HARRY POWERS UNSHAKEN BY JURY VERDICT

1,300 Spectators Pleased At Result of Trial In Opera House

LAWYER APPEALS

Attorney to Argue for New Trial Before Court On Saturday

By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 10. (UP)—A jury today decided that Harry F. Powers, matrimonial racketeer, lured Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke from her home in Northboro, Mass., and murdered her in the concrete pill-box basement of his garage at Quiet Dell.

It required the jury of ruddy-faced farmers an hour and 50 minutes to reach a verdict carrying with it the mandatory penalty of death by hanging.

Powers' attorney, his voice shaking with emotion, asked for a new trial and was given until Saturday morning to formulate his arguments.

1,300 Hear Verdict

The verdict came as no surprise to the 1,300 townspeople who packed the Moore opera house to its ceiling. Perhaps because Powers was already convicted, in their minds, of the atrocious slaying not only of the middle-aged nurse from Massachusetts, but of four other persons, there was no demonstration.

Powers sat with the back of his curly brown head to the audience, close beside the benign, elderly J. Ed Law, the only attorney in this county who would take his case, and moved not a muscle as the verdict was read.

The entire opera house was in death-like stillness when, at 5:09, Sheriff W. E. Grimm led the jurors to their places. Powers fixed his near-sighted eyes on the tall form of farmer Nathan Richards, who had been chosen foreman while the jury deliberated beneath the theater stage.

The customary questions were asked. Then the clerk read the verdict: "We the jury find Harry F. Powers, alias Cornelius O. Pierson, guilty of murder in the first degree as charged in the indictment—"

There was a momentary pause and the crowd waited with hushed expectancy to hear if there was

Japan and China Accept Peace Plan

PARIS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Japan and China today accepted the compromise plan evolved by the League of Nations for settlement of the Manchurian dispute and the tangled issue was placed in the hands of a neutral investigating commission whose five members have not yet been selected.

Approval by the two belligerents made acceptance of the plan unanimous and it also has been endorsed by United States Ambassador Dawes who watched the deliberations of the league council at a distance during the three and a half weeks of discussion.

Youth Plays Hookey To Give Others Lunch

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 10. (UP)—When a truant officer picks up a 14-year-old boy for "cutting school" it is not unusual. But when the boy's reason is "I stayed away so my brother and sister could have my lunch," it is unusual.

Kelsey Petro, the truant officer, investigated and found the boy's mother and sister and brother in need and now he is hunting a job for the boy.

OIL FIRE

SOUTH BEND, Texas, Dec. 10. (AP)—Fire destroyed a derrick and pulling machine last night on the McCluskey lease in the south Young county field. Loss was estimated at about $7,500. The equipment was owned by Scott & Nance.

Mine Union Secretary Given Life Prison Term for Harlan Slaying

First Trial After Strikers' Battle With Guards Ends in Conviction; Prisoner Clings to Denial With Promise Of Vindication

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Dec. 10. (AP)—The first trial arising from the fighting in the Harlan county coal fields last May 5 resulted today in conviction and a sentence of life imprisonment for William B. Jones, mine union secretary.

Jones was accused of murder and conspiracy in the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Jim Daniels, one of four men shot to death at Evarts. Five hundred to 1,000 shots were fired in some 15 minutes of fighting between deputized mine guards and striking coal miners and sympathizers. Jones faces two other similar indictments and a score of others are under three similar indictments each in the case.

After the jury read its verdict the union secretary issued a statement saying:

"I want to say I'm not discouraged. It's the coal interests of Harlan county that cause me to be here. I am innocent and intend to carry on the fight to the end and expect to win and vindicate myself of all the charges that were placed against me."

Jones, who had been free on bond, was ordered back to jail pending action on his motion for a new trial which he has until Dec. 28 to file. Ben B. Golden of defense counsel indicated it would be based on the grounds of incompetent evidence and improper arguments by the commonwealth.

William H. Hightower, president of the mine union in Harlan county, is to be called for trial Dec. 28, as the next defendant in the Evarts fighting to face a jury. William M. Birnett, coal miner accused of killing Deputy Sheriff Jesse Pace last April when Pace tried to arrest a negro miner at Evarts, was acquitted just before Jones' trial began.

Income Tax Evader Makes California Bond

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10. (AP)—Carey Judson Harper, wanted at Fort Scott, Kan., for failure to file income tax returns for 1929 and 1930 voluntarily appeared before a United States commissioner here yesterday and posted a $5,000 for his appearance in Kansas.

The government contends his income was $30,000 in 1929 and $32,000 for the following year.

C-C AT BURK FEASTS FRIDAY

Annual Banquet to Be Held Tonight

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Dec. 10.—The Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce, assembled for its annual banquet at the First Methodist church, Friday night will hear a report of achievements during the year and a prophecy of work to come. More than 200 members and guests, including many out-of-town visitors, are expected, Herman Brown, secretary, announced.

John Boswell, manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker of the evening. His address, followed by a discussion of the public school system by Superintendent Butler Westerfield and the annual report of President J. M. Alexander will mark the more serious aspect of the program. The invocation will be offered by Rev. C. W. Dennis, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The Silver Moon orchestra will entertain as the program opens. Lee Copeland and Elmer Russell will make a team of comedy entertainers. Miss Margaret Tanner will give a reading.

At the conclusion of the program, members will elect five new directors to serve during the coming year.

COURT ALTERS LINEUP IN SUIT AGAINST VOTE

Oklahoma Election Board Removed as Defendant In Injunction

FUNDS ARE INVOLVED

Bench May Bar Expenditure For Murray Initiated Election

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 10. (UP)—The state election board was removed as defendant in the anti-election petition-injunction suit by the Oklahoma supreme court late today. The court has the suit, designed to delay the initiative reform election of Gov. W. H. Murray, now pending before it.

Governor Murray, who reiterated the election will be held Dec. 18, was at Muskogee tonight. He left the state house today, suddenly deciding to spend the rest of the week speaking in behalf of his program of tax reform and in support of the constitutional amendments he is submitting in the special election.

The action of the supreme court in removing the state election board as a defendant was interpreted as meaning the body cannot enjoin the election, but it may be able to prevent expenditure of money on the election, since the state auditor is left as defendant in the suit.

The court had, by a 5 to 4 vote, included both State Auditor Frank Cater and the election board in the suit.

The battle between Murray and his opponents, especially attorneys for the Citizens league, became verbal with heated exchanges of charges.

The militant governor accused opponents of his measures of keeping election registration books open past the regular closing hour Monday night. He charged forgery in Seminole county, illegal registration at Tulsa and irregularities at "at least two other points."

His opponents returned with charges that Murray had called the election illegally and was attempting to set up a "dictatorship" with his drive for passage of his measures, changing the state fiscal system and imposing high taxes on large incomes and corporations.

Preacher Names Walton In Oil Fraud Trial

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 10. (UP)—J. C. (Jack) Walton, impeached Oklahoma governor, was named late today by a small, gray-haired minister as the man who sold him $8,085 stock in the Universal Oil and Gas company.

Rev. A. W. Hadley, Hominy, Okla., pointed to Walton from among the 10 other defendants in the $1,000,000 mail fraud trial as the man who, as chairman of the pre-organization board, wrote him letters promising huge returns for investments.

The transaction, the minister told District Attorney Herbert H. Hyde, was closed after he received letters from Walton in April, 1929. Walton's defense has been based chiefly on his contention he left the firm in May, 1929.

Dallas Taxi Drivers Strike Against Rental

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Eighty-five drivers for a taxicab company went on strike today in protest against the $5.25 daily rent charged them for cars. The walkout was quiet and orderly.

The cabs were company owned and drivers were allowed to keep the money they collected in excess of the rental fee.

The drivers met at the Labor temple after leaving their jobs and organized a local taxicab drivers' union. They planned to affiliate later with the American Federation of Labor.

Taxi company officials replaced the drivers immediately and said it was but a small matter.

Tear Bombs Rout Hunger Army in West Virginia

MARTIN'S FERRY, W. Va., Dec. 10. (UP)—Effective use of tear gas bombs ousted a band of hunger marchers returning to the Middle West from Washington, and quelled an incipient riot here late today.

When the marchers, arriving here in four trucks and three automobiles, began to unload, Chief of Police Wesley Muhlemann ordered them to "keep moving." They refused and began to argue vigorously with the crowds that gathered. The police stepped in and hurled tear gas bombs into the midst of the marchers. The marchers then re-entered their trucks and left for Wheeling, W. Va.

Culbertsons Pare Lenz Lead After Bitter Session

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. (Friday) (AP)—The Culbertsons cut their deficit in their contract bridge match with Lenz and Jacoby to 1,815 in the third session ending at 1:25 a. m. today. Their gain in more than six hours of play was 260. The rubber standing of the series is Lenz and Jacoby 10; Culbertsons 6. The points of the 16th rubber were Culbertsons 1,360; Lenz and Jacoby 1,150.

The play was marked by sharp words between Lenz and Culbertson because the latter took too much time in playing. Lenz, in a "huff" held up the play for 20 minutes, but the situation was smoothed over by the referees who suggested that Culbertson speed up his game.

Ely Culbertson staked another $1,700 on his bridge bidding "system" tonight, Mrs. Culbertson put a rabbit's foot in her purse and together they stalked back into battle with Sidney S. Lenz and Oswald Jacoby, defenders of the "official" or system of the "elder statesmen."

Culbertson delayed the third session only long enough to hang up on a bridge lamp a wishbone that had been sent to his wife and to sign several checks to cover at two to one, himself on the confident end, wager offers that came by telegraph from Newark to San Francisco. Chief Referee Alfred M. Gruenther holds the stakes.

As Culbertson took his position before the green felt tonight he taunted his opponents with:

"Well, have you decided yet to change over to the Culbertson system?"

"We have not," snapped Lenz.

"Nor," retorted Jacoby with a

FUNDS OFFERED FOR GAS PLANT

Three Companies Ready to Finance City

Inquiries already are being received by city officials from nationally known finance concerns relative to financing the construction of a municipal gas distributing system here, it was learned Thursday.

Three such financial institutions have written thus far, it was said Thursday, to announce their readiness to finance the proposed project here on the indicated basis of no taxation. One communication pointed out, according to city officials, that the use of revenue warrants now to obtain the reuqired money for building the plant would in fact be more economical for the city than the issuance of bonds to be paid for out of taxes. Revenue warrants of the kind contemplated for the Wichita Falls project, it was said, are selling at a smaller discount than municipal tax bonds.

Work is progressing in the office of F. M. Rugeley, city engineer, toward the preparation of plans for the gas distributing system, according to V. R. Smitham, city manager.

Pennsylvania Banker Added to GOP Committee

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 10.(UP)—Jay Cooke, prominent Philadelphia banker, will sit with the Republican national committee as a member from Pennsylvania when that body meets in Washington, D. C., Monday to arrange for the next national convention.

Letters are on their way today from Gen. Edward Martin, chairman of the Republican state committee, to members of the state committee urging their approval of the selection of Cooke.

The naming of Cooke as a member of the national committee will give Pennsylvania its full quota in that body and will enable Philadelphia to resent its claims for the next national convention.

Al Capone's 'Manager' Must Serve U. S. Term

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (UP)—The United States circuit court of appeals late today upheld the conviction of Jack Guzik, "business manager" of the Capone syndicate, on income tax evasion charges.

Guzik was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined $17,500. The government charged he owed $300,000 tax on an income in three years of more than $1,000,000.

His brother, Sam, pleaded guilty to similar charges and was sentenced to 18 months in prison, which he is now serving. Jack Guzik is the seventh major gang figure to fall before the government's income tax campaign.

CAMPAIGN FOR CRUDE DUTY GOES FORWARD

President's Message Has No Effect on Drive Thomas Says

SHEPPARD IN FIGHT

Shortridge Explains Bill Protecting Oil With Dollar Tariff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Oil tariff campaigners in congress will take to the war path in the face of President Hoover's opposition to any general congressional revision of schedules.

From Senator Thomas, the Oklahoma Democrat, came today an indication of the tactics of that party's petroleum tariff seekers, in answer to Mr. Hoover's message to congress.

"It (the message) will have no effect on our determination to force the issue for an oil tariff," Thomas asserted.

He added he "looked for attempts at general revision" when the oil tariff came up for action, as the petroleum proposals would open the way for discussion of all schedules.

Disagreement Arises

So far as the message of the chief executive contended the tariff commission had adequate facilities for protecting agriculture and industry, disagreement came from Senator Sheppard, the Texas Democrat, and Shortridge, the California Republican.

Each pointed out that the tariff commission lacked the power to take a commodity from the free list and place it under duty, and each added he would fight for oil protection at this session.

Sheppard agreed with the president in that he did not wish for a general tariff revision, but he did want a petroleum levy and said he would support and vote for one.

Shortridge Explains Bill

Shortridge, who has proposed a bill setting up, in effect, a tariff of $1 per barrel on crude and 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products, explained his measure, which avoids bringing oil under the tariff schedules.

He added, however, he wanted "to do something" and could fight for a tariff or any other proposal that would bring help to the industry.

Shortridge explained his measure was submitted under terms of the constitution permitting regulation of interstate and foreign commerce, and would exact a charge of $1 per barrel on crude and 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products.

House Plans Laid

A number of members of the oil states' delegations in the house are understood to be laying their plans for a hard drive for a petroleum tariff.

Support of the campaign for a tariff was seen by the Independent Petroleum association in portions of the president's message dealing with anti-trust laws.

In this connection, Mr. Hoover cited "continued demoralization in the bituminous coal, oil and lumber industries," and suggested congressional consideration.

R. B. Brown, secretary of the association, pointed out the chief executive's message did not oppose specific revision, such as for oil, and said he believed an acceptable scientific adjustment could be worked out.

DISTRESS

A reduction of 20 cents, from 85 to 65 cents per barrel, in the price of crude oil purchased, was announced by the Primrose Refiling company, effective Dec. 1, 1931.

According to Primrose officials the cut is due to the existing crude prices, coupled with the unfavorable market for the refined products. These factors make the operation of the plant unprofitable and force the operatives to resort to a reduction as an economical measure, it was said.

Republican Leaders Move To Block Hoover Foreign Debt Program

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (US)—Congress took steps today to forestall any downward revision or cancellation of Europe's war debts to this government.

Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, definitely split with the president. He not only opposed any extension of the one-year moratorium, and any "further temporary adjustments," suggested by the president in his special message to congress on foreign affairs, but he turned thumbs down on the proposal to revive the debt commission.

Watson Opposes

Somewhat indirect opposition came from Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader. He opposed further extension of the moratorium and declared the question of reviving the debt commission should be considered apart from the ratification of the one year moratorium.

Before the president's message reached the capitol, the senate unanimously ordered a sweeping inquiry into the billions of dollars worth of foreign securities sold in this country by international bankers.

This investigation, provided in the resolution of Senator Hiram Johnson of California, which begins Monday before the finance committee, will form the spear-head of the drive to block debt revision or cancellation.

Opposition Widespread

The unanimity and promptness in adopting the Johnson resolution were indicative of the opposition, even among administration leaders, to any extension of the one-year moratorium and the re-creation of the world war foreign debt commission.

For the general opinion prevailed that the commission will be set up again only for the purpose of scaling down the foreign debts, which they regard as cancellation to the extent these debts are forgiven. And that means just so much will be added to the burden of the American taxpayers.

As a result, the leaders find it

Errant Son of 60 Fears Wrath of His 'Ma' Who's Now 107

ALHAMBRA, Calif., Dec. 10 (US)—It wasn't a spanking promised by his 70-year-old brother that Cordel Peeples, 62, feared half as much as the brother's threat to tell their mother, who is 107 about his "trouble." So he eagerly returned today to the jail from which he escaped while serving a 60-day sentence for petty theft.

"Please don't tell ma about my trouble," Peebles asked his brother before leaving with officers the latter had summoned. "She would give me the dickens."

German Chancellor Sees End of Reparations

BERLIN, Dec. 10. (UP)—The end of reparations payments by Germany was forecast tonight by Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, who has resorted to iron-fisted methods to guide his country through economic and political strife.

"It is unimaginable how Germany can pay in view of the growing tendency abroad to resort to economic self-sufficency," Bruening declared in reference to the necessity of exporting German goods to pay reparations, which he discussed with foreign newspapermen.

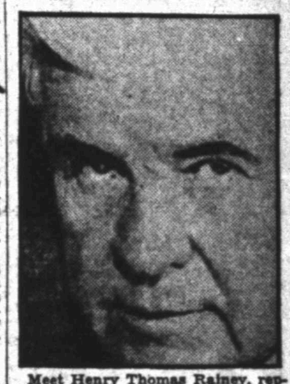

"If foreign countries are disturbed by the growth of radicalism in Germany, they should realize that at least 50 per cent of this growth is due to the economic depression.

BEATY ORDERS OIL CONCLAVE

Special A. P. I. Meeting Set At St. Louis Dec. 17

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—Amos L. Beaty, president of the American Petroleum institute, has called a special meeting of the board of directors to be held in St. Louis on Dec. 17, to consider problems of the industry, it was learned here today.

The 72 directors were told by Beaty that the industry is on the brink of catastrophe and that action must be taken immediately to avert the worst conditions ever seen by the oil business.

Postponement Sought

Oklahoma directors, confronted with Gov. W. H. Murray's special election on Dec. 18 on initiated measures which the oil men generally oppose, have sought to have the St. Louis meeting postponed until Dec. 21 or later so they may remain in the state until the election is over.

Simultaneously, there came word that more oil leaders had lent their support to the Oil and Gas Journal's plan for a national meeting, probably in Texas, to seek ways and means of helping the industry.

Plea to Hoover

Harry H. Smith, executive secretary of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, telegraphed Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war, asking him to ask President Hoover to call such a meeting.

The plan would call together leaders of the industry and its organizations, accredited representatives of the oil producing states and representatives of the federal government.

