United States To Get Tough Over Red Debts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — Fed up with four years of futile talk, American officials readied a show-down demand today for final settlement of Russia's $11 billion lend-lease account.

Russian and American negotiators were scheduled to resume conferences at the State Department at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The first such session was held April 30, 1947. So far the only progress toward settlement of U. S. claims is the return by Russia of 28 small naval craft and one ice breaker. Nothing has been done about winding up the financial account.

Officials preparing for the meeting said they had decided to discard diplomatic soft talk in favor of blunt, plain speaking —to tell the Russians that the time has come to quit stalling and agree on terms.

If the Soviets will not do this, the American government may denounce the Russian government for bad faith in negotiations.

Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin was named to head the Russian group across the conference table from an American panel headed by John C. Wiley, former ambassador to Iran.

The primary demand of the United States, authorities said, is that Russia pay "a reasonable price" for goods received under lend-lease —such as motor vehicles — which were not used up in the war against Hitler and therefore had a peace-time value to the Soviet Union.

$19,000 By Mistake

Robert L. Baker, 25, Houston, Tex., painter, said he spent $4,000 of $19,000 added to his bank account by mistake. He has returned $15,000 and a new automobile to the bank, which does not plan to press charges.

Critics Hit Truman's Call For More Non-Essential Spending

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — Most congressional leaders endorsed today President Truman's budget proposal for pay-as-you-go financing of military outlays but some of them sharply criticized increases in non-defense spending.

The President proposed a $71,594,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1, with $41,421,000,000 going into direct military outlays.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, top Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, said in a statement he is "shocked to find that the President's 1951 budget provides for the 'fair deal' under the guise of defense spending."

"It is even more shocking to find that instead of cutting nondefense items the President actually asks Congress to provide increased Amounts for non-essential programs," Bridges said, adding:

"I can assure the administration that this Congress will not indulge in such unnecessary items as socialized medicine, federal aid to education or the St. Lawrence seaway. If the President won't be realistic, Congress will."

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee said he wants to study the budget more before he takes any stand on the President's proposal to increase taxes by more than $16 billion.

"I am absolutely committed to paying for as much of the program as possible in taxes without destroying or crippling our economy," George said.

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), an appropriations committee member, called for a clarification of the President's international policies before Congress acts on the budget.

"Are we in war or are we not?" McCarran asked. "Does this budget mean a continuation of the unfortunate situation in Korea? Before it acts on the appropriation requests, Congress will demand full information on these and other questions."

Tells Nation There Must Be Higher Than Wartime Taxes

Will Need As Much As $20 Billion Increase To Make Ends Meet For New Defense Spending

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — President Truman laid down today a $71,594,000,000 spending budget for the government next year and declared sound policy requires that taxes be increased $16,456,000,000 to balance it.

"This is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger," Mr. Truman told the new Congress, which will have full say-so on new taxes.

The huge expenditure the President proposed for the fiscal year starting July 1.

GRAVE DANGER

In his message to the new Congress today, the President said:

"There is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger."

The unprecidented "peacetime" spending program Mr. Truman proposed for the fiscal year starting July 1—nearly three-fifths of it for military services—figures out to about 471 for every one of the some 152 million men, women and children in the U. S.

And if the President has his way on taxes just about that same average amount will be collected from citizens although some of it of course will be in the form of hidden taxes or indirect costs.

The new Congress will have full say-so on whether taxes should be raised and by what amonut. But it can not block or control part of his spending program unless it repeals past laws on a big scale.

The President told newsmen that actions by past Congresses authorize $30,462,000,000 of the funds to carry out his plans. He needs to look to the new Congress only for the remaining $41,132,000,000.

Mr. Truman's bulky budget message was a more controversial document in some respects than his "State of the Union" address last Monday.

He called in it for many of his pet "fair deal" measures such as the civil rights program, federal medical insurance and a major part of the Brannan Farm plan. That seemed certain to rouse ire in some congressional quarters.

LAYS DEFENSE

Fierce outcries from "economy" advocates also appeared so sure that Mr. Truman anticipated them by laying down a defense of his spending program in advance.

Observing to reporters that opinions differ on what are "defense" and "non - defense" outlays, he dropped the heading of "defense" —direct military costs an strategic stockpiling—which had been used in past budgets. He put a national security" tag on the new listing.

Then he budgeted major national security programs "at $52,182,000,000 for next year, an increase of $25,466,000,000 over this fiscal year now half gone.

The "remainder" of his program was price-tagged for $19,084,000,000. He described that as a saving of $1,082,000,000 from this year's costs even though it contains operations "influenced by the present emergency;" for example Coast Guard port security work, and FB loyalty checks on government workers.

COSTS

In a statement to newsmen supplementing the big budget document the President listed the "major national security programs" and their costs as follows:

	1951	1952
Military Services	$20,994,000,000	$41,421,000,000
International Security	4,726,000,000	7,461,000,000
Atomic Energy Commission	818,000,000	1,277,000,000
Defense Production and Controls	296,000,000	1,403,000,000
Civil Defense	15,000,000	330,000,000
Maritime Activities	189,000,000	354,000,000
Defense Housing and Community Facilities	None	100,000,000
Government Agency Dispersal Program	6,000,000	184,000,000

In the budget itself, the President:

1. Estimated U. S. military service costs for the year starting July 1 at $41,421,000,000—58 per cent of the budget total. That is more than double the $20,427,000,000 the President estimated will actually be spent in the current year. It counted on active armed force strength of nearly 3,500,000 by mid-1952, with "our troops supplied with the best weapons in the world."

2. Proposed a $7,461,000,000 outlay of military and economic aid to friendly foreign countries — compared to $4,726,000,000 this year—to further the cause of "international security." The foreign pro-

Britain Ready To Sacrifice For Defense

LONDON, Jan. 15. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gets first-hand assurance today that Britain —World War I's "outpost of freedom" — is prepared for heavier sacrifices to help shore up the West's defenses.

During the day the supreme commander of Atlantic forces in Europe conferred with British Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell. Leaders of Britain's defense arms stood by to tell Eisenhower the role their services would play in the program.

Among other things Eisenhower was slated to hear were still unpublished details of Britain's biggest peacetime defense program.

It is expected to include an expansion of last September's 3,000,000,000 ($10,080,000,000) three-year defense estimate to between 4,000,000,000 to $14,000,000,000).

Other objectives reportedly are increased production of all kinds of armaments, the drafting of 200,000 reserves for as much as three months training and a renewed spurt towards 1951's goal of 10 regular and 12 "territorial" or national guard divisions.

The new program will impose a heavy burden on a nation already staggeringunder austerity. It is expected to be ready for parliamentary action by the second week in February.

Prisoners Cause Heavy Damage at City Jail

A few minutes after being put into Snyder jail Saturday afternoon, a prisoner inflicted heavy damage to the jail in what police called an attempted break-out.

A portion of the plaster and net wiring was ripped from the ceiling in the main cell by the prisoner about 3 o'clock Saturday, Chester Bairrington, police chief, said.

A patrolman making a routine inspection discovered the break-out attempt before the prisoner escaped, Bairrington said.

On checking the man's past, it was discovered that he had once escaped from the guard house at Camp Bowie, Tex., while serving a one-year term there.

Another man "went beserk" and tore up a mattress, ripped a toilet from the floor and did other damage to a cell where he had been segregated from other prisoners late Saturday afternoon, Bairrington said.

Allied Attack Takes 3 Towns; Division's Flank Is Threatened

TOKYO Jan. 15. (AP)—Allied forces struck out today in a sudden offensive on the western front. Tank-infantry teams by nightfall had recaptured three towns—Osan, Kumyangjang and Chon.

The atack by an army that had been in retreat since late November came only a few hours after Gen. J. Lawton Collins said American forces "will certainly stay and fight" in Korea.

Collins made his fighting statement during a visit to Korea.

A blazing morning strike by Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers paved the way for the attack.

REPLACEMENTS DUE

The U. S. Army Chief of staff said troop replacements will begin to flow into Korea in two or three months. He added at a news conference during his fourth visit to the Korean theater.

