Council Ups Airport Lease Fee, Studies Fire Truck

Owners of hangers at Marian Airpark are going to pay higher leases for the land their buildings occupy, as the result of action by the City Council Monday, June 20.

Effective January 1, 1978, the fee will be $3.00 per front foot. For many years they have paid only 50 cents per front foot.

In approving this action, council members felt the higher fee would be more in line with other land lease prices.

The new contracts will carry the stipulation that the hangers are to be only for airplanes or airport related use.

Fire Chief David Peters met with the council to discuss purchase of a new fire truck during the coming fiscal year.

The truck it will replace is a 1948 model which is not now in use. Some of the equipment on it can be salvaged for the new vehicle, Mr. Peters said.

Asked by council members the probable cost of the new truck, Mr. Peters said that when he checked a year ago, the cost was $30,000.

The council has known for some months that it must buy a new truck next year if Wellington is to maintain its fire insurance credit.

Mr. Peters will draw up specifications and present them at the next meeting of the council.

Council members approved the purchase of a base radio station, to be installed at City Hall, with remote sets to be placed in the sheriff's office, jail, and home of a deputy-relief dispatcher.

Members also agreed to dispense with the Monday July 4 meeting, and a special meeting will be called if anything comes up that needs their attention.

Purchase of two acres of land from Sam McGill for location of a water way that will be part of a system to divert floodwaters from the north east part of town.

Guidelines for use of an airplane to be used jointly by the county, city and ambulance service were tabled until the next meeting. These were drawn by the Commissioners Court.

Only one bid was submitted on the city-owned hanger at Marian Airpark, and sale of the building to Louis Allred for $3,062 was approved.

Complaints of noise in Ellison Park late at night were considered, and the council voted that lights at the tennis courts will be turned off at 11:00 p.m.

School Contract To Ft. Worth Firm

Wellington School Board told architect Tom Brown that brown-painted concrete walls would not do as the exterior surface of the new Wellington Elementary School building, and specified a rock aggregate finish before awarding a general building contract to Speed Fab-Crete of Ft. Worth Wednesday, June 15.

The board signed a contract for remodeling one wing of the elementary building, adding 17 new classrooms and building an addition to the football field house for $463,384. All contracts awarded Wednesday night totaled $548,849.

The former Bama Camp, Mrs. McKay was born in San Antonio June 1, 1894, the daughter of John L. and Lamartine Felder Camp.

Simons, Hightower Speak At FM 3143 Dedication

The formal dedication of Highway FM 3143, serving the northwest part of Collingsworth County, will be held Friday, June 24, in ceremonies that begin at 11:00 a.m.

Charles E. Simons, a member of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission, Austin, will be the dedication speaker.

After a Flip Breedlove barbecue, the Hon. Jack Hightower, Congressman from the 13th District, will address the visitors.

The celebration will be held in a grove of cottonwood trees on the Jess Coleman ranch 12 miles southeast of McLean directly on the new highway. This is in the Enterprise community.

Attendance is by invitation. Cooper & Woodruff, Inc., contractor for the new road, is pouring the last of the asphalt topping this week.

It is probable that the gravel topping will not be applied by the Friday, due to delays from heavy spring rains that damaged the road, according to O.V. Johnson, resident highway engineer.

But for all practical purposes, the road will be finished, and for the first times ranchers from Abra northwest to the corner of the county will be served by a surfaced road.

Hosting the celebration are members of two families that came to the community in the 1890's, the Hess and Breeding families.

Farris Jake Hess, the third generation to ranch in the area, and a past president of the American Hereford Association, will be master of ceremonies.

Others of the Hess family assisting are Mrs. Clyde (Ruth) Magee, Mrs. Jess (Margaret) Coleman, and Mrs. John (Mary) Dwyer.

W.R. Breeding, Precinct 4 commissioner, heads arrangements for Collingsworth County.

Former Donley County Agent Flip Breedlove is preparing one of his famous barbecues for the dedication. "We are preparing for 350 visitors," said Mrs. Magee.

One part of the dedication will be a reunion, for many former residents will be returning to the community.

"We tried to invite all former Enterprise to the barbecue," said Mrs. Magee. She asked any who were missed to contact her.

Invitations have gone out to many dignitaries on the state, district and county level, including all members of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission, Highway and Public Transportation Department personnel from the district offices at Childress and Amarillo, and from the Wellington, Pampa and Clarendon offices.

Officials have been invited from the four counties FM 3143 touches, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Donley and Gray. Mayors of area towns, members of Commissioners courts and county judges have received invitations.

Mr. Simons was appointed to the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission in 1971. This commission is the policy making body of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, one of the nation's largest transportation organizations.

A newspaper man in his early career, Mr. Simons came to Texas as capitol correspondent and political analyst with the Associated Press at Austin.

Lon Kiker Wins State FFA Award

Lon Kiker was notified last week that he has won the State Crop-Farm Employee Award, which he will receive at the state FFA convention in Ft. Worth July 13 to 15.

Kiker, president of the Wellington FFA chapter, won the award based on his work through the ag department's co-op program. This enabled him to work part time for his father on the family's farm, according to Rodney Myrick, vocational agriculture instructor.

The award is made possible by the Fab Knit Manufacturing Company in Waco and will be presented Wednesday, July 13, at 9:00 a.m. He was notified by Billy L. Conner, executive secretary of the state organization.

Prior to being named for the state honor, Kiker won the district and area Crop-Farm Employee awards.

"Lon has done a tremendous amount and variety of farm work," said Mr. Myrick. "I am confident that he has the ability and the judgment to carry out an independent farming operation."

At the same meeting, Kiker will be awarded the Lone Star Farmer degree.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH BUILDING

Not exactly like the walls of Jericho but tumbling down nevertheless, came the roof, north and west walls of First United Methodist Church Tuesday, June 21. The trumpeter in this case was demolition contractor Vernon Nickerson and his ram-attached front end loader. Site work for construction of a new church building at the same location is expected to continue for another week.

Wellington office. "Their needs will range from personal adjustment to psychotic behavior," he explained. Mental problems considered will range from neurosis, to character disorders to psychosis and various types of mental retardation.

