

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Observations and Potpourri

If a nation expects to be ignorant and free in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be. . . where the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe.

—Thomas Jefferson

Again this year, this newspaper, with hundreds of others throughout the country, has joined in an annual salute to the brand-name manufacturers of food and furnishings. These are the manufacturers who form a hard-core team of private enterprise boosters . . . who get their profits . . . from marketing their products just a little bit better than their competitors.

This competition among manufacturers is the force which has given America the highest standard of living in the world. There's no other country where the average homeowner . . . not the rich, mind you, the average, middle-class, middle-income citizen . . . has all the advantages, comforts and conveniences of the American home. There's television . . . big and little color or black and white; there are stereo and hi-fi; there are the automatic sewing machine and automatic drill; there are the frost-free freezer and the frozen foods to put into it; there are the dishwasher and the vacuum cleaner and the station wagon; there are the well-dressed and tastefully furnished home filled with well-dressed and well-groomed people; there are the products which help to keep us young and the products to make us healthy.

These products and this standard of living would never have happened without competition . . . the keen desire of a manufacturer to be the best in his field. A brand-name manufacturer proudly places his name on his product . . . because he wants the world to know he made it. His product is sold through a good retailer, who knows the value his customer puts on a brand-name merchandise. And the product is advertised through the pages of the daily newspaper and magazines, over radio and television, to further reach the news to all consumers.

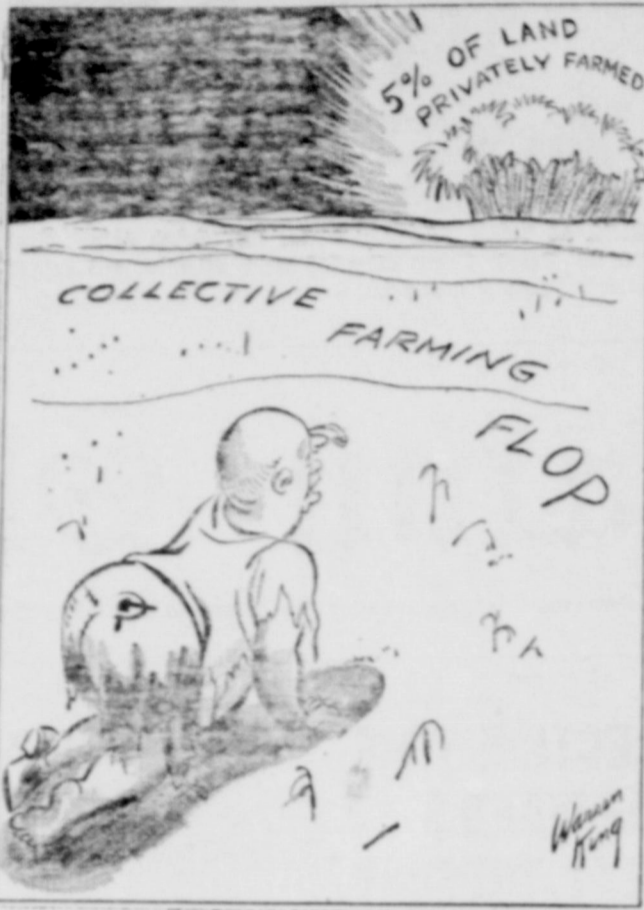

Every year at this time, Brand Names Week is celebrated from coast to coast. From May 16 through May 22, every consumer in the country has a chance to cast a vote of confidence to the manufacturers and retailers who join forces to put the newest products in the homes of American citizens.

There are bargains to be had . . . but most importantly, it's our chance to tell the leaders of our American economic system that we want them to remain leaders . . . without the continuing efforts of our manufacturers to bring us the best that science and genuity can offer, we wouldn't be as comfortable, well-fed, well-clothed and well housed as we are today. Brand Names Week is a time to be grateful.

Doug Meador Says . . .

Custom, convention and the powerful restraining influence of public opinion fetter the urge to go barefooted when the summer sun warms the creek sand and freshly plowed fields.

