TEXAS

By WILL H. MAYES, Austin.

TEXAS WILD FLOWERS—In many parts of Texas the wild flowers are now looking their best, with the Texas bluebonnet, as usual, leading all the rest in its gorgeousness. Until the frosts of fall come there will be the greatest profusion of native flowers to lure their beauty and their fragrance as freewill offerings to humanity. If you have not become closely acquainted with Texas flowers, have not minutely studied them in all their varieties and in their many moods—for flowers have moods—you do not appreciate Texas as you should. With the coming of spring every one should get as close to nature as possible and in Texas nature is at her best in her floral display.

WILD FLOWER PAINTINGS—At a dinner given in San Antonio by Edgar E. Davis, the Luling oil magnate and philanthropist, to the artists who exhibited paintings in the last competition conducted by the Antonio Art League with Mr. E. J. Brown as patron, he explained for the first time how he came to do a few pictures for the best paintings of Texas wild flowers. He had spent almost his last cent of money earned in the rubber industry in drilling for oil near Luling on a location which geologists had told him would produce no oil. The drill had gone to a depth that made production seem hopeless, and to Davis as he looked over his holdings, it looked like the only thing he would realize on his investment was the wild flowers about him. When he was at last came in and with other wells producing, he found himself a rich man, he sought a way to express his appreciation of the Texas wild flowers that had comforted him with their beauty in his hours of uncertainty and depression. And so, it occurred to him that this could best be done by offering liberally of his earnings that artists might strive to paint for all posterity the beauties of Texas wild flowers.

GALVESTON'S NEW HOTELS—For a long time Galveston beach has had almost a monopoly as a seaside resort for Texas and the rest of the Southwest, but in recent years Corpus Christi, Palacios and other places have been active young competitors for the patronage of the thousands who annually seek the delights of a Texas seaside vacation. Galveston has at last discovered that it is losing much of this business because of poor hotel facilities and has taken steps to erect two modern hotels that will cost about $1,000,000 each to be completed in time for the summer season of 1929.

OLD GRAY MARE BAND—Announcement has been made that the Old Gray Mare Band of Brownwood is "going to be what she used to be" at the National Democratic Convention at Houston in June, having been engaged as the principal band for the convention. It will be under the direction of its former leader, Capt. E. Wright Armstrong, and will be in the necessary training to arouse the convention to the highest pitch of enthusiasm at just the right moments. There will be other bands at the convention, but Texas' most famous band expects to hold "the center of the stage" and

DEMONSTRATION CLUB HOME—Here is a new and commendable work for civic organizations. The Kiwanis club of Gainesville offers $100.00 as its contribution to start a movement for the erection of a two room club house suitable for home demonstration club work. Home economics as now taught in many of the schools is helping to add to the country's production more than any other agency to make for the scientific management of homes and consequently for the comfort and happiness of home life. In addition in the erection of a club home the Gainesville Kiwanis club is helping to add practical demonstration to theoretical instruction.

BATTLEGROUND STATE PARK—The chambers of commerce of Vernon and Crowell are cooperating to have the spot where Cynthia Ann Parker was recaptured from the Comanche Indians made a state park. After being in captivity for 25 years, or since she was 9 years of age, Cynthia Ann Parker was recaptured at a point that is now in board country, is perhaps doing more than any other agency to make for the scientific management of homes and consequently for the comfort and happiness of home life. In addition in the erection of a club home the Gainesville Kiwanis club is helping to add practical demonstration to theoretical instruction.

REDO AIRPORT PURCHASE—Redo is getting ready for international air service between the United States and Mexico. Secured an option on land as an airport has been approved

Sterling Visited Cisco Yesterday

Chairman of the State Highway Commission Evinced Interest In Completion of Highway No. 23

The young lady is Miss Anne Buckman, a junior. When the school term started spring practice she secured permission from the school authorities to try out along with the boys. So well did she play her position in right field that she has replaced last year's regular. Albat she is faster than most of the boys.

DAN HORN

Easter in Dan Horn was celebrated mostly with everyone gathered around the fire, as it snowed and rained the entire day. There is a good season in ground and as soon as it is enough to plant corn and other crops, especially look after highway matters around Cisco, yet he expressed himself as pleased with the progress Cisco has made, and estimated that some aid might be expected on highway 23 if the county would put on a crushed rock ballast.

The highway has already been completed through Shackelford county, and only the gap between Cisco and the south line of Shackelford remains to be finished with rock ballast and asphalt topping. Mr. Sterling was personally interested in Humbletown, one of the places of interest visited, for he is largely responsible for the Humble company building this camp in Cisco, as he was president of that company at the time the camp was built, Secretary Peters said. He was also greatly interested in Randolph college, which was viewed in passing.

of the other bombs, three to be dropped will bear coupons good for two theater admissions; ten will bear coupons good for one theater admission, and ten more will bear coupons for two theater admissions to see "Baby Mine," which will be shown at the Palace theater Sunday.

BIG PRODUCER INDICATED—Indications are this morning that Col. Robt. D. Gordon is about to stage a come-back in the oil game, and retrieve his fortunes after many vicissitudes of following the fickle fortunes of the oil game, according to information which reached Cisco this morning, when it was reported that the Reagan No. 1, in the Gordon pool on the Ramsower tract, nine miles northeast of Cisco, had encountered a gas flow estimated at ten million cubic feet at the 1940 to 1965 foot levels, with good oil showings.

CREAM ROUTE OUT OF RISING STAR PLANNED

E. H. Varnell, agricultural vocationalist of the Cisco high school and chamber of commerce, together with J. E. T. Peters, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and E. Preston of the Cisco Creamery, are at Rising Star this afternoon where they are attending a dairy meeting in Liberty theater in that place. Miss Helen Swift, district demonstration agent, Miss Ruth Ramey, county demonstration agent, and J. C. Patterson, county agent, also are attending the meeting. The gathering in Rising Star will be composed of farmers in that vicinity, who are meeting for the purpose of discussing the establishment of a cream route out of that place, similar to the route already in operation out of Ranger, and the one to be established into Cisco April 20. A plan of marketing the dairy products of that section also will be devised.

Wednesday morning Miss Ramey and Mr. Patterson attended the meeting of the boys' and girls' clubs at Brooks and Okra. Tuesday they attended the club meetings at Dethan, Mangum and Flatwoods. Wednesday afternoon Miss Ramey attended the session of the woman's club at Peak, where a cake making demonstration was given.

The county council will be held Saturday at Rising Star.

RANGER SENDS CAR TO BUNION DERBY ENTRANT

RANGER, April 12.—Plummer Lemley left Wednesday at noon for Oklahoma City, where he will deliver the car donated to Kenneth Campbell and Homer Shipp, by the Oil Belt Motor company, Ranger. The car is painted a battleship gray and carries painted signs on two sides and on the rear which read: "C. P. Fyler's Los Angeles to New York foot race." Kenneth Campbell, No. 169, from Ranger, Texas, on the Broadway of America. The motor of the car was worked over thoroughly and the car is equipped with six new tires.

