FIFTH BIRTHDAY TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Black, 2602½ Avenue H, are shown here celebrating their fifth birthday together today. Actually they were born in 1932, he in Snyder and she in Brownfield.

RomanEmperor Is Responsible For Leap Year

Few Snyder residents realize that Julius Caesar has made profound mark on many persons' lives. But for him, many males might yet be single, and at least three Snyderites would be four times older than they are today. Caesar started this business of leap year.

Close to 2,000 years ago, Caesar was having trouble with his calendar—since each year had 365¼ days, he decided to find a place for that extra one-fourth day. So the Roman monarch decided to let the extra hours add up until they amounted to a full day, then insert that day into the calendar. When he reformed the calendar, he gave every fourth February an extra day, which accounts for Feb. 29 every four years on our modern day calendars.

Perhaps the most unusual case of birthdays on Feb. 29 are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Black, 2602½ Avenue H, who were both born on the same day in 1932. Black was born in Snyder and Mrs. Black was born in Brownfield, but they have never yet decided which was born first, neither recalling their time of birth. Black is an attendant at the Burkett & Vandiver Service Station, and Mrs. Black is a cashier and clerk at J. C. Penney Co. During years other than leap year, the Blacks call Feb. 28 their birthday.

Taking his first leap today is young George Crowder, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmo Crowder, 709 Twenty - sixth Street.

Reds Told UN Will Not Back Down On Its Stand

Strong Statement To Chinese Today

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Allied truce negotiators bluntly told the Communists today: U.N. rejection of Soviet Russia as a member of a neutral supervisory commission was "firm, final and irrevocable."

A U.N. spokesman said the Allied statement was the "strongest since last July" when the Reds were warned that armistice negotiations would break down unless they abandoned demands for a cease-fire line on the 38th parallel.

The Communists replied in almost equally strong language that "any such attitude of arrogance and arbitrariness will be categorically rejected by our side."

Col. Don Darrow told the Reds: "I now tell you formally, unequivocably and with the fullest authorization that the U.N. Command's decision to reject the Soviet Union as a member of the neutral nation supervisory commission is final and irrevocable. Further debate on this subject is completely futile."

He said the decision was "absolutely firm and irrevocable. Under no circumstances will there be a change in the decision of the U.N. Command to reject the Soviet Union as a member of the neutral nations supervisory commission."

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U.N. spokesman, said Darrow's statement "would not be made without the prior knowledge of higher military levels.

"I think the next move is up to the Communists."

In an adjacent tent the subcommittee on prisoner exchange made little progress in its first session since Feb. 6. Staff officers turned the voluntary repatriation problem reaching virtual agreement on all other points of an exchange plan.

Subcommitteemen ironed out some minor disputes Friday but failed to break the voluntary repatriation deadlock.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Communists again brought up the Feb. 18 riot in a U.N. prison compound on Koje Island in which 75 Korean civilians were killed and 139 wounded.

The Reds charged that Allied guards "massacred their people with rifles, hand grenades and tanks.

U. S. Army authorities announced in Pusan that a seven-man military board headed by Col. Alexander M. Miller of Montclair, N. J., has completed its investigation of the Communist-led Koje riot. Results of the inquiry will not be released until the report is studied by higher authorities.

After the staff officer meeting, newsmen asked Nuckols whether Darrow's statement meant there would be no armistice unless the Communists back down on their insistence that Russia contribute to neutral behind-the-lines inspection teams.

"The statement speaks for itself," was Nuckols' only reply.

Staff officers discussing truce supervision and the prisoner exchange subcommittee will meet again at 11 a. m. Saturday in Panmunjom.

OUT OVER TAXES

French Trying To Form New Government All Over Again

PARIS (AP) — President Vincent Auriol dug into the haystack of French politics today, hunting a new Prime Minister who can find the money to pay France's share of Atlantic defense costs.

Premier Edgar Faure, 43-year-old mystery novelist, shucked off the job before dawn after the National Assembly turned down, 309 to 283, his plan to hike present taxes 15 per cent for rearmament. Faure rejected an alternative plan to impose a new one per cent sales tax.

He had formed his Cabinet on Jan. 20—only 40 days ago. He lost out on the second of 20 votes of confidence he had put before the Assembly.

Right wingers, led by the followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and including 28 members of Faure's own Radical Socialist party, tumbled the Premier and got first chance to set up a new government.

A Rightist coalition might agree on a new sales tax but would find the harness troublesome on other issues. The Gaullists, for example, strongly oppose the European army plan unless the nations in it federate politically first.

Faure had just returned from the Lisbon meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which endorsed the European army plan and where the United States promised France additional aid of 300 million dollars.

But Faure announced France would have to raise 55 billion francs (about 157 million dollars) to pay her part of increased defense costs.

Proposed income tax hikes were the core of objections to the tax bill.

A spokesman for Auriol, aware of the urgency of finding a new government, said the President would spend all day seeing political leaders and expected to wind up his conferences by evening.

That did not necessarily mean he would find a man willing to take on the premiership. And any new Premier would have to work out a program that would win Assembly approval before he could take office.

The Gaullists consider they have a right to leadership because they control the biggest bloc of deputies in the Assembly.

But their bloc is less than 20 per cent of the total assemblymen and a government requires the steady support of 50 per cent to stay in office.

Faure's 40-day term was shorter than usual even in this country of unstable cabinets, and the country's economic and financial situation has been nosediving.

Dust Instead Of Rain Over Most Of State

By The Associated Press

A dirty, dusty norther shoved along by high winds swept down through the Texas Panhandle Friday and promised to cool off — and dust up—a good part of the state.

The sun was temporarily blacked out by a sand storm at Vernon Friday morning as high north winds kicked up a real duster.

Gusts up to 65 miles an hour reduced visibility at Wichita Falls to three miles at 9:30 a.m.

The Weather Bureau said there was no indication the norther would bring badly-needed precipitation. No rain was reported in Texas for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m.

Freezing temperatures were expected to cover the Panhandle, South Plains and upper Red River Valley before Saturday morning. The norther dropped Amarillo's temperature from 50 at 6:30 a. m. Friday to 36 at 9:30 a. m.

The dust pall was expected to be blown south and southeastward and reach the Dallas-Fort Worth area by mid-day Friday.

The weather bureau said there was no present indication the norther would raise new threats to the lower Rio Grande Valley vegetable crops, nipped a few days ago by frost.

At 9:30 a. m. Lubbock had visibility of six miles, blowing dust, and a west-northwest wind of 44 with gusts up to 50 miles an hour. Childress' visibility was a half mile at 8:30 a. m. with wind gusts to 60 miles per hour.

Thursday's high Texas temperature was 83, reported at Austin, Corpus Christi and Laredo. The low for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. today was 38 at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle—but by 9:30 a. m. Dalhart's reading had fallen to 33 as the norther swept through.

