MOM SAYS DAUGHTER FORCED TO TAKE PART IN AMARILLO ESCAPE ATTEMPT

Prisoners Threaten To Kill Hostages

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The motner of a Potter County jail prisoner said today her daughter was being forced to take part in an escape attempt in which prisoners held two jail guards hostage.

Sheriff T.L. Baker said four prisoners armed with knives were being led by Darvin "Red" Meharg, who threatened to kill his hostages. Baker said a fifth inmate. Barbara Ann Thiel, 40, joined the four prisoners in the revolt shortly before midnight Monday.

But Louzetta McGregor, Mrs. Thiel's mother, said her daughter telephoned her estranged husband's employer from jail earlier today and said she was forced by Meharg to join the revolt.

"She told Herman's (thiel) boss that Red made her join them in this thing. She was crying and everything and then suddenly the telephone went dead," Mrs. McGregor said.

Mrs. Thiel and Meharg were arrested last month in Amarillo on charges of robbing a liquor store.

"He's a mean, mean man. I've known him for years," Mrs. McGregor said. "I've heard him say over and over again that he'll kill or be killed before he goes back to jail again."

Meharg is an ex-policeman and former convict with a long police record, officers said.

"He was never much of an officer—out of line most of the time," a Wichita Falls police spokesman said. Meharg was employed for a few months in the 1950s as a policeman but was fired for what the spokesman called "hare-brained misbehavior."

"He broke out of the Wichita County jail several years ago," said Wichita County Sheriff Jim Voyles.

Baker said the prisoners threatened to hurl firebombs from the downtown jail, which sits atop the county courthouse, then demanded time without interruption to discuss strategy among themselves.

Baker said one of the hostages suffered a broken hip. Mehard allowed a doctor inside the jail to treat the injured jailer, identified as Don Sidwell.

Baker said all 116 prisoners in the jail, including five women, were released from their cells for a time but the ringleaders and some trusties later herded them back into the cells.

Aside from lacerations about the head, the sheriff said the other captive jailer—Stan Snitker—was believed to be unharmed.

Authorities said the jail's inmates apparently were permitted to watch a late evening professional football telecast and possibly a newscast until shortly before the hostages were grabbed. Just how this was effected had not been determined.

The sheriff said it appeared the prisoners demanding freedom were armed only with knives taken from the jail kitchen.

COURT DECIDES

Crittenden Is Winner

EASTLAND — Peggy Crittenden apparently is the winner of the hotly contested district clerk's race after the three justices with the 11th Court of Civil Appeals filed a denial for a request for re-hearing of its earlier decision that the case was moot.

The three justices again stated that M. Fern Cox's contention was that the first primary ended in a tie.

The opinion contended that state statutes provide that elections ending in a tie must be settled in balloting at the second primary and that date has come and gone without balloting.

In essence, the opinion means that the tying vote was found too late to change the outcome of the election.

The clerk in the civil court in Eastland said that the opinion is signed by Judge Austin McCloud, Judge Esco Walter and Judge Raleigh Brown.

Cox said here this morning that he had not been notified of the denial of the request for a re-hearing. Mrs. Crittenden was notified of the decision Monday by her attorney, Bill Kerr of Midland. "I am very happy about it," she stated.

Rockefeller Ford's Pick

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today nominated Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president, saying the former New York governor will "make a great teammate."

The choice is subject to congressional approval, a virtual certainty.

Rockefeller said he was deeply honored at the call to serve Ford and "through him all the people of this great country."

Ford said he was confident Rockefeller will be approved by the required majorities in the House and Senate. "I wouldn't have picked someone who wouldn't be," the President said.

DOWN THE ROAD

Ford presented Rockefeller in a nationally televised, Oval Office ceremony. Then he took his chosen partner to the White House press room, where Rockefeller, answering questions, said he assumes Ford will be a candidate for election to the presidency in 1976.

Rockefeller, 66, said he had not discussed the political future with Ford. Asked who he thought would be on the ticket with Ford in 1976, Rockefeller replied: "You're way down the road ahead of me."

Formally announcing the nomination, Ford said Rockefeller will be "a good partner for me and I think a good partner for our country and the world."

Then, in the press room, he added: "I think he'll make a great teammate. I think he will be good for the country. I think he'll be good for the world and I'm looking forward to working with him."

IN TRUST

At his brief news conference, Rockefeller, a member of one of the nation's wealthiest families, fended off questions about his personal finances, but said he will make whatever disclosures are required in the congressional confirmation process.

He refused to divulge his net worth at the news conference, bluntly telling questioners: "You're not the committee of Congress."

"I will do two things," he said. "I will conform totally with whatever the law requires and I will answer any questions members of Congress feel appropriate."

As for his vast holdings, he said he assumed they would be placed in trust.

Ford said the selection was "a tough call." Rockefeller said the President first contacted him directly Saturday — the day the White House dismissed published allegations that Rockefeller money had financed efforts to disrupt the 1972 Democratic National Convention.

Rockefeller said Ford told him Monday night that he was the choice for vice president.

BUSH TALKS

From the time Richard M. Nixon resigned on Aug. 9, Rockefeller had been rated a prime prospect in vice presidential speculation.

His name and that of Republican National Chairman George Bush dominated the 11 day guessing game. Ford managed to keep his secret until the formal announcement.

Bush said the choice of Rockefeller was outstanding; that "one couldn't find a man of more stature and who possesses more administrative ability."

Following the question-and-answer session with reporters, Rockefeller was to fly to Maine to continue his vacation, going first to Bal Harbor and then to Seal Harbor.

As they left the White House after the announcement, congressional leaders of both parties indicated they anticipate Rockefeller's confirmation.

CAPABLE MAN

House Speaker Carl Albert hailed Rockefeller as "one of the most experienced and capable men in the country" and said "I think that Gov. Rockefeller will be confirmed."

Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, a member of the Senate Rules Committee which will consider the nomination, said "I think he'll be confirmed without any delay."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said he hoped Rockefeller could be confirmed in 35 to 40 days rather than the 55 days it took for Ford's confirmation.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Mistook Girl For 'Hit Man'

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) — "That family worked so hard, they tried to make a decent living," said Sue Amaral.

Mrs. Amaral is a neighbor of the Marion Perchman family, hit doubly by tragedy over the weekend.

Perchman's daughter, Edith, 12, died on Sunday when gunfire erupted from the house of a subscriber on her Detroit Free Press newspaper route. She was hit in the face with shotgun pellets, and 15 pistol bullets were pumped into her body, police said.

Perchman, who drove a delivery truck for the Free Press, was driving his daughter around her early morning route and was waiting for her in his car outside the residence of Rudolph Acosta when she was shot. He pulled her into his automobile and sped away, but the car door flew open and he lost control of the vehicle which crashed into a house.

Perchman suffered broken ribs and was hospitalized in fair condition.

Police charged Rudolph Acosta, 24, with manslaughter and freed him on $2,500 bond. However, police Monday changed the charge to seconddegree murder after hundreds of enraged citizens of this community of 33,000 marched on city hall and demanded his arrest.

Officers said Acosta mistook the girl for a "hit man" with a contract on his life. They theorized Acosta's murder was ordered as part of a drug-related family feud.

Acosta's attorney said Acosta would surrender on Wednesday.

At the Perchman home on Monday, relatives and neighbors milled about in the hot afternoon sun.

BREEZE

The slightly cooler temperatures and southerly breezes will continue through tonight with a 20 per cent chance for showers tonight and Wednesday. High today in mid 90s, low tonight in upper 60s and high Wednesday in lower 90s. Winds from south today at 20-30 miles per hour diminishing to 8-18 mph tonight.

Head Tally Is Now 6,205

First day school enrollment was within 73 pupils of the number who enrolled on opening day last year with a grand total of 6205 in comparison to 6278 last year.

This is the smallest drop shown in the past six years, indicating that Big Spring school population has apparently leveled off, according to Noel Reed, assistant superintendent of special services.

The high school population is almost identical to 1973 with 1801 registering on opening day this year, as against 1805 last year.

The total for all elementary schools was 3187 and secondary was 2958. The biggest drop was in the elementary level total, which is true across the nation with less children born nationwide in the past decade.

Burglars

Municipal Judge John R. Coffee was called in early Saturday to read the rights to two local men charged with burglary of Leonard's Pharmacy.

After charges were filed and bonds set, judge Coffee went over to his office. It was then he discovered that the two had apparently also broken into his office, which is next door to Leonard's. Nothing was missing in the law office but an attempt had apparently been made to go through that office to Leonard's.

Drive For Bible Fund Experiences Best Day

The High School Bible Class fund had one of its biggest days on record, and probably its greatest day from the point of numbers of participants, today.

Twenty-two supporters gave a total of $510 to boost the fund to $1,842.50, about one-third of what is needed to insure the program. Please mail or bring your gift to the Herald for acknowledgment and keep the ball rolling.

Time Change Is Approved By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to take the nation off yearround Daylight Saving Time has been approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

The measure, approved Monday, provides that clocks be set back one hour on the last Sunday in October and then set forward again on the last Sunday in February.

Unless Congress passes other legislation, this four-month change will revert next year to the traditional formula of six months of standard and six months of daylight time.

Year-round Daylight Saving Time was adopted last year as a fuel conservation step during the energy crisis.

The Federal Energy Administration estimates the energy saving under the new bill will be close to the 1 per cent figure achieved nationally last winter.

Cliff Balzer Will Return

Cliff I. Balzer, who has been western regional sales manager for Cosden Oil & Chemical Company the past two years, is returning to Big Spring Sept. 1, to rejoin the polymer technical service group.

He will also be engaged in new polymer development, which will require his attention both in Big Spring and in the field.

An employee of Cosden since Aug. 30, 1954, Balzer was for several years a technician in the pilot plant. In July 1965, he was named polystyrene quality control supervisor. Subsequent years have broadened his experience in quality control, customer service and polymer development.

He is a member of the Society of Plastics Engineers, has been active in The Society of the Plastics Industry, and has been affiliated with American Chemical Society.

Man Is Shot Early Today

Ted Daves, 61, 1705 Caroline, apparently shot himself to death around 6:20 a,m., on FM 700 in the middle of the road 400 feet south of the 7-11 Store this morning.

He was found there, gasping his last breaths with a single shot throught the head and a .22 automatic rifle beside the body by passer-by. He died en route to Medical Center Hospital.

Police officials were unable to identify the man, who had no indentification on his person and put out a plea for help on local radio.

Shortly before noon, a sister, Mrs. Monty McGuire came in and identified the man. The victim's wife was at work when the shooting occurred.

