Strike Pending For 225,000 GM Workers

HST Acts To Stave Off Phone Walkout

(By The Associated Press)

PRESIDENT Truman acted Tuesday to stave off one of two major strikes threatening the nation.

Asserting a wage dispute between the American Telephone and Telegraph company and certain long lines workers threatens the nation's health and safety, Mr. Truman appointed an emergency board to investigate. The dispute involves some 25,000 long distance operators in 42 states.

The second major strike threat came from the CIO United Automobile Workers. The union notified the Michigan State Labor Mediation board that a strike "is pending" for 225,000 General Motors employes. The union already has some 75,000 Chrysler workers out in a wage dispute.

Meat Talks Held

The nationwide strike of 100,000 packinghouse workers continued as federal mediators strove desperately to effect a settlement. They spent the day in talks with Armour & Co., Cudahy Packing Co., and Wilson & Co., representatives. Assisting the mediators was Gov. Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota.

Tuesday night the mediators met with the union separately and later with the union and some packer representatives. The meetings recessed without comment from either side. However, there were reports that the CIO union was ready to accept the nine-cent hourly wage hike previously accepted by a rival AFL union, but was balking at possible discharges.

Rail Talks Resumed

The union had rejected a Swift and Co. proposal Monday to end the two-month-old strike. Union officials said a part of the Swift plan would let the company discharge any striking employe.

Other labor developments include:

While the government continued in control of the railroads, management and labor representatives resumed wage negotiations in Washington in an effort to reach an agreement. Government seizure of the nation's carriers prevented the strike set for May 11.

The government's anti-strike restraining order against three rail brotherhoods expires tomorrow. But today Judge Goldsborough acted favorably on a government request for an extension of the order. He extended it until May 29.

A labor dispute at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic energy plant "remains unaltered and the dispute unsettled," a presidential emergency board reported.

In its second report to President Truman under the Taft-Hartley act, the board reported the positions of the Carbide and Carbon Chemical's corporation and the Atomic Trades and Labor council (AFL) were unchanged.

A court injunction against the strike expires June 7. The union is demanding a 15 cents hourly wage increase and other concessions.

Coal Operators Risk Showdown

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—Soft coal operators risked a quick showdown with John L. Lewis tonight by deciding to back the Southern Coal Producers association as spokesman for southern pits in wage talks.

The decision, if fought out to the end, might bring on a breakup of the contract negotiations before they are well started.

Lewis set the stage for such a development today with a warning to the operators that if they insisted on seating Joseph E. Moody in his capacity as president of the SCPA they would be "voting the representatives of the United Mine Workers out of this conference."

Decide To Back Moody

He indicated that he had no objection to dealing with Moody as spokesman for the various component groups of the Southern association, such as state organizations of producers. But he criticized the SCPA itself bitterly as a "holding company" with a history of "harassment and obstruction" in contract dealings.

Tonight the southern operators first met separately and determined to stick by Moody as their spokesman on a joint basis.

Later producer representatives of the other geographical areas met and talked over their decision.

After that session one powerful northern operator said they had decided to back Moody in his stand.

Another producer interpreted Lewis' move as an effort to dictate who should represent employers in contract talks.

"We don't think the mine workers have that right under the Taft-Hartley act," he said.

There had been some inclination earlier to try to persuade Moody to come in only as an individual speaking for the smaller groups, but the operator comments after the night caucus indicated it had been overcome.

With the present contract expir-

Stalin Peace Letter Called 'Encouraging'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 18 — The United States today tabbed Premier Stalin's latest peace statement as "encouraging" but put the blame for world tension on Soviet hold-outs at international council tables.

It again ruled out, as it had done last week, any idea that great world problems can be settled by the United States and Russia alone.

In a formal statement, the State department declared that "these issues are matters in which many countries have an "intimate and compelling interest."

Propaganda Suspected

Officials noted that the latest move in Stalin's "peace offensive" took the form of comments on a peace program put forward by Henry A. Wallace, third party presidential candidate. They said they suspected the Stalin statement was a propaganda stroke designed, among other things, to depict Russia as a foremost lover of peace, and to build up Wallace politically.

On Capitol Hill, Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) told newsmen that President Truman "ought to call Stalin" on the Soviet leader's offer to talk peace.

But Judd cautioned that Stalin's overture, based on what the legislator called the "bogus proposals of Henry A. Wallace," is loaded with "jokers."

"Joker" Exposed

"For example," Judd said, "Stalin demands the evacuation of American and Russian troops from Korea.

"That sounds all right, doesn't it. We take our troops out of southern Korea and the Russians take theirs out of northern Korea. Everything 50-50.

"The joker is that the Russians have only a handful of Red army troops in Korea, but they have 200,000 Russian-trained Koreans who are actually divisions of the Soviet army."

On another point, Judd said, "Stalin calls for prohibition of atomic weapons—which he knows we've got—but says nothing about inspection of atomic weapons which he might be building."

Wallace Assails Marshall's Stand

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18 (INS)—Secretary of State Marshall's evaluation of Joseph Stalin's reply to an open letter by Henry A. Wallace was denounced today in a San Francisco speech by the third party presidential candidate.

Wallace told an audience that he felt Stalin's reply to the now celebrated open letter was an indication "that the Russians genuinely desire—just as most Americans genuinely desire—a peace to end the cold war."

Admits He Was Criticized

The former vice president charged:

"The men who have set us on this course of intransigent pursual of a cold war would have us believe that the Russian responses of Ambassador Bedell Smith's note and to my letter are either indications of Russian capitulation to their terms or pieces of trickery designed to catch us off guard."

Then he stressed that he considered it "highly significant that Premier Stalin's reply to my open letter came hard on the heels of rather severe criticism of that open letter appearing in the Russian press."

Wallace added:

"Anyone reading my letter with its emphasis on such points as the free interchange of students and newspapermen and the defense of civil liberties must conclude that the government of the Soviet Union, in the light of Stalin's reply is prepared to work hard and long to find the means of true cooperation between the two dominant powers in the world today.

Vacation Will Start For Public Schools

"Homework" is about at an end this spring for Lubbock's public school students. They have only three more days of school before the long-awaited summer vacation arrives.

Last period classes on Friday will end classroom work for senior high, junior high, and elementary students. The only ones still wearing down pencils Saturday will be those sophomores and juniors scheduled to take 18 week examinations at Lubbock Senior High school.

On Monday the kids have a day off, but not the teachers. They will be busy recording grades and preparing annual reports.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock all local senior high students will receive their grade cards. At 1 p. m the same day all elementary students, all students in both junior highs, and all bus students will receive their report cards from their respective schools.

Supreme Court Asked To Rule On Anti-Communist Pledge

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—The Supreme court today was asked to knock out the Taft-Hartley law's requirement that union officials swear they are not Communists.

The court also was asked to rule invalid the requirements that unions file financial statements.

The requests were made by the CIO National Maritime union in appealing from a special three-judge federal court here which upheld both provisions of the law.

Stassen Claims GOP Coalition Formed To Fight Him In Oregon

(By International News Service)

ROSEBURG, Ore., May 18.—Harold E. Stassen declared tonight that a "combination of opposition" has formed to oppose him in the Oregon presidential primary election Friday.

The aspirant for the Republication nomination for President claimed that Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) is a member of the coalition. Only Stassen and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey are entered in the Oregon primary.

"An unprecedented amount of newspaper advertising, billboards, radio time, paid campaign workers and eastern contacts have put on a tremendous opposing campaign."

Observers with Stassen expressed belief that the race between him and Dewey is almost exactly even now as a result of the New Yorker's strenuous 18-day campaign. Stassen was heavily favored when Dewey arrived.

Stassen backers fanned out through the state, meanwhile, in the last lap of the campaign. Among them was Sen. Joe McCarthy (R-Wis) who repeated his support for the Minnesotan's demand that the Communist party be outlawed.

MUNDT PLAN SURVIVES TEST

House Refuses To Kill Bill Restraining Red Activities

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 18 — By a shouted vote, the House refused today to kill a bill designed to put tight restraints on Communist activities.

Supporters got behind a drive to pass the bill tomorrow. The start of today's debate had been held up by a mass of routine business.

Rep. Miller (R-Conn) made the motion to kill the bill by striking out the enacting clause. He said the main effect of the legislation would be to "drive underground the dangerous elements."

Passage Seems Certain

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif), co-author of the bill, replied. He said the measure which he and Rep. Mundt (R-SD) drew up would strike "only at the subversive activities of Communism in the United States and not at Communism as an idea."

House passage of the bill appeared certain. Rep. Douglas (D-Calif), who opposes it, estimated that not more than 40 votes would be cast against it. But she also predicted that the Senate never will accept such legislation.

Registration Required

The Mundt-Nixon bill, which was approved by the House committee on un-American Activities, would make it a crime to try to set up a foreign-controlled totalitarian dictatorship in the United States. Penalties would range up to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The measure also would require the Communist party to register its membership annually with the Department of Justice, failure to register, or registering falsely, would be punishable by from two to five years in prison and a fine of $2,000 to $5,000.

Communists would be barred from non-elective federal jobs and would not be granted passports. Communist propaganda, written or oral, would have to be labeled as to source. The Communist party would have to tell the source of its money and how it spends it.

Groups affiliated with the party—so-called Communist front organizations—also would have to tell the source of its money and how it spends it.

Groups affiliated with the party—so-called Communist front organizations—also would have to register with the Department of Justice but would not be required to file membership lists.

Lightning Causes Damage As Heavy Showers Hit Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Thundershowers fell at several points across Texas Tuesday night, and lightning caused some damage at Fort Worth.

Heaviest rainfall was in North and East Texas, but the west and south got some moisture.

Fort Worth received 1.05 inch of rain in a downpour that stalled automobiles. Lightning hit an apartment building and a house, inflicting minor damage.

Fort Worth's Texas league baseball game was rained out. A Texas league game at Beaumont had to be postponed because of .74 inch of rain, and a Big State league clash at Austin was stopped when .02 inch began falling in the first inning.

Palestine had .74 inch of rain, Brownsville .24, Waco .17, Mineral Wells .15, and El Paso .12.

Highest temperature reported yesterday was 95 degrees at Crystal City. Wink in the far west had the low maximum, 65 degrees.

Los Angeles Man Makes New Confession In Double Slaying

LOS ANGELES, May 18 (INS)—Shifty-eyed Robert H. Hansen, 24, made a new confession today and said that he shot and killed Ralph Dirksen and his wife, Olga, and then decapitated their bodies because "they were going to leave me 'holding the bag'."

The youth made the admission when he was returned to the murder home to reenact the horror slaying of the couple who had befriended him over a period of years.

In his new confession, he abandoned the story he previously had told of killing Dirksen while Dirksen was beating his wife with a hammer. The nerve-shattered youth related to authorities today that Dirksen was "in a jam" through a business transaction and intended to go to New York, leaving Hansen to "face the music."

Arabs Closing Trap On Jews In Jerusalem

By BENN FELLER
INS Staff Correspondent

TEL AVIV, May 18—Egyptian warplanes killed 41 persons and wounded 60 in five attacks on Tel Aviv today, and Trans-Jordan troops smashed into Jerusalem's old walled city where 1,300 Jews are trapped.

An Arab spokesman in Cairo claimed that Egyptian planes also inflicted damage and casualties in a raid on an immigrant ship off the Palestine coast carrying 600 Jewish refugees.

The Jews scored their only major victory at Acre, 10 miles north of Haifa, where they forced an Arab surrender of that ancient port-fortress city and 4,000 Arab troops.

Ferocity Mounts

Jewish troops in Jerusalem officially were reported to have captured Mount Zion and other points south of the old walled city where their comrades are trapped.

The Jews suggested they would blast a hole in the massive wall to extricate their soldiers, and the women and children also trapped in the southeast corner.

Dispatches indicated that the five-day-old battle for Jerusalem had mounted in ferocity.

Jewish Quarter Shelled

Trans-Jordan legion troops commanded by British Brigadier John Bagot Glubb Pasha entered the eastern St. Stephen's gate of the old city.

They mounted artillery near the tomb of Christ and began bombarding the Jewish quarter. An Arab communique that the Jewish sector had been occupied apparently was premature.

Jews said their men still are fighting, although their positions are shrinking as they are forced back against the southern wall. Arabs are on three sides of the Jewish troops, their relief forces are outside the wall to the south.

Britain Sends Arabs Arms

The Jewish relief forces are laying down a barrage into Arab positions.

(A London foreign office spokesman said that Britain will continue to supply arms to the Trans-Jordan legion under treaty obligations made within the United Nations framework "until we find the Arabs acting illegally."

Palestine War Debated In UN

LAKE SUCCESS, May 18 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council debated Palestine today under a barrage of urgent official advices that war is rampant in the Holy Land.

French Delegate Alexandre Parodi reported the French consulate in Jerusalem was under machine-gun fire. Parodi said a battle raged all last night and the consulate was isolated. Six persons have been wounded there, he said.

Parodi warned the council that it could expect little now from its French-American-Belgian consular truce commission in Jerusalem. He said the French consulate had no communications with other sections of the city.

King Complains

A telegram from Foreign Secretary Moshe Shertok of Israel charged that armed Arabs had entered the old walled city section of Jerusalem Sunday and broken a UN-arranged cease-fire.

A complaint from King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan said a mortar shell fell within the mosque compound in front of the dome above the sacred rock—site of the mosque of Omar—yesterday during a Jewish offensive against the old walled city.

Delegates heard the reports from Palestine after chief Ameri-

Congressman Who Was Expected To Block Action Now Predicts Early Okay For Draft Legislation

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 18—The congressman who was expected to block the draft bill predicted today that the House Rules committee probably will approve the measure and send it to the House floor next week.

The prediction came from Rep. Leo E. Allen (R-Ill) chairman of the Rules committee which began hearings today on the draft bill previously approved by the House Armed Services committee.

Two defense measures were approved by the House Armed Services committee today. They were:

1. A bill to let the department of defense hold on to about 200 surplus World War 11 plants as a reserve.

2. A measure to authorize the Navy to stop work on 13 unfinished warships in order to start building the world's largest ship—a giant 65,000 ton aircraft carrier. The bill carries other construction changes. A subcommittee okayed it yesterday.

Rep. Allen, despite his prediction of the draft bill passage, still contends the Army has never given voluntary enlistments a fair trial.

He has recommended a bonus plan, paying volunteers up to $1,500 to enlist in the armed forces. He said this substitute would make the draft unnecessary. President Truman called the idea asinine.

"Brass hats just want this draft, that's all," Allen said. But he added the bill probably will be approved by his committee anyway.

Today's hearings indicated there would be a fight before such

'No Bombs Dropped,' General Declares

Tests Completed On New Atom Weapons

By FRANCIS LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, May 18—Atomic weapons of a type unrelated to those of Hiroshima, Nagasaki or Bikini were tested in the recent experiments at the Atomic Energy commission's mid-Pacific proving grounds.

That disclosure was made in Honolulu today by Lt. Gen. John E. Hull, commander of the atomic joint task force operating in the vicinity of remote Eniwetok atoll.

Hull and his staff flew to Honolulu from Eniwetok for a news conference at the general's Fort Shafter headquarters.

No Bombs Dropped

Hull and his aides were careful not to divulge any vital information regarding the tests, but Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, air force commander, revealed that no bombs were dropped during the experiments.

