The old house has been sold by a relative of Hansen's who owned it. Hansen, who says he is retired and without money, has been living in the lower floors while upper floors were demolished. Later he was arrested for occupying a house condemned as unsafe. (AP Wirephoto)

Chamber Of Commerce Gets Strength From Components

Editor's note: This is the third of a series of articles on the history, growth and activities of the Chamber of Commerce organization. It is written through the cooperation of the staff of your local C. of C. with the primary purpose of enlightening the public as to the purpose and ultimate goals of the Chamber of Commerce.

The organizational structure of the chamber of commerce comprises many parts, each of which has its place and function. Among the most important are: membership, board of directors, officers, chamber committees, and the manager and his staff.

One of the most important, and sometimes one of the most difficult, problems of the chamber of commerce is the building of a sound membership structure. This structure must not only be of sound nature in number, it must also be sound in the participation of its members in the programs that are undertaken and in the financial requirements of the organization.

Generally speaking, a chamber is strongest when 60 to 75 per cent of its dues income comes from the principal business institutions of the community. The remaining 25 per cent, equally important, should represent the individual and professional members. Without this group, the chamber cannot be truly representative and the "voice of business" in the community.

As a democratic institution, the chamber door of membership is generally open to everyone who seeks affiliation. This is a practical matter, however, there are occasions when a member is a liability rather than an asset. The personality and tempo of the individual community usually formulates the rules as to who is accepted for membership.

The Board of Directors, the governing body of the chamber, is more than "just a portion" of the membership which meets weekly or monthly to discuss the business of the chamber or to have a luncheon together. The Board of Directors are truly the representatives of the membership and represent a fair cross-section of the businessmen who make up the community. Their thoughts and ideas are those of the community and reflect its personality.

How large should the Board of Directors be? That is entirely a community preference, based on the need for giving proper representation to all interests that have something at stake.

The function of the Board of Directors is mainly to determine the policy. It is also responsible for approval of the general budget, reports or approves committee personnel, authorizes special activities, determines the program of work or approves programs adopted by established committees, reviews committee reports and recommendations, appoints the manager and approves funds for special purposes.

The officers of the chamber of commerce are those common to nearly all corporate organizations and are elected by and from the board itself. They include a president, one or more vice presidents, treasurer, and a secretary who is generally the manager. Of the directors and officers, the president is the most important for it is he who provides much of the initiative and drive that are so necessary to ensure that the chamber functions in such a way as to have the support of the community. He counsels frequently with the manager and makes necessary contact with members, government officials, and other business groups.

The vice presidents act in the absence of the president and in accordance with their order of election. The treasurer, as his title implies, maintains a true evaluation of the chamber's financial picture and usually shares the responsibility of signing all disbursements of the chamber's funds with the manager, the exception being when he is unavailable and another officer acts in his stead.

Committees are the pulse of the chamber. They are the groups through which the projects are initiated and carried through to completion. They are the means by which the members are brought together and united in their objectives. A chamber's strength and influence can almost always be measured by the character of its committees and by the amount and quality of the work done by them.

Committees may either be administrative or project. Administrative committees are those concerned with the internal affairs of the chamber, such as program of work, finance, and membership.

Project committees, on the other hand, are those engaged in various activities for community development, such as retail promotion, fire prevention, education, new industries, transportation, and the like. To better understand committee activity, what they do, how they are formed, their realm of responsibility, we first must know why we have them. This will be discussed in tomorrow's article.

Ecuador Is Ruled By Military Junta

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—A military junta ruled Ecuador today after exiling President Carlos Arosemena. The junta said he "was frequently drunk," spoiled the national honor, and sympathized with communism.

A Quito radio report heard in Colombia said five persons were killed and three wounded when army tanks fired on a crowd of members of the junta as they entered the government palace to take office.

A military spokesman said Arosemena, a known tippler, disgraced himself by getting drunk at a banquet Wednesday night in honor of the president of the Grace Lines, retired U.S. Adm. Wilfred McNeil.

Guests at the reception said the president shouted abuse at U.S. Ambassador Maurice Bernbaum, vomited in front of the gathering and committed "even more indecorous acts."

Thursday morning the chief of the three armed branches met with the commander of the Quito garrison and decided to depose Arosemena. Eight tanks and truckloads of soldiers surrounded the presidential palace about 2 p.m.

Arosemena refused to resign and named his brother Gustavo as defense minister in an effort to rally the armed forces against the uprising. Friends of the 44-year-old president who were in the besieged palace said he was still drunk.

