Work Order Arrives On Highway Project

Operations Expected to Commence Monday—W. Veale to Be the Supervisor

According to advices reaching Wheeler this week, a work order has been issued by WPA headquarters for improvement of the extension of Highway 152, east of this city. Some two weeks ago, when approval was made on this project, it was assumed that work would start immediately. Delay in issuance of the work order held matters back until this week. Now it appears that nothing further is likely to interfere.

Local county officials have been informed that work will start Monday morning, provided a sufficient number of men can be obtained. There seems to be no apprehension on that score, however, since the list enrolled for relief work contains ample names to meet the tentative requirements of the state highway department.

W. Veale, former Wheeler county relief administrator, has been named for the position of supervisor on the job. It is reported. Veale has been certified by W. J. VanLondon, division highway engineer, to the state highway department for the post.

"It is important," said County Judge Puett today, "that single hands and men with teams wanting work on this project should signify their wishes at once; and in all events by Monday morning." This observation is concurred in by Jim Trout, county commissioner, in whose precinct the road is situated.

Approximately 50 or more single hands and a group of teams will be needed to start off with. Eight 4-horse teams for fresnos, two 4-horse plow teams and two utility trucks have been mentioned as a part of the motive power wanted.

As has been published in these columns heretofore, this project consists of grade and drainage structures, with sand topping. No provision for hard surfacing is included in the contemplated program. However, it is likely that some spots may be graveled and others sanded, where such treatment is required.

The undertaking will be a joint project between the Works Progress Administration and the State Highway department. WPA furnishes about $45,000 and the highway department $19,500, giving an approximate total of $65,000. Work will be under highway department supervision. Ten per cent of labor employed may be from non-relief sources, with the remaining 90 per cent from relief rolls.

COUNTY 4-H CLUB COUNCIL WILL MEET HERE SATURDAY

The skating rink, at the rear of the White Way cafe, has been selected as a meeting place for the 4-H County Council sessions here Saturday, states Miss Viola Jones, home demonstration agent. The morning program starts at 10:30.

Games will be under the direction of Floyd Seago, council chairman. Those attending will have the opportunity of listening to winners in the Moses 4-H Leadership Trophy contest at 11:30.

All 4-H club members, their sponsors and parents are invited.

Miss Exie Creekmore, who is a student at Texas Tech, came home Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Creekmore and friends. She returned to Lubbock Sunday.

Texas Literature Is Study Club Subject

"Texas Literature" was the main topic for discussion at a meeting of the Wednesday Study club in the club room Nov. 27, with Mrs. J. M. Porter, hostess and Mrs. W. I. Joss as leader.

Mrs. Melvin Howe gave a survey of "Texas Fiction;" Mrs. Ernest Lee named several "Women Who Have Helped to Make Texas Literature," and Mrs. Buck Britt told a tale from "Old Argus Eye."

During the business meeting the club voted to donate a suitable gift for the home economics cottage, and Mesdames J. M. Porter, Buck Britt and J. W. Barr were appointed to make a selection. Members present decided to bring toys to the next meeting for children who would appreciate a Christmas gift.

Those present were Mesdames E. W. Carter, Bob Bowers, Buck Britt, E. T. Cosper, J. W. Barr, Bronson Green, Melvin Howe, W. I. Joss, Ernest Lee, J. M. Porter, H. M. Wiley, Glenn Williams and Floyd Pennington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gordon of Wheeler, announce the marriage of their oldest son, Dr. Archie T. Gordon of Tucumcari, N. Mex., to Miss Helen Spencer of Tulsa, Okla., on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 3, at the Methodist church in Tucumcari, with the pastor, Rev. Rice, officiating.

Mrs. Gordon is a charming and talented young lady and has many friends in Tulsa, where she has lived for a number of years. At the time of her marriage she was employed as bookkeeper for an oil company in Tulsa. Last summer, while she was a guest at the J. H. Gordon home in Corn Valley, she made many friends.

Mr. Gordon is well and favorably known in Wheeler, where he attended high school for three years, after finishing the grade school at Corn Valley. He attended school at Miami his senior year, graduating with the class of 1923. He completed his college work at Norman, Okla., in 1927 after receiving three years of work at the Methodist college at Clarendon. Mr. Gordon taught science in the Wheeler high school and taught in the Magic City schools one year.

In 1934 he received his diploma from the Galveston Medical college, where he spent four years, and finished his internship at Tulsa, Okla., last summer.

He moved to Tucumcari, N. Mex., this fall and has a nice practice in the medical profession.

The Times joins their friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gordon a long and happy married life.

County Singing Meet at Center, Dec. 15th

While in Wheeler one day this week, E. J. Cooper of Davis community, president of the Wheeler County Singing convention, announced that an all-day session of the organization will be held on Sunday, Dec. 15, at Center school house. Lunch will be spread at the noon hour. Everyone interested in singing and a good social day together is urged to attend, bringing a basket lunch along.

Other officers of the convention in addition to President Cooper are Hester Dodson, vice president, and Clyde Green, secretary.

Cooper also stated that next Sunday, Dec. 8, is the date for the regular afternoon assembly of the Briscoe class. The president and other persons from Davis community, several from Kelton, Center and Wheeler are planning to attend the Briscoe meet.

Sheriff and Mrs. Raymond Waters and children motored Thursday to Hale Center, near Plainview, where they were Thanksgiving dinner guests of her brother, Evert Adams and family. They returned to Amarillo and visited Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Guynes in the afternoon. Mr. Waters came home that night while she and the children remained until Sunday. Mr. Waters met them in Pampa and they all returned home Sunday night.

Finsterwalds Escape With Minor Injuries

Mr. and Mrs. A. Finsterwald, elderly couple who live on a ranch northwest of Wheeler, escaped with minor injuries Wednesday of last week when their V-8 coupe and a light car driven by W. H. Scott collided near Jaco's tourist camp. Mrs. Finsterwald was severely bruised but suffered no broken bones, while the men sustained minor bruises.

The Finsterwald car was turned over twice and damaged so badly that it was turned in on a new 1936 V-8, which Mr. Finsterwald drove home Sunday.

Noted Indian Singer Here Sunday Night

George Wilson, Sioux Evangelist Vocalist, to Appear at Baptist Church

News of interest to the general public and lovers of music in particular, is contained in the announcement by Rev. Taft Holloway, pastor of the Wheeler Baptist church, that George Wilson, noted Indian singer, will appear on the Sunday evening program at that church.

Wilson, who has been engaged in evangelistic song service at a revival series in Shamrock, is acclaimed an outstanding singer. He is a full blood Sioux Indian. His musical background includes training for operatic singing. Wilson has a repertoire of 17 songs for a program of the kind to be presented Sunday evening; most of these will be given.

The program will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. No admission charge will prevail. However, proceeds of the evening offering will go to Wilson.

"Everyone who is at all interested in music will want to hear this concert," declares Rev. Holloway, who extends a cordial invitation in behalf of the church to the general public to be present, whether regular church attendants or not.

"Those not in services at other churches are urged to come out and hear Wilson," concludes Rev. Holloway.

Plains Counties Get WPA Wage Increases

Wheeler One of Small Group in Lower Brackets—Others Fare Better

The following article, relative to WPA wage scales, appeared in Tuesday morning's Amarillo Daily News and is reproduced for the information of Times readers:

WPA wage scales have been raised in 52 Panhandle and West Texas counties.

Thirty-two of the counties have been transferred to region 2, which raises the common wage pay from $21 to $29 monthly, with a corresponding increase for other classes. Adjustments which give the other 20 counties an average increase of 10 per cent or more have been made.

The changes were authorized by Works Progress Administration officials in Washington, following recommendations in their behalf by Congressman Marvin Jones and various other public officials in the Panhandle who contended that higher costs of necessities in this area warranted increased pay for WPA workers. Both district WPA Administrator Alston A. Meredith of Amarillo and State Administrator H. P. Drought of San Antonio recommended the adjustments to Washington authorities.

Panhandle counties receiving an increase from $21 to $29 for common labor include: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Carson, Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb and Floyd. Pay for intermediate, skilled and professional labor in the above counties is $35, $40 and $44.

In Hutchinson, Gray, Hale and Lubbock, common labor is to be $31.50, with other grades being set at $39.60, $46.80 and $51.30.

Potter and Randall carry a common labor rate of $31.90. Other classes will receive $47.30, $61.60 and $68.20.

Donley, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Hall, Motley and other counties off the "cap rock" and where cotton is grown, have been raised from $21 to $23 for common labor, with other classes receiving $31, $38 and $42.

In the announcement of the rate changes, the Texas WPA authorities declare that the changes are being made "in order to adjust the monthly rate of earnings to local conditions and to avoid inequality among workers."

