Quail Church Chosen for Model in Rural Religious Development Work

The Quail Baptist Church has been chosen for development as a model church—the first in District 10 and the Panhandle of Texas—the Rev. Guy Killian, pastor, announced Monday. The work will be done under the supervision of the Rural Extension Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

This announcement followed shortly after the Rev. W. D. Baker, who is with the Rural Extension Department of the church, and completed a territorial survey of the Quail Consolidated School District, looking forward to the setting up of an enlargement program with the church.

The size of the territory, enumerated scholastics, roads already paved through the district and proposed roads for the future, and the permancy of the Quail School were among the factors taken into consideration in the choice for the model rural church demonstration, Rev. Killian explained. The Rural Extension work of the church is under the direction of Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary, and Dr. A. B. White, assistant secretary of the Texas Baptist General Convention.

Rev. W. D. Baker

The development of the Quail project will be under the direction of Rev. Baker, who will work with Rev. Killian. The preliminary details of the program have already been started. with the church voting to go into the program and at the same time voting to ask Rev. Baker to begin his work with the simultaneous revival effort being sponsored in the North Fork Association from April 6 to 20. He will lead the church in its revival meeting as well as direct the other phases of the enlargement program.

Meanwhile, the local program will continue with special Home Fellowship services during the month of March. Special services are to be conducted for men, women and young children on the following dates: March 21, special services for men; March 28, special services for women; and on April 4, a special young people's meeting. These services are open to the public and every one is invited to attend.

Accident Injuries Fatal to Wellington Man; 8 Hurt in Series of Accidents

A series of automobile accidents during the last 10 days left one Wellington man dead and eight other persons with injuries of varying degrees.

H. M. Alexander, 62-year-old Wellington carpenter, died Sunday evening, February 9, of injuries received the preceding night when the car in which he was riding left the road and overturned in a south toward Hollis from the Wellington-Mangum highway. The accident occurred about two and one-half miles south of the junction.

With Mr. Alexander at the time were his son, Bulb Alexander, Denny Judd, Bugs Alford, and O. H. Hedger. Rockets Leading In Basketball District Tourney

A scrapping Rocket five, playing in the district basketball tournament, overcame an 8-point lead in the last four minutes of play Saturday night, February 8, to throw the Tigers into an overtime battle. The regular game ended 35 to 35. The Tigers scored a field basket in the first few seconds of the furious three-minute overtime period.

The Rockets tied it up a short time later when Tim Hatch sank two free throws on a foul under the basket. With some 10 seconds to go, Jackie McPherson slipped in one of his best shots—a sucker shot—to put the Rockets in the lead 37 to 39.

A desperate one-hand shot by a McLean boy poised on the rim—then fell the wrong way, leaving the final score 39 to 37.

This put the Rockets in the lead in the Round-Robin District tourney held at Lakeview. The tourney will be completed Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15. The Another member of the committee J. V. Brookshear, Burkburnett bank president, who formerly was with the City State Bank in Wellington.

Cal Foster and his orchestra have been signed to play for the dance. Heard in some of the top supper clubs of the Panhandle and Western Oklahoma, this group of musicians has rapidly made a name for themselves throughout the area where they have been heard.

"Since this is the only Valentine dance so far slated in this immediate area, we are making plans not only for a large crowd from Wellington, Dodson, Samnorwood and Quail, but also from Shamrock, Memphis, Childress and Hol-

High Wind Thursday Damages Buildings

A high wind which blew into Collingsworth County early Friday morning, February 7, damaged roofs of a number of business buildings and houses, damaged two airplanes and one hangar at the Wellington airfield, blew down several small barns, and whipped up dirt to an extent seen here but seldom since the dry years of the '30's.

There is no way to measure the velocity of the wind here, but the new U. S. Weather Station at Childress reported the wind reached a velocity of 49 miles per hour with occasional gusts up to 52 miles per hour. Mercury dropped to around 30 degrees.

Damage to the planes at the airfield has not been determined. The Stearman 2-place plane belonging to Bill Hughes broke its tie-downs, blew across a runway and into the hangar belonging to C. E. Francis. The Aeronca in the hangar, belonging to Wesley Handcock, who will open a flying school here soon, received damaged trailing edges of both wings. The hangar itself was knocked about eight feet off its foundation.

Mr. Hughes plane had its right aileron damaged and a hole knocked in the rudder.

Adjustments of the damage have not been made by the insurance companies yet.

Approximately 40 feet of composition roofing was torn loose from Goat's Cafe, the roof of the building housing the City Barber Shop was blown off, a glass display window was broken in the J. W.

For the last eight years he had been employed at the LeDerer Hardware Co. He had been in ill health for several months.

Mr. Scott's immediate family includes his widow and one daughter, Miss Earnestine Scott, both of Wellington.

The Kelso Funeral home is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

One contribution came from Detroit, Michigan, from Mrs. Nicholas Louis, who is the former Miss Frances Somerville.

"Such a worthy cause demands the attention of the people of Collingsworth County," she wrote. "I regret that my contribution is not larger as a tribute to one who ever worked for the good of his community."

City Teachers Attend Administrators Meet In Amarillo Saturday

Four members of the Wellington school faculty attended the Northwest Texas Administrator's Conference in Amarillo Saturday, February 8. The group included Gordon Mills, high school principal; Miss Bonnie Willis, East Ward principal; Mrs. Ruth Barton, Junior High principal; and Walker Todd, vocational agriculture teacher.

The theme of the meeting centered around curriculum revision in the schools, and school public relations. Plans were made for the Northwest Texas Conference of Education Friday, March 14. This is a regional unit of the State Teachers Association.

One of the speaker's at Saturday's meeting was R. A. Selby, a former county resident. School administrators from 26 Panhandle counties were represented at the meeting.

House and Furniture Destroyed by Fire On Bowen Farm

A small house on the Bob Bowen farm east of Wellington, along with furniture and other household items belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Nored, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, February 5. They had stored part of their furniture in the house until they could get possession of their farm home nearby, to which they were moving on the day of the fire.

The blaze started from an oil stove, Mr. Nored said.

The Wellington fire department was called but the house was almost completely burned by the time the truck and firemen could arrive.

Will Joe Cummings Fights in State Golden Gloves Tourney

Will Joe Cummings, who boxed his first match when he was a freshman in Wellington High School, will fight in the 11th annual Texas Golden Gloves state tournament at Fort Worth Wednesday night, February 12. A middleweight, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cummings.

Now a student in John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Cummings is entered in the tournament from that town, after having won the district fight in the middleweight class at Brownwood. Another Wellington boy, Junior Montague, also entered the Golden Gloves tourney but was eliminated in the district fights.

Bill Van Fleet, Fort Worth Star-Telegram sports writer, said of Cummings Wednesday morning:

"The great number of outstanding middleweights, tabled as the 'toughies' of the tournament several days ago, caused them to seed eight of them. Even so, there were 10 nominations, and as a final recourse, two were cut off by lot.

"That action set the stage for what may be a sensational fight of the opening night. Herbert Mays, the defending champion from Houston, must meet Joe Cummings the John Tarleton student and Brownwood champion, who was one of the men removed by lot from the seeded list.

"Mays, rated as improved over his championship form of last year, will meet a fine fighter in Cummings, who has whipped every one he has met in either Gloves or intercity competition this year."

Cummings began fighting under the coaching of John Lee, boxing coach of Wellington high school. After four years boxing here, he entered the Navy medical corps and was attached to the Marines during the war. He continued boxing while in service, and after being discharged, entered college last fall.

His record to date is 39 consecutive wins.

Lindsey Wins in Bantam Show

V. H. Lindsey last week was notified that his entries in the Texas All-Bantam show took four prizes, being picked as winners among the more than 3,000 entries.

Mr. Lindsey received first and second prizes on white crested black Polish hens, fourth on a pullet of that breed; and fourth on a white Cornish pullet.

Two other birds entered placed seventh and ninth.

The show was held in Dallas from January 21 through 28.

Vocational School Under Way With Fifty Enrolled

Major John S. Coleman recently was selected to teach in the Collingsworth County Veterans Vocational School and is now instructing classes in general agriculture, Jake Tarter, school co-ordinator, has announced.

Only agriculture classes are being offered by the school at present. Fifty-one men from the Wellington, Dodson and Arlie areas are enrolled and the group is growing with each class, Mr. Tarter said.

Classes meet for three-hour sessions each Monday and Friday nights, beginning at 7:00 p. m. Two field trips have been made. The first was to the Rusty Henard farm northeast of Wellington, where dairy and beef cattle and hogs were studied.

Friday, February 7, both classes attended the dispersal sale of the Tierra Blanca Farms near Amarillo, when the entire famous McSpadden herd was sold. This was the farm which owned Lamplighter, one of the country's most outstanding bulls, who died last year.

