Raise Tariff Rate On Wheat 12 Cents Bushel

COOLIDGE IN OFFICIAL ORDER MAKES INCREASE

Duty On Wheat Flour Is Also Raised 26 Cents A Hundred

IS APPROVED

Will Be Effective In 30 Days; Reduce Ad Valorem Mill Feeds

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7. — An increase of 12 cents a bushel in the tariff rate on wheat was ordered today by President Coolidge.

Acting under the flexible provision of the tariff act, and on the basis of the tariff commission's recent inquiry, the president at the same time ordered an increase of 26 cents a hundred pounds in the ad valorem rate on mill feeds.

The new rate on wheat will be 42 cents per bushel as compared with the present rate of 30 cents; the new rate on flour will be $1.04 per hundred as compared with 78 cents, and the rate on mill feeds will be 7½ per cent advalorem as against 15 per cent.

New rates ordered by the president and set forth in a formal proclamation will become effective in 30 days.

The increases will be come effective in time to be applied to the flood of Canadian wheat which descends on the United States the middle of April each year, with the opening of navigation on the great lakes.

The advance in rates was sought to aid particularly the hard wheat growers of the northwest but the resultant increase in the price of spring wheat is expected to be reflected in the market quotations in winter wheat raised in the middle western and other states.

Special to The Record News.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 7.—After being out all night, the jury in the case against J. C. Bryant of Fort Smith, Ark., charged with conspiracy and misuse of the mails in connection with the alleged fraudulent sale of stock in the Burkburnett-Claiborne Oil company reported in federal court here Friday morning that it was hopelessly divided and was discharged. The division was nine to three for acquittal, it was said. C. C. Nix, charged jointly with Bryant and W. W. Bilyieu, immediately withdrew his former plea of guilty and entered a plea of not guilty. Both cases will probably be tried at the next term of court.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 7.—Rumors of impending violence in connection with the trial of Tom Pettitt and Grover Waddle, alleged cattle rustlers, today caused Superior Judge Struckmeyer to order spectators in the court to "disarm" themselves if any were carrying concealed weapons.

The court declared that any person holding "shooting irons" should leave them outside or in the care of the sheriff.

Waddle and Pettitt were arrested several weeks ago at Kerrville, Texas.

Kentucky Congressman Makes Denial Before Colleagues

ZIHLMAN IS SILENT

Solon Cheered As He Vindicates Forbes Fraud Charges

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7. — The house waited in vain today for information from the department of justice as to the identity of the two representatives charged in a Chicago grand jury's report with improper use of influence.

Although declaring he had no official information that he was one of the men involved, Representative Langley, republican of the tenth Kentucky district, took the floor to defend his name. Facing two hundred of his colleagues, he said he knew reports were in circulation that he was one of the accused. Publication of his name in newspapers prompted him, he said, to speak out without waiting for the department of justice reports. He declared unequivocally that he was guilty of no wrong doing.

Several times during his brief speech the Kentuckian, who is chairman of the public buildings committee, was applauded by his colleagues, who rose to cheer him as he left the floor.

At the time Representative Zihlman, republican, Maryland, who also was mentioned in newspaper accounts as being one of the men referred to in the grand jury report, was not on the floor, although he was present in the house chamber at intervals during the afternoon.

Mr. Zihlman declined to comment on the situation, other than to reiterate that he knew nothing of charges, but could prove his innocence if any were preferred. He is chairman of the labor committee.

MUSCLE SHOALS BILL HOLDS UP

All Efforts of Enemies To Ford Project Fail To Hurt Status

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The house today voted down every effort to alter radically the McKenzie bill which would authorize acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals.

Amendments were rejected by majorities so decisive that leaders generally predicted that advocates of the proposal not only would have the votes to pass the bill, probably tomorrow, but to maintain their air-tight defense against drastic changes in its provisions.

There is a probability that several important amendments will be adopted but only those believed not to be distasteful to the Detroit manufacturer will be acceptable to the supporters of the McKenzie bill.

Among the amendments thrown into the discard today was one offered by Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, which proposed to limit the Ford lease to 50 years instead of 100 years, as stipulated in the bill, and to place him under the jurisdiction of the federal water power act. This amendment was rejected 182 to 104.

Democrats who lined up solidly against it had the support of about 40 republicans.

Another amendment thrown out, offered by Representative Williamson, republican, South Dakota, will have materially increased the amount of money Ford would be required to pay the government for the government properties at Muscle Shoals. While there are indications that a number of amendments will be offered tomorrow, those in charge of the McKenzie measure are determined to put it to a vote before the house adjourns for the week-end.

MEXICO TO MAKE BIG DEBT PAYMENT

By The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, March 7.—Three Million pesos will be delivered to the international bankers' syndicate at New York April 1 as the first installment on the second payment of interest on the Mexican debt, says an official statement. Hope is expressed that the Mexican government will be able to deliver the 35,000,000 pesos due at the end of the present year.

Rebel activities in the Tuxpam oil fields, which is responsible for a decrease in the oil export tax is the reason given why the government is ready to pay only 3,000,000 pesos at present.

VERNON MAN SERIOUSLY HURT HERE WHEN AUTO RUNS OFF BRIDGE; COMPANION IS JAILED

Tram Scott, a Vernon cotton buyer, was seriously injured at 4:30 Friday afternoon when the automobile in which he and G. H. Sydow also of Vernon, were riding ran off the road just beyond the Burnett street river bridge and turned partially over. Scott was hurried to the general hospital where an operation was performed on his head last night. It was said that he was badly cut and bruised but that it was too early to ascertain how serious his condition was.

Sydow, who was driving the car at the time of the accident, was uninjured and is now held in the county jail where he faces a charge of reckless driving while in an intoxicated condition.

According to eyewitnesses of the accident, the stout model Buick roadster in which the men were driving ran north on Burnett street at a speed estimated at between 50 and 60 miles an hour. It was said that it was racing with a motorcycle at the time. The machine had just crossed the bridge, according to reports made to Constable Frank Morgan, when the driver evidently lost complete control and it careened to the side of the road, the front and rear wheels on the right hand side dropping into a ditch and turning the car on its right side.

Scott was riding on this side and was caught by a top brace. Sydow was thrown clear and sustained only a few minor bruises.

The machine was considerably bent but was able to be driven away under its own power.

Daugherty Sits Tight As Enemies Try To Shake Him Down From Cabinet

The Day In Washington

President Coolidge proclaimed in increase in tariff rates on wheat.

Attorney General Daugherty returned to Washington without indicating any intention of resigning.

Subpoenas were served on a number of witnesses by the senate committee in the Daugherty investigation.

The senate passed the treasury and postoffice department appropriation bill.

Paid-up Insurance was agreed upon by the house ways and means committee as a major provision in the bonus bill.

The first test votes on Muscle Shoals in the house showed a majority of those voting on amendments to favor the Ford bid.

Representative Theodore E. Burton notified the administration he preferred remaining in congress to being secretary of the navy.

President Coolidge, it was announced, favors the proposal in congress for a joint resolution to make effective a 25 per cent reduction in the 1923 taxes.

Representative Langley of Kentucky and Zihlman, Maryland, denied they had ever exercised influence improperly and Mr. Langley demanded a house investigation of rumors that his name was mentioned in connection with the Chicago grand jury report on misuse of office.

Ira E. Bennett of the Washington Post, told the oil committee that Attorney General Daugherty sent a reassuring message to E. B. McLean at Palm Beach and that Senator Curtis, republican, Kansas, was the "principal" mentioned in the McLean messages. Senator Curtis denying Bennett's testimony, demanded a hearing before the committee and Bennett will be recalled.

Reed Says He's Driving Nails In McAdoo's Coffin

By The Associated Press

LOUISIANA, Mo., March 7. — United States Senator James A. Reed assailed those who challenged his democracy in an address here this afternoon, concluding his campaign in Missouri for the democratic presidential nomination. He asserted he wanted "to drive the clinching nail in the political coffin of Mr. McAdoo, for it is my duty to fight for the public wherever the trail of bribery and corruption may lead."

He reiterated that President Coolidge should be impeached unless he turned out Attorney General Daugherty, "and others," adding "the president may quit anyway when the people get a crack at him at the polls."

"Mr. McAdoo," he said, "may win the Missouri delegation but no man wearing boots filled with Mr. Doheny's petroleum can carry a single state in the union in the general election."

He asserted McAdoo's alleged failure to require the delivery of bonds for ten billion dollars to the allies had cost the United States twenty two billion dollars, counting compound interest.

PATRICK MORAN DIES AT HOME

Veteran Leader Cincinnati Reds Victim Bright's Disease

By The Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla., March 7.—Patrick J. Moran, veteran pilot of the Cincinnati Reds of the National league, died here late this afternoon.

Moran's death was due to acute nephritis, commonly called Bright's disease. He was unconscious for some hours preceding death.

Mrs. Moran and her two children were at the bedside. They reached here this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Jack Hendricks, coach of the Reds, was also at the bedside when death came.

Moran arrived here last week end on Monday suffered a general breakdown. Four physicians were in constant attendance.

He became unconscious last night and was kept alive by the use of stimulants and the administration of water under the skin in the attempt to rid him of poison.

Tom Moran, a brother, left Boston this morning for Orlando.

Hendricks took charge of the training period of the Reds on Moran's breakdown.

Moran went to the Reds in 1919, at a time when they were in need of a manager. He had signed with John J. McGraw as coach of the New York Giants but was permitted to assume managership of the Reds. Moran piloted the team through a successful season, winning the world's championship.

CANDLER SAYS PISTOL TALKED

Byfield Made Him Sign Check For $25,000 He Testifies

By The Associated Press

DECATUR, Ga., March 7.—Walter T. Candler, Atlanta capitalist, did not attempt an attack on Mrs. Clyde Byfield but was a victim of a plot by her husband to extort money from him according to Candler's testimony late today in the trial of Mrs. Byfield's $100,000 suit against him for alleged attack upon her on board the steamship Berengaria, bound for France in 1922. When court recessed late today it was announced the jury arguments would begin tomorrow and would probably be concluded in the afternoon.

Byfield threatened to "blow my brains out," Candler testified, "if I did not sign a check for $25,000," three minutes after he said he and Byfield had a fight in Mrs. Byfield's state room. The defendant stated that Byfield had the check already filled out and when he told him that I was the best friend he had," he roared at Candler.

"Write that check, write that check, write that check."

Mr. Candler said that he had gone to the Byfield's stateroom to inquire as to the condition of Mrs. Byfield as she had been "drinking more champagne than was good for her," and that he believed Mr. and Mrs. Byfield were both in the room. He denied vigorously that there had been anything improper in his conduct, stating that such a charge was "absolutely false."

Candler stated that Byfield "accused me of attacking his wife."

"I would not have signed the check but Byfield was yelling at the top of his voice so I signed to hush his mouth," Candler said.

Reading of a deposition from Dr. L. C. Fisher, head of an Atlanta hospital where Mrs. Byfield is said to have sought treatment following her return trip from Europe, was introduced. The physician deposed that after a thorough examination he thought there was nothing unusual about Mrs. Byfield's condition and that from his examination he found no condition to warrant an operation.

Mrs. Byfield testified yesterday that the alleged state room incident wrecked her health.

One faction filled the court room early this morning and held it until tonight with the object of controlling the selection of delegates to the democratic state convention.

Leading a donkey, symbol of democracy, another faction appeared and demanded admission.

Fighting followed and several shots were fired. Several women fainted and several others were trampled before policemen restored order.

John Flynn, son of Alderman W. Flynn, was taken to the hospital with a knife wound in his neck.

John Boylain, was shot through the abdomen. He probably will recover.

SEEK VETO PROOF BONUS

Hope to Have Measure Coolidge Will Endorse

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A new form of soldier bonus with paid-up life insurance as a principal provision was decide upon today by the house ways and means committee. A proposal to include an option of full cash payments is under consideration.

Adoption of the insurance scheme definitely side-tracks the bill passed last session providing four options—cash payments to those not entitled to more than $50; adjusted service certificates, a form of deferred payment; vocational training and farm or home aid.

Proponents of the new bill argue it has a much better chance of presidential approval. The old measure was vetoed by President Harding while President Coolidge also has declared against a soldiers' bonus.

Considerable support was given today to the motion of Representative Oldfield, democrat, Arkansas, to make full cash payments an alternate option of the measure.

A plan advanced by Representative Bachmann, republican, New Jersey, will be used by a sub-committee in working out the definite form of the insurance provision. It provides for 20 year endowment policies to all veterans who served more than 60 days.