All previous explosions of atomic weapons, with a single exception, were aerial bomb blasts. The one exception was an underwater blast touched off during the Bikini experiments.

Task Force To Leave

Hull commanded a task force comprising nearly 10,000 soldiers, sailors, marines, fliers and civilian employes of Atomic Energy commission. He said the task force is still at Eniwetok but is preparing to leave.

Gen. Hull declared:

"These tests at 'operation sandstone' were field laboratory tests to determine the efficiency of the newly developed bombs and other weapons.

"We got our answers. We liked the answers."

Gen. Hull was accompanied by Dr. D. K. Froman, director of joint "atomic task force seven," Navy Capt. James S. Russell, one of the test directors, deputy director Rear Adm. William S. Parsons and deputy director Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner of U. S. Army Air Force.

Gen. Hull said the present task force is comprised of the command ship, the USS Mount McKinley, and four other ships.

He declared that all during the tests, there were no casualties, but added that one man was killed in an auto accident and another came close to losing his life while swim-

PERMIAN BASIN GROUP MEETS

Lubbock Claimed Paying Heavy Bill For Use Of Hard Water

LUBBOCK residents spend more thousands of dollars each year for soap to soften hard water than would be needed for use with soft water, Harry N. Roberts, engineer, indicated in a speech at the monthly meeting of Permian Basin Water Works and Sewage association here Tuesday.

Roberts spoke to about 65 delegates from nine West Texas towns and cities last night at Central Fire station, following a barbecue dinner at Mackenzie Park. Earlier in the day, the group made an inspection tour of the new municipal reservoir, pump station and power plant northeast of the city.

Soap Most Expensive Way

"Use of soap is the most expensive way of softening water," Roberts said. He distributed a table on loss in soap per year in illustration of his speech.

Using soap to soften water costs $6 to $27 per 1,000 gallons, depending on hardness of the water, his table showed. For the present Lubbock water, averaging 440 parts per million hardness or 25.8 grains per gallon, he said, the cost would be about $17 per 1,000 gallons.

Persons get in the habit of paying five or 10 cents a day for soap and think nothing of it, he said. The cost of softening water in a municipal plant, he said, is only about seven to 10 cents a thousand gallons.

The 440 parts per million hardness average in Lubbock was reached before the northeast supply was brought in and the northeast water averages less, about 320 p. p. m. hardness, Roberts said.

His table indicates the excess cost of soap per family in Lubbock to be between $23 and $24 a year. The excess cost per family in use of water with hardness of 450 parts per million was listed as $24.25 and for that of 400 parts

Big Spring Holdup Suspect Testifies

DALLAS, May 18 (AP)—William Larry Martin, 29, took the stand in federal court here today in an effort to bolster his insanity defense against charges of robbing the State National bank of Big Spring of $2,149 last Dec. 5.

Earlier in the day, two Navy doctors from the U. S. Public Health hospital at Fort Worth testified that they believe Martin sane.

Martin said he was convicted of murder in 1938 in California and was given the death penalty. He said this was later commuted to life imprisonment. In 1944, he testified, he was screened for Army service and wound up in combat with the 79th Infantry division in France.

While in the Army in Germany, Martin said, he was beaten by assailants whom he believed were either Poles or Russians.

Several witnesses testified that Martin had tried to kill himself several times.

W. E. Davis, Big Spring taxi driver, testified that when police arrested Martin shortly after the bank robbery, Martin placed a pistol to his own head and pulled the trigger. The gun did not go off, Davis said.

Charges Filed In Shootings Here

Two negro men who allegedly had taken potshots in the direction of human targets were charged Tuesday with assault with intent to murder, and a negro woman was fined in connection with another shooting.

One of the men, Fronzie Johnson, jr., 21, admitted he had shot toward a car occupied by Eugene Hankins, another negro, Sunday, but said he meant only to shoot "over the car." What he did, according to officers, was to blow out a tire on the automobile.

No One Injured

The other man, Bennie Lee Cole, 26, admitted he had fired into the window of a house where Mary Ann High and other negroes were. The incident occurred Monday night. He said that he was not shooting at anybody, but just attempting to scare the High woman.

Eula Fisher, 19, negro woman, was fined $15 for discharging a gun inside city limits, police said. Two shots from a pistol had been fired in the direction of another negro, Daniel McCormick, early Monday night following an argument.

No one was injured in any of the incidents.

The sheriff's department obtained a bench warrant Tuesday afternoon for arrest of a negro, about 25, who was indicted for forgery under the name of Edgar S. Brown. His name, Sheriff Grady Harrist said, is Norris Pier. Pier is held in jail at Quanah, and he will be transferred here probably today.

Vandenberg Is Given Lead Over HST In Presidential Test Vote

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 18—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg holds a substantial lead over President Truman in a Presidential "trial heat" race conducted by the Institute.

The Michigan Senator, outstanding Republican expert on foreign affairs, has frequently disavowed any desire for the Republican nomination and has done no campaigning for it. But his name is continually mentioned by political leaders as a possible choice at the convention which meets in Philadelphia June 21.

To test his position in the minds of voters the Institute pitted him against Truman and against Henry A. Wallace, third party candidate, as follows:

"If the Presidential election were being held today, and Truman were running for President on the Democratic ticket against Vandenberg on the Republican ticket and against Wallace on the Third Party ticket, how do you think you would vote?"

The results compare as follows with a similar test reported in April:

	Today	April 11
Vandenberg	45%	44%
Truman	39	39
Wallace	5	7
No opinion	11	10

From time to time during the last few months the Institute has tested the appeal of other Republican candidate possibilities in similar trial heats.

At the end of March a trial heat matching Governor Thomas E. Dewey against Truman and Wallace found Governor Dewey running ahead. As released April 11 the results showed Governor Dewey with 47 per cent, Truman with 39 per cent, Wallace with 7 per cent, while 7 per cent expressed no opinion. Those figures are, of course, no reflection of present-day sentiment on a Dewey-Truman-Wallace race. How much the situation has changed in the intervening time remains to be shown in future surveys.

A trial heat matching Harold E. Stassen against Truman and Wallace was reported last week. It showed Stassen with 56 per cent, Truman with 33 per cent, Wallace with 5 per cent, while 6 per cent expressed no choice.

In the Vandenberg-Truman-Wallace race the poll figures show Vandenberg with a long lead in the middle western section of the country.

The sectional results follow:

	Vandenberg	Truman	Wall.	No opin.
N. Eng & M. Atl.	47%	36%	7%	10%
E. Cent.	51	34	5	10
W. Cent.	50	39	3	8
South	29	53	3	15
Mtn. & Pac. Coast	42	42	5	11

Political observers are assuming that Truman will be renominated by the Democratic Party, but the race for the Republican nomination is becoming more and more spirited as convention time approaches. While it is the convention delegates and not the voters of the Republican Party who will do the picking of the candidate, surveys throughout the rank and file of the party show the relative popularity of the leading contenders.

The most recent Institute test of that kind showed Stassen and Vandenberg both gaining popularity, as follows:

NOMINATION POPULARITY
(Among G.O.P. Voters Only)

	Apr. 25	May 14
Stassen	31%	37%
Dewey	29	24
Vandenberg	10	13

Tech Students Pass Red Cross Swimming, Life-Saving Course

Twenty-six students of Texas Technological college have passed a Red Cross water safety advanced swimming and life saving course, qualifying for life saving certificates.

The two weeks' course ended Saturday and names of the 26 have been sent to Southwestern area headquarters of the Red Cross at St. Louis, from where certificates are to be issued.

Seventy-one students enrolled for the course. Fifty-six attended swimming sessions.

The Red Cross offered the course because of demand, since many students wanted the training in order to qualify for summer jobs as life savers at pools.

Co-eds as well as men students were among those passing the course. The same requirements apply for women as for men, said Francis Bearden, chairman of the college unit committee of the Red Cross.

Completed Saturday

The two weeks' course was completed Saturday, when the class went to Buffalo Lakes for the final phase of instruction—that on how to handle small craft. They worked with row boats and canoes.

In order to qualify for a certificate a student must make a grade of 70 or more. Of the total grade, 30 to 40 per cent is based on practical work prior to final tests, 20 to 30 on a final written test, and the remainder on practical work in a test. Mr. and Mrs. Carden Green allowed their private pool to be used for the course.

Many pools require that life savers have Red Cross certificates. Marvin McLarty, who formerly served as director of the Lubbock city pool, is chairman of water safety for the Lubbock county Red Cross chapter.

The instructors for the course were Texas Tech students.

Qualify For Certificate

Those announced by Bearden as qualifying for certificates, listed with the instructor with whom they worked, were:

Mary Nell Cates, instructor — Phil Crumpler, Margaret Crocker, Allan Burns, Ruth Edgerton, Clare Foreman, Stanley Huckabay, Harold Sawyer, Ray Pardue, Virginia Platt and Pat Sprague.

Bill Askew, instructor—Robert Morris, Morris Matson, Bernard Bevis, Fred Roger, Mark Smith, Wayne Newsom, Richard Griffith and John Mertz.

Floyd Rector, instructor—Charles Cable, Lynn Cowan, Joe Cowan, Paul Barron, Doug Cunningham, Roland MacNaughton, Kirk Wilcox and Bill Perryman.

Others served as assistant instructors.

You knew
the moment you saw it—this was your car. New, all-new, every inch and pound of it. A big, brawny frame under a sweeping, curved-arch silhouette. Longer, wider, lower—with a road-hugging look that beckoned you to get in and go! When you saw it, you said "This is it! This ALL-NEW 1949 Mercury is for me!"

You heard
the proud, soft-spoken, 8-cylinder, V-type engine murmuring gently. You'd heard that sound before. Where? In cars far beyond your budget's reach. But here it was in an engine designed and built exclusively for Mercury . . . and in a choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

You held the wheel easily, because Mercury didn't "wind-wander," didn't "over-steer." Its sure-footed balance and down-to-earth roadability let you hold all roads securely. Its new, bigger, super-balloon tires let you skim over the bumps without a tremor.

You touched
the brake pedal—just a slight touch—and Mercury's new super-brakes brought you gliding to a swift, sure stop. It was then you knew for sure that Mercury had made an all-new car—from top to tires—for you! Your car had finally come along. It was Mercury!

You sat
in a wide, "comfort-zone" seat that shaped itself to you—above all-new, road-smoothing spring suspension. You filled the car with a controlled flow of fresh, filtered air from the leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control." This was the comfort you wanted in your car. This was Mercury.

Someday your car had to come along...

INDUSTRY SEEKS PUBLIC FAVOR

Executives Open New Fight On Critics And 'Business Baiters'

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Staff Correspondent

At long last, top management is becoming increasingly aware of the fact that it must compete for public favor and understanding

Instead of passively bewailing misrepresentation by demagogues, academic racketeers, and other business baiters, executives are using new media, new techniques, and new methods authentically to present to stockholders, employees and customers the nature of their activities.

One of the newest vogues is to present in pictorial form annual corporate reports. General Mills pioneered in this field, and recently Union Oil company of California not only put its annual report out in the form of a talking picture, but also presented it over a television network. Then with the help of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Standard Oil company (New Jersey) dramatized its annual report in a network radio show.

Seek To Win Friends

From the field of life insurance, Leroy Lincoln, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, has broken new ground in appearing as narrator in a talking motion picture presenting the annual report for 1947 of the world's largest life insurance company.

Whatever technical shortcomings these pioneer efforts may have are of vastly less significance than the fact that hard headed business executives are interested in devising new ways and means of informing the public and winning friends.

Perhaps none of these innovations is as revolutionary as the streamlining and simplification of corporate accounting into the short form income statement, which enables a chief executive to state in a single figure the total income received in a year from the sale of goods and services to customers, and then to break down into five figures the principal manner in which the year's receipts were expended.

Since the capacity of the non-expert mind to grasp a multiplicity of details and of concepts simultaneously is limited, the short form should be the hub of all efforts to popularize corporate social accounting, whatever the media employed.

Customer Is Ultimate Boss

Since under the American system the customer is the ultimate boss in the business, and since the humblest worker is also a sovereign voter, it is essential that the business man should not only perform good works, but that he should succeed in interpreting his activities to others. In order to survive in a changing society, business concerns need the sanction of popular approval

Accordingly, it is essential that businessmen learn to express themselves in simple words and figures. It is important for management to understand popular emotions, desires, and ambitions.

Irritation Should Be Removed

Where there is irritation, businessmen should correct the situation, if possible, by removing the causes. If the irritation is based entirely on misinformation and misunderstanding, it is the job of management to present the facts simply and attractively in order to achieve clarification.

Such an approach is constructive. On the other hand, it is destructive and sheer blue sky to distort facts and dodge realities in order to cater to popular prejudices.

The demagogue exploits suckers by offering mutually exclusive objectives. The conscientious businessman should never do that. On the contrary, he should set out to make desirable and useful products and then, through constructive advertising, selling and merchandising should undertake to condition the public to a favorable response.

Comic Strips May Be Used

There should be no dogmatism as to methods or media. It may be that in depicting economic activities, businessmen, instead of turning actors themselves, can use professional performers and expert narrators, in addition to making a personal appearance. Likewise, the use of real persons perhaps can be supplemented by Walt Disney characters.

In addition to talking pictures, radio and television, business ought to explore ways of adapting the comic strip technique to putting across the message of a business. While it has already been successfully used to sell products, there has thus far been too little recognition of its potentialities for institutional advertising.

These novel methods should not be regarded as a substitute for the printed annual report, to which public attention can be called through various types of promotional advertising.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

THAT sidewalk philosopher who suggested, "you gotta have a sensayuma if you're gonna stay happy," should pay a visit to the Avalanche-Journal editorial department if he wants to find out what a truth he spoke. And he should get up here before the completion of the expansion and remodeling program, which began almost a year ago.

When you can manage to smile and to laugh when you are trying to get a story via telephone from a person who can't speak loud and have to compete with an electric saw, hammers, workmen calling back and forth across the room, in addition to the customary noise in the office, you have a sense of humor all right. By customary noise we mean teletype machines, telephones, the roar of an air conditioner, the presses and conversation, which is rarely, if ever, pitched low in a newsroom.

Our friends who have heard the noise during telephone conversations have extended sympathy. One of them hinted that we should hurry up and get things quiet down here; the noise was trying on her nerves. Another said she was going to play quiet organ recordings to restore tranquility after a ten minute conversation punctuated with saws, hammering and hollering.

AFTER artfully dodging and ducking boards and ladders, buckets and paint brushes, we feel qualified to apply for one of those "hunk 'em" jobs on a midway. The typewriters have been moved from desk to desk as the painters moved nearer and nearer. Part of the time, the reporters and editors have typed under canopies, flung over desks to protect them from ceiling paint.

The contents of a rickety bookcase are spilled out on the floor and one hundred bound files of the Avalanche-Journal are piled back of them. The venetian blinds are down, in order that the paint job might extend to the window sills; maps and pictures are stacked on top of tables which also are stacked on top of tables and desks. The files are awry; the coat rack has been moved for the hundredth time; the candy and peanut machines are never in the same place two days in succession and the deer head, which nobody wants, is gathering dust and paint as it reclines on two outmoded blueprints of the City of Lubbock.

