

On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Jr.

The new Chief of Police has decided that there is entirely too much violation of the traffic rules in Loraine for the safety of everyone concerned. He is right. Everyone has been driving and walking as he pleased for a long time in our fair city, no regarding the safety of himself or others. The practice ought to be stopped before someone is badly hurt.

We who live here have formed the habit of driving where we pleased. If we want to turn our car in the middle of a block and park in on the wrong side of the street we just do it; if we want to cut a corner, well we just cut it; if we want to walk across the highway against a red light, we take the chance and go across; if we want to walk across the street or highway in the middle of the block we dodge the cars and go ahead. All of that is "freedom" of the privilege of doing as we want to but such practices may cause us to lose our "freedom" of action or cause someone else to lose theirs. Lets all obey the rules.

Venerable Disease On Increase In Texas

Austin, Texas, February 1—Here are some ominous statistics to ponder.

State Health Officer George W. Cox reveals an average of 9,000 venereal disease cases were uncovered each day of 1950. Total new cases of syphilis and gonorrhea for the year just passed, reached 3,863.

"We had more cases of syphilis last year than the combined total for tuberculosis, smallpox, scarlet fever, polio, diphtheria, malaria, and typhoid fever," the state health official said.

Venereal diseases far outnumbered any one of the eighteen other communicable infections reported in the state, with the single exception of influenza.

"It isn't an enviable record," Dr. Cox declared. "Not for gonorrhea, anyway."

Statistical records kept by the state health agency show a sharp reduction in syphilis rates, but gonorrhea cases have remained almost constant, with 1950 showing a slight increase over 1949.

Dr. Cox said it indicates a "large segment of the people are not aware of the seriousness of gonorrhea infections, or else they're indifferent to their own health and that of others."

"It is a common misconception that gonorrhea is a minor ailment, when the truth of the matter is that it's a serious disease capable of causing permanent body damage."

"Untreated gonorrhea can cause blindness, sterility, arthritic conditions, and have other serious consequences," Dr. Cox asserted. "Sometimes it requires operative procedures."

Sgt. Oliver Barnes of Camp Gordon, Ga., spent last week with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wilson, and family.

Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. John Johnson and Miss Marilyn Maney spent Saturday and Sunday in Abilene with Mrs. Grace Jackson.

Cold Weather Breaks Water Main

The extreme cold weather last week left many broken water pipes in both town and country and perhaps a few car radiators. One city water main froze and burst causing the water to be cut off for about an hour early Friday night.

The cold spell did not last as long as some we have had, but near zero temperature for three or four days in succession froze water pipes where they had never frozen before.

The snow which covered the ground last Wednesday left .05 of an inch moisture.

Notice Given Car Operators and Pedestrians

You will notice we have markers on our sidewalks for parking space that have been badly abused. Sometimes you will find space enough for three or four more cars to park if everyone would park his car between the markers.

And another failure we have is turning in the middle of the street. To park, you should cross the highway to turn or go to the postoffice street and turn back.

And our pedestrians are crossing the highway when traffic on the highway has a green light. You are taking your life in your own hands when you do this.

We have traffic regulations and we must abide by them.

I am asking you to do these things for your safety and for more parking space, so if you get a fineable ticket for these offenses don't blame anyone but yourself.

Cut-off Date For Vet Training July 25th

World War 2 vets planning GI Bill education or training are reminded that the cut-off date for starting courses, July 25, 1951, is only six months away.

The coming spring school term will be the last chance for most veterans to enter or re-enter school before the deadline. The July 25th date applies to most World War 2 vets—those discharged from service before July 25, 1947. Those discharged after that date have four years from their discharge date in which to begin. According to current VA regulations, vets must actually have commenced their training by the cut-off date if they want to continue afterward. A veteran must be in training on that date unless he has temporarily interrupted his course for summer vacation or for other reason beyond his control. Once he completes or discontinues his course of GI Bill training after the deadline, he may not start another course. Also he must meet the following two post-deadline requirements:

He will be expected to pursue his training "continuously until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student". And he may change his educational objective only while in training and then for reasons satisfactory to the Administrator. Public Law 610, which permits a veteran to make a first change of "general" fields of study merely by applying for it, will not be in effect after the cut-off date. Special consideration will be given to four categories of veterans—those who, for reasons beyond their control, either may not be able to resume their training by July 25, 1951, or may not be in position to remain in continuous training afterward: (1.) Vets who have started GI Bill studies and interrupt them to go back to active military or naval service; (2.) Vets who completed educational or pre-educational GI Bill training and can't get into a medical or dental school by deadline time; (3.) Teachers who want their summer training training to a summer; (4.) Those who complete GI Bill in dependentate courses and intend to go ahead with graduate training which would start after the deadline date. Those who stop training in order to return to active duty will be permitted to resume their training within a reasonable period. Following that release from service, even though they get out after the deadline date.

House of David Basketball Team Coming To Loraine February 15th

Bobby Roth and Moose Shannon

Those basketball maniacs, loaded with more tricks are coming back to Loraine and the largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand when the famous House of David Basketball team, known as the world's most colorful basketball club, takes on the Loraine Independent Team at the Loraine gymnasium Thursday night, February 15, at 7:30 in a game that will be choke full of basketball mirth, madcap ability, and humor that should please everyone young and old.

These bearded boys will waile on the floor headed by their giant center, "Moose Shannon, 6' 7" 235 pounder, who dunks the ball down into the basket. Mor giants will follow the "Moose" in this order. "Toss" Heavner wears a size 14 shoe and weighs only 215. Next comes Bud Scott, a 10 year veteran with the Bearded Davids. Bud tips the scales at 190 pounds and stands 6' 4" in the ozone and plays forward. Then comes lanky 6' 3" "Deak" Ehorn, another of the star aggregation that forms the David shooting guards and defensive strength. Next in line comes clever aggressive Bobby Roth, has ketball's fastest breaking forward and the Davids floor manager.

The local team will have their hands full in holding these giants in check but are conceding no points as they have been pointing for this game with the nationally known Davids.

The House of David Team with their beards blowing in the breeze and their eyes cocked on the basket will be out to add another win to their long list of victories. Known throughout the world as the team that plays more games, for success, and travels more miles than any other team in the world.

Just because the House of David has long success does not mean that they are invincible. Underneath you will find a group of young men who have made their name in the game of basketball in college and the pro field, and from all outward appearances they will be together on this team for at least the next three years as each one individually feels he can play that long in fast competition.

For 25 years the House of David Team has been touring the North America continent playing in the United States, Canada and Mexico, asking no quarters and certainly giving none to any team. It is not uncommon for these bearded lads to play 200 games each season and their number one aim is to entertain from the beginning to end. It will be the second appearance in Loraine for the Davids, having appeared here last year against the Independent team of Loraine.

A good preliminary game has been lined up to open the night's menu and it promises to be an entertaining game to get the fans on edge for the three ring circus of basketball that is to be the main attraction.

Proceeds of the game will go to the high school athletic fund.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Communists Offer Vague Proposal For Negotiations in Korean War; Army Plans 24 Divisions by July

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper-Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PEACE:

Price Is Too High

Communist China's ambiguous proposal for a truce in Korea fanned the hopes for peace among the American people and created a dangerous division among the free nations.