Lemley arrived at Marietta, Oklahoma, last night and will reach Oklahoma City today. It is his intention, should he arrive at Oklahoma City in time, to meet Campbell and Shipp at the first control station out of that city.

RATLIFF'S PLEA FOR NEW TRIAL SET FOR FRIDAY

The court will hear the motion of defendant's counsel for a new trial for Marshall Ratliff, Friday at Abilene. Ratliff was convicted and given the death penalty for murder of Police Chief G. E. Bedford, who was slain during the raid on the First National bank in Cisco, December 23, 1927. The information was furnished by J. Lee Cearley, who with Judge Baker, of Coleman, is defending Ratliff.

The Cisco chamber of commerce, at a recent meeting, went on record as endorsing Cisco-made products. A movement has already gotten under way to create an interest among Cisco consumers to demand commodities manufactured at home. But those who have the matter in hand, will demand that Cisco consumers produce quality commodities. It was pointed out that an outside concern had practically driven local factories out of business by trucking in its wares into a neighboring town. The chamber of commerce directors do not think this would be possible in Cisco if Cisco consumers would manufacture a product as good or better than that which is shipped in.

Those appointed to look after the matter of home products will import home factories to turn out a superior commodity. The board of directors named W. K. Johnson, D. J. Moss and B. B. Longacre to confer with local manufacturers in an effort to induce them to improve the quality of their products, and when this is done it is believed there will be no demand in Cisco for commodities made elsewhere.

The Cisco creamery is now manufacturing only sweet cream butter, and the demand has been such that the output of this creamery has been considerably increased. Local grocers have signified their willingness to handle only Cisco Creamery butter if Cisco people will use Cisco grocers. The Cisco American and Roundup that grocers strive to please their customers, and while grocery merchants are as loyal to their home town as anyone else, still, the consumer is the final arbiter in the matter of loyalty. If the consumer demands Cisco-made products, Cisco grocers will carry these products in stock.

WIDENING PLAN ON BANKHEAD GETS SUPPORT

The chambers of commerce of three Eastland county cities, Cisco, Eastland and Ranger are aiding the plan to obtain the 100 foot right of way for the Bankhead highway through the county, which the state highway commission has agreed to widen three feet, with paving and concrete shoulders on each side, provided the county furnishes the right of way.

The right of way is now 60 feet wide, and the state commission wants a right of way through Eastland county 100 feet wide, agreeing to bear the cost of paving the road three feet wider and building the additional shoulders. It is recognized that the 100 foot right of way cannot be obtained through the cities, but if parking of automobiles in the center of the streets affected is abandoned, the state commission will be satisfied.

The plans were endorsed at a meeting of the three cities in Eastland Monday, with Harry Breleford, president of the Eastland chamber of commerce presiding, and County Judge Ed Pritchard detailing the plan of the state commission. Judge Pritchard said the highway commission expected to complete the work this year, and that the county court must have the full cooperation of the people living along the Bankhead, and that they would expect the chambers of commerce of Cisco, Eastland and Ranger to aid in every way possible if the offer of the highway commission was accepted. The right of way question must be taken up with property owners at once, he added, as the commission will expect a definite answer to its proposal by its meeting April 24.

American Legion in Texas Now Has 23,000 Members

AUSTIN, April 12.—Enrollment of legionnaires in Texas posts has passed the 23,000 mark. Ross Cole, state adjutant of the legion reported today.

The goal is 40,000 enrollment by June. "I am more confident now than ever that we will attain this mark," Cole said. "It is really up to us to do it, for along with our being hosts to the national convention this fall, it would prove embarrassing to fall down on our quota." Cole said.

100 DELEGATES AT MEETING OF W.M.J IN CISCO

More than a hundred delegates to eighth annual meeting of the thirteenth district of the Woman's Missionary union of the Baptist Women of Texas had registered up to noon today. The meeting is in session at the First Baptist church of Cisco. The program began Wednesday at 2 o'clock. The entire afternoon was devoted to the hearing of official reports on all the work fostered by the women. Following adjournment in the afternoon, the delegates were taken for a ride over the city directed by Mrs. R. Q. Lee. The night session was devoted to the work for the young people, the feature of which was the pageant entitled "Christ in America" which was presented by 55 of the young people of the First Baptist church.

The morning session today opened with a song service and devotional led by Mrs. W. E. Farris of Scranton. Mrs. R. Q. Lee, in her own pleasing way, brought greetings which were responded to by Mrs. Castleberry of Jacksonville. Other outstanding features of the morning were the addresses by the president, Mrs. Willis Higginbotham of Stephenville which was followed by addresses by the presidents of the four associations of the district as follows: Mrs. John Cook, Putnam; Mrs. H. L. Kite, Dublin; Mrs. S. J. Osborne, Breckenridge; and Mrs. Sidney Webb, Mineral Wells. After hearing a report on Buckner's orphan home by Mrs. C. R. Shilar of Breckenridge, the session adjourned for lunch which was spread in the spacious banquet room of the church.

Minor Corrections in Abstract Will Clear Way; Construction Company is Ready to Move In

CISCO C. OF C. WANTS A TRAIN IN AFTERNOON

The Cisco chamber of commerce is now negotiating with the Texas & Pacific railroad relative to a change in the passenger schedules so far as the arrival and departure of trains at Cisco is concerned. It is desired to have one of the east bound passenger trains to leave the Cisco station in the afternoon. At present none of the east bound trains pass through Cisco after the noon hour, but there are four trains going east between the hours of 2:40 and 11:50 in the mornings. The chamber of commerce is asking that No. 4, reaching Cisco at 11:50, following the Texas, due here at 9:53, be changed so as to leave Cisco for points east at 2:45, which would make connections with the Katy northbound No. 37, arriving here at 2:35 p. m., and the Cisco and Northeastern at 2:35 p. m.

HARLEY SADLER BASEBALL NINE BEATS LOBOES

The Cisco Lobos lost a baseball game to the Harley Sadler team Wednesday afternoon but it took the pitching skill of Holmes, left handed ace of the Harley Sadler team, who almost made the Beaumont, Texas, league team and was one of the last recruits released by that team to trim the Lobos. Holmes managed to hold the Lobos scoreless while his team was making four runs. The Lobos got men on the bases but could not hit in the pinches. Two different times the Lobos filled the bases and each time Holmes fanned the batter.

BABY CONTEST INTERESTING CISCO PEOPLE

The baby contest being held by the Walton studio is due to close next Saturday, and many parents are taking advantage of this opportunity to secure pictures of their little ones. O. R. Walton said this morning. About fifty baby pictures have already been made of the 100 desired for the contest, it is reported. These will be exhibited in the show windows at John H. Garner's store, previous to and after the contest closes, each bearing a number, but the names of the babies will be omitted. Three disinterested out of town men will act as the judges, and prizes will be awarded according to the judges' decision.

