Attended 4-H Camp at Buffalo Gap

Charles Klinkerman, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klinkerman of Route 1, will be attending 4-H Camp at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, until July 23rd, which he enjoyed last year, also. He is looking forward to swimming, hiking and other fun, as well as the opportunity of meeting to her 4-H Club members.

Charles Klinkerman, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klinkerman of Rt. 1, left July 20th for 4-H Camp at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, where he will enjoy all the things a boy may enjoy as a member of 4-H.

Charles attended the camp last year and enjoyed swimming, hiking, pitching horseshoes and other such sports while there.

This year Charles has more than one project: a black Angus steer, which he has had since March and field crops. He has learned many things about both.

Charles has one brother and three sisters.

what it is like to work 14 hours since he helps his Dad on the farm. This year he has plowed more than 100 acres of land and will help to do more than 100 more before entering his eighth year of school.

Charles, who weighs a mere 86 pounds, plowed over 100 acres on the farm last year when he was only 13 years old.

He is the only boy of his age from Burkburnett, attending this 4-H Camp.

Like his father, he wants to become a farmer and a cattle-rancher.

Sixth National Scout Jamboree Held In Valley Forge, Penn.

By RUDY ROBINSON

The scout troop 56 from Northwest Texas Council reached the Jamboree on Wednesday July 15, 1964. We have had beautiful weather so far but it looks like it is about to rain.

At camp there are three U. S. Weather balloons which make complete surface and upper air weather observations. Also we maintain complete observation from the U. S. weather satellite Tiros. Eight Eagle scoutsman these weather balloon with the help of Mr. James Fidler, weather bureau meteorologist.

Our food consumption is enormous. We have 100 freight car loads of food for each 11 days. We use 80,000 quarts of milk a day and in all there are 53,000 Boy Scouts here. Till the twenty-third of July 5,000 other scouts like me will be corresponding with the Press Magazines, Radio and TV. There are 80 boys in the Two Northwest Texas Council troops. They come from Quanah, Crowell, Henrietta, Bowie, Vernon, and of course Burkburnett.

On our way up here our most important stop was at Washington, D. C. There we stopped at the Iwo Jima Memorial. Then we went to the grave of the 35th president, John F. Kennedy in Arlington Cemetery. We saw the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. At Washington we stayed on the U. S. S. Fohn F. Keller for two days and nights. During the days we went to the Washington Monument, the Capital and the White House.

Big Pasture FFA Boy Wins Trip

Kirk Beard, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Beard of Randlett, will be leaving July 29th, for a five day trip to Houston and Galveston, Tex.

Kirk was a 5th place winner in the state Wheat show this past year. He will be accompanied by other winners of the wheat show. He was second place winner in the local Big Pasture wheat show, sponsored by Harlin Mills Grain of Burkburnett, and went on to win 5th in the state show at Enid.

The group will tour such sites as the Houston terminal elevator, Union Equity Site, San Jacinto Monument, U. S. S. Texas, and make a Yacht trip on the Sam Houston before leaving for Galveston, Friday, July 31st. They will tour the Galveston wharves and island, fish in the bay and swim in the Gulf before returning home Sunday, Aug. 2nd.

This should be one of the finest trips Kirk will ever make. Kirk is very active in FFA work, participating in many shows. He was Star Greenhand and is presently working toward the State Farmer Award.

The Big Pasture FFA is very proud of Kirk's accomplishments.

KEEP THE SCYTHE SHARP

If one want a reason to justify a vacation, some remarks by Paul J. Cupp, President, Acme Markets, Inc., more than fill the bill.

Mr. Cupp pictures vacationing such as too few persons remember. It wasn't just a matter of killing time but included useful and healthful work as well as recreation. He says: "It is good to realize the value of recreation and its meaning to our health, happiness and work satisfaction."

"As a schoolboy, I recall the summers spent on the farm of relatives, the cutting of hay and the harvesting of oats and wheat. While the work was not easy, it was a change, and for a city boy, quite an experience. There were no tractors—it was horsepower and manpower, literally. I learned to swing a scythe and to use a pitchfork, and while the body was tired at the end of the day, both body and mind were being re-created.

