Special music will be rendered by a male quartet composed of members of the faculty of the senior and junior high schools.

Amarillo Club to Play Here Sunday, May 14

Sunday will probably be one of the most interesting baseball games that baseball fans from this section have seen in a number of years, as the Amarillo club will play the Portales club on the local field.

Amarillo's Put and Take team have an exceptional record, and is one of the best ball teams in the Panhandle.

After Sunday's game with the Clovis boys Portales expects to shift their line-up considerably and with this week of hard practice they should give the Amarillo team a good game, if not a beating.

Marion M. Stinnett Purchases Home

Marion M. Stinnett, math teacher in the Portales high school, has purchased the Rowley residence on Arizona street and is now having it remodeled, preparatory to moving in about June 1.

Mr. Stinnett had planned to build on his lot on the corner of Liberty and Arizona, but has now decided to erect three or four two or three-room houses on this property, as there is a greater demand for moderate priced houses in Portales.

These buildings probably will be erected before the coming season opens up and before the fall term of school opens.

Locke only owns four cows, but he keeps quite a number for his neighbors for their feed and care.

Miss Maybelle McCarty is at home with her mother and sister again, after a short stay in Lubbock, Tex., with friends.

Baseball Nine Loses Game to Clovis Sunday

Eighth Inning Rally Came Nearly Winning Game for Local Boys, Despite Clovis' Long Lead.

With a score of 11 to 7, the Portales baseball team lost the first game of the season to the Clovis boys Sunday afternoon on the local field.

Clovis began early in the first inning piling up a margin that the Portales boys could not surpass in the final rounds. In the first inning Clovis scored two runs, one in the second and three in the fourth.

Youngblood started pitching for Portales and allowed eight runs before Harp took the mound. Riddings went to right field and Youngblood took second base in place of Paterson.

The game was full of errors on both sides, due mainly to the heavy wind and sand storm which prevailed throughout the game. The contest was halted several times until the dust would stop.

Riddings started the rally for Portales that brought them near victory, with a three-base hit in the seventh inning, and made the first score for Portales. Stanford walked in the eighth and Riddings followed with a hit and Portales scored six runs before the side was retired.

Allen pitched for the Clovis team and allowed only a few Portales men to reach first until the latter part of the game.

Crenshaw of Floyd tied the state record of 10.2 seconds in the 100-yard dash at the state track meet held in Roswell last Friday and Saturday. Several other marks were tied and two broken.

Crenshaw won second place in the meet held in Portales. The relay of Rogers won first place with 10 4.5 seconds.

Letter Received from Youngster in Forestry Camp

In a letter received from Guy Wayne Patterson, one of the Roosevelt county boys who were accepted in reforestation work by the federal government, information is received that all the boys reached camp safely. They are at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The work is not hard, the letter says, but nevertheless there is plenty to keep the boys exercised. The camp is under the command of military officers, yet it has nothing to do with the army. There is no military drill. The discipline is lax but efficient.

Burkett and Patterson were made first sergeants, due to previous experience. They each have under their command three corporals and twenty privates.

The public is given a most cordial invitation to attend.

Few Changes in Faculty of School

The Portales school board met on Thursday evening of last week and elected the teachers for next school year, securing for another year the services of the same staff as this year with the exception of four teachers, who presented their resignations.

Mrs. Keith Payne and Mrs. Hubbard Mize of Unit Two and Miss Berenice Hayes of Unit One were the grade teachers resigning and Mrs. Marion Stinnett of the high school.

The first three mentioned have been employed for the last three years. The three married women will continue to make their homes in Portales. Miss Hayes has not announced her plans.

Miss Mary Alice Walton and Miss Rosamond Dean have been elected to the positions in Unit Two, but teachers have not been secured to fill the vacancies made by the resignations of Miss Hayes and Mrs. Stinnett.

Mother's Day Sunday, May 14

There is no sweeter word in the English language than mother.

Mother is one who has a true understanding and whose kisses cure the childhood injuries.

It is mother who sits by the bedside of her loved ones through hours of illness and whose loving hand cools the feverish brow.

No matter what the world may say, it is the confidence of one who was your best friend.

Calls on Federal Relief Committee of Roosevelt County Still Heavy

Coe Howard Says Special Session of Legislature Need

Representative Coe Howard of Portales, Democratic floor leader in the eleventh legislature, is quoted in an Associated Press dispatch from Santa Fe as saying there is only one way to prevent the removal of most, if not all, the legislative acts on which referenda have been started, and that is for the governor to call a special session.

Howard said he believed a quorum of each house could be induced to serve without pay.

"The people of the state," said Howard, "are in a temper to vote against everyone of the six acts which are being attacked by referendum. By having a special session to re-enact these laws with a few changes it would be possible to defeat the movement now under way."

Several hours spent in the office of the Roosevelt County Federal Relief committee last Saturday impressed the writer of the great need still existing in this county.

Throughout the day there were around one hundred families taken care of on the limited finances available for this work.

The greater part of this relief was in the form of groceries, which were supplied in items ranging from 10 to 15 cents each.

Many of these people are only awaiting the opportunity to get work so they may be self-sustaining, and unless work of some sort opens up within the next few days there will be considerable suffering.

The Federal Relief funds are exhausted, and only a limited amount now is available, but only until the 15th of this month, when relief work in this county will cease unless funds from other sources are found.