One new regular Army division will be organized. National Guard units will be called into service. Some replacements for American troops already are going to the front.

Allied warplanes lashed at Suwon Monday with a blazing one-two punch. B-26 light bombers roared down on the airport city 20 miles south of Seoul shortly after daybreak, bombing and strafing enemy troops and buildings. Then the fighter-bombers F-80 Shooting Star jets, F-84 Thunderjets and the piston-engined F-51 Mustangs—swooped low, rocketing and machinegunning the fleeing Reds.

The Fifth Air Force said nearly 1,000 Communist troops were cut down as they fled northwards.

MORE PRESSURE

While Collins was taking a close look at the Korean war situation allied troops withdrew under heavy fire from Yongwol, on the east central front. They had recaptured the fire-blackened town only Sunday.

The withdrawal highlighted the mounting pressure against the U. S. Second Division, which had been holding off powerful Red forces near Wonju, 30 miles northwest of Yongwol.

Also a grave threat to the Second Divisions defense of roads fanning out into the heart of South Korea was a Communist force of possibly 30,000 far behind the front.

This Communist force was reported operating in the rugged mountain area 25—55 miles south of Wonju. It threatened to choke off the Second Division's withdraw-

Building Ban Is Broadened

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) —The government today banned the construction of new stores, restaurants, office and other commercial building until Feb. 15.

Thereafter, each private new commercial structure must be specifically authorized by the National Production Authority.

NPA issued the order to save materials for the mobilization program.

Commercial building will be authorized, in general, only if it (1) furthers the defense effort, (2) is essential to public health, welfare or safety; or (3) alleviates or prevents a hardship in a community.

The order applies to new construction "starts" and not to building already under way.

During the initial one-month freeze, NPA said it will grant permission "only in emergency cases."

In the case of a multiple-use building — such as an apartment house with stores or offices —NPA will require authorization for the portion intended for commercial use.

All Volunteers To Go Through Draft Boards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — President Truman today directed that all youths volunteering for the armed services must do so through their local draft boards.

Under his order, the volunteer must file an application with his board for voluntary induction. This is required whether or not the volunteer has been registered.

If a registrant is unable to return to his local board to volunteer, he may file application with the local board in the area where he may be residing at the time of his decision.

TO BE CLASSIFIED

Under the regulations, a man filing for voluntary induction will be classified as soon as possible and placed in the class available for military service if he qualifies.

A man not required to be registered for induction who volunteers will be registered and given a selective service number in the same manner as those required to register.

The White House made public Mr. Truman's order without any immediate explanatory statement. It was not clear whether it would leave the volunteer free to enter the service of his choice.

PLENTY IN TWO

At present, the Navy and the Air Force have been receiving all the volunteers they can handle.

The draft has been used only to get manpower for the Army.

Mr. Truman's order was issued while Defense Department officials pressed at the Capitol their contention that 18-year-olds are needed to meet the armed forces manpower goals.

Five Crewmen Die In Crash

CHICAGO, Jan. 15. (AP) — A B-26 bomber crashed northwest of Chicago early today, killing its five crewmen.

The crewmen, three officers and two enlisted men, were members of the 126th composite group of the Illinois Air National Guard.

They were returning to O'Hare field after a long training flight from Barksdale Air Force Base, La.

Narrowly missing a farm house the plane plowed into a field near the Glenview Naval Air Station and exploded.

A few minutes earlier the crew had radioed that they were having trouble with heavy icing on the wings.

Hospital Staff Members Quit

John M. Dodson today announced his resignation as business manager of the Snyder Hospital Clinic. The resignation will be effective next Jan. 23, Dodson said.

Also announcing their resignations today were Mrs. Ruby Lee, superintendent of nurses and anethetist. Mrs. Helen Merritt, chief anesthetist, and Robert Shannon, chief laboratory technician, who is resigning to enter the service.

Dodson who came here May 10, will remain in Snyder and will be associated with Kolar Motor Co.

Before coming here he operated his own accounting and tax service in Dallas. Prior to that he was for two years the office and business manager of the Dallas zone office of Parckard Motor Car Co.

Mrs. Lee said she had been a resident of Snyder most of her life and that she had been with the hospital since July.

Shannon who lives at 601 Twenty-ninth Street, has been with the hospital five and one-half months having come here from Foxhome, Minn. He said today he hates to leave Snyder, but he must enter the armed service.

Mrs. Helen Merritt said she has lived here about five years, working for the hospital here from time to time then. She came here from Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, and lives at 804 Avenue R.

Will Continue Battle Against Cattle Disease

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — President Truman today assured Congress that measures to prevent spread of foot-and-mouth disease into the United States and to assist Mexico in control and eradication will be continued until the disease has been completely wiped out.

The President made the statement in his annual budget message as he asked for an appropriation of $32,700,000 to cover expenses incurred during the 1950 campaign to eradicate the disease in Mexico.

At the time, the expenses were paid for by a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation to the Agriculture Department. Subsequent expenditures were covered by supplemental appropriations from Congress.

Today's appropriation request is designed to repay the CCC.

Due to the unpredictable course of the disease, Mr. Truman said, the department has been authorized to transfer needed amounts from any funds available to it.

The President pointed out that Mexico lost an export market for about 500,000 animals annually with the closing of the United States border.

"Resulting congestion of the animal population increased hazards of contagion in Mexico," he added. "As a further defensive measure in the eradication program, the United States agreed to purchase, for disposal in foreign markets, meat produced in Northern Mexico and canned under adequate supervision.

"It is anticipated that purchase of canned meat will be discontinued in 1951. Activities in 1951 and 1952 will be confined to disposal of the present frozen beef in Mexico to fill the needs of countries aided by the Economic Cooperation Administration."

Ilse Koch Gets Life Sentence

AUGSBURG, Germany, Jan. 15. (AP) — Ilse Koch was sentenced to life imprisonment today for causing the murder of Buchenwald concentration camp prisoners.

Ilse, the "red witch of Buchenwald," 44 years old, was convicted of crimes against Austrian and German prisoners of the Nazis. The red-haired widow of the camp's wartime Nazi commander was not in court to hear the verdict.

Mrs. Koch broke into a hysterical frenzy in her prison cell last night. A court doctor testified she was in no condition to attend the session today and hear the sentence.

It was the second life imprisonment sentence for Mrs. Koch. The first, imposed by an American war crimes court after the war, had been commuted to four years. She was convicted by the U. S. court for crimes against allied personnel.

The German court of three judges and six jurymen which spent seven weeks hearing shocking accusations against the red-haired tyrant of the concentration camp, convicted her specifically of inciting the murder of one prisoner, inciting the attempted murder of another and inciting serious injury of five others. She was also convicted of causing lesser injuries of two inmates. She was acquitted of personally assisting in any killings.

Ellenburger Field Opener In Stonewall

F. Kirk Johnson of Fort Worth and Associates has completed a flowing Ellenburger discovery at their No. 1-E Leon Anderson, South-Central Stonewall wildcat, located seven miles south of Aspermont.

This new field opener reported 24-hour natural potential of 196 barrels of 42 gravity oil flowing through a one quarter inch choke.

There was no water. Gas - oil ratio was 581-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 275 pounds. Shut-in casing pressure was 575 pounds.

Top of the pay in the Ellenburger is reported to be at 5,928 feet. Total depth is at 5,940 feet. These points have been corrected by electric log from previously reported figures which were incorrect.

Location is 660 feet from east and 477 feet from south lines of the southwest quarter of section 18, bock U, T&P survey. The new producer is two and one-half miles west of the nearest completed oil well, which is getting its oil from the Mississippian lime. The Johnson exploration had some slight shows of oil and gas in the Canyon sand of the Pennsylvanian at 5,090-5,113 feet and in the Mississippian lime at 5,422 feet, but neither zone developed enough petroleum to make a commercial producer.

NEAR ROBERT LEE

Union Oil Co. of California No. 3 Jim McCutchen, three - quarter mile outpost to production in the Cisco-Sand field, of Central Coke County flowed an average of from 15 to 20 barrels of oil per hour on a drillstem test from 3,985-4,000 feet.