NEW TOOL FOR NEWS MANAGEMENT

"The value of recreation is now universally recognized. It can sharpen the mind, just as whetting sharpens the scythe. We cannot spend too much time in recreation, else our work suffers. Likewise, too little recreation, and we do our work as with a dull scythe."

Grass Roots Opinion

CHESTER, S. C. REPORTER: "Even while farm programs costs soared, the farm population dropped about 13 percent to 13.8 million. With about $7.7 billion of our tax money poured into the program in the last fiscal year, it figures out that per capita costs of the program now stands at about $558. On a family basis—figuring four to the family—this would be an average of more than $2,200 per farm family in the country. Despite such whopping allocations to our farmers, most of whom labor long and hard and have substantial land and equipment investments, government officials sometimes talk about the poverty that exists in rural America. This has its interesting aspects, as often the same people who defend this farm program turn around and contend a little federal money would eliminate poverty in other areas of our national life."

WILLAMINA, ORE., TIMES: "The federal government of this great country maintains academies for training young men for Army, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard. How about one to train Diplomats? That is the field in which we always seem to lose the most battles."

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 488 Madison Ave., N. Y. 22, N. Y.

Q. With all the new medical discoveries that help people to live longer, aren't life insurance companies making extraordinary profits on older policies issued 30 or 40 years ago?

A. Definitely not. First of all, recent mortality experience among a life insurance company's policyholders is only one of three major factors that the company must consider in setting premium rates on new policies. The other big factors include:

—Interest earnings on investments of policyholders' funds. While average interest rates on Life insurance investments have generally been rising since the end of World War II, they are still below earnings rates of the 1920s and early '30s, when those older policies were purchased.

—Operating expenses. While the life companies ratio of operating costs to total income has been declining slightly in recent years, it is still substantially higher than during the 1930s and 1940s.

—Lower interest rates and higher operating costs have tended to offset improvements in mortality during recent decades. Also the mortality improvement has been mainly among younger people, many of whom carry life insurance. Among mature adults, life expectancy has improved only slightly. A century ago, a 40-year-old man could expect to live on the average to about age 68. In the 1920s, he could expect to live to about age 70. Today, he can expect to live to about age 72.

The overall mortality rate among all ordinary life insurance policyholders (including the many millions who have bought policies based on the better mortality of recent years) has improved from an average of 6.9 deaths per 1,000 policyholders during the 1920s to an average of about 6.1 deaths per 1,000 policyholders during the 1950s. Life insurance companies, of course, must be prepared to pay death claims at whatever age they occur.

When a bore listens he ceases to become a bore to you, and you probably become a bore to him.

HOW TO GET RICH SLOW (but sure)

Every dollar you invest in Series E Savings Bonds grows 83 1/4% bigger in 7 years and nine months. You can count on it.

It's not as exciting as drilling a wildcat oil well, or diving for sunken gold. But it's mighty reliable. Especially when you use the Payroll Savings Plan to help you make sure you buy Bonds regularly.

This famous plan takes the back-sliding out of saving money by making it automatic. You just tell your employer you want him to set aside a small amount from your check each payday.

($4.33 a week will add up to twelve $25 Bonds a year. But you can have more or less deducted as you choose.)

Then you forget all about it. Savings come easily and almost painlessly. You never see the small amount that's deducted so you hardly miss it.

There's a unique satisfaction to saving money this way, too. Everytime you slip another Bond into your pocket, you know you're helping your country as well as yourself. Uncle Sam uses the money to help America resist the forces that threaten our freedoms.

Another thing about getting rich slow with U. S. Savings Bonds is that almost anybody can do it. So why not sign up for Payroll Savings before next payday?

Quick facts about U. S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity.
- You can get your money when you need it.
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen.
- You can buy Bonds where you work or bank.

THE WATER'S GETTING HOT

By TOM ANDERSON

According to the Livid Left call themselves moderates, extremist is either a "conservative" or a Communist. In middle is the Socialist. The Socialists can't stand right of blood, unless absolutely necessary. So they have been embarrassed by the inter-house aspects of their cousin, while they
the common enemy,
ism.
conservative friend of mine
the president of a southwestern university. "Why do you have a steady stream of "liberal" speakers to your campus conservatives?" The replied, "If we invited conservatives," we'd have to invite Communists." As a matter of fact, many Communists, and unprofessed, are to campuses where no ative has appeared in

of the socialist movement and attracted such bourgeoisie as John F. Kennedy.

