Bombardment Of Suchow Is On Today

Japanese Hope To Destroy Chinese Resistance With One Blow At Rail Line

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 17—Japanese artillery has begun bombardment of Suchow, the Central China railway junction that has been the objective of five months of bloody fighting, a Japanese communique said tonight.

A Japanese spokesman said the 240,000 Chinese seeking to stave off the fall of their Central China military base must now "surrender or perish."

Begin Pounding Defense

Big Japanese guns, brought up by a column approaching from the southwest, began pounding Suchow's defenses from a few miles away.

Japanese declared that throughout the Suchow area their airplanes, tanks and guns were battering the Chinese into "a state of pitiful confusion."

Chinese Deny Reports

Chinese reports, however, firmly denied Japanese accounts of victory. Foreign military experts expressed belief that the thinness of the encircling Japanese lines west and southwest of Suchow gave most of the Chinese forces a chance to escape.

The Japanese also reported 50,000 Chinese were in full retreat from

FACE "DESPERATE PLIGHT"

SHANGHAI, May 17 (AP) — The International Red Cross issued an urgent appeal today for immediate financial aid, declaring its funds were exhausted and 170,000 Chinese refugees here faced a "desperate plight."

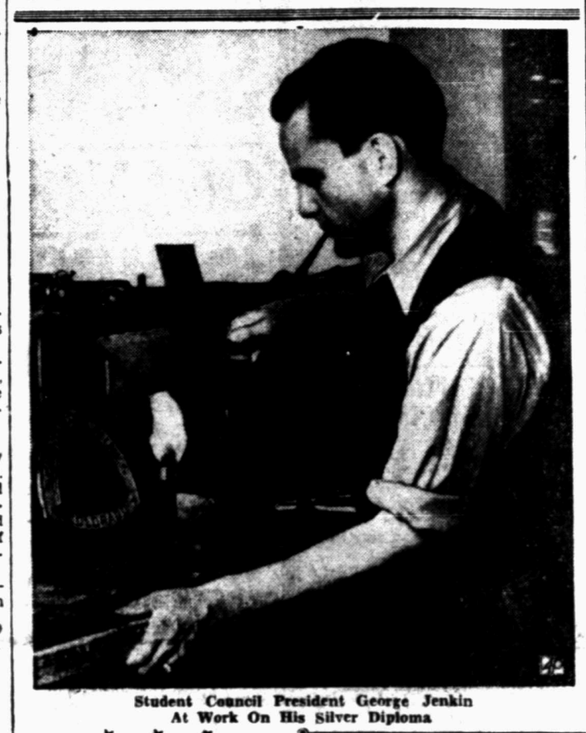

Officials said food reserves were adequate for only one more month.

They said at least $230,000 would be needed to finance relief through September.

The average expenditure for each refugee is 75 cents a month, of which slightly more than half is for food.

Diplomas Of Solid Silver Will Go To Colorado Mines Class

Student Council President George Jenkin At Work On His Silver Diploma

(By The Associated Press)

GOLDEN, Colo., May 17. — Because a man "got mad" four years ago the Colorado School of Mines graduating class this year will receive diplomas of almost pure silver.

Four years ago W. Gaylord Warren, then a senior and editor of the "Oredigger," Miles' student newspaper, suggested that the school award diplomas made of Colorado silver instead of the usual sheepskins.

Thought Good Idea

Charles Hull, in charge of the school's instrument shop and an expert precision instrument repairman-designer, thought it was a good idea.

Engraving firms and school officials asserted that known methods of engraving would make silver diplomas too costly or unsatisfactory.

When they said "It just can't be done," Hull "got mad." He decided to show the professors it could be done, simply and cheaply.

Cost About $2 Each

But it was not until this year that he obtained satisfactory results. Now, more than 100 seniors will receive silver diplomas which will cost about $2 each, less than many regulation diplomas cost.

Hull's process is similar to photo-

Much-Needed Moisture Is Received

Precipitation Ranges From Quarter-Inch To 2 Inches; Total Is .61 Inch Here

Farmers this morning were preparing to get ready for planting of 1938 crops of cotton and grain sorghums, following last night's rain, which covered widely scattered sections of the South Plains, giving from a quarter inch to two inches.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment substation here declared, however, that unless at least three-quarters of an inch to an inch or more of rain fell, planting should be done. That much top soil moisture is needed to wet the top and also to meet subsoil moisture.

Official Measure .61 Inch

Lubbock's official measure was .61 of an inch. "Not enough to plant on," Jones commented.

Maximum temperature Monday was 90 degrees; minimum Tuesday morning, 59 degrees.

In the wheat section, many points received good moisture that will bring out the heads and help fill out wheat. So much serious damage has been done to wheat by dry winds since the early April freeze.

HOUSTON AREA DELUGED

HOUSTON, May 17 (AP) — Heavy rains totaling 6.25 inches in a 24-hour period ending today sent Buffalo bayou on a rise, delayed traffic in parts of the city, and caused some crop damage in South Texas today.

Strong winds buffeted parts of the Texas coast during the day but sunshine replaced rain clouds in most sections and no serious floods were expected.

The heaviest rainfall in the coastal area was recorded at Katy, 25 miles northwest of Houston, where 9.55 inches fell.

Fields in that area stood in sheets of water today and crops were flooded.

Payment For Parentage Is Proposed

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, May 17 — A famed psychologist recommended to the nation's parents and teachers today payment for parentage—at so much per child.

"Society," said Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles, director of the Institute of Family Relations, "must be prepared to equalize the burden of parenthood by a proportional family wage which will increase the salary of the white collar worker — whether man or woman — with the birth of each child."

"The present erroneous concept of 'equal pay for equal work,'" which merely means that a high school principal with a wife and four children is expected to live on the same salary that would be paid a bachelor, has proved to be too destructive of family life to be continued," he asserted in an address.

"It puts a high premium on sterility and punishes people for having children."

Dr. Popenoe expounded his theory of "The Changing Family in a Changing World" to more than 1,200 delegates from every state to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Independents Of East Texas Favor Plan

President Of Association Advances Idea Today In Hearing At Austin

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 17—Terming present conditions in the oil industry chaotic, John C. Schroder of Longview, president of the East Texas Independent Petroleum association, said today the federal government should take a hand in oil proration for a minimum of one year and perhaps for three years.

The declaration was made at a statewide proration hearing conducted by the Railroad commission, administrator of conservation laws in Texas. The largest number of oil operators, lawyers and others interested in the petroleum industry to attend a monthly hearing was present.

Charges Policies Unfair

Schroder charged that the latest proration policies of the commission had been unfair to the famous East Texas field. These policies include a statewide shutdown of most Texas fields on Saturday, which has been in effect four months, and a Saturday shutdown ordered for the last three weeks of May.

"All except the monopolies will subscribe that the intersate oil compact has failed miserably to perform the function of stabilizing the industry," Schroder asserted.

Sad Commentary

He declared it was a sad commentary on our system of justice when "men selected to perform the duty of giving those engaged in the oil industry in the Mid-Continent area a square deal" restrict a well in one state to a production of 14 barrels a day while in an adjoining state a well no more prolific is allowed to produce 800 barrels.

Previously he had alleged wells in south Louisiana were permitted to produce up to 800 to 1,000 barrels daily.

Proposes U. S. Take a Hand

"I propose for the benefit of all the states of the union," he said, "that the federal government take a hand in administering proration

Monroe Doctrine Likely To Be Barrier To British Moves On Mexico; U. S. View Is Factor

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Writer

NE WYORK, May 17 — British intervention to compel Mexico to return expropriated oil properties valued at a quarter billion dollars hasn't thus far developed as a likelihood.

America's Monroe Doctrine, which President Roosevelt reiterated very recently, would act as a powerful deterrent were London inclined to take such drastic action.

Trade Boycott Possibility

Application of economic pressure by Britain on Mexico in the shape of a trade boycott, however, is a possibility.

Bitterness between the two countries has been increased by the sensational break last Saturday when Mexico severed diplomatic relations on the grounds of England's allegedly unfriendly attitude.

Official faces in London burned with anger at this move, which was accompanied by a bit of official mud-slinging on both sides.