Agriculture classes for veterans are due to get under way at Samnorwood February 10 and at Quail February 20. Enough men for classes in both places have already signed up.

In coming to the Wellington school as a teacher, Major Coleman brings a wide background of experience. A graduate of A&M College, he was for a number of years county agent of Hartley County before he was called into active service with the Army in 1941. He taught agriculture for two years in Japanese prison

Auto Owners Must Have a Current Texas Registration

If your Texas auto license has expired before March 1, or if you have established a business or residence in Texas from out of state, you must have a current Texas registration in order to qualify for a 1947 license, the highway patrolman's office emphasized today.

Car owners should check their registration papers, and automobiles should be checked. A number of accidents have been caused in this area recently by automobiles not in proper operating condition, the highway patrolman said.

A Texas dealer's license is restricted for use only by a demonstrator, or by a purchases of a new car, who may use the license to drive to his home county for registration, the patrolman emphasized.

The tax collector's office now has 1947 license plates, and these may be purchased at any time, but may not be attached before March 1, it was announced.

Firestone Develops New Tractor Tires That Shears Off Soil Steadily

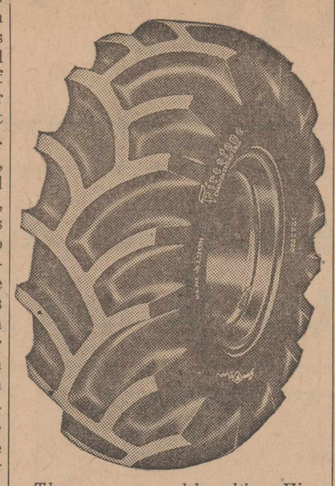

The new Firestone Champion Ground Grip tractor tire, which by record-breaking performances in pulling power, endurance and cleaning tests assures farmers of shorter working hours and lower operating costs, has just been put on sale here by J. B. Floyd Supply.

Unique in its patented curved, triple-braced traction bars and flaring shoulder blocks and spaces, the new tire in tests on all types of soil and surfaces cleans up to 100 per cent more effectively, delivers as much as 62 per cent more power at the drawbar, and gives up to 91 per cent longer life than tires having straight, open center traction bars. The shearing action of the curved traction bars in thrusting off mud and litter is a constant force as the tire rolls.

Farmers also will find that the new Firestone tire is completely versatile. While the extra-deep, wedge-shaped traction bars provide a firm "center bite" on soft ground, on paved roads the wide, continuous tread design gives smooth, comfortable riding. Since a greater tread area is in contact with the ground, stability is increased and wear is minimized.

"This tire has fully justified the years of research and development which our engineers have devoted to it," Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., president of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, said in introducing the new tire. "It will enable the farmer to do more work in less time at lower cost."

The Champion Ground Grip tire stands as another contribution made to power farming by the Firestone Company in the last 15 years. In 1931, Harvey S. Firestone, founder of the Company, "put the farm on rubber" when he introduced the first tractional pneumatic farm tractor tire.

The new, record-breaking Firestone Champion Ground Grip tractor tire, engineered and built for maximum efficiency and service on all surfaces, ranging from concrete to soft mud. The patented curved, Triple-Braced traction bars and a heightened tread design make the tire unequalled in traction, cleaning and long life.

Mumps on Increase Throughout State

AUSTIN — During the past few weeks there has been a general increase in the incidence of mumps throughout the State. There have been 1750 cases reported since January 1, compared with only 896 cases during the same period last year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Though mumps is one of the common childhood diseases, serious complications may develop, so children should be protected as much as possible from this disease. The usual control procedures such as avoidance of crowds, exclusion from school of all cases or suspected cases and quarantine should be followed. The family physician should always be consulted when a case occurs.

The most recognizable characteristic symptom of mumps is a painful swelling of the salivary glands. Sometimes there is an involvement of other portions of the body causing disturbances in the digestive, nervous, circulatory, and genito-urinary systems. The disease is usally accompanied by a temperature rise which more often than not is mild.

"The patient suffering with this disease should be isolated from other members of the family immediately upon the suspicion that mumps exists, and the family physician should be called promptly," Dr. Cox advises. "In the meantime, complete rest in bed is indicated. The doctor's orders should be followed strictly. Violating his instructions can lead to serious injury, which may permanently affect the individual's health."

MK & T Adds New Diesel Engines

FORT WORTH, TEXAS—Continuing a program which will eventually equip all of its yards with diesel power, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad this week put five new diesel switch engines in operation at its Ney Yards here.

Dieselization of the yards here now is complete with the delivery of the 1,000-horsepower switchers from the Electro-Motive plant of General Motors at La Grange, Ill. Steam power in the Dallas yard was replaced with diesels several months ago, and additional locomotives for the Waco, Tex., yard soon will be delivered by the Baldwin Locomotive Co.

In St. Louis, Katy President Donald V. Fraser said that the company's use of diesel switch engines at Dallas has "convinced us that our dieselization program is going to enable the Katy to do a better job of serving the Southwest."

Funeral for Lawton Resident Is Held Here on Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Joe Eubanks of Lawton, the mother of Lewis Cotton of Wellington, were held at the Central Baptist Church here Monday afternoon, February 10, at 2:30 p. m. Rev. O. B. Hutson, pastor, was in charge of the rites.

Mrs. Eubanks died at Lawton Saturday, February 8, at 8:30 p. m. She had lived in that town for the last eight years.

Born at Quanah September 20, 1887, she was before her marriage Miss Mary Ann Putman. At the time of her death she was 59 years, four months and 18 days of age.

She was married to James W. Cotton in 1903 at Quanah. He preceded her in death in 1932.

In 1939, she was married to Mr. Eubanks, who survives.

Mrs. Eubanks became a member of the First Baptist Church at Medicine Mound in 1914. At the time of her death she was a member of Calvary Baptist Church in Lawton.

Pall bearers for the funeral services were R. A. Williams, Ross Wilkerson, Cecil Elbert, Arthur Belew, Alva Wood and Floyd Cole. Flower bearers were Lorene Belew, Lenora Clark, Bernice Elbert and Edith Cole.

Mrs. Eubanks is survived by her husband, Joe Eubanks of Lawton; three children, Lewis Cotton of Wellington, Otho Cotton of Amherst, and Mrs. Fay Baker of Altus; two brothers, Walter Putman of Quanah and John Putman of Snider, Okla.; and seven grandchildren.

In Memory of Lindy Cunningham

The two following poems were written in memory of Lindy Cunningham who died Nov. 20, 1946, following injuries received in a car-motorcycle accident. They are dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cunningham, the boy's parents.

We Miss You, Darling Lindy
By K. C. Gassoway

We miss you darling Lindy
We miss you most of all
We miss you in the morning
At night when shadows fall.
We miss your daily friendship
Your love and sympathy
We miss you darling Lindy
Since you're in eternity.

We miss you darling Lindy
When cares of life befall
For you were ever ready
To help us share them all.
We miss your consolation
Each day while here we roam
We miss you darling Lindy
Day by day around the home.

We'll miss you darling Lindy
While here on earth we roam
Till God shall send an angel
To guide us safely home.
We'll meet and dwell forever
From cares and sorrows free
Around the throne of Jesus
In God's eternity.

In Memory of Lindy Cunningham
By Grace (Clifton) Hedger

As my memory wanders back to days gone by,
It seems only yesterday — how years do fly;
When I think of the happiness I found in a home
Where Lindy was one of those to join in the fun.

But as time marches on—all the boys are grown,
Then one by one, like most boys, leave home.
Each one is in a different place to stay
When alas! there comes that fatal day.

Word is received that another friend has passed away,
It was so great a shock, and a sad, sad day.
I couldn't seem to think that in a twinkle of an eye,
One must face that sad good-by.

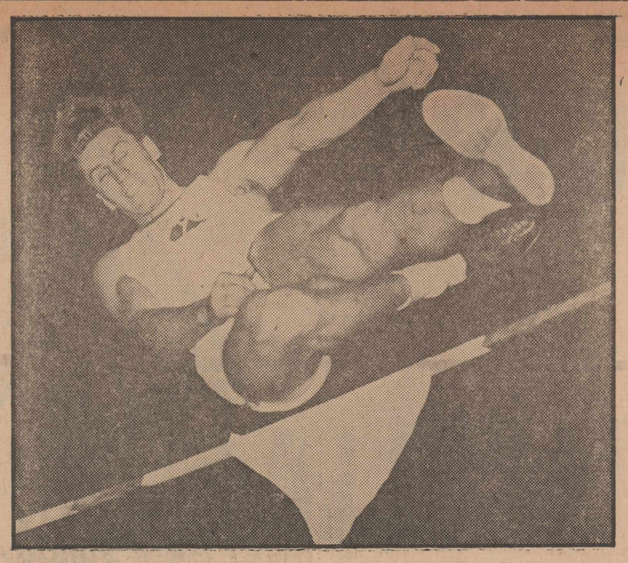

Now, in that family chain, a link is broken,
Never again from his lips, will a word be spoken,
But God saw best and called Lindy away,
To live in a Greater home of Endless day.