Mid-continent leaders who have entered the movement include Charles F. Roeser of Fort Worth, head of the Associated Oil Organizations of Texas, Mark L. Requa of California, chairman of the Colorado Springs meeting of two years ago; Roy Johnson, widely known oil man of Ardmore, Okla., and W. G. Skelly, Tulsa oil man.

22-Month-Old Baby Undergoes Operation

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., Dec. 10. (UP)—Believed to be the youngest person ever to undergo an operation in Oklahoma, the 22-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Evans was operated upon today in the hospital here.

The child was taken to the hospital suffering from appendicitis. Shortly after the operation physicians said the patient was "doing nicely."

Record News Cotton Table

For Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma

Cottonseed prices at Grandfield Thursday broke under the persistent downward tendency marking seed quotations at other points in the section, and dropped $2 from $14 to $12. Prices at Grandfield have been the highest paid during the entire season at any town in this territory. The seed quotation here still is the highest offered, although Frederick prices are the same figure. Both these Oklahoma towns have enjoyed exceptionally high seed price during the season, although Grandfield succeeded in retaining the high over a much longer period.

Spot cotton prices were up slightly on markets Thursday, and regained six points of an 8-point drop Wednesday. Wichita Falls market prices, based on January New York at 5.95, were: Strict middling 7-8, 5.43; middling 7-8, 5.18; strict low middling 7-8, 4.93; low middling 7-8, 4.68; 25 points more for 15-16 staple.

The following reports were received from Record News correspondents:

University of Texas Launches $3,500,000 Building Program

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—Bids on seven University of Texas buildings have been called by university regents to be opened and contracts awarded here Jan. 29. On present prices, the buildings are expected to cost more than $3,500,000.

Contracts for bridges and paving of Waller boulevard through the campus were awarded, the project to cost $91,651.

Two bridges will be built by the Langston Construction company, Dallas, at $42,923. Paving and grading will be done by Southwest Bitulithic company, San Antonio, at $48,728.

Gateway Plans

Regents announced that provision was made for the early erection of the $400,000 George W. Littlefield memorial gateway on the campus, under revised building plans.

Old Main building will remain permanently a part of the campus plant, Chairman R. L. Batts announced. Only the north wing, condemned several years ago by the state fire marshal, will be torn down, Judge Batts announced.

The regents arranged for dedication exercises for Waggener hall to be held at the next spring roundup.

Texas Labor

Numerous grazing leases on university lands were renewed.

Chairman Batts announced that in the big construction program, bids will be required to provide for use of Texas labor on all the buildings and Texas materials so far as possible. The contracting firms were not limited to Texas companies, and were authorized to bring in their superintendents and foremen.

Plans on all the eight buildings are now available for contractors to begin figuring the jobs, the regents said.

The structures include the student activities building, third of the university union group. This building will contain a large commons to replace the old cafeteria, part of which is being torn away.

Shacks Displaced

The new buildings will displace all wooden shacks on the campus.

A men's dormitory will start the group ultimately to include eight or more buildings on the Cavanaugh tract at Nineteenth and Speedway.

A million-dollar library will occupy the site of the north wing of the old Main building. Other structures of the group will include an architecture building, physics, geology, engineering and home economics classroom structures.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, Texas chapter, were authorized by the university regents to place a monument of George Washington upon the campus.

'Ideal Co-Ed' Found After Three-Day Hunt

BURLINGTON, Vt., Dec. 10. (INS)—Miss Esther Pitts, 20-year-old University of Vermont co-ed, known as the "ideal college girl," who vanished on Sunday, was "found" this afternoon in Montreal.

The girl's father, E. B. Pitts, of Colchester, notified searchers that his daughter had telephoned from the Canadian Pacific railroad station in Montreal.

The girl's voice on the telephone was hysterical. She was understood to have said she was kidnaped. Montreal authorities were notified at once by telephone.

PRESIDENT IN SPAIN ELECTED

First Head of New Republic Is Zamora

MADRID, Dec. 10. (INS)—Niceto Alcala Zamora, former Spanish revolutionary leader, was formally elected by the constituents Cortes tonight as Spain's first president.

Zamora officiated as provisional chief executive of the government formed immediately after overthrow of King Alfonso XIII.

Only deputies of the extreme left opposed Zamora's election as president.

"The right elements," charged a left spokesman, "are electing a crownless monarch, King Niceto I., thereby betraying the principles of the revolution."

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Coughs

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute relief for colds and coughs due to colds. Authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk sixty cents for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold or cough fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.—Adv.

HOOVER FINDS IDEAS CHIDED

Bond Issue for Relief May May Be Voted

By LOUIS SEIBOLD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (US)—President Hoover has consistently opposed a bond issue authorized by congress of a lump sum to relieve business and unemployment conditions.

Yet the aggregate of the amounts recommended by him for the same purpose over a period of 18 months is gradually mounting toward the maximum fixed by men who have intelligently studied the problems involved. In his message to congress the president suggested the creation of a reconstruction corporation backed by $1,500,000,000 as a further step toward expediting the return of normal conditions.

Added to the amounts previously suggested by him for setting up the machinery designed to promote economic rehabilitation, his latest plan makes an impressive total.

Just how large this will be is problematical because of the indirect processes involved. Reasonable estimates place it not far from $3,000,000,000 with a great deal more possibly being required.

Leaders Concerned

Realization of the situation that must result from the piecemeal policy advocated by the present is causing much concern to the leaders of his party who are apprehensive of political consequences.

No feature of the president's widely heralded "relief" message came in for more attention than the billion and a half set-up recommended by him. As a whole the plan suggested by the president was most disappointing to the leaders of his party.

They fully expected he would give them something with which to fight two or three practical plans for providing a stimulus to business and jobs for the rapidly growing army of poverty stricken unemployed which are scheduled to make their appearance in congress.

Helplessness Expressed

The president's failure to meet the situation is greatly deplored. Coupled with other inconsistent and conflicting statements made by the president his supporters in and out of congress reflect a feeling of helplessness in their comments.

This feeling is aggravated by the certainty that out of the congressional jumble will emerge a plan of relief that will appeal to every section of the country—and probably prove extremely helpful to the Democratic cause.

"Just another Hoover plan" is the way the president's latest contribution to relief suggestions was described by one of the western Republican leaders arriving to attend the meeting of the national committee next week.

This estimate was supplemented by the rather sarcastic observation: "Hoover's relief schemes won't help his party much. There have been so many that the public mind is bewildered and confused. What the average man and woman out of work wants is a chance to earn a living. Both think that the duty of providing such an opportunity is up to the party in power."

Promises Taken Lightly

Another leader from the Middle West not only indorsed the opinion of his associate but added the statement that "most of the people out our way are beginning to lose faith in the predictions and promises of the Hoover administration.

"Somehow they have got it into their heads that the president is responsible for the hard times. One reason is that they were inclined to accept the optimistic predictions of the president a few months ago.

"Most of these turned out to be duds not through any fault of the president. But you can believe me when I tell you that we party leaders are having a hard time finding reasons to advance in explanation."

Democratic leaders who have been engaged today in dissecting the latest relief plan of the president are naturally skeptical of its value.

The absence of defenders of it on the Republican side convinces the opposition that any relief plan finally adopted must set aside the president's stubborn objection to a bond issue that will make available a sum sufficiently large to provide relief to both business and unemployed in the most direct and effective manner.

While many suggestions for achieving this purpose have been advanced no organized move yet has been made to effect cooperation between members of both parties.

If such cooperation can be arranged it will be predicated on the theory that administration gestures are deemed impractical. In other words, any plan adopted will bear the non-partisan label of congress and not that of the White House.

Oklahoma Court Stays Alder Death Penalty

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 10. (UP)—I. J. Alder sentenced to die in the electric chair at McAlester Dec. 18, was given a stay of execution by the criminal court of appeals today.

The stay was granted pending the court's hearing on Alder's sentence from Blaine county district court.

Alder was convicted in the double killing of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDonald, neighbor farmers west of Geary.

A Montana state game farm in its second year of operation raised for liberation 8,465 Chinese pheasants.

FEVER STRIKES EAST TEXAS

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of Texas national guard troops in the East Texas oil field, under martial law, said today there were 49 cases of typhus fever in Smith, Rusk, Upshur and Gregg counties.

He said the malady was not in a virulent form but unless all Texas health officers lent a cooperative hand in watching its spread it might develop into serious proportions.

Government scientists are in East Texas studying the situation in an effort to determine whether rats only are the conveyers of the disease, General Wolters said.

He said that at Henderson, where the fever first made its appearance, all rats had been destroyed and that they were being exterminated in other sections of the field.

ELECTRA PAYS

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Dec. 10.—A total of $786.59 in school taxes has been paid in Electra during the past week, according to figures compiled by J. T. Gibson, city school tax collector. If the people do not respond more readily to the appeal for payment of the taxes, the board will be unable to meet the teachers' pay roll Dec. 23, it was announced. Officials of the board are urging the payment of school taxes at the earliest opportunity.

The honor roll for school tax payments for the week include O. S. Hubbard, Mrs. Susie Williams, J. A. Knox, Edward Yarbrough, Mrs. M. J. Parmley, Mrs. Donna Whirlow, T. M. POWERS GETS DEATH VERDICT

'Bluebeard' Sentenced To Hang for Murder

some saving phrase, some recommendation that would cheat the gallows. There was none.

Powers sat like a craven figure, his face the same dignified mask of puzzled bewilderment that has characterized his actions as the principal actor in Clarksburg's greatest human drama. His attorney seemed more shaken than Powers.

Law rose unsteadily, cleared his throat, and asked Judge John C. Southern if he might have time to argue for a new trial.

Crowd Satisfied

"I will allow until Saturday morning," said the judge. "Until then, at 10 o'clock, this court stands adjourned."

At the moment the bailiff's gavel fell there was a stir in the audience. The citizens, who had once threatened to take the law in their own hands when Powers, stubbornly insisted his innocence, refused to confess to the police, were satisfied with the verdict. Jubilation shone on their faces as they poured out into the packed street, where 3,000 more were waiting to learn the result of the trial.

"First degree," some one shouted. There was a few yells from the crowd and then this throng, too, began to melt away.

Prisoner Guarded

On the stage, beneath the brilliant lights in the files, there was instant activity around the pudgy little man who had just listened to the verdict that will send him to the gallows at the Moundsville penitentiary.

Powers rose, shook down the black trousers that had crept up his stout legs, and walked across the stage to the left exit. There he was swallowed up in a group of stalwart state troopers, who snapped manacles on him as he reached the edge of the stage.

The simulation of horrified innocence and amazement at the chain of circumstances leading to his arrest for murder was carried out to the end. Even while the jury was deliberating, Powers discussed aspects of the case with his attorney, with a business-like air.

Last Services Friday For Aaron Broyles

Funeral services for Aaron Broyles, 20, who died at a hospital here Wednesday following a brief illness, will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the First Evangelical church.

The Rev. H. C. Hoasch, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Rosemont under the direction of the Hines mortuary. Pallbearers will be Clarence Oferlee, Aubrey Marshall, A. S. Webb, C. O. Farris, Roy Patton and Clyde Tillman.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Broyles, with whom he resided at 903 Sixteenth street; four sisters, Mrs. Ira Patton and Mrs. Ruby Heffley, both of Houston, and Misses Opal and Lucile Broyles of Wichita Falls; and three brothers, Lowrey of San Jose, Calif., and Howard and Cecil Broyles of Wichita Falls.

SERVICE EXTENSIONS

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Dec. 10.—Two minor service line extensions are planned by the West Texas Utilities in Wilbarger county. The plans include a lighting system for the Davis Oil corporation lease and a line west from Oklahoma to serve a Fort Worth and Denver City railway signal system.

Rotarians Hold Bowling Lead

The Rotary club bowlers retained its leadership in the Service club's league last night, defeating the Kiwanians three straight games. Maskat temple won two of three games played with the Optomists, and the Lions won three straight from the American Legion five. Scores:

HARVEY INFANT DIES

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harvey, 1406 Fifth street, died at a hospital here early Thursday night. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary and funeral services probably will be held Friday.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relished after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

difficult to reconcile the president's recommendation for the re-creation of the commission and his statement, reiterated in his message, that:

"I do not approve in any remote sense of the cancellation of the debts to us."

It was regarded as significant that the only applause in the usually demonstrative house, during the reading of the message, was the president's statement that he was opposed to cancellation.

Deadlock Remains

The Republican split over the candidacy of Senator George H. Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, for re-election as president pro tem of the senate became acute when a deadlock continued through the 11th ballot, and forced a three-day adjournment until Monday. There were indications some of the administration men might try to get Moses to retire, in favor of some other regular who is not personally disliked by the progressives.

House Democrats delayed action pending a meeting of their joint "policy committee" called for next Tuesday. They have completed the ways and means committee, which handles tax and moratorium affairs, but Speaker John Garner was emphatic today in saying he would not hurry things along.

Congress seemed split at least four ways on methods of boosting taxes.

Tuberculosis Fight Depends on Sale Of Holiday Seals

Despite the fact that excellent progress is being made with the annual Christmas seal sale here, much is yet to be accomplished, Miss Mary Quinn, executive secretary of the Wichita County Tuberculosis association declared Thursday.

Comparative figures of sales since the organization of the association here in 1927 show that this year's sales to date have been equalled but once in a similar sales period. Present sales total $892.01, while sales during the period from Thanksgiving day to Dec. 10, 1929, totalled $987.80 The 1931 quota for Wichita county is $3,000, with about one quarter of that figure having already been obtained.

"It is very gratifying to be able to give such an excellent report," Miss Quinn said, "but our goal isn't reached. We must reach the $3,000-mark in order to carry on our work.

"Tuberculosis knows no vacation. It finds the best opportunities in the bad seasons for sowing seeds of death. The fatalities of tomorrow are being plotted today in neglected fields by the 'Captain of the Men of Death.' Wichita county cannot afford a holiday in its fight against tuberculosis. The campaign must be continued, as it has for a quarter of a century."

Mrs. R. L. Hargrave is in charge of seal sales in city and rural communities. Members of her committee include Mrs. Mamie Dale who will conduct the drive at Iowa Park and vicinity, Mrs. J. N. Hall, Burkburnett; and Mrs. I. K. Williams, Electra.

MEET CALLED IN ELDORADO

Street Paving Plan to Get Action Tonight

Special to The Record News.

ELDORADO, Okla., Dec. 10.—In a meeting held in the Ratliff Drug store the matter of gravel surfacing that portion of East Main street between the Frisco tracks and the end of the pavement was discussed by the city board of trustees and citizens interested in the project.

According to H. O. Ratliff, chairman of the board, the city proposed to match the expenditures of the property holders and other interested persons who have expressed a willingness to assist in making these improvements. The city proposes that the center of the street be raised and graveled to a width of 18 feet, and agrees to supply the labor for loading and spreading the gravel furnished by the property holders.

Following the grading and surfacing of the center of the street the city offers to continue surfacing the portion between the center driveway and sidewalk, using such labor as will be employed as the city's contribution toward unemployment relief.

A business men's committee was appointed to make a canvass of all who are interested in the proposed improvements to determine how many will pledge the use of trucks or labor for hauling gravel. The report of this committee will be submitted at a meeting to be held Friday night, Dec. 11, when a decision will be reached as to whether or not to go ahead with the proposed improvements at this time.

Marshal Takes Four To Federal Prisons

Four persons sentenced in federal district court by Judge William H. Atwell last week were taken from the Wichita county jail Thursday by Deputy United States Marshal J. T. Bentley for transfer to federal penal institutions.

Assisted by Mrs. Bentley and Earl Brooks, former city motorcycle officer, Mr. Bentley will take two young men to the industrial reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, and two women to a woman's industrial institution at Alderson, W. Va.

The four prisoners were L. C. Dixon, 18 months for transporting a stolen automobile across a state line; Frank Shirley, year and a day for passing counterfeit bank notes; Edna Gabbert, year and a day for prohibition law violation; Mae Howard, 18 months, violation of the narcotic laws.

ESCAPES DEATH

STOCKTON, Calif., Dec. 10. (UP)—Trapped in the closed cab of his flaming gasoline tank truck, Frank V. Johnson narrowly escaped death near here when a passing motorist broke the windshield of the truck and released him.

Philadelphia Budget Cut to Avoid Tax Hike

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10. (AP)—A widespread protest against any increase in the 1932 city tax rate resulted this afternoon in the council's sending back to its finance committee the budget for next year with instruction to slash it and avoid any increase over 1931.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

They don't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blocks up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, or for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

have a Clear Skin—

rich, red blood cells will help you

"I WAS determined to have a clear skin."

"Some one told me of S.S.S. . . . now I am so glad the last pimple is gone."

Of course you want a clear skin. Everybody does. It helps you win and hold friends. It makes for greater popularity.

Whatever treatment you may use for your complexion, remember the important fact that skin health depends upon the right number of red-blood-cells.

You cannot be low in strength and be happy—let's be happy.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

You should know that S.S.S. has the distinct advantage of being composed of fresh vegetable medicinal ingredients in concentrated form . . . it is Mother Nature's formula.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today!—the larger size represents a price saving.

Builds Sturdy Health

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

Splendid Review Features Forum Department Lunch

Andre Maurois as a biographer was splendidly interpreted when Mrs. John Hampton chose his "Byron" as the book review in the program which she gave at the luncheon meeting of the literature department of the Woman's Forum Thursday. "Pardoning does not enter into modern biography," said the speaker, "and Andre Maurois is a modern biographer." She told his story of Byron's life in a clear and beautiful fashion, talking with the ease of a trained speaker.

The lighted auditorium gleamed with silver, rose and turquoise, all arranged in futuristic designs. At the long table where the chairman, Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, and a number of guests sat, a large silver tree was mounted on a three tiered futuristic boxing of turquoise, fuschia and silver; smaller silver trees with the same quaint beaded blossoms of rose and turquoise that bloomed at the center were mounted at the ends of the table on fuschia and silver triangles.

Each small table had this quaint centering and a long table where Mrs. Chester Wynne entertained 12 guests had three triangular fuschia and silver boxings holding gleaming silver trees.