IT'S BEEN a sort of game, wondering where your desk will be placed from day to day. And the hazards of cross country races and golf are nothing as compared with some of the obstacles in the way up here. As Mr. Kiefer said awhile ago, "If this keeps up, you'll have to have a Seeing Eye dog to guide you to the boss' office."

And because we are taught to refrain from giving silly answers to silly questions (unless the quiz comes from a good friend), we have been careful to explain that the place is undergoing refurbishing to the curious ones who have climbed the stairs during the last ten months, have given a hasty glance around and have asked, "Say, what's going on up here?"

AND because the paper, like the traditional show, "must go on" we have struggled through it all, never missing a deadline and laughing about the little things and giving no thought to the bigger things about a re-modeling contract that would test the nervous system to the breaking point, if one would let them.

No sir, we've kept a sense of humor up here. And at long last, we are beginning to see what a clean, comfortable place it will be with light green walls and white ceiling and everything put back in its proper place.

Progress For Gaines County Well Shown Following Test

Latest reports show that Ford Chapman No. 1 Standard Oil company of Texas-Randolph, north Reeves county wildcat, was making about one barrel of oil per hour, natural. The operator had drilled through eight feet of the Delaware sand, which showed oil. The wildcat is three and one-half miles southwest of Orla, and 330 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 46, block 57, TP survey, T-2, and was on a total depth of 2,911 feet in the sand, bailing to test.

Waiting For Orders

Cities Service Oil company No. 1 E. H. Jones, southwest Tom Green county wildcat to about 7,500 feet, to test into the Ellenburger, was on a bottom of 5,204 feet in a lime section in the Pennsylvanian, and was circulating while waiting for orders.

Some signs of oil had been logged and it is possible that a drillstem test will be run shortly.

The venture is 13½ miles southwest of San Angelo, and is in the northeast corner of the Maria Josepha Fernandez survey No. 11.

Now Drilling Ahead

The Texas Company, Humble Oil & Refining Company, and Ralph Lowe No. 1 Sam C. Jenkins, et al, Southwest Gaines county prospector to 12,000 feet, to explore into the Ellenburger, and located in the southwest corner of section 4, block A-25, psl survey, was drilling ahead below 9,373 feet in lime and chert.

In a drillstem test at 9,200-90 feet, the tool was open three hours. There was a fair blow of air throughout the period. Recovery was 6,200 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud, with a slight sulphur odor.

The prospector drilled on down to 9,343 feet and a drillstem test was run for three hours at 9,290-9 343 feet. Recovery was 260 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud and 4,500 feet of sulphur water.

Cavity Is Filled

The Texas Company No. 1 Victor L. Pierce, Southeast Crockett county wildcat, 21½ miles south and slightly east of Ozona, and in the northeast quarter of section 5, block O, C. W. Brown survey, set a string of 5½-inch casing at 11,716 feet, over total depth of 11,812 feet.

Operator was squeezing more cement back of the pipe. The section between 11,716 feet and the total depth had been filled with cement also. That was done in order to fill a cavity in which operator had lost circulation. It is planned to drill out the cement, and make more hole. This project has shown considerable gas, but so far it has not reported having encountered any signs of oil. It is credited with entering the Ellenburger at 11,470 feet.

To Treat With Acid

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Southern Minerals Corporation No. 1 M. G. Reed, possible discovery from the Ellenburger in Southeast Coke county, 10 miles southeast of Robert Lee, and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 1, block 1E&WT survey, swabbed out all load water, to the plugged back total depth at 6,198 feet, on perforated section at 6,180-98 feet, and recovered a little oil and a small amount of drilling mud. The well did not flow.

It is likely that operators will treat the perforated section with acid. That zone flowed oil at an estimated rate of from 15 barrels to 20 barrels per hour before the project drilled into water between 6,200 feet and 6,218 feet. Since then the casing has been run and cemented. It is expected that the acid will wash the pay section to where it will start showing some oil.

A Semi-Wildcat

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Erie is to be a semi-wildcat in Southeast Sterling county, about eight miles south of Sterling City.

It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 20, block 15, H&TC survey. The venture is projected to 4,400 feet to test into the Wichita-Albany section of the lower Permian. Drilling will start at once.

The Phillips project is a southwest stepout from the Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation, and The Vickers Petroleum Company, Inc., No. 1 Marvin Frances Foster, recently completed flowing discovery from the Wichita-Albany.

The owners of that well have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a new field designation and a new discovery allowable for the well. It has been requested that the area surrounding it be called the Marvin field.

Will Start Tests

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B Ellwood estate, north-central Sterling county discovery from the Ellenburger, 14 miles north of Sterling City, cemented 5½ inch casing on bottom at 8,000 feet.

Operator will drill out, perforate and start production tests around the middle of the week. The water zone in the bottom will be left plugged off with cement when the testing gets underway.

Drilling is to start at once on a 7,200-foot wildcat to test into the Ellenburger in Schleicher county, four miles northeast of Eldorado.

The prospector will be Eastland Oil Company of Fort Worth, and E. M. Wahlenmaier, of San Angelo, No. 1 J. L. Cheek. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 69, block LL, GC&SF survey.

The project is on acreage secured by Eastland and Wahlenmaier in a farmout deal with Shell Oil Company, Inc. Expiration date on the lease was May 16 — unless drilling on an exploratory well had been started before that time.

Lease Is Announced

It has been announced in San Angelo, that Amerada Petroleum Corporation has taken a five-year commercial oil and gas lease on the 42,000 acre March ranch, which lays about three fourths on Southwest Coke county, and about one-fourth in Northwest Tom Green county.

The announcement stated that a cash bonus of $2.00 per acre was paid for the lease. Annual rentals of $1.00 per acre are called for in the transaction. The lease was taken from John Abe March, Mrs. Hugh Lamar Stone and Robert T. Neill, all of San Angelo.

The land starts in at the northwest corner of the San Saba county school lands, in Tom Green county, and extends west about 11 miles. The ranch is from three to six miles wide. No drilling obligation was included in the deal, according to the San Angelo announcement.

Lana-Topping Pastor Faces Church Trial

LOS ANGELES, May 18 (INS)—The pastor who made Lana Turner and Bob Topping man and wife today was ordered to stand trial before a judicial commission of ministers and layment for violating rules of the Presbyterian church in performing the marriage.

The minister, Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, former pastor of the fashionable Hollywood Presbyterian church, was shaply censured for uniting Lana and Topping in marriage three days after the tin plate heir was divorced by his third wife, acress Arline Judge.

The Presbyterian church's directory of worship contains a decree forbidding their clergy from officiating "at the marriage of divorced persons until one year has passed between divorce and remarriage."

Heaviest penalty for violation of church laws is unfrocking.

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian church, was appointed to preside at the trial commission. The date has not been set.

Judge Hits Gray Market In Steel

CHICAGO, May 18 (INS)—Gray marketing of steel was denounced today by a Chicago federal judge who declared the industry now has a chance to "clean house."

U. S. District Judge Michael L. Igoe termed the steel gray market was the "saddest aspect of our economic life" and promised all steel manufacturers "every chance they need to help in cleaning up this unsightly picture. . . ."

Igoe's denunciation came at the hearing of a case in which the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. is a complainant.

The jurist set Sept. 20 as the date for a future hearing in the case and enjoined a Chicago manufacturer's agent, Howard Kimble, from claiming that J. & L. ingots were for sale at a premium.

Jones & Laughlin charged that the agent offered the Ford Motor Co. steel at above-the-list prices and claimed it was a J. & L. product.

Kimble told the court he was acting for another manufacturers' representative, Alvin A. Schulty, also of Chicago.

Kimble said he got the idea the steel came from Jones & Laughlin from a letter in Schultz' possession.

Schultz testified the letter came from the firm of O'Donovan & Co., Washington, D. C., and offered him 20,000 tons of ingot steel a month for one year and more thereafter.

It made no reference to Jones & Laughlin.

Judge Igoe termed Kimble and Schultz "minor figures" in the gray market situation. He commented:

"Here is one of our most necessary items and instead of dealing with it in a free market, it is apparently dealt with in a spurious manner.

"If the steel industry wants to clean house, here is a chance to do it.

"Apparently there is an illegal acquisition of steel, somewhere along the line."

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

U. S. Army Seeking Nurses For Reserve; Program Outlined

The United States Army has announced the need of building a reserve of nurses who may be called upon for active duty in time of emergency but who meanwhile will continue in civilian nursing.

According to a recent bulletin issued from the office of the surgeon general, Maj. Gen. Raymond W. Bliss, nursing needs have been established as follows: regular Army nurses, 2,558, reserve corps nurses, 29,000. The present authorized strength, Army Nurse corps, extended active duty, is 5,600, which includes regular Army and reserve nurses on active duty. Approximately 2,000 vacancies for extended active duty will occur during the year and must be filled, and approximately 25,000 additional qualified nurses must be found during 1948 who are eligible for and will accept officers' reserve corps commissions, inactive status.

Setup Is Explained

Extended active duty means a nurse who qualifies professionally and physically and who holds an officers' reserve corps commission may request assignment to active duty in an Army hospital. She may choose a category commitment ranging from a one to three-year tour of duty in a continuous period, and after completion of this tour she may request additional active duty if she so desires. Appointments to extended active duty are made only after specific request by the individual nurse, and only so far as vacancies occur.

Nurses who desire extended active duty may request foreign service in Germany, Japan, Korea, Hawaii, Okinawa, the Philippines, Alaska, Guam, Trieste, Austria, Puerto Rico, Panama, Saipan, Iwo Jima, and Trinidad. Requests for domestic assignments in services preferred by individual nurses in favored locations or with friends will be honored so far as is possible, the surgeon general indicated.

May Be Inactive

Inactive status means a nurse with or without previous military nursing experience, who does not wish to request extended active duty, may nevertheless apply for an officers' reserve corps commission, Army Nurse corps section. She thus signifies her desire to become part of the reserve officer strength of the nation, ready to serve if needed in time of emergency. Like all officers' reserve corps nurses, she is appointed for an initial period of five years and may, during that time, request appointment to extended active duty if she so desires. Such action, however, is entirely voluntary on her part. Reserve commissions may be renewed at termination of the initial five-year period, if the officer remains qualified.

Prior to the passage of the Army-Navy Nurses Act of 1947 the Army Nurse corps had no reservoir of nurses of inactive status to draw upon in time of national emergency. Recruiting of nurses, at such times, was handled by the American Red Cross, which maintained a roster of civilian nurses who had agreed to serve should national security require them.

Regardless of whether or not a nurse has had previous military experience, the method of applying is the same. The necessary forms may be obtained by requesting them from any Army installation or U. S. Post Office, or by writing to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C. Applications should be returned in any case direct to The Adjutant General.

The reserve nurse on inactive status will not normally receive either pay or allowances. An exception might be in the event that she should volunteer for such special training as may subsequently be offered by the Army, in which case her salary and allowances for the volunteered period of duty will be that prescribed for her grade.

U. S. Officials In Japan Claim Soviets Aiding Jap Communists

By FRANK EMERY
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, May 18—High ranking American occupation officials in Japan charge that Japanese Communist leaders are receiving orders directly from the Soviet Union.

Well informed occupation authorities who requested their names be withheld from publication told International News Service today:

"It is known that Japan's Communist party leaders visit the Soviet embassy (in Tokyo) and in general, the Japan Communist party's directives coincide exactly with known Soviet policies.

Policies Are Noted

"Documentary evidence exists which refers to 'directives from the Soviet.'

"It is deduced that Japan Communist party receives orders regularly from the Soviet embassy, or through other channels from the Soviet Union."

Officials who made this statement pointed out that Japanese Communist leaders have recently shown strong reaction to Soviet policies by:

1. Attacking new American economic policies designed to help Japan.
2. Strengthening Communist influence by championing the grievances of labor.
3. Organizing revolutionary groups that eventually may become so powerful that revolts similar to the attempted Colombian coup in Bogota could be staged if U. S. forces were absent.

Labor Troubles Mount

American officials further believe Japanese Communists are carrying out Soviet policy by concentrating primarily on new strike methods, production slow downs and general economic confusion.

At the same time, strong evidence of such a program is indicated by widespread Communist propaganda campaigns at labor rallies in various parts of Japan.

Communist propagandists are making promises to support Japanese labor grievances and attempt to back them up with such charges as:

1. America is making a vast effort to "colonize" Japan.
2. The Japanese are being led toward "enslavement by foreign capital."

At the same time, they are urging "economic rehabilitation by our own hands" and "racial independence" for the Japanese.

Such slogans appear on placards and signs that are carried openly by Japanese unionists.

Slowdown Tactics Used

Another form of Communist reaction to Russian policy, American officials believe, was recently expressed in sporadic labor disputes designed to create work stoppages at different times in different places.

Japanese unionists call them "piston strikes" because they hit various parts of Japan like the methodical stroke of a piston.

Such tactics were adopted in order to avoid General MacArthur's injunction against a crippling general walkout.

The new walkout technique is based on a well designed pattern of strikes that usually last only 24 hours.

They include comparatively small numbers of key workers and generally "inconvenience" approximately 100,000 people during one incident.

Shortly before the piston strikes began, American officials focused particular attention in Hokkaido, Japan's northermost island where Communist influence over labor is the strongest in Japan.

They charge Communist groups are deliberating executing a campaign to waste Hokkaido's rich natural resources by needlessly burning huge amounts of electric power at night.

They also charge that pay rolls in Hokkaido's coal mines are deliberately padded with false names so operational costs will increase.

American officials also blame Communists for organizing small effective railroad strikes primarily aimed at:

1. Delaying transportation of freight vital to Japan's economy.
2. Creating confusion by interrupting time schedules.
3. Attempting to disrupt the government's food ration program.

Mexico Will Pay For Oil Expropriations

MEXICO CITY, May 18 (U.P.)—Mexico will pay a total of $1,000,000 (U. S.) indemnity to four subsidiaries of Cities Service Petroleum corporation which were expropriated in 1938, according to terms of an agreement published in the government gazette today.

The indemnities, plus three per cent annual interest dating from April 10, 1948, the date the agreement was reached, are distributed as follows:

$200,000 to be paid Jan. 1, 1949 to the Sabino Gordo Petroleum corporation.

$200,000 to be paid Jan. 1, 1950 to the Mexico-Texas Petroleum and Asphalt company.

$200,000 to be paid Jan. 1, 1951 to the Compania de Terrenos Petroliferos Imperio, S. A.

$400,000 to be paid in two installments of $200,000 each on Jan. 1, 1952 and Jan. 1, 1953, to the Mexico Eastern Oil company.

Seven other companies affiliated with Cities Service had been included in an indemnity agreement reached April 17, 1942.

Cities Service recently signed a contract with Petroleos Mexicanos, government oil monopoly, whereby Cities Service would put up reportedly between $1,000,000 and $10,000,000 to finance development of former Cities Service oil properties by Pemex.

Borger Gassers Get Revenge, Beat Hubbers, 14-11

Hubbers Almost Win Game Late

BORGER, May 18 (Special)—The Hubbers put everything in two big innings here tonight, but it wasn't enough to overtake the Borger Gassers, who moved back into undisputed possession of second place by beating the visitors 14-11.

The Hub City crew rallied for a seven-run splurge in the eighth inning and nearly had the faltering Gassers on the ropes. Manager Eddie Carnett took over the hurling chores at this point and after giving up doubles to Royce Mills and Jackie Wilcox, struck Chick Fowler out to end the danger.

