Muleshoe Area Stands On Threshold Golden Harvest

MRS. BUDDY PEELER poses proudly in a field of milo on the farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shofner, for The Journal photographer, who had not far to go to find wonderful scenes like this grain presents. It won't be long before grain and cotton come pouring into Muleshoe area gins and elevators.

Name any crop!

Just any West Plains crop you can think of is doing excellent this year in all directions around Muleshoe.

The year 1960 will be a year long remembered as the peak year for good crops. They sure are good looking in the great Muleshoe Country right now.

This prize yield is not restricted to any one crop either as is usually the case. Watermellons are fine in '60; cotton looks great; milo yields look superior, and the sesame growers are anticipating a plentiful yield.

Lush fields are expectant of the combine blade and the stripper as maturity darkens the fruits of a season of good growing. The bountiful production of the land need now only be gathered into the barns.

As these value crops are marketed the labors of the farmers and the land are repaid for their toil. Good land and water—the natural resouces of the West Plains—provide for our nation's economy with its fruits and the national economy in turn reimburses the economy of the West Plains.

As the Texas proverb states it, "It's all over but the shouting;" so the 1960 variety of crops are all fruited out and all that's left is to gather 'em in.

The word from local elevators and gins is that the crops are beginning to come in. However, the peak harvesting period is still two to three weeks off.

Early reports show that yields are high and the quality is good. The earlier harvested crops are generally not quite as good as those that come in at the peak period.

In spite of the heavy rains this year, the amount of hail damage has been less than normal. We were blessed with the more beneficial types of rains.

Adequate amounts of West Texas sunshine were spaced intermittenly between the heavy rains so that there was always abundant sunshine for good growing of the more sunshine crops like cotton and watermellons.

Less amounts of irrigation water was handled this summer so that a saving was made in this department. This has helped to give the farmer a better yield on less overhead.

If we anticipate counting our blessings received in the year 1960 it looks like we'll have to get out the adding machine to handle the large figures.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

That true power belongs to God, not matter, is a central theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections will include the following: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea" (Psams 46:1, 2).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this will be read (192:11-13, 17-19): "Erring power is a material belief, a blind miscalled force, the offspring of will and not of wisdom, of the mortal mind and not of the immortal.

"Moral and spiritual might belong to Spirit, who holds the wind in his fists;' and this teaching accords with Science and harmony."

All regular elections are held on the first Tuesday in October.

To be eligible to vote in a Soil Conservation District election for supervisors, a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. He or she must live in a county all or any part of which is in the Soil Conservation District. The voter must have attained the age of 21 years. No poll tax is required. Under the community property laws of Texas, the wife of a landowner also owns land and is entitled to vote and hold office.

State law requires that a soil conservation district supervisor take an oath of office and execute a loyalty oath before he is officially a supervisor.

Bailey County Given Award In American Cancer Crusade

Mrs. J. O. Bass of Hale County, Mr. M. K. Wilcoxson of Childress County, and Warren Poole, M. D., of Lubbock County were elected to the state Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society's Texas Division representing the counties in District Three-South at a meeting of a large number of delegates to the District Annual Meeting in Plainview, Sept. 28. The meeting was held in the Women's Clubhouse and lunch was served to all the attendants.

In the featured address, the delegates heard Dr. James O. Gillespie of San Francisco cite the increasing tempo of significant discoveries in cancer research, and particularly in chemotherapy. Dr. Gillespie, who is West Coast Medical Director for the American Cancer Society, said that within the last year there have been several times the number of significant discoveries as were made only three or four years ago.

Attending the meeting from Muleshoe were Mrs. Eva Alsup and Judge Glen Williams.

In another meeting highlight, seven counties were officially recognized for their outstanding achievement during the 1960 Crusade for funds.

These were Bailey, Briscoe, Cottle, Crosby, Floyd, Lamb, and Motley Counties.

One of these, Bailey County also received a special award for exceeding their Crusade quota for the past five consecutive years.

Pointing out that the big research promise today lies in the new area of attack, chemotherapy, Dr. Gillespie gave specific examples of the results of tests of some of the scores of new compounds being used for cancer treatment He told in detail of the efforts being made to develop a serum to provide immunity to certain types of cancer, and also the exploration of the theory that some cancers are virus-caused.

He concluded that research progress along these lines, on which millions of dollars are being spent each year, gives a hopeful picture of the future in the fight against cancer.

Other special presentations made at the meeting were concerned with the Society's programs of public education, campaign and publicity.

The group session on public education singled out the 1960-61 Texas Division objectives of bringing an educational program on cancer to all adult employees of the school systems in the state, and further, of reaching at least fifty percent of all employed persons in Texas.

The importance of cancer education and information for all the public was given emphasis by the total of 12,000 needless cancer deaths in Texas each year.

The public education session was attended by the Society's education chairmen and by school superintendents and administrators from throughout the District.

