SWEETWATER EDITOR GIVES INTERESTING AIRWAYS DATA

Snyder Strategically Located to Become Large Air Center

Snyder's announcement of a new commercial airport last week through the generosity of D. P. Yoder and associates, was one of the greatest news notes ever to be broadcasted from Snyder. News associations, the daily press and radio broadcasting stations picked up the good news and sent it on its way that "the air-mindedness of Snyder in Scurry County was 100 per cent."

Tentative arrangements are already completed to start work on the airport, but owing to the sudden illness and unexpected death of Mr. Yoder's mother in Boise City, Idaho, Saturday, complete announcements cannot be made until his return here.

Snyder's Position

Snyder is at the strategic angle of location and position to be the real airport center of West Texas, and that thought is not entirely a local one.

Editor Herschel Colbert of the Sweetwater Reporter attended the Texas Air Transport School at Fort Worth last week and received a cash prize for his ability to fathom aviation detail in an examination. Ina recent issue of his paper, Editor Colbert, in telling of nine new air passenger lines to cover Texas, said:

That the prophecy that this year would see an unprecedented development of air traffic, not only over the entire nation but especially in Texas, was not based on conjecture and dreams of enthusiasts was made evident to nearly half a hundred newspaper men and commercial secretaries in Fort Worth this week, when the announcement was made that within the next sixty days nine new passenger air lines would be put into operation throughout the state.

The announcement—which vitally effects Sweetwater's position in the new air transportation system—was made by Tom Hardin, vice president and general manager of the Texas Air Transport, Inc., during the course of a two-day aviation school which that company gave for newspaper men and commercial secretaries.

The New Routes

These new air routes, which will be equipped with a fleet of large, new passenger cabin planes, powered with the famous Wright Whirlwind motors, will, Mr. Hardin said, include lines between the following points:

Texarkana to Dallas and Fort Worth.

Dallas and Fort Worth to El Paso, connecting with a line to Los Angeles.

Amarillo to San Angelo and San Antonio.

San Antonio to Houston and Galveston connecting with the Gulf Coast Lines to New Orleans and east.

Fort Worth and Dallas to Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

Dallas and Fort Worth to Waco and Houston (a line now exists to San Antonio and Laredo.).

Lines from Brownsille connecting with all lines north and west.

In addition to the connections already named this network of airways will connect with lines to Kansas City and Chicago and with two lines to Mexico City, one by way of Monterey and Saltillo, the other by Tampico.

Six Division Points

The extent of these new airways will add 6700 miles to the present regular commercial lines in the state.

Announcement was also made that in addition to the various stops that will be made on these routes, six division points will be established. At each division point will be located one or more of the planes with pilots and mechanics to operate and care for them. A sales organization will be established to take care of the distribution and sale of planes, while shops will provide mechanical service for repair of motors, training schools for pilots will be conducted and a stock of airplane accessories handled.

This announcement of the blanketing of the state with such a complete system of airways coming from the Texas Air Transport, Inc., came also as further evidence that big business and capital are convinced of the success and safety of air transportation and are ready to take over its development.

The Texas Air Transport, Inc., is one of the Barrett interests, which operate the Dixie Motor Coaches and other commercial and industrial projects. It has been organized not quite a year and has made Fort Worth the air center of the entire Southwest.

Safety in Aviation

Stressing the safety factor of aviation today, Mr. Hardin in discussing the project with the company's guests, stated that during the eleven months the company has been in existence, operating two mail routes, conducting one of the outstanding flying schools of the country and doing a general commercial business, its pilots have flown half a million miles without a scratch to any pilot or passenger, or the loss of a single letter or package. The Fort Worth Airport, now operated by the TAT, which has been in operation three years, has not had an injury to pilot or plane, while in that time eleven fatal automobile accidents have occurred on the highway nearby.

"In 1927," Mr. Hardin said, "the Air Mail flew 7,000,000 miles with only six fatalities, a wonderful record. The public, reading of air accidents and perhaps the burning of a mail plane, naturally

Builds Adobe Farm Houses

C. H. Westcott, a substantial farmer in Gaines County and close to Seminole, has successfully demonstrated an easy and economical method of housing both cows and chickens.

Two summers ago Mr. Wescott built his first adobe hen house by using adobe bricks layed upon a rock foundation. Last summer he built his second hen house by simply filling forms with clay, mud and shucks, laid on a concrete foundation. This year he built a cow barn 22x62 feet in a similar manner at the small cost of $150.00. This barn with its stancheons for 14 cows, a feed room and a separator room, is as warm and substantial as a much more costly barn. Mr. Wescott uses sheet iron to cover his buildings. They are all warm in the winter, can be burned out or disinfected as easily as a brick or tile building.

He builds a house every year after crops are laid by, for his farm animals and flocks, and his records show that it pays. Since February 15th, a period of ten and one-half months, he has sold 2,314.5 dozen eggs from 275 hens that brought $594.51. Receipts from live poultry brought $181,99 making a total of $726.50. Expenses, including bought feed, oyster shell and parasite remedies, amounted to $218.50, leaving a profit of $508.00. He culls his flock and keeps laying mash out the year round.

Further evidence of his care for stock is revealed in the fact that since June 1st his cream sales total $405.70 and is now running between $70 and $80 per month. His cows are just the ordinary grade Jerseys, but he says that since he began to feed crushed milo and a little cotton seed meal and that when he went to giving them this feed in their stalls, the production of cream has increased.

GILES GARNER GOING AHEAD WITH POULTRY

Giles Garner, who is establishing a real poultry project on his farm west of town, is securing quotations this week on the cost and building of four poultry houses that will each measure 30x120 feet and when constructed will be a modified form of the California idea. Trap-nesting in the latest form will be followed in Mr. Garner's project.

Six thousand laying hens will be taken care of with the four new buildings that will be built, each house taking care of 1,500 laying hens. The buildings will be ready for occupancy by May first.

"HIT THE DECK" TO BE PRESENTED AT SWEETWATER

Ever since the announcement of Vincent Loumans' great nautical musical comedy, "Hit the Deck," for presentation at the City Auditorium, Sweetwater, on Saturday, Feb. 2, there has been a steady stream of letters pouring into the theatre management for tickets for this notable event.

Not for many moons has there been such interest in the coming of a theatrical production. The interest shown upon the part of the theatre public is not without good foundation; for "Hit the Deck" with its two melodies, "Hallelujah" and "Sometimes I'm Happy," still remains this and last season's musical comedy smash. Its record run of a year on Broadway, six months each in Chicago and Boston and a year in London has created genuine enthusiasm for this Youmans offering.

Mr. Youmans, known here as the composer of the music of "No, No, Nanette," is also the producer of "Hit the Deck" as well as its composer. He has promised a cast of exceptional ability which is headed by such a well known musical comedy satellite as Miriam Crosby. Others in the cast are Edward Garr, Sunny Dale, Katherine Bingham, Ernie Mack, Betty Benton, Rita Carita, John Robb, George Scully, The Mannequin Four, Lois Landis, Dan De Leo, Butler Mandeville and others, with a large chorus of exceptional charm and beauty.

A special instrumentation has been provided by Mr. Youmans for the augmented orchestra. Another unusual feature is the big male sailors chorus.

Those who intend purchasing tickets are urged to do so at once by mail, in order to avoid waiting in line at the box office. Mail orders to H. M. Rogers.

SNYDER TIGERS OPEN SEASON WITH WIN

The Snyder Tigers jumped on their age-old enemies, the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, Friday night to the tune of a 19 to 9 win. The score at the end of the first half was 9 to 0, Lamesa being unable to fathom the Snyder defense. The entire Tiger team played stellar basketball.

The game, not to be outdone, came through with a 22 to 8 win over the Hermleigh girls, the locals seem to have made a vast improvement and will be going top speed with another game or two.

Both teams play at Big Spring Friday night.

Fake Promoter Makes Haul in School Deal

Harry D. Wall Leaves Trail of Unpaid Obligations in Snyder

Another "four-flusher", and in some polite circles they are called "skunks", has landed in Snyder, tarried a while and then gone on his merry way leaving cold checks, unpaid room rent, together with office supplies unpaid for and typewriters ordered and here, but not but a few cents paid on them.

The Times-Signal refers to an individual who landed in Snyder last September, styling himself Harry D. Wall. At the time his credentials showed him to be attached to the American Business College, Inc., of Bowie, Texas, a most worthy and widely known school. Week after week passed without any apparent results on the part of Mr. Wall, when suddenly he advised the paper that he had resolved to open an independent school of his own.

Then Mr. Wall seemed to go to work, or at least secured enough local students who in most cases paid him a total of $175 in advance for their entire tuition for a business course. At this time Mr. Wall secured the services of a most estimable lady, Miss Margaret Person, to do the real teaching at the school, and who made many friendships during her short stay here.

But about two weeks ago this Wall person disappears leaving in his wake unpaid rents and obligations, with cold checks from other points and five typewriters unpaid for and recently ordered from an Abilene typewriter company.

If there ever was a time in the history of Snyder that the menace of fly-by-night business college operators such as Wall should be dispensed with and forever banished, now is that time. Snyder High School could use a real business college course, the pupils of Miss Person would be happy to cooperate in her work there, and additional credits would be added to the honor and glory of our high school. The Times-Signal sincerely trusts and hopes that the board of trustees with Supt. C. Wedgeworth can install such a course in the school, with Miss Person assisting and giving our children the business education to which they are fully entitled.

As for this man Wall, any newspaper editor receiving the Times-Signal who knows of his whereabouts will be conferring a favor if they will advise us. We do not mean to say he is crooked. Oh, my no! But we insist that a coat of tar with fresh feathers is the sort of treatment a blackleg of his type should receive. He might return to Snyder, but it would be indeed most unhealthy for him.

ESTEEMED MOTHER DIES IN IDAHO HOME

Messrs. D. P. and Carl J. Yoder were advised last Friday morning of the serious illness of their mother, Mrs. Eric Nyblom, 74, at her home in Boise City, Idaho. D. P. Yoder left at once by train, but before he could reach his mother's bedside she had passed on to her Maker on Saturday.

The mother had been ill during the entire fall and winter with a type of throat trouble, but recently she was thought to have fully recovered. She had lived Boise City for the past twenty years.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. L. C. Brassey, of Pearl, Idaho; four sons, D. P. and C. J. of Snyder, Texas; O. S. Yoder of Van Alstyne, and C. V. Yoder of McAllen.

The many friends of the local families will join with the Times-Signal in sincerest condolences in the loss of this Mother.

LIONS CONTEST STARTS WITH A BANG

Forty-one business and professional men gathered at the luncheon yesterday in the start of an attendance contest in which two teams are contesting, Abe Rogers leading one side and styling themselves the "Reds", while Warren Dodson will lead the "Blues". The "Reds" won yesterday with 22 present, while the "Blues" had 20. Watt Scott was appointed referee in a 13 weeks contest.

Landlord Deakins will place a plaque in the lobby of the hotel, ignifying that the Lions Club meets there weekly.

The meeting was the best that has ever been held, and many surprises are being planned for future gatherings with a constructive program being worked out that the club will complete.