Under Socialism

Shaw explained an anti-poverty society such as President Johnson proposes like this: "I also made it clear that Socialism means equality of income or nothing, and that under Socialism you would not be allowed to be poor. You would be forcibly fed, clothed, lodged, taught and employed whether you liked it or not. If it were discovered that you had not the character and industry enough to be worth all this trouble, you might possibly be executed in a kindly manner;
but whilst you were permitted to live, you would have to live well."

I'm for tragic freedom in preference to compulsory happiness. This is a fight in which we will win or lose, live or die.
Halfway measures can't win.
Many conservatives are now fighting valiantly to water-down the "Civil Rights" bill, to cut a billion off foreign aid, to sell the enemy only non-strategic goods, etc. Nuts. They say this foot-dragging operation is buying time. Buying time for what? Time to surrender on the installment plan?

The Comrats want and expect us to "buy time." They can't possibly win suddenly.
They must win by "patient gradualism," the way they have been winning ever since Franklin D. Roosevelt first sold us out by recognizing the Soviet government in 1933. We continue to buy time while they take the "developing nations", after which our time will be up.

Getting Hot

In a choice between slowing them down and speeding them up, I prefer the latter. Let's have the showdown soon as possible. An old story which I cannot vouch for, says that if you toss a frog into hot water he will jump out so quickly that he suffers no harm. But if you toss a frog into tepid water and then heat it gradually, he'll stay 'till he's done.
Fellow frogs, the water is almost scalding hot. Let's jump now.

The moderate Socialists can neither detect nor defend us from the mainstream of treason. So-called moderates are Socialists. The "Liberals," not the Conservatives brought us to the brink of socialism, insolvency, and surrender. Whatever their motives, they spawned this treason. Even an honest,

Smog-Fighting Auto Muffler

QUICK CHANGE—Installation or replacement of UOP-Arvin catalytic muffler, involves only removal of clip bolts from existing muffler and re-bolting new muffler (including catalyst) in place. Small tube joining pipe just before it enters muffler runs from under-hood air pump, supplying oxygen to help effect combustion of exhaust gases.

Smog-control device approved by California authorities for use on 1966 and later model cars registered in the state replaces existing automobile muffler. It operates two years without attention, special tuning or motor modification. Engine exhaust gas enters front of muffler through large pipe and is mixed with air pumped in through smaller tube. Catalyst within the muffler burns smog-causing gasoline compounds and carbon monoxide fumes into harmless water vapor and carbon dioxide. This device represents more than five years of research by Universal Oil Products Co. and Arvin Industries, Inc. California Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, which led the state's long search for a way to reduce smog caused by auto exhausts, rates the Arvin-UOP system most efficient of four it approved. The Board's tests show this smog muffler permits only 186 parts of gasoline hydrocarbons per one million parts of exhaust gas to escape into the atmosphere, well under the state's permissible maximum of 275 parts. The system, which is expected to sell to automobile manufacturers for about $45.70 above present exhaust systems, has demonstrated it will work for at least 24,000 miles, or two years of normal driving, without attention.

FUN AT THE FAIR

The New York World's Fair is as exciting a mixture of languages as the Tower of Babel. Some 76 countries are represented, including 24 independent countries in the African pavilion. The Fair's theme—"Peace Through Understanding"—is very apt.

And if you're among the 70 million Americans who'll attend the Fair during 1964 and 1965, you'll be able to eat in virtually every language. Food fit for Thai potentates, Hawaiian natives, French gourmets—anybody with an adventurous palate—is being served in more than 100 restaurants.

For a safe, convenient way to have fun at the Fair, use travelers checks from First National City Bank—the only bank at the Fair. You can buy and cash them anywhere. What's more, the bank is right on the spot to offer you complete banking services.

Play as you go
By Mary Whitman

What to do when you want to amuse a shut-in child? He may be confined for a rainy day, or have a cold, or be convalescing. Experts tell us to keep the atmosphere cheerful, to keep his meals attractive, and keep him happily occupied when he asks for something to do.