A resident of Big Spring since 1932, he was veteran of World War II and retired from the Civil Service in June 1973. He had been in ill health and was a recent patient at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Services are pending at Nalley Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Iva Carol Jones of Wichita Falls, three grandchildren and his mother, Mrs. A.G. Daves, Sterling City.

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. McGuire, Big Spring and Mrs. Madia Rossier, Odessa; and five brothers, W. O. Daves, Big Spring; Gordon Daves, Midland; J. W. Daves, Port Lavaca, Woodrow Daves, Sterling City and Ellis Daves, Fort Smith, Ark.

Base Is Given Bound Files

Historical buffs and others who are just plain curious can now browse through back issues of the "Prairie Pilot," dating back to 1952 when Webb's base newspaper was called the "Springboard."

The base library has been presented a nearly complete set of bound copies which had been stored in the Information Division. The "Prairie Pilot" and its predecessor have been published over the years by Big Spring Printing Co, Inc., and bound copies were presented to the base by owner Robert Crowell. An additional set of back issues is being retained by the Information Division for archival purposes.

Crop Appraisal Method Altered

Most recent guidelines for appraising weather-damaged cotton crops are considerably improved, according to the plains Cotton Grosers, Inc.

Now the ASCS has authority to appraise at zero potential the fields where plants are no more than eight inches tall and with only one or two blooms. Previously, it was required in addition that plants be gray in color and remain in a curled or wilted condition overnight.

FORD'S SURPRISE

Promise Of Leniency For 'War Evaders'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's surprise offer of leniency to Vietnam-era war evaders has muted congressional critics of any form of amnesty and opened a new debate on the degree of forgiveness the nation should extend.

Many congressional leaders agree with Ford that blanket immunity is not an appropriate remedy.

But many said that some form of conditional amnesty, probably alternative civilian service, is needed to end the voluntary exile of thousands of young men.

In a major shift in policy from the past two administrations, Ford told the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday that his administration proposes a policy of "earned re-entry."

"So I am throwing the weight of my presidency into the scales of justice on the side of leniency. I foresee their earned re-entry into a new atmosphere of hope, hard work, and mutual trust."

Ford said, "As I reject amnesty, so do I reject revenge.

"In my judgment, these young Americans should have a second chance to contribute their fair share to the rebuilding of peace among ourselves ..."

He said he had ordered Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger to begin a case-by-case review of 50,000 men convicted, charged or sought for draft evasion or desertion.

A Justice Department spokesman said the department is "seeking a meeting as early as possible with Department of Defense and Selective Service officials" to examine ways to accomplish the objective Ford announced.

DISENCHANTED COUPLE

'Anything Is Better Then Being In Navy'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A married couple who joined the Navy under a togetherness plan and went AWOL after being sent separate ways have been transferred to Memphis.

Sylvia Chilton, 27, was held in Shelby County Jail Sunday. Her husband, William, 28, was in the Correctional Custody Center at the Memphis Naval Air Station at Millington.

They were arrested Tuesday in Owensboro, Ky., on charges of unauthorized absence from the Navy base at Little Creek, Va.

SOUNDED FINE

Mrs. Chilton said she and her husband joined the Navy in November "because it sounded like it had good things to offer."

She said they talked to a Navy recruiter for four weeks and were attracted by a new "husband-wife" program that promised they would be stationed together at one of three bases of their choice.

But, she said, after basic training in Florida they were sent to Little Creek, not England, Hawaii or Long Beach, Calif., as they had requested.

She said her husband had been shipped out on the USS Fort Snelling, even though he had requested shore duty and the recruiter had said he would receive it.

'THROWING A FIT'

"I started throwing a fit," she said. "I didn't know what to do."

Mrs. Chilton said she requested legal aid but was advised it was too late to do anything.

Her husband left the base in mid-April without authorization and a month later she joined him because "I didn't see any point in standing around. I just couldn't stand it."

They were brought to Millington to stand trial, but shortly left the base again.

"I just want to get out," Mrs. Chilton said. "But I was told the only way to be discharged is to hit an officer, steal something or get pregnant. The whole thing turned into a circus."

The Chiltons were rearrested Tuesday and put in jail for "safekeeping," said Capt. S. M. Banks, executive officer of the Naval Air Station.

Mrs. Chilton said she is willing to settle for a dishonorable discharge. "They lied to me," she said. "Anything is better than being in the Navy."

Banks would not comment on the recruiting promises made to the Chiltons. He said that the wording of the contract is "straightforward" and enlistees are "warned to read it before they sign."

They went to their home in Owensboro and hid there until June 7, when they were arrested, she said.

New Guidelines Adopted In Drug Abuse Problems

Webb AFB has learned that the U.S. Civil Service Commission has instructed federal agencies to establish programs for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of drug abuse among employes, and to insure (except for employment in certain sensitive agencies or positions specified in Public Law 92-255) that no person is denied or deprived of federal civilian employment due solely to prior drug abuse.

Development of the guidelines involved consultation with federal agencies, union, special interest groups and the President's Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention.

Dr. Robert L. DuPont, director of the White House Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, said: "I feel these guidelines represent a positive approach to drug problems in the occupational setting and that they are appropriately performance oriented."

3 YEARS AGO

The guidelines parallel closely the Federal Civilian Employe Alcoholism Program which was begun three years ago and state that agency programs should include the following policy:

That the agency recognizes drug abuse as a treatable health problem;

That for purposes of the policy, drug abuse is defined as a health problem in which the employe's job performance is impaired as a direct consequence of the use of drugs;

That employes with a drug abuse problem will receive the same careful consideration and offers of assistance that are extended to employes having any other illness or health problem;

That the agency does not, however, condone employe drug activity which is contrary to law. When management has good reason to believe criminal conduct is directed towards or potentially harmful to the person or property of others, management's first obligation is to those persons or properties, and then to the employe involved;

NOT JEOPARDIZED

That no employe will have his job security or promotion opportunities jeopardized by his request to designated personnel for counseling and referral assistance, except as limited by Section 413 (c)(2) of Public Law 92-255 relating to sensitive positions;

That the confidential nature of medical-counseling records of employes with drug abuse problems will be preserved in accordance with Section 408 of Public Law 92-255 and the implementing regulations issued by the special action office;

That sick leave will be granted for the purpose of treatment or rehabilitation as with any other health problem;

That employes who suspect they may have a drug abuse problem, even in the early stages, are encouraged voluntarily to seek counseling and information on a confidential basis by contacting the individual(s) designated to provide such services.

The guidelines also indicate that in considering applicants with a drug abuse history for federal employment (except in the sensitive agencies or positions excluded by the public law), the Commission will make its determination on the basis of whether or not the applicant is a good employment possibility. In such cases, the length of time since the last abuse of drugs is less important than the steps taken by the applicant to secure treatment of his health problem.

In addition to their cooperative development of the guidelines, the Commission and the special action office recently signed an interagency agreement transferring $85,000 of the latter's funds to the Commission's Bureau of Intergovernmental Personnel Programs. The bureau has subsequently made a grant award to the International Personnel Management Association to survey the employment policies and practices of state and local governments in regard to former drug abusers, and to develop a merit-bases personnel system model designed to facilitate their employment and enhance the rehabilitation opportunitites of employes with drug problems.

Shootout In Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP) —A Tulsa man engaged police in a two-hour gun battle Monday night that left one policeman and the man wounded.

Dwight Walker, 23, and policeman Charles Lewis, 21, were listed in "very satisfactory" condition at a Tulsa hospital after the shootout.

The fight began about 9 p.m. when police responded to a call that a man was threatening to kill somebody.

Officers said they were met by gunfire when they arrived at Walker's house. Lewis was pinned down in the front yard until other officers — under the cover of heavy fire — managed to pull him to safety.

Officers said Walker's mother was in the house with him when the shooting began but escaped out the back door.

Traffic in a 25-block area was blocked off as the fight progressed and an estimated 1,000 persons gathered nearby.

Officers called repeatedly for the man to surrender but each time the call was answered by gunfire.

Hudson Brothers Are Riding High

NEW YORK (AP) — The Hudson Brothers are riding high now with their summer music-comedy show on CBS. But to hear Bill Hudson tell it, their climb from obscurity was more like riding the crest of a slump.

Record deals collapsed, creditors' notes materialized, empty stomachs rumbled and worst of all, Allan Blye, who now co-produces their show, didn't laugh when they auditioned for him.

But the three brothers — Bill, 24, Mark, 22, and Brett, 21 — never were fazed. Bill says that's because they've always found something to laugh about, usually themselves.

The brothers started their career in their early teens and also started slipping fast comedy bits into their soft-rock music act.

Alas, when they landed their first record contract in 1968 and went on tour, the comedy caused problems, Bill says. The company thought they should stick to music, but the brothers couldn't help gagging it up.

"We've always cracked each other up, but there were many times we didn't crack anyone else up," said Bill. "We'd say something and thought it was hilarious.

SILENCE

"We'd kill ourselves laughing on stage and we'd stop laughing — and silence ..."

The Hudson comedy style on their Wednesday night show is a wild blend of sight gags, quick skits and fresh puns.

Bill said it evolved in late 1968, when the brothers repaired the basement of the Hudson home in Portland, Ore., and started writing and performing skits.

They went back on the road, but fiscal disaster followed. One record company flew them from Los Angeles to New York to play at a bash, but the bash was cancelled for reasons unknown, he said.

"The company wouldn't fly us back," Bill said, "And we only had $50 between us."

They grabbed whatever club dates they could find. One club hired them for two week, but wouldn't pay in advance. It did agree to advance them one meal a night.

Either Divorced Parent May Look At Records

AUSTIN (AP) — Either divorced parent may look at their child's student records, Atty. Gen. John Hill said

The only exception, Hill said, would be if the parent-child relationship had been terminated by a court order.

In the same opinion Hill held that the 1973 Open Records Act does not permit a defendant in a criminal case to obtain the student records of the victim he allegedly shot.

That opinion was sought by W.M. Nelson, superintendent of the Lumberton Independent School District.

Nelson and the lawyer for the Austin school district, William Bingham, asked about divorced parents getting student records for use in custody hearings.

Hill said, "The mere fact that divorce has been decreed and that one parent has been appointed custodian ... does not exclude the other from his or her status as a parent or from having some of the rights, privileges, duties, and powers of a full parent. Therefore, absent a court order terminating the parent-child relationship, we must conclude that even divorced parents have the right of access to their child's student records."

In response to other questions regarding the Open Records Act, Hill:

—Notified Michael Ainsa, assistant city attorney of El Paso, that supplementary police reports on auto accidents are public information even if the reports pertain to possible civil suits against the city.

SEALED BIDS

—Told City Atty. John Ross Jr. of El Paso that copies of electrical permits issued by the city should be disclosed on request. Such information had been denied to a local labor union, Hill said.

