The hotly contested national political campaign has come to its end. The election is over; the people have spoken. We return to our every-day walks of life, some of us happy, some of us sad over the results of the balloting. But regardless of how we feel, personally the people have made known their choice. We should cheerfully accept the will of the majority whether it suits us or not.

Wings of Party Should Be Reunited, His Belief

We who have chosen for Mr. Hoover's election are just as loyal to our party as those who voted for Mr. Smith. We felt that Mr. Smith and Mr. Raskob and Tammany Hall were not representative of our party, nor would the election of Mr. Smith be to the best interests of our party or nation. Therefore we fought."

Practice of Justices For Past Decade of Collecting Criminal Fees Given Thumbs Down by Court

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—Texas' justices of the peace cannot collect fines in criminal cases, as they have been doing for decades, under a ruling of the court of criminal appeals today. The court held in a Nueces county case that the law allowing justices to be paid from proceeds of fines and costs imposed in their courts is unconstitutional because the justices have a "personal and pecuniary interest" in the convictions. If a criminal case defendant is convicted, the justice gets paid, but if the defendant is acquitted, the justice gets nothing, under the present law, which was held to be in contravention of both state and federal constitution.

YOUR CHILDREN by Olive Roberts Barton

One of the causes of lowered efficiency, we know, is lack of emotional control.

If one is angry, jealous or hating someone actively, he cannot work well. Other things, such as over-excitement, worry, shame, fear, or even a more pleasant sensation such as intense love will undermine not only work, but mental processes and health.

A temperamental person with a hair-trigger nervous system, jumping from the extremes of happiness one day to the depths of despair the next, or lost in an abyss of hate or other emotion, is seldom well. Moreover, his work is likely to be erratic and none too dependable.

The daily job of being a parent requires that mentally, morally and physically, he be efficient. But he cannot be efficient if he loses emotional control.

It is easy, of course, to tell fathers and mothers never to get angry, to overcome their dislikes and hatreds, to banish discontent. But it is a fact that parents can do a great deal of harm to children by lack of emotional control in themselves.

Worry, we cannot get away from so easily. But half the time we worry about things that are not necessary. For one thing we worry too much about what other people will think. Besides, half our worries are not worries, but longings.

Self-control, an even disposition, liking people, ceasing to be envious of other people's luck, not getting foolishly worked up over trifles—all these things will make a mother happier and the care of the children easier.

In other words, the best parents are those who are satisfied and happy, and like Emerson's unforgettable motto, are those who "avoid excessive joy and complaining grief."

How to Achieve Beauty

ARMS, WRISTS AND HANDS. Pretty arms are almost necessities to the modern young woman who is constantly faced and frequently phased by the command of fashion for sleeveless gowns. We realize that our arms are not merely useful appendages, but very important and significant beauty attributes. On the condition of arms, wrists and hands will very often depend the success of an entire costume.

Before I go into the arm exercise which my title promises, let me tell you again about the correct care of the skin of arms and elbows. Perhaps I've told you this story before, but it brings up a point so often overlooked, that I cannot help feel it well worth repeating.

In Paris, there is an objectionable phrase to be heard at some of the leading couturiers. It is "the American elbow." American women, I'm sorry to say, have earned this appellation by the distressing elbow condition to be seen on the average woman who goes over there to be clothed. Look honestly and frankly into your mirror now. Have you the American elbow? If you haven't, don't run any risks. And if you have, correct it by all means, and at once. Either the twice a day regular use of cleansing cream or the daily use of a penetrating, grainy washing preparation will rapidly correct an unlovely elbow. Then, when you have restored the softness and roundness, protect it by setting in a little balm or a rich cream at least twice a day. You will soon have elbows to be proud of!

Another unpleasant and unlovely arm affliction is goose pimples. The best way to correct these is through the friction obtained by the scientific, grainy preparation I have above mentioned. finished off with cold water and a good rub with a coarse towel.

Once a week try taking an arm rubdown with common table salt, before your morning cleansing. Follow this with a light application of cleansing cream or else your skin will become dry and irritated.

Now for the exercises. 1. Stretch both arms out in front of you, and open all your fingers as wide and far apart as possible. Then slowly clench your fists. Relax and then repeat eight or ten times.

2. Hold your arms outstretched, palms facing inward. Slowly draw the fingers together and twist the wrists so that the backs of your hands face each other. Repeat eight times.

3. Place hands on shoulders, elbows at sides. Throw the forearms outward to shoulder level. Repeat very slowly eight times.

4. Stand erect, arms at sides, fists clenched. Take a deep, slow breath and raise your arms outward and up above your head. Do the movement slowly as though you were burdened with heavy weights. Stretch so that you can feel a tension in all of the arm muscles involved.

5. Stand erect, holding a short stick with both hands in front of your body, parallel with the floor. Inhale, raising the stick slowly above your head. Bring the stick down in back of your shoulders, elbows bent. Exhale as you raise the stick above your head, returning to original position. Repeat eight times.

6. Stretch both arms out in front of your head. Bend your elbows, drawing the arms back briskly while inhaling. Stretch the arms forward rapidly while exhaling. Repeat ten times.

7. Place hands on shoulders, upper arms extended at shoulder level. Fling the forearms out straight, inhaling. Raise hands to shoulder-again, exhaling. Repeat ten times.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

JERRY RAY, decides that love is a delusion and makes up her mind to marry for money. She was in a fever and sends herself petty luxuries to save for a vacation at Atlantic City. But she is stunned by the theft of her money the night before her departure. Nothing remains but to go camping with her room-mate, MYRTLE, on the north shore of Long Island.

Their camp is wrecked the first evening when an airplane owned by young ALESTER CARSTAIRS, who was taking a flying lesson, crashes into it. The others escape injury, but Jerry is picked up unconscious and sent to in the arms of DAN HARVEY, the pilot.

Then Alester orders Dan to go for the doctor and promises Myrtle to make good the damage to her things. Jerry is not seriously injured, but the doctor asks her to see him next day. Alester drives her to his office and then takes her to an inn for dinner, where he is amused when Jerry refuses a drink.

He introduces her to the hostess, LEONTINE LEBAUTY, who invites them to one of her special parties. On the way home Alester invites Jerry for a moonlight sail. He promises to meet her on the beach. While she is waiting alone, since Myrtle had gone to town, Dan comes camp early to be feared to have her alone. She tells him she is going sailing with Alester and wonders why he asks her to tell Alester he is "guarding camp."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

Jerry was certain that there was something more than merely a desire to assure Alester of her safety. Why should Alester worry? He could bring her ashore himself. What, then, was Dan trying to convey? That she needed protection? He had made that pretty plain. Jerry answered him with a flare of temper.