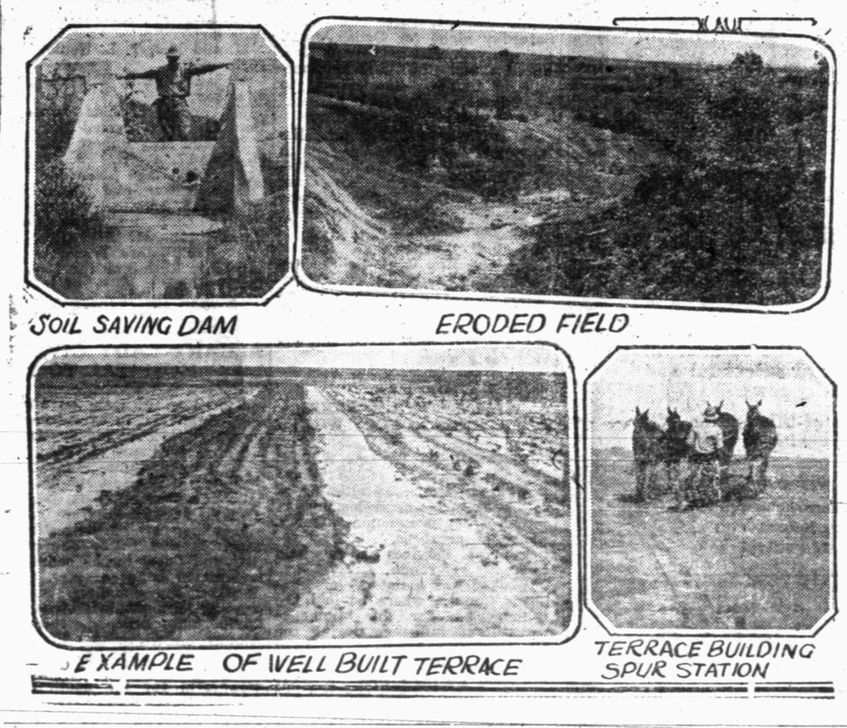

BLOCK OF LAND NOT SOLD FOR OIL LEASE

The Times-Signal was in error last week in reporting that a block of 5,000 acre had been taken over by the Texas Pacific Oil & Gas Co. for an oil lease. The major part of it is under contract, but according to Lee Grant, who has been instrumental in working up the business, has not been sold as yet. The paper regrets the expression of an inaccuracy of this nature.

A. L. Martin, contractor and builder, expects to have the new brick front of the Harpole building fully completed by the first of the month. The improvement is a notable one for West Bridge Street.

Mrs. O. O. Harris is visiting in Littlefield.

California Tour of W. T. C. C. Will Include Charles Weeks Farms

Noted Agriculturist to be in Snyder Within Next Two Weeks

The second West Texas Chamber of Commerce tour that will leave February 2 will include the faomus One Acre Colony, Owensmouth, Cal., which was visited by the first group and in which Scurry County had the largest number of men in the party. Charles Weeks, originator of the colony, is soon to come to Snyder for a mass meeting of Scurry County farmers, is now in Wichita Falls and hopes to arrive here within the next two weeks.

Editorial Comment

B. D. Donnell, editor of the Wichita Daily Times, made this editorial comment on Mr. Weeks:

"Speaking about miracles, the vision fulfilled of Charles Weeks who sees the irrigated valley filled with productive little farms of 5, 10, 15 and 20 acres will be a miracle of another sort. Those who have seen Mr. Weeks' farm colonies at Palo Alto and Owensmouth in California know he can bring about such a miracle here. Mr. Weeks is one of the country's foremost agriculturists. Mr. Kemp calls him a second Burbank, and says that in some respects he is greater than Burbank as a practical horticulturist.

"Mr. Weeks visions here not only a great colony of little farms but a unique agricultural school for little farmers that will attract students from all sections of the country. Mr. Weeks is not only a preeminent agriculturist and successful business man, but he is something of a philosopher and psychologist. Somehow we have thought that Mr. Weeks would be successful in almost anything he would undertake."

On the first agricultural motorcade of this kind conducted by the regional organization Mr. Weeks personally conducted the 25 dairymen, poultrymen, farmers and chamber of commerce secretaries through the farms.

He showed them the single acres that are supporting whole families by being given over to the production of poultry. These had from 1000 to 2500 white leghorn chickens on them. The egg grading plants where a dozen different grades of eggs separated into cold storage grades and varying grades for the market were shown to the interested farmers. Orchards, gardens and poultry houses were given their share of attention also.

The farmers that make these trips learn how to do these things by seeing them done. Different ones who made the initial trip have put their knowledge into practice and are realizing profits.

FOOTBALL BANQUET IS WELL ATTENDED

The Manhattan Hotel was the scene of a merry throng Friday night when the Lions Club provided a real feast for the high school football team. Extra excitement was added to the many fine points of the program with a near (?) scrap in which Abe Rogers was the complaining witness. The joke, however, was on the guests.

YOUNG BOY DIES

Weldon Eoff, nearly four years of age, died at four o'clock Wednesday morning of pneumonia at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eoff, who live twelve miles south of Silverton, Briscoe County.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon with Rev. J. F. Lawlis officiating and interment at Snyder cemetery. The lad is survived by his parents, one brother and two sisters. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith of this city are grandparents of the child.

Terracing Big Factor in Farm Conservation

Although in operation only a little more than a year, the statewide terracing school campaign being fostered by the Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas to check soil losses from erosion on Texas farms has proven so effective that five other states have adopted the Texas plan. In addition the work of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the college in its soil erosion and water run-off experiments at the Spur substation in West Texas has attracted national attention, one of the most recent developments of which was the approval by one of the houses of Congress of an appropriation of $160,000 to establish other stations throughout the country to carry on experiments similar to those being conducted at the Spur substation in Texas.

The Texas Extension Service plan of popularizing terracing as the most effective way of fighting erosion, arch enemy of the soil, provides for holding county and community schools to train farmers in the operation of the farm level, the laying out of terraces on sloping hillsides and the building of these terraces. The Federal Land Bank of Houston is cooperating in this work.

"Such a system of county and community schools became necessary," said M. R. Bentley, farm engineer of the Extension Service, "because the demands of farmers for aid greatly exceeded the ability of the county agents to find time. Since beginning this work in the summer of 1927 with the active assistance of A. K. Short, of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, 167 county schools have been held with county agents in 125 counties with an attendance of 180,755 farmers, a large per cent of whom learned enough about terracing to carry on with help from their county agents. The effect of these schools was noted in the acreage reported terraced in 1927. More than 15 per cent increase was made over the previous year although the schools did not begin operation until late in the summer. Nearly 500,000 acres were protected from soil erosion through terracing in 1927." Mr. Bentley expressed the opinion that the total figure for acres protected by terraces for 1928 will run close to 700,000.

Joint Stock Land Banks in Texas have joined with the Federal Land Bank of Houston in cooperating with the Extension Service in arousing interest in terracing schools, Director O. B. Martin of the Extension Service has announced. Other states that have adopted the Texas plan through their Extension Services include Virginia, Alabama, Oklahoma, Kansas and Kentucky.

The experiments at the Spur substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have shown a surprising soil and moisture loss through erosion and water run-off, Director A. B. Conner of the Experiment Station has pointed out. First reports on the work at Spur, established in 1926 and under the immediate supervision of R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the station, showed that forty-two tons of rich top soil to the acre were carried away on land with a two per cent slope by twenty-five inches of rainfall in 1926. Loss of water in one instance ranged from 81 per cent to 93 per cent during a single rain. A sodded plot alongside lost only seven tons of top soil during the same period.

Notice, Odd Fellows

There will be installation of officers at the Odd Fellows Hall next Monday night, January 28.

Editors Give Big Tournament Much Publicity

Many Weeklies and Dailies Carry Articles About Coming Event

The newspaper editors of West Texas are co-operating might and main with Snyder in putting across the biggest basketball tournament ever held in this great expanse of territory. Daily and weekly editors have all joined in a publicity way, carrying from a stickful of copy to three-quarters and more of a column, as well as stressing the need of their home town to attend the A. A. U. tournament that will be held here February 14, 15 and 16.

Secretary J. H. Greene of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce has offered to the tournament the use of their beautiful high school gymnasium in case of necessity, as well as every other facility of their neighborly city. Commenting on the tournament, Greene said: "Our girls will be in Snyder at the proper time with bells on, and we are confidently expecting them to bring back the laurels." It is just such cooperation as Mr. Greene expresses that has likewise come from the newspaper boys of West Texas who are joining with our hustling little city in this great feast of athletic entertainment.

Dallas offices of the State A. A. U. have marveled at the immense amount of publicity that has appeared, and they likewise feel that the Snyder meet is to be the greatest ever held in the state.

Publicity Director E. H. Whitehead of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is taking a personal interest in the Snyder meet, as he was instrumental in bringing the first girls basketball tournament west of Fort Worth. Mr. Whitehead also promises to be here for the meet.

Press seats will be provided for the Associated Press and United Press, together with every daily and weekly publisher who will advise the local committee one week ahead of the tournament.

"THE MAN WHO LAUGHS" COMING AS PHOTODRAMA

Victor Hugo's immortal romance, "The Man Who Laughs," has at last been made into a motion picture. With infinite effort and at great expense, the Universal Pictures Corporation has rtanslated the stirring story of early English court intrigue into a superproduction that mirrors Hugo's unusual and colorful characters and events in gripping scenes. Mrs. Lollar, manager of the Palace Theatre, has just completed arrnagements for presenting this Universal-Hugo masterpiece to local moving picture fans and Victor Hugo enthusiasts. It will open at the Palace Theatre on Feb. 4th for a run of two days.

WARNING TO PARENTS

A warning to parents has been issued in regard to the compulsory education law being effective this month. Parents having children not in school are liable under the new law for a fine to be assessed against them for every day any child of school age is not in school. Boys and girls loitering on the street who should be in school should best take immediate warning.

MID-TERM GRADUATES MAKE FINAL BOW MONDAY NIGHT

Annual Banquet of C. of C. to be Held Feb. 5th

Officers to be Elected and Work Outlined For Coming Year

The annual Scurry County Chamber of Commerce banquet is to be held Tuesday night, Feb. 5, in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church with the Ladies Aid of that church handling the eating detail. The more than 300 guests who sat down at the banquet board last year vividly recall the splendid banquet these ladies served, and the selection is a most worthy testimonial to the far-sighted activity of the banquet committee of the chamber of commerce.

According to Watt Scott, who is acting as temporary secretary of the commercial body, some fine surprises are in store for the attendants this year. Speakers are being arranged to make the occasion one long to be remembered in the history of the local body.

The night of the banquet the Board of Directors is to be elected, and a nominating committee composed of Messrs. Ernest Taylor, H. G. Towle and O. P. Thrane is selecting a list of men who will be elected during the banquet. The board will in turn elect a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Present plans call for each merchant and business man not only to be present with his wife or lady friend, but to invite a farmer friend and his wife for the occasion. Snyder has many loyal boosters living in the rural section who have expressed a desire to attend the banquet and join in the festivities. It promises to be a gala affair, and the ticket committee will be at work next week in disposing of the five hundred tickets they now have ready.