N. R. Clements, 40, of 3005 Avenue U, a life - long resident of Snyder, has announced for city councilman of Ward No. 2, and J. Elmo Crowder, incumbent, announced for councilman of Ward No. 3, in the election to be held April 1.

Clements is married and has two daughters, one four months old and the other four years old. Until recently he operated theaters here. He now manages real estate.

He is running for the office which has been vacant since Ernest Taylor resigned last year.

Crowder was elected in a special election Sept. 18 to fill the unexpired term of Ivan Gatlin, who resigned from the council to become superintendent of the fire department.

The incumbent is the second man to announce for the office which will be filled along with four other elective city offices in the city general election April 1.

The 42 - year - old candidate is a partner in Crowder - Hall Drug on the East Highway at Avenue F. He is married and has three children. A member of the American Legion and the Baptist Church he has been a druggist in Snyder for the past 16 years except for two years in the Navy during World War II.

He is opposed by Ennis Floyd, automobile salesman, who announced for the office Wednesday.

Tomorrow at noon is the deadline for filing as candidate in the city election.

Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, dentist and president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced as a candidate yesterday for councilman from Ward No. 1, north Snyder.

A. M. McPherson, city recorder, announced for re - election to that post earlier this year.

Tank Raid On Reds Is Made

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 29 (AP)—A powerful force of Allied tank raiders smashed through the former Red supply base of Kumsong today and blasted Chinese entrenched north of the city.

Another group of raiding U. N. tanks fought it out with Chinese artillery and mortars on the western front.

The big tank strike through Kumsong on the central front was supported by eight inch howitzers and a 155 mm. self-propelled gun.

The two-pronged strike battered the Reds for more than three hours.

One prong rumbled right through Kumsong and, in the words of one Allied officer, "shot the living hell out of" Chinese hidden in the hills beyond the city.

The second prong blasted Chinese east and south of the ruined base.

Some of the 46-ton General Patton tanks were damaged. But others took them in tow and pulled them back to their bases when the raiders broke off the fight this afternoon.

It was a big strike in the generally quite Korean War. But censorship prevented disclosure of the number of tanks involved.

County Considers Rejecting All Bids On New Cogdell Hospital

The commissioners court yesterday afternoon deferred taking any action on bids submitted for the construction of the county hospital because lowest bids totaled about $100,000 more than was anticipated.

The court decided to consider the matter again Monday, at which time it is to confer with D.M. Cogdell, benefactor on the project.

Twenty - three bids were presented by about 100 representatives of general contractors, electrical companies, and firms bidding on plumbing, heating, and air conditioning. Each of the five biddings on general construction included multiple alternates, two of which had 12 alternate bids each in addition to their base bids, the other three having eight alternate bids each. Alternate bids were also given by the companies bidding on electrical and mechanical phases.

13 - BED WING

The main alternates were on a 13-bed wing to increase the size of the project from a 37-bed hospital—which is the maximum approved by the state health department for federal aid—to a 50-bed project.

The approximate total of low bids for the hospital as a 50-bed project was $890,000. The figure for 37 beds was slightly more than $786,000. In addition to construction costs, however, there would also be an architect and engineering fee of six per cent, a contingency of about three per cent, cost of site surveying, and cost of some special equipment, all of which would run the total cost near $1 million.

COULDN'T PAY

If present low bids are accepted, the county will lack more than $100,000 to complete the project as a 50-bed hospital.

The county voted April 1, 1950, to issue up to $400,000 in bonds to be matched by an equal amount of federal funds for construction of the hospital and a health unit building. Of the $800,000 total, $82,000 been designated for the health unit, leaving $718,000 for the hospital. To this amount, however, is credited $100,000 promised as a cash donation to the county by D. M. Cogdell, after whom the project is named and who also donated the site.

Ray D. Kitchens of the Kitchens Construction Co. of Austin, low bidder on the project as a 50-bed unit, told the court he believed about $85,000 could be trimmed from the general construction cost if the county wanted to substitute lower - cost materials and cheaper types of windows, roof, flooring, and other things. He said he would investigate to determine how much could be saved.

OTHER BIDS

Low bidder on electrical work for the 50-bed project was F&S Electric Co., Lubbock, and the low on plumbing, heating, and ventilation was by A. P. Kasch & Son of Big Spring.

Base bids on general construction ranged from $672,233 to $730,000; the range on mechanical was $237,000 to $297,000; and the electrical bid range was from $52,784 to $95,995.

Present in the meeting besides bidders were Herbert Brasher and M. C. Butler of the Butler-Brasher Engineering Co., Lubbock, architects on the project, and H. M. Bohn, engineer for the survey and construction division of the state health department.

Union Ordered Murder, Says Ex-Organizer

WISE, Va., Feb. 29 (AP) — A discharged official of the United Mine Workers Union has charged he was ordered by a "personal agent" of John L. Lewis to murder two non-union coal operators.

Charles Minton, Norton, the fired UMW field representative, made the charges in a $350,000 damage suit against the union and the union's district 28. The suit was filed yesterday. It claims his earning power was impaired.

Minton, dismissed Nov. 8, said the murders were ordered because a UMW program to unionize a number of small coal mines in the Wise area was bogging down.

Minton charged he refused to follow an order by Tony Boyle, "agent extraordinary for the UMW and a personal agent for John L. Lewis" to murder Harry L. Turner and C. P. Fugate, both of Wise. The men are owners of the non-union Gladeville Coal Company whose efforts to organize were resisted strongly.

More Snow In Hard Hit New England Areas

BOSTON (AP)—Cape Cod, which has not yet dug out of the worst storm to hit the summer vacation belt in this generation, got another snowfall today—but it wasn't expected to be as devastating as Wednesday's paralyznig blow.

The Weather Bureau said the new fall, starting about dawn, would end late in the afternoon and add about three inches of snow to the 14 to 20 inches which crippled the area.

The district forecaster said the new snowfall may extend from the Cape as far as Boston.

Wednesday's storm left drifts as high as 12 feet and isolated the Cape for 16 hours. Officials of Cape Cod towns say it may be several days before the majority of roads are even passable and before full utilities services are restored.

Some 10,000 homes were left without light and heat, all roads were blocked, scores of motorists were marooned, and only emergency telephone service was available.

Fourteen persons lost their lives in the storm throughout Southern New England but none of the other areas was hit as hard as the Cape.

An army of approximately 5,000 persons went to work immediately after the storm subsided to restore more nearly normal living conditions.

Early today, about 25 per cent of the Cape's homes were still without electric power. Main roads were open to one-lane width but 90 percent of the secondary roads were still impassable.

Acheson On Radio Tonight To Appeal For More Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson carries to the country tonight his appeal for support of more billions for foreign aid. He is expected to emphasize that progress in European rearmament amply justifies American help.