The situation remained in doubt for several hours until provincial commanders began to send messages of support for the rebel chiefs.

In the Pacific Ocean port of Guayaquil, 170 miles southwest of Quito, there were a few attempts to organize street demonstrations in favor of Arosemena, but all were broken up. Some machine-gun volleys were fired into the air.

A military spokesman said Arosemena resigned after receiving guarantees for his personal safety and that of his family.

The junta said elections would be held as soon as possible and that it had received messages of support from all political parties and all units of the armed forces.

The military sent Arosemena to Panama aboard an Ecuadorian Air Force plane. He said on his arrival in Panama "I have not resigned" and went to a hotel without further comment.

Some army officers occupying the hotel said he would inform Panamanian authorities whether he planned to stay on or push onward.

There were various reports on the makeup of the junta. One broadcast said Col. Andres Arrata Macias was at the head with three other colonels as members.

Another broadcast identified the service chiefs—Army Col. Luis Cabrera Sevilla, Navy Capt. Ramon Castro Jijon and Air Force Col. Guillermo Freile Posso—as leaders of the revolt.

Cubans Deny Agents Being Sent Out

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Fidel Castro regime has denied U.S. charges that it is sending potential subversive agents into Latin America by way of the British Caribbean island of Grand Cayman.

A Havana broadcast monitored here today said the Cuban Foreign Ministry has issued a communique rejecting the U.S. contention that airline passengers who journey by way of the small island south of Cuba are Castro agents.

Meanwhile, there were reports the arrival of Cuban airplanes touched down at the Grand Cayman airport.

The Cuban communique, issued Thursday night said a demonstration was staged "yesterday" presumably Wednesday—by a crowd "financed by the government of the United States and directed by elements of the CIA U.S. Central Intelligence Agency."

The Miami Herald reported today that angry Grand Cayman islanders refused to let passengers leave a Cuban airliner at Owen Roberts Field at George Town Thursday.

A Californian, commercial fisherman, Claude Gauron, who flew to Miami Thursday, said the plane was surrounded by 10 or 15 automobiles and forced to take off without discharging its passengers.

DEAR ABBY: I am nine years old and have not missed one Sunday school class since I started. I don't believe in God any more. We set the date for our class picnic to be June 8th. On May 20th, I started to pray for a nice day on June 8th and do you know what? On June 8th it rained. Why did God have to make it rain on that day? Doesn't He listen to prayer?

Mr. and Mrs. John Messer,

Yes, Virginia, They're Still Around

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
"Dear Food Editor—I am 8 years old.

My papa is always talking about how when he was small, he had daddy put the ice cream freezer of the porch every Sunday in summer to make ice cream and then my papa helped turn the handle and had the dasher to lick all by himself.

My mamma keeps saying those days are gone forever and there isn't that sort of freezer around anymore.

Papa says if your mother says so it must be true.

Please tell me the truth, is there still a hand-cranked ice-cream freezer?

Virginia O.C.
She has been effected by the skepticism of a skeptical age.

Yes, Virginia, there are hand-cranked ice-cream freezers still being made. They exist as certainly as do small boys and girls. Alas! How dreary would be the world without them. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence.

Not have hand-cranked ice-cream freezers! You might as well not live! The best things in the world are those that children love and growups recall with tenderness and laughter. Who can conceive or imagine a world without that hand-powered invention?

In just a few years now, Virginia, we will be orbiting a hand-cranked ice-cream freezer to the moon.

True Lemon Sherbet
(For hand-cranked or electric freezer)

1/2 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
3 cups milk
Grated rind of 2 lemons
1/4 cup lemon juice
Crushed ice
Rock (ice cream) salt

In a bowl stir together the sugar, corn syrup, milk, grated lemon rind and lemon juice until the sugar dissolves; don't worry about the slight curdling. In a 2-quart freezer, freeze according to manufacturer's directions or use general directions below for electric or hand-cranked freezer. Makes about 1 1/2 quarts. Double recipe for 4-quart freezer.

Electric freezer method: Fill dasher into can. Pour sherbet mixture into can; set can into tub. Pack tub full with alternate layers of crushed ice and rock salt, using 4 parts ice to 1 part salt (4 cups crushed ice to 1 cup rock salt). To start, use about a 3-inch layer of ice in the bottom, then alternate ice and salt. Occasionally drain melted ice, add more ice and salt if needed. If freezer has multiple speeds, turn on low speed at beginning, increasing power as mixture freezes. When mixture is thick but still soft—in about 20 minutes—remove dasher. Wipe top, carefully pack down sherbet; cover; plug hole. Fill to top with ice and salt; using 4 parts ice to 1 part salt (4 cups crushed ice to 1 cup rock salt). Cover with a large folded cloth or towel. Ripen 2 to 3 hours or until firm.