RETURN HOME TONIGHT

The Hubbers, with a creditable road record of three victories and one defeat, return to Rosenthal Field for a nine-day stand. Opening the first of a three-game series tonight will be the cellar-dwelling Clovis Pioneers. Bob Cledfelter probably will be on the mound for Lubbock.

Borger jumped into an early lead with two runs in the first inning, then added three counters in the fourth and four more in the fifth. During this time the Hubbers weren't getting much more than a loud foul off Bill Watling.

Kermit Altizer, who hurled a fair game in going the route, led off the sixth with a single, followed by Wilcox's first hit, also a bingle. Fowler struckout, but Sullivan singled to score Altizer. Virgil Richardson singled home Wilcox and Don Moore singled to score Sullivan. Frank Boothe grounded out, but Richardson came in on Frank McAlexander's fielder's choice.

One Big Inning

Borger quickly took back one run with a counter in the seventh, then won the contest in the eighth with four runs.

Verdon Gilchrist singled, and after Cato had flied out, Carnett homered for two tallies. Gordon Nell doubled, Bill Mitchell walked and Fox doubled home both runners.

The restraining wall almost gave way in the Hubber ninth. Altizer walked and went to second on a wild pitch. Wilcox flied out, but Fowler and Sullivan drew passes, all three runners scoring on Richardson's hearty double. Richardson went to third on a wild pitch, where he watched both Moore and Boothe draw walks to load the sacks.

Carnett came in to pitch and Sullivan, who had inserted Floyd Walker to pinchhit and who had one strike, yanked him for Mills. The little utility man hit the first chuck for a double, driving in Richardson and Moore. Charley Scarborough grounded out, but Altizer walked again and Wilcox doubled home Boothe and Mills. Fowler struckout for the third time at this point to end the tilt.

Red Sox, Pirates Slug Victories In Lubbock Boys Club Baseball

Red Sox of the Pee-Wee league slugged out a 33-6 win over the Cards Tuesday afternoon at the Lubbock Boys club diamond, with Don Kerr, Charles Blazi and Durwood Weatherford each connecting for a perfect "two-for-two" at the plate. Cecil Thompson paced the Cards in the hitting department, blasting a second inning homer with the bases loaded.

In the Midget loop the Pirates defeated the Dodgers, 9-5. Barry Allen hit a roundtripper and a single for the Pirates and Bobby Sexton duplicated the feat for the Dodgers.

DETROIT, May 18. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers exploded for 10 runs in two big innings today and racked up a 10 to 7 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the opener of a two-game series.

The Bosox pushed over four runs in the fifth inning on four hits, including Ted Williams' double and a triple by Bobby Doerr.

But the Tigers gave the customers something to cheer about in the next frame. Pat Mullin, Hoot Evers and Vic Wertz singled in succession and when Dave (Boo) Ferriss issued a pass to George Vico, veteran Denny Galehouse came in to relieve him.

Pinchhitter Freddie Hutchinson hit to Doerr, Evers scoring, and when Doerr threw wide to second all runners were safe. Paul Campbell, batting for Bob Swift, fouled out but another pinchhitter, Dick Wakefield, kept the runs coming in by forcing Eddie Lake at second. A single by Neil Berry and Eddie Mayo's double tied the score and brought Mel Parnell to the mound.

Mullin, batting for the second time in the inning, put the Tigers ahead with a single scoring Mayo.

TEXAS LONGHORNS WITHDRAW

Border Loop Might Ask Ball Playoffs

DALLAS, May 18 (INS)—The University of Texas baseball team tonight voluntarily forfeited its claim to a berth in the NCAA playoffs next month, an act which may be the signal for the Border conference to seek a playoff for the position.

The Longhorns, through Coach Bibb Falk, said they didn't wish to participate in the national eliminations because they would be unable to field a representative team. Graduations, summer jobs and profession contracts will take several key men, Falk pointed out.

Aggies Second Best

That leaves Texas A & M, the second place team, the logical choice of the Southwest Conference. But the Border Conference served notice last winter, when it was contesting—successfully—for a playoff for the basketball berth, that it considered its teams deserving of consideration by the NCAA.

And since the southwest champ is bowing out, the border loop is more than likely to redouble its efforts.

The Border Loop complies with NCAA regulations and feels that it should be given equal consideration.

Meeting Stated

Lloyd Messersmith, Southern Methodist university baseball coach and District Six NCAA baseball chairman, was in bed with the flu at his home in Dallas Tuesday night and was unavailable for comment.

However, with his wife acting as the "middle-man," he told International News Service he was in the process of writing the two other members of the committee, Pete Jones of Baylor and Athletic Director J. F. McKale of Arizona, asking their opinions.

Neel, Hubbard Blank Softball Opponents

Jackie Neel celebrated his twenty-first birthday Tuesday night at Jumbo Webster field by hurling the Bluebonnet - Sunbeamers to a 1-0 shutout victory over Cloverlake Dairy in the second tilt of a South Plains Softball loop twin bill.

Neel scattered three Dairy hits during his seven-inning stint and struck out 18 batters. The triumph was his eighth in league play, against a single loss.

The Sunbeamers found Cecil Hale's hurling almost as baffling, but pushed across the winning tally in the first inning when James Abbott was hit by a pitch, stole second, went to third on Ralph Earhart's fly to deep short and came home on Roy Butlers fly to center field.

Baldridge Bakery scored a 3-0 triumph over the Thomas Jewelers in the opening tussle, behind the one-hit chunking of big Loy Hubbard. The bakerymen bunched a walk, a Thomas error, a triple by Overbeck and a double by Tommy Winters to chalk up three runs in the fourth stanza.

Dodgers Trimmed; Simmons Is Beaten

BROOKLYN, May 18 (AP)—Enos Slaughter's two-run homer over the left field wall backed up steady pitching by George Munger today to give the St. Louis Cards a 4-3 edge over Brooklyn in the opening game of their first Eastern trip.

Spider Jorgensen's home run over the right field wall after Ralph Branca singled in the fifth tied up the game, 2-2, for the minute, but the Cards bounced right back to regain the lead on Slaughter's clout following Stan Musial's single in the sixth.

The Cards broke a scoreless duel between Munger and Branca with a run in the fourth on Musial's double and Whitey Kurowski's single to center. They added another in the top of the fifth when Branca walked Marty Marion and Munger and Ralph LaPointe singled to left.

Executive Committee Will Meet Saturday On Griffin Charges

Formal Protest Is Filed By Amarillo

A special meeting of the District 1-AA executive committee has been called at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at Plainview to act on Amarillo's protest of a Lubbock High baseball player, Bobby (Rip) Griffin, Chairman C. A. Cryer of Borger announced Tuesday afternoon.

Cryer revealed that he had received a letter from the Amarillo High school superintendent, C. M. Rogers, stating that:

Protest By Letter

"We hereby file official protest with the district executive committee against the eligibility of Bobby Griffin, a player on the baseball team of Lubbock High school, on the grounds of violation of the amateur rule of the Interscholastic league.

"We have information which indicates definitely to our satisfaction that he participated in a baseball game between Memphis and Post semi-professional baseball teams on March 28, 1948, and that some of the players on the Memphis team were paid wages over and above actual expenses for participation in the game."

Officials Meet Saturday

All executive committee representatives from district schools will attend the special meeting, but Amarillo and Lubbock will be barred from voting on the issue. Other members of the committee are Supt. Knox Kinard of Pampa, Supt. O. J. Laas of Plainview and Supt. S. P. Cowan of Brownfield.

Lubbock school officials have announced, following thorough investigation of the case, that they have substantial evidence that refutes the Amarillo charge.

No Player Paid

According to statements made to local authorities by the team officials, no player was paid and no payment to any player was authorized. Griffin absolutely did not receive any money—or even a meal—and definitely had no knowledge that any of the players were to receive pay.

Lubbock officials are convinced that the commitee, after a study of the actual facts in the case, will clear Griffin from the charge of "violating the amateur rule."

At least three Lubbock school officials, including Supt. R. W. Matthews, Principal Floyd Honey and Athletic Director C. R. Pattison, will attend the meeting.

Don Faurot Charges Expense-Paid Trips For Missouri Boys Made

KANSAS CITY, May 18. (AP)—Don Faurot, University of Missouri athletic director and football coach, said today, "keen competition from out-of-state institutions" makes it difficult to keep topflight Missouri athletes at home.

"Five or six of the best high school athletes in Missouri I know have visited out-of-state schools with all expenses paid and have received offers," Faurot told the M. U. Quarterback Club here.

"I won't name the boys, but the schools to which expense-paid visits were furnished are Arkansas, Kentucky, Tulane, Mississippi State and Alabama," he said.

South Plains tennis fans will have an opportunity to see some of the top netters of the entire Southwest in action here this summer, if present plans of the Tech Tennis association materialize. The association, recently organized by members of the Texas Tech tennis squad, is slated to sponsor a "big time" net tournament here early in July and the group plans to make a special effort in order to get the best players of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona in the meet.

Plans for the tourney are still in the tentative stage, but a few of the highly-ranked players have already been contacted by the association—with favorable results. The early July date holds a special interest for the top bracket tourney players, since no other major meet is carded at that time, and the competition will be on a level high enough to attract the "name" players.

While association members emphasize that the tournament is still in a very fluid state of organization, it is no secret that they will try to get entries from such netters as Herb Benham and Sanders of Arizona university, Brant Smith of Tucson, James Saunders of Amarillo, D. L. Hopper of Tulsa, Gus Craigo of Waco and junior standouts Julian Oates, Jack Turpin and Dixon Osburne.

If the association reaches its goal in the tourney, Lubbock and South Plains fans will see the best tennis tourney ever staged on the South Plains and a field of entries usually found only in national or top regional meets.

* * *

Lubbock fans can rest assured that the local high school will be well represented at the special meeting of the District 1-AA executive meeting Saturday morning at Plainview, when Amarillo's protest of Westerner baseball team member Bobby Griffin will be voted on. Superintendent R. W. Matthews will be on hand for the hearing, aided by Senior High Principal Floyd Honey and Athletic Director C. R. (Pat) Pattison.

Louis In Bigtown To Lose Weight

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP)—Joe Louis came to town today and lost some weight quickly.

The heavyweight champion arrived from Bloomingdale, Mich., with a months old beard. His favorite barber in Harlem lopped off the whiskers and the Brown Bomber shuffled off to Pompton Lakes, N. J., a shade under 222 pounds.

The rest of his surplus weight won't come off so easy.

Joe wants to scale 215 when he meets Jersey Joe Walcott for the title again in Yankee Stadium, June 23. Louis weighed 211 when he shaded Walcott last December. That was the most the champion ever scaled for a title fight.

The Bomber has a little more than a month to slice off the surplus poundage from his waist and hips. He did a little limbering up exercises at his Jersey camp today.

Darrow Hooper After Discus Mark In Addition To Shot Put Record

FORT WORTH, May 18 (U.P.)—Darrow Hooper, who holds the national high school shot put record, said today it was "quite possible" he would break the discus record next year.

But that's as far as he would go on it. His coach, too, was equally cautious about the matter. However, Coach L. B. Morris said that if too many "if's" didn't get in the way, young Hooper stood an excellent chance of capturing the discus record.

The 6 foot 3½ inch, 202 pound Hooper, who is a junior in North Side High school and who just turned 16 last Jan. 30, surprised himself when he set a new national record by tossing the 12-pound shot 59 feet 9 inches at the meet last week in Dallas.

Blix Donnelly Ready For Southworth Crew

PHILADELPHIA, May 18 (AP)—Little Blix Donnelly won't be satisfied with his pitching comeback until he proves to Billy Southworth he's not a skinny reliefer.

"The great man (Boston Braves' Manager Southworth) couldn't see me," said the Phillies' right hander today following his third victory of the season, a four hitter against the New York Giants. He's lost two.

"He let me sit in the bull pen day after day. I was too little, too skinny, didn't have enough to last nine innings.

"But," continued Blix, "Ben Chapman (Phillies' Manager) didn't think that way. Ben gave me the chance and I'd doing the best I can.

"They say Southworth has a pennant contender up in Boston. I owe him one for that two hitter (Warren) Spahn beat me. Maybe I'll catch up to 'em before the year's over."

WINS BRITISH CROWN

COVENTRY, England, May 18. (AP)—Dick Turpin, 28-year-old Negro, tonight won the British Empire Middleweight title by knocking out Champion Bos Murphy of New Zealand in 2:55 of the first round. Turpin weighed 156½ and Murphy 158¾.

CARD STAR—Second Baseman Red Schoendienst goes high in the air to nab a peg from Catcher Joe Garagiola in a recent game with the New York Giants. Whitey Lockman slid safely into second on the bad throw, but it didn't prevent Schoendienst from looking his usual sensational self. The Giants won that particular game 5-0, behind Ray Poat.

PGA Tourney Starts Today With Jim Ferrier Favorite

ST. LOUIS, May 18 (AP)—Jim Ferrier, the big San Francisco Australian with a trick knee and a tricky putter, will have everything in his favor when he opens his bid tomorrow to become the first "repeater" in the Professional Golfers' Association champion in more than ten years.

Ferrier won the 1947 championship at Detroit's Plum Hollow course largely because his putter could do no wrong. In conquering long-hitting Chick Harbert, 2 and 1, in the final, Jim putted only 54 times on the 35 greens.

The Norwood Hills course, where the 30th P.G.A. tourney will begin tomorrow and finish next Tuesday, appears to favor a good putter and short iron player over the long driving pros. It's short, for one thing—only 6440 yards—carefully trapped and the wind blows steadily to the annoyance of the "sprayers."

If he should repeat, Big Jim will be the first golfer to win the PGA title twice in succession since Denny Shute did it in 1936 and 1937. Other repeaters include Walter Hagen, who won four straight times from 1924 to 1927; Gene Sarazen, a three-time winner who'll be trying to make it four; Jim Barnes, Leo Diegel and Paul Runyan.

A field of 137 is scheduled to start tomorrow in the first of two 18-hole qualifying rounds. These will cut the list to 64 to begin match play Friday, when two 18-hole "knockout" rounds will be contested. The remaining matches all will be at 36 holes.

A local odds-maker has bracketed Ferrier, Jimmy Demaret, the Ojai, Calif., Crooner; Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Lloyd Mangrum, 1946 National Open champion from Chicago, as 6 to 1 favorites.

Industrial League Teams Open Play With Three Games

Three opening day games in the Industrial Softball league were unreeled Tuesday afternoon, with the Economy Mills nine edging Bennett Motors, 5-3, in the feature tussle.

Jessie Clark hurled a six-hitter for the winners, while Arthur Tankle was charged with the loss.

In other tilts the Veterans of Foreign Wars nosed out Sanders Motors, 16-13, and American Legion trounced Montgomery Ward, 10-4.

Lubbock Auto and the Post Office will tangle in a loop tilt at 6 o'clock tonight at the diamond at Twenty-fourth and Ave. Q.

Burglary Trial Jury Dismissed

A deadlocked 99th district court jury was dismissed by Judge G. V. Pardue at 8:35 o'clock last night in the case of Billy Joe Short, 19, after hearing evidence during the afternoon in a burglary trial. The jury had received the case at 5:15 p. m.