The State Department arranged maximum radio and television presentation of Acheson's speech on short notice to get it to the largest number of people.

The department said the speech would be broadcast by CBS, NBC and Mutual and telecast by Dumont at 9:30 p. m. (EST). In addition it will be telecast at 11:15 by NBC television network and rebroadcast by ABC radio network at 11:30. The speech will run about 30 minutes.

Acheson's immediate purpose is to report on decisions regarding German rearmament and the European defense buildup reached during his just-completed mission to London and Lisbon.

In so doing he will be launching a campaign for public support of the administration's foreign aid program which soon must stand the test of getting funds from Congress.

Yesterday Acheson gave the House Foreign Affairs Committee a private report on his work abroad. Chairman Richards (D-SC) said later the committee had received complete details of Acheson's talks with British, French and German foreign ministers in London and with ministers of the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Council in Lisbon.

Richards said he thought Acheson and those with him had done a "fine job" and that Acheson "realizes that we are not yet out of the woods" on solving Europe's defense problems.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said Acheson left a feeling of "cautious optimism" over the possibilities of uniting Europe.

The big point which Acheson has stressed since his return Wednesday is that the progress which has been made is so great as fully to justify American support and financial encouragement.

This is expected to be the theme of his talk tonight. His great concern has been over the fact that the defense projects in which this country and its allies are engaged have reached a critical point in an American election year when Congress may be expected to question almost all kinds of appropriations.

Intensified Efforts To Head Off Strike After Postponement

WASHINGTON Feb. 29 (AP)—Federal Conciliator Cyrus S. Ching today promised "intensified" efforts to produce a compromise and head off the nationwide oil strike now set for March 2.

Ching won a week's postponement last night from a coalition representing the CIO oil workers and AFL and independent unions.

He said a strike would have an "immediate" effect on millions of auto drivers, would hamper or stop production at every big refinery and would strike a blow at the defense program.

The unions, in agreeing to a postponement, warned oil companies "must accept the status quo" and not use the week for "hiring strikebreakers or preparing for their maintenance within struck plants."

Morrow, national Democratic committeeman from Texas, made his stand shortly after Russell announced his candidacy yesterday.

Gov. Shivers said he would be "highly pleased" to see Texans support Russell.

Federal Grand Juries Outline Rise Of Crime Through State

By The Associated Press

Texas citizens were asked Friday to fight crime which a Federal Grand Jury at Waco said it found is increasing generally in the Southwest "at an alarming rate in many fields."

"A tremendous increase in narcotic traffic" was reported Thursday by the grand jury.

"Unless the public does become more aroused, there can be little progress against the crime situation," the jury reported to U. S. Judge Ben H. Rice.

Meanwhile, a Houston grand jury investigating crime in South Texas prepared to hear state Rep Charles Murphy, Houston, tell what he knows about racketeering. Murphy is a member of the Legislature's Committee investigating crime.

Ten or 20 persons other than law enforcement officers will be called to testify at Houston.

The Waco jury found evidence of laxity among peace officers "very rare" and reported "some evidence of connection between crime in the southwest and national crime figures."

Its recommendations include state legislation:

1. Re-establishing the narcotics division of the State Department of Public Safety with funds to operate it.

2. Outlawing the sale and indiscriminate use of new types of narcotics unknown at the time present laws were passed.

3. Making drug addiction a misdemeanor so suspended sentences could be given addicts and treatment provided for them.

The group urged a study of local crime by other grand juries.

Crime suppression in Texas depends "on the wishes and desires of the public," Jury Foreman George O. Jones said in a statement. He added that nothing indicated Waco was a "crime center."

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Weinheimer, El Campo, Tex., were indicted on charges of income tax evasion for 1945. The jury said he reported an income of $11,000 that year when his income actually was more than $29,000.

The Houston grand jury heard Homer Garrison, Texas Department of Public Safety director; A. F. Lorton, FBI agent in charge at Houston; P. A. Williams, Houston district supervisor of the Federal Narcotics Bureau; Chief of Police L. D. Morrison; Vice Squad Captain George Seber; Customs Agents John J. Givens, Laredo, Al Scharff, Houston, and Bernard McLeaish, Brownsville.

Friday it will hear Secret Service Agent John Rice, Sheriff Frank Biaggne, Galveston, and James Decuir, special agent of the Internal Revenue Bureau's intelligence unit.

None of those appearing would discuss what they told the jury.

Garrison spoke generally of crime.

He said there is less gambling in Texas now than he has ever seen. He added that unorganized crime is increasing.

Sheriff Biaggne said there was no real crime in Galveston County.

He added: "I keep Galveston clean."

A few minutes later Garrison replied to a question that there was only one place in Texas now where there is any real amount of gambling.

"You know where that is," he said.

Quick Rally Behind Sen. Russell Today

ATLANTA, Feb. 29 (AP)—A large bloc of Southern Democrats pointed today to Sen. Russell of Georgia as a presidential aspirant behind whom they could rally at their strongest in their fight against President Truman and his civil rights program.

Russell announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination yesterday.

The decision represented a personal triumph for Gov. Talmadge, Georgia; Gov. Byrnes, South Carolina, and Sen. Byrd (D-Va).

These three men have fought for Russell's candidacy for almost a year. They have been supported in their anti-Trumanism by Gov. Shivers, Texas.

They expect eight southern states to form the Russell-for-president bloc—Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, South Carolina, Louisiana, Florida, Virginia and Texas.

In a showdown scrap, they believe North Carolina will join.

Russell's action promptly drew support from Talmadge, Gov. Battle, Virginia; Byrnes, Gov. White, Mississippi, and Shivers.

Gov.-elect Robert Kennon, Louisiana, said only he opposed Mr. Truman and would keep in touch with such men as Byrnes, White and Byrd.

Gov. Browning, Tennessee, had no comment. He is supporting Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). Other Southern governors could not be reached for comment.

Russell's supporters are counting on using the eight Southern states' 92 electoral votes to bargain for the defeat of Mr. Truman and the civil rights program.

They say they also hope to force the national party to set up a ticket and a platform acceptable to the South.

Single Persons Differ On Best Qualities For Brides

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—Millions of lovelorn single girls are moping this leap year day because they aren't among the harried married.

"What does it really take to win a husband?" they wonder.

The answer to this has stumped soothsayers and psychiatrists. Scientists have been unable to come up with a test tube solution.

Now business is trying to solve the problem. For the creation of new families is becoming more and more important to industry. If people quit getting married, the nation would soon smother with unsold refrigerators, washing machines and layettes.

I have at hand the results of a little business research into the matrimonial field. It is a survey made by a home permanent manufacturer.