The meeting was one of sixteen currently being held in the state, bringing together more than 1200 of the volunteer workers of the Society for planning of the 1960-61 program in Texas.

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS AND DEVELOPMENT OF BAILEY COUNTY AND THE GREAT MULESHOE COUNTRY

1961 Autos Making Their Debut In Muleshoe This Week

An array of new 1961 model automobiles are making their debut in Muleshoe and across the nation in the week ahead.

The new 1961 Chevrolet trucks also go on the showroom floor this weekend. They are announcing this new truck in The Journal.

To be announced next week in The Journal are: Buick, Pontiac, Chevrolet cars, and Mercury. Featured in this section are views of some of the new vehicles and brief description of them; more of the same in next week's paper.

MOST POPULAR PONTIAC BODY STYLE, the rakish four-door Vista hardtop, is more beautiful than ever in the new 1961 Bonneville series. Curving windshield pillars, a slim line roof, and crisply defined side windows create a new custom appeal. Distinctive Bonneville features include the high performing Trophy V-8 engine with four barrel carburetor and luxurious upholstery of pattern cloths and Jeweltone Morrokide. The exciting Vista also is available in the Star Chief, Ventura, and Catalina series.

The 1961 Lincoln Continental is a completely new, distinctive luxury car with smaller dimensions in length, height and width. The car is available in two models, the four-door sedan (above) and the only four-door soft top convertible produced in America. Many exclusive new features have been added to the Lincoln Continental and all cars will undergo individual, rugged testing procedures.

BUILT on a 112-inch wheelbase the Tempest sedan features a 4-cylinder, front-mounted engine, a rear transmission and unit body construction, with an overall length of 189.3 inches. Carrying out Pontiac's famous wide track design, this family-sized car has a roomy interior, a flat floor and a spacious rear luggage compartment. Fifteen exterior colors in durable acrylic lacquer and luxurious interiors in 14 different trim combinations are available.

1961 Chevrolet

Trucks Feature Proved Design

Continuation of the highly successful suspension system introduced last year, moderate front style changes, and refinements in chassis and cabs mark the 1961 Chevrolet truck line. Proved by one full year of customer use, the suspension features independent front springing with torsion bars and rear coil or variable rate springs. Cab improvements include a smaller floor tunnel in some models for increased leg and foot room, and an optional six-inch thick foam rubber seat.

Cayle Reed (right) of Cayle Reed Buick Co., in Muleshoe, and Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick, and vice president of General Motors, examine an engine block at the Buick plant in Flint, Mich., where he previewed the 1961 Buick and inspected the new assembly plant for producing the new-sized Special, the small car Buick will introduce next month.

The Ford Econoline Station Bus (top) and Econoline Pickup (bottom) will go on sale in Ford dealerships late in October. A Van model similar to the eight-passenger Bus, but with paneled sides, also is included in the new light duty commercial vehicle series. Econoline models are powered by a modified version of the economical 85-horsepower Falcon engine. Overall length is 168.4 inches with a wheelbase of 90 inches. The Pickup is 72.5 inches wide, and the Van and Bus are 75.8 inches wide. The easily accessible engine is located forward beside the driver's seat, providing ample pass-through space in the front, and a flat rear floor area with low 25-inch loading height. The Pickup has a curb weight of only 2,389 pounds, but can carry nearly 1,700 pounds payload when equipped with optional heavier springs and tires. The Van and Bus have a cargo volume of 204.4 cubic feet.

Ford's new light duty Econoline commercial vehicles come in three models, a Pickup, Van and eight-passenger Station Bus. Powered by a modified version of the dependable, economical 85-horsepower Falcon engine and utilizing many standard components from other Ford products, the Econoline vehicles are 168.4 inches long — nearly two feet shorter than the Falcon station wagon. Wheelbase is 90 inches, with over-all width 72.5 inches for the Pickup and 75.8 for the Van and Bus. The easily accessible engine is located forward beside the driver's seat, providing ample pass-through space in the front, and a flat rear floor area with low 25-inch loading height. The Van and Bus have 204.4 cubic feet of load space behind the front seat. The Pickup has a curb weight of only 2,389 pounds, but can carry a payload of nearly 1,700 pounds when equipped with optional extra spring leaves and heavy duty tires.

BUICK'S NEW LIGHTWEIGHT SPECIAL

Big car comfort and styling are combined with the economy of the small car in Buick's new lightweight Special four-door sedan, powered by the first American aluminum V-8 engine in the automobile industry. The Special is mounted on a 112-inch wheelbase, is 188 inches long and weighs only 2,700 pounds, some 1,600 pounds lighter than conventional-size Buicks. Its high compression V-8 engine develops 155 horsepower, giving it outstanding performance comparable to the bigger models in the Buick line. The Special comes in two body styles, a four-door sedan and a four-door wagon, with a deluxe version offered in each. A new dual-path turbine drive transmission is offered as optional equipment, along with power steering, and air-conditioning.