To the mother and dad, and the brothers, too
"May God console your hearts," as I know He'll do.
For there never was a grief nor despair
That was too great for Him to share.

So the greatest comfort to a family, dear,
Is to look to God from year to year
Then some day when H makes His "Great Call"
There will be a great reunion for one and all.

What a wonderful thought that once more,
All grief and sorrow will forever be o'er
With loved ones and friends by the score
Lindy will be with us forever more.

SWEARINGEN

By MRS. HILL WELLS

The women in this community have about got all the sand cleaned out from the little sandstorm last week, getting ready for another one I guess, let's all hope the next one has a little moisture.

We elected new officers in our Sunday School Sunday. Elvis Pitts as Superintendent, Mrs. Billie Jean Turner as Secretary and Treasurer and Clyde Brown as church clerk.

There was a good attendance Sunday but would like to have more. Everyone come, let's have a big Sunday School.

Elvis Pitts preached for us again this week. Everyone enjoys his sermons very much.

Several from Swearingen attended the singing Sunday afternoon at Rolla. We had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown visited their daughter and family again this week. Sammy Wells went home with them for a few days.

The Quilting Club will meet again Wednesday. They will quilt for Mrs. La Rock who has been very ill but is some better now.

Mrs. George Creed's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, visited her for a few days.

Mr. Edd Ratliff and Mrs. Frank Roan of Commerce, Texas, visited their niece, Mr. and Mrs. Hill Wells and family last week.

Mrs. D. M. Jarrell hasn't been feeling so well lately but is better now.

Miss Roberta Turner visited with Billie Jean and Jaquitta Turner again this week end.

Little Pat Smith has the whooping cough. We are going to miss her little smile around here for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Skaggs and family of Hereford visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Allen this week end.

We don't know about other places, but Swearingen could do with out some of this wind and sand. We have really had some fine sandstorms.

There was an average crowd at Sunday School this week, but let's do try to have a better attendance next Sunday.

Singing was pretty good Sunday night let's see if we can't build up the singing attendance too.

The Quilting Club completed three quilts for Mrs. La Rock this week. The next quilting will be Feb. 19, and Mrs. Doc Turner will be the hostess. It is also polly-anna day too.

The 42 party at the school house, Friday night was very enjoyable. Everyone was such good players that we couldn't find the high scorer one.

Mrs. C. E. Allen and Mrs. Hill Wells attended a shower at Plaska, Southwest of Memphis, last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Miller of Amarillo visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Yarbrough the last part of this week.

Well, folks, it was a false alarm about little Pat Smith, she doesn't have the whooping cough and everyone is so proud for her.

Mrs. Jarrell is feeling quite a bit better now too.

Mrs. Clyde Brown is ill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Turner visited her brother in the Fresno community Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. T. R. Blade and Mrs. A. B. Jones of Memphis visited their daughter and sister Mrs. Ellen Souder and family Sunday afternoon.

sured for each of the services, with the needs of the various groups taken into consideration. Each service will be announced in turn at a later date and the speaker will be named.

There is to be a detailed census of the entire area by families. A map will be prepared showing the location of every house in the area and every house will be numbered. Each family's census card will correspond to the number given their house, so at any time when people move, their card will be taken out of the files and the new family at that particular location will assume that number, Rev. Killian explained.

In describing the program of development undertaken for the church, the pastor stated that the Rural Extension Department of the Baptist Church has been making intensified efforts to rehabilitate the rural churches and rural church life in Texas for several years. Most of the work to date has been done in East and Central Texas. Quail is the first project to be considered in this section of the state and was chosen only after careful consideration and recommendations from reliable sources.

"It is a known fact that unless some definite work is done in the rural sections of Texas now, the religious life of our country will be gone within 25 to 50 years. With the re-locating of school centers, religious life has been disrupted and in many places it is completely gone even now. We have no choice in the matter but to readjust ourselves and move progressively along with the age in which we are privileged to live," Rev. Killian declared. "We might as well attempt to dam up the Mississippi with a child's shovel as to think we can buck modern progress and civilization by refusing to be a part of that progress and civilization.

"Since this is an entirely new venture on the part of the Texas Baptists in the field of rural church work, the program will be of interest to everyone in this entire area, and rightly so intended, for what one rural field can do, many more will be seeking to do. The thought behind all of the rural program is to save the rural church life of the entire Southland, and Texas Baptists are well in advance of all other states with their rural problem.

"The plan calls for adequate buildings to have a completely departmentalized Sunday School with assembly rooms for departments and classrooms for every age from the nursery through the adults. Also a modern dining room and kitchen, with space for entertainments for the entire church or special groups are called for. There are to be church grounds equipped with outdoor playground facilities, a modern home for the pastor with space for a garden, chickens, a cow, and a few fruit trees where the climate is suited for such.

"The larger plan outlined calls for transportation to and from the church for those unable to attend otherwise. There is nothing in the whole rural plan that cannot be applied in this particular field if so desired by the people. After all, the people must speak, and manifest a desire and willingness to co-operate with any type program before it becomes a reality.

"The day of opportunity is here. What will we do with it?" Rev. Killian challenged.

McLean Legion Home to Open

McLEAN. — Formal opening of the new home of the Andrew H. Floyd post of the American Legion in this city will be held Thursday night, February 20, Ernest Peck, commander of the post, announced today.

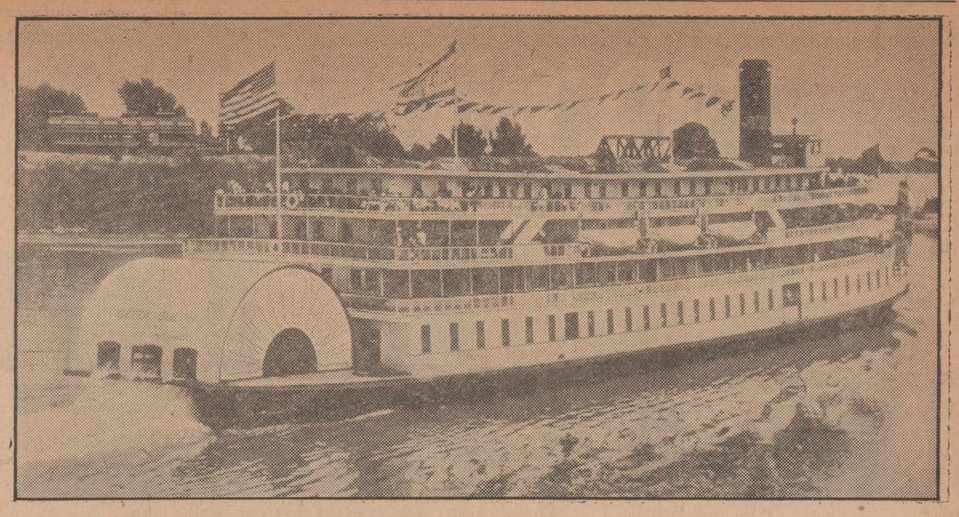

The new Legion hall—once the commissioned officers' mess at the McLean Prisoner of War camp—has been moved into town, redecorated, and will be put into operation as the home for McLean Legionnaires following the formal opening.

The opening will be in the form of a dance, with music by the well-known orchestra, Victor Diaz and his Sextet, from Pampa. Highlighting the evening's entertainments will be a floor show presented by Marie and Margaret, Spanish dancers.

The new hall has hardwood floors throughout, a ladies powder room, and other facilities. About 3,000 square feet comprise the dancing area.

Dancers from a number of surrounding towns, including Pampa, Shamrock, Wheeler, Wellington, and Clarendon, have already signified their intentions of attending the opening dance, Commander Beck said, as he urged other towns to send representatives to give a "big send-off" to the local post.

All proceeds will go to the Legion's building fund.

Soon this sternwheeler will be the fastest, biggest, and finest boat on the Mississippi. She's the Delta Queen, for 20 years a "seamark" in San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento River. WEST OF FARMERS CO-OP GIN WELLINGTON, TEXAS

D&M Machinery Co. Sponsors Picture Show February 20

A general invitation to farmers of this community and of nearby towns to view "Men with a Mission," a motion picture in full color, has just been issued by D&M Farm Machinery, Minneapolis-Moline dealer of Wellington.