Let us all join in starting off 1929 with a "bang" and standing right in behind our foremot organization, that of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce.

Good Landlords —Good Tenants

There are landlords . . . and landlords . . . and then again there are tenants . . . and tenants, and the age-old argument goes on and on, but a concrete example of real cooperation is cited between Landlord A. M. Curry, long a resident of Snyder, and Tenant "Uncle Bill" Graham and two other tenant examples.

According to Landlord Curry, who owns a farm four miles east of Snyder, Tenant W. H. Graham has lived on the same place eight years. He has just "rented" one time, eight years ago. The only contract he has is "to do right."

"Uncle Bill," as we call him, lives at home and boards at the same place. He gathered fifteen bales of cotton off of 60 acres, raised plenty of feed, hogs to make meat and lard to use at home and also some to sell. He brings cow juice and hen fruit to town each week. Boy! You never saw a better stocked cellar with canned goods, enough to feed the family three years, such as corn, beans, okra, tomatoes and everything that grows in the garden, as well as beef, pork and chicken in quantities.

Mr. Graham is a good farmer. You won't find many men who can take a place, kill a lot of Johnson grass, work up to the fence and a little on the other side and still make a farm pay him. Today he has money to lend to his landlord.

W. A. Rodgers is another good man under the same landlord. He has lived on the same place. 16 years and under a like contract.

"Bud and Annie," as they are known, are the good Samaritans of the neighborhood. Although they have had lots of sickness themselves, you will always find them ready to wait on the sick and help bury the dead.

They, too, have their cows, hogs and chickens, and always have a garden, and anyone who visits them is sure of a good meal.

E. B. Brackeen is another good man under the same landlord. Mr. Brackeen is a good worker and is honest to the last penny. He moved over to the west farm to be in the Snyder school district, because they believe in educating their boys.

Mr. Curry invested $9.00 in turkeys and gave them to Mrs. Brackeen, and she paid him $55 back; in other words, she made $110 out of $9.00, raising turkeys on the halves.

They put in the days they can't work repairing the house, ceiling with sheetrock, canvasing and papering. When they get the house painted it will look like a real home.

Mr. Galyean is a new man who is going to make a good man in the neighborhood.

"The way to have good renters is to try to be a good landlord."

Mrs. L. S. Hatcher and Miss Eunice Hatcher, who have been house guests in the home of Mrs. W. H. Cauble, returned to their home in Albany yesterday.

Mosquitoes are more likely to bite persons with fair skins than those of dark complexion.

Prominent Speakers Here for Speeches Sunday and Monday

Sunday and Monday evenings were two bright starry nights in the educational life of twelve students of Snyder High School when at the mid-term graduation exercises they were honored with the official diploma of our school.

At the baccalaureate service Sunday night a stage resplendent with decorative effects and potted plants greeted the large audience who were in their seats early. Parents, friends, members of the faculty and board of trustees occupied a special section directly fronting the stage.

To the divinely sweet strains of that most favorite of all hymns, "Holy, Holy, Holy," the graduates wended their way from the rear of the hall to the stage, directly preceded by Supt. Wedgeworth and the principal speaker of the evening, Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, presiding elder of the Sweetwater District of the Methodist Church.

Following an invocation by Rev. W. F. Ferguson, who reverently caught the spirit of the occasion, Homer F. Springfield rendered a most pleasing vocal solo.

Supt. C. Wedgeworth in most inimitable manner introduced Rev. Lipscomb, who immediately launched into a sermon full of crisp realities, stressing the thought of the service that the graduating class owed themselves and their community. "To be able to discriminate between right and wrong," said the speaker, "is one of the fundamental principles of life and of your educational qualifications. Consecrating your lives to useful service."

Rev. Lipscomb completed his part of the program with a thought so beautiful that the Times-Signal is happy to pass it on for those who love the greater and better things of life. The thought comes from Dr. Washington Gladden:

In the bitter waves of woe,
Beaten and tossed about
By the sullen winds that blow
From the desolate shores of doubt;

When the anchors my faith have cast
Are dragging in the gale,
I am quietly holding fast
To the things that cannot fail.

I know that right is right,
And it is never good to lie,
That love is better than spite,
And a neighbor than a spy.

I know that passion needs
The leash of a sober mind;
I know that generous deeds
Some sure reward shall find;

That rulers must obey,
That the givers shall increase,
And duty lights the way
For the beautiful feet of peace.

And in the darkest night of the year,
When the stars have all gone out,
That courage is better than fear,
And faith is truer than doubt.

And fierce though the fields may fight,
And long may the angels hide,
I know that truth and right
Have the universe on their side.

And somewhere, beyond the stars,
Is a love that is better than fate,
And when the night unlocks the bars,
I shall see Him, and I shall wait.

Graduation

Monday evening with a packed auditorium the second mid-term graduations exercises were held, with the following twelve graduates:

Lucy Brown, Essie Burk, Ola Lee Cauble, Violet Dean, Darrell Grogan, Elinor German, Elsie Jones, Preston Morgan, Eda McFarland, Alma Spear, Vera Upton and Edda Von Roeder.

Like the preceding evening's exercises, the processional wended its way to the rostrum with the graduates in their full regalia of cap and gown preceded by the platform speakers of the evening. Seventh grade pupils who were going into high school followed the graduates, take their position in the front seats of the center section.

Rev. E. C. Lambert opened the evening's exercises with a beautiful invocation, followed with the introduction of the principal speaker of the evening, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, of Simmons University, by Supt. Wedgeworth who gloriously paved the way for the University educator with tribute to his ability and his educational efforts.

Dr. Wiggins in his opening remarks emphasized the fact that he would not attempt to sermonize but just wanted a heart to heart talk with the graduates

BRECK S. WALKER, WELL KNOWN BANKER, DIES IN FORT WORTH

Breckenridge Stephens Walker, 52, oil man, banker and ranchman, died Wednesday morning of last week at his residence in Fort Worth from pneumonia after a stroke of paralysis.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon.

Walker was a native of Stephens County, where he laid the foundations for his immense wealth and influence during the oil development period of 1919 and 1920. In recent years he established his residence in Fort Worth, where he had banking and other connections.

The first child born in Stephens County immediately after its organization in 1877, he was given the name of the town and county of his birthplace. His father, E. L. Walker, who died several years ago, was the first county judge of Shephens County.

When the lean years came to the Oil Belt as a reaction from the boom, Walker put $400,000 of his private funds at the disposal of the bank he headed. Two banking institutions of Breckenridge had closed their doors, and Walker volunteered to lend to depositors of the two banks with accounts of $50 and less, the full amount of their accounts.

JESTING WITH JESSICA

After Jessie had been off to boarding school for a few weeks, she began signing her letters, when she would write home, "Jessica." Facetious Thomas, her brother, wrote in reply one day:

Dear Jessica: Dadico and Momica went to visit aunt Lizzica. Uncle Samica is buying a new autoca, but don't know whether to buy a Fordica or a Chevica. The old cowica has a calfica, and we named it Nellica, but changed it to Jimica when we discovered it was a bullica.

Your brother, Tomica.

ALBANY LADY GIVES HOSPITAL TO CITY

The Star-Telegram on Monday carried an article concerning the new hospital endowed by Mrs. W. I. Cook of Albany and just being opened there. More than $1,200,000 worth of property has been set aside by Mrs. Cook as a permanent endowment for building and taking care of the institution, which is said to be one of the best and finest in the country. It is built in honor of Mrs. Cook's husband and daughter, both deceased. Mrs. Cook is owner of a 20,000 acre ranch northwest of Albany on which was discovered three years ago in February next, an oil pool said to be the most wonderful for the depth in the Mid-Continent field. And by the way, Mrs. Cook is one of the most wonderful women in Texas. Not being content to lie unto herself, she made many magnificent gifts to individual friends in Albany, to people who need and appreciate the help, she having given as many as three residences, new and modern, to lady friends in her home town.

Man So Nervous Feels His Stomach Jump

"I got so nervous my stomach felt like it was jumping. Vinol entirely relieved the trouble. I feel better than in years.—J. C. Duke.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Warren Bros., Druggists. 4

The Dairy Cow comes to Texas

delivering a constant flow of cash to Texas Farmers

Probably no development is as widely important to Texas today as is that of dairying. The dairy cow brings ready money to the farmer, cash trade to the retailer, increased deposits for banks, greater buying power to all the people; paves the way for various types of industries; establishes agriculture on a permanent basis; encourages the building of good roads; improves school attendance; and, in short, makes for a balanced development of Texas which is beneficial to all the people.

TEXANS LETS THINK TEXAS

A Topic for Conversation

Texas goes outside her borders the approximately $18,000,000 worth of dairy products annually. It will require long sustained development of dairying to supply the needy market

From all over the state word comes from editors, educators, bankers, business men and farmers alike saying that the dairy cow is the salvation of Texas agriculture. Cities endeavoring to build themselves are turning a helping hand to the farmer, realizing that a balanced development is permanent. The Texas Electric Service Company welcomes this change in Texas agriculture and in the attitude of business toward farming.

Get ⅓ More Value from All Your Feed!

THE W-W Feed Grinder turns your alfalfa, oats, snapped or ear corn, maize heads, barley, and all other grain and roughage into nutritious, mixed, balanced feed that has a third more feeding value.

By grinding and mixing all your feed crops, from the ground up, you utilize that 35 per cent of the feed usually wasted in stalks and stems which the stock will not eat unless ground.

In fourteen years of actual service on thousands of farms the W-W has proved to be the world's outstanding feed grinder. Built for a lifetime of service. Powerful steel hammers do the work with lightning speed. No burrs, gears or knives to work loose or give trouble.

There is a W-W Grinder that will just fit your feeding needs and your pocketbook. Six sizes—blower, elevator, or new self-feeder for any grain or roughage. Every W-W has Timken Tapered Bearings—Alemite-Zerk lubrication—Rockwood pulleys.

FARM NOTES

By W. O. LOGAN, County Agent

The time to plant sweet clover is here. A good method is to plant it with a lister planter, covering very shallow, using a plate with special holes bored that will plant approximately 15 pounds to the acre.

Preparation of land. It should be terraced, close terraces, rows with terraces, and probably harrowed once or twice in spring when weeds start, as clover will come earlier and get started ahead.

The benefits: It will furnish two months more pasture than any annual grass or hay pasture. It will be better the second year than the first without reseeding, as it is a biennial, coming from the roots. Cows, hogs, poultry and horses will do well on it.

Home Orchards

Home orchards should be planted already or should be ready for planting. Holes should be dug at least three feet square and two feet deep. They should be thirty feet apart each way. Fill in holes with rich top soil until tree will set about one inch deeper than it did in nursery. Keep roots well straightened out, not wadded up, tamp firmly, cut top back within foot of ground on the June bud stock, hardly so much on older stock. When you buy one-year-old trees you get the best stock, for if a tree is not thrifty they let it stay in the nursery another year; if it doesn't do well they save it for three year old stuff and so on.

The orchards you have probably have been neglecting. Don't trim them up, for the sun will burn them. Thin out the surplus wood and cut back the tops. If you expect to plow under them and skin them up or trim them high enough to not skin them, you may expect them to die with pinhole borers in a few years.

Plant only proven varieties for West Texas and Scurry County.