Cites British Debts

Britain, in referring to Mexico's proposal to pay for the expropriated property, asserted that even before the seizure Mexico had piled up a large foreign debt. To this, Mexico called attention to "the fact that even powerful states, having at their command abundant resources, may not pride themselves on being up to date on the payment of all their monetary obligations."

No one could take this Mexican dig as anything else than a crack at Britain's war-debt to the United States. On December 15 last, England owed close to a billion dollars which, appropos of nothing in particular, is about four times the value of the oil property taken over. London has defaulted on payments for five years.

Matters Of Speculation

Just what has given President Cardenas of Mexico so much courage to back his convictions is a matter of some speculation, if indeed he isn't impelled by the necessity of Schemer?

Mexican government forces closely watched the estate of General Saturnino Cedillo (below) and sent many troops to San Luis Potosi, mid-Mexican city of 73,000 population, after hearing rumors Cedillo and his agrarian followers were planning a revolt.

Troops Being Sent To Area

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, May 17. — The Mexican government is continuing to mass troops about the strategic central state of San Luis Potosi, where tension has grown to alarming proportions in the wake of persistent but unfulfilled rumors of revolt.

Eight thousand troops already are garrisoned in the capital, San Luis, and military pilots are being held in barracks ready for action.

Preparations were under way today to send two more trainloads north to an unannounced destination. Even half of President Lazaro Cardenas' own guard of 400 men has gone to San Luis.

Cardenas Gives Assurance

Nevertheless, Cardenas has given assurance there is "no danger" that San Luis' "strong man," General Saturnino Cedillo, will lead his peasant following into revolt.

"In regard to alarmist versions that he will rise in arms, they are untrue," President Cardenas told

Response Good In Mail Drive

Business men of the city are responding even better than had been expected to the appeal to cooperate in the air mail pickup test scheduled here Thursday in connection with national airmail week observance, according to information given at the chamber of commerce this morning.

Although reports were not complete, committees reported that nearly all firms upon whom they had called planned to delay such mail as they can for the planes. A number will include in such mail a three-page statement from the chamber of commerce supplying terse facts concerning Lubbock and the South Plains. Some have prepared special mailing lists to whom those facts will be mailed.

Personal Letters Distributed

Furthering the effort to enlist the cooperation of every Lubbock citizen in the drive, Postmaster Amos Howard announced that personal letters relating to the pickup have been placed in every box at the postoffice and have been distributed by carriers throughout the city. Howard is chairman of the chamber's airmail week committee.

Announcement also was made at the chamber that letters prepared

League Change Is Approved

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 17.—Dean T. H. Shelby, chairman of the Interscholastic league, today announced that results of a state-wide referendum eliminated from football competition a pupil in his senior year in a 12-grade system who makes a grade a year in high school.

Shelby said a proposal to count semesters on the same basis in both 11 and 12-grade systems had carried by a 284 to 181 vote.

Affects Only Small Number

The dean pointed out the change brought about through the referendum affected only a small number of schools. Under the old rule, a school on the 12-grade basis was not affected until its freshmen became seniors, or four years later.

"Since it is evident that more and more schools are going on a 12-grade basis," Shelby said, "the league is now at work on a plan to take care of 12th graders by adjustment of the age-rule, but it is doubtful if it can be put into operation before 1940. This solution, we hope, will be acceptable to both 11 and 12-grade systems."

Other Proposal Carries

The proposal to give the state committee authority to reject a football team as district champion, whose district committee had adopted any rule or regulation limiting the eligibility of players beyond the requirements of the constitution and rules, carried by 357 to 109.

Of the 600 schools participating

No Report Received From Missing Ship

LOS ANGELES, May 17. (AP) — Nine aerial travelers, including two children, are missing in a new $80,000 Lockheed transport which vanished yesterday in the fog-topped Sierra Madre range less than 50 miles from Los Angeles.

Bound to St. Paul for delivery to Northwest Airlines, the plane left Union Air terminal at 1:40 p. m., and was last heard a few minutes later above the rugged peaks separating the coastal plain from the Mojave desert.

Lockheed officials said there was scant hope the plane had made a forced landing in the desert, being unable thereafter to send messages on its radio.

On an unconfirmed report that a plane had been sighted 17 miles north of Pasadena in the mountainous back country where it was last reported yesterday, two National guard planes took off in the hope of breaking through the early morning fog to investigate.

Aboard were Sidney Willey, Lockheed test pilot in charge of the flight, Fred Whittemore, St. Paul, Northwest Airlines vice president and co-pilot, Henry Salisbury, St. Paul, Northwest Airlines official, his wife and two children, Mrs. Carl B. Squier, 34, wife of Lockheed's sales manager, Lola Totty, 24, Glendale, Calif., Lockheed stenographer, Evelyn Dingle, Northwest Airlines employe.

New Ordinance Invoked Here

Lubbock's ordinance opposing solicitation of rides in given areas late Monday was invoked, when 23 youths, most of them students of Texas Technological college, were hailed into police court.

Charges related the youths did not stand in restricted zones where solicitation is allowed, in 1300-- and in 2300-block Broadway, but were in the street.

Drawn For Protection

The ordinance governing such conduct, it had been pointed out, had been drawn for protection both of solicitors and the motoring public.

Dr. J. M. Gordon, dean of arts and sciences at the college, appeared at the station after police had informed him of arrests. He informed the youths "law is law" and offered to pay 50 cents on each $1 fine.

All were released, some after payment of fines, some on their own recognizance to appear later.

Two dismissals were ordered, suspects having explained they merely were crossing the street.

Congress Asked To Appropriate $70,672,407 Additional Funds

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP) — President Roosevelt asked congress today for an additional appropriations of $70,672,407 for the treasury and $3,014,492 for the interior department.

He asked also for another $200,000 for the justice department for enforcement of anti-trust laws in the next fiscal year.

The money would be used to supplement regular appropriations.

The largest item in the treasury's total was $56,270,000 for refunds and payments of processing and related taxes during the 1939 fiscal year.

Amarillo Man Is Awarded $666 Day For 15 Extra Days In Jail

NASHVILLE Tenn. May 17. (AP) —A circuit court jury awarded Carl Duncan, 32, of Amarillo, Texas, approximately $666 for each of the 15 days he was detained illegally in Hamilton county (Chattanooga) jail.

While visiting relatives in Marion county in 1935, Duncan testified he was present when federal officers raided a still. He told the jury he pleaded guilty to being present at the raid.

He testified a 10-day sentence was imposed and that he started serving it April 29, adding that he wasn't released until May 23, 15 days after his sentence was up.

The defendants, Sheriff Frank P. Burns of Hamilton county; Jailer Luke Mowery, and the National Surety company, bonding firm for Burns, were given 30 days to move for a new trial.

Burns and Mowery testified the overtime detention was unintentional and that they did not know Duncan was to be released May 8.

Story Of Children Playing Ball With Relief Oranges Is Probed

NYACK, N. Y., May 17 (AP) — A story that children of Rockland county needy were playing baseball with oranges supplied by the government brought a federal and state inquiry today into the system of relief administration here.

Disputing charges that perishable foods had been provided in wastful quantities, County Relief Administrator John E. Cook said county records showed that distribution of federal surplus commodities had been no more than adequate for families on relief.

ATLANTA, May 17. (AP)—Weary firemen searched charred ruins of the five-story Terminal hotel for additional dead today while others sought the cause of the "deadliest fire" in Atlanta's history.

Twenty-seven were known dead, with several bodies still unidentified.

Heavy Balloting In Pennsylvania Vote

PHILADELPHIA, May 17. (AP)—Heavy balloting developed today as Pennsylvanians voted in a primary that capped bitter battles for party control and marked a major political test of power for John L. Lewis and his CIO.

In Philadelphia, where nearly 900,000 of the more than 4,000,000 Pennsylvanians eligible to vote reside, some charges of fraud were heard. Balmy weather throughout the state speeded voting.

Republican leaders attributed their heavy party voting to the fight between Judge Arthur H. James and former Governor Gifford Pinchot for the gubernatorial nomination.

John B. Kelly, Philadelphia Democratic chairman, said National Chairman James A. Farley's endorsement of two candidates "isn't having any effect in Philadelphia."

Farley endorsed CIO-backed Thomas Kennedy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and Gov. George H. Earle, the state committee candidate for the U. S. senate.