Guilty Plea Entered Here

Dickie Joe Tindol, 24, pleaded guilty to charges of burglary Monday after waiving indictment and received a 10 year probated sentence.

Tindol was arrested along with others in connection with Friday night's burglary at Leonard's Pharmacy. He is to make full restitution to Leonard's.

Taken from the Pharmacy were various drugs.

Thompson Is Re-elected

COLORADO CITY — Charles C. Thompson, a Mitchell County farmer-rancher, has been re-named to a three-year term to the state's Federal Land Bank board of directors.

Thompson serves as both chairman of the board and president of the Colorado City National Bank and as chairman of the Colorado City Industrial Team.

Couple United In Home Ceremony

Miss Debra Denise Cockrell became the bride of Ricky Dale Kinsey of Plainview Saturday evening in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Garrison, 807 E. 13th. The Rev. Caleb Hildebrand of St. Mark's Methodist Church, Midland, officiated.

The altar was accented with baskets of white Majestic daisies and yellow roses, and music was performed by Mrs. John Shanks, Hobbs, N.M. organist.

Wearing a veil of illusion held by a headdress of lace and seed pearls, the bride was attired in a wedding gown of sheer, dotted Swiss over white satin, designed with an empire waistline, square neckline and sheer, full sleeves cuffed at the wrist. Her bridal bouquet was of white daisies and yellow roses.

Miss Jana Cockrell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a pastel yellow dotted Swiss dress styled with empire waistline and short puffed sleeves. Trimmed in embroidered tulip design at the neckline, the gown had a belt of yellow velvet with matching embroidery. Her headpiece was a yellow velvet bandeau, and she carried a single yellow long-stemmed rose.

The best man was Paul Kinsey, father of the bridegroom.

The couple is residing in Plainview. The bride attended Forsan High School and worked for Gamco Industries, Inc. She will continue her education in Plainview this fall. The bridegroom attended Forsan High School and is presently associated with Wright's Plumbing Company of Plainview.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the home.

MRS. RICKY DALE KINSEY

The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth trimmed in lace. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white daisies, and crystal and silver appointments were used. Those serving were Miss Becky King, Miss Debbie Thompson, Miss Carla Chrane and Mrs. Curtis Doyle.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Shanks, Hobbs, N.M.; Mrs. F.E. Cockrell and Douglas Cockrell, both of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wright, Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cockrell, Lamesa.

Reviewer Is Guest For Luncheon

Mrs. Clyde Angel of Big Spring presented a program Wednesday when the El Ami Book Review Club held a luncheon meeting at Ranchland Hills Country Club.

Chosen to be reviewed by Mrs. Angel was a new book by Tom Mullen, "Where Two or Three are Gathered Together, Someone Spills His Milk." The author is dean of theology at Earlham School of Religion, Richmond, Ind.

Guests in the Angel home over the weekend were their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Angel of Waco.

'Pounding' Is Nuptial Event

An old-fashioned pounding was held recently in Lubbock honoring Miss Mary B. Dirks who was married this past weekend to James E. Quillen.

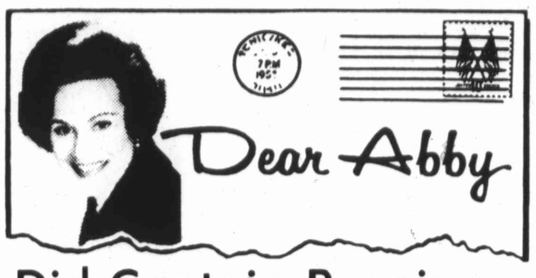
The affair was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Berta, and guests included Mrs. Henry B. Dirks, Big Spring, mother of the honoree, and her sister, Miss Barbara Dirks.

The refreshment table was covered with a blue cloth and centered with a punch bowl.

Survey Group Has Speaker

The Howard County Historical Survey Committee met Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stipp, 819 W. 18th for another in a continuing series of programs relating the history of religion in Howard County.

The speaker was Mrs. Helen Early who traced the growth of the First Christian Church since its founding in 1882.



Did Captain Receive Good Conduct Medal?

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 49, a wonderful man in all respects, and I love him dearly.

I am 43, but I'm told I look a lot younger. Not to brag, but I'm also attractive.

Living in our apartment building is a handsome, 40-year-old Army captain. (He's a bachelor.) My husband travels a lot, and this bachelor told me if I ever got bored or lonely when my husband is away, I should call him and he will invite me over for a gourmet dinner. (He belongs to a gourmet club and loves to cook.)

So far I haven't taken him up on it, but I've thought about it. I've been a faithful wife all these years and have no intentions of being otherwise. I told my husband about this captain's invitation, and he said: "I don't like the idea. It's not that I don't trust you, but I wouldn't trust any man alone with a beautiful woman. Also, I don't want to give the neighbors anything to gossip about."

Abby, shouldn't a woman my age be allowed to do what she wants to do?

ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON: A woman of any age should be allowed to do what she wants to do. However, even though the captain's "gourmet dinner" is 100 per cent kosher, and he has a good conduct medal to match yours, if your husband doesn't like the idea, don't pursue it. If you're lonely in your husband's absence, get off the fence and go with a group. There's safety in numbers.

DEAR ABBY: I've often considered writing to you about this, but then I would think: "It's too silly!" Now, I've had it.

We share a duplex house with two of the warmest, kindest people in the world. They are always so nice. That's the trouble, they are TOO nice!

When the mister cuts his grass, he cuts ours, too. I know this is silly, but it bugs me. I LIKE to cut my own grass! I've told him not to bother, that I would do it in the evening, but then he says: "That's all right. I already have my lawn mower out."

Abby, I've gone out and started mowing my lawn, and he has the nerve to come over, shut my mower off and say: "Now, you go tend your baby, and let me do this." (They have no children and are quite a bit older than we are.)

Abby, I truly like this sweet old neighbor, but he is carrying a good deed too far. How can I tell him?

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

DEAR KEEP: Tell him that you WANT to cut your own grass because you NEED the exercise. Now what warm, kind, sweet old neighbor would deprive you of your exercise?

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Angry" asks: "Do I have a right to complain?"

Her question caused me to recall what the late William Ernest Hocking wrote in his Types of Philosophy:

"Anyone can complain, but to see precisely what is wrong is a gift; accurate diagnosis comes from a unique power of vision and indicates the likelihood of an equally unique capacity to remedy the fault."

Abby, you have both!

ARTHUR H. PRINCE

DEAR MR. PRINCE: I like the quote, but jeepers, what an extravagant compliment! Isn't there enough inflation in the world without adding another swelled head?

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Elderly Slate Meeting Here

All persons of retirement age are invited to attend the regular monthly luncheon Wednesday in the Senior Citizens' Center on the campus at Howard College.

John Clancey, publicity chairman, issued the invitation to the covered dish affair by saying, "If you can't bring a dish, bring a friend."

Doors at the center will be opened at 10 a.m., for the convenience of those who would like to use the game room. The luncheon will be served at noon, with hot coffee and tea being provided by the sponsors, the Howard County Council on Aging.

Patients To Be Picnic Guests

Sixty or more patients at Big Spring State Hospital will be guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club at an annual picnic according to plans made when the club held a dinner meeting in Texas Electric Reddy Room.

The picnic is slated Sept. 10 in Comanche Trail Park. The group will gather at the pavilion near the totem pole. Mrs. Mamie Roberts, general chairman, will be assisted by her committee in completing arrangements for food and entertainment.

The club program was given by Mrs. Charles Summers who conducted a quiz on B&PW membership, using as reference the state magazine, "Texas Woman." Announcement was made of the District 8 conference in El Paso, Oct. 19-20 at Roadway Inn.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. James F. Vineyard, membership committee chairman, and committee members, Mrs. Fred McGowan and Mrs. Delphia Gordon. Mrs. Willie Lane, executive director of the Cap Rock Chapter, National Foundation for Birth Defects, was introduced as a new member.

The membership committee will also be in charge of a dinner meeting at 7 p.m., Aug. 27 at Coker's Restaurant.

Philatheas Conduct Installation Service

Mrs. Paul Guy installed new officers for Philathea Sunday school class, First United Methodist Church, during a dinner at the church Thursday. Mrs. Guy, retiring president, presented each officer with a Star of Bethlehem plant, admonishing them to "let the star lead you in this year's actions."

Installed were Mrs. B. M. Keese, president; Mrs. Paul Darrow, first vice president; Mrs. C. A. Holcomb, second vice president; Miss Edith Gay, secretary; Mrs. Bill McIlvain, treasurer; Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales; Mrs. Guy, co-major; and Mrs. Clyde Denton, curriculum chairman.

Mrs. Guy was presented a gift of appreciation from the class. Prayers were led by Mrs. Keese and Mrs. Lina Flewellen, after which Mrs. Hugh Duncan gave a devotional, "Hope."

In other business, the class agreed to buy a coffee percolator for the church kitchen.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. D. O'Barr, group captain; Mrs. Sindey Wood, Mrs. Clyde Waits, Mrs. A. J. Cain, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Miss Gay and Mrs. Flewellen, assisted by Mrs. Moad and Mrs. C. H. Cox.

Guests were Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Eleanor Hinkley, the Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parham.

International Women's Club

Mrs. Margarete Freitas, a native of Germany, served refreshments typical of that country when she was hostess Wednesday to the International Women's Club in her home, 1426 E. 6th. Centering the table was an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Freitas also gave the program, a demonstration of embroidery and oil painting.

Mrs. Gudrun Burton, president, welcomed three guests, Mrs. Najah Jabur, Iraq; Mrs. Gabby Walker, Germany; and Mrs. Geneviere Hernandez of France. Farewells were said to Mrs. Christel Martinez, club president for 1973, who has now moved to California.

Tentative plans were made for a fall fashion show and a cosmetic demonstration.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Sept. 11 in the home of Mrs. Jung Ja Simpson of Korea, 2503 Ann. Members are to bring any items they wish for a "white elephant" sale.

Force Wipes Out Freedom

Ralph Nader's latest demand is that the vote be made mandatory: Not only may you vote, you shall vote. At first blush, it sounds good, considering the low vote turnout in so many elections.

Nader says that compulsory voting would also eliminate time and energy spent in registering voters, prevent politicians from pandering to bloc votes and do away with remaning "obstructions" to voting.

What Nader is talking about is two things, really: Not only compulsory voting but also "manhood suffrage," which means, in effect, an automatic right to vote when you reach voting age.

We're pretty near that state of things already, what with federalization of the vote to the point that a brief period of residence is about all that's required to qualift and register.