While this office offers counseling services, those in need of psychological or psychiatric treatment will be referred to psychologists or psychiatrists working with the Amarillo MHMR regional office staff.

"The main aim of the services is to try to keep these people out of state hospitals," said Mr. Barton, and emphasis is placed on early detection of their problems.

Treatment is comprised of psychotherapy, which is conducted individually or in groups. A screening team at each center will be a psychiatrist and psychologist, who will come to the Wellington office from the MHMR staff, and a psychiatric social worker.

Prevention of these problems will come through education, both in the school system and community organizations. There will be emphasis on education in alcohol abuse, child abuse and general adjustment to life.

Types of problems covered by Family Services include marriage, readjustment to social situations, such as the aftercare of a person just out of a state hospital, the aged and their transition to retirement, and a variety of others.

Emphasis will be placed on work with juvenile delinquents and adolescent rebellion.

Mr. Barton comes to Wellington from San Antonio, where last month he was graduated with a Master of Social Work degree from Our Lady of the Lake University, one of the leading universities in this field.

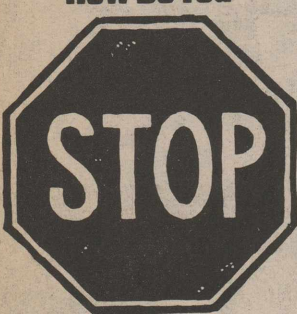

He received his bachelor's degree in social work at Kansas State College in his home town of Pittsburg, Kansas.

He has worked in juvenile probation at Olathe, Kansas, for community action and neighborhood youth programs at Pittsburg, and in the psychiatric ward of St. John's Hospital, Joplin, Mo. In San Antonio he worked with Inman Charitable Center, a community based organization. Mr. Barton also has worked in private practice with adolescents and young parents.

Demolition of 1st Methodist Under Way

Demolition of the old First United Methodist Church building is under way this week by Vernon Nickerson, Co., of Amarillo.

As the north section of the west side was being taken down Tuesday morning, a portion of the wall collapsed into the alley and on the greenhouse belonging to Mrs. O.E. Dodson, immediately west of the church. There was also damage to the office at the front of the greenhouse.

Mr. Nickerson said that a wooden beam that was hidden from sight caused the wall to be deflected, and to fall in the alley rather than to the inside of the church, along with that portion of the roof.

Another problem will come with demolition of the south wall, which is only a few feet from the new educational building, said Mr. Nickerson.

Much of the roof and ceiling in this section have been removed by hand to give workmen more control over where the wall will fall.

Mr. Watson pointed out that interested persons from outside the county are invited.

Later, he became its executive vice president, in which capacity he devised and managed the successful campaign for the adoption of the constitutional amendment protecting highway user taxes from diversion. Also, he was the leading sponsor of the amendment to authorize a retirement system for state employees.

From 1947 to 1971, Mr. Simons was executive vice president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, Texas leading oil trade organization.

Mr. Simons also served more than 15 years on the advisory council of the Texas Employment Commission and was one of the organizers and first presidents of the Texas Aeronautics Association. He has held membership on boards of other distinguished organizations.

Many years of planning and work went into FM 3143, with ranchers of the area taking the leadership and doing much of the groundwork. At least four appearances before the Texas Highway Commission followed, before final approval was given.

That part of the road to be dedicated begins in the Abra community, and was built in three sections as part of this county's Farm to Market road allocation. That section of the road now being completed is 5 miles in length.

This road was built in two sections at a cost of $762,854.37.

Airport News

Those closely associated with Marian Airpark say we have more air traffic than the airports at Hollis, Shamrock, Clarendon or Memphis. Some believe we have as much if not more than Childress Airport.

Much of the activity at the airport goes unrecorded, although Manager Cliff Hartman keeps a register available for everyone flying in or out.

Flying in Sunday were R.A. Williams, Jr., who pilots his own plane; C.A. Crawford of Panhandle piloted his private plane down to see his mother, Mrs. Silas Crawford.

That same day, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Allred and Don flew to Dallas to visit their other son and daughter, Alfred Allred and Mr. and Mrs. Jon Waggoner and girls.

Last week, Hartman took Mrs. Bill Janes to Eagle Pass on a business trip and returned for her Saturday.

Also Saturday, Tom Brown of Dallas, architect for the Wellington Elementary School, flew in on business.

Still on Saturday, a student pilot from Elk City, who didn't leave his name, stopped on a solo flight across country.

Tommy Carl Pendergrass, with his wife and son, Carl Douglas of Dallas, flew here in their plane Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Pendergrass.

Tommy, who grew up at Quail, is a civilian employee of the Naval Air Station at Dallas where he is in charge of the entire fuel supply for the station, and included in this are the huge jets that stop over.

He entered the Navy in 1963, and upon completing his enlistment began his work as a civilian. Pendergrass learned to fly before he entered service but did not get his pilot's license at that time.

Two helicopters from Stroud, Oklahoma, stopped over to re-fuel in route to Childress. They stopped again Saturday en route home. Childress Airport, according Contract on the first portion was let to Pit Construction Co. of Lufkin on April 29, 1971, for 11.5 miles, at a cost of $415,386.99. This included 8 miles in Collingsworth County, and the remainder was for FM 3070, the continuation of 3143 which is in Donley and Gray Counties.

The contract on the second section was let October 12, 1976, to Cooper and Woodruff Inc., Amarillo for 6.3 miles at a cost of $347,467.38.

Dr. Wm. L. Reed of Plainview, a consultant for Collingsworth General Hospital, comes each Monday, piloting his own plane.

Cliff Hartman is presently giving flying lessons to Andy Bell, Don Allred, Kenneth Moore, Bill Spillman and Henry Wells.

Hartman says that "in decent flying weather, we average from one to three planes per day stopping at the Wellington airport."

Byron DePauw of Amarillo flew in one day to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur DePauw. He was also down to look at some land.

She lived at Silverton as a young woman and was married there to Mr. Devenport on August 14, 1923. They came to Wellington in 1932.

Mrs. Devenport was a member of the Church of Christ.

She had many interests and remained active until a few years ago when her vision failed.