BRAZIL'S VARIETY BOASTS LARGE MERCHANDISE STOCK

One of the largest stocks of novelty merchandise in the entire Panhandle, aptly sums up the huge variety store stock carried by Brazil's 5c to $1 store in Wheeler. From time to time, since purchasing the business, Brazil has utilized more and more space for display and storage purposes until it looks almost impossible for him to cram any more goods into his large store room. And the genial gentleman, known to his friends as Rufus, doesn't buy merchandise to "keep" but to sell—and he does just that.

Free Exhibit Space Offered to Wheeler

Invitation Extended to Co-operate in West Texas Display at Centennial Show

Through its affiliation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in the membership of several local men, including R. H. Forrester, who is a director in the West Texas body, Wheeler is offered valuable publicity. In a letter received this week by Forrester from President Ray H. Nichols, appears this statement:

"In accordance with the enclosed regulations we plan to give to your town space at the Texas Centennial in which to have a 6-months exhibit depicting the resources and possibilities of your town. This gift is equivalent to approximately $100 and affords your town an opportunity to have a permanent display to be witnessed by the estimated 10 million visitors to the Texas Centennial."

Continuing, the communication requests appointment of a committee, with Forrester as chairman, to act as Wheeler's Centennial committee. Lack of space will not permit further outline of the requirements and details of the exhibit. An effort will be made to present these at a later date.

It is sufficient for the present to say that the offer is free of cost to Wheeler except preparation and transportation of whatever exhibit may be decided upon.

MRS. WM. PENDELTON WRITES FINE LETTER TO DAUGHTER AND FAMILY IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pendleton were pleasantly surprised on Thanksgiving morning when their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Gabbart and son and Mrs. Gabbart's mother of Durham, Okla., drove up with a baked turkey and all the trimmings, including a delicious angel food cake. Mr. Cutshaw and Mr. Landrum of Shamrock, violin enthusiasts, who were visiting Mr. Pendleton and inspecting his hand made violins, accepted an invitation to remain for the Thanksgiving feast. Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton declare this one of the happy days of their lives.

The foregoing is a brief extract from a letter written by Mrs. Pendleton to her daughter, Mrs. Gussie Womack, and family at Susanville, Calif. The Times editor had the pleasure of reading the letter, which was brimful of news, mostly of a semi-private nature. Although Mrs. Pendleton is well along in years and is no longer physically active, the brilliant intellect and clear perception of a splendid mind are reflected in her writings.

Teeming with the spirit of a gentle nature, buoyed by an unflinching trust, Mr. Pendleton breathes the perfume of prayer into a simple statement: "Thanksgiving has come and passed on, and in that I am reminded of many of my friends who have gone on to that home where there is no parting. Yet there are many left to greet me with a smile and words of kindness. For which I am very thankful. And may I so live as to hold the love and goodwill of all in this journey of life."

Mrs. C. O. Sandifer returned Sunday from A. & M. at College Station, where she spent Thanksgiving with her son, Weldon, who is attending college. She was joined by five ladies at Wellington that are members of the A. & M. Mothers club, and who also visited their sons during the holidays.

Local Legionnaires Win District Cash

Receive $25 Award Borger Meet for Largest Percentage of Members Present

Officers and members of West Post No. 138, American Legion, Wheeler, returned Sunday from the district meeting at Borger much elated at their success in winning the $25 attendance award given the post with the largest percentage of its membership registered at the convention. Only a very narrow margin prevailed between Wheeler and the runner-up.

Reports declare it was a very enthusiastic meeting and quite well attended, all things considered. Many compliments have been paid Attorney General William McGraw on the excellent address made before the assembled ex-service men.

SPECIAL EVENT ANNOUNCED AT THE CITY TAILOR SHOP

Presence of Albert A. Siebler, sales director and nephew of the president of the Siebler Tailoring company, Cincinnati, at the City Tailor shop here Friday and Saturday is the source of considerable satisfaction to Bill Perrin, owner of the business.

Perrin was awarded this visit because of his heavy volume of sales for the Siebler firm during the past year. The representative is bringing an extensive group of samples with him.

Mailing Rules for Christmas Packages

Mail Early Is Stressed by Postmaster—Wrap Carefully; Address Plainly

With the approach of another holiday mailing season, the request by postal authorities to "mail cards and packages early" is again brought out and dusted off. "If folks only realized," declared Postmaster Chester Lewis yesterday, "that the post-office asks this favor for the benefit and convenience of the public more than for its own convenience, it is possible that more heed would be given the plea." It was pointed out that physical possibilities have a limit; only so much mail can be dispatched in a given period of time. If cards and packages are all dumped into the mails at the last moment, some of them are bound to be delayed more or less, both to the disappointment of the sender and receiver.

"Mail early and thereby avoid delay and disappointment to those whom you wish to show your remembrance," says the postmaster.

Only one address printed plainly with the return post office in the corner, is needed. Use only light colored paper and not red, green or other dark shades. Be sure that the paper is heavy and the twine is strong.

For fragile articles easily crushed or broken, use liberal quantities of excelsior or like material in, around and between the articles and the outside container. Corrugated paper should be used around the articles and the whole placed in a heavy cardboard box.

My Introduction to the Wheeler People

By C. C. Merritt, Minister of the Church of Christ in Wheeler, Texas

In these few words to the people of Wheeler through the facility of The Wheeler Times, I do not propose to relate at this time all that may be said under the topic chosen. We have been too busy getting ourselves fixed up in our new home for any very general observations as yet.

However, I have observed some things in and about and of Wheeler. Somehow, I like the looks of you people. I have not yet had a formal introduction to very many of you, nor do I intend to wait for such formal proceedings before getting acquainted with you. I have met you on the streets and I have taken a little peep into your life as I met and passed you by. You look comparatively happy and seem to be enjoying things and I like that. A happy people in my association makes me happy. I enjoy such fellowship.

You all seem to have something to do and that makes for good in any community. An idle people soon get miserable and form an unhappy association with all others.

I do not wish to say more in this preamble than to call your attention to my appreciation of your fine weekly newspaper, The Wheeler Times. It is well gotten up. Its mechanical makeup is the very best. It is newsy and very interesting. Do you people of Wheeler realize what an asset such a first-class journal is to our community? Do the business men realize that it is the very best advertising medium? I hope so.

There is one very commendable thing I noticed as I looked through its pages; it does not contain "foreign" advertisements. The editor seems to be working under the impression that the business houses of Wheeler are amply able to take care of all the needs of the people in and about Wheeler.

You all appreciate that, I'm sure; for he could be receiving advertisements from merchants in nearby cities that would be an invitation to your people to go to those cities to trade. Use your paper, The Wheeler Times, and let the people in your community know that you have what they want. As for me, I'm going to make a 100 per cent use of that splendid paper.

Now a word to the members of the Church of Christ. Are you—well—, let me see, now. What should I ask you? What do you suppose that I want to ask you? Or, should ask you? Let me make this request of you; you make your appearance next Sunday at the regular meetings of the church and we'll talk things over.

Here is what I want to talk to you about next Sunday in our regular meetings. "What May a Preacher Rightfully Expect of the Church?" and "What a New Testament Church May Scripturally Expect of its Preacher." I'm expecting you to be at both these meetings that we may talk things over and get started in the work together "on the right foot," so to speak.

We had two splendid meetings last Sunday. I do not know what a 100 per cent attendance should be, but let's make it that next Sunday. What do you say? Bring your friends and neighbors along. We will greatly appreciate having them present at any and all of our meetings.

This is a word to you from your new minister and will you not give me the privilege of meeting you face to face at our very next meeting?

Yours for the glory of Christ.

Week's Court Session Recesses Till Monday

Opening with criminal docket cases Monday, Judge W. R. Ewing heard several pleas of guilty when trial proceedings were waived. Among them were Wm. G. Stegmann, burglary; 5-year suspended sentence. Seth Robinson, negro, murder without malice; 5-year suspended sentence. Walter McLemore, burglary of private residence; five years in the penitentiary.

Civil docket matters, many of them motions and routine, occupied the time this (Thursday) afternoon, when court recessed until Monday, when a criminal case is set for hearing. A jury today brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the Elbar Oil Co. vs. J. J. Rook case and were discharged when court recessed.

The grand jury reported two more indictments today and expected to adjourn late this evening.

T. C. Newkirk was quite ill the last of the week with the flu.

BUSINESS IS AFRAID

During the past year, substantial and sustained improvement has taken place in almost all lines of business. That fact, encouraging and welcome as it is, should not blind us to the equally important fact that governmental policies are preventing industries from making even greater progress toward recovery.

Today business is afraid—and its fears are justified and logical. It is afraid of our almost incredible volume of governmental spending, which is reflected in a staggering public debt and inevitably higher taxes.