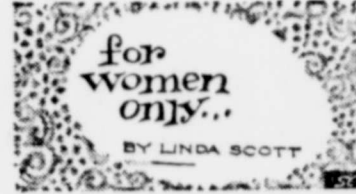

Lightweight building sets offer hours of pleasure, and the child can play with these on a tray. Often he'll be delighted with a paint set, complete with frame to hang up his finished work. A length of plastic or oil-cloth can protect his nearby surroundings while he dabbles.

Jigsaw puzzles are also pleasant hours passers, and many of these give him an extra bonus. "I learned the names of all the states and capitals by working a jigsaw puzzle when I was eight years old and had scarlet fever," says one game fan, who now heads the editorial department of Whitman Publishing Company in Racine, Wisconsin.

In his present job, Mel Benstead, Jr., still a puzzle fancier, helps plan new products for this largest producer of children's books and games in the world.

Even the youngest child enjoys simple puzzles that teach him how vegetables grow, or how animals are housed in a barn, and many of these painlessly teach spelling as well. Flash cards do the same job. Even a coloring book can take a child on a tour of famous landmarks. Missed schooling can often be made up with these plays, as you learn items available at low cost at many department, variety and drug stores.

His inexpensive games cost far less than a medicine, but under the state's permissible maximum of 275 parts. The system, which is expected to sell to automobile manufacturers for about $45.70 above present exhaust systems, has demonstrated it will work for at least 24,000 miles, or two years of normal driving, without attention.

A few charcoal briquets will help remove stubborn food odors from your refrigerator. Put three or four pieces in a disposable small pie-tin in your refrigerator and it will remain odor-free.

The more frequent showers and baths you will be taking during the hot summer will be more pleasant if your water is soft. Lindsay company experts say soft water is more refreshing because it washes away all the soap and dirt instead of leaving a thin film of scum on the skin as hard water does. You'll use less soap with soft water, too.

Before you wash any throw rug, baste a piece of fabric such as an old torn sheet to one edge. It makes it easier to pin on the clothesline.

Line your vegetable crispier with paper toweling to prevent vegetable spoilage. The towels absorb any moisture which accumulates at the bottom.

You can tie tighter packages if you wet the string first. The string will shrink and tighten when it dries.

A Wisconsin reader suggests: save seeds from your prettiest flowers this summer and label them by placing in envelopes with pictures cut from seed catalogs. The reader says these make good stocking stuffers at Christmas or for birthday gifts to flower lovers.

MECHANICAL KNOW-HOW

The 4-H Tractor program has trained well over a million youths to drive safely, handle the big machines and keep them in working order year around. The project is planned and supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. In this state and five others, educational aids and awards are provided by the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

With today's big investments in farm equipment, it is vital that tractors are adequately maintained and put to maximum use, points out 4-H Club leaders. A breakdown could mean financial loss on crops.

There is always plenty to do in this project, even for the beginner. The program is divided into four sections. The first year participation acquaints the member with the tractor and safe rules for operation.

Second year members learn to operate the tractor and what it takes to keep it going. Care of battery, spark plugs, cooling system and tires is taught. Operating costs, including fuel and lubrication also are studied.

"Improving Your Skills" is the title of the third unit. This emphasizes highway safety, power take-off, brakes, power transmission, winter care and ownership costs.

The fourth year and advanced unit goes into detail on machinery care such as servicing and maintaining tillage tools, planters, harvesters and sprayers. By the time 4-H'ers have completed the fourth year, they usually have assumed responsibility for not only the farm tractors, but other machinery as well.

Over the years thousands of young 4-H farmers have been recognized in various ways for doing a superior job. The program sponsor this year again will provide an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for the state winner. College scholarships worth $500 each will be awarded to the top 12 members across the nation. They will be designated by the Extension Service.

Canned cookery is the canny way to cook, no matter what the season. More than 1200 different canned food items are available to the consumer for cooking up everything from beans to bouillabaisse.

What's your canned food IQ? Here are five of the most popular questions asked by other family chefs about canned foods, and answers you may find helpful:

- Q. How long will canned foods keep?
 - A. Canned foods keep indefinitely. A good general rule for best use of canned foods is to have a regular turnover, once a year, for example.
- Q. Where should I store them?
 - A. Almost any place. Best storage is in a dry, cool place — avoid storage near steam pipes, kitchen ranges, radiators or furnaces.
- Q. Is it safe to leave unused portions of canned foods in the can after it is opened?
 - A. It is safe to leave food in the open can. Refrigerate and cover, just as you would any cooked food.
- Q. Does damage to the outside of a can mean the food is damaged?
 - A. Rust, dents or label stains have no effect on the contents of a can. If the can leaks, however, or if it bulges, it should be discarded.
- Q. What is a "tin can" made of?
 - A. Tin cans are made of steel sheets covered inside and out with a layer of pure tin. Cans are 99 per cent steel.