In a telephone conversation between W. C. Witt, president of the Cisco Hotel company, and Secretary Peters, of the Cisco chamber of commerce, late Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Witt said the abstract for the new hotel site had been passed by the attorneys for the hotel company, and the attorneys for the company financing the hotel, with the exception of a few minor objections, easy to be cured. He said the abstracts, with the objections cited, were being returned to Cisco today for correction. Mr. Witt further stated he would arrive in Cisco the latter part of the week, and that everything is in readiness to begin construction on the hotel as soon as the abstract is corrected. Mr. Brown, construction superintendent, was in Cisco Wednesday, and stated that the Bellows & McCloy Construction company was ready to move in material for the construction of the hotel just as soon as word was received from Dallas.

BALLINGER AND LOBO ELEVENS CLASH FRIDAY

The Cisco Lobos will play the second spring football game Friday afternoon in Ballinger with the Ballinger high school team. Ballinger had one of the strongest teams in their Class B district last season. They have a large, heavy team and are coached by E. D. Wright, former Howard Payne college star.

The Lobos will not be able to collect a very strong team since the district track meet is Saturday and several men who played in the district meet will be needed in the district meet. The following men are making the trip: Pinkerton, Latson, Wagnon, McCanlies, Condit, Pratt, Christian, Bennie, W. Stockard, R. Turkinett, Jacobs, Lankford, Coldwell, G. Swink, C. Stockard, C. THE INVADING EARWIG

The earwig is pestering the Pacific coast from Canada to California and the end is not yet it is feared. "I dread to think what the future holds for us," S. F. Coyne, consulting entomologist at Seattle, writes. Mr. Coyne says that a friend killed 12,000 earwigs in thirty days on one side of his house without apparently diminishing the supply.

One man reports: "Literally thousands and thousands of these bugs inhabited my premises last summer. They made it almost impossible to live in my home; they inhabited the sleeping porch till we had to leave it. They work mostly at night but in daytime may be found in kitchen drawers and often burrow an inch into a loaf of bread. They crawl over ceilings at night and drop on the bed, or inhabit themselves in a person's clothing during the night, and while their bite has never proved serious it is entirely uncomfortable."

The earwig is a reddish brown bug about three-quarters of an inch long, with a pair of pincers on its hind end. It is of prehistoric origin. Its fossil remains indicate that it antedates man. It is mentioned in a number of ancient languages. Contrary to superstition it does not bother folks' ears.

Like a lot of other undesirables, the earwig is an emigrant from Europe. It made its appearance insignificantly in Oregon in 1909; by 1923 it had spread from Vancouver, B. C., to Berkeley, California. Portland alone, it is said, had eight hundred blocks infested. So far the earwig has shown a preference for urban life. The bug does not fly, or travel far on its own, but conceals itself between the pages of newspapers, in the petals of flowers, in the cushions of automobiles, in heads of cabbages, etc., and is distributed unwittingly by human beings.

The earwig is fond of everything in the larder—which it swarms over at night. As a carrier of filth and disease the earwig outranks the cockroach for it covers more territory. Practically everything raised in the garden is subject to its ravages, and there are instances where every apple on a tree contained an earwig. Heads of lettuce have been found so infested as to be unfit for shipment. They so get into roses and other flowers that offer concealment, a friend tells us, that one cannot bring them into the house or wear them. In the evenings earwigs come up onto the porches in such large numbers that sensitive persons prefer to stay inside. In the mornings the bugs may be found by handfuls under cushions left out.

The 1927 report of the Oregon state board of horticulture says of the earwig: "Its persistence in gaining entrance to a house baffles most housewives. Once in, no part of the house and no article in the house escapes its visitation. It overruns the pantry and linen closet. It takes refuge under the carpet, beneath the rugs, in the upholstery of the furniture, and in various other fabrics. The housewife turns back the coverlet at night to find earwigs concealed between the sheets. Next morning she shakes the insects from her shoes and underclothing. She raises the window sash and opens the screen door, and scores dart in. Thickly packed between sill and sash, or in the cracks around the door, they have waited several hours for that golden opportunity. Newly washed sheets left on the clothesline over night are found to have been perforated along the line of contact between the folds and the wire. In districts where earwigs are abundant, apartment house owners complain of inability to keep their premises rented."

You folks who have been kicking about fleas and mosquitos and houseflies, consider the Pacific coast's earwigs and give thanks.

CHILDREN AND NATURE

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" isn't read very much any more. Yet the child in that story and Frances Hodgson Burnett, its author, are both so dearly loved by many Americans that their memory is deemed worthy of a lovely tribute to be placed in the Children's Garden in Central Park in New York. This is a memorial fountain and bird bath. It will be set in an oval enclosure surrounded with shrubs and flowers as birds most enjoy. Within this charmed spot will be the bird-bath fountain group in bronze. Two children, a boy playing a reed pipe and a girl holding a bowl of clear water, will be the central figures. They will be of bronze. Real birds that splash and preen and drink will add to the loveliness of the picture. To complete the scene, there will be real children, too, who will stand hushed and with sparkling eyes to watch the birds. This spot is set apart for nature study and for story-telling to little groups of children. Public parks offer space for romping and frolicking in the sunshine. They should also have sheltered nooks as this, where children may experience the quiet and peace and beauty of nature.

LITTLE TREES

Evergreens have become tremendously popular the last few years. The commercial nurseries are hardly able to keep up with the demand. Every new house owner feels that he has to have at least a few cedars, pines, rhododendrons, etc., to drape around the house, and owners of long standing yield to the current fashion. It may be merely a fad, but it is a beautiful one, worth perpetuating. Naturally, when there is such a demand, evergreens are expensive. A certain citizen, however, possessing an unusual love for evergreens and not able to afford half as many as he wants, has installed a little private nursery of his own. Every spring he buys from some good nursery two or three dozen little evergreens, "mail order size," which are inexpensive and do not occupy much room anywhere. He sets them out in a favorable spot, as if they were so many perennial flowers, and watches them grow. As they gain growth, he sets them around the place wherever they fit in. Little by little, in the course of a few years, he is developing a beautiful yard, filled with evergreens of many kinds, every one of which he knows personally, and all of which have cost him no more than his smoking tobacco. It is worth the cost and trouble, he says, to have the fun of shifting and arranging those little trees around the yard as a woman moves her furniture.

HIGHWAYS OF PEACE

Legislation is proposed in congress which would create a national highway fund of $407,341,145 from the money obtained from maturation of bonds accepted from France as payment for surplus war material, highway equipment and supplies. This money would be distributed to the various states and such states would not be required to contribute more than 20 per cent of cost of highways so constructed. Good national highways in conjunction with county roads, are one of the nation's greatest assets. They bring the states closer together and make agreements easier on national problems. Using money from sales of surplus war material to build highways of peace is a worthy project.