The possible extender to the field is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 44, block 1-A, H&TC survey, and three miles east of Robert Lee.

The project recovered 40 feet of slightly salty sater when the test tool was pulled. The tester was open for one hour. Gas was at the surface four minutes and oil in 22 minutes.

It flowed three small heads at the start and then flowed steadily. Flowing pressure was 225 to 920 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 35

Senator Bridges Demands Full Aid To Chinese Nationalists

WASHINGTON Jan. 15. (AP)—Asserting that the United States already is fighting communism "in World War III," Sen. Bridges (R-NH) called today for a break in diplomatic relations with Russia.

Bridges, top Republican on the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committee, said there must be round-the-clock production and universal military service to build the fighting machine to win "a war far more deadly than any in the recorded history of mankind."

The New Hampshire senator sided with Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) in a demand for military aid to the Chinese Nationalists through the blockade of Red China and encouragement of guerrilla activities there.

The two lawmakers spoke out in speeches prepared for the resumption today of a bitter Senate debate over foreign policy.

McCarran said that unless a second front is opened in China American troops will go on "taking one licking after another" in Korea.

He said making it possible for Chinese Nationalists on Formosa to invade the mainland "offers the best chance of retrieving victory in Asia." McCarran already has offered a bill to provide $1 billion in military aid to the Nationlists.

Cook Reported Captured Deep In Lower California Peninsula

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 15. (AP)—Sheriff Bert Strand said he was informed that Badman Bill Cook, suspected slayer of eight, has been captured in Mexico.

The information received by the sheriff's office shortly before 10 o'clock this morning was that Cook was located 600 miles below the border in the desolate region of the Lower California peninsula.

With him, the report said, were two El Centro, Calif., prospectors, Forrest Damron, 32, and James Burke, 33, missing for 10 days. They were said to be unharmed.

Cook, 24-year-old Joplin, Mo., ex-convict, has been sought throughout the country since the disappearance of an Illinois family of five in Oklahoma.

The report was also received by Mexican authorities at Tijuana, across the border from here.

They were advised that Cook and the two El Centro men he was believed to have abducted in his desperate, blood stained flight were being brought to Tijuana by airplane.

The manhunt, one of the most extensive in the country's history, started early in January after the blood-stained automobile of the family of Carl Mosser was found abandoned near Tulsa, Okla.

The bodies of Carl Mosser, 33, his wife, Thelma, 29, and their three children — Donald Dean, 7, Cary Carl, five and Pamela Sue, three, have not been found.

Byron Nelson Walks Away With Crosby Tourney 7 Under Par

(By The Associated Press)

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 15. —There have been brighter golfing victories in the brilliant career of Byron Nelson but none probably more completely satisfying than the one the ex-champion took back to Texas today.

Lord Byron, making one of his infrequent sorties from the cattle ranch to which he retired in 1946, bagged the deluxe Bing Crosby Tournament yesterday with a 54-hole total of 209.

FAST FIELD

More than 15,000 spectators lined the 18th fairway of picturesque Pebble Beach while the one-time holder of the U. S. Open and PGA crowns, as well as many minor titles, dropped the final putt that gave him a $2,000 cut of the $10,000 purse.

The big crowd let out a roar as the man who retired from active competition in 1946 doffed his cap and accepted the plaudits that go to the champion. He'd shown the way to a fast field of fellow pros with a seven under par performance for the three days.

Crooner Crosby's annual golf party, attracting some of the best shotmakers of the country, is played on three separate courses in as many days. Nelson shaded par at Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula and Pebble Beach in turn. Each is a par 72 test.

ENOUGH BULGE

The big fellow, who raises pure-bred cattle on a 654-acre ranch at Roanoke, a bend in the road near Dallas, shot scores of 71-67-71. He took the lead in the second round with a sizzling five-under-par chalk-up. It gave him a three-stroke over his closest rivals. The bulge was enough.

He held the same advantage when the last contestant had checked in.

Most of the topnotchers were in the field. But Sam Snead was out with a bad hand and Ben Hogan was resting for a while.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis took second money of $1,250 with a 212. Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Mich.; George Fazio, Washington, D. C., and Julius Boros, Midpines, N. C., tied at 213.

The Crosby Tournament receipts go to charitable causes. Approximately $40,000 was expected to be realized this time.

Four Perfect Records Left In Cage Play

NEW YORK, Jan. 15. (AP) — Like the bison, major college basketball teams boasting perfect records are disappearing from the scene.

Just a week ago 12 major teams paraded as proud as peacocks with unblemished marks. Today only four are left.

The four who survived the torturous weeks are Oklahoma A&M (15-0), Long Island University (11-0), Columbia (10-0) and St. Bonaventure (8-0).

Top team to bite the dust was Bradley. The lads from Peoria, Ill., No. 1 quintet in the Associated Press poll last week, stumbled at the hands of St. John's (Brooklyn), 68-95.

However, the four remaining teams are heading into stormy seas in their bid to keep their streaks intact.

Coach Hank Iba's second ranked Aggies take on a tough St. Louis University Billiken crew Wednesday night.

Long Island, fourth in the standings, clashes with once beaten Duquesne Tusday.

Eighth ranked Columbia tangles with Penn in an Ivy League game Wednesday and St. Bonaventure rubs against in and out Niagara the same evening.

Gunfire Hits Citrus Strike In Florida

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Jan. 15. (AP) — The Polk County citrus pickers strike went into its third week today, following a week end when gunfire was used for the first time.

Fair Catch To Be Returned To Football Rules

GALVESTON, Jan. 15. (AP) —The National Collegiate Athletic Association Football Rules Committee came here today to study a minimum of proposed changes in the playing rules.

The committee, headed by H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, athletic director of Michigan, appeared likely to return the fair catch to the rules after absence of a year but make few other changes.

TIME SAVERS

Enough suggestions have come from the American Football Coaches Association, which held its annual meeting in Dallas last week during the NCAA convention, to extend the session until about Wednesday noon. Crisler said. Conservation of time during a game was one of the coaches' proposals. This would be accomplished by cutting down the length of time-outs, time to put the ball in play, etc.

Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the Football Coaches Rules Committee, reported an overwhelming sentiment for return of the fair catch.

STALWART BACKERS

The Dallas NCAA convention handled much legislation, most important of which was eliminating the controversial Sanity Code

There was considerable talk that elimination of the Sanity Code would cut down materially on intersectional football. Some conferences may play among themselves since, with no regulation from the NCAA, there will be different rules on financial aid in the various sections. The Big Ten, for instance, is talking about a round-robin schedule only. This conference was one of the stalwart backers of the Sanity Code. The Southern, Southeastern and Southwest Conferences have similar rules and will continue to play each other.

American Conference Wins Pro Bowl By A Slim 28-27 Margin

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15. — Yes, sir, Paul 'n' Otto, the championship combine from Cleveland, mowed 'em down again.

Coach Paul Brown stuck with his ace Quarterback Otto Graham, just as he said he would. And in the end Otto stuck the National Conference all-stars, leading his American Conference mates to a stirring 28 to 27 win in the Pro Bowl yesterday.

It completed the personal triumph of Brown and Graham over the National Football League. After four All-America Conference titles, the Browns of Cleveland moved right into the NFL's throne room despite the most stubborn opposition ever seen in pro grid circles.

And now this:

Graham with a 27-14 defeat staring at him in the third quarter, caught fire, as he did in the Browns' 30-28 championship won over the Los Angeles Rams Dec. 24. He started hitting his pass receivers and then, when the defenses spread, Otto sneaked off guard six and nine yards for two quick touchdowns. Pat Harder's pair of conversions proved decisive.

Graham's passing — 19 completions in 33 throws for 252 yards — was sharp, but it was his payoff runs that were remarkable and earned him the sportswriters' unanimous selection as the game's outstanding player. Otherwise brutal line play nullified scrimmage running. The Americans wound up with only 23 yards net rushing, the Nationals 24.