Hand-cranked freezer method: Use directions for electric freezer.

Nut Pastries

1/2 cup and 1 tablespoon soft butter
1/4 cup cultured sour cream
2 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
2 tablespoons honey
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/2 cup chopped raisins

Cream together the 1/2 cup butter, sour cream and flour; wrap tightly in clear plastic wrap or waxed paper. Chill overnight. Mix together the 1 tablespoon butter, sugar, honey, lemon rind, cinnamon, walnuts and raisins. On a prepared pastry cloth roll out chilled dough into a 12-inch circle; cut into 16 pie-shaped wedges. Spread some of the raisin-must mixture on each but not to edges. Roll up each wedge beginning with the wide end; press down point. Bake on a cookie sheet in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until pale gold color—about 25 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool.

SOLAR ECLIPSE, due this year on July 20, can be dangerous for the eyes, camera fans are warned. Do not view it without proper filter protection. The double exposure (above) was photographed in New York City in 1959 at a five-minute interval. Exposure was 1-1000 second at f-22 with an orange filter during later stages. Below we see how amateur photographers witnessed the 1955 eclipse in Manila.

Camera Angles

By IRVING DESFOR

ONE of nature's rare phenomena, a total solar eclipse, will take place on July 20 this year. It's a fascinating sight but it brings hidden, grave danger to camera fans photographing it, as well as the spectacular beauty of a rare occurrence.

The danger lies in the severe damage, including blindness, which can be caused on a person's retina of the eye by the invisible ultraviolet and infrared radiation rays of the sun when looking at the eclipse without proper protection.

The warning comes from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness and Eastman Kodak Company along with suggestions for safe viewing and photographing of the phenomenon.

"Normally, we don't look directly at the sun because it's too bright to view comfortably," John W. Ferre, M.D., executive director of the National Society explained. "But during an eclipse, enough light is blocked out to permit observation. This is when the invisible rays can burn the retina because the eye focuses those rays, just like a magnifying glass which can burn a hole in a piece of paper with the sun's rays. Unfortunately, the retina is not sensitive to pain, so people are not aware of the damage being done when it is taking place."

"It is equally dangerous to look directly at the eclipse through a camera viewfinder or through any lens system such as telescope, binocular or opera glass," according to George T. Keene, photographic engineer at Kodak and author of a recently published book, "Star Gazing with Telescope and Camera."

Adequate protection is assured only with a filter that blocks out the invisible ultraviolet and infrared rays as well as the visible light rays of which we are aware. Medical authorities suggest a neutral density filter of optically-silvered from 5.0 to 6.0 density to be placed in front of the eyes or in front of the camera lens when viewing the stages of the eclipse. Such a filter can be made easily. Take a roll of Verichrome Pan black and white film. Unroll it so as to expose the film to daylight. Process the film completely. Cut the film into convenient pieces for looking through. Two thicknesses together make adequate protection as recommended by medical authorities.

However, this viewing filter should not be used over the camera lens for taking pictures. The metallic silver grain pattern will diffuse the image. For photographing eclipses, photographers recommend two such filters may be combined to get the 5.0 to 6.0 density suggested. They should replace the viewing filter after the sun has been framed.

Nine Snyder Girls Going To Camp

The Fourth Session of established camping in the West Texas Girl Scout Council will begin at Camp Boothe Oaks on Friday, July 12, and last until 2 p.m. on Thursday, July 18. The camp season at Boothe Oaks began on June 9 this year. Sessions I and II were twelve days long; and Sessions III, IV, and V are each a week in length.

Camp Boothe Oaks, the West Texas Council's permanent camp site is eight miles southwest of Sweetwater. The 1963 season marks the eleventh year of life camp's operation.

Total registration for the 1963 season is 420 campers; this includes 80 girls for each of the five regular sessions of established camping—plus 13 Pioneer campers and 7 Senior Girl Scout Trip Campers. This year's registration is the highest in the history of the camp. The Camp Director at Boothe Oaks is Miss Fane Downs, who is a District Adviser in the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

Activities in which campers may participate at Boothe Oaks include eating out, living in tents, archery (for advanced campers), nature study, and star gazing. A girl will gain some of the more intangible values of camp life simply by learning to make new friends—and by being an active, participating member of her unit. Because camping leads to new experiences, new friends, and a new appreciation of the out-of-doors, children have a chance to grow—and growth at Girl Scout Camp is measured not in inches, but in attitudes.