Landon Says New Deal Liberals Most Intolerant Of Generation

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 17.—Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential candidate in 1936, asserted in a prepared speech today that "none of us of this generation, has seen a group so intolerant of the views and beliefs of others as are the so-called New Deal liberals."

"Only a few weeks ago," he told the Inland Daily Press association, "Senator Minton (D-Ind) introduced a measure which is a dire threat to the press. Mr. Minton, it seems, would set up a censorship of newspapers and other publications. A great many people are apt to be misled by the apparent fairness of the proposal. The senator has pointed his bill at those who knowingly publish as fact anything which they know to be false. It would, nevertheless, provide a censorship.

"I cannot believe," he said, "that congress will even take the Minton bill seriously. The dangerous thing about the measure is that it reflects an at-

Big Spring Post Claims Oldest Legionnaire; He's Only 91

BIG SPRING, May 17. (AP)—The Big Spring post of the American Legion today laid claim to the distinction of having on its rolls the oldest legionnaire in the nation.

That man is Can Powell, long time resident of West Texas whose legion membership, despite the fact he is 91 years old, is no honorary affair. Powell served in the U. S. army during the World war period, in the quartermaster corps, and was at Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, when the Armistice was signed. He had "exaggerated"—on the downward side—his age by some 26 years.

But that wasn't Powell's first army service. At the age of 14, he enlisted in the Union army for the period of the Civil war, and transported supplies to the federal troops. He is a native of Pennsylvania.

Powell isn't so active now. His legion membership card was presented to him at his home last night by Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, state department commander of the legion who was here for a post meeting.

Possibility Of Amending Wagner Act Blocked By Court's Decision

Victories For Board Cited

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17 — The Supreme court's latest decision in favor of the National Labor Relations board appears to have ended the possibility of amending the Wagner act at this session of congress, senate labor experts said today.

The court held yesterday that a worker on a strike remains an employe within the meaning of the act if its provisions against unfair labor practices have been violated.

Procedure Is Approved

It approved the procedure in the Mackay Radio and Telegraph company case, in which the board did not conduct a hearing on the trial examiner's tentative report.

Demands for alteration of the labor act have been made by Senator Burke (D-Neb) and other anti-administration legislators. Burke said last week he might attempt to tack some amendments to the law on the pending wage-hour bill.

Senator Wagner (D-NY), author of the labor relations act, said the decision covered "two very important questions" — whether a worker on strike is an employe, and the validity of the board's procedure.

Both senators directed attention to 11 consecutive victories for the board in the Supreme court. Wagner said eight of those were reversals of adverse decisions in federal circuit courts.

New Regime On In Exchange

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Blinding lights, newsreel cameras, photographers' flashlights, milling reporters in the austere, paneled governors' board room of the New York Stock exchange, today symbolized the beginning of a new era of "full stock exchange publicity" promised by William Mc C. Martin, 31, new ranking executive.

Convening the newly chosen board of youthful, "outsider" governors the new chairman said, in a thin, boyish voice:

"This, the first meeting of the new board of governors, of the reorganized New York Stock exchange marks the most important forward step yet taken in the long progressive development of the nation's primary securities market."

Previously, Martin, elected Monday, and taking office today, was introduced to the membership on the floor just after the close of the day's trading. Charles R. Gay, retiring non-salaried president (Martin will act as president until the appointment of a salaried president under the new constitution) led Martin onto the rostrum.

MRS. LUISA M. CARRES

"Gly-Cas gave me the health which I had been made to believe was impossible," continued Mrs. Carres. "My stomach and bowels were regulated almost at once, indigestion was eliminated from the very start, and my kidneys began functioning properly. Those awful rheumatic pains in my legs and arms have entirely disappeared, I enjoy my meals, can sleep the entire night through and am never bothered with night risings. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 17. (AP) — The powerful Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, with its 210,000 members, resolved today to stick by the CIO in the war between industrial and craft unionism.

Delegates to the Amalgamated's biennial convention voted to continue its donation of money, organizers and moral support to the group led by John L. Lewis, and to make peace with William Green's American Federation of Labor only if and when the latter agreed to join in the "vertical" union movement.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

DO MY FEET ACHE

Tonight do this—give your tired aching feet a good hot foot bath using a good soap; rinse and dry thoroughly. Next pour about a teaspoonful of Moone's Emerald Oil into the palm of your hand and rub thoroughly over the foot, rubbing well into the soles—repeat the rubbing in the morning. This brings relief and quickly, too. That tired aching burning soreness goes and you go about your work again happy and comfortable.

Moone's Emerald Oil does not stain — is economical and sold satisfaction guaranteed or money back. John Halsey Drug Store, Mark Halsey Drug Stores or any progressive drug store will be glad to supply you. Adv.

Federal Court Closes Here

Closing unexpectedly at the end of a single day of hearing federal district court for the Lubbock division, May term, ended late Monday for the week and Judge William Hawley Atwell and his staff left last night for Dallas where they will open a term today. Judge Atwell came here to take the place of Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, also of Dallas, who has been ill.

Judge Atwell said that Judge Davidson was still in the hospital and that he did not know when he would be able to resume his court duties. In the event Judge Davidson has not sufficiently recovered to preside next Monday, Judge Atwell will probably be here.

Jury To Return Monday

Jury, which reported yesterday, was instructed to return next Monday.

Naturalization Cases Set

Naturalization cases are scheduled for next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Criminal docket was called first, ten cases being called. Two were heard and the other cases continued pending arrest of defendants who are fugitives, or who have been apprehended but not yet transferred to the jurisdiction of this court. District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus said one case might be heard next Monday.

Nineteen Cases Called

In calling the law docket, several cases were set for May 23 and others for May 24. There were 19 cases in all called, a numbe being continued.

A libel against 1,280 cases of prunes, condemned as being below food and drug regulations, was awarded the government. W. P. Walker, of Crosbyton, a civil assistant U. S. district attorney, represented the government. Verdict also was given the government in the cases against L. T. Tipton and Walter R. Patterson, on crop loans from the government. Four similar cases were continued pending settlement by defendant or partial payment with more to come.

One case, involving 1,440.31 acres of land in Bailey county, the site of a proposed U. S. biological game refuge, was continued. The matter is over the alleged value of the land.

Equity Cases Called

Fourteen equity cases were called, several being set for later in the term and others continued for settlement.

Seven of the 14 bankruptcy cases called, were dismissed. Motions in the other cases will be heard later in the term.

Judge Atwell heard at opening of court excuses of four members of the jury who desired to be excused from service. He talked to the panel on the importance of jury service.

George W. Parker, court clerk, and Mrs. Ramalle Paul, a deputy were here as well as T. C. Irby, court reporter and E. R. Goss, Dallas, bailiff for Judge Atwell. Mrs. Olive Fluke is the Lubbock deputy clerk. Besides Grover C. Leigh, chief deputy U. S. marshal, Charles F. Brown, the Abilene deputy, attended court. C. E. Luce, Lubbock deputy also was here. Morgan W. Dickerson and Joe Wilson were doorkeepers.

Six Men Are Taken To Federal Prison

Escorted by Grover C. Leigh, chief deputy U. S. marshal, six men sentenced yesterday to terms in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, left shortly after 9 o'clock this morning for the Kansas penal institution. C. E. Luce, Lubbock deputy, was with Leigh.

Prisoners were: Jack Cathey, with a four-year term; Roy Cathey with a 15-month term; James O. Petty, with an 18-month term, all of O'Donnell; Sidney A. Miller, Spur and Dallas, with a 30-month term; Carl E. Williams, Brownwood, with a 30-month term and Rufus H. McNurlen, Borger, with a two-year term.

James T. Morris, Kerrville, was given a two-year term, suspended for three years. He is to report to federal probation officers.

M. S. Bell and John Turlington accompanied the party as guards. Leigh and Luce drove their cars, with three prisoners and a guard to a car.

Japs' Ultimatum

Suhsien, which had been the main resistance center on the Tientsin-Pukow railway south of Suchow. A force of 10,000 Chinese was reported "crushed" by low raiding Japanese warplanes while fleeing eastward from Suhsien.

Two other Japanese columns were reported within firing distance of Suchow, nerve center of China's desperate defense of the Lunghai railway corridor running east-west through Central China.