ABIENE TO JOIN FETE AT THROCKMORTON MAY 4

ABIENE, April 12.—This city will be represented at Throckmorton May 4 at the celebration to be staged there in connection with the completion of the Cisco & Northern railway's extension into that city. Arrangements for the delegation are in charge of the Goodwill committee of the local chamber of commerce. At least 200 business men of the city will be in the group that will leave here early enough on the morning of the affair to reach Throckmorton in time for the initial festivities of the day. The trip will be made by automobiles and the entire Abilene contingent will go in a body.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY TO HAVE SMALL NEW EXTENSION

LONDON, April 12.—For the first time in two centuries, an extension to Westminster Abbey is to be built. Preparations are now under way for the project, and actual construction work is to be started in the near future. The extension is to be a Gothic building, which will be erected on the grass plot lying between St. Margaret's church and the sanctuary of the Abbey. The new building will be used as a sacristy—a small chamber or vestry where sacred utensils and vestments are kept. Few people realize that the Abbey, the most famous church in the British Empire, at present has no sacristy whatever.

1928 Development Plans in Texas Total $100,000,000

Highway, Water Conservation, Railroad Extensions, Pipe Lines and Bus Transportation Included

AUSTIN, April 12.—More than $100,000,000 will be spent in Texas for improvements during 1928, state officials estimate. Aside from highway building projects, water conservation leads the list of developments projected for the year, with a total of $33,000,000 to be spent. With the adjustment of the Colorado river dispute, a huge power program above Austin is being planned by the Inland interests, involving the building of six dams, which will cost a total of $1,900,000.

arrant county will begin work this year on its $6,500,000 lake project, building two dams to impound water in two lakes. The contents of which will be used for domestic and industrial purposes in the city, place, and for irrigation and power second.

Brownwood will utilize the waters of Jim Ned creek and Pecan Bayou, by which it is expected to irrigate 100,000 acres, and furnish Brownwood with an ample water supply. Work will begin this year. San Angelo is working on a similar plan of about the same size at Brownwood. Applications from many sections of West Texas have been coming in to John A. Norris, chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers, and many of them will get under way this year.

Highway construction for the year totals $45,000,000 federal and state aid projects accounting for $30,000,000 of this. The other $15,000,000 is being devoted to exclusive county projects. So far this year the state has let contracts for $5,000,000 in new work, and have more in sight, including $75,000 for widening the Bandhead highway through Eastland county.

Railroads are planning to spend $10,000,000 on extensions and new roads, one of which is the proposed Texas-New Mexico line from Monahans and through the Winkler county oil fields, which is certain to go through. The San Angelo-San Antonio line is expected to apply within a few weeks to the interstate commerce commission for permission to build, as the financing is about complete.

No industry under state regulation and of statewide scope has made such rapid strides as the motor bus. Only this week new lines approved by the Railroad commission will add an investment of about $2,000,000 to that business.

The Humble Pipe Line company is making additions and extensions to Aransas Pass and to Port Aransas which will cost about $3,000,000, although the company will not extend the line across Mustang Island and two miles into the gulf as first proposed. The Roxana company, a subsidiary of the Dutch Shell, is building a pipe line from the West Texas fields, this being one of the longest in Texas.

That brings the total proposed and under way improvements of these industries to $107,000,000, and the figure is conservative. Smaller projects might be added, such as irrigation and power projects of lesser size; short distance pipe lines and railroad maintenance improvements, and these likely would add $25,000,000 to the grand total.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other ailments of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, neuritis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building the system after colds or flu. It is funded if any cough or cold is not after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

High School Girl Wins Regular Job on Baseball Team

GRISWOLD, Iowa, April 12.—Baseball players on the high school team here are to have a girl for a teammate this year, and from her early showing at bat she will be an important cog in the team.

The young lady is Miss Alice Buckman, a junior. When the school team started spring practice she secured permission from the school authorities to try out along with the boys. So well did she play her position in right field that she has replaced last year's regular. At bat she is faster than most of the boys.

New French Law Kills Radio Use By All Politicians

PARIS, France, April 12.—Clandestine broadcasting stations which diffuse political propaganda must go with the voting of a bill by the chamber of deputies 400 to 20 that there were only two legal broadcasting stations in France.

Premier Poincare charged that the Communist party had been using a secret station for broadcasting speeches made by members of their party. The bill as passed is a temporary one giving all private stations a chance to dismantle before July next at which time the chamber engages itself to prepare a new bill.

NOSE PRINTS OF DOGS BEING TAKEN BY CHICAGO EXPERT

CHICAGO, April 12.—Society matrons of Chicago are taking their pets to the veterinarians to have their noses registered. The dog's nose is smeared with black ink shined on the register and there appears nose-lines which when recorded act the same as the methemoglobin of recording the fingerprints of criminals.

A prominent dog expert of Chicago revealed that lines in a dog's nose never change from the time it is 48 hours old to death except for an enlargement. The whorls of the lines distinguish one dog from another.

CLUB PAYING BOUNTIES FOR WOLF SCALPS

BAIRD, April 12.—At the last meeting of the Callahan County Wolf club it was voted that the board of directors to begin paying bounties as of April 1 to any one trapping wolves in Callahan county. The committee that had been working, reported on the amount of money they had raised, which amounted to around $500, collected and pledged. The finances of the club are raised by the land owners or those who control land contributing the amount of one cent per acre on the land that they own or control. There is nothing compulsory about this, but it is the people of the county cooperating to rid the county of the wolves. This is to be done by trapping. Some have asked, if poison will be distributed, but this is regulated by the state law and is prohibited. No organization of this nature is allowed to distribute poison baits for the control or eradication of these animals. Every one owning or controlling land has the privilege of refusing any one the privilege of trapping on his land.

While these funds raised are not yet sufficient to carry on the work for any long period of time, they are sufficient to start, and the committee will continue to work and get more money. When you pay the cent an acre, you are paid up for one year and will have done your part toward getting rid of the wolves of the county. A cent an acre is a small amount and the club hopes that every one will come in and help put the drive over successfully.

The next meeting of the club will be held Saturday, April 14, at 3 p. m. at Baird and every one is invited to attend.

CALLAHAN COUNTY CASE REVERSED AND REMANDED

Moseley was arrested near Cottonwood while officers were engaged in the man-hunt for the robbers of the Ocala bank in Taylor county, May 14, 1927, Cearley said.

Congress to End First Session May 19; Early Adjournment Agreed on By Leaders of Both Parties

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 12. — Although a month's legislative program awaits enactment, party leaders have begun preparation for adjournment of the first session of the seventieth congress on May 19.

This would send congress home three weeks in advance of the Republican national convention at Kansas City. The date was fixed tentatively at the instance of Republican leaders who held that three weeks was a very brief period in which to complete their plans for the "free-for-all" contest likely to ensue at Kansas City in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Democratic leaders appeared willing to abide by the Republican decision. First, the minority spokesmen held that in a nominal Republican congress, the Republican leaders should set the date of adjournment, and second, they felt an early adjournment would tend to help the Democratic cause because the Republican party would be held responsible for rail legislation enacted.

Politics Hold Spotlight
The opinion prevailed that in the six weeks remaining before the potential adjournment, politics would play a predominant role.