Time for Cold Frames

Don't wait until spring and have to buy a spring tonic to rid you of spring fever. Dig out and fix a cold frame, grow your herbs and iron in good fresh vegetables. There are many fresh greens you can have and at less cost than you imagine, and save medicine. Use varieties and kinds that are best suited and adapted. If in doubt, ask some of the home demonstration club women and they will tell you. Don't wait any longer, for it's time now.

Terracing

Last year hundreds of acres were terraced. If you are thinking ahead, add to those terraces. Build them wide enough for eight rows on hop. Use small graders, drags, scrapers, wooden drags, plows or anything to build them up. Don't lose your other work.

STARS OF FILM WORLD ADD ZEST TO COMEDY

"Show People," a film of life in the movies, made by Metro-Goldwin-Mayer, which opens at the Palace Theatre Monday, has one scene in which Marion Davies and William Haines, co-stars of the piece, are helped out by William S. Hart, Douglas Fairbanks, Norma Talmadge, John Gilbert, Mae Murray, Rod La Rocque, Renee Adoree, Leatrice Joy, George K. Arthur, Karl Dane, Aileen Pringle, Claire Windsor, Estelle Taylor, Dorothy Sebastian and Polly Moran.

There's another sequnece in which Charlie Chaplin does his bit in making realistic this peep into the inner circles of cinemaland. Lew Cody and Elinor Glyn are also among the atmosphere players.

SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE

The second one said: "Stork nuffin! Hit was de milkman, fur dar he goes now, and hit say on his wagon 'Families furnished ebery day and twice on Sunday'."

"For Health Sake," says a caption in a Smith Brothers' cough drop advertisement, and someone was wondering if one of the bearded boys lithpth.

POLAR NEWS

A cold wave swept over the Polar region Sunday, and most everyone lived up to the community name by staying in his house.

We are glad to report most every one well at present. Mrs. G. M. Elkins, who has been confined to her bed for some time, is able to sit up again.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Will Clanton were in Snyder Saturday. We are indeed glad to see Mrs. Clanton out again. She has been confined to her bed and the house for almost three months caused from a fall.

Rev. W. H. Harris of Fluvanna was over visiting friends last week.

Frank Daniels with his mother and sister left for Brownwood last week where they will make their home.

W. J. Cargile Jr. is having a nice new concrete water tank built on his place near Polar.

Mrs. E. G. Hanks and children of Dora are spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Cargile.

W. G. Williams was attending to business on his place at Polar Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Parr and baby were Snyder shoppers Saturday.

G. M. Elkins and Ivan Elkins also made a trip to Snyder for a truck load of groceries.

J. Hoyle and family of near Snyder are moving to the place where Mr. Newsom formerly lived.

Miss Kelly, who has been sick with flu for the past week was able to do her school work again Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sanders of Spur are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cargile this week.

Ernest and Burl Ford have finished a nice tank for W. G. Williams on the west side of his place.

STOP AND THINK

By Edson R. Waite

Grover C. Hall, editor of the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, says:

THAT the best advertisement pleases our senses. I was in Havana, Cuba, recently. It is the most beautiful city in the western hemisphere. It is the cleanest city on earth. Among the many impressive spectacles there are the automobiles. I saw thousands of them of all makes and all ages, but not one looked dingy or old. Most of them were painted in brighter colors than the common run of our cars. All of them were polished. Havana cars shine like new dollars. I saw an antique Chevrolet with holes in its battered mud guards, yet it shined like an Oklahoma bank clerk's shoes on Sunday morning at the Baraca meeting. Brightness, brightness everywhere! No dust, no mud on any car in Havana!

I asked if a city ordinance compelled owners to keep their cars in this condition, and was assured that such was not the case. "Our people just naturally take a pride in seeing how pretty they can make their cars," said a Cuban.

We, that is, members of the Alabama Press Association, were delighted with this evidence of devotion to brightness and cleanliness.

HARDLY WORTH IT

Little Mary, who had fallen ill, begged for a kitten.

It was found that an operation was necessary for the child's cure and that she must go to the hospital. Her mother promised that if she were very brave she should have the very finest kitten to be found.

As Mary was recovering from the influence of the anesthetic, the nurse heard her mittering:

"It's a rotten way to get a kitten."

How It Started

Wife—Oh, you needn't think you're so wonderful. The night you proposed to me you looked absolutely silly.

Husband—A co-incident. The fact it, I was absolutely silly.

Clothes often fake the man.

AIRWAYS—

thinks the whole matter is hazardous. As a matter of fact the loss is small, so small that insurance companies give a better rating to mail and packages sent by air than by train or steamship. You don't hear of the immense volume of mail lost when a steamer sinks or a mail car burns."

Governmental Regulation

A third feature brought out at this "short course air school" was the close government regulation that has been placed on the commercial air service to insure safety, which is enforced by the licensing of pilots and planes.

The Air Commerce Act of 1926 gave the government, through the Bureau of Aeronautics, Department of Commerce, the power to inspect planes, pilots and mechanics and establish regulations and standards. No company can now operate mail or commercial lines or conduct aviation schools without meeting these requirements.

Pilots Licensed

In the training of pilots several grades of licenses are given. The first requires a student pilot to pass a physical examination and pay a fee before the school may begin to teach him to fly. The next is a Private Pilot's license, which permits a person who has had sufficient training to fly his own plane for his own pleasure and use, but he may not carry passengers or cargo for pay. The next grade is the Industrial Pilot's license. The pilot who obtains this must have more training, pass an examination covering air traffic regulations and may carry freight. He may not carry passengers nor teach students. Then comes the Limited Commercial Pilot, who must have higher physical qualifications and more training, including mechanical training in the care and repairing of planes and motors. He may carry passengers for short pleasure trips not exceeding ten miles from one designated licensed airport. He is not permitted to land with them at any other place.

The final grade of license is that of Transport Pilot, who after long and thorough training is fully qualified. He is permitted to carry freight, mail or passengers, in cross country trips to any destination, and is permitted to teach student.

In addition all planes must pass inspection and all companies and airports recognized by the Department of Commerce and licenses are required to abide by these regulations. They cannot employ unlicensed pilots or planes. If an unlicensed pilot lands on such an airport he is not permitted to take off with any passengers if he charges them a fee.

"It is easily enough to tell whether it is safe to ride with any pilot or in any plane," Mr. Hardin said. "All you have to do is to demand to see the licenses. They are required to be shown by law.

"The safety of using licensed pilots and planes is further shown by the fact that of all accidents last year 97.75 per cent were in unlicensed planes and with unlicensed pilots."

A Novel School

The two day school conducted by the TAT under the direction of Jerry Marshall, head of the flying school, former air mail pilot and known as the leader of the Texas University Flying Circus a few years ago, proved a novel and effective way of presenting to the newspaper men and secretaries of chambers of commerce facts of interest concerning aviation. It not only aroused their interest in the announcement of the company's expansion program but gave them valuable instruction in the problems connected with establishing and operating airports.

The work began Monday morning with a trip to the Fort Worth Airport where the entire time was spent in taking the guests rides in a score of planes of a dozen makes, explaining their construction, operation and flight principles. The big progress made in construction and design was demonstrated in particular with one plane in which the pilot would, while in the air, set the controls, take his hands off, sit and chat with his passengers while the plane flew by itself. This plane could scarcely be forced into a tail spin.

Lectures Given

This was followed in the forepart of the afternoon with a lecture on nomenclature, teaching the "guest students" the meaning of words and terms used and a discussion of the Department of Commerce regulations governing the construction, rating and operation of airports. The students then returned to the airport and TAT Flying School, where a complete inspection was made of the port and its equipment, lighting arrangement for night flying, construction of hangars, system of installing gasoline and oil facilities, the administrative offices and the repair shops where planes and motors are serviced and even rebuilt.

The second day was given over to a comprehensive study of the elements of navigation and meteoroligy, in which the guests were made acquainted with atmospheric conditions affecting flight and the principles by which pilots use their various instruments in "blind flying," flying through fog and at night, together with instructions as to platting a cross country flight by compass, requiring the testing and setting of the compass, making corrections in the readings to allow for variations and the force of the wind in causing a plane to drift off its course. At the conclusion an examination was held as a means of fixing in the minds of those present the things that had been studied and discussed.

An advertisement is reported by the New York World: "Comfortable bedroom, Smith elected $3, Hoover, $5/55." That's the way with those New Yorkers—always trying to make G. O. P. prosperity look bad.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Baird is building a new brick structure on Market Street between Fourth and Fifth to house the West Texas Utilities Company. The utilities company will use it as an up-town salesroom and office. It will be furnished with the very latest office equipment.

Plans are to start the preliminary survey for the new city lake for Hamlin within the next few days. The new lake will be north of Hamlin on the T-Diamond ranch and will supply water for a town of from 15,000 to 22,550 people.

A volunteer fire department is being organized in Junction, and as a result the fire insurance rate will be reduced fifteen per cent within the year. Thirty-five men compose the department and drill twice a month. The city is planning to buy one thousand additional feet of hose.

Construction work is progressing on the new tile and brick home of the Texas Furniture Co. at Olney. The foundation and walls have been completed of the hundred foot front and the one hundred foot extension to the back.

Bleachers intended to seat approximately 350 people have been set up in the Sul Ros College gymnasium. They run the full length of the west side of the building and are five tiers in height. They are portable and can be used at the gymnasium, at the tennis courts and other places.

West Texas Today, official magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be in the mails this week. The January issue carries more pecan stories, but is not a pecan special as last month. Development in different West Texas towns and reports from secretaries of chambers of commerce served by the regional organization are given space.

Snyder is soon to have a modern commercial airport. The 200-acre plot was recently purchased for $50,000. It joins the northern city limits and will have a camp, water, gas, electricity and sewage disposal, and other conveniences.

WEST TEXANS IN LEGISLATURE CONFER

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—West Texas members of the Forty-first Legislature Friday afternoon met with Senator C. C. Small of Wellington, at which time he explained three bills he introduced in the Senate during the day to put an end to "landgrabbing by the State," which had become somewhat of an epidemic in West Texas with the Attorney General's Department performing major operations.

Small offered these measures:

1.—Requiring that the State in case vacant land is revealed, to offer to the supposed owned, first opportunity to purchase. The Land Commissioner is required to investigate such state claims and to give any settler 90 days notice.

2.—Validating all titles where the State is suing on the "navigable stream" claim by the Attorney General's Department. In early years the State issued patents on the lands in question without paying any attention to streams.

3.—Placing vanue of suits for such title by the State in counties where the land is located. At present such suits are brought in the Travis County District Court.

A woman writer says, "Man is no more foolish at forty than at any other year." We were just wondering if that's a compliment or what.

The old capitol of Texas burned at Austin was completed in 1888. in 1881, and the present capitol at a cost of 3,000,000 acres of at Autin was completed in 1888. land.

"IF" IS RIGHT!

If some of our Snyder folks, both male and female, young and old, would spend as much time in boosting the many good things of Snyder as they spend murdering the character of friends and neighbors, Snyder would grow faster. Folks whose minds are no bigger than peanuts seem to relish the assasination of anyone with whom a slight breath of scandal touches, when, if they looked into the many dark spots of their life, they would shut up as a clam, be an oyster and ever remain such. Let us all join in talking the good things of our city, our residents, friends and neighbors instead of sticking a knife in their back when they are not there to defend themselves.