Indict 3 For Alleged Attempt Bribe Daugherty

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 7.—A federal grand jury today indicted three persons for obstructing justice and attempting for a price of $65,000 to bribe United States Attorney General Daugherty and other government prosecutors to protect men who since have been sentenced for using the mails in a fraud which netted $175,000.

Those indicted were Thomas B. Felder, head of a well known law firm and defense counsel in several big bootleg liquor cases; Gaston A. Means, a former agent of the department of justice; and Elmer Jarnecke, secretary to Means.

Means, Jarnecke and nine others were indicted last October for using the mails to defraud and engaging in a conspiracy through which 52 cases and 12,000 barrels of whiskey were recovered from licensed distilleries and diverted into bootleg channels. Felder is Mean's attorney in this case.

Returns to Washington and Is Apparently Unconcerned About His Job.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The storm which had been expected to attend the return to the capitol today of Attorney General Daugherty failed to break and outwardly tonight there was a dead calm in the controversy over his retention in the cabinet. Underneath the calm, however, there were rumblings which were accentuated by further steps by the senate committee which expects early next week to begin its investigation of Mr. Daugherty's administration of the department of justice. The committee issued subpoenas for half a dozen witnesses but in accordance with the policy previously decided upon, did not disclose the line of testimony expected from those who were called.

Mr. Daugherty was silent; the White House was silent, and his critics in the senate produced no fresh attack to mark his return after a nine day trip to Chicago and to Florida.

Arriving in the capital about half an hour after the Friday cabinet meeting, Mr. Daugherty went direct to the White House to attend a meeting of President Coolidge's official family at which all present afterwards agreed the controversy raging about the attorney general was not mentioned. He spent the remainder of the day studying precedents to determine whether the department of justice could legally meet the request of the house for the names of the two representatives charged by a Chicago grand jury with misuse of their influence.

The subpoenas issued by the senate investigating committee went to Dave G. Gershon, San Diego, Calif.; Emil Kostleis, Los Angeles; Forrest C. Pendleton, New Orleans; Chas. Breniman, Dallas, and William Wiseman and B. C. Baldwin, San Antonio. The notices to appear were sent out at the request of Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the "official prosecutor" of the committee.

SANITY ISSUE IN OIL MAN'S TRIAL

By The Associated Press

TEXARKANA, Texas, March 7.—Hearing to determine the mental condition of Harry N. Dr. B. G. Barrett of Shreveport, Morris' family physician, was questioned as to a contention that as a result of an accident in 1923 Morris' mental condition was temporarily impaired and since has been subject to slight mental derangements.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Continuation of the record breaking decline of the French franc today carried the quotation 17 points lower to a new low for all time at 3.76¾ cents.

SUMMON CLARA SMITH

Says Proposition Was Made In Chicago Convention Deadlock

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Leonard Wood, Jr., was subpoenaed by the senate oil committee tonight after publication of a statement in which he declared that certain oil interests had offered for a consideration to support his father, Major General Leonard Wood, for the republican presidential nomination in 1920.

According to the story told by Wood, the offer was made at the time of the deadlock in the Chicago convention and was conditioned upon the appointment of the late Jake Hamon, then republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, to the post of secretary of the interior.

Senator Walsh of Montana stated tonight that subpoenas also would be issued for Mrs. John W. Gorman formerly Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, and Jake Hamon, Jr.

The subpoena for Wood's appearance before the committee is returnable Wednesday, March 12. Committee members indicated that his testimony might open up an entirely new field of inquiry.

COOLIDGE JARS TAX PROGRAM

Comes Out For Removing 25 Per Cent Personal Income Tax Reduction

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Endorsement by President Coolidge today of the proposal to remove the provision for a 25 per cent reduction in personal income taxes payable this year from the revenue bill and enact it in a joint resolution before March 15, when first installments are due, stirred up a new tax fight in the house.

Republican organization leaders indicated they would force action on the proposal, while opposition developed in the ranks of both parties.

Democrats characterized the move as preliminary to a presidential veto of the revenue bill itself and many republicans expressed the fear that with this provision out of the bill, it would be subject to delay in enactment.

Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee, where the first action must be taken on such a resolution, delayed presenting the proposal to the committee today and declared he had heard so much opposition he felt there was little hope of getting it through in time for the March 15 payments.

Advocates of the Mellon rates which were eliminated from the revenue bill by the house, made known an intention, however, to force action, some frankly expressing the hope that the reduction provision could be eliminated from the bill so that it would thus be left more open to veto.

Have You a Little Bootlegger In The Lower House, Tom Blanton Asks

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Although a bit upset over rumors reflecting on this or that member of congress, the house declined today to become excited over a story linking an unnamed representative with a bootlegger.

Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, demanded an investigation of the arrest near the capitol of a mail who was quoted as having told a policeman he was headed for the house office building to deliver to a congressman the jug of liquor he was toting.

Blanton declared such a story reflected on the entire membership of the house. When he added that he didn't believe a single member of the house would buy liquor from a bootlegger there was a roar of laughter.

The resolution for an inquiry was laid out of order.

STAGE AND SCREEN

Ranger Koonsman Writes Tom Nix.

Praise from home folks is praise indeed. For, as one of the popular paragraphers of his period once wrote in the Proverbs: "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

Tom Mix is mighty pleased over a letter from the adjutant general's office in Texas.

Recently the renowned western star, who is appearing at the Strand in "North of Hudson Bay," made a William Fox picture captioned "The Lone Star Ranger," which had to do with the vicissitudes and joys of a Texas ranger. In his early days, Mr. Mix spent two years of his life on the frontier of Mexico and the Lone Star state border as a Texas ranger and he therefore made the picture vividly realistic.

Recently the picture was shown in Texas. Came then the following letter of which the famous Fox star is so proud:

"State of Texas, Adjutant General's Department, Austin. Corpus Christi, Texas, Jan. 25, 1924.

"Mr. Tom Mix, Los Angeles, Calif.

"Dear Sir: Just a few words so you will know the people of this part of the state, as well as we rangers, appreciate very muchly your picture, 'The Lone Star Ranger.' It was a splendid picture as well as a reproduction of the actual work which we come in contact with on the border.

"Wishing you great success in your picture work, I beg to remain,

(Signed) "Martin N. Koonsman, Sergt. Co. B. Texas Ranger."

Tom Mix has the letter among his most treasured possessions.

They Do It Only in the Movies.

"Despite the popular ideas disseminated by a certain class of motion pictures," said Shirley Mason, when recently interviewed between scenes in her latest picture, "Love Letters," "all beautiful girls don't wear sheer stockings and their escorts don't always discover motor trouble on lonely roads. Nor do the girls' rich fathers always wear house coats whenever they are home. Neither do the maids have wavy blond hair, or skimpy lace aprons or high heeled slippers with a generous display of ankles. Every husband doesn't try to kiss the maid, either.

"Villains don't always have black mustaches, and heroes are not invariably possessed of polished hair and polished riding boots. Every cowboy doesn't flash a gun or dash madly into town on a lathered horse. More likely he rattles along the main street in a flivver. Writers and artists have no agreement that compels them to wear roll collars and flowing ties.

"Girls in love don't unfailingly roll their eyes and heave billowy sighs. Every stenographer does not use her employer's lap for a resting place. Nor are all manicurists dazzling, bewitching sirens. But when it comes to love letters—well, although I'm not an expert on such matters, I believe that successful love letter writers are born—not trained.

"Love letters are works of art or else they are ridiculous. Once a man appears ridiculous to a girl he has a hard time getting her to consider him as the object of her affections. But that will not stop any lovesick youth from sending throbbing messages to tell of his devotion. There was one man who knew he couldn't write the kind of letter that would hold his fair lady enthralled, so he sent her red roses with just a few words on a card. But that's another story. There are two classes of love letters—the spontaneous combustion kind and the duds. The man who sends duds misses his target. Directors know this and they avoid showing love letters on the screen. Possibly the right sort of letters would burn the celluloid."

FILM FASHION.
For Morning.

Kathleen Key, who plays opposite Tom Mix in "North of Hudson Bay," —a William Fox production, wears an attractive morning dress of brown and tan plaid. It has along, circular tunic which gives an apron effect to the skirt, long tight sleeves and deep cuffs and collar of pique.

Plaid for Sports.

Brenda Bond, who is now at work on the new William Fox production, "The Fool," wears a daring but most attractive sports coat of a green and yellow plaid. It is three-quarter length, has a deep scarf collar and flares widely at the bottom.

The Beaded Gown.

Beaded gowns are still very much in vogue. Violet Mersereau, the golden haired girl of the William Fox production, "The Shepherd King," wears a gorgeous white evening frock finely beaded and embroidered in gold. The back is particularly distinctive with its narrow beaded panel hung traight from the shoulder.

A Tailor Made Girl.

Pauline Starke, who plays the leading feminine role in the William Fox special production "The Arizona Express," has a figure that satisfies even the severe demand of the popular tailored suit for spring. Her particular suit is of dark blue covert cloth which is most becoming. The skirt is the wrap-around kind and the plain front, lose back coat reaches just below the hips. It has a narrow collar and small revers. Of course she wears the regulation gardenia in the lapel.

Silver Lace and Tulle.

Betty Bouton, whose last Fox picture was "Not a Drum Was Heard," hit upon a happy combination for a dance frock when she chose silver lace as a foundation and trimmed it with circular ruffles of green tulle. It has a becoming neck line—quite decollete—and no sleeves. There is a large and curiously carved silver buckle over the left hip.

"Galloping Fish" Sidesplitting.

Four men risked their lives "spooting" a great waterfall and a girl diver is in the hospital with a cracked head as a result of Thomas H. Ince's determination to add hair-raising thrills to side-splitting comedy in "Galloping Fish," his new comedy special soon to be released by First National.

The steeplechase which resulted in putting twenty men in the hospital during the filming of Ince's "The Hottentot" last year becomes the tamest of sensations in comparison with the spectacular water scenes which Ince has filmed for his new laugh maker.

The scenes were filmed at the brink of a roaring fifty-foot waterfall. And the "stunt" men who risked their lives going over admit freely that in spite of the big bonus they collected for the feat that is one "stunt" that never will go on celluloid again as far as they are concerned. The trip over was the most startling experience of their eventful careers.

Floating debris from a specially built house was first sent over the falls and then the stunt men followed, riding the roof of the house, splashing, tumbling, strangling in the foaming water that eddied just above the falls until at a given signal the ropes which held the roof were serevered and the roof riders made the fastest toboggan trip on record. The girl diver who followed after them, hit on a piece of floating wreckage which cut her head badly but did not seriously injure her.

Platforms previously had been erected so that the scene could be shot from every conceivable angle and the sequence is said to carry one of the biggest thrills on record. Louise Fazenda, Syd Chaplin, Ford Sterling and Chester Conklin have the leading roles in the production which was directed by Hal Andrews.

Pola Negri is always interesting. Whether we were discussing the latest matrimonial gossip that has her for the heroine or her latest or next picture, or her alleged "temperament," she is interesting. In "The Spanish Dancer" we had a chance to compare her with "America's sweetheart," Mary Pickford, who played a similar role in "Rosita." Pola did not suffer by the contrast.

Her latest release is "Shadows of Paris." Dimitri Buchowetzki, the Polish director, who has lately come to this country, and who directed Pola in Germany will direct her hereafter.

Visitors' Viewpoints

"Two weeks ago I attempted to sell cutlery in Louisiana and Arkansas. I made a miserable failure of the attempt and nearly lost my confidence in 1924 prospects.

"Less than ten days ago I came to Texas. Where before I had taken the doleful tales of an inactive trade I began to take orders. As I approached the northern part of the state my success increased until finally the other day in Fort Worth I did as much business in one day as I had done in my two weeks in Arkansas and Louisiana.

"Indications are that Wichita Falls will not be far behind Fort Worth. There seems to be more activity here than in quite a while. Streets and lobbys are crowded and everyone has a smile on their face. That combination rarely exists without fostering good business."

This was the comment last night of George E. Eastman, of New York, salesman for the Wiebusch and Hilger company, factory representatives for cutlery manufacturers.

John D. Allen, representing the Ciba company of New York City, manufacturers of fine chemicals and pharmeceutical supplies, told last night of how Switzerland has taken Germany's dyestuff trade away from her.

"Before the war," he said, "Germany monopolized the sale and manufacture of dyestuffs and drugs. Switzerland obtained a great deal of this business during the war, and by means of import tariffs in the allied nations which discriminates against Germany she has managed to keep her hold on the market. We find Swiss made products quite as good as those of German make, and, in fact our factory is located in Switzerland, practically all of our drugs and dyestuffs being manufactured there."