Corn Planted In Early May Best

Corn planted in early May had the highest average yields, while corn planted in late April had the lowest percentage of lodging (falling down) in the date of planting tests at the High Plains Research Foundation, Delbert Longford, Associate Agronomist, reported this week.

The two varieties used in the tests were Northrup-King KT-6, representing the early maturing varieties, and Texas 30, representing the late maturing varieties. Each variety was planted on April 21, May 5, and May 20 and harvested September 8 and 19.

The acre yields produced by KT-6 for each planting date were 134 bushels—April 21, 148 bushels—May 5, and 132 bushels—May 20. The yields produced by Texas 30 were 173 bushels — April 21, 170 bushels—May 5, and 124 bushels—May 20.

Lodging percentage at harvest on KT-6 were 2%—April 21, 5.7%—May 5, and 8.5%—May 20. Lodging percentages for Texas 30 were 4.3%—April 21, 9.1%—May 5, and 23%—May 20.

In summarizing the result of tests for the past three years, Mr. Langford said, "These tests indicate that early planting and early harvest can reduce corn production hazards and take advantage of early season rainfall. This procedure results in greater profits from corn production."

A new member of Ford's economy vehicle family for 1961 is the Falcon Sedan Delivery (top), supplementing the versatile and unique Falcon Ranchero (bottom). Both the Sedan Delivery and the Ranchero offer maximum economy and maneuverability plus passenger car styling and comfort. The Sedan Delivery has a cargo volume of 76.2 cubic feet, and the Ranchero has a load capacity of 800 pounds. Standard powerplant for both vehicles is the Falcon 85-horsepower engine, with a new 101-horsepower engine optional.

READER APPROVES DEMOCRAT LEADERS

Dear Editor,

I enjoyed your editorial of Sept. 15 very much and thought your coverage was good for I, too, and my husband were there to greet Senator John Kennedy and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

I think we have two well qualified men running on the Democratic ticket; together they have forty some years experience in the Senate. I also think this team will remember the family type farmer once again and give us a new hope that we can pass on to our children.

The past seven and one-half years we have been overlooked and it has hurt and we need help. I am enclosing an article entitled "Message To Main Street". I thought you would like to read.

Yours truly,

A farmer's daughter, a farmer's wife, and a long time subscriber to the Muleshoe Journal.

MRS. O. D. SPITLER
Rt. 1, Friona
(Lazbuddie community)

P. S.: Monday morning:

I went to church yesterday morning expecting to hear a sermon from the Bible and perhaps see some lost souls saved, but it turned out to be a Republican political rally so I walked out, since I am a Democrat.

No pastor should preach politics from the pulpit for it is each man and woman's privilege to vote his own conscience. When a pastor does this he is doing exactly what he accuses the Catholic church of doing, and they have practiced separation of church and state since 1790.

I am sure God would have been pleased if this worship hour had been devoted to winning lost souls to Christ.

When we start being prejudice against one religion, then next election we will be prejudice against another and so on down the line until all that will be left is some man who doesn't even believe in God.

To: Editor of Muleshoe Journal

The undersigned Muleshoe reader wishes to say a word of praise to the publisher, editor and staff for the continual progress noted in your newspaper. The recent addition of the TV Log is bound to create new reading and usefulness to us all. Your weather reporter should also come in on this progress praise plan too.

May the Divine Assistance remain always.

FLAG FLYING EVERY DAY

I am proud to be a Muleshoeite and see the stars and stripes fly every day, which is every day witness of our precious freedom.

Seeing our flag reminds me that we are a prosperous, freedom loving community. How many of us have less now than we did eight years ago? To hear some comment, you would think that we are a down-hill civilization. I see no reason for apologizing for our America, our prosperity occurred without the bloodshed of war, we all enjoy our material growth when we realize it is not war growth. If we should have to go to war, it will be for freedom and not to raise our nation out of a slump.

Our flag reminds we are not a second rate power, we are ahead of Russia in our remarkable Polaris missile and nuclear submarines which are effective weapons compared to Russia's intercontinental rockets. I will not apologize for the most powerful defense establishment ever seen on this earth.

Recent world events has proven we are not a nation of robots controlled by communist strings. Communist prestige has been dimmed, not ours. There is no reason to humble ourselves to Communist threats and propaganda. We have America we can all be proud of and I can think of no better wayof showing that pride than flying our great flag every day, we are showing the world we won't trade our flag for any New Deal or socialist line of thinking.

I thank God for the privilege of liivng in America and especially here in Muleshoe, Texas.

Mrs. W. B. Kittrell

BABSON
Asks Questions In Europe

Barcelona, Spain, Sept. 29—During the weeks I have been in Europe, I have constantly asked questions. I have talked with all kinds of people from taxicab drivers to Ambassadors. Let me add that the U. S. Embassies everywhere have been very kind and patient with me, as they are with all Americans who call upon them.