Funeral services were conducted at 3:00 p.m. Sunday in the Church of Christ with Tom Anderson, minister, and Gaylord Cook of Stamford, a former minister, officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Arlie Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Bob Weatherly, Frank Coleman, Jr., Judge R.L. Templeton, E.A. Birdwell of Silverton, Rudolph Miller of Wichita Falls, and John Birdwell of Mangum, Okla.

Surviving Mrs. Devenport are her husband; four sisters, Ms. Bruce Gibson of Turkey, Mrs. Elsie Cornett and Mrs. Neva Garvin of Silverton, and Mrs. Velma Hopson of Winslow, Arizona; and one brother, H.R. Welch of Ft. Sumner, N.M.

Her only son, T.W. Devenport, Jr., died as a youth.

When buying a used boat, exercise the same cautions for buying a used car--if possible, have a test drive, cautions Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

FFA Members At Workshop

Five members of Wellington FFA chapter, along with their advisor, Rodney Myrick, attended the electrical workshop sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo, Monday through Wednesday, June 13 to 15.

The boys, and the category in which they worked, included Gary Isaacs, farm wiring; Clay Don Lacy, controls; Jimmy Morgan, Robby Murdoch and Jeffrey Camp, electric motors.

The workshop was held at the Episcopal church Center north of Amarillo.

Californians Visit Relatives in Area

A former area couple, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hart of Highland, Ca., returned home Friday, June 16, after visiting relatives for two weeks.

Here, they were guests of her niece, Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Souder and their children and families. They also visited Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. Paul Easter, in Lubbock, and a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Stinson at Mangum, Okla. and a hundred-year-old uncle in Erick.

The Good Neighbor Club met in the home of Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch Friday, June 17.

Mrs. Mary Karnes, president, presided over the brief business session. Mrs. Ray Clubb gave the prayer and roll call was answered with a scripture verse.

Larson Arrives to Begin Band Work

A Larson again directs the Wellington School Band program.

Jamie Larson, elected recently to that post, moved here last week with his wife, Kay, and their four-months-old son, Jay.

His father, James Larson, was director of school bands from 1962 until 1968. He headed the band program of the Sugarland Schools until two years ago, when he was named director of bands and acting director of instrumental music at Tarleton State University, Stephenville.

Jamie Larson comes here after completing his first year of teaching at Spur, a class A school where he had a 75-piece band.

He is already contacting potential members of That Skyrocket Band and the Junior High Band, as he begins its rebuilding program. After he was elected, and before school was out, Larson came up and talked to the students, encouraging them to continue their music, but telling them a year of hard work is ahead.

A graduate of John Foster Dulles High School at Stafford, he attended Sam

Houston State University and received a Bachelor of Music Education degree from West Texas State University, with an instrumental emphasis and minor in education. "Low brass is my specialty and trombone my main instrument, but I can play them all," Larson said.

Both his high school and college careers are filled with band honors. At Stafford, he was in the all region band 5 years, all district one, area band three years; and received first divisions in solo and ensemble competition four years; a second division in the state solo and ensemble competition one year, and first division in that category two. He was on the all-star stage band two years.

Larson attended Sam Houston State on a band scholarship, where he was in the Houstonian Jazz Band Symphony Band and Brass Choir. At WT, he played in the Symphonic band, Marching Band, Stage Band, Orchestra, the Brass Choir and took part in musical productions of the college.

He was president of the WT chapter of International Trombone Association.

Kay Larson, like her husband, is a qualified band director, although she has never taught. Her Bachelor of Music Education degree is from Sam Houston State, and she plays the French Horn, as well as other band instruments and "the piano for fun."

Her musical honors are much like those of her husband. Her hometown is Belton, and in high school there she was in the all-region band four years, area band three and all-state three. She had first divisions in solo and ensemble competition five years.

She had the same activities as Larson at Sam Houston State.

In Canyon, she was a deputy county clerk and gave private lessons on band instruments. The family is living at 1809 East Avenue.

City Receives Tax Rebate of $7,337

The City of Wellington has received a check for $7,337.54 as its June share of the one percent sales tax, according to the office of Comptroller Bob Bullock.

The payment for the same period in 1976 was $7,732.22.

Wellington's 1977 payments to date total $26,689.73. Payments for the same period last year were only $22,785.75.

This represents a 17 percent increase in the sales taxes rebated to Wellington during the same period last year.

Bullock said his office mailed June checks totaling $39.3 million to 865 Texas cities.

Bullock also reminded Texas taxpayers of the following bills approved by the 1977 Legislature which will affect sales tax collections:

--SB 110 exempts from the sales tax syringes and hypodermic needles used for medical purposes. The bill is effective Aug. 29.

--HB 694 exempts newspapers and subscription sales of magazines from state and local sales taxes effective Aug. 29.

--HB 1831, now in effect, exempts from the sales tax the sale and rental of motion picture film to or by movie theaters and television stations.

Bullock said that the exemptions will have only a minor effect on overall sales and use tax collections.

Students Attend Clarendon College

A number of Wellington students are enrolled in Clarendon College for the summer term.

These include Suzy Castleberry, Penny Morgan, Kay Coffee, Sonya Scott, Don Allred and Joe Baumgardner, who graduated this spring; also Linda Coffee and Tanya Watson, college students last year, and Mrs. Mickey Fugitt.

Enterprise School Served the NW area of County 50 Years

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, June 23, 1977

Mrs. Clyde Magee of McLean has completed one of the finest histories of a community school to appear in this area, telling the story of Enterprise School and much of the community's early history. She has compiled it into book form, richly illustrated with photographs, either the original or reproductions, from families of the area. Generous credit is given those people who assisted her with information.

Several copies of this history were made, but the original is to be presented to the Collingsworth County Historical Museum.

The dedication of FM Highway 3142 this week is a fitting time to tell the Enterprise Story, for the late Mr. Magee was one of those who worked so hard to make it a reality.

Enterprise School opened in 1895—one of the first in the county—and served children of a wide area in the northwest its first session in 1895. A copy of the deed from the original abstract states: This survey containing two acres of land, more or less in SE quarter of section 47, Block 22 is understood that this tract of land is conveyed to said P.W. Myers, County Judge of Collingsworth County, and his successors in office, condition upon its use and occupancy as a site for a public free school building, etc., given by William Walter Phelps, County of Bergon, in the State of New Jersey, through his agent and attorney, Ira W. Evans in the State of Texas, County of Travis. Dated December 16, 1893.