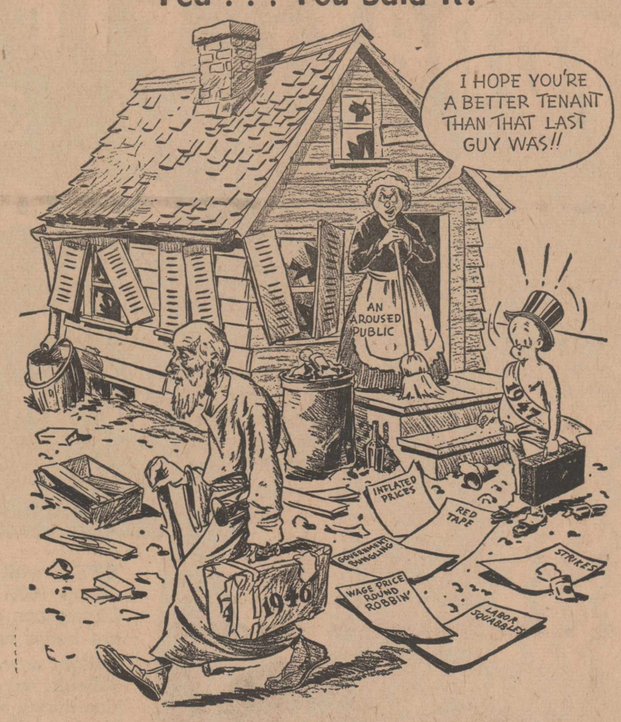

The picture will be shown on Thurs., Feb. 20 at 11:00 in D&M Bldg. The program arranged for this occasion by the local farm implement dealer will also include refreshments, and the show will start after lunch.

The picture tells the story of a boy and girl who at first seem dissatisfied with their life on a farm and do not appreciate the highly interesting role farmers are playing today in producing the essential needs of humanity and of industry. By a series of amusing incidents they are convinced in the end that modern farmers are men with a mission that challenges the imagination.

The picture also depicts tht part farmers and modern farm machinery are playing in expanding production and in meeting growing demands by the world for food and by industry for raw materials produce on farms. Scenes for this picture were filmed entirely in color and in all parts of the United States.

In assuring the farmers of this community that the picture and the program, which are entirely free, will be entertainment events they will long remember, L. D. Meriweather said. "This is a picture that every farmer of the Wellington trade territory should see, and possibly more important, it is a picture for the boys and girls, too. It lays before them the valuable sort of life that farming can be, and it will encourage those who feel they might want to follow this as their profession."

Texas 1946 Farm Income Tops All Previous Records

AUSTIN — For Texas farmers 1946 was a year of prosperity from the stanpoint of farm cash income which totaled $1,246,883,000 for an increase of 9 per cent over 1945 according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. In dollars and cents this set a new record and smashed all previous yearly intakes.

December income reached $92,346,000 to dip 32 per cent from November but was 13 per cent above income in December 1945.

The Bureau's seasonally adjusted index for December rose to 260.8 compared with November's index of 252.7. This means that December farm cash income was 160.8 per cent above the pre-war level when the 1935-39 monthly average index stood at 100.

All crop reporting districts shared in the increases for the year except in Eastern Texas (District 5) where a yearly decline of 5 per cent was recorded. Greatest increase was in the Trans-Pecos area (District 6) where a 39 per cent gain was recorded. The Northern Prairies (District 4) showed a 16 per cent increase and all other gains hovered around the 10 per cent mark.

December farm cash income was down from November's total in every district except the Lower Rio Grande Valley (District 10-A) where the fruit and vegetable season pushed the income 12 per cent higher. Decreases in all other districts ranged from 6 per cent to 55 per cent.

Compared with December 1945, farm cash income increase on an average of 13 per cent with gains in every district except the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where a late-starting fruit and vegetable season brought income down 34 per cent for the year.

18 New Cars and Trucks Registered

Eighteen new car and truck licenses were issued from the office of J. W. Holder, county tax assessor and collector, during January. This small number was due principally to the fact that local car dealers, for the most part, received the major portion of their January shipments at the end of the month, and these were not registered until after February 1. Car licenses went to:

Calvin A. Hurst, Pontiac 4-door sedan; W. C. Nelson, Chevrolet Standard sedan; B. F. Farmer, Ford deluxe tudor; Willie Knoll, Chevrolet sedan; H. M. Small, Chevrolet coupe; W. Y. Burden, Shamrock, Frazier 4-door sedan; P. E. Starr, Oldsmobile Club Sedan; Joe Thompson, Buick Fordor sedan; W. E. Morton of Levelland, Plymouth special coupe; B. C. Hackler, Plymouth Tudor sedan; George Farris, Ford special deluxe coupe; Lee B. Carter, Chevrolet special sedan; Mrs. Mack Saied, Buick Fordor sedan; Roy Tisdale, Plymouth 4-door sedan; Dr. E. W. Jones, Chevrolet special coupe; Hershel H. Scott of Lubbock, Chevrolet sedan.

Truck licenses were issued to the Greenbelt Electric Coop, Dodge power wagon; J. L. Coleman, GMC truck.

Carelessness and Ignorance Spread Tuberculosis

AUSTIN — "Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable diseases from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of the knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officre.

"It is true that tuberculosis no longer is first on the list of killing diseases, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having been reduced to fifth place in Texas, it still is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

"Treatment of the early recognized case is essential. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives.

"When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all of the other members of the immediate family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any especial susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up of physicians of the known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

Statistics show that women have a better chance to outlive their spouses than the men have to be widowers. Among centenarians, women outnumber men three to one.

Swing of The Farm Markets

Many southwest farm products found stronger markets last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, USDA. Eggs showed seasonal weakness, however, and some protein feeds were down.

Demand for vegetables showed marked improvement in the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. Prices were generally firm to a little stronger on vegetables, but white grapefruit was still moving slowly. Colorado potato prices held steady, but sales of onions were too few to quote late last week. Louisiana sweetpotatoes were about unchanged, with demand light. On consumer markets, lettuce was strong and other commodities generally steady. Shelled peanut markets strengthened due to export trading.

Wheat gained sharply again last week while oats and sorghums took up the upward trail. Cash wheat at Fort Worth and Galveston was quoted $2.32 to $2.33 per bushel for No. 1 hard. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.52 to $2.55 per hundred. Corn was little changed, but barley was easier. Rice markets continued firm. Most feed prices held fully steady, but further sharp declines were reported for soybean meal, while gluten feed and meal were also lower. Hay quotations remained unchanged from declines of the previous week.

Wools were quiet, but fine mohairs were strong. Contracting of spring-clip mohair was reported in southwest Texas at 61 cents for adult and 81 cents for kid, delivered warehouse. This would net the grower one cent less.

Hog prices advanced 25 cenes to $1.25 per hundred around the market circle last week. Friday's quotations for top butchers stood at $23 at San Antonio; $23 to $24 at Ft. Worth; $25.25 to $25.50 at Oklahoma City; $25 to $25.25 at Wichita; and $25 to $26.25 at Denver.

Southwest sheep and lamb markets reporte steady to strong prices last week on light receipts. San Antonio quoted common fall shorn lambs $14 to $15 per hundred and common ewes $6.50 to $7. Ft. Worth moved medium lambs at $18 to $19 and cull and common ewes at $6.50 to $7. Oklahoma City pai a top of $22 for fat lambs and $8 for ewes. Medium and good lambs brought $20 to $21.50 at Denver.

Cattle trading picked up at southwest markets last week and prices climbed higher with advances of $1 to $2 per hundred above prices a week ago. Common and medium steers and yearlings realized $12 to $17 at Houston while medium and good beef steers and yearlings brought $16 to $22 at Ft. Worth. San Antonio moved common steers at $14 to $15.50 and medium to low good cows at $11 to $13. Medium and good shortfed steers and yearlings ranged from $17.50 to $22 at Oklahoma City and from $18 to $22 at Wichita. Medium to high good steers turned at $18 to $23.75 at Denver.

Live poultry prices held fairly firm, but eggs brought lower prices than a week ago. Current receipt eggs Friday sold for 36 cents per dozen at Dallas; 35 to 37 1-2 at Fort Worth; 32 to 4 at Houston, and 35 at Denver.

Cotton prices were up sharply again last week, as demand continued good. The close on middling 15-16 inch Friday was 32.55 cents per pound at Dallas and Houston; 32.67 at Galveston; and 32.75 at New Orleans.

WHERE THE LITTLE 4,000,000 WILL MEET THE BIG FOUR

Moscow, capital city of the Soviet Union where the Big Four Foreign Ministers meet in March, is a combination of medieval and 20th century architecture, but the 20th century is winning. Here are two views of Gorky Street, Moscow's main thoroughfare, one showing trackless trolleys and autos of modernity crowding past ancient buildings, the other showing women street sweepers at work before a new building. This street is 150 feet wide. It used to be 50. There are more than 4,000,000 people in Moscow, which they call Moskva, and they are seeing the gradual infiltration of something that smacks of capitalism in the thronged stores, theaters, luxury hotels and bars. The things the Foreign Ministers will do and live in are far out of reach of the common Russian—but they can see plainly that life isn't even steven, that there is a top and a bottom even under communism.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

J. A. Gives Plenty of Advice, Without Charge, to School Teachers

Editor's note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has written us the following letter, which is published for what it's worth.