"I took a ride over Wichita Falls this afternoon," stated V. S. Newman of New York, accountant, "and I must say that I was agreeably surprised at what I found. There are many creditable buildings here; there seems to be an active interest in civic affairs; there are paved streets aplenty, and business seems to be more than good. This is quite a combination for the middle west, where usually there is much talk and little actuality."

Big Profits in Smuggled Coins.

By The Associated Press.

CHRISTIANIA, March 6.—Lured by prospects of 80 per cent profit, smugglers recently have ben active in conveying Norwegian silver surrency across the border into Sweden. In due time, however, the police took steps to stop the practice and now ten men of Frederickshald are in jail, as is also a Swedish woman whose part it was to receive the coins on the Swedish side of the line.

ENGLAND WILL COMPETE FOR SPEED MASTERY OF AIR

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 6.—With a view to capturing some of the big speed events of the year, and possibly to challenge for the Pulitzer trophy, a local aircraft company has decided to build a speedy airplane.

This will be a biplane with a Napier Lion engine giving nearly 600 h. p., and it is believed it will attain a speed of 270, and possibly 300 miles an hour. The machine already has been entered for the Beaumont Cup near Marseilles June 22, and the British Air Derby later. Its performances in these two events will enable an estimate to be made of its chances in the Pulitzer trophy contest.

DANES CALL CARS LUXURIES FOR TAXATION PURPOSES

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, March 6.—The new law establishing a 15 to 30 per cent tax on automobiles has been severely criticized in motor circles, particularly by the heads of American car making companies with branches in Denmark. They claim that their companies have recently acquired large plants in Denmark with the intention of employing hundreds of Danes and using Copenhagen as a collecting and distributing center for Scandinavia, Russia and other European countries.

Some prominent Danes have expressed the opinion that Americans, whose government apparently taxes necessities, have no moral right to upbraid Denmark for placing a temporary tax on luxuries.

T. E. L. Sunday School Class Hold Meeting.

Members of the T. E. L. Sunday school class of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church enjoyed a delightful business and social session at the church Thursday afternoon when it was decided that the class would regroup and make their capsules over. They also decided to remain in the contest for the state banner.

After the business was disposed of contests were enjoyed and readings were given by little Miss Octavia Collins Hart and by Mrs. A. L. Cone.

St. Patrick's day was suggested in the decorations and refreshment plate served to Mesdames R. F. George Jr., C. E. Tucker, J. J. Hester, C. F. Semerville, J. T. Scott, H. C. Glazner, T. P. Cannon, W. F. Patterson, Jewell Cunningham, M. C. Haynes, O. W. Rippetoe, Lloyd W. Hart, A. L. Cone, N. B. Rawls, C. T. Walter and W. F. Ward.

Athenian Club Studies Novel of Social Problem.

"The Novel of the Social Problem" formed the subject for an interesting lesson of the Athenian club Thursday afternoon at the library with Mrs. J. T. Carter, leader. Roll call was answered with names of some writer of this sort of novel, and Mrs. F. E. Murrell gave a splendid book review on Edith Wharton's "House of Mirth." Mrs. Carter read one on lesson subject.

Mrs. H. G. Harris favored the club by reading Judd Mortimer Lewis' poem, "Winter Down in Texas."

Today's Poem

Good Stuff.

When you have lost the girl you love
Because of your best friend,
And have smiled and said,
"Perchance he is the better man."
Then you are made of good stuff.
When a friend has failed when you need him most,
When you have closed the page on his name
And still believe in Friendship,
Then you are made of good stuff.
When you have gone to great sacrifice
To Help some one dear,
Then that self-same one
When his turn came to help you
Has forgotten and you have forgiven
And remained kind,
Then you are made of good stuff.
When you have heard men
Use a woman's name but lightly,
You answered in full measure
For womankind—your mother's sex—
You are made of good stuff.
When you have made a bad bargain,
But have stuck to your agreement
Though you have lost much,
You are made of good stuff.
When you could advance yourself
By pushing someone weaker back
And have let the opportunity pass
You are made of good stuff.
When you have lost your all
For which you have striven through the years
And cut the past as with a knife
And began again in poverty
And smile—then you are made of good stuff.

—SOPHIE IRENE LOER.

An interesting discussion followed the program. Those present were Mesdames Dave Shepherd, H. G Harris, Ross Corlett, C. W. Rountree, J. T. Carter, F. E. Murrell, Monegan and Weissenborn.

Home-Wrecking Is Always An Inside Job | Lays Blame For Stolen Affections on Lack of Effort

Can the Bachelor, Who Wants a Wife Like His Mother, Find Such a Girl Today?—The Son Who Doesn't Want His Widowed Father to Remarry—Must a Girl Give Back Her Ring If the Man Breaks the Engagement?

Dear Miss Dix—When I asked a friend of mine yesterday, who is approaching the bachelor stage, why he was still unmarried, he replied that he wanted a wife who would be like his mother. Do you think that a girl possessing those attributes can be easily located?

PAUL.

Answer:

So far as the essentials go, yes. Woman's nature does not change, and there are just as many girls today who will make true and loving wives and mothers, who are ready to fight through thick and thin, who are ready to sacrifice themselves for their families, as there ever were in mother's time, or your grandmother's, or your great-grandmother's. When God made the first woman's heart He established a pattern from which there has been very little variation in all the ages.

It is beautiful for a man to idealize his mother and set her up as a model of what he wants his wife to be. But, as a matter of fact, if he found his mother's understudy she wouldn't appeal to him. He'd find her old-fashioned and narrow, and his ideas wouldn't jibe with hers, and he would consider her very much of a lemon.

The man who wants to marry a woman like his mother thinks that women were more modest in mother's day. Not a bit of it. They had more prudery. Mother spoke of the limbs of a piano. Every play she went to see was carefully expurgated. No nice girl was supposed to know that there was such a thing as sex. She thought evil of a thousand things we think no evil of now.

The frankness of today has got ten times as much modesty and cleanness in it as had the subterfuge of yesterday. The vital facts of life are not indecent. It is only the vulgar attitude toward them tha tmakes them so, and the girls of today with their legs, and their arms, and their stomachs, and their open discussion of formerly taboo subjects, are just as modest as their grandmothers were.

You ofter hear men condemn the present fashions and say that they wish girls would dress as sensibly as their mothers did. Get out the old photograph album and take a look at mother's wasp waist, and big bustle, and huge sleeves, and microbe-catching shirts, and see if you don't think that the modern girl's clothes has got mother's backed off the fashion plate.

Perhaps the young man wants to marry a girl who will make as thrifty and economical a wife as mother was. Let him go to it. Girls never were as efficient in the world as they are now. Any little girl who has taken a domestic-science course can hold her own with mother in cooking and marketing, and getting a hundred cents out of a dollar. And, in addition, most of them can make their own living to boot.

Remember this: It took mother about forty years to learn to be the kind of wife you admire so much. Give some girl a chance at the job and she will qualify in the expert class too.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Don't you think after a man has broken his engagement to a girl who has loved and trusted him, that she is entitled to the ring? I think that the man should be punished in some way, and as he is a tightwad he will take it pretty hard. Is there any way he could force me to give it up?

DISILLUSIONED LITTLE COUNTRY GIRL.

Answer:

I presume you can keep the ring if you want it, inasmuch as the man is breaking the engagement. But why do you want a reminder of your false lover's perfidy? I should think that every instinct of delicacy would make you want to send it back to him as quickly as possible. Certainly you have no reason for bemoaning the loss of a man who was a tightwad.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix.—I am a very unhappy girl because I cannot decide between three men, each of whom loves me and each of whom I love to a certain extent.

One of them is my ideal man, only he is insanely jealous, and I am afraid to marry him because I fear he will make my life miserable with his unfounded suspicions.

The second one is a good, honest, hard-working man, but he is a widower, and I am afraid to marry him lest he throw his first wife up to me and tell me how much better housekeeper she was than I am.

The third one is a sheik-looking youth who is a jazz hound, but it seems to me that he lacks pep, and I am afraid I would starve to death if I married him.

Which one would you take?

A. FOOL.

Answer—I'd take the widower. A good, honest, hard-working, house-broken widower is a preferred risk in matrimony. Never mind about the first wife. It's the No. 2 wife who has the spending of all the money that No. 1 worked herself to death saving.

Making The Train on Roller Skates

"Bud," called his mother on Saturday afternoon, "your cousin Mary just called up and asked if you could go out to Grandmother's on the four-thirty train."

"It's four o'clock now," shouted Bud, "but I'll go!"

"You have only fifteen minutes now," cried his mother as he ran out the door with his bag. "Why don't you skate to the train?" Bud snatched his skates. One was small and the other big. He had changed the size for Sallie and Jimmie the day before. Almost five minutes had gone by when Bud got them back to his size and on his feet. Then he skated off with his bag bumping against his side.

"I made it!" he panted, hopping on the platform as the train began to move. "Now for a jolly Sunday in the country!"

Bud's hose are blue, his coat tan and brown, his shoes and bag brown. Next week you will see a boy who has just come from Ireland!

MISERY IN HEAD, COULDN'T REST

Ohio Lady Was Suffering From Womanly Weakness, But After Taking Cardui She Grew Strong and Well.

Chillicothe, Ohio.—"Cardui is my standby as a tonic," says Mrs. Mary Smith, of 677 Orange St., this city, after relating her experiences in the use of that well-known medicine for women.

Some years ago, Mrs. Smith says, she found herself in such a serious condition from some womanly weakness that she could do no work and scarcely could get up or down.

"I had misery in my head," she says, "and just ached at times till I couldn't rest. I would have dizzy, fainting spells and just stagger. I didn't have an appetite.

"Some one told me I needed a good woman's tonic. I asked and was told Cardui might help me. I began to use it and, after a short time, I could see I was being gradually made stronger.

"I quit having the weak spells. I ate and seemed to relish what I ate. I could sleep strong and well and when the . . . came around, I had very little trouble."

WORTH THE MONEY

J. Frank Norfleet has landed his last man. Perhaps you recall the story. Four years ago this "last man" and three others told Norfleet a pretty story of sudden riches and decamped with $45,000 of Mr. Norfleet's money. Norfleet made a vow that he would get the men who had "trimmed" him and started on the trail. In all, he has landed and convicted five of them.

He did a good job and he did it well.

The moral in the story depends on from what angle you view it.

To begin with, it is a demonstration of persistence. Few men would have spent four years hunting down criminals with a questionable chance of finding them. Norfleet did.

There is another angle to the situation: Crime doesn't pay. The men who got the $45,000 were not long getting it. But—they put in the rest of the time which was consumed in the man hunt running from the man they had duped.

But, let's look at it from the unusual angle. Let us suppose that Mr. Norfleet, a man of undoubted ability, had spent that four years in trying to get back his lost money. He doubtless would have done so. Is that the correct angle? Did he waste four years? The answer: He did not.

Norfleet probably operated on the theory—which is more than a theory—that satisfaction is more to the normal human than money. What "got" Norfleet was that a bunch of "Slickers" had "taken him down" for his money. So he started out to get them. He got them. He not only did that but he rid society of a bad bunch of criminals.

If that isn't worth $45,000 of anybody's money we don't know the value of the American dollar.

HEARST AND HIS FAVORITES

William Randolph Hearst is advising the democrats to pick Josephus Daniels as their standard bearer and thus get away from all the oily spots on the map. While in Florida not long since, the publisher suggested James A. Reed for first place and Royal S. Copeland for second place.

Now he is pushing the cause of the Tarheel statesman, advocating the passage of the Mellon bill and clamoring for a square deal for Daugherty by jury of his peers. Incidentally he favors swatting Tammany and any democrat the Indians chance to favor for first place on the ticket.

Didn't Tammany pick Royal S. Copeland for senator when the Hon. Alfred E. Smith refused to permit the use of his name as a candidate for governor if Mr. Hearst was given the senatorial nomination? Smith had his way. He ran for governor after Tammany had agreed to sidetrack the nomination of the publisher for the nomination of United States senator.

Smith and Hearst never speak as they pass by. They are bitter political enemies. Two years Smith had his inning; now Hearst is having his. Both profess to be democrats but the hatchet will never be buried in New York until the publisher or the governor passes on to that Eternal home beyond the grave. Politics is an ugly game in New York and a very ugly game in every state at the present writing.

FATE OF A GREAT DETECTIVE.

