Commencement Exercises Set for May 28

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of 1964 will be held Thursday evening, May 28, at 8 p.m., in the Aransas County High School Auditorium, with all of the ceremonies handled by the seniors themselves, without any outside speakers.

The program starts with the processional by the Pirate Band, under direction of Joe Rando for the last time. The invocation will be given by Annette Gardner; Gary Tuer, Nan Jackson, N. F. Jackson, Jr., and Andy Everett will deliver short talks during the course of the proceedings.

Episcopal Barbecue To Be Held Saturday

The fourth annual barbecue will be held at the Episcopal Church's Bishop Elliott Conference Center Saturday beginning at 5 p.m. for Episcopalians in the diocese and their guests.

Tickets will be $1 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years of age.

Co-chairmen for arrangements are the Rev. Ron Thompson, assistant rector of Church of the Good Shepherd; William Duncan III of Sinton and Joe Sheldon Jr. of Cuero, deans of the Southwest and Eastern Conventions.

Dr. James Sharp will be in charge of the barbecue with Lloyd Askey of Port Aransas, assisting. Instead of beef this year, Dr. Sharp has purchased sausage and several hundred chickens to be barbecued. More than 1,000 are expected to attend.

Guests of honor will be high school graduates of Episcopal Churches in the Southern and Eastern Conventions and six Boy Scout Troops.

An added attraction at the conference center this year will be a swimming pool, 30 x 50 feet, which has just been completed.

The conference center may be reached by taking Highway 35 to Copano Bay Bridge, turning left and going one mile.

Shortage of Coins Is Reported

Philip E. Coldwell, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, reports that federal reserve stocks of silver dollars have been depleted and that stocks of dimes, quarters and half dollars are only about a tenth of what they should be.

Coldwell also commented on the nickel shortage.

"Speculators have discovered that nickels minted during the war years (1942-45) contained more silver than those minted in other years," Coldwell said.

"Consequently, these nickels actually are worth more than five cents because of their silver content."

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS TRANSACT ROUTINE BUSINESS AT MEETING

The Commissioners Court retained M. W. Cochran as an appraiser and to secure navigational aid rights for the southeastern approach of the northwest-southeast lighted runway at Aransas County Airport, at a fee of $50 per day, not to exceed three days.

The court also made some of the requirements for subdivisions more rigorous, and requiring subdividers to pave all streets within new subdivisions as of this date, with a two course treatment or, if premix is used, a one-inch thickness is required.

However, all new subdivisions where roads are being constructed now will be permitted to continue under the old requirements, provided that a letter of their intentions and proof that the said subdivision construction was under contract prior to the acceptance of the new resolutions.

Rockport Lions To Have Ladies' Night Tonight

The Rockport Lions Club will celebrate Ladies' Night tonight, May 21, at Key Allegro, with the hospitality hour beginning at 7 p.m., and dinner at 8 o'clock.

Honored guests of the evening will be by Grett, of Corpus Christi, Lion governor-elect for District 2A-3 and Mrs. Grett; J. D. Gray, deputy governor of Region Four, and Mrs. Gray; and Nathan Friedman, of Corpus Christi, District 2A-3 elect for director of the Kerrville Crippled Children's Home, and Mrs. Friedman.

During the evening, awards for outstanding attendance and achievement during 1963-64 will be presented to some 15 members.

Six new members will be initiated. They are Joe Earl Hunt, Jerry C. Anderson, Ben Faglie, James Nesbitt, John Beasley, Wallace Mailey. Three members will be received by transfer—Raymond T. Jackel, from McAllen; C. E. Frenzel, Victoria and Joe Caldwell, Zapata.

Reinstated will be Charles Garrett.

Entertainment for the evening will be in the hands of Cecil Cole, who heads the entertainment committee.

Swimming Club To Build Pool

The Key Allegro Ewimming Club, open to residents of Aransas County will build a new pool on the island some time this summer, Ed Harper said, which will operate as a private club, for members only.

The new pool, Harper said, will be 40 by 60 feet, with depths running from three to eight feet, and will be fully equipped with diving boards and all other facilities.

A bath house will be built, as well, according to Harper, and the pool will be lighted for night swimming.

Membership is open to residents of Aransas County on payment of $50 a year for the first three years, Harper stated. After that, the membership will prorated to cover maintenance costs only, and will be considerably lower than for the first three years.