All About Dogo

Superstitions

Your dog's ancestors have been symbols of both good and evil, equally feared and worshipped since the first primitive man possessed a dog.

Characteristic canine loyalty to their masters first caused men to attribute supernatural power to dogs. Because the first dogs drove away strangers and animals from their masters' caves, they were used as talismans to repel both real and imagined enemies, says Tex Fawcett, of Purina Pet Care Center, St. Louis, Mo.

If you owned a white dog in ancient times you were considered lucky; if your dog was black you were pitied. In fact, in many societies black dogs were put to death as symbols of evil.

A Welsh legend says that if a black dog comes near the house of a dying man his soul is destined for eternal torment; a white dog's visit meant that his soul would be saved. It is still a common belief in many areas that a dog's howl is the herald of death.

Despite the many evil omens, most early peoples considered the dog a symbol of good and a protector of men. Romans used mosaic or painted dogs near the entrances of their houses to ward off evil.

One common belief today is that good luck will come with a friendly stray dog.

As in ancient times, men can look to dogs to detect a friend or an enemy.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 488 Madison Ave., N. Y. 22, N. Y.

Q. Rather than naming a specific beneficiary in my life insurance policy, why not just make it payable to my estate and then leave instructions in my will as to how it should be paid?

A. In special situations, it may be desirable to make life insurance payable to an estate. But, in most cases, it is preferable to name a specific beneficiary. Here are some of the reasons why:

—Life insurance can be paid to a named beneficiary immediately after the policyholder's death. Payment of an estate must be delayed until the will is probated and the court approves the distribution plan.

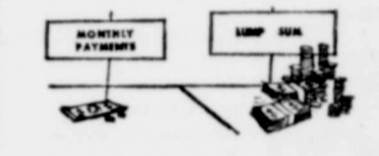

—Paying life insurance proceeds directly to the beneficiary can substantially reduce probate and administrative costs.

—Life insurance proceeds payable to a named beneficiary have a large degree of protection from claims of creditors. But creditors often have first claim to proceeds of an estate.

—Simultaneous death of the policyholder and an heir named in his will can greatly complicate administration of the estate, resulting in further shrinkage. This is avoided by naming a specific contingent beneficiary in the policy as well as a primary beneficiary.

Q. What is the "commuted value" of a life insurance policy?

A. This usually refers to policies like the family income plans, which are designed to provide a policyholder's family with regular income payments over a period of years if the policyholder should die during that period. These policies often give the family the option of collecting an immediate lump sum instead of the future income payments. For example, a typical policy might provide that, instead of receiving $100 a month for the next ten years, the family could collect around $10,500 immediately. The $10,500 would be the "commuted value" of the income policy.

SCIENCE briefs

Delayed Disease?
Nobody knows what causes multiple sclerosis, but a virus is suspected. If it exists, one scientist suggests, it may require 10 years to show its first ill effects.

An Alternate Path
Substances which induce cancer of the lung may reach that organ through the bloodstream rather than through breathing, new animal tests suggest.

Primitive Invention
The eye of a tiny marine crustacean called Copilia works by "scanning" what it sees, like a television camera, three British scientists have found. It's apparently nature's only experiment with this visual system.

More Smoking Statistics
Babies born to cigarette-smoking mothers tend to be smaller than the babies of non-smokers, recent studies show — yet they also seem to survive birth better. Nobody knows why.

Look Out Below
Stones blasted from the surface of the Moon by meteor impacts may be falling on the Earth, one space scientist holds. He is organizing an amateur treasure hunt for such falls in rural Iowa.

Sidewalk Topsy? Blame Tree Roots

When sidewalk slabs get askew, the cause nearly always is lifting by tree roots. It is possible to reset a slab by raising it with a long pinch bar, bracing it with stones while the root is cut away with a hatchet, and resetting the slab in a thin bed of cement. When patching sidewalks, try to match the color of the original by adding lampblack to the cement mix.