On the stage where the speaker's table also carried one of the pretty models in silver, masses of dried wild clover in baskets wrapped in silver emphasized charmingly the chosen decorations.

Many Guests

Mrs. G. L. Shapard and her committee were in charge of the beautiful decorations and Mrs. Hamlin, chairman of the department, made announcements and presented the speaker to the audience.

Covers were laid for Mesdames C. N. Alexander, W. W. Cook, F. R. Collard, John Davenport and guest, John Hampton, Henry C. Fulcher, James Humphrey, R. E. Hilburn, Ted Krohn, E. Liepold and guest, G. E. Laskey and guest, H. P. Ledford, H. B. White, Bernard Martin, John Humphrey and four guests, J. H. Massie, W. N. Maer, Ivan Murchison, C. D. Shamburger, E. E. Scannell, Charles J. Tucker, Charles William Wallace, Carl Yeager, W. B. Hamilton, Alvin Horwitz, G. L. Shapard, A. N. Lummus, Ola G. Hamlin, Guy Rogers, Mrs. Chester Wynne, who had as her guests Mesdames L. A. Hedrick, W. E. Bowling of Virginia, Grady England, Fletcher Pope and McKinney, Roy Riner, George Dwyer, J. B. Nail, Ben Bell, Jouette Bonner of Tyler, J. L. Jackson Jr. and Paul Oles; Mesdames Becker, Hemby, Hagen, Fisher and Basham of Electra.

Effie M. Howard Class Installs New Officers

Mesdames C. E. Martin and H. W. Crumpton were joint hostesses to members of the Effie M. Howard class of the Grant Street Methodist church Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin on Grant street. The devotional was given by Mrs. A. T. Crump.

Mrs. J. H. Hallmark presided in the business session and plans to give the day nursery a shower were perfected and a family will also be adopted for Christmas.

Mrs. Hallmark, retiring president, installed the officers for the new year as follows: Mrs. R. E. Stewart, president; Mrs. W. E. Hodges, first vice president; Mrs. Marshall Doke, second vice president; Mrs. Walter A. Jones, secretary; Mrs. J. H. McElroy, assistant secretary; Mrs. Horace Lindsay, treasurer; Mrs. John Singleton, publicity; Mrs. E. C. Martin, devotional leader and Mrs. John B. McMahon, teacher.

During the social hour, Mrs. R. E. Stewart sang "Star of the East;" the holiday motif was carried out in the decorations and the refreshment plate. In a Christmas contest, Mrs. John B. McMahon and Mrs. John Singleton received the prizes. Gifts were exchanged.

Members present to whom the dainty Christmas plate was served were Mesdames C. G. Arnold, John B. McMahon, Horace Lindsey, J. H. McElroy, A. T. Crump, R. E. Stewart, E. E. Collam, Marshall J. Doke, J. H. Hallmark, John Singleton, C. E. Martin, H. W. Crumpton and Miss Ruth Etta Martin.

Annual Y. W. C. A. Meet Planned by Board Members

Interesting reports were made and important committees named at the meeting of the executive board of the Young Women's Christian association which was held in the parlors of the building Thursday morning. Mrs. C. W. Snider presided and the meeting was opened with a beautiful devotional by Mrs. J. Lem Keevil.

Mrs. Ralph DeShong, chairman of the employment department, reported 40 applications for work in November as quite an increase over the previous report. Mrs. Walter Campbell, chairman of hospitality, reported that 13 different organizations had used the building in the month which was an increase of five over October. There were 31 meetings reported held in the parlors during November. As "Service to the Community" is one of the objectives of the organization, the report was much appreciated.

Miss Erma Schnelle, secretary, made interesting reports on the Girl Reserves and the three business girls' clubs and Mrs. C. W. Gilliland, chairman of the house committee, enumerated many gifts that had been presented in November, including books, magazines, card tables and pillows.

Mrs. Glen Laskey spoke of the new program organization of the national board, stating that the reorganization will put them in a better position to meet the needs of local situations.

Plans were discussed for the annual meeting in January and committees for that occasion were planned as follows: Nominating committe, Mesdames B. L. Fain, T. A. Hicks and J. A. Richolt; invitation committee, Mrs. William Huff and Miss Zula McKay; entertainment committee, Mesdames Glen Laskey and P. P. Langford; decorations, Mesdames Walter Campbell, C. W. Gilliland and G. D. Fox.

Mrs. William Huff, chairman of membership, will be in charge of the annual meeting.

Members present were Mesdames C. W. Snider, B. L. Fain, Glen E. Laskey, J. Lem Keevil, C. W. Gilliland, Walter Campbell, J. A. Richolt, Wm. E. Huff, Ralph DeShong and Miss Erma Schnelle.

Inspiring Talks Feature Reagan P.-T. A. Meeting

The Christmas theme made the program of Reagan Junior High School P.-T. A. given at the school Thursday, one of the most impressive of the season and more than 100 were present to enjoy it. With Mrs. W. E. Timblin in charge, the meeting was opened with a group of Christmas carols sung by a mixed chorus of boys and girls from the Reagan Glee clubs and accompanied by Miss Davis. Members of the chorus, dressed in white, stood in a semi-circle on the stage about a rustic manger where a Jewish father and mother with the babe in the manger represented the scene of the nativity.

F. M. Lisle of the science department, Reagan, conducted a beautiful devoitonal, reading the account of the birth and Christ from Moffett's translation of the New Testament.

Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, made a splendid talk on the value of giving, in which he emphasized the fact that a dollar is not always the same, regardless of how earned or how spent; that an hour is not always the same, regardless of the use made of it; and that a gift is not always the same, regardless of the motive and the spirit of the giver and the value of the gift. His ultimate theme was that the spirit and the motive of the giver add a greater meaning than the gift itself and that the receiver is not always the recipient of the greater pleasure.

Character Building

A talk on the aims and achievements of character building by W. A. Franklin, principal of the school, was another outstanding feature. Mr. Franklin said that in the beginning of the public schools, the chief aim of education was religious training—the training of a ministry to serve the churches.

Next, students were admitted to prepare for the professions of law and medicine and religious training ceased to be the only aim. Soon the merchant class and the trades class and women were admitted and other aims of education were set up. When with the establishment of an independent government in the United States, the church and state were completely separated, religious education was designated to the church and secular education to the state. Many churches began to attempt completely separating morals from religious education. Public schools found themselves forbidden to teach religion; they were held responsible for teaching morals and yet were unable to entirely to separate the teaching of one from the teaching of the other. "Moral training, without religious training," said Mr. Franklin, would tend to the development of atheism."

Citizenship

"However," the speaker said, "the public schools set up today as their aim in this field, the teaching of citizenship, of ethical character, or worthy home membership and training in worthy use of leisure time through social training and development." The means of moral training in public schools today, consist not only of the traditional courses but in clubs based on particular interests and upon broader general aim; other means are libraries, shows and supervised playgrounds.

More effective additions for moral training were stated by Mr. Franklin in the following suggestions: First, school should be maintained 12 months instead of nine months in the year for it is in the three months vacation that the effectiveness of the moral training is broken down; second, more clubs are needed in school, church and community and these clubs need to be better organized and more efficiently directed by people trained in educational psychology; third, a community wide program should be planned providing for a continuous series of controlled and supervised experiences, based on the teachings and principles of Christianity; fourth, more religious training and more regular church affiliation and attendance in the home of which the Bible should always be a part. The excellent talk was closed with the statement that any student who was not given religious training would certainly be lacking in moral training when he grew up.

During the business session, Mrs. E. H. Yager made an appeal for toys stating that 4,000 were needed for the municipal Christmas tree. If brought to Mr. Franklin's office, they will be sent to the Boy Scouts for repair. The members voted sincere thanks and compliments to Miss Lennie Mangum, director of the pep squad and A. D. Beck, coach, for their outstanding services to the school. Miss Mangum and Mr. Franklin also expressed their appreciation for the support the P.-T. A. gave the pep squad, the football squad and the school as a whole.

It was announced that a play would be given in the auditorium next Tuesday morning for the benefit of the lunch fund; admission will be 10 cents and 25 cents. Mrs. E. F. Noe's room won the attendance prize.

At the close of the meeting a dainty refreshment course was served to those present by Constance Clark, Margaret Staniforth, Olive Daugherty and Dorothy Ford.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

The season of Christmas draws near. Already red and green and all sorts of novelties are being used in decorations for Christmas and society editors wish that there were some shorter word that meant as much as Christmas.

The annual "swapping period" it might be called. The period when woman strives to find something "just as nice" as that which she knows a friend will give her.

How far from that original season of giving the custom has departed. Those men who brought gifts to the infant Jesus brought them in love and worship.

Love is the only measure and the only reason for giving. People give to children with love. Children are such adorable little animals and get such happiness from any little gift that one cannot help feeling love for those so easily made happy.

Quite another thing with the elders. Feeling a real affection for some grown persons, we have at times scrupulously waited the last moment to send a small remembrance, only to be affronted next morning with a package too plainly a last moment purchase. That's "swapping."

Mothers and wives have the hardest times when it comes to presents. Pictures in the magazines show whole families proudly leading the mother up to a holly decked vacuum cleaner (so she may sweep more perfectly, we suppose), or to an electric refrigerator—from which the entire family may draw midnight suppers.

It is true that things have progressed, for in our own girlhood we saved our pennies and gave our mother a cracker jar. Why even our own father was treated more considerately, for we bought him a mustache cup—a gift for himself alone as none of the three females had a mustache.

These presents, though, were bought from the goodness of our heart and brought returns out of proportion. Proportional giving is the one thing we do not desire at Christmas.

Choose for your loved ones those things which you feel will thrill them. Mother might as well have a ravishing bed jacket as the debutante sister. The possession of such fripperies is a most luxurious sort of joy. Why a woman who has no use for many lovely, silky things can ease her heart by looking at them.

Luxurious bath salts and dainty lingerie and pretty things such as she would never buy for herself; that's the sort of things it would do for many to break loose and buy for "mother."

But put your pennies in the Salvation Army pot and remember the children who must eat at school first. Mothers have hearts for those in trouble and they are willing usually to take what is left. The chief rule is "give with love."

Presbyterian Women Study Rural Missions

Members of the Floral Heights Presbyterian Woman's Missionary society met Thursday morning at the church when Mrs. Grafton Nycum read the Scripture lesson and gave an inspiring devotional talk, which was followed by prayer by Mrs. L. L. Davis.

Following a business meeting, Mrs. A. E. Miller taught the lesson on the chapter "The Three R's" from the mission book, "The Rural Billions." The Yearbook of Prayer was given by Mrs. Grafton Nycum and the mission prayer by Mrs. Frank Ray.

The benediction dismissed nine members.

"Safety-Sealed" FOR FLAVOR-PROTECTION

Still at peak of flavor after 120-day test in 48 States!

These stars indicate cities in each of 48 states where coffee was put out on test.

M·J·B Coffee, packed in the only "Safety-Sealed" tin, stored away in 48 states . . . then taste-tested. "Fresh as when first packed!" declared famous committee of three.

Here's actual proof that the richer flavor of M·J·B stays rich for you to enjoy!

A tin of freshly packed coffee was sent to every state in the Union. It was subjected to all the different climatic conditions in each of the 48 states.

Four months later this coffee was returned and tested by impartial experts.

"We found the 'test' coffee as fresh and richly flavored as coffee that had just been roasted," declared the committee after critical taste-tests.

Winning such a verdict is positive proof of the patented "Safety-Seal" method of vacuum packing—a method only M·J·B can use.

The "Safety-Seal" is unlike ordinary vacuum processes. This seal on the bottom of every M·J·B tin closes only if all air is out. No other coffee has this protection.

"Because of the exclusive "Safety-Seal" none of the rich, delicious flavor of M·J·B can possibly escape," declared this committee of experts: Genevieve Callahan, Editor Sunset Magazine (shown here); Chef La Faille, St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco; Prof. W. W. Ogier, Jr., Calif. Institute of Technology.

In M·J·B you get a finer blend, always at the peak of flavor and freshness. It's America's quality coffee in America's only "Safety-Sealed" tin.

LTCC OPPOSES ALLRED'S SUIT

Directors Voice Alarm at Oil Oyster Move

WACO, Texas, Dec. 10. (AP)—Directors of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce today adopted a resolution declaring the suit of Attorney General James V. Allred to drive 15 major oil companies from the state "untimely and alarming."

The directors invited the people of Texas, the legislature and state officials to study the anti-trust laws of Texas in the light of changed economic conditions and to seek a modern and efficient restatement of the state's attitude toward business cooperation.

The resolution said in part: "We view with apprehension and alarm the prospect opened up by this suit, that business men must hereafter carry on their activities in uncertainty and fear, menaced on one hand by federal prosecution for unfair practices and on the other hand by state prosecution for stating what is unfair.

"We believe this suit will intimidate loyal business men in many lines who seek to stabilize business by re-establishing trade practices and who might be in danger of violating our anti-trust laws without intending to do so. We suggest the probable need for revision of our anti-trust laws in line with modern business practice."

Government Loses Alcohol Tax Suit

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10. (AP)—The government lost its suit today to collect $2,760,605.16 in taxes and fines from the Quaker Industrial Alcohol company, charged with evading taxes on alcohol diverted into bootleg channels.

A jury in the United States district court brought in a verdict favorable to the company after deliberating 45 minutes. The verdict eliminates possibility of the government collecting $337,500 from the firm which bonded the Quaker company against improper use of its alcohol permit.

The government charged that 350,000 gallons of alcohol had been diverted. The company subsequently went out of business.

Davidson Masons Elect Officers

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Dec. 10.—At the election of officers for the Davidson Masonic lodge A. V. Frye was chosen worshipful master.

Other officers, either elected or appointed, were W. B. Hudson, senior warden; Schley Gaston, junior warden; J. F. McAuley, treasurer; Noel D. Ballard, secretary; W. R. Oliver, senior deacon; W. H. Thorn, junior deacon; Faye Mitchell, senior steward; C. R. McClure, junior steward; Rev. C. F. Brown, chaplain, and T. N. McKinney, tyler.

Installation will be held Dec. 16.

The Order of the Eastern Star in a business meeting elected Mrs. Anna Eubanks, worthy matron; Rev. C. F. Brown, worthy patron; Mrs. Leatrick McClintock, associate matron; Roy Reed, associate patron; Mrs. Mary Hood, secretary; A. V. Frye, treasurer; Mrs. Winonah Wolfe, conductress, and Mrs. Lora Brown, associate conductress.

Body of Heroic Brakeman Found

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 10. (AP)—The body of Matthew Allison, a brakeman who stuck to his post as a heavy 88-car Pennsylvania railroad coal train plunged wildly down a steep hill near the Gallitzin tunnel last night, was found today buried beneath tons of coal.

Other trainmen, who were injured slightly as they leaped to safety, said they saw Allison clinging to the side of a car as the train sped to destruction.

For a mile and a half there was no hand at the throttle of the locomotive and Allison was the only man on the train.

Then, striking a curve, the train piled up, locomotive and 76 cars leaving the track.

Border Bridge Hours To Remain Unchanged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (INS)—Following calls on President Hoover and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman, Representative Swing, Republican, of California, announced today he had received assurances there would be no change in the closing hour of the international bridges across the Mexican border in southern California.

His visits were prompted by the opening of six gates in Texas.

"Aside from liquor and morals, about $5,000,000 a year goes across the border into Tia Juana and Mexicali which never comes back," Swing declared. "That is our interest."

The Tia Juana gateway will continue to open at 6 a. m., and close at 6 p. m. while that at Mexicali will be available to traffic from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

O. E. S. at Mangum Names New Officers for Year

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Dec. 10.—Newly elected officers of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mangum chapter, are Mrs. J. A. Chitwood, worthy matron; Jesse Carpenter, worthy patron; Mrs. Virginia Boyle, associate matron; Forrest McKenzie, associate patron; Mrs. J. H. Boatright, secretary; Mrs. T. N. Slaten, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Short, conductor; Mrs. R. M. Turner, associate conductress.

U. S. Industry in Canada Starts Move for Probe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—An investigation of the movement of American industry to Canada was asked in a resolution introduced today by Representative Canfield, Democrat, Indiana.

Canfield said he had been informed that within the last two years the number of American-owned plants in Canada has more than doubled and there are now more than 1,000 such plants north of the border.

Mangum Youth Is Oklahoma Entry For Rhodes Honor

MANGUM, Okla., Dec. 10.—Willmore Kendall Jr., who was graduated from Mangum High school in 1922 at the age of 13 years, has been chosen as a representative of Oklahoma in the contest for Rhodes scholarships in Oxford university, London.

Contestants will take examinations in New Orleans Saturday for the four scholarships to be awarded in this district.

Young Kendall received his master degree from Northwestern university, Chicago, in 1928 when he was only 20 years old. He is now an instructor in Spanish in the University of Illinois.

GUARDS SENT TO COAL MINE

Work to Start Anew in Oklahoma Today

HENRYETTA, Okla., Dec. 10. (AP)—Charles A. Burns, and O. P. Ray, his assistant, arrived here today in preparation for reopening tomorrow of coal mines in the Henryetta field which have been closed since Nov. 2 by a strike.

Operators, who have said they would give preference to former employes but would hire other labor if necessary, asked state protection.

A committee representing the striking miners made arrangements, meanwhile, for picketing the mines. David Fowler, representative of the United Mine Workers of America, said the picketing would be done quietly. He predicted not more than 50 of the strikers would return to work.

Readers of this newspaper are reminded that this department does not undertake to give advice on legal, medical, or financial matters. Any question of fact, however, will be answered by personal letter, without cost to the reader save a two-cent stamp for the reply postage. Writers must give their full names and addresses and state their questions clearly. Address all inquiries to The Record News Information Bureau. Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How many gold 50-cent coins, with a miner and gold pan on one side and a bear on the other, were minted in 1925 during California's diamond jubilee?—L. C.