Those desiring membership, Harper said, will be accepted on a first come, first served basis.

ROCKPORT ELEMENTARY STUDENTS PURSUE READING PROGRAM

Upon completion of the required Library Science course, many of the fifth and sixth graders at Rockport Elementary School, pursued a reading program. Earning a reading certificate, these students were required to read 12 books from the various Dewey Decimal Classes as well as a Newbery Award book, and one fiction of their choice. This program was done on a volunteer basis, but the students were told they would receive an increase in their classroom reading grade when they presented their certificate to their teacher.

Fifth graders who earned their certificate were: Phillip Dannelly, Jesse Roberts, Mary Lynne Womble, Elida Benavidez, Lynn Lang, Karen Hayden, Mark Phillips, and Lenore Irwin. These students represent the class rooms of Mrs. E. Steele, Mrs. P. Moore, Mrs. L. Bradley, and Mr. A. Matthews.

As credits to the sixth grade, Jean Adams, James Court, Sylvia Garcia, Ada Demory, Bobby Harriett, Denise Washburn, Shirley Clark, James Donnan, Andy Crawford, Mark Jeffers, Patsy Shafer, Susan Menke, Richard Anderson and Joe Blackburn received their reading certificates.

These students represented their homeroom teachers, Mr. G. Lichte, Mrs. P. Clark, Miss J. Oetken, and Mrs. R. Griffith. Their extra credit would be received through their departmentalized reading program headed by Mrs. F. Griffith.

Sailorette Contest New This Year

Although there will be no junior or subteen contests this year, there will be a Miss Sailorette competition in connection with Rockport's annual Sea-o-rama on June 20-21, according to Mrs. Sandra Petrilli, chairman.

In a letter to local contestants, Mrs. Petrilli calls attention to a number of ways in which this year's celebration will differ from those that have been held in the past.

"First of all," she said, "there will be no street parade. In its place there will be a boat parade in the ski basin, and all beauty contestants in the Miss Sea-o-rama contest will ride on these boats."

"Second, all entrants in the Miss Sea-o-rama contest must be 18 years of age or older. This year for the first time, there will be a Miss Sailorette

Portrait of Beauty Entrant to Be Shown In Art Show

One of the first entries in the Miss Sea-o-rama Beauty Contest, to be held here as part of Rockport's annual celebration on June 20-21, is Diana Triana, a native of Victoria, whose portrait will be shown at the same time in the art show which will be part of the festival.

Miss Triana is sponsored by the Modern Abstract Co. She is a student nurse in the Daugherty School of Nursing at Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi.

Several years ago, Mrs. Jurchak, member of the Victoria Art Guild, painted two portraits of the beauty entrant, both of which are owned by Emory M. Spencer, oil operator and real estate owner of Rockport, and it is these portraits that will be shown at the art show, of which Mrs. James A. Jarboe is chairman.

The exhibition of the paintings will be held in the new building of Security, Inc.

Mrs. Sandra Petrilli, chairman of the Sea-o-rama Beauty Contest, says that coffee and

LOCAL WRECK KILLS CORPUS CHRISTI MAN

A Corpus Christi man was fatally injured and his son hurt in the collision of two trucks seven miles north of Rockport on Copano Bay Causeway about 4:20 p.m. Monday.

Earl Bellah, 69 died at 5:10 p.m. in the Aransas Hospital in Aransas Pass.

Taken to Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi was Edward Bellah, 29, of the same address. He received a broken collar bone and bruises, but was listed in satisfactory condition.

Highway patrolmen investigating the accident said the pickup truck driven by the elder Bellah was going south when it collided head-on with a large truck and trailer driven by Daniel K. Quarles of Houston. Quarles was not injured.

Aransas Natural Installs Gas Lines On Key Allegro

A plentiful supply of natural gas is assured for Key Allegro by a new main just laid to the island development, George K. Taggart, Jr., president of Aransas Natural Gas Company, said today.

"This new line will serve homes in Unit No. 1," Taggart said, "and we are ready to go into Unit No. 2 as it is developed."

A two-inch line 3,600 feet long has been laid from the mainland and one-inch lines will branch out from this line to the various homes. The new line represents to second use by Aransas Natural of new plastic pipe developed by DuPont. Similar plastic pipe was laid for the company's Lamar Peninsula line put into service several months ago.