SEXES DISAGREE

This firm polled about 100 guys and 100 gals on this question: "What are the five most important weapons in a girl's arsenal needed to get her man and make 1952 a successful leap year?"

The returns are in and, I must say, very distressing. The disturbing truth is that there are dramatic and fundamental differences of opinion between the sexes on just what qualities a man looks for in a mate.

Even where there were areas of agreement, the emphasis differed. Both sexes agreed the girl ought to be well-groomed and attractive in appearance. But the girls themselves stressed neatness, while the bachelors voted heavily for more definite feminine allure.

"Pleasing personality" was high on the men's list; the women voted for "charm," and just what that covers remains a mystery.

The ability to cook rated near the top with the lads, but the lassies hardly even mentioned the kitchen art.

DREAD LOQUACITY

Many men put down "a sense of humor." The girls worded it more often "the ability and willingness to humor him."

In general the bachelor girls pictured the prospective bride as a nice clean girl—it was amazing how many mentioned cleanliness—in love with hearth and home, conversationally gifted and so informed about her husband's business affairs she could even help him figure out his income tax.

This ideal bride, seen through the men's eyes, however, could best be portrayed as Rita Hayworth with her vocal chords removed, standing in a boudoir with a frying pan in her hand.

The difference between the sexes showed up most clearly in the matter of conversation. Most women were dreamily sure men yearn for a wife to "be able to discuss many subjects intelligently," be "a good conversationalist," or "a lively talker."

The fellows themselves, on the other hand, showed a morbid dread of wifely loquacity, or, as they put it, "nagging." One said flatly:

"She should remember that the less she has to say, the less she will have to explain."

Rotarians Hear School Students At Meeting

The Rotary Club was host yesterday to Miss Vera Periman, homemaking teacher at the high school, and a group of their students, who presented a program to the club.

The students told club members of their work in classes and the purpose of the Future Homemakers of America organization.

Charles Gibson of Sun Pipeline was taken in as a new Rotary member at the meeting.

Demonstration Of Portable Lung Set Here

More than half of the $1,255 needed for the purchase of a portable iron lung has been raised, and the fund drive will be climaxed by a demonstration of the lung Saturday.

The respirator will be placed in the show window of the J. M. McDonald store Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and will remain there throughout the day for a demonstration to the public.

The drive is sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, assisted by the Shrine Club. Hilton Lambert, drive chairman and commander of the American Legion, said this week that the clubs hope to raise the remainder of the money needed to pay for the lung, which is already stationed at Bolger - Barnes Funeral Home for use of any person within reach of the ambulance.

Saturday's demonstration will begin when a model patient will be taken onto the square in an ambulance, escorted by police, highway patrol, and fire department. The patient will be carried from the ambulance to the window of McDonald's along with the lung, to show the effectiveness of the portable use.

Donations will be taken during the demonstration, and a narrator will explain the use of the respirator while it is in operation.

Fund workers urged those who wish to donate to call 3-3533, and they will go to the donor's residence to pick it up.

Land Case Is Nearly Over

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 29 (AP)—A damage suit trial against several Rio Grande Valley development firms, Lloyd M. Bentsen Sr. and Elmer Bentsen was expected to end today.

Plaintiffs, eight out-of-state individuals, ended their arguments yesterday.

The Bentsen brothers were charged by plaintiff attorneys as perpetrators of a scheme to hoodwink out - of - state buyers. The charges were leveled as the trial entered its third week.

Plaintiff Atty. Garland Smith alleged the Bentsens employed three development firms to send agents "all over the United States" looking for persons to buy Ramseyer Gardens lots.

Plaintiffs have charged the lots were sold as irrigated land when in reality they were "dry land acreage."

A Mercedes agricultural chemist, William G. Godby, testified he had analyzed drainage ditch water used for irrigating Ramseyer Gardens and considered it safe for citrus grove irrigation.

Suspect In Murder Case In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 29 (AP)—Sheriff Owen Kilday today described a 45-year-old half-breed Indian as the "best suspect yet" in the unsolved slaying of Mrs. Florence Elder.

Mrs. Elder was slain on the night of Feb. 4. Her husband last night was attempting to identify a quantity of women's clothing found in the half-breed's shack as belonging to his wife.

Kilday accused the suspect of sexual perversion and said women the man had lured to his shack had complained to him.

NEW CONFERENCE BUILDING

The UN's new five-story conference building in New York was opened Wednesday with this meeting of the UN Trusteeship Council in the most unorthodox room in the structure which represents the last word in modernity. Most unusual features of this chamber are multi-colored lattice work suspended from the ceiling and a carpet with bright multi-colored stripes. The other two main chambers are considered a little less jolting, but all have the latest technical facilities. Russia made another unsuccessful effort to kick Nationalist China out of the Trustee Council, providing a brief show for the opening-day audience.

TEXAS BRANDS

By JOHN M. HENDRIX

There were many Hat brands in Texas and New Mexico but it is doubtful if any passed in size and importance the one founded by Colonel McKenzie and later owned by Winfield Scott and Sug Robertson, whose range was upon the southern plains of New Mexico with ranch headquarters near Monument, New Mexico.

The Hat cattle ranged from the Pecos eastward to the Texas line, south to the state line, and north just so far as a long driving southeast drizzle lasted. They closed out with the advent of settlers upon the New Mexico plains.

Ed Ramsay, range manager and now of Sweetwater, Texas, received a telegram one day to ship all the Hat heifers to Montana, which suddenly ended one of the greatest cow outfits in New Mexico. The exact date of the founding and operation of this gigantic ranch and the date upon which it finally ceased to exist are not available but it is supposed that it originated in the '80s and ceased operation in the late '90s. That Hat was registered prior to 1890 and was at its greatest importance between 1890 and 1895 when more than 50,000 cattled carried the brand

Standard Oil Co. of Texas is to drill the No. 2-7-S Mrs. Jessie W. Brown in the Brown - Cisco field about 10 miles north of Snyder. It is 1,038 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 439-97-H&TC. Projected depth is 6,300 feet.

Bar Appoints Panel For '52

Five committees on activites of the Scurry County Bar Association were set up for the year last night, and tentative plans were made for an afternoon legal clinic and banquet soon.

James Rosser, president, said exact date of the clinic and banquet are pending arrangement for a guest speaker. The clinic, however, will be held some afternoon in late March or early April, he said.

Members appointed on the grievances committee, a standing committee in the association, were Frank Sentell, chairman, C. E. McGaw, W. W. Park, and Renal Rosson. The committee investigates complaints within the organization, ethics, and conduct.

A legal assistance committee was set up to provide counsel for persons not financially able to employ attorneys. Committee members will investigate cases involving injuries to persons who cannot pay for legal counsel and whose recovery from suits would not be sufficient to pay for counsel and make recommendations to the association. Charity cases taken would be rotated among the association's membership. Those on the committee are Lloyd Davis, chairman, Clyde Wilbern, Garland Armstrong, and Keith Merrick.