At times last Saturday it took four people to wait on those applying for relief.

It is enough to cause heartaches to see this great number applying for charity, many of whom are ready and willing to work at anything they can get to earn a living.

Farm work soon will open up in the valley and a small number will be able to secure employment, but if, as in years past, there is an influx of workers for this purpose, it will become a serious burden on the city and county.

More than enough help is here now to supply every available job, and it is to be hoped that people will not come in from other communities seeking to secure work in the Portales valley, for they will be disappointed.

President Roosevelt is doing all in his power to bring back working conditions, so that all may become employed, and all are expressing hope that conditions such as have prevailed for the last few years will soon be forgotten, and that every man will be able to secure a job.

Former Roosevelt County Girl Killed at Cedarvail, N. M., May 4

Death Is Reported Accidental, But Husband Is Held After Being Missing at Time of Funeral.

Mrs. Ruth Park Reynolds, daughter of George Parks, who lives eight miles east of Dora, was shot to death at her home at Cedarvail, N. M., last Thursday.

Her husband, Bob Reynolds, Saturday brought the remains to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Parks, for burial.

The body was poorly repaired, and the parents called in Dr. E. T. Hensley for further examination of the wounds, and he found that the wounds causing her death were inflicted by shotgun fire entering the left breast and ranging downward.

Her death had been reported as accidental, but on Sunday morning when the husband started for town to have a cut on his hand treated, and failed to return in time for the funeral, which was held at the Longs cemetery Sunday afternoon, Mr. Parks became suspicious and came to Portales and requested the sheriff's office to telephone the officers at Cedarvail to hold Reynolds for further examination.

Reynolds had left Portales for his home in Cedarvale after having his hand treated.

The News has not learned the result of the examination of Reynolds or under what charges he is being held.

National Farm Holiday Ass'n Strikes May 13

At the national convention of the Farmers Holiday association at Des Moines, Ia., last week, it was unanimously voted to declare a nation-wide farmers' strike beginning on Saturday, May 13, when nothing would be sold from the farms until prices reach a level above the cost of production.

O. P. Bartlett, president of the Farmers Holiday association of New Mexico, attended the convention.

According to the leaders of the association, New Mexico will not strike with the other states and local farmers will continue to sell their produce as usual.

A county meeting will be held at Elida Saturday, May 13, and a state meeting at Clovis the following Saturday.

American Legion to Hold Picnic

The American Legion and its families will hold its annual free picnic Monday, June 5, at the locust grove north of the H. B. ranch.

An old-fashioned steak fry with all the trimmings will feature the event.

Seniors Give Brick Pillars as Annual Gift

Two pillars of red brick have been erected at the west entrance to the Portales high school campus by the seniors as a memorial to the graduating class of 1933.

These pillars will bear a marble name plate with the inscription, "Senior Class of 1933" on it.

As has been the custom for several years, each senior class of the Portales high school, through class dues and proceeds from the senior play, raises a sum of money with which some gift to the school is financed and the presentation made at the close of the school term. This gift remains as a memorial to the class and the school views with much sentiment these gifts of the yesteryears.

The 1933 class hopes to have its pillars completed and ready to present to the school at the regular senior night program tomorrow evening.

Unit One Pupils in Final Program

Pupils from Unit One of the Portales grade school will give a program at the high school auditorium next Tuesday evening, May 16, which will serve as the climax of a language and nature study project carried in the first grade work.

The proceeds from a charge of 5 and 10 cents will be used next year in purchasing materials to be used in the primary work.

Miss Sybil Autry, Miss Bernice Hayes and Mrs. N. T. Watson are the three teachers of Unit One who will be in charge of the program Tuesday evening.

The entertainment will begin at 7:30 o'clock and will be divided into four features.

The first is entitled, "Bunnies on Parade." This will be followed by "Mother Nature Keeps May Day." The third division is a "May Festival" and the rhythm band will close the program with three sections, "March," "Little Boy Blue" and "We're the First Grade."

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Perry have returned to their home at Perryton, Tex., after having spent several days in Portales visiting Mrs. Perry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Compton.

Sign Petition for Delinquent Tax Sale Referendum

If you are opposed to the whole-sale delinquent tax sale which is scheduled to take place all over the state on June 12, look up one of the committees and sign the petition for the referendum before the 15th of this month.

It now looks as if this sale will take place unless stopped by a referendum.

Blanks already have been printed notifying property owners of this sale, and will be mailed out in a few days.

The News has unofficial word that the county commissioners have no funds for the holding of this sale and that they will make no effort to provide such funds.

The mailing out of notices for this county is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Homer Barnett, county treasurer, says that there is no necessity to provide funds, as the cost of the sale will come out of the 4 per cent penalty on property sold.

DELINQUENT TAX SALE

Strenuous opposition is developing in all sections of New Mexico against placing into effect the delinquent tax bill, which was passed by the last state legislature providing for the sale of property upon which taxes have not been paid for 1931 or 1932.

This law was passed with a view to forcing collection of taxes in New Mexico, the framers evidently proceeding upon the theory that non-payment of taxes was deliberate. The law is one of the broadest in scope ever passed by any western state, in that it allows only a few days to elapse after taxes become delinquent before the sale takes place.