"Our Lamar line was the subject of an article in 'DuPont Pipe Topics,' a publication of the company's plastics division," Taggart said. "The article explained the advantages of the new pipe which is easier to lay, has greater capacity for its size and is more resistant to corrosion than convention metal pipe."

The pipe used for the Key Allegro line is an improvement over that in the Lamar line in that it has a coating of yellow polyethylene resin.

Other extensions of Aransas Natural Gas lines will be made to meet the growing needs of the Rockport-Fulton area, Taggart stated.

Buddy Poppy Day To Be May 23

Buddy Poppy Day will be held Saturday, May 23, this year. The poppies of Flanders' fields has for many years symbolized the sacrifices of men in our armed forces during all the wars we have ever fought.

The proceeds from the sale of these poppies—assembled by disabled veterans in VA homes and hospitals, is used for many things; including the National Home for Veterans' Children, and for relief to the needy locally, through the VFW.

AGATE SHOP BECOMING FAVORITE FOR SUMMER VISITS

The Agate Shop, owned by Joe and Mae Hissong, is becoming a favorite spot for school classes to visit. During the past week, 80 pupils came from Tuloso-Midway, and Sister Teresa and two grades of the Sacred Heart School visited the shop to see fluorescent minerals, fossils, and more prosaic rocks which the Hissongs have collected here, there and yonder.

Friday two more classes are expected. Forty children will arrive from Taft, and a week from Friday, on May 29, Joe expects about 60 from Woodboro.

Mrs. Thomas Roth, of Elkin, North Carolina, and her two sons, Tommy and James Jarboe Roth, are visiting Mrs. Roth's mother, Mrs. James A. Jarboe this month.

GREETINGS:
The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and its Ladies' Auxiliary have designated Saturday, May 23,

Proceeds from the sale of "Buddy" Poppies are used for the benefit of the men now serving in the Armed Forces, needy war veterans, and orphans and widows of deceased veterans.

This annual sale of poppies gives our citizens an opportunity to show their gratitude to those who have served in the Armed Forces to preserve our liberty and freedom.

THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of the City of Rockport, do hereby designate the day of Saturday, May 23, 1964, as V.F.W.

"BUDDY" POPPY DAY in the City of Rockport, and urge every person to buy and wear a "Buddy" Poppy on this day.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 15th day of May, 1964.

HOLLIS COLLUM, Mayor
City of Rockport, Texas.

T. H. Mathis Was Well-Known South Texas Financier

Thomas Henry Mathis, whose fine old home still stands beside the Rockport post office, was one of the most popular and skillful financiers in South Texas in the middle of the last century.

He was born in Stewart County, Tenn., on June 14, 1834, the son of James and Isabella Mathis. His father was a farmer and highly respected in Stewart County where he died in 1864, leaving his wife who outlived him by 11 years.

T. H. Mathis left home when he was 20, without any money, and for 15 months attended a school conducted by his cousin Dr. J. T. Mathis in Southern Arkansas. He often assisted in teaching and, in 1856 organized his own school which he connected with the aid of a lady assistant.

At the close of that year he returned home and shortly after entered Bethel College, Tenn., and completed his education. In 1858 he taught school in Murray, Ky., but tiring of teaching left for Texas in 1859 and located at Gonzales where he lived for the next two years. He had only about $360 when he reached there but soon thereafter went to Mexico with a party of traders seeking horses and cattle, and was moderately successful both that year and the next, making $1500 the first year he carried on such trading.

He moved to Victoria in 1861 and extended the scope of his business transactions only to be forced to close business because Yankee blockaders had closed the Gulf ports. In the spring and summer of 1862 he was active in forwarding supplies to the soldiers of the Trans-Mississippi Department of the Confederacy and in the fall of that year enlisted in Company E, Duff's Regiment, Confederate Army, participating in several engagements in which he bore himself with distinguished gallantry.

At the end of the war, he engaged in the tobacco trade between Tennessee and Texas for a year then, in 1867, moved to the latter state, settling on the shores of Aransas Bay where he, his brother J. M. Mathis, and J. M. Doughty laid out the original townsite of Rockport, today known as the Doughty and Mathis subdivision.

The firm of J. M. and T. H. Mathis built Rockport's first wharf and chartered the first steamer that ever entered Aransas Bay for cargo. After that ship was lost at sea, they induced the Morgan Line to establish service here and became agents for the little red steamers that did so much to open up the Texas coast.

Their extensive and rapidly growing cattle interests enabled them to realize large returns from shipments of livestock and they also did a large lucrative commission business.