William J. Burns is said to be the greatest of American detectives. He is the head of the government secret service. This paper violates no confidence in saying that when Attorney General Daugherty steps down and out the greatest American detective will keep him company.

And what is to become of the commission of Edward B. McLean as special agent of the department of justice?

Really, the story of the Walsh investigation reads like one of Conan Doyle's best. After Albert B. Fall had been given a full swing he sprayed everything with petroleum varnish.

CAUGHT A TARTAR.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri has the tongue of a tarantula and when it comes to satire or sarcasm his friends say he hasn't an equal in America.

Well, William Gibbs McAdoo flayed Reed alive and then some. Honors are even.

Philanthropist Doheny let loose a Pandora box of evils when he loaned that $100,000 to the statesman from Three Rivers, New Mexico.

CHAPTER X.
The Night of the Full Moon.

Anthony and I had had our explanations. He had told me that one night in a safe he had heard two men talking in low voices about the House of Crocodile; the word "hasheesh" had been mentioned. Summoned in the night from the writing of letters, to advise Mrs. Jones, he had recalled Monny's wish to visit a hasheesh den, and with that, the remembrance of those few whispered words in the cafe had come echoing back to his brain. He had no trouble in gaining entrance to the House of the Crocodile, and he found Bedr smoking peacefully. The Armenian protested that he was merely obeying the ladies' orders in bringing them here. All the time he was talking, it seemed to Anthony that the man was expecting some one to arrive. He watched the door way half-eagerly, half-anxiously; when a servant came or went he started."

Before Anthony saw the girls, a servant came rushing in to say that something had happened in the street, the police were there, and the place must be locked up. Anthony was imprisoned with the rest, but by pitching old old servant he managed to get the letter through to me.

Never were two runaway children more glad to be found and restored to their anxious relatives than Monny Gilder and Rachael Guest. Bedr was discussed; but the gravest question concerning him still lacked an answer. Had he merely been officious and indiscreet in guiding the girls secretly to the House of the Crocodile, and there procuring hasheesh to buy them dreams, or had he wanted something to happen, in that House, which had not happened? A certain amount of browbeating from "Antoun" and bullying from me, dragged nothing out of him.

Monny besought us to forget the episode and begged to have the bad taste of her naughtiness taken out of her mouth, by a dinner party at the Mena House. We were to dine early, and plunge into the desert later, when the moon was high.

At the last minute Mrs. East sent word that she could not come, and poor Sir Marcus was woefully disappointed. He was even more distressed to learn that Cleopatra had decided to dine with Fenton, who as Ahmed Antoun was "babe" at our little party. I thought Monny's lovely flush heightened when this bit of news reached us, but I could not be sure.

Before I was at liberty to walk out to the Great Pyramid, I had to bundle my Candace, charges up, and see them safely on their way out to pay their respects to the Sphinx. I felt that they could dispense with my services for this one evening.

Later, while Monny and I walked across the sands toward the Sphinx, Biddy—dear, little match-making Biddy—kept Sir Marcus, Bill Bailey and Rachael with her, so that I might have an opportunity to talk to the "Gilded Rose" alone. But in spite of the moonlight and the beautiful girl at my side I was strangely loth to further Biddy's match-making schemes.

Still I did feel that someone owed a moonlight proposal to such a girl as Monny; and as no better man was here to do it: I could not be thoughtful conceited if I took the duty upon myself. So I began a stammering, hesitating sort of French which was cut short suddenly by the appearance of Mrs. East and "Antoun" Extraordinary, the relief I felt! I ought to have suffered a shock of disappointment at being interrupted but instead, my spirits went up with a bound.

Mrs. East drew me aside in a confidential manner.

"It's been a wonderful evening," she said. "We brought dinner out into the desert, in that tea basket, and ate it together—Anthony and I. There! I may as well confess that's what I call him to myself, for I've guessed your secret—and his—But don't be afraid. I won't tell a soul. He let me have my fortune told by an Arab sand-diviner, who came while we were at dinner. I can't repeat to you what the fortune teller said. But I feel as if I were living in a book. Oh, if only I were writing it myself and could make everything happen just as I want it to happen! Do you know one thing I would put into the story?"

"No, I cant think," I said, rather anxiously.

"I would have you propose to Monny."

"Oh—by Jove, Mrs. East!"

"Why—don't you admire her?"

"But of course. She's irresistible. Only she's so horribly rich. And besides, she doesn't think of me in that way."

"You can't be sure. Now, Lord Ernest, I'm going to whisper you a secret. I believe—I really do—that Monny would be glad if you'd propose. If I were in your place if I liked her, I would do so as soon as possible. It might save her from humiliation—from a great trouble."

Being a baker I could only say once again, 'By Jove!'

CHAPTER XI.
An Underground Proposal.

For the next few days I scarcely saw Monny or Bedr or even heard what was happening to them—for they had "done" the principal sights of Cairo, and I (at the head of the Candace crowd) was "doing" them.

As an excuse to see Monny and the rest of my friends, I got up a moonlight digging expedition at Fustat—those great mounds of rubbish and buried treasure near Egyptian Babylon, where a splendid city was burnt, lest it should fall into the hands of the Crusaders. Monny and her party were invited to join us, and accepted the invitation, piloted by "Antoun." And, concerning this entertainment, I had among these desert-like sandhills my chance on something of value. Why should I not (thought I) apportion off to each member of the band his or her own digging patch? This would save squabbling and would provide an opportunity for me to propose in a unique way to Monny. I was convinced that a love letter in hieroglyphics, unearthed by moonlight in the mounds of Fustat, would please Monny, who had taken up the study of hieroglyphics. I could find no hieroglyphic suit in which to clothe the name Ernest but Monny's cratie for Egyptianizing everything had suggested the nickname of Men-Kheper-Ra. She sometimes called me Ra for short, therefore I now ventured to divert to my own uses a sign and cartouche once the property of a "son of the Sun" and King of Egypt.

Translation—"Beautiful Queen, Star (of) My Heart (and) Soul. Give Me (your) Love. Become My Wife (and) Goddess (for) Eternity.

MEN-KHEPER (KA) RA."

I patted myself on the back; put the letter in the ground: and the digging party was a wild success; but the time passed on, and I had no answer. To be ignored was less tolerable than being refused and Monny's silence began to get upon my nerves. Once I asked Anthony, "Do you think Miss Gilder has found out who you really are?" Fenton seemed astonished.

"I hadn't thought of it all," he answered simply. "She's giving me too many other things to think of.'

'What kind of things,' I stealthily inquired.

"Oh"—with an evasive air—"I don't know what to make of her yet. But I haven't given up my silly scheme."

"What silly scheme?"

"Antoun" looked almost sulky. "Well, if you've forgotten, I won't remind you. It's absurd, it's even brutal; and I'm ashamed of it. But I stick to it."

CHAPTER XII.
The Desert Trip.

For the next three days I was under the painful necessity of arranging a desert trip for my Candace passengers. With the aid of an employe of Cook's, I planned quite a delightful expedition, but I lived in deadly terror of Sir Marcus's discovering that I had gone to his competitor for help.

On the first day of our desert journey we noticed another caravan starting out composed of two German-looking tourists and a dragoman—the dragoman being no less a person that Bedr el Gemaly.

"Antoun" had brought along his party, Monny Rachael Guest, Cleopatra and Biddy, and the latter, poor little woman, was immediately apprehensive on beholding Bedr. She lived in constant fear of her dead husband's enemies, and she was convinced that Bedr was in some way connected with them, and that they had obtained the idea that Monny was really Esme O'Brien. I did my best to calm her, but the cloud remained on her horizon.

Monny was gay and charming that first day, and I began to think she must mean to give me favorable reply to my buried letter.

At evening as we were approaching the place where I knew our camp was to be pitched, Monny rode up beside me.

"If I tell you something, you'll never breathe it to a soul, will you?" she asked.

"Never!" I vowed, torn between the desire to hear her secret, and to dash ahead of the caravan into camp.

"It's bout 'Antoun'" Monny went on. "You know even though he is a distinguished Ecyptian, I don't think he should presume to propose to Aunt Clara."

"What?"

"Yes. He has. I saw part of the letter—the first part. It was in hieroglyphics, and who but 'Antoun' would have written such a letter to Aunt Clara? She asked me to translate it, the night she dug at your digging expedition."

"That letter couldn't have been for her!"

"It couldn't have been for any one else. 'Beautiful Queen' meant Queen Cleopatra. She said so herself. I don't know what she's going to do about it."

So Goes It

One paragrapher figures that the reason the esquimos are happy is because they do not have to waste any time wondering about the weather, or discussing it—they know it is going to be cold. With all due respect to our brother paragrapher, we do not ascribe this as the reason for the state of happiness in the frozen north. The real reason is because they have no income tax to pay.

A Detroit gambler has uttered a loud protest because he was robbed twice in one week. He probably foresaw the danger of overcoming the "house percentage."

A Los Angeles judge has decided that profanity on the part of a husband is not ground for divorce. The item is incomplete. It doesn't repeat what he said.

We once knew an old codger who declared he never used profanity except when he was trying to illustrate something. Once when he mashed his thumb with a hammer and gave vent to a stinging oath, he explained it by saying he was just trying to illustrate how mad it made him.

Now there is talk in Washington of a third party. Our view is that there has been enough hob raised with two major parties without starting a third.

If they insist on starting a third party it might be called the Oil party. From the number of persons who have been "mentioned" in connection with the oil scandal it looks like there would be enough of them to constitute something of a majority.

If Mr. Bok wants to start another peace campaign he might begin in Washington. What concerns us more now than international peace is political peace at home.

Which reminds us that the general run of barber shop discussions embrace the matter of tax reduction more than Teapot Dome. The oil scandal is bad enough but the outcome of it doesn't give any immediate promise of reducing the people's taxes.

Another way a man has of knowing when spring arrives is when the bills begin to increase in number and size.

"Little Boy" Stilts.

One Mother Says:

My little son asked for some stilts as all the big boys in the neighborhood had them. Considering him too small for regular stilts, I made him a pair of "very special" stilts. I took two large tin cans, cut off the tops and bored a hole in each side of the cans. Through these I drew strings, leaving them long enough to hold with his hands. A safe and satisfactory pair of stilts resulted.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

EVERY ROSE HAS ITS THORN

The robin soon will come again
To fill the world with song.
The thrush and oriole and wren
Will hasten home ere long.
But let our hearts be not too gay;
Spring cheers the soul, it's true,
But on the first sunshiny day
The slug will be here too!

The violet by the mossy stone,
Which Wordsworth sang about,
Will give the wood a warmer tone
When once it blossoms out.
But do not be too swift to sing—
Be not unduly glad.
Pray don't forget that in the spring
The poison ivy's bad.

The tender shoots of marrow peas
Will soon peer through the ground,
The apple blossoms from the trees
Will fall like snow around.
But let us not burst forth in song
Or feel too full of cheer
Mosquitoes always come along
About that time of year.

We long to see the winter go,
And feel once more the sun,
We yearn to bid farewell to snow,
And hear the brooklets run.
Though spring smiles over moor and fe
We feel assured, somehow,
We'll have as many troubles then,
As we are having now!

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

BERNARD BABUCH TELLS HOW TO ELIMINATE WAR PROFITEERING AND WASTE

"I strongly recommend that legislation be put into effect that would give power to the president, in case of war, or threatened war, to mobilize immediately the resources of the nation," said Bernard M. Baruch, war-time head of the war industries board, in a recent speech.

"That would mean the mobilization of men, money, materials and food; the fixing of all prices and the regulation and distribution of production. In charge of this work an industrial strategist, or board, should be placed. I am opposed, however, to boards except where final authority rests with the chairman, as divided authority causes indecision, and indecision means defeat in war.

"The military authorities would put into effect a draft of the entire population, from which the required number of men should be drawn and place the necessary orders for equipment and material. The industrial strategist would then say from what industries the men should be taken, giving you and the draft boards a list of the essential and less essential industries.

"The industrial strategy board would then immediately declare not alone what industries were essential and less essential, but what proportion of its peace-time quota each industry should be permitted to produce.

"Prices of materials, commodities, and, in fact, all things would be declared fixed as of such and such a date, and it would be illegal either to buy or sell at a different price. The machinery to make this effective could be immediately set up, as was done during the war through the state councils of defense.

Money would be mobilized the same as men and materials, because a price would be fixed at which money could be and should be used, but the money would be allocated for the purpose of winning the war, the same as in the case of men and materials.