'SALAMANDER'S WOOL'

A human hair is 900 times thicker than "salamander's wool." This was the name given to asbestos in Marco Polo's time. Because of its heat and fire resistance, asbestos was thought to come from small lizard-like animals which were believed capable of living in fire. Today the sub-microscopic fibers of asbestos are woven together in great numbers and combined in mineral fiber siding to give it strength, durability and fire resistance.

PROGRESS

Progress is on the march. There is a great boom in building. Cures are being found for maladies that have killed mankind for centuries. Industry is doing magnificent things. But what sort of progress is being made in human relations—this term that includes respect for the person and property of others and good will among men.

There is one agency striving for progress in this field. This agency is the church. At the birth of Jesus Christ, the following prophecy and promise was given to mankind by a host of angels: "Glory to God in the Highest Heaven! Peace upon earth among men of goodwill!" Luke 2:14, (Phillips translation). Only when the majority of men on earth are men of goodwill, will we have peace.

Attend church this week and align yourself with the forces of God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

HISTORY IN THE AIR

Commercial air service across the Atlantic, inaugurated by Pan American Airways 25 years ago, observed its silver anniversary on June 28. The first paying passengers to fly the Atlantic took off from Manhasset Bay, N.Y., on Pan American Airways Dixie Clipper (top) a Boeing flying boat, on June 28, 1939. It took 42 hours and 10 minutes for that pioneering flight to reach Marseille, France. It stopped at the Azores and Lisbon on the way. For the Pan Am Jet Clippers of today, the Atlantic is only six hours wide, and Pan Am flies it 222 times every week as part of its service to 114 cities in 86 lands around the world.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES BARRY GOLDWATERS GREAT DAY

This is Barry Goldwater's great hour. He has received the nomination of the Republican Convention and it may mean his election in November to the Presidency of the United States. I doubt whether he expects it. If President Johnson retains his health and selects a satisfactory man for Vice President, the consensus is that President Johnson will be re-elected in November. However, many events will occur in the meantime and even President Johnson could be defeated. Similar political surprises have happened in the past.

Entire World Needs Readjusting

The defeat of Barry Goldwater by President Johnson may result in making Goldwater the greatest individual in the English speaking world. Indeed the English speaking countries are in need of a courageous leader. They are already beginning to talk in their press about Barry Goldwater as the one and only man who has the necessary foresight and courage.

Great Britain and, in fact, the entire British Commonwealth including Canada would naturally be the first to appeal to Goldwater to help them out. Great Britain is now on the verge of an election between the Conservatives and Labor. The English press is strongly divided between the financial interests of London and the working people of Liverpool. Some of the editorials are already saying "we need a man like Senator Barry Goldwater to lead us out of our present conflicts, a courageous man, absolutely unselfish, and not a politician." This does not mean any permanent change of government, but simply a temporary agreement for the good of all parties. But let us look at other English speaking countries. The next great one without a strong leader is India.

What About India?

This is a vast sub-continent and a long civilized country, second only to China in population, with over a half billion people, including Pakistan. It had been held together by Prime Minister Nehru who recently died suddenly leaving these millions of people as a prey to Russia, China, or to a purely revolutionary group. This is one of the world's greatest political problems today. It is vitally tied up with South Vietnam which is now holding back the Chinese.

Furthermore, it looks as if the South Vietnam war can only be contained by more active United States participation. This President Johnson is in no mood to do now, especially before election in November. With this, Laos and Cambodia are also involved. Many national leaders believe that Barry Goldwater is the only one who at present, could hold the Chinese back and be unselfish enough to retire after he has performed this important function. Furthermore, even though he should not get the Presidency of the United States, Barry Goldwater may one day be widely viewed as a "prophet" of the English speaking world.

Possibilities Of Failure

Barry Goldwater is human and may forget his unselfish independence when he comes to the test, but as yet he has not. He will undoubtedly stick to his present hope of beating President Johnson in the November elections. Should Barry Goldwater win, he will go down in history as a great figure such as George Washington or Abraham Lincoln. But the temptations before him will be very great from now on.