Speaker Declares Citizens

"To say we love our children, our schools, our community and do nothing for them is sheer hypocrisy," Dr. James H. Landes, president of Hardin-Simmons University, declared Tuesday night at the annual banquet meeting of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Landes said that in the business of building a community of a nation "we either are in there helping or we are hindering," and he quoted the words of Jesus: "He who is not for me is against me."

The speaker urged citizens to take part in the work of the chamber of commerce. He likened inactivity to subversiveness. He chided people for taking for granted those things which our forefathers fought for. This, too, he called "subversive inactivity."

"The Master of men often turned his wrath against those who do nothing," Dr. Landes said, citing as examples the story of the talents, hiding lamps under a bushel, and savorless salt.

There are four kinds of people in a community, the speaker said and listed them as follows:

Those who do not see the need;
Those who see need and talk about it a lot!
Those who look at the assets and look at the liabilities and then turn pessimistic, saying nothing can be done; and Those who look facts full in the face and say we will do something about it, will undergird the needs of the community.

Paraphrasing the words of Samuel Butler, Dr. Landes said the best way to kill a community is to fill it with moderate people. "We need to have people, with a generous enthusiastic spirit to go about building our community," he concluded. —Stamford American.

What's A Vote Worth?

It seems certain that the poll tax as a requirement for voting will be abolished this year in Texas, and a great many people will applaud because they have long been against the principle of "having to pay to vote."

Well, what is a vote worth? We don't think that the poll tax has kept voters from the polls. We don't think $1.75 is too steep a price for the right to vote. If we do away with the poll tax, we will have to replace it with a form of voter registration.

It has been suggested that we have a permanent voter registration, whereby a voter gets on the voting list and stays there without further action except voting once a year.

How these voting lists would be "purged" in order to get the names of those who have moved and who are deceased has never been clearly defined.

The KENDRICK Agency

We are suspicious of it, but maybe this is the way to do it.

But there is a lot more to voting than just casting a ballot. Any clod can mark through a name and drop the ballot in the box. Few people take the time to become informed about what they are voting for or against.

Becoming informed on the issues and on the candidates is sometimes hard work. It takes effort. It takes reading and listening and thinking. We are convinced that far too few Americans make the effort.

This is what a vote is worth—the effort to vote intelligently.

There ought to be some standards set for voters other than that the voter be born, that he be able and breathing and able to be carried to the polls.

A vote is worth more than money—it is the price of our freedom. We are not anxious to see the value of the privilege cheapened.

Orders Conferred On Two Slaton Students In San Antonio Chapel

Anthony P. Schwertner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roland Buxkemper of Slaton, received the minor orders of subdiaconate and acolyte in the Catholic Church on Wednesday, May 8.

The orders were conferred by the Most Rev. Stephen A. Leven, Auxiliary to the Bishop of San Antonio, during Pontifical Low Mass at the Assumption Seminary Chapel in San Antonio.

In the Catholic Church there are four minor orders: porter, lector, exorcist, and acolyte; and two major orders: Subdiaconate and diaconate, which a man must receive before he can be elevated to the priesthood.

Before entering Assumption Seminary, Buxkemper and Schwertner attended St. Joseph's grammar school in Slaton and St. John's Minor Seminary in San Antonio.

"It sure is," says Gilbert Wenner of the Hub Community in Parmer County. The picture at right above was made on Wenner's farm. It shows a large quantity of water emptying into a ditch through aluminum pipe from a lake pump installed on the farm. The irrigation well in the background was not operated during part of the pre-plant irrigation season. Wenner shut it down and irrigated with only "tailwater" that had collected in his lake from surrounding farmland. The weir shown in the photo at left is a measuring device installed in a Parmer County road ditch by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District to demonstrate the quantity of irrigation "tailwater" allowed to flow unused from cropland. Many farmers from throughout the High Plains Water District are recognizing the value of "tailwater" and are installing systems on their farms to salvage and put it to use.

More than 400 delegates from the Rocky Mountain and Midwest area heard an address by their international president, H. E. Gilbert, which was broadcast over networks of that area. The informative meeting, cooperation and hospitality of the people of La Juanta was highlighted by entertainment by Koshare Indian dancers of wide fame. The delegates returned to homes Sunday afternoon.