The Japanese said Chinese, soldiers as well as civilians, were in wild retreat to the southeast, the only avenue remaining for escape from the nearly encircled city.

Column Within 12 Miles

One column, the Japanese said, had occupied Changching, eight miles west of Suchow, while other forces, advancing from the northwest and the southwest, were within 11 miles of the strategic city.

The vanguard of the column approaching from the southwest reported it had occupied positions on a low mountain range within sight of Suchow.

The Japanese came within striking distance of the Chinese stronghold after weeks of terrific fighting both north and south of the Lunghai railway, China's "lifeline."

Hope to Destroy Resistance

They now are approaching from every side, hopeful of destroying Chinese resistance "with one blow."

The Chinese continued to deny the Lunghai had been severed and to insist that Suchow was not surrounded. They said they were holding the Japanese at bay throughout the whole Lunghai zone

Chinese military messages from Hankow said 70 Japanese warships were concentrated off Fukien and Kwangtung provinces, indicating further attacks on the south China coast were planned similar to recent attacks at Amoy and Foochow. Twenty Japanese ships were reported off Canton.

The valiant Chinese forces which fought off the invaders for two months in the Taierhchiang-Pihsien sector were reported retreating toward Suchow.

Meanwhile, 200 Japanese warplanes rained bombs on Chinese positions throughout the battle area.

in football, 466 voted.

The referendum apparently settled the dispute which Port Arthur high school, which uses the 12-grade system, had carried to the supreme court without satisfaction.

Other schools, having only 11 grades, protested Port Arthur and other 12-grade schools had an unfair advantage in using more mature players who were permitted what might be interpreted to mean an additional year of eligibility.

Should Conform

"The state department of education's program," Shelby said, "is designed for pupils from 6 to 18 and so it would appear the league's program should be made to conform.

"It has been the settled policy of the league for 25 years, as well as the policy of the university which sponsors it, to make its work conform in every detail to the large educational program of the state."

The referendum was issued April 27 and closed May 11. Officials said the usual three days grace was allowed and all ballots counted which were postmarked not later than May 14.

Seven Lubbock county schools will be represented by models. They are Frenship, Roosevelt, New Deal, Shallowater, Idalou, Cooper and Lubbock.

Approximately 65 or 70 models will be chosen before Friday night, said Kendall Onsott, Lubbock student who has charge of selection of models. Campaign To End Tonight

Cleanup-paintup campaign pronounced the most successful of the nine annual events held in Lubbock will come to an official close tonight.

The end of the job for the large groups of volunteers who have participated in the drive, however, means the beginning of the most tedious task of them all for W. B. Irvin, general chairman; J. H. Brock, secretary of the drive committee, and several others who now must tabulate and analyze what has been accomplished.

It will be several months before Lubbock learns whether it has won for the ninth consecutive time the trophy offered by the National Cleanup-Paintup campaign committee which is emblematic of the year's cleanest city in Texas. Campaign officials expressed the belief, however, that a Lubbock victory is more in doubt than ever before because the competition has been keener.

Two of the belated announcements of the campaign were that Mrs. Leonard Cole's room was the winner of the $2.50 prize at Guadalupe school for its record in the campaign and that D. F. Concha, pupil there, had written an essay judged to be the best descriptive of activities.

Lubbock Delegation To Accompany State Laboratory Brief

Assurance that Lubbock will be well represented in Washington, D. C. May 31 when a Texas committee presents a brief in support of the contention that a proposed cotton laboratory be located in Texas was given at the chamber of commerce this morning.

M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering at Texas Technological college, is a member of the committee who has had an important part in the preparation of the Texas brief and will be a member of the delegation to Washington.

Others from the cotton laboratory committee of the chamber of commerce also will go, but uncertainty was expressed as to who they will be.

Meanwhile, the position of the chamber of commerce in connection with the proposed laboratory was clarified. The first endeavor for every Texas group, it was explained, is to attempt to secure the cotton laboratory for Texas, the world's greatest cotton producing area. That, in itself, will be no easy task, officials here added, because other producing areas of the south are fighting relentlessly for the laboratory.

If and when Texas should be selected for the laboratory, the explanation continued, then will be the time for Lubbock and Texas Technological college to be urged as the site for the laboratory or for one of its important branches.

Publicity For Fair Here Given In Association's Publication

Publicity for the Panhandle-South Plains fair, for Lubbock and the South Plains generally is given by the cover photograph of "T A F," official publication of the Texas Association of Fairs, copy of which was received at the chamber of commerce this morning.

Although the photograph was made of the Lubbock exhibit at the fair, clearly legible upon it are a Texas map indicating the South Plains as the "white spot" of Texas and two sides under the headings of "Lubbock Has" and "South Plains Has." Floyd county, with an exhibit which happened to adjoin that of Lubbock, also comes in for generous attention.

The publication, chamber officials said, is widely circulated among chambers of commerce both within and outside the state.

Plans To Be Made To Greet Visitors

Final meeting of the committee to arrange for the reception of the Oklahoma City good will delegation to arrive aboard a special train at 2:35 p. m. Wednesday will be held at the chamber of commerce at 9:30 Wednesday morning, according to announcement today by Chas. H. Read, chairman.

Members of the committee are B. Sherrod, Glen Hess, T. B. Duggan, Jr., J. L. Quicksall, Dewitt Landis, George W. Dupre, Dr. H. H. Bidwell, D. Jarrett, E. T. Pope, G. P. Kuykendall, Joe Bowman, Paul Hardwick and W. D. Girand, Jr.

Featuring the program during the visitors stay will be a parade from the Santa Fe depot west on Main to Texas, south to Broadway and west to the east side of Lubbock hotel. A section of the street will be roped off there and the visitors will present a program from a truck platform. A representative of the city will welcome the visitors. At 8 p. m., the visitors, featuring the Oklahoma City Kiltie band of 30 young women, will give a program at a smoker in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel. An announcement it would be held at the Lubbock was erroneous, members of the committee said.

The Oklahoma City special will leave for Wichita Falls at 5 a. m. Thursday.

Water Consumption In City Increases

Increase of more than 30,000,000 gallons, or more than 50 per cent, in city water pumpage was disclosed in reports for April, this year, as compared with the same month only one year ago, according to information given this morning by City Auditor D. D. Martin.

While a portion of the gain may be attributed to the fact that weather conditions last April called for the use of more water than in April, 1937, most of the gain was due to the increased number of users, he believes.

Reports show that total pumpage for the past month was 88,291,000 gallons, comparing with 57,855,000 gallons in April, 1937. The increase is 30,436,000 gallons.

Significant also was the fact that the maximum for any one day was 4,094,000, which is just a little more than 500,000 gallons short of the peak for any one day during the worst of heat waves in the summer of 1937. The figures, in Martin's opinion, indicate the virtual certainty that daily peaks in the summer will be well above 5,000,000.

However, pumpage from four new water wells, according to city officials, insures a supply well in excess of demand.

McCarthy Sure Yankees To Finish On Top

Western Trip Seen As Big Aid For Win

(By The Associated Press)

According to no less an authority than Joseph Vincent McCarty, who is pretty sure his New York Yankees will finish on top for the third straight year, the West is the place to win the American league pennant.

Joe's reasoning isn't quite clear in the light of current standings, for Cleveland in second place is th only western entry in the league's first division. The Boston Red Sockers head the parade and the Yanks and Washington are running third and fourth, all within two games of the lead. Likewise the Eastern clubs won 22 out of 32 games during their recent home stand against the west.

May Be Big Factor

At any rate, the Western jaunt which today finds the Red Sox facing Chicago's White Hose and the Yanks at St. Louis after advance openings yesterday, may have a lot to do with straightening out that close pennant race.

Breezing along under a comfortable five-game lead, the Giants open their home stand today against the Chicago Cubs. Three straight from Cholly Grimm's crew would make New York very hard to overtake.

Cleveland's Indians began the East-West series yesterday turning back the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-3, in ten innings and moving into second place. The victory put the tribe a half game up on the Senators, who suffered their fourth straight defeat at Detroit's hands, 13-7.

Kennedy Wins Fifth

Vernon Kennedy pitched seven-hit ball for Detroit to gain his fifth straight triumph with backing that included a homer with bases full by Rudy York and one by Charley Gehringer with one aboard.