In 1869 the firm donated $5500 for work on Aransas

Pass for improvement of the channel; built the Orleans Hotel at Rockport; erected a number of other good buildings; aided in construction of bridges and good country roads, as well as in securing many other important public improvements. They also contributed liberally to bring Western Union Service to Rockport, and to the building of the first telephone line in this part of Texas. They also helped with funds raised to entice railroads to this seaside city, and Mathis was one of the most active workers for commercial industrial development of this area.

In 1872, the firm became the Coleman, Mathis and Fulton Pasture Co., the first in the state to fence a large pasture. Seven years later the Mathis brothers withdrew and for a year did business under their old name. They then dissolved their own partnership, with J. M. Mathis continuing his business in the area around the town that is named after him, while T. H. Mathis remained at Rockport.

In 1892, T. H. owned 24,000 acres of fine land along the Nueces River in San Patricio County, under fence and well-stocked with purebred or high grade horses and cattle. He was one of the first Texas ranchers to introduce blooded cattle into this part of the state. He also contributed liberally to building and establishing the first cold-storage meat refrigerating plant in the United States, at Fulton.

At that time, contemporaries say, he was worth not less than $340,000. An early biographer said he was a Democrat, but had neither time nor inclination to dabble in politics. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church most of his life. Those who knew him said he had a remarkably penetrating and sound business mind, with tireless energy and enterprising spirit, and was capable of planning and executing projects of great magnitude. Socially, he was polished and courteous; was easy and dignified in his carriage; and no man was more highly respected by his neighbors and fellow citizens.

In 1869 he married Mrs. Cora C. Caldwell, of Gonzales County who died two months after their marriage. In 1875 he married Miss Mary J. Nold, a native of Goliad, in Murray, Ky., where she was educated. They had as the years went by, eight children: Walter N., Henry, May, Thomas E., Edgar, Arthur, Lizzie Bell and Allie.

The Mathis House, which Texas artist Harold Schiweitz calls the most beautiful house, in Texas, was built about 1868 by J. M. Mathis. After his wife died the Thomas H. Mathis family took over, and the date of the deed of purchase by which it passed from one brother to the other is 1880.

In 1948, C. C. Fowler, a prominent contractor and builder, purchased the old home and carefully restored it. The main structure is the same as when the house was built, and Fowler, who lived there for a number of years, found it necessary to replace many of the main timbers.

The house stands about seven feet above the ground on a series of brick arches that the foundation, and these arches are closed by white pickets against animals or children. The original hand-turned cypress pickets are still in the fence surrounding the yard. The hip roof was originally of slate. Two large chimneys indicate the very useful double fireplaces on the inside walls.

The moulded cornices at the eaves and window heads are very attractive and well-proportioned. The wide, high outside stairway leads to a four-columned porch on the center front.

The large double doors, with sidelights and transoms, give an air of spacious welcome. The large reception hall opens into formal double parlors on either side and into the dining room, which in turn gives access to the bedrooms. On the back was a porch, now converted into a living room, and the kitchen. The ceilings are 12 feet high. The trim is moulded, with heavy beaded base boards and wide window and door facings. The long windows in the front rooms have raised and moulded panels beneath them, but the gold leaf moulding that once adorned the walls of these two rooms disappeared during the renovation of the house.

The twelve-paned windows are four feet wide and ten feet high; the tall, four-paneled doors have arched upper panels, with transom space above them.

The double parlors have coal grate fireplaces, one with a granite front, the other with cast iron, and the bedrooms in back of these parlors have wooden fireplaces, with cypress mantels about four inches thick.

Interior walls were originally of one-by-six, tongued and grooved lumber, but were papered at the time of the restoration. The whole main portion of the home is of cypress. The ten-by-ten sills are scarfed, for added sturdiness, and large wooden pegs bind the sills together. Carpenters say the house was build like a ship.

Two large rooms in the rear were made of shell concrete, with solid foundations.

In June, 1961, Fowler sold the home to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bain, of San Antonio. Mrs. Bain is a granddaughter of the original owner.

Views From Hewes

By Police Chief Robert Hewes

By Police Chief Bob Hewes

The Rockport Police Department is always ready to protect you, your family and your property. Radio equipped police cars continually patrol the streets of Rockport but the effectiveness of the police in crime prevention is limited unless we have the co-operation of every citizen of Rockport. Preventing crime is our primary aim and we think a more important job than solving one after it has been committed, if we have the co-operation of every citizen in the prevention area our job in solving will be very small, however the prevention of crime saves money, time and much effort if done properly.