The Chinese proposal said, in part, if the withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea was being put into effect, Peiping would advise the Chinese volunteers to return to China. The statement did not guarantee that Chinese troops would be withdrawn, nor did it say anything about North Korean forces. The statement was too ambiguous in the opinion of most American observers.

Withdrawal of the U.S. fleet from Formosa and a seat in the United Nations for Communist China also appeared in vague terms in the proposal for a truce.

The kindest thing that could be said about the Chinese statement was that perhaps there was a desire for peace in China. But from the American view that price was too high.

From the more practical viewpoint, however, the note put the United States in a bad situation politically. If it agrees to consider Peiping's renewed overtures for a negotiated peace, it is bound to incur wide criticism at home. If it shuns these overtures, the accusations of the Soviet Union may fall on more fertile ground.

The Chinese move was seen by some observers as an attempt to block the American proposal in the U.N. of branding China the aggressor in Korea. If that was its purpose, it succeeded, at least temporarily.

Other observers questioned the status of the statement. It was not addressed to the United Nations. It was little more than a postal card to India in reply to questions of policy.

ARMY:

24 Divisions

Army strength by July will be equivalent to 24 combat divisions, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, reported recently.

The build-up of combat strength by July will include 18 divisions and 18 regimental combat teams with supporting units, together with numerous independent tank battalions, field-artillery battalions and similar combat units.

Collins indicated, however, he did not believe the nation's current goal of 3,463,205 men in the armed forces will be enough and the total boosted.

And while army officer and government officials talked of manpower problems on the home-front, a new Korean's casualty list was announced by the department of defense.

An additional 2,424 casualties reported by the department, bring the Korean war total to 45,137.

The department said 6,509 were killed outright, 772 had died of wounds, and 22 men originally listed as missing in action have been determined to be dead. Thus the death toll stood at 7,303.

Wounded totaled 29,951, including the 772 who later died. The missing total of 8,677 included 822 men who since have returned to American control and 108 known prisoners of war.

New Contract

John L. Lewis, (right), president of the UMW, puts on the nearest thing to a smile he can manage after he and Harry M. A NEW TREND

Iowa Factories Outproduce Farms in '50

The trend toward expansion of manufacturing in the Midwest gained national attention with a report that for the first time in 11 years Iowa factories outproduced farms.

The report is remarkable because the average acre in Iowa returns a greater farm income than in any other section of the nation. It gives also a general picture of the in-

Housing

Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley told the senate banking committee that the federal government may soon have to help communities build waterlines, roads, schools and other facilities to meet the needs of defense workers.

PRICE FREEZE:

Needed for Long Time

By the time this appears in print, the administration should have acted on the price-wage controls so long needed to stabilize the nation's economy in its all-out mobilization effort.

During the early weeks of 1951 the need of price controls became a pressing matter as wholesale prices hit an all-time high. The cost of the average family's food was the highest in the nation's history.

Critics of the administration had demanded a price-wage freeze for some time. Government officials, however, protested any freeze would be meaningless unless adequate machinery to enforce price controls was available.

It was also apparent that there was considerable difference of opinion between Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilization chief, Allen Valentine, economic stabilization chief, and others in charge of the administration's efforts to set up a wage-price control organization.

President Truman entered the fray by firing Valentine and appointing Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Association of America, to take his place. Johnston will settle any disputes between the OPS and WSB.

Administration critics demands for price-wage controls included a roll-back of price to January 1. As for wages, a temporary freeze was the most popular demand—but only temporary until some kind of wage control formula could be worked out.

LIVING COST:

Hits on All-Time High

The cost of living in the United States hit an all-time high early in 1951, with the dollar worth less than 60 cents of its 1939 buying power.

The latest estimates placed the cost of living at 68.1 per cent higher than in January, 1939, although food alone went up almost 118 per cent in the 11 years. The jump was even greater in some individual foods. For example, the bread and butter the average factory worker could buy in 1939 for 39 cents now cost him approximately $1.15.

An analysis of the figures revealed that a man who made $3,000 ten years ago now needs $5,440 to match his buying power. The equivalent of a $5,000-a-year income then is now $9,356.

The average factory worker earned approximately $1,390 a year in 1939 and about $5,000 last year, an increase of 115 per cent.

BONDS:

Treasury Plans Extension

The treasury plans to offer holders of Series E savings bonds an opportunity to keep their bonds another 10 years at 2.9 per cent interest and to retain the government interest rate on long-term treasury bonds at 2.5 per cent, it was reported recently.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said holders may cast their bonds, continue to hold the present bonds with an automatic interest-bearing extension which would amount to 2.9 per cent compounded at the end of 10 years, or exchange the bonds for current-income savings bonds of series G, which bear interest every six months.

Congress must pass the 10-year extension, however, before it will become effective.

Of the $58,000,000,000 of total outstanding savings bonds, nearly $35,000,000,000 is in the series E.

Thousands of Small Communities To Join in Annual Day of Prayer circulated "Purple Heart Diary," based on experiences in entertaining men in veterans' hospitals. Now she has been signed to make a picture based on this background. And that resulted from her appearing in dramatic sketches on the video show titled "Star Time."

Irene Beasley, who originated her popular CBS show, "Grand Slam," hopes that other communities will follow the example of Cincinnati, O., where a reproduction of the game was played in connection with the city's drive for the Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. Irene gladly gave permission to use the program's name and format, and sent a prize for the best entry.

Producer Milton Sperling thinks the day of the tough-looking gangster is passing from the screen. For "The Enforcer," though the star is Humphrey Bogart, he chose assorted characters who looked as un-criminal as possible.

Abbott and Costello journeyed to New York to star on the NBC "Comedy Hour" telecast and picked up a star for their first film production venture. She is Shaye Cogan, featured singer on the Vaughn Monroe TV series. She will be granted a four-week leave of absence to make her film debut in their picture. She is little and blonde—and excited.

Pierre Cresson has been signed by Paramount to a long-term contract. He is being considered as a successor to Charles Boyer, now that Boyer won't wear a toupee or play romantic roles any more. He is 26, said to be the idol of French film fans, has appeared in 10 French pictures, and is one of six current favorites of the Paris press, which predicts stardom.

Jack Smith, singing star of CBS' "Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Margaret Whiting Show," went on a diet consisting mainly of Swiss cheese, to lose 20 pounds in 22 days for his first dramatic role, in Warner's "Moonlight Bay."

Demonstration of U. S. Air Power Will Ease Unrest

By Wright A. Patterson

COULD ALL THE PEOPLE of this country have the privilege I had, that of seeing one of the nation's great air fields on which are based America's mighty bombing planes and of meeting many of the personnel of that field, it would remove from their minds, as it did from mine, much of the fear of the Red army.

Not only was it my privilege to see the number and size of the nation's great war birds, but I also had the opportunity of meeting and knowing, in an intimate way, many of the young men who composed their crews, the personnel that can and will provide protection for the American people from any attack a Red enemy may make.

It was the personnel of those crews that constituted the basis of my confidence in our safety, that removed the fear of any attack on the part of Stalin and his Red forces. What that acquaintance did for me it would do for the vast majority of the American people, could they have the same opportunity I had. It was an inspiring experience.