It is afraid of governmental competition in fields of private endeavor.

It is afraid of governmental interference in private affairs that tends to take business management out of the hands of the owners of property and put it in the hands of bureaucrats actuated by partisan and political motives.

It is afraid of alien policies which are variously described as socialistic, communistic and fascistic—and which, whatever their proper labeling, are directly opposed to the ancient American principle of private enterprise and individual initiative.

When men are plagued by such fears as these, they are hesitant to put money into productive enterprises, knowing that tax or legislative acts may deprive them of any reward. They lose the surge of ambition, the aggressiveness, the desire for achievement that makes great industries, no less than great empires. They are unwilling to take the necessary and unavoidable risks that attach to all commercial enterprises when their ordinary chance of success is lessened or eliminated by artificial governmental restrictions. Give business a fair deal—and it will go ahead at a breath-taking pace. Continue to stifle business, to regard all business men as cheats and profiteers, and real and permanent prosperity must become the idlest of dreams.

OUT THE DISTRIBUTING COSTS

As everyone knows, there is often a great difference between the price a farmer gets for the food products he sells, and the price the ultimate consumer must pay.

A long list of charges is responsible for that difference. It costs money to transport food, to process and pack it, to preserve it, to carry on the vast machinery that operates between producer and consumer, and, finally, to sell it at retail.

Many of those costs are unavoidable and necessary. Some are not. And the great problem of food distribution is to eliminate those which are not, while at the same time effecting any possible reductions in the essential costs.

About 15 years ago, when the nation was appalled by high post-war food costs, better distributing and selling methods were started. These methods managed to do away with a number of old "middleman" costs—they cut others. In less than a generation, they made constant and remarkable progress.

Today a similar situation obtains—food prices are rising, and there is danger that they will go beyond the point where the people can comfortably pay. The solution, then, is the same as it was 15 years ago: To advance as rapidly as possible the work of cutting costs between producer and consumer.

Few undertakings are so valuable to the American pocketbook—few deserve such widespread support from the great American public, which must pay the bill for wasteful and inefficient food distributing methods.

IGNORANCE—OR PREJUDICE?

Following the recent federal court decision holding the Public Utility Act of 1935 unconstitutional "in its entirety," one large newspaper which is violently opposed to the private power industry, ran an amazing editorial. The editorial said that if the decision were affirmed by the supreme court, it would mean that there could be no check on holding company activities, that unscrupulous promoters could bleed consumers, investors and operating companies to a fare-thee-well, and that the most crooked and unethical practices would carry the approval of the courts. It then cited a particularly flagrant example of holding company abuses—abuses which have been denounced time and again by responsible utility executives—and said that this sort of thing would become commonplace.

That editorial is representative of an attitude that can be laid to one of only two things—ignorance, or a wish to misstate and distort the facts.

No one questions the right of congress to pass laws that will eliminate abuses in the operation of holding companies or any other business—a long step in that direction, affecting utilities as well as all other industries, has been effected by the creation of the Securities and Exchange commission, with its broad powers over security issuance.

What the decision did deny to congress was the right to pass a law that threatened every utility holding company with ruin because a few such holding companies had been unfaithful to their trust. Congress, in effect, said: "Here is a great industry, representing billions of dollars of invested capital—capital invested in large part by ordinary men and women. A minority within this industry has pursued unethical and occasionally dishonest practices. Therefore, as a cure, we will destroy the whole industry."

That is precisely as logical as if congress said: "Some automobile drivers, through criminal carelessness, kill people. Therefore we will make it a crime for anyone to drive an automobile." And precisely as fair. Congress should and probably will pass a holding company act that is sound, equitable and constitutional. The present act seems to be opposed to every one of those essentials.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

The Literary Digest poll has never been wrong. Some wits have suggested that its pre-election polls be used to determine the winner, thus saving the government the vast expense attendant on a national election.

The Digest has now started a new poll on whether or not "You now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date." Not enough return has yet been obtained to give a decisive answer—but results are interesting.

Forty thousand ballots from five states, all of which Roosevelt carried in 1932, show that 53 per cent of the voters are against the New Deal. A similar poll, carried on in early 1934, show that 61 per cent were favorable.

All of which proves—"you never can tell" what an electorate will do. It's one of the peculiarities of the American governmental system—this matter of reaction to the policies of its servants—to elevate 'em one day and pull 'em down the next.

PANHANDLE GAS WASTAGE

Again the attention of Panhandle people is called to the terrible waste of gas in this section. More gas is being wasted daily than is being used. So long as the supply holds out, no one is particularly disturbed about the situation, but when the distributing companies are forced to limit the usage of gas in this section, the people will be awakened to the foolishness that is going on at this time.

The railroad commission thought it had an air tight law passed by the legislature whereby this waste could be stopped. Immediately the foolish American practice of "government by injunction" stepped in, and tied the hands of the commission.

While The News regrets much to say it, the more we study the gas and oil problem, the more convinced we are that this problem is one for national control, rather than for the individual states to handle. Maybe the national government could do no better with the situation than does the state, but at least it could do no worse. In the meanwhile the waste goes on.—Canyon News.

Rip Van Winkle has nothing on a farmer who came to White Deer one day last week with a load of cotton bolls, looking for a cotton gin. He was in the right town, all right, but a few years late. White Deer's only cotton gin was moved from here in 1927.—White Deer Review.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

SCANDALS

We wonder if the Magic City Eagles are getting so rough that they nearly kill each other while just practicing on the gridiron! The students want to congratulate Mr. Wharton on his broad, winning smile since his return. We wonder if he missed all of his nice students! Edith Voyles has been reading the latest housekeeping hints since her last letter from California! Wilma Connell and Florette Miller are so busy lately that they just don't have time to think! Helen June George and Mr. Wharton must have had a very interesting chat 'cause Helen June was smiling when she came back to her room. Something about her grades, I'll bet.

SPORTS

The Magic City Eagles won a glorious victory over McLean junior high Wednesday, Nov. 27. The final score was 14-0. Most of the boys saw some service. The starting lineup: Stephens, re; Gardner, rt; Turnbow, rg; Roach, c; Williams, lg; Johnson, lt; Emler, le; B. Groves, qb; Green, hb; Crow, hb; D. Groves, fb.
The Eagles are diligently and seriously training for their final and closing game of a very successful first year in football competition Friday, Dec. 6. This final game finds them matching brawn and brain with the powerful Wheeler Ponies, this being a return game of one played early in the season. The Eagles are very conscious of a stinging close defeat handed them in the first encounter by the Ponies. Their one big objective through the remainder of the season has been an opportunity to get sweet revenge on these "cocky" Ponies.
And too, the Mustangs (most generally known as Ponies or Colts) have been somewhat bold in statements made relative to their superiority over the Eagles. Perhaps, as intimated by The Corral, Norman has something to do with this attitude of these Ponies.

Anyway, the Eagles are ready for the best game of the season—looking forward to a sweet revenge as well as ending their first season in a blaze of glory. Ponies, we're rounding you up for no more stampedes!

GROCERIES—DRY GOODS

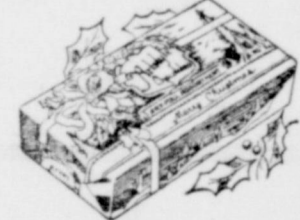

Dear Mr. Public:

A good friend of ours recently asked for a certain well-known patent medicine. Someone had recommended it because it had helped him. Well, he tried it, but the results were far from satisfactory, and he asked us the reason why. It was because his physical condition was so different from that of his friend that, although suffering from a similar complaint, he needed a different remedy.

Of course your family doctor should be called promptly if you are ill, but should you suffer from any minor ailment, come and tell us what your trouble is instead of asking for something because you "heard of it" or because it "helped a friend." We will advise you gladly; our advice will cost you nothing; and we will give you back the money paid for medicine if you are not entirely satisfied.

We know every ingredient in REXALL REMEDIES to be absolutely the best obtainable, and that these ingredients are combined in the most skillful manner. Knowing, as we do, the formula of every Rexall Remedy, we have great faith in our ability through their help to aid you.

Won't you drop in and see our display of Christmas merchandise? It costs nothing to look. We appreciate the opportunity to show you our Christmas goods; also help you pick your gifts.

Whenever you have an ache or pain, Of this or that description; You will soon be yourself again, If you bring us your prescription.

WATCH YOUR SPEECH!

All of us have doubtless patted ourselves on the back occasionally when thinking of our superiority over all the other animals of the world. Perhaps, however, you and I have failed to consider on just what this superiority rests.

How is it that man alone can transmit the knowledge of his experience to his posterity? Isn't it true that man's civilization must depend for its continuance on its being relearned generation by generation? And how, pray, can it be relearned? Only by speech, and man alone has speech. Without the power of articulate language there could be no civilization, no culture, for as Horne writes in his Education of Children in the Primary Grades: "Language is the treasure-house in which we store nuggets of experience. It is language that enables each generation to begin where the preceding one left off."

