Good Rain Over Most of Area Tuesday

Most farmers were almost ready for the wonderful, general rain that fell Monday afternoon -- that is all but the north country which was badly washed in spots by 4 to 5 inches of rain in a short period. Sandy land was washed and sanbarred badly, but small damage was reported on 'tight' land.

Most of the area received from one to one and half inches of slow, gentle fall, just right for growing cotton. High winds prevailed for a time when the cloud first moved in, but soon subsided.

Fred Byerly gauged 1.10 Monday and .26 inch Tuesday.

Fields are clean and cotton prospects at present time are the best in years, with ample moisture in the soil.

Martinez Cited For Job Proficiency

Austin -- An official State Health Department citation for job proficiency has been awarded to Al Martinez, general maintenance man with the Rotan water system. The citation reflects the high regard in which Martinez is held by state water officials.

Signed by state commissioner of health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the certificate of competency is intended as visual evidence of skill in modern utility plant management and an understanding of the work's importance to community health.

Before a plant operator is certified, he must show proof of actual work experience and a record of satisfactory attendance at special schools at which the principles of utility plant management are taught. The schools are held under auspices of the state health agency, Texas A&M University, and the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association.

Many operators attend the schools on their own time and at their own expense to prepare themselves to take a written examination which they must pass before they can be certified.

Highest Draft Quota In Four Years Issued

Austin, Texas, June 21 -- The state draft quota for July is 908, the highest in nearly four years, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday. In November 1961, 923 Texans were directed to report for military service. The July call is the Texas share of a national quota for 17,100 men, all for the Army.

The state Selective Service director also announced that state draft boards will forward 4,820 males for Army mental-physical exmainations in July.

The July quotas already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The July quota will be filled mostly with men who are volunteers under 26 years old and nonvolunteers ages 19 through 25. Most of them will be 22 years old.

No man whose draft board file reflects that he is maintaining a bona fied family relationship with a wife or a child or children will be selected in response to this call.

REMEMBER the Sabbath Day to keep it HOLY

IN THE Ten Commandments, which do you suppose gets the larger treatment? Reverent observance of the divine order for a day of rest and of worship gets chief emphasis. A moment's reflection makes the reason clear. The man who does not take time to keep the Sabbath will likely forget to worship the God of his fathers; he who does not reverence God cannot be expected to regard his neighbor and his neighbor's goods. Sabbath observance stands, therefore, at the very center of religion and of morality. Then if you disregard the Sabbath you do it at the peril of your soul!

NOTICE the argument of Moses. God could get His work done in six days, even the creation of a universe and all its creatures. Surely you do not need the seventh day for the lesser tasks of your doing.

YOU are under the command of God; you are a part of His creation; there is nothing more important for you than that you remember God and your relation to Him. The Sabbath is such a time of remembrance. The church bell, the rest from daily toil, the quietness in the busy street, the need of your own soul, unite to remind you of your God and His day. The law giver commanded His people to keep this one day sacred to the Lord; to use it for one's own profit is to rob God of the time which belongs to Him.

HERE is an ancient command, never more important than today. The press of the material and the secular was never more insistent; things want to get in the saddle and ride mankind. Remember the Sabbath; then you will worship God and know that you are the eternal child of the Highest. He who remembers the Sabbath most is most likely to remember to attend his church.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Outdoor Landscaping For New Homes

When planning the outdoor landscaping for your new home, try to organize the exterior space around the home to suit the desires and needs of your family.

Everett E. Janne, Texas A&M University Extension landscape horticulturist, says that when buying plants, it is important to remember to group them according to special uses and functions.

The most obvious functions is that of beauty. However, your outdoor plants can be useful in other ways. They can improve architectural structures with suitable framing and backgrounds, freshen the atmosphere, absorb noises, and provide windbreaks, give privacy in specified areas, and screen to hide undersirable features.

While keeping your plants' varied uses in mind, you should also remember that any plant will perform differently under various environmental.

All too often the cost of plants tends to influence your purchase of them. The cost of good landscape plants rises sharply above a certain size. The best approach to the cost factor in selecting plants is to compare the relative cost of landscape size plants with the cost of household appliances in the same price range. Appliances will wear out in a few years, but your plants will usually increase in value as time passes.