A.—The coins were of silver, not of gold, and were issued in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of California's admission to the union. One hundred fifty thousand of the coins were issued.

Q.—How old is Seth Parker?—E. W.

A.—He is 29.

Q.—Please settle this argument. Did our Thanksgiving day originate in Great Britain or America?—K. S. M.

A.—Thanksgiving day as it is observed in this country originated with the Pilgrim fathers in New England who set aside a day in order that they might give expression to their sense of gratitude for the crops and the safe keeping of the little colony.

Q.—How old are President Von Hindenberg's children?—S. F.

A.—The president of Germany has one son and two daughters. The eldest, Irmengard, is 51; Oskar is 48; and Annemarie is 40.

Q.—Which is correct—by me doing so or by my doing so? By you coming to Washington or by your coming?—B. McI.

A.—Nouns and pronouns which modify gerunds must be in the possessive case. It is correct to say "by my doing so" and "your coming."

Q.—If a person can trace his ancestry directly back to an early English and Scotch king, can he use the royal coat-of-arms of that king?—C. B.

A.—No one but the king is entitled to use the royal coat-of-arms. The same is true of the crest. Any member of the clan to which the king belongs is entitled to wear the plaid.

Q.—From what version of the Bible is the "Book of Common Prayer" taken which is used in the Protestant Episcopal church in this country?—W. E. D.

A.—From the authorized version of 1611.

Q.—How long did it take Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh to fly across the country in 1930?—D. B.

A.—In 1930, Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh established a transcontinental speed record of 14 hours 45 minutes 32 seconds. This record was later broken.

Q.—How many cords of wood would a tree the size of the General Sherman make?—W. G. S.

A.—The board measure of the tree is 600,120 board feet of lumber, equal to about 100,000 cubic feet or something over 1,200 cords.

Q.—Does dynamite need a spark to explode it?—A. L. W.

A.—It will explode under certain conditions even though no spark or flame be present. It is sensitive to blows and this sensitivity increases with the temperature so that, according to Eissler, at 350 degrees F., the fall on ft of a dime would explode it.

Q.—Was Ireland's population noticeably decreased by famine in the 19th century?—L. S. P.

A.—It is probably not far wrong to attribute a large part of the reduction in total population from 8,175,124 in 1841 to 4,390,219 in 1911 to famines.

Q.—What is the range of temperature in Honolulu?—S .W.

A.—The extreme range is 52 degrees to 88 degrees, with an average of 70 degrees. Honolulu is famed for its mild, equable climate.

Tourists in the Jungle

AN AMERICAN explorer recently advertised for a limited number of amateur adventurers who will be willing to pay him $5,000 apiece to be conducted across South America on a trip over the Andes, through the jungles and down the Amazon; and for some reason or other this news tends to make a man feel a bit melancholy.

Perhaps this melancholy springs from jealousy, for it would be hard to imagine a trip anywhere on the globe that would be more surpassingly interesting. But there is, in the announcement, an indication that the days of real adventure are over with forever, a sign that the travels of the conquistadors have come down to the level of a personally conducted tour; and such reminders are not pleasant.

For if there ever was on this earth a land of wonder and terror, it was that enormous stretch of choking jungle and frozen mountains that lies between Para, at the mouth of the Amazon, and the west coast of South America. Until comparatively recently no man entered it lightly.

There was the land in which no man could count on tomorrow until it actually arrived. Wild beauty, impenetrable mystery, danger that was always hidden and yet always just around the corner—these marked almost every mile of the journey. If the jungle didn't strike a man down, the Indians with their poisoned arrows and their quaint habit of embalming heads were more than likely to; if these failed, the blizzards of the Andean passes were quite apt to do the job.

But the men who made the trip, and lived to tell about it, never seemed to have any regrets. The country held wonders. Long-buried Inca cities lay there, empty for countless centuries. Raleigh's golden city was there somewhere, too, though he never could find it, not even with his own neck at stake. There were gold mines, lost empires, fabulous tribes of strange men—material to keep a romancer busy for a lifetime.

But it's different now. For $5,000 you can get an explorer to take you through—not to look for anything, but just to make the trip. The old days, it seems, are gone for good.

Bothersome and Dangerous

THE death of a man near Beaumont Wednesday night as a result of his hailing a car on the open highway points vividly the dangers of a practice which has become in recent years nothing short of a nuisance.

From the standpoint of the motorist who is on the highway for the express purpose of getting some place, the presence of numerous hikers constitutes a real annoyance. Many of them step into the course of his car, and by their position, try to enhance the probabilities of his stopping in answer to their signal. Changes of speed and deviations in direction made necessary by such interruptions heighten the possibilities of traffic accidents in this day of fast travel.

Viewed from the standpoint of the pedestrian, the situation is one fraught with danger. Onrushing cars from both directions, interrupted by his bold advance into their right of way, are not always able to dodge both the hiker and other vehicles. It is likewise true that many hitch-hikers would obtain rides more quickly and more safely by applying to drivers at urban service stations rather than on the rural highway. The driver who has some place to go, and a reason for going there, does not want to be stopped in a long straight-away, wait for the pedestrian to catch up, and then build up speed again. He also would prefer to look the man over before accepting him as a free passenger and companion.

Whether hitch-hikers themselves amend their practices by slow acquisition of better understanding, or whether official control eventually be exercised, the public generally will profit greatly by having the highways cleared of the block-signal fraternity.

Toasting the Unemployed

A NEWSPAPER rotogravure section the other day printed a dainty little picture of four people in evening dress seated at a well-appointed table pouring something (harmless, no doubt) out of bottles into glasses; and it was explained that the picture was taken at a society frolic in New York for the benefit of the unemployed, and that the society folk in the picture were "toasting the unemployed."

A society frolic—whatever that may be—for the benefit of the jobless doubtless comes under the heading of meritorious endeavors; yet there is something infinitely exasperating about this picture and its caption, just as there is about most pictures of that kind.

A jobless man might well wonder if he and his brothers wouldn't benefit more had the money been given direct. And the sight of four well-dressed and smiling people toasting him in his misery—well, it is hardly the sort of thing to make him contented with his lot.

Things I Never Noodle Now

(Hit me again. I can still see Stars!)

Los Angeles and Hollywood have furnished but two stars for motion pictures—Jackie Coogan and Jackie Cooper. Set down in the center of more than a million population, one would naturally expect the motion picture industry would have drawn heavily on its native sons and daughters, but Los Angeles and Hollywood combined have given to the screen fewer players than many of the smaller cities of the East. A search through the long list of motion picture players reveals that, aside from Coogan and Cooper, the actors and actresses of the screen who were actually born in either Los Angeles or Hollywood are William Bakewell, Charles Ruggles, Frances Dee, Betty Blythe and Mary McAllister.

This assertion is not easy to believe, yet it is backed up by the biographies of the players themselves.

New York has given more stars to the screen than any other city in the United States, with Philadelphia a close second.

Natives of New York now starring in pictures include Ruth Chatterton, James Dunn, Sally Eilers, Richard Barthelmess, Nancy Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

From Philadelphia come such stars as Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, George Bancroft, Charlotte Greenwood, Jeanette Macdonald and El Brendel.

Next in importance is Chicago with Gloria Swanson, Polly Moran, Ralph Bellamy, Agnes Ayres, Rex Bell and Sue Carol.

San Francisco has outstripped Los Angeles in furnishing native sons and daughters to the screen. Among the prominent players born in the Bay City are George O'Brien, Ruth Roland, Georga Marion, Aileen Pringle, Carmel Myers, Walter Catlett, Roy D'Arcy and Lawrence Gray.

Brooklyn has more than furnished its quota in Clara Bow, Marion Davies, Helen Twelvetrees and Edward Crandall.

Kansas City can boast of sending Wallace and Noah Beery, Marquerite Churchill, William Pawley, Marjorie Beebe and David Rollins to cinema careers.

Among the cities that have furnished two prominent players for the screen are Buffalo, with Irene Rich and Robert McWade; Milwaukee, Spencer Tracy and Ben Bard; St. Paul, Minn., Richard Dix and Allan Dinehart; Pittsburgh, Lois Moran and Thomas Meighan.

Linda Watkins comes from Boston; Conrad Nagel is a native of Keokuk, Iowa; Sally O'Neil was born in Bayonne, N. J.; Warner Baxter was born in Columbus, Ohio; Joan Bennett first saw the light of day at Palisades, N. J.; Douglas Fairbanks is a native of Denver; Ann Harding was born in San Antonio, Texas; Norma Talmadge is from Niagara Falls; Harold Lloyd was born in Burchard, Neb.; John Gilbert is from Logan, Utah; Charles Farrell was born in Walpole, Mass.; Bebe Daniels is from Dallas, Texas and Joan Crawford comes from Galveston, Texas.

Stars and featured players come from all parts of the United States and most of them from small towns. Here are a few more: Louise Dresser, Evansville, Ind.; Gary Cooper, Helena, Mont.; Betty Compson, Beaver, Utah; Lew Cody, Waterville, Maine; Earl Foxe, Oxford, Ohio; John Boles, Greenville, Texas; Will Rogers, Oologah, Indian Territory; Mary Brian, Corsicana, Texas; Louise Fazenda, Lafayette, Ind.; Hedda Hopper, Altoona, Pa.; Bessie Love, Midland, Texas; Carole Lombard, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Joel McCrea, South Pasadena, Calif.; Anita Page, Flushing, N. Y.; James Hall, Dallas, Texas; Oliver Hardy, Atlanta, Ga.; Charles Rogers, Olathe, Kan.; Charles Bickford, Cambridge, Mass.; Lilyan Tashman, New York City; Oscar Apfel, Cleveland, Ohio; Una Merkel, Covington, Ky.; Fatty Arbuckle, Dallas, Texas; Richard Arlen, Charlottesville, Va.; Mary Astor, Quincy, Ill., and William Haines, Staunton, Va.

The backgrounds of the various successful motion picture directors of Hollywood make interesting reading. The question where do they come from and what did they do before they became directors is frequently asked. Here are the answers: Frank Borzage, famous for his "Seventh Heaven" and "Bad Girl," worked in the silver mines in Utah to earn money with which to pay his tuition in a theatrical school.

Clarence Brown was an automotive engineer and, at one time, manufactured automobiles under the firm name of The Brown Automobile company. Henry King, who directed "Over the Hill," drove a chariot in the hippodrome races of a circus. King Vidor was a short story writer. Allan Dwan was a civil engineer.

Victor Fleming was an automobile racing driver and competed in several of the Vanderbilt cup races. William K. Howard, of "Trans-Atlantic" fame, graduated from college with a degree of engineering but began his business career by managing a motion picture theater in Cincinnati. Paul Faios was a bacteriologist for the Rockefeller institute. Alfred L. Werker was a ballyhoo man for a travelling medicine show. Author Gregor was Austrian ambassador to the Argentine. Alfred Santell was an architect. Kenneth MacKenna was secretary to J. Piermont Morgan. Sidney Lanfield was a piano player for Anna Chandler. Roland Brown was a laborer and also a police sergeant in Detroit. Herbert Brenon was a call boy at Daly's theater in New York. James Cruze was a professional boxer. Mervyn Leroy was a vaudeville performer. George Fitzmaurice was an artist. D. W. Griffith and Monta Bell were expert newspaper men.

In less wordage, the smaller towns have contributed America's Better-Knowns. Of course, the touchy Big-Towner can snap back with: "But, you dope! There are more smaller towns!" And the smaller towns can prolong the argument with: "I know—and the Bigger Towns have the Bigger Heads, the Bigger Mouths and need I add—the Bigger Breadlines? What have the Bigger Towns contributed? The Capones (Brooklyn)—the Harry Thaws (Pittsburgh)—the Stimsons and Winchells (New York City) ???"

"Yeh!" the Big-Towns could sass back: "Poddin my high-hattitude—but not the Hedlins—my friend, and not the Volsteads!!!!!"

(To be continued, of course, when next week's mail arrives!)

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MAYOR OF ROME—Ernesto Nathan was a native of England, being born in 1845. He came to Italy at the age of 13 to study at the Universities of Pisa, Florence, Milan and Genoa. As editor, author, lecturer, university professor, social reformer and political leader, he soon identified himself with the cause of a United Italy. After the king of Italy entered papal Rome to take up his abode at the quirinal, and the pope withdrew to the solitude of the vatican, September 1870, there was a revival of liberal thought in Italy which led to the election of Signor Nathan, a Jew and grand master of Freemasonry, to the mayoralty of the capital of Catholicism, in 1907. He was re-elected in 1910. His office was in the palace of the senators, erected by Pope Boniface IX in 1389.

THE "LAST WORD" IN ENGLISH—The New Oxford English dictionary, consisting of 10 volumes, the completion of which required 70 years and cost $3,000,000, winds up with the word "zyxt," defined as "glorious rarity," the 14th century form of the expression "thou sayest."

"A FREE SOUL" By ADELA ROGERS ST. JOHN

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE CO. INC. — DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Stephen Ashe, the noted lawyer, had brought his daughter, Jan, up to be a free soul, unfettered by petty conventions. He never interfered with her decisions until she fell in love with Ace Wilfong, a gambler. Stephen strenuously objected to marriage between a daughter of society and a son of the underworld, though he had no objections to Ace as a man. Jan makes an agreement with her father that she will not marry Ace as long as he refrains from drinking. It is the hardest trial either has ever faced. Jan phones Ace that she is going away with her father and is sending him a letter of explanation. Ace is stunned but he believes implicitly in Jan. He tells his sister, Gwennie, he will marry Jan. Gwennie does not approve of his choice.

CHAPTER XXVI

Ace Wilfong's laugh rang out. "Who's asking you to pick out a wife for me? I can darn well pick out my own wife, and I've done it. And a good job, too, Gwennine; you'll adore her."

"Maybe," said Gwennie, "but all the same, you'd have done a lot better to pick a woman of your own class. I'd like to see you married to somebody that'd make you a good home, like I've always done."

In the lightning flash of her words, Ace Wilfong suddenly saw himself ragged, dirty, with his basket of violets, standing before that funny, imperious little kid who was Stephen Ashe's daughter and the granddaughter of Senator Ashe and old Deborah Beecher Ashe. The dull crimson stung his face, but he would not give in to it; his eyes flamed against it, his mouth was hard and dangerous as it threatened him.

They were man and woman—they loved. When this miracle had happened to him need he question it, pry into it, uncover old days when she was the princess and he was the dusty peasant boy? Well, all the fairy-tale books told about the shepherd boy who won the fairy princess and half the kingdom. He had half the kingdom and he would take the princess.

He said amiably, "Where'd you get these funny ideas of yours, Gwen?"

But his eyes were wretched. Was that why? Was that what was in the letter? No—not from Jan. Not from Jan.

Gwennie, shamed by that hurt in his eyes, said abruptly, "I didn't mean anything. Only I don't think a girl brought up like that makes as good a wife. She's not practical."

"No," said Ace Wilfong deamily, "she's not practical. That's one of the things I love about her. She is not gentle. I do not like gentle women. She is not soft, but then, I do not like soft women. I do not even know if she is good, for I've never yet found two people who had the some definition for goodness. I only know she fills my heart, and my arms, and my eyes, and my soul forever."

He got up and went to the window and looked down the street.

"I'd hate her forever if she made you unhappy."

Coaxingly, boyishly, he said, "Gwennie, love her for my sake. Understand her, for my sake. She says women don't like her. She's never known many women. She hasn't any mother. If—I've been good to you, Gwennie, repay it to Jan. If she comes to me, help me to make her happy. Help me to keep her content."

Gwennie never had to answer that plea. She burdened her soul with no promises. A taxi stopped at the door. A driver in a uniform of olive-drab came up the steps. He was in no hurry and he was only half-way up when he became conscious of a tall young man framed in the doorway.

"Hello," said the taxi driver pleasantly. "This 1642?"

"Yes," said Ace Wilfong.

The man in olive-drab stopped to light a cigaret. "Um-m," he said, "had a hellish time finding it. These hills is death on taxis. I bet mine tore her other lung out getting up here."

"It's a steep hill," said the young man.

"Your name Wilfong?"

"Yes."

"Well, I got a letter for you," said the amiable charioteer. He began a leisurely survey of his pockets. Failing in the first attempt, he began again. "Funny, how a thing gets lost in your pockets," he said. At last he produced it. Handed it to Ace Wilfong. "I thought maybe—" he began.

But the door had shut with finality.

This was the letter which Jan Ashe had written to Ace Wilfong, when she hung up the telephone. It smelled of tobacco, it smelled of violets, and it was scrawled in her funny, kid handwriting over the ordinary hotel paper, for Jan never wasted money upon such trivialities as expensive stationery. It had no beginning such as a letter should have, but was rather as though she actually spoke to him.

I am writing this to you, my darling, because I simply cannot bear to see you. It would hurt me too much right now and I think maybe it would hurt you too much, too. For I love you. I have never loved you so much as I love you now. Will you remember that, Ace, my darling? And maybe it will comfort you just a little.

And I would like to say to you, too, that I have never loved any one else as I love you. We have not talked of those things, but if now or in times to come people suggest to you that I have loved other men, you may tell them quite truthfully that I never did. For the me that loves you is quite a different person from that Jan Ashe of whom you may have heard and who, they tell me, is no better than she should be.

No, for you, Ace, I am different. I never had a brother. And I do not love you like a brother. Oh, not in the least. And yet, loving you as much like a lover as a woman very well could, there is also in that love something of the sort of thing I should like to have felt for a brother.

I know it is not fair to keep you like this, waiting. But I must wrap you round with my love, darling, so that what I am going to say will not hurt more than need be. Ace, I cannot marry you. And I cannot even tell you why. You must guess that for yourself. I could not tell you. Coming from me, it might wound you so. There are some things in this world that hurt more than others, I know.

But this much I will tell you. I have made a great bargain. You are a gambler, and you must gamble with me in this. I am giving you up, and daddy is giving up that thing which we talked of the other night and which you know is killing him, body and soul. He does not want me to marry you, though the reasons I will not state. But he is game. He said if I will give you up he will give up that drink. And if he does not, he will not oppose our marriage. So I am going away with him.