Busy Week In Flag Chase

(By The Associated Press)

It's the busiest week of the season in Lone Star Conference basketball, with 10 games, two of which count in the championship race.

Stephen F. Austin and East Texas State, tied for the conference lead, clash with Sul Ross and Sam Houston State respectively.

Austin last week whipped independent East Texas Baptist 83-64 and goes to Alpine tonight to meet twice-beaten Sul Ross.

"We want to ask him if we should join up now or wait for the draft," said Jimmy Threadkeld of Tupelo, Miss.

Army-Navy Tilt Picked As The Upset Of Year

DALLAS, Jan. 15. (AP) — The Navy football team's 14-2 victory which stopped Army's winning streak after 28 games without a loss was picked by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters as the greatest upset of 1950.

Earl Blaik, the losing coach, heard the news at a social function in connection with the football coaches convention and commented: "I agree. Period."

Then he turned to his former assistant, Stu Holcombe of Purdue, and asked: "What about that upset of yours?"

At the time Blaik didn't know that Purdue's football triumph over Notre Dame had polled the second largest vote as the upset of the year.

In the opinon of 178 of the 215 writers and radio men who participated in the Associated Press year-end poll, the Army-Navy upset was the biggest of the year. It received a total of 580 points on the 3-2-1 basis for first, second and third places.

Purdue's 28-14 decision over Notre Dame, which ended a 39-game unbeaten streak for the Fighting Irish, polled 28 first place votes and 126 points. The Phillies victory in the National League pennant race and Sammy Urzetta's winning the National Amateur Golf Championship also figured prominently in the upset list. The Phils polled 63 points and Urzetta 58. Then came Ezzard Chales' decisive victory over Joe Louis to clinch heavyweight boxing honors.

LonghornLoop Reverses Self On Broadcasts

LUBBOCK, Jan. 15. (AP) — The West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League reversed itself and will permit live broadcasting of home and road games this season.

At the recent minor league baseball convention in St. Petersburg, Fla., directors had voted against this.

R. B. McAlister of Clovis and Wes Youngblood of Lubbock presented radio's views to the directors at their meeting here yesterday.

Under the new ruling, local clubs can choose the station to broadcast their games.

"Baseball must take a progressive policy," President Milton Price said. "We must do what we can to co-operate so as to project baseball into the public eye."

The club owners voted to increase the club salary limit from $3,200 a month to $3,400.

Clubs can carry no less than two rookies on their playing roster this season, nor more than ten veterans.

The 140-game schedule will open April 22. Five days will be allowed for travel to and from the all-star game at Borger at a date yet to be decided.

Directors voted to accept a challenge from the Class C Longhorn League for a playoff.

Midwestern has only one game, East Texas Baptist at Wichita Falls tomorrow night.

Trinity, the third member of the circuit, lost two conference games last week and is virtually out of the title race.

North Texas State whipped Trinity 75-78 and Midwestern downed the Tigers 54-42.

In other games Midwestern lost to McMurry of the Texas Conference 61-59, North Texas State was licked by independent Texas Wesleyan 69-62, Trinity whammed independent St. Mary's 73-51 and Midwestern nosed University of Houston of the Missouri Valley Conference 54-53.

Indians Share Lead In Texas League Play

(By The Associated Press)

McMurry, the college that won only two basketball games last season, today boasts the best season record in the Texas Conference and shares the league lead.

The Indians last week dumped Southwestern 68-66, and chilled Daniel Baker, 71-42, and Midwestern, 61-59, to boost their season standings to six won and six lost.

This week, Austin, the other leader, tackles McMurry and Abilene Christian in conference games. Southwestern meets Howard Payne in the other conference tilt.

Last week, Austin downed Southwestern, 55-48, and Southwestern took it on the chin also from Abilene Christian, 78-44.

East Texas State licked Austin, 64-51, while Abilene Christian and Texas A&I split, A&I winning, 81-80, and AC, 78-44.

Howard Payne dropped a 79-56 decision to Texas Wesleyan.

Other games this week match Howard Payne and Sul Ross in two tilts and A&I and Brooke Medical.

Lions Benefit Will Bring Man Who Composed Song for Snyder

People who picture composers as soft, sentimental characters have yet to meet Slim "Tool Pusher from Snyder" Willet. Tioping the scales at 233 pounds, he really looks more like the tool pusher than the composer.

Willet will be in Snyder to sing "Tool Pusher" in person Jan. 26 appearing with the Big State Jamboree group from Abilene, for a Snyder Lions Club benefit. Willet ramrods the show, and he plans it with the enthusiasm with which he carries on a multiplicity of jobs.

Writing the Snyder saga in song doesn't seem to have been too much of an effort for Willet, who has written about 25 other songs. He got the inspiration from a fan letter which suggested he write an oil field song, and dashed off the words and music in about 20 minutes. Willet doesn't go so far as to say it is his favorite song, but it may be. The final decision will depend on which song brings him the greatest amount in cash royalties. Sentiment has a weak voice beside the jingle of coins in the family treasury.

"Tool Pusher" is growing in popularity over the state, Willet said. A dealer in El Paso, dubious about being able to sell 130 copies of the record, sold out in a matter of hours and placed a fast reorder.

One of the major sales problems has been keeping dealers supplied. Prospective buyers don't like having to wait for the record when they want it.

Willet was born in 1919 in Desdemona, just at the slow-down point of the East Texas oil boom. His father was an oil field worker, but that was the closest association Willet had with black gold until his song was written. Desdemona is the "Hogtown" mentioned in one of the choruses of "Took Pusher." Willet said nobody ever called the town by its proper name when he lived there, and was surprised that there are some people who didn't know that.

In addition to not being sentimental over his music, Willet has another unusual trait. He can't read it. He did learn to read music when he was a boy, but he didn't continue to study it. He plays the guitar by ear, and picks out his own music while he writes the words for his songs. He makes a recording of the finished product and lets the recording company worry about writing down the notes — if they need them.

Willet has recently recorded four new tunes for the Star Talent Co. of Dallas, which will be released soon. These tunes are: "A Cold Can of Beer," "Nobody Loves a Fat Man," "Give Me the Kind of Love You'd Like to Receive," and "I Call You Stingy."

Traveling with Willet to Snyder in the Big State Jamboree will be the Blue Sage Boys, Faye Martin, Raymond Odom and Charlotte Elliott, a 12-year-old songstress described by Willet as nothing less than sensational. They will give two shows, with the first starting at 7 o'clock and the second at 8:45, both in the high school auditorium.

"I personally guarantee that any one who attends the show won't be disappointed," Willet said. "We might even arrange to have a few 'Tool Pusher' records on hand for sale."

Eliot Considers Jobs With Stanford, USC

CHAMPAIN, Ill., Jan. 15. (AP) — Football Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois, who turned down a reported $15,000 a year offer to coach the University of Texas, has been approached for the grid jobs at Stanford and Southern California.

Eliot said he has "talked with" athletic officials of the two West Coast schools whose coaches, Marchy Schwartz of Stanford, and Jeff Cravath of Southern California resigned.

Talk of the Town

There are always two vocal schools of thought. "Buy a new car", and "Go on driving the old one." Through necessity I had followed the second advice so long that my car rivalled the jailhouse and Deep Creek on longevity. Some conservatives pointed out that the roads in this locale would tear up a new car within 60 days anyway. Only slightly less pessimistic was the bunch who commented, "Oh, you can get to and nome from work with it. Let friends or admirers drive you around elsewhere"

* * *

The strong objection to fudging rides with friends in their new automobiles was that I travel in three, and my two little sons are reputed for being death on upholstery. As we drove here last spring, one frosty morning in early March, we were leaving Columbus, O., when the younger son, aged 3 at the time, was miraculously struck with a thought (heaven only knows what) and let go with a pop bottle out the rear window. The missle hit a horse hitched to a milk wagon, a common sight in Columbus, the horse took off around the corner, wagon naturally rocketing after, and the last I got was a horrifying glimpse of the man plummeting down some steps at us. I simply put on the gas and we headed west as fast as the old car would take us, the rear seat still wildly yelling "Whoa, Horsie!"