"What is there to be afraid of the dark?"

"Well, there's . . . deep water," Dan answered slowly.

Jerry turned her back on him. "Good night," she called. "Hope you have a pleasant sail."

He had a lot of business appointing himself her personal guardian she thought. And he wouldn't talk sense.

Deep water!

What had deep water to do with there being someone waiting for her after the sail?

And she would have to tell Alester that Dan had been there. If she didn't, Dan would. She was sure of that.

She reached the water's edge just as the small boat that had put off for her came sliding up on the smooth sands. A man in a white uniform helped her aboard in a respectful silence. A last glance at the house showed Dan again on the steps, looking as invisible as the Peak of Gibraltar.

"Dan! Dan!" Jerry thought peevishly. "he's going to jam up everything."

And that was the consensus of all the opinions she formed of him during the remainder of her vacation. He was there, on the steps, when she returned from sailing—sitting on moon-washed water under white, wind-swept sails and taking little attention to the orders that Alester barked to the man who had gone ashore for her in the tender. It was enough for Jerry to thrill to the exhilaration of taking the wind in her face and seeing to glide over the water in a vessel without propulsion.

There had been a queer moment at the start when Alester had reversed an order given only a moment before. Jerry distinctly heard him tell the sailor to row ashore and come back again when he brought The Sprite back. Just then Alester's eyes had fallen upon the man on the porch steps.

"Who is that?" he asked sharply, turning to Jerry.

"It's Mr. Harvey," she said, "the sailor who was about to shove off. 'Throw me the painter and come aboard.'"

Jerry could not understand why he changed his mind about having a man with them. Perhaps he had thought it advisable to have the up-guarded—all those mostly his things in the house. It wasn't convincing, the old associating caution with A. L. Carstairs. Jerry gave it up. She told herself that she would have a fine time indeed if she attempted to analyze everyone's motives.

It was difficult not to try it, however, for Dan gave her many occasions upon which to question his conduct, and Alester became something of an enigma to her before she moved back to the city.

Dan was always underfoot and Jerry wondered what Alester thought of it. But she soon came to understand why he would tolerate such from Dan Harvey that he did not like. Dan, Jerry learned, was

I'm mad about you!"

Jerry tried to push him away. He would not release her. Jerry thought, frantically, that he might let her go if she returned his kisses.

She turned her face slightly . . . no, no, she couldn't, she didn't want to kiss him. She had thought of marrying this man, and yet she could not further this aim by giving him kisses that were not inspired by affection. If she'd loved him . . . but she would never love anyone . . . she couldn't.

"Let me go," she sobbed. "Alester let me go."

Perhaps he knew that conquest was remote, the knowledge may have cooled his ardor. At any rate he loosed his hold and Jerry slipped away from his arms to disappear into the house.

She came to the door a few minutes later when she heard his retreating footsteps. Now she had lost him, her golden chance had gone glimmering because she could not take the first step toward surrender.

Surely he knew that she would have yielded her kisses had she loved him. What man would want to marry a girl who resisted his caresses? She knew this much from talks with other girls—there was the kiss and then the proposal.

Myrtle found her in her cot and thought she was asleep, but Jerry lay awake far into the night thinking of the disaster that had befallen her ambition. She saw, through a vision cleared by experience, that she could not hunt out a man of wealth and parade her but she noticed that when he spoke of Dan his expression was not pleasant.

Could they have quarreled? Surely not over her? Why should they? Jerry was certain it couldn't be, but nevertheless she avoided further reference to the young aviator.

And she found that she missed presence. His dark self and insubstantial silences had been too deeply imprinted in her memory for her to forget them.

But whatever emotion she felt over his absence was overshadowed by the rapidly approaching end of her vacation. She had had a glorious time. And now she must go back to her counter—a Cinderella of the laces.

There was something pleasant to beauty before him as a fisherman uses his net to catch a fish.

She'd have said yes if Alester had asked her to carry him. Why oh why, hadn't she thought before it was too late of all the things that she wanted money for?

She didn't expect Alester to return, but he did. Nothing seemed to have happened. He told her again that he loved her—told her many times, until Jerry believed it. But he said nothing more beyond that. He gave her no hint of what his love meant.

Jerry was puzzled.

And, strangely, soon after that night Dan stopped coming to the camp. Jerry was tempted more than once to ask Alester about him in at the gate startled her. But she was more startled by the glad leap of her heart.

ALPINE—More than 200 delegates, have been invited to attend a joint meeting of the Highland Secretaries association, the Petroleum Highway association, and the Federal Highway No. 67 meeting at McCamey, November 16th.

They'd had dinner at the Rolling Stone Inn several times since that first time together, and Leontine had made Jerry feel quite at home. She had forgotten her first impression of Miss Lebuty. The party would be something to look forward to when ill-humored customers tried her patience.

On the day Jerry and Myrtle were leaving the old house Dan came to say goodby. It was a Sunday and George and Myrtle had gone to store the few things Myrtle had left from the crash in a garage belonging to a friend of his.

Jerry was alone, busy with her packing. All the lovely things she had planned to wear in Atlantic City had been used now, and each brought to her mind a gay hour with Alester . . . drives, swims, teas, dinners, dances. . . . The sound of Dan's car driving

Lubbock's Smartest Shop for Women DOES Set the Price for Ready-to-wear in Lubbock

Our Third Anniversary event is history, but it is interesting to note what a far-reaching effect the policies of this store have had in determining the prices of women's apparel in Lubbock and the South Plains.

Those women who were living in Lubbock, more than three years ago, will have no difficulty in recalling the high prices they were forced to pay for smart apparel until the time this shop was established. But with the opening of Jarrett's Fashion Shop, ready-to-wear prices CAME DOWN.

And the increased volume of business we have enjoyed each year is ample proof that the women of Lubbock and the South Plains ARE SHREW D SHOPPERS. . . . excellent judges of value, quality and style.

Jarrett's Advertised Prices and windows set the Ready-to-wear Price Pace in LUBBOCK TODAY

Not an idle statement either, for when a garment is placed in our window or advertised in the newspapers, shoppers from other stores immediately scrutinize them carefully, and then the scramble "to get in line" begins. We believe that it is a high compliment paid to the merchandising ability of this organization, and our one, fair price to all, no jockeying or haggling to see how much we can get a customer to pay for a garment is the ONE successful way to do business.