The purpose of this week's column is to warn readers of the events we are facing. This is not an appeal for Barry Goldwater. He may stumble as have many before him having the same opportunity. No one, of course, can tell what the future holds. Yet I am one of those who believe that what takes place now is simply a continuation of what has been happening down through the centuries, and furthermore that what happens today or tomorrow will be the result of forces set in motion centuries ago. I wish that General DeGaulle, for whom I have the greatest respect, would give more time to reading the history of Rome, Spain, Carthage and other ancient nations of North Africa.

The main reason why women live longer than men is that they don't choose to die.

Beth Byars-Mickey Randall Simmons United In Marriage Friday, July 17

Beth Byars adjusts the wedding veil of her sister, Joyce as they prepare to meet her future husband, Mickey Randall Simmons. Brenda Joyce and Beth are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Byars and Mickey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Simmons. The new Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Simmons were united in marriage by Eugene Gilmore, minister of the Church of Christ on July 17th. The bride's parents celebrated their 20th anniversary by attending their daughter's wedding.

Brenda Joyce Byars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Byars of 316 Hayworth, was married to Mickey Randall Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Simmons of 412 Magnolia, July 17th in the Church of Christ.

Eugene Gilmore, minister, officiated. The church was decorated with gladioli and candlelight. The ceremony was performed beneath an arbor of gladioli. Jeanine Gilmore and Valaree Matherly gave a lovely rendering of the beautiful song, "Because."

The bride, dressed in brocade satin, was given away by her father, L. J. Byars. She carried a spray of white carnations.

Bridesmaid was Beth Byars, sister of the bride and the best man was her brother, Bill. Little Jacky Simmons was ring bearer.

Hosting the reception, held at 208 Broyles, were Mrs. Ray Matherly and Mrs. Katherine Sims, assisted by several friends of the new Mrs. Simmons.

The newly weds went to Dallas and Fort Worth for their honeymoon and returned to set up house keeping at 208 Broyles two days later.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Simmons are graduates of Burkburnett High School, class of 1963.

Joyce is now employed at the City Water Department and her husband is part owner of the Burk Well Servicing Company, with his father.

The couple now reside at 208 Broyles.

Except that I smoke, drink and worry, I have taken good care of my health and it has paid off nobly.

News From The County Agent

Nearly 40 percent of all Texans derive their income wholly or in part from farming or ranching or connected businesses. Despite a continuing decline in the number of people on farms and ranches, many of those leaving the country are not leaving the agricultural industry, explains county agent, B. T. Haws, but are shifting into agricultural related businesses.

Temporary browning of pecan leaves may occur when materials are applied to pecan orchards, but this will disappear in seven to fourteen days. Pecan nut fall is severely delayed but small bare spots are covered by new growth in six to eight weeks.

Weedy grasses should be mowed three to four days before treatment, adds the county agent. However, areas should not be watered within 48 hours of application. Retreatment is often necessary for good control.

Texas pecan production is expected to top all states this year. B. T. Haws, county agent, reports that all major producing areas of the state will have a crop this year. But where the nut casebearer has not been controlled the outlook is very dim, he says. Dry weather and other insects such as the pecan weevil, hickory shuckworm and aphids will influence the final harvest, he adds.

A question asked by many people every day is, "What kind of fish shall I put in my pond?"

"Stock your pond with whatever kind or kinds you like to catch," says county agent, B. T. Haws. "If you are a catfisherman, then there is no reason to stock other species; the same goes for bass or sunfish. If you want all kinds, then bass, channel catfish and redear sunfish are compatible."

Evidence indicates that it is not necessary to stock a forage fish along with largemouth bass. Many sources still recommend stocking a sunfish such as the bluegill along with bass.

These cover large sections of the country including states north of Texas where the growing and spawning seasons are shorter and more favorable for bass-bluegill combinations.

A female bluegill can spawn as many as four times during a single season in Texas, notes the county agent. The result is thousands of small bluegills that never reach edible size.

Unightly weeds can invade and ruin a beautiful lawn when proper management is neglected. A vigorous turf is the best control for weeds and weedy grasses, but when they do infest a lawn, elimination and control with chemicals or by hand becomes an important management practice.

Some chemicals available for controlling lawn weeds include disodium methylarsenate, amine methylarsenate, naphtha, endothal, silvex, and 2-4-D.

Crabgrass, Dallisgrass goosegrass, sandbur and other summer growing weedy grasses in Bermuda grass turf may be