The program committee will arrange for special programs and the regular monthly instructional program of the association. Members are Ross Hemphill, chairman, Gene Dulaney, Wayland Holt, J. Ray Martin, and Pat Beene. Instructional programs include discussion of new laws, amendments, and developments.

The membership committee, with H. J. Brice, chairman, Bob Davie, and George Killam, will examine applications for membership in the association and stimulate participation in the organization's activities.

The public relations committee is formed of Lawrence Dumas, chairman, J. E. Sentell, Robert R. Patterson, and Ben Thorpe.

Miss Vivian Reese of Brady, Mrs. W. H. Williamson of Rochelle, Tex. and Mrs. Cora Thaxton of Cherokee, Tex., were guests last week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barber Martin and Mrs. T. R. Martin, 2206 Thirty - second Street.

Miss Peggy Floyd, Wilber and Jerry Floyd, Colorado City Highway, were in Andrews to visit friends and relatives Monday and Tuesday.

Truck Fire North Of Here

A butane truck owned by the Cadenhead Butane Co. on the Lamesa highway west of Snyder, was partially destroyed by fire last night at the Buffalo Cafe 14 miles north of Snyder on the Clairemont road, Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said.

The fire destroyed the cab, front tires, and engine of the truck but the butane tanks on the truck did not catch fire, Gatlin said. The blaze was at about 8 o'clock last night.

Gatlin said the driver of the truck said the fire broke out under the hood of the truck when he started the motor as he prepared to leave the cafe.

A leaky gas line which carried butane to the truck engine was listed as the cause for the fire.

Gatlin added a warning to motorists, truckers, and operators of stationary engines that all gas lines should be regularly checked for leaks to prevent fires.

"This is the second truck fire we have been called outside the city limits on this week which were caused by leaky gas lines," he said.

The warning applies, too, to persons using butane to cook with or heat their homes, he said.

BurglaryCount On Youth Filed In Court Here

Two felony complaints charging burglary were filed here yesterday against a Dallas youth to take the place of a joint charge filed earlier against him and a juvenile companion.

Both are being held in Roby on Fisher county charges, and the older youth, James Woodie Carpertop, 21, was to be tried there today on a charge of burglary. After the trial there, he was to be taken to Dallas to face similar charges, after which a Scurry County warrant for his arrest will become effective and he is to be returned here, Leonard White, deputy sheriff, said.

In each place, he is charged with several counts of burglary of private residences. Here he is charged with breaking and entering a house occupied by Davis Dornell on Dec. 8 and another house occupied by John Stewart on Dec. 10. Charged with him in each of these cases were Robert Sanders, 16, also of Dallas, but the charges were withdrawn when it was learned he was a juvenile. The legal difference is at the age of 17.

No charge has been filed in county juvenile court here against Sanders, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said. Instead, he is to face charges in Roby, then be sent to Dallas for trial there. Keith L. Merrick, county attorney here, said. Merrick quoted Layton Webb, county attorney of Fisher County, as saying the sheriff's department of Dallas had made arrangements for their return to Dallas when their cases are finished there. Webb said both were charged with offenses in Rotan and Roby areas.

"What Almighty God Thinks About the Liquor Traffic"

IS THE SUBJECT OF T. GERALD CATES,
SUNDAY 8:30 A. M. KSNY

T. Gerald Cates

GOD SAID: "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise"—Prov. 20:1 (See also Proverbs 23:29-32).
"Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink: which justify the wicked for reward . . . " Isa. 52-23a.
"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him and makest him drunken...." — Habakkuk 2:15.

JESUS SAID: "And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and DRUNKENNESS . . . " Luke 21:34.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN SAID: "The liquor traffic is a cancer in society, eating out its vitals and threatening destruction, and all attempts to regulate it will aggravate the evil. There must be no attempt to regulate the cancer; it must be eradicated, not a root must be left behind, for until this is done, all classes must continue in danger of becoming victims of strong drink."

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID: In a letter dated March 31, 1789—"Drink in the new United States is the source of all evil and the ruin of half of the working men of the country."

He was jailed last night on a felony warrant issued in Fullerton, Calif., charging that he issued a $139 bank check with intent to defraud.

Opened Casket Of War Casualty Proves Worst Fears To Young Widow

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Peggy Paulsen, a widow at 19, yesterday found her worst fears confirmed when the coffin of her husband, slain in Korea, was opened as she prayed in a nearby room.

Mrs. Paulsen was hoping against hope that conflicting stories of how her husband, Robert, 21, was killed in Korea, Sept. 2, were all wrong. She had asked that the casket be opened, "just to be sure it's him."

"I'm satisfied it's Bob," a cousin, Robert Wing, told her as he came from the room at a local mortuary where Robert's body lay.

"Oh God! They killed him. They killed him," she gasped, then fell into the arms of her dead husband's brother.

After Material For Story He Was Writing

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The attorney, for a man accused of plotting to pirate Indian gold from Mexico in a bomber says his client did it to get material for an adventure story he is writing.

The lawyer, Jack L. Karen, said yesterday the manuscript may be used to show his client, Robert Lord III, 33, is the victim of a "gigantic frameup."

Lord and Glen Spaulding, 23, David Hutton, 33, and Lee Edmund Moore, 30, are charged with robbery, attempted robbery and kidnaping for the purpose of robbery.

Arraigned before Beverly Hills Municipal Judge Charles J. Griffin, they were ordered to return March 7 for preliminary hearing. Bail was set at $50,000 for Lord and $15,000 for the others.

They are accused of participating in four jewel robberies as part of a plan to collect $600,000 to purchase a surplus bomber to finance a gold-seeking expedition into Mexico.

Another suspect, Fred Marrato, 35, was arrested on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Lord, in the import business, and the others were seized by Detective Ray Borders, who joined the gang through a ruse and sprung a trap on them.

Borders said Spaulding told him they could sell a ton of gold for $1,800,000. Spaulding said he learned from a Yaqui chief that the Indians had 2,400 pounds of gold in a cache near a Nogales, Mex., reservation. Only $300 cash was realized from the jewel thefts.

Semor Rothenburg, 46, arrested at the same time as the others, was freed today. Karen said Rothenburg had a license permitting him to import gold. Rothenburg had been booked on suspicion of receiving stolen property.

GIRDERS

You must have girders to build a skyscraper. Only a mesh-work of steel can endure the weight, strain and atmospheric variations to which such a structure is subject.

And you must have girders to build a man . . . girders of faith and moral courage that will enable him to stand erect against the pressures and onslaughts of human experience.