Under the terms of this law the last half of 1932 taxes which become delinquent on May 1 are to be sold on June 12. Owners of real property in New Mexico who may have paid all of their taxes except the last half of 1932 will have to stand by and see their property sold for taxes.

We believe that in past years the tax collection laws of New Mexico have been mere shams and that the state for these many years has needed a tax collection law which would really force the payment of taxes.

However, now is not the time to place in operation such a law. The operation of the law is going to be stubbornly fought in every county of the state, and the probabilities are that a referendum will be forced.

Persons who have the money to pay their taxes should not hesitate longer to meet these obligations. There are many, many reasons why taxes should be paid now by those who have the money or who can get the money to pay them.

Some folks evidently are proceeding upon the theory that by some mysterious method something will happen whereby they will never have to pay their delinquent taxes. So far as we can see and by no stretch of the imagination, this situation will never arise. Somehow, some way and some time these taxes must be paid, and until they are paid they will operate as a lien against the property involved.

It is good business to pay taxes now. Those who find it possible to pay their taxes between now and June 12 will save a considerable amount of penalty and interest and will avoid any possibility of having their property sold for taxes, beginning on June 12, which would only add an additional expense.

Some clear and careful thinking on this matter may avoid a lot of added and unnecessary expense later on. Those who cannot pay all of their taxes now should pay what part they can. Chaves county and the city of Roswell must somehow continue to function, and for this reason it is also patriotic to pay taxes now.

Those who may have assumed that by some mysterious means they may avoid the payment of taxes which have accrued should make a careful investigation and they are sure to find that they are proceeding upon an erroneous theory.

We are opposed to the operation of this law as it may apply to the owner of property in Chaves county who for one reason and another is unable to pay his taxes at this time. We hold no brief for the person who can pay and who purposely avoids payment.

There are a lot of home owners and others in Chaves county who are unable to secure the money at this time to pay their delinquent taxes. These persons deserve every consideration at this time, and certainly to sell their property under the hammer is not a fair, equitable or just procedure and is one which will be resisted, no doubt, to the very last ditch.

Sales of homes under present conditions would be a most dangerous procedure, and any purchaser would naturally be treading on dangerous ground. We believe that the law will not result in any good, because no sales probably will result. However, at this time the law should not be placed in operation.

What we need to do during these times is to stand a little closer together in order that we may win the battle in which we are engaged. To sell homes because by some misfortune or another the owner is unable to meet the taxes is not the means at hand to adjust present difficulties.

We believe that, for the most part, property owners in Chaves county have made an extra effort to meet their taxes. There are some who have purposely avoided payment and these should pay now because they will save money and later difficulties and because their own welfare may eventually depend upon their payment.

We believe that time and every reasonable consideration should be extended to the man who can't pay, and we can see no good and tremendous harm in selling delinquent property now at public auction.

After we return to normalcy we would strongly favor a tax collection law in New Mexico which would really force the payment of taxes. This state has long needed such a law, but just now, when operation of Senate Bill No. 144 would result in the wholesale confiscation of property in New Mexico, is not the time to begin.

We still have hopes that eventually the state legislature will be called into special session and that a sales tax law, similar to the one which now is operating so successfully in many states of the Union, will be enacted.

Unless this is done, we can see in the not far distant future dire consequences for the great state of New Mexico, with its great undeveloped resources, with its wonderful scenery, its almost unlimited possibilities for development and advancement, and its thousands of heretofore happy and contented people.

Surely there is too much patriotism in New Mexico, too much love for the native soil, and too much regard for the homes, peace and security of these people to permit this day ever to arrive.—Roswell Dispatch.

CARROON RETURNS

Frank Carroon will return to the New Mexico Normal university as a member of its faculty.

This news of the action taken recently by the board of regents of the university has delighted hundreds of the normal's friends and former students, who have held the veteran educator in high esteem for more than a quarter of a century. The action taken by the board is most commendable, for it adds to the strength of the university's appeal to prospective students. In twenty-three years of loyal, energetic and efficient service to the normal, Dean Carroon had established a great following among the teaching profession in the state. These potential friends and contributors of the university will welcome his return to the faculty. He served the institution faithfully and to the best of his ability while its president for a period of nearly eight years. Prior to that time he had filled in able manner the faculty position of instructor in English and psychology for more than fifteen years. The most active alumni of the normal now in the state were students of the institution during the days of his teaching service, and he became generally known as Dean Carroon, an intimate address which clung to him even during the time of his incumbency as president.

His addition to the faculty will prove widely valuable, and in the service which he is to undertake in extension work he will be able to resume contacts profitable to the normal in increasing its student enrollment.

It is understood that the re-employment of Dean Carroon was by unanimous action of the board, indicating a complete approval of his return. Friends, patrons and students of the normal will congratulate the board for its very sensible action.—Las Vegas Optic.

REPEAL THE TAX SALE LAW

The people of New Mexico should sign unanimously the referendum petition to abolish Senate Bill No. 144, the "Beall law," providing that their property be immediately and with practically no notice taken away from all property owners who don't pay their 1932 taxes on the nail, right now.

Regardless of half-hearted opinions by the attorney general, this law is on the face of it confiscatory, puts the state into the real estate business with no market, turns the hard-pressed small taxpayers of New Mexico out of their homes with no warning, and might be called a "Law Providing for the Quick Demise of Depression Victims."