During Session IV (July 12-18)

Hazel Meyer's
Avocado Sherbet

1/2 cup mashed avocado
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup orange juice
2 cups sugar
1 pint heavy cream, whipped
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Combine the fruit juices, avocado, sugar and lemon rind, blending until sugar is completely dissolved. Pour this mixture into ice-cube trays and freeze for about 1/2 hour. Remove from the freezer, turn it out into a bowl and stir it well. Fold in the whipped cream. Pack in rigid waxed tub or plastic containers and store in freezer. Twelve servings. Recipe from "The Complete Book of Home Freezing" (Lippincott).

Food Editor's Note: Because this is a tangy flavorful sherbet, we like to serve it along with vanilla ice cream.

WE ALREADY HAVE A SPACE PLATFORM

American Men Score Poorly In European Women's Rating

BY INEZ ROBB

Have you been under the impression that the American man is regarded by European womanhood as the best ideal of inner and outer space? That he is, by its acclamation, Mr. Universe? Well, brace yourself!

European women believe that the American man is "overrated, oversexed and overconfident, as well as demanding, domineering, lazy, thoughtless, vain, extravagant, a show-off, tasteless and the sloppiest man alive."

Furthermore, European women hold American women responsible for the American male's deplorable condition. He is spoiled and pampered, in European opinion, "from the cradle to the grave by his mother, grandmothers, sisters and aunts, and then by his wife or wives."

"No wonder he marries so often!" snapped an Austrian girl. "No one woman could stand all the attention and waiting-on demands."

"You American women wait on him hand and foot," sniffed an Italian woman. "If he says he prefers a European wife, it is only because he has heard that European women are half-servant, half-slave to a husband. Well, he's about a thousand years behind the times."

"When you have a date with an American boy, he never asks you what you would like to do," said a Spanish belle. "He assumes that whatever he wants to do is the only thing to do. He is too spoiled to consider the preferences of anyone else."

"He likes to be a big shot and throw his money around," said an English girl, "but he is too impressed with his own irresistibility. An American man seems convinced that he only has to look at a woman and she will swoon at his feet in gratitude."

You, reader, may feel that this is indeed a cross-section of European female reaction to the American male. And so it is. But it is nothing to the loud and universal complaint that the American man is the most-sloppy individual and the worst-dressed tourist on the continent.

"Why does he feel that he can come to Europe, and then shed his tie, his coat and his dignity?" is the gist of the indictment. "Why does he think that he can pose as Beau Brummel in a knit sport shirt or even a sweat shirt, pulled over rumpled slacks or old shorts?"

"And why, when he is thus dressed, does he feel outraged when he is refused admission to a good restaurant or hotel dining room? And make a scene? He wouldn't dress that way at home! What makes him think that Europe is a slum? It doesn't make sense, especially when the American woman is almost invariably immaculate."

And in what survey or poll did all the above opinion originate? Why, in the Robb Running Poll of European Opinion. Ever since the United States Information Service took a poll of European opinion to reaffirm the fact that the American woman is regarded abroad as Typhoid Mary, I have been eager to know how the American male was viewed.

Since the U.S.I.S. seemed reluctant to pry into the status of the American man in European eyes, I decided to do it myself when I was in Europe.

Imagine my shock to discover that Europeans seemed to have no higher opinion of the American man than of the American woman! I thought he was adored abroad even as he is worshipped at home. But, no — European girls regard him as all right for a few dates, but not for the serious business of marriage.

Yanks, come home! We bright-eyed American women still think you're the greatest!

Casualties Plentiful In Office

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In summer the average business office becomes a kind of refuge for the walking wounded.

People go gladly to work then because it is the only place they know where they can enjoy air-conditioned safety — and escape the dangers of home and leisure. Weekends are the worst of all. The results show up on Monday, when most swivel chairs are unmanned because their usual occupants through the company doctor's office.

Here are a few typical summer casualties and their tales of woe: "Doc," says the personnel manager, handing him a small package. "I donned while cutting the grass and fell off my power mower, and the darned thing ran over me, from head to foot."

"I think my hair will grow back allright, but what about my right big toe? Do you think it's too late to sew it back on?"

The office boy walks in like a bowlegged cowboy.

"Spent the weekend racing my motor bike," he tells the medic. "What's good for saddle sores?"

Sally Primrose, the secretary, went on a picnic—and now she has red-rimmed, weeping eyes and can't stop sneezing.