Leaders of both parties privately expressed the belief that little legislation of a major character would be enacted, aside from the flood control and farm relief bills. If a greater program is to be enacted, it is certain that both house and senate will have to speed up their legislative wheels.

With six weeks of work ahead, the legislative situation is as follows:

The house: McNary-Haugen bill, Boulder dam bill, Jones' merchant marine, flood relief and Muscle Shoals bills on calendar. St. Lawrence waterway, Columbia river basin and Welch salary increase bills in committee. Has enacted the tax reduction, new navy, and postal rate decrease bills.

The senate: McNary-Haugen bill under debate. Boulder dam bill on calendar. Tax bill, new navy, postal decrease, St. Lawrence waterway and Columbia basin bills in committee. Has enacted flood relief, Muscle Shoals and Jones' merchant marine bills.

Seven Major Bills to Pass
Seven major pieces of legislation appeared favorable for enactment before adjournment. These are the flood relief, flood control, Boulder dam, taxation, Jones' merchant marine, new navy and postal rate decrease bills. Their favored positions came from the fact that they have passed one branch of congress or else appear at the top of the legislative calendars in both branches.

With adjournment but six weeks away, however, all or any of these bills could be defeated by filibustering tactics. A presidential veto undoubtedly would kill any or all of them, and administration leaders will have predicted the president will use his veto freely.

Railway to Red Sea Planned to Revive Old Port

JERUSALEM, April 12.—Construction of a railway line between Maan and Akaba, the Red Sea port, is being considered by an "important company," according to the official organ of the Transjordan government.

Akaba is the ancient Israelitish port called "Ezion Gaber" in testament times. The railway connecting this port with Transjordan may revive the ancient port, giving Transjordan an outlet to the sea.

Any line laid between Maan and Akaba would be a continuation of the Hedjaz railway carrying Moslem pilgrims to Mecca and Medina, reopened by the Palestine railways more than six years ago.

Progressive West Texan Lives At Home; Early Days Recalled of Pioneer West Texas Doctor

ROBY, April 12.—I am planting 60 acres in corn and maize and 175 acres in cotton this year," said Clara Davis of Roby, Fisher county. "I am doing all the work with mules, as they are much better suited to my purpose and as I raise all my feed I find that they are much cheaper to operate."

Inquiry elicited the fact that Mr. Davis is now feeding grain he has had stored for two years. His mammoth barn is full and the amount on hand would run him for two or four years if he did not make a feed crop. However, he is one of the many farmers that make crops when all others around him fail; in fact, on some of his land last year he first produced a fair oat crop and then planted the land to cotton.

"My mother raises chickens," he said, when asked about poultry. "You see, I still live at home with my parents. She has averaged 300 chickens a year for 30 years, and will do the same thing this year. Right now she is gathering from her 100 hens which she saved for laying purposes, more than 70 eggs per day."

And Mrs. Davis raises the 300 chickens every year. She is inclined to Pimouth Rocks, and these stately birds can be seen roaming over the place. She does much of her own hatching with hens. But this year she has depended on a large incubator for a part of her stock.

"Davis' Are Pioneers" in speaking of the family's long residence at Roby, and of his father and mother coming to West Texas, Mr. Davis said: "My mother came to West Texas in 1854. She was then Miss Nellie Hinton, and her father was John Hinton, a man whose name was connected with much of the early history of West Texas. That year the Hinton outfit drove 10,000 head of cattle into the shinnery and hills near where now stands Truby, and there they remained through the winter, moving in 1855 to the mouth of Cottonwood creek where permanent headquarters were established.

"It was at this time that W. H. Chapman, our present district judge, worked for the Hinton as a cowboy. "In 1857 my father came to West Texas and located at Roby, where he commenced to practice medicine. Eventually he was called to the Hinton headquarters, and on one of the trips he met my mother. They were married in 1859, moving to the site of our present home in 1862, and since have resided there.

"My father tells some stirring tales of the west in those days. His practice extended to the north as far as the Pursey ranch, 15 miles beyond Jayton, west to Snyder, south to Colorado City, and east to Anson and sometimes farther. "The Davis' are numbered among the pioneers of this section of the state and Dr. and Mrs. Davis have played a prominent part in the building of West Texas. The hardships they had to undergo can well be imagined when it is remembered that West Texas in those days was nothing but a cattle country, and that one could travel for days without coming in contact with a fence or seeing another traveler. However, the doctor and his wife struggled through, they raised a family of four children, two boys and two girls who live in this immediate vicinity. "My father was born in 1861, and is now 67 years old," continued

Mr. Davis, "but is still practicing, and drives his own car. He still loves to ride horseback, and is one of the most graceful riders you ever saw. Mother was born in 1869, and is now 59 years old, but she owns and drives her own car, raises her chickens and looks after the place.

"My father now owns something like 630 acres of land in less than one mile of the court house at Roby and this land has been accumulated over a period of years, for he had faith in West Texas from the first time he came here."

ROCK SPRINGS GOATS KILLED BY LATE COLD

ROCK SPRINGS, April 12.—Between 2,500 and 3,000 goats were frozen to death here in the week end north, according to an estimate prepared today by Len Clark, president of the Edwards county chamber of commerce, who is a rancher and stock man.

The animals frozen were chiefly the late clip which had not had time to grow a protective covering. There are approximately 300,000 head of goats in the county. Little other damage was done, according to Mr. Clark, the moisture accompanying the northern helping crops considerably. Two inches of snow accompanied the northern.

PERSONS LIVING TOGETHER GROW LIKE EACH OTHER

CHICAGO, April 12.—Persons who live together for many years grow to resemble one another, Professor Frank M. Freeman of the University of Chicago told a conference of the Child Welfare League here. This is especially true of children, the professor said. He claimed that orphans, adopted by a family, in time begin to resemble facially their foster parents. Inversely brothers and sisters who live close to retain individual characteristics become separated early in life cease to resemble one another.

"Intelligence is not hereditary," Professor Freeman contended. "In instances where orphans have been placed in homes of intelligence, their own intelligence begins to improve whereas if they had been placed in homes where the intelligence was meager, they would improve only slowly."

NEW MAGNETIC PENCIL REMOVES SLIVERS EASILY

CHICAGO, April 12.—A magnetic pencil which a physician can carry in his pocket, capable of removing steel particles embedded in the flesh, has been developed by Chicago scientists. Members of the staff of the Western Electric company, realizing the possibilities in such an instrument, gradually perfected the pencil. It is extremely useful in optical surgery. The device is composed of cobalt steel which produces a magnet two and one-half times as powerful as one of ingot steel without an increase in bulk. The pencil is the same size as an ordinary lead pencil.

Chained to Chair by Rheumatic Pains--Little Green Capsules Frees Him From Agony

Often In 5 Days Even Tenderness Is Gone Says Moore-Shepard Drug Company.

Men and women who were bent nearly double—whose joints were swollen and inflamed—whose very existence was just one continuous torturing trial have watched with wonder their return to physical fitness and felt the glorious relief of a body free from aches and pains simply by putting their faith in the "little green capsules" known from coast to coast as Allenbur's Number 2.

after the swelling and the pain in the right way—the knock-out way. One little capsule an hour for the first 10 hours; then continue as directed until every little twinge and every bit of tenderness is gone.