Folks who flaunt Christianity into the air and then gossip are no better than the snakes that crawl flat on their belly—and that's no bologney, either.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite

Ben R. Walker, managing editor of the Fresno (Calif.) Morning Republican, says:

THAT the function of the local advertiser and of the local newspaper as a purveyor of local advertising will be more and more to reveal service and price in its relation to quality, and not quality itself. Our production of either staples or articles of special appeal is to be had economically on a nation-wide basis. It will be the national advertising that is called upon to establish and to defend quality. It is the business of the local medium to do the best for its consumers in getting these nationally advertised products offered them at prices that will show competition in service handling.

This, combined with the activity in building up the producer values in the community, will engage the shrewdness of its publicity talents.

The community that does not fight to perfect the quality of its products on a cost ratio will soon find that it is facing bankruptcy. Our people have their tastes fixed on a national consumer standard. Our products must conform to these standards in both quality and price. But a greater part of any consumer cost is the demand that is made for service-handling. The local advertising medium will do its best for itself and for its community in promoting this service competition.

How to Raise Poultry

SAVE THE SOREHEADS

Simple Measures Applied Early May Ward Off Disaster From Chicken Pox, Says Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis, Mo.

"Go to bed with the chickens? Most certainly not!" exclaimed a well known radio entertainer in mock indignation. "No, indeed, I'd never be able to sleep on those sticks the way they do." For more reasons than one I am inclined to sympathize with this gentleman's point of view. Nevertheless, I firmly believe that, short of literally going to bed with them, the man who comes nearest to living with his chickens is going to get the greatest profit out of them. He will do so because he knows his flock both individually and collectively. The slightest change in their habits or appearance will immediately attract his attention and if disease threatens he is able to nip it in the bud long before it reaches the danger point.

Of course, not every one can give full time to the care of his fowls, nor is it altogether necessary. There are certain times every day when they must receive attention for feeding and the like. Then, scan each fowl as closely as possible and single out for closer examination any that show the slightest signs of possible disease. One particularly malignant disease which may crop up at any time, more especially in the fall of the year, is chicken pox or sorehead. As this disease may be carried by mosquitoes, your flock may become infected no matter how careful you have been to keep yourown houses, yards and runs in a sanitary, healthful condition.

A number of eruptions or nodules varying from the size of a pinhead to that of a pea or hazelnut, appear on the comb, wattles, eyelids, ear lobes, beak and nostrils and sometimes on other parts of the body, such as the neck, legs, under the wings, on the rump and about the vent. On the body the nodules may become larger than on the head. The nodules begin as small, red or reddish gray deposits with a shiny surface. They gradually enlarge, becoming dry, shriveled, uneven and wartlike in appearance, while the color changes to yellow, brown or dark brown. As these nodules increase in number and the inflammation extends, large areas of the skin will become thickened and covered with hard, dry crusts, closing the nasal openings and eyelids, often making it difficult to open the beak.

If the attack is mild the eruptions are limited to the head, the nodules are distinct and small and the general health is not affected. The nodules seem dry, heal and shrink, the crusts become loose and recovery is rapid. But in malignant cases the eruption is more general, the nodules are large and there is considerable inflammation and thickening of large areas of skin. When the crusts are rubbed off there will be a watery discharge from the ulcerated surfaces, which will later thicken, become thick and yellow and will give off a disagreeable odor. In this type of the disease there is fever, rapid loss of flesh, prostration and death.

At the very first sign of this disease give the whole flock large doses of epsom salts once each week for two or three weeks at least. Mix one pound of epsom salts in a small tempting wet mash feed for each one hundred leghorns, or one pound for each 75 of the heavier breeds. For half-grown tock give one-half the amount. Put the mash out in long troughs so they can all get to it and eat it up in a few minutes. If wet mash feeds is not being given, the epsom salts can be put in the drinking water, but in a wet mash it is much more effective. Remove all affected fowls to a separate location well removed from the poultry flock. Then make a thoroughly clean-up of all houses, coops and feeding equipment.

Clean and disinfect all hoppers, troughs and drinking fountains, roosts, dropping boards and other removable equipment. Remove and burn all litter and droppings. Finally, make a strong solution of some good coal tar dip and disinfectant and spray it into every nook and cranny where mosquitoes, parasites or disease germs might find a hiding place. Is possible, always change clothing and shoes before going from infected fowls to healthy ones.

Give each of the affected fowls from one-half to one teaspoonful of epsom salts and repeat the dose two or three days later if there is no improvement. A local application is also very healthful with a small swab or feather, apply a good dip and disinfectant or tincture of iodine to each of the sores, crust and nodules after removing the scales. The disinfectant should be used full strength, so be careful not to let it get in the eyes. Also apply once each day or two some reliable sore-head remedy. A good poultry prescription tonic in large doses will be found very beneficial at this time. Careful following out of this treatment should give highly gratifying results if started soon enough

In the fall about the time chicken pox usually appears in your locality, I advise giving all young fowls and in many cases older ones too, large doses of epsom salts once a week for three or four weeks. Give same amount of epsom salts and in the same way as recommended above. I also advise extra precautions in cleaning and disinfecting at this time. All houses and sleeping quarters should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected every week or ten days for some time. The disinfectant should be forced into all dark corners and hiding places of mosquitoes and other insects with a good force pump. I have been using this treatment for preventing chicken pox for several years with excellent results. If my chickens do take the disease at all, it is usually in a very mild form.

Vaccination with a specially prepared vaccine is being used with varying results in some localities. The question is whether the disease is serious enough to jutify the trouble and expense even if it was effective.

PERIOD COMFORT

A friend was visiting a newly married couple and examined with interest the new furniture. Said the friend, "What well chosen furniture you have—each room in a different period. This living room, I see, goes back to Louis the Fourteenth."

Said Mrs. Newly-Wed, who had found the set particularly uncomfortable. "You're wrong. It goes back to Sears Roebuck the fifteenth."

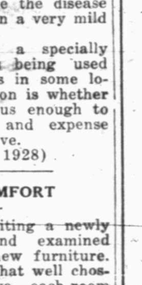

IMPROVED WORKMANSHIP

No body of workmen seeks more earnestly to improve its workmanship than do the teachers of the public schools. No other profession spends as much time in self improvement as the teaching profession.

Few school officers and patrons know how much of a teacher's time outside of school hours is given over to effort to make himself a better teacher. While teaching school he is always attending school. In order to be a good teacher he must ever be a good student. If he grows stale as a student, he grows stale as a teacher. In order that the streams of knowledge may be kept fresh and refreshing for his pupils, he must ever be drinking at the fountain.—Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, Springfield, Illinois.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite

THAT there are two essential elements to the success of any industry; these two elements are MERIT and ADVERTISING. Without one the other is powerless.

THAT the success of MERIT plus ADVERTISING has given to the electric and gas companies a growth unprecedented in American history.

THAT each succeeding year brings word that public utilities have established new records in growth and service, all due to MERIT and ADVERTISING.

THAT new uses for the services supplied by electric and gas companies are being developed constantly both for the home and for industry, and sold to the public through MERIT and ADVERTISING.

THAT great progress is being made in the extension of electric service to rural communities and to the farms.

THAT in recent years service has been extended to thousands of communities that could not have been served economically by small isolated systems. Under holding company management the benefits of large scale operations have resulted in better service and reduced rates to customers, this done through MERIT and ADVERTISING.

The electrical and gas industries' greatest progress is yet to be advertised, because both industries are yet in their infancy.

What merit and advertising have done for these great industries will do for others, providing they have MERIT and ADVERTISE.

Pecan Trees At Basic Cost

Because of the growing number of people who are becoming interested in the pecan industry in West Texas, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements with one of the better known pecan tree nurseries of this section to supply farmers in its territory.

These trees are two years old, between three and four years and between four and five years. The young two-year-old trees usually bring $1.50 but can be gotten for $1.00 by ordering through the regional organization. The three to four year old trees can be purchased for $1.35 each if ordered through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, but if ordered directly from the nursery they would cost $3.00.

The orders will be received at the Stamford headquarters office of the WTCC and will be forwarded to the nursery. The nurseryman will send the customer information as to setting out the trees and the proper care thereafter, inform him when his order will be filled, at which time the remittance will be made directly to the nursery and the young trees shipped.

All of the trees are of West Texas hardy root stock and budded with good hardy West Texas paper shell varieties such as the Burkett, Halbert and the Nugget.

Only one thousand trees have been arranged for at this rate by the regional organization, and it is hoped that they will be distributed to at least one hundred farmers.

MRS. THOS. H. LEE'S DIARY

(Nee Lizzie Lee Watkins)

The Fraternity Union was organized here earlier in the year. Have been attending lodge regularly. Mr. Rice of Houston is here in interest of the Union.

Wednesday, March 25, 1908. School fine. Town pretty busy. "Frosty joints" in town. Mass meeting tonight to run them out of town.

Brother Ball of Baptist Church is holding a meeting.

April 1. Miss Ollie Campbell, a teacher in the school, got her ankle hurt.

April 2. Had Dr. Harris clean and fill my teeth. (Will say that my teeth are in as perfect condition as then as far as that filling is concerned. Am just boosting a man who deserves it.)

Grandma Burt very ill. Brother Burt, her husband, is a Methodist minister who lives in Snyder. (These good old people are the grandparents of and Mrs. John Keller.)

April 5. Mr. and Mrs. Eppy (two people who had the same kind of accident while, young, causing their backs to be hunched) came into Snyder and lived here for a long while.

April 9. Mrs. Longly, milliner at Caton-Dodson's, came today for lunch.

April 11. A day of note for Snyderites! The fire in the Elite Cafe spread and the buildings south of the cafe burned except the brick Bank (that brick bank building is still standing).

April 11. After the fire in the forenoon, we heard "Anti-Bailey" Gragon and "Bailey" McCormick speak.

Grandma Burt died last week.

Mrs. Janitor (nee Sallie Harris) visited Tippy Person this week.

April 14. The children in my room learned the 12th chapter of Romans and 11 chapter of John this week.

April 17. Egg hunt at school. Miss Bessie Buchanan and my pupils were on the creek having our picnic all afternoon. Let me name some of my little pupils then: Leona and Neoma Strayhorn, Georgia Bolin, Dura Dawson, Roy Collier, Paul Hudgins, Charles Young, Inez Pappano, Stewart Womack, Elva Pierce, Ruby Clark, Winnie Winston, LeClaire Stokes, Ida Collum, W. T. Johnon, Charlotte Sturdivant, Berta Ray Grantham, Lottie Tatum, Florence May, Dixie Thrash, Reba Smith, Bernard Anderson, Ollie Chenneworth and Roy Stokes.

April 26. Have signed up for next year's work teaching at Plainview for $75 per month. Mr. Jim Boles, Mr. Harin and Mr. Wright are my trustees.

April 27. Sheriff Parker from Roby was in Snyder today on business.

April 28. Bro. Read preached. "Last Call" was subject. Very good sermon. Mr. Foster accompanied me to church.