No other store in Lubbock today, selling apparel for women, sends buyers to the Eastern markets as often as Jarrett's two and three times a season, or between eight and twelve times a year, insuring our patrons of newest styles and fabrics priced at a fair and legitimate profit. . . . ONE PRICE TO ALL.

—and if the price has to be cut except for a special event, was it not marked too high in the first place? Think it over.

Tech Freshmen Meet Simmons Reserves Here Friday

Three Southwestern Conference Centers Bid For All-Conference Honors

First Year Grid Warriors In Top Form For Contest

Expect Hard Tussle From Abilene Aggregation; the Tech Gridders Boast Potential Varsity Material

The Tech freshman football eleven will be seen in action for the first time Friday afternoon on the Tech gridiron when they meet the Simmons University reserves. After their game with the Clarendon College Bulldogs had been called off twice, the first year Matadors have anxiously awaited the announcement of their fate to take the place of the Junior college team and are in fine fettle for the clash with the down-state team.

Coach Les Cranfill of the Simmons aggregation has between forty and fifty hunkies on the reserve squad and bids fair to give the Tech Froth a real battle when the teams meet here Friday. Cranfill was a member of the Simmons coaching staff when Victor Payne, Matador inventor, was there. He is now giving his entire time to the reserve gridsters and has groomed a formidable aggregation from the freshman candidates and intelligibles from the varsity squad.

Intelligibles on the Tech Freshman squad will be kept out of the fray because of Southwest conference rules under which Tech athletics are being run this year. Several of these are versatile performers and will lessen the strength of the first year team considerably.

On the freshman eleven will be seen a number of gridiron warriors who show promise of making valuable additions to the varsity next year. These potential stars will be watched with interest as the teams take the field Friday.

The game will be called at 3:30.

Hornsby Bought By Chicago Cubs

Boston Brave Manager Goes To Cubs for Large Sum of Money and Five Players; Was Expected

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, Boston Braves manager and second baseman, was purchased by the Chicago Cubs tonight. The deal was completed over the telephone by William L. Veck, president of the Cubs, and Judge Emil Furber, brave chief executive.

A large sum of money and five players figured in the deal which brought the former St. Louis Cardinal manager and Giant second baseman to the Chicago club. Although not stating the amount of money involved, President Veck intimated that close to $200,000 was paid for the "Rajah" of baseball in addition to the five players. The players going to the Boston club include two regulars, second baseman Freddie Macaux, and Percy Jones, southpaw pitcher; a rookie hurler and two members of the Reading, Penn. club. Th Reading players are Louis Leggett, catcher, and Harry Seibell, right hand pitcher. Bruce Cunningham, young hurler purchased from Los Angeles at the close of the season, completes the quintette.

BRECKENRIDGE, (AP)—At the conclusion of a two months' scientific valuation of Breckenridge property, Mayor Charles H. Clark announced the 1928 tax rate had been set at $2.15, a reduction of 25 cents on the $100 from last year.

Leading Eleven To Dixie Title

Here's Peter Fund, brilliant center and captain of the Georgia Tech team, southern champions last year and at present leading contender for the championship again this year. Fund's eleven defeated Notre Dame recently, the first time that feat has been accomplished in seven games and, as a result, ranked among the outstanding teams of the season.

Strolling Down Sports Lane

With Allan Carney, Avalanche Sports Editor

Two of the fleetest ball carriers in Texas outside of the Southwest Conference will be seen in action on the Tech gridiron Saturday when the Matadors meet the A. C. C. Wildcats. Roy Stevens, ace of the Wildcat offensive, and Capt. "Handsome Ransome" Walker are the main attractions of the day and the performance of these two stars will undoubtedly decide the tussle.

In the past three years that Walker has worn the crimson jersey for Tech, the hard running halfback has not only gained the respect of the Christians, but every team which has met the Matador eleven. Walker had a big part in the Matador victory two years ago but was out of the lineup when the Bull Fighters lost to the Wildcats last year. Needless to say, Burs Morris' outfit will be watching Percy every minute of the game here Saturday.

Stevens is playing his first year on the A. C. C. eleven. He has played with Simmons university and wore the Tech colors at one time, but was grabbed by the Christians. If the Wildcats are successful in making a dent in the powerful Matador defense, Stevens will doubtless get his share of the glory.

Stevens isn't the only dangerous threat to the Wildcat attack. Huling Robinson, Carroll Rowland and Harold Cheves are the other veterans who may be counted on to make their ground. Scores of freshman field generals will be dangerous from start to finish on running plays. Rowland split ground gaining honors with Theo Powell in the game with the Matadors last year, while Robinson was a star in the 1928 defeat for the Cats.

The Christian forward wall that held the Matador backs in check last year has lost a number of its mainstays. Four members of that victorious line are gone. These are: Rogers for two years an all-conference man at tackle; Hill, center who won an all-T. A. A. berth for the same two seasons; Colley, veteran end; and Damon, two year guard.

That special train we have been expecting from Abilene failed to materialize. The A. C. C. student body has been refused a special train, but reports from Abilene indicate that from 50 to 100 students will make the trip by automobile to see what is termed the biggest event on the Wildcats' schedule.

The game Saturday will be the next to last chance Lubbock fans will be given an opportunity to see the Matadors in action this season. The last home game comes a week later when the Simmons Cowboys invade Lubbock. Following the Simmons contest, Tech goes to Canyon for the final game of the season on Turkey day. The season is almost over and there are yet hundreds of football fans who haven't darkened the gates at Tech Field this fall. Some of the Matador gridders will be playing their last games for the Crimson and Black in these next few weeks and they deserve a great turnout.

Crowds at Tech games this season have been far from what they should be. The Matadors have made a wonderful showing. Teams in the Southwest Conference, the Simmons Conference and T. A. A. have tasted of the sort of football played by Tech's Bull Fighters and all are high in their praise for their ability. Think this over: When Tech becomes a member of the Southwest Conference, which is an almost certainty, such crowds as have been on hand for the games this year would scarcely pay the expenses to bring a visiting team here from Lincoln, Waco or other points in the West.

The time to start is now!

Simmons Victory Eliminates Bucs

GEORGETOWN, Tex., Nov. 7. (AP)—Defeated by the Simmons Cowboys, 14 to 7, on a muddy gridiron here today, the Southwestern University Pirates practically were eliminated from the Texas Conference race.