Boys Ranch Field Day Set Saturday Near San Angelo

One of West Texas' best known sons, a man who has distinguished himself as a state official, college president, and soldier, will be featured speaker at the 5th annual West Texas Boys Ranch Field Day, to be held this Saturday.

J. Earl Rudder, President of Texas A and M College will address the Field Day visitors at the Ranch at 12:30 p. m. His talk will precede the annual Field Day Bar-B-Q which will begin at 1:00 p. m.

Rudder, a native of Concho County and former Mayor of Brady, will arrive in San Angelo at 10:00 a. m. Saturday. After a coffee with Ranch officials at McEvers Ranch House, he will go immediately to the Ranch, located 17 miles west of San Angelo at Tanker sley. The annual Field Day is the biggest event of the year at the Ranch. Morris H. Craig, Executive Director, said a number of projects are on tap for this year's workout, including digging a huge trash pit, raking of root plowed brush, tree dozing in the southwest pasture and digging a ditch for a new sewage line.

Projects planned to help the Ranch's farming operations include chiseling the soil bank land, cleaning up a field just north of the barn and grass seeding.

Afternoon entertainment planned for visitors by boys at the Ranch include a rodeo in the Ranch's arena and performances by the Ranch's Drama Club. Rodeo events will include bull riding, pig and calf scrambles and possibly a goat sacking contest.

EXTENDED TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. Melton Hancock returned last Friday from a 2-week trip that took them to South Texas, on into the eastern states and to Washington, D. C.

They visited a son, R. L. Wicker, Jr. and family at Austin, then visiting Mrs. Hancock's sister, Mrs. W. D. Ray, at Houston. From there they went to Greensborough, North Carolina, visiting another sister, Mrs. Glen McConnell. In Washington they visited Mrs. Hancock's brother, Fred Hardin and family. Returning via way of Highway 82, the Hancocks spent the night in Sherman with Mrs. Delila Hendrix, a former Slaton resident.

Many interesting sights in all states were reported, and considerable rain was in evidence in North Carolina and Washington, though dry in Texas at the time.

Police Activity

Jail arrests: 18, drunk; 1, vagrancy.

Little activity transpiring this week, with one break-in reported. Ed Tucker of the Coffee Bar on South 9th reported entry gained to that establishment Thursday night through a window broken on the south side. Mother's Day, May 12th' Steeped With History' Honored in Verse Mother may be in for some special treatment come May 12, but everyday is Mother's Day and she usually observes it in her own less glamorous way—washing, ironing, cooking, cleaning, shopping and—probably her most important task—shaping reluctant offspring into adults.

In fact, historians tell us things might have been drastically different if it weren't for the influence of a few determined mothers.

Men like George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, who helped to shape America's early history, Thomas Edison who gave us the light bulb and many other inventions, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, whose poetry ranks with America's finest, are remembered for their greatness—but their mother's influence can be seen both in their personal writings and the reports of their lives.

Seeing the tears in his mother's eyes as he was about to leave on a British Man-of-War as a mid-shipman, Washington cried out: "Mother I cannot go and cause you so much grief."

When the war ended, Washington's first thoughts were of his mother. He sent a courier to her immediately with the news. And when he was elected President, he delayed the inauguration ceremonies in order that he might stop off at Ferry Farm, the family home, to see his mother. As it turned out, it was the last time he saw his mother alive.

After becoming President, Abraham Lincoln said of his mother: "All I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." At the age of nine he had stood by her deathbed as she voiced her last request: "Be something, Abe."

The genius of Thomas Alva Edison must have been nurtured by his mother. Edison was once quoted as saying: "My mother was the making of me. She was so true and so sure of me. I felt that I had someone to live for—someone I must not disappoint."

Longfellow showed his feelings toward motherhood when he advocated that a man's last thoughts before death should be of his mother. Wrote Longfellow:

"Even He who died upon the Cross in the last hour, in the utterable agony of death, was mindful of his Mother, as if to teach us that this holy line should be our last worldly thoughts—the last point of earth from which the soul should take its flight from Heaven.