"The excess proportion of the profit that was made in industry and internal revenue would go to the prosecution of the war. Thus, you would not only take the profit out of war and make profits impossible by taking practically all in taxes for war purposes but you would place at the reserve of the country at the command of the war-making agencies.

"If such an organization, which we were approaching at the end of the war, had been put into effect at the beginning, the cost of the war, in my opinion, would have been not more than one-half of what it was and there would not have been economic chaos and profiteering."

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS
Temperature.

The temperature of the human body is normally about 98 degrees fahrenheit. A variation of a few degrees either way means death if continued for more than a short time.

So sensitive is the body to temperature changes that nature has provided protective devices to prevent such changes. If there is a tendency to become too hot the sweat glands open and pour moisture over the surface which by evaporation tends to cool the body. If it is cold then the lungs take in more oxygen and food and stored fat is burned which causes heat.

Most mammals have the same or similar devices which maintain an even amount of bodily heat.

Plants are not so sensitive and they can withstand a far greater range of temperature without fatal results. However there are certain soil and air temperatures that are best suited to their proper growth.

The seeds of plants will withstand very considerable changes in temperature without being injured. In the fall or summer a fully matured seed may drop to the ground when the air surrounding is well above a 100 degrees. Then the following spring they will sprout after having passed through a winter that has had cold far below zero.

Tropical plants will not grow in the open in the north on account of the temperature. Certain plants that grow well in the north will not grow in the tropics or if they do grow it is in a modified form—temperature again.

The temperature of the soil and temperature generally has a lot to do with plant life.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

By MARY BLAKE

PISCES.

The inclination today is to be active, but will be of no real benefit unless the efforts are in the right direction. The period between 7 and 10 o'clock should be peaceful and restful.

A child born today will be mentally well indulged and have naturely a bright and sunny disposition. Great care, however, will have to be taken during the first years of its life, as it will be disposed to be physically a weakling.

If today is your birthday you are naturally cool and calculating. Whenever an opportunity presents itself either in business or private life you will carefull weigh all the chances before reaching a decision as to what your course of action shall be.

In business this degree of caution will be carried to such a degree as to deter you from any very big success or startling enterprise.

The same cautious, calculating mind in your private life will affect all your love entanglements and may possibly prevent you from marrying the one girl who would be the real life mate for you.

The only exception you will make will be in regard to your children, if you have any. They will see and receive all the pent up affection of your character and as a natural result will be terribly spoiled.

Women born on this date will be affectionate and demonstrative and capable of a great and lasting love. The wealth of affection which they possess will be showered on the object of their love no matter how unworthy he may be.

All people born on this date will possess a great love for the drama and quite a few will become famous on the stage. They will also show a decided liking for reading. The men, for what is known as dry matter and the woman for novels of an emotional and romantic type.

Successful people born on this date are: Homer C. Davenport, cartoonist; Albert K. Sterner, artist; Warren Upham, geologist; Oliver Wendell Holmes, U. S. supreme court justice; James M. Crafts, chemist; Catherine Lorillard Wolfe, philanthropist.

English Humor Scores in Havana.

By The Associated Press

HAVANA, March 6.—The "Wybadity," a stocky little vessel built along the lines of a tug, lay in Havana harbor taking on a cargo of liquor. "What's that name mean?" shouted an inquisitive American from a passing rowboat. "Will you buy a drink if I tell you?" yelled back a grinning member of the crew.

The "Wybadity" which flies the British flag, pulled out subsequently with some 6,000 cases of liquor and her clearance papers indicated she was bound for West End, a port in the British West Indies.

SAY DAUGHERTY

on the Washington Post, testified the attorney general had told him on the day McLean was summoned to Washington to tell the publisher "not to worry." Mr. Daugherty was quoted as saying that he was "attending to things" Bennett also told the committee that Senator Curtis, Kansas, the republican assistant leader in the senate, was the man mentioned as the "principal" in one of the telegrams sent to McLean at Palm Beach. Later Senator Curtis issued a statement, however, contradicting several points in that story, and declaring he had had no communication with the McLean agents which would make it possible for them to refer to him as the "principal" or in any other way than in his own name.

Tomorrow the Kansas senator will take the witness stand to make his denial under oath. Bennett then will be recalled and asked for a further explanation.

In his testimony today the witnesses testified that reference to the "principal" did not relate to President Coolidge, as suggested by some democrats, and it was announced at the White House that Mr. Coolidge did not recall any conference with Bennett since the oil issue became acute.

Throughout a long cross examination repeated efforts were made to line up the "principal" with the White House where Bennett, said he had attended a conference between the president and newspaper correspondents before the message was sent. Under the questioning the witness made varied explanations of other features of his direct testimony, but he insisted to the end that the "principal" was Senator Curtis.

NOTHING CONCEALED

Bennett, himself declared there was nothing to be concealed about his conference with Senator Curtis and that there was no reason why the senator's name should not have been used in the message. He did not say that the Kansas senator had asked him to convey any message to McLean, other than personal greetings.

Much of the questioning of Bennett—the only witness of the day—revolved around a code message which he said he had directed to be sent to McLean, on February 14, a few hours before the formal subpoena for the publisher was issued by the committee. This message as coded by a ciphier expert said: "Saw Wyxfuj for nearly an hour. His direct message to you is 'I am at WYCGO Elbow and standing at the guns. All that is possible to do will be done by us so you should worry delay election prosecutor. Give WYHOL my love. I don't want WYHOL to be disturbed so long as I am on the job. You know what to depend upon. The fight is on me and I am ready for them and feeling fine.'"

(Signed.)

"Count."

Iden.

Identifying himself as the "Count," Bennett first said that as nearly as he could remember his intent was to refer to Wilton L. Lambert, of counsel for McLean. He explained that the publisher had sent him a message to find out if Lambert was diligently and ably watching his affairs.

After a conference with Lambert he said he had told John F. Major, another of McLean's employes, to "send down a message to Mr. McLean, and say that Mr. Lambert says, quote his words if you want to, that he is attending to this matter very closely, on the job you might say, or something to that effect; very close to Walsh, keeping in touch with Mr. Walsh, and on the job, deligently pursuing his duties."

According to this explanation of the telegram WYCGO was the code word for Senator Walsh, the committee prosecutor and WYHOL referred to Mrs. McLean.

Bennett then was pressed as to what "fight" was being made on Lambert and said he did not know anything about any fight except the natural diligence the attorney might use "in protecting or working for his client." The witness insisted he had not directed the sending of that portion of the telegram.

"So far as I know anything about it," observed Senator Walsh, "there was no fight on Mr. Lambert."

"I don't either," responded the witness.

"Well, this really does not hook up, Mr. Bennett, does it?" pursued the senator.

The witness conceded it had no meaning to him, and Senator Walsh, asked him about another telegram which he had sent to McLean, on the same day announcing that he would have a conference with "HIY" before 3 o'clock" Bennett said he thought "HIY" referred to Mr. Daugherty.

Then inserting Mr. Daugherty's name in the original telegram, where the witness previously had said Mr. Lambert's should be, Senator Walsh said the whole language connected up fairly well.

Coyotes Go to State Cage Semi-Finals

BATTLE DOWN BRYAN AND OLD JINX STEPHENVILLE; MEET OAK CLIFF TODAY IN SEMI-FINALS

Austin Bureau
Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 7.—Wichita Falls Coyotes go into the semi-finals of the state interscholastic basket ball meet tomorrow morning by virtue of victories over Bryan and Stephenville in the first two rounds of playing here today.

Wichita-Oak Cliff.

The Coyotes beat Bryan 34 to 20. Stephenville 22 to 18.

Oak Cliff was drawn to meet the Wichita Falls quint in the semi-finals. This is counted more toward hard luck for the Coyotes as Oak Cliff is doped to take the meet again. Otherwise, it is the opinion the Wichita county crew would have won to the final go.

Houston-El Paso.

El Paso, one-time winner, and Central Hi of Houston are the other brace in the semi-final round. This is expected to be a hard fought tilt. It was the little Rails team that came close to eliminating the El Paso hopes but the latter came over the bump.

The Wichita Falls Coyotes played a hard, fighting game to beat out their last year's jinx. Stephenville, which school last year sent the team that defeated Wichita Falls in the same second round of play.

Starring for Wichita were Captain Baldwin, E. Powell and Crites. The Coyote leader showed the way on the floor as well as at the basket and proved himself to be a finished player.

Box Score.

W. Falls, 22	Pos.	Stephenville, 18
Baldwin, 7	F.	E. Davis, 5
Crites, 6	F.	Boncher, 2
Shaw, 2	F.	Greenway, 1
Smith, 3	C.	Webb, 6
E. Powell, 4	G.	Nix
Tyson	G.	J. Davis, 4

Substitutes: Wichita—Shaw for Crites; Stephenville—Greenway for Boncher.

Free throws missed: Wichita—Smith 1, Crites 4, Baldwin 3, E. Powell 1; Stephenville—E. Davis 1, Webb 1, Davis 4.

Spudder Camp Bulletin

Fred Dorman arrived Friday morning.

Dallas Locker signed.

Dorman, who with Michaels will probably fight it out for the shortfield position this year, is the young man signed some time ago. From the Danville club last year, the snappy shortstop brings a good record.

Dorman was drafted from Charlotte of the Bally league, after a year with Danville in the Piedmont. In 120 games he scored 107 runs, batted out 154 hits, which went for 211 bases. Of the 154 hits, 30 were for two bases, six were three-baggers, and five were home runs. He took 58 bases on balls and stole 3.

The batting average of this likely young shortstop last year was .312 per cent, while in fielding he went .927. He is an all-around ball player, and fast on his feet, both on the paths and on the field.

Ralph Michaels, who is chosen to oppose Dorman for the honors, was with Nashville in the Southern last year. Playing in a better class circuit, it must be said to his credit, for his general average is not so good as Dorman's. He is expected in with the rest in the near future. Incidentally, he is touted as one of the most promising shortfielders in the minors.

Locker A Ball Player.

Dallas, Locker, due in from the coast soon, is known to Wichita Falls fans. Last of the past season he was very much with the Spudders, doing everything but carrying bats, pitching and catching. Yes, he didn't take on third base, either. But in all the fields of accomplishment presented to him, the big boy did his stuff. He was a willing man to have, and as a utility player needed only experience to play with any of them. He smacks the apple, too.

Locker came to the Spudders off the Vernon club last year. Upon his release by the coast league club recently, he wrote for a job with the Spudders. The Wichita Falls officials were not long in letting him in.

Lots of Ball Players.

Ball players in heaps are filing into Athletic park these days, which with the arrival of Dorman totals sixteen. These are mostly pitchers, as fielders are not expected in until Monday. Amongst the battery boys missing will be numbered "Chief" Virgil Cheeves, counted on to be a sensation from the Cubs, and Mattox, doped to step all the way behind the plate, from Pittsburgh.

LITTLE LESSONS IN BIG SPORTS

GgolF.

When muscles have tightened as a result of over-play, what is the quickest way to get in shape again?

Answered by
TED RAY

The siege gun of English golf. Winner of innumerable tournaments and member of the greatest golf combination in history—the team of "Vardon and Ray."

I recommend hot baths, whilst benefit will also be found by having the limbs rubbed at night for a week or so. But don't over-golf. Cut out swimming. Cut down the usual amount of walking. This routine greatly benefits me, and I have to face the problem of "getting stale" now and then.

Com. Boyd Tours Lake Kemp Today

Walter W. Boyd, state fish and game commissioner, arrived in Wichita Falls Friday to investigate with sportsmen the condition of fish and game in this district.

Today Commissioner Boyd will be shown over Lake Kemp and the diversion lake to give him a better idea of the requests made of his department. It is hoped a fish hatchery may be located at Lake Kemp, while an immediate need felt is for a warden at the big lake. Boyd has promised to comply with these requests to the extent of his ability.

The North Texas Fish and Game association was organized last week to push the work in this section. E. G. Hill of this city, elected president of the organization, stated yesterday he with others would accompany Boyd on his tour today.

K-C And Legion Play-Off Tonite

Announcement is again made of the scheduling of the play-off between the American Legion and Knights of Columbus city league cage teams, this time to be tonight. The game is slated to get off at 8 o'clock at legion hall.

This tilt is to decide two previous games between the two, both of which the legion quint won. They were contested by the K-C because of alleged playing of ineligible men by the legion.

A win for the Knights will put them in a triple tie with Landon-Hill and Iowa Park for honors of the second half of the race.