ONLY ONE COUPLE MARRIED

"It looks like there should have been more couples than one interested in this matrimonial party," remarked "Uncle Billy" Clark, justice of the peace. "But only one couple came to my office for the purpose of having a marriage ceremony performed."

The couple were L. M. Mohr and Miss Agnes Estelle Ragan. "Uncle Billy" explained their wedding ceremony being number 206 in his list more than two years ago justice.

Wildcat Drive To Be Pitted Against Matador Defense

Tech's Superior Line Will Get Rigid Test In Game With Slashing Running And Passing Attack

A slashing running and passing attack will be pitted against a stone-wall defense on the Tech gridiron Saturday when the Abilene Christian-Wildcats tangle up with the Tech Matadors in the fourth annual clash between the two schools. With the brilliant Roy Stevens leading the drive for the visitors, the Cats are likely to give one of the most impressive exhibitions seen on the local field this season.

While the Wildcats are coded the most aggressive offensive, the Matador forward wall is considered much stronger than the A. C. C. line. This difference in strong points lends color to what already promises to be a thrilling battle from the first to the last whistle. In their last meeting the Christian forwards held the Tech backs at bay and the Matadors of 1928 are determined to use their full strength to avenge the defeat suffered at the hands of the Cats last year.

From the standpoint of the A. C. C. eleven, the game with the Matadors is the outstanding contest of the 1928 schedule. It is an accepted fact that the Wildcats would rather win from Tech than any other team on their schedule. Roy Stevens has already confided to an Abilene sport scribe that the Cats are going to give the Crimson team a sound drubbing. This intemperate like the Matadors will have a tough fight on their hands Saturday.

Corsicana Bids For Steers Camp

CORSICANA, Nov. 7. (AP)—Representatives of the Dallas club of the Texas League conferred with the chamber of commerce here today on the possibility of bringing the Dallas team here next spring for its training and conditioning period.

Fred McJunkin, president of the Dallas club and Ike Sablosky, secretary, are the men shown above. Nothing definite announced.

Frogs Leave For Houston Thursday

PORT WORTH, Nov. 7. (AP)—The Texas Christian University football squad departs Thursday night for Houston, where Saturday it plays the Rice Owls. The Frogs, after a stiff drill today, will wind up their hard week's training Thursday. Going through only light drill Friday in Houston.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT Invitation Match In San Antonio Brings Stars

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Many tennis stars, headed by Berkeley Bell and Wilmer Allison, will participate in an invitation tournament to be held on the San Antonio Country Club courts beginning Friday and extending over three days. It was announced today.

EIGHT LICENSES ISSUED

With eight licenses for newly-purchased automobiles Wednesday, there were recorded five Texas licenses for cars now in the state from other states. One of this category of newcomers was from Missouri, one from Wisconsin and three from Oklahoma. The new car licenses are listed below:

W. G. Yeager, Littlefield, Chevrolet coach. A. J. Van Abel, Lubbock, Buick Sedan. Mrs. Thomas F. McCaffrey, Lubbock, Buick Sedan. G. E. Fring, Lubbock, DeSoto Sedan. G. C. Beauchamp, Lubbock, Hudson Sedan. J. O. Biffle, Lubbock, Buick Sedan. V. C. Snodgrass, Lubbock, Dodge Sedan. Hamilton Still, Ropesville, Chevrolet coach.

Stars With Alabama Eleven

Alabama's Crimson Tide, hunted round by several opponents in 1927 and beaten in an upset by Tennessee this year, met a Big Ten eleven for the first time November 3 when they went down before the powerful Wisconsin team. And the Crimson Tide gave the Badgers a real fight, mainly because of the performance of the men shown above. Two of the star Alabama backs are John Suther, sophomore halfback, whose punting and shifty running have featured early games, and Billy Hicks, smart quarterback and passer. Three veteran seniors on the line are Pearce, center; Skidmore, tackle, and Hagler, guard.

Olton Grid Team Has Good Record

(Special To The Avalanche) OLTON, Nov. 6.—Under the tutelage of Coach Tillman Carter, the Olton high school football team has made a distinct record this season. In six games up to date the gridders have scored 126 points and have yet to have their goal line crossed or allow their opponents to score in any way.

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 7.—The second nine holes of the San Angelo Country Club will be added to the 18th greens and fairways, construction work beginning around February 1, according to a decision of the directors Tuesday.

T. C. U. Still In Race, Coach Bell Tells Gridsters

Frogs Come Through Bear Game Without Injuries; Ponies Facing Hard Game With Hume Out

PORT WORTH, Nov. 6.—"We are still in the conference race and are a long way from quitting," said Matty Bell in a lecture to his gridiron warriors the first part of this week. "We played a good, hard game, but it looks like we just weren't supposed to win that one. We are not down-hearted and will be bearing down until the last whistle on Thanksgiving day."

The Horned Frogs began strenuous work in preparation for their tilt with the Rice Owls on the latter's home field, Saturday. The Rice team is of unknown strength, for while non-conference members have defeated the Owls several times, they succeeded in holding the powerful Texas Longhorns to a 13-6 score. It appears that they fight harder against a conference member. The Frogs are expecting a tough game and Bell is giving his men long and careful instructions.

While both Baylor and S. M. U. suffered the loss of some of their stars in the last games, the Frogs came through without an injury. Ivor Field, crack guard, who was forced from the game with an injured shoulder, is fast rounding in to shape and will be able to take the field against the Owls. "It was remarkable," said Bell, "that we came through such a tough game without a serious injury."

Ponies Face Stiff Test Over in Dallas the Mustangs are facing a tough go with the Texas Aggies without the services of Edman Hume, their scoring ace. Baylor lost Clint, his halfback that scored the touchdown against the Frogs and Pardue, the Gashy center. The extent of the injuries have not as yet been determined. Texas and T. C. U. appear to have been lucky so far as hurts were concerned.

Bell is still looking his squad over in an effort to find dependable ends while he has four or five men that have played good games, he has not yet hit upon a smoothly working combination. Ralph "Buster" Walter, former Cleburne high star, played a great game against the Bears and will probably get the call at one wing at Houston. Buster did some phenomenal pass catching, and

Tilden Is Barred From 34 Nations

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Bill Tilden now not only is an exile from the courts of his own land, but literally is a man without a country so far as his right to play amateur tennis is concerned. By order of the International Lawn Tennis Federation the ban applied to the famous American star by the United States Lawn Tennis association in August has been extended to its 34 other member nations and thus embraces the entire tennis playing world.