Mr. Merrill of the hardware store is boarding at our hotel.

May 1, 1908. Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lockhart a girl, named Leerene.

Born, May, 1908, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper, a boy.

May 8. Gib McClinton came in today very sick. Poor old Gib, I wish he could skate and be well like he once was.

May 9. Miss Effie Fickas gave a recital tonight. 'Twas very, very good.

May 12. Miss Edna Graham had a recital at school house. Was well attended.

May 13. The Snyder New Opera House opened today.

Skating rink opened tonight for all summer.

May 26. The R. S. & P. road entered Snyder today. A great meeting for Snyder. Band played, speaking of all kinds and a good time in general!

May 26. Mrs. Charlsie Spoonmore from San Angelo came in to work for us at the hotel.

May 27. Hunter Gassoway show is here tonight. Lots of excitement in Snyder lately. (I'd say so!).

TEACHERS TAKING EXTENSON COURSE

The extension course offered by the Texas Technological College of Lubbock got under way last Saturday, Jan. 12. Prof. Shaver of the department of education of the college is conducting the classes, and the course promises to be very interesting and helpful. The subject to be studied is Education 338, "Directing Study." The following teachers are taking advantage of this opportunity to further their college education: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Weatherby, L. M. Bynum, Mrs. Cora Jeffress, Jonnyle Shaw, Tiny Poteet, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Harris, Mrs. Pat Brown, Rufus Mize, Mrs. W. P. King, Mrs. Lida Rhoades, Mrs. Melvin Blackard, Silas Davenport, W. F. Brown, S. T. Matherly, Clyde Key, Mrs. W. S. Gillum. The class was organized Saturday and the first lesson given. Those wishing to take the course may drop in at any time. We would like to see as many as can take advantage of this opportunity.

COST OF TEXT BOOKS PER CHILD PER YEAR

There has been, and still is, much discussion as to the cost of furnishing free text books for the children of Texas. Some argue that it costs more than the old way and others that it does not cost as much. Here are some authentic figures as compiled by the Texas Almanac in 1928: Cost per pupil in the year 1919-20, $3.25; 1920-21, $1.18; 1921-22, $1.17; 1922-23, $0.83; 1923-24, $0.38; 1924-25, $2.51; and 1925-26, $2.12. The variation in cost per year is due to the fact that more books had to be bought in some years than others owing to contracts expiring and change in text books. This gives an average per year for the seven years of $1.63. Compare this figure with the cost of text books for your own family. Look on the books and figure just what each child's books would cost you if you were buying them in the old way. There may be many arguments against the free text book law, but certainly it can't be concerning the cost.

"I NEVER HAD A CHANCE".

Horace C. Carlisle

If over a pine-knot fire at night,
With charcoal on a spade,
Young Abraham Lincoln learned to write
And cipher, without aid,
Then rose to the super-heights divine—
Unhandicapped by "cant's"—
What reason has youth today to whine:
"I never had a chance?"

If Abraha Lincoln, through the aisles
Of Nature's darkest noow,
By night walked his eighteen weary miles
To borrow just a book,
With naught but the stars of hope to shine
Along his dark advance—
What reason has youth today to whine:
"I never had a chance?"

If out on the wildest of frontiers
Known but to Nature's heart
Offspring of the simplest pioneers
Young Lincoln got his start
By learning in Nature's school divine
To master circumstance—
What reason has youth today to whine:
"I never had a chance?"

SHORT COURSE AT TEXAS TECH JAN. 29 AND 30

The First Annual Farmers' Short Course will be held at the Texas Technological College on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 29 and 30, with an invitation extended to anyone who might be interested to come and hear interesting and instructive talks of interest primarily to the farmer and the farm woman of this section.

"The Texas Technological College wishes to go one step further than to be a place where high school students go for higher education," an announcement from the college reads. "As an institution devoted to the instruction of resident students, it has equipment and forces on its campus which can be used for several different types of service."

The short course will be modeled after the "Farm and Home" programs of agricultural colleges of the Middle West.

In addition to the staff of ten men in the School of Agriculture and the eight women in the School of Home Economics, county agents, home demonstration agents, experiment station staff men and others will appear on the program which will include talks on seed selection, soil and soil moisture conservation; marketing, selection of stock, dairying, healthful eating, use and care of rayon fabrics, healthful salads, children's clothing, butter judging, selection of colors, curtains and draperies for the home, attractive desserts, yard improvements and other topics.

Except for the general meeting the first day when Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Tech, will make a welcome address, and noon the first day when the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will serve the farmers and farm women a free lunch, the short course will be conducted in two separate groups The women will be gathered at the home economics building, while the men will gather for their work at the stock judging pavilion.

THE SEVEN CARDINAL OBJECTIVES OF EDUCATON

Everyday Resolutions For All:

Health and Safety—Set your health standards high and improve your habits daily. Modern life demands reliable strength and energy; a sound mind in a sound body.

Worthy Home Membership—Magnify your home as the center of a life that is happy, useful, and unselfish. Home is the soil in which the spirit grows. Give your best.

Mastery of Tools, Technics and Spirit of Learning—Know how to observe, to study, to think, to plan, to judge, and to act. The world is run by thinkers and doers.

Vocational and Economic Effectiveness—Find your talents and train them. Spend wisely less than you earn.

Faithful Citizenship—Do something daily to make your school, your community, your state, your country, and your world happier, cleaner, quieter, more beautiful, better governed. Each for all and all for each.

Wise Use of Leisure—Let your daily play be a source of joy and strength, a balance wheel for your work. Cultivate growing things, fresh air, sunshine and simplicity.

Ethical Character—Search for the highest values and build your life according to the best patterns. Read often the lives of great men and women. Character is King.

COMMUNITY PROJECTS

Cooperation made possible the furnishing of commodious rest rooms and a community center in Charlottesville, Virginia, according to the following story which appeared in the Woman's Home Companion, and reprinted herewith by permission. Note the title.

"Cooperation Pays Dividends"

During the Better Homes Campaign, the Albemarle County, Virginia, Home Demonstration Advisory Council decided to make over some rooms at our county seat, Charlottesville, to be used as a community center and rest rooms for the benefit of rural women and children. Twenty-one organizations cooperated in carrying out this work.

There are six rooms, a library and a den, furnishings given by the public school children of the county; bed room furnished with two single beds on which visitors may rest, and cribs in which babies may be left in the care of the matron while the mothers shop; a bath room, with hot and cold water; a dining room, furnished by the 4-H Club boys and girls, a living room, with comfortable davenport and easy chairs, all given by the Women' Home Demonstration Clubs; and a kitchen, with hot and cold water, a gas range and cooking utensils. Women may come in at will, warm the milk for the baby, make soup for the family or even cook a whole meal, furnishing their own food, of course, without charge. There is enough china and silver to serve two dozen people at one time. There are four tables in the dining room, so families may have their own groups together.

All work was volunteer except the hanging of the paper and painting the kitchen walls, which was done by a painter and paper hanger. The money for the balance of the improvements and fittings was given by interested people, a cake sale and about one hundred dollars representing a prize won by the Advisory Council in a National Better Homes Campaign. The total cost was $371.15.

The city of Charlottesville gives gas, electric lights and water, heat is included with the room rent, and the Retail Merchants' Association has assumed the responsibility of paying the rent and the matron who is on duty from nine until 5 o'clock every day. A sign, "Albemarle County Community Center and Rest Rooms," is placed in a conspicuous place at the front During Better Homes Week the house was kept open to visitors, and officially turned over to Albemarle Co. as a permanent Community Center and Rest Room.

While the object of the movement was primarily for the women and children of Albemarle County, six weeks after the house was opened, seven thousand people had registered, among them tourists from twenty different states in the union and the District of Columbia. So the Albemarle County Home Demonstration Advisory Council has not only given a Community Center and Rest Room to its own county, but its usefulness is becoming nationwide.

JUDGE ELY NAMED FOR SIX YEAR TERM ON HIGHWAY BODY

Governor Dan Moody has appointed Judge W. R. Ely of Abilene to a new term of six years as a member of the state highway commission. Judge Ely has just finished serving a two-year term.

Appointment of Judge Walter R. Chapman, Abilene, of the 104th judicial district, to be presiding officer of the seventh administrative district in charge of transfers of judges to expedite court business, has also been sent to the senate for confirmation. Judge Chapman will succeed Judge W. O. Woodward of Coleman, who retired Jan. 1 as presiding judge of the seventh administrative district.

Profitable Side Line

By raising and selling more than $1,000 worth of turkeys a Burnet County school teacher has shown how country teachers may live on the sall salaries they receive for teaching. The chances are, though, that this practical teacher will soon abandon teaching to engage exclusively in poultry farming.

Fluvanna News Notes

Mr. Jas. H. Tate (V. P.) is the authorized correspondent for Fluvanna, and as such is authorized to receive renewal and new subscriptions. Cooperate with him in building a fine weekly news column for this thriving town.

Business Affairs

E. V. Boynton shipped another car of maize the latter part of last week.

Roy Adams shipped two cars of maize last week and is shipping another the first of this week.

C. E. (Dock) Reader shipped a car of sheep to the Fort Worth market last week.

The Fluvanna Mercantile Co. bought the Auti Gleghorn stock of groceries last week. We have not learned just what Auti will turn his hand to next.

J. B. (Fatty) Birthfield has leased the Mear market business and is now opening same in the rear of the building occupied by his filling station and restaurant.

We understand that Charlie Burk is planning to close down the Boren and Taylor gin next Saturday. For quite a while all the cotton coming in has been of the "bolly" variety. This gin is well equipped for handling cotton in that stage. This, of course, is a great saving to the farmers in this locality.

We understand that one Mr. Cox has purchased the Tom Winston farm five miles east of south from Fluvanna, but we have not been able to get the report confirmed.

A current report has it that the derrick at the Koonsman dry hole is being taken down and moved to a location on the Clayton-Johnson ranch, some fifteen miles south of west from Fluvanna. We are hoping that this new test will prove more successful than the one above mentioned.

Church Services

On account of a temperature of 24, a cloudy day and a strong wind last Sunday morning, our churches did not make much progress. After a limited telephone conference V. P. advised his flock to stay by the home fires. We understand that two other Sunday schools followed about the same course. The Fluvanna Baptist and Methodist schools made a better showing. Rev. Williamson was even able to hold two preaching services—morning and night.

The Union and Fluvanna Epworth Leagues held a joint social meeting here Saturday night. This meeting is said to have been a real success. These two Leagues are undertaking to clothe a girl in an orphans home. This is a fine thing to do. We wish them success. These same two Leagues are planning to put on a joint program at Gail next Sunday at 3 p. m.

The Fluvanna Baptist Church is now without a pastor, Rev. Massey having resigned in order to pursue his studies at Denton instead of Abilene.

If weather and other conditions will permit, the Presbyterian Church expects to hold its regular services next Sunday—both morning and evening. At the morning hour the pastor expects to speak on The Crime Wave—Its Causes and Its Remedies. Let all who possibly can attend this service. Let us face the issue and view the situation as it is.

There will probably be services at the First Baptist Church next Sunday also.