But can any law really make anyone vote? Nader would try to get around the coercive aspects of his plan by allowing us the privilege of "voting to abstain" from supporting any and all candidates, and he would also allow write-ins. But the legal duty of going to the polls is still there.

It doesn't sound constitutional. A right is a purely individual thing under the Constitution — one which nobody can take from you but which you have no duty to assert unless you see fit to do so. In short, rights are of the essence of individual choice—and voting, as we have been told by both Congress and the Supreme Court, is now a right.

The low voter turnout is indeed a scandal, but making it mandatory—regardless of alturistic intent — would kill a freedom, no matter how poorly and negatively we exercise it.

What The Court Said

It will be interesting to observe the effect of the Detroit case decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on the practice of busing.

Perhaps the observation of columnist James Kilpatrick is apropos: "What the court held in the Detrot case, and all that it held, is that remedies for unconstitutional school segregation must be applied within the school districts in which the constitutional violations occur."

He added that it "is patently unfair to punish the children of suburban school districts by compelling them to be bussed long distances merely to promote desegregation elsewhere.

But the thrust of the decision is not a retreat from the principle that deliberately segregated schools are unconstitutional. Rather, the court seems to be saying that the remedies, whatever they are, must be within the districts, not between districts. The court did make the point, however, that the courts must not lose sight of the central educational function of the schools—to educate, not necessarily balance or transport.

Ticklish Situation

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The Ford administration has clearly supported basic Turkish demands in the tragic, potentially disastrous Cyprus crisis for a reason fundamental to U.S. self-interest: Turkey is far more important than Greece as the eastern anchor of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

INDEED, TOP U.S. strategists are studying the implications of withdrawing tactical nuclear weapons and other NATO military defenses from Greece, now severed from NATO's military organization. If Greece stays out of NATO's military arm, those NATO weapons must either be yanked out or a radically new bilateral agreement between the U.S. and Greece must be negotiated.

In either case, the irony is exquisitely painful. Ever since the military coup d'etat in Athens delivered total power to a band of politically primitive army colonels in 1967, U.S. policy underwriting that military junta has been based on one consideration: preserving Greece as NATO's anchor in the Eastern Mediterranean at whatever political cost.

THROUGHOUT THAT period, Turkey, though far more important, was on NATO's and Washington's backburner, despite its legitimate claims for a better deal on behalf of the Turkish minority in Cyprus. At the time of the last Cyprus crisis, in Lyndon Johnson's administration, a Turkish appeal for American support was bluntly treated: if you start anything, President Johnson warned in a secret telegram, you are on your own. The Turks considered that an insult and have never forgotten it.

Now, the U.S. — with NATO — is paying the price for that long record of semi-neglect. When the tottering Greek military dictatorship tried to save itself by a jingoistic foreign adventure, contriving the ouster of Archbishop Makarios as President of Cyprus, the Turks made their move.

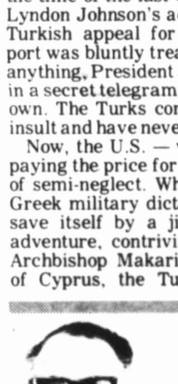
BACKED BY OVERWHELMING military superiority over Greece and only 40 miles distant from the embattled island (contrasted to 500 miles between Athens and Cyprus), the Turks are in position to enforce their demands. Only American political influence stands between Ankara and its new demand for a self-governing Turkish-Cypriot stronghold (which in effect would be run from Ankara).

But American political influence is a sometime thing in Ankara. Already embroiled in a bitter dispute over Turkish poppy (opium) cultivation, the U.S. has little capital to spend as an inducement for Turkish moderation. Unanimous House passage this week of an amendment to the foreign aid bill, eliminating all U.S. aid to Turkey unless poppy cultivation ends, scarcely serves American diplomacy in Ankara.

FAR MORE IMPORTANT, Washington knows that to push Turkey too hard could conceivably push Turkey, now under a left-leaning government, right out of NATO — a catastrophe of far larger dimension than Greece's exit this week.

Whether NATO will ever be put back together again is questionable. Key Turkish politicans told us in Ankara last month that "American power is declining." World power today, they said, is measured not in strategic nuclear missiles but in oil. Prime Minister Bulent Ecevit told us Turkey must look for new political and economic arrangements with the Arab oil states and Eastern Europe.

ACCORDINGLY, shaky U.S. attempts to keep Turkey as its most essential eastern NATO partner and the only NATO member bordering Russia could end with the same disaster that has followed Washington's tireless effort to make Greece safe for NATO.



Kid Swapping

Art Buchwald

(Editor's Note: In order to permit President Ford to have an orderly transition of government, Art Buchwald has gone on vacation. He left behind some of his favorite columns.)

Nobody likes to talk about it, but there is a lot of kid-swapping going on in the United States. It isn't going on just in the suburbs or the small towns but in the larger cities as well.

I HADN'T realized how prevalent kid-swapping was until I moved to Washington. One night I came home from the office and, instead of finding my dark-haired little beauties, I discovered a 7-year-old-blonde stranger doing the twist.

"Who's she?" I asked my wife.

"That's Ann Lindsay. She's staying here for the night with Connie."

"Where's Jennifer?" I asked.

"She's sleeping at Priscilla's house because Ann Lindsay's sleeping here."

"WHO'S PRISCILLA?"

"Jennifer didn't know her last name, but she says she's her best friend."

"That's nice. Where is Joel?"

"He's sleeping at his friend's — B. J. He said if Jennifer can sleep somewhere else so can he."

"WHERE DOES that leave us?" I asked my wife.

"Well, we had three to start with, we got rid of two for the night, and we gained one, so we're only short one."

"It saves on food," I agreed.

"Not really," my wife said. "We had fish tonight, but Ann Lindsay doesn't like fish, so I had to go out and get her a steak. Then when Connie saw Ann was getting a steak, she wanted one, too."

THE NEXT weekend when I came home Connie was missing, but Jennifer had two friends and Joel had B. J.

At 8 o'clock I ordered them all to bed.

" B. J.'s father lets him watch television until midnight every night," Joel, who is 9 years old, said.

"Is that true, B. J.?" I asked.

"Sometimes later," B. J. said without batting an eye.

"When I stayed at B. J.'s last week," Joel said, "we didn't go to bed until 2 in the morning."

"Well, why don't we just call up your parents and ask them what time you go to bed?"

"Oh, you don't have to do that," B. J. said hurriedly. "They've probably gone out to a movie."

Just then the phone rang. It was Mrs. Lindsay who said, "What time do you usually put Connie to bed?"

We've got to put a stop to this kid-swapping, I told my wife. A few weeks later I came home and found three kids at the dinner table — none of them mine.

"What happened?" I asked.

My wife was rather embarrassed. "There's been a dreadful mix-up. Joel invited Francis over to sleep with him, but he forgot he'd accepted an invitation to sleep at Butch's. Jennifer and Connie were invited over to Karen's, but after they left Veronica and Mary Elisabeth showed up and said they had been invited over here.

"So now we've got three kids that don't even belong to us," I said.

Soviet-Mexican Ties

John Cunniff

By FRANK LEVINE
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

MEXICO CITY (AP) — After five decades of rollercoaster relations with Mexico, the Russians have opened a commercial exhibition here, complete with huge red tractors, Soviet-built cars and crew-cut specialists with thin ties.

President Luis Echeverria inaugurated the exhibit, celebrating 50 years of Soviet-Mexican ties, and left with a handful of promises and an agreement to have 1,000 Soviet-designed tractors tilling Aztec soil within a couple of years.

None of the officials at the exhibit recalled the expulsion of five Soviet diplomats in 1971 in connection with guerrilla activities in the country.

The expulsion was the worst crisis between the two nations since relations were broken in 1930 by President Emilio Portes Gil, who claimed there were spies in the Soviet embassy.

The air apparently has finally cleared.

A Spaniard named Carmen, who lives in Russia, guides visitors through the intricate problem of consumer marketing in the Soviet Union.

"Almost everyone has a television," she explained. "As a matter of fact, the prices have been slashed in recent months to further expand the market."

She draws a picture of sunfilled days, happy children and Communist achievements.

One official, weaving through the displays, said, "Our purpose is not to exploit. That's why we don't have factories here. We offer excellent terms at very low interest to help developing countries."

The Soviets admit they're late in the Mexican market.

"We have no intention of selling cars here," commented one official. "We only want to help Mexico develop."

The chance of Soviet headway in trade to Mexico appears limited, considering the heavy American influence and investment in the country.

U.S. private capital investment was estimated recently at $3 billion.

Trade between the Soviet Union and Mexico amounted to only $960,000 in 1973, with Mexico coming up short by $400,000.

As a result of a bilateral trade agreement signed last year, the Soviets can extend credit over 10 years at 3 per cent to state-owned companies and 3.5 per cent to private firms.

Not Necessarily So

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am going on 64, and while my health is good and I try to preserve it, I am worrying about the fact that old people lose control of their kidneys and bowels.

Is this inevitable? Are there things I can begin doing now to delay or prevent this?

It happened to my mother when she was about 77 and is one of the most distressful things I know about old age. —Mrs. A.T.

You are in error — I'm happy to tell you. Such incontinence is not a "fact of old age."

You had the experience with your mother; I can hardly deny it has been a distressing problem in nursing homes and elsewhere, but it is most decidedly not an inevitable event that comes with age. I could cite any number of people in their 80s and 90s to prove the point.

When the problem arises, it is usually associated with some other disorder — a stroke, certain neurologic diseases, prostate problems, a "fallen bladder" which might better have been repaired surgically in earlier years.

In some instances there may be nothing you can do now to forestall such troubles, but there are more situations in which something can be done. For men, attention to prostate trouble if it begins to evidence itself; for women, surgical repair of cystocele and rectocele if they are present; for either sex, control of high blood pressure which can cause strokes. Even today too many people aren't aware that their blood pressure is above normal because they haven't had it checked.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there anything beneficial from using a rocking chair other than the relaxation derived? I recall President Kennedy used one, and I wondered if for a special reason. —T.Y.

Physically, there's probably some small benefit. You usually keep rocking and the gentle muscular action would benefit circulation a bit. But the main thing you gain is the relaxation. That's important.

Two ingredients make a baby — one egg cell from a woman's body and one sperm cell from a man's.

One thing gets them together: The act of sexual intercourse.

Two things (and only two) keep them apart: No intercourse — or birth control that works.

THE PERMIAN BASIN Planned Parenthood, Inc., which recently established a clinic here, has informative literature on birth control, free for the asking, which describes all the methods that work, as well as the ones that don't.

For those who are planning or postponing the creation of a family, the information could prove of value. It has been prepared in consultation with members of the organization's medical advisory board and leading gynecologists and family planning experts throughout the United States.