The location was the southeast corner of the section where Rudie and Karen Tate now live.

The first teacher was Miss Annie Coleman, later Mrs. Gene Simmons. There were pupils from a wide area and when they gathered, the room was packed with boys and about coming to school on a particular day without his assignments. When asked why, he answered that he did not want to herd the hogs that roamed up and down Richardson Creek.

All lessons were to be learned at home and recited at school. School started when all students got there and lasted until all lessons were heard. When the last lesson was heard, school was dismissed.

Mr. W.W. Neeley taught in 1898-99, Mr. W.K. Hollifield in 1899-1900, Mr. A.H. Willmoth in 1900-1901. Mr. W.G. Edgerton in 1901-02 and 1902-03 term. He used a crutch because of a lame leg. We have group pictures showing his students including the Groves, Strongs, Everetts, Fishers, Gipsons, Morses, etc. In 1903, Mr. W.W. Neeley came back for a second year.

Miss Ruth Carnes, later Mrs. A.Q. Bonner, taught in 1904-05, and Georgia Caperdeed that much later than the action took place.

This moved the school house about one and one-half miles west and south. The enrollment was smaller and we assume it was because the Abra School was started.

The pupils in 1908-09 were Simon and Benny Sitter, sons of Roy Sitter (a cousin of George W.) who was running the Sitter Ranch, James Noel, Lawrence Nicholson, Elmer Strong, Iris and Novie Jones and their brother.

In 1909-10 Miss Bertha Graham taught, and Miss Myrtle Strong came back for the 1910-11 and 1911-12 terms.

In 1912, Miss Cora Cash, (later Mrs. Mayfield) from McLean taught. Ethel Breeding (Coleman) was starting to school; so Miss Cash stayed with the Breedings so that she could make sure Ethel got to school. Ethel remembers walking near a cattle feeding ground of the YOU ranch all school which scared the pupils.

He was an excellent math teacher, and the students learned that subject well. Miss Mabel Watkins came from McLean for the 1919-20 term. She stayed with her sister and brother-in-law, the Evan Sitters.

It seems the Dorsey boys were riding their horses to school, and rather than tie the horses up all day, they turned them loose in the pasture.

Simon Sitter, who was feeding the cows, took the Dorsey boys to task. Getting off his horse, he prepared to fight. Just as he walked under his horse's neck one of the Dorsey boys "let him have it on the head" with a big club.

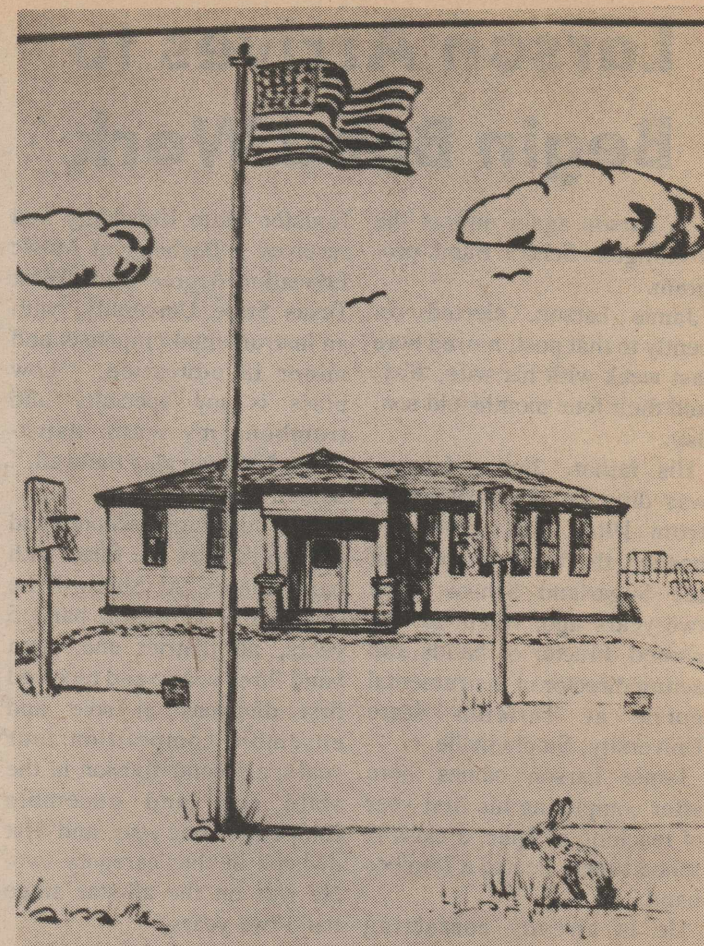

"When he arrived back at the ranch he took off his cap and bandana soaked with blood. A big three-corner gap of his hair was loose.

Dr. Montgomery in McLean was consulted and he instructed them that any kind of disinfectant would do. Some horse Borax was applied and the wound healed.

Mr. S.M. Castleberry year in her place. Tillie later became Mrs. Clyde Alexander. Miss Lillie Williams and Miss Florence Arnold were the teachers for the 1924-25 term. In 1925-26, Miss Rena Woodring and Miss Florence Arnold taught. Miss Woodring and Miss Mittie Jones taught the 1926-27 term. They both belonged to the Church of Christ and rode with the Breedings to church at Dozier every Sunday. Since the Breedings had a car full of family, it must have made them "stack up."

Miss Lillie Williams and Miss Mittie Jones taught the 1927-28 term. Miss Williams returned and she and Miss Cowan taught the 1928-29 term. Miss Alva Beach and Bernice Woods were the teachers in 1929-30. Their 48 students participated in many events including basketball, softball, volleyball, declamations and other interscholastic contests. Frances Noel, whose family had lived in the community in 1908, taught with Mildred Beach in 1930-31. Letha Ashby of McLean taught in 1931-32 and and the enrollment once again required two teachers.

D.V. Biggers, who had attended the Enterprise school when he was a boy, and Frankie Andrews of McLean were the 1933-34 teachers. Students moved again and only one teacher, Frankie Andrews taught in 1934-35. In 1935-36 Miss Ruth Hess, later Mrs. Clyde Magee, was the teacher.