The only territory still available to Tilden for tournament competition comprises such countries as Russia and Abyssinia, where the citizens probably would find some difficulty in distinguishing a service ace from a lob.

The Nut Cracker

Joe Ray and El Waffle have signed for a series of races, to be staged here and there. The first serial marathon.

Phil Perkins, British Amateur Golf champion, is going to live in America. Amateurs seem to make more money over here.

A strike threat has been issued by the six-day bike riders. Maybe they are asking for motorcycles.

If they really do strike, it's going to spoil a lot of lovely evenings downtown for Tom, Dick and Harry.

That reminds us of the time O'Goofy stayed out for six days and six nights "to see the races." After he returned home Mrs. O'Goofy set a new record, or as Mr. O'Goofy puts it, "she rode me for two months."

THREE LICENSES ISSUED

Three marriage licenses were recorded in the office of the county clerk Wednesday, as listed below: E. M. Moore and Miss Agnes Estelle Ragan, Sumner P. Stone and Miss Lois Jones, T. G. Durham and Mrs. Rulah Durham.

His punting threat is a great help to the Frogs.

Clyde Robertson, who has been out with an injury since the Aggie fray, will be back in shape in time to make the South Texas trip, and may get the post at the other end of the line. Bob Alexander, flashy senior winner, has played a consistently good game and is sure to see action. Howard Baxter, little Dallas star, is also one of Matty's dependable ends.

Sophomore Crop Of Grid Heroes Bolsters Teams

Gilliland of Baylor is Greatest Find of Year; Griffith Playing Stellar Football For T. C. U.

DALLAS, Nov. 7. (AP)—If their play so far this season is any indication of what may come later, at least three staunch Southwest Conference football centers will put barriers in front of all their foes to come.

The showing in recent games of Paradox of Baylor, Atkins of T. C. U. and Powell of Southern Methodist has been such that the trio of first-year grid men are being considered seriously for all-conference recognition, truly a gridiron novelty in these parts.

Paradox figured in Baylor's triumph over Centenary and Texas Christian after the former team had run up 14 consecutive victories and the Horned Frogs had ridden rough shod over the first six opponents they met this season.

Atkins has been a tower of strength in the Frog forward wall, returning intercepted passes for substantial gains with the agility of a hawk.

It was the great work of Powell of S. M. U. in the Texas game that enabled Mustangs forwards to resist four thrusts within the five-yard line and turn back their opponents 6 to 2. The victory bent the Mustangs state clean and gave them a commanding position in the conference.

Now has all the Southwest football crowd been captured in the nets who snare the real basketball center of S. M. U. has carried on points in the John Mack, all-Southwest table last year. By Hammett stellar player at the center and Honey, first-year full back on the same team, has been consistently outstanding all season. Griffith of T. C. U. battles the Texas A&M line to a split center in the year and has continued the same brand of offense.

The greatest find, however, seems to be Gilliland a rused 185-pound half carrier at Baylor who won the Aggie game last year. He was named MVP of the game and was the star in the game.

READ THIS LETTER

DEAR FRIEND:

For months the management of this store has seriously considered adopting the cash plan to everybody, as it seems to be the general consensus of opinion and the desire of the buying public to pay cash and pay less.

As the oldest and biggest drygoods store in Lubbock or the South Plains, we have enjoyed a very satisfactory credit volume. We are positive that dry goods can be sold at a decided saving by selling for cash only, in that this will eliminate expensive collectors, bookkeepers, some losses and various other items of overhead.

Now we are going to prove this statement by our actions and are going to make a radical reduction on every item in this $150,000.00 stock of high grade merchandise. You are invited to compare these prices and convince yourself.

Lubbock Can Boast of Having Champ Election Prophet In Chas. O'Neill; Predictions Running Nearly Correct

Local Anti-Smith Leader's Prediction Appear To Near Mark; Was Right In Nearly Every Instance

Tuesday's election discovered the fact that Lubbock can well boast of having the champion prognosticator of elections in the entire United States. And the entire is borne out by the incontrovertible proof of predictions and figures, printed in cold type in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal of October 28.

If you read the prediction of Charles F. O'Neill, chairman of the thirteenth senatorial district Anti-Smith organization, in the issue of this paper named, you will remember Mr. O'Neill said: "Paste this in your hat and see how badly it misses." From what we can learn this was pasted in quite a number of hats in Lubbock by many men who did so with the plan in view to have the laugh on Mr. O'Neill.

States Estimates True

O'Neill's prediction was that Hoover would carry 42 of the 48 states, giving the other 6 states to Smith. At this moment, results indicate that Hoover has 40 states sewed up to Smith's 8.

Mr. O'Neill said that Hoover would receive a total electoral vote of 459 and that Smith would get the remaining 72 electoral votes. At present the returns give Hoover 444 votes to Smith's 87.

As to total popular vote, O'Neill's figures said that Hoover would get 16,200,000 and Smith, 11,800,000. At Wednesday afternoon's tabulation, the figures stood, Hoover 15,894,678 and Smith 10,998,803.

Nearly Right In County

In Lubbock county the total vote expected by O'Neill was 7,225, of which 4,162 would go to Hoover and 3,123 to Smith, of a majority for Hoover of 779. Tabulations of Lubbock county's votes, incomplete, Wednesday afternoon were, Hoover 3,971 and Smith, 1,189, a majority of 1,976 for Hoover.

States conceded by O'Neill to Governor Smith were, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina. Rhode Island and Massachusetts went for Hoover, being the only two added to O'Neill's list.

In the state of Texas, this Lubbock predictor, prophet, guesser, or whatever he should be named, said the state would go for Hoover by a majority of 18,789. Latest tabulations Wednesday afternoon were that Hoover was leading Smith by nearly more than 17,500, with more votes to hear from.

Used Cool Calculation

When asked as to what inside information he possessed behind the election, Mr. O'Neill stated that he had just arrived at his figures by the process of cool calculation, by figuring on all the straw votes in every state and the entire nation that were available and by a close study of conditions in politics of every state in the nation.

In 1926, Mr. O'Neill says he predicted the outcome of California by close votes. He then lived in that state. When the final returns were counted for California, Wilson had a majority of 2,800, only 2,600 votes different from O'Neill's prediction, and among a total balloting of nearly 800,000 votes.

Another, he "hat's off to Charles F. O'Neill as a political prophet."

Locally there is very little movement but with the coming of fair weather the volume should increase. Today 1-4 cotton was 17 1/2 off. Monday, N. Y. 1 was 1 1/2 off, strict low middling was 100 down and low middling was 200 down.