Dear editar:

I been readin in the newspapers and hearin over the radio about how everybody has gotten concerned over the pay school teachers is gettin, and while I agree school teachers ought to get more pay, in fact, I consider myself a livin example of the product of low-paid teachers, a good example of low teachin standards and what it results in or otherwise I might be lendin money instead of borrowin it and livin beyond the reaches of Johnson grass, still and at the same time I would not want no social reformers attackin the problem of under-paid farmers in the same way.

Understand, I'm in favor of more pay for farmers, but I don't want nobody takin my income and holdin it up to the light like they are doin with the school teachers, as it's embarassin enough to me without lettin my neighbors in on it. My wife has been hammerin and yammerin at me for years over my low income and while I ain't never got to the point where I don't mind it still and at the same time I'm used to it and have managed to go along without doin anything about it to the point of exertin myself, but I don't want the whole country paradin the facts around about what I make and I got several neighbors in the same boat.

I would like though to hear an occasional remark in the state legislature about the plight of the farmer. It used to be that every candidate ran on a platform of helpin the farmer and it seemed to get people elected and while I ain't noticed nothin much was ever accomplished in that direction in so far as helpin me none, it still sounded good and like a O'Daniel pension to everybody or like Jim Ferguson lowerin taxes or Jim Hogg bustin the trusts, it made life more bountiful on paper.

I have written our state senator and our representatives and asked them to go through their future speeches and add the farmer at least half as many times as they mention teachers, and at the same time I would like to suggest to the teachers that they don't plan on any new fur coats or spring outfits or tourist trips or college courses next summer on the strength of how much they're gonna get helped. These things run in spells. First it was the farmer, then the old folks, then the veterans, then the school teachers, but so far as I can tell most folks is still in about the same boat they been in all along. Things out here on the Buck Creek ain't changed much, don't make no difference what the platforms said or how nice they sounded.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Western Saga Comes to Ritz

The make-up department was faced with an almost impossible task when healthy, robust Victor Mature was cast as the famous gunman, 'Doc" Holliday in "My Darling Clementine," which comes Prevue Saturday night and Sunday and Monday to the Ritz Theatre.

Research workers dug up the following facts about the real "Doc" Holliday that caused make-up men to gabe sadly at Mature's six-feet two inch, 220 pound frame and slowly shake their heads.

"Dr. John H. Holliday, a Dallas practitioner who became one of the West's famous marshals, had to give up his practice when he contracted tuberculosis. He became extremely emaciated, coughed incessantly and was possessed of a bad case of nerves. He was a long, lean, ash-blond man, less than six feet tall. But his stature appeared heightened by cadaverousness, his flapping black overcoat, and the black sombrero he wore above his hollow cheeks."

The original "Doc" Holliday was also a successful gambler, often betting $10,000 on the turn of a card. He carried a bowie knife concealed about his neck, and was a vicious slasher in card fights. "Doc" drank between two and three quarts of whisky daily, every day, Sundays included. He never staggered, however, and always appeared sober. He braced himself on a cane when he walked to the fight-to-death at the O. K. Corral in Tombstone, Arizona, and carried a sawed-off shotgun under his long black coat.

"Do you think we can make you up for the part?" inquired the make-up chief of Vic.

"Certainly," snorted Mature. "Why that guy Holliday and I look so much alike we might have been brothers."

Henry Fonda and Linda Darnell are starred with Mature in "My Darling Clementine."

Rockets Leading -

Rockets play Lakeview Friday night at 8:00 p. m. and Clarendon Saturday afternoon at 1:00 p. m. to complete their schedule.

The Rocket squeeze over McLean was their fourth win of the tourney. They opened the district play with Wheeler Friday afternoon, then Shamrock Friday night and Memphis Saturday afternoon. The boys in these games did their best playing of the season.

After beating Wheeler 44 to 25, the underdog Rockets avenged an earlier beating handed them by the Irishmen by knocking them off 58 to 32. The Rockets were "red hot", when they took the floor and jumped to an early 11 to 4 lead in the first quarter. The Irish never threatened.

Kenneth Winter proved his value as a ball player, starting the first three games in place of John D. Ingram, who was out with an injured leg. In the Irish game, Fulton was high with 18 points; McPherson had 15; Johnson 12 and Hatch 10. Winter shot one time, a free throw, and added one point to the total. Bollen substituted for Johnson and also scored on a tip-in.

In the Saturday fracus with Memphis, the Rockets were off their usual form and trailed the scrappy Cyclones 11 to 12 at half time. With Hatch getting 16 points and McPherson trailing with 14, the Rockets put on the steam in the second half and swamped the Memphis boys 44 to 21.

The winners of the other games played Friday and Saturday wer:

Lakeview was an easy winner over Memphis.

Shamrock took "sweet revenge" over Clarendon by some 20 odd points.

Lakeview nosed out McLean by 5 points.

Clarendon took an easy game from Memphis.

Shamrock overpowered Wheeler.

McLean eaked out a one-point win over Clarendon.

Clarendon upset Lakeview by one point.

Memphis took an easy victory over Wheeler.

With the Rocket victory over Shamrock and Clarendon's victory over Lakeview, every team has been beaten at least once except Wellington. The district winner is decided on a percentage basis of the Round-Robin type play.

The Rockets will face their toughest tests Friday against Lakeview and Saturday against Clarendon.

The Rockets this season have won 9 games and lost 7. This is aside from those games played in the tournament. Scores in these games are:

Wellington 27, Childress 38; Wellington 28, Childress 22; Wellington 39, Wheeler 18; Wellington 22, Shamrock 24; Wellington 33, Electra 53; Wellington 16, Samnorwood 19; Wellington 37, Estelline 22; Wellington 13, Samnorwood 34; Wellington 27, Quail 29; Wellington 31, Memphis 25; Wellington 59, Estelline 50.

Tournament scores are Wellington 44, Wheeler 25; Wellington 58, Shamrock 32; Wellington 44, Memphis 21, and Wellington 39, McLean 37. This gives a total of 185 points for the Rockets to 115 for their opponents, or an average of 46 to 28.

Individual scorers in the four games of the tournament are:

Rocket Player	Wh.	Sha.	Mem.	Mc.
Fulton	7	18	8	4
McPherson	12	15	14	13
Johnson	9	12		6
Hatch	12	10	16	12
Winter	1	1		1
Ingram			2	3
Bollen		2	4
Hunter	2

Visitors in the Sam Moore home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Bass, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bass Jr. and sons Johnny Fred and Tony of Clarendon.

Mr. Hedger received a broken ankle and cuts; Mr. Alford was cut on one foot, Bulb Alexander received broken ribs, and Mr. Judd an injured back.

According to Sheriff Ozro Bartlett, Mr. McCorcle, who was alone, went to sleep momentarily and lost control of the car, a late model vehicle. He was en route from Altus to Memphis when the accident occurred several miles west of the intersection of the Memphis highway and Highway 83. He was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment but was dismissed the following day.

Kromer-Risley Vows Spoken in Denton

The Little Chapel-in-the Woods at Denton was the scene on Saturday, Feb. 1, for the marriage of Charlotte Earl Kromer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Kromer of Amarillo and Thomas Ward Risley of Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Risley of Jacksboro.

Mrs. Risley is the niece of Mrs. Cleo Templeton and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Small. She has visited frequently in Wellington and is well known in this section.

Rev. Phillip Copeland, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Denton, read the impressive single ring service. During the ceremony, Robert D. Smith of Oklahoma City sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer". The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Ferns banked the chancel rail and tall baskets of white gladioli decorated the altar.

Attending her sister as maid-of-honor, Miss Karen Kromer was attired in a turquoise suit, complimented by a white hat trimmed with an ostrich plume and black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

David Norton of Austin was best man and Lee Gentry of Austin and Lawrence Wood of Jacksboro served as ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a honey beige dressmaker suit with a turquoise blouse beaded in gold and a turquoise hat. Brown accessories and a brown orchid corsage completed her costume.

Mrs. Kromer, mother of the bride wore a light blue suit with black accessories, and Mrs. Risley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dusty rose suit with black accessories. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a reception in the Virginia Carroll Lodge. Mrs. Temple Atkins of Shamrock, aunt of the bride, presided at the coffee service, assisted by Miss Jean Duncan of Bronte. Miss Lorce Tindall of Shamrock registered the guests.

The couple is at home at 1900 Sabine, Austin, after a wedding trip to Dallas.

Mrs. Risley was graduated from Shamrock High School and received her degree from Texas State College for Women, Denton. She is an instructor in the speech department at the University of Texas, Austin.

Mr. Risley was graduated from Shamrock High School and served in the Navy. He is a pre-medical student at the University of Texas.