E. A. Wood, of Idalou, was jury foreman.

The indictment accused Short of a March 21 burglary of Lubbock Packing company. He also is under indictment charging theft of $175 worth of clothing from Mrs. Ward Merrick on March 16. Last week he was arrested and charged in Hale county with burglary of an Abernathy motor company.

His counsel, Ben Kucera, brought out that Short's intention in entering the packing company was to "buy weiners." The defense sought to prove that the packing company doors were not locked and that Short presumed from that fact that he could make a purchase.

Ten-Year Probation

Earlier, in the morning session, Jim A. Hampton, 32, father of seven children, pleaded guilty of burglary and was placed under 10-year probation. He made affidavit, through his counsel, C. L. Harris, that he never before had been convicted of a felony.

Under the adult probation and parole law enacted by the last legislature, Judge G. V. Pardue, presiding, imposed nine stringent conditions upon Hampton, who also is under another burglary indictment. Under conditions of the probation law, if Hampton commits another felony during the probation period he may be arrested and sent to the penitentiary to serve the 10 years, no matter how long his conduct has been satisfactory, court officials said.

Members Of Jury

The Short jury otherwise was composed of Fred Worsham, John T. Patterson, Holland Stewart, J. L. Jolly, C. A. Gibson, W. T. Jackson, J. L. Gamble, H. S. Johnston, A. N. Baldwin, W. E. Akin, and J. T. Holder.

The state was represented by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr.

ming in a lagoon.

Gen. Hull explained that the tests "have "no kinship" with the Bikini tests, which, he said were designed to test the atomic bomb effect on naval craft, marine life and animals.

He said the Eniwetok tests were made to determine what happens during explosions and for efficiency of the newly developed weapons.

Dr. Froman explained that the program at Eniwetok was "a series of nuclear explosions carried out under conditions as close to laboratory control as we could make them and with extensive instrumentation."

He added that the tests were designed to fill in gaps in the knowledge previously gained at Bikini, and said:

Improvements Made

"These tests were successful in the sense that the desired data was obtained."

He said that the second category of tests amounted to experiments designed to answer questions in connection with the military application of atomic energy as developed at the Los Alamos (N.M.) scientific laboratory.

Dr. Froman told newsmen that unlike conventional weapons, atomic weapons cannot be continually tested, but pointed out that the "small improvements" made in the weapons just tried out were well planned and that the tests produced "excellent experimental data for a better understanding of nuclear explosions."

Personnel Large

He added humorously that some of the explosions "did go off with a bang."

Gen. Hull, whose job it was to prepare the island for the vast operation, said that some 50,000 tons of material was shipped to the atoll, mostly through San Francisco and Seattle.

He said that one million feet of submarine cable had been laid, intricate radio systems rigged up throughout the test area, and adequate living conditions set up for the personnel.

He declared that while the personnel was large, observers of the test, including "some members of the Congressional Atomic Energy committee, were "extremely limited" for security reasons.

He added that no foreign nationals were on the atoll at any time, and pointed out that no attempts were made to penetrate the security of the experiments. He said:

"We had no trouble with security."

Gen. Hull thanked newsmen for their cooperation in handling the highly secretive news, and pointed out that those who are now on the island or who have returned are permitted only to say that they were there and saw "the explosions."

approval is won.

A Senate bill with similar draft provisions has been approved by the Senate Armed Services committee. Chairman Gurney (R-SD) predicts there will be plenty of votes in the Senate to pass the bill, probably next week.

However, one provision of the bill clashes with the House version. The Senate measure calls for training of 18-year-olds as reserves. Andrews and Speaker Martin (R-Mass) both said the House will not agree to this provision.

Both bills call for a draft of men 19 through 25.

Plains Nurserymen Hold Meeting Here

James Walker of Midland was elected president and J. C. Davis of Lubbock vice president of the Plains Nurserymen's association at the second annual meeting of the organization held at the Hilton hotel here Tuesday afternoon and night with approximately 50 persons attending.

R. O. Kershner of Lubbock was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Ralph Holloway of Carlsbad, N. M., and G. H. Vinyard of Big Spring were elected directors. Retiring officers are Don D. King, president, and L. D. Whitely, vice president, both of Lubbock.

The sessions opened with a board meeting at 2:30 p. m. and closed with a banquet last night. King was master of ceremonies.

Principal speaker at the banquet was Ed Baker of Fort Worth, well-known Texas nurseryman, who discussed early history of the industry in Texas and compared early day business practices with modern methods in the nursery business. Another speaker was Raymond Mosty, president of the Texas Association of Nurserymen.

Members were present from eastern New Mexico, and a far-reaching area of West Texas, with visitors from Grapevine, Dallas, Arlington, Fort Worth, Scottsville, Wichita Falls and other points.

Bombs Kill 41

the Arab legion. The spokesman said Glubb Pasha is not subject to British government supervision.)

The bodies of more than 100 Jewish killed and wounded were removed tonight from the Tel Aviv bus station where several Egyptian bombs hit in the fifth raid of the day.

Protest Lodged

Tonight a few children's toys, a pair of gold spectacles, a woman's handbag,—and pools of blood—marked the spot.

Jewish air raid wardens quickly had shoveled up bits of human bodies. Some were taken from treetops.

For the first time, Jewish crowds showed signs of extreme anger at the attacks.

Moshe Shertok, Israel foreign minister, already had protested to the International Red Cross before today's bombing.

"It is extremely distressing," he said tonight, "when the invasion is such a patent fact and our representative at UN headquarters is being dismissed as not being sufficiently officially documented."

Bombs Hit Square

The Jews claimed they inflicted heavy casualties on Arabs attacking south of the Sea of Galilee in the Gesher area, and shot down an Arab fighter-bomber there.

The Jews killed in Tel Aviv had been standing in a bus queue at the rush hour when two Arab fighter-bombers struck. They machinegunned the streets in addition to dropping bombs.

Eyewitnesses said the planes circled the area for a few minutes, then peeled off and dived and let bombs fall into the crowded square of the Israel capital.

Children Killed

Four bombs struck, one of them just ahead of two parallel lines of men, women and children. Several children were among those killed, also the ticket collector for one bus.

In Cairo, the Arab Higher committee did not identify the ship it said was carrying 600 immigrants to Tel Aviv. But it said the ship suffered casualties and damage in the Egyptian aerial attack.

Tel Aviv was attacked three times by Egyptian warplanes. One plane was shot down and its pilot captured by two Jewish army women.

Jewish ground fire was weak and no Jewish warplanes defended the skies.

An unconfirmed Cairo report said Egyptian volunteers had linked up with Arab legion troops at Ramle, only 10 miles southeast of Tel Aviv.

If this is true thousands of Jewish troops are cut off from their main supply base at Tel Aviv and the capital itself is imperilled.

Wallace Hits Stand

shall commented that the Stalin letter, while encouraging, was really meaningless because these issues have been discussed in the UN and they do not constitute reasons for bilateral discussions.

"I might say that it is nice to have our State department recognize the UN—even in this negative way, after circumventing it so frequently . . .

"General Marshall's answer is not satisfactory. It is an answer calculated to continue the cold war, when we need peace. No people in the world need peace as badly as the people of the United States. Today our living standards and our fundamental democratic principles are being undermined as reckless men, stupid men, and greedy men hold us constant on a course of crisis."

Wallace contended that "the most compelling reason for ending the cold war is the hard, practical fact that the American people cannot afford to prolong the cold war."

He added:

"The cold war has always been less of a war against Russia, than it is a war against the American people. It has been less of war against Communism, than a war against Democracy.

"The cold war is the offensive of international big business against the movements of the people everywhere to control the private states — the cartels — which contributed so greatly to the rise of fascism in Europe."

Earlier Wallace addressed 8,000 University of California students near the Berkeley campus in the East Bay district. He called for direct two-nation negotiations to settle the cold war between the United States and Russia.

Bootlegger Is Loser As Woman 'Plugs' Man With Blonde

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 18. (AP)—Some quiz program will love this one, or maybe they can use it in the final exams for a law school—

Mrs. Bill Tucker walked into the neighborhood bootlegger's house and said she found her Bill with his arms around blonde Winnie Barnhill—the bootlegger's telephone girl.

This upset Mrs. Tucker. She drew her little .22 and took a pot-shot at Winnie.

Maybe emotion spoiled her aim, or maybe somebody jumped. Anyway, she missed Winnie a mile and plugged poor Bill in the side—not too seriously. She swore she aimed at Winnie.

Sheriff Takes Over

They carted Bill off to the hospital and the sheriff came around for a look-see . . .

They had the trial yesterday. The judge handed out a $50 fine and 30 days in jail.

And who got it?

Not Winnie—that ain't no crime anywhere.

Not Bill—he was just an . . . er . . . bystander.

And not Mrs. Tucker. Bill, gentleman that he is, used his Anglo-Saxon legal privileges even from his hospital bed and refused to appear against his wife.

Give up?

Okay—it was the bootlegger, Hugh Nott.

While checking up, the sheriff's men found three quarts of wine, seven fifths and 36 pints of whisky. And Oklahoma has prohibition.

The jury recommended mercy for Nott, but in view of his liquor record the judge had to stick him.

Stalin's Statement

and Washington over how the cold war might be brought to an end began last night when Moscow broadcast the text of Stalin's comments on Wallace's open letter.

Wallace, who was ousted from President Truman's cabinet in 1946 because he split with Secretary of State Byrnes over foreign policy, called for settlement of the whole range of major world issues. He named, among other questions: Armaments and atomic control, German and Japanese peace treaties, withdrawal of troops from occupied countries and international reconstruction of war devastated lands.

Policy Unchanged

Stalin praised the Wallace letter as setting forth "a concrete program for peaceful settlement of differences between the USSR and the United States."

Officials said Stalin's statement appeared to be designed in some measure to cover up Russia's actual record of blocking agreements in the United Nations and the council of foreign ministers.

Officials here said that they saw no indication in Stalin's statement of any basic change in Soviet foreign policy. What the Russian government apparently would like, they said, is some new conference between Stalin and Truman or Secretary of State Marshall and Foreign Minister Molotov to agree on general principles for a world settlement which in the American view actually would not settle anything at all.

By contrast, American policy presently is based on the conviction that only by solving specific issues can there be an improvement in relations between East and West. And officials say that in the settlement of these issues Britain, France, China and other countries must play a responsible role.

Lewis Hurls Threat

ing June 30, the showdown may come tomorrow. A vote is pending on whether to seat Moody.

If that is done, the massive leader of the United Mine Workers declared, there will be no conference

Penalties Ruled Out

"And the coal industry again will have failed its obligations to the public, and I suppose the price of coal will again advance, and the propaganda of the Southern Coal Producers association will say that the fault is the arbitrary action of the United Mine Workers," he told the conference.

Lewis says Moody isn't eligible to participate because the association did not sign the present contract, which expires June 30. The current talks are designed to draft a new contract.

Meanwhile, in a downtown courtroom, the judge who twice has imposed heavy fines on Lewis and his miners ruled out further penalties for their convictions last month of civil and criminal contempt of court. He already had fined them heavily under the criminal contempt convictions, and the civil case was pending.

This action, by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, was taken on request of the government, which noted that normal resumption of coal production had been achieved.

But he refused a request to abandon his 80-day anti-strike injunction hanging over the miners. He said he is not convinced they won't strike again. He promised to think it over.

$155,000 In Claims Paid By Railroad

ANGLETON, Texas, May 18 (AP)—The Santa Fe railroad today paid out $155,000 in claims for the loss of cattle following the accidental poisoning of Little Linville creek in South Texas.

The payments were made in full on recommendation of an emergency claims board set up at the request of the railroad. The board reviewed all claims presented.

The board was appointed by County Judge Thurmon M. Gupton after Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe, announced assumption of responsibility in an effort to hasten financial assistance. Judge Gupton enlisted aid of T. E. Matthews and L. J. McNeill, cattlemen, in reviewing the claims.

Cattleman Paid $127,834

Today the board had completed all its recommendations for claims payments except for a few which have not been presented.

Largest settlement was to E. L. Bass, Houston cattleman, for the loss of 545 cows and calves, 16 brahma bulls and two horses. He was paid $127,834.

In accepting the settlement, Bass said, "My hat's off to a railway or any other business that tries to do the fair thing when such a problem arises. The Santa Fe did one of the whitest and fairest things I have ever experienced. I am mighty pleased with the settlement and I'm sure that the others feel the same way."

Other payments recommended by the board and paid by the railroad were: $18,627 for the loss of 122 cattle and two horses to Tom Boone of Sweeny; $8,050 to P. J. Reeves of Sweeny and $500 to Tobe Wiley of Allenhurst.

In addition, the board recommended and the railway agreed to pay for the fencing of certain properties bordering the creek and also bear the expense of drilling necessary water wells.

Hard Water Costs

per million, $21.50.

In 1940, there were 3.68 persons per family in Lubbock, said Roberts. Using that figure and assuming that each person uses one gallon of hot water per day with soap, that would be 365 gallons per person per year, or 1,340 gallons per family per year, he said. With the cost of soap figured at 25 cents a pound, the table was compiled to show excess cost per family per year when using water of the hardness shown in the table, as against using water of 80 parts per million (4.7 grains per gallon) hardness.

Extremes Are Shown

Two extremes shown in the table on loss per year were those for water with 625 hardness in p. p. m., for which 39.8 was listed as per capita pounds, 146 as pounds per family of 3.68 persons, and $36.50 as cost of soap per family per year, and the figures for water of 200 p. p. m. hardness, for which per capita pounds was listed as 8.75, pounds per family as 32 and cost of soap per family as $8.

The figures for water nearest hardness of the 440 average listed for Lubbock were: hardness of water in p. p. m., 450; per capita pounds, $26.30; pounds per family, 97, and cost per family, $24.75.

Using soap to soften water costs from $6 to $27 per 1,000 gallons, as shown by the table, and for the present Lubbock water cost would be about $17 per 1,000 gallons, he said.

City Near Bond Limit

One of the projects provided for in a city bond issue voted in Lubbock Dec. 11, 1945, was for water softening equipment, $650,000. However, no more tax bonds can be outstanding than 10 per cent of assessed evaluations, and the city is within $200,000 of that limit now.

Roberts estimated that each person uses about 10 gallons of water per day, but only one gallon of that amount requires the use of soap.

Considerable discussion was carried on during the meeting concerning the holding of water works operators' short schools in this area for the benefit of personnel working in water departments.

Delegates from Lubbock and Lamesa asked the association secretary, E. L. Killingsworth, to apply to the Texas A & M Extension service for such schools to be held in the two cities.

Delegates were present from Brownfield, Slaton, Lamesa, Big Spring, Colorado City, Midland, Monahans, Seagraves and Dallas.

Insanity Plea To Be Filed In Beaumont Murder Conviction

HOUSTON, May 18 (U.P.)—Houston attorney Sam Minter said today a motion seeking to hold up the execution of Riley B. McCaine on grounds he is insane would be filed "within the next few days."

McCaine, now in Jefferson county jail in Beaumont, yesterday was formally sentenced to death in the electric chair June 21 for the murder of Elnora Collins of Houston in 1945.

The usual 30-day stay of execution would make the actual execution date July 21.