Questions and Answers

The first question I always ask is: "Do you expect World War III?" The answer, almost unanimously: "Yes, but not for ten or twenty years." Furthermore, most expect that it would be started by China.

"Will it be an atomic war?" Most people replied "Probably"; but sme feel that by that time there will be some sure defense against atomic bombs.

"Will Cuba be Communist?" "Yes, but there are as many breeds of Communism as there are denominations of Protestantism."

"If Russia attempts to go too far in Latin America will the U. S. enforce the Monroe Doctrine?" Answer: "Yes."

"Does Mr. K. truly want a reduction in armaments?" "Yes, because to hold his power he must constantly improve Russia's standard of living. To do this, Mr. K. must spend less on armaments."

"Could Europe possibly remain neutral in the event of war between Russia and the U. S." "Yes, in view of the new weapons which may then be available."

"Are you European people interested in 'space travel' and going to the moon?" Answer: "Not so much as you are in America. We have trouble enough on this earth without seeking more."

"What about Africa and undeveloped nations in other areas?" "European nations are interested in every part of the world where there are natural esources of minerals, oil, gas, water, and sunshine."

"How do Europeans feel about inflation?" "Everyone looks upn inflation as dangerous. It is very harmful for all who have savings in banks, insurance policies, or annuities."

"Have any Europeans benefitted from inflation?" "Yes, those few who held mortgaged real estate and the gold to repay these mortgages. Those who held unmortgaged real estate profited provided they had the gold or its equivalent to pay the taxes."

"In what are careful Europeans now investing?" "In rented or producing property away from possible Communist seizure." Such real estate is constantly increasing in value.

"What about utilities as investments in Europe?" Answer :"Since most of the utilities are owned by municipalities or the state, they offer practically no investment possibilities."

"How are personal taxes in Europe?" The European people think they are high due to state welfare projects. But I am inclined to believe the U. S. has the highest taxes in the world.

Much Unemployment

"What about unemployment in Europe?" "With the exception of West Germany, Italy, Switzerland, and one or two other countries there is much unemployment.

"What about wages?" "Bith wages and the cost of living are low in Europe. Probably Spain has the poorest record."

"Is it safe for American manufacturers and investors to buy stocks of West German, Italian, or French corporations?" "Answer: "Most of these are making money, but it is risky to buy such stocks unless one knows the corporation officers and understands why the owners are selling. There is no "Dun & Bradstreet" in these countries, no "Securities & Exchange Commission."

"What about the American election in November?" The feeling is that Kennedy will be elected, although the people with property say they would vote for Nixon. Some believe that if Kennedy is elected, his father will try to back the biggest boom in U. S. history with the Dow-Jones Industrial Average going to 800.

Conclusion: When we visit these old churches and palaces we forget that Europe's experience with democracy is much shorter than ours. This is especially true of corporation finance—with the exception of the insurance, banking, and shipping companies of Great Britain. Even these investors put most of their money in the United States. The U. S. railroads and large western cities were built by English money.

The first bale of cotton to be produced in Bailey County this year was ginned here Monday night by the Copley Gin. The bale was ginned by C. H. Odom, who farms 2½ miles west of town.

A. W. Copley, owner of the gin, stated the bale weighed only 360 pounds and would be of low grade cotton because of the damaging hail which fell in that area a few weeks ago.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER FINDS
Grave Problem To Ponder: Castro's Chicken Feathers

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has a problem this week which is beyond us.

Dear editar:

If you want to confuse me and the average Congressman or foreign affairs expert, ask us what ought to be done about the foreign situation, but there's one question about foreign affairs that while maybe a Congressman can answer, I don't mind saying I can't. It has me completely stumped, buffaloed, floored. And until I get an answer, I have little hope for any truly international understanding among the people of this earth.

The question is: What were Fidel Castro's men doing scattering chicken feathers around in their hotel rooms in New York when they were there last week for a United Nations meeting?

As I understand from what I could read about it in the papers, these Castro men brought along their own electric hot plates and freezers and supplies and cooked their own meals in their rooms, but what I want to know is did they go into the hotel carrying live chickens?

I do not understand the lack of enterprise of American newspaper reporters operating in the big-time, that would leave this question dangling. Just to say that Castro's men scattered chicken feathers around their hotel rooms in New York because they were cooking their own meals, without going into more details, is another example of the world's having to get along on half-truths when it comes to the international situation.

Now I ain't no international expert, I'm not sure there are any, but I know that if you bring along your own freezer full of food, you're not likely to have live chickens in it, not for long, and I can't imagine any nation so backward its governmental leaders would try to quick-freeze chickens with the feathers on. Be the awfulest mess you ever saw. And you mean to say Castro, with all those American refineries, banks, sugar fields and cattle ranches in his hands, ordered live chickens instead of dressed ones sent up to his hotel room, just to save a two - bit dressing charge?