Just ask for Allenbur's Number 2—Substitutes and imitations may be offered you but remember it's the "little green capsule" that is turning the trick and bringing joy to thousands of Rheumatic sufferers, so insist on Allenbur's No. 2. Moore-Shepard Drug Co. or any reputable druggist in America will be glad to supply you.

"Padlock Law" Put on Theaters That Show Love Scenes

WARSAW, April 12.—The authorities of this city have invoked the aid of a "padlock law" to prevent further demoralization of children by promiscuous love scenes in the movies.

A new decree forbids all persons under 17 years of age to attend cinemas where emotional love scenes with kissing are shown. The educational authorities think that pictures of this type tend to corrupt the morals of youth, and any theater transgressing the order by allowing children admittance will be padlocked.

SHIPMENTS TO DATE WILL NET FARMERS $21,500

The Cisco Cooperative Marketing association is preparing to make the largest livestock shipment in the history of the association, when five cars of live stock will be shipped out from the Texas & Pacific stock pens here Tuesday, April 17, said R. Lee Poe, who has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the association. One car of cattle of 45 head, and four cars of hogs, 331 head, will be included in this shipment. The livestock already listed in this consignment will be contributed by farmers who ship through the Cisco Cooperative association, which is now recognized as a going concern. The association now includes the farmers living some distance below Carbon on the east, to Putnam on the west, near Rising Star on the south, to Gunsight, on the north, including those living in the Cisco country.

The association has been a source of material financial importance to its members. The net receipts for 1928 from livestock shipments have already amounted to $21,500—over $7,000 per month, Mr. Poe concluded.

Central, West Texas Ministers Vote Unanimously to Adopt Bond Plan to Help Randolph College

Central and West Texas Christian church ministers were guests at a luncheon at Randolph college Tuesday. The dining hall was beautifully decorated, the luncheon table being in the shape of a cross, carrying out the thought of Easter. Wild flowers adorned the tables and Randolph college orchestra furnished music throughout the luncheon.

The conference held following the luncheon was a most enthusiastic one, and these present feel that it will mean much toward the future of Randolph college. The ministers present voted unanimously to adopt the bond plan of raising money to take care of the current expenses of Randolph college, each church represented promising to take a bond.

Virtually every minister present also offered to give sometime to presenting this plan to neighboring churches that were not represented at this meeting, stating that they were not only unanimously adopting the plan, but that they meant to put it over in a big way.

Randolph college is indebted to the Cisco chamber of commerce for taking care of the expenses of the ministers to and from this meeting. The importance of a junior college was stressed in addresses by President T. T. Roberts, Rev. Randolph Clark, R. H. Holloway, Rev. S. J. Shuttlesworth and Rev. A. G. Abbott. Altogether it was a wonderful meeting and these attending feel that Randolph college has taken on new life, and will make real progress in the future with such loyal support.

The following were present at the luncheon: Rev. J. S. Mullen, Childress; Rev. James Todd, Jr., Pampa; Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Boultinghouse, Borger; Rev. F. W. Reynolds, Albany; Rev. A. R. Caudle, Benjamin; Rev. Claude Wingo, Big Spring; Rev. S. J. Shuttlesworth, Breckenridge; Rev. G. R. Forrester, Haskell; Rev. I. J. Sparks, Snyder; Rev. A. G. Abbott, Spur; Rev. M. B. ### THOUSAND PEOPLE LIVE IN UNDERGROUND CITY

BUDAPEST, April 12.—More than a thousand people are still living in the underground city of Budapest, not far from here, in caverns built beneath a cemetery. The caves were resorted to as far back as the year 1838 during a bad flood in the region. Since the stone is soft and chalk like it was easy to carve furniture as well as little homes which, it is said, are very warm in winter and the contrary in summer.

The mayor of this little community inhabits the "higher regions," living on top of the caves. The infant mortality rate is rather high but unusual longevity is the rule among the adults. The principal industry is the culture of mushrooms in the underground city.

SEPARATE COATS SHOWN IN SEVERAL VARIETIES

PARIS, Apr. 12.—The separate spring coat is of such infinite variety and irresistible charm that every woman will be glad she is obliged to live in one a good share of the time.

There is no standard coat line. Coat silhouettes vary as much as the frocks which are worn beneath them. There are long coats and short ones; medium-length coats and coats that are no more than little coats. Some of them flare from the shoulders and some of them from the waistline. Some of them have big sleeves and some of them have tight ones.

The straight-line coat is a short cut to chic. It is distinguished invariably by extremely simple but highly effective trimming consisting of bands, lines of stitching, tufts of geometrical enrustations of self-material. While very straight it is not very narrow, and although not luxurious in appearance because of the absence of fur, it is very distinctive, which is really a more significant and to-be-desired quality.

The short coat, scarcely more than a jacket, is usually lighter in shade than the frock it accompanies. It comes in tush-kasha, tussor and soft woollens. Three-quarter coats show more of the frock than the longer ones and make pleasant ensembles. One from Champecommunal has huge patch pockets at the sides emphasizing the flare of the coat.

Four-Year Vigorous Search in Europe For James O'Neil, Hiding Witness in Sinclair Teapot Dome Case, Dropped

PARIS, France, April 12.—Despite a four-year vigorous search throughout Europe for James E. O'Neil, missing witness in the Teapot Dome oil investigation and the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair, the elusive American still was missing in his unknown hiding place, when the Sinclair trial opened Monday in Washington.

Every clue to O'Neil's whereabouts has been exhausted. Continental Europe has been subjected to a fine tooth search, ships, railway stations and hotels have been watched. O'Neil's villa at Cannes has been under continuous surveillance.

In view of the American's ability to elude the army of professional and amateur sleuths in Europe, a belief has gained ground in some quarters that O'Neil may have returned to America in disguise, although this would be difficult owing to passport complications. However, it is pointed out that, as the search was concentrated upon Europe, O'Neil might have been able to slip away and get to the United States, where, it is understood, little effort has been made to trail him.

The beginning of the Sinclair trial marked the end of the search for O'Neil in Europe. However, the American is expected to remain in hiding until the trial is over. Some of his friends believe he may turn up in the United States or South America.

WEEVILS BELIEVED DEAD IN OKLAHOMA

STILLWATER, Okla., April 12.—Belief that relatively few boll weevils survived the winter in Oklahoma despite the heavy infestation last year, was expressed Wednesday by Professor C. E. Sanborn, state entomologist, connected with the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Of 5,025 weevils planted last October in cages in various parts of the state, only two were alive when Sanborn made an inspection recently. These two were located in a cavern cage, hardly typical of field conditions, on the college farm.

Weevils exposed to a temperature of 10 degrees cannot survive many hours, Sanborn said, expressing the belief that the only cotton pests wintering through were in sheltered places, such as caverns, hollow trees or stumps, gins, seed bins and hay and feed racks.