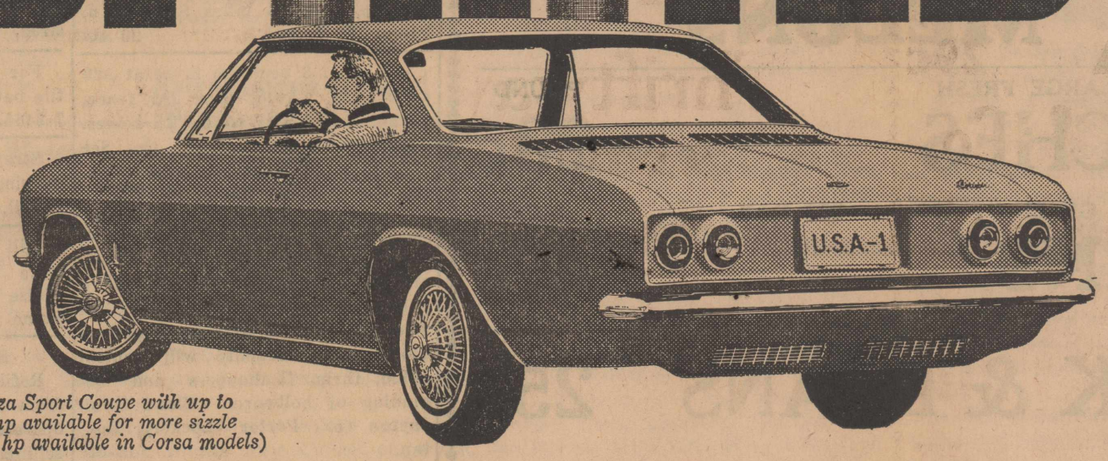

An excellent guide and reference for the landscaping of your home is available from your County Extension Service Office. Ask for B-980, "A Planning Guide for Home Landscaping." Is gives full details on how to analyze your individual landscape requirements and how to develope a plan to suit your individual taste.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

How can we attract new business and industry to our town?

First, a town must have an active community development program.

WTU's area development representatives are available to assist communities in planning community development programs

Recent WTU ads have told the story of exceptional community development activities in Stamford, Childress, Robert Lee and Ballinger. These towns, among others served by WTU, are engaged in continuing local development programs, which make them better places to live, work and play. Of more importance, these towns know that community development is the vital and basic first step in attracting tourists and industry for further economic development. They are all PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS. WTU is proud to be a part of these growth conscious towns. Your local WTU manager can obtain additional assistance for your towns.

Attend Wedding of Relative in Stephenville

Wynell Ruth Belcher and Michael Jack Sullivan of Lubbock exchanged double ring wedding vows Saturday in First Baptist Church in Stephenville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dewey Belcher, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sullivan, Ivan Star Rt., Breckenridge.

Officiating was the Rev. Emil Becker assisted by Rev. W. C. Wesson, uncle of the bride. Mrs. Fred Parker was organist and Mrs. Rufus Higgs Jr. soloist.

Honor attendants were Soundra Kay Foster of Lubbock and Glen Skaggs of Breckenridge. Terry Lou Little of Fort Worth and Wanda Nell Kennedy were bridesmaids, and R. Lee Nichell and Donald Ball were groomsmen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace over silk taffeta fashioned with scoop neckline and bouffant skirt of ruffled tulle extending into a chapel train.

A coif of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried white pompons centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Bridal attendants' dresses were in shades of pink lace over taffeta and headdresses were crowns of matching lace with tulle veils. Attendants carried pink pompons.

The bride attended Stephenville High School and will enroll as a senior this fall at Lubbock High School.

Sullivan was graduated from Breckenridge High School, attended Tarleton State College and is a student at Texas Technological College.

After a brief trip, the couple will be at home at Tech Village Apartments, 2902 3rd Pl., Lubbock.

The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Imogene Lane, his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Foster and their daughter, Sandra all of Lubbock were joined here by two aunts of the groom, Misses Hattie bell Howard and Sybil Howard and they attended the wedding.

Mrs. Sullivan, the groom's mother is the former Martha Lane, attended Rotan Schools and received her degree from Texas Woman's University in Denton. She has been teaching in Breckenridge schools for several years.

Christian Science Service Sunday

How each individual discovers the "kingdom of heaven" is the underlying theme of a Bible Lesson on "Christian Science," which will be read at Christian Science churches on Sunday.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read: "The great miracle, to human sense, is divine Love, and the grand necessity of existence is to gain the true idea of what constitutes the kingdom of heaven in man" (p. 560).

Included in the Bible readings will be a verse from Habakkuk (2: 14): "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

NEWS from your County Agricultural Agent

Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

Grasshoppers are beginning to appear in the county causing damage to cultivated crops as well as ornamental shrubs and flowers. Cotton insects are very light so far.