For you see, darling, I must help him to beat me—to beat us—if I can. For I would sacrifice us both, if it might save him. He is more to me than anything else in the world. More even than you, Ace. And if we can save him, wouldn't we gladly give up our happiness? Not our love, for that I shall never give up. I will shut it very tight in my heart.

I ask you only to make it as easy for me as you can, dear. I know what I must do, and you would not have me do otherwise. I could not, if I would. My very heart and breath would refuse to obey me, my very flesh would rebel against me, if I turned from him. So—help me. Let me stand side by side with him and help him in his fight. And if this is good-by for always, then it is good-by for always, and that's that. So let us not be dramatic about it, Ace. Let us say good luck and God bless you, and go our ways rejoicing that we once loved each other and maybe always will, my darling, if there is such a thing as forever-and-ever love, and though some people do not believe in it any more, I will tell you a great secret—I do.

Thus it ended and at the last the writing was bolder and clearer, so that it was very easy to read, which Jan's writing was not as a rule. That, she always said, was because she had never been to school.

When she had written it, Jan, consigned it to a bellboy for deliverance—she was not sentimental about little things—and went into her father's bedroom.

He had dressed carefully. His hair, all black and silver, was brushed in the well-groomed way that only certain English officers and a few dandies like Stephen Ashe can ever achieve. His suit was not quite new—he had not bought any clothes for a long time—but it still had an air, and his tie was gay and gallant. But for those worn with hollows under his cheek-bones, but for the hard lines under his eyes, but for the nervous fingers that were constantly in motion, he might have been the Stephen Ashe of old.

And thinking this as she looked at him, Jan's heart was flooded with a wave of love and pity so great that there was no room left for thoughts of herself. She could only shut her eyes in amazement at the downward course of those who yield before the crumbling of heredity or the battering of life's circumstances to the mastery of John Barleycorn.

Iowa Park Seniors Rehearse Play

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Dec. 10.—Iowa Park seniors are practicing on their midwinter class play, "At the End of the Rainbow."

Neal Monroe and Alice Faye McKinney are carrying leading parts. Others are Orvella Willard, Bonnie Fields, Opal Ramsey, Iva Dodson, Mona McKinney, Lorene Swint, Thelma Morgan, Vernah Cowart, Chlostilde McDonald, Mattie Fielder, Hortense Davis, Frances Detlefs, Herbert Davis, Florence Huff, Herbert Davis, Bernice Watson, Chida Kildow, from the senior class, and Cleburne Naler and B. J. Seale, juniors.

The play will be given at the W. F. George High school auditorium Thursday evening, Dec. 17, under the direction of Miss Katherine Sue Ralston, whose pupils will have special parts between acts. The proceeds of the play will be applied to necessary class expenses.

The cities of Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., both celebrate their 100th anniversaries this year.

CLUB GIRLS IN HALL REPORT

Profits for Ten Months' Work Revealed

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Dec. 10.—Thirty-five Hall county club girls belonging to the 4-H club have turned in their reports of work done from January through October, according to Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstrator. The report shows that the value of each girl's work is $24.87. The 35 girls are between the ages of 10 and 17.

Some 165 articles of clothing have been made by the club girls, the report reveals, valued at $287. Food in the amount of 1,069 quarts, has been preserved by the club girls, with the valuation of $305.75. This is the average of 30 quarts per member, while the minimum for a club girl is 20 quarts.

Thirteen poultry demonstrators have shown that they have made a profit of $188.55 since January. The minimum for each member is 30 chickens, but the girls surpassed the specified number.

Eight girls planted gardens and show that a profit of $98 was received. The minimum requirement is one-twentieth of an acre. Reports of the fall gardens have not been made.

The total valuation of work done by club girls is $870.30 for only 10 months' work. Clubs issuing reports were Salisberry, Leslie, Buffalo Flat and Harrell chappel.

Ruth Wodson, Harrell chapel club member, has done the most outstanding work of the year among the garden demonstrators of the county. Her profits were larger and she won more prizes at the county and tri-state fairs than any other demonstrator. She won the prize offered by the William Cameron Lumber company to the girl making the best garden record. The prize was ample paper for a bedroom.

Florence Hargroves of the Salisberry club won the William Cameron prize for the best poultry demonstrator record. She will receive paper for a dining room. From the profits of her poultry she has been able to pay all expenses, clothe herself, pay school expenses and still have money. She has been a poultry demonstrator for three years.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Dec. 10.—A regular monthly song service will be held by the members of the Turkey Creek singing class, four miles west of Sunset, Sunday afternoon. A large number of visiting singers are expected. The Sunset school pupils will entertain with a play at the school building at 7:30 Friday evening, Dec. 11.

While walking along the highway a short distance south of Sunset Tuesday afternoon, Jim Anderson and Tom Huddleston were struck by an automobile and were painfully injured. Besides being cut and bruised they both remained unconscious for a while. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Huddleston were walking by the side of the pavement and unexpectedly the car suddenly swerved to their side of the road and struck them down. It is stated that the car driver refused to reveal his name, but he brought the injured men to Sunset and paid for the necessary treatment of their injuries.

Rev. D. H. Hudson of Marietta, Okla., preached at the Turkey Creek Baptist church Sunday morning and evennig.

Rev. G. N. Stone of Nocona will occupy the pulpit at the Sunset Methodist Protestant church Sunday morning and evening. The Rev. Mr. Stone was recently called to the pastorate of this church and Sunday will be his first time to preach here since the call.

Jewel Reynolds of Clayton, N. M., is visiting relatives here.

A Fundamentalist Baptist church was organized in Bowie recently. This is the first church ever organized in Montague county under this denominational name. The church was organized by Rev. Joe Joseph of Abilene and Rev. Eddie Dawn of Fort Worth. Rev. Mr. Dawn was called to the pastorate of the church. This church organization followed a revival which was conducted in Bowie for several weeks by Evangelist John R. Rice of Fort Worth.

VERNON CHARITY DRIVE

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Dec. 10.—Fourteen committees are active in Vernon in the current drive for $3,000 for the Community Service association budget for relief work in the city and Wilbarger county. Liberal contributions are sought in view of expected extraordinary demand due to economic conditions. The wide scope of the association's program, having absorbed all other relief agencies, is also offered for consideration during the drive.

CULBERTSONS SLASH DEFICIT

'Official System' Team Loses Ground

glance at the score—Lenz 9,365, Culbertson 7,290—"Have we seen any need for such a change."

Mrs. Culbertson was a little piqued when a grand slam hand was dealt to her—it was dealt for the benefit of a photographer and was not a part of the play.

Sub-Committee Named to Draft C-C Program From 400 Suggestions

Completion of the 1932 program of work of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce was a step nearer Thursday afternoon, when the program of work committee named a group of four to assemble and select major proposals from several hundred suggested activities for next year.

Jack Barnard, Grover Bullington, J. L. Jackson Jr. and John Boswell were selected to draft the program and return it to the program of work committee at a meeting probably to be held next week. Upon approval by the general committee, the program will be presented for adoption at the annual membership meeting of the chamber here Jan. 8 at the Memorial auditorium.

Major projects proposed, and which likely will form a part of the 1932 program, are:

Development of the irrigated valley in all phases, including colonization, drainage, marketing.

Development of more friendly relations between Wichita Falls and cities in the trade territory, both commercially and socially.

The holding of a huge celebration on the 50th anniversary of Wichita Falls in September, 1932.

Efforts to create support of the Texas league ball team here.

Development of Wichita Falls from the civic standpoint, by making it a more attractive place in which to live.

Completion of highways to southern Oklahoma, to Jacksboro and to Gainesville, as the final step in compelting Wichita Falls' highway system.

Efforts to stabilize the oil industry through cooperation with local oil men

Encourage the patronage of local industries.

Encourage the use of air mail.

Recently members of the program of work committee held meetings with members of the chamber of commerce to obtain ideas toward the development of the 1932 program. More than 400 members of the chamber were contacted through this means, and several hundred ideas were obtained.

COLLEGE EXES MEET DEC. 28

Plans Made for Annual Banquet

Ex-students of Wichita Falls Junior college will gather on Monday evening, Dec. 28, for their sixth annual reunion banquet, according to a decision reached Thursday afternoon at a meeting of officers of the association held at the college building. The group, meeting at the call of President Lowell Nichols, hopes to arrange a home-coming which will equal or surpass the great event of last year when 83 former students and faculty members revived old memories in a banquet at the Wichita club.

Lowell Nichols, president; Mabelle Moore, secretary-treasurer; Harold Naylor, chairman of the executive committee; James Williams, appointed by Nichols to assist in directing work toward the banquet; and R. O. Jonas, member of the college faculty, who with Miss Verna Sellers, former faculty member, sponsored the organization of the first meeting in 1926, constituted the committee which yesterday set plans in motion for the 1931 reunion.

Tuesday, Dec. 15, has been set as the date of meeting of the full banquet committee, according to President Nichols, the meeting to be held at 1305 Taylor street at 7 o'clock. Appointed on the general banquet committee are Joyce Samuels, Edna Prechel, and Henry Barton, decorations; Mary Louise Staley, Mabelle Moore, Loneta Smith, and Marie Beaty, publicity; Olin Harvey and Mary Virginia Barron, program; Horace Downing and Martha Johnson, arrangements; James Williams, to assist H. C. Naylor as director of the event.

Other officers of the association are Lloyd Bland, vice president, and Agnes Morton, alumni editor.

Bags and Coat Stolen From Two Autos Here

Two thefts of traveling bags from automobiles were reported to police here early Thursday night. The second theft occurred within 30 minutes of the first.

A bag containing clothing was stolen from the automobile of Mrs. D. R. Netherley, Overton, Texas, shortly after she parked the automobile at the curb in front of the home of friends she was visiting at 702 Van Buren.

A traveling bag containing clothing was taken from the car of D. Hendrickson while it was parked at 709 Warford. An overcoat in the car was obtained.

School News

By HELEN BROODO

Engineering Club

Sidney Covington, presiding over the program of the high school Engineers' club, spoke on "Unusual Fields of Engineering" at a meeting Thursday morning.

The members decided that for the next program, which is scheduled for the first Thursday after the Christmas holidays, they will invite a man from the local aviation field to address them in regard to aviation.

Franklin Safety Council

"Humane Education" was the topic for study by the Red Cross and Safety council organization of the Benjamin Franklin school Wednesday afternoon.

Opening the meeting, the entire membership took part in the singing of the safety song and in uttering the safety pledge. Then Jack Hammond, president, and Jack Gilliam, patrol captain, gave several valuable suggestions for improving the citizenship of the school.

The program was as follows: "Meaning of Humane Education," Dorothy Elliott; "Need for Humane Education," Bob Hoffman; "Value of Humane Education," Billy Ruth; "Humane Education as a Basis for World Peace," Jimmie Nolan; "Play Fair," Jimmy McCutcheon and Charles Miller; "The Real God," Margaret Burch; piano solo, Richard Marau; reading, Janice Franklin; song, "America, the Beautiful," sixth grade pupils.

Girl Reserves

Mrs. Wm. D. Bratton addressed the high school and junior college Girl Reserve organization Thursday morning at the regular meeting.

The program consisted of a violin duet, "Symphony Concertante No. 4" (Charles Dante), played by Misses Lucile Snyder and Crouch, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Joe Crouch; a novelty tap dance by four small artists from the Sullivan studio, and several heavily applauded popular piano solos by Raymond Cyr.

New Volley Ball Captain

Out of about 30 or 40 high schools still persisting with volley ball practice, Miss Jean Worley was chosen captain at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Her election was due to the fact that Miss Alta Herd, previously elected captain of the school volley ball girls, is a mid-year senior and will be graduated before the end of the volley ball season. Miss Virginia Wiest, business manager who is also a mid-year senior, will retain her position, however.

Honor Society

The regular assembly program is to be diverted to the National Honor society of the high school and junior college, according to Miss Pauline Shirley, sponsor of the society, who will make the principal speech.

Miss Shirley announced Thursday that she will speak of the aims and requirements of the society. Miss Mary C. Boone, a charter member of the chapter here and now a student in junior college, will also talk to the student body, giving a resume of last year's members.

The program will be of interest to all students of the high school, especially the honor roll members.

Local Deaths

CARL SCHWANER

Carl Schwaner, 71, of Colorado, Texas, died at a hospital here early Thursday morning after prolonged ill health. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of the Hines mortuary with the Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, officiating. Burial will be in Rosemont. A number of relatives reside at Colorado.

B. L. McREE

B. L. McRee, 81, of Oklahoma City, died at a hospital here early Thursday afternoon. The body is held at the Hines mortuary pending the arrival of a daughter, Mrs. F. O. Carpenter of Oklahoma City, who is to make funeral arrangements.

Nearly 11,000 of the 25,500 school teachers in Missouri attended summer school in the state during 1931.

Beauty Parlor Workers To Organize Union

A group of 20 beauty parlor owners and operators Thursday night completed preliminary organization of a local union, to be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The first meeting was held in the Malone Beauty shop where Pat H. Reagan, Rochester, N. Y., explained the basis of organization and the means of obtaining a charter. A second meeting to complete organization and elect officers will be held at the same place next Monday night.

Junior C-C Dance to Honor Retiring President

Honoring T. J. Waggoner Jr., immediate retired president, the Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its Christmas dance the evening of Dec. 26, at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club, it was announced Thursday.

Henry Penix, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of arrangements, and said that a 14-piece orchestra would furnish the music. A feature of the event, it was said, will be a grand march.

JOB INSURANCE PLAN URGED

Senate Group Told of Workers' Needs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Establishment of a national unemployment insurance fund was described today before a senate committe as "imperative if we are to abolish the present inadequate and demoralising dole of charitable relief."

Dr. Harry W. Laidler of Brooklyn, representing the joint unemployment committee, told a special senate group studying unemployment insurance systems that private charitable relief is "one of the worst forms of doles."

"Furthermore, almost all systems of unemployment insurance thus far instituted by companies have been most inadequate," he said.

"Under the average company scheme, furthermore, there is no guarantee that the fund or even the company itself will not go bankrupt at a time when benefits are most needed, leaving the workers entirely unprotected.

"The joint committee on unemployment urges that the nation establish an unemployment insurance fund, and contribute to state funds an amount equal to 50 per cent of such funds," he said.

Laidler said the constitution might be construed as barring the creation of a national insurance system and advocated amending the constitution, if necessary, in the meantime making unemployment insurance compulsory upon industry.

He said each unmarried person should receive 50 per cent of his normal wages and a married man with children up to 70 per cent.

Childress Farmers Repay U. S. Loans

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Dec. 10.—Records show that more than 90 per cent of Childress county farmers who secured seed and food loans from the federal government last spring have repaid the loans, and it is expected the other 10 per cent will have paid the loans by the first of the year.

Men who have been connected with such affairs in the past state the record is rather remarkable, especially when the market price for cotton is taken into consideration. If cotton had been worth $10 more per bale the debts would have been completely wiped out before this time.

The farmers of the county appreciate the situation and determined to repay those debts at once. Farmers are now facing another year and all believe that at this time next year they will be in much better condition than at this time. The wheat acreage is larger than a year ago, there is plenty of feed for livestock, and most every farmer has an ample supply of fruit and vegetables canned for home consumption. The two make a combination that is hard to beat on a farm.

With good crops and a fair price for the products the farmers of Childress county will be on the top of the world a year hence.

Frederick Official To Make Air Tests

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Dec. 10.—Dr. R. L. Fisher is now equipped to give tests for all types of flying licenses, with apparatus furnished him by the government for his work as medical examiner for the aeronautical branch of the department of commerce.

Fisher is in addition state flight surgeon and district inspector to enforce the new Oklahoma aviation law, so that his examiner authority extends over the state. His apparatus includes a depth perception machine to test the eyes of the pilots.

CENSORSHIP LIFTED

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10. (US)—The censorship on foreign films taken in Mexico was lifted today by Minister of the Interior Telles.

Merging many of Texas' smaller counties has been suggested as a means of relieving their financial difficulties.

Wichita County School League Leaders Map Program at Electra

ELECTRA, Texas, Dec. 10.—The executive committee of the Wichita County Interscholastic league met in Electra for the purpose of discussing ways and means of carrying out the meet this year. The meet will be held in Electra.

A motion was unanimously carried to use the round robin and tournament plan of last year for determining the championship in basket ball and volley ball. Feb. 5-6 was the date selected for the volley ball and basket ball tournament and the final games between the winners of the tournament and the winners of the round robin schedule to determine the championship will be played Feb. 12-13. It was also decided that a tournament for the junior basket ball and volley ball teams will be held Feb. 12-13 and that practice games prior to the tournament will be arranged by the coaches of the different teams.

General Events

The literary, track and field events which are known as the general interscholastic league meet will be held March 25-26, 1932. The playground ball tournament will be held March 19 and the motion was made and carried that the interscholastic league rules as they appear in the league bulletin be strictly adhered to in playground ball as well as in all other contests. A motion was unanimously carried that will make it essential for all entries for both the literary and athletic events to be mailed to the director general, supt. B. M. Dinsmore of Electra, 10 days prior to the date set for the tournament in which they are to participate. Unless this rule is followed the schools forfeit their rights to enter that one contest.

The tennis tournament for both the boys and girls will be started March 19 (same day for the playground ball) and will be continued on March 20 if necessary.

The motion was made and recommended that the debate contests be referred to Butler Westerfield, Burkburnett, director of debate, to be carried out according to the rules published by the interscholastic league books. It was also recommended that the director general secure all judges for the events but that each director suggest a suitable list of judges from which a selection can be made by the general director. It was also suggested that each of the directors submit in writing to the director general a list of all materials needed for holding their contest suggest the time of day and size of room needed for the literary events and that each director make any suggestions for the carrying out of the different events and contests.

Rules Explained

The director general urged that each of the directors be thoroughly conversant with the rules governing the respective contests. Each of the directors is held responsible, it was announced, for the arranging and conducting the contests respectively denoted by their titles.