SCRANTON

Several of the Scranton people attended the wolf and fox association on the John Cunningham ranch north of Putnam Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. McCarver and Mrs. Willie Jobe and Mrs. Pura Gattis gave their Sunday school classes an Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon. Very few children were there on account of bad weather and sickness. There was a prize given to the one who found the most eggs in each class. Mary Lee McCarver of Mrs. Gattis' class, James Robert Morgan of Mrs. Jobe's class and Lena Helen Ray of Mrs. McCarver's class were the winners.

Miss Bivis Reynolds of Baird spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reynolds.

Arthur Lee Gattis gave his Sunday school class an Easter entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sprawl. The guests met about 6:30 o'clock and had an Easter egg hunt and then returned to the house where they enjoyed many interesting games, after which refreshments were served.

Several of the Scranton people attended the program at Zion Hill Friday night.

The Scranton Homemakers' Demonstration club met Thursday. Miss Ruth Ramey gave a demonstration on cake making.

Mrs. Patricia Luce, pioneer resident of Cisco, soon will lie beside her late husband, J. E. Luce, in the cemetery at Coleraine, Pennsylvania, where her body was shipped after the funeral here yesterday morning. The body was accompanied East by her nephew, L. H. Jackson.

Mrs. Luce, who was nearing her 90th birthday, became ill last week, and her nephew was called here Sunday owing to her seriousness illness. The end came in the old home of the Luce family, corner E avenue and West Ninth street, at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. The funeral was held at the Church of God, Avenue F and West Eleventh street, with Rev. J. A. Batdorf, pastor, conducting the ceremony.

Mrs. Luce was born July 10, 1938, and came to Cisco with her husband many years ago, the couple being among the early inhabitants of this city, where they were well known by all the earlier citizens. The two had lived at the present Luce homestead since their arrival, until the death of Mr. Luce August 17, 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. Luce were childless, but were survived by several nieces and nephews, including Mr. Jackson, who lives at Bartville, Penn., and Mrs. Gladys Whitman and Howard Hanahan, both of whom live in Cisco. Other nieces and nephews live in other states, and are not known here.

Luxurious Island Estate Off Southern Georgia Offered As Summer White House for Coolidge

WASHINGTON, April 12.—One of the most luxurious country estates in America will become the Summer White House if President Coolidge accepts the invitation of the City of Savannah to spend his vacation in southern Georgia. In an effort to bring the president to the heart of the old South for the summer the estate of Howard Coffin, Detroit and Savannah millionaire, on an island off the Southern Georgia coast has been offered. Situated on an island three miles wide and nine miles long this estate offers remarkable facilities for riding, golfing, hunting and fishing.

In the game preserves are hundreds of deer and birds. Private fishing grounds where may be captured both salt and fresh water fish are found on the island and vicinity.

An Old Tradition
There is an old tradition in the south which requires the carrying out of a curious rite in connection with deer hunting. Should the hunter get his first deer it is traditional that his face and clothing must be smeared with its blood. If he misses his first show the hunter must suffer the humiliation of having his shirt tail cut off.

Whether, should the president decide to summer off the Georgia coast, he would carry out this old and honored rite was a question his prospective Savannah hosts said must be decided by no other than the White House spokesman himself.

Another island estate offered is that of Henry Walthour, a Savannah millionaire, which offers virtually as elaborate facilities as the Coffin place.

Either estate, the president was informed recently by a delegation of Savannah citizens, offers a deep water landing place for the Mayflower, the presidential yacht. Savannah also is prepared to furnish the president with a seagoing yacht, sufficiently large to permit cruising in West Indian waters.

Elaborate facilities were offered to the newspaper correspondents, photographers and others who will accompany the president on his summer vacation.

All except the president's immediate family and staff would be quartered on the mainland, several miles from the island, in large hotels.

Collectors of customs M. O. Dunning of Savannah, one of those who tendered the invitation, said that the press would be furnished with a number of seaplanes and speed boats to commute to the White House and that the newspaper correspondents would have the use of a sea-going yacht.

Savannah citizens planned to furnish the White House with temperature charts to show that even in mid-summer mild weather is maintained on the islands, as a result chiefly of the Trade Winds, blowing across the sea at this point. This vicinity is free from hay-fever, according to Public Health authorities.

Twenty Thousand Acre Ranch to Have Fifteen Miles of Highway Through Pastures to Cherokee

SAN SABA, April 12.—Ira G. Yates of San Angelo, who has added by recent purchases an additional two thousand acres to his 22,000 thousand acre San Saba county ranch, is going forward with improvements, as to the value of which no estimate is available at this time. The construction of 15 miles of first class highway from the ranch headquarters through the pastures, to intersect the Pecan Belt highway at Cherokee, is one of the projects now under headway. An eight section deer park and game preserve, surrounded by an eight-foot net wire fence is to be completed at an early date. The ranch home has been completely remodeled; this is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Mack H. Yates. Concrete dams across a spring creek near the ranch home, are being built in order to create a reservoir to hold water for the irrigation of the farm, fruit and pecan orchards surrounding the headquarters house. Cement watering troughs are being placed all over the pastures belonging to the property. One hundred and five miles of fencing, clearing the right of way for the fence, and the cutting of cedar posts from the native cedar brakes on the property, is under way and two hundred men are employed by Mark E. Fairman, local contractor, in putting over this work. A $15,000 shipment of cedar posts from the Yates ranch has recently been sent to a large cattle company in Arizona, for fence building.

Mr. Yates has under contemplation the erection of a handsome modern ranch home here and altogether, when completed the improvements on this property will, perhaps, constitute the most modern ranch equipment in Texas.

NEW VARIETY COTTON SEED TO BE TRIED

GORMAN, April 12.—Ben F. Reed, one of the progressive farmers of the Gorman section, will try out a new variety of cotton seed this year, which he proposes to give a thorough trial. It is the Delfos cotton, a variety that has been grown successfully for several years in the Mississippi valley and will be an ideal cotton for this country, it is claimed. It has a small leaf and they are scattered on the stalk, making it ideal as a cotton to resist the boll weevil as the sun can get to the earth. It has a heavy root system, aiding in its drought-resisting qualities as it can get plenty of moisture if there is any in the ground. Among the other good qualities also is its early maturity and the longer staple it gives over the kind now being raised in this section. It has small bolls that will mature in a very short time and it is hoped that it will be the real answer to the needs of the cotton farmer of this section.

"BOOGER RED" PLANNING EASTLAND RODEO-RACES

EASTLAND, April 12.—Will Laird, known throughout this section as "Bugger Red, Jr." is building a permanent race track and rodeo grounds at Eastland, which will be dedicated with a rodeo and race program on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 26, 27 and 28. Laird proposes to charge an entrance fee for each horse entering a race, the winning horse to take the purse. He is receiving communications from over the country advising him that many horses are to be entered for his opening program. For the rodeo events Laird invites the public to bring or send him their "outlaw" horses to be ridden. They will be taken care of and there will be no charges for riding them, he says. A half-mile straight-away track for horses is being completed. Corals and chutes for wild and "outlaw" horses have been built.