It was not that I was told in facts and figures of the ability and competence of these young pilots, co-pilots, navigators, bombardiers, radar and radio officers, and gunners, for they told me nothing of that. There was in their conversations nothing of brag. My guess would be that any tendency to brag on the part of Thousands of small communities throughout the United States will join in the observance of the 64th annual World Day of Prayer this Friday. The yearly observance in this country is sponsored by Protestant women of over 80 denominations.

Overseas, women of 91 countries will join in prayer for lasting peace and strengthening of the bonds of Christian unity. The theme of this year's prayer was chosen by church women in Germany from I John 4:18, "Perfect love casts out fear."

The theme is chosen each year by a different national group, according to Mrs. Welthy Honsinger Fisher, of New York city, chairman of the World Day of Prayer committee.

Commending this year's choice, Mrs. Fisher said, "The people of the world today are fearful of each other, and their distrust can bring about the destruction that they fear. It is time all of us were reminded of One who said love can bring courage and peace."

OBSERVED on the first Friday in Lent, World Day of Prayer is marked by the ringing of church bells and the closing of many business establishments for special services in many communities. Services at hospital and in prisons, and special programs for children, are also part of the observance in many towns.

In some communities theaters project the prayer on the movie screen. Proclamations by mayors and governors and broadcasts over major networks urge support of the program.

The traditional offerings, which exceeded 255,000 last year, are divided between home and foreign missions. The home missions use the money to provide child care and other social and religious services for agricultural migrants, religious education and social services for American Indians and improvement of the Negro ministry in sharecropper areas of the south.

Funds allotted to the foreign missions are used in this country to aid foreign students and abroad to help support Christian women's colleges in the far east and India and the production and distribution of Christian literature.

"This year's service asks that the offering be given out of thankful hearts . . . may bless multitudes, whom, having not seen, we love."

THE FICTION CORNER

THE FAITHFUL SERVANT

By Maud McCurdy Welch

TIMES WERE HARD in the little town of Centerville and Sam Meadows, the town's only druggist was finding it hard to meet his bills. The shoe factory was shut down, one of the lumber mills had moved away and the other one was running half time.

Sam was a widower and lived economically in two rooms in the back of his store. He'd cut down on a few other things, but things kept getting worse.

Bill Bowen, one of Sam's good friends, came in one day to talk the situation over. "The trouble with you," he told Sam, "is that you're not business-like. How can you expect to run a business successfully if you don't collect?"

"When people are sick, they have to have medicine whether they can pay for it or not," Sam said reasonably.

"But Sam, you can't carry the whole town on your shoulders. If you go on extending credit, you'll probably find yourself in a bad spot."

Bill went to the door, turned back with a word of warning, "Better think it over, Sam."

Sam sighed. He looked up at the small neon sign over the entrance doors of which he'd always been so proud.

"Meadows Drug Store. Twenty-five years of service." Bill Bowen was right. After all a druggist had to take a stand somewhere. He has to protect himself. Sam's next customer was Mary

"The trouble with you," Bill told Sam, "is that you're not business-like. How can you expect to run a business successfully if you don't collect?"

Neely, a tired looking little woman. Sam knew what she wanted, a prescription re-filled for her brother's neuritis. "It's botherin' him awful today," she said.

Mary's husband had had a good job in the shoe factory, but it had been some time since he'd had a steady job.

But Sam had made up his mind. He drew a painful breath. "Mary, you already owe me thirty-five dollars. If you could pay for this prescription maybe . . ." but Sam's voice trailed off unhappily.

Mary's eyes were dazed with surprise. "I haven't any money, but . . ." she broke off. "You mean you . . . you won't let me have the medicine?"

Sam walked to the back of the store, unable to answer. Then suddenly he whirled around. Mary was gone. He hurried after her.

BILL WAS wrong. A man had to have faith. A man has to accept his responsibilities. The health of the people in this town had been entrusted to him. He couldn't fall them, whether they could pay or not.

Sam overtook Mary and said, "Come back. I'll fill the prescription. I'll also put up some Vitamin B for your brother."

"You're a good man, Sam," Mary said tearfully.

After that when people needed credit, they got it. Sam was as usual on call day or night.

Bill Bowen came to see him again. This time Sam told him that a druggist's responsibilities to his customers was as great as that of a doctor to his patients. Bill tried to argue with him, but Sam shook his head with a smile.

Bill went out and almost collided with Tom Shaver, the young cashier in the bank. Sam was filling a prescription for a shabby young man in overalls. He charged it and as the young man started to leave, Sam gave him a doll for his little girl.

Then Sam said, "Well, Tom, what's on your mind?" Tom Shaver grinned. "Just a wanted you to know the old town's waking up. Shoe factory opens next week, a furniture factory coming in and the mill's going to run full time. There'll be jobs for everybody and the people won't forget you, Sam." Tom went to the door, stopped under the neon sign. "I think I'm going to change, Sam. I read, 'Twenty-five years of Faithful Service'."

Sam smiled at him. He was remembering a favorite Bible text: "For we walk by faith, not by sight."

Jesus Meets Need

Lesson for February 11, 1951

WHAT PEOPLE want would fill many books. What people need is a simpler story. Whatever success Christianity has had, is due to its success in meeting human needs. If Christianity were only an argument, or a system of ideas, it would never have gone as far as it has, nor won so many friends.

Ignorance followed in the paths on which Jesus was a pioneer. The gospel stories of Jesus show him as one who "went about doing good" as Peter put it. Seeing a need, he bent himself to meet that need; this has been the ideal for Christians and the church ever since.

One of the first needs of man is to be saved from his ignorance. Jesus saw the human race not as a pack of wolves or a mass of snakes, but as sheep without a shepherd.

So Jesus then, and the church now, set out to teach. A church that does not teach is a poor church. "The church must teach or die," it is true; it is also true that the church must teach or others will die.

Sickness followed in the paths on which Jesus walked. Jesus saw a sick person without making him well. Jesus did not think that sickness and pain are good things in themselves.

When you think of all the loss of time, money and happiness that one miserable little cold can cause, and multiply that by the number of colds in North America alone; when you think of the pain and danger and after-effects of one attack of malaria, and then think of all the cases of malaria in all the warm regions of the world; and when you go on adding up all the diseases there are, you really wonder how the human race manages to stagger along.

Now the Christian church has always been doing something about this. Today, in many backward countries, Christian doctors and hospitals have pioneered in health, and indeed are the only effective disease-fighters in the whole region.

Hunger followed in the paths on which Jesus walked. Jesus saw the feeding of the five thousand, and one thing is plain: Jesus did not think it was a good thing for people to stay hungry.

So the church, following his example, has fed the hungry wherever it has. The church protests, and will continue to protest, against any society or institution that leaves people hungry. It is in empty stomachs that things like Communism rise.

So when a missionary like Sam Higginbottom in India teaches better ways of farming, or when the Salvation Army adopts the slogan "Soup, soup and salvation," or when heifers are rounded up and sent abroad as a gesture of Christian friendship, when CROP interests the Christian farmers of America in rural reconstruction in war-torn areas of Europe, the church is just following the lead of Jesus.