SUMMARY

Market down about a dollar a bale. The result of the election evidently had little effect on the market, the main concern being with the government report due at ten o'clock Thursday morning. Liquidation and hedge pressure continued to send prices down. The Outside Bureau issued its private estimate at 10:30 a.m., making the indicated yield 14,392,000 bales against 14,450,000 bales last month, and the ginnings at 10,941,000 bales.

Manchester cabled: "Fair cloth inquiry. Yarns quieter." The Journal of Commerce said this morning: "Election and the coming report has slowed down the demand for spots. There is also the growing belief that the open weather has resulted in a sizeable addition to the crop. Ginnings should be around 10,300,000 bales or about 2,000,000 bales for the 12 day period. If the stock market advances sharply on Hoover's election it may have a sentimental effect on cotton but the fear that the government may confirm Postek's estimate of 14,610,000 bales puts a damper on bullish enthusiasm."

The average of 13 private crop estimates received to date is 14,656,000.

WEATHER AND CROP REVIEW?

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—The eastern half of the cotton belt weather was mostly favorable for outside operations and picking the remaining crop made satisfactory advance for most sections. There was some delay by rain in Arkansas where frost caused late bolls to open rapidly. Rain slightly damaged the staple. In Oklahoma, the week was cold, wet and unfavorable for picking which was delayed with some damage and loss by rain and high winds. In northwestern Texas growth was stopped by killing frost while picking was retarded by rain and cold. Snapping and shelling are becoming general in the northwest.

Miss., Ala.—Two-thirds of cotton picked and the crop is very short owing to drought during the growing season.

Houma, La.—Farmers have finished picking cotton. A multitude of weevils makes it look bad for the next season.

Mulberry, Ark.—Only about five per cent of cotton left in fields. Rain and cold weather have stopped picking.

Georgetown, Ala.—With little more good weather cotton picking will be finished. Some farmers have already turned cattle into fields.

New Orleans.—Exports of cotton today 14,346 bales. Exports all ports today 51,888 bales against 48,484 bales last year. Exports all ports thus far this week 195,345 bales against 129,124 bales last year. Exports all ports thus far this season 2,978,797 bales against 2,242,328 bales last year.

WEATHER

Early reports indicated that there was much rain over the cotton belt with temperatures moderately low. The thermometer was high over the eastern cotton belt center of area on middle Atlantic 20.1. Low areas over Iowa 29.65. Utah and Arizona 28.8. At noon the western cotton belt ranged from clear to cloudy, the central belt from cloudy to rainy, some rain in the north and the eastern belt partly cloudy with some scattered showers. Eastern belt; fair to cloudy and warmer with scattered showers.

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are no pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or looking sore and fussy in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sore and harmless worm expeller, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 25 cents per bottle from Lubbock Drug Company.

Chic Suits For Sportswomen

By MME. LISBETH.
Women who take part in active winter sports are by no means slighted by the famous couturiers. Many are the chic costumes designed especially for them. For skating, skiing, horseback riding, tobogganing, there are distinctive suits guaranteed to make mildy appear at her best while getting her healthful outdoor exercise. She carries a spiked cane, the spikes being for the purpose of picking things up from the ground without getting off her horse, although dispatches do not say what the fair Nancy hopes to salvage on her ride.

Daily Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (P)—Stock market traders greeted the new national administration with an array of buying today which taxed the capacity of the exchange almost to the limit, and piled up the largest total of sales ever recorded in a rising market. Transactions aggregated 4,891,800 shares. This figure was exceeded only on June 12, when sales crossed the 5,000,000 mark in a falling market. Oils and coppers were purchased in enormous volume, and utilities were prominent in the advance. The buying of these shares was based on the belief that a number of developments, including mergers, have been held in abeyance until after election, and also upon the fact that they have not participated proportionately in the long upswing of the so-called "Cordillera market." About 15 oils and ten coppers were bid up to new high prices for the year or longer, as well as a few merchandising issues and specialties. A wide assortment of stocks mounted 5 to 16 points and the Associated Press average of 20 industrials rose to a new high at 226.63, up about 6-10. The ticker ran for 43 minutes after the closing gong. The "bullish" response to the overwhelming victory of Hoover was stimulated by a number of favorable monetary and industrial developments. CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 7 (P)—Big world supplies of wheat, together with splendid wheat crop prospects in Argentina, governed the wheat crop prospects in Argentina, governed the wheat market today, and election news cut no apparent figure. The world's available stock of wheat was 11,949,000 bushels larger than a week ago, and totaled 337,407,500 bushels, compared with 250,428,000 bushels at this time last year. Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady, 1 5/8 to 1 3/4 to 2 1/8 to 2 1/2 lower. Corn finished at 18c to 1 5/8 advance, oats 1-8c to 1-4c off, and provisions varying from 2c setback to a rise of 20c.

Steel centers reported an almost negligible seasonal decline, and "iron age" described the pig iron market as "suggestive of boom conditions" and pointed to a probability of an advance of $2 to $3 a ton in steel sheet prices. Arthur W. Cutten, one of the leading stock operators, hailed the result of the election as promised good business for at least two years, and was particularly optimistic regarding the outlook in the oil industry.

A number of extra dividends and stock split-ups were announced during the day. Standard oils of California and Nebraska declared extra dividends of 50 cents, and directors of National Sugar Refining proposed a 4-for-1 split-up. A 5-for-1 split was rumored for Rio Grande oil.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7 (P)—(U. S. D. A.)—An influx of short fed steers had a depressing effect on the steer trade; at most points around the 11-market circuit 60 to 100 day fed steers of medium weights were far ahead of requirements, thus furnishing the packers an opportunity to enforce a sharp decline. Choice light weight steers and yearlings along with low priced steers were little changed; other killing classes were in light to moderate supply at firm prices. The election this week has interrupted trade on stocker and feeder steers with receipts unseasonably light. Choice yearlings at Chicago cleared at 18.00 the day's top; supplies of around 42,500 showed a decrease of 3,000 from a week ago and were 10,900 short of the same day last year.