The Jefferson county jury which convicted McCaine found him sane at the time of the killing, Sept. 5, 1945, and sane at the time of the trial. Minter was to allege that McCaine went insane during the time he was imprisoned in Beaumont.

Minter, one of three defense attorneys, will seek a new sanity hearing before criminal district Judge Owen Lord in Beaumont.

If McCaine should be found insane he would be held in the penitentiary's psychopathic ward indefinitely, unless he was adjudged to have recovered his sanity. Then the death penalty would be carried out.

The death's head moth, now rarely seen, emits squeaks almost as loud as those of a mouse.

UN Group Debates

can Delegate Warren R. Austin said no nation can rightfully challenge U. S. recognition of Israel.

In the midst of the Palestine reports, Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko berated the council for failing to act. He said delegates had discussed the issue for three days without moving one inch forward.

He demanded that the council go ahead and vote on the American proposal for a cease-fire, stand-fast order to the Jews and Arabs.

The council adjourned until tomorrow afternoon without voting on the United States stop-war resolution.

The delegates did agree on a list of questions to be sent to the seven Arab nations, the Arab higher committee and Israel regarding their war aims, troops locations and prospects for peace. The nine addressees will be given until noon Friday to answer.

Austin flared up angrily in the United Nations Security Council after Syrian Delegate Faris El Khoury said the United States blundered and had no right to recognize the new Jewish state in Palestine.

President Truman announced recognition last Friday a few minutes after Israel was proclaimed in Tel Aviv. Guatemala followed suit immediately, Russia came along yesterday, and Uruguay announced recognition of Israel today.

The sharp exchange came as council wrangling blocked a vote on the American proposal that the UN take immediate steps to stop war in Palestine.

Long Names Wealthy Oil Man To Fill Louisiana Senate Post

BATON ROUGE, La., May 18 (INS)—William Feazell, who rose from farm boy to wealthy oil man by playing hunches on the development of oil and gas fields, was named United States senator from Louisiana today by Governor Earl K. Long.

He will fill the vacancy created last Friday by the death of Sen. John H. Overton, and will serve until the next general election in November.

Sources close to the Louisiana governor predicted that young Russell Long, son of the late governor and U. S. Senator Huey P. Long, will be groomed to run for the Senate when the interim term is completed.

Governor Long said he would support his nephew if he decides to run.

Russell refused to discuss his political plans. He said:

"Ask me in about six weeks."

The sheriff said that Craven was shot about 9:15 a. m. at a residence after he had made a trip to a cafe. An argument preceded the 'sound of shells' he said. The bullets were from a .32 caliber automatic.

Craven was hit four times in the stomach, once in the right leg, and once below the left ear. The bullet which struck his head lodged just below the right ear, it was reported. He had been given two blood transfusions.

The woman had been employed in a local cafe as a cook, and Craven as the dishwasher.

STUDY OF A 'SABOTEUR'

Gromyko Credited With Helping Destroy UN's Hopes For Peace

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 18—Sideglance at a saboteur:

Andrei Gromyko, principal spokesman of the Communist party in U. N., as chief of the Soviet delegation, has been ordered home for a "vacation." Whatever his fate, history will point to him as the half-man half-instrument who crushed one of mankind's loftiest dreams.

In the field of Russian diplomacy, as well as military life, a one-way return ticket to Moscow may mean anything, regardless of the label appended to it. A lot of Russian diplomats have gone back from the free countries and have never been heard of again. Including former Soviet Ambassador Troyanowski, who was so popular here and whose love of the U. S. was pretty plain to observe.

Followed Soviet Orders

Troyanowski's young sons went to school here. They became unquenchable sports fans. We used to see them whooping it up at the local baseball and football games, and at the fights, and the old man always seemed to be getting as much of a kick as the kids.

Gromyko was a faithfully grim follower of the "line" during his years in U. N. The brilliant, young black-browed man avoided all suggestion of ever having a good time, was dour and forbidding even to the friendlier U. N. reporters, lodged his 23 vetoes with a wave of bleak windiness expertly calculated not only to frustrate Democratic action but also to hit U. S. front pages and was, in general, and according to plan, a thoroughly disagreeable soul.

He and his plumish wife dodged most of the social functions to which they were invited. They made a practice, however, of going together to the Radio City Music hall in New York, where they'd sit impassively and stare at the screen or stage, then get up and almost march out in silence.

Action Was Under Charter

The only known instance of a melting in Gromyko's iron reserve came one night at a party when he spent the entire dinner period rolling a raffish eye at his wife, who sat across the table from him. The host and hostess thought it very charming; believed it indicated a heart of gold which would soon show itself in the Security Council.

In view of his one-man wrecking job on U. N. he may indeed be granted the privilege of a vacation when he reaches Russia. Andrei Gromyko, first of a new style of Russian diplomats, personally bound the great body of the United Nations to the earth by the 23 stout ropes of his dissent. Because of him, alone, U. N. today struggles helplessly to restore in the heart of man the high hopes and faith he held in the organization when it was born in San Francisco just three years ago.

What he has done has been legal, under the charter. As perhaps the greatest living authority on that charter, he has missed no opportunity to seek out its flaws, notably the veto and its contradictions, and use each failing as another nail for its coffin.

New Delegate Named

But he has been exquisitely careful not to kill U. N., nor to torment his colleagues to a point of distraction which might have prompted them to rise in fury and tell him to leave, and to take those pathetic yes-men who represent the Russian police states with him. Andrei Gromyko, a shrewd cookie, did it exactly right. He made of U. N. a puerile instrument and preserved only its sounding board, which he will use for his purposes until the end.

Those whose skulls scrape along the clouds and whose favorite eyeglasses are rose-tinted hope that his successor, Jacob Malik, will be different. Malik, like Gromyko, will be only the functions of a tool. He will have no right, within himself, to make a single decision. He will never be placed in the shameful embarassment of the U. S. delegate who had to admit the other night that he didn't know what his country was up to in the Palestine matter. Malik, like Gromyko, will have to know his country's "line"—or else.

Gromyko won't be forgotten by those who saw him in action from San Francisco to London to the Bronx to Flushing Meadow to Lake Success. The day he took his celebrated walk, at Hunter college, he brought tears to the eyes of old timers who had seen the Japs and Italians and Russians do the same thing at the League of Nations.

Once Was Challenged

There was the time, too, at Hunter college—it was Holy Thursday—when he argued at length against a proposal that the Security Council recess the following day. "What is there about tomorrow that is different than any other day?" he kept repeating, and a shadow of delight came briefly to his eyes when a Catholic member of the Council finally made a red-faced and indignant answer.

He always spoke Russian in U. N., making the interpreters bring his sometimes 45 - minute speeches down to English through the French. When he finished speaking he would then correct the French translator, in French, and finally the English translator, in perfect English.

The only time I ever saw him at a loss for words was one day when he repeated his oft-stated reasons why Russia would always veto the application of Ireland and Portugal, ". . . Because they maintained diplomatic relations with Hitler throughout the war."

For once, he was challenged. The El Salvadorean delegate, taking the floor while we and the British remained abjectly silent, said, "I would like to bring to the honorable delegate's attention the fact that Russia was at one time an ally of Hitler and that together Russia and Germany invaded our fellow member Poland and divided it in two. I would also like to bring to his attention the fact that Russia maintained diplomatic relations with our common enemy Japan until the Americans dropped their atomic bomb near the end of the war, and that during the vast majority of the war in the Pacific the Russians never lifted a finger to help the hard-pressed Americans."

Andrei Gromyko just sat there and stared back at the Latin, coldly. He made no reply. Perhaps he felt that none was necessary, for he knew he had already done what he was sent to U. N. to do—break its back and prolong the world chaos on which Communism must find its nourishment.

Nominees Are Named By Lions

One of the principal features of the Lions club luncheon Tuesday noon at Hilton hotel was the announcement of two slates of nominees from which next year's officers are to be elected at the June 1 meeting. The elected officers will take office at the first meeting in July.

Several announcements concerning club activities also were made. These included one to the effect that next week's meeting will be held starting at 6:30 p. m. instead of at noon, in the form of family night in Mackenzie park.

Formal dedication ceremonies for the club-sponsored Girl Scout camp near Buffalo Lakes are set for June 6. It was announced that an almost complete report on profits from the Gainesville Community circus appearance here netted approximately $5,200, of which one-fourth goes to the Lions club benefit program, and the other to the Lubbock Women's club.

Stress was placed by B. Watkins, president of American Business club, on the repeat performances here next month of the Gene Autry Madison Square Garden rodeo, and the Lions club voted to handle without assistance by other clubs the concessions project at the show.

The two slates of nominees, one presented with fanfare of trumpet and plentiful "soap box" oratory, were, in the order presented:

By the "steam rollers," or regulars: for president, Elmer Tarbox; first vice president, Wayne (Mickey) Henly; second vice president, Dallas Whaley; third vice president, Dr. Sam Hitch; Lion tamer, Arnold Maas; tail twister, G. C. Kennedy; and secretary, Groves Denman (re-election); for directors, Tom Ingram and Harry Urguette. The ticket was presented by Raymond Burford, past president of the club.

By the Knife and Fork group: for president, Wayne (Mickey) Henly; first vice president, Ruel Martin; second vice president, Ray Wells, third vice president, Vincel Larsen; Lion tamer, Marion Key; tail twister, Dr. C. H. Schulkey; secretary, Groves Denman (re-election); directors, Doyle Jordan and B. C. McCasland.

Check Is Exhibited

The "soap box" oratory on behalf of the Knife and Fork ticket was supplied by Orville Smith, and trumpet fanfare was by Lloyd Jenkins, Tech college student.

Exhibited was a check in the amount of $13,612.78 for the Lubbock Boys club, to be presented on the Lions club's pledge of assistance in building a swimming pool at the boys club. Two new members were introduced. They were J. H. Burns and Leon Harris. Club President J. Wm. Davis presided, with invocation by Judge G. V. Pardue.

Hollywood Companies Bidding Sharply For Montgomery Clift, Latest Movie Find

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 18—I do hope Ginger Rogers signs the contract offered her by MGM to co-star with Gene Kelly in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." There have been many conferences lately between her and Louis B. Mayer, but Ginger wants to produce, and so far, she hasn't said yes.

Teaming her with Gene Kelly, who is such a good dancer, would certainly be box office, for those pictures she made with Fred Astaire, for RKO, are still among the best musicals ever filmed. Ginger is a wonderful dancer, and she and Gene would certainly bring plenty of sheckles into the tired old box office.

Clift Much Sought Actor

Every company in the business has put in a bid for Montgomery Clift. He could work 365 days a year, and the producers would still be trying to get him. Not since the day Gregory Peck was discovered has there been an actor in as much demand.

He was seen first, actually, in "The Search"—at least, that is the first time I ever set eyes on him. And when you see him in "Red River," you are going to know just what a find this boy is. Lucky Howard Hawks to own most of Clift's contract.

What this is all leading up to is that Paramount is making a deal to borrow him for "The Heiress," opposite Olivia De Havilland.

I was talking to Jesse Lasky today, and he was very excited over "Battle Ground," which Dore Schary had handed him and Walter McEwen to produce. He says he thinks it is going to be another "What Price Glory."

Super Horse Shows Coming

Chatter in Hollywood: Clifton Webb, who was at the Gary Coopers' party Saturday night, told me that Doubleday-Doran is bringing out his autobiography, "Appointment With Myself." When I told him I loved the title, he said that Moss Hart had suggested it to him.

We have some big horse stories coming up—and I don't mean horse operys. Lynn Bari's husband, Sid Luft and Arnold Stoltz have just bought the rights to screen "Man O' War," based on the racing career of one of the greatest thoroughbreds ever to romp home first.

Sid and Stoltz acquired the rights from Samuel D. Riddle, owner of the champ, who likes their idea of doing the picture in color.

Of course, you know that Warners have a movie coming up about "Seabiscuit," the Charlie Howard champion, which was the best loved race horse ever to put four feet on a California race track.

A very nice message from Geraldine Wall, who is playing Thomas Mitchell's wife in "Dark Circle" for John Farrow.

Geraldine is the sister of Lucille Wall, the radio star, and she tells me her sister is at the Beverly Hills hotel recuperating from a very serious accident, before returning to her programs.

This is Miss Lucille's first visit to our town. She has a lot of fans who know her as Portia in "Portia Faces Life," and as Belle in "Lorenzo Jones."

Student Collapses From Hunger As 10 Cent Food Budget Fails

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 18. (AP) —A Tulane university student, hitchhiking to New Orleans on a 10 cent daily food budget, collapsed from hunger last night.

Police found him lying in the street near the edge of town. At St. John's hospital, where he was quickly revived after drinking several glasses of milk, the student identified himself as Samuel Leibowitz, 25, of New Orleans.

Police said he told them he had not eaten for five days because he ran out of money, despite limiting himself to 10 cents a day for food. Leibowitz said he had been working in Wisconsin and was returning to Tulane, where he is a medical student.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

Legal Ruling On Rural Aid School Pay Is Sought

Problem Posed For Officials

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 18—Three questions bearing on the legality of issuing deficiency salary warrants to Rural Aid school teachers have been put before the attorney general.

County Attorney Robert M. Allen of Henderson, Rusk county, asked the attorney general's opinion on these three points:

1. Do Rusk county's common school districts have authority to contract with banks to pay interest on deficiency warrants from the time banks accept the warrants until the warrants are redeemed?

2. Do school trustees have authority to issue warrants creating a deficiency?

First Such Questions

3. If the answer to the first two questions is "yes," then does the state legislature have authority to appropriate money to pay off the warrants.

The first two questions would apply in any school district where deficiencies warrants have been issued.

No questions of exactly similar nature have been answered by previous attorneys general, administrative assistant attorney general David Irons said he believed today. With no precedent to follow, considerable time may be spent in developing the requested opinion, Irons said.

When banks recently agreed to accept deficiency warrants from rural aid schools, Gov. Beauford H. Jester said he believed the problem of paying teachers this current school year had been solved satisfactorily.

Arrangements have been made to make funds for the next school year available in September in order for schools to repay the banks. Rural aid schools ran short of funds for salaries by more than $2,000,000 this year and face an even greater shortage next year.

Nationalization Program Near End, British Laborites Indicate

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., May 18. (AP)—Leaders of Britain's Labor party indicated today the government's program of nationalization is nearing its end.

A consensus of leading delegates to the 47th annual Labor conference is that most of the nationalization projects promised in the party's successful 1945 campaign have now been completed.

The leaders now favor a campaign to modernize British industry for higher production through private enterprise.

U. S. Officials Study Latest Details In 'Spy' Case

Soldier May Be Reds' Prisoner

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18—The McMillin incident, originally depicted as an infatuation, took an ominous turn today as persons in high government positions expressed belief that the youthful American sergeant may be an unwilling prisoner of the Russians.

This development came as it was learned that the sergeant's father, Army Col. James M. McMillin was summoned from Alabama to confer with Army and State department officials on the incident.

The State department charged Sunday night that Sgt. James M. McMillin, Jr., had deserted his post as a cryptographer in the U. S. embassy in Moscow on the eve of his routine transfer back to the United States.

Claim Is Denied

It was charged that the desertion was motivated by McMillin's desire to remain with a known female Russian spy, who had "seduced" him, beauteous Galina Donaeva Biconish, wife of another G. I. now stationed at Ft. Riley, Kans.