Now we may not be able to figure out what to do about Castro's taking over all the American property he can find in Cuba, about his lining up with Khrushchev, about how often he launders his fatigue jacket, but I'm going to be bitterly disappointed in the big-time reporters, columnists, and television newscasters if one of them doesn't find out more about those chicken feathers.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Today's Meditation

Read Ephesians 2:1-10

Stephen said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God. (Acts 7:56).

Some Christians, like Stephens, have their eyes turned toward heaven. They draw spiritual power from the heavenly places in Christ Jesus. This clears the vision and gives the Christian his power to be a citizen of two kingdoms. He lives in the world by the help of the Unseen.

I have heard of a church in Stockholm that had no windows in the walls, but one big window in the ceiling. The following invitation to worship in this church appeared in a newspaper: "Come to the church with its window pointing toward heaven." It is a good thing that a church has its window turned toward heaven.

Each person in himself can be like a small church. The light and love and righteousness from heaven can stream down you and me living on earth. Thus we can mirror something of the heavenly while living the earthly life.

PRAYER

God, we thank Thee that it is possible for us to turn to Thee for comfort, courage, and spiritual power. Help us to mirror something of the heavenly glory in our earthly life, so that we can help advance Thy kingdom on earth. We pray in the name of our Saviour. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The Christian church helps us to draw spiritual power from God almighty.

Food stores know the power of newspaper ads. That's why 90% of all food store advertising appears in the newspaper.

Becoming more and more important to the outboard motor user is the storage battery.

This is true for several reasons, but mainly because more than one-third of the outboard motors now being sold are electric-starting.

Although marine batteries are similar to the automotive type, their use, and abuse, is quite different. Boats often lie idle for several weeks at a time. Sometimes for the entire winter. Marine batteries also are subject to more bouncing around than are car batteries. This due to more frequent periods of "rough riding."

Another factor is this: Often the boat battery is directly exposed to the elements for long periods. Much of the time it sits uncovered for weeks, even months, in the hot sun.

In many cases the boat battery is connected to a generator-less motor. As a consequence it is used without being recharged until its power is completely exhausted. This is highly injurious to the battery.

All these factors mean that the marine battery gets the roughest treatment.

Habitually the motorists will have his car battery checked regularly . . . or the service station attendant will do it for him without being directed to do so.

But seldom if ever does the boat owner think to add water to his marine battery, much less take time to have it recharged. Nor does the filling station man check it when the motorist drives in trailering a boat. In fact, we've yet to see a station attendant inspect a bat battery . . . or a boat owner ask that it be done.

Marine batteries are taken for granted, seldom inspected accessories. Not only are they subject to rougher treatment . . . they also get less attention.

Often we've wondered why some Texas manufacturer didn't come up with a specially built storage battery for outdoorsmen . . . specifically designed for electric-starting outboard motors.

It seems that the Reliable Battery Co. is doing just that. They now have factories in three Texas cities—San Antonio, Houston, and Dallas, plus another in New Orleans, La.

They have been making "Sea-Going" batteries for diesel engine starting, auxiliary power and stand-by service, for many years . . . for systems up to 120 volts. But only recently have they gone in for marine batteries for the small craft.

Their small marine batteries — in 6, 8, and 12-volt sizes, have extra heavy plates especially built for tough marine service. Tests prove that they will retain 98 per cent of their charge after four weeks and more than 80 per cent after 14 weeks. That's over three times as long as government requirements.

Manufacturers claim that the longer life is due to larger plates, massive grids, extra heavy cross bars, and permalife insulation.

Nothing could sound sweeter to the boat owner who has had the sad experience of readying for a pleasure cruise only to encounter a balky battery—or worse yet, a dead one.

Regardless of the make of battery you use, it deserves more care than it's getting.

Mercury outboard authorities, sensing the need for more attention to marine batteries, offer some recommendations.

They suggest that you purchase an ordinary hydrometer, available at auto stores for about a dollar, and check your marine battery regularly.

If the hydrometer test shows a reading of 1,150 it means that your battery is almost dead. A reading of 1,250 indicates a half-charged state; and 1,280 means it is fully charged.

You can bring your battery up to full charge on any slow charger of appropriate voltage. Rate of charge should not exceed six amperes, and charging should be discontinued when the hydrometer reading reaches 1,280.

Check the battery's water level often and add distilled water as needed. But don't overfill.

Outboard battery trouble often is traced to poor connections at the terminals. When installing your battery, scrape or sandpaper the terminal metal to get a bright surface. A little grease or petroleum jelly, spread on the terminals after tightening, does much to deter corrosion.

Brush a mixture of baking soda and water over corroded terminals to clean them. Anytime you remove the battery rinse it off thoroughly with the solution.

Although your marine dealer will store your battery with your motor, for the winter, you can keep it at home in a cool, dry place. Put it away fully charged and bring up the charge at 60-day intervals. If you allow it to drop down to the fully discharged state repeatedly, its life will be materially shortened.