Slated for last Saturday night, the game was not played because some of the players as well as the Knights' manager were not notified, it is said

Bell, Of Crowell, To Captain Baylor 1925 Basket Team

Special to The Record News

WACO, Texas, March 7.—Gordon Bell of Crowell, Foard county, Texas, was elected captain of the Baylor Bear basket ball team for 1925 at a meeting of the letter men here today. Bell is a center and forward on the varsity team and was one of the high scorers for Baylor during the past season.

Bell made his first letter on the cub team of 1922. In 1923 he lettered at a guard position. He was not a regular at the beginning of the season just closed but with the injury of Williamson in the first series of the season he became a regular and played in every game thereafter.

FIRPO KNOCKS OUT SPALLA IN 14TH

By The Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, March 7.—Luis Firpo tonight knocked out Ermino Spalla, the Italian heavyweight champion in the fourteenth round of what was to have been a fifteen round bout.

The attendance at the bout between Firpo and Spalla was estimated to be 30,000 five thousand less than that at the recent bout between Firpo and Farmer Lodge. The weights as announced were: Firpo 216 1-2 pounds; Spalla 184 1-2 pounds.

The European champion's hopes to meet Jack Dempsey were dashed when Firpo put over one of his famous rights to the jaw and laid him flat upon the canvas of the ring.

Spalla put up a remarkable game fight against the Argentine. During the latter round when Firpo was rushing, he successfully blocked many hard rights, any one of which would have sent him down for the fatal count.

DISCH CHANGES TEXAS INFIELD

Austin Bureau
Record News

AUSTIN, March 7.—Only one position in the infield of the University of Texas baseball team will be covered by the same players as in 1923, if the changes now being used in practice are carried out by Coach Billy Disch. The latest change made is the switching of Captain Herman Odom of Rusk, to short stop and replacing him at second with Horace Kibbie of Fort Worth, short stop of the 1923 team. Kibbie was erratic at times last year, and it is expected that he will be able to overcome this at the new position. Captain Odom was the regular short stop on the 1922 team, when he was the all-conference choice at that position; so it is expected that this change will add fielding strength to the infield.

Edward Carson of Waxahachie, last year's first baseman, has been playing in the outfield regularly for the last two weeks, and it is expected that he will be used there during all the present season. His position is being covered by Johnny Mulcahy, of El Paso, and Collie Falk of Austin. Mulcahy is a letter man from the 1922 team and Falk, who is a younger brother of Bib Falk, outfielder with the Chicago White Sox, is a star from the 1922 freshman team. Carson played in the outfield in 1922 and his presence there again this year will add both fielding and hitting strength, while the infield will not be materially weakened, since both Falk and Mulcahy are finished fielders and average hitters.

Dewey Smalley of Yorktown, will probably cover third base for his second year. Smalley was a fair fielder and a good hitter last year, and he seems to have developed much in his year's experience.

San Jacinto Five Claims City Rag

San Jacinto school lays just claim to the city school basket ball championship by virtue of nine wins and one loss out of a ten-game schedule.

The young cagers of San Jacinto have played a consistent brand of ball the entire season. Their game lost was to Austin school, which crew they beat in another tilt. All of which leaves no team to say they have defeated San Jacinto and got away with it, or to boast of as good a record.

The boys in this class play a fast game. Last year San Jacinto ended the season with a perfect 1,000 per cent, winning all of eleven games played. Their record for 1924 is: Alamo, 3; Fannin, 3; Austin, 2 (lost 1); Barwise, 1, and Sam Houston, 1.

At the close of the season, playing Fannin, San Jacinto found the count in a 16-all tie. The playoff netted the winners four points and Fannin two.

BREAK FLYING RECORD BETWEEN 2 FIELDS

MINEOLA, N. Y., March 7—Speed records between McCook field at Dayton, Ohio, and Mitchell field were broken today when Lieutenant E. H. Barksdale, pilot, and Captain Bartley Jones, navigator, flew a De Havilland navigation plane from Dayton to the field here in three hours and 53 minutes. The former record was established in January, 1925, and was four hours and four minutes.

Radio for All Chinese Ships.

PEKING, March 6.—The ministry of communications has issued an order requiring all vessels plying Chinese waters, if of 500 tons or over, to be equipped with radio. The order applies to foreign and Chinese vessels alike. It is estimated that about 300 ships will be affected.

"MIRACLE MAN OF BASEBALL"—MORAN

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, March 7.—Patrick Joseph Moran, veteran baseball player and great manager, who died today, was a native of Fitchburg, Mass., where he was born Feb. 7, 1876. He obtained his first professional engagement at Lyons, N. Y., 27 years ago and soon graduated into fast company at Montreal.

He was taken by the Boston Nationals in 1901 and soon became the leading backstop of that club.

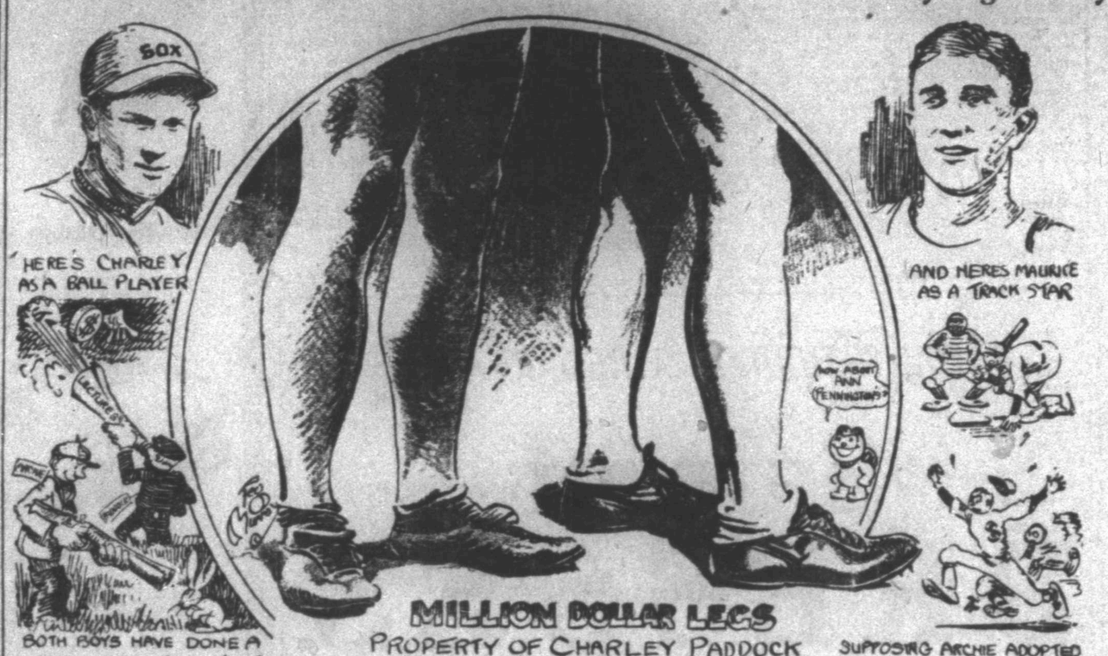
When the Chicago Cubs began their wonderful career of triumph they bought Moran from Boston. After the Cubs ceased to dominate baseball Moran was sent to Philadelphia where he speedily became the manager and won the National league flag of 1915. Against the Boston Red Sox in the world's series of that season his team won only one game in five.

Moran left Philadelphia in 1919 and came to Cincinnati. He won the pennant that year and after the conquest of the White Sox in the world's series, was termed "The miracle man of the baseball world."

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at Fitchburg, Mass., Moran's birthplace. The body will leave here tomorrow afternoon.

The Archvillain and the Archdeacon.

—By Feg Murray



Tere are two pairs of speedy legs and feet that go like lightning—perhaps not small enough to wear Cinderella's diamond slippers, but nevertheless supreme on the cinderpath and on the diamond. They belong to Charley Paddock, the "Archvillain of Amateur Athletics" (subtitle by the A. A. U.), and Maurice Archdeacon of the White Sox ball club. Besides being the same height and weight both these birds hold world's records. Paddock's are too numerous to mention, Archdeacon's more timely at the present.

Archie made the greatest number of hits and runs with the Rochester club of the International league in 1923, batting .357. Then he went to the Sox and established a world's record by getting on base the first time up in his first eight games, and also making 23 runs in the 20 games he played. In September, 1921, Archie knocked 2-5 of a second off the old record of 13 4-5 for circling the bases. Tie that one, Charlie!

Paddock has been lecturing all winter, so his wind should be in good condition. If he isn't permitted to represent Uncle Sam in Paris, perhaps the Sox manager would lend Archdeacon for a month or so? Not a chance!

Composing the winning San Jacinto quint are:

Captain Marvin Farris, center; Gilbert Calahan, running guard; E. L. Jernigan, standing guard; Byron Hill, standing forward; Marvin Ferris, running guard; Ernest Determan, center; substitutes; Alton Hall, Joe Bailey Swope.

Ernest Ditterman was elected captain but left school and Marvin Farris was chosen to lead the team.

M'ADOO FIRM HAD LUCRATIVE TRADE, CLAIM

As Tax Attorney Before Internal Revenue Made Big Money

Washington Bureau,
Record News.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—William G. McAdoo's value to his clients as tax attorney practicing before the internal revenue bureau in Washington apparently ended with the incoming of a republican administration on March 4, 1921.

So much was revealed in the course of an inquiry conducted into Mr. McAdoo's appearances before the department. It was acknowledged by everyone who knew anything about the situation that the firm of McAdoo, Cotton & Franklin, with whom the former secretary of the treasury was connected, had had a lucrative practice in income tax cases. It was further revealed by one of Mr. McAdoo's staunch supporters that while Daniel C. Roper was a commissioner of internal revenue, Mr. McAdoo appeared personally before the appeals board of the department only in one and probably two cases. Mr. Roper was unable to remember the names of the firms his one-time treasury chief had represented.

Mr. McAdoo has also admitted that his firm received a $150,000 fee in connection with a tax refund case of the Republic Iron and Steel company of Youngston, Ohio, in 1920, the final action of which was concluded early in 1921. It has been charged, and not denied by him, that the personally appeared in this case, although William M. Williams, who was commissioner at the time, denied that the former secretary had conferred with him personally on the subject.

But on Feb. 15, 1921, the secretary of the treasury adopted a new ruling directing that "all bureaus, offices and divisions of the treasury department are prohibited from recognizing or dealing with any attorney or agent," unless the attorney had enrolled with the department. This enrollment is equivalent to establishing the attorney's right to practice as it is established in a state or a federal court. Presumably the rule was enforced.

It has been learned that McAdoo has not been enrolled since that date, which was less than three weeks prior to the inauguration of President Harding with the substitution of Andrew W. Mellon for Carter Glass as secretary of the treasury. In August, 1921, however, Mr. McAdoo's son, Francis H. McAdoo, was enrolled in income tax cases.

In view of Mr. McAdoo's practice after leaving his position as secretary of the treasury, attention has been attracted to section 190 of the revised statutes, passed prior to 1872, which reads as follows:

"It shall not be lawful for any person appointed after the first day of June 1872, as an officer, clerk or employee in any of the departments to act as counsel, attorney or agent for prosecuting any claims against the United States which were pending in either of said departments while he was said officer, nor in any manner nor by any means to aid in the prosecution of such claims within two years next after he shall have ceased to be such officer."

This statute has not been held by the treasury department to bar the practice of such former employees as Mr. McAdoo, the view being taken that under the ruling of the United States supreme court the statute applies only to those who are pressing claims against the United States government.

But the department has been faced with so much scandal growing out of the activities of former employees that less than two weeks ago, after the McAdoo revelations had become public, Secretary Mellon promulgated a new order, extending the same rule to lawyers for those opposing government claims.

One of the most recent scandals involves a New York man against whom proceedings are now being brought to bar him from further practice in the bureau. It is alleged that while in the department he boosted an income tax claim by several hundred thousand dollars.

Then he is alleged to have quit the department and offered to show the firm how they could escape the levy if they paid him a 25 per cent commission, and to have collected or tried to collect on a reduction of about $600,000.

It was said at the internal revenue department today that to comply with the demand of the senate for the names of former cabinet officers and members of congress who had practiced before the treasury department, and the nature of their practice, would take months of work. The task of compiling the information has not yet begun.

Capitol Sundial 205 Years Old Is Now Relegated

Austin Bureau
Record News.

AUSTIN, March 7.—The bronze sundial which has been for years at the front of the state capitol, after continuous use for 205 years, will be given a rest. Vandals this week broke the indicator off the sundial and threw it away; but diligent search by the capital buildings and grounds officials brought about its discovery. The dial and indicator were taken to the state museum of the library and historical commission and there placed among the historic relics of early Texas days.