Slavery

ONE of man's deepest needs is freedom. Jesus did not set free any slaves in his time, it is said; but is this true? There are other kinds of slavery besides that from which Abraham Lincoln freed the Negroes in 1863. Of these other kinds, one of the worst is slavery of the mind. We see Jesus setting his contemporaries free from the heavy chains of taboos and false traditions which the Pharisees had piled on them.

So when the first Christians broke away from the burdens of the old ceremonial laws, or when a Christian missionary in Africa or China or Greenland set men free from the darkness of pagan superstitions, or when the Protestant Reformation came, a great Declaration of Independence in the name of Christ from the traditions and superstitions which had long obscured the truth and burdened the minds even of Christians, the church is only following the example of Christ.

When we stand for a free church in a free land and a government of free men, we stand as Christians ought to stand, enemies of tyrannies in every form.

Rest Is Important, Says Housewife

It has been said that there are lots and lots of ways for people to try to get some sleep at night. Some folks paint their windows black, others use ear plugs to shut out noises, while others use sheep. All of these are good and they do help some folks get their rest, but Mrs. Frank Jones, 1220 Bell, Montgomery, Ala., has the best way to get a fine night's rest. Mrs. Jones, who didn't rest well at night, once took HADACOL. "I rest wonderfully now!" Mrs. Jones found that HADACOL supplied Vitamin B₁, B₂, Nicotin and Iron, which her system was deficient in.

Here is Mrs. Jones' own statement: "For a long time I had been bothered with indigestion and sour stomach. Food didn't seem to agree with me. I always had that uneasy fullness after I ate. I got to where I didn't want to eat. I had no energy. I felt like I couldn't make it during the day. I also was very nervous. I didn't rest well at night. A friend of mine told me about HADACOL. After the fourth bottle I felt wonderful. My food agreed with me. My appetite is terrific. I now have lots of energy and my nervousness has gone. I rest wonderfully now. In fact, I feel good all the way round. I recommend HADACOL to everybody—It's wonderful."

New Window Treatment Pays Decorating Dividends

By Ertia Haley

Did you know that new window treatments in your home will pay you more in decorating dividends than anything else that you can do to a room? Windows can be such a striking feature, even though they are small, and they can be treated decoratively, at less expense than furniture or walls.

Old curtains and draperies may often be used as the means for decorating windows, if they lend themselves to new color by dyeing or simple trimming like fringe or ruffle.

If old draperies are worn and cannot be dyed, they can frequently be turned inside out and used again. This is particularly true of velvet, velveteen or corduroy. Cotton fabrics, such as homespun or muslin types, can be dyed readily.

Remnants will often yield enough material to utilize for trimming, too. Check over old formal, red sashes, old sheer curtains or pieces of materials picked up at sales. Combined cleverly with what you have in the way of draperies or curtains, you can come up with good window treatments.

Do your planning of the new project with a flair, and don't get sidetracked with an easier but less effective way of doing the job once you're in the midst of it. Some

Travel Coat

Lightweight red tweed with textured interest is used in this interesting travel coat. Its crossover front is belted in with red leather, while the sleeves are full and worn pushed up to the elbow, or slightly below.

double ruffles add color . . . effects planned have to be carried out with good workmanship and care. If they are to be effective, so plan to give these the utmost attention to detail.

If you don't want to redo the whole room, choose a window treatment that make the walls and furnishings look too shabby, and thus force you to go further in your efforts at decoration.

Use Fringe, Ruffles On Old Draperies

Fringe trimming can be used in both modern and traditional rooms. It's an excellent way to trim old drapes and curtains, because of its easy application.

You may have fringe from an old pair of drapes that can be dyed to suit your new scheme. It may also be purchased in different colors. Use matching or contrasting fringe for any of the following suggestions.

An old pair of turned draperies can be treated to a fringe decoration in "V" formation, using three rows of fringe coming just about at the center of the drape. If dyed to a bright shade that contrasts nicely with the drapes, this can be effective.

If your room is modern in conception, you can use any plain material for draperies, the more textured fabric, the better. Add narrow fringe to the draperies in graduated rows, starting with one row at the top, followed several inches lower with two rows, then three and four rows.

Fringe may also be used as the edging on coarse net curtains. This is especially good on single windows such as you would find in a hall, denette or bathroom. For washable curtains, simply baste the fringe on, or sew it to a strip of snaps such as you might use for attaching a cover to the dressing table. Remove the fringe before laundering and then snap it on again after the curtains are clean.

Ruffles don't even have to be of the same material as the curtains to which they're attached. Another nice idea to know in this respect

is that two different materials can be used to ruffle trim the same window.

Curtains Look Expensive With These Tricks

For kitchen or bathroom, use a deep ruffle at the top of the window. Add three or four rows of ruffling to the lower half of the half curtain. All the ruffles can be dyed in darker or lighter shades of the same color, yellow, green, pink or blue.

For a narrow row of kitchen windows, here's a neat idea: Using two kinds of material, one of print and the other of plain material that contrasts well with the predominant color of the print, make two rows of ruffles and hang at the top. Use the print on top of the plain.

Old sheeting is excellent to use for ruffles, as described above, for it can be dyed any color to match the printed cloth which is picked from a remnant counter or is left from an old cotton bedspread or drapes.

For dining or living rooms, you can make old sheer curtains look double or triple their original value simply by adding rows of ruffle to panel curtains. Then dye the whole panel with the ruffles the same shade, something which will go well in the room.

Sheer and panel curtains in contrasting shades can be used on the same windows. The panel curtains may be light in shade, while the sheer curtains, hung over them in the manner of draperies, could be the darker color. Both sets of curtains should be full to give a luxurious look to the windows.

Striped wallpaper in a room frequently gives rise to a curtain problem. Solve it easily by using white sheer curtains tied back with a tailored bow. Use a cornice over the curtains, with a tailored bow at the center. Cornice and tiebacks may match the stripe in the wallpaper.

Use Feed Sacks For Curtains

Feed sacks offer excellent curtain material because their textures are so interesting, and the fabric source so economical. Dye them into the desired color, and use one of the following treatments for them.

Using two or three feed sacks for each side of the curtain, depending on the length of the window, stitch them together and place a ruffle of feed sack or other material at each seaming. These should be of the same color.

For informal rooms, such as dens, play rooms or nurseries, plan to use sacks dyed in several colors to give a rainbow or circus effect. These may be attached to a wooden pole at the top of the window by means of wooden rings.

Small windows strung in a line across the room, such as you might have in an attic or basement room can be treated nicely with several sacks hung to sill length. Use sacks of one color, but have the cornice in a contrasting shade.

Bathroom windows can be inexpensively dressed with feed sacks since they can be dyed to match the towels. Cottage type curtains, or straight-hanging curtains with a ruffle at the top are excellent. If desired, the ruffle may be in a contrasting solid color or print.

Here's a good treatment for a bay window. Dye enough feed sacks to use for a ruffle at the top of the windows, and for draping two sides, in a dark color, preferably a room color. On the windows themselves, use Priscilla curtains, tinted in a certain shade, or in plain white.

Keep Materials Moving In the Dye Bath

When you're dyeing materials, the important thing to remember is that they be kept moving constantly to get an even shade of dye as well as to prevent any streaking.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Families Will Suffer Austerity

SOME AMERICAN FAMILIES are going to have a terrible time in the next few years, and they are going to make difficulties for us all, and remind us that we are in a bad way.