Similar tributes to motherhood are to be found in the literature of every land. Thoughts such as this one penned by Sir Edwin Arnold, a 19th Century British poet, have been echoed and re-echoed throughout the poetry and prose of the ages.

"God could not be everywhere and therefore He made Mothers." Joaquin Miller paid a well deserved compliment to all mothers in his poem, "The Bravest Battle."

The bravest battle that ever was fought Shall I tell you where and when

On the maps of the world you will find it not; It was fought by the mothers of men.

Earlier, Emerson noted that "Men are what their Mothers made them, and William Ross Wallace had declared: "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world."

Kate Douglas Wiggin wrote: "Most of the beautiful things in life come by twos, and threes and dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, picnics, sonnets, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in all the wide world."

And the greeting cards that mothers throughout the world will be receiving on May 12 will contain more warm tributes like this one:

God gave the world stars
And there was beauty . . .
God gave the world sun

And there was warmth . . .
God gave the world rain
And there was life . . .
God gave the world mothers
And there was love.

And this one with a copy of Whistler's famous painting of his mother, printed on satin: A wonderful mother is . . . Someone whose life is unchanged

When nothing goes as it should
Someone whose pride is a wonderful thing
When everything's happy and good,
Someone who gives up her dreams one by one
So others can reach their bright star,

That describes mothers, the wonderful kind,
The kind of dear mother you are!

Some of the Mother's Day thoughts will be light-hearted and witty, but behind the guffaw will be that loving thought: "I love you, Mom." For example, there is:

"Today is Mother's Day, Mom, try and get your work done early so you can celebrate with us."

Make our town a beautiful place to live, help keep Slaton clean!

How to strengthen the bridge of love at your house

For some couples, of course, the honeymoon is never over.

But most husbands and wives aren't so lucky. The problems and pains of day-by-day living, the awesome conflicts of our swiftly changing world itself, all come smash together sometimes . . . in what seems a concerted effort to shake the very foundations of marriage. Love just seems to go right out the window. And as the divorce courts can testify, sometimes it goes forever.

What can you do to strengthen the bridge of love in your family? Many a troubled couple has found rewarding and unexpected answers in their church or synagogue.

Discover in yourself forgotten resources of successful, purposeful living. Worship together this week and find a deeper contentment in the life you lead.

Plant Growing with One-Fourth Normal Water Is Science Study

Produced on the Arthur Gohlke, Soil Scientists at the High Plains Research Foundation in the process of question that Dr. investigating.

Laboratory and greenhouse experiments currently underway may disclose the possibility of securing the same yield and a better quality of cotton with a much shorter stem and a thicker leaf. A hormone, used in floriculture, was applied to cotton and barley by Dr. Gohlke in a greenhouse at Michigan State University in 1962. He was then engaged in post Doctorate research there. A continuation of this experiment is currently underway at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, Texas.

Cotton plants treated with the hormone with one of several methods produce plants with shorter, thicker stems and thicker dark green leaves. Even though the treated plants undergo a great morphological change, the hormone does not appear to influence the normal growth and reproductive cycle. Laboratory and greenhouse experiments indicate that small grains and cotton treated with this hormone will produce normal crop yields with only one-fourth of the water required by untreated plants. The application of the hormone in sufficient amounts shortens the internode distance between leaves on the stem. This produces a short, dry weather cotton plant possibly capable of producing from one to two bales per acre with less irrigation water needed. The experiments currently being conducted in the laboratory and greenhouse will be continued in the field this year.

Dr. Gohlke's ultimate goal is to produce a highly productive cotton plant with short stalk and heavy leaf that could survive a growing season on 8 to 12 inches of moisture, considerably less than the 15 to 18 inches of rainfall that is normally recorded on the High Plains. Early winds and sand damage will be considerably decreased by the shorter, thicker stalk and leaf. Even though early experiments indicate that this hormone may be invaluable in the future of High Plains agriculture, Dr. Gohlke points out that this hormone is an experimental compound and is not approved or available for commercial use.