"It will lead to revolution," says the League of Taxpayers' associations. It won't lead to revolution. It will merely be the last straw to break the camel's back and cause a state-wide taxpayers' strike and the utter bankruptcy of the state government.

If this law were enforced as it stands, it would mean homelessness for thousands of people, through the process of foreclosure and eviction. Considering the economic plight of the people of New Mexico, it is fantastically outrageous, indefensible and vicious.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

SENATOR BRATTON

Senator Sam G. Bratton has accepted the appointment to the bench of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Tenth circuit. However, he will not take this office until after the adjournment of the present congress.

New Mexico will suffer a serious loss in Senator Bratton, yet his friends all over the state cannot conscientiously object to him taking this place.

Senator Bratton has made New Mexico a wonderful representative in Washington, and not only New Mexico but the entire nation is proud of him.

change, would have been a good measure, provided that six United States senate?

It is rumored Governor Seligman will appoint himself and then resign from the governorship, turning the state over to Lieutenant Governor Hockenbush.

While it would be a calamity to New Mexico to have Seligman or Barker become senator, the feeling is expressed that he could not do the state as much harm in Washington as in the governor's chair.

As governor he has assumed the position of Nero, and has fiddled while New Mexico burned.

SIGN REFERENDUM ON DELINQUENT TAX BILL

Petitions now are being circulated for a referendum on a number of bills passed by the recent legislature. The bill which is of the greatest interest to the majority of the public is Senate Bill No. 144, commonly known as the delinquent tax bill. In normal times this bill, with a slight change would have been a good measure, provided that six months' time would have been given before the tax sales.

Under this bill all delinquent taxes for 1931 and 1932 will be sold on the 12th of June. Those favoring the bill point out that you will not be dispossessed for two years, the time which you are allowed for redemption. But—

Suppose you have a mortgage on your place and are unable to meet your 1932 taxes by June 12. The holder of the mortgage, for self-protection, will be forced to pay the taxes and take a tax title to your property. The tax title comes before your mortgage, and you stand to lose your place, or destroy your standing with your creditors.

It is utterly impossible for many farmers and business men to meet their taxes at this time, yet they would be able to meet them by fall.

This law has practically stopped payment of taxes on installment, as the taxpayer feels that he will be unable to meet them in full by June 12, and says that if he is going to lose his place anyway, why put any more money into it.

The governor has the power to call off or postpone this sale, but as yet has taken no action to that effect.

If a sufficient number sign the referendum petition the sale will be stopped.

Sign the petition. Do not delay.

THE UNIVERSITY SQUABBLE

The University of New Mexico is receiving publicity which will seriously damage it in the future.

The matter of bringing up race prejudice seems to be a premeditated plot to oust Zimmerman.

New Mexico citizens should get together for the development of the state and forget whether they are Spanish-Americans or Anglo-Saxons. The prefix should be abolished and all citizens call themselves New Mexicans.

Were the race problem brought up in any section of the nation, it would result in the Irish grasping the throats of the English, the Scotch would be at odds with their neighbors, the French and Germans would have grievances, the Jews would not sit idly by while the other races "fit" each other. In fact, America is made up of all races, and the majority of them are good American citizens.

The university should not be made the goat in this silly warfare.

Egg Situation Still Tightens

By S. V. GOSSEL

More and more is being said and being demanded as to the size and weight of eggs. Almost every market of any consequence at this time is demanding—not asking—that all cases of eggs weight fifty-five pounds; and it is only a question of a very short time until every market will be demanding a fifty-five-pound case of eggs for the top price, and all cases that do not weigh fifty-five pounds will have to be sold at 1 cent a dozen less, making 30 cents a case less.

When eggs are being handled and sold on the very small margin that they are at this time—and probably will always be handled on this small margin—the dealer can pay as much for small eggs as for the standards, since the difference will mean a loss on that case of eggs.

The way eggs are running at this time, more cases weigh less than fifty pounds than over fifty-five pounds. As a proof of this statement, only yesterday the writer has done the floor 100 cases of eggs and a buyer contracted them, but wanted only the fifty-five pound cases. The eggs were put on the scales, and he took only seventy-two cases. He offered to take the remainder, 108 cases, at 30c per case less, which is only just and fair, but which meant a loss to us since we had paid as much for the small light eggs as we had for the standards.

An illustration of fairness in paying as much for small eggs as for the standards follows: Suppose that butter fat was bought by the pound of cream (butter) instead of by test. Then the fellow who had forty pounds of cream testing 30 per cent would receive the same sum for his cream as the fellow who had forty pounds of 40 or even 50 per cent cream, the weight of the cream being the same. By actual test and figures, at the price of cream today (20c per pound), the fellow with the forty pounds of cream at a 30 per cent test would have twelve pounds of butter fat worth $2.40, and the fellow with the forty pounds of cream at a 50 per cent test (and the variation is no greater than the difference between small Brown Leghorn and Anconas and other flocks of small and in-bred and poorly fed and uncared-for flocks) would have twenty pounds of butter fat at 20 cents a pound would be $4 (nearly twice as much). This is easily and readily seen.