Other American families will face this crisis as an adventure, and make it a period of such family co-operation that it actually will be enjoyable.

It is for Mother—and in a lesser sense Dad—to decide which path the family is going to take.

If you decide for the courageous way, get things in line right now. Gather the family together and make a little speech something like this:

"We are now climbing up into a prairie schooner, popularly known as a Covered Wagon. We are going to take along only the very necessities of life. Here on this blackboard your father and I have made a note of what we owe. You will see that it is something over $300. Our first job is to pay that off."

"When that is paid, food limitations, gas limitations and power limitations will have come to America. They will not be as rigorous as those other nations—almost all other nations—have had to endure for the past 10 years. But to you they will seem severe."

Inexpensive Meals

"They will include meals that will fill you warmly and appetizingly, but that to you will not seem like meals at all. This means that such dishes as macaroni and cheese, or beans, or a thick soup, or waffles, will each form a whole supper. Once a day you will have vegetables, and perhaps a little meat, but put steaks and chops and roasts and broilers out of your minds, once and for all. Breakfast will be an inexpensive meal."

"... the family together ..."

pensive fruit, like baked apples or stewed apricots, oatmeal, and toast with butter substitute. Mid-meal cokes and chocolate bars and milk shakes are out. If you don't like one meal—let us say you do not care for stuffed cabbage, baked sweets and prune shortcake—why, then you will be all the hungrier for the next meal.

"Lights must be turned out the minute you are through with them. Towels must be used carefully. Clothes must be worn for more than one season. Long distance calls are out. If you children can find means of making pocket money, by all means do so, and take in Saturday movies or Sunday hikes. But remember that this household is doing its share in the great government effort by going through the process known to mariners as shortening the sail. There must be no complaints. Any suggestions as to further economies or more appetizing meals will be welcome, but no grumbling."

"And just get it into your young American heads that whatever you sacrifice or suffer you are not enduring one-tenth of what your big brothers and cousins are facing—even when they are only in army camps at home. Loneliness, monotony of assignments, the deadly monotony of drill, the lack of personal freedom—these things you are not expected to meet. And this is the best of war. The worst is the cold, the pain, the shock and fear of battle fronts; the misery of dying without one look from a loving home face; the dazed horror of coming home to be forever helpless, or in pain, or in the dark."

Poverty Abroad

"In gallant England children now speak, and will always speak, of an ordinary egg as a 'shell egg.' They have been allowed two shell eggs a month for a period of ten years. In Denmark because of fuel and power conservation, there is no hot water after four o'clock, except for hospitals. In Germany children pick up the chocolate wrappers, their occupation forces drop and suck them for the taste of sweet. In China small boats crowd about our service vessels, scooping up for food the grapefruit shells, the stale bread, the half-rotten potatoes that are thrown overboard."

"You'll never come to that. You'll emerge, as your country always has emerged, from this time of trial, all the stronger."

You may be grateful all your life that you had it. You may get a new sense of values, of the meaning of money and budgeting, and above all, of the beauty of home love and service and mutual dependence.

"And remember, that whether you like it or not, we have, as a nation, to face it. We can scramble through it with debts and complaints and black marketing and discomfort, or we can leave much of our old waste and extravagance and personal possessive selfishness behind and come out wiser, better than we went in."

Women Good Private Eyes

Especially Valuable In Shadowing Women

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Only two women have graduated so far from the New York Institute of Criminology, but they prove what Asst. Dean Emma Predick has been saying all along. Women are naturals in the field of private investigation.

For reasons best known to other women, feminine investigators do a more thorough job of snooping, Miss Predick says.

"With their suspicious minds and natural curiosity, they work out very well," she added. Miss Predick teaches both men and women the finer points of shadowing and writing up reports describing the scene of the crime.

You can't go right from the 13 week course to your own detective agency, since a man or woman needs three years of experience before getting licensed as a private investigator.

"But there are many more requests now for people to serve in factories, screening war workers and just generally protecting plant security," the vivacious shadowing expert said.

Policemen around the area have become accustomed to seeing the slim, well dressed school instructor start off an eager group of students on complicated shadowing assignments up and down Broadway.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

An Open Mind Is Necessary

By Lawrence Gould

Does travel "broaden the mind"?

Answer: That depends on two things: the extent to which your mind is "open," and whether you travel of your own choice or because you have to. If you're willing to admit that your ideas and ways of doing things are not the only "right" ones, visiting foreign countries may be a liberal education, but if the very word "foreign" means inferior or barbarous to you, you might as well stay at home. And of course, if you are torn away from home against your will, you'll tend to see only the worst side of the country you are sent to.

still an art in which no system of fixed rules can be consistently followed, and in which the therapist's personality is as important as his training. It is this "intangible quality" that makes psychotherapy hard for "pure scientists" to accept.

Can high-pitched sounds harm your ears?

Answer: Apparently not, say a group of ear specialists in the Annals of Otolaryngology, St. Louis. The idea that sounds too high-pitched to be heard—for instance, those of the inaudible whistle sometimes used for calling dogs, whose ears are more acute than those of humans—may be dangerous to human hearing seems unfounded. As long as supersonic vibrations are airborne, with no physical contact, they have no specific effect on the sense-organs or the nervous system. It is sounds that are too loud, whatever their pitch, that do damage.

Is psychotherapy a science?

Answer: Not yet, anyhow, writes Dr. I. Alkin in the American Journal of Psychotherapy. While based upon scientific research, the practice of helping people overcome emotional disturbances through an exclusive mental approach (i.e., by listening and talking to them) is

KEEPING HEALTHY

How to Care for Chronic Illness

By Dr. James W. Barton

NURSING HOMES, those which are carefully inspected by community health departments, fill a need in the lives of our elderly men and women and certainly relieve our general hospitals from some of the overcrowding that exists.

The fact that a graduate nurse resides in or is in charge of these nursing homes, and a physician visits them regularly, likewise takes some of the strain off general hospitals and insures reasonable care for the elderly and those chronically ill.

That nursing homes are of great help to the chronically ill, those that are never well yet have none of the specific diseases that require skilled and constant attention, is now admitted and home care under the supervision of a nearby general hospital physician gives a service that is equal or nearly equal to actual care in hospital.

What is chronic illness? An editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association defines it as any deviation or departure from health that affects a person's total life pattern in a significant way, because of the length of the illness and its effects, which may last for a long time after the illness proper has passed.

We can readily see that prolonged illness not only requires the medical knowledge and skill of the practicing physician but also his help in the patient's reestablishment of himself in everyday life.

For a long time practitioners have met difficulties in finding proper hospital facilities for their chronically ill patients and have observed the lack of adequate visiting nurses, housekeeping and other services by which patients might be cared for, and the inadequacy of many nursing homes.

This need is being met to some extent by the Commission of Chronic Illness, founded in 1949 by the American Medical Association, American Hospital Association, American Public Health Association, and the American Public Welfare Association.

Hypochondriasis is overanxiety about health.

While there is no question that antihistamine drugs help allergic patients, it is not definitely proved they ward off or shorten the period of the common cold.