The Church builds the girders into a man's life: In childhood it sets in place the mighty "uprights" that will mold his stature later. In youth it reinforces these with "cross-beams" that solidify his moral character. Day by day, all through adulthood, the Church "rivets" into their proper place the truths and ideals and aims that enable him to reach his full stature.

Faithfully, generously give strength to the Church. Faithfully and generously it is building strength into our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Foes At Lubbock Tourney Have Good Records Backing Them

Fifteen Snyder Tigers, District 5-AA champions, are in Lubbock today to meet the Levelland Lobos in the first match of the Region 1 tourney.

The tilt was to have started at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with Ernest Kinney matching his team's 18-12 record against Gano Tubb's squad record of 29-4.

The Levelland five has been favored throughout West Texas to win the right over the seven other teams to go to Austin and compete in the state tourney.

The only team met by both Snyder and Levelland this season was Brownfield which lost to the Lobos 51 - 42 and took second place in District 7-AA, and defeated the Tigers 43 - 38 in the Odessa High School tourney.

Levelland this season has defeated Canyon twice, 41 - 39, and 45-42, and Tahoka 67 - 28 and 68 - 41. Canyon represents District 2-AA in the regional matches, while Tahoka is there as champ of 6-AA.

Playing in the top bracket with Snyder and Levelland are Tahoka and Quanah (4-AA), which were to meet at 11 o'clock this morning. In the lower bracket are Phillips (1-AA) and Childress (3-AA), scheduled to meet at 7 o'clock tonight, and Kermit (8-AA) and Canyon, playing at 9:40 tonight.

Dimmitt, District 2-A winner, is favored to win the Class A tournament. The team was to meet Ozona (6-A) this morning. Winner of that game was to play the leader of the White Deer (1-A) and Clyde (7-A) game. Also scheduled for the first round are Abernathy (3-A) vs. Munday (8-A) and Denver City (4-A) vs. Reagan County of Big Lake (5A).

Levelland has compiled a total of 1,654 points against opponents' 1,116, while the Tigers finished with 1,288, to 1,063.

Among season records of other teams entered are Canyon, 21-4; Kermit, 8-5; Childress, 13 - 11; Phillips, 27-10, while Tahoka finished district play with a record of 7-1.

Schoolboys In Last Stages Of Basketball Play

By The Associated Press

Five series were all-square while in three others one team was ahead today as Texas schoolboy basketball moved toward determination of the 24 teams that will play in the state tournament at Austin next week.

In Class AAAA the situation is like this:

Borger beat Bowie (El Paso), 54-46, last night in the opening game of the series. They play at El Paso again tonight and tomorrow night, if a third game is necessary.

Poly (Fort Worth) and Sunset (Dallas) are all square as are Austin and Waco and Sam Houston (Houston) and Port Arthur.

Sunset evened the series last night by beating Poly, 37-35. The teams play the final in Dallas tonight. Austin squared the series with Waco by winning, 25-21. They play the third game at Waco tomorrow night. Sam Houston evened the series with Port Arthur by winning 37-33. They play the final in Houston tonight.

In Class AAA the situation is like this:

Lamesa defeated Brownwood, 55-34, Tuesday night in the opening game. They play the second tonight at Brownwood and the third, if needed, at Brownwood tomorrow night. Gladewater squared the series with Paris last night, 55-48. They play the third game at Commerce tomorrow night. Bryan whipped Galena Park, 75-56, last night to square the series. They play the final at Wharton tomorrow night. Alamo Heights (San Antonio) beat San Benito, 62-26, Wednesday night. They play the second game at Harlingen tonight and the third, if needed, at Harlingen tomorrow night.

Class AAAA and Class AAA each send four teams to the state tournament.

Classes AA and A will decide four teams each for the state tournament while Class B will pick eight in regional tournaments being held today and tomorrow.

Wants Only 1 Club In State

DALLAS, Feb. 29 (AP) — Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, thinks Texas should have only one club in pro football.

The head man of the NFL, here to visit owners of the Dallas Club —newest member of the league— said, "I believe Dallas should represent Texas and unless this thing gets a lot bigger, I think Dallas should be the only club in Texas."

Asked about speculation the Chicago Cardinals might be transferred to Houston, the league boss said the Cardinal owners told him they were not interested in selling their franchise. He added that the Cardinals had just signed a three-year lease on Comiskey Park where the team plays its home games.

The commissioner said Houston interests had offered more money for the club Dallas bought —the New York Yanks— than had Giles Miller and his Dallas associates. Asked why Dallas was chosen over Houston, Bell replied: "I have nothing to say about Houston — I'm in love with Dallas."

Bell said he believed the Dallas franchise would develop into one of the most valuable in the league.

Young Club Manager On Harlingen Team

HARLINGEN, Feb. 29 (AP)—Bob Hamric, new manager of the Harlingen Club of the Gulf Coast League, is one of the youngest skippers in organized baseball. He may be the youngest.

He won't be 24 years old until March 23.

Hamric was obtained in a trade with Monroe of the Cotton States League. He got his managerial Baptism in 1950 when he led the Del Rio Club in the Rio Grande Valley League.

Hamric was signed by the New York Yankee chain while in Southwestern University at Georgetown. He had a year's college eligibility left when he entered pro baseball.

White Sox Moving On To Pasadena, Calif.

EL CENTO, Calif. (AP)—Chicago White Sox pitchers and catchers—all but six, who will be left behind —depart today for their permanent spring training base in Pasadena, Calif.

Staying behind for five more days of special drills in charge of coach Lum Harris were pitchers Saul Rogovin, Luis Aloma, Chuck Stobbs, Ray Preston and Lou Kretlow and catcher Bud Sheely.

Cincinnati Hoping It Has Sleeper Pitcher

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Manager Luke Sewell is hopeful that he may have a "sleeper" among his new Cincinnati Reds pitching berth aspirants in young Joe Nuxhall.

Nuxhall is the Hamilton southpaw who first pitched for the Reds in 1944 when he was only 15 years old. He was too wild and inexperienced, however, and he's been in the minors. Last year he won 13 and lost 22 with Tulsa but his showing was good enough to bring about a return engagement with Cincinnati.

Kayser Looks Over His Track Men Yesterday

Coach Mule Kayser promoted one of the best track workouts of the year yesterday when about 30 boys were here from Hamlin and Colorado City to try relays and field events with the Tigers.

Kayser said that Red Berdette's Hamlin squad, which won the district meet last year, looks like a rough contender for the championship this year. Looking especially good, he said, is a half - miler from the Hamlin team.

After observing his boys in a month's workouts, Kayser has picked out events for several of the outstanding boys—Reagan White on the quarter - mile and low hurdles, Charles Osborne on high jump, Keith Pitner on the mile, Gerald Crawford on the 100 and 220, and Osborne, Kenneth Brotherton, and Don Blair on pole vaults.