Grasshopper control should start when hoppers become noticably abundant and while they are still small.

Signs of threatening infestations of young hoppers to crop lands can be found along roadsides, fence rows, ditch banks, and in idle land bordering cultivated fields.

Field margins are usually the hatching places for grasshoppers that damage row crops. Early treatment of such areas before the young hoppers move from their hatching beds will reduce the acreage that might otherwise need treatment.

Insecticides in the form of sprays, dusts or baits can be used to control grasshopers. Sprays give higher initial kills than dusts and continue to kill for a longer period of time. Recommended insecticides are: Malathion, Carbaryl (Sevin), Toxaphene, and Dieldrin. Certain pracautions are to be followed, when these insecticides are applied to range land or forage crops for livestock.

Sprays have largely replaced baits: Baits may still be used in situations where sprays cannot be used or when sprayed leaf surfaces are not from nearby untreated vegetation.

Bait should be spread uniformly, by hand or with a broadcasting machine, at the rate of 20 pounds per acre. It should never be stored on the ground and all that is spilled should be cleaned up. Bait should be stored where livestock cannot reach it.

Publication MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops," lists current grasshoppers controls. And L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants" for control of grasshoppers on ornamentals. These publications may be obtained free of charge at the local county extension office.

If you see a triangle of flourescent orange and reflective red ahead of your on the highway, chances are it's a slow Moving Vehicle emblem. It means slow down and drive carefully.

You'll be seeing more of these emblems on farm, highway maintenance, and construction equipment in the months to come.

The emblem was developed by agricultural engineers to warn drivers when they're approaching a slow-moving vehicle and should slow down. You can see and recognize it at least 500 feet away at any time of day and under almost all driving conditions.

Many accidents are caused simply because the motorists often does not realize that object ahead is moving as slowly as it is until it is too late to avoid hitting it. This emblem could save lives and cut down on injuries in Fisher County.

The center of SMV emblem is flourescent yellow-orange, the most visible color in daylight, and the outside border is reflective red to show up at night. Intended only for vehicles designed to travel 25 mph or less, the new triangler emblem can be easily mounted on most farm equipment.

It's inexpensive, durable, and movable and doesn't interfere with the machine or its operator.

Accidents between slow-moving vehicles and motorists could be reduced greatly if the SMV Emblem were used on all slow-moving vehicles and recognized nationwide.

The Dairy Cow is a marvelous creature. She has the ability to take grass and grain from the field and make them into nature's most nearly perfect food -- milk. Give her a salute during this June Dairy Month and lift up increasing the consumption of milk as well as other dairy products.

Betty Merbert of ACC visited over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Clark. Miss Herbert is a neice of Mrs. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McNaron, Larry and Janice spent father's day with W. W. McNaron.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

There are no plants, shrubs or trees on the moon, as far as we know today.

On planet Earth, however, vegetation helps sustain life. But some plants, trees or shrubs are potential killers of man.

Some part of the ornamental plants or flowers in your yard may contain deadly poison. Many poison. Many poisonous plants are so common and seemingly innocuous you don't suspect their toxic qualities.

Who would suspect that the beautiful oleander bush, grown indoors and outdoors all over all over the country, contains a dealy heart stimulant, similiar to the drug digitalis So powerful is this poison that a single leaf of an oleander can kill a child. Many people have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasted over a fire.

The pretty mountain laurel plant was used by the Delaware Indians to make a suicide potion. The popular Christmas flower -- the ponsettia -- is full of an acrid, burning juice, so lethal that a child who consumes one leaf of the plant might die. The berries of mistletoe proved deadly to adults who brewed what they thought was a "medical tea."

It's easy to be deceived by plants. One part may be edible while another is poisonous. For example, twigs of cherry trees release cyanide when eaten. Peach trees leaves contain hydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known.

Even two of our most popular vegetables, the potato and tomato, come from plants related to the deadly nightshade. Although fresh tomato fruits and potato tubers are harmless, foliage and vines of both plants contain alkaloid poisons capable of causing digestive upset and nervous disorder.

Most dangerous in your vegetable garden is rhubard. Its stalk, commonly used in baking and cooking, is not toxic. The leaf blade, however, contains oxalic acid which crystalizes in the kidneys, causing severe damage.

Also beware of laurels, azaleas, water hemlocks and buttercups because of their poison content. Both foliage and acorns from oak trees can be deadly, as are twigs and foliage from wild and cultivated cheeries.

Remember . . . just because it is a plant doesn't mean that it is safe. Treat unknown plants with respect, and tecah your children to do the same.