A wet, gooey paste of laundry starch and water can be used to clean plaster of paris statuary. Just smear the paste all over every part of the surface until the whole thing looks like such a mess you wish you hadn't started it in the first place. Then forget it until the starch paste is completely dry. After you think it's dry, wait another half hour just to make sure, and brush the dry stuff off.

WIDEN THE ROADS, men! Strengthen the guard rails! Get the women and children off the streets! To the hills, pedestrians, one and all! Video sets in automobiles are threatened! The I.C.C. has the matter under consideration, provided the screens are not where the driver can see 'em. Soon we may have to duck not only the careless driver, but Howdy Doody, Uncle Miltie, the ninth inning rally and Versatile Varieties.

To the danger of the sharp curve, the dead-end street and the defective traffic light may be added the screen western, Double or Nothing, Inner Sanctum and a Presidential fireside chat. It is not enough to have the road full of cockeyed truck drivers, imbecile joy riders and nitwit tourists . . . we have got to dodge PUPPETS! I!

We rebel. We want to know, as we pick ourselves out of a tree, whether we were run over by a trailer or by Six Gun Playhouse. We insist upon being fairly certain we are dodging a taxicab and not working our way between Chuck Wagon, Johnny Olsen's Rum-pus Room and Leave It To The Girls.

The homicide trial of the future is easily imaginable.

Judge—Now go on and tell in your own way how you and your ten-inch screen crashed through the butcher shop window injuring eight people.

Autoist.—Judge, I am the most careful driver in the world. I always use extreme caution. I have never . . .

Judge.—Cut the commercial! Just give me the facts.

Autoist.—Well, yerroner, I was driving downtown by way of the Arthur Godfrey program, when everything went black.

Judge.—Your steering gear failed?

Autoist.—No. My focusing dial.

Judge.—Go on!

Autoist.—Well, I was proceeding slowly when all of a sudden a football game, Gracie Allen and Kuka, Fran and Ollie cut right across me.

Judge.—I had an accident like that, too. I was driving to court this morning when a cooking program, the Fitzgeralds and the Dennis James program came out of a side street without tooting.

Autoist.—Were you hurt, Judge?

Judge.—I lost two teeth and my outside aerial.

Autoist.—Driving is getting tougher and tougher, yerroner. I hit a telephone pole last night on account of the Twenty Questions program.

Judge.—How come?

Autoist.—My car is only equipped for 10 questions.

Judge.—I can't get the video stars to appear in this court without paying them, so I'll have to do the best I can with you. I give you six months.

Autoist.—In what channel?

Campus Chatter

Everyone around old L. H. S. is very much excited; and why not? For the first time in quite a few years the basketball teams are going to the District Tournament. Both the boys and girls teams are sure to go to go.

The site for the district tournament has been set at Roscoe, and playing begins Thursday night, February 8. Saturday night the championship games will be played.

It seems as if everyone lived through the cold spell after all. Some of us were a little skeptical as to our chances of survival this time last week.

The Homemaking girls are all very busy makin "dates" with their favorite boy friends (alias their fathers) for "Daddy Date Night." It is to be held Wednesday, February 14, at 6:00 at the H. E. Cottage. This was started last year and the Homemaking girls plan to make it an annual affair.

B Teams To District Tourney

Loraine High School will be represented at the District Tournament in Roscoe February 8, 9 and 10.

Friday night, February 1, both teams were victors over Ira basketballers. The boys won by a score of 33-30 and the girls scored 31-29. There was quite a dispute over the number of foul of one of our players. The scorekeepers books showed three, but Ira's coach thought she had five. In the end however, Pegg remained on the court.

District games, aside from the local teams meet Hermleigh on our home court Tuesday night February 6.

The teams are hard at work, because if we can win District, we will get to go to Lubbock to the regional tournament.

It would make the teams very happy if every time we play a game at the District tournament, Loraine would be very well represented with enthusiastic backers. It's pretty encouraging, you know.

Home Ec. News

The Home Ec. Club had a meeting Wednesday at activity period. One of the most important things that was discussed was our annual Daddy Date Night. We decided to have it on Valentine Day the 14th. It will be the same informal get-together as it was last year. We want all you papas to be sure and come.

What Do You Want In A Loan?

Here is what another person wanted:

"If I were getting a loan, I would look for low interest and long terms. I would want the privilege of paying any part of the principal or the loan in full at any time without penalty.

I would also look for a loan from a lender that operated on a sound basis, and one that was best fitted to serve the interests of farm and ranch people."

We meet these tests and many more and would like to tell you about our loan.

The MM Model R is RIGHT for the Farmer Who Needs 2-PLOW POWER!

For the modern businessman farmer who demands dependability, long-life, modern design, economical operation, comfort, and safety... the MM Model R Tractor is RIGHT! Here's the tractor that offers you four kinds of power for immediate use with economy of cost: drawbar, hydraulic lift, power take-off, and belt. The balanced weight, automotive steering, and improved disc-type brakes of the R make it one of the easiest tractors to operate under all field conditions. The rear wheels are adjustable from 52 to 88 inches, permitting proper adjustment for plowing without side draft. The simple construction of the R's heavy-duty, 4-cylinder engine assures minimum maintenance with 140 fewer parts than most conventional valve-in-head engines.

To match the superior performance of the Universal R, MM offers a complete line of dependable quality-constructed tractor-attached machines. This system of Quick-On—Quick-Off tractor-attached tools saves time and money in all types of field operation.

UNI-MATIC POWER

Here's hydraulic power that is constant. A constant running (engine-driven) pump assures users plenty of power at all times whether the tractor is in motion or standing still. A lockout in the jack prevents overloading of hoses and valves, and keeps implements locked in a desired position when the engine is not running... a very important safety feature.

SPORTLIGHT Big Money and Resigning Coaches

By GRANTLAND RICE

AS ANOTHER NEW YEAR slid into view, the universities of Minnesota, Southern California, Stanford, Ohio State and a few others were looking for new football coaches. Texas had just completed an exchange for Blair Cherry, retired. Savage alumni pressure, the demand for a winning team, had caused most of this turmoil and just about reached the point of a scandal. It has been generally recognized that football, a great game and a magnificent sport in the raw, had become big business in late years. Big business has overshadowed the sporting side.

"Suppose we take the case of Jeff Cravath at Southern California," a well-known authority out this way said. "Cravath is a fine fellow and he wasn't a bad coach. But Southern California has a big sporting program to support. Football does most of the supporting. Losing teams at Southern California in the last two years had fallen off some $400,000 from other normal years. The fact that Cravath had won four Pacific Coast championships was forgotten. The problem had now become an economic matter. Southern California, being a private institution, couldn't afford another bad year. I mean financially. So Cravath had to go."

Football has reached the point where you must have a winning team or take a financial beating. It has been shown that it costs leading colleges from $250,000 to $275,000 a year to run a football season. A bad year in the field means a bad year or even two at the box office.

The alumni pressure on football coaches has become scandalous. This pressure became so heavy this last fall that Blair Cherry of Texas, Wes Fesler of Ohio State and Marchie Schwartz of Stanford all resigned. Cherry didn't even wait for the end of the campaign. It so happens that all three of these men are excellent sportsmen and on a high level as football coaches. Certainly Cherry and Fesler had two powerful teams, rated 1-2-3 in the national ranking most of the fall. There was no demand for their resignations. They all decided there must be other ways of making a living.