REFRAINING FROM sexual relations is still the only guaranteed way to prevent pregnancy. But except for that, the surest methods of protection known today are the hormone birth control pill, the intrauterine device, the diaphragm or the condom. Other methods work sometimes, but there's a chance of failure.

No methods suits everybody, so you have to choose what suits you — your body, your needs, your style of life. The important thing is that a method be chosen if one is to make a practical, sane and sensitive decision about controlling one's life, and the possible creation of another life.

WHAT ABOUT risk? The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved the hormone pill as safe for most women. But it does cause side effects ranging from mild to serious; the most serious being blood clotting, which can (though very rarely) be fatal. No woman should take it except under a doctor's supervision.

As for the IUD, nobody knows exactly how it works, only that it does for a lot of women, though not for all. But it's harmless, apparently, and effective for 97 users out of 100.

BECOMING MORE popular every year is voluntary sterilization, as more couples decide not to worry about pregnancy again, ever. But there's no changing your mind. Once it's done, the operation can rarely be undone. A man's just as much a man afterward, a woman's just as much a woman. Everything's the same, except that pregnancy has been made permanently impossible. It isn't however, a step to take lightly.

Needed — A Gesture

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The American Bar Association has voted unanimously that no bill of immunity should be passed for the exclusive protection of Richard Nixon. One could hardly have expected anything else, save possibly, under the professionally pressing circumstances of the past few years, a motion to recommend law limiting the number of lawyers that can be sent to jail in any single year.

OBVIOUSLY THE NIXON problem is not, at this stage, a lawyer's problem. And anything that approaches an attempt to codify a solution to the Nixon problem, has the effect of retarding a solution to the Nixon problem. The whole idea of executive clemency is that the law should be transcended. You cannot, by logical definition, pass a law to transcend a law. The whole point of the exercise is lost. What is required is that an individual should go out on a limb and say: To suggest that "Nixon has suffered enough" is hugely to underrate what has happened to him. His mortification is a continuing punishment. The probabilities are that on his deathbed, he will be an unhappy man. To put him behind bars, under the circumstances, is not to "punish" him more, it is to achieve formalistic juridical satisfaction at the expense of acquiring for the country the reputation for a finicky vindictiveness that does us discredit.

CONCERNING THE USUAL objections, a few observations:

1. It is true that Nixon's subordinates have already suffered jail, some of them; and that others are about to go to jail. These should be separated into two categories. One category is the absolutely straightforward offense of accepting bribes, cheating on one's taxes, that kind of thing. Those who did that kind of thing and are at the dock should proceed anonymously to meet their fate. Those others whose crime has been complicity in the cover-up and involvement in the Watergate break-in, should be tried, convicted (if the efidence so indicates), and given suspended 30-day sentences.

HERE THE LAWYERS might have paused to consider the awful meaning of disbarment. Surely it is proper for the legal community to punish its members under certain circumstances, and it is true that that community's failure to punish its members when they are acting as obstructionists of the law (one thinks of the behavior of William Kunstler during the wild years) is more typical of Bar Associations than disbarment proceedings. But to say to such as John Ehrlichman that they are disbarred and cannot practice their profession for the rest of their lives is: well, cruel and inhuman. It is like saying to a writer who writes one libelous article that he may never again put pen to paper.

2. WHY IS IT RIGHT to decline to prosecute Nixon, having proceeded to prosecute his subordinates? To answer that question clinically, you just have to tear yourself away from the absolutization of republican principles. It is okay to go about saying: no one is above the law. But that is only mostly true. Our Presidents are expected to take certain risks, and generations of them have done so. Quod licet Iovi, non licet bovi. (What is permitted divine is not permitted swine.) The risks Richard Nixon took were for tawdry motives, and he has been punished as surely as Napoleon was punished when his empire was taken away from him. But they didn't take Napoleon out and shoot him, even though he had led, in his disastrous campaigns, hundreds of thousands of men to their deaths. We were shocked, not satisfied, at the execution of Nicholas II.

3. WE ARE IN SEARCH of the mechanics of granting effective immunity. Here Mr. Nixon could help us. First by undertaking to write a full and frank account of his role in the cover-up, and giving it to Congress. Among other things, this would deprive him of huge commercial returns he might have from a commercial publisher.

And — a gesture by Mr. Nixon — he might announce that it is his intention not to stray physically from the premises of San Clemente for one year. Those Secret Service men would then, in effect, not only be there to prevent outsiders from going in, but insiders from going out.

I cannot believe that, if at this point Mr. Jaworski announced that he did not intend to prosecute Mr. Nixon, there would be a murmur of protest, except from the fever swamps of vindictiveness.

But as I say, at this point, we need a gesture from Mr. Nixon.

My Answer

Billy Graham

When I was a little girl, my mother talked a great deal about homosexuality. I suppose she did it to warn us about abnormal sex. Now I have children of my own, but I have a great fear of speaking about perversion. How old should children be to learn of these things.? M.E.G.

The wisdom writer, Solomon left us these words in Proverbs 22:6: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

In the matter you raise, the important phrase is, "the way he should go." In Hebrew, it is literally "initiate a child in accordance with his way." Obviously, children mature at different rates and to different degrees. A wise parent recognizes individual differences and inclinations. In matters of sex education, the parent should try to keep pace with the child's awareness and capacity. To be ahead or behind in this is to be inadequate, if not harmful.

Homosexuality, although much more accepted and even endorsed by some in our society, yet remains Biblically a perversion to be judged of God. Romans 1:28 brands it as a thing "not natural."

A Devotion For Today . .

"The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." (Deuteronomy 33:27)

PRAYER: Help us, O God, to realize that none of us is really as independent as we usually think we are. We confess our need of You and the help that only You can give; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

South Korean Premier Submits Resignation

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Thirty-nine of President Chung Hee Park's top government and political associates resigned today in the wake of last week's assassination attempt on Park. The gesture was a symbolic one that's customary in Korea after embarrassing incidents.

The president, however, accepted the resignations of only two men: Home Minister Hong Suog-chul, whose ministry controls the police, and the chief presidential bodyguard, Park Chong-kyoo, one of his most trusted aides.

The resignations were to show that the men asssumed responsibility for the failure of the security forces to prevent the attempt on Park's life.

RESPONSIBILITY

Park named Park Kyongwon, 51, as himself a retired army general, to be home minister.

KIM JONG-PIL

Park said he would name a new chief of the presidential protective force in a few days.

The new home minister has served twice previously in that capacity and once as communications minister under President Park.

Resignations had poured in from Premier Kim Jong-pil; the 14 members of his cabinet; the top five officials of Democratic Republican party; the national police director; mayor and police chief of Seoul; Korea's ambassador to Japan; Park's chief secretary and chief protocol officer; four economic and political assistants; Park Chong-kyoo and eight other senior officials of the presidential protective service.

DEEP REGRET

Official resignations are customary in the Far East whenever an embarrassing incident occurs. Even had Park accepted all the resignations, the mass turnover would probably not have affected government policy since the president exercises dictatorial powers.

Information Minister Yun Chu-young announced that the cabinet was quitting to show its deep regret over its failure "to prevent the assassination attempt carried out in the capital at the instruction of the North Korean puppets."

Park was uninjured in the attack last Thursday as he made an Independence Day address in Seoul, but his wife and a teen-age girl in the audience were killed. Mrs. Park was buried on Monday.

The assassin, Moon Sekwang, was a Korean living in Japan who came to Seoul with a Japanese passport issued to him under an assumed name. The government has not explained how he got in to the National Theater for the invitation-only Independence Day ceremony.

Park's government charged that Moon was acting as an agent of North Korea and its sympathizers in Japan. North Korea denied the charge Monday. Moon was wounded by security guards and captured.

Opening lead: Queen of ♣

Don't let an apparently easy looking hand lull you into a false sense of security. The quirks of distribution can wreck even the most secure contract if declarer doesn't pay due care.

South's hand might not quite measure up to the textbook requirements for a forcing two bid, but his hand was so strong distributionally and so rich in controls that he felt those factors made up for any deficiency in high cards. When North could support his second suit freely, South jumped straight to slam.

West led the queen of clubs, and declarer started thinking in terms of an overtrick. He won the king of clubs and cashed the queen and ace of diamonds. The fact that East showed out didn't faze him to a great degree. Next came the king and ace of spades. When West ruffed, Declarer's predicament dawned on him. He could discard a club on the ace of hearts, but he had only two trumps in dummy to ruff his three losing spades, so he ended up down one.

The 5-1 spade split and 3-1 diamond division represented one of the few distributions that could defeat the slam, but declarer could have guarded against it. If spades were 4-2, the slam was ironclad. Thus, before touching trumps declarer should play the ace and king of spades. West ruffs the second spade, but declarer is still safe. Even if West returns a trump, declarer wins in his hand and ruffs three spades in dummy. The defenders are powerless to prevent this, since the queen of diamonds is still in dummy to prevent West from scoring a second spade ruff with his jack. The ace of hearts takes care of declarer's losing club.

Gunmen Kill Wife Of Retired Jeweler

HOUSTON (AP) — Police say two gunmen who killed the wife of a retired jeweler and escaped with nearly $500,000 in cash and jewelry overlooked another half million in jewelry hidden in the home.

The body of Ethel Georgia Nacol, 47, was found bound and gagged in the den of the home Sunday night in the fashionable Tanglewood subdivision on Houston's west side.

An autopsy showed she died from asphyzia due to gagging and strangulation plus a fractured skull and beating with a blunt instrument.

William S. Nacol, 77, told police two gunmen pistol whipped him and his wife while demanding the combination to a safe, the door closed but unlocked.

He said he was bound with tape but managed to free himself and call police. He was not seriously injured.

Nacol said he and his wife had admitted the two men, both white, to the home after one of them telephoned to inquire about a piece of beach property he had advertised for sale.

Mae Nacol, a daughter, said her father rarely kept jewelry at the home but had returned last week with a quantity which he had planned to place in the bank.

Police said the gunmen made several trips from the front door carrying the estimated half million in loot but still overlooked another half million dollars worth of uncut diamonds, watches and necklaces in the area around the safe and in a box hidden in the kitchen.

Investigators also said the robbers left behind cameras, furs, stereo sets and several color television sets but it was still the biggest armed robbery haul in Houston in about 20 years.

Temporary Injunction Is Ordered By Judge

LAMESA — A preliminary injunction hearing was held Thursday in Lubbock with Federal Judge H. O. Woodward presiding in connection with a $150,000 lawsuit brought by bail bondsmen Milton Lozano Sr. and Milton Lozano Jr. against Dawson County Sheriff Guy Kinnison and deputies Base Lambert and Jim Nance.