Impressive Ceremony in Kelso Home Sunday Unites Miss Sue Nelson And John R. Coffee

Miss Sue Nelson became the bride of John R. Coffee in an impressive ceremony on Sunday, February 9, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kelso. Minister Vaughn Shofner of the Church of Christ read the single ring service under a white arch backed by ferns and palms over which were pink carnations against a background of white. Pink sweetpeas were mingled with the greenery and white tapers in tall white candelabra completed the decorations.

Miss Virginia Prince played "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" while J. C. Nelson, brother of the bride lighted the candles. She also played the Lohengrin "Wedding March" and the traditional recessional.

OUTDOOR Notes

WOLVES AFRAID OF JEEP

The Russians have adapted the jeep to another new use — wolf chasing. A report from Bakinsky in the Baku area said that a pack of hungry wolves set upon a drove of horses in the Milsky steppe. A farmer named Dzhafrov turned his jeep off the road and pursued the wolves. They turned and fled, whereupon farmer Dzhafarov rounded up the horses and drove them home ahead of his jeep.

CANNED RABBIT

Policeman Harry Jones of Morris, Illinois, with his gun trudged through snow drifts, up hill and down, over muddy creeks—all in vain. He couldn't find a rabbit. Finally, disgusted, he aimed at a rusty gallon can in a brush pile and pulled the trigger. Inside was a rabbit, neatly dispatched.

FEATHER EARS

Dr. Christian A. Volf, internationally known physicist, a native of Denmark, states that experiments which he has made prove definitely that birds hear through their feathers, especially their tail feathers.

While birds have regular ears, much of their acute sense of hearing, he says, comes through the auditory aid of feathers.

INDIAN WEATHER FORECAST

"See many two crow fly, good weather. See many one crow fly alone, storm come pretty damn soon."

CAMP KINKS

Before you leave camp, pour water on your campfire and cover it with dirt.

Butter, lard and other perishable foods can be kept a long time if sunk in a spring or stream in tightly closed mason jars.

To prevent coffee from boiling over on the campfire, lay a green twig across the top of the coffee pail.

Powdered milk and powdered coffee are light to pack and are easily and quickly made in camp.

Holes and rips in tents can be patched quickly with pieces of waterproof adhesive tape.

Lightweight, easy to pack and prepare foods include powdered lemon juice, powdered eggs, tea tables and powdered soups. Dehydrated vegetables weigh only a fraction of the original product before the water has been removed. Carry flour and sugar in damp-proof bags, then in case of rain or an accident these necessities will not be spoiled.

SHORT SHORTS

Snakes possess so any structural features suggesting structural features of birds that many scientists have treated birds and reptiles as a single group—the Sauropsida.

The well-informed sportsman says: "A bevy of quail; flight of doves; brood of grouse; covey of partridges; flock of geese; plump of ducks; stand of plover; and wisp of snipe."

To protect the finish of a rifle or shotgun stock from salt air or dampness, give the wood a coat or two of auto wax. Raw linseed oil rubbed into the stock will also exclude dampness and keep the fibre from raising.

The number of points on a buck deer's horns do not denote its age. A five-year-old buck may have six, eight or more points while some older bucks have only four.

Farm Planning Booklet Published

COLLEGE STATION — "Farm and Home Planning", a booklet offering rural families an outline by which they can write down and carry out plans during 1947, has been published by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

The booklet, Extension MS-776, can be obtained by writing to the Texas A. and Mr. College Extension Service, College Station, Texas, or by calling at the local county agricultural agent's office.

Farm and home management specialists of the Extension Service who compiled the material in the booklet say that it is a simple means of putting down on paper the family's ideas of what they want to do on the farm and in the home. Such plans should be written down, the specialists say, so the family will have a guide in carrying out ideas. A farm and home plan can help the family provide for such things as a farm or ranch free of debt; a comfortable house and farm buildings supplied with labor saving equipment; comfort and security in old age; adequate food for the family; improved soil fertility and a high production level.

Spaces are provided in the booklet for setting down ideas to be carried out in the future, and jobs done as plans are completed. Instructions are given and scaled pages provided for making maps helpful in rearranging the layout of the farm and farmstead.

Emphasis on Soil Conservation, 4-H Club Work Scheduled by County Agent

Soil improvement, the improvement of dairy cattle and an increase in the number of good commercial hogs, more orchards, improvement in the type of work done by the 4-H Clubs, and control of horn flies, lice and grubs in cattle are five phases of work that will receive attention from the county Extension Service set-up in 1947, J. W. Thomas, county agent, has revealed.

The plan was submitted recently to the Extension Service of Texas A&M College. Assisting Mr. Thomas in drawing up the plan of work by J. O. Coleman of Dozier, J. C. Emmert and C. R. Leggitt of Wellington, Pat O'Hair of Quail, Winfield White of Kelley, Hugh Painter of Dodson, Wallace O'Rear and John Trew of Rolla and Alfred Knoll of Lutie.

In reviewing briefly the agricultural and economic situation of the county, Mr. Thomas said:

"Of the 576,000 acres in the county, 260,000 are in cultivation. Approximately 100,000 acres running through the central part of the county, just south of the Salt Fork, is sandy soil which is devoted principally to grain sorghums and cotton, with the sage and shinnery land being grazed. Approximately 155,000 acres north of Red River, and in the southwestern part of the county is mixed land which is devoted to cotton, grain sorghums, and small grain, with the rolling, rocky soils being used for beef cattle grazing. Approximately 5,000 acres in the Fresno flats is tight land and is devoted to cotton, grain sorghums, and small grains.

"Throughout the county, cotton and maize yields are decreasing, although it is not so noticeable on mixed to tight soils, and in most cases the decrease is laid to the cause of insufficient rainfall.

"Many sandy farms have been abandoned and tied into another farm unit because of decrease in yield which is caused by row croppings, sledding the cotton, bundling the feed or grazing the stalks, and leaving the land open to blow and wash during the usual hazardous spring months of March, April and May."

Soil improvement is noted as one of the major problems now confronting the county. With between 175,000 and 200,000 acres in cotton and maize, with no soil building crops planted in rotation the agent's report notes the need for terracing mixed and tight soils, the need of a phosphate, legume rotation with the cotton-maize farming system, and the need of an increase in alfalfa acreage on land suitable for that crop.

Three steps toward correcting these problems are the completion of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, several demonstrations using hairy vetch and Austrian winter peas and phosphate for soil building crops, and the increase of alfalfa acreage from approximately 1,000 acres to approximately 5,000 acres during last fall. Continued use of cotton burs and manure on sandy land is encouraged.

The county agent's work this year will include each of these above phases of work, as well as encouraging the interest of the 4-H Club boys in soil building.

With millions of pounds of grain shipped from the county, and with the increase in winter legumes for winter pasture, the County Planning Committee believes that improvement in the dairy cattle and commercial hogs and an increase in their numbers is justifiable, but adds that more good bulls are needed to improve production of dairy cattle. During the year, club boys will be helped in established hog pastures, community demonstrations on swine feeding and management will be held, and boys will be encouraged to participate in the annual Youth Project show.

One source of income which has been neglected by a number of landowners is from commercial orchards. Approximately 10,000 to 15,000 acres of subirrigated land in the county is especially adapted to orchards, and while a commercial orchard is not recommended on every farm with such land, every home can have success with home orchards varying from one to a number of trees.

Special emphasis will be placed on work with boys through the 4-H Clubs of the county, training them for the challenging problems which are presente by agriculture today. It is the aim of the Extension service to help the boys become well grounded along lines of soil management, breeding and feeding of livestock, and above all, to learn the arts of good citizenship through working together for the common good of their community.

Motion pictures, featuring improved farming and soil conservation methods, will be introduced to the clubs of the county, the annual Project show will be held and an achievement day for the fall has been proposed.

The one other problem which will receive attention from the Extension Service this year is horn fly, lice and grub control among cattle of the county, only a small per cent of which have been sprayed for control of these pests.

Texas Hybrid Corn Yield Potentially Ten Million Bushels

LUBBOCK — If the total acreage ordinarily planted in field corn in Texas were seeded exclusively with hybrid seed corn, production in the state would jump approximately 10,000,000 bushels next year, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department at Texas Technological College and chairman of the State Seed and Plant board.

Texas annually grows three to four million acres of corn. During the past year 6471 acres of hybrid corn seed were certified in Texas, enough to plant about one-fifth of the total acreage which will likely be planted in 1947, Dr. Young said.

Urging seed producers to plant more hybrid seed corn, he stated that Texas should produce enough of the seed to plant at least 90 per cent of the state's corn acreage. Hybrid seed corn will produce 20 to 30 per cent more yield on an average that the non-hybrid varieties, he said.

Veterans' News

All former members of the armed forces who had active service between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945, are eligible to apply for National Service Life Insurance, the Veterans Administration reports.