The executive committee urges that each participating school thoroughly acquaint the pupils with all the rules and regulations governing each of the events and governing the eligibility of the events. The committee thought it wise to mention the fact that no composite team is eligible to compete in all of the events.

Those schools who have not paid their basket ball fees before Dec. 15 shall have their fee doubled, according to the league ruling. Harvey Stanford, Electra, director of athletics, called a meeting of all the coaches of both basket ball and volley ball to be held at the Kemp hotel, Wichita Falls, Saturday morning, Dec. 12, to arrange the schedule for the round robin in those events.

Choral Contest

A new contest in choral singing is added this year and points gained count toward the all-around championship. It has been suggested that the director of the contest arrange for all the competing choirs to sing several selections together at some time during the county meet for entertainment of the visitors.

The executive committee made the following statement: "The executive committee hereby implores all the superintendents, principals, teachers, and pupils, to do all in their power to make this the greatest university interscholastic league year in the history of Wichita county."

The directors are, general director, B. M. Dinsmore, Electra; director of debate, Butler Westerfield, Burkburnett; declamation director, Mrs. H. V. Williams, Iowa Park; director of extemporaneous speaking, E. R. Stroud, Electra; director of spelling, Ida Lee Falls, Electra; director of essay writing, Mrs. Paul Lusk, Iowa Park; director of athletics, Harvey Stanford, Electra; director of music memory, Helen Hope Carney, Burkburnett; director of story-telling, Ethel Kidwell, Iowa Park; director of art memory, Mrs. W. C. Vaun, Wichita Falls, route 4; director of arithmetic, Willa Watson, Iowa Park; rural school director, J. A. Hood, Wichita county superintendent; choral singing, Ruby K. Price, Electra.

How to Get Relief From Catarrh

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or head noises, go to Allison's Drug Store or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength); take this home, add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need.—Adv.

RECIPES

Almond Omelet

Blanch almonds to fill three-fourths a cup; shred, spread in a buttered pan and brown slightly in a moderate oven; shake the pan frequently. Beat four eggs until a full spoonful may be lifted; add one-fourth a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, and four tablespoonfuls of cold water. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in an omelet pan or a frying pan, add all but one tablespoonful of the prepared almonds, stir until coated with the butter, then turn in the egg mixture. With a thin knife or spatula stir and turn the mixture constantly until creamy throughout. Begin at the side of the pan next the handle and roll the omelet, tipping the pan meanwhile so that the omelet falls lightly upon a hot platter. Garnish with the remaining almonds, surrround with a cup of currant jelly (melted and hot) and cubes of cream cheese.

Pork Chops With Forcemeat

Loin chops or rib chops from the hind quarter trimmed French fashion may be used. Rub over a frying pan with fat and in it brown the chops on one side. It will take from five to 10 minutes. Remove from the fire and turn the chops to have the brown side uppermost. On each chop form a round of forcemeat on the cooked side. Add a few spoonfuls of hot water or broth to the dish and let cook about 40 minutes in an oven at a temperature of 350 degrees F. Have ready rounds of pared and cored apples, set a round above the forcemeat on each chop, dredge lightly with sugar, and return to the oven to cook the apple. Serve garnished with parsley. Seasoned peas or string beans may also be used on the platter. An ordinary bread dressing bound together with an egg may replace the forcemeat.

Forcemeat for Pork Chops

Scrape the pulp from two or three chops, discarding all fibers. For one cup of pulp use one-half a cup of bread panada. Pound the pulp in a wooden bowl, gradually pounding in the panada; when smooth, pound in one-half a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of softened butter, and one egg. To make the panada, press stale white bread through a colander, add milk, as much as it will take up, and stir and cook directly over the fire until a paste is formed that leaves the side of the pan.

Piquante Beets

Four medium-sized beets.
One teaspoonful sugar.
One tablespoonful vinegar.
Dash nutmeg.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One teaspoonful grated onion.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.

Cook the bets until tender, allowing plenty of time. Slip off the skins, and chop in small bits. Place in a hot serving dish and pour over them the following sauce: Cook together for five minutes the butter, sugar, salt vinegar, onion and nutmeg. Serves six.

Baconized Corn Bread

One cup corn meal.
One cup flour.
Three teaspoonfuls baking powder.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One tablespoonful sugar.
One egg.
One cupful milk.
Three-fourths cupful bacon cut in small pieces.

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat the egg and add the milk, then the dry ingredients. Put in a greased pan and sprinkle the bacon over the top. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 20 minutes. This recipe fills a pan eight inches square.

Chocolate Sundae Pie

One cupful evaporated milk.
One-half cup water.
Three egg yolks.
One-half cupful granulated sugar.
One-fourth teaspoonful nutmeg.
One-half teaspoonful vanilla.
One cupful sweetened whipped cream.
Three egg whites, beaten stiff.
One-eighth teaspoonful salt.
One tablespoonful gelatin.
Three tablespoonfuls cold water.
One-fourth cup grated unsweetened chocolate or two tablespoonfuls ground chocolate or cocoa.

Pastry.

Heat milk and one-half cupful water in double boiler with nutmeg. Beat egg yolks with sugar and salt until light. Pour the hot milk over the egg mixture; return to double boiler and cook until the consistency of thick cream. Remove from heat; add the gelatin which has been soaking five minutes in cold water. Add vanilla. Cool. When cool and ready to set, beat with Dover egg beater and fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites. Pour this delicate fluffy mixture into a baked pie shell. Set in refrigerator. When thoroughly cold cover with the sweetened whipped cream and sprinkle top with grated chocolate.

Mock Lobster on Toast

Break into small bits enough cold salmon to make a pint of the pieces, loosely filled. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter or a substitute and add to the pan in the order given: First the fish, then one cup of thick, sifted tomato, two tablespoonfuls of fine, sifted crumbs, one-half a teaspoonful of paprika, two teaspoonfuls of Worcestershire sauce and one-half a teaspoonful of salt mixed with one teaspoonful of sugar. Cover, and heat slowly until on the point of boiling, then serve on hot, buttered toast. There should be enough for six or eight slices. Garnish the center with a pinch of minced parsley.

Corn Dips

One and one-half cups corn (fresh or canned)
One-half teaspoon salt
One egg beaten
Two tablespoons melted butter
One teaspoon sugar
One-fourth cup milk
One cup bread flour
One teaspoon baking powder.

Mix corn, salt, sugar, egg, melted butter and milk together. If canned corn is used, drain off the liquid and add to it enough fresh milk to make the one-fourth cup. Sift baking powder and flour, beat into mixture. Drop spoonfuls in hot fat (360 F. or when cube of bread browns in 60 seconds). Fry slowly until brown and well cooked 8 or 10 minutes. Test with toothpick. Drain on soft paper.

Pineapple Relish Salad

One package lime jello
One pint boiling pineapple juice and water
One tablespoon vinegar
Three slices canned pineapple, diced
One cucumber, diced
One-half stuffed olives, finely chopped
Three-fourths cup sweet pickles, finely chopped.

Dissolve jello in boiling pineapple juice and water. Add vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in pineapple, cucumber, olives and pickles. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves eight.

Ice Box Pudding

One-half package orange jello dissolved in one cup boiling water
Four eggs, one-third cup sugar, one cup milk.
One cup nuts chopped, one box vanilla wafers (28).
One small bottle maraschino cherries (about 12), use juice in cherry bottle.

Cook egg yolks with jello and sugar in double boiler until thick for about 15 minutes. Add to crumbled wafers, then add nuts, milk and chopped cherries. Add beaten whites and let stand over night. Serves about 12.

Cooking for Christmas

With Christmas dinners and holiday festivities to be planned for families, relatives and friends and Christmas boxes to be packed and sent to dear ones away from home the time between now and the 25th of December is extremely short.

Every child, young or old, who is away from home during the holidays deserves a Christmas hamper packed with love and good wishes and with extra-special "eats."

Goodies for the Christmas hamper may include fruit cake, little decorated cakes, pickles, jams and jellies, salad dressings, sandwich fillings, Christmas puddings, fancy breads, home made candies and canned chicken. (It is dangerous to send roasted fowls as the package may be delayed.)

When sending food out of town, select a strong corrugated cardboard box to be tied with heavy twine or a wooden box which may be nailed securely, and inside lavish seals and ribbons and gay wrapping papers and decorated jars and boxes, with plenty of soft tissue paper to prevent damage. Label very plainly, including your own address and mail early.

Perhaps the following suggestions for things to eat at home or to be sent away may solve some problems.

Stuffed Preserved Oranges

Wipe small navel oranges, make three holes through each orange at right angles to one another, using a pencil-shaped vegetable cutter ¾ inch in diameter. Stuff with raisins, candied cherries and pineapple, filling to the center through the holes. Cover with cold water, bring to boiling point and boil for 20 minutes. Drain, cover with water and repeat twice. Drain, cover with a syrup made of two parts sugar and one part water, and cook to 220 degrees F. Remove from fire and let stand until cold. Add one-fourth cup water, again bring to boiling point, cook to 220 degrees F. and put to one side. Repeat until the skin is tender enough to pierce with a toothpick. Bring to boiling point, put in sterilized jars and seal.

Stuffed oranges and delicious served cut in slices with lettuce or endive and cream mayonnaise.

Mixed Sweet Pickles

One cupful vinegar.
One-half cup sugar
One-fourth teaspoonful peppercorns
One-fourth teaspoonful blades mace
One-half cup candied cherries
One-half cup large stemmed raisins
18 small sweet cucumber pickles
One-fourth teaspoonful whole cloves.

Put vinegar and sugar in small agate or enamel saucepan. Tie spices in a bag and cook in the vinegar for two minutes. Add cherries, cook 5 minutes, skim out and put in a half-pint bottle. Add raisins to syrup, cook 10 minutes, remove and put on top of cherries. Then add pickles and cook 10 minutes, adding water if syrup becomes too thick. Remove and place on top of raisins and strain hot syrup over all.

Candied Grapefruit Boxes

Cut the top from a grapefruit, remove all pulp and juice and discard membrane. Put both pieces of peel in a saucepan, cover with cold water, bring to boiling point, boil 20 minutes, drain and repeat twice. Mix in top of double boiler three cups sugar and one and one-half cups water, bring to boiling point, add grapefruit peel and cook gently to about 220 degrees F. or to a very heavy syrup. Drain grapefruit and cover with granulated sugar inside and out. Dip a candied cherry in syrup cooked until it almost discolors and attach to grapefruit cover for a handle. Fill the grapefruit with salted walnuts and candied fruits, or candied grapefruit strips. Add one-half cup water to the syrup and use to candy the peel of another grapefruit, cut in very narrow strips and prepared as above. The candied skins may be covered with syrup and left for weeks, to be drained and sugared as desired. (Remove as much of the white part from the grapefruit skin as possible after cooking three times in water and cut yellow rind in thin strips with a knife or with scissors. Then cook in syrup, drain and sprinkle with granulated sugar). Orange rinds may be prepared in the same manner.

A candied grapefruit box is a lovely gift when filled with glace fruits in paper cases, boxed and attractively wrapped.

Divinity Fudge

Two-thirds cup sugar
One cup water
Two-thirds cup corn syrup
One-third cup candied cherries

ALMONDS USED IN OMELET

Mrs. Dawson Gives Many New Recipes

One-third cup green citron
Two-thirds cup almonds
Two egg whites.

Put two-thirds cup sugar and one-third cup water in small saucepan. In another saucepan put two cups sugar, corn sirup and two-thirds cup water. Stir second portion until sugar is dissolved, put over fire and boil to 240 degrees F. or until mixture forms a soft ball when it is tried in cold water. Twenty minutes after starting this mixture put the first saucepan on the stove and cook to 270 degrees F. or until it forms a very hard ball when tried in cold water. Beat egg whites until stiff, add slowly the sirup which was cooked to a soft ball and beat constantly until stiff, using a wooden spoon. Then add slowly sirup which was cooked to 270 degrees F. and continue beating as long as possible. Add candied cherries and green citron, or use almonds colored red and green.

Fudge should be molded in a shallow tin box for mailing, to be cut after reaching its destination.

To color almonds and citron, blanch and chop almonds, spread on white paper and add a few drops of color. Rub together until pieces are all colored alike, then dry carefully and keep in covered glass jar. Stripe of citron may be colored by remaining for a time covered with colored water.

Stuffed Dates

Wash and stone dates and stuff with divinity fudge or fondant; roll in sugar, or dip in melted fondant and sprinkle with nut meats, finely chopped.

Olive Mayonnaise

Put one cup stuffed olives through food chopper, add two teaspoons mustard, one-eighth teaspoon mace, three tablespoonfuls tarragon vinegar and one cup mayonnaise dressing, with salt to taste. Pack in a jar and put in a Christmas box. This can be used with canned chicken, on lettuce, or as a sandwich filling.

Egg Filling

Two hard-cooked eggs.
Two tablespoonfuls cress.
Two tablespoonfuls pimento.
One-half teaspoonful onion.
One-fourth teaspoonful pepper.
One-half teaspoonful paprika.
One-half tablespoonful vinegar.
One and one-fourth tablespoonfuls salad oil.
One teaspoonful salt.

Chop hard-cooked eggs, cress and pimento, mix and add onion cut very fine, seasonings, vinegar and salad oil. Pack in jar and cover with melted butter.

Cheese and Egg Filling

One tablespoonful flour.
One teaspoonful sugar.
Two tablespoons vinegar.
One-half cup milk.
One egg.
One small cream cheese.
Three pimentos.
One teaspoon onion juice.
Two hard-cooked eggs.
Salt.

Mix flour and sugar in top of double boiler, add vinegar, milk and egg slightly beaten. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Remove from fire and when cool add cheese, pimentos finely chopped, onion juice and eggs, chopped. Season to taste, pack in jars, cover with melted butter.

English Fruit Cake

One pound butter.
One pound light brown sugar.
Nine eggs.
One pound flour.
Two teaspoonfuls mace.
Two tablespoonfuls cinnamon.
One teaspoonful cloves.
One teaspoonful allspice.
One teaspoonful soda.
Two tablespoonfuls milk.
Two pounds currants, cleaned.
One pound raisins, seeded and finely chopped.
One-half pound candied orange peel.
One-fourth pound candied lemon peel.
One pound candied cherries.
One-half pound candied pineapple.
Three-fourths pound citron, thinly sliced.
One-half pound almonds, blanched and shredded.

Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, and beat thoroughly. Add the beaten egg yolks; then the whites which are beaten until stiff and dry. Sift together the flour, soda and spices. Reserve one cup for dredging the fruit. Add the remaining flour mixture to the egg mixture. Mix the prepared fruits and dredge with the cup of flour and add to the cake mixture; add nuts and milk. Pour into deep pans which have been lined with buttered paper, cover with buttered paper, steam three hours, and bake one and one-half hour in a slow oven, 275 degrees F. Rich fruit cake is always more satisfactory when done if the cooking is accomplished by steaming. (Cover the cakes closely to keep moisture out—pound coffee cans and lids may be used). When baked remove from the tins and allow to cool. Wrap closely and ripen several weeks before using. Fruit juices may be sprinkled on the wrappings as needed. If fruit cake is baked in a coffee can it may be slipped back in the can for shipping.

BROKER'S LOANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week-end Dec. 9 were announced by the federal reserve board today as $690,000,000, a decrease of $30,000,000 as compared with the preceding week.

Loans for the week ending Dec. 12, 1930, were $2,099,000,000.

Girl Makes Final Plea to Film Star On Way to Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (INS)—Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese film star, sailed for his native land today, but he left behind him his wife as well as Ruth Noble the white actress who accused him of being the father of her baby son.

Miss Noble, ship's officers said, had sailed up the coast in an attempt to effect a reconciliation with the actor.

Miss Noble boarded the transpacific liner with Hayakawa at Los Angeles and failed as far as San Francisco, but just as the ship pulled out of the harbor here she walked down the gangplank.

Hayakawa was a first class passenger, but Miss Noble, for her short voyage up the coast, took passage in second class under the name of Ruth Noble Darby.

Hayakawa's wife and the baby over whom Miss Noble recently sued the actor remained in Hollywood.

Admiral Says Hoover Policy Cripples Navy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (US)—A solemn warning that the administration's economy program has "seriously impaired" the strength of the navy was sounded today by Rear Admiral Frank B. Upham.

Reductions in personnel and in the number of ships in commission during the past year has proved "a severe blow to our navy," he declared.

Thus did a practical, grizzled sea dog now serving as chief of the bureau of navigation, take direct issue with his commander in chief, President Hoover.

Health and Diet Advice

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"
By DR. FRANK McCOY

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Suggested Menus

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Dec. 13.

Sunday

Breakfast—Eggs poached in milk, served on melba toast; baked apple.

Lunch—All desired of one kind of acid fruit; glass of milk.

Dinner—Baked chicken, whole-wheat dressing, buttered beets, spinach, salad of shredded lettuce, apricot whip.

Monday

Breakfast—Cottage cheese, toasted triscuit, sliced pineapple.

Lunch—Cornbread, string beans, cauliflower salad.

Dinner—Broiled steak with mushrooms, baked eggplant, salad of chopped raw cabbage, pear sauce.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Coddled eggs; melba toast; stewed prunes.

Lunch—Cucumber and olive sandwiches of genuine wholewheat bread, raw celery.

Dinner—American cream cheese (one-fourth pound to a serving); cooked asparagus; cooked turnips; head lettuce; Jell-o or Jell-well, no cream.

Wednesday

Breakfast—Small dish of wholewheat mush, crisp bacon, melba toast, stewed raisins.

Lunch—*Orange-milk.

Dinner—Broiled rabbit, baked eggplant, steamed carrots, salad of raw spinach, dish of junket.

Thursday

Breakfast—French omelet on melba toast, stewed figs.

Lunch—Baked sweet potatoes, cooked celery, salad of shredded lettuce.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, roast beef, grated turnips and beets baked together in a shallow pan, prune whip.