Dr. Earl Collister, Director of the Foundation, said in commenting on this new research project, "We hope that this research project will provide information that will enable our farmers to produce a better quality of cotton with less water."

Breast of Chicken in spicy APPLE-CELERY SAUCE

Serve these chicken breasts very hot, fresh from the oven straight from the casserole. That way you enjoy their tenderness at its best... and also the full zest of the sauce which they're baked.

The sauce starts with tangy canned apple sauce. To this added allspice, a big spoonful of tomato paste, diced onion, lots of chunky crisp chopped celery. The chicken breasts coated with cheese cracker crumbs, are set down in this sauce to bake. In the baking, the apple, the fat and the tomato all blend, and the sauce emerges richly brown, with a softness of sweet pungency of flavor, and thickly crunchy with celery bits and onion. The chicken breasts absorb some of all this good flavor.

Now for the serving: Make it one or two pieces of breast per person with plenty of the sauce spooned over.

- | | |
|---------------------------|---|
| 2 cups canned apple sauce | 4 medium-sized chicken breasts, split in half |
| 1/2 teaspoon allspice | 1/2 cup evaporated milk |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1 cup fine cheese cracker crumbs |
| 1 tablespoon flour | 1/2 teaspoon paprika |
| 1 tablespoon tomato paste | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup chopped celery | |
| 1/4 cup diced onion | |

Blend apple sauce with allspice, 1 teaspoon salt, flour, tomato paste, stir in celery and onion. Pour mixture in lightly buttered baking dish, 13 1/2" x 23 1/2" x 2 1/2". Bone chicken, if desired. Dip chicken in evaporated milk and roll in cracker crumbs with the paprika and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Arrange on top of sauce. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. Makes 4-6 servings.

Rehabilitating Crippled Children Big Job At Scottish Rite Hospital

DALLAS — There is small, dedicated spot in Dallas that has dramatically changed the lives of nearly 25,000 youngsters from nearly every community in the state—and now it discloses bold new plans to do even more.

This is the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, which has helped that many children since it opened its doors 40 years ago. Doctors are continuing their dramatic work at Scottish Rite in rehabilitating children who have been crippled by one or more of hundreds of different birth defects and diseases.

But some of the vast energies which for years went into the rescue of polio victims, for which Scottish Rite Hospital became famous, are now being put into studies of congenital malformations, or birth defects. Hospital officials announce that several new case studies have been begun this year that may help shed light on why some 6,000 Texas babies every year are born with defects.

"It is our conviction that Texas want and rightfully expect that this hospital shall maintain Need salesbooks? A new stock has been received at The Slatonite.

HERE AND THERE

I am quite sure no one will forget but just a reminder in case you have ideas like I do and think Mother's Day is May 19th! It isn't, you know, it is this Sunday, May 12th, so don't forget. Even though I hardly think most mothers need to have a special day or a special present for being mothers. They get their own special compensation every day!

The Slaton schools have really had a busy week with Western Day and the Parade, and the Junior-Senior Banquet and the Eighth Grade Banquet. Wasn't the parade fun! I think our High-School gang is to be commended for all the work they put into making that such a good parade.

And the decorations at both of the Banquets were just beautiful. I had to sneak a peek at both of them before time for the guests!

The FHA girls and teachers are to be commended too for the installation of New Officers and Conferring of Degrees which May 6th, in the High School Auditorium. And such good refreshments afterwards!

Effective April 15th, S. T. Phillips, Jr. was appointed Acting Agent at Lubbock, Texas, vice Mr. H. C. Pumphrey, who is convalescing from surgery. Sam used to railroad here in Slaton as well as live here. Air Brake Supervisor C. H. Ray was by the office last week. Mr. Ray has his headquarters in Amarillo and says everytime he comes to BEST DRESSED BOY honors during Western Day were shared by Richie Polk and R. J. Moore. Polk is shown here, supposedly as a circuit-riding preacher of early days.

Slaton it rains. So I guess we can thank him for breaking the dry spell and know what to do next time we need rain! The Maintenance Office had a nice long letter from O. D. Dial, who used to be the General Foreman's Clerk here and at present is in Mr. Beeders office in Chicago. O. D. sounded a wee mite homesick and reports that they had measles at their house as well as snow on May 1st! We shouldn't fuss about a little dirt storm now should we? Machine Operator Ray Ricker is operating a Jordan Spreader up at Amarillo for the time being.