Frankie Andrews, now Mrs. H.C. Weatherby, returned to teach the 1936-37 term. During the 1938-39, 1939-40 and 1940-41 terms, Mrs. Vera Back from McLean guided the students as their teacher, and many interesting projects were results of her teaching.

At the close of the 1940-41 term there was such a small enrollment the school was closed and the students went by car to McLean for the 1941-42 term. For the 1942-43 term the Enterprise School consolidated with the Samnorwood School.

In conclusion we would like to mention that there are many ex-students of this little school on the Bar Lo Ranch, scattered from the East to the West and from the North to the South of these United States who fondly recall the pleasant memories they encountered at Enterprise.

SWOSU Honor Students Named

Four area students were named to the Dean's List of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, for the spring semester.

To be eligible, a student must have grade-point averages of 3.0 or higher on the university's 4.0 scale.

Listed from Wellington is Kathy K. Kersten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kersten. Arnett students include Bryan Brewster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brewster, and Nancy E. Holder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holder.

Janet K. Word of Hollis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Word, is another student listed.

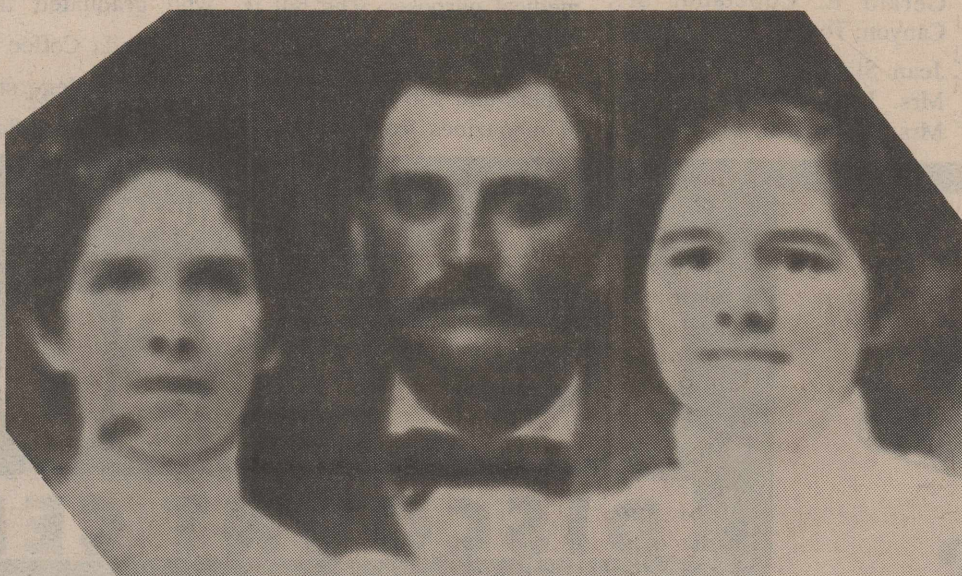

ENTERPRISE COMMUNITY LEADERS

The Breeding and Hess families were long leaders in the Enterprise community. At left are Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Breeding. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Hess are seen at center. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Sitter, who established the Bar Lo Ranch. In the third corner of the county until 1942.

For two years afterwards, it was "contracted" to McLean, then it became a part of the Samnorwood District.

The school knew two locations, both on the Bar-Lo Ranch, which was established by Mrs. Magee's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sitter, and later owned by her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Hess.

It was not until the end of 1917 that school districts had defined boundaries, as provided in a meeting of the county school board, on a motion by C.H. Caperton, seconded by J.W. Peoples.

Enterprise became District 13. Its greatest length was 13 miles, and it's widest five. There were 57 sections. It extended from Wheeler County line to the section through which Salt Fork flowed. The west boundry was the Donley county line. About a mile east of the first school, which was in section 47, were favorite picnic grounds on Richardson Creek.

Mrs. Magee credits much of the information in her history to Miss Pearl Strong who has lived on her family's home farm and ranch longer than any other person now living. She attended the first Enterprise School.

"Because of her remarkable memory, we feel that this story will be exact," writes Mrs. Magee in her preface.

Here is her history of the Enterprise School:

The Enterprise School held girls.

Miss Annie was the aunt of all the Coleman boys, who, as they were old enough, attended the Enterprise School. They each rode a horse, and they were followed by twenty-one greyhounds. Now this made quite a commotion when they arrived and left. Even during school the hounds would chase a rabbit accompanied by loud barking. This would leave a teacher quite frustrated.

Some of the other families living nearby and sent children to school at Enterprise were the Lattimors which included about a dozen children, the Morse family with two children, and the McCormicks with five.

The Frank Groves family included Amos, Fay and Richard, Claude, who walked from the family home about 5 miles away, was the son of the Will Groves. The Everett family included Martha, Naoma, Ivy, Bea, and they lived in a half-dugout. In 1901 their father hauled lumber from Sweetwater, Texas, in Wheeler County, and built a big three-room house. Andrew of the Barbee family, several of the Wallace family, and Myrtle, Pearl and Elmer Strong were also pupils in this first school at Enterprise.

The teacher of the second term of school was Mr. Collier and the third was T.M. Wolfe who later owned a drug store in McLean and became the County Judge of Gray County. Mr. Wolfe in later years kidded Bea Everett of McLean ton taught in 1905-06. A Mr. W.E. Smith was the teacher in 1906-07, but according to John Groves' recollection he did not stay the whole term. One weekend he got in his buggy and just drove off, leaving his family and the school term unfinished. Since he left in the spring, it was counted a whole school term.

Miss Bess Wolforth taught in 1907-08. This was the last year that Miss Pearl Strong attended the Enterprise School.

Miss Myrtle Strong, having left Enterprise and attended school elsewhere, had passed the test to teach.

She came back and taught the 1908-09 term. Miss Strong stayed with the Mont Noel family and their young son, James, went to school with her. They lived about two miles southwest of the school.

That year, the school house was moved from Section 47 to the northeast corner of section 33. The deed from George and Nannie Sitter, giving the land to trustees, W.W. Breeding, C.G. Nicholson and G.F. Frost, was dated December, 1913, but we understand it was not unusual to settle a alone, and to her the cows seemed like monsters.