"All I did—kerchoo!—was to bend down and smell a wildflower," she explains, "and now I've got—kerchoo!—this terrible attack of hay fever. What can you do for me?"

"Gesundheit!" says the doctor helpfully.

The line of sufferers snags to attention as the boss, shamefaced, enters with a heavily bandaged right hand. Their ears go up as they hear him bark behind the doctor's closed door:

"I hit the ball off the third tee, and it landed in the rough. Just between us, Doc, I reached down to toss it to a better lie—we were playing for two bucks a hole—and I guess that's when I picked up this poison ivy. But don't let those jerks outside know what happened or I'll never hear the last of it."

Firebombing Case Begins Next Week

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP)—

Theodore A. Carr, 24, and Aubrey Cauthern 26, will go on trial next week for the firebombing of the home of Negro integration leader Aaron Henry.

The Clarksdale men, who pleaded innocent Thursday, were quoted previously as saying they "were just having fun and did not know who lived in the house."

A gasoline-filled pop bottle was tossed through a window of the house April 12. Fire burned draperies and damaged furniture.

Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., a Negro, was an overnight guest of Henry, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. No one was injured.

Carr and Cauthern were held in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

Junior Editors Quiz on STEAMSHIPS

QUESTION: Who built the first steamships and steam turbines?

ANSWER: The story of the steamship really starts with the Scottishman James Watt's improvement on the steam engine idea, during the 1700's, which made steam engines practical for use on ships. (A) is from a sketch by Johnathan Hulls of London in 1786 and is said to be the first real step in steamship development. By 1783 the French had a steamboat running on the Saone River and John Fitch of America was operating a steamboat line on the Delaware River by 1790. We illustrate an early Fitch steamboat propelled by paddles. It worked, but was very slow.

None of these experiments really started the steamboat age; this honor was reserved for Robert Fulton's "Clermont." (C) which in 1807 steamed up the Hudson River from New York to Albany in 32 hours. Since it took sailing sloops four days to go this distance, this trip made history. The "Savannah" (D) used steam paddles to help her cross the Atlantic in another historic trip in 1819. By 1839 John Ericsson had invented the screw propeller (E) and tried it out on his boat "Robert F. Stockton." Then came the steam turbine, first used by the Englishman Charles Parsons in his "Turbine" in 1884. In this, the steam whirled many rotating blades and can give great speed. It is used by many liners.

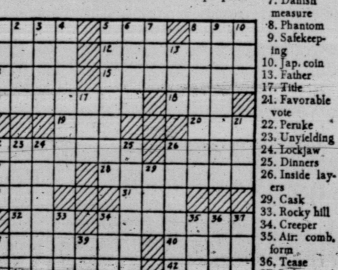

FOR YOU TO DO: We have outlined the steamship story up to the turbine but there is another, more recently discovered kind of ship which also uses steam, but makes it in a different way. Can you guess? It's a ship run by a.e.

New Zealander Surges To British Open Lead

ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Bob Charles, the left-handed golfer from New Zealand, birdied the 17th hole and parred the 18th to take the lead over Peter Thomson of Australia and Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, after the third round of the British Open Golf Championship today.

Charles shot a 4-under-par 66 on the third round for a 54-hole total of 206. Thomson held a 3-foot birdie putt on the 18th green for a 71 and a 207 just moments after Nicklaus had taken a bogey five on the same hole for a 70 and 208.

It was a four-way dogfight all through the third round over the Royal Lytham and St. Anne's course with Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., the 36-hole leader, dropping back as he took a 38 on the front nine during a morning drizzle. He finished with a 73 that tied him with Nicklaus at 208.

Arnold Palmer, the defending champion, dropped out of the picture as he took a 71 on the third round for a 219 that left him 12 strokes behind going into this afternoon's final round.

On the final hole the power-hitting Nicklaus drove into the rough and skulled his second shot across into the rough on the other side. Then his pitch to the green was short and he missed the putt.

Far for the 6,757-yard Royal Lytham and St. Anne's course, where Thomson won the Open in 1955, is 34-30.

Harold Henning of South Africa, and Sebastian Miguel and Ramon Sota of Spain had 215.

Gary Player of South Africa, 1959 Open champion and current United States PGA ruler, had an ordinary 72 for 217.

Behind him along the early finishers were Southwester Sewellum of South Africa, 73-118; Frank Phillips, Australia, 75-218; Max Faulkner and Ken Bousfield, England, both 73-219; Dennis Hutchinson, South Africa, 74-221; Pier Allis, England, 77-222; Malcolm Leader, England, 74-223; and Dai Rees, Wales, 75-224.