Now, since Saturday, the old car is ancient history and we cruise around elegantly in one of these little new models, fresh off the assembly line, which fact also drew a line of attack from associates and concerned relatives. "It's too new, and not enough people have tried it" "It is off brand, and you'll never get parts!" "It will probably be a lemon!"

This look of smugness might stem from the fact that in coming from Dallas and the plant, the new little red four-cylinder car drank only one tank of gas, absolutely defying all the neon signs of filling stations. It handles like a well-greased kiddie-car. And you do a little pushing and rearranging and down comes a 6 foot bed from the back seat. . . AND it has not fallen apart yet over our rough roads.

* * *

Just for the heck of it, tonight we drive out Clairemont Road!

Your Host May Have Run His Last Race

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 15. (AP)— Your Host, the ugly colt with the twisted neck, defied turf superstitution for four years until it finally caught up with him on the 13th day of the month. He may never race again.

One of the finest Thoroughbreds ever bred in California, Your Host suffered a fractured ulna — or elbow — bone in a fall during Saturday's running of the $50,000 San Pasqual Handicap at Santa Anita.

Today, he hangs suspended in his stall, sidelined for the season and probably for good. He might even have to be destroyed if complications set in.

Age of chickens can roughly be determined by pressing the breast bone. The more rigid it is, the older fowl.

Parachutists Jump To Rescue When Other Means Have Failed

(By The Associated Press)

WIESBADEN, Germany —Master Sgt. W. S. Smith talks with a drawl, grins easily and likes to jump out of airplanes.

Smith, a 34-year-old veteran of Bradenton, Fla., is top man with the para-rescue team of Flight A, Seventh Rescue Squadron.

He has bailed out of airplanes 54 times and thinks it's easier than getting out of bed of a cold winter morning.

His team mates at this U. S. Airforce base have bail-out totals almost as impressive.

There's S-Sgt. Austin Little Jr., of Carpenter, Miss., with 38 jumps, S-Sgt. Kirby S. Bullard of Savannah, Ga., 35 jumps, and Pvt. Richard E. Brown of Fort Collins Colo., 33.

These men are under direct command of Capt. Wallace H. Brannon of Atlanta, Ga., who has made 30 jumps.

THEY'RE TRUMP CARDS

The para-rescue boys are the trouble shooters of the Seventh. If other rescue methods fail or of other rescue methods fail or are impractical, they jump in.

The Air Force's air rescue squadrons, organized in 1947, have the job of saving downed fliers, whether they be service planes or civilian.

In war-time their job is to work in close support of ground troops. For example, the helicopter carrying out wounded in Korea is from a sister squadron, the Third.

There are eight rescue squadrons in all. The Seventh has its bases in Wiesbaden, Saudi Arabia, Tripoli and the Azores.

Each of these outfits has four SB-29s, two SB-17s, two helicopters and a C-82 "Flying Boxcar."

Each of the 29s and 17s carries a boat to be dropped to survivors in the water, the helicopter is used in inaccessible places, and the C82 is used to fly supplies and a helicopter when a squadron needs it on a mission.

Flight "A" has its two helicopters, but at present only one helicopter pilot. He is affable Capt. Joseph Kuhn of Royersford Pa., who also is Flight "A" public relations officer.

He and the rest of the Seventh squadron are under Lt. Col. Walter Hamburg, Jr., of Lonoke, Ark.

THEY'RE READY FOR TROUBLE

Thus far Flight "A" hasn't had to use its parachutists but it has been kept busy following up and directing search and rescue operations in its broad territory. For example, last April when a Navy privateer and crew disappeared while on a routine flight in the Baltic region, Capt. D'Jack Klinger of Franklin, Pa., set up headquarters at Kastru Field, Copenhagen, and directed search operations.

The para-rescue men have special training behind them obtained at the U. S. forest service's famous "smoke jumper" school at Missoula, Mont. There they are taught how to land in trees and similiar rugged country

The Seventh draws no line at giving a helping hand to those in distress

"If the Russians asked us to help find one of their planes, we'd go," an officer said.

Mother Widowed Twice By War Looks Ahead For 4 Daughters

PITMAN, N. J., Jan. 15. (AP) — A 26-year-old mother widowed by war twice within six years hardly had time for tears today as she looked ahead for herself and four small daughters.

Mrs. Jean E. Snodgrass told friends she expects to stay at home, devoting most of her time to Kim, Lynn, Eileen, and Jean. The eldest is four, the youngest one.

She has asked the Veterans Administration to help her straighten out her affairs.

The name of Mrs. Snodgrass' second husband and father of her four daughters, M-Sgt. James Fort Snodgrass, was on the Defense Department's 200th Korean war casualty list released yesterday. He was killed Nov. 28.

Mrs. Snodgrass' first husband, Flight Capt. Charles Ridgley Hammell, 3rd, of Philadelphia, was killed in a takeoff crash at Dinjan, India, in 1945, while piloting a transport loaded with supplies for China.

Unidentified Man Is Found In Ohio With His Throat Slashed

MARTINS FERRY, O., Jan. 15. (AP) — Police today were working on the theory that an unidentified man found murdered in a lonely country lane near here may have been killed outside Ohio.

After more than 24 hours, identity of the victim, a middle-aged man whose throat was slit from ear to ear before his body was set afire in a car, still was not known.

Frank Neavin, who lives in the area, discovered the slaying yesterday morning when he saw smoke coming from a car parked 100 yards off State Route 7, two miles north of this Ohio River city.

The body was wrapped in a gasoline-soaked rug, and several cans which had contained gasoline were found in the car.

Mild Weather Over The Entire Nation Today

CHICAGO, Jan. 15. (AP) — The entire nation has mild weather today and most of it was fair.

There was fair or snow in the New England states and southward into parts of the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys. Rain was falling elsewhere as far south as Georgia.

Michigan, the upper Mississippi Valley, western Montana and northern Idaho had snow flurries, while Washington had rain, or snow.

The only points reporting temperatures below freezing early today were Grand Forks, N. D. with 11 degrees, Milwaukee with 25, and Chicago with 28.

The railroad platform at Sonepur, India, extends 2,415 feet and is believed to be the world's longest.

Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 300 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas. This test was taken in the detrital.

Ellenburger was topped at 8,011 feet on elevation of 2,539 feet.

Location is five and two-thirds miles southwest of the Jameson-Strawn field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 119 block 2, H&TC survey.

Terry Well Flows 629 Barrels in Six Hours From Reef at 9,536

Anderson-Prichard Oil Gorp. No. 1 Glasgs Scales, one location due north of the closest completed producer from the reef pay in the Wellman field of Southwest Terry County, has been potentialed.

It flowed six hours through a three-quarter inch choke and made 629.1 barrels of 42.3-gravity oil. That makes a calculated 24-hour potential of 2,516 barrels of oil.

No water was present. Gas-oil ratio was 387-1.

Top of pay is 9,536 feet and total depth is 9,890 feet. Production is coming from perforations in the casing at 9,580-9,726 feet and at 9,754-9,867 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 22, block C-36, psl survey.

Glasscock Well Flows 530 Barrels A Day

A three-quarter mile north and slightly east extension to Hubbard S. Russell No. 11 Wrage-Hendrickson in Central - West Glasscock County, has been completed for a daily flowing potential of 530 barrels of 38-gravity oil and two-tenths per cent basic sediment and water, at Yoek & Harper, Inc., No. 1 K. S. Bonne.

Production in the new well is coming from hydrofraced section at 6,870-7,135 feet.

The potential was based on an actual eight - hour flow through one-half-inch choke.

The producing zone was hydrofraced with a triple batch.

Gas-oil ratio on the final test was 453-1. Casing pressure ranged from 410 to 400 pounds. Tubing pressure ranged from 300 to 80 pounds.

1949 Tax Assessments in 74 Texas Cities Are Compared

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 15 — (AP) You think you've got it bad when those property tax settlements hit your mailbox?

Maybe you have.

A new reference booklet, published by the University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs, tells you just how bad—or good—your taxes are compared to other Texas municipalities.