Miscellaneous Notes

We understand that J. O. Kelley, age 56, and a resident of the southwestern part of Borden County for some forty years, where he had been associated with Bob Dorward in the stock business, took his own life last Thursday. The cause is thought to have been due to a bad state of health. He had no family. His business affairs are said to be in good order. Funeral serices were held by Rev. Robert Williamson at Gail last Friday.

A two-year-old baby of Thel Browning's is reported very ill as a result of complications growing out of measles. The sick child is now being cared for in the home of Harve Browning, five miles east of Fluvanna.

We understand that a family by the name of Lindsey has recently reopened the restaurant on the south side of Main Street.

A play, "An Old Time Mother," will be put on under the auspices of the public school in a vacant store building on Main Street next Friday night. The play is said to be one of high order and carries a good oral. That is the kind of plays to have. Any other sort is harmful and should not be tolerated.

Riley Austin and wife, formerly of this community but now of Snyder, were here Monday shaking hands with old friends.

Mrs. Jim Dowdy of Dermott is visiting here this week.

A. M. Martin, formerly of Big Spring, is now casting his lot with Fluvanna people.

JAS. H. TATE.

School News

After all the excitement caused by mid-term exams last week, everyone has settled down to begin a new term's work. Let us make this next semester even better than the last one, which will be hard to do.

Many new students have been enrolled since the new year, making our enrollment about two hundred and thirty-five students, of which sixty of these are found in the high school department.

Everyone is looking forward to Jan 25, which is next Friday night, when the Fluvanna Dramatic Club will present "An Old Fashioned Mother." We are sure this will be the biggest show of the sesaon for Fluvanna, so you can't afford to miss it. There will be plenty of good vaudeville and music between acts, and we will also have the famous Snyder High Radio Orchestra with us to add bright and sparkling music to the occasion. The music and vaudeville alone will be worth the price of the show.

The new "Play House" located on the north side of Main Street is almost completed and will be ready to seat the crowd and make you as comfortable as if you were at home by the fireside.

Business Leader Of Fort Worth Praises Sargon

Head of One of Largest Concerns in Texas Gives New Medicine Unqualified Endorsement

Nearly everybody in Fort Worth is either personally acquainted with or has heard of L. A. Barnes, executive head of the L. A. Barnes Company, manufacturing stationers of Fort Worth, one of the largest and oldest businesses of its kind in the Southwest.

Mr. Barnes is a pioneer citizen of Texas and is prominently identified with the business and social life of Fort Worth. He is a man of unquestioned integrity, whose word is as good as his bond.

In discussing the benefits he has derived from Sargon, Mr. Barnes said:

"I suffered with indigestion more or less for twenty years. I was almost constantly troubled with biliousness and the distressing symptoms that usually accompany this condition. My liver was inactive and I was habitually constipated. Nearly everything I ate disagreed with me. I became weak, was easily fatigued, lacked energy and was in a general rundown condition. I was very susceptible to colds, which I am sure was due to my weakened condition.

"After taking two bottles of Sargon I have a splendid appetite, I eat heartily and enjoy my meals. My digestion is sound, I am no longer bilious, and I believe my liver is performing perfectly. I am more active and energetic and I don't tire out like I did. I am no longer troubled with constipation. I feel 100 per cent better in every way.

"I want my recommendation to also include Sargon Soft Mass Pills, for I have been taking them along with Sargon, and I consider them an essential part of the treatment. They are mild, thorough and dependable.

"I have already praised Sargon to a number of my friends. You may be sure I would not give it my endorsement if I did not consider it an extraordinary medicine."

Sargon may be obtained in Snyder at Warren Bros.—Adv. 32-1tc

Mary Temple, 3-year-old child of Spokane, Wash., became separated from her parents and spent a night alone in the mountains with no serious results.

SENIOR BANQUET HELD LAST FRIDAY

The Senior Banquet was held last Friday evening at 6:30 at the high school. The class colors of purple and white were artistically favored in all details of the banquet with table appointments and the menu especially stressing the tones.

Toasts were proposed by Misses Ola Lee Cauble and Alma Spears, and talks were made by Supt. C. Wedgeworth, John R. Covey and J. M. Claunch. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. Wedgeworth, Misses Mattie E. Clark, Maurine and Mattie Ross Cunningham, Effie McLeod, Violet Dean, Alma Spears, Vera Upton, Elsie Jones, Eda McFarland, Elinor German, Mrs. J. P. Nelson, and Messrs. John R. Covey, J. M. Claunch, Cox, Preston Morgan and Darrell Grogan.

Despite the chilly name of Iceland, the temperature of its capital, Reykjakiv, rarely goes below freezing.

Magnets seven feet long are used on highway trucks in Dakota in an effort to clear highways of metal that might puncture tires.

Albert Barrs, 10-year-old boy of Ibstock, Eng., suffered a broken leg in a football game, but hobbled into his classroom and remained until school was dismissed.

Safety, silence and simplicity are features of the new Ford six-brake system

ONE of the first things you will notice when you drive the new Ford is the quick, effective, silent action of its six-brake system.

This system gives you the highest degree of safety and reliability because the four-wheel service brakes and the separate emergency or parking brakes are all of the mechanical, internal expanding type, with braking surfaces fully enclosed for protection against mud, water, sand, etc.

The many advantages of this type of braking system have long been recognized. They are brought to you in the new Ford through a series of mechanical improvements embodying much that is new in design and manufacture. A particularly unique feature is the simple way by which a special drum has been constructed to permit the use of two sets of internal brakes on the rear wheels.

A further improvement in braking performance is effected by the self-centering feature of the four-wheel brakes — an exclusive Ford development. Through this construction, the entire surface of the shoe is brought in steady, uniform contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford brakes unusually silent in operation.

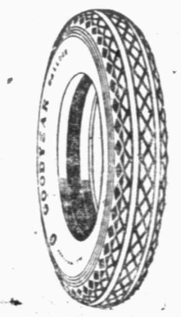

Another feature of the Ford brakes is the ease of adjustment.

The four-wheel brakes are adjusted by turning a screw conveniently located on the outside of each brake plate. This screw is so notched that all four brakes can be set alike simply by listening to the "clicks."

The emergency or parking brakes on the new Ford require little attention. However, should they need adjustment at any time, consult your Ford dealer for prompt, courteous, and economical service. He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

SOCIETY

BUSINESS & PROFESSIONAL WOMEN MEET

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening of last week at the Presbyterian Church with Mrs. C. R. Buchanan and Miss Mattie E. Clark as hostesses.

During the business session Mrs. G. Wedgeworth, Mrs. W. R. Merrill and Mrs. R. O. Von Roeder were appointed on a committee to assist the other club committees to cooperate with the West Texas Basketball Tournament, which is to be held here. Another committee, composed of Mrs. Louise Darby, Mrs. Sam Hamlett and Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham, will assist the other committees to cooperate with the district Federation of Women's Clubs which will meet in Snyder in April.

Following the business meeting a splendid program on Religion and Business was enjoyed. About twenty club members were present.

STOKER—BRICE

Guy Stoker and Miss Luella Brice were married Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Brice, with Rev. W. F. Ferguson officiating, using a most beautiful ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stoker and family, Miss Mary Ellen Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Brice and family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoker left immediately after the ceremony for Fort Worth. They will also visit in Dallas, Weatherford and Mineral Wells. They expect to return home the latter part of next week.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brice. After graduation from Snyder High School she attended school at Baylor College at Belton.

The grdom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stoker. He attended Simmons University following his graduation from Snyder High School.

The many friends of this popular young couple extend to them their best wishes for a full measure of happiness and prosperity.

ALTRURIAN CLUB

Mrs. H. G. Towle was hostess to the members and guests of the Altrurian Club last Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Joe Caton leader of the lesson for the afternoon.

The subject was Art in Poetry, "Andre Del Sarto," by Robert Browning.

Following is the program as carried out:

Roll Call; response, Example of Browning's Dramatic Monologue.

Introduction to "Andrea Del Sarto." The Man, Mrs. E. J. Anderson; The Artist, Mrs. C. J. Yoder.

Exposition, "Background for the Browning Poem," Mrs. Bell.

Analysis, Mrs. Brown.

Questions answered, Mrs. Caton.

A delicious salad course was served to the following club members: Mesdames E. J. Anderson, Roland Bell, H. P. Brown, Joe Caton, R. D. English, W. W. Hamilton, C. C. Higgins, J. M. Harris, A. C. Preuitt, Fritz R. Smith, L. T. Stinson, J. W. Leftwich, Hugh Taylor, William Wilsford, C. J. Yoder, and guests, Mrs. Joe Strayhorn, Mrs. R. H. Curnutte Sr., Mrs. J. C. Stinson and Miss Neoma Strayhorn.

YO SAN BRIDGE CLUB

The Yo San Bridge Club met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Sims for an interesting session of bridge. Mrs. G. B. Carlton showed her skill as a player by winning high score, while Miss Waunita Darby won second high.

At tea time the hostess served delicious refreshments to Mesdames G. B. Carlton, Dee Singletary, N. Von Roeder, Wesley Eans, Bill Hutchinson, Addison Casstevens, Henry Ware and Miss Waunita Darby.

THURSDAY NIGHT BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

An attractive affair of last week was a party last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Boren when they entertained the members of the Thursday Night Bridge Club.

At the termination of the play Mrs. Forest Sears held high score for ladies' prize and Maurice Brownfield for men, while Miss Pauline Boren received guest prize.

Dainty refreshments were served to Messrs. and Mesdames Maurice Brownfield, Ivan Dodson, Forest Sears, Albert Norred, Sam Hamlett, W. T. Raybon, J. G. Hicks, George Oldham, R. N. Wilson and Mrs. J. E. Sentell, Wraymond Sims and Miss Pauline Boren.

YOUNGER SET ENTERTAINED

Grover Scott entertained a number of his friends last Friday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watt Scott.

Various games were played, after which refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Jeanette Lollar, Charline Ely, Erline Martin, Nona Bess Egerton, Leona Sample, Frances Lawlis, Gwendolyn Gray, Loree Trigg, Margaret Deakins and Albert Carlton, Frank Stoker, Buck Howell, Andy Jones, Graves Landrum, Hugh Taylor Jr., John Billy Beggs, Adrian Banks and Lee Francis York.

MARKARET DEAKINS ENTERTAINS

Miss Margaret Deakins very delightfully entertained a number of her friends last Saturday evening at the Manhattan Hotel.

Fruit punch was served to the following guests. M. Deakins, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Anderson were present and acted as chaperones.

SINE CURA MEETS WITH MRS. FRITZ R. SMITH

Among the gaities of the week was the meeting of the Sine Cura Bridge Club on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Fritz R. Smith as hostess.

At the conclusion of a number of interesting games, Mrs. R. H. Curnutte held high score, while Mrs. G. A. Hagan held low. Delicious refreshments were served in two courses to Msedames Ernest Taylor, J. M. Harris, R. H. Curnutte, A. D. Erwin, E. J. Anderson, Wm. Wilsford, W. B. Lee, Vern McMullen, H. G. Towle, O. P. Thrane, Geo. F. Smith, Albert Norred, Wayne Boren, G. A. Hagan and Miss Cecile Strayhorn and Mrs. Pearl Shannon of Colorado, a guest.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB MEETS

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Sentell. Mrs. Allen Warren was leader of the program for the afternoon, and the lesson was on "Economy" and lessons in serving. Mrs. P. C. Chenault, Mrs. Joe Strayhorn and Mrs. W. W. Smith took part on the program.