Judge Woodward ordered a temporary injunction which would prevent the sheriff's office from discriminating against the Lozanos and which would allow them to make bonds in Dawson County if such bonds met the requirements prescribed by law.

The injunction, however, leaves acceptance of all bonds to the discretion of the sheriff who is charged with the responsibility of making sure all surety bonds meet state requirements.

The compromise between the two parties came around 12:30 Thursday after two hours of testimony from subpoenaed witnesses.

Among those called to testify during the hearing were Sheriff Kinnison, Milton Lozano Sr., Police Captain Fred Vera, Lamesa Attorney Vernon Adcock and Police Chief J. P. Bobo.

Witnesses were not allowed to hear each other's testimony and were kept outside the courtroom until called.

Many subpoenaed witnesses were not called including what the Lamesa Press-Reporter referred to as "some of Lamesa's best known bootleggers."

Does Carry Big Stick

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — While it may be a cliche to say you can't fight city hall, John Jay Hubbard must know it's true.

Two weeks ago, Hubbard, 39, resigned as city clerk in a clash with the mayor over the firing of an employe in the clerk's office.

The mayor blocked the resignation by keeping the matter off the city council's agenda.

"He does carry a big stick," said Hubbard of the mayor, who also happens to be his father, Orville.

Not All Books On SS Accurate

Some books sold as social security information are useful, but there are others that are inaccurate, misleading, overpriced, and deceptively advertised, according to Don Minyard, Social Security manager in Big Spring.

"The Social Security Administration doesn't discourage the sale of commercial publications," Minyard said. "At the same time, we don't endorse any nongovernment publication. People can get free, accurate, up-to-date publications and other information about Social Security by contacting any Social Security office."

Some advertising hints that a publisher has an official connection with the Social Security Administration and has access to Social Security records, according to Minyard. "This is never true," he said. "No advertiser has access to other people's Social Security records. These records are confidential under the law."

People can call, write, or visit any Social Security office for information about the retirement, disability, survivors, Medicare, and supplemental security income programs, Minyard said. The Big Spring social security office is at 501 Main Street. The phone number is 267-5226.

Stabbing Death Probe

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Homicide detectives held two youths for questioning in the fatal stabbing of Lawrence Reyna, 14, late Monday night.

Reyna was knifed by one of three young assailants in a scuffle that grew out of a request for a cigarette, officers said.

Reyna's teen-age cousins Arthur and Abraham Lara, told police the three were on their way home from a swimming pool when they were accosted by three other youths 15 to 16 years old.

Seize Ton Of Marijuana

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Peace officers reported seizing more than a ton of marijuana on a raid on a farm near Tennyson, north of here in Coke County.

Sheriff Douglas Robertson and agents of the Drug Enforcement Agency arrested two men in the raid Monday night. They said an acre of marijuana plants 12 to 13 feet tall was spotted by aerial surveillance last week.

The two men—Stephen Prescott, 29, of Dallas and Jerry Rowe, also 29, of Balmorhea— were charged before Justice of the Peace Ray Ross with possession of marijuana. Their bonds were set at $25,000 each.

We're building power plants that use different fuels so you'll continue having the electricity you need.

Natural gas is the major fuel we use in our generating plants, and will be for several years. Oil is used on a standby basis.

But new supplies of these fuels are extremely difficult to obtain and increasingly expensive. To reduce our dependence on them, we've begun using lignite coal. We now have one lignite plant in operation, and two others under construction.

We have adequate supplies of lignite for the operating life of these plants and for some additional planned units. Even so, we will need another dependable fuel source for the future. That's why we're planning to have a nuclear-fueled plant in operation by 1980.

The use of lignite and nuclear fuels is necessary to provide enough electricity in the years ahead. Supplies of these fuels are more abundant and neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

But building plants that use these fuels is a difficult and expensive job. Lignite and nuclear plants cost much more to build than gas/oil plants. While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost will be less with lignite and nuclear fuels than it would be with natural gas and oil, even if adequate new supplies were available.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

Marshall Mops Up; Morgan Gets Hot

Baseball's premier short man went very, very long. And one of baseball's little men came on very, very big.

Mike Marshall, who usually spends an inning or two mopping up victories for Los Angeles, stayed around for six on Monday and single-handedly mopped up the Chicago Cubs as a pitcher, a hitter and, finally, a gambling base runner to give the Dodgers a 12-inning, 8-7 victory.

Joe Morgan mopped up Philadelphia, period. He crashed two home runs, a three-run blast in the second inning and a grand-slam in the third, as the Reds mangled the Phillies 15-2.

In Monday's other National League games, the San Francisco Giants beat Pittsburgh 5-3, the Atlanta Braves belted St. Louis 11-6, the Houston Astros edged New York 2-1 in 11 innings and the Montreal Expos defeated San Diego 7-4.

Marshall's play was crucial in helping the Dodgers snap their six-game losing streak and remain 2½ games ahead of the Reds in the West Division.

He led off the 12th inning with a single and moved to second on a bunt. Then Rick Auerbach hit a slow roller down the first base line. Catcher Steve Swisher and pitcher Oscar Zamora both went for the ball. While Swisher made the play at first, Marshall kept coming around from third base to cross the unguarded plate.

REDS 15, PHILLIES 2

Morgan's first homer gave Cincinnati a 5-0 lead, then he unloaded his first career grand slammer in nine-run third.

"Actually I hit my first grand-slam in old Crosley Field here in Cincinnati as a rookie with the Houston Astros, but Frank Robinson crawled up a fence and robbed me," the 5foot-7 Morgan grinned.

GIANTS 5, PIRATES 3

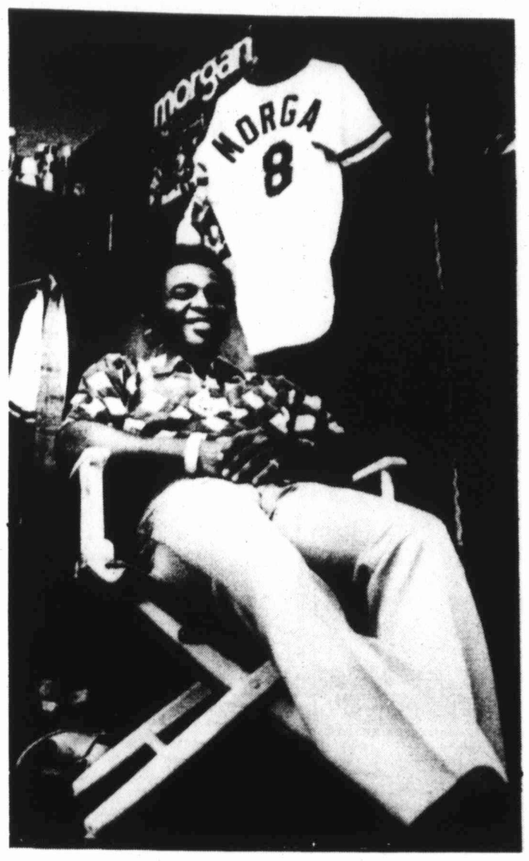
Dave Kingman hit a tiebreaking double in the ninth inning—a liner down the third base line which Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh insisted was foul—then scored on Ron Bryant's single in the Giants' victory over the Pirates.

Two-run homers by Hank Aaron and Darrell Evans and a pair of two-run doubles by Marty Perez powered the Braves past St. Louis, wrecking Claude Osteen's debut with the Cardinals.

Aaron's 730th career homer and 17th of the year came off Osteen in the third inning. Osteen has given up 14 of Aaron's homers, more than any other active pitcher.

EXPOS 7, PADRES 4

Montreal's Barry Foote drove in two runs one with a tie-breaking homer that triggered a a three-run seventh inning and beat the Padres.



(AP WIREPHOTO)

IN THE DIRECTORS CHAIR — Cincinnati Reds second baseman Joe Morgan relaxes in the clubhouse after Monday's game against the Phillies. Morgan hit two homeruns, one a grand slam, giving him seven runs batted in, as Cincinnati trounced Philadelphia 15-2. It was Morgan's first major league grand slam.

Sports In Brief

BASKETBALL

SEATTLE — The Seattle SuperSonics of the National Basketball Association acquired veteran guard Archie Clark from the Washington Bullets for forward Dick Gibbs and a third-round draft choice in 1975.

BUFFALO — John Morrison, head basketball coach at Canisius College, resigned to become an assistant coach with the St. Louis Spirits of the American Basketball Association.

KANSAS CITY — The University of Illinois basketball team was found acting in violation of the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and placed on probation for two years—barring the team from postseason competition and NCAA television for one year and restricting their recuiting.

BASEBALL

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — The Minnesota Twins of the American League traded Jim Holt to the Oakland A's for Pat Bourque in a straight player baseball transaction.

TENNIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Mexican Raul Ramirez overpowered Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., 6-3, 7-6, 6-4 to claim the singles title in the $50,000 Buckeye Tennis Championships.

NEWPORT, R.I. — Fourth-seeded Julie Heldman of Houston scored a 6-3, 6-3 victory over unranked national collegiate champion Carrie Meyer of Indianapolis and moved into the second round of the Women's Grass Courts Championships.

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. — Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. defeated Australian Colin Dibley 6-3, 6-3 to advance after first-round play in the $50,000 Eastern Lawn Tennis Open.

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Third-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania disposed of Raz Reid 6-4, 6-1 and advanced to the second round of the 47th U.S. Pro Championship.

SWIMMING

VIENNA — Kornelia Ender and Karla Link set East Germany's second and third world standards in the European championships, Ender with a time of 56.96 seconds in the final of the women's 100-meter breast stroke and Linke winning the women's 200-meter breast stroke in two minutes, 37.44 seconds.

Dolphins, Vikes In Need Of Work

MIAMI (AP) — The uniforms were the same and so was the result, but the Super Bowl it wasn't as the Miami Dolphins defeated the Minnesota Vikings 21-9 in a National Football League exhibition game.

Both coaches admitted their clubs weren't playing Super Bowl-quality ball in Monday night's game.

"They didn't do all the things tonight they did in the Super Bowl," said Miami Coach Don Shula, whose team won last January's title confrontation 24-7. "Our team didn't, either."

Minnesota boss Bud Grant didn't get his veterans into camp until the players' strike moratorium began last Wednesday, while 34 of 48 Miami veterans reported early.

"The Dolphins were sharp," said Grant, adding that his veterans tired in their first-half workout and made execution errors.

"Those two reverses they ran were excellent," said Grant of a 58-yard scamper by Mel Baker and six-yard touchdown run by Nat Moore for the final Miami score of the game. "We haven't even given reverses to our players yet."