CLOUD NINE NOTICE

I really should say Cloud Nine and a half for this one because it does seem to be sort of extra special! Machinist and Mrs. C. O. Heinrich are the new parents of twin girls! The babies will be a year old on Sunday and were adopted by the Heinrichs through the Catholic Committee for Refugees of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. The little girls were flown from Italy where they were born and were met in Dallas last weekend by the Heinrichs and their 13-year old son Dan. The Heinrichs have named the twins Carol Lynn and Cheryl Ann!

Speaking of new babies we hear Engineer P. C. Brasfield has a new baby colt at his house, which is really a lamb!

TRIP & VACATIONS

Like I said last week this beautiful spring weather gives everyone itchy feet. Chief Dispatcher and Mrs. J. C. Newton made a jaunt down Austin way and around for a few days. Engineer and Mrs. T. N. Bickers are vacationing down Mexico way-those lucky people. Superintendent and Mrs. G. A. Alexander are also vacationing for a couple of weeks while Mr. Alexander's secretary J. H. (Bill) Baker and his family are vacationing with their families around Grand Falls, Texas. Fireman Wayne and Steno Lori Anne Lamb made a weekend trip to Roswell, New Mexico, presumably to visit Wayne's sister and her family. (They have a new wee one at their house) but he also used the trip to look for wagon wheels! Trevor Jones, six-year old son of Mail Clerk Bonnie and John Jones, spent the weekend in Midland, Texas, with his grandmother.

SICK LIST

Conductor B. McDonald is on leave of absence for a checkup at the Santa Fe Hospital at Temple Brakeman M. G. (Gus) Goettsche is off account his wife having had surgery.

Mrs. Hub Taylor celebrated her birthday Sunday. Present were her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Josey and son, Rodney, from Post; and Mrs. Alpha Taylor and Sharla Taylor of the home.

Mrs. Mary J. Gary from Needles, Calif., visited Mrs. Sam Martin. Mrs. Gary was a telephone operator in Southland several years ago.

Industrial Training School Need Outlined to Women Voter League

"There is definite need in Lubbock County for an industrial training school", asserted Judge Howard C. Davison of the 99th District Court, appearing in a panel before the League of Women Voters at a luncheon meeting of that group held in Lubbock last Thursday.

League members Mesdames Calvin Lamb, Phil Brewer and Ed Williams attended from Slaton.

Only special legislation can give local authorities right to establish the type school needed, however, the judge continued as he reviewed proposed legislation that would create a special school district.

Judge Davison pointed out that at present his only alternative in ruling on juvenile cases, regardless of race or creed, is to commit the youth to a state school or to send him or her back to the home environment that many times actually contributed to their delinquency.

In the judge's words, "We need a facility that will put these kids back into the normal channels of living."

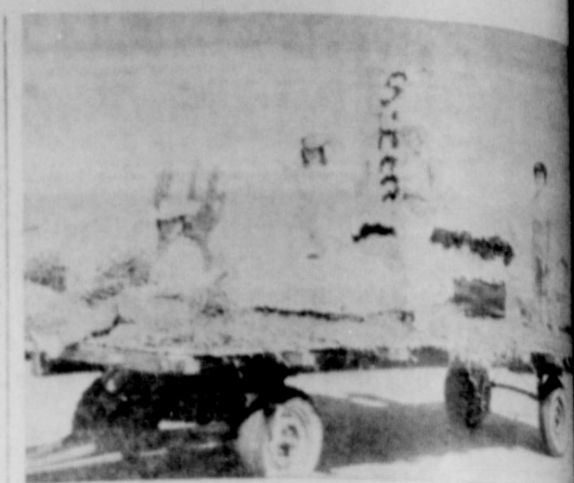

A situation was pictured wherein few local delinquents are sent to Boys Ranch or other youth camps; Girls Town does not accept delinquents, and foster homes are hard to find, especially for Negroes.