(Sgt. John S. Biconish, in a signed news dispatch from Ft. Riley, declared that his wife, whom he is now divorcing, "is no spy."

(Biconish, who said he knew young McMillin, termed as "silly" the State department claim that his Russian wife had induced him to desert his post. Biconish said: ("There's something more than appears on the surface.")

The Soviet news agency "Tass" reported, meanwhile, that McMillin had sent a letter to the mayor of Moscow saying he had decided to stay in Russia in protest to anti-Soviet tactics of American capitalists.

The wording of the letter, said to be identical to one McMillin sent to the U. S. embassy in Moscow after his "desertion," contributed to official suspicions in Washington that the Army sergeant may not be remaining in Russia voluntarily.

It was pointed out that the language and ideas expressed are almost identical to the course taken by Soviet officials in criticizing the United States.

McMillin's father was in Washington yesterday and presumably was questioned closely about his son by intelligence experts of both the Army and State departments.

The elder McMillin, who successfully evaded newsmen, was reported as deeply disturbed and unable to understand his son's actions, particularly in view of the fact that he had been "brought up" in the Army tradition.

Army officials took the position that the entire affair was a State department matter. They pointed out that their first intimation of the desertion came from State department reports on May 15.

It was learned at the Army that the military attache in Moscow had made no reports concerning McMillin's association with a known Russian agent.

At the State department, however, it was said that McMillin and other embassy personnel had been cautioned repeatedly concerning their association with Russian women, who were known to report regularly to Russian police on their activities.

WAR DEAD ARE HONORED

Aggie Memorial Auditorium Is Dedicated At Tech Ceremonies

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Aggie Memorial auditorium, in short but impressive ceremonies, last night was dedicated to those members of the Texas Tech Agriculture division who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

J. D. Strickland, former Aggie club sponsor, outlined the search for a proper memorial to honor the Tech Aggie war dead. His talk followed the playing of the national anthem, and invocation by Jim Spain.

Strickland said many ideas for a memorial were presented to the Aggie club as soon as it became known that the organization was seeking a proper way of remembering and honoring the Aggies who had lost their lives.

High Goals Were Set

"We knew it must be something useful, practical and beneficial to meet the ideals of the men who had fought and died. Many ideas were submitted, but the idea of a memorial auditorium was suggested by Dean A. H. Leidigh," Strickland said.

A committee was organized in 1944 to work upon the project, Strickland said, and during the school year more than 2,200 letters were sent out to former Aggies and alumni. Contributions began to come in soon after the letters were mailed and the Aggie club placed the money in reserve until seats and other furnishings could be obtained.

In March, 1946, Strickland said, another committee met with the Tech board and requested that it match the Aggie club funds dol-

Abernathy Gets Street Markers As Club Project Is Completed

(Special To The Avalanche)

ABERNATHY, May 18—With the installation of the first street marker in Abernathy at a ceremony last week, the street marker project of the 1935 Study club of Abernathy is drawing to a close.

The first marker, set up at the corner of Eighth street and Avenue D, was erected in the presence of members of the study club and other townspeople, with movies of the occasion being made by Dan Ward. Installation of other markers began on First street following the ceremony, and the project should be completed soon.

Club Sponsors Project

The town was surveyed by Jeff Williams, Hale county surveyor, to determine exact spots where the markers should be installed. Some of the signs will be placed on property now being used as streets, and motorists were warned to be on the lookout for them.

Installation work was done by Lamar McKenzie, assisted by Wayne Moore and M. T. Slough.

Members of the 1935 Study club who were present for the first marker installation were Mmes. Andy Reid, Rudolph Struve, Ray Pinson, Paul Harral, J. W. Harris, Ercell Givens, Virgil Zeman, Earlton Harp, Mrs. Dan Ward, chairman of the club's street marker committee, and Mrs. Frank B. Lovelace, president of the club.

Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Lovelace took part in the first installation ceremony.

In addition to carrying the street numbers, the new markers also include the block numbers.

Five camp periods, June 14-18; June 20-28; June 28-July 4; July 4-11; and July 11-13, have been scheduled. The camp will accommodate 48 girls each camp session. (Staff Photo).

EL PASO PAPER REPORTS

Dr. Wiggins Of Texas Mines Is Hinted For Tech Presidency

A possible successor to President W. M. Whyburn as president of Texas Technological college is Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso, according to a front page announcement of the El Paso Herald-Post.

The Herald-Post's announcement came at a time when Doctor Wiggins was out of the city and unavailable for comment. The El Paso paper, however, quoted Bob Price, El Paso dairyman and a member of the Tech directorate, as saying only that "the Tech presidency has not been offered to anyone yet, as far as I know."

Doctor Wiggins, formerly of Hardin-Summons university, Abilene, has been president of the El Paso school, a branch of the University of Texas, for slightly more than 10 years. He was discussed as a possible Tech president before Dr. Clifford B. Jones was drafted to succeed the late Dr. Bradford Knapp, and then again four years ago when the retirement of Doctor Jones created the vacancy filled by appointment of Doctor Whyburn.

Tremendously popular in El Paso, Doctor Wiggins was prominently mentioned as a possible University of Texas president at the time of the ouster of Dr. Homer Rainey; and as president of the University of Oklahoma several years ago. Reports from Oklahoma said he declined the appointment there.

It is known here that Doctor Wiggins is one of numerous possibilities discussed by Tech directors as the next president of the college here. Doctor Whyburn will leave Lubbock in early September to become head of the department of mathematics at University of North Carolina.

He also was charged with slaying Mrs. York's husband, Willard York, their son and York's mother. The four were slain near New Braunfels in May, 1947.

A RAID COMING?

Taxpayers, Beware!

ALL present and future taxpayers in all Texas cities have an important stake in the series of meetings of city officials throughout the State, being held under sponsorship of the League of Texas Municipalities. One for this region was held recently in Big Spring.

The meetings have just one basic purpose. Their aim is to put all cities in position to raise more money through local taxation. They hope to accomplish this by persuading the regular session of the Legislature next January to enact or amend laws so as to permit Texas cities to increase present taxes and/or to levy new taxes.

Present plans are to adopt a detailed legislative program at the League's annual convention in El Paso Oct. 4-6. The organization's very powerful lobby then will undertake to obtain approval of whatever program is adopted when the Legislature meets. The League has been keeping rather quiet about all this if its publicity relating to regional meetings.

It is entirely possible that the program finally adopted may be meritorious. Perhaps liberalization of some present restrictions on the taxing powers of municipal governments might be justified.

But typical taxpayers will be wise to keep an eye on what the League does and proposes. It is an interest demanded by the fact that the League's present efforts are aimed squarely at the taxpayers' pocketbook.

Everybody's Fault

THE United Press reported this week, after a nationwide survey, that meat prices have gone up 10 to 20 per cent, with further rises expected, because of the prolonged strike in the major packing plants.

A little reflection, however, should drive home the realization that the real reason for the rise is not so much the strike as the willingness of most consumers to pay the higher prices for meats which, in the great majority of cases, they could get along without.

The strike undoubtedly has reduced supplies. There has been no proportional reduction in demand. Most people continue to buy just about as much meat as they did before the strike. With the same number of people bidding for a reduced supply, prices naturally have gone up.

If more people would consider, in their buying, that supplies are short, there probably would have been no price rise. Most consumers could buy less, or could be less insistent on preferred cuts, without any hardship whatsoever. Even with a strike, meat market supplies are abundant. There is no reason, from the standpoint of supply, why anyone should go hungry for nourishing meat or meat products of high quality.

It is false, therefore, to blame the strike for higher prices. Most of the fault rests upon the consumers themselves. Prices are no higher, but fully as high, as they will pay.

Consumers can keep prices down by adjusting their demand to the reduced supply. If they refuse to do that, they have no legitimate complaint when the seller tries to get all he can for his product. That is what most consumers would do if the positions were reversed.

XXXVI

SHE was propped up on pillows. She was wearing a blue satin bed jacket with white pearl buttons and she had a blue ribbon in her hair. Gay put the ribbon there and then held the mirror for her to see. It looked pretty. She didn't look at her face in the mirror because she'd looked at her face once before and it didn't look a bit like herself. This face in the mirror was white and thin with haunted eyes that certainly didn't belong to her.

She had to rest, they said, the doctor and Gay. She had to rest and drink lots of milk and take vitamins and lie in the sun and get strong. All she was to think about, they said, was getting strong. She'd had a bad bout with pneumonia and she had to be very careful.

It had taken her a long time to get as strong as she was. She'd lived through hours and days and nights and dreams. The dreams, she thought, were the worst because they were so difficult to straighten out, they took such funny turns. You never knew where a dream would end up. You couldn't actually tell where the dreams left off and where reality began.

Although she was pretty sure. None of them thought she knew anything about it and that was all right with her because she certainly hadn't wanted to talk to them about it but she did remember some things. She remembered bits of the ride from the cottage to Tophill in the ambulance. She remembering seeing Stella and the maids hovering in the hall, watching as the strange men carried her upstairs on the stretcher. She saw them but she pretended she didn't. Because if she saw them she'd have to smile at them and it wasn't worth the effort.

Since that day when they'd brought her home she hadn't seen anyone but Gay. That had been all right too.

But now she was better and she had to start facing things. You never got anywhere by being a sissy, or a cry baby, and not facing things. She didn't know how long she'd been home, but it was long enough and she was ready now. Ready to take the bull by the horns.

GAY took the mirror away and put it down on the dresser and then said, brightly, "How do you feel?"

People asked you such silly questions when you were sick.

She said obligingly, "I feel fine."

Gay smiled and said, still in the same bright sickroom voice, "Do you want anything?"

So she said, because she'd been wanting to say it for so long and had been afraid to, "I want Rush."

She'd been prepared for anything except Gay's bursting into tears.

"Gay," she said, "I didn't mean to upset you but you asked me. I—" She frowned— "I thought it was only that he was sick—that that was the reason he hadn't been near me. And I knew it would only distress you to have me ask you. Did he . . .? Is he . . .?" But she couldn't bring herself to say the words. "Gay, stop crying and listen to me!"

"I—I am listening. I h-heard you." Gay, astoundingly, hiccoughed and turned a radiant face to Ann. "I just couldn't believe my ears. Of course I'll get him. Right away. We didn't dream—you said—"

"I said what?" She didn't mean to sound so stiff but honestly Gay was being pretty silly. "I've been delirious, remember?"

Gay grinned and started for the door. She had her hand on the knob when Ann's voice stopped her.

"Gay—did Laurie . . . That pill . . . Is Laurie . . .?" She couldn't go on.

Gay stopped, stricken. But she wouldn't look at Ann.

She said thickly, "I'll get Rush."

AND then he was in the room. He came in very quietly and closed the door behind him, and they were alone. As she had thought they might never be again.

His face was drawn and tired, there was a fine network of little lines around his eyes, the set of his jaw was tight.

"Rush," she said and the one word contained all her pent up longing.

He looked at her and opened his mouth and then closed it again. Then he said, "Hullo, Ann."

It was like a smack in the face. She tried to smile.

"That's a pretty feeble beginning," she said and her voice faltered.

He came across the room to her bed, sat down.

"You look better," he said critically.

"I look like a picked chicken," she said tartly and her heart began to race like mad. "But even a picked chicken surely deserves a better greeting than 'hullo'; especially when you've been as sick as I've been."

"I've got a lot to say," he told her. "After I've said it—"

"I don't know what words have got to do with it. I'd hoped we could dispense with them. I didn't think we needed them." Her chin began to wobble dangerously. "But if it's apologies you want, I'll make them. I'll grovel— I'll crawl— I'll eat crow only—"

"Ann, for Pete's sake!" he was horrified. Then he was reaching for her, pulling her into his arms. "Ann, you'll crawl? You'll eat crow? Are you crazy? Are you out of your mind?"

His own words stopped him again and she began to laugh but the tears caught up with her and then she was weeping, racked with sobbing but still in his arms, held close to him.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

"YOUR column on food is so full of errors," writes an N. D. (meaning Doctor of Naturopathy), "that I could write a volume to correct them.

BRANDEIS

"I like to read your other so that is why I don't wan commit slow or maybe fast suicide."

I admit that the column I wrote about eating was not at all scientific.

I said I didn't eat for calories, and if I liked it, it's good.

But this N. D. apparently has no sense of humor at all. He is deadly serious.

I shall now give you some of his scientific observations which you may follow at your own risk.

One of the reasons my column sometimes is rather bad, he tells me, is that I apparently write after eating.

"You can think best on an empty stomach," he says, "and more clearly and with less bias toward life's concepts."

It is quite possible that my learned friend can think better on an empty stomach. The only thing I can think of on an empty stomach is food.

"Food is not always good for you because you like it. The wood you should knock on is your head, you poor dope.

"You feel bloated, which is a sure sign that you slopped yourself up with a fermentative mess.

"How can you write good articles when you are doped with food that takes all your good energy to digest, leaving nothing for thinking or muscular effor', and these two go together. Muscular cordination precedes thinking and is concomitant with intelligence."

ANOTHER THING for which my N. D. friend severely takes me to task: is drinking coffee, that vile stuff.

And he would like to bet me that I do even worse than that—drink coffee cooked in an aluminum pot!

Aluminum pots have caused more sickness in this country than any other factor, he insists.

Well, my grandmother drank coffee cooked in aluminum pots. I have seen her drink it. She died at 93.

I drink coffee cooked in an aluminum pot—approximately six cups a day.

Maybe it's suicide—but to me it is about as pleasant a way of committing suicide as I know.

The only trouble is it takes so long.

I know a number of people who committed suicide by drinking coffee cooked in aluminum pots.

It took effect every time. Only it took some of them eighty and eighty-five years!

My friend goes on for two single-spaced typewritten pages ranting about the fallacies of eating.

Maybe he is right.

Maybe we all dig our graves with our teeth.

But at least we get some fun out of life, don't we?

WEST OFFERS HAVEN

Reds Flee Homeland

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The formation of an American division from the thousands of Russian deserters to our occupied zone in Germany has been advanced quietly in Pentagon and Congressional circles at Washington as a possible coup in our "cold war" with Moscow. Despite the need for further study by the diplomatic and military experts, the daring idea has captured official and unofficial imagination.

TUCKER

Russians, Poles, Czechs and Germans, including highly placed officers, have been sneaking from the Red areas into our camp in tremendous numbers. Whereas we once returned them to their points of departure, we now harbor them because of the torture they would undergo if given up. As concentrees, they make a heavier drain on our food and finances than they would as members of an international fighting unit.

SOLDIERS: Many have expressed a desire to continue as soldiers since they are untrained for any other pursuit. It is believed that establishment of the proposed division or brigade might induce many of their Red buddies to come over to our side, serving as an international advertisement that life behind the "Iron Curtain," even for the supposedly well-fed and well-treated People's Army, is not all it is cracked up to be in Moscow pronouncements.

The prospective change in our policy in this field has been heralded by the Allies' publication of news of prominent Communist desertions in recent weeks, including refugees to Canadian and British as well as to American centers. Not so long ago these shifts of allegiance were hushed up for the sake of the individuals' safety and for fear it would aggravate the bitterness between the Kremlin and the western powers. Now these escapes are headlined.

DURESS: Adoption of this plan would resemble the Russians' own strategy in organizing a highly trained army from the German prisoners captured after the lifting of the siege of Stalingrad. They are estimated to number at least 100,000, and they are under command of former Field Marshall Freidrich von Paulus.