The Coaching Tangle Part of the trouble first started when coaches began to jump three- or five-year contracts for better offers. A coaching contract meant very little, but the university always got stung when a contract had to be paid up.

Now universities have tried out the system of signing coaches to 10-year contracts. It remains to be seen how this scheme will work out when better offers are made. At least the universities won't be forced by any alumni group into picking up six or seven years of a long-time contract. Southern California had to pay Jeff Cravath $30,000 to cancel the two years remaining on their agreement.

There are now close to 100 universities that should be rated on football's big-time list. This number takes in seven or eight big conferences, plus a number of well-known institutions that don't belong to any conference. Notre Dame is on this latter list. So is Virginia, Miami, Villanova, Santa Clara, St. Mary's, Loyola, Army and Navy. Now it seems to be a reasonable thing to say that all 100 of these universities can't have winning teams. There must be a defeat against every victory. Colleges that set up long winning streaks as a rule do so because they have softer schedules or much better material. And too often getting this material defies any so-called sanity code. This isn't always true. There are exceptions. It may have been rough for them but Notre Dame's bad season and Army's defeat by Navy were very healthy for football. So were Michigan's three defeats.

Coaches complain that experts rate their teams far higher than they belong and then start panicking them for bad years. There is a good deal to be said for this complaint.

A New Derby Hope A year ago the blossoming state of California had a new derby dream. His name was Your Host, a comet-streak sprinter who was picked as the coming Derby and triple crown champion. Your Host was a fine sprinter.

Now Santa Anita has another Derby challenger. After going all out for Your Host the west coast is a trifle more subdued about its new entry—another Alibhai colt known as Gold Capitol.

I can say this—Gold Capitol can run out here. How he will run in Kentucky, Maryland or New York is another story. This new challenger is a son of Alibhai and Pocket Edition.

Although Your Host and Gold Capitol have the same sire, Alibhai, they are different types of runners. Gold Capitol is willing to wait and do most of his running in the stretch.

Dumb People
Better Drivers,
Teacher Reports

WASHINGTON—Richard Talbott, who operates a concern called the University Driving Laboratory in nearby Hyattsville, Md., says generally speaking, people with so-so intelligence make better automobile drivers than the smart folks.
That's a controversial statement, but he should know. Talbott teaches all kinds, from the very dumb to the awful smart, how to drive an automobile.

During the war he instructed other soldiers in the art of piloting a jeep. Since then, operating his own business, he has taught hundreds of civilians how to drive. So far as he knows, only one customer has had a serious accident.

"He was a physicist working with an atomic project. I predicted he would crash and he did. A dumb person is concerned only with getting where he is going—and concentrates on that alone. A intellectual is up in the clouds. This particular person was perhaps dreaming of test tubes, Bunsen Burners, and Geiger counters. He made a wrong turn."

Learned to Drive Young Talbot, who calls himself a "paid back seat driver", learned to drive at eight years old in an Essex that was too old to move, and took to the road on a test run when he was 10. He had a driver's license when he was fourteen.

The first thing he tells his students—most of them women of middle age—is that the automobile was invented because people are too lazy to walk, "so take it easy."
And Talbot has a kind word for women. "They learn what they are doing faster, but I had better qualify that a little. They are not as skillful as men after they have learned the fundamentals.

Sometimes he runs into problems.
Like the woman he was instructing how to signal that she was getting ready to stop.

"Bend your arm down," he commanded.
"But," the woman protested, "my arm won't bend down."

He showed her how to bend an arm down.

There are others who are interested only in learning enough to pass a driver's test.

Simple Road Rules
The expert has a few simple rules which he hopes will rub off on the public, as well as the people who pay him to learn how to drive:

1. Look at the road, not at the guy coming at you or the one you see is about to pass you.
2. Drive your car, not the other fellow's. Don't try to anticipate what he's going to do.
3. Don't switch lanes unless you are positive you can make it. And don't forget that in no car yet built do you have perfect vision fore and aft.
4. Be courteous. Give the other fellow a break.

Boy's Atomic Torpedo Idea
'Interesting,' Navy Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Tommy Pearce, 10, a fifth grade pupil in Arlington, Va., called on Rear Adm.
A. C. Nobel, chief of the navy's ordinance bureau, recently to explain an idea for attacking the Communists with an atomic torpedo.

The lad took a detailed chart showing how a "button" in the nose of the torpedo would set off an atomic explosion.

"I think that when you find a way of setting off a bomb by endowing electricity into it, that you should make an atomic torpedo," the young designer wrote. "You could use it in attacking enemy shore batteries. I hope you can use this plan."

The admiral told Tommy that his plan was "very interesting" and that he had sent them to navy engineers working on torpedoes and bombs.

"It is quite possible that some of your ideas may already be in use or may be included in new designs," the admiral told Tommy.

Iodized Salt Is Blamed
For Slowdown in Midwest

CHICAGO, Ill.—Dr. Charles Sellers of Chicago says iodine put in salt to prevent goiter may now have swung the pendulum the other way in the Great Lakes region.

For those with goiter, iodized salt has been a boon, he points out. But for those who have had normal thyroid glands, it has been harmful. The extra iodine has caused their thyroids to become sluggish and their body chemical activity to slow down.

Symptoms are sleepiness, increase in weight, awkwardness, and an inability to take cold weather.

Goiter was once a major problem in Great Lakes cities because of the low iodine content in the drinking water. The region was known as the "goiter belt."

In the mid-1940's iodine was added to salt and the cases of goiter diminished over the years. But the iodine apparently works on all thyroids, normal and abnormal.

Dr. Sellers recommends patients with hypothyroidism should use a noniodized salt.

Most U. S. Children
Eat Poorly, Survey
Of Nutrition Shows

CLEVELAND, O.—Dr. Pauline Ferry Mack, director of the Ellen
H. Richards Institute at Pennsylvania State college, told a science association recently that three-fourths of the nation's children suffer from some degree of undernourishment.

Dr. Mack said a nutrition study found that of 2,364 children, 75 per cent didn't get enough energy and vital nutrients from their food. And not one of them rated top health grades in strict medical examinations. Far too many had bowlegs, knockknees, fatigue, nervous habits, poor teeth and other faults.

Further, she said, it takes a long time to overcome some of the "scars of past poor food habits", and this may explain many of the physical ills of adults today.

The children represented every economic group and were higher than average in economic status,
she reported.

Children under four were in the best condition. Girls 13 to 15 had the poorest records, and young women 16 to 18 were only slightly better off. Boys did a bit better.

Most showed signs of healed sores of tongue and gums, and excessive tooth decay. More than half had some type of nervous habit, such as restlessness and nail biting.
Two-thirds showed signs of undue fatigue, and more than 80 per cent had poor reflexes in some part of the body.

A switch to a good diet quickly overcomes some troubles, including the buildup of most blood chemicals, Dr. Mack said.

But body size and proportion,
"will change only after months and even years, and probably can never be altered entirely if the original damage was of a severe type."

Taps Sounded for Man Who Claimed to Be 'The Kid'

HICO, Tex.—The man who claimed he was Billy the Kid is dead.