It is not difficult then to realize the importance of speech. But often we fail to recognize the value of beautiful speech. I have wondered if the old fairy tale which pictures the one girl with toads and frogs issuing from her mouth and the other giving out rubies and diamonds, was not meant to symbolize the "users" and "abusers" of good English. Beautiful English is certainly a delight to hear.

Now, fathers and mothers, years of experience have convinced English teachers that it is quite futile to attempt to teach even ordinarily correct English in school if the child does not hear it at home. The home usage is so much more frequently heard that it completely nullifies the school teaching.

Don't say it means nothing to speak correctly, for we know too well that we are impressed favorably by the beautiful sound of the words some persons use, and that we are, or at least many are, scornful of unnecessary mistakes.

Give your child a chance to use good English by letting him hear you use it.—E. C. C.

Your School

The grades for the second six weeks showed a decided upward trend. During the first six weeks 38 students failed to pass in at least three subjects. During the past six weeks, this number was brought down to 20. We hope to continue to decrease this number as the school year passes.

Thirteen students made grades of all B's or above during the past six weeks. The following students comprise this list: Betty Elder, Ola Mae Baird, Cleavel Laman, Irvine Scribner, Elizabeth Green, Susie Sims, Arlie Lee, Melvin Pettit, Wauline Haynes, Vercie Godwin, Maggie Burns, Blanche Brannon and Lora Lee Harris. This group is 9 per cent of the enrollment.

During the first 12 weeks of school 174 students enrolled, and 21 of this group withdrew, leaving our enrollment at the present time, 151.

Mobeetie needs a home economics cottage. This would not cost a great deal, and it would be money well invested. J. D. Wilson, deputy state supervisor, brought this thought home when he said that we should be teaching the girls to make homes, and in order to do this we should have room and equipment to make a real home.

The present home economics room is not large enough to "cuss a cat." By removing the department from the high school building, it would relieve the crowded condition there. Few patrons realize that more than 150 students are housed daily in the one small building. In the science room, for example, can be found all of the science equipment, all of the agriculture equipment, a victrola and a piano.

One can hardly tell at times whether it is a class room or a storage room.

Mr. Fowler and his agriculture boys are to be commended for trying to secure federal aid in improving the school yard. This is a project that has long been needed, and we sincerely hope that it will be approved by the government. Albert Edward Wiggam, in "Let's Explore Your Mind" recently stated that a community could be judged very accurately by looking over the cemetery. We believe that a community can be even more accurately judged by the appearance of the school building and the school yard.

The Fish Pond

The following is what some of the freshmen did on their Thanksgiving holiday:

George Gordon went to Shamrock. Willis Red headed maize. (Was it red-headed maize?) Lloyd Bell headed maize. Evelyn Taylor entertained cousins, Taylor and Harold Wright. (Are you sure they're cousins, Evelyn?) Loy Seitz worked on his car. Keep up your work, Loy. You'll be a mechanic someday.

Wauline Haynes read a book. What a bookworm! Ina Jene Bailey ate Thanksgiving dinner at the Corn Valley school house. Eileen and Aileen Lancaster visited relatives near Mobeetie. J. E. Moore spent the day at home. (For one time in his life.)

W. L. Mahan and his girl friend saw the Pampa-Amarillo game. John Compton saw the game and missed his dinner. Georgianna Morris cooked dinner at home. (Are you sure there hasn't been a secret funeral?)

Opal Barton went to a program at the Baptist church. What a good girl! Odessa Futch entertained company. (Male or female?) Maxine Patterson entertained relatives from Wellington. Thressa Godwin spent the night with Maurita Dunn.

The junior business class is progressing nicely. They are all busy on their term themes and different kinds of files.

Ask Mrs. Blankinship what time she got home from the school building Monday evening. (Did it happen that she accidentally got locked in?)

Fanny Bell Scribner who is attending W. T. S. T. C., Canyon, visited friends and relatives here during the holidays.

Home Ec. I Girls

The home economics I girls have been very busy. They are finishing their pajamas and starting on their dresses. They are also working on their home projects.

The girls had a very interesting class some time back. They were trying different colors on girls to see what color was best suited to the individual. We noticed what a beautiful green Margaret Johnson's blue eyes turned when green was placed around her face.

The girls are also making different shape collars and necks to see which are most suitable to each girl. All of the girls decided that Dora should not wear high neck collars because they make her look somewhat short.

SOPHOMORES

IF SO, WHY?

Does Margaret like riding in taxis so well?

What was Dora's business in Wheeler over the Thanksgiving holidays?

Did Ina get in very early Saturday night?

Polly was caught napping again over the week end?

Did Cotton buy so many extra pictures?

L. J. so sad because of certain members of the sophomore class moving to Shamrock?

Clarence Key is reported lots better because he ate such a large Thanksgiving dinner.

SPANISH CLUB

We Spanish students surely do enjoy cutting out paper dolls. We were required to paste a picture of ten fruits and vegetables on paper. As usual, everyone kept putting it off until class period. We thought that we would be given an F but our big-hearted teacher gave us a little more time. Such a stack of battered and torn magazines when we had finished with our papers!

Wednesday, we memorized an eight-line Spanish poem. A few students had to repeat their poem for prompting their neighbors.

R. L. Dunn said that he didn't see why it was that the Spanish language had so many irregular verbs. "The English language is not that difficult," he said. "Why," Miss Simpson said, "You have been studying English for 11 years and yet you sometimes use slang. When the Spaniards learn English, they speak better than we do."

R. L. said that he believed he would go to Mexico to learn English.

Blanche Chisum visited in Miami Thanksgiving.

Demonstration Club Entertains 4-H Girls

Buffet Luncheon Is Noon Feature
—Inspection Tour Deferred to Later Date

The Mobeetie Home Demonstration club entertained the 4-H club girls with a buffet luncheon at 12 o'clock, Tuesday, Nov. 26, at the home of Mrs. N. J. Tyson. Mrs. Pearl Ferguson and Mrs. C. C. Elder served as hostesses. Guests present were Miss Viola Jones, county home demonstration agent; Misses Dora Goodnight, Cleavel Laman, Geraldine Sims, Anna Lee Compton, Rosa Mae Tubbs, Lois Meek and Audrey Brewer.

A tour of inspection of pantries, bedrooms, etc., of club girls and women had been scheduled for that day, but the roads were impassable due to rain. The tour was postponed until Dec. 9, on which date the women's club will assemble at the home of Mrs. C. C. Elder for a trip.

All who are interested in club work and wish to join are urged to meet at Mrs. Elder's at 12:30, Dec. 9, and go on the tour of inspection with the present members.

JUST A MIXUP

It seems that the employes of the Inter-collegiate Press must think it is spring. The seniors were greatly surprised when they received their calling cards Monday as the cards should not have been sent until spring.

"Let's see your ring."

"Why it's just like mine."

Since Viola Tubbs received her ring Monday all seniors are now wearing 1936 rings. Her order was not sent with the rest and therefore did not arrive with the others.

The seniors are pleased to welcome Leo Smith to their class. He entered school Wednesday, Nov. 27.

There were many sighs of joy and sorrow in the senior class room when the report cards were passed out.

EXCHANGES

The Mobeetie Outlook received a letter from J. L. McCarty of the Dalhart Texan, stating that he would like to be on our mailing list, as he had seen an article from our paper in the Pampa Daily News.

The Outlook is "in the market" for exchanges and such, with other schools and papers and will appreciate any material on newspapering sent to them.

Many of the teachers went home to spend the Thanksgiving holidays. Those that stayed in Mobeetie reported a very enjoyable vacation. Following is the manner in which their various vacations were spent:

Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vars. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fowler spent their vacation in Lockney with their parents. Miss Elsie Simpson went to her home in Plainview.

Miss Lillian Davis and Miss Ethel Brasuel spent their vacation in Canyon. Miss Maybelle Veach of Shamrock, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Miss Ethel Brasuel in Canyon. Miss Veach teaches a third grade in Shamrock South Ward school.

JUNIOR BUSINESS TRAINING

We junior business folks are beginning one of the major problems of life from a business standpoint—and that is, to be able to file records of all descriptions in an accurate and neat form. We find that our alphabetical knowledge really is an essential in this course and will be much more essential when we really go to work on the job of making a living.

Wonder how many of you folks have thought in terms of budgets? Well, the habit of budgeting is a good one if we ever want to find the golden goose.

4-H BOYS AND GIRLS WILL ATTEND ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The Husky Go-Getters and the 4-H boys will attend the annual 4-H Achievement day program at Wheeler, Saturday, Dec. 7.