The exact condition exists between the small and the large eggs and any thought at all will usually show the difference and convince anybody that a dozen eggs weighing eighteen ounces is not worth over half as much as a dozen weighing twenty-eight ounces (as many of the old weight). However, eggs do not have to weigh twenty-eight ounces to be of standard size. Eggs that weigh twenty-three ounces to the dozen will do for standards, and with a little care in selecting the larger breeds of hens and the larger kinds of the smaller breeds, with more and better feed, and by using better roosters than many people at this time do (thus increasing the size and the vitality and the blood of the flocks) they will produce a much larger, more desirable and more valuable egg—the thing the public now is demanding and will always demand.

The discriminating buyer—the housewife—can easily and readily see and know without even thinking that a dozen small eggs do not contain as much food value as a dozen large ones, no more than a half pound of bacon contains as much food value as a pound does.

Now that eggs are an important part of the income of the farm—and becoming more important all the time—and the demand is growing all the time for larger and better eggs, it surely behooves every producer of commercial eggs to pay more attention to the size of the eggs he produces.

If you are not already on the right track and producing standard eggs now is the time to begin. In a short time when you are disappointed in the price you are getting for your eggs, you will be in a position to get the most the market offers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tolleson and their daughter Marie arrived in Portales Sunday from Oklahoma. Mr. Tolleson started on his return home Sunday night, but Mrs. Tolleson and Marie will remain in Portales for a few days assisting with the care of Mrs. Tolleson's mother, Mrs. Byrne, and her sister, Mrs. Hebe Stewart, who are both ill. Mrs. Byrne is at the Stewart ranch near Arch, and Mrs. Stewart is in Portales at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wat Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Pike moved to Clovis, where they plan to have their home. Mr. Pike will be connected with the Ray's Steam laundry.

Mrs. J. N. McCall and her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Lyons, arrived home last week from Coleman, Tex., where they had spent three weeks visiting in the home of Mrs. McCall's sister.

Miss LaVon Brown has completed her school at Artesia and has come to Portales to visit for a short while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brown.

Arthur F. Jones Gives Views on Money Situation

Arthur F. Jones of the First National bank of Portales gives as his opinion the United States going off the gold standard will have no bad financial effects on conditions in this country.

On the contrary, he thinks it is better not to have a 40 per cent reserve of gold to back up the currency at this time. He gave several reasons for his opinion.

One reason is that most of the other countries are off the gold standard, and this country was being drained of its gold supply by having to accept the paper money of those countries in exchange for our gold.

Another reason he gives is that the price of our money was too high to permit trade with other countries. "Now our money should be more on a par with their money, making it possible for us to trade with these nations. When commerce is improved, internal conditions will improve."

"There will no doubt be a better feeling between us and the other countries," Mr. Jones states. "Modern means of travel have brought all the nations so close together that the prosperity of one depends upon the prosperity of the other."

"I hope there can be established a universal money for the world," the banker went on. "This universal money could be something on the order of a gold standard. He would not recommend the payment in gold, except in cases demanding it."

Mr. Jones had no comment to make on the new currency. "We have received none so far," he said. "I think the President has done the most constructive piece of work so far by going off the gold standard," he said.

FARM PLANS COMPARED FOR IRRIGATED AREAS

In spite of the low prices that prevailed during the last year, cotton still leads as the most profitable cash field crop on southern New Mexico irrigated farm where satisfactory yields can be obtained. This is the conclusion reached by L. H. Hauter and Byron Hunter, joint authors of extension circular No. 124, issued by the New Mexico State college, which has just been published.

Eight different plans of organizing an eighty-acre farm in the Mesilla valley were studied. The only difference in the eight plans is the way that thirty-five acres of land are used. Returns are measured in terms of labor income, this being the net returns to the operator after allowing for all expenses, cash and non-cash, including interest on the total capital investment. While all plans show a minus labor income with prices that prevailed in 1932, the system where the thirty-five acres are devoted to growing cotton show less loss than the systems where the thirty-five acres are devoted to the growing of either alfalfa hay or corn as cash crops.

Systems where livestock is included show varying results. Including a dairy herd to utilize the feed produced on thirty-five acres gives a slightly lower labor income than any of the crop systems when whole market milk is sold, and when butterfat is sold for making cheese, the income is much lower. This is especially true when no use is made of the skim milk, and even when the dairy herd is reduced to a poultry flock or hogs are added to consume part of the feed produced on the thirty-five acres of land and to utilize the skim milk produced by the dairy, the income is considerably lower than it is when market milk is sold. The poultry enterprise made more profitable use of the skim milk than the hogs.

Utilizing the thirty-five acres for growing feed for feeding cattle or lambs indicated relatively good returns, providing a satisfactory margin between the buying and selling price is obtained. It required a spread of 43 cents between the farm buying and selling price of cattle and a spread of 80 cents between the farm buying and selling price of lambs to give the same returns for the livestock feeding systems as is secured when the thirty-five acres are used for cotton, when cotton sells at 6 cents a pound.