During and since the conflict they have been utilized for propaganda purposes by the Kremlin, although it is now understood that many of the enlisted men would like to return to the fatherland. Allied spokesmen have charged that they are now kept in Russia under duress.

OBJECTIONS: Several objections have been raised against the proposal, and they may have sufficient force to defeat it, at least temporarily. So long as there is any hope of adjusting Russo-American differences, State is loath to be a party to such provocation of Stalin. They point out that the von Paulus incident is not analogous, for the Russians were then abetting the permanent desertion of enemy forces, whereas the Soviet is still a friendly nation.

While attracted by the suggestion, military men list an even more practical argument against it. Should the scheme be inaugurated on a large scale, they point out that the wily men at Moscow might try to infiltrate loyal soldiers into the proposed unit, where they could do all kinds of damage to our cause. By "deserting" back again, they could provide the Red G.H.Q. with valuable data on our strength, weakness, arms, morale etc.

Nevertheless, the proposed deal has fallen pleasantly on some important ears, especially if relations with the Kremlin should worsen during the summer and the presidential campaign.

BARRIER: The key barrier to organization of a "European Union" as proposed by Winston Churchill is the hostile attitude of the Attlee-Bevin Government, according to confidential diplomatic advices reaching Washington. Although the Truman Administration is keenly interested in the novel proposal, it is keeping hands off publicly lest it be charged with interfering too heavily in European affairs.

The Attlee-Bevin Ministry consists of a far more parochially or provincially minded group of men than the Churchill-Eden circle. They do not like the idea of sinking Britain's interests, including foreign trade, industry, agriculture and finance, into a common pool of strange peoples. They even shy off from a close tieup with France alone. They prefer to rely for security upon closer union with the colonies and the United States.

There is also the understandable political fear that consummation would win too much glory for Churchill in his attempted comeback as possible leader of the government. Although he was not the originator of the plan, he was the first to propose it when he suggested a federal union with common citizenship to the falling French Government in 1940. Paris rejected the idea, although it is now the chief proponent.

RESTORE: Despite Washington's discreet silence, the Administration prefers the Churchill plan as the only one that can restore any kind of world balance as between ourselves and Russia. Recognizing that we cannot continue to finance or reinforce Europe in a military way—or send millions of soldiers abroad every generation—experts here would welcome a new strong buffer state such as a concert of continental nations would provide.

It seems ironic to veteran diplomats and observers here that Churchill, part-time builder and historian of the British Empire should be the man to propose a setup in which England would be only one unit. It seems still more strange that the Labor government, which has been granting independence to so many members of the erstwhile empire, should be unwilling to take this step toward national security.

Incidentally, Mr. Churchill may yet reveal, possibly in an attempt to force the Truman-Marshall hand, that he and F.D.R. frequently discussed and planned for just such a setup as the former Prime Minister has advanced.

VAGUE: "In view of Stassen's current campaign to win Southern delegates, and in view of reports that his popularity matches President Truman's in Dixie," writes M. A. of Charlotte, N. C., "how does the 'young Viking' stand on the question of Civil Rights?"

Answer: Mr. Stassen is understandably vague on that issue. In an interview here before he galloped southward, he said that he had advocated a Civil Rights program long before Mr. Truman did. When questioned closely, his advocacy boiled down to this:

He believes that only education will eliminate "bigotry nd narrowness." He favors some anti-lynching and anti-poll tax legislation because he feels that it will restore the "balance between states' rights and human rights" but he did not elaborate on his exact meaning. He supports F.E.P.C. in the belief that it will remove "the more extreme forms" of anti-employment discrimination.

On the all-important question to the South—anti-segregation—he was silent. In fairness, he probably took the tack the Democrats will follow in their Philadelphia platform, figuring that the Supreme Court's recent decision has disposed of that question.

ACTION ON PROBLEM PUSHED

Haven For DPs In U. S. Is Seen

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — It seems to have taken us rather long to come around to a very simple human problem, and one to which our tradition calls us—which is to provide homes and an opportunity to live and work here for a part of the 800,000 displaced persons still in camps in Europe, existing on hopes and short rations.

But at last we apparently are on the verge of doing something. The Senate is beginning consideration this week of a bill to provide a haven here, and House Republican leaders are making a canvass to see the prospects for passage of a measure that is ready for that branch.

STOKES

It would be a tragic failure of our responsibility if Congress recessed without acting finally on this problem, which we not only are so well-equipped to handle but which we are under certain obligations to accept. Some 500,000 of the 800,000 displaced persons are in our own zone in Germany. Because of our leadership in international matters, and because of our ability as a great, prosperous nation with an expanding economy, other nations not so favorably fixed are looking to us to take the leadership and set an example in this humanitarian project. It is quite a tribute to us, too, and to our traditional reputation, that most of the refugees from European tyrannies make our country their first choice for resettlement.

Can Do Share

We cannot, of course, take them all. Nobody proposes that. But we can do our share.

Now that Congress finally seems disposed to act, it is fitting that it should act generously and wisely. The Wiley bill, reported to the Senate by its Judiciary committee as the basis for legislation, falls short of a wise and generous satisfactory solution in some particulars. But, fortunately, some liberalizing amendments have been prepared to increase the number of persons to be admitted and to remove certain restrictions in the Wiley measure. This will give the Senate an opportunity to write an adequate bill.

Amendments sponsored jointly by a group of senators would increase the number to be admitted from the 100,000 in the Wiley bill—50,000 in each of the next two years—to 200,000, with 100,000 in each year. Other changes also are proposed by this group, which includes Senators Ferguson (R., Mich.), Cooper (R., Ky.), Saltonstall (R., Mass.), Smith (R., N. J.) and McGrath (D., R.I.). Still more liberal provisions are proposed in a substitute by two Democrats, Senators Hatch (N. Mex.) and McGrath, that adopts the Fellows bill in the House, which authorizes entry of 200,000 in two years, as a basis and amends that bill in some particulars.

Amendments sponsored by the senatorial group would give far broader powers than does the Wiley bill to the commission of three set up to administer the displaced-persons program. They also would wipe out a 50 percent priority in the Wiley bill for displaced persons from so-called "annexed areas," meaning Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, and Poland east of the Cruzon line. Likewise, they would remove a restriction in the Wiley bill which makes eligible for admission here only those who were in the zones specified—western Germany, Austria, Italy—on December 22, 1947. The date would be changed to April 1, 1947, to take care of Jews in the zones, most of whom have come in since the earlier date. Those there on the earlier date have gone either to Cyprus or have come here.

Changes Are Made

The Fellows bill in the House eliminates not only the 50 percent priority for those from "annexed areas," but also a 50 percent priority in the Wiley bill for those with previous agricultural experience, substituting for the latter a general priority for a number of groups including farm workers, doctors, nurses, garment workers, and other industrial groups.

It also regularizes the status of an additional 15,000 displaced persons already in this country so they can become citizens—which includes, for example, some Czech diplomats—and permits admission of orphan children outside the 200,000 limitation. That is, they would not be counted.

One central coordinator with broad powers is provided by the Fellows bill. The Hatch-McGrath amendments to this House measure would eliminate provisions in it which would charge off displaced persons admitted under its terms against future immigration quotas up to 50 percent of displaced persons admitted. As it stands, the Fellows bill would prohibit immigration, beyond the displaced persons, for many years from most of the countries involved.

Many now forlorn and desperate people who would contribute to our nation, as have the millions who have come in the past—back to the first bold colonists—are looking to us to deal justly and generously to relieve a great human tragedy.

Past Masters' Night Planned At Slaton

P. G. Meading, manager of the Slaton chamber of commerce and a past master of the Slaton Masonic lodge, has announced that the Slaton lodge will observe its annual Past Masters' night on Thursday with a dinner, initiation and special program.

The event will get underway with a veal roast dinner, beginning at 6 p. m. A following program will recognize all past masters and then the past masters, themselves, will confer one or more master's degrees in a ritualistic observance of the occasion.

John H. Gordon, present master of the Slaton lodge, has announced that Joe Smith, of San Angelo, oldest living past master of the lodge, will preside over the program. If he is not able to attend Ike Madden, of Lubbock, next oldest past master, will serve in his stead.

MARKET IN SHARP SLUMP

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—The stock market dropped abruptly today in one of the sharpest breaks in more than three months. It was the first decline since May 5.

Prices closed with losses of fractions to as much as 3 points.

Volume piled up in the last-minute burst of activity and the day's total amounted to 2,480,000 shares. This compared with 3,050,000 Monday.

Selling orders came mainly from investors and speculators who wanted to make a profit on the advance which started several months ago and attained strong momentum on Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .8 of one point to 70.4.

Steel, motor, mail order, farm implement, metal and railroad stocks were among the hardest hit. Oil company stocks, which paced the spring rally, and aircrafts made a better showing.

U. S. government bonds slipped a notch or two in the over-the-counter market following recent improvement, and some railroad obligations gave a little ground.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP) — Cotton futures moved lower in moderately active dealings today. Scattered liquidation was influenced by the slow development in export business under ECA and a lower than expected Bureau of Census report on April cotton consumption. There was a fair amount of liquidation in nearby July and switching into later months.

Futures closed $1.50 to $2.50 a bale lower than the previous close.

The field, built during the war and operated by the army as an air instrument training school, is now on a stand-by basis. Some of its facilities are being used by commercial air lines and its barracks are serving as homes for some Texas A. and M. college students.

Body Of Father Flanagan To Be Buried In Boys Town Chapel

BOYS TOWN, Neb., May 18 (U.P.) —The body of Father Edward J. Flanagan will be buried Friday in the chapel of the little city he built for homeless boys.

Double funeral services will precede the burial. The first will be at 7:30 a. m. for the 480 citizens of boys' town and the second at 10 a. m. for the public.

The body of the world famous priest, who died in Berlin May 15 of a coronary occlusion, was enroute to the United States today in a B-29 superfortress bomber. The plane was expected to land at the Smoky Hill air base at Salina, Kans., late today. The body will be transferred to a C-47 and flown to the municipal airport at Omaha.

All of Father Flanagan's boys, headed by the Boys Town band, will be at the airport to pay tribute to the founder of the little haven of youth.

The body will lie in state at Boys Town tomorrow and Thursday.

Active pallbearers will be members of the Boys Town senior class.

lar for dollar and to approve designation of the auditorium as "memorial auditorium."

240 Seats Installed

Strickland pointed out that the auditorium had been furnished with 240 upholstered theater type seats and curtains and blinds had been purchased for the auditorium through the sponsorship of the Aggie organization.

Dean Emeritus A. H. Leidigh said that a careful check of available records indicated that approximately 50 Aggie exes and graduates had died in World War 11, and that approximately 1,500 served in the armed services.

Leidigh pointed out that such a total was particularly high for the Agriculture division because many agriculture graduates were deferred so that they might serve industry, and that many were flatly refused admission to the armed services because of their vocation.

The dean said that one former Aggie was on Bataan when the Japs took over the Philippines, and that another was captured shortly after Pearl Harbor on an island in the Pacific.

Marion Baumgardner gave the dedicatory address while two members of the Aggie division who served in the armed forces, Edd C. McLeroy, representing the Army ground forces, and Richard Robinson, representing the Navy, unveiled the memorial plaque which will be placed at the entrance of the auditorium.

Silver Taps was sounded by members of the Texas Tech band. Carrol Wilson closed the rites with benediction.

Fire Damages Palace Of Queen Wilhelmina In Netherlands

THE HAGUE, May 18 (AP) — A fire severely damaged Queen Wilhelmina's Noordeine palace today, raging for an hour before it was brought under control.

Witnesses said the flames, fanned by a strong wind, probably were started by a torch used by painters, who were burning off old paint on the roof.

The 67-year-old queen and other members of the royal family were not at the palace, built in 1553 and residence of the Orange dynasty for centuries. It has been used for official receptions only in recent years. Wilhelmina is staying at Het Loo, her summer residence in the country.

The fire broke out at 2:30 p. m. Police reported an hour later that it was under control. Part of the roof fell.

Soldiers carried the many art treasures of the palace to safety under the direction of Prince Bernard, the husband of crown Princess Juliana.

U. S. COURT REJECTS APPEAL

Royall Holds Up Execution Of Germans Involved In 'Massacre'

WASHINGTON, May 18 (INS)—Army Secretary Royall today ordered a stay of execution of 17 Germans sentenced to death for complicity in the Malmedy massacre of unarmed captured American soldiers.

Royall ordered the executions held up after the Supreme Court had rejected a mass appeal of 74 German prisoners who were convicted by a military court of participation in the massacre and held at the one-time infamous Dachau concentration camp in Germany.

Twelve of the prisoners were scheduled to be executed Thursday.

Execution Ordered Held Up

Royall directed Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander in the U. S. occupation zone in Germany to hold up all executions until he has "fully and carefully investigated all allegations in the petition" for a high court reversal of the convictions.

An Army department statement said that Royall's action was taken "in view of the serious allegations contained in the petition of the defendants."

The court's decision was by a four to four vote, with Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson abstaining. Four of the justices, including Chief Justice Vinson, held that the Supreme Court had no jurisdiction over the Dachau convictions.

The other four voting held that the court did have jurisdiction and that the case should be argued forthwith.

The effect of the tie vote is to uphold the decision of the military court which convicted the men.

Hold "Unusual" Session

The court's decision was reached in an unusual "special term" session and announced immediately. The court rarely speaks except on its regular Monday decision period.

It was presumed that Jackson abstained from the decision because of his service as chief U. S. prosecutor at the war crimes trial.

The appeal on behalf of the Germans was made by Willis M. Everett, jr., of Atlanta, a former Army officer who defended the prisoners while in the service at the Army's direction.

Everett made serious charges against the conduct of the trials in the appeal, contending that the government used "sham" courts, threats, and third degree methods in forcing confessions from the prisoners. He declared:

Claims Defendents Beaten

"The American prosecution team in Schwabisch Hall, Germany, would place a helmet hood completely over the heads of individual plaintiffs herein, then usually a beating would be administered after which they would be forced into a completely dark cell which was their 'trial' room.

"The hood was removed and each plaintiff would see before him a long table, draped with black cloth touching the floor, with candles burning at both ends of the table and a crucifix in the center."

The lawyer said that in these unusual surroundings a prosecutor would "yell and scream" at the young defendants and attempt to force confessions from him. If these methods failed, he continued, "false witnesses" would be brought in to testify against the defendants.

The government made no answer to the many charges in the appeal brief, which was more than an inch thick.

Everett sought writs of habeas corpus for the defendants, and asked that all executions be delayed until the Supreme Court reviewed the convictions.

President Truman, Defense Secretary Forrestal, Army Secretary Royall, Army Chief of Staff Bradley and Attorney General Clark were named as respondents in the appeal.

The board of directors also planned a meeting later in the month with E. M. Avery, secretary-treasurer of Knife and Fork International and a representative of Associated Clubs, to plan a complete series of programs for the coming year. The local Knife and Fork chapter will resume meetings in September.

Matters to be presented to a jury were scheduled to be taken up today.

This week of the term has been set aside for civil matters, and the criminal docket is scheduled for next Monday, according to Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner and court clerk.

Judge Dooley is to conduct a naturalization class next Tuesday.