In 1913-14 Miss Sally Trawick (Mrs. Chester Martin) was the teacher. She visited frequently with Miss Mettie Laycock of Abra and courted Chester Martin. Miss Effie Rankin taught in 1914-15 and 1915-16.

Several new families were moving in with school children. Besides the Breedings and Nicholsons there were the Whatleys, Pounds, Griffiths, Biggers, Sublets, Bradleys, Beauwares, Dorseys and others.

The Whatleys, with about a dozen children, lived just one-half mile north of the schoolhouse. Mrs. Whatley was deathly afraid of storms. Each time she saw a cloud coming up she would get out in the yard, wave a white flag and yell until the children would hear and come home to go to the cellar. It was rather hard to keep school going with that kind of interruption.

Miss Zoe Black taught in the 1916-17 term, and Mr. T.L. Musick was the teacher for two terms in 1917-18 and 1918-19. He was an "epileptic" and had some seizures at Certificates of deposit -- called CDs -- are much like a regular savings account in that they, too, are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). The CDs, like savings accounts, are insured up to $40,000 by the government-sponsored agency.

More important, there are no uncertainties when money is invested in a bank CD. There are a number of ways that the average investor can get into the money markets, but all of them entail some degree of risk. There are no risks in CDs.

All so-called mutual funds, even those that invest in short term Treasury bills, have some sort of transaction costs involved, but with bank CDs there are no added charges. And, while it may take many days to liquidate a fund, CD money is available on demand at the bank, subject to penalty if there is an early withdrawal -- before the maturity date of the CD.

Thus, a bank Certificate of Deposit can be an attractive investment on both a short or long term basis.

Film Shows New Treatment To Save Choking Victims

Bob Watson has secured a training film on the Heimlich Maneuver to save choking victims, and he announced that it will be shown to any group that can use it prior to July 8.

The Heimlich Maneuver, named for the doctor who devised it, is more effective than previously used methods, and it has been incorporated in the training of Emergency Medical Technicians, Mr. Watson said.

"Choking on food is the sixth-leading cause of accidental death in the U.S.," said the ambulance service president. "Annually more people die by choking than are killed by firearms or aircraft accidents, poisonous snake bites, lightning or electric shock.

"These needless deaths can be prevented. We urge that each person take a few minutes to learn how to recognize the symptoms and the few simple steps necessary to save life."

Mr. Watson reminded that if a person who has food lodged in the throat so that it prevents breathing, the victim has just four minutes before he will suffer permanent brain damage from lack of oxygen. In less than four minutes he will be dead from asphyxiation. Among infants, choking leads all causes of accidental death.

The new film, which was secured from the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services, gives clear instructions for administering the Heimlich Maneuver.

The film is 12 minutes in length.

These showings are already scheduled: Samnorwood Lions, June 20; Collingsworth General Hospital staff, Wednesday, June 22; Volunteer Ambulance Service Thursday, June 23; Wellington Lions Club and Wellington Fire Department, Monday, June 27; B&PW Club Tuesday, June 28; and an additional showing before a Childress Home Demonstration Club.

Midway Club Tours Honey Farm Recently

Five members and a guest from the Midway Home Demonstration Club toured the Wilhelm Honey Farm at Erick, Okla., Wednesday, June 15.

The guide explained the bee colony as being made up of three types of individuals with sharply defined functions and duties. The workers, all female bees, do all the labor for the colony. Without the eggs the queen bee lays, the entire colony would soon die. The drone is the male bee, and his only function is to mate with the queen.

Beekeeping equipment was on display and all steps in making honey and preserving it was explained.

A hive with glass sides enabled visitors to watch the bees at work.

In addition to the bees and honey, there is a candle shop with hundreds of candles in all shapes and sizes and for all occasions. Four kinds of wax are used in making these, club members were told.

A picnic table in the shade of the trees was an ideal place for members to eat their lunch, and afterwards a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Cecil Masten presiding.

Roll Call was answered by each one telling of something unusual about a wedding she had attended.

Mrs. Masten was selected as a nominee as delegate to the state meeting at Galveston in September, and Mrs. Donald Curry was chosen as representative of Midway Club to serve on the committee to play the county-wide picnic in August.

Attending were Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. James Masten, Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. Russell Hill and a guest, Mrs. Jamesy Keller.

Samnorwood area fishermen at Greenbelt Lake over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Breeding and Randy, Clifford Oldham, Clinton Oldham, Bobby Myers, Lynn Tate, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wischkaemper and Shane.

Senator Max Sherman

The public should usually be wary when journalists and politicians begin patting each other on the back. The state is generally better served when the two are feuding. But Texas Monthly magazine has selected in its July issue Amarillo State Senator Max Sherman as one of the ten best Texas legislators. He made the magazine's list two other times.

Following is Texas Monthly's summary of Sherman with which we, for the most part, agree. The Texas Panhandle is fortunate to have an able representative in the Texas Senate. For many years we did not.

"Max Sherman, 42, conservative Democrat, Amarillo. The unanimous choice as the best member of the Legislature; a walking boy scout motto. Completely open and without malice, guile, or misplaced ego—almost too good to be true. Indefatigable: after Bill Meier's record-shattering filibuster, when other members were heading exhaustedly for home, Sherman went out and ran seven miles. Knows Senate staffers by their first names; drinks no whiskey; runs the best committee in the Senate; and assumes major roles in complex issues like school finance even though not on the committee responsible for the legislation.

"Worked so hard and efficiently, he made other chairmen appear snarled in Rube Goldberg equipment. As chairman of the important Senate Natural Resources Committee, by May 1 had held hearings on all 189 bills sent to his committee; two-thirds were reported favorably. Served on two other committees that had the session's heaviest work loads. Finance and Jurisprudence, and still found time to pass 100 percent of his own legislative program through the Senate.

"The leading Senate energy spokesman (he drives a 1960 Volkswagen), yet completely free of oil and gas lobby ties—an unprecedented feat. Major achievement this session: passing the coal slurry pipeline bill through the Senate despite heavy opposition from railroad lobbyists. Also passed a bill to involve first-line state officials, rather than bureaucrats, in energy planning. Most important nonenergy legislation was a speedy trial act that should benefit both the state and the accused.