The statistics cover state, county, city and school district taxation both individually and collectively on the basis of 1949 levies. Lynn F. Anderson, assistant to Institute Director Stuart A. MacCorkle, did the compiling.

Bright spot of the report is the reminder state property taxes are due for a 40 per cent rollback in 1951. That won't help the little fellow much if he hasn't any taxable property besides his $3.00 (or less) homestead, because the homestead was already exempt from the tax anyway. It will be an unquestioned saving, however, to all other property owners.

The rollback comes from a constitutional amendment adopted two years ago abolishing the state general revenue property tax and empowering counties to levy it if voters so authorize at an election.

Anderson found evidence counties currently imposed a comparatively light tax burden on assessable property within their jurisdiction. He found most counties not levying a law-permitted special tax of 15 cents per $100 evaluation for building and maintaining roads and bridges. This, he said, may be an indication counties do not need the extra 30 cents allowed them under the new constitutional amendment.

To permit accurate comparisons of tax rates among the various communities, it was necessary for Anderson to "adjust" the tax rates to a common denominator. This was necessary because many taxing units do not assess property at full market value and then do not tax it at its full assessment. Anderson's "adjusted" figures show the rate represented by your actual tax bill in relation to the full market value of your property. This was done in each instance to provide the common basis for comparisons.

The "adjusted" 1949 county tax rates varied from 7 cents to $1.97 per $100 evaluation, with the average at 42 cents.

Adjustment of city rates showed those rates varying from 8 cents to $1.70, with the average at 76 cents—nearly twice the adjusted county levy.

There were nine cities with populations in excess of 5,000 whose 1949 unadjusted tax rates equalled the constitutional limit of $2.50. There were 173 cities and towns of 5,000 or less population whose tax rates equalled the constitutional limit of $1.50 in that category.

Common school district taxes ranged from a low of 6 cents to a high of $1.90. The average was 95 cents. One third of all independent school districts levied the legal maximum of $1.50. Four districts exceeded the levy by special legislative permission. The average for independent districts was $1.23.

Totaling up all the adjusted tax rates on property in Texas, the report found the wide range of 72 cents to $3.98, depending on where you live. Individual rates were concentrated, however, in the $1 to $3 area. Only one municipality had a total rate of less than $1 (Portland, 72 cents), and 22 had total rates of $3 or more. Laredo was highest at $3.97.

This is how the adjusted property tax rates levied in 1949 on $100 of the assessed value in representative cities and towns compare:

Extension of Pecos Field Assured By Well Flowing From 5,025

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 3-B State Vollmer, on the northeast side of the Abell-Solurian-Montoya field in North Pecos County has assured an extension for the producing of the field.

It took a drillstem test in the Fusselman lime at 5,025-55 feet. The tool was open two hours and two minutes. Gas surfaced in 16 minutes.

Drilling mud started flowing out at the top in 38 minutes and the drillpipe flowed out oil in 54 minutes.

The oil was flowed to pits for 24 minutes and then turned to tanks through a five-eighth inch bottom hole choke.

It produced 45.9 barrels of 36.6 gravity oil in one hour. Gas-oil ratio was 552-1. Surface flowing pressure was 90 pounds. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 1,750 pounds and 1,800 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 2,150 pounds.

The fluid left the pipe when the tester was closed and reversed out. There was no formation water.

Operator then deepened to 5,090 feet. The lime section between 5,055 feet and 5,090 feet logged 20 to 50 per cent porosity and 20 to 40 per cent oil stain. A drillstem test is now being run on that zone.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of lot 16, section 38, block 9, H&GN survey.

The drillstie is 675 feet from west and 661 feet from south lines of section 10, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Sunday Fire Damages Roof in North Snyder

A fire yesterday morning in Northeast Snyder in the house of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Mitchell was quickly put out by volunteer firemen and the city's two fire trucks.

Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, daughter-in-law of the S. D. Mitchells, said that she went into the back yard and saw smoke and fire billowing from the top of the house.

A wood stove was being used to heat the house, and the fire probably started from the flue, Norman Autry, fire chief said.

Firemen extinguished the blaze quickly, but it caused entensive damage to the roof and upper portion of the house.

S. D. Mitchell was visiting a daughter after spending last week in Snyder Hospital suffering from pneumonia, when the fire occurred, Mrs. Mitchell said.

Communist China Considering New UN Cease-Fire Proposal

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 15. — United Nations diplomats paced the corridors today, waiting for Communist China's reply to their latest peace bid.

If previous experience is any criterion, their vigil promised to be long. The Communist Peiping regime twice kept the U.N. on tenterhooks for over a week before it rejected two previous appeals.

Some were optimistic this time. The new offer, adopted by the 60-nation political committee Saturday, gives the Chinese Reds much the kind of a deal they have been demanding.

REDS GAIN

Previous resolutions only asked for a cease-fire in Korea. The new proposal offer the Communists, after fighting is halted, a political conference on far eastern questions including Formosa's future and Red China's demand for a U.N seat.

Diplomatic advices received in New Delhi from Peiping said that the Communists are carefully considering the new U.N. proposal and consider it an advance on anything yet put forward.

This information said Peiping's first reaction was the cease-fire negotiations should be part of the political talks, rather than a preliminary to them.

PLUGGED BY RAU

The new proposal was sparkplugged by India's Sir Benegal N. Rau and supported by the Bristish Commonwealth countries. The U. S. also voted for it, primarily, Delegate Warren R. Austin said to maintain the united non-Communist front and to go on record as having made every possible move for peace in the Far East.

If the bid is spurned, the U. S. plans to press for drastic U.N. action against the Red Chinese. A majority of delegates here have said that they then would support the U. S. move.

Liquor Case Is Argued Before County Court

County court convened this morning with the hearing of testimony in the case of L. C. (Tom) Moore, 37 years old, of the Park Realty Co. here, charged with unlawful possession of whisky; final judgment ordered bonds forfeited on three other persons; and six other cases were set for hearing this week.

Both the prosecution and defense rested their cases shortly before noon in the Moore case, and argument was to begin in the afternoon. Moore is accused of possessing 13 pints of whisky for the purpose of illegal sale at the time of his arrest Oct. 26, when five officers conducted a raid on his premises on Twenty - third Street near Deep Creek.

Testifying against Moore were L. E. Haynes and Homer Whisnand, deputy sheriffs; E. W. Green and Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolmen; and J. L. Rogers, Texas ranger, all having participated in the raid.

Rogers testified that he discovered the whisky in a coffee table with a hidden compartment.

Tomorrow the court will call the cases of James Franklin Condron, 23, of Post, charged with driving while intoxicated Dec. 23; Anderson Davis, Sr., 48, and Anderson Davis Jr., about 27, Snyder Negroes charged with liquor law violations about Dec. 26; Vernon Matthews, 36, former operator of the Log Cabin Cafe, charged with illegal transportation of liquor; and Bill Maxwell, 21, accused of possessing liquor for unlawful sale at the Log Cabin.

The defendants, with the exception of the Andersons, are either being held in jail or are free on appearance bonds. Both the Andersons who are at liberty but are not on bond, have been convicted of liquor law violations on numerous previous occasions.

On the docket for Wednesday is the case of Lemuel Hudson, 46, of Snyder, charged wth unlawful possession of liquor.

Judgment became final today on the forfeiture of bonds of L. T. Crawford, 24, formerly of 2114 Avenue V; Fred Schumacher, formerly of Snyder, and Eugene Shepard, 44-year-old Negro, all charged with misdemeanor offenses.

Sureties on the bonds for Crawford and Shepard were James A. Clark and C. U. Bishop. Sureties on Schumaker's bond were T. [illegible] Goss and Gordon Goss.

al route back to the main body of allied troops.

Meanwhile, Communist reinforcements were reported pouring into the area north and west of Wonju. There they would be in position for a frontal assault against the stand-fast American, French and Dutch troops of the division [illegible] sweep building up the cut-off threat.

