

On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

The Loraine schools lost two members of its faculty last week that will be hard to replace before school starts.

Coach Yoels resigned to go to Bronte as coach. Although he coached here only one year he turned in an excellent job. The Bulldogs making a better showing in both football and basketball than they had in years. They also did well in baseball and track. The Bulldogs will have to compete with his team at Bronte this year.

Mr. Hughes has done a big job with the band here the past three years. Lack of proper instrumentation was the main thing that held the band from making first division in the contest each year.

But as valuable as these men were to the school their places will be filled by others who will also do a good job.

Cong. Mahon Opens Lubbock Office

Congressman George Mahon opened his Lubbock office on Monday of this week and plans to be in the District for the next several months. The next session of Congress is scheduled to convene on January 6, 1954. Mahon expressed the hope that he could spend most of his time out among the people of the twenty-five county district, explaining, however, that both his Lubbock and Washington offices would remain open.

In commenting on the general situation Mahon made the following statement:

"The present picture is dark in some respects. For this I do not blame the Democrats or the Republicans. We are thankful that an agreement has been reached to stop the shooting in Korea, but there is every indication that there is no good way to deal with the Russian Communists and that the Korean truce will prove to be as frustrating as the Korean War. "Except for the undiminished threat to our security posed by the Communist, now apparently in possession of both the A-bomb and the H-bomb, Congress could have worked wonders in dealing with taxes and the budget."

Mahon pointed out that the fiscal picture was not altogether dark. He said that a downward trend in spending could definitely be expected unless there should be a worsening of the international situation. He said that there was no reason for a spirit of defeatism, that in his opinion we should keep our guard on the domestic and foreign fronts. He feels that we can successfully work our way through this difficult period. Mahon emphasized the fact that our country is essentially sound to the core and tremendously powerful and that we should not lose faith in each other or faith in our Commander-in-Chief the President.

As to the new Republican Administration he had the following to say:

"The first session of the 83rd Congress was notable for the fine spirit of cooperation which existed between the President and Congress. I am not critical of the President. I think he is doing the best he can under the difficult domestic and international situation, and I have given him my best cooperation. I have voted with him on all issues except in rare instances where I have had very deep convictions to the contrary. Likewise, I am not critical of the first session of the 83rd Congress. I think it did about all that could have been expected of it under the circumstances. Of course, no miracles have been performed and a very big job yet remains to be done. The second session of the 83rd Congress will have to deal with a wide variety of difficult and controversial subjects involving such matters as the extension of the farm program and many other important issues."

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Spence and children Randy and Debby, came in Thursday from Colorado Springs, Colorado, where Mr. Spence has been in school this summer. They are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Cpl. Billy J. Campbell Home From Korea Prison Camp

Cpl. Billy Joe Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Campbell of Route 1, Loraine, arrived in Sweetwater by plane at 6 p. m. Sunday and a friend carried him to the home of a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Campbell, in Sweetwater, and they brought him to the home of his parents north of Loraine.

The parents and other relatives had met an earlier plane Sunday afternoon with hopes that Billy Joe would be on it, but had not anticipated that he would arrive from Oklahoma City, the way he was routed, therefore they missed the opportunity of greeting him on his arrival.

Big plans are being made for Sunday, September 6, when the Campbells expect their other ten children and their families to be on hand for an official welcome for Billy Joe. They will begin to arrive Saturday but the welcome dinner is planned for noon Sunday which happened to be the 75th birthday anniversary of Mr. Campbell. Mrs. Campbell will also receive congratulations as she had reached her 65th birthday on Wednesday September 2.

"At last our long waiting is over and we are so happy," expressed the parents as a reporter from The Mitchell County News visited them Tuesday morning. And Loraine friends join in saying welcome home, too, as this family stage their celebration.

"Billy Joe's reaction" says his mother, "is quiet, doesn't talk, and is nervous, and is not hungry for all the choice dishes he had planned for his homecoming, but the adjustment will be made and he will be enjoying the blackeye peas and cornbread he once did," she is sure. They related how Billy Joe took himself off to Sweetwater Monday and drove home in a new Ford car. That too, is just fine say the parents for if anyone deserves a new car it would be one who has spent 33 months as a prisoner of the Reds. Billy Joe was not at home Tuesday and we did not learn where he is to report for a new assignment after a 30 day furlough.

Hughes resigned to accept the position as band director at Anson schools.