Light receipts had a bullish influence in the fat lamb market with prices on a firm to 25c higher basis; Chicago reported a moderate upturn on aged stock but such offerings at other points were unchanged; choice native lambs at Chicago cleared 15.75; total offerings were estimated at 43,900 against 70,477 last Wednesday and 73,855 a year ago. Although hog receipts estimated at 75,850 were 10,000 under a week ago

Congressman Host In Cattle Confab

OZONA, Nov. 7 (P)—Congressman Claud Hudspeth of El Paso and Roy Hudspeth of Sonora have broadcast an invitation to the ranchmen of West Texas to gather at Congressman Hudspeth's Devil River ranch in Val Verde county Saturday, Nov. 17, for a conference regarding the eradication of the blow fly and the screwworm. Governor Moody and Senator Moody, and Senator Mayfield have accepted an invitation to address the meeting.

The state representatives from and 16,000 short of a year ago, a decidedly weaker undertone prevailed; early sales were steady to 20c lower but on the close prices were shaded 10 to 40 cents; the top of 2.80 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis.

Dangerous Business
Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membranes which are delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. The safe way to relieve constipation is with Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbine at Lubbock Drug Company.

SCRIPTURE: Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father, which is in Heaven.

CONSCIENCE AND THE LAW Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

No doubt it was difficult for the Apostle Paul, while bearing the bonds that had been placed upon him unjustly by agents of the law, to write that "the powers that be are ordained by God."

Paul himself had done no evil, and yet he was compelled to suffer all manner of hardships imposed by the law. He had an innate respect for authority and persons of authority, and yet he feared not even the brutal Nero who actually looked forward to the time when as a prisoner he should be carried to the seat of the Roman government for the hearing of his case.

The individual's attitude toward the law must be that described by Paul, else anarchy would succeed established government and the individual's own liberties would be destroyed.

It has been pointed out that diseases tend to take on increased severity at certain intervals, and that we are now passing through a period in which diphtheria is more virulent than it has been in the past.

The inoculation of more than a million children in New York City without a harmful result indicates the possibilities of this method.

The saving of life depends on early diagnosis and on prompt injection of diphtheria antitoxin, the specific remedy for this disease.

Any one who has seen a child strangle to death with the accumulation of the membrane of diphtheria in its throat and has been able to contribute to the relief of the suffering child when antitoxin is given early and in sufficient amounts will never hesitate to use this life-saving remedy.

A Washington Bystander

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The unfinished condition of the tomb at Arlington National cemetery of the Unknown Soldier created an incident during the visit to Washington of Dr. Eckener and his officers of the great German commercial trans-Atlantic air liner Graf Zeppelin which seemed for a time destined to cast a cloud on the atmosphere of international good will.

In the hurry and unfamiliar bustle of his visit to the tomb to place a wreath upon it, the airship commander inadvertently stepped on the tomb itself. It looks more like the base of a projected but uncompleted monument than a tomb in its present state and this no doubt played a part in what happened.

Embassy and government officials were quick to move in correction. A hasty conference with almost all pictures being stricken out in order that a proper film record might be made. Some of the camera men even went so far as to break their original plates.

Eckener At Mount Vernon. As to Dr. Eckener's personal attitude toward the ideals and traditions Americans reverence there can be no doubt. During that same visit to Washington he demonstrated his respect for these in a way that had nothing to do with publicity or news reels.

He was very tired after a constant round of receptions from the time he landed, still under the strain of the amazing air voyage where major responsibility rested on his shoulders. Dr. Keip, German charge d'affaires, saw this and maneuvered to give the airship commander a special military guard on the terrace of the Memorial Amphitheater where the Unknown lies, however, such precautions have been necessary.

An armed sentry is posted there through all daylight hours when the cemetery is open to the public. A canvas head shade protects him a little from the sun glare and a sentry box, marring the beauty of the classic architecture the terrace rail, affords storm shelter. In no other way has it been possible to prevent thoughtless desecration of the tomb by the hundreds of tourists who visit the shrine.

Tomb Guard Necessary. Ultimately there will be a fitting monument of some sort to mark the tomb of the Unknown. Congress has granted the authority and made appropriations and the study of a suitable completion of this memorial to American dead in the World War is progressing. Against the wish of army authorities to avoid stationing a special military guard on the terrace of the Memorial Amphitheater where the Unknown lies, however, such precautions have been necessary.

And He Ain't Said Nothin' Yet!

SO THINK WE

We think that when we discover the secret of eternal life there will not be any need of dying. It will just be countless ages of one bill collector after another.

We think that when we see three people involved in a low triangle, it is almost a certainty that someone's not on the square.

We think that the man who called duty a pleasure has certainly never faced customs officials.

We think that according to a recent report from the United States Department of Agriculture that farm bankruptcies is on the decline. Many farmers who went "broke" when the war came to a sudden close are beating back. The future is brighter for the agricultural industry than it has been in ten years.

We think that it usually follows that when a fellow thinks he is about the biggest run around the place he is about ready to be fired.

We think that a good turn out of the citizens of Lubbock should be given to the first air trippers of Fort Worth when they arrive here on Friday morning. Plans are being made for a cordial reception for the Aerodrome, but every man and woman can do their part by greeting the first air trippers to Lubbock by being present at the landing field.

We think that some people often wonder what the daily papers will have in the way of interesting news since the election is over. Daily newspapers always have plenty of news, for the breaks of life are with them. Sensational murders, trans-oceanic flights, big baseball deals, well, there will be plenty news even though the election is done with.

We think that one college professor of a northern university would like to see the gridiron hero of his school get his just dues. The professor says that the average football player brings his school around $10,000 a year, in the large educational institutions, and gets nothing in return for it but cracked ribs and mean looks from stern instructors for falling in his studies. The professor says that the lad should have the best special attention obtainable.

We think that America has lost one of the greatest journalists of the modern day in the recent death of Dr. Frank Crane. He was an inspirational writer whose advice on success in his writings through the daily press and books had made his name familiar.

We think that the best available figures indicate that more than 40,000,000 men and women qualified to vote in the election of Tuesday. The indication was for a greater number of votes than ever before and argued intense public interest in the campaign.

We think that we have found it to be true in both politics and courtship that a third party is usually not so desirable.

We think that when you hope for the best you will soon begin to wish that you had hoped for something much better.

We think that when a foot falls laughing he usually begins to notice when common sense abides.

We think that one of the most distinct differences between winter and summer is that the rumble seat only looks foolish in the summer and really is in winter.

We think that women, on the whole, were more interested in the recent campaign than any other one of the past and it is likely that their interest will not be quite as intense in some years to come.

We think that a man may run in to debt, but he seldom comes out of it faster than a snail.