TOP TALKS

Collins' promise that the U. S. would stay in Korea followed a series of high-level talks in Tokyo. These brought together Gen. MacArthur; Collins; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, U. S. Air Forces chief of staff; Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith chief of the U. S. central Intelligence Agency, and Maj. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, Army chief of intelligence.

High naval officers also sat in.

The talks touched off a flurry of speculation—even that Nationalist China's troops might be permitted to fight in Korea.

There were even reports that the talks dealt with the possible evacuation of Korea by UN troops.

No announcement was made by the high command.

ANOTHER MYSTERY

Another puzzling development was the abrupt switch in the command of the Second Division. Maj. Gen. Clark Louis Ruffner was named to replace Maj. Gen. Robert B. McClure. There was no explanation. But McClure is an expert on China and formerly was deputy chief of staff to Chinese Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

It was assumed that McClure was not removed for any reason except that of a larger assignment. This might be liaison for a command position with the Chinese Nationalists, who have an army of around 400,000 trained men in Formosa.

Women Report Theft From Their Apartment

Theft of personal property was reported to city police by Mrs. Pauline Messer and Mrs. Virginia Griggs of the Yeager Courts this morning.

Police said entry to the apartment at the courts was made through the front door.

Fire in Trailer House

Fire destroyed the contents and caused extensive damage to a trailer house at the D&D Trailer Courts in the 1400 block of Avenue R about 10:30 this morning.

No one lived in the trailer, but a man had slept in it last night Mrs. Josie Keithley, owner said.

Fireman said the fire probably caught in bedding in the trailer.

It was burning wildly before it was noticed and reported, witnesses said.

minutes was 1,640 pounds.

Operator ran five and one-half inch casing to total depth of 4,010 feet and is now waiting for cement to cure.

Casing will be pe[illegible]d and production tests made on the section which was drillstem tested.

HOWARD FAILURE

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Co. No. 1-AC-1 N. H. Reed, Northeast Howard County wildcat 11 miles north of Coahoma, and about one mile south of the south side of the East Vealmoor field, is to be plugged and abandoned on total depth of 8,089 feet in lower Pennsylvanian lime.

It made salt water with only slight shows of oil and gas in the section at 8,004-81-8,089 feet. Some geologists think that zone is the Strawn.

The project had some free oil and a smal amount of salt water in the top section of the Pennsylvanian lime reef.

None of the sections penetrated logged any possibilities of making a commercial producer of petroleum.

Location was 660 from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 23, block 25, H&TC survey.

IN ELLENBURGER

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Buchanan, Northeast Howard County wildcat, two and one half miles north of Coahoma and 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 25, block 31, T-1-N, T&P survey, is bottomed at 9,280 feet in Ellenburger lime and is conditioning the hole to run electric log surveys.

It ran a one-hour and 10-minute drillstem test at 9,250-80 feet. The recovery was the 800-foot water cushion, 495 feet of slightly oil and gas cut sulphur water and 540 feet of sulphur water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 750 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 4,000 pounds.

This prospector has not logged any shows of oil or gas in commercial amounts in any section it has drilled through. It probably will be ordered abandoned and plugged in the near future.

BURDELL REPORT

Operator is drilling ahead below 4,635 feet in lime at the Burdell Oil Co. Seekamp No. 2, Gaines County field location. Burdell's No. 1 Long, Lubbock County wildcat, is drilling ahead below 8,337 feet in lime and shale.

Operator at the Burdel No. 4 Sowell, Runnels County prospector in the Chadbourne field, is still fishing for tools. The well is at total depth of 5,321 feet and completion attempts will be resumed when tools are recovered.

Texas History Written in Brands
22

One of the earliest ranches of record in West Texas is the "22"; John and Charles Hensley of Jack County brought their cattle to the head of McDonald Creek in Crosby County in 1879. This was free range country and their cattle ranged on a portion of the Plains country and the Cap Rock. Their headquarters, consisting of a half dugout about 10 by 20 feet, was dug in the side of a creek bank. At the beginning they ranged about 5,000 head of cattle in this brand. Their ranch was the beginning of a large operation that has continued in Jack County until this day, managed by members of the original family.

No Application Needed To Renew Licenses

Many motorists in this area are still under the impression that they have to file an application for renewal of their driving licenses, which is erroneous, according to T. A. Wilson, driver's test examiner of the State Highway Safety Department.

"It is no longer necessary to fill out an application for a renewal of license," said Wilson.

"The motorist should tear off the top of his old license, showing the correct current address, and send it, along with a post office money order, to the Texas Department of Safety, Austin, keeping the stub of the money order, which should be attached to the part retained by the motorist," he said.

For renewal of operator's license, the motorist should remit 50 cents; for commercial license, 1.00; and for a chauffeur's license, $3, he pointed out.

Each Texas license runs for a period of two years.

Motorists who have licenses from other states, but who come to Texas to live or work, must obtain a Texas license for their vehicles, said Wilson.

Motorists in this county can contact Wilson at the courthouse between 9 and 10 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of each week in the morning when their license has expired.

Tickets On Sale For Snyder Day at Rodeo

Snyder day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth are moving forward, Harold Bennett, Chamber of Commerce manager, said late yesterday.

The Chamber of Commerce has received 200 tickets to the afternoon performance which will be dedicated to Snyder on Feb. 3. The performance will begin at 2 o'clock, Bennett said.

Tickets are $3 each, and persons wanting them should contact the Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible, because unsold tickets must be returned by Jan. 25, or additional tickets should be ordered then, he said.

Persons wishing to join the Snyder motorcade that will leave here Friday afternoon, Feb. 2, should contact the chamber so that preparations can be made for everyone, Bennett said.

Two Fined on Charges Of Driving Violations

Two persons entered pleas of guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated in county court Saturday.

J. J. Lewelling, 50 of Hobbs, N.M., arrested late Friday at the "Y" on East highway by Mark Search, chief of police of Hermleigh, was fined $123.50, while leigh, was fined $123.50, while Charles Smith, 63, of Hermleigh, arrested in that city by Search, was also fined $123.50 by Judge Edgar Taylor.

Pig Brings Lions Up

HARRODSBURG, Ky., Jan. 15. (AP)—Attendance at the Mackville Lions Club has jumped from 76 to 97 per cent lately, and small wonder.

The Lions recently bought a pig, with the understanding that the first member who was absent had to take care of the porker until another absentee was forced to take his turn as the pig's nursemaid.

With 450 Pipes In Collection, Greer Can't Stop Buying Them

Pipe smoking has become more than a habit with Bruce L. Greer, administrator of Snyder Hospital. It is his past, present, and future—aside from tasks such as his full time job of hospital work, and being president of a very active Kiwanis Club here.

His collection includes about 450 pipes, the count is not exact, Greer says, because he has not had time to make a recent count, and is valued at between $4,500 and $5,500.

Special prides of the huge collection that fill 15 pipe racks, are the ones that have stories behind them.

DIAMOND JIM

One of the pipes with an illustrous history is a small cigarette pipe that was handed down to Greer by another pipe collector for $300. It started as being a present from the wealthy Diamond Jim Brady to an attractive member of his harem. The girls mother sold the pipe to the collector, and then Greer obtained it.

That is just one of the stories, another pipe in his collection is a small Meerschaum that was taken from the body of a soldier killed in the Civil War. "Tuborg" is inscribed on a 220 year old pipe that came to America with early settlers from Denmark in the Greer collection.

One of the most valuable pipes in the collection is a huge Meerschaum made in 1814. It's present value is around $750, Greer says. Another Meerschaum in the form of an eagle's claw in the collection has a similar value.

All of this pipe collecting started back in 1939 while Greer was working in Fort Worth. A friend sent him a pipe catalogue as a joke, and after thumbing through it a few times he ordered a pipe. It has been almost a continuous succession of pipe orders since.

"I guess I buy one every time my wife isn't looking," he laughed. "She used to get pretty mad, but now, although she wouldn't admit it, she gets as big a kick out of a new one as I do."

Most of the pipes he keeps in boxes under the bed, in the garage, in the closet and "darn near ever place in the house." His smoking favorites—about 25 of them—are in racks handy to his easy chair at home, or on his desk in the hospital office.