The Giants, idle for four days, got a few bad plays out of their systems before facing the Cubs as they took a 12-3 drubbing from the cellar-dwelling Phillies.

Deacon Danny MacFayden pitched and batted the Boston Bees to a 5-4 victory over Brooklyn in the day's only other game.

Undefeated Teams In Softball Are To Meet This Afternoon

Two undefeated teams meet at 6:30 p. m. today in the Lubbock Softball league. KFYO and McIlhaney creamery, both first-round winners, play at Twenty-third street and Avenue K.

Myers, on the hill for Lubbock Poultry and Egg, had allowed only two hits, while his mates had banged out five. The game did not last long enough to go into the record books.

Texarkana Liners Have Firmer Grip On Lead In East Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Rain and a triumph over Marshall gave the Texarkana Liners a firmer grip on the East Texas league leadership today.

The Liners won the series opener 8-2 with Britton Horton, Texarkana southpaw, holding the Marshall Tigers to six scattered hits.

The triumph gave Texarkana a one-game lead over the second-place Longview club, whoes game at Tyler was postponed on account of rain. Rain also postponed the Henderson-Kilgore contest.

Jacksonville made six runs in the sixth inning to defeat Palestine 6-4.

Hubbers Edge Up On Wink Monday

The schedule for the West Texas-New Mexico league reads the same today as yesterday, except that the Hubbers and Hobbs go through their motions this afternoon instead of waiting until twilight as yesterday.

Wink plays again at Midland and the down-and-under Pioneers of Clovis remains at Big Spring.

Blanchard Wins Game

It took a wild heave by Jerry Blanchard to let Hobbs tie the count last night and it took an infield hit by him in the tenth inning for him to gain his second pitching victory over the Booster in two days.

Blanchard's bingle, after he had relieved Gramly in the seventh, pushed Boyd Watkins over the pan to give the Hubbers an 8-to-7 triumph. The same Watkins hit a homer, a double and two singles to pace Lubbock swatsmiths.

Gramly Has Trouble

Gramly whiffed nine batters in six and a third innings but ran into trouble in the seventh, giving way to the hookarm.

Wink at the same time was dropping a 6-4 encounter to Midland to allow the Hubbers to draw in the slack between themselves and first place. Hank Froschauer was in fine fettle to retire 15 Spudders via the strikeout route. Only three hits were garnered off his services until the ninth when three two-baggers drove across two runs.

The luckless Pioneers again outhit their opponents but came out on the same end, short, as usual. The Barons won, 3 to 2.

Monday's games left Lubbock a half game out of first place and threw Big Spring and Hobbs again into a tie for third slot.

Golf Play Set For Saturday

First annual Westerner golf tournament for West Texas high school students will be played Saturday over the Meadowbrook course, E. M. Barnett, tourney manager, said Monday.

Letters of invitation have been mailed to all schools known to sponsor golf teams. Other schools of the section, whether they receive formal invitations, are urged to compete, Barnett said. Entries should reach Barnett not later than Friday night.

There will be no entry fee. Six prizes and golf balls will be awarded individual and team winners. The Westerner trophy will be first award and become permanent possession of team winning it three years in succession.

Each school is allowed to enter as many boys as it wishes. Each player must bear a letter from his principal certifying his eligibility under Interscholastic league rules.

Tournament will be over 18 holes of medal play.

War Admiral Is Due To Go To Post Favorite Over Seabiscuit

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Barring injury or illness, there no longer is any doubt that War Admiral will go to the post a firm favorite over Seabiscuit in their $100,000 race on May 30 at Belmont Park.

For a time after the match was made there were no odds to speak of, but money has begun to pour in on the Admiral now, and that seems to settle the matter.

$20,000 To $12000

In the largest wager yet recorded an eastern sportsman places $20,000 on War Admiral in the high expectation of winning $12,000. As a direct result, the odds against Seabiscuit were stretched out to 7 to 5. The seeming discrepancy represents, of course, the reason why you never see a bookmaker in a breadline.

There has been nothing about the workouts of the two equine heroes to set the odds so pointedly in War Admiral's favor. In other words, if the two were evenly matched when the clamor first arose, they still are. Both have trained perfectly and are in such fine condition that their respective trainers didn't become alarmed by a weekend epidemic of coughing in the Belmont stables, figuring their nags were too tough to catch anything.

Low Scoring Feature Of First Round

Bob Hale defeated John Bell Monday afternoon, 2 up, in feature match of the first round in the annual Meadowbrook championship tournament.

Bagging a 66, ordinarily a winning score, Bell went into the 18th dormie one and dropped the final hole to Hale. Hale's score of 64 marked him as a threat to the favorites, Alfred Holton and Ed Doherty.

Holton carded a 63 last week for medal honors. Doherty is defending the title he won last spring.

J. D. Hinson eliminated R. Marshall, 2 and 1, and Weldon Counts dropped Bert Pinson, 3 and 2, in other championship flight first rounds.

Three players moved into second round in the first flight. Ted Tipps and George Benson defaulted to N. L. Ball and J. Trammel. O. A. Terry gained a 2 and 1 victory over J. D. McCauley.

Semifinals were reached in the second flight. A. L. Pace defeated W. T. Rogers, 1 up; Ray Pinson defaulted to W. Seeley; J. B. Galland beat J. Googion, 6 and 5; and F. Nichols drew a bye.

First round matches will be completed today. Finals will be played Sunday, after second round Wednesday and Thursday and third round Friday and Saturday.

Andy Kerr Steals March On Boys; Makes Grid Prediction

HAMILTON, N. Y., May 17. (AP)—Canny Andy Kerr stole a march on the boys today and got in his fall football prediction four months early: i. e., bigger and better hipper-dipper.

And, disregarding the more seaonal baseball altogether (the weather has been more footballish of late) Kerr named Cornell and Dartmouth as the top teams of next fall's Eastern gridiron campaign.

It Seems Only Yesterday That Waite Hoyt Was Winning Lot Of Games For Yankees But Today He's Through; Gets Release

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 17. —It seems only yesterday that Waite Hoyt was winning a lot of games for the Yankees and only the day before when he was the schoolboy wonder. But he is through now.

The Brooklyn Dodgers handed the veteran pitcher his release yesterday and at the same time cut loose Heinie Manush, another American league veteran.

Manush Still Good Hitter

Manush, who is 36 to Hoyt's 38, is still a good hitter. He should catch on somewhere but Hoyt is probably finished as a player.

At a baseball party last winter he told reporters, "when my number is up in the majors, I'll try something else."

Last winter Hoyt wrote a magazine article in which he claimed the National league played outmoded baseball and belittled its hitters. The hitters made him chew his words when the season started, belting his offerings and accompanying their hits with a fire of comment on his ability as an author.

Just Doesn't Have It

The article had nothing to do with his release. General Manager Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers says Hoyt just doesn't have it anymore.

That may be, but he had it for a long time. He was a schoolboy wonder of 16 when the Giants got hold of him in 1916. Soon he bobbed up with the Yankees to become one of the best right-handers in the American league.

He played with two great Yankee teams, the roistering crew that won pennants in 1921, '22, and '23 and the terrific sluggers that tore the league apart in 1926, '27, and '28 and won eight straight world series games.

Dutcher's News Of Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17 — Congress indicates every intention of going away without heeding Mr. Roosevelt's plea that it stop the issuance of tax-exempt bonds.

Rodney Dutcher

Tardiness of the request, which came late in the session after the long struggle over pending legislation had reached a final stage, aroused sour comment among congressional and administration tax experts who had been worn down by a season of heavy work.

The President used to be able to pop a tax surprise into Congress at almost the last minute and expect action. But not any more. Furthermore, the tax-exempt securities issue is both complicated and controversial. No one knows how long it might take to draft an intelligent bill to cover the problem.

Nevertheless, there are students of taxation who believe the removal of tax exemption from public bonds would contribute more toward business revival than repeal of the corporate surplus profits tax and the capital gains tax.

Borrowers Balked

About $67,000,000,000 of federal, state, county, city and other public bonds are now outstanding. It has been estimated that the loss to the treasury through its inability to tax these bonds has been running upwards of $300,000,000 a year.