Pony Stars Win, 9-4

The Pony League all-stars built up a 9-4 lead in six innings and had scored another run in the seventh when the lights went out last night in their practice session with the Snyder "Regulars."

The all-stars had to overcome an early advantage by the Regulars, who scored three runs in the first and added another in the second to lead 4-1 at the end of the first. The all-stars tied it up in the third and then scored five in the fourth to take a commanding lead.

Tommy Sinclair, Jerry Boyd and Archie Overby each had two hits for the all-stars. The Regulars got only one hit, a single by Randy Feagan, but bled on balls enabled them to score in the early innings. Bobby Hall, Buddy Powell and Bobby Clardy shared mound duties for the all-stars, while Jerry Owens, John Gama and Feagan each took a turn at hurling for the Regulars.

Dark High On McCovey

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
"I don't know where we'd be without him."

That's Al Dark, manager of the San Francisco Giants, speaking of Willie McCovey.

Where the Giants are—with McCovey—is in second place in the National League, and the tall slugger with the quick wrists and awesome power definitely has been their key man.

The left-handed batter who operates at first base or the outfield for the defending league champions again demonstrated his value Thursday night at Philadelphia.

He singled in the sixth inning, stretching his hitting streak to 15 games, then rapped his 24th homer in the eighth for the run that stood up as the clincher in a 4-3 victory.

The Los Angeles Dodgers stayed four games ahead of the pack, capitalizing on a pair of errors and dealing the New York Mets their 12th straight loss, 4-3. It was the fourth victory in a row for the San Diego Padres, who edged the New York Yankees, 3-2, in the ninth of their last 10 games.

Elsewhere in the NL—Don Cardwell pitched a two-hitter in Pittsburgh's 3-0 shutout of the Houston Astros; Chicago and Cincinnati split a two-hitter, the Cubs erupting for seven runs in the 11th inning of the opener for a 7-0 romp and the Reds taking the second game 7-3 with a four-run eighth; and St. Louis also divided with Milwaukee the Cards winning 6-3 before dropping a 5-3 decision to the Braves.

In the American League—the New York Yankees, headed by the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in 10 innings; Baltimore ended Washington's winning string at seven games, 7-4; the Chicago White Sox knocked off Detroit, 6-3; Boston blanked Minnesota 2-0; and Cleveland overcame Kansas City 8-6.

Lead Hiked By Austin

By The Associated Press
The first and last made the most progress in the Texas League Thursday night.

Leading pitcher increased his margin to 6½ games by blasting El Paso 11-4 while Tulsa clipped San Antonio 5-3 to move into a tie with the Bullets for second place.

Amarillo, which thinks it can see daylight at last, trimmed Albuquerque 4-1 for its fourth victory in five games—its first in only two games away from the fifth-place Ducks.

Austin made it eight straight victories over El Paso, pounding 15 hits and using six unearned runs to beat the Sun Kings easily enough. Jerry Hummetsch won his eighth game of the season and while doing it clouded a three-run homer.

The Giants had four men put out on the bases in a display of careless running and had to withstand a big threat in the ninth inning. Juan Marchal posted his 14th victory in 18 decisions with relief from Bob Bolin. Rookie Roy Culp, 17, was the loser.

The two Met errors combined with three Dodger hits pushed the league leaders into a 4-3 lead over New York—and nailed Roger Craig with his 12th defeat in a row. Joe Gonder, the catcher acquired by the Mets last week from Cincinnati, drove in all the New York runs with a pair of homers off Don Drysdale.

Drysdale went over the 50 mark at 11-10 with reliever Nor Pernanowski's help. Cardwell, 2-14, last won on April 29—against the Dodgers.

Cardwell handcuffed the Colts on two singles, both by rookie Jim Wynn, in winning his third straight for a 6-9 mark. The Pirates nipped Dick Farrell for run in the fourth on singles by Dick Schofield and Bill Virdon, plus Roberto Clemente's ground out, then got two unearned runs in the eighth off Don Notbart.

Southpaw Dick Ellsworth, 12-4, went the distance for the Cubs in overtime opener at Cincinnati. Andre Rogers started a 11th inning explosion with a single off Al Worthington and batted in the seventh and final run with a double off Don Zanni. Ken Hubbs' cracked the scoreless tie with a two-run double and Don Leary singled in two runs.

The Reds' four-run eighth inning in the second game gave Jim Maloney his 14th pitching victory. Eddie Kasko singled home the tie breaker in the eighth and Pete Rose nailed it down with a two-run double.