The only exception is when a person was specifically ordered to active duty for 30 days or less in the case of a few Reserve Officers, VA said.

A large majority of service men and women took out NSLI policies during their military service, but there were many who did not avail themselves of the government insurance and who are still eligible for the benefit, VA said.

There is some land in Alaska available to veterans for homesteading or purchase, the Veterans Administration has been informed.

Some areas are suitbale for farming, but the chances for success on such farms are limited by lack of markets and transportation facilities, VA said.

Veterans interested in climate, farming conditions and markets in Alaska will find their best source for such information is the Director, Agricultural Extension Service and Experiment Station, College, Alaska.

Veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi filed more than 44,000 applications for government guaranteed loans on farms, homes and businesses during 1946, the Veterans Administration revealed.

The total of loans closed, 35,729, represented $188,186,199 of credit expended by veterans in the Dallas Branch Area. All but 1,333 applications had been processed by December 31, 1946.

Three hospitals in the Dallas Branch Area of the Veterans Administration have been designated for the hospitalization of eligible veterans requiring neurosurgery.

They are the Veterans Administration hospitals at Dallas, Texas, and New Orleans, Louisiana, and the U. S. Naval Hospital at Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Brodie hits the roof!

No, no, this isn't a new Atom Bomb! It's merely Mrs. Brodie, after a quiet family conference with Mr. Brodie. Mr. B. made a few sharp remarks about their family budget.

Naturally, Mrs. Brodie hit the roof! And, like the cost of living, her temper kept right on going up and UP!

On the other hand, the cost of electricity, like Mr. Brodie's popularity at home, is going down and DOWN!

The Brodies (and you, too, if yours is an average family) get plenty of electricity for every budget dollar—more than twice as much as 20 years ago!

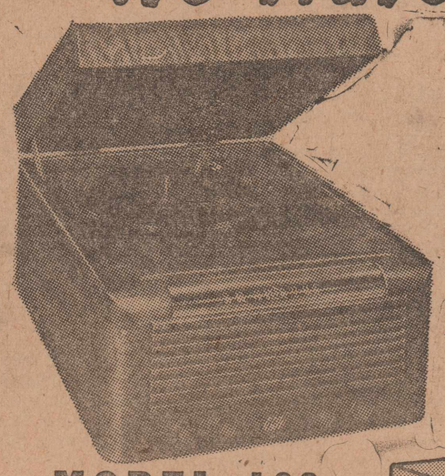

This domestic bargain took plenty of practical planning and technical skill on the part of your friends and neighbors in this company, under sound business management.

W. E. Patrick, Retired Farmer, Dies Thursday

W. E. Patrick, 53-year-old retired farmer, died at his home at 1006 Galveston Street Thursday afternoon, February 6, at 4:00 p. m. He had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Kelso Funeral Chapel with Min. Vaughn D. Shofner of the Wellington Church of Christ in charge. Pall bearers were Ernest Lewis, Ernest Harwell, Rolly Fisher, Bobo Castleberry, Eli Wolfe and Troy Gardner. Flower bearers were Edna Mae Bennett, Peggy Scarberry, Pat Richards and June Lamkin. Burial was in the Wellington cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

William Ernest Patrick was born in Palo Pinto County August 7, 1893, and at the time of his death he was 53 years, 3 months and 29 days of age. He was a veteran of World War I.

He and Mrs. Patrick were married September 7, 1920, in Norman, Okla. They made their home at Graham, Okla., before moving to Collingsworth County several years ago. For the last two years the family had lived in Wellington.

Surviving Mr. Patrick are his widow and twelve children. Mrs. Lois Patrick of Dallas, Mrs. Virginia Briscoe, Muriel Patrick, Mollie Patrick, June Patrick, Berniece Patrick, Ernestine Patrick, Mike Patrick, Jessie Patrick, Pat Patrick, Jerry Patrick and Buriel Patrick, all of Wellington. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. Matilda Patrick of Healdton, Okla.; three brothers and three sisters, Leonard Patrick of Rotan, Willie Patrick of Healdton, Okla., Lester Patrick of Moore Park, Calif., Mrs. O. E. Dunbar and Mrs. E. D. Williams of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. S. I. Bessinger of New Alla, Okla.

First Remains of World War II Dead To Arrive in August

The tentative date for the return of the first remains of America's World War II dead from temporary cemeteries is August, 1947, Colonel E. V. Macatee, Commanding Officer of the San Antonio General Depot has been notified.

The preliminary operational scnedules prepared by the office of the Quartermaster General contemplates that those who fell at Pearl Harbor and other armed forces personnel who now rest in seven cemeteries in Hawaii will reach the San Francisco Port of Embarkation about August 18. Those who are buried in the Henri Chapelle temporary cemetery in Belgium are scheduled to arrive at New York about August 25.

Only the remains of those return is requested by next of kin will be brought back to the United States for final burial in either a private cemetery or a National Cemetery, Major General T. B. Larkin, The Quartermaster General of the Army, said in announcing the tentative schedule.

'Twould be smart psychology if one of the companies selling hair restorer would furnish as a premium a heavy, non-breakable comb.

Gospel of Christ
(Rom. 1:16)

THE GREAT CONFESSION

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mk. 16:15, 16)

These last recorded words of Christ, spoken to the apostles, must have made this mere handful of men surrounded by every adversity recoil at the sweeping command to preach to " all the world."

"Go ye into all the world." Unlike the law of Moses, these words stamp Christianity as a universal religion. These orders laid down the missionary duty of the church.

"Preach the gospel to every creature." Every creature that walks by the natural order of the Creator is to be offered this great salvation. The rich and poor; the high and low; the master and slave; the white, the yellow and the black are to know of Christ's death for the sins of the world.

"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." For the first time Christ gives the conditions of His salvation. This is not the badge of any party, no ceremony of any sect, but these are the conditions to preach to sinners by which they may be saved. "Believeth and is baptized" is the watch word of New Testament teaching, and it was the order and the practice of every Christian conversion recorded in the Bible.

Templeton Introduces Bill Providing For State Sale of Liquor in Texas

R. L. Templeton has introduced a bill in the Texas Legislature providing for state sale and control of liquor.

Templetons' House Bill 124 sets up a state-operated system of Package Stores, giving the State of Texas the sole right to sell liquor and wine. It is designed to give the State the control of packaged liquor from the manufacturer to the consumer. Limiting purchases of liquor to one quart at a time would prevent the bootlegger from being able to get hold of sufficient liquor to sell. Benefits in wet areas would come from the section preventing liquor stores being located within 100 yards of a State highway, and from the section suspending the liquor purchase permit of those found guilty of drunken driving.

Similar acts have been adopted in 14 other states and Canada. It is estimated that the Act would result in from 25 to 40 million dollars in new revenue annually.

An important provision in the Bill appropriates $1,000,000.00 to recompense liquor retailers for their capital losses resulting from the State's taking over their business. This provision is included in the Act so as to give present liquor store operators a fair opportunity to get into other businesses.

The Act provides that the Governor shall appoint the five members of the Package Store Board, two of whom shall be women. Two of the five Board members are required to be women in order to insure the Board will not lose sight of the fact that the primary goal of state-operated package stores is the betterment of morals all over the State.

Moral improvements to be achieve under the Act:

(1) Better liquor enforcement through the State's controlling liquor from the manufacturer to the consumer. This will make it difficult for the bootlegger to get liquor to sell, and it will tend to make dry areas really dry.

(2) Removal of liquor stores from State highways will out the slaughter on our highways.

(3) Conviction of drunken driving will not only take away driver's license but will suspend liquor purchase limit so that the convicte person cannot purchase liquor for one year.

(4) There will be no incentive to sell liquor, no liquor advertising. By eliminating the incentive to sell, less liquor will get into the hands of juveniles.

The proceeds accruing to the State from the sales of liquors and wines, even without a profit incentive, will amount to several million dollars annually. These proceeds are in line with the Governor's pledge not to increase taxes.

The proceeds accruing from the sale of liquor and wine will be allocated to four worthy causes:

(1) 20 per cent of the proceeds will be used to set up vocational training and trade schools for juvenile delinquents. Experience has shown that reform schools do not prevent or deter juvenile delinquents from becoming hardened criminals. There is nothing in a reform school to appeal to the mind of the young criminal and to so occupy his mind with useful thinking that he will not have time to dwell on criminal acts. Today's need is for schools to train our young delinquents in new advanced skills naturally attractive to young minds such as aviation, radio, photography, so as to get their young minds intent on creating and constructing rather than stealing or destroying.