Now, as cooler weather approaches and you go pleasure boating less frequently, your marine battery needs closer attention.

Three Men Arrested For Stealing Cars

Three young men were captured near Clovis, N. M. Tuesday, Sept. 20, for stealing two cars. They stole the first one in Lubbock and were driving it toward Muleshoe when engine trouble developed. They abandoned it 4½ miles east of Muleshoe. Then they stole another one from Muleshoe Motor Co. and drove it to Clovis where it developed trouble. The men were hitchhiking near Cannon Air Force Base when they were apprehended. They were brought to Muleshoe.

This is only one episode that happened to the officers in Muleshoe this past week. The Sheriff's office picked up two for forgery, one for vagrancy, one for being drunk and one for DWI.

The City officers arrested two for being drunk, two for gambling and picked up one for investigation. The Highway Patrol arrested two for being drunk, picked up one for having defective brakes and another for driving on the wrong side of the road.

NO. 8: THE WEATHER CONTROL

Planetary Wind Circulation

by Vern Foltz

The winds and their air masses account for the production of weather nearly as much as any other single factor. In looking to see where the winds spring from it is found that they have a general pattern over the entire globe.

For example, the weather in the United States and Central Europe moves from the west to the east. It was found that the weather systems (air mass movements) are carried across these areas on prevailing southwest winds . . . commonly called the variable westerlies.

These westerlies were also found to be only a small part of a circulation system which envelopes the whole earth . . . called the planetary wind circulation system. This wind system is believed to have been established by two major forces: (1) the temperature differences between the equator and the polar regions, and (2) the effect of coreolis force which tends to deflect anything moving through the atmosphere.

Atmospheric pressure tends to form in belts around the earth. At the equator and out to about 10 degrees of latitude north and south of it is a band of low pressure known as the eduatorial low pressure belt. Warm unstable air is associated with it.

To the north and south of the equatorial low at about 30 degrees of latitude lies a zone of high pressure known as the sub-tropical high pressure belts. These zones are sometimes called the horse latitudes because of the light winds beneath them. Air is settling and skies are most often fair.

Winds persistently flow from these high pressure belt toward the equator (the northeast and southeast trades). Another band of air moves sure called the sub-polar low poleward to belts of low pressure pressure belts at about 65 degrees latitude in each hemisphere.

Beyond each of the sub-polar low pressure belts (and covering the poles) revolves the polar highs. These are the only pressure systems which are truly one large mass of air. They are not long strips of pressure bands wrapped about the earth as the remaining pressure systems are. Air flows from these polar highs from an easterly direction and into the sub-polar low pressure belts.

The planetary wind circulation system is not always evident. In some areas it has irregularties and all of it is subject to deviations brought about by local disturbances from time to time.

Some areas, such as the eastern edges of the oceans, wil have more persistent planetary circulation than others. Yet it is the general circulation and even the disturbances which disguise it are carried along in its prevailing flow.

The direction assumed by the planetary wind is not arbitrary. Their direction is determined by coreolis force. This force is brought about by the rotation of the earth about its axis.

If an object in the northern hemisphere is hurled toward the equator th eeffect of coreolis force will deflect it to the west . . . or will induce a right deflection. The direction of deflection is the same in the southern hemisphere if the object is moving toward the equator, but the turn is to the left.

There are two bands of easterly trades, two bands of variable westerlies, and two bands of polar easterlies . . . one of each for each the north and south hemispheres.

Denim Men of America

COTTON FARMERS

Cotton grew in India 5000 years ago, in America before the days of the Incas. The conquests of Alexander the Great brought it to Europe. Columbus carried it from the Bahamas to Spain. A few great British and American inventors in the late 18th century created for cotton a world-wide empire far beyond Alexander's dreams.

Eighty countries produce cotton; all use it. Farms from Virginia to California provide the world's largest crop, supplying the world's largest textile industry at home and the world's greatest sea-borne commerce. 1,500,000 farmers, men in denim all, grow the crop. Uncounted thousands gin, handle and ship it.

Plant breeding, chemicals, machine planting and picking, and modern technique, make cotton production more efficient than ever before, contributing to America's high living standards. Sixty yards of cotton cloth from sheerest dress goods to denim work clothing are thus made available for each person in the United States annually. K

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

One week from this Thursday night, October 6, eight o'clock, Oklahoma Lane Community Building. This is the time and place for the 12th annual Farm Bureau convention in Parmer County. The building is located on the road that runs from the Oklahoma Lane crossroads to Clay's Corner, on the Muleshoe highway.

It is four miles east of the Oklahoma Lane crossroads, or six and one half miles west of Clay's Corner, on the south side of the road. It is a metal quonset type building. Members will receive individual invitations, and we would like to see most of them there with their families. This is a family affair.