A change in prices or yields will of course change these results. The circular analyzes the systems studied in detail and also gives a detailed analysis of the production methods, standards of production and prices used. It represents a

Scoggins Explains Why Holiday Ass'n Opposes Tax Law

W. T. Scoggins, chairman of the publicity committee for the Farmers' holiday association, issued the following statement relative to the laws passed by the recent estate legislature:

"The most objectionable bill of those passed by the state legislature is senate bill No. 144. Some of our state's best lawyers interpret this bill to mean that after sale by the county treasurer, which is provided for in the bill on penalty of forfeiture of office, that any person buying any real property in New Mexico or personal property can take possession immediately after purchase. In the event no buyer bids at the sale, then the title vests in the state as though it had been sold to a private individual. The state, having possession of these certificates, will and must sell to anyone desiring to purchase any delinquent property and the present owner does not have to be further notified. In effect, it means that some sweet day the farmer is asked to vacate his farm and crops, and the only chance he has to regain possession is to pay the delinquent taxes, together with all interest and penalties. An improbable task!"

"Since property is delinquent in this state, if these sales are allowed to take place as provided by law on the second Monday in June, our state will be completely bankrupt and the state itself will not have collected any considerable sum of money. The best asset this state has is a citizenship having knowledge of state conditions and, in normal times, paid all their taxes and will do so again if given half a chance. For this class of citizens to be sold out is a tragedy against humanity and a short-sighted policy by our lawmakers that we shall not recover from in a generation to come."

"As to personal property, there is no redemption. Once sold it is gone forever. When it is contemplated to put all of this on the market at one time, it will take all a farmer has to pay a small amount of delinquent taxes. To deprive a farmer of taxes, tools, and the family milk cow, all of them right in the middle of crop season, will defeat the state's every hope of recovery."

"The two million dollar debt-bill is simply adding to the time when we should be looking to economy. Certainly it should be killed!"

"The purchasing agency bill centralizing the power of one agency to buy for the whole state looks good on the face of it. But in practice it is susceptible of building a huge political machine to perpetuate in office an undesirable administration."

"The Farmers' holiday association has been criticized for permitting its name to be used in connection with the merchants' bill, the severance tax bill, and the lubricating oil bill. The farmers are not quite so simple as they used to be. The politicians are forcing an education upon them. We know full well that these are sale taxes in disguise that will add up more money to the total amount of our tax bill. Already we pay a 6-cent tax on gas, now comes 4 cents a gallon on oil. All of this really means that many of us will put our lizzies in the garage and get on the highway with horses and buggies, only there to have some careless motorist terminate our misery. Mr. Business Man, this is really in restraint of trade because the farmer will have to stay at home, not being able to get into town, and he will be unable to purchase your merchandise."

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nelson of Redlake were in Portales Saturday shopping and attending to some business matters.

Mrs. M. B. Jones, R. A. Young, T. E. Mears, E. T. Hensley and J. D. Turner were members of the Portales Woman's club accepting the invitation to a silver tea given by the Junior Women's club of Clovis in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harris in that city last Friday afternoon.

WHY LETTERS DIE AND GO TO THE DEAD LETTER OFFICE

Address of Burton G. Cowles, Superintendent Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post, Jan. 29, 1933.

The return to the senders or final disposition of all unclaimed and undelivered letters has been one of the necessary activities of the postal service ever since its establishment as the following facts relative to its history, organization and volume of work of the dead letter service clearly indicates.

Like Topsy of Uncle Tom's Cabin fame, who simply "grew up" in a cornfield, the Dead Letter Office never had an official father. That is the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post was never established by statute but has been recognized in legislation affecting the disposal of undeliverable matter in the postal service and in many acts of Congress providing for expenses of administration.

The first step in the direction of specific legislation appears to have been taken in the enactment of a resolution by the Continental Congress on October 17, 1777, in which provision was made for "an inspector of dead letters" with a salary of one hundred dollars per year. This officer was required "to examine all dead letters, to preserve carefully all money, certificates, notes, and other valuable papers." This officer was enjoined from taking a copy of any letter whatever and not divulge their contents to any but Congress, or to those whom they may appoint for the purpose. In this act Congress established the sanctity of sealed enclosures.

From this one man organization the dead letter service grew until during the Civil War period nine clerks were engaged treating dead mail matter and at the time of decentralization in 1917, when several dead letter and dead parcel branches were established in various cities, the number of employees had increased to 186. At the present time the service is operated with a headquarters staff of 33 and a field force of 106 clerks.

The division is one of only two or three other branches of the federal service that is not self-supporting and whose revenues equal the cost for personnel. The number of dead letters continued to increase until the year 1927, when 25,854,845 were received.

During that year a card request campaign was inaugurated to induce large mailers to place their name and address upon all letters mailed with the remarkable success that the dead letter receipts were curtailed over 2,000,000 letters per year and this reduction has been maintained ever since.

The purpose of this talk is to reach you mothers, fathers, sons, daughters and by all means the sweethearts and earnestly ask your cooperation in delivering letters addressed to you, or returning those you mail that fail of delivery and thus prevent unnumbered heartaches and separations that frequently result in some of the tragedies of life. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1932, there were received 17,210,588 dead letters. Of this number 15,121,324 were unclaimed letters that failed to reach the addressee because the ones to whom they were directed moved and failed to notify their postmaster or letter carrier of a change of address, and that the senders had failed to place their full name and complete address upon the envelope used. If you had heeded the repeated request of the Post Office Department to place your full name and address upon all mail matter posted not one of these would have died and been sent to the final disposition.