The morning session will be spent in recreation led by the president of the organization. The afternoon session will be held in the district court room where each club will give a report of the work it has done.

The 4-H club girls had a called meeting in the home economics room Tuesday to work on their stunt for the county-wide 4-H Achievement day program Saturday, Dec. 7.

The stunt is a historical one referring to early Texas history.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Mobeetie Football Banquet was a very enjoyable affair. D. A. Shirley did not get to attend but he sent a good substitute, Mr. Gillis. S. H. Condron made a wonderful speech. Everyone present agreed that he should come back to see us soon.

BURNS-MYERS

Miss Maggie Burns and Mr. Lynn Myers were quietly united in marriage Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1.

Mrs. Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Burns. She has lived here all of her life. She graduated from Mobeetie high school in 1935 and was valedictorian of the senior class.

Mr. Myers is the son of Mrs. A. W. Myers. He also attended high school at Mobeetie and is now working in the CCC camp at Perryton.

Their many friends wish them much success and happiness during their married life.

Mobeetie Wins Double Header in Basketball

Cagers Start Auspicious Season When Girls and Boys Trim Briscoe

The Mobeetie boys and girls started the basketball season for '35-36 with a bang by winning a double-header from the Briscoe Broncos.

The Briscoe boys were unable to stop the Hornets who, unlike the football squad, are showing prospects of a winning basketball team. Fisk played an outstanding game for the boys. The final score was 39-21. The starting lineup was:

Forwards, Fisk, Key; center, Crump; guards, Dyson, Patterson.

Dart and Bartram also saw service during the game.

The girls played an outstanding ball game and won easily with a score of 24-21.

Almost all the girls that are reporting for practice played a part of the game.

HOME EC. CLUB TO WHEELER

The Home Economics girls are planning a trip to Wheeler to attend a district home economics club meeting sponsored by the Wheeler Home Economics club. They will leave the high school building at 9:15 on Saturday, Dec. 7. Those girls who wish to go are requested to meet at the high school on or before the above stated time.

Purpose of this district wide meeting is to organize the clubs into various groups for future meetings.

HOME ECONOMICS BAZAAR

"What are you going to make?"

"A scarf with a wide fringe."

"You are. I am going to make a hot dish mat."

Expressions similar to these have been exchanged among the home economics girls lately. They are planning a Christmas bazaar for the second Saturday in this month. Some of the things they are making are book ends, scarfs, hot dish mats, hot panholders and monograms.

Before you do your Christmas shopping be sure that you have seen the nice gifts that the Home Economics girls will have. The proceeds will be used to buy books and magazines for the department.

Basketball Schedule Promises Big Season

Mobeetie Preparing for Series of Games—Invitation Tourney Dated on Jan. 10-11

Mobeetie has started what is believed will be her greatest season in basketball. There are invitations to the following tournaments:

Briscoe—Dec. 20-21.

Wheeler—Jan. 3-4.

Kelton—Jan. 17-18.

Allison—Jan. 24-25.

Canadian—Jan. 31-Feb. 1.

Then comes the annual Mobeetie tournament, dated for Jan. 10-11 this season.

Coach W. H. "Lefty" Fowler states that he expects to attend as many of these tournaments as is possible, in order to have his team ready for the county conference tournament. So far, no date nor place have been named for this tourney. Last year it was held in Mobeetie and was considered very successful. It is hoped that it will be here again this year.

Mobeetie cagers are trying to match games for this week end, as basketball here will be in full swing by that time.

JUST JUNIOR SURNAMES

The Cook and the Farmer and the Smith are here. A Herd we have, but not of deer. And there are Tubbs galore to hold great quantities of beer. Sims and Laman Walk(er) over the Green Ridgway and Lee to see the Seitz and hear the Hix of the Robi-son (robber's son) who has been to visit the Brewer. The Elder Laman drives the Meek Car(michael) to the Vernon Hotel where he finds Bartram with a bushy Baird, and she says it grew so Brown because she ate Bran(non).

The Simpson (sim's son) says this is silly and crazy to boot, but the Fowler cares not a hoot. We wrote this for fun and not for the "mun;" so, root-a-toot, toota-toot-toot!

WE WONDER—

Why these graceful seniors can't skate.

Irvine laughed so much coming from school Monday.

Who was Susie's visitor Thursday evening.

Why Nell smiles so much since Leo Smith has started to school.

Why those dignified seniors are so tight with their rings.

Why some of those sophomore dames are stepping out with seniors.

New Addition to Senior Class

The senior class wishes to extend a hearty welcome to a new—yet old—senior boy, Leo Smith. Leo was a senior last year, but we expect him to make just as good a one this year as last, even though he did graduate with the '35 bunch and try to leave us.

MOBEETIE GRADE SCHOOL

Attendance in the grade school has dropped from an average of 95 per cent to an average of 79 per cent since the first month of school. Many of the students are out of school for cotton picking, but we feel that these students could come to school on the days that they are unable to pick. If the parents of these children who are out will see that their children come to school on the days that they can't work it will be much easier for such children to make up the work they are missing.

Here is a comparison of the percentage of attendance of the first month with the third month. First grade, 95 to 78; second grade, 98 to 79; third grade, 97 to 81; fourth grade, 96 to 78; fifth grade, 96 to 86; sixth grade, 95 to 78, and seventh grade, 95 to 78.

There has been some misunderstanding about classification of some of the grade school students. If the parents of any child are not satisfied with the work the child is doing, or if you can give the teacher any information that will help the teacher in helping the child to do his work better, we urge you to come to school and talk these things over with the teachers.

The grade school had planned to pick cotton one day to get money to be spent for playground equipment, but since there are many people who need the work, we have decided to change our plan of making the money. We are planning to give a grade school program in connection with a pie supper, but the date has not been agreed upon at this time.

Grade School Honor Roll

The honor roll for the second six weeks is:

First Grade—Betty Ruth Brewer, Phyllis Blassingame, LaRue Flanagan, Virginia Futch, Bettie Hix and Ernestine Seitz.

Second Grade—Beula Bess Adams, Billy Jean Anglin, Maurita Lamon, Jean Patterson and David Tubbs.

Third Grade—Joyce Beck, Sammie May, Glorice Haynes, Jewel Eubanks, Mary Ellen Tubbs, Stacey Arnold and Carlton Laman.

Fourth Grade—Louise Almond, Robbie Ashely, Mary Belle Heare, Maurine Hunt, Marie Compton, Mary Louise Hogan, Neweta Williams and Carey A. Dysart.

Fifth Grade—Junior Barton, Dale Harrell, Juanita Beck and Mary Catherine Miller.

Sixth Grade—Maurita Dunn and Drummond B. Thomas.

The upper grades have made a B honor roll. The pupils on it are:

Fifth Grade—Arletta Jeffus, W. T. Seitz and Eugene Matthews.

Sixth Grade—Elda Gordon, Glenna Beryl Haynes and Thurman Creekmore.

Seventh Grade—Thirl Sims, DeLora Ferguson, Chester Green and Julia Mae Morris.

Geography Class

The sixth grade geography class has developed a fine spirit of co-operation and willingness to share materials in working up a scrap book entitled "Traveling Through Europe." In this scrap book you will find pictures, maps, charts, themes, graphs and newspaper items on the various European countries that the class has studied. They have filled one scrap book during their study of the maritime countries of Northwestern Europe and the western countries of the Great Lowland Plains. Mrs. Knowles will purchase a new scrap book for the study of the highland countries of Central Europe and the Mediterranean Peninsulas of Europe.

Attendance

At the end of the second six weeks a check was made of the pupils who have not been absent so far this year. The results show four girls and two boys in the first grade, three girls and two boys in the second, five girls and three boys in the third, four girls and three boys in the fourth, seven girls and six boys in the fifth, two boys in the sixth, and two girls and one boy in the seventh; making a total of 25 girls and 19 boys who have not missed a day.

Fifth Grade Shows Improvement

The fifth grade class has shown a great improvement in their class work this six weeks as compared to the first six weeks. Among the forty pupils enrolled the first six weeks there were 23 F's made. During the second six weeks there were only 16 F's made, out of the 344 grades given. There are 43 pupils enrolled and they are each graded on eight subjects. The 16 F's were made by seven pupils. Out of the 36 pupils left, four of them made the A honor roll, three made the B honor roll, 17 did not make below a C, and the remaining 12 had one or more D's on their cards.

The fourth grade has enrolled one new pupil this six weeks, Laverne Gill, who comes from Wheeler.

The following fourth grade pupils visited out of town during the Thanksgiving vacation: Harry Thomas visited his grandmother at Olton, Texas; Maurine Hunt spent a few days at Wheeler; Jack Dyson visited at Mangum, Okla., and Mineral Wells, Texas; Mary Belle Heare and Louise Almond both spent part of the vacation in Pampa; Neweta Williams went to Butler, Okla.; James Seedig visited in Briscoe and Hoyt Dunn attended the Shamrock-McLean football game Friday.

