get it in the most unique way, through participation in community endeavor."

Mr. Hornsby, who lived in Wellington as a child, came here to install the 1967-68 Wellington Jaycee officers.

Two other features highlighted the evening. It was announced that Wellington's teenage entries in the Jaycee District Road-e-o, Cindy Saied and James Jones, had won honors and will participate in the state contest.

A Wellington law enforcement officer, Deputy Sheriff George Hooten, was then honored with the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award, presented "for outstanding community service through loyal, faithful and unselfish efforts resulting in lasting contribution to community and nation."

"Government is not a substitute for the people," Mr. Hornsby said during his talk. "It is an instrument through which they act."

"In the last analysis, our only freedom is our freedom to discipline ourselves."

As he closed his talk, the Jaycee officer reminded: "The true test of our civilization and our nation is not the size of our cities nor the products of our factories nor the crops from our fields. No, it's the size of the man that this nation, your state, and your community can produce."

Donald Settle was installed as nearby artists on display in the office supply department of the paper. It is "Moods of the Prairie" with poetry by Ed Eakin of The Quana Tribune-Chief, and line and wash drawings by William Clay, who is a linotype operator on The Vernon Record. The book deals with such subjects as tumbleweeds, mesquite, coyotes, jackrabbits, prairie dogs, whirlwinds and tornadoes. This is a book you should have in your Texas collection.

27 Votes Cast by Republicans in Primary

Collingsworth County Republicans gave Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls an overwhelming vote over two opponents in the Primary Election Saturday, May 4.

Twenty-seven ballots were cast, approximately twice the number polled two years ago, David Baumgardner, county chairman, said.

The governor's race was the only one that was contested, and in voting, Collingsworth Republicans followed the state pattern.

In another race of interest here, Jack Hazlewood received 745 votes for judge of the Court of Civil Appeals, 7th District, to 603 cast for Judge James Joy and 131 for Bruce Miller.

District-wide, there will be a runoff in the Second Primary June 2 between Mr. Hazlewood and Judge Joy.

Sheriff John Rainey, unopposed for reelection, polled the highest number of votes cast, 1365, while Mrs. Rita Owens, seeking re-election for tax assessor-collector, polled 1322 votes.

Mrs. John Coleman, unopposed for County Democratic chairman, received 1272 votes, and in Voting Precinct 1, Ralph Owens, unopposed, received 338 votes for precinct chairman.

The vote in the other races is:

Representative, 18th District: Dick Brown 757.

Governor: Preston Smith 470, Waggoner Carr 312, Pat O'Daniel 102, Johnnie Mae Hackworth 0, Edward L. Whittenburg 23, John Hill 127, Don Yarborough 149, Eugene Locke 117, Alfonso Veloz 0 and Dolph Briscoe 253.

Lieutenant Governor: Gene Smith 233, Ben Barnes 1163, and Don Gladden 82.

The results of all races by voting precincts is found elsewhere in this issue.

County voters turned down all three propositions submitted. The vote was 1068 to 401 against liquor by the drink; 994 to 486 against pari-mutuel horse race betting; and 1071 to 232 against the dairy commission.

Thank You For Your Support

I sincerely appreciate the consideration that was shown me during my race for Commissioner of Precinct 1. It is a privilege to know so many fine people.

I feel that the other man who wins this place in the second Primary will do a fine job for the precinct and county.