One of the most effective ways of preventing crime is the awareness of the public in its responsibilities and its willingness to cooperate with the police department. You can help when observing suspicious things or persons by not making a personal investigation. Trained police officers probably can do a much better job, but you would obtain and transmit to the police department your name, address, and telephone number, the location of where the police are needed, a brief account of the circumstances and if possible, a description of the persons and automobile (license number, color, make and model).

Cooperate — If stopped by the police late at night do not feel offended if questioned as to your identity and business as he cannot know everybody, and his reason for stopping you will be a good one even if it is unknown to you.

Your car and belongings — Lock your car when you go shopping, even if for a few minutes. Never leave your car unlocked or unattended on the beach, if no one stays with the car, please remember to lock it.

Your valuables — Have a list of all your valuables with serial numbers and description in a safe place. This will help in attempting to locate these items if stolen.

Our job — Our job is to protect, defend and apprehend doing some or all of the above mentioned things, will greatly aid in making our community a safe place to live and visit.

NOW... GREAT NEW ENCO EXTRA!

PUT A TIGER IN YOUR TANK!

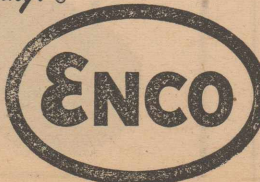

New Power-formula Enco Extra gasoline boosts power three ways... preserves the power of new engines... restores lost power to many older engines:

1. Cleaning Power! Dirt can clog even a new carburetor in a few months of normal operation—causing hard starting and rough idling. Your very first tankful of New Enco Extra will start to clear away these deposits to improve power and mileage.

2. Firing Power! Spark plug and cylinder deposits can cause misfiring, pre-ignition and hot spots. New Enco Extra neutralizes these harmful deposits to help your engine fire smoothly and efficiently.

3. Octane Power! Octane requirements for new cars are up again this year. New Enco Extra has the high octane that most cars now need for full performance, smooth acceleration and passing power without knocking.

You'll get something extra for your money with New Power-formula Enco Extra—it's like putting a tiger in your tank! Happy Motoring!

What's Going On At Live Oak Country Club

Turf Topic — Mowing too short? Many lawns would be much better if not mowed so short. Repeated tests and observations of grass indicate that 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches is the best height for St Augustine grass. A close crewcut may give St. Augustine a better appearance for the moment. But this won't last since the grass then becomes more vulnerable to weeds, insects and disease. Close cutting is a physical shock for the plants. The roots stop growing for as much as a week. Worse, the heat of the sun's rays bear down on the exposed tender crowns and harm the new green leaves. By the way you will discover higher cutting also conserves the moisture.

Golf Tip — Long irons: The followthrough is about the same for the long irons as it is for the woods. The hands are higher and the head is up with the eyes looking toward the hole or the objective. Never quit on your follow through.

How to Use the Rules Book — Become familiar with key words and special terms in the language of the rules.

Thus, flagstick, not pin; bunker, not trap; lateral water hazard, not parallel water hazard.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Horne and son Ricky, of Junction, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gray and Gary Horne.

JUNE DRAFT CALLS FOR 234 TEXANS

Austin. — The state draft quota for June calls for 234 men, compared to 258 for May, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The state quota of 234 for June is the Texas share of a national call for 6,000 men, all for the army.

The state Selective Service director also announced pre-induction physical and mental examinations for 6,000 men in June.

Local board quotas for the June call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The June quota will be filled mostly with men who are volunteer under 26 years and non-volunteers, ages 19 thru 25. Most of them will be 22 years old.

No man whose draft board file reflects that he is maintaining a bona fide family relationship with a wife or a child or children will be selected in response to this call.

All males are required to register under the draft law on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

BOND SALES ARE GOOD, BRACHT SAYS

Sales of Series E and H Savings bonds for the first three months of 1964 totaled $12,639, according to local chairman in charge of sales, Fred Bracht. This, he said, is 21 per cent of the quota set for the county this year.

Bracht also called attention to the fact that on May 1 the new 75 Series E Savings Bond, bearing a portrait of the late President, John F. Kennedy, went on sale. It bears, beneath his portrait, the words from his inaugural address, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country."