"We have no place to send a Negro child to get him out of an environment we feel is not conductive to his welfare. This is an indictment of us as citizens of this community", Judge Davison asserted.

Davison discussed related problems at length, followed by other speakers on the panel including Dr. William Oden, associate professor of government at Tech, and Dr. Holmes Webb, associate professor of education at the same school.

Distributive education was outlined by Dr. Webb, and Dr. Oden reviewed the role of special districts in the vast complex of government units.

'TIS A BOOT, no less, and this float entry by Ann West was a tie for first place in the novelty division of the parade Friday.

Old Friends

By J. L. Maxey

We received a copy of the Gunnison County Globe, Gunnison, Colorado, early this week. This issue contained the story of the impending retirement of Coach W. Wright as Athletic Director of Western State Teachers College, Gunnison, Colorado. On June 30th, when Coach Wright clears off his desk he will have completed thirty-eight years in the teaching and coaching profession. After receiving his B. S. and M. A. degrees from the University of Illinois in the early twenties Coach Wright began his career at Delta, Colorado in 1926. Coach Wright then spent two years coaching at Manitou Springs, Colorado before coming to Slaton in the fall of 1928.

For many of our older graduates such as Cecil Scott, Cecil Austin, Choice Rucker, the Cannon Reys, Demp and Otis, the Woolever boys, Gerald and Jack, Lawrence Evans, Frank Johnson, Lee Jackson, Sam McMennamy, Leonard Lott, myself and many, many more, the coming of Coach Wright was a high point. He touched our lives in many ways that we can see and understand now. Coach Wright should have put out his shingle and practiced psychology in that he handled every individual in a different manner. I can remember very vividly that he kept me mail nearly all of the time because he knew that I would take my spite out on a man opposing him. He knew who to praise and who to "bawl out" in order to get their best efforts. This is a trait that a coach must learn early in life if he is to be a success in his field. Coach Wright spent seven years here and a great many of our eyes held some fond memories of his tenure here.

After leaving Slaton Coach Wright assumed the duties of head coach at Western State Teachers College at Gunnison, until now. He has served in several capacities and has coached where he has remained-coached all of the seven sports at one time or another. He is presently Athletic Director and coaches track and field.

Coach Wright has also been very active in the community life. He has served on the Gunnison County Selective Service Board for more than twenty years, was chairman of the County American Red Cross for fifteen years, has been a member of the Rotary Club for more than twenty years and has served as Mayor of Gunnison for eight years.

Coach and Mrs. Wright say that they will continue to make Gunnison their home but will spend part of their time in the sunny South.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that many of our eyes look forward to seeing Coach and Mrs. Wright when they are here for our reunion on June 22nd. He will be the principal speaker at that occasion.

Ralph Dickson, class of 1934, was a visitor in Slaton over the weekend. Ralph has large farming interests in the Pecos Valley near McCamey, which he has operated for the past ten years. Ralph has had a heart condition for the past year or so and has been semi retired. Ralph's address is Drawer EE, McCamey, Texas.

In thinking about the Dickson family we are reminded that there has been a Dickson or children of some of the Dickson family in the Slaton schools every year since 1926 when Addie Mae Dickson Miller started to High School here. Addie Mae lives at 187 Pennsylvania Avenue, Shreveport, La. Addie Mae taught art in school for a number of years but only does portrait work now. Addie Mae is in the class of 1928. Mrs. Bill Wright (Dan Dickson, class of 1936, works as a technician in the dental office here. Bill is employed in the Post Office. Bill and Dan have one daughter, Ann, a Tech student who graduated in 1962. Charles E. Dickson and wife, Cora French Dickson, were both in the class of 1938. Charles is a conductor on the Santa Fe and Cora is employed at the Slaton Pharmacy. Charles and Cora have a daughter, Monty Dickson German, who was in the class of 1958, and a son, Billy, a 1960 graduate who is a student at West Texas State Teachers College.

Jack Dickson and wife, Jean Holt Dickson, were both in the class of 1945. Jean is employed at the dental office here and Jack is employed by an Air Line in Lubbock.