Dick Groat doubled in two runs and Bill White followed with a homer as the Cardinals scored five times in the seventh inning for their victory over Milwaukee. The Braves retained in the second game beating ex-teenmate Lew Burdette with Leo Maye's homer in the seventh the deciding blow.

Commission To Set Big Limits

By JERRY PILLARD
AUSTIN (AP)—The Game and Fish Commission hopes to set limits today for quail, dove and deer.

The nine-member group, which heard various recommendations Thursday, has indicated this will be its last meeting before being replaced by a three-man Parks and Wildlife Commission Aug. 23.

Lower Rio Grande Valley hunters and businessmen took varying positions on whether a season should be opened this year for hunting white-winged dove.

Commission biologists said the white-wing population is down to 277,000 birds and recommended a closed season this fall.

Glen Boyd, McAllen, representing a number of Valley businessmen, said that an alternating two-year season with a 3 to 5 limit should be adopted.

Richert's Mark Still Unblemished

By The Associated Press
Spokane pitcher Pete Richert is still undefeated in Pacific Coast League play. He added another win, his fourth, as Spokane rolled over hapless Seattle 4-3 Thursday night.

Richert gave up six hits in the contest, one of which was a home run by Joe Pedarzi. Al Ferrara homered for Spokane. Pete Smith was the losing pitcher.

In other PCL action Oklahoma City's Biers edged the Salt Lake City Bees 4-3, the Dallas-Fort Worth Rangers beat Tacoma 3-1, Portland's Beavers doubled the Seattle Rainiers 4-2 and San Diego whipped Denver 7-2.

At Salt Lake City the Biers broke a tie in the ninth inning to gain victory. George Williams doubled in the frame and scored on Glen Vaughn's single. Oklahoma City got 12 hits.

An eighth-inning homer by Jay Ward with two runs won gave the Giants at Tacoma. George Bamberger, the winning pitcher, gave up seven hits.

Home runs by Manny Jimenez and Chet Book proved to be the difference at Portland. Jimenez blasted a homer in the first and Book drove in two runs with another homer in the eighth. The victory gave Portland a 4-1 edge in the series with Hawaii.

Jim Coates went the distance for San Diego as the Padres dominated Denver at San Diego. He allowed seven hits. Dick Kelley was the losing pitcher.

In other PCL news the Kansas City Athletics assigned catcher Haywood Sullivan to Portland and the New York Mets optioned shortstop Tom Fernandez to Seattle.

Sullivan will be a player-coach as well as assistant to Portland Manager Dan Carnevale. This is reportedly the first step in grooming him for a manager post in the Kansas City farm system.

Texans Team Up To Win Doubles Title

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Greg Hilley of Beaumont and Mike Beene of Odessa teamed up to win the 18 doubles championship of the Mississippi Open Tennis Tournament Thursday.

They beat Bobby Evers and Woody Faulk of New Orleans 6-3, 6-2.

Jim Schmidt of Sour Lake, Tex., remained in the running for the men's singles championship. He drew a bye and then beat Beene 6-4, 6-1 Thursday to advance to the third round. Schmidt was seeded No. 2.

Whitey Ford Murdering 'Em As He Throws Nothing Ball

By MIKE RATIET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Those American Leaguers who insist Whitey Ford "doesn't have a thing," better keep an eye on the umpire, somebody's murdering 'em.

Ford, 34, left-handed ace of the New York Yankees pitching staff, threw nothing at the Los Angeles Angels Thursday night and came away with a 3-2 victory in 10 innings, his 10th in a row and No. 14 this season.

To many AL observers Ford has lost some of his stuff, and is using his head instead of his arm to outwit the batters. Head or arm, Ford had it again against the Angels, turning aside three after three as Los Angeles cracked 11 hits and scored only a pair of unearned runs.

Ford's 10th kept the Yankees five games ahead of the second-place Chicago White Sox, who turned a six-run third inning into a 6-3 victory over Detroit.

Third-place Boston edged Minnesota 2-0 behind Bill Monbouquette's three-hit pitching. Baltimore ended a Washington winning streak at seven games with a 7-4 triumph and Cleveland made the most of John Wyatt's wildness for an 8-6 decision over Kansas City.

In the National League, the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers edged the New York Mets 4-3, second-place San Francisco got by Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh blanked Houston 3-0 in single games. The Chicago Cubs won 7-0 in 11 innings before Cincinnati took the nightcap of a double-header 7-3 and St. Louis scored a 6-3 triumph, then Milwaukee gained a split by winning 5-3.