Friday

Breakfast—Poached egg; crisp bacon, melba toast, applesauce.

Lunch—Buttermilk (one pint) with 10 or 12 dates.

Dinner—Jellied tomato consomme, broiled filet of sole, spinach, asparagus, sliced tomatoes on lettuce, no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Stuffed apple with a little cream if desired, slice of melba toast.

Lunch—Potato soup, raw celery and lettuce.

Dinner—Roast mutton, mashed squash, cooked lettuce, string bean salad, grapejuice whip.

*Orange-milk is made by thoroughly mixing, preferably in a shaker, equal amounts of raw sweet milk and orange juice.

String Bean Salad—Use the fresh string beans if possible, but if canned ones are used, boil them for a few minutes and let cool before using. Place in a large salad bowl, using two forks to toss about and thoroughly mix with the desired amounts of chopped parsley and minced ripe olives. A little chopped celery may also be added, and if a dressing is wanted, use a little olive oil. Serve on crisp, cold lettuce leaves on individual plates.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sweet Almond Oil for Wrinkles

Question—Mrs. I. K. N. writes: "In one of your articles you spoke of using sweet almond oil for wrinkles applied with a tooth brush. I have plenty of lines around my eyes, but I am afraid to use the sweet almond oil for fear it will cause hair to grow."

Answer—Sweet almond oil when applied to the skin is absorbed to a limited extent and does not increase the growth of hair. It nourishes and tends to slightly fatten the skin tissues. It is not necessary to rub it in the skin—just apply it with a soft clean brush. In this way it will not injure the tenderest tissues. It absorbs more quickly if slightly heated. The face should first be washed with warm water and soap, the almond oil applied, and, after it is absorbed, the pores closed by rubbing ice over the skin.

Cancer of the Stomach

Question—Miss W. inquires: "Would you tell me the symptoms of cancer of the stomach from the time the cancer is supposed to start?"

Answer—Cancer of the stomach often has no undue symptoms which would make it recognizable in the early stages. Such a cancer often starts with ulcers of the stomach or chronic irritation. The vomiting of a substance resembling black coffee grounds is a dangerous indication and should call for a more complete examination. Whenever cancer of the stomach is suspected, X-ray examination and other diagnostic measures should be used.

No Home Brew for Baby

Question—Mr. Walt O. asks: "Is it all right to give coffee and home brew to a 10-months-old baby?"

Answer—Since I do not recommend the use of coffee or home brew to adults, I cannot too strongly condemn their use when infants are concerned.

Haskell 'Live-at-Home' Contest Draws Interest

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Dec. 10.—Time is drawing near for the closing of last year's "live at home" contest. The awards will be announced as soon as possible after Jan. 1. Meanwhile Haskell future farmers are busy making the hope chest, porch swing and magazine rack to be given as prizes to this year's winners. These prizes are to be exhibited at the Haskell County Poultry and Pet Stock show, to be held in Haskell Dec. 17, 18 and 19.

The number of entries and the interest shown by people over the county indicates that a large number of people want the contest continued next year. Prizes for next year's contest will be announced in the near future and it is hoped that a much larger list of entries may be secured. A person may win only once. This should encourage those who believe they would have too much competition. Entry blanks for next year's contest may be secured by writing H. K. Henry, teacher of agriculture of Haskell.

Answers to Yesterday's Puzzle

RAIN PROSPECTS INCREASE NAVY'S CHANCES AGAINST ARMY

The RAMBLER'S CORNER

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Aside from the Masonic Home-Clarendon game here Saturday, the burning question seems to be "which one, Lubbock or Abilene?"

For no good reason at all, we pick Lubbock to whip the Abilene Eagles tomorrow at Lubbock. We've seen neither team in action, and haven't the slightest grounds for a prediction, but we have a feeling the "iron men" will triumph.

They certainly deserve a victory. More, they deserve to be in the title play-off. In winning the tangled district one race and beating Quanah in the bi-district the Westerners already have gone through more hardships than any team in the league, and what's more, they've come through on top.

We have a sneaking suspicion that Lubbock and Corsicana will be in the state finals. If this suspicion turns out to be a substantial truth, we'll pick the Westerners to win the state championship.

High School Wrestling

The local American Legion post is going in for something new. It is sponsoring a high school wrestling contest. Thirty-eight schools in this territory have been invited to participate in the contest, which will be staged here on the evenings of Jan. 15 and 16, according to C. C. Frazee, Junior college athletic director, and Milt Gaines of the Legion post. Entries must be in by midnight of Jan. 8. Each contestant must be a high school student and eligible to participate in amateur sports. An entrance fee of $1 will be charged each entrant as a forfeit, but if the entrant appears for his match the money will be returned, it was announced. Schools interested may send their list of entrants to either Mr. Frazee or Mr. Gaines.

The contest probably will attract a good deal of interest. Certainly it is something new. We have never heard of wrestling on a large scale in high schools.

More About the Masons

If you want some real first hand dope on the kind of football teams Masonic Home of Fort Worth produces, listen to the story of D. L. Ligon, superintendent of schools at Rochester, Texas, who in his high school days at Denton played against the Masons.

Here is his interesting letter:

"Dear Thompson:

"Any team that is able to overpower Olney and run up the score of 47 to 6 on the Cubs must be good. I have been unable to see neither team in action this year but I had compared the two on paper. The things that you have said about the Masons in your corner evidently are correct.

"If one would go back in the history of the Masons one would see that Masonic Home has been represented by a good team most every season. I recall that in 1922 Denton High Broncs tangled with the Masons at home and the visitors went back to Cowtown with a one-point victory, 14 to 12. I remember this game as one of the hardest and cleanest games that I have had the opportunity of playing in. They had one of the best lines that I had played against. I do not remember just how the scores were made but I do know that neither of our scores were made on line plays. Man, we could not make a yard through those linemen.

"I hope that I am able to be at Athletic park and see the Clarendon-Masonic Home clash. I shall be pulling for a Mason victory."

Women Wrestlers On Tonight's Card

Featuring two women wrestlers in a special event, tonight's card at Promoter Bob Connor's wrestling arena promises to be an entertaining one. Names of the women who will appear have been withheld.

Dude Chick and Lee Meyers will meet in the main event. Meyers last week battled Silent Condell to a one-fall draw. Condell this week is matched with Pat O'Brien.

Breckenridge and Ranger All-Stars to Play

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Dec. 10.—Former football players of Ranger High school and Breckenridge High school will clash in a charity game at Breckenridge Saturday afternoon.

Leading the Breckenridge All-Stars will be Boyce "Boon" Magness, while Buster Mills will quarterback the Ranger players. Other outstanding players who will see service in the all-star game are: Ranger, Ed T. Cox, Dick Murray, Dick McCarty, Chuck Bird and Blackmon; Breckenridge, Dave Graham, Rayford Carey, Cecil Carey, Troy Carey and Britton Pruitt.

The Breckenridge Elk's club is sponsoring the game.

Bowie Letter Men Guests at Luncheon

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Dec. 10.—The 17 letter men of the Bowie High school football team were guests Wednesday of the local Rotary club at a luncheon served in the high school building. It was prepared by the home economics pupils of Miss Alma Beck. Several of the players and Coaches Little and Robinson made talks. The guest of honor at the luncheon was Jerry Fulkerson, head of the Fort Worth area council of the Boy Scouts of America.

CREDIT GRANTORS MEET

The Retail Credit Grantors association met Thursday night at the Wichita club. Accounts under the letter J were discussed and all repossessions and hot checks. Accounts under the letter H will be discussed next week.

'HUNCH' MEN FAVOR GOBS

80,000 Expected to Watch Classic Saturday

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Navy's chances of surprising the Army, just as the Cadets dumfounded mighty Notre Dame, came in for serious consideration tonight as the two service elevens made ready to move on New York for battle in the name of charity.

Partly through weather forecasts that rain will fall again before Saturday, and perhaps even that day on the crowd of 80,000 that is expected to jam the big Yankee stadium, Navy has become the favorite of the "hunch" players.

Despite defeats this season by Maryland, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Southern Methodist, the Midshipmen headed tonight for New York and training quarters at Rye tremendously confident because of last Saturday's victory over Pennsylvania. Navy turned in that surprise by the margin of a lone touchdown.

Army, headed by Capt. Jack Price, will come down the line from West Point tomorrow, still riding the high wave that carried to victory over Notre Dame. The Cadets will be quartered and work out for the last time at Briarcliff Manor, outside the city.

Prospect of rain to further mar the sloppy surface of the stadium playing field forecast new difficulties for Ray Stecker, Army's backfield ace, who broke away last fall for the long scoring dash that beat the Midshipmen, 6 to 0. For Navy it brought the possibility of a pair of heavy lines bogged down in the mud with the issue resting on straight away plunging. On such a field as that Kirn and the bullet charges that gave him his nickname may prove the deciding factor.

The play will be broadcast over two national networks. The game begins at 12:10 p. m. central standard time.

CADETS TAKE LONG WORKOUT

WEST, N. Y., Dec. 10. (AP)—Army's Varsity, preparing for the Navy game Saturday, went through a long scrimmage today against a team composed of coaches and other former Army stars.

At 6 o'clock the squad of 40 players proceeded by bus to Briarcliff where they will remain in seclusion until Saturday morning.

GOBS LEAVE FOR SCENE OF BATTLE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 10. (AP)—Lustily cheered by the regiment of midshipmen, 2,000 strong, and 500 townspeople, the Navy football team left here today to do battle with the Army in the traditional rivalry for the sake of charity.

Graham High School Pep Squad of 53 Members to Attend Masonic Game

The Graham High school pep squad of 53 members, and the Burkburnett squad of 32 members fell in line yesterday and promised to be on hand at the Masonic Home-Clarendon football battle for the class B championship here Saturday.

L. G. Cook of Graham, Young county school superintendent, informed William E. Huff, chamber of commerce athletic committee chairman, that the Graham squad would be attired in school uniforms of purple and gold, and that the unit would root for the Masons, who defeated the Graham Steers in the finals for the district four championship. The Burkburnett squad likewise was expected to be clad in their school uniforms.

B. C. Shulkey, Olney superintendent of schools, yesterday said he was virtually certain the Olney girls' pep squad will attend the game here in a body. With five towns, Wichita Falls, Graham, Archer City, Burkburnett and Clarendon, already prepared to send their pep squads, and several other schools making plans to send their rooters, one of the largest student turnouts in years was expected for the contest.

OLNEY CUBS GUESTS AT FOOTBALL BANQUET

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Dec. 10.—The Olney Cubs, four times champions of district No. 9, class B, were guests tonight at a football banquet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Duckworth, parents of R. J. Duckworth, fullback and co-captain of the Cubs.

PUNISHMENT

Vassar Freshmen Who 'Cribbed' Face Eye Of World

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 10. (AP)—Notoriety given the 185 Vassar college freshmen who admitted they used other notes in preparing a thesis has satisfactorily punished the girls, said Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president, today.

Barbara Bailey, a senior and editor of The Miscellany News, which exposed the situation through a questionnaire, believes the faculty will adjust the assignments so that freshmen hereafter cannot complain of being overworked.

HORTON SMITH LEADS GOLFERS

Missourian Ahead With 143 Strokes

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Stroking the water-soaked Lake Merced course in 75, three over par, to add to his dazzling 68 of yesterday, Horton Smith, tall Missourian, posted a total of 143 today to lead the field in the qualifying trials for the San Francisco $7,500 match play open championship.

A stroke under par for the 36 holes, Smith had medal honors virtually clinched.

Heavy rains drenched the more than 100 survivors as they started on the last half of the qualifying grind. Smith toured the first nine in par 37 but faltered on the incoming stretch to take 38.

A stroke behind Smith came Harry Cooper, New York, with a fine 70, two under par, giving him 144.

TO REVIVE RACING

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Dec. 10. (AP)—A movement to revive horse racing here with a meeting next spring was proposed today by Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin. He said he would confer with Charles Cella, owner of Oak Lawn Racing park here, in an effort to work out details for the meeting.

Rumania has more than 9,500 square miles of beech forests, comprising about one-twelfth of the total area of the country.

Houston Buffs Buy Rochester Pitcher

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 10. (AP)—Another deal designed to make the pitching staff of the 1932 Houston Buffs a worthy successor to last year's corps was completed today. The Buffs bought Pitcher Ray Moss outright from the Rochester International league club.

The deal was a cash transaction. The sum involved was not announced. The addition gives Houston a right handed hurler of proven worth.

The acquisition of Moss, following rapidly upon the deal that brings Southpaw Mike Cvengros to the Buffs, rounds out the Houston pitching staff for next season.

MAJOR LEAGUES CUT EXPENSES

Both Loops Reduce Player Limit

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—A wave of drastic economy swept major league baseball today.

Cornered by a sharp decline in attendance at their parks, the club owners of the two major circuits voted to economize by trimming the player limit from 25 to 23 and by substantially reducing general operating expenses, notably by cutting players' salaries.

No definite amount was set by the action to cut players' salaries but the general opinion was that the matter would be left to each club owner. Ten per cent was the estimated wage slash and a share of that was accomplished by the reduction in the player limit, which will save each club approximately $10,000 annually.

In their action to reduce salaries, the majors followed that already taken by virtually every minor league.

The fight to trim the player limit was led successfully by the second division clubs of the American and National leagues. American league club owners voted to reduce the limit to 22 while the National league stood out for 23. Each voted as a unit so Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, cast the deciding vote—for a limit of 23. The option limit of 15 for each club was not affected.

Minor league club owners were happy over the action as it will ultimately force 32 major league players—two from each of the 16 major league clubs—into their field.

The 1932 major league season will open April 12 and close Sept. 25 with another schedule of 154 games. The schedule, adopted at today's meeting, will be the shortest in major league history. This year, the season closed Sept. 27.

By unanimous vote, the major league club owners also voted to again underwrite the American Legion baseball championship tournament up to $50,000 and to contribute $7,500 to the relief fund of needy baseball veterans.

REFINERY TANK TOTALS BULGE

Gasoline Stocks Increase Despite Curtailment

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 10.—In spite of efforts of refiners in the mid-continent area to bring about a drastic reduction in crude oil charges to refineries, and a reduction in the output of gasoline, stocks of gasoline in the area gained 3,570,000 gallons for the week ended December 4, or 3-1 per cent over the previous week. Stocks totaled 118,707,000 gallons against 115,137,000 gallons for the week before. Oklahoma and Kansas showed the largest increases in stock. Production of gasoline for the week decreased 11 per cent to 41,334,000 gallons, while shipments increased 3 per cent to 37,764,000 gallons.

Stocks of gasoline in the area follow:

Area—	Dec. 4	Nov. 27
Oklahoma	37,975.00	35,276,000
Kansas	28,313,000	26,561,000
North Central Texas	32,629,000	32,474,000
West Texas	13,852,000	14,613,000
North La.-Arkansas	5,938,000	6,213,000
Totals	118,707,000	115,137,000

Crude Oil Charges

Crude oil charges in the area decreased 10.3 per cent or 26,883 barrels daily, to total 234,082 barrels daily against 260,965 barrels daily for the previous week. Other oils processed decreased 9.1 per cent, or 2,744 barrels daily, to total 27,404 barrels against 30,148 barrels daily for the previous week.

Crude oil charges for the week follow:

Area—	Dec. 4	Nov. 27
Oklahoma	75,609	93,486
Kansas	56,654	56,251
North Central Texas	51,899	56,805
West Texas	12,412	18,149
North La.-Arkansas	37,508	36,274
Totals	234,082	260,965

Other Stocks

Kerosene stocks in the mid-continent decreased 381,000 gallons or 1.4 per cent, totaling 27,701,000 gallons against 28,082,000 gallons for the previous week. Shipments decreased 2.2 per cent to 4,108,000 gallons, while production decreased 28.5 per cent to 3,727,000 gallons.

Stove distillate stocks in the mid-continent for last week declined 198,000 gallons or 1.2 per cent totaling 15,787,000 gallons against 15,985,000 gallons for the previous week. Production declined 2.1 per cent to 1,297,000 gallons while shipments increased 121.5 per cent to 1,495,000 gallons.

Storage of gas oil continued its steady decline with a drop of 6.4 per cent for the last week, or 4,089,000 gallons, totaling 58,670,000 gallons against 62,709,000 gallons for the previous week. Shipments gained 38.3 per cent to 8,206,000 gallons while production gained 10.5 per cent to 4,167,000 gallons.

English to Limit Naval Titles to Save Money

LONDON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, announced today as a matter of economy that no more admirals of the fleet would be created and that vacancies would not be filled until the number of incumbents had been reduced to three.

The title of admiral of the fleet is little more than an honorary distinction, held by King George, Earl Beatty, Sir Osmond Brock, Sir Roger Keyes and Sir Henry Oliver.

STERLING CUTS ETEX OUTPUT

Rail Board to Consider Resuming Regulations

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—The East Texas oil field per well allowable was cut to 100 barrels today by a military order issued by Gov. R. S. Sterling as commander-in-chief of the Texas national guard occupying the area under martial law.

The new reduction will become effective Friday at 7 a. m., automatically reducing the field's aggregate production under the late 125 barrels per well regulation from in excess of 400,000 barrels to about 338,000 barrels.

Governor Sterling had information that there were 3,380 producing wells in the four-county area embracing Smith, Rusk, Gregg and Upshur.

The governor held a conference with Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, commander of the martial law troops; C. V. Terrell, chairman, Lon A. Smith, member, and R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division, of the railroad commission; Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general, and others.

Although the governor announced the new East Texas allowable immediately after the conference, Smith said the chief executive did not mention the 100-barrel order in the discussions.

Governor Sterling said he had suggested to the railroad commission that it call a hearing for a discussion of conditions in the East Texas area, but Smith and Terrell said they would have to consider that matter and seek advice from the attorney general's department before acting.

It was understood that the hearing would be called with an idea in view of the commission again assuming administration of the field, martial law to be lifted.