He says he has smoked about all of his pipes except about 30 that he hasn't got around to yet.

"I have smoked only one kind of tabacco since I have been smoking pipes," he said, "and that is Half & Half."

CHERRY WOOD

The pipe that Greer values most highly of all is a huge cherry wood one with a bowl as big around as a plate and having a hole in the center for tobacco. It takes only a half-can to fill it. The pipe was made for an Oklahoma A&M fraternity, whose members carved their names on the bowl. Later it was given to Greer while he was working at Consolidated Aircraft's plant in Fort Worth.

During the war Greer's brother joined the Marines. The night before he left for San Diego and duty he sat around home talking leisurely adding his name to those carved on the cherry wood bowl. Greer's brother was killed at Corregidor.

The variety of Greer's pipes are endless. Included are some 40 that are hand carved by a pipe maker in Boise, Idaho, Meerschaums carved in the shape of a horses hoof another with a team of horses carved on it, and yet another carved in the shape of a head.

About $3,000 worth of rare pipes from his huge collection are being held by Bruce L. Greer in the above picture. Greer values his collection of more than 450 pipes at about $5,500. He regularly smokes about 30 of the pipes in rotation, but uses only one brand of pipe tobacco.

Greers pipe smoking and collecting has led him to become a member of the National Order of Pipe Smokers, the Pipe Smokers Club of America Unlimited, and the International Association of Pipe Smokers, and he is a past president of the Council Bluffs Pipe Smokers Club of Council Bluffs, Ia.

"I am going to attend the international pipe smokers convention that will be held at Dekalb, Ill., in October during National Pipe Smokers week," he said.

Greer has his pipe collection insured for $5,000, he says.

Pipe collecting has gotten into the Greer blood, it seems. His four-year-old son, Alwyn, has already started a collection of his own and now has about a dozen pipes, Greer says.

gram would take nearly 10 cents of each dollar spent.

HOME FRONT

3. Assigned $22,712,000,000 or 32 per cent of the total to the multiple other home-front costs of government, a $1,322,000,000 increase over this year. Mr. Truman said in this connection that "the requirements of national security are reflected in every major function of the budget."

4. Included in this total proposed out lays of $1,100,000,000 is help products as rubber, steel and aluminus; $1,277,000,000 to enlarge output of "atomic materials and weapons";$276,000,000 to enforce the price-wage controls Mr. Truman says are inescapable; $24,000,000 for rent controls; $90,000,000 for business loans.

5. Tucked in quietl most all the major items which fly the Truman "fair deal" flag—the FEPC plan for equal job rights for Negroes, federal aid to state schools, federal medical insurance with a first-year payroll tax totaling $275,000,000, housing for "low income groups' the main part of the Brannan Farm program, the St. Lawrence power-seaway project. But Mr. Truman put them all on a "defense-needs" footing.

6. Confronted Congress with an overall budget $24,384,000,000 bigger than this year's and one within $27,709,000,000 of the World War II peak.

STIFFEST TAXES

7. Faced Americans with prospects of the stiffest taxes in history, draining more than 27 per cent of the national income into the federal chest. he $16,456,000,000 tax hike suggestion, details of which will come later, posed a nearly 30 per cent increase in revenues. Only last year they were jacked up by $8,000,000,000 or so a year to a record high level.

8. Asked a $35,000,000 increase in postal rates—mostly on magazines, newspapers, advertising matter and the like—to trim a threatened $521,000,000 postoffice deficit. Without the rate hike, the budget deficit will go to 16,807,000,000.

9. Claimed "strict economy in non-defense spending" was his policy and it was "incorporated in this budget." He gave an example "The only major new public works included are those directly necessary to the defense effort."

10. Called on the nation to "work longer and harder" and be prepared for prolonged sacrifices because "the present emergency may be of long duration and we must be prepared for crises in the more distant as well as in the immediate future.

When the United States entered World War 1, the Aviation Service—later the AAF— had 55 planes and 65 officers.

Latest figures indicate that there are 3,550,000 tractors on U.S. farms.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP)—Dr. Hu Shih, former Chinese ambassador to the United States, today expressed the opinion "Stalin is not going to destroy himself by opening a second front in Europe."

Adenauer Rejects Red Offer To Reunite East And West Germany

BONN, Germany, Jan. 15. (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today rejected the East German Communist offer to negotiate on reuniting divided Germany.

In a statement to the press, broadcast simultaneously by West German radio stations, he charged that the Soviet zone's Communist regime was the primary cause of the German East-West cleavage. The Russians, he said, were forcibly preventing the unification of the country under free and democratic conditions.

AP Poll Lists 'All About Eve' Best Picture Shown In 1950

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 15. — "All About Eve" tops an Associated Press poll of 100 leading Hollywood correspondents on the best movie of 1950. Judy Holliday, Bette Davis, and Gloria Swanson are virtually tied for best-actress honors.

"Eve," an incisive backstage drama, received 45 votes. Next were "Sunset Boulevard," with 22; "King Solomon's Mines," 7½, and "The Men," 6.

A sizzling race among ballots on the year's best starring actress showed:

Miss Holliday, as the dumb blond heroine of "Born Yesterday" — 32 votes.

Miss Davis, Broadway star of "Eve" — 31½.

Miss Swanson, the old-time movie star in "Sunset Boulevard." — 30½.

Jose Ferrer, as the big-nosed swordsman-poet in "Cyrano de Bergerac," led the starring-actor field with 38½ votes.

CONTENDER

Other contenders included William Holden in "Sunset Boulevard," 19½; James Stewart in "Harvey," 11; Louis Calhern in "The Magnificent Yankee," 8; Marlon Brando in "The Men," 7, and Gregory Peck in "The Gunfighter," 6.

Josephine Hull, as Stewart's harried sister in "Harvey," scored the biggest sweep in the poll — 58 votes. Miss Hull, 66, originated the role on Broadway.

Her closest competitors for supporting-actress laurels were Thelma Ritter in "All About Eve," 8; Miss Holliday in "Adam's Rib," 7, and Anne Baxter in "All About Eve," 6. Miss Baxter also received 3½ starring-actress votes for the same role.

The supporting-actor choice was George Sanders, cynical play critic of "Eve," with 41 1-3 votes.

Next were Arthur Kennedy in "The Glass Menagerie," 14 1-3; Sam Jaffe in "The Asphalt Jungle," 9, and Jeff Chandler in "Broken Arrow," 7. Holden picked up an additional 3½ votes in the supporting category for his "Sunset Boulevard" performance and 1½ for "Born Yesterday."

The near photo finish among starring actresses indicates a close race for the movie "Oscar." Last year's similar AP poll of 80 correspondents accurately foretold the Academy Awards.

The poll queried columnists and reviewers, newspaper, magazine, and trade-paper writers, foreign press representatives, and radio correspondents. A few split their votes two or three ways.

Drunk Driving Charge Against John Agar

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 15. (AP)— John Agar, 29, Shirley Temple's ex-husband, is slated to appear in court today to answer drunk driving charges.

If convicted, it may mean 30 days in jail for the young actor. He was put on one-year probation last April after pleading guilty to reckless driving — with a 30-day sentence suspended.

Agar was arrested Saturday night by officers who said he was driving erratically on Wilshire Boulevard. He was released on $150 bail yesterday.

(The information ministry refused to give the Associated Press a permit to attend the trial.)

More Bald Women

DENVER, (AP)—Mrs. Max Guzofsky, who helps her husband make wigs and toupees at their shop, believes Colorado has a higher percentage of completely bald women than any other state.

"I don't know what that is," she said, "except, perhaps, it is drier here than in the east and the oil in the glands of the scalp dries out."

Seven League Boots

Marine Sgt. Charles J. Nelson of Seattle, Wash., takes good care of his only pair of shoes, size 15½ EE, at a camp in South Korea. He received the special footwear issue from the United States. Nelson had to wear burlap on his feet when his other pair of shoes wore out during the bloody retreat from the Changjin Reservoir.