"At his best on matters that involve the essence of politics: compromise and fairness. A staple choice on any controversial conference committee; served this session on malpractice and school finance, the two most volatile. Respected most of all for his independence. 'He is nobody's puppet,' says one lobbyist who is an expert at finding strings. A servant to his district but not a slave; never casts votes for parochial reasons. If there is any criticism, it's that he's not a scrapper, but with his ability to reason through problems, he seldom has need to be."

Other Editors Say . . .

A Way of Life

We Americans for the past couple of generations have come to believe that unlimited travel is a basic American right.

Yet the next generation may not be able to take the aimless Sunday afternoon drives just for fun, or the trip to follow the high school football team or the drive to Amarillo just to shop.

The time is quite evidently growing mighty close when Americans will have to curtail their travel. This may come about because gasoline prices get so high that the average family can't afford nonessential driving, or it may come about through a government rationing program designed to stretch out our supplies of gasoline.

When such a time comes, and it probably won't come with overnight suddenness, our entire American way of life will undergo a drastic change.

The American's love affair with his automobile will change. Instead of money being the determining factor as to what a person can do, the supply of fuel will be the big factor and price will be secondary.

When the Arabs put on an embargo in 1973 we were told that the U.S. imported less than 10 percent of its oil. The embargo showed us that we imported 29 percent. Now we import 45 percent.

All of us know that there has to be an end to wasteful use of gasoline for purely pleasurable purposes. But we are not going to stop until we are forced to do so. That's the American way of life.

The Perryton Herald

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe cleared his desk of legislation passed during the regular session and announced he will call lawmakers back to work July 11.

Briscoe settled on the early July date for a special session on the complex issue of public school finance which evaded all earlier efforts at solution. "I think it should be possible to accomplish the work of the session in a week to 10 days," Briscoe said. "There is enough agreement that we should be able to work out a good school finance bill in a relatively short period of time . . . I am giving everybody an opportunity to plan around the (July 11) date."

House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby have indicated they favor the legislature's early passage of something similar to the conference committee report which died on final night of the regular session. The bill provided about $900 million in additional school aid.

Briscoe saved some of the most important bills until last. Among the last measures approved were consolidation of three major state water agencies, the "sunset bill" providing for phase-out of outmoded state agencies and the new medical malpractice act.

Crime Unpredictable

Total "index" crime doubled during the last four years, and may do so again 1977-1980.

City areas with 78 per cent of the population reported 78 per cent of the crime, but the violent crime rate is higher in rural areas.

The C.J.D. study also revealed these findings—

—Last year, a quarter billion dollars worth of property was reported stolen in the state.

—The typical murder victim was 20-35 years old and a white male. The typical person arrested in murder cases was the same age and also white male.

—Average take in robberies was $440. About 41 per cent of Texas robberies are solved.

—Nearly 20 percent of the 187,182 burglaries were committed without need for force, and more than half were committed in daylight—the vast bulk in private residences.

Allowable Set

Texas Railroad Commission set the July oil production allowable—again at 100 per cent.

Commissioner Jim Langdon noted the U.S. is importing 38 per cent of the crude oil it needs, but said the nation could become self-sufficient if "willing to pay the price."

Langdon also proposed storage of synthetic oils, and said he will spell out his plan in writing.

Total nominations of Texas crude oil purchasers for July were 3,915,851 barrels a day, a decrease of 26,543 barrels from this month.

AG Opinions

Bulk of a Mexia State School investigative report is not available to legislators or the public since it deals with personal medical records, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

—A telephone company is authorized to lay buried telephone lines within the right-of-way of a county road without the approval of the commissioners court. However, the company must place its lines in such manner as not to inconvenience the public in use of public roads.

—A county has no present authority to enact land use regulations for flood-prone areas unless it qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program of June 30, 1970.

—Political subdivisions which are self insurers under the Workmen's Compensation laws are liable for the gross premium tax on insurers.

—A soil and water conservation district may deposit its funds in interest-bearing accounts in a state or national bank, but it may not purchase certificates of deposit. Nor may it deposit its funds in a savings and loan association.

Courts Speak

The U.S. Supreme Court ordered an indefinite stay of execution for James Paul Burns, condemned Texas murderer, pending his appeal to the top court. Burns' stay by a state court would have run out June 24.

Short Snorts

Texas Water Development Board is monitoring cloud seeding operations in Castro, Swisher, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Bailey, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Randall and Lubbock counties.

A $200,000 community center and museum honoring the late former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson at Junction is being planned through a private solicitation of funds.

Texas oil and gas wells produced 663,043,946 mcf of gas in March 1977, down .19 per cent from field runs a year earlier.

Average calendar day allowable of Texas oil production as of June 15 totaled 3,607,813 barrels.

STEAMER

Frank Ford took this picture in 1960 of a steam tractor like the one that his father and three other farmers had owned circa 1910. The farmers had ordered the tractor by mail and it arrived in pieces which had to be assembled. Ford remembers that his job as a young boy was to crawl into the engine "flues" to clean them—hot work each summer.

Dodge Wins Shot Event; Due To Compete at Jr. Olympics

With the best distance of his high school career using a 12-pound shot, Dane Dodge won first in the intermediate division shot-put competition at the AAU sanctioned Hereford Track Meet Saturday, June 18. His record was 48' 5-3/4".

His nearest competitor was a foot short of this mark.

Dodge will enter the WTSU track meet, an AAU Sanctioned event, Saturday June 25. He is due to compete at 2:00 p.m.

The 255-pound, 6-3 Wellington sophomore is also registered in the West Texas A.A.U. Junior Olympic Track and Field championships to be held at Bulldog Stadium, Borger, on Saturday, July 9. The meet, which is sanctioned by the West Texas A.A.U. Association, is sponsored by the Borger Chamber of Commerce.

Sears Roebuck & Co. is the national sponsor of the Junior Olympics Program.

This phase of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States is designed to encourage age-level competition between both boys and girls up to 18 years of age.

The program includes a variety of sports and is conducted each year throughout 58 District Associations of the A.A.U. and involves more than 100,000 A.A.U. volunteer workers.