Smith said the commission could only consider "conservation" of the field and not "proration" of its output until such time as the area was "turned back" to it for regulation. He said 10 days notice would be given of any such hearing.

Texas Company Disposes of Well Connections to Gulf, Sinclair

In order to dispose of a number of surplus connections in the Wichita Falls pools, the Texas company has made arrangements with two other major buyers, the Stanolind and Gulf Production companies to transfer a portion of daily runs.

The Texas company, largest buyer of crude in North Texas, in an agreement with the Stanolind company turns over its pipe line facilities to the latter in the South Vernon pool of Wilbarger county whereby the Stanolind will take a total of 1,000 barrels from the wells in that pool daily. The agreement has a cancellation clause attached covering a period of 30 days and can be terminated if necessary by either parties.

The Gulf company also made an agreement with a 90-day cancellation clause with the Texas company to take over the greater portion of its pipe line connections in the Burkburnett and Beaver creek sections of Wichita county. The Gulf interests will absorb about 1,500 barrels per day from the wells in these pools.

The Gulf production, in addition to the Wichita county takings, will probably complete arrangements to accept further Texas company crude in the Archer pools and with a new line being constructed to the Chalk hill wells of the Deep Oil-Lindsay interests with an estimated 700 barrels or more, the running and purchase of the district's daily output will be insured indefinitely.

TRINKETS SELL CHEAP

LONDON, Dec. 10. (US)—The ninety-six pieces of old gold, rings, necklaces and other trinkets ranging to well-worn handbags, which were donated the treasury by patriotic citizens seeking to tide the government over the crisis, realized just $2,461.80 when shorn of their sentiment today. They brought that at Christie's auction rooms.

WHAT HELPS HAIR and HURTS MOTOR OIL?

The answer is petroleum jelly! This thick, jelly-like substance gives motor oil, when cold, a deceptive body which turns water-thin the moment your engine heats up. Don't be fooled—ask the nearest Sinclair dealer for the oil with the genuine full body—Sinclair Opaline. Petroleum jelly is removed from Opaline at as low as 60° F. below zero—a much lower temperature than is required for just removing wax. Ask the Sinclair dealer.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Cotton showed a generally steadier tone today with very little selling pressure in evidence, while there seemed to be a little more trade buying and covering.

January contracts, after advancing to 5.91 at the start, reacted to 5.88 but later sold at 5.97 and closed at 5.95. The general market closed steady at net gains of 5 to 8 points.

The opening was steady 2 to 3 points higher in response to the rather better showing of Liverpool and a tendency to cover short contracts after recent declines.

Prices reached the best levels of the day in the late trading when covering was a little more active. December advanced to 5.90 and May to 6.35, but the close was a shade off from the best under realizing. The price movements were considered largely the result of technical conditions.

Liverpool cables said that foreign buying had been supplied by liquidation in that market and reported fair sales of cotton cloths for shipment to Egypt. Exports today 62,780 making 3,339,578 so far this season. Port receipts 38,283.

Futures closed steady, 5 to 8 points higher; spot quiet; middling, 6.05.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Extreme quiet again featured the cotton market in today's session. Prices while showing a slight early downward trend owing to weakness in stocks fluctuated narrowly within a few points most of the day but rallied at the end.

Cables were about as due and the market opened practically unchanged.

The market was firmer in the afternoon owing to some recovery in stocks and good exports and made new highs for the day, 10 to 12 points above the lows. The close was steady showing net advances for the day of 7 to 10 points.

Liverpool is due to come in tomorrow 4 to 5 penny points higher on New Orleans.

Liverpool cables came in 1 penny point worse than due but bar silver in London closed at 20 3-16d up 7-16d. Private cables stated that there was foreign buying which was met by long liquidation owing to steadier sterling. Manchester cabled that there was fair cloth sales to Egypt.

The close was at the top with the active months showing net gains for the day of 7 to 8 points.

Port receipts 29,707; for week 166,834; for season 5,532,230; last season 6,447,849. Exports 57,980; for week 303,873; for season 3,278,176; last season 3,385,970; port stock 4,663,424; last year 4,259,907; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 151,165; last year 162,595. Spot sales at southern markets 22,568; last year 20,945.

Futures closed steady at net declines of 7 to 10 points:

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 10. (INS)—Spots cotton was in fair demand at the opening today, with prices easier. The receipts amounted to 28,000 bales.

At midday, middling fair was quoted at 6.39d; strictly good middling 5.94d; good middling 5.34d; strictly middling 5.39d; middling 5.29d; strictly low middling 5.24d; low middling 5.14d; strictly good ordinary 4.94d; and good ordinary 4.64d.

Futures were quiet, with Jan. at 4.94d; March 4.92d; May 4.92d; July 4.93d.

Bonds Lead General Market Slump on Nervous Selling

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (US)—Bonds declined more than a point on the average today, their loss exceeding the net depreciation in leading stocks. The same persistent selling as recently was in evidence in both markets. Shares in which the short account is estimated to be largest enjoyed modest recoveries from the lowest prices of the day, but both stock and bond lists reached new lows for the bear market.

It was difficult to trace the selling incentive to any particular development, except that it is becoming more evident daily that nervousness over intangible expectations is playing a prime role in current liquidation. That liquidation is responsible for the market's action cannot be disputed, even though short-selling is reported to be showing some increase as speculative traders attempt to capitalize day-to-day fluctuations. The volume rose substantially in stocks to 2,700,000 shares, against 2,300,000 the previous day and 1,600,000 shares Tuesday.

Selling of bonds as persistently as has been the case of late can only be ascribed to investment liquidation, and the banks presumably figure in such selling. There is a revival of the desire for liquidity which seemingly dictates the policy of various banking organizations. At the same time the market discloses the existence of seemingly large-scale buying orders in various stocks. This is evidenced by the lack of disorder even as sizeable selling takes place. Such buying invariably, however, is only on a scale downward.

Chicago news on the railroad wage question was rather confusing. The railroad men's leaders finally publicly emphasized their bitterness at suggestions that they take the wage cut in order to help out railroads whose difficulties come in large part from over-capitalization. He might also have mentioned the unwarranted and very liberal purchasing of non-aligned roads' stocks, which probably accounts for a great part of the current financial difficulties of various roads. It was reported that the railroad managements, in their desperation to force a "voluntary" wage reduction, are threatening privately to reduce their working forces an additional 10 per cent should the unions turn down a wage cut. What this would mean, should the unions prove equally vicious, was hardly heartening to the market. The main hope apparently lies in some sort of compromise, with financial difficulties, it is to be hoped, alleviated by a revolving fund or similar measure.

The market found it difficult to move against the news, especially dividend announcements which were uniformly discouraging. International Telephone & Telegraph lowered its rate to 15 cents for the quarter, against 25 cents previously, but this might be described as somewhat better than expectation, since an omission of payments had been forecast in some quarters. I. T. & T. however has only a slim margin of surplus to protect the new payment against continuance of the depression. Southern Railway joined the growing list of carriers which have suspended payments both on common and preferred. The "Monon" road also omitted both dividends; the Mobile & Ohio likewise. Similar dividend announcements were made by various other companies.

In its present mood, the market was not disposed to pay much attention to possibly significant bullish factors; thus it ignored Washington advices to the effect that "volume of industrial production during 1932 is expected to advance approximately 15 per cent over the present levels, it was said on behalf of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon." Then, too, there was a suggestion that the railroad executives have approached Washington with a view to formation of a $500,000,000 revolving fund to help the carriers.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10. (AP)—Cash grain demand fair.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate or group three points, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 55@59c; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 60@61c; 14 per cent protein 64@65c; 15 per cent 66@68c; 16 per cent 72@73c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 43@44c; No. 2 white 44@45c; No. 2 yellow 46½@47½c.

Barley—No. 3 nominally 41@46c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per hundred pounds 68@70c; No. 2 kaffir 68@70c.

Basis delivered Texas group three: Oats, No. 2 red 35½@36½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Insistent reports that Russia's wheat and potato crops had turned out practically a total failure imparted activity and strength to the wheat market late today. Earlier the grain pits had been responsive largely to bearish action of securities and to anxiety about possible adverse trade exchange legislation at Washington. Tending to confirm bullish crop advices from Russia was the fact that Russian wheat exports this week had dropped to only 530,000 bushels, against 2,416,000 the corresponding time last year.

Wheat closed nervous, ¼@⅝c higher than yesterday's finish, corn ¼@⅜c up, oats unchanged to ⅛c off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents down. Reports about Russian crop failures included statements that widespread starvation this winter was threatened, and that four boat loads of wheat originally shipped from Odessa for sale abroad had been brought into Petrograd for home use. The advices purported to rest on authority of American engineers in Russia.

Corn and oats met with improved buying support on price setbacks. Receipts of corn continued meager and corn belt weather unfavorable for crop movement.

Provisions sympathized with new low record quotations on hogs.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Dec. 51⅞c; May 53½@54c, 56⅛@⅛c; July 51⅞@52c, 54⅞@⅞c.

Corn—Dec. 34⅞c bids; March 38⅞c, offers; May 39⅞@⅞c, 40⅞c; July 41@41⅛c, 42⅞c.

CITY WARS ON PARK HUNTERS

Squirrels and Birds Reported Killed

Prosecution to the maximum extent of the law is promised by city officials for any persons discovered carrying firearms in Weeks or Scotland park, or killing birds or animals in either of those places, according to information given The Record News Thursday evening.

Residents near Weeks park have reported this week that numerous persons, white men as well as negroes, have been killing squirrels in Weeks park. One man was said to have been seen carrying six squirrels which he presumably had shot in the park.

Weeks park is supplied with many squirrels, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent. The animals have become very tame, he said, and would fall easy prey to any hunter. There are also a number of quail in the park, he said, and efforts are being made to protect them so that they may multiply, using the park as a "game preserve." It was reported that hunters also have endeavored to shoot quail in the park.

The city's rules absolutely forbid the carrying of firearms of any kind in the city parks, it was explained. Heretofore, officials said, there has been no known need for invoking those rules. A drastic campaign is to be waged now, it was announced, to apprehend any persons carrying guns or hunting within the parks.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare, costs little, and saves money, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Past Presidents of C-C to Lead Business Council Program Today

Talks by the past presidents of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will feature the business council luncheon at the Kemp hotel here Friday noon.

Of the 13 past presidents who have served the organization since its founding in 1906, at least nine are expected to be present for the meeting. Twelve past presidents still are living, all but two residing in Wichita Falls.

A brief memorial service will be held for Charles W. Bean, the chamber's first president from 1906 to 1909, who died in 1929.

Each past president attending the luncheon will talk briefly on the past or present of Wichita Falls history, after which the meeting will be turned into a round table discussion.

The meeting Friday will be the final of the year, and until the reorganization of the council in February.

Past presidents other than the late Mr. Bean are as follows: Judge R. E. Huff, 1909-19; N. H. Martin, 1920; T. B. Noble, 1921; G. C. Wood, 1922; W. D. Cline, 1923; A. H. Britain, 1924; J. T. Harrell, 1925; J. C. Mytinger, 1926; C. E. McCutchen, 1927; C. I. Francis, 1928; Orville Bullington, 1929, and J. S. Bridwell, 1930.

Few 'Black Sheep' Found in Ranks Of Railroad Workers, Says Writer

Katy Dispatcher Declares Long Cotton Trucks Are Menace To Public and to Highways of State

Editor The Record News: I want to protest the manner in which the story about the difficulty between the driver of a cotton truck and two other men that occurred on the Henrietta road last night was written up, that is, as it reflects upon railroad men of this city.

I have lived in Wichita Falls for 15 years, having been employed by the M-K-T railway during this time, know practically every railroad man in Wichita Falls, and knew the moment that I read the story that no man employed by any railroad in Wichita Falls was involved except that in some remote case, as there is always a black sheep strays into almost every flock. Railroad men do not very often have as much as five or six gallons of liquor in their automobile at one time for if they did they would not be railroad men very long.

I think the reporter that wrote this story should have taken just a little more time and made a closer investigation to ascertain just who these parties were before he called them railroad employes, and should have given their names; then we would have known who it was. However, it did not take us long to find out, and also to find out just what brought about the difficulty as this was not the only automobile that this particular truck had crowded off the highway on this particular trip.

The railroad men of this city as well as of the state of Texas had enough forethought to see the dangers these long cotton trucks would bring about to the public, and tried to get some laws passed whereby the public would be protected from personal injuries as well as keeping the public highways from being damaged to an extent that they would be useless to the public, but they have been hampered by the demagogues to such an extent as to render their efforts almost useless.

Yours truly, G. C. PYLE,
Chief Dispatcher, M-K-T Railway.

Autogiro Plane To Land at Kell Airport Sunday

Nelson Greene, representative of the Beech-Nut Packing company, of Canajoharie, N. Y., has been in Wichita Falls making arrangements for the coming of the Beech-Nut autogiro to Wichita Falls Sunday, Dec. 13, when it will arrive at Kell field, the Municipal airport, at 2:15 p. m.

Frank Faulkner, giro ace, is flying the "windmill," and he will bring it here after a tour of the state of Oklahoma, which ends with a "sit down" at Ardmore Sunday, between 12:30 and 1 p. m. The Beech-Nut autogiro will fly from there to Wichita Falls, via Waurika. Tuesday, Dec. 15, the giro will take off from the local field at 2 p. m. landing in Fort Worth at 3:45.

Manager Fulcher Armstrong of the airport is cooperating to make the giro's stay in Wichita Falls a success.

SCHOOL FUND NEEDS $550

December Goal Within Reach Today

Thirteen additional receipts for 1931 school taxes were issued to Wichita Falls firms and individuals by City Tax Collector W. R. Hyer Thursday, adding $293.35 to the funds available for operation of the city's public schools.

Thursday's payments brought the total received this month to $26,450.55, leaving a shortage of but $550 to meet the needs of the school board as of Dec. 5.

Since Oct. 1, when payment of 1931 school taxes began, there has been paid a total of $149,217.75. Those making payments Thursday were Wichita Falls Building and Loan association, H. J. Kitchens, J. R. Kitchens, Otis Elevator company, Becky Brettler, Carter McGregor, J. M. Brown, E. C. Gilbert, J. L. Russell, Homer Jones, T. M. Strawn, Sudie Hall, Louise Bristol, W. E. Bristol.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED

Painful although not serious injuries were received by John M. Kennedy, 103 Third street, early Thursday when he was knocked to the pavement by an automobile driven by Mrs. R. C. Campbell, 1217 North Tenth street, as he crossed the street at the intersection of Sixth street and Ohio avenue. The man was given first aid attention at the Wichita General hospital and was released. Herbert Pogue, motorcycle officer, investigated the accident.

Boys Club Gives Rotary Program

Members of the Wichita Falls Boys' club evidenced a wide variety of talent and training in a program presented before its sponsor, the Rotary club, at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

Under the direction of Marvin Robertson and George Taylor, 15 of the youngsters entertained the Rotarians with a half-hour of musical, dancing and athletic numbers. The following features were included: Boxing, Ervin Lewis and Glenn Smith; violin and guitar duet, Leon Gibbs and Will Guyton; quartet selections, Fred Moore, Loren Key, Tom Wisdom, and J. T. Phillips; tap dance, Robert Jones; two songs by the boys' glee club, directed by Mr. Taylor.

Members of the chorus offering the "Boys' Club Song," written by Mr. Taylor, were Wilburn Burrows, Ervin Lewis, Glenn Smith, Leo Lewis, Leon Gibbs, Samuel Gibbs, Nathaniel Gibbs, T. D. Crawford, Oliver Burrows, Ted Gore, Will Guyton, Robert O. Jones, Loren Key, Tommy Wisdom and J. T. Phillips.

Dick Lindsey, formerly of Duncan, Okla., was introduced as a new member, his classification being that of natural gas distributor. L. H. Estes, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Death Claims Father Of Dr. P. B. Stokes

Dr. Paul B. Stokes of the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital was called to Crockett, Texas, Thursday by the sudden death there of his father, Dr. E. B. Stokes. The elder Dr. Stokes has been a practicing physician at Crockett for many years.

First Complete Autogiro Demonstrations in Wichita Falls. Beech-Nut Gum Autogiro No. 2 at Municipal Airport from Sunday, Dec. 13, at 2:15 p. m.; Monday, Dec. 14; Tuesday, Dec. 15 at 2:00 p. m., when it will take off for Fort Worth.

Beech-Nut Gum Autogiro No. 2, before taking off on 30,000 mile tour over ten states, from Canajoharie, N. Y., home of the Beech-Nut Packing Company, makers of "Foods and Confections of Finest Flavor," weather permitting.

Beech-Nut GUM AUTOGIRO No. 2

FRANK FAULKNER, Pilot
WILL LAND AT
KELL FIELD, (MUNICIPAL AIRPORT), WICHITA FALLS
Sunday, Dec. 13, at 2:15 p. m.

You are cordially invited to be present at the landing of Beech-Nut Gum Autogiro No. 2 and to see its later takeoffs, flights and landings. This is the giro in which Amelia Earhart completed the latter part of the first transcontinental Autogiro round trip. Both Miss Earhart's and Pilot Faulkner's tours are sponsored by the Beech-Nut Packing company of Canajoharie, N. Y.

The Beech-Nut Autogiro No. 2 is not an airplane but a new and distinctive type of aircraft, depending solely on its great self-operating rotor blades for its soaring and sustaining qualities. It promises to become the safe, popular and practical aircraft of the future. Since Juan de la Cierva, the Spanish inventor, saw his first practical giro fly in 1923, there has never been a fatality in an Autogiro.

See Pilot Faulkner's splendid demonstrations of flying in the Beech-Nut Gum Autogiro No. 2—short takeoffs, steep climbs, speeds of 20 to 120 miles per hour, still stands in the air, vertical descents with little or no runs.

The school children of Wichita Falls and vicinity are cordially invited to see the Beech-Nut Gum Autogiro, as it furnishes an object lesson in the latest great advance in aviation.

WEATHER PERMITTING