The dial was presented to the state in 1904 by W. Walton of Bosque county, according to an inscription on it. Engraved on the surface of the dial is the date "1719", and the inscription placed on it after it was given to the state declares the dial was in use in the year 1719. According to that, it had seen over half a century of service before the declaration of American independence.

The dial is of heavy bronze, with Roman numerals similar to a clock face, but arranged about an oval-shaped dial so that the shadow of the indicator, from the various positions of the sun near the horizon or high in noon-day splendor, would mark the hour of the day.

WOULD INCREASE TAXATION

By The Associated Press

PARIS, March 6.—Gamblers in France, patrons of the race tracks and the green table, lost 262,000,000 francs in 1923. This was the total rake-off of the Casinos, added to the percentage collected by the government and the racing associations on the mutual betting payments.

In addition to the foregoing, there is a vast amount of irregular betting conducted by bookmakers on which neither the government nor racing associations gets a commission, and just now experts are studying how this illicit trade can be made to pay its contribution. The state wants its rake-off.

Of the casinos, that at Deauville was the biggest winner, with 25,000,000 francs.

SCIPIO SECTION HAS DEEP WELL

Opens Up Field In Pittsburg County, Oklahoma

McALESTER, Okla., March 7.—The Flynn oil test of the Parallithic and Reliance company on the Pratt farm, section 13-7-12, near Scipio, Pittsburg county, encountered the oil sand at a depth of 3,642 feet. The showing of oil is said to be exceedingly good and of a high grade. The drills are stopped and preparations are under way to bring the well in.

The well is five miles south from the Newman discovery well in Hughes county but the oil is said to be of a much higher grade than the Newman well.

Hundreds of McAlester persons flocked to the well Thursday. A number of leading oil men from other points are here watching the well.

If the well comes in it will be Pittsburg county's first producer. Other blocks of acreage are ready to be drilled immediately if the Flynn well proves to be a producer. Two other tests are underway in the county within a few miles of the Flynn well.

London's Easy Way to Reduce Cost Price of Theatre Tickets

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 6.—The gallery gods of London's theatres know how to get what they want, and also how to get rid of what they dislike. The one they howl for, the other they "boo," and they seldom stop either until they are satisfied.

The gallery audience that witnessed recently the first performance of Sir Gerald Du Maurier in "Not in Our Stars," took it into their heads that two shillings a seat was too much money to pay for the gallery. So when Sir Gerald came out to make a curtain speech they started "booing," and then a deep voice shouted, "What about a shilling gallery? It ain't worth two bob."

"If you want a shilling gallery," Sir Gerald shouted back, "you shall have one from now onward."

The next night tickets for the gallery were only a shilling.

RIGGING UP

By SUMMERS

During the past two weeks little has been accomplished in the fields east of the Mississippi river. Weather conditions have been unusually bad. High water prevailed over the oil producing areas of the east as a result of heavy snows melting. Roads are reported in such shape that material can not be hauled over them.

Pipe lines systems over the various eastern fields have experienced hard work in running oil on account of heavy snow, sleet and rain.

Application has been made for the appointment of a federal receiver for the Sapulpa Refining company at Muskogee, the court is now in the hands of state court receivers.

The Texas company is reported negotiating for drilling rights on acreage of the New Mexico and Arizona land company, which owns thousands of acres in the two states.

In the Rocky mountain section there is a proposed merger of the Marine Oil, Glenrock, Royalty and Producers, Wyokans, Wolverine and Western Pipe Line companies. The proposed merger would be known as the Western Oil company.

The Corona Oil company plans to drill 50 wells in the Cacalilao field in Mexico during the year. The company has approximately 28,000 barrels daily production.

The crude runs of the Prairie Oil and Gas company during February amounted to 3,457,175.59 barrels. During January the company runs were higher by 467,469.24 barrels.

We Now Handle the Hudson Super-Six and the Essex

It is an ambition we have long held.

Our selection as Hudson and Essex dealers marks an important step forward for us as automotive merchants. We prize it as the highest recognition of worth.

For no company weighs a prospective dealer more carefully than the builders of these cars. Most important among their requirements is the ability to organize and execute service to owners, of a high character.

To Serve Two Great Cars

For buyers today consider not only the qualities of the car they get, but the character of dealer association they thereby form.

Yet it is also true that no such dealer organizaton, as Hudson and Essex have built, could have been gathered about cars, that in themselves had not established a great public following, with abiding faith in their qualities.

The Hudson Super-Six is now in its sixth year as a leader among the world's fine cars. It holds its place rightfully by mechanical superiority, fine quality and appearance, and by a price advantage that makes it the best value among fine cars, by a wide margin.

And you already know what owners say of the economy, long life and reliability of the Essex. Certainly no car of its price was ever so widely compared in essential qualities to costly fine cars.

It is our wish to pledge the public a service that in all respects will match the uniformly high character of Hudson and Essex service, and be in all ways worthy of these two great cars.

WEAKNESS IN COTTON MARKET

Thursday's Rallies Not Held Up In Friday Trading

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 7. — Cotton futures closed easy.

Opening: March 28.90; May 29.08; July 28.50; October 25.85; December 25.50.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Yesterday's sharp rallies were followed by renewed weakness in the cotton market today with May contracts selling off from 29.20 to 28.14, or 85 points net lower. Closing prices were the lowest, showing net losses on 64 to 89 points with the market easy at the decline.

The opening was 2 to 21 points higher on overnight buying orders and in response to relatively firm early Liverpool cables. The tone was barely steady, however, and the market soon turned easier on liquidation by recent buyers who appeared to be influenced by disappointing reports from Manchester, the appearance of more favorable weather in the south and the continued weakness of French francs. There was considerable covering and some trade buying on a scale down, but offerings increased as moderate selling became more aggressive during the early afternoon. It was apparently promoted by a bearish view of the week end figures and a belief that the asking of slightly advanced prices for cotton goods had checked demand in the Fall river market during the market. Stop orders were uncovered on the decline which extended to 28.85 for March and 25.12 for October, or 68 to 89 points below yesterday's closing quotations, and approximately a cent below the high prices of yesterday afternoon. Manchester cable advices stated that Master Cotton spinners had served a notice on workers that if the strike in one of the small mills was not terminated within seven days, all mills would be closed, involving about 150,000 operatives.

Exports today 15,064, making 4,419,899 so far this season. Port receipts 16,060. U. S. port stocks 742,952.

FORT WORTH CATTLE

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, March 7.—Cattle trade displayed some activity Friday and prices remained about even with those of the day previous. Receipts were 1,200 head of cattle and 300 calves. Mixed shipments constituted on the quota of the supply. The steer market was steady. A half car of grass beeves from south Texas notched 7.25. The cow top was around 6.00 and calves sold at 7.00 to 8.00. Salesmen found the hog market more satisfactory, but actual prices were no higher. Packers made purchases up to 7.40. The big end of the run of 2,800 head went at a spread of 7.00 to 7.35.

The usual good call prevailed for sheep and the market remained steady. The chief quota of the day's receipts sold at a spread of 5.00 to 5.50.

Nothing of much importance arrived with which to make the sheep and lamb market quotable, the count selling for only 300 head. Some feeder lambs sold at 13.50.

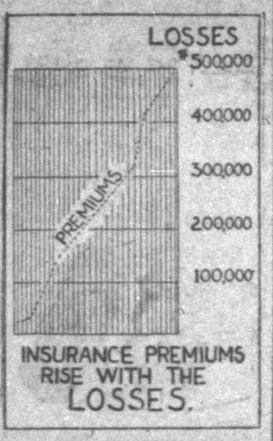
ITALIANS STUDY GERMAN.

MANNHEIM, March 6. — Dr. Kurt Aignar Gutkind has been summoned to Florence, Italy, to teach the German language and literature in the university there. He is a celebrated philologist and is said to be the first German scientist called to teach in an enemy country since the armistice.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.



INSURANCE PREMIUMS RISE WITH THE LOSSES.

The cost of insurance increases with the risk. The greater the losses, the higher the premium all must pay.

"I am not so particular about locking my windows any more," remarked one woman. "We carry burglar insurance, you know, and I wouldn't lose anything, really, if we were robbed." This attitude of mind is not entirely feminine.

While it is true that the so-called "crime wave" has been the largest single factor in the amazing increase in burglar insurance rates over the country—an increase that runs from 10 to 30 per cent in metropolitan centers—carelessness of property holders has also helped bring about higher premiums. People have become so used to insurance and the comfort it brings in time of loss, that they tend to forget that each loss is paid out of the pocket of every policy holder. The more losses, the higher the premium—how else could the companies stay in business?

Carelessness in the care of cash or jewelry, thus inviting theft, increases the cost of burglar insurance for all. Care in avoiding loss by theft, or by fire, not only prevents loss of material resources, but tends to reduce the cost of protection.

COTTONSEED OIL.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Cottonseed oil was up 2 to 7 points early in response to higher lard, but support was indifferent and the market subsequently reacted with cotton. September closed unchanged and the balance 3 to 8 points lower. Crude markets were barely steady. Cash demand showed no improvement. Sales 6,100 barrels. Prime crude 8.50 bid; prime summer yellow spot 9.80 @ 10.25; March closed 9.80; May 10.14; July 10.36, all bid.

TO USE $35,000 FOR CATTLE T. B. ERADICATION, TEXAS

Washington Bureau
Record News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7. A total of $35,000, will be used in the indemnity fund for the eradication of tuberculosis among cattle in Texas in the fiscal year which began July 1 and will end June 30, Dr. John G. Mehler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry told the house agricultural appropriation sub-committee.

Of this, Dr. Mehler said, $15,000 is appropriated by the federal government and $20,000 by the state of Texas. To carry on the work throughout the country the federal government is sending $2,005,500 and the states $5,854,000.

In New York state the state is spending $2,500,000 and the federal government $300,000. The state is spending $450,000 in Illinois and the federal government $150,000.

The agricultural appropriation bill carries an appropriation of $3,277,600 to be used either independently by the federal government or in co-operation with farmers, associations, state or county authorities. Of this $850,000 is for administrative purposes and $2,427,600 for the payment of indemnities.

FARM PRODUCTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Crops, animals raised and livestock products of American farms were valued at $12,204,000,000 last year, the department of agriculture announced today in a preliminary estimate. This was $960,000,000 more than in 1922. The total includes $9,953,000,000 for crops and $6,111,000,000 for animal products, less an allowance of $3,860,000,000, the estimated value of crops fed to livestock.

Value of the various crops was: Cereals $3,792,000,000; cotton lint and seed, $1,768,000,000; hay and forage, $1,480,000,000; vegetables $1,089,000,000; fruit and fruit products, $681,000,000; farm forest products, $318,000,000; tobacco, $229,000,000; legume seeds, $175,000,000; sugar and syrup crops, $142,000,000; seeds for planting, clover, etc., $88,000,000; flax, fiber and seed, $37,000,000, and other crops $132,000,000.

The distress of wheat growers is strikingly shown, the department said, by the 1923 wheat value estimate of $725,000,000 compared with $874,000,000 in 1922 and with $2,080,000,000 in 1919.

Swedish Bank Reports Show Good Profits for Last Year.

By The Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, March 6. — Industrial and financial circles of Sweden are gratified over the healthy condition of Sweden's banks as shown by their annual report for 1923. Nine of the banks which have thus far reported show a combined net profit of $11,000,000, with dividends ranging from six to 15 per cent and an average dividend of 9.6 per cent. The reports indicate that the expense accounts of the banks were considerably lower in 1923 than in 1922.

High 1924, 95.90; low 82.74.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Except for the marked strength shown by some of the high priced specialties, particularly the chain store issues, trading in today's stock market was of a rather desultory character. The volume of business was the smallest for any full day session this year.

Bear traders, who have been meeting stubborn resistance in their efforts to depress the general list, apparently had suspended operations, while traders on the long side showed little disposition to extend their commitments. Pools were active in a few issues. Estimates of the size of the short interest in the market placed it only ten per cent below the record figures of October, 1923, prior to the recent extended advance. Brokers' loans were estimated at $1,375,000,000, or $475,000,000 below those of a year ago.

Standard industrial stock, such as U. S. Steel common, Baldwin, Studebaker and American Can, moved within narrow and irregular limits today, showing only small fractional changes at the close. The combined sales of all four issues totaled less than 50,000 shares.

F. W. Woolworth was the individual feature, jumping 11 1-4 points to 321, a record top for all time, in further reflection of the recent increase in sales earnings. This makes it the highest priced industrial on the "Big Board."