But the point made by opponents of exemption is that the bonds offer almost hopeless competition for private borrowers in the capital market. Lenders prefer the small but certain return from public bonds, as long as that income is tax exempt, to the combination of risk and taxes.

It has been figured out that a lender in the $1,000,000 income bracket, assuming that he pays a state income tax—such as that in New York—as well as the federal tax, finds tax-exempt securities at 3 per cent more attractive than the chance to make a private business loan at 17 per cent. Under the circumstances, removal of tax exemption on future public issues could hardly fail to drive money into private investment.

Job Opening

Behind the president's continued failure to choose a new ambassador to Russia to succeed Ambassador Joe Davies, who is being transferred to Belgium, is the fact no one who might exactly fit the Moscow post seems willing to accept it, and the further fact that officials of this government are annoyed by the facts of life in the Russian capital which contribute to making the job unattractive. The state department regards the Russian attitude on the Rubens "spy" case as unsatisfactory.

Ambassador Bullitt became fed up with the post and was transferred to Paris at his own request. Mr. and Mrs. Davies had enough of it almost at once and have spent very little time on Russian soil.

Disappearance of numerous employes and friends of diplomats, correspondents and other Americans in Moscow has helped make the country unpopular among Americans assigned there, many of whom have felt compelled to urge Russian friends to stay away from them for their own safety.

All Very Secret

Even the most sympathetic Americans, anxious to study the U. S. S. R. with a friendly attitude, find themselves balked, according to foreign service men who have served at Moscow and found themselves unable to report much accurate information.

Huge categories of economic information, under various secret regulations, are not permitted to be known to outsiders and Americans have no way of knowing what they are supposed to hear and what not.

An embassy official, asked to learn the price the government paid peasants for rye, found it was dangerous to seek such information. Russian factories are carefully guarded and entry into office buildings requires police passes. Even initials of government organizations which used to be on trucks have now been removed, as well as names of dwellers in apartment houses which formerly were to be found at the entrances.

Add to this a constant atmosphere of espionage and you have the reason, according to men who have served there, why it's hard to get a good man to be ambassador to Moscow. American diplomats get to see practically no one except other diplomats, and they can see other diplomats in Washington or any other world capital.

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE A. TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Quanomet is aroused when its citizens are caricatured in the post office mural. The next night, the artist's wife, unscrupulous Marina Lorne, is murdered. Her sister, Pamela Frye, whose knife killed Marina, appeals to Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective. Down by his wharf she tells him she found $50,000 worth of ambergris on the beach which Marina tried to claim. Later Pam discovered Marina dead in the garage and hid the ambergris. As Pam is about to disclose where she hid it, Asey covers her mouth. Someone very near, smoking Turkish tobacco, has been waiting to hear just that.

Chapter Five
False Scent

"Yessir," Asey continued blandly, "after all you been through today, Pam, I should think your trip over would've been about the last straw. Say, you got a match? I thought I had a pocketful, but this old pipe's run through 'em all."

He removed his hand from her mouth.

"I've got a new flap of 'em somewhere on me," Pam said, slightly dazed at the natural and familiar sound of her own voice. "Wait'll I fish around."

"When I ask," Asey whispered in her ear, "where's the ambergris, you be real reluctant. It's in your house? Then you say, it's in the woods behind the garage. Act up! Thanks," he added aloud as she gave him the matches. "Now, Pam, before we do anything else, we'd better settle up the ambergris part. Where'd you hide it?"

"Do—do I have to tell you?" Pam asked.

Asey announced with some firmness that he was sure he was as safe a person as she was like to find. "An' certain," he said. "I'm sure the clam dreener ain't goin' to town an' spread the tidin's."

"Oh, I didn't mean to insinuate anything about you," Pam said hurriedly, noting Asey's grin and his nod of approval of her acting. "I'm sure enough about you. It's just—well, after what I've gone through, I sort of hate to tell anyone."

"Uh-huh," Asey said, "but we got to get to it—real soon. I s'pose you took it over to your house, didn't you?"

"No," she said, "that's the last place to keep anything safely. We have hideous rats, you know. I didn't dare take it there. I wheeled it in the barrow out to the woods, about halfway between the garage and our place. There's an old summer house there, filled with trash that never gets taken to the dump. There was an old linoleum rug. I set it on that," it was easy to romance, she found, once you got started, "and then covered it, and put things around it. No one's gone near that summer house for 30 years, except a vast family of skunks that live there. I knew they'd take care of the rat problem for me. I don't know from experience if rats like ambergris, but our rats eat anything, and there's no reason to suppose they wouldn't eat ambergris if they got the chance."

Someone Was Moving

"I see," Asey said. "Well, we'll go after that directly. But first off, we got a mighty heap of thinkin' an' plannin' to be done. You sit there, please, while I brood some."

He closed his eyes and listened. A soft wind murmured in the tall pines nearby and little waves lapped at the wharf piles. Beyond, on the outside beach, the surf boomed dully. A whippoorwill called plaintively from his orchard. Two dogs yelped furiously for a minute and then were abruptly silent.

Something nearby crackled. No, it was only his imagination. No, it wasn't either. Something—someone—was moving in the shadow of those tall pines at the foot of the landing.

Casually, Asey turned his head and stared, but his eyes couldn't penetrate those deep shadows. Probably the fellow was crawling on hands and knees through the thick quiet layers of pine needles, screened by the beachplum bushes that fringed the shore.

It was a physical effort to check his impulse to start out in pursuit. If only, Asey thought, he were alone! Somehow he'd get the fellow. But there was the girl to consider, and other little items, too. This fellow could see them, but they couldn't see him. He was probably armed. Asey had nothing more vicious at hand than a clam hoe and a pair of oars. If the fellow wanted to take a pot shot at Pamela Frye, there was nothing to stop him. If he suspected that they knew of his presence, Asey decided, Pam was the logical person to pot shot at.

Nearly a quarter of an hour passed before they heard the sound of a car starting.

"No lights?" Pam asked.

"He don't practically need 'em on the road," Asey said. "Not hereabouts. He'll put 'em on when he comes to the curve—see? At that speed, he'll be hob-nobbin' with the summer house skunks in about seven minutes flat, or else the angels'll be measurin' him for a harp. I hope for his sake that he knows the road."

Cops!

"Aren't you going to follow—whyn't you go after him while he was here? Who is he? Did he hear us? Who is he?" The questions tumbled over each other.

"Offhand," Asey stood up, "he's the feller that killed your sister. That's my guess. I didn't go for him, 'cause I felt you wanted to live to enjoy your ambergris fortune. Pam, this is very enlightenin', this is—come on. Let's wander up to the house—"

"Did Sister tell someone, d'you suppose? Did he hear us? What'll we do now?"

"Sure he heard." Asey said, shouldering his oars. "Sound carries real nice on the water. I guess, Pam, I'll collect an arsenal, an' go prowl round—except there's this problem of you. If you come, that means subjectin' you to the cops. An' if this feller finds the summer house bare an' void of ambregris, he's going to track you down an' choke the truth out of you. It's better that you stick here with me. An' better that the cops don't get—wait. Wait up—"

They stopped at the end of the landing.

"What," Pam asked dismally, "now?"

"Listen," Asey said. "Cars. Hear? Several of 'em, an' bein' driven at a pace so's to endanger. See the lights now? Comin' to my house—"

"Cops," Pam said. "Cops. Exit Miss Frye, with gyves or handcuffs. Anyway, you've heard the truth, and you're one up—there go the brakes, they're stopping in front of your house. Thanks, Asey, you—"

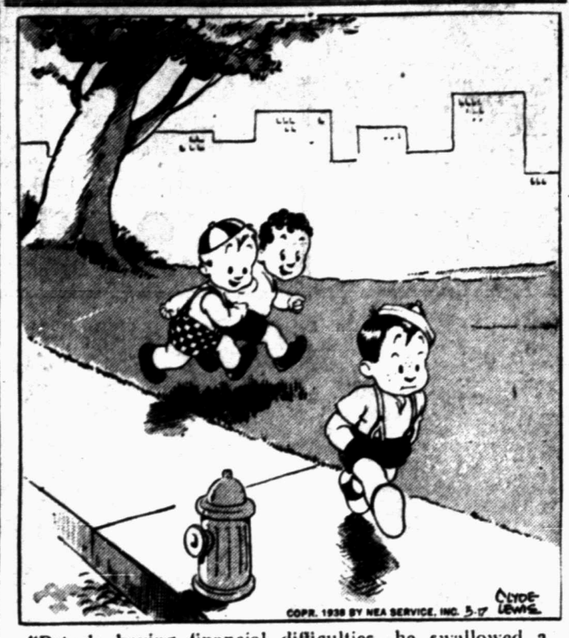

"Wait," Asey said. "I keep wonderin' why you've got to be carted off when you'll be such a nice drawin' card for this lad—oh drat, I left a note for Syl stuck in my door, sayin' I'd be in the Mary B or at the wharf—here they come! Pam, how much spirit you got left?"