Unclaimed letters are those mailed without postage or partially prepaid an insufficient amount to be forwarded collect to the addressee, misdirected, undelivered and these not mailable because of violations of the Postal Laws and Regulations. All these letters would have been returned to the mailers at the time of posting had they borne a return address. Money to the amount of $80,481.63 was found in 44,881 letters. About 70 per cent of this money was restored to the rightful owners. Letters containing checks, etc., numbered 107,790 and the face value of the inclosures was $3,151,827.64. More than 99 per cent of these letters were returned to the senders.

Letters are opened and examined at once, those found to contain correspondence only are selected for return if found to contain the address of the sender. Letters not returnable are destroyed daily without record.

Properly address, fully prepay postage and place your name and address in the upper left hand corner of all letters you mail and thus help us to render you more efficient service and put the dead letter office out of business.

Poppy Day in Elida May 27

By MRS. H. F. DEERING
Pub. Chairman American Legion and Jacob Self post No. 57

Elida will observe Poppy Day this year on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial day. It has been announced by Mrs. H. F. Deering, chairman of the poppy committee of Jacob Self unit of the American Legion auxiliary. The unit is making extensive preparations for the observance of the day and is hoping for the full co-operation of all other organizations and individuals.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the war dead, will be made available to everyone in the city by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary unit. Organization of the workers is being formed rapidly under Mrs. Deering's direction, and the unit expects to have the poppies in all parts of the downtown district throughout the day. The flowers for the sale have been ordered from Ft. Bayard hospital, where they are being made by disabled World War veterans. "Poppy day" is the day for memorial tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service, and Mrs. Deering says it is a day when all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made by those who defended America in time of peace. The poppy is a patriotic symbol which means honor for the dead and service to the living.

"No price will be asked for the American Legion poppies. The Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute to the fund for the relief of the disabled veterans according to his means. Any contributions will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of our local Auxiliary unit among needy families in this city."

The local poppy corps will be part of an army of 100,000 women who will go into action on a nationwide front on Poppy day to recall to America the services of the war dead and to raise funds to aid the war's living victims. Before the close of the day these women hope to place the flower of peace on ten million coats, to receive contributions which will enable the American Legion to carry on its relief and rehabilitation work for disabled veterans and needy families during the coming year.

Making poppies for the sale has given hundreds of disabled veterans employment through the winter and spring months. These disabled men are the only workers in the Auxiliary's poppy program receiving pay, all others donating their services. All contributions received above the cost of making the poppies is used in the Auxiliary's welfare work.

The recital will consist of the lighter as well as the more serious numbers, which have been chosen to please everyone and at the same time show the work accomplished. EXPENDITURE FOR VOCATIONAL EDUCATION SMALL

In 1928, the last year for which the United States bureau of education has complete data, the funds spent for vocational education equaled 1 per cent of all funds spent for all types of education in the United States, the Philippine Islands and Hawaii.

From the 1930 census report, 8 per cent of the population is engaged in professional, executive and managerial functions, the remainder 92 per cent perform the actual tasks of producing our food, clothing and shelter.

In all fairness it must be observed that when compared with the total expenditure for education of all types in the United States, that for vocational education—education for the primary needs of 92 per cent of the population—is certainly not high.

Orphans' Home Presented Rug

Last Sunday afternoon the Baptist Orphans' home in Portales had a wonderful surprise when Mrs. Manjeot and her Y. W. A. girls from Elida presented it with a nice new conglomera rug for the living room of the institution.

The girls met Friday night at the home of Mrs. Manjeot and made cookies. These also were presented to the orphans.

Mrs. R. E. Littleton of Portales in a statement to the Record, says: "We are sorry we failed to obtain the names of the girls in the party, but about eight accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Manjeot and Mrs. Clark were in the party."

"We can't express our thanks in words for the thoughtfulness and love of these girls for the orphans, but we want you to know we thank you from the depths of our hearts and will always remember you and your leader for wanting to help us make a real home for the children."

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Keith and Mrs. R. E. Walker of Elida and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brake and children of Sweetwater, Tex., were guests in the J. L. Lary home at Clovis Sunday afternoon.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 2 (Tuesday).—The fellows, seeing the German city's spick and span appearance, said: "They must have heard we were coming."

WASHINGTON, Ohio, May 4 (Thursday).—This is Washington morning. The rain that had soaked Main street to fry bacon and cook coffee. Yes, yes! we are at Washington, Ohio, after thirty-six hours of ceaseless traveling after our ten-hour breakdown in East St. Louis. This is a cold, damp country and it sure has its ups and downs.

There are thirty-one in our party now.

Continental Congress Convenes

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6 (Saturday night).—Twenty-six of us from Roosevelt and Curry counties arrived here at 3:30 a. m. this morning. The rain that had soaked us for ten hours had ceased, so we (the three in our bed) laid it under a protecting fire escape stairs of the Washington auditorium and slept horizontal for the first time in three days and three nights.

This great auditorium is said to have a seating capacity of 6,000 and it is full of delegates—no others admitted at this day's session.

Some of the notable speakers are Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate; President Simpson of the National Farmers' union; Senator Frazier of North Dakota; Congressman Shumaker of Minnesota; and Margaret Sanger.

One of the ablest speakers is a negro and, by the way, it is an eye-opener to see what extremes of race equality seem to prevail amongst the radicals in the east.