The Yankees playing without Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, got a two-run homer from Hector Lopez in the sixth inning that tied the score, then won in the 10th when Joe Pepitone doubled and Elston Howard followed with a single. That tagged the defeat on the A's.

Jim Bouton, young sophomore pitcher with the New York Yankees, attends Western Michigan University in the off season.

Dick Guesman, a 250-pound defensive tackle, will do the field goal kicking for the New York Jets in the American Football League.

Juniors Paul Mayland of Merrick, N.Y., and Bob Mitschele of Morris Plains, N.J., will captain Lehigh's track team next season.

Sullivan will be a player-coach as well as assistant to Portland Manager Dan Carnevale. This is reportedly the first step in grooming him for a manager post in the Kansas City farm system.

Sixteen members of the Detroit Tigers played basketball during their high school days.

Krush, Kadar Parley May Decide Course Of Commies

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN MOSCOW (AP) — The eyes of the world are on the conference in Moscow between the Soviet and Chinese Communists.

But Premier Khrushchev and Janos Kadar of Hungary are holding talks in the Kremlin simultaneously that could decide the fate of the fragile Communist experiment in relaxing "hard line" rule.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Khrushchev and Kadar Thursday discussed the achievements of Hungary's national economy and the new order of unity of the Hungarian people.

It said they "also spoke of plans for the further economic and cultural progress of the country."

The Tass report hinted that the ideological dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China also figured in the talks.

Kadar is believed to have come to Moscow to plead the case for his liberalization policies aimed at winning support from the non-Communist majority of the Hungarian people.

The campaign began last year when most of East Europe's Soviet satellites plunged into the de-Stalinization orgy ordered by Khrushchev in late 1956.

Of the East European Communist chieftains, Kadar alone seemed genuinely intent on pushing the campaign to erase the stigma attached to his government since Soviet bayonets in stilled it after putting down the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

In the past year, Kadar has kicked notorious Stalinists out of top jobs in the party and government.

Landed the tight rein on Hungary's sullen intellectuals and artists.

Mississippi Deaths Come In Pairs

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Violent death came in pairs—four separate times—in Mississippi Thursday in unrelated tragedies.

At Pascagoula, a small plane caught fire on takeoff and crashed killing Capt. Guy E. Eshabue, 30, of Turner Air Force Base, Ga., the pilot, and his passenger, Edward O. Wimer, of Ocean Springs.

Two boys suffocated under tons of sand at Jackson. When concrete plant workers drew off sand from the bottom of a huge pile, Johnny Mullins, 7, and Wayne Khrushchev, 6, were sucked under the sand. They had been playing undisturbed on the sandpile.

Claude David Pittman, 33, and John Oliver Young, 34, both of Memphis, Tenn., died in a pre-dawn gunfight at a rural home near Tupelo. Sheriff Frank Carter said they were killed in a shoot-out with Carl Murphy Jr., who said they tried to rob him.

Two brothers, Roger Lamb, 10, and Randle Earl Lamb, 10, drowned while swimming in a private lake near their home in the Carolina community.

Negroes Asked To Join Church

DENVER, (Coh) (AP) — The Fourth general synod of the United Church of Christ adjourned Thursday with a plea by its president to solicit Negro memberships.

"It is no longer enough to accept passively a Negro member to your congregation," Dr. Ben Mohr, Herster, said. "You must welcome him. You must solicit his membership."

His remarks came after he successfully pleaded for the delegates, representing two million members, to reverse an earlier stand on the race issue.

Under his urging, the synod approved a new policy denying financial help to church-related institutions if they fail to have an open racial policy by July 1, 1964.

The policy statement was first rejected 232 to 204.

Dr. Herster pleaded for approval of the policy "even though you do it with heavy hearts."

He said, "If we really mean what we have said and what we have done in setting up the committee for racial justice now (established by the synod last Friday), we must act."

Upon reconsideration, 104 delegates changed their votes.

White Southern delegates had led the opposition, claiming that they called financial sanctions would jeopardize their progress toward integration.

TRACKS

Here they are... our tracks. And there he is following in them. Daddy, every step you take leaves its mark. And eager young minds see them so clearly, and follow them so well. Why not take some steps toward church! Your son and your daughter will follow. His first impulse is to do just what you do... to walk in daddy's tracks. Notice how many farmers' boys farm, how many bankers' boys go into banking and how many preachers' sons enter the ministry. They are following you, daddy, even to the tone of your voice. If you want them to help build a good society, to know God... then take them to church and sit with them in the place of worship.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. In a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