Mr. Yoels coached the Loraine Bulldogs last season, the team turning in the most successful season in years.

White Experiments With Irrigation

A. L. White, district cooperator of the Payne Church area, is gaining some valuable experience in irrigation farming this year. Mr. White has had previous irrigation experience in New Mexico but that was the flood type or row irrigation. This is first experience with sprinklers. He drilled his well in the spring of 1953 and got it equipped in May. He had the well gauged and it delivered about 450 gallons per minute at that time. He doesn't have enough electrical power at present to carry as large a pump and motor as needed but this will be corrected before next crop year by installing a three phase power line. He says he hasn't really tried to get down and get all he could out of his system this year but has just "kindly piddled around" from about 6 a. m. in the morning until bed time.

He has watered about 30 acres of cotton, once and some other cotton twice. He has 4 acres of mixed summer peas which he is most proud of now. He has blackeyes, purple hulls, and crowder summer peas which he plans to commercialize on and sell as green peas to a commercial cannery. He also has a watermelon and cantaloupe crop which will be ready for harvest about September 1st. He also has a few acres of corn and maize which are producing bumper yields. He plans to mulch the pea vines into the surface soil and that plus the roots will give considerable improvement to the soil even though the peas were sold commercially.

Mr. White says next year he will be different and he hopes to get the jump so that he will have his irrigation program well planned for the best use of his water and system. He plans to seed about 12 to 15 acres of alfalfa and 8 to 10 acres of winter grasses this September. Possibly a little small grain will be sown for cover and grazing and he will plant 15 to 20 acres of winter peas for cover and soil improvement. Next spring he plans to go stronger on the truck farming route with larger acreages of melons, cantaloupes, peas, corn, etc. He will fill out the remainder of his irrigation program with cotton. He is proud of the fact that he has this available water and that he can again raise sufficient vegetables for his use plus some for the market.

Willie Taylor Plants Guar For Testing

W. A. Taylor, district cooperator in the NE Loraine area, and who is also one of the five supervisors of the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District board of supervisors, has recently planted about 8 acres of cropland to guar. This was planted in 3 foot rows at the rate of 6 pounds of seed per acre. He will be observing this planting of guar as to its adaptability and benefits to the soil. Guar is highly recommended as a good summer legume for West Texas and those in nearby districts which have used guar previously report increased yields on all crops such as cotton, wheat, and grain sorghums. Mr. Taylor is proud of his 4 acre patch of blue panic grass which was seeded in the spring of 1952. In spite of the drought since it was planted it has furnished a good deal of grazing and he is wondering just what it will do if it ever comes a good rain.

HINTS From Home Ec. Dept.

Homemakers with stocks of glass canning jars can use them for home freezing if simple precautions are observed. The glass in the six types of canning jars most commonly used to hold fruits in syrup or sugar, dry pack vegetables, meats and poultry, and even apple juice may be used for freezing. There is considerable breakage in freezing foods packed in brien so this should be avoided. Allow enough head space for food to expand one half inch for pints and one inch for quarts. To prevent breakage, stand jars upright and put in freezer a few at a time with space around each for circulation of air and even freezing. Least breakage occurs when jars are placed in center of freezing compartment away from freezer plates. Thawing as well as freezing should be even. Slow thawing in refrigerator is recommended. For more rapid thawing, place jar in cold, slowly running tap water.

To remove lipstick stains, rub the stain lightly with some kind of oil or cream. If material is washable then wash out oil with hot suds. If the material is not washable, sponge out grease with naphtha or cleaning fluid.

A big trend throughout fall fashions is the low-cut, stand-away neckline filled in with high neck yoke or a dickey.

Mitchell County Soil Conservation News

Suggestions for Handling 1954 Diverted Wheat Acreage

Wheat farmers recently approved marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop. This fact has brought about a lot of speculation as to what could be done with the diverted wheat acreage. Mr. Louis P. Merrill, Regional Director of the Soil Conservation Service for the States of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, has issued some sound advice on this subject which we want to pass on to the wheat farmers of this soil conservation district. Mr. Merrill's recommendations are quoted below:

"Southwestern wheat farmers facing the prospect of reduced 1953-54 plantings, can help themselves and their land by using the government's acreage allotment program as an opportunity for improving land use and installing needed conservation treatment."