Betty Dickson Wilkinson, class of 1946, is living at 2303 55th Street in Lubbock.

Those paying dues since last report were Jo Wolf Delaney, Ralph Dickson, Dan Dickson, Wright and Addie Mae Dickson Miller.

Alternatives Are Listed By ASGS In May 21st Wheat Referendum

"Small growers, with farm allotments of less than 15 acres, should get all the facts about the 1964 wheat program so they can decide whether they want to participate in the program as 'allotment grower,' Charles G. Bragg, office manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said this week. The operator of such a farm has until May 13 to make his choice if he and other growers on his farm want to vote in the May 21 referendum on 1964 wheat marketing quotas.

Bragg explained that the small farm operator who elects to participate in the program as an allotment grower has the same alternatives open to him as the larger wheat grower in deciding whether he wants to vote yes or no in the upcoming referendum.

"A 'no' vote by more than one-third of the growers voting would mean the same in the 1964 wheat referendum as it would have meant in the past," Bragg declared, "that is, no quotas, no marketing quota penalties, and price support at 50 percent of parity to growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments. As a matter of fact, however, growers have never turned down wheat marketing quotas.

"A 'yes' vote for 1964—by at least two-thirds of the growers voting—would mean a broader program than has ever been available in the past, including not only a diversion program and price supports to participating producers, but also marketing certificates at a relatively high level on most of the normal production of a farm's acreage allotment. (In addition, a small grower with an allotment of 13.5 acres or less will have the option of diverting his allotment to conserving at 50 percent of the normal support rate on the normal of the farm's base acreage. Marketing penalties will apply to any wheat produced in excess of acreage allotments.

"We hope that all wheat growers, both large and small, make it their business to come well informed about actual issues, so that the 1964 wheat vote may be in line with the true representation of wheat-grower opinion," Bragg concluded.

FIRST PLACE to the Seniors, and the selection was arranged by most as well earned, the intricately designed "gun" showing evidence of both talent in construction and many man-hours in construction.

ALAN LINCOLN OR ALAN MARTIN, take your pick, for was no mistake about the character represented in this parade entry.

Culminating a spirited campaign, Sinky Weaver and Karen Buxkemper were revealed Friday as King and Queen to reign over Western Day festivities at the Slaton High School.

Birthday Party For Tommy Jack Taylor

Tommy Jack Taylor, son of the Pat Taylors of Southland, celebrated his 9th birthday with a party at his home Saturday afternoon.

Actually the affair was a surprise party. Tommy was at his aunt's house, and when he came home, all the guests greeted him by singing "Happy Birthday."

Games were played out of doors, and then the presents were opened. A weiner roast was held, with hot dogs, Cokes and potato chips served. Later cake and ice cream were served.

A baseball motif was carried out with the napkins, paper plates and table cloths in form of red baseball caps, bats and balls.

Present were Tyra and Paul

The second Sunday in May has important significance for mothers of all ages. However, that first celebration of Mother's Day remains in the memory as a very special time.

Celebrating the memorable occasion for the first time next Sunday will be Mrs. M. L. Fowler of 1005 South 11th St. Her daughter, Lyn Ann, will observe her first birthday anniversary May 26.

The Fowlers have been resi-

Martin, Nedra and Rhonda Moseley, his maternal grandmother, Mrs. T. H. Basinger; Laura, Jay Ray, and John T. Basinger, all of Slaton; Nancy and Ray Lynn Basinger, Gary, Gregg and Jill Basinger, all of Southland; the paternal grandparents from Post, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor; Martha Basinger, Jean Basinger, Jo Ann Basinger, the parents and Tommy's brothers.

dents of Slaton since last August, moving here from Odessa. Mr. Fowler is a native of Seminole, where his parents now reside on a farm. His wife calls Lubbock home, where the couple met and was married.

Mrs. Fowler is kept busy with Lyn Ann and has little time for hobbies. Her husband is engaged in a tree planting program on the farm of his parents. The couple's church affiliation is the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Fowler, whose husband employed by Deal's Machine Shop, says that she likes living in Slaton very much. "The people are so friendly," she remarked.