The fourth grade pupils are working out menus for a healthful breakfast, school lunch, and supper such as they might have; and then making menus for a breakfast, dinner and supper such as a little boy in Africa might have. They are finding out some very interesting things about foods.

A large map of Africa is being made in the fourth grade sandtable. The different regions of the country will be represented. The boys will build the different kinds of houses used in Africa and the girls will dress dolls to represent the people of the country. Spelling pads will be shaped like Africa and spelling lists will include many of the words used in the study of Africa.

The third grade has completed the unit on Indians and Pilgrims. They began their work on a Christmas unit today. Story telling hour will be taken up with Xmas stories. All reading will be worked up into a Christmas project. The children have collected many beautiful pictures to display in the room. The sandtable will represent a scene from the birth of Christ.

The sixth grade class of the Mobeetie grade school held their first class meeting Nov. 27. They elected as their sponsors Mr. Neece and Miss Brasuel. Their class colors are red and white, and their class flower is the chrysanthemum. They chose as their motto "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

They elected the following officers: President, Fred Sims; vice president, Wanda Sims; secretary and treasurer, Peggy Love; reporter, Maurita Dunn; assistant reporters, Elda Gordon and Drummond B. Thomas.

Their class meetings will be held every Monday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30.

Gratitude

By J. P. Meek

She took my hand in shadowed nooks,

She took my candy and my books, She took the lustrous wrap of fur, She took those gloves I bought for her.

She took my words of love and care, She took my flowers rich and rare. She took my ring with tender smile, She took my time for quite a while. She took my ardor, maid so shy, She took, I must confess, my eye. She took whatever I would buy And then she took some other guy.

ART CLASS NEWS

Students of the art class have been working on a project that they call an Art Magazine. Work of different types has been put together to make an interesting book for students to use. This is to be placed in the library. A new one is to be made each six weeks. Through this project we hope to acquaint the student body and faculty with work the art class is doing.

What's all the noise about? The answer is: The art class students are making what-not shelves, book ends, door stops, note book backs and many other crafts that will be suitable for Christmas gifts. So Santa may come to see you if you are good.

The agriculture boys who are taking art are drawing plans for proposed improvements on the school grounds.

Some of the biology and general science flies have entered our art class.

Junior What-Nots

We Juniors are growing frantic! Why doesn't a salesman visit Mobeetie with junior emblems? The seniors have already received their rings and we juniors haven't even ordered our emblems. 'Tisn't our fault!

Many of the juniors spent Thanksgiving out of Mobeetie.

Zelma Elliott and Pauline Oswald spent Thursday in Pampa visiting with the former's sister.

Odie Mae Porter is sporting a new permanent. Such a cluster of blonde curls on one head!

Myrtle Trusty spent the holidays in Petrolia, Texas.

R. L. Dunn, one of our football fans, witnessed the Pampa-Amarillo game Thursday.

Melvin Pettit, our sergeant-at-arms, now has his arm out of a sling. For the past two weeks he had his arm wrapped up. He acted as if he were afraid of getting his shoulder fractured.

We juniors heard:

That Blanche Chisum likes to go to church in a "Chevy." . . . That Vircie Godwin likes "Red Heads." . . . That A. B. Crump likes to shovel mud out of creeks on Sunday.

"THE EYE"

(Ordinary people are never mentioned in these paragraphs. This column is devoted to those that reach the sublime and the ridiculous).

Betty Elder was the only student in high school to make four A's during the past six weeks.

Melvin Pettit made the honor roll. He was the only boy that scored this month, and there are 74 other boys enrolled in school.

We heard that A. B. Crump dug a car out of the mud Sunday.

Odie Mae, why were you so down-hearted Monday? You'll have to learn not to go with the first person that comes along.

Irvine went wading Sunday. She plans to go swimming Christmas.

We heard that W. C. Ring decided he couldn't make the junior basketball team, so he turned in his suit to Leon Green.

Charles Hix: (Interviewing Mr. F.): "And how did you come over from the old country? In a boat?"

Mr. F.: "Sure! You didn't think I could swim that far, did you?"

If a fellow tries to kiss a woman and gets away with it he's a man; if he tries and doesn't get away with it he's a brute; if he doesn't try but would get away with it if he tried he's a coward; but if he doesn't try and wouldn't have gotten away with it if he tried, he's wise.

Ask Margaret how she came home from Pampa Thursday.

We hear that everyone from "ye olde editor" on down wonders who writes this column. We are like the proverbial three monkeys, in that we hear all, see all, and tell all; only we don't tell who writes the column.

Mr. Knowles was accused of writing these paragraphs, but I understand that he denied the accusation in no uncertain terms.

Leon Green is noted for his wise cracks.

Lois is going to have to learn to stand up in a pickup, otherwise she'll fall and break her neck.

Believe it or not, A. B. Crump had his bookkeeping Monday. He must have stayed at home Saturday night to get it.

The pictures came in Monday and next week we are going to tell why Fern received 18 pictures, and who got all of Cotton Zell's pictures.

As each succeeding first period librarian seems to get married every year, all the girls are trying to get the job since Maggie got married.

HISTORY NEWS

The American history class completed some very good time lines for their second six weeks work. Virgie Ashley showed much improvement in the real facts brought out in her time line over the first six weeks. The students that returned after the holidays have completed their novel reports and source reports. We are finding the post-Civil War problems to be very interesting. We American history students are tying up history facts.

While we modern history students are enjoying watching Napoleon and trying to remake the map of Europe after Napoleon was gone, we think the most interesting thing is how the people are getting the following "isms" into their countries—nationalism, liberalism, industrialism.

COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY

Hurrah! Have we had fun getting acquainted with our country? We have made its picture from many angles in the form of maps.

ABER AND JABER

Too Bad

Virgie: "What were you screaming about last night?"

Orval: "I had an awful nightmare. It was a leap year and you were chasing me and chasing me and chasing me, and you couldn't catch me."

Progress

Miss Simpson (in bookkeeping class): "Did you ever get that column added?"

Ishmael: "Well, I've added up all the noughts, but the 'figgers' are still botherin' me some."

Red Hot

Blanche: "If you don't get out immediately, I'll call the whole police department to put you out."

Paul (ardently): "Why, it would take the whole fire department to put me out."

Wrong Again

One of our football captains seems to have a special liking for Wheeler lately. You don't suppose John is about to score against the Wheeler lads. And I thought he was a woman-hater!

Card of Sympathy

We wish to express our heartfelt sympathy to Raymond Johnson in his sad hour of bereavement; for, we realize that Plymouths (especially nice new ones) do not grow on trees. Now, isn't that right?

J. B.: "What is the matter, Charlie?"

Charles: "I asked Nell if I could see her home."

J. B.: "Well, what did she say?"

Charles: "She said she would send me a picture of it."

"THE EYE?"

Who is this guy they call "The Eye?" If I ever find out who he is—well, "it" had better look out. It seems as if a fellow can't have a bit of peace with some guy snooping around like that and watching everything. How he is at so many different places at the same time is the thing that I can't understand. I have my suspicions and the life of the Mobeetie high school principal is in danger.

For Shame, Bill, My Boy!

'Twas the nite of Thanksgiving, And all through the car, Eyes were sleepily drooping, Miss Moon looked down from afar.

All at once, with a silly young titter, She began to laugh and got all in a jitter.

You see, in front were two sleepy boys

Who could scarce stay awake though the car made much noise.

Bill's head drooped dreamily low 'Till it rested on Paul's shoulder—just so.

Sharp laughs woke the sleeper, and red turned his map.

Severely, he settled his head (on the back of the seat) for his next cat nap.

Now, courting in public is not polite,

But Bill was for it Thanksgiving night.

What to do with the rascal, the scamp,

Is to find "her" a beau, now we've found "she's" a vamp.

Taxi, Hey Taxi!

The tidings have come to our ears that two little boys and two little girls went to Pampa Thanksgiving eve in a brand new Plymouth. But, of all things, they returned in a taxi! Of course, we wouldn't know, but may we inquire—aren't those animals dreadfully expensive?

Mr. Blankinship (in Texas history): "Ray, who was the first man?"

Ray: "George Washington, sir. 'First in war, first in peace—'"

Mr. Blankinship: "No, no, Ray, Adam was the first man."

Ray: "Oh! I didn't know you were speaking of foreigners."

Romeos or Skates?

Suste, Margaret and Nell were complaining of skinned elbows and knees Wednesday morning. We wonder who they fell for—or was it just those horrid, tricky skates?