Based on information from the Amarillo Experiment Station, Merrill's recommendations for farmers who must cut wheat acreages are mainly these:

1. Use a diversified farming system to include wheat, sorghum, grass and livestock. (Merrill pointed out that in such a system, it would be beneficial to return any cropland west of the 20 inch rainfall line to grass for at least six years.)
2. Where feasible, practice wheat-sorghum-fallow rotation.
3. Use cover crops and stubble mulch farming to help prevent wind and water erosion.
4. Put all land not suitable for cultivation into range and pasture.

In humid areas, Merrill pointed out, crop rotations may be lengthened to include more grasses and legumes for livestock feed. By all means, the SCS regional director said, the capabilities of the land should be used in deciding which acres should remain in wheat production. Land capability guides have been worked out for all wheat farming areas of the region and are in the hands of soil conservation district boards.

Switching a part of the wheat farmer's acreage to another crop such as grain sorghum, which is more suited to some soils of the area, may actually mean greater net return to the farmer, Merrill explained. In addition, many thousands of acres of wheat lands year after year are producing scarcely enough to pay for harvesting. Many more thousands of acres are being farmed at a loss. These acreages could very likely produce profitably in grass.

Above all, Merrill cautioned, steps should be taken to keep lands taken out of wheat from undergoing erosion damage. If stubble is sufficient, it should be carefully managed. If stubble has been destroyed, an effort should be made to get a winter growing crop other than wheat on the land or, if time permits, a crop of grain sorghum. Even planted in August, grain sorghum normally can make sufficient growth to keep the land from blowing. Sandier lands of the wheat growing areas would be better off if they were farmed usually to grain sorghums, he said.

Emergency tillage to prevent wind erosion damage is just that—an emergency step to be taken as a last resort. Merrill explained. Conservation measures are designed to avoid the need for this costly and labor consuming practice, he said.

Last year some 12 to 15 thousand acres of cropland was down to small grains after the September rains in this local soil conservation district. This represented only about 5% of the total cropland in the district; however it was a remarkable help to the farmers and ranchers in the furnishing of badly needed grazing and land cover to prevent blowing. Another important advantage of last year's small grain crop was the addition of thousands of tons of organic matter to the surface soils of this district in the form of stubble and litter. Most soils locally are low in this vital substance because of continuous row crop farming and that being cotton principally for the past few years. Another factor is that the three years of drought has prevented any great amount

Mr. and Mrs. Tharon Henderson and sons spent Sunday and the first of the week at the Spade Ranch with Mr. and Mrs. Wright Hoek and Susan.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST
Lorraine, Texas

JESUS CHRIST COMMANDED his disciples, "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. (Matt. 28:19-20).

Explanation: The gospel was to be preached universally to every creature, (Mk. 16:15) and upon fulfilling the conditions of faith, repenting, confession and baptism they were to be saved from their past sins. Eternal salvation was conditionally promised to all those who should continue faithful until death. The teaching of the commands is relatively just as important as the preaching of the gospel.

Churches of Christ are built upon the sure foundation of apostolic teaching, therefore we reject as non-essential all the theories and doctrines of men.

THE TRUTH OF GOD'S WORD IS OPPOSED TO THE DOCTRINES OF MEN

Men in churches who teach false doctrine are condemned by Paul. "Take heed unto yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit hath made you bishops, to feed the church of the Lord which he purchased with his own blood. I know that after my departing grievous wolves shall enter in among you, not sparing the flock; and from your own selves shall men arise teaching perverse things to draw away disciples after them. (Acts 20:28-29).

Doctrinal divisions are condemned. "Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgement." (1 Cor. 1:10).

Other Gospels are condemned by damning their exponents. "But though we or an angel from heaven, should preach unto you any gospel other than that which we preached unto you, let him be ANATHEMA GAL. 1:8.

ALL EXPONENTS OF DIVISION IN DOCTRINE ARE CONDEMNED AS ENEMIES BY THE APOSTLE PAUL. "I declare unto you even weeping that they are the enemies of the gospel of Christ."

THE BLOOD OF CHRIST:

1. Cleanses our hearts from evil when we are baptized in water. (Heb. 10:22).
2. Cleanses our conscience from dead works. (Heb. 9:14).
3. Remits our sins. (Heb. 10:17-18).
4. Makes atonement for our sins. (Heb. 10:12).

We escape from the guilt of sin when we are baptized "For remission of sins", (Acts 2:38; Rom. 6:3-8; Titus 3:6) Our sins are pardoned by an act of God when we obey the gospel of Christ in Christian baptism, therefore baptism saves us. Read 1P. 3:21.