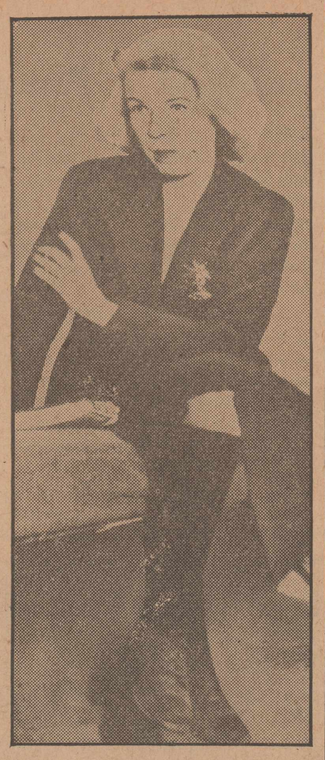

(2) The second allocation is of 20 per cent to the Old Age Pension Fund. This is the liquor drinkers contribution to the neglected old people of Texas. If the young did not spend so much of their money on liquor, the old wouldn't need state pensions. It is just putting the prodigal son's money where he ought to have put it in the first place.

(3) The third allocation is of 20 per cent to be used to set up a system of student exchanges between Texas students and the students of foreign countries. It is felt that a system of student exchanges is a worthwhile contribution towards lasting peace in international understanding that would result from such a system of student exchanges.

(4) 40 per cent to be set aside as salary assistance to school teachers on the basis of need. Our teachers spend more time with our children than do our parents, so that youth problems hark back to the quality of teachers. Very little can be done to improve the quality of parents, but better salaries will considerably improve the quality of teachers, and thereby bring about a better educated, more useful young citizen.

It is anticipated that an amendment will be made to the Act to cut own the 40 per cent allocation to teachers to 20 per cent, and add a fifth allocation of 20 per cent to be set aside as a fund for the payment of a soldiers bonus to be paid when economic conditions are such that a bonus is badly needed.

The Bill has little chance of passage because the Liquor Regulations Committee is in favor of the present liquor interests, Mr. Templeton said. The legislative "crystal ball" says H. B. 124 will never get out of the Liquor Regulations Committee for a vote on the floor.

AXIS SALLY IN JAIL

"Axis Sally," who taunted American troops by radio during the war, is shown in prison in Germany, where she is awating possible trial for treason. She was born Edna May Gillars in Portland, Me., July 21, 1909.

Questions on Veterans Aid

Q. May I claim my husband as a dependent in my income tax report, even though he is receiving compensation for disability incurred while in the service during World War II?

A. A veteran's compensation or pension is not subject to Federal income tax. Therefore, if you are the family breadwinner you may claim exemption for him.

Q. May I transfer part of my eligibility for education and training to my wife who is also a veteran but who does not have sufficient entitlement to complete her college?

A. No. A wife, even though she is a veteran, cannot use any part of her husband's entitlement under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill).

Q. Can a veteran of World War II secure insurance that will give him an income in case of total disability?

A. Yes. Total disability income benefits authorized by recent legislation can be added to any plan of National Service Life Insurance upon application, with proof of good health and payment of an extra premium.

Q. For how long can I carry the World War II National Service Life Insurance that I bought while in service?

A. National Service Life Insurance is issued originally upon the 5-year level premium term plan, which was extended three years for all policies issued before January 1, 1946. However, veterans have the privilege of conversion after one year from date of issue to permanent plans. The law provides that all level premium term policies shall terminate at the expiration of the term period unless exchanged for permanent policies on or before the expiration date. If term insurance has been converted, it remains in effect as long as the premiums are paid.

Editorial

It is evident that for once the teachers of America have the ears of the people in ther demand for a living wage. For the first time the people generally are backing the teachers' demand for an increased salary, one which will compare with that paid at least to common labor today. The weakness of the salary system in our schools is that fact that young, inexperienced teachers are often paid practically the same salary as that paid those who have had many years of experience, and have taken further training during the summer months. When a worker in other lines improves himself through added training, he is usually rewarded by an increased salary. In the teaching profession he is expected to invest his extra income in improving himself in the profession. That is not a square deal. The present salary demand is not out of line with the lopsided war wakes which the government lavishly threw out to unprepared and unskilled laborers, who claimed to be skilled workmen. But the teachers are not to blame for this. The mistakes of the war will be paid by increased taxes from each and every American throughout the coming years. The people whom we feel sorry for in this demand for increased teacher salaries are the members of the school boards who are confronted with the problem of raising the money. Every trustee wants to increase salaries, but where is the money coming from? The trustees are faced with the problem of the constitutional limit on taxes, and a taxpayer who is not sympathetic to any move which will cost him increased taxes. There is just one answer: Those of us who wish to see teachers paid a better salary had as well make up our minds that we will have to shoulder the bill, and pay our part in additional taxes.—The Canyon News.

Other Editors Say

• Disappointing Trend

Proposed legislation at Austin is colored with a hue which should carry disappointment to thinking Texans. It is a small wonder that newspapers are trying to awaken the reading public, while such legislation as the optometry bill is being advanced by legislators.

Although the language of the bill is directed toward governing deceptive advertising by a small minority of optometrists, the real danger of the bill lies in the fact that more government regulation is being encouraged at a time when such reins should be dropped, following wartime exigencies.

During the war, the public accepted rigid control over many fields as an emergency measure with the understanding that government would return to the people. But now it seems that many of the too socialistic trends wormed their way into the minds of lawmakers, who are passing them on to permanency in our state capital.—Weldon Owens in The Teague Chronicle.

• Hollis Gets Postal Delivery

Inauguration of postal delivery service for the City of Hollis to become effective on June 1 was announced this week by Bolen Braswell, acting postmaster, following receipt of confirmaton by Cong. Preston E. Peden and the first assistant postmaster general of Washington, D. C.

Braswell said that while complete details of the local delivery system had not been announced, it was his belief that local service could be expected to be increased as the need arose.

Congressman Peden in his wire received here Wednesday said that the postal department had authorized delivery twice daily, Monday through Friday and one delivery on Saturday.—The Hollis Weekly News.

• Balance the Budget

The present Congress is busy talking tax reductions and cutting expenses and still balancing the budget. It's going to take so much political juggling that all three promises cannot be met. They can do a great deal in all three lines by nicking a corner here and there. . . but above all, balance the budget. If we ever intend to, now is the time with high prices, high wages, and high employment.—The Electra Star.

Eulogizing the late J. E. Boog-Scott is an easy thing but likely to become lengthy. This loyal Texan who came here from Scotland in the late 1800's was a leader in many phases of livestock development in his adopted country. He was chairman of the State Livestock Sanitary commission during the successful fight on foot and mouth disease in 1924, livestock superintendent of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show during many of its formative years, organizer of some boys agricultural and calf clubs, before the days of 4-H. Except for a six-year sojourn in Haiti as an employee of the government of that country to help in developing livestock production, Boog-Scott devoted all his time to livestock in Texas. He died January 31 in Cleburne.

A flood control expert said in Fort Worth last week that as much damage in dollars and cents is caused by sedimentation resulting from floods as results directly from itself. Crop losses from sediment deposits, costs of removing sediment from streets, houses, sewers, wells, etc., and increased floodwater losses due to aggradation of channels as a result of soil erosion run about as high as the losses which ordinarily are reported at the time of the flood.

That Ring Around the Bathtub

Jeb Crowell blew his top the other day. Seems that for weeks he's been trying to get his youngsters to scrub out the bathtub after using it. And this night he sees two rings around it—one where young Sonny left off, and another about Pinky's level.

He raves and rants—and takes it out on the missus for her lack of discipline. And later that evening he sees her quietly polishing the hardwood table that's right by his chair. She's removing the rings he's left there with his evening glass of beer!

From now on, Jeb's careful to put his glass down on the table cover—like the missus does. And I hear he's a little more forgiving about rings around the bathtub. Just keeps on patiently reminding.

From where I sit, there are little annoyances in every family—conflicting habits and opinions in every community. A little patience—a little more "forgive and let live" is the only antidote.

Lord, TEACH US TO PRAY

When Jesus taught His disciples the now familiar words of what we call the Lord's Prayer, He placed in their hands the most powerful spiritual weapon ever devised.

This materialistic age, engrossed as it is in the things that can be touched and seen, but vaguely comprehends the dynamic power of prayer.

PRAYER gives direction to life. There is nowhere a greater waste than in the realm of misdirected human energies.

PRAYER gives perspective. How difficult it is always to give first place in life to those values of first importance, and to treat as trivial, things that are really trivial! Yet, earnest sincere prayer helps us do just that.

PRAYER releases spiritual power. It may not always remove the burden or sorrow, but it gives power to bear and overcome.

Nor is prayer just a one-way street in which we ask something of God. One of its principal values is that through reverent listening, we hear God speak to us.

The Church has been called the House of Prayer. And so it is. The one business of the Church is properly to relate the individual to God. And the chief means of achieving this end is Prayer.

When in the right spirit we go to Church, we give God a better chance to speak to us, and we, in turn, may the better talk with Him.

Won't you go to Church this Sunday?

The Church needs you.

YOU need the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.