Miss Viola Jones and Mrs. Jimmie Mitchner of Wheeler, were in Mobeetie Saturday afternoon.

Try a Times Wantad—5c a line.

Contest Semi-finals to Be Held Friday

Four Contestants to Be Eliminated, Leaving Two Girls, Two Boys In Run-off

Semi-final eliminations in the contest, for basketball queen and her escort will be held tomorrow (Friday). Four of the contestants will be eliminated, leaving two girls and two boys in the run-off. Final eliminations will be held a week from tomorrow.

The coronation will be held at the premier opening of the new gymnasium Thursday night, which will probably be Dec. 19. The winning boy will escort the queen to her throne.

Half of the money received will go to the athletic fund and the other half will be used toward purchasing a piano for the gymnasium. Votes are one penny each.

Those nominated from each class are: seniors, Cecil Sherwood and Rutha Mae Conner; juniors, Wallace Pendleton and Orveta Pueett; sophomores, Mildred Landress and R. J. Puckett; freshmen, Earl Gilmore and Geraldine Lewis.

Votes from Tuesday through Thursday were valued at 10 for one cent.

GIRLS MAKE POSTERS FOR JOE HILL LECTURE

Posters were received by the journalism class from Joe Hill, jr., last week advertising his talk on adventures while on the expedition with Admiral Byrd in Little America.

The posters were placed down town and in the high school and grammar grade buildings.

The girls who filled in additional information on the placards were Orveta Pueett, Dorothy Burgess, Julia Lou Tinney, Dawn Weatherly, Helen Sanders and Martha Alice Wiley.

Girls Attend 4-H Club Meeting

Mrs. Jim Trout called a meeting of the Wheeler 4-H club girls Tuesday morning to give them their parts in the play to be presented at the district club meeting next Saturday and to show them their year's club books. About 28 attended the meeting.

JUNIOR CAGE TEAM ELECTS GERALDINE LEWIS CAPTAIN

Geraldine Lewis, freshman, was elected captain of the junior basketball girls in a meeting held last Tuesday noon.

Coach Bob Clark met with the girls and helped them make plans for the coming season. Basketball practice will start in two weeks.

CLARK GIVES MAGICAL STUNTS AT SAN ANTONIO

Coach Bob Clark attended a teacher's convention at San Antonio during the Thanksgiving holidays, appearing before various civic clubs of that city in programs of magic. These clubs were the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Chamber of Commerce. Clark also entertained at several banquets at night.

He left San Antonio Saturday morning, Nov. 30, for Fort Worth and Dallas where he gave other performances at T. C. U. and S. M. U. He returned to Wheeler Sunday.

Dedication of Gym Is Set for Dec. 19

Plans are being made to have the premier opening of the gymnasium on the night of Dec. 19. The winning girl in the contest now being sponsored will be crowned as basketball queen and the boy getting the most votes will be her escort.

A play, "Safety First," under the direction of Robert Mayne assisted by the Rev. Taft Holloway, is being prepared by a group of high school students to be presented that night. Several novelty numbers will also be presented.

The new stage scenery and the new grand piano are expected to be here for use at the formal dedication of the building.

Wallace Pendleton is publicity chairman for the entertainment.

On Friday night following the dedication, the first basketball game will be played. Details of this game will be published later.

Arrival of Senior Rings Is Announced

Arrival of the senior rings was announced by Dorothy Burgess, secretary-treasurer of the senior class. The rings arrived last Saturday. Since all of the class had not paid, the jewelry was still in the post office at deadline time.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET FOR ORGANIZATION MONDAY

The Girl Scouts met at the Methodist church Monday night to organize once more.

Miss Lois Kirby was chosen for their leader. Officers elected were as follows: Martha Alice Wiley and Orveta Pueett, patrol leaders; Bonnie Adams, scribe; Ruth Faye Garrison, custodian of the scrap book.

Those present were: Ferrol and Lois Ficke, Aline Buchanan, Ruth Faust, Orveta Pueett, Dorothy Tolliver, Bonnie Adams, Ruth Faye Garrison and Martha Alice Wiley. Visitors were Louise Craig of Panhandle and Florence Merriman.

Mrs. Gordon Whitener attended to business in Oklahoma City Sunday.

B. & P. W. HELP FURNISH HOME EC. DEPARTMENT

The Business and Professional Women's club gave the home economics department four sheets, two pairs of pillow cases and enough money to buy a bedspread and dresser scraf last week.

"I wish to express my appreciation to the Business and Professional Women of Wheeler in helping to furnish the department. These things will help us a great deal, as it costs much to furnish the cottage completely," states Mrs. Gordon Whitener, instructor of home economics.

STUDENTS' FACES BEAR BLOODTHIRSTY LOOKS FOR VARIOUS CAUSES

Why don't we all get "mad" and start a revolution right here in this high school building? Everyone is going around with his lips dragging on the ground and its very dangerous because someone is liable to step on that lip and then the trouble would begin.

Those Ethiopians with bloody daggers hanging from their sides would run with fright if they could see that bloodthirsty expression on some of the students' faces.

Some of the students would probably be glad if war would break out among the high school kids and several people would get killed, because they might turn out for the funeral. The only thing that will keep down the revolution is the thought that everyone is mad at everyone else and it would be just a conglomerated mess in which the victor would not know whether he had won or lost.

Well, folks, I'll just tell you the cause of some of this madness. The senior rings are here but the treasurer can't get them out of the post-office because all of the seniors haven't paid yet. Another thing is the students want a mile when you give them an inch and that causes them to want to stay out of school for a month when you tell them they can have a half week's holiday. Another thing is that the gym is nearly completed and the boys and girls just can't wait till the time to start playing. Well, anyway, I hope that everything turns out all right. It might be advisable if the sheriff would hang around a few days until the "mad" wave blows over.

Senior Class Sponsors Tournament

The senior class sponsored a forty-two tournament at the high school building on Nov. 26. Those who were appointed on the committee to get card tables and sets of dominoes were: Mazie Bean, Ruth Faye Garrison, Dorothy Burgess and Rutha Mae Conner.

Because the tournament was arranged on such short notice, only a small crowd was present.

Home Ec. Girls Are Hostess to District

Purpose of Meeting Here Saturday Is Organization—Centennial Is Program Theme

Again the Home Economics club of Wheeler has the honor of being hostess to the district meeting, to be held Saturday, Dec. 7. In a letter from the state supervisor, Miss Lillian Peek, it was stated that Wheeler was chosen to entertain this district.

The program for Saturday is as follows:

- 9:30-10 o'clock—Registration.

- Tea at Home Ec. Cottage.

Birthday of Carnegie Is Celebrated During Month of November

Nov. 25 is the birthday of Andrew Carnegie, great American manufacturer and philanthropist. He was born in Scotland on Nov. 25, 1835.

Carnegie worked his way to fame while very young. He is noted because of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, which he established.

Of this organization it was said: "The objects of this corporation shall be to encourage in the broadest and most liberal manner investigation, research and discovery, and the application of knowledge to the improvement of mankind." There are branch libraries of this corporation all over the United States.

He is also noted for several other organizations such as Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Carnegie Foundation for Advancement of Teaching and the Carnegie Hero Funds.

The month of November was celebrated as Carnegie month in honor of this great philanthropist who said, "I would consider it a disgrace to die rich."

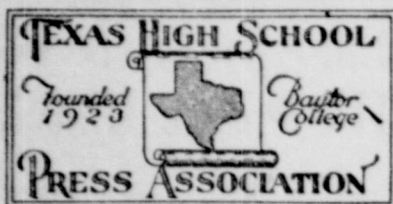

Irene Hunt visited friends and relatives in Pampa during the holidays.

DON'T BE A PARASITE

When a school entertainment is given, the sponsors should pay for some of the publicity they get in the local paper. Instead, the Corral runs several news stories and features in advance and the organization giving the play or program lets it go at that.

This isn't fair to C. G. Miller, the editor of The Wheeler Times. Printing costs the printer something in time and materials and since Mr. Miller charges for advertising other things, he should be paid for the publicity he furnishes for school affairs.

As far as paid advertising is concerned the Wheeler high school has been a parasite to every editor who has printed the high school paper.

Advertisements are noticed because they are in large type and news stories, since they are printed alike, are not so distinctive. Classes or other organizations connected with the school should not ask to get advertising done free. School activities should be advertised in The Wheeler Times.—M. A. W.

HARI-KARI ON THE HIGHWAY

Is hari-kari committed in highway accidents?

Hari-kari is the rather complimentary term given suicide when committed by a Japanese gentleman of standing. If dishonor has befallen a home, the head of the Japanese household quietly resigns all honorary positions and calls close relatives together to witness the impressive ritual that is consummated with ceremony by the man thrusting a sword in his heart. Generally, the weapon is an antique that may have been witness to other hari-kari acts among the gentleman's illustrious ancestors.