Committees will be meeting several nights between now and then, preparing a program that will interest you. This is where you can have a voice in circumstances affecting your farming business for the next year. Be there.

Herman Geries, president, Vernon Symcox, secretary-treasurer, and Gilbert Kaltwasser attended a Policy Development of Farm Bureau District II in Lubbock last Thursday. No decisions were made, but subjects of vital importance, like minimum wages for farm workers, bracero program, marketing methods, taxes, and many others were discussed. Wagner Carr, of Lubbock, spoke at a banquet held in the evening.

Remember that you must file for the three or four cents per gallon Federal Tax Refund on tractor gas before the first of October. You can get forms for this from your county agent, at the post office, or here at the Farm Bureau office. This refund covers a whole year, so its important.

"A man may learn from the Bible to be a more thorough gentleman than if he had been brought up in all the drawing rooms in London." Charles Kingsley wrote the above statement.

Remember that there will be five directors and a president elected at the convention next week at Oklahoma Lane Community Building. If you know someone you would like for any of these offices, please be there to name him. He may be elected.

CONSIDER THIS: Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked; for there shall be no reward to the evil man; the candle of the wicked shall be put out. Prov. 24:19-20.

Student Council To Present Play

Muleshoe High School Student Cuncil will present the play "Stardust" by Walter Kerr in the near future to the student bodies of high school and junior high as their main money raising project of the year. Mr. Gerry Moore, MHS speech teacher, will direct the play.

This year Freshman initiation will not be held, instead, the Student Council will host a party for the Freshmen students. The council members and Principal H. W. Callen believe that this will be a good addition to Muleshoe High.

James Shepherd, president of this year's council, has announced that he will form an executive committee made up of all the officers and two or three council members to take care of some of the council's business.

Griffiths Named Parole Officer

Ray Griffiths, Muleshoe grain man, is the volunteer parole officer for Bailey County, Herb Gnepper, district parole officer told The Journal during a visit here Wednesday.

However, he related, the system of volunteer parole officers has now been supplemented by a professional parole supervision program in Texas.

Many inmates of prison were unable to begin developing release plans because of a lack of assistance; this resulted in many inmates having to stay in the penitentiary, and some of these were summarily discharged.

By the end of this year, under the working of the new system, the percentage of inmates released under parole supervision a sopposed to discharge will rise to nearly 50 percent.

The increased parole rate, the officer said has made a contribution to public safety and rehabilitation for offenders, and has resulted in a substantial tax savings to the State.

Muleshoe's Mules Travel To Dimmitt Friday Night For Non-Conference Tilt

Co. This will be the first game that the Mules have played another AA club, the other games being against AAA clubs.

The Muleshoe Mules, who have been rapidly improving under the eagle eye of their coach, Halter, are expected to give the Bobcats a real bang-up battle.

Last year the Bobcats went Bobcats of Junior Coffey and Tomorrow night (Friday) the hard-hitting Muleshoe Mules travel to Dimmitt to test the home with a 30-12 victory over the Mules. This year the score should prove to be more even.

Last week the Bobcats lost a close one to the Floydada Whirlwinds 6-0, a Mule District 2-AA foe. Hereford upended them the week before that with a 26-0 shutout.

The Muleshoe squad will be in for a rough evening with big Junior Coffey, 190 plus Negro fullback carrying the brunt of the Bobcat attack.

The Dimmitt eleven will be out trying to make up for their last two losses, and are bound to deal the Mules a lot of trouble.

Steers Romp Over Morton Indians

The Farwell Steers romped over the Morton Indians at Farwell Friday night 30-8, with scoring honors evenly divided among the Steers' strong backfield. Benjy Dial kicked and plunged over the goal line for all Farwell's conversions.

Playing on a dry field, the district 3-A Steers held the Morton 4-AA team, coached by John Paul Jones, until the third quarter when Tommy Morrison caught a 53-yard pass from Steve Middleton to core with one of the Redskin's many aerial plays

Floydada Slips By Dimmitt, 6-0

The Floydada Whirlwinds gained a minor upset and their first win of the season by downing the Dimmitt Bobcats, 6-0.

It was a scoreless game until late in the fourth quarter, when the Whirlwinds managed to get a drive going after recovering a Dimmitt fumble on the Floydada 45-yard line. Quarterback Rodney Teague carried over from the six for the 'Winds.

Chiefs Lose To NMMI Ponies

The Ponies from New Mexico Military Institute gained a 16-8 win over the favored Friona Chiefs at Friona Friday night.

The Ponies scored touchdowns and 2-point conversions in the second and fourth quarters for their tally. The District 1-AA Chiefs made their lone touchdown and conversion in the third quarter.

Lockney Tied By Jackrabbits, 8-8

The Ralls Jackrabbits of District 3-A battled the favored Lockney Longhorns of District to an 8-8 tie at Ralls in a non-conference contest.

Both teams scored in the first quarter, then threatened in later periods but were unable to push the winning score across.