Sugars, especially the Cuban issues, gave one of the most impressive demonstrations of group strength, Manati showing a net gain of 3 points. Restricted trading in the oil shares was again attributed to the oil hearings in Washington.

General Electric jumped about five points to 214 and then fell back about a point. Coca Cola sank to a new low at 68 on reports that the 1923 dividend on the common was earned by a scant margin.

A burst of buying in Lackawanna railroad on unconfirmed rumors that an extra dividend would be declared, sent that stock up more than three points to 318 1-2. Delaware and Hudson and Chesapeake and Ohio improved in sympathy.

The further collapse in French francs, which sent them to another record low at 3.76 3-4 cents, was the feature of the foreign exchange market. Belgian francs broke to 3.27 1-2 cents, also a new low, while demand sterling dropped about 1 1-2 cents to around $4.28 1-4.

Call money again held at 4 1-4 per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with business being done on a 4 3-4 to 5 per cent basis.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Special to The Record News.

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—Cotton was in a decidedly bearish mood today and the trading was characterized from start to finish by persistent selling pressure. All the gain of yesterday was lost and more besides. After starting 5 to 11 points, the market declined steadily under persistent selling and had lost 74 to 75 points before finding a resting place. Prices then rallied about 25 points but the gain did not hold and finals prices for the day showed July at 27.35 or 96 points below the previous close. The close was at practically the low points of the day, showing losses of 93 to 96 points on old crop months and 66 points on new crop positions.

Although Liverpool was better than due, prices here were lower than the previous close. The weather map showed unsettled conditions in the belt but that fact was ignored and selling became urgent and persistent. Sentiment seemed to be governed by uncertainty as to the outcome of the labor troubles in Lancashire, disappointing sales for the week at Fall river, where only 35,000 pieces were sold and a new low record for all time made by the French francs.

Later in the session, after a brief let-up in the selling pressure weakness was renewed by cables stating that unless the strikers in the one Oldham mill affected returned to work the master spinners would put the lockout in force in all mills.

MARKS OF PRISON ILLNESS SEEN IN FACE OF GANDHI

Mahatma Gandhi.

One of the first acts of the Ramsay MacDonald labor movement in Great Britain was to order the release of Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the non-co-operationist movement against British rule in India, imprisoned for preaching sedition. This, the first photograph of him taken since his release to reach this country, shows the effects of the illness which led to his release.

Produce Half of Pears in U. S.

By The Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—Four states, California, New York, Oregon and Washington, produce more than half the pears grown in the United States, according to the California department of agriculture.

The total crop of the country is 17,390,000 bushels, and the central and northern portions of California produced 30% of this during the last year. The 1923 output for California was 5,332,000 bushels; Washington, 2,600,000; Oregon, 1,540,000; New York, 1,000,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—The Olympic club of San Francisco, building its second 18-hole golf course on rolling hills and flats overlooking the Pacific ocean, will plant 11,000 trees to enhance the beauty of the course and to provide advantageous windshields. The trees will not interfere with the golfing.

An innovation announced is the use of tree and shrubbery bowers on tall tees instead of unsightly wooden shelter houses.

CANADIAN BUY BOOSTS WHEAT

2 Billion Bushels For July; May Shipment Causes Stir

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Announcement of the purchase of 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for July-May shipment to Europe led to a brisk rally in wheat prices today, and the market closed firm, a shade to 7-8 cents net higher, May 1.11 3-8 to 1.11 1-2 and July 1.11 1-2 to 1.11 5-8. Corn finished unsettled at the same as yesterday to 1-4 cent lower, with oats varying from 1-8 to 1-4 decline to 1-8 cent gain and with provisions 2 to 12 cents up.

Corn and oats declined owing to rather aggressive selling on the part of pit traders in corn.

Higher quotations of hogs gave firmness to provisions.

DEMO FIGHT WAXES WARM

Underwood, Reed, Bryan, Walsh, All Are Big Factors

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

Little Delaware, for a quarter of a century after the close of the civil war followed the flag of the Bayards, scions of that gentleman of France who was without fear and without reproach. Six generations of the Bayard family have been represented in the senate of the United States and Thomas F. Bayard VI., is today the leader of the followers of Jefferson in Little Delaware and his name is to be found on the roster of the senate.

Then the Du Ponts in the long ago accumulated huge fortunes in the making of powder and they made "little Delaware a doubtful state, republican one year and democratic the next. Delaware is about as large as El Paso county and will send six delegates to the national convention. Senator Bayard and Senator Underwood think alike and vote alike. They are very close personal as well as political friends and Delaware leaders insist that the six votes of the state will go to Underwood just as long as there is a possibility of his winning the nomination.

In the closing days of February William Jennings Bryan made a speaking tour in Alabama in opposition to the presidential aspirations of Underwood and appealed to the democrats of Alabama to give their support to Col. L. D. Musgrove. Jumping from Ala. to Florida, Dr. A. A. Murphree, a college president, introduced to fame by Bryan as fit material for a democratic presidential nomination, gave positive instructions to the secretary of state of Florida that his name should not be printed on the official ballot.

Now the Florida democrats will have two names on the ballot—Underwood and McAdoo, with William Randolph Hearst and Arthur Brisbane appealing to the Florida democrats to select Bryan as one of the delegates to the national convention. An incident of the closing days was the Hearst announcement that he favored the nomination of James A. Reed for president and Royal S. Copeland for vice-president by the Madison Square Garden convention.

Bryan has publicly blacklisted Underwood; he has privately blacklisted McAdoo and his principal backers for delegate at large from Florida are Messrs. Hearst and Brisbane, who pass their winter vacations at Palm Beach and do their voting in the city of New York.

According to advices from Philadelphia the democratic organizations of Philadelphia and Pittsburg and other industrial centers are for Smith of New York for president and the prediction is made that he will obtain the support of a majority of the delegation.

At a conference of democratic state leaders it was decided an uninstructed delegation will be sent to the Madison Square Garden convention and though the majority will be for the nomination of Governor Smith, a scattering vote will go to McAdoo and to Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

Walsh, who is holding the center of the American stage since he brought about the Teapot Dome earthquake, is leading the fight for McAdoo in Montana. He is a fourth degree Knight of Columbus, declared by his colleagues to be the ablest lawyer in the senate and is a candidate for re-election to the senate from Montana.

TELEGRAM.

His telegram of confidence in McAdoo is said to have given the Chicago conference a backbone and to have made it easy sailing for the former secretary of the treasury in so far as the action of the conference was concerned. Governor Jonathan M. Davis of Kansas jumped into the limelight again when his followers forced the McAdoo democrats to formerly endorse the governor as a candidate for the presidency and to definitely establish his leadership of the Kansas delegation to the national convention.

This came after a big state harmony meeting called by the Kansas leaders, had apparently reached the parting of the ways. Davis demanded an endorsement and received it amid the wildest applause while the McAdoo men contend themselves with the adoption of a resolution wiping all oil taint from their idol in connection with the Doheny transactions in Mexico or elsewhere.

A split appeared to be inevitable at one time but the dirt farmer governor forced the fighting and compelled the opposition to his candidacy to accept his program. All appears to be fair in love, war and politics.

James A. Reed is making the fight of his life in Missouri with only a few days to make it. Two years ago the McAdoo and Wilson men captured the party machinery in old Missouri. This spring they were given a hint that Reed might make a fight for the delegation. He was busy at Washington attending to his senatorial duties.

His political enemies at home called a meeting of the state committee, they decided to order a snap primary precinct convention on March 7, throughout Missouri in order to prevent Reed from making a speaking tour of all the counties of the state.

REED ACCEPTS.

Reed accepted the challenge, hurled his hat in the ring and now he is going from county to county appealing to the Missouri democrats to place the stamp of their disapproval on all the participants, including the lawyers, who are involved in anyway with Harry F. Sinclair and Edward F. Doheny, in the oil transactions which have startled the country and made the most sensational reading of many decades.

Missouri democrats will select delegates March 7 but whether the snap convention methods will make friends for Reed or lose him votes will make material for another story. McAdoo leaders hope to make a clean sweep.

Reed has declared against entangling alliances with foreign powers and is running true to form. He says he voted against the league of nations he is glad of it and the democrats of Missouri should be proud of it.

North Dakota has a law which provides a political party is not entitled to a place on the ballot if it did not poll five per cent of the votes cast in the last election. This has shut the non-partisans out in North Dakota and the ruling may shut out the democrats.

Missouri fires the first big gun in March with the greatest of democratic campaigners having his own fun with the animals in the democratic menagerie. He was shut out of the San Francisco convention after having been shut out of the state convention at home in 1920 after his district had elected him a delegate to the national convention.

He wasn't shut out of the American senate as a majority of the voters of Missouri re-elected him senator after his humiliation. Now what will be his fate March 7?

By The Associated Press

MADISON, Wis., March 6.—Under a new policy adopted by the Wisconsin state land board, approximately 275,000 acres of state lands will be thrown open to tourists next summer for camping purposes, without charge. Any tourist or camper, whether from Wisconsin or outside, will be permitted to use a plot of ground in the state land territory, most of which is in the northern part of the state. The plots generally will be 60 by 120 feet. No permanent buildings can be erected on the land, campers being permitted ot use only tents or portable structures. Permits for camp sites are to be obtained through the land office. The permit plan according to officials, will result in a small loss in fees to the state.

SHERMAN MEN WANTED HERE

Local Officers Not Decided What to Do In Theft Case

Local officers were undecided here Friday as to what course to pursue in the case of the three men now held in Sherman in connection with the alleged theft of a safe there and with the theft of an automobile from this city. One of the three was indicted late this week by the Grayson county grand jury but no charges were made against the other two. One of the three was reported to have taken all blame for the thefts on himself and to have absolved the other two from complicity in the matter.

The trio was arrested in Durant, Okla., about two weeks ago when they were found in an automobile that had been stolen the day before from a Wichita Falls cafe owner. It was charged by Sherman police that they had been responsible for the robbery of a business house in that city, but the grand jury evidently found no evidence to connect two of the men with the case.

All three are still being held on federal charges of interstate transportation of a stolen car and it is probable that they will be brought back here to stand trial for theft when the other counts against them are disposed of.

She was arrested Thursday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Hawkins and McDonald when they raided her home on Front street and seized a quantity of morphine.

ALL VOTED THIS A GREAT ENTERTAINMENT

"Cat and Canary," At Palace Tonight

Elsie Hitz and Roy La Rue in "The Cat and Canary," Palace Tonight

"The and the Canary" out-batted "The Bat." That was the verdict when this latest of the thrillers was first presented to the New York public. But it was not the wise ones in the theatre who swat the value of the play for the "brokers" there, who are supposed to be very wise to the likes of the public, said, and unanimously, that "The Bat," could never be equalled. Well, the public has notions of its own, and forthwith, without the aid of the "brokers," the people who really make the theatre possible, went in droves to get seats for "The Cat and the Canary." It stayed in New York for a long, long time. The play is now on tour and will come to the Palace theatre on Saturday, March 8.

For those who want sheer entertainment in the theatre—thrills, romance and comedy—it is recommended as almost a perfect medium. There is nothing lofty about "The Cat and the Canary"—it thrills because there are thrilling and unusual situations which could very easily be very real to the genuine persons who people the stage. "The Cat and the Canary" will undoubtedly be one of the most perfect entertainments offered here during this season, and if it is not, there have been a lot of false reports spread about very competent reviewers, to say nothing of lay observers of things theatrical.

YOUNG COUNTY GRAND JURY MAKES REPORT

Four felony and five misdemeanor indictments were returned by the 30th district court grand jury of Young county which reported Thursday at Graham, according to District Attorney Jimmie Allred who returned Friday from that place.

Judge H. R. Wilson is still in Graham engaged in the trial of some civil actions.

HUNG JURY RESULTS IN CIVIL SUIT

After deliberating for several hours Friday afternoon, the jury in the case of Barney Johnson vs. Sheriff Murphy of Wichita and Goodwin of Archer county was dismissed at 5 o'clock without having arrived at a verdict. Testimony and arguments in the case, which has been on trial before Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court, was closed early Friday afternoon. It was believed that a disagreement in the trial would necessitate a retrial.

The defendants are being sued for $10,000 damages as a result of alleged false arrest and mistreatment suffered while in the county jail. The plaintiff avers that he was arrested on a warrant intended for a brother-in-law and that he was locked up in the main jail although he was only 16 years of age and should have been held in the juvenile ward. He states that he was badly beaten by prisoners in the jail.