The Way Of The World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

HOLDING AND PAWING If you haven't anything to say interesting enough to keep the attention of the one you are talking to, don't try to force him into unwilling attention by holding him by the lapel, pawing him, or moving around in such a manner as to keep your face under his chin no matter which way he looks. You know the type and the style. It is all very irritating. The man who indulges in such tactics has lost his case in a hurry unless his victim is particularly easy-tempered and soft-hearted. Let's recall the words of the courtly Chesterfield: "Never hold anyone by the button or the hand in order to be heard out, for if people are unwilling to hear you, you had better hold your tongue than them."

ELOQUENCE There is a lot which passes for eloquence which is only a fine word. The only true eloquence is the kind of speaking that brings about a worthy result. No matter how fluent a man may be, if he does not really move people, stir them, inspire them to action, he is not really eloquent. Lloyd George, one of the finest public speakers in the world, says that the "finest eloquence is that which gets things done."

THE GREAT We are accustomed to think that so-called great men are of a different race. We think of them as not behaving at all after the manner of the rest of us of the rank and file. It has been said by one that men are neither so good nor so bad as we are apt to think them. There are elements of greatness in almost all men, and elements of littleness in almost all men. We will all get along comfortably if we realize that a big man is also a human being; and a little man is a personality that deserves some respect. Sometimes it is ignorance that keeps a man from realizing his possibilities and being really big. More often it is a cramped spirit, a lack of generosity, selfishness.

WORRY Don't fight worry. It's no use. Worry will not be denied. You cannot pretend that you do not feel anxiety. The only way out is to face the facts that are responsible for worry and try to correct them. If the facts cannot be corrected, you will at least finally get used to it.

OPERATION IS SUCCESSFUL TEMPLE, Nov. 7, (AP)—An operation to remove a tack from the left lung of Claude Whitis, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Whitis of Kempner, was announced successful tonight.

Ruins of vast buildings, statues and other signs of a once prosperous civilization have been found on Easter Island, in the middle of the Pacific.

Who am I? For what purpose did I come to the United States in 1921? Where did the event take place? Which U. S. president lived at Canton, Ohio, where a memorial has been erected in his memory? Whose face is said to have launched a thousand ships? Where is the Statue of Liberty? "And whosoever of you will be chiefest, shall be servant of all." Where is this passage found in the Bible? WOMEN IN INDUSTRY REVIEWED By MARY ANDERSON (Chief of the Women's Bureau, Department of Labor)

(Mary Anderson was born at Lidköping, Sweden, August 21, 1872. She was educated in Sweden and came to the United States at the age of 16, entering a garment making industry in Chicago, Ill. She later worked in a shoe factory for 18 years. She served upon the national defense advisory commission during the early part of the world war and later as assistant to the chief of the women's bureau, department of labor. She was appointed director of the bureau in 1919, which office she has since held. Her home is in Washington, D. C.) Women's work is one of the oldest things in the world as we know it. From long before the dawn of written history, the evidence of cave and burial place gives mute testimony to the patient labor of the feminine hand.

How often is beauty ruined by ugly disposition! The prettiest face is spoiled by a frown, or a sneer, or a vain smirk. On the other hand, when purity, truth, and goodness shine in a countenance, though the features may be plain, the face is the face of an angel.

If the beauty of the Lord our God is an ornament possession, it grows ever more lovely with the years.

The other outstanding result is the awakening of the people to an understanding of government, and to a realization of their governmental responsibilities. Our people have read and studied and learned more of American government than the past sixty days than ever before.

Clark M. Mullican, Chairman 30th Senatorial District Smith Organization.

To succeed. The day of wearing a brass collar is over. "Those democrats who have as conscientiously worked for Mr. Smith will I am sure be willing to join hands with those of us who supported Mr. Hoover and unite again on the principles of our grand old party, and with leader of the Wilson or Bryan type, go forth to battle as of old."

"I want to take this opportunity to reiterate my personal thanks to all who have given me counsel and assistance. It has been a pleasure to have such loyal and willing helpers. It has not been popular to oppose our party and we have received very severe criticism. This we have disregarded as we felt the justice of our position and that such condemnation was unwarranted. Particularly do I want to express my thanks to our speakers, who have been of great benefit to our cause. To those ministers who have felt that duty called them into action I can only say that you will find pay and consolation in the Good Book, as expressed by the Apostle Paul—"That I have fought the good fight."

"It affords me and my associates a good deal of pleasure to know that Lubbock County, the South Plains and very probably Texas, endorse our work by giving Hoover the vote of those sections. That pays all of us."

F. O'Neill, Chairman 30th Senatorial District Hoover Organization."

Texas Leaders Continue With Fight As Votes Throw State To Republicans

regular leaders who supported Smith, "and Tammany Hall" should relinquish the party reins. State Senator Tom Love of Dallas, another prominent anti-Smith democrat, threw verbal grenades at regular party leaders, declared that "the brass collar has been smashed in Texas," said that the election was the best thing that could have happened to the democratic party in the state and predicted that Hoover's Texas plurality would touch 25,000.

This view was not shared by W. A. Thomas, democratic campaign manager who refused to concede Hoover the state and who said the liquor and religious issues were not settled by the election.

Hoover Victory

(Continued from Page 1) mately 5,000,000. By the same mandate with which it selected a republican administration the electorate likewise increased that party's majorities in the two houses of congress and gave republicans a lead in most of the 34 gubernatorial contests.

Swings In Every Area. Following a trend established early on election night, the Hoover advantage swung steadily along in every section of the country. It soon brought from Governor Smith a concession of his defeat, to be followed by his announcement that after a quarter of a century in politics he expected never to run for office again.

Expressing his gratitude to those who supported his cause, the governor said the "American people have rendered their decision; I am a democrat and I firmly believe in the rule of the majority."

At his California home Mr. Hoover relaxed in the elation of victory and prepared an expression of his gratitude to the public.

Map Has Strange Color. The strangeness of the new political map painted at the polls is best reflected in the historical contrast of the republican vote in the democracies of Texas, Florida, North Carolina and Virginia and the turn of republican Massachusetts and Rhode Island to the Smith standard. Texas was a nip and tuck battle at the outset but on the late returns there, as in the three sister states, Hoover forged to the front with a lead that ran into the thousands.

The two New England states also swung back and forth in the early counting, but Rhode Island's final count gave Smith a margin under 2,000 while Massachusetts offered a much safer lead.

Elsewhere there was little doubt of the issue, the remainder of the east, the border states, and the Pacific coast region turning in solid majorities for the republican ticket. For the most part Smith and Robinson fared well in the cities but were snowed under by republican precincts in the rural counties.