GEM STORE DUST NETS $20,000 IN GOLD TO OWNER

CHICAGO, Ill., April 12.—A gold and platinum "mine" in the heart of the Chicago loop has been discovered, it became known here, and will yield between $18,000 and $20,000 to its finder, William F. Juergens, Sr.

Juergens and Anderson company, manufacturing jewelers, moved from an office building on north State street, to the Pittsfield building.

Before they moved, the jewelers tore up the wooden floor which they had installed years before in their old quarters. Under the old floor they found a thirty year accumulation of gold and platinum dust.

The precious metals were mixed with the dust and dirt that had gathered beneath the floor. Juergens and Anderson gathered up the dust in the "mine" and sent it to be refined and reclaimed.

NO interior finish is quite so popular as white enamel! You see it everywhere: in smart homes, hotels, shops, clubs.

Ask the housewife what kind of white enamel she prefers on woodwork and furniture. She will answer, "One that is beautiful, washable, permanently white." By that she means Cook's Armorcote Enamel!

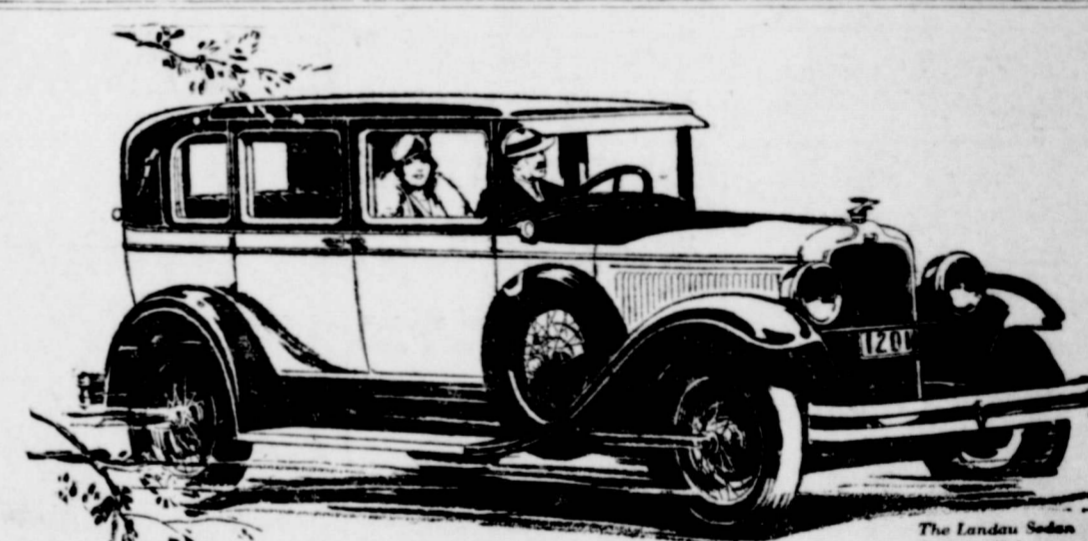

Ask the professional painter what kind of enamel he prefers and he will say, "One that is easy to work and that covers well. One that gives a hard, shiny, porcelain-like finish, so good that it will wear for at least three years exposed to the weather... a lifetime inside! One that makes property owners say, 'What a splendid job of finishing!'" By that the painter means Cook's Armorcote Enamel!

Should your decorator be ultra-modern, he will want to use a quick-drying, lacquer-type finish that has no bad odors and that absolutely will not "lift" or "peel." By that he means Cook's Armorcote Lacquer!

We shall be glad to show you color cards and explain the method of application.

Will Schluter, 25, employed on the farm of Charles Phippen, no far from the farm home of R. N. Jackson, is held in the Eastland county jail on a complaint charging him with killing the eight members of Jackson's family last Saturday night.

The complaint was sworn to by T. G. Jackson, brother of the deceased and county attorney of Crane county. The complaint was not made public until Wednesday. The brother came to Eastland county for the funeral of the Jackson family, Saturday, when the bodies of the father, mother and six daughters were buried in a single casket at Pugh.

Schluter, who had told the authorities investigating the fire Friday night that he had left the Jackson home at 9:30, has made no attempt to get bond. He told the authorities that he chatted for some time with the family of Charles Phippen before going to bed. The alarm that the Jackson home was burning was spread at 10:30 when Schluter was in bed at the Phippen home, according to his story. Phippen's impression was that Schluter had returned home at 9 o'clock, he told the officers when they arrived after the fire.

The bodies of Jackson, his wife, and five of their daughters were so nearly destroyed by the flames that it was impossible to determine how they had met their death, but the throat of the other child, Gladys, 10 years old, clearly had been cut. Only part of the skull of one of the twins, who were 14 months old, was found, but it was thought that it might have been crushed by a falling timber.

District Attorney J. Frank Sparks, however, continued the investigation, acting on the theory that the assailant who had cut the girl's throat, had also slain other members of the family, and then fired the house to destroy evidence of the crime.

That was the verdict given at Cisco by Justice J. H. McDonald, acting as coroner.

In Eastland Wednesday the grand jury, which was given a special charge Monday by Judge Elzo Deen, continued its investigation and had several more witnesses to hear.

This, one of the most terrible crimes in recent months, occurred at the farm of R. N. Jackson, five miles west of Cisco, on the Base Line road last Friday night. R. N. Jackson, his wife Winnie, and their six daughters were ruthlessly slain, then their home set afire and burned to the ground.

"Murdered by parties unknown" was the verdict of the coroner's inquest, after every clue had been run down, the verdict not being returned until Tuesday. The verdict as given by Justice of the Peace McDonald follows:

"R. N. Jackson, his wife, Winnie, and his six children, Lucy, Katherine Jackson, Gladys Jackson, Dorothy Jackson, Jimmie Dillon Jackson, Ida Meryle Jackson and Ida Pearl Jackson, came to their deaths by parties unknown, with murderous intent, and the Jackson home situated about five miles west of Cisco, was fired and burned to the ground in an effort to conceal the crime."

The charred bodies of the Jackson family were found Saturday morning in the burned embers of their home. The eight bodies, with the exception of one, Gladys, 10 years old, were burned beyond recognition. Her throat had been cut with a sharp knife.

The bodies were gathered together, placed in one casket, and buried in the same grave in the Pugh cemetery Saturday afternoon. Above the grave was placed a fiery cross, symbol of the Ku Klux Klan, of which Jackson was a member.

The entire countryside attended the funeral and burial of the remains of the Jackson family, held at the Methodist church at Pugh, with burial in the Pugh cemetery immediately after the funeral. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. L. Hanks, pastor of the Church of Christ of Cisco, and the pall bearers were chosen by former friends and neighbors of the family, who tenderly conveyed the charred fragments to the grave, where loving hands covered them in their last resting place.

Monday morning the grand jury began its investigation of the horrible crime.