Four individuals in each of the selected events will qualify for Regional competition. The top two in each of the selected events in the intermediate (14-15) division, and the senior (16-17) division will qualify to compete in the Region IX Championships to be held July 23 at Gregory Portland near Corpus Christi. Winners at the regional meet will qualify to compete in the National Championships.

Dodge, who specializes in the shot put and discus, has competed in track events since he was a seventh grader, and was a winner in the Junior High District 2-A competition. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dodge.

He has competed in several meets this summer, and a week ago hurled an 8-pound shot 56' 3".

Joe Brock Pampa Coach

Coach Joe Brock has resigned as defensive coordinator for the Portales, N.M. Rams to join the staff of Pampa High school Coaching staff. He will be offensive line coach for the Harvesters football team.

Brock's first coaching job was assistant coach at West Texas State University, Canyon, where he received his degree in physical education. This is his third year at Portales, a AAA school.

He will receive his master's degree in July from Eastern New Mexico University.

"It is with regret we are losing Joe from our staff. A finer coach can't be found," said Army Selanis, Ram head coach.

Brock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brock of Portales, and the grandson of Mrs. Bura Handley and Mr. and Mrs. Z.J. Neeley.

Good Fresh Vegetables By Container Gardening

COLLEGE STATION--There is no excuse for anyone who likes homegrown vegetables to go without, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service horticulturist.

For those without outdoor space, a "mini-garden" can be put on your windowsill, patio, balcony, rooftop, or almost anywhere the sun shines, points out Sam Cotner.

Mini-gardening, or growing vegetables in containers, offers an advantage to the backyard plot. These little gardens can be moved to the sun, placed out in the rain without being flooded, and are almost resistant to soil insects, weeds and diseases, explains the Texas A&M University System horticulturist.

Vegetables that produce well in containers, flower beds and other limited spaces include tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, squash, herbs, leaf lettuce and green onions.

Mini-gardens can fit into trash cans, gallon cans, drums, washtubs and wooden boxes. Other containers commonly used are 8-to-10-inch pots and 3-to-5-gallon cans.

For any container garden, good drainage is essential, emphasizes Cotner. To insure better water filtering, a lightweight, "synthetic soil" obtained at the local nursery is sufficient.

Better results are obvious when healthy plants are transplanted instead of using packaged seeds. But care must be used not to damage the tender roots during transplanting, says the specialist.

Cotner recommends a soluble fertilizer for container gardens to help prevent salt buildup and promote higher yields. Watering with a nutrient solution is generally necessary two or three times a week. But this will increase as plants mature.

Keeping a close check for insect and disease problems is important for a productive mini-garden, adds Cotner.

Wilderness Vacation Set

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Myrick and children, Leigh, Mike and Mark, and Olan Lowe will leave Thursday, June 23, for a vacation in the Pecos Wilderness Area, north of Pecos, N.M.

They are taking horses and after setting up a base camp, they will take pack trips into the high mountain areas.

They expect to be there at least 10 days.

Six Bicycles Stolen, Found

Six bicycles stolen in a one-week period have been recovered by the Sheriff's Department, Chief Deputy Richard Keller reported.

The first two, belonging to Suzy Patrick and Tony Fike, taken the same night, were located, one at the Don Lacy home and the other across the street.

In exchange, two bicycles belonging to the Lacy family were stolen.

Acting on a tip given Sheriff John Rainey, members of his department recovered the Lacy bicycles, another which had been taken from Stanley Whitten and a fourth whose owner is not known.

These four were located in an alley between Ft. Worth and Galveston Streets, in the 1100 block, Deputy Keller said.

The sheriff's department is warning bicycle owners to get bicycle locks and park them where they will be safe, especially at night, even if they have to take their bikes in the house.

Men Lose--On Father's Day

The Church of the Nazarene at Dodson recently held an attendance contest between the men and women.

The men lost.

On Father's Day, the men provided the food and entertained all others present for church.

They did the cooking and also the serving.

Beef and ham were pit barbecued for the occasion.

"The women certainly enjoyed it," said one man who termed himself "a loser."

The men also provided the program for the church services that morning.

Information on private hatcheries is available from county Extension agents or Extension fisheries specialist at Texas A&M University.

"For production of large, healthy fish in a limited amount of time, a pond should have an adequate food supply during the year," emphasizes Steinbach.

"Fertilizing water is the key to growing fish because this initiates the food chain.

Piles of brush and automobile tires also concentrate fish and can make for more successful fishing,

Before the rodeo, the Chamber of Commerce, working with the VFW, repaired the arena, installed new lights, cleaned the grounds and put everything in good condition.

Management Key to Good Farm Ponds

COLLEGE STATION--Management is the key to top fish producing farm ponds, says a fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Texas has about one-half million acres of small farm ponds. Stocked with channel or blue catfish, these ponds can produce up to a thousand pounds of fish per acre annually if managed properly," emphasizes Don Steinbach.

"A lot of things come under consideration," says the specialist. "Anyone putting in a farm pond must be serious about it and must work at it. A good fish producing pond doesn't just happen."

The key to beginning a good farm pond is the correct location. First of all, the pond site should be able to hold water--clay soil is best. The watershed--the area over which water will flow into the pond--should be covered with grass sod. This will prevent silt from filling the pond at a rapid rate. For an acre pond, at least 25 to 50 acres of land is needed for the watershed.

"The pond should be at least three to five feet deep around the water's edge when full," contends Steinbach. "Fish production is not increased with the depth of the water but it may prevent the pond from going dry during a drought."

The soil should be cleaned where the dam will be located and a drain pipe should be lodged through the dam at construction to allow drainage if needed.

Problems such as seepage can be controlled with bentonite, a soft, porous, moisture-absorbing mineral clay. Muddy water can be cured by broadcasting agricultural gypsum or aluminum potassium sulfate (alum). Hay or grass cuttings may also be spread over a muddied pond to help clear the water.

When it comes to stocking the pond, a variety of fish can be used--sunfish, largemouth bass, channel and blue catfish. However, channel and blue catfish offer the most potential.

Fish for stocking ponds are available from both public and private hatcheries. Requests for fish from state hatcheries should be directed to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701. Fish from these hatcheries are available only for new or renovated ponds. All applications should be made before January 1 of each year.