Brushy Bill Roberts fell dead of a heart attack as he walked the streets of Hico. He was dressed, as always, in a fringed frontier shirt, cowboy hat and boots. He claimed he was 90 years old.

Gov. T. J. Mabry of New Mexico recently refused Roberts' plea for a pardon as Billy the Kid.
Roberts claimed that the story of the death of the Kid, or William H. Bonney, at the hands of Sheriff Pat Garrett in Fort Sumner, N. M., in 1881 was just legend.

California Man Crowned
Champion Liar of 1950

BURLINGTON, Wis.—Frank J.
Goulette of Los Angeles was crowned 1950's champion liar.

Goulette's winning story went:
"One winter when I was working on a pile driver in North Dakota, a member of our crew froze to death in bed. The ground was frozen so hard that it was impossible to dig a grave. We stood the fellow on his head under the pile driver—and we had to drive on him seven days and seven nights before we got him down far enough for a decent burial."

Joseph Flynn of Cleveland won honorable mention for this fib:
"One night when I was firing on the railroad, we got an order to go into a sidetrack to let a passenger train pass. We had 65 carsloads of canaries, and couldn't get rolling—too much weight."

"I guess we would have been there yet if I hadn't hung a lighted lantern in every one of those canary cages.
The birds, thinking it was morning, flew out of their perches. With the birds in the air we had enough weight off the wheels so that we could get going."

More People Visit Museum
Than Go to Yankee Stadium

NEW YORK—Nearly 2,500,000 people visited the American Museum of Natural History and the Hyden planetarium during 1950.
The annual report of the museum pointed out that was more people than went to Yankee stadium.

"The museum attendance figure for the past year," the report said,
"far exceeds that of Yankee stadium and almost equals the combined attendance for the full year of 1949 at the Belmont Park, Jamaica, and Aqueduct race tracks."

Chicken, mushrooms and peas go

Tasty Chicken Dishes
Enhanced by Proper
Use of Seasonings

A FREQUENT meat appearing on menus is chicken because it's versatile and delicate flavor are a favorite with most. Even though you serve chicken frequently, you can have unlimited ways in which it's brought to the table.

High in protein, rich in iron and phosphorus and valuable for it's vitamins, chicken can be served to both adults and children. You may have it in simple fricassée form with dumplings, an old-fashioned favorite, or baked or barbecued, as something special when you entertain.

HERE'S A NEW portrait of a tried and true favorite that you can easily duplicate with this simple recipe:

Chicken Pot Pie
(Serves 6)
1 four pound fricassée chicken
½ pound salt pork
Water or stock
Salt and pepper
Dumplings

Cut chicken into convenient pieces for serving and dice the pork. Place together in a good-sized saucepan, cover with water or stock and bring to boiling point; cover closely and simmer from one to two hours depending on the age of the chicken, seasoning when about half done.

Thirty minutes before serving time put in dumplings and be sure to keep pan closely covered while they are cooking. Arrange meat in center of dish with dumplings around it, pouring gravy over meat.

Dumplings
½ cups flour
1½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon all-phosphate baking powder
About ¾ cup milk

Sift flour, salt and baking powder. Mix thoroughly but quickly with milk and drop by small tablespoonfuls into hot stew gravy. Cover closely and cook 12 to 15 minutes without removing lid from saucepan.

Barbecued Chicken
(Serves 2-4)
1½ to 2½ pound young chicken
(broiler)
Barbecue Sauce:
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon sugar
1 medium onion, chopped fine
1 cup tomato puree or catsup
½ cup fat
½ cup hot water
½ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce

Cut chicken in half or in quarters. Arrange in a baking pan.
Brush with hot Barbecue Sauce.
Cover, then bake in moderate oven (350°) until about half done. Uncover, continue cooking, basting frequently with the hot Barbecue Sauce until tender and nicely browned. Total cooking time: 1 to 1½ hours depending on size and weight of chicken.

Barbecue Sauce: Blend salt, pepper, paprika, and sugar in saucepan. Add onion, tomato puree or catsup, fat and water. Heat to boiling. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice and worcestershire Sauce. Use for basting during cooking, and to serve with the cooked chicken.

Chicken Creole
(Serves 6)
3½ pound chicken
Salt, pepper, paprika
½ cup chicken fat or shortening
1 onion, sliced
1 cup uncooked rice
1 can (No. 2½) tomatoes
1 green pepper, seeds removed Dress, clean and cut chicken into serving pieces. Season with salt, pepper and paprika. Brown onion in chicken fat, add chicken and brown lightly. Cover and let simmer for 1 hour. Add remaining ingredients and place in casserole. Cover and bake in a moderate (350°) oven until tender, about 1 hour.

Quick and easy is this jellied salad: to one package of lemon-flavored gelatin add one cup of hot grape juice, then 1 cup ginger ale.
Chill with mixed fruits if desired.

Heat canned corn, then break eggs, slightly beaten, over the vegetable. Cook gently until eggs are set. Serve for a quick lunch.

Try adding raisins to your hot applesauce a few minutes before it finishes cooking. They'll be plump and flavorful, then serve over toast triangles.

Grapefruit makes a good meat dressing or dessert. If you spoon apple mint or custard jelly over it before broiling.

Blanc mange made with a bit of coconut, then poured into small molds to chill makes a pretty dessert when unmolded and served with raspberry sauce and thin butter cookies.

Veterans' News

Questions and Answers

Q. Yesterday a salesman came around selling subscriptions to a veterans' magazine which he said was endorsed by VA. Is that true?

A. No. VA has never endorsed any magazine or other publication. The salesman was misrepresenting the facts and should be reported to the proper authorities.

Q. I just received a small inheritance and I'd like to pay my GI home loan in full. Is that permissible?

A. Yes. All GI loans may be paid off ahead of the due date, without fee or penalty on the veteran's part.

Q. I am conducting a GI job training program in my commercial garage, and I want to increase the wage scale of the trainees. How do I go about it?

A. Notify the State Approving Agency in your State. That agency, in turn, will inform VA of the new wage scale, so that GI subsistence allowance payments can be adjusted accordingly.

Q. My husband, a World War 2 veteran, died recently. What will happen to the GI loan he obtained for our house?

A. You may take over his GI loan contract and keep making payments on your home under its terms.

Q. I am a World War 2 veteran who lost a leg in service. Last summer I applied for an automobile under the "care for amputees" law that limited the cost to $1,600. But I had to go back to the hospital and never received the car. I did receive a certificate of authorization from VA. May I use the certificate now, under the new law that allows VA to pay $1,600 toward a car that costs more?

A. Yes. Q. I have just been discharged from service, and I want to keep my National Service Life Insurance in good shape. I would like some tips on the best way to handle premium payments.

A. The safest way to pay your premiums is by money order or check. Do not send cash through the mail. Also, be sure to use the printed return envelope VA sends you regularly; then you'll know your premium won't be misdirected. Most important of all, pay your premiums on time.

Q. I obtained a GI home loan and authorized the lender to apply VA's four percent gratuity toward reducing the principal of the loan. Now, I find myself unable to meet my payments. May the lender reapply the gratuity toward the payments I can't meet, and thus prevent a possible foreclosure?

A. Yes. It is legally proper to reapply gratuity initially credited toward the principal, if it's for the purpose of preventing or curing a default.