Both coaches went to their benches in the second half after fullback Larry Csonka had put the Dolphins ahead 14-0 on touchdown runs of one and three yards.

Minnesota, which didn't get past midfield in the first half, responded with a 27-yard field goal by Fred Cox and one-yard touchdown run by Dave Osborn behind the second-half play of rookie quarterback Mike Wells.

Wells, who completed seven of eight passes for 56 yards and ran five times for 37 more yards, left the game midway through the final quarter with a sprained right knee. Grant said the seriousness of the injury wouldn't be known until tests are taken in Minnesota.

Dolphins running backs Csonka and Jim Kiick, who will play in the World Football League next year and hadn't entered camp until Wednesday, ran 16 times for 61 yards and 25 yards in eight carries, respectively. Kiick caught a 20-yard pass from quarterback Bob Griese and ran it another 24 yards.

Neither appeared bothered by some booing from the Orange Bowl crowd of 58,144 when they were introduced before the game.

The Dolphins had to refund money to 4,500 ticket holders unhappy about the players' strike and the game turnstile count was only 58,144 in the 80,000-seat Orange Bowl.

Lesher Named Sports Editor

Clark Lesher has been named sports editor of The Herald.

Lesher, a graduate of West Texas State U., has served as sports editor of daily newspapers in Pampa, (News), Tex., Dodge City, (Globe), Kans., and Colorado Springs, (Free-Press, now The Sun), Colo.

While in the military service, Lesher served as sports editor of Army V Corps and worked jointly with European Stars & Stripes, Darmstadt, Germany.

At Dodge City, the veteran writer was host to State B basketball, invitational basketball involving top high schools from Kansas and Oklahoma.

Lesher also covered the National Junior College Basketball Tournament, Hutchinson, with Dodge City College participating.

The last assignment for Lesher before coming to The Herald was at Colorado Springs. He covered a major independent school, Air Force Academy.

CLARK LESHER

Lesher attended high school at Borger High, received his A.A., degree at Frank Phillips, attended Kansas State U., Manhattan, before enrolling at West Texas.

Lesher is married and his wife, Dianne, is a former resident here. She attended Big Spring High.

The Leshers have two children, Terry Mark and Jana Sue. Terry will be in the fifth grade and Jana, the first, at Coahoma.

Mrs. Lesher's parents are M. Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Culberton, who reside here.

Sgt. Culberton is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Taiwan Is After 4th

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A team of young baseball players from Kao Msiung, Taiwan, enters the Little League World Series this week seeking a fourth consecutive title for the Asian island.

The 28th annual tourney was scheduled to begin today with a first-round doubleheader. Kao Msiung faced New Haven, Conn., in the opener, while a team of U.S. military and diplomatic children from Athens, Greece, opposed Talmadge, Ohio, in the second game.

The other four teams in the series play Wednesday. Victoria, British Columbia, meets Red Bluff, Calif., and Maracaibo, Venezuela, faces Jackson, Tenn.

The championship final is scheduled for Saturday.

In seven of the past eight years, the Far East representative has gone on to win the finals in this central Pennsylvania city. For the past three years, Taiwan teams have dominated their opponents.

Red Sox Up Loop Lead

by The Associated Press

Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner gave the Boston Red Sox his best 1-2 punch right off the bat Monday night but Bill Lee and Diego Segui saw to it that not much punch at all came off the White Sox' bats.

Remembering back to May 31, when he had sluggers Dick Allen and Bill Melton batting in the 1-2 spots and they delivered consecutive third-inning homers off Lee for all the runs in a 3-2 Chicago triumph, Tanner tried it again.

This time, they managed only a single apiece and Allen ended Chicago's only real threat with a double-play grounder in the eighth inning as the Red Sox rolled to a 6-1 victory and stretched their lead in the American League's East Division to five games over idle Cleveland.

Elsewhere, the Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Oakland A's 1-0, the Minnesota Twins whipped the New York Yankees 6-2 and the California Angels blanked the Detroit Tigers 1-0. Baltimore, Kansas City and Texas also were idle.

Lee and Segui combined on a five-hitter. Lee blanked the White Sox on three hits until the eighth when his arm stiffened and he needed help from Segui after Chicago scored its only run on a walk and singles by Pete Varney and Bucky Dent.

Football Fans To Meet Team

COLORADO CITY — Football fans will have the opportunity of meeting members of the 1974 Colorado City High School football team, their coaches and members of the pep squad (the Wolverines) at an ice cream supper scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the practice field.

Adults attending are being asked to bring a freezer of ice cream.

The supper was arranged by the Wolf Quarterback Club. Bob Chalker is president of the booster organization.

Other QB officers include Jimmy Bolin, vice president, and Arnold Parker, secretary-treasurer.

Regular meetings of the club will be held each Tuesday, starting at 7 p.m., in the high school cafeteria. Dues are $5 per member. The money will go toward purchase of an ice machine for the fieldhouse.

Buckeyes Look To Head Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The big question about Ohio State's football team this fall will be the coach himself.

Can Woody Hayes, a summer heart attack victim, slow down and follow doctor's orders?

The 61-year-old Hayes said he will, but warned, "I'm not going to be a nice, old man on the sidelines."

Hayes makes it no secret that he wants a fourth national college championship before he retires. And 1974 could be the year, considering he has 16 regulars back from the second-ranked squad of last season.

"We'll be up there," he promised.

"What were we? No. 1 for eight weeks last fall. All Alabama had to do was tie Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl," reminded Hayes.

Instead, the Irish nipped Alabama by one point while Ohio State thrashed Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Notre Dame was No. 1 in the final poll.

Even with such talent returning, Ohio State lost impressive players such as tackle John Hicks, the Outland and Lombardi Award winner as the nation's best interior lineman, and linebackers Randy Gradishar, Vic Koegel and Rick Middleton.

Hicks and Gradishar were both two-time All-Americans, helping the Buckeyes to the Big Ten co-title with Michigan and a 10-0-1 record last season.

The Buckeyes, who have won or shared five of the last six Big Ten titles, have 38 lettermen back.

"Complacency will be a problem, a real problem," Hayes said. "That's why I'm not going to be a nice, old coach."

Ohio State's game-breaker again will be junior tailback Archie Griffin, who rushed for conference and school records of 1,577 yards last season.

Other Ohio State weapons are slick-running quarterback Cornelius Greene, the Most Valuable Player in the Rose Bowl, and Harold "Champ" Henson and Pete Johnson, a pair of tackle-shattering fullbacks.

A defense that gave up only 64 points last season returns— the likes of tackle Pete Cusick, end Van DeCree, linebackers Arnie Jones and Bruce Elia and deep back Neal Colzie.

To patch the linebacking corps, Jones has switched back from defensive tackle and Elia from fullback. Elia, pressed into service when Henson hurt his knee early last fall, led Ohio State in 1973 scoring.

Colzie led the nation in punt returns with 679 yards on 40 tries.

The Buckeyes launch the 1974 campaign at Minnesota in a Big Ten opener Sept. 14.

Bill Curry Joins Club

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Bill Curry, president of the striking National Football League Players Association, says he is in training camp to help the Houston Oilers win if he can make the team.

"That's the same thing I've done for nine years and it's the only reason I'm in camp," the veteran center said Monday after his arrival five days after the start of the Players Association "cooling off" period.

After meeting with Coach Sid Gillman, Curry worked with weights and jogged around the practice field while the Oilers held a two-hour practice.

Curry seriously damaged a knee last season and underwent corrective surgery. He feels confident he can still play.

He was not fined for reporting five days after the start of the "cooling off" period.

"We cleared that with the Management Council," he said. "We were in negotiations Thursday, Friday and Saturday. I wrapped up some loose ends Sunday.

May Poison To NY Mets

HOUSTON (AP) — New York Mets pitcher Tom Seaver was at least half right Monday night in an 11th inning guessing game that resulted in a 2-1 Houston Astros victory.

If Seaver could second-guess himself today, he'd probably guess against pitching to Milt May.

Seaver twice guessed wrong against May Monday night and the Astros catcher continued his game-winning specialty by driving in both Houston runs with a sacrifice fly and 11th inning single.

Seaver, who pitched 11 outstanding innings before suffering his eighth loss of the season, had the winning run on second base with one out and Cesar Cedeno, Bob Watson and Milt May coming to the plate in the decisive 11th inning. The score was 1-1.

"I had to pitch to two of the three," Seaver said. "I told Yogi (Berra) I wanted to pitch to Cedeno and May and walked Watson. At least I was half right."

R. J. Englert Hitting .314

R.J. Englert, a native Big Springer who plays in the outfield for the Amarillo Giants, was hitting .314 in the average Texas League averages.

In 354 times at bat, Englert had connected safely 111 times and had scored 64 runs. Two of his hits were home runs and he had driven in 36 runs.

Star Coahoman Heads For WTC

COAHOMA — Theresa Beal, an outstanding athlete for Coahoma High School the past two seasons, has signed a scholarship agreement with Western Texas College of Snyder.

She averaged 27 points a game for the Coahoma girls' basketball team last season, when she led the Bulldogs to a 27-5 record and a bi-district championship.

Slaton, the eventual state champion, finally sidelined Coahoma in the AA playoffs, 32-31.

The WTC team will be coached by Dr. Sid Simpson, who formerly coached the WTC boy's team.

Theresa was a starter in the girls' all-star game at Brownwood and played for the Texas All-Stars in their annual game with Oklahoma's best.

Club Meeting Is Scheduled

The Coahoma Quarterback Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 204 of Coahoma High School.

Officers elected this term: president, Don Myers; vice-president, Robert Kelso; secretary, Winnie Dodson; and treasurer, Willie May Greenfield.

Barnes Due To Remain

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys reserve linebacker Rodrigo Barnes appeared Monday night at a defensive team meeting here after earlier announcing that he was walking out of training camp.

"We don't know what to make of it," a team spokesman said. "Apparently he is going to stay."

The team announced earlier that the former Rice University player had left camp saying he was in sympathy with the players strike.

The spokesman also said that Barnes told Landry he did not like his contract and wanted his knee injury checked by another doctor.

Foster Hired

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech University athletic director J. T. King Monday named George Foster, 25, the new assistant sports information director, effective Aug. 29.

Fenton Signs with School

SNYDER — Billy Fenton, 6-4 basketball player from Erasmus High School, Brooklyn, N. Y., has signed to attend Western Texas College on a scholarship arrangement.

While in high school, Fenton was named to the all-Brooklyn second team. He averaged 18 points a game his senior year in school.

WANTED 20 HOMES THAT NEED PAINTING

CENTRAL TEXAS — 20 Homeowners in this area will be given the opportunity to have the new United States Steel finish on their homes. It will be of special interest to homeowners who are fed up with costly repainting, for new United State Steel is ideally suited for the Texas climate as it will not mildew, peel, crack, fade or chalk, for the life of the building.