The Cairo hotel refused to entertain the colored delegates. Indignantly the convention took up the matter and all the white delegates were urged to check out of that hotel and demand their money back. The Cairo management let them do so, but when the quitting delegates attempted to register at other Washington hotels they found themselves boycotted.

The Socialists are in control of this convention and a prominent speaker-author who suggested some other name for the proposed new party was heartily booed.

Farm Notes

ALLEN SANDERS TELLS PLANS FOR 1933 CROP

Allen Sanders is one of the Portales valley truck farmers who has considerable experience in truck farming. He has his farm plans made for another season, as far as plans for a farm can be made in New Mexico.

At present he does not feel favorable to tomatoes for this year. It is not that he does not think they will be profitable, but he does not care to work with them.

He plans to make potatoes his main money crop, planting both the Irish and sweet potato in equal acreage.

He thinks the regular markets can be counted on for the sweet potatoes with the local demand. The Irish potatoes will probably be marketed in trucks to the near by markets.

Bob Gore and family were in Portales Saturday from their farm west of O'Neill. He states there was enough rain there last week to make the moisture meet in the sandy soil. The cattle are living on the grass of the pasture.

Bob Corbett of the Elida country says that stock is holding up fairly well, but a good rain is needed.

Clifford Meador is one of the young farmers who is working an irrigated farm. Clifford says his hot beds are doing fine.

John Cooper stated Saturday afternoon that his potatoes and tomatoes were just coming through, but the ridges or beds were protecting the tender plants to a remarkable degree; however, the dirt and sand were whipping in.

V. F. Newman says he is doing no farming for a while yet.

Rex Forrest says he has his land listed up and ready to plant. The winds are not damaging it seriously as yet.

Sales Instructor Urges Advertising

Advertising must tell its story as never before and it must be followed by good merchandising methods to bring the customers back to the store, Peter B. Arnold, president of a sales institute in Los Angeles, Cal., told members of the Dallas Advertising League recently.

"Newspaper advertisements still have their pulling power," he said. "People read them and look for them to find out where to go, but after they get to the stores they are driven out by indifference on the part of employees. Then the merchants say their ads will not pull. It was not the ad but the follow-through which lost the sale."

"Today people go where they are invited, but they return to the place where they are well treated. Better advertising is needed to move the prospect to the merchandise, and better salesmanship to move the merchandise to the prospect."

MRS. W. C. SCHUMPERT DIES IN PORTALES HOME

Mrs. W. C. Schumpert had spent only eight years in New Mexico, but during that time had endeared herself to scores of friends by her smile and gentle manner, which were always an evidence of her consideration and true Christian life, and these friends sympathize with the saddened children over the passing of their mother at her home here in Portales last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Schumpert was born in Nettleton, Miss., Sept. 27, 1859. When a young girl in her early teens she was converted and joined the Presbyterian church, and throughout nearly sixty years has experienced the joys of her religion.

On Jan. 17, 1915, she was married to W. C. Schumpert. They established their home in Oklahoma during the pioneer days. There they lived and were leaders in the building of a new state.

After the death of her husband nine years ago, Mrs. Schumpert came to Portales and while here she has had her own home and has been near her daughter, Mrs. J. A. South, and her son, B. M. Schumpert.

She was the mother of thirteen children. Four died in infancy and her son George gave his life in France during the World war. With the exception of two sons, all were with her a few days before her death.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church in Portales Saturday afternoon, with six of those she had known best serving as casket bearers. They included Ernest Pogue, Marion Stunnett, Kenneth Brough, H. A. Hunter, Charles Goodloe and Murray South. Rev. Clyde Barton of Clovis and Rev. C. A. Loris conducted the services.

The body was then taken to Frederick, Okla., by an attendant from the Wheeler-Johnson mortuary, accompanied by her son, B. M. Schumpert, where a second service was held with all the children present.

The great banks of flowers were silent testimonies of the love friends held for the deceased. The four sons are: T. H. of Georgetown, Tex.; B. M. of Portales; A. U. of Chattanooga, Okla.; and G. H. of Grandfield, Okla. The daughters are: Mrs. E. A. Pike of Alex, Okla.; Mrs. A. B. Tucker of Frederick, Okla.; Mrs. J. A. Kern in Houston, Tex.

Her body was placed beside her husband and in George in the family burial plot at Frederick.

ORPHANS' HOME NOTES

The fourteenth anniversary of the opening of the New Mexico Baptist Orphans' home at Portales was celebrated on Monday, May 1.

During the existence of this institution hundreds of orphaned girls and boys of New Mexico have been given a home and in addition have received Christian training that has made them a blessing to their community.

Not only dependent Baptist children, but the poor unfortunate orphans of any denomination are accepted at the home and are receiving the hospitality and religious training given by the helpers at the home.

The Masons of Portales honored the home with a huge birthday cake decorated with the Masonic emblem in fancy icing.

The management is appreciative of the help and loyalty shown the home by the people of Portales and surrounding territory and asks that hearty thanks be accepted for this sympathy and support.

Rev. W. C. Grant is superintendent of the institution.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who assisted during the fire and those who have been so kind since.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Betts and family, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Whitfield, Mrs. Bertha Dittfurth and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Greenhaw and O. P. Bartlett returned Tuesday from Des Moines, Ia., where they had been attending the convention of the Farmers' Holiday association.