"Practically none," she told him truthfully.

Will the police arrest Pam? Continued tomorrow.

HOW TO BE WHAT

THERE'S nothing like drawing up lists of qualifications for success in this or that. It has almost become a national sport.

The latest to come to attention is a list prepared for prospective brides and grooms by a professor of social ethics. What you need to be a marital success, he says, includes intelligence, ambition, courage, education, self-reliance, a sense of responsibility, and business ability.

The professor offers this handy-guide to counteract "the old American custom of marrying just because some young man or woman happens to fall in love."

But, like most such lists, the qualifications in one man would produce a success at almost anything. And the chances are that it won't counteract that "old American custom" any more than any list of qualifications for success in business will counteract the old American custom of taking a particular job just because some young man or woman happens to fall in love with the idea of having an income.

Loses In Court

Shivering in the same white linen suit he wore last summer when he surrendered in Chicago, Robert Irwin, confessed slayer of Veronica Gedeon, artist's model, and two others, is pictured above as he left the Supreme Court building in New York City after Justice Julius Miller refused his plea for an immediate murder trial. The defense maneuver came as reports circulated that one of the state's key witnesses is missing.

Until 1750 there was only one bridge across the Thames in London.

Today's Thought

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 17.—The play is still the thing, and not the player, out at the film factory conducted by the brothers Warner. At this writing three stars are on strike, twiddling their thumbs, knitting needles, and fishing poles, while production goes ahead under full steam.

The sitdowns of Bette Davis and Dick Powell are not so threatening but that both players and studio are confident of complete reconciliation. But the case of Errol Flynn is something else again.

Fly Away Errol

Mr. Flynn, whom you may have guessed is an incurable romanticist, bought himself a nice, shiny yacht and saved up a neat lump sum of $100,000. The money was in his pocket, but the yacht was in Miami. He thought it would be a dandy idea to go on a six-months' vacation cruise, meandering around tropical islands, digging for treasure, diving for pearls, picking fights with sharks and pirates, and otherwise conducting himself in the manner of his swashbuckling flicker roles.

The studio said no. It wasn't going to have him traipsing around all that time while his popularity waned in the memory of a fickle public. When they finally got done arguing, Flynn's six months had been whittled down to three weeks. He could fly to Miami, sail the yacht through the canal, and fly up from Central America to be on hand for the beginning of "Sister Act."

So the actor flew to Miami and proceeded to dawdle around for four weeks without even beginning his cruise. A studio representative even flew after him to deliver a crisp ultimatum which said that he had better return right away or else. Mr. Flynn said he'd take vanilla, and went on caulking a slein or splicing a hawser or whatever he was doing.

Come Back Jeffrey

So "Sister Act" got under way. It got under way with Jeffrey Lynn, almost an unknown, in the top role which had been intended for Flynn. At first Michael Curtiz, the director, was very angry, because he and Flynn had worked together amicably in three successful pictures, and the star's absence now was considered a personal affront.

Soon, though, Curtiz' feeling about Flynn was dissipated by the astonishingly good work of Lynn. He suspected, too, that if the roving Irishman had been dragged back disgruntled, he might have strolled through the picture sullenly, or "dogged it," as they say.

There's no dogging being done by the role's new incumbent, and probably no actor ever had such a large and staunch cheering section.

In fact, Curtiz now declares that he'll be better in the part than Flynn would have been. The director is determined that "Sister Act" shall be a star-building picture, for there are two other comparative unknowns in the cast besides Lynn. One is John Garfield,, 25, new to Hollywood but a veteran of eight years on the stage. The other is Gale Page, from radio and more recently from supporting roles in "Crime School" and "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse."

Catch

Bette Davis, who has been having troubles of her own, is the cause of Mr. Lynn's being where he is. While touring with the first road company of "Brother Rat," he was screen-tested by M-G-M, but not immediately signed. Miss Davis saw the test and declared that Lynn was just what she wanted for a role in "Jezebel." She didn't get what she wanted, but Warner officials saw the test and signed the actor while Metro was still hesitating.

Two Strikes

Everybody now admits that Miss Davis was right in judging "Comet Over Broadway," in which she refused to appear, a very badly written story full of inane dialog. Miss Davis may yet appear in a revision of it, but only if she likes the new treatment.

Dick Powell, the third striker at the studio, is not exactly suspended, but is taking part of the 14-week, no-pay layoff provided for in the contracts of most players. He refused to appear in "Garden of the Moon," a night club item full of comics and jitterbugs. The substitute leading man is John Payne, a good singer whose acting the critics may call "adequate."

LUBBOCK AUCTION AND COMMISSION CO. SALE EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY, BEGINNING AT 10:00 A. M.

Traders have come to know that they get the best prices that the market permits for their cattle when they bring them to us to sell.

We have endeavored to transact our business in a straightforward manner, and it is not surprising that our volume of business is ever increasing.

We try to treat all customers honorably and alike—doing as we would be done by, and this means that once a patron of this establishment, you are always a patron.

We believe that our auction sale is a distinct feature of the country, and materially assists in making this section more progressive and more attractive from a commercial and agricultural standpoint.

Help us to continue to build up our reputation as such an asset by bringing us more cattle to sell, so we can keep the buyers constantly coming to us for their cattle requirements.

Cleveland Relief Clients Are On 'Sit-Down' In City Hall

CLEVELAND, May 17. (AP)—Relief clients held the city council chamber today in a sit-down protest which, their spokesmen said, would continue "until regular relief orders are restored."

Their occupancy of the chamber came in the wake of a tumultuous council session last night.

The sit-downers, numbering about 150, dispatched a telegram to Gov. Martin L. Davey asserting the Ohio relief situation was a "national disgrace."

Municipal Safety Director Elit Ness instructed police not to molest the demonstrators.

CABLE IS RELEASED

CANTON, O., May 17. (AP)—Deuber S. Cable, whose wife was mysteriously slain 14 months ago and whose former sweetheart Miss Theresa Ludwig killed herself a week ago, has been released by police.

Police Chief Ira Manderbaugh said the decision to release Cable came when investigation failed to produce any new evidence.

May 8.67, July 8.73, Oct. 8.79, Dec. at 8.81, Jan. 8.83, and March 8.91.

A rally in Liverpool and official confirmation of rains in the belt resulted in improved demand later in the morning and all the early declines were recovered.

There was some final evening up in May position but buying and selling orders about balanced and towards mid-session the option traded at 8.68, July 8.76, Oct. 8.83 and Dec. at 8.85, or 1 to 3 points above the previous close.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP) — Responsive to Liverpool quotations lower than due, the wheat market here turned downward early today.

Opening ⅛-¾ off, May 79⅛-⅝, July 76⅜-⅝, Chicago wheat futures then steadied. Corn started ⅛-⅜ down, May 57⅛, July 58⅝-½.

Rains fell in many parts of the southwest where most needed, and the forecast indicated further heavy downpours.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅞-1⅛ under yesterday's finish, May 78⅜-½, July 73¼-⅝, corn ⅛-⅛ down, May 78⅜-½, July 75⅞-76, corn ⅛-⅛ down, 57⅛-¼, July 58¼-⅜, and oats ⅛ off to ⅛ up.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP) — Rallying signs appeared here and there in today's stock market but buying support was feeble at the best.

Volume stepped up a bit over yesterday's diminutive aggregate, although the pace never attained any real speed. Transfers approximated 500,000 shares.