UNITED STATES STEEL finish has been developed after years of extensive research and testing.

UNITED STATES STEEL carries a written 30-year guarantee (labor and materials)—can be applied over any type of home; wood frame, stucco, asbestos or brick. This new U.S. Steel and Vinyl finish has excellent insulating properties which will make the home warmer in cold, damp weather.

U.S. STEEL VYNASOL paneling has been advertised nationally in LOOK and LIFE Magazines. Homeowners who act now will receive special decorative work at no additional cost.

Please call collect 915-949-3110 and ask for Mr. Ron Fox. An appointment will be made to see your house with no obligation. Please act at once. Out of town calls welcome.

Running Gun Bout

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Flying glass from a shattered windshield cut a policeman about the face today as he engaged in a running gun battle with three men in a pickup truck.

Fellow officers said patrolman Robert W. Armstrong, 22, spotted the pickup shortly after 4 a.m. outside a discount store in Howe, five miles south of here, and sought to question the occupants.

Armstrong and the men in the truck exchanged shots as the trio fled and they escaped after his windshield was broken. The battle stretched over 4½ miles. Armstrong was treated at a hospital for cuts around the eyes and dismissed.

Drinking Same Stuff?

GRASSY SOUND, N.J. (AP) — A hitchhiker and the man who picked him up both were charged with drunken driving after each had an accident in the same car, police report.

Officers told this story:

James Kelly, 22, of Philadelphia, thumbed a ride on North Wildwood Boulevard early Monday with Edward Wolf, 37, also of Philadelphia.

As Wolf pulled out, the car veered off the road and struck a small pole. Kelly commented on Wolf's condition and offered to drive. Wolf agreed. But when Kelly got behind the wheel, he swerved across the road and struck another pole.

The men were held in lieu of $250 bond each.

'It's 55' Dummy!!

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A California Highway Patrol car, red light flashing, weaves from lane to lane in the rush hour freeway traffic carrying a big sign reading, "It's 55."

At one or two minute intervals, the lead patrol car is followed by 14 others flashing the same red lights and messages. Units with public address horns make verbal warnings.

UNSHAKEABLE BRAVADO

Robber Escapes With $157,000

NEW YORK (AP) — .a man armed with a valise, a threat and unshakeable bravado made off with $157,000 in cash from an uptown savings bank after telling a bank officer he was prepared to blow the place up.

The robber, about 30, told the terrified woman he had dynamite in the bag. He waited 20 minutes Monday evening while a half dozen unsuspecting depositors and a dozen other employes went about their business, and while the bank officer twice left his sight to go into the vault.

RAILROAD FLARES

He escaped with the cash in an attache case. In the valise he left beind were railroad flares made up to look like explosives.

Police said the haul, at the Manhattan Savings Bank office at 86th Street and Third Avenue, was the largest in the area since a Westchester County bank was held up for $236,000 in September 1972.

REQUEST FOR LOAN

Police said the woman didn't sound the alarm either time she went into the vault because she was too scared.

Police said the man had walked up to the officer, Kathleen Stephenson, with a request for a mortgage loan, then opened the valise, displaying the bogus explosives, and demanded $200,000 in cash. When she said the vault was closed, he told her she could set its time lock to open in 15 minutes—which she did.

When the vault opened, she scooped up stacks of money without counting it, police said. Most was in hard-to-trace $50 and $20 bills, but $50,000 was in easily traced $100 bills delivered Monday morning from the Federal Reserve.

Terry D. Smith Faces Hearing

Terry Dale Smith, 23, held in county jail on a charge of burglary was to face a hearing today on possible revocation of two ten-year probated sentences on burglary and a forged check.

The district attorney's office was also investigating other probable charges with felony theft, credit card abuse, possession of opium and possession of controlled substance with the intent to deliver on the list.

Smith used a credit card which had been stolen in a burglary of a Carlsbad, N.M pharmacy at both a local motel and a airport in Denver, Colo. He apparently returned from Colorado to Midland by plane prior to the burglary of Leonard's Pharmacy here.

'Bonnie And Clyde' Gang Member Slain

by The Associated Press

William Daniel "Deacon" Jones, 58, once a member of the infamous Bonnie and Clyde gang, was shot to death today during a quarrel over a woman, police said.

Jones was slain as he sat outside a northeast Houston home.

Once a driver for the Bonnie Parker-Clyde Barrow gang, Jones served a six-year sentence for taking part in a 1934 murder of a Fort Worth deputy sheriff.

In 1968, Jones filed a $175,000 damage suit against Warner Bros.-7 Arts, Inc., producers of the movie, "Bonnie and Clyde."

He said the movie invaded his privacy and erroneously portrayed him as the fingerman in the slaying of the outlaws.

Jones claimed he was depicted in the movie as the getaway driver. Jones said he was a member of the outlaw gang from December of 1932 until September of 1933.

There is no record of Jones ever collecting anything in the suit.

Police said they had a man in custody in the slaying of Jones.

Radios, Radar Units Ordered By County

The Howard County Commissioners Monday voted to purchase four new high-band radios and three moving radar units for the Texas Highway Patrol units stationed in Howard County.

Patrolman Don Bates appeared before the court requesting the equipment.

He said that the highway patrol units were not in direct radio contac with the city and county units and thus are not able to respond to broadcasts for assistance because the city and county recently converted to high band radios.

The radars, able to detect speeders even though the patrol unit is in motion, was requested because an increased number of violations of the 55 mile per hour speed limit.

He also said that with the old radars, the units had to stay parked in order to detect speeders and truck drivers with two way radios were broadcating their location to other truck drivers.

With the new radar, the units can keep moving and eliminate some of the advance warning.

The cost of the new equipment was estimated at about $6,000.

The commissioners, after obtaining a written agreement from the Rodeo Association, approved the construction of a 2300 foot chain link fence around the County Fair Grounds. The fence was requested by the Howard County Fair Association so that they can control admission to the Fair and to other events.

The agreement was required because the fence would have to be erected on property belonging to the Rodeo Association. The agreement said that the fence belongs to the County and may be moved anytime the Commissioners see fit.

The cost of the fence was estimated at about $7,000.

In action reported yesterday, the Commissioners okayed the addition of $2073 to the bid of Chapparal Construction Company for the construction of T-hangars at the Howard County airport.

They also approved the restitution of a $97.50 bond forfeited by a local bondsman after his client failed to appear at a hearing on an assault charge.

The forfeiture of the bond was reversed when it was learned that he failed to appear because he was in County Jail charged with murder.

Webb Receives Safety Award

Webb AFB, along with nine other Air Training Command organizations, has been selected by the National Safety Council (NSC) to receive an Award of Merit for it's ground safety program.

Other organizations selected for the NSC Award of Merit were Headquarters, Recruiting Service, Randolph AFB, Tex.; Lowry Technical Training Center, Lowry AFB, Colo., and the 38th Flying Training Wing, Moody AFB, Ga.

The Award of Merit is given Air Force military and civilian personnel for having achieved a 5 to 10 percent reduction in the composite ground accident rate during the past calendar year when the composite is better than the overall Air Force rate.

The 80th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard AFB, tex., received an NSC Certificate of Perfect Record.

Computer mixes lunch times but is better than year ago

The computer went to school a year and did a little bit better this year at the high school on opening day Monday.

A few students followed their computerized schedule and went to lunch and then class, only to discover that their teacher's card showed a different lunch hour and the teacher was at lunch when they were in class.

The students, being normal, waited until the end of the period without an instructor to complain.

However, the system was much improved from the first day of school last year when the computerized schedules were used for the first time.

Last year there were a number of students who were not even given a lunch hour on their schedule. They didn't wait until the end of the hour to file a complaint in that instance.

U.S. AMBASSADOR SLAIN

Greek, Turkish, Cypriot Leaders Express Shock

by The Associated Press

Greek, Turkish and Cypriot leaders expressed shock and abhorrence at the fatal shooting of the United States ambassador to Cyprus, Rodger P. Davies. He was killed during an anti-American riot Monday.

American sources in Nicosia said the U.S. Embassy in the battle-scarred Cypriot capital might be closed temporarily, and an official said unessential files were being burned "to make the job quicker if we decide to go."

NO HINT

But there was no indication from the State Department in Washington of any such action. Lindsay Grant, the embassy's second in command, was flown from a vacation in Scotland to replace Davies.

There were these other developments in the Cyprus situation:

—The civilian government in Greece increased its authority over the military by firing the commander in chief of the armed forces and his eight top officers and replacing them with foes of the ousted military junta.

—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Turkey had expressed willingness to negotiate a withdrawal from part of the 40 per cent of Cyprus its troops have occupied.

PUSHED SOUTH

—Turkish troops that pushed south of Nicosia over the weekend held their positions but made no significant advances. Little fighting was reported Monday.

—The Turks in Famagusta handed over 150 Greek Cypriots to United Nations forces. Most were women, children and elderly men who had been left in the east coast port city when most of the Greek Cypriots fled before the Turkish advance.

—A U.N. economic team said Nicosia was critically short of water, and several parts of the city were without water because of broken pumps.

Davies was killed by sniper fire during a wild, Anti-American demonstration by 300 to 600 Greek Cypriots who accused the U.S. government of siding with Turkey.

The snipers were believed to be gunmen from EOKA-B, the Greek Cypriot terrorist force whose aim is to unite Cyprus with Greece and which helped to overthrow President Makarios on July 15.

Although hundreds of the demonstrators broke through the embassy gates and stoned the building and its U.S. Marine guard, an embassy official said bullet holes showed that the shots came from rooftops or balconies of neighboring buildings and the ambassador's second-floor office was clearly the target.

Davies and members of his staff had taken refuge in a corridor outside his office. He was killed by a bullet that went through his office and his secretary's office. Another shot killed a Greek Cypriot secretary who rushed to the 53-year-old ambassador's side.

Shot To Death On Her First Day At Work

AUGUSTA, Mich. (AP) — A 19-year-old teller was shot to death by a shotgun-wielding robber on her first day at work at a branch bank.

Witnesses and authorities gave this account:

Connie Adams of Plainwell, Mich., a college student working as a summer employe, was approached by the bandit Monday afternoon and was filling a bag with money when the alarm at the Augusta branch of the Industrial State Bank went off.

The robber shot Miss Adams in the face. Then he calmly reloaded his shotgun and repeated his demand for money to another teller, who handed over an unknown amount of cash.

The robber sped off in a car driven by another man.

It was not known who sounded the bank alarm. While Monday was Miss Adams' first day at the Augusta branch, she had worked previously at other locations of the bank.