The coach added that John Gary, who went to the state meet last year on the half mile, will again be working out on the cinder this season. Gary is now helping to round up the Tigers' basketball season at the Region I tourney at Lubbock. W. G. Birt, also now playing basketball, will be working on the discus and shot.

Kayser and his assistant, Horace Bostick, will take the team to Fort Worth March 14 for the Southwestern Field and Track Meet. Other meets to follow will be the Big Spring relays on March 22, Brady relays March 29, the district meet here April 5, and the West Texas Relays in Odessa later in April.

Cavarretta On County Payroll

CHICAGO (AP)—The name of Phil Cavaretta, manager of the Chicago Cubs baseball team, has turned up on the Cook County pay roll—but Cavarretta says he was not a "phantom" employe.

Cavaretta was listed on the forest preserve district records as a swimming pool manager from Dec. 22, 1947, to Feb. 29, 1948, at a salary of $250 a month.

At Mesa, Ariz., where the Cubs are holding spring training, Cavarretta said yesterday he "worked out for a brief period on a salary" but "carried out my job to the best of my ability." He said his chief function was "to address YMCA clubs and young peoples' groups."

"I can see nothing wrong in that," he added.

Cavarretta's name was discovered yesterday in an investigation of "phantom" county payrollers whose duties were uncertain.

The payroll probe followed the slaying of Charles Gross, 56, acting Republican committeeman in the 31st Ward. Gross was murdered on Feb. 6 after reportedly ignoring warnings to drop out of politics.

DiMaggio Names Five Pitchers Who Troubled Him More Than Others

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio looked back over his 15 years in the major leagues today and named five pitchers who haunted him more than any others.

The "big five" whom the retired Yankee clipper acknowledges he's happy to be rid of are:

Mel Harder, Cleveland.
Bob Lemon, Cleveland.
Dizzy Trout, Detroit.
Art Houtteman, Detroit.
Ellis Kinder, Boston Red Sox.

"There were many others who were tough and they seemed to get tougher for me as the years went by," DiMaggio said. "But these five fellows caused me the most trouble.

"I can't explain it. They all had a lot of stuff. They just had my number, I guess."

Vejar Picked Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP) — Chico Vejar, the collegiate clouter from Stamford, Conn., was a 9 to 5 favorite to run his latest winning streak to eight tonight at the expense of veteran Fitzie Pruden in the feature ten rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Worldwide Basketball Tourney In Air Force

OMAHA, Feb. 29 (AP)—Two favorites remained in the first worldwide Air Force basketball tournament today but a third was left behind after an upset at the hands of a crew of determined ball hawks from Japan.

The 33rd Air Division, Tinker Air Force Base, Okla., defeated Scotts Field, Ill., 77 to 50, in the first round last night. Tonight the 33rd takes on Memphis AFB which defeated 1807th AACS Wing, the European entry, 62 to 53.

Sheppard, whose starts include 1951 All-Americans Ernie Barrett of K-State and Don Dunderlage of Illinois, ousted March AFB in a breeze, 93-68.

Matched with Sheppard tonight are the Far Eastern All-Stars, whose hustling, shoot-on-the-run tactics last night snatched an 84-80 win from Sampson AFB, New York, the No. 1 favorite.

Gavilan Edges Out Another Opponent

BOSTON, Feb. 29 (AP) — Former choir singer Don Williams, Worcester, took everything Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan could throw as the latter gained a divided decision in their 10-round non-title boxing bout last night.

Spotting Gavilan one and three-quarters pounds at 147½, Williams survived two first-round knockdowns and fought back so stubbornly that the bout was even going into the finale. The "keed" from Cuba had to put on a furious final burst to sway Referee Tommy Rawson and Judge Joe Santarpio in his favor.

Mickey Mantle To Play In Two Platoon System

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla (AP) — Switch-hitter Mickey Mantle has the best chance of any New York Yankee outfielder to play regularly in manager Casey Stengel's two-platoon system.

"I'm naturally a right-handed hitter," said Mantle. "But I'm just as comfortable hitting left-handed."

SUCCESSOR FOR DIMAGGIO

Many baseball experts believe that the successor to Joe DiMaggio is the New York Yankees' center fielder will be either of these two youngsters. At left is Mickey Mantle, who zoomed into popularity last season, and at right is Jackie Jensen. They are shown at the Yankees spring training quarters in t. Petersburg, Fla. Both saw service with the Yankees and Kansas City in 1951.

29 Holdouts In Major Leagues As Training Start Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams and Ralph Kiner head a small but impressive list of major league stars who have not signed their 1952 contracts.

An Associated Press survey reveals that 29 players, 17 in the American League and 12 in the National who have not come to terms.

The majority will be classified as "holdouts" if they fail to sign by Saturday, the official start of spring training.

Five National League clubs, the champion New York Giants, the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds, Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, have all of their players in the fold. Only the Chicago White Sox in the American can make the same boast.

Williams, one of four Red Sox dickering for terms, is scheduled to appear at the Sox' Sarasota base Saturday for a conference with general manager Joe Cronin.

The high-salaried slugger is due to report to the Marines May 2 and is seeking a special contract to cover the period until he returns to service.

Infielders Billy Goodman, Johnny Pesky and pitcher Mel Parnell are the other recalcitrant Red Sox.

Kiner is scheduled to show up at the Pirates' base at San Bernardino, Calif., Monday, for a conference with Pittsburgh president John Galbreath.

The Pirate star reportedly is aiming for a two-year contract at $70,000 per season, an increase of $5,000 over his 1950-51 salary.

Other balking Pirates are pitchers Murrray Dickson, Mel Queen, Fred Strobel, Jim Walsh and infielder-outfielder George Metkovich.

The Philadelphia Athletics have four players remaining to be satisfied; shortstop Eddie Joost, first baseman Ferris Fain, Infielder Billy Hitchcock, and catcher Joe Tipton.

Shortstop Phil Rizzuto and third baseman Bobby Brown are the lone members of the world champion New York Yankees who haven't signed.

The Detroit Tigers and St Louis Browns each have two unsigned players and the Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators one each.

Infielder Jerry Priddy and pitcher Hal Newhouser haven't agreed to Tiger terms. Newhouser claims he has signed but the club hasn't received his contract.

WET GOING IN FRANCE — A farmer halts his oxen as flooding Echez River sweeps across Maubourguet Road in southwestern France where rains, melting snow swelled torrents.

Russell's Entry Into Race Is Hurting Some and Helping Some

WASHINGTON (AP)—The entry of Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia into the Democratic presidential race raised serious threats today to the chances of candidate Estes Kefauver and possible candidate Harry S. Truman.

At the same time, a ruling by the Minnesota Supreme Court seemed likely to present Republican candidate Harold E. Stassen with a homebase nucleus of Minnesota's 28 presidential nominating delegates.