Early nibbling at the aircrafts was followed by improvement in selected steels, motors, gold mines, utilities and specialties. Most leaders swung in a minor fractional range throughout and gains or losses of more than a point were scarce.

Speculative forces were inclined to trim trading sales, brokers said, pending the outcome of today's primaries, primaries which many in the financial sector viewed as an important test of new deal strength.

While Washington and business developments provided few recovery clues, analysts generally found nothing new of a particularly depressing nature marketwise in these quarters.

Federal Plan Is Proposed

of oil among the various fields in all the states on a fair and equitable basis for a period of one year.

"This would be extended to two years, if found necessary, and if at the end of that period the government deemed it necessary, for the benefit of the industry, to prolong its supervision, it shall not do so for a period longer than one more year, after which the industry shall be turned back to the states for administration."

Suggests Minimum Allowable

He suggested the federal government give each well a minimum allowable based on its depth, after which any increased production above that minimum would be based upon the cost of the well and the ability to produce.

He also suggested that crude and gasoline trunk pipelines be divorced from producing and refining companies.

Present conditions, if allowed to continue, he said would mean ruin to the independent producers and refiners. On account of increasing gasoline consumption this summer, he added, conditions would improve somewhat, but the same situation would recur in October.

Pressure Decline Reported

Meanwhile, V. E. Cottingham, chief engineer for the commission, reported the bottomhole pressure decline in East Texas, in the 30-day period ending May 8, was less than in the preceding months. The average pressure dropped only 2.11 pounds per square inch to make a new pressure figure of 1,116.15 pounds.

The commission announced purchasers nominations for June aggregated 1,512,875 barrels daily, a decline of 71,306 from May.

It gave no indication, in the early part of the hearing whether the Saturday shutdowns would be continued, although it has been the general opinion among operators they would not. It is believed the Sunday closings will be continued.

Mexico's Trouble

newspapermen yesterday.

"General Cedillo will not rebel."

The general's friends, likewise, continue to insist that he has no wish to revolt, although he is politically a Cardenas opponent. They charge the president is endeavoring to build up a situation justifying action again Cedillo.

The only actual violence among the welter of rumors was yesterday's clash at the University of Mexico, between rightists who want the university free of government interference and left wing, "socialist youth" group members.

One student was fatally injured, and five others were hurt, including a 3-year-old child. Police held 13 of the leftists, blamed for seizure of university buildings, but released them after a short while.

The Mexican senate, meanwhile, affirmed its support of President Cardenas in the rupture of diplomatic relations with Great Britain over expropriation of foreign oil properties.

Mexico "only followed the principles universally consecrated by international law" in taking over the properties, the majority (government) bloc of the senate said in a statement. The statement added that Cardenas had "limited himself to maintaining the dignity of the country."

Monroe Doctrine

trying to find a quick answer to the grave unrest in his country.

It is quite likely that he is influenced to considerable degree by knowledge that he apparently isn't running great danger of war.

Our Monroe doctrine imposes two restrictions on powers outside the western hemisphere: — old world nations are not to colonize in North or South America, and they are not to intervene "for the purpose of oppressing" new world countries "or controlling in any other manner their destiny."

Subject To Wide Interpretation

The Monroe Doctrine is perhaps subject to fairly wide interpretation, but in the past it has permitted old world nations to employ some vigorous and direct methods in settling disputes.

The British government, however, would hardly be likely to make any strong-arm move in Mexico without acquiescence of the American government. It would be for Washington to decide what measures were justifiable for Britain to take.

This is especially true in view of the fact that Cardenas also expropriated American oil properties valued at $150,000,000. Britain has been looking for a lead from America which thus far has regarded the position with great restraint.

what it will take more moisture to undo the damage to any appreciable extent.

Damage Believed Passed

Green bug damage was believed passed its peak. Rain, however, is an incentive to revival of green bug activity.

The North Panhandle Sunday and Monday received good moisture according to reports. Wheat in that section has been in better condition than on the South Plains.

Fort Worth and Denver dispatchers give the following rain reports: Dimmitt, quarter-inch; Hart, quarter-inch; Plainview, quarter; Petersburg, inch and a half; Lockney, inch and a quarter; Silverton, two inches; Turkey and Quitaque, inch each and Sterley, half inch.

Fields Are Flooded Monday In South Texas Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Cotton growers in Refugio and San Patricio counties surveyed flooded fields today with the prospect of having to replant following last night's downpour.

County agricultural agents declined to estimate the damage until the water had run off the fields.

Farm Laborer Killed

Marcos Gonzales, farm laborer, was killed by lightning while he was at work in a field near Sinton. A twister in the west Sinton community wrecked one farm home and demolished smaller buildings on another farm.

The storm, moving in from Victoria, left from three to four inches of precipitation in that area. At Refugio a petroleum company warehouse was wrecked. Kerosene, pouring over water of a nearby stream, created a fire hazard.

Livestock Drowned

Some livestock drowned in the Skidmore section where, in some places, water stood level with window sills.

San Antonio, where lightning did $200 damage to the power plant of the Southern Prison company, reported more than two inches of rain. Houston had more than a half inch and at nearby Katy residents reported eight inches of rainfall.

NYA Projects Are Approved

School projects in King and Snyder counties have been approved by the National Youth administration and one of them is in operation, according to A. V. Bullock, district supervisor.

A schoolground beautification program will be launched Thursday at Dumont school in the northwest corner of King county, Bullock said, and will give employment to six or seven youths. Approval of the projects by authorities at Austin was received Monday, Bullock said, at the district office here.

Sponsored By School

The project is being sponsored by the school, superintendent of which is Lorin J. D. Doolen.

Already in operation is a project at Snyder in Scurry county which is giving employment to approximately 15 enrollees of the National Youth administration.

The project, recently approved by offices at Austin, includes construction of a rock band stand and improvement of the courthouse lawn. The band stand is being built on the lawn. The project, set up to continue operation until the end of June, also includes construction of rock walks and a rock wall.

Sponsoring the project is Scurry county.

Plans are under way for beginning of one or two homemaking resident projects designed to provide training in housekeeping for girls eligible for the NYA program work program. If there are two in this district, Bullock said, they probably will be at Plainview and Lubbock.

The Junior league at Plainview has voted to sponsor such a project.

Girls will work part of each day in hospitals, cafeterias, public nurseries or on clerical work in offices, for which they will be paid. Out of her earnings each girl will be able to pay her share of the cost of operating the cooperative houses where they will live two weeks of each month, Bullock said.

Costs will be kept low, it was explained, since girls, in their spare time, will do their own marketing, cooking, cleaning, and mending under direction of a trained supervisor.

There will be two groups at each house, each group living in the house two weeks of each month.

"Many girls need and deserve opportunity to become good homemakers," said J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. "They want to learn about cooking and cleaning, budgeting and buying, and responsibilities of keeping house. In cooperation with local authorities and the homemaking division of the Texas Department of Education, we are providing opportunity and supplying qualified instructors for the training and practice work."

Acreages Will Be Assigned

Cotton acreage allocations to individual farmers will be assigned "as soon as possible," County Farm Agent C. C. Jobson promised Monday following his return with work sheets from three weeks spent at College Station. Walter F. Johnson, assistant agent in charge of agricultural conservation, accompanied him.

"We have worked out the acreage for each farm, and just as fast as we can, we will mail these out to farmers," Jobson said. "Our percentage is 38.4; that is, after a farmer's wheat base, if he has one, is deducted and also his idle land taken out, he may plant that per cent of his tillable land remaining in cotton.

Explanation Given

"The percentage is not of all his tillable land, but that left after deductions. There is a distinction between the total land on a farm and the tillable land remaining after deductions.

"We have these percentages worked out and they will be given each farmer. On these allocated acres, a man may raise as much cotton as he can and not be penalized."

Jobson said the county was alloted 170,159 acres for cotton, an increase of 20,837 over the first allocation.

In the AAA office at College Station, he said, there were 325 clerks working on county work sheets. A night crew of about 50 also works. "It is a bigger job than most people realize," he added. "We found they were working as fast as they could to handle the problem."

Several other percentage factors were given for this section, by Jobson, Crosby county's is 40; Lynn, 42; Terry, 30; Lamb, 34 and Parmer, 15.

Ether first was used as an anesthetic on March 30, 1842.