MULES DEFENSE IN STARRING ROLE

Mules Tie Favored Whitefaces 6-6 In Hard Fought Game

The underdog Muleshoe Mules upset the dope bucket here Friday night as they fought their way to a 6-6 tie with the tough Hereford Whitefaces. This was the first time that Hereford's goal line had been crossed this season.

There was no scoring in the first quarter, but the Mules' forward wall had their work cut out for them as the Whitefaces got down to the Muleshoe 9-yard line after recovering a Mule fumble on the Hereford 46.

In the second quarter the Hereford eleven drove 55 yards after receiving a Mule punt on their own 45. They made their 6-points the hard way, as they ground out the yardage on the ground, with the Mules making it tough for them for every yard they gained. After driving down to the Mule 6-yard line, Halfback Curtis Ritchie plowed over tackle for the TD. Hereford tried running the extra point but the hard hitting Mules dumped the ball carrier short of pay dirt.

Muleshoe came roaring back as they took the kickff on their own 20. After Jim Young had made a brilliant run to the Mueshoe 40, he triggered a flat pass to Jimmy Patton who carried the ball down to the Heeford 30-yard line as the gun sounded ending the half.

Third Quarter

The teams exchanged punts up and down the field during most of the third quarter. Neither team could get a sustained drive going. The Muleshoe defense outshone the vaunted running attack of the Hereford Whitefaces as they ripped through to cut down the ball cerriers at the ine and behind the line of scrimmage.

Mules Score

After holding Hereford, the Mules took pssession on their own 25. From there Gilbreath hit Patton with a pass that carried to the Whiteface 40. Again Young passed, this time to Halfback Curtis Walker who carried down to the Hereford 15. On the next play Young skirted his own right end and bullied his way across to tie up the score. On the extra point attempt, the ball carrier slipped and was covered by a host of Whitefaces short of the winning 2-pointer.

The hard hitting Mules' defensive forward wall stopped the Whiteface charge time and again. Led by Malone, Leigon, Barron, and a host of others, the Muleshoe team played hard-nose football, with bone jarring tackles that frustrated the Hereford eleven.

The offensive backfield of the Muleshoe Mules was running hard as they kept the attack up on the Hereford defense. With Young, Pierce, Gilbreath, Billy and Jerry Gilbeath carrying the mail for the Mules, their offense showed more punch than in any game before.

The "Mighty M" band also has to come in with some good words. At the half time show, the Muleshoe band put on a thrilling demonstration for the visitors and homefolks alike. Muleshoe's band, like the football team, is steadily improving and that they have one of the best bands in West Texas. The people loved their performance and applauded long and loud to show their appreciation.

Large Crowd Attends The Fish Fry

The Fish Fry held at the Progress Gin Tuesday night, Sept. 20, was attended by a larger crowd than ever before and one hundred more pounds of fish were cooked.

The very turblent weather was also in favor of the Fish Fry. The rain fell all around but not on the crowd. A wonderful evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

WITH WORK-PROVED INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more . . . the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

FARM PRODUCTION EXCELS

In spite of being caught in one of the most drastic cost-price squeezes in history—lower prices for what they sell, higher prices for what they buy—American farmers have increased their production efficiency at a rate far ahead of workers in industry.

One hour of farm labor in 1960 produces four times as much food and fiber as it did in 1920. Crop production is 56 per cent higher per acre. The output per breading animal is 31 per cent greater.

Productivity of the American farmer is now increasing at a rate more than twice as high as the productivity of workers in industry. Since 1950, the output per man-hour in non-agricultural industry his risen two per cent per year. In agriculture the increase has been at the rate of five per cent per year.

In Russia, one agricultural worker produces for four or five people. More than 40 per cent of the total labor force of the Soviet Union works in agriculture and forestry.

If American farmers were no more efficient than those of the Soviet Union, 22,500,000 Americans who now work in manufacturing, construction, mining, the trades, transportation and other non-farm business would be required to produce the essential needs in food, clothing, and forest products.

In spite of all this efficiency, the average per capita income of the farm population is still less than half the income of non-farm population.

The average income per capita of those who live on farms in the United States in 1959 was $965 for the year—$644 from farming plus $321 from non-farm sources such as outside employment. At the same time, the per capita income of the non-farm population was $2,216.

The net income for one hour of farm work in 1959 was $1.29. One hour of work in a factory averaged $2.22. Hourly earnings of food marketing workers, those engaged in food processing, wholesale trade and retail food stores, averaged $2.10.

Farm incomes have continued to go down steadily during most of the period since World War II, while non-farm workers have had an almost steady increase in income. Since 1945, the farm value of food has risen only 16 per cent, but the marketing margin—after processing, packaging and distribution—has increased by 93 per cent.

Announcing the 1961 Ford . . .
Beautifully proportioned to the
CLASSIC FORD LOOK

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself. FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.

CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.