Delicious refreshments were served to nineteen club members and the following guests: Mesdames Melvin Newton, Clyde Boren, Forest Sears and Horace Leath.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

Mrs. Joe Graham, Mrs. W. F. Martin and Miss Mary Ellen Martin honored Miss Luella Brice, whose marriage was solemnized Sunday morning, with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Joe Graham last Friday afternoon.

After the friends had gathered Miss Brice arrived, thinking she was attending a club party. The following program was enjoyed:

Miss Mary Ellen Martin explained to Miss Brice that she was attending a shower given in her honor instead of a club meeting.

A reading, "In the Usual Way," by Florentz Winston.

Solos, "You're a Real Sweetheart," and "Just Like a Melody Out of the Sky," Miss Maurine Stimson.

Paper, "The Bride, Past and Future," Miss Violet Dean.

The gifts were carried in on a large tray and presented to Miss Brice.

Refreshments were served to Misses Luella Brice, Maurine Stimson, Marcetus Dozier, Violet Dean, Mable Isaacs, Jonnyle Shaw, and Mesdames H. J. Brice, A. L. Stoker, H. L. Davis, Wayne Boren, Clyde Shull, Collie Fish, Nelson Dunn, Wade Winston and Earl Fish.

SAN SOUCI CLUB MEETS

The San Souci Club members and guests were delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. R. Buchanan with Miss Nell Gilley and Mrs. Clyde Shull as hostesses.

In a setting of charm seven tables were arranged for the play of bridge and forty-two. Unusually delicious refreshments were served to the following club members and guests: Mesdames J. P. METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday School 9:45 a. m.

Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m.

Epworth League at 6 p. m.

Prayer services Wednesday at 7:15 p. m.

After prayer services the choir will practice some special music. There will be special music at the morning and evening services. Last Sunday morning the choir sang special music and then the quartette rendered a special number.

Mr. Curry has organized a mixed quartette and a male quartette. He is going to have some special numbers at every service, and it will be something good every time. All lovers of music and those who like good singing in church services will find it at the Methodist Church. We have some extra fine voices and a most splendid leader, and we purpose to have first class music at our services. Come and hear it.

Sunday morning we will preach on "The Holy Spirit, His Personality and Ministry."

Sunday evening we will preach on "The Corner Stone which was Rejected."

We want you to come to the Sunday school. We are studying the great fundamental doctrines. Come and be with us. We want you to come to the preaching services. You need the service. Your family needs the service. And the service needs you.

J. F. LAWLIS, Pastor.

previous to their stepping into the more important phases of later life.

"Incidentally, they are the most critical," continued the speaker, who warmed to his subject quickly, delivering a most worthy effort to those youngsters, just stepping into the adolescent period of their life. In emphasizing a certain part of his argument, Dr. Wiggins reminded the graduates and those present that "You are never through growing."

Continuing on in a like strain, Dr. Wiggins paid particular emphasis to four cardinal things, namely, the physical, intellectual, social and spiritual sides of life, bringing out points under each heading that held his auditors spellbound. In bringing his enjoyable address to a close, he pointed out the thought that "there never is an end to intellectual growth until death," and that "learning never leaves us."

Next followed the presentation of diplomas by Supt. Wedgeworth who in a most humorous and well received manner stated that he was "never happier of a duty performed than passing out diplomas" and which duty he performed in due form. During his talk to the graduates, he brought the seventh graders into his subject, advising them of the things that were before them, and following the giving of diplomas to the graduating class, the seventh grade pupils wended their way across the rostrum, receiving in turn their credentials which entitle them to the full benefits and glory of Snyder High.

Before completing this article we want to mention that the valedictorian of the Senior Class was Miss Edda Von Roeder, and the salutatorian, Miss Violet Dean.

Honor students of the seventh grade were Earl White and Miss Jessie Mae Hanson, with a grade of 93 per cent; H. P. Grant was second with 88 per cent.

Rev. W. F. Ferguson completed a most noteworthy and enjoyable program with a benediction that sent the attendants home in a merry frame of mind and with the feeling that another epoch in Snyder's daily life had been well accomplished.

"That lawyer who represented my husband at the trial," said a woman with a new divorce the other day, "acted to mean and said such hateful things that he come mighty near spoiling my divorce for me."

Winter being here brings joy to many or to some like the coal man; to many it seems extra expense—bad colds for the kids and sickness in the family if you are not careful. But the worst part of it all, it stops the street corner gossip or curbstone clatter. The only chance is the drug store, but nowadays they don't have the room in the back end of the drug store like there used to be. We heard a bright remark from one of these never-had-a-job fellows, that the storekeepers are not as accommodating as they once were. After all, it is getting to be a tough old world for loafers.

LIKE a great many women, Mrs. Alden was inclined to resent the interference of any outsider into her kitchen affairs. Her kitchen was her own; and while she attended the meetings of the Kitchen Club, and was glad to give suggestions, she decided to make her improvements without calling the Club in.

However, when the job was done, Mrs. Alden invited the Club in to see it; for, after all, she had been inspired to dress up her kitchen by seeing what was done for other women.

"Girls," she said to the Kitchen Clubbers before they went in to look at it, "My kitchen might not suit anybody else in the world but me. But I have made it remind me of the thing I love most—the sea—and now it makes me happier just to go into it. I was born on the coast of Maine, as you may know, and I never got over missing the water with its marvelous blue and green and white. Come and see how I have reproduced it in my kitchen!"

"O a life on the ocean wave—!"

LEAVES FROM NANCY'S KITCHEN CLUB NOTEBOOK

Mrs. Alden's kitchen is a dream! It has all the cool, restful effect of the sea itself! Washable paint walls of the palest blue-green; dark blue and white "marbleized" linoleum; jade green chairs and kitchen cabinet; white shelves lined with jade green; white porcelain enamel oil range; jade green table with white porcelain enamel top. Dark blue woodwork. A beautiful print of the ocean, hung right above the sink! It's surprising to see pictures in the kitchen; but, after all, why not? And why shouldn't a woman make her kitchen a picture of the thing she loves best, if it will make her happier?

New Heat Indicator

Mrs. Alden's new range has a heat indicator which she says is the most accurate she has ever seen for an oil stove. It is built into the side of the oven.

We got some recipes for excellent imitation sea dishes this afternoon. Here they are:

Beef Oysters

Beat one pound of round steak. Cut it into pieces the size of an oyster. Soak for ten minutes in water with a teaspoon of baking soda in it. Take out, dry, salt and pepper. Dip in meal. Fry in hot fat until very brown. This process makes the steak taste very much like oysters, and it can be eaten at any time of year.

Tomato Oysters

Slice half-ripe tomatoes. Salt, pepper, and dip into cracker crumbs. Fry in deep fat. This dish also tastes like oysters, and many like it better.

Salsify (Oyster Plant)

Scrape the salsify. Boil it tender. Remove from fire; mash well and mix with cracker crumbs, butter, salt, pepper and a beaten egg. Make into patties the size of an oyster, roll in cracker dust and fry in hot fat

"Treasure Chest" Sal

"Yo ho ho and a plate of salad!"

Take curved leaves of lettuce. Wash and arrange on plate. Halves of fresh or canned peaches. Scoop out center of both halves. Set one half on lettuce leaf. Fill with grated pineapple. Cover with other half. French dressing and paprika over the top. Makes a beautiful salad, as curved lettuce leaf resembles a sea shell; and the peach, of course, is the treasure chest.

Balanced Rations of Plant Food in Soil Best For All Farm Crops

A balanced ration is best for both human beings and livestock. This fact has been proved by science. Food authorities tell us to use a mixed diet balancing the different kinds of food substances, making sure to obtain sufficient mineral material and vitamins.

Producers of livestock have found that proper feeds must be used in order that their stock may make the most economical gains. The progressive dairymen recognize the necessity of a balanced ration for their cows as a means of obtaining more profitable milk production.

Balanced Rations for Crops

Balanced rations for crops are just as necessary for best growth. It is not difficult to observe when plants in a field are starving to death, and each summer many fields are seen where the plants are dying for lack of plant food. In other fields it is apparent that the crop is receiving plenty of some plant foods but lacks others—an unbalanced ration. A balanced ration would be a fertilizer containing the right proportions of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, according to the Soil Improvement Committee of the National Fertilizer Association.

The progressive dairyman is looking for cows of large capacity, cows that can eat large amounts of feed, for he looks on them as a sort of factory and takes the cheap raw feeds, such as hay, silage and grain, and changes them into a more valuable product—milk. As a rule, the more feed a good dairy cow consumes the more milk she will produce and the more profit she will make for the owner.

The grower of field crops, the cotton grower for example, should look at his cotton crop in much the same way. The cotton plant takes cheap raw materials, which are called plant food, and converts them into much more valuable cotton lint and seed. As a rule, if it is a good variety of cotton, grown under favorable conditions, the more plant food the cotton plants use, the more cotton will be produced and the more profit will be made.

Experiments conducted by agricultural authorities in many states have definitely shown that cotton and other crops as well make most vigorous growth and are less likely to be seriously affected by disease when fed liberally with well balanced plant food. Complete commercial fertilizers of various analyses are manufactured to supply balanced rations for crops on different soils. The use of the proper fertilizer will result in a better crop and a more profitable production.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas in the Divine Order of Events it has been seen fit to remove from the ranks of this Commandery our true and well loved Sir Knight, T. L. Lollar, into that realm where the militant soldier and his sword of war seek peace;

And whereas not only as a Mason and as a true and loyal Knight of Snyder Commandery, but as a Citizen of our town and community as well as wherever he was known, had he proven himself a man among men,

Now therefore, we, the Knights of Snyder Commandery do hereby resolve that the kindliness of character, the unusual broadness of spirit in his attitude toward the affairs of others and his willingness to assist any and all who called upon him be commended to all of us and that we as Masons and Sir Knight Members of this Commandery, take note thereof for our future guidance.

And be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his surviving wife and daughter; that one copy be placed of record in this Commandery and that a third be given to our local newspapers for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
J. MONROE,

Plow With the Farmall!

THE McCormick-Deering Farmall offers the row-crop farmer a wonderful advantage. With this sturdy, 4-cylinder, 2-plow tractor on the farm you can put all your work behind you quickly with power—from the first tillage job in spring to the last belt job in winter. The Farmall pulls a 2-bottom plow as ably as does any other tractor. It turns short, handles easily, operates economically, and requires very little attention.

As the season progresses you can shift from one important job to another with amazing speed. Tilling, plowing, seeding, planting row crops (with 4-row planter), cultivating row crops (with 2 or 4-row cultivator), mowing, raking, loading hay, harvesting grain, harvesting corn, and doing the hundred and one belt jobs around the farm.

You can't beat the Farmall. It makes the horseless farm practicable and possible. It cuts the corners off expense and puts the profit in your pocket.

We can't TELL you the whole Farmall story here; but we can prove every point in mighty quick time if you'll ask us for a field demonstration.