The court pleased Kefauver by ruling out a slate he said he didn't want to run in Minnesota against Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn). The effect will be to give Humphrey, the only candidate, the state's 26 Democratic votes and make them available to President Truman if he runs.

Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower were reported divided in their reaction to the court's ruling that a slate for the general couldn't run. Some wanted to contest Stassen, others to avoid a fight with him in a state where he formerly was governor.

Left in the Republican race against Stassen in Minnesota was a slate pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who says he is not running.

Russell, 54 year old lawyer who got national attention last year when he headed the Senate's investigation into Truman's firing of MacArthur as Pacific commander, created a stir in the Kefauver and Truman camps by getting into the race.

Despite his presentation by Sen. George (D-Ga) as a non-sectional candidate, Russell was pushed into the race by Dixie Democrats who want to keep Truman from being renominated or, if he runs again, to beat him in November.

The Russell entry may cut most of the South out from under Kefauver, leaving him with Tennessee's 28 presidential nominating votes and possibly little below the Mason and Dixon Line.

The Russell entry also is a blow to Sen. Kerr (D-Okla), who is running if Truman isn't. Kerr had counted on getting Southern and Western support for the nomination.

The prospective candidate who might be helped most if Russell stays in to the finish and Truman doesn't seek the nomination, would be Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

If Russell, Kefauver and Kerr offset each other's delegate votes, it would be easier for Truman to designate somebody like Stevenson as his choice and for his designee to win.

Now Truman is on notice that the opposition to him in the convention will be expertly handled. And if there is a bolt, it would be in the hands of men far more experienced than those who wrestled 39 Southern electoral votes from him in 1948.

Soldier Draws Sentence For Sleeping At Post On Korean Battlefront

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Eighth Army judge advocate's office said today a general court martial convicted Pfc Warren McConnell of Alloway, N. J., of sleeping while guarding a battlefront position. He was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and 10 years in prison.

The office said McConnell's sentence is up for review in Washington.

A Seventh Division general court-martial tried McConnell in December.

McConnell was accused of sleeping Nov. 14 while posted as a lookout on the main battlefront line. His organization was Company B of the 32nd Regiment.

The office said one previous conviction was considered in the trial.

The commanding general of the Seventh Division approved the sentence.

McConnell is in the Lompoc, Calif., disciplinary barracks.

Many Communities Are Observing Day Of Prayer

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

What would you say a wedding gown was worth? Excluding sentiment, that is. Well, the particular one we're going to ramble on about was worth the price of three slaves back in 1859 in North Carolina. And that was when a slave was worth something.

Mrs. J. H. STRACENER owns the wedding gown modeled by her daughter in the picture. It belonged to Anne Maynard who married Bill Maynard 93 years ago. The Maynard heirs were friends of Mrs. Stracener and she used to spend pleasant hours pulling it out of the trunk, looking at the blue plaid taffeta dress with its many petticoats, the top one being black. Once Mrs. Stracener persuaded the owner to let her wear it in a play.

The dress is in fairly good condition considering its age, and it is pretty well - traveled. The couple moved to Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and Tennessee. They finally settled near Rockdale, Tex.

The dress has a full skirt and a little shawl with fringe on it. Is there an attic in town that would yield other old articles with equally interesting histories?

* * *

This one was too good to go unmentioned, even if we were almost sworn to secrecy. The other day at the tea in honor of Sandra Josephson at Mrs. Whit Thompson's home, Mrs. ED BOLGER was going through the beautiful new home when she came to the full - length mirror in the hall. Mrs. Bolger, as many know by now, has a twin sister —an identical twin— Miss IVAN PERRY, who lives here. Mrs. Bolger turned to the mirror and said, "Isn't this a lovely home?" Then she realized she was addressing herself, and not the sister at all. She turned on her heel and fled. Just a case of mistaken identity.

One of my artistic friends back north had buttons on a suit that were made of peach seeds. They were beautifully stained and varnished and really did look nice. I would like to try something like this. Can you give me directions R. D.

Nuts and seeds of limitless variations may be made into buttons of great beauty, according to Lulu Gillum and Mary Lawrence in their book, "Things a Girl Can Make at Home"... Their directions are: Select uniform seeds or nuts, burn two holes on the side of each one, (about like those in buttons). Use a heated steel needle or nail for doing this. They may be varnished, enameled, carved or sandpapered for the finishing touch. A method I have seen is to glue a metal shank to the seed or nut. A curved sewing needle is necessary to use if one does not want the top of the button to have holes in the burning method.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —One of the most envied jobs in all of show business is that of L. A. (Speed) Riggs, the tobacco auctioneer.

For 15 years, his work has consisted largely of delivering his gibberish chant at the beginning and close of his sponsor's radio and television shows. The stint takes eight seconds. Lately, he has not even been required to come to the studios. His chant is inserted by tape or film, and his salary check comes in as usual.

Riggs is paid well for his eight second performance. He said he could not reveal his salary because of the possible jealousy of the other performers for the sponsor. But he admitted that he earned more than the $40,000 annual salaries which top tobacco auctioneers can draw in their normal pursuit.

But even such a handsome deal can have its drawbacks.

"For 15 years, I was under exclusive contract," he explained. "I couldn't do anything else. The inactivity is almost enough to drive you crazy."

For sidelines, he had a ranch in the San Fernando Valley, where he raised Palomino horses and white faced Hereford cattle, and invested in a print shop and a furniture factory. But even these interests weren't enough to keep him busy. So when his contract came up for renewal recently, he insisted on a nonexclusive pact. The new, seven year deal permits him to make outside appearances, as long as they aren't for another cigarette.

"Now I can do some of the things I've had to pass up before," he remarked. "I've had may offers to do film roles in the past, and now I can take them. I also have some ideas for a TV show for myself. One of them, called 'Beat the Auctioneer,' is being considered by CBS."

Speed is a likable, leatherfaced man of 39 years and no stranger to appearing before the public. He first developed a yen for his profession at the age of seven, when his father took him to a tobacco auction in his home town, Goldsboro, N. C. Speed was intrigued by the chant and began practicing it. At 17, he was a fullfledged auctioneer, the youngest in the business.

Fate intervened in a promising auctioneering career when Speed was 25. The tobacco advertising genius, George Washington Hill, decided to put auctioneers on his radio shows and sent talent scouts to the tobacco country.

"I was chosen after they had listened to 42 other auctioneers," Speed recalled. "I noticed these men following me around all morning, but I didn't know who they were. Afterwards, they made me an offer. It was much more than I was making—$45 a week as an auctioneer and $12 a week as a disc jockey, so I took it. I've been working for the company ever since." Also chosen was F. E. Boone, who has since retired.

Speed hasn't done an actual tobacco auction for a couple of years, but he hasn't lost his touch.

"When you learn the job, you don't forget it," he remarked.