In auto accidents which are due to the manipulator's negligence, a form of suicide is enacted similar to hari-kari with customary preparations and lacking honor.

Drivers of automobiles rush headlong into death, which perhaps they do not meet the first time they run a red light, demonstrate how the used "bus" will do 70 without opening it up wide and how gravity keeps a car from turning over when a corner is made on one wheel. These reckless drivers will become a victim of highway suicide sooner or later, as statistics prove that hundreds of thousands did in 1934 and the years previous.

Through drinking just a "snifter" of liquor or slightly alcoholic beer, the body senses are dulled and in the first stage of intoxication the person is an easy prey to auto suicide.

Perhaps the still form lying in the morgue, victim of an automobile wreck, mutilated beyond recognition, hadn't intended suicide but the corpse attests to the fact that hari-kari minus the honor and ceremony was committed on the highway.—B. M. M.

Grand Old Course Known As English Offers Knowledge

Knowledge! Knowledge! Knowledge! If you want to gain more knowledge just take the grand old course called English. It has been taught for centuries and is today one of the most useful subjects. In high school English is offered all four years and is the only subject that is required every year.

The seniors have studied this year description, narration, letter writing and grammar. The juniors and seniors under the teaching of Miss Bernie Addison are required to get, outside of their class work, 100 lines of poetry, by memory, 30 points in reading, equal to 3,000 pages, including four required books, 10 short stories and 10 articles from current magazines. The juniors have studied short story writing, biographies and poems of the major poets in American literature.

The sophomores have studied grammar, parts of speech, elements of the sentence, and written, as well as oral, themes. Robert Mayne teaches the second year English.

Mrs. J. L. Gilmore is having a fine time instructing the freshmen how to write essays and explaining the much-dreaded Julius Caesar. The class intends to study Stevenson's "Treasure Island" in the near future.

SAGE BLOOMS

When I Hit Back

My mother told my brother to pick up some cobs to burn under the wash pot. He wanted me to help. I told him I wasn't going to help him but he kept on for me to go but I wouldn't. We quarreled for a while and he decided he would go and get them himself. After he was gone mother made me go help.

When I had almost reached where he was working, he began throwing cobs at me. He kept on until he hit me. When he hit me it made me so angry that I picked up one and threw at him. It hit him in the nose and made it bleed.

He began crying and went to the house and told mother what I had done before I had a chance to tell what he had done. Mother called me to the house and gave me a whipping and sent me back to get the cobs by myself.

Lamp flashes carry messages between dormitories at Tech. Tsh, tsh, what next?

The senior class of Austin high school made a drive to get things for the needy of Austin before Thanksgiving. This is done each year by the seniors.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO ASSIST WITH HOME ECONOMICS MEET

The Parent Teachers are planning to assist the home economics department by serving luncheon to out-of-town visitors who attend the district meeting here Saturday.

The regular P.-T. A. meeting Tuesday had an excellent attendance. Parents, especially, are urged to attend these regular meetings and help make our school year a success.

COLTS

After having a glorious Thanksgiving to make the students forget the six weeks examinations, the grammar grade children are back to continue their work. Time is now at hand to start getting ready for the coming of Santa. The decorations in the different rooms are already being changed and Christmas decorations are put in their stead.

Brilliant second graders are getting ready some letters to send to their parents, urging them to come to the Parent-Teachers association. Many of the booklets with a large turkey on the front are being put behind covers and the friend of all little children is being put in the turkey's place.

The sixth and seventh grade students are still preparing for the contest in essay writing for which a prize is to be given from station KGNC of Amarillo. The students who have entered this contest are: Joyce Faust, Lois Conner, Mary Nell Burke, Marcell Farmer, Juanita Griffin, Nona Webb and Lombre Brazil. The one who writes the best essay from this group will be the one whose essay will be sent to the Amarillo station.

Mrs. C. J. Meek still has half a hundred students plus one. The loss of one student week before last left only 50 children but the gaining of one more this week caused the number to rise to 51.

Many of the students are still absent but the causes are not known. Several of the teachers have said that the students are starting to work as if they thought Santa would not come to see them if their grades were not better next six weeks.

Next Thursday night at the Rogue theatre the senior class is sponsoring a program in which the child movie star, Jane Withers, appears in her latest picture, "This Is the Life." The usual admission price will prevail.

However, a special feature of interest to every person attending is effective for this program designed to raise funds for use in senior class activities. Any member of the class will be glad to explain the details to interested persons.

WORLD CITIZENSHIP TOPIC OF PROGRAM AT P.-T. A.

"World Citizenship" was the theme of the program at the Parent-Teachers association meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the music room of the high school building.

Two short numbers were given by the third graders. Mrs. D. A. Hunt gave the "Duties of the Room Mothers." "Geography as a Basis for World Citizenship" was discussed by Miss Ruth Ewing and Principal C. B. Witt talked on "Teaching Patriotism in the School."

The Wampus Cat

(With Apologies to Odd)

Silly somethings: A Corral news reporter was so befuddled that she used "orchard tense" instead of orchid tints in a news story. . . Eddie Cantor can hardly sing his theme song for applause from his ardent fans. . . A bouquet to Ford Newkirk, one swell guy. Not very many college studes are home for the holiday feast.

The week end was simply crammed with interesting football games. Bobby Wilson, quarterback for S. M. U., has certainly gone places in grid history. . . Marvin Montgomery contributes extra feature stories each week to this sheet. So dizzy one day that when asked to see if drop-kick was hyphenated that I turned to the definition for hyphen.

Utterly sick of the gruesome murder stories stuffed on the front pages of newspapers. A murder novel with suitable background and camouflaged with adjectives is preferable. A feat worthy of Malcolm Campbell's driving ability to "make" Pampa Thursday afternoon in a car without brakes.

"O'Shaughnessy's Boy" one of the most dramatic of all Beery pictures. "Top Hat" a gala musical success. . . Here's to you—"I came near selling my shoes today." "How was that?" "Well, I had them half-soled."

Unless a new disease epidemic breaks, I'll be able to hear Joe Hill speak. A definition for a college—a stadium surrounded by buildings where the faculty "hangs out." Football is becoming an institution in Wheeler schools since practically all boys who play either as Ponies or Colts are eligible to receive sweaters.

"Better watch out, better not pout." Only 20 days 'till Christmas. Mae West may "Go to Town," but we don't mind if Santa comes to town.

RAMBLINGS ON THE RANGE

Bonnie Adams went to Amarillo last Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Bernie Addison visited relatives in Amarillo during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Supt. and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore and Earl visited in Turkey, Thursday and Friday and attended the football game between S. M. U. and T. C. U. Saturday.

Miss Winona Adams was in Amarillo during Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Lois Kirby spent her four-day vacation in McLean.

C. B. Witt visited relatives on the farm Thanksgiving day.

Miss Francis Alice Clarke spent the Thanksgiving holidays at her home in Canyon.

Louise Craig from Panhandle was visiting in school Monday.

Dorothy Tolliver and Orveta Puett visited in Pampa Thursday afternoon.

SPARKS FROM THE CAMPFIRE

Children need models more than critics.

Opportunity knocks softly; it does not use a battering ram.

Neither gold nor grandeur can render us happy.

Nothing is so popular as goodness.

Every noble life leaves the fiber of it interwoven forever in the work of the world.

Rome was wrecked on the rocks of greed.

Caught in
The Lasso's Noose

Ferrol Ficke, Imogene Jamison, Bonnie Adams and Martha Jane Shipman spent the day with Aline Buchanan, Sunday. Mrs. Buchanan served brains because she thought it appropriate.

Opal was surely enjoying herself Saturday night in the drug store after the show. If you want further information ask O. D.

What makes Dorothy Winkler go to the library so often, usually the last period? Maybe Amos has something to do with it.

Herbert, who was the girl friend Sunday night, or maybe I should ask Ruth Faye.

Wonder what our superintendent would do if it weren't for his wife to prompt him when he is making an announcement in the study hall?

Feature Ocie, a senior in high school, not knowing where to buy sewing thread. Would you have thought it of him?

"Calling all gossip!" "Calling all gossip!" And thus issues forth the plea for gossip articles to fill the column each week.

"F's" appear on record when journalism reporters fail to submit one article each week. The gossip column tries to interest all the students by "gossiping" about different students.

Cecil: "I would have gone to church Sunday, but I was just too lazy." (Well, well, here's an honest student for you).

The seniors want a name for their pig. It has attracted a great deal of attention already.

I think there is a new love affair in the school. Irene and W. J. are seen together frequently.

Mary Genthe is all a-flutter. Why? Because she has, at last received a letter from Monterey, Mexico.

Will the football king crown the queen or will the queen put a knot on the king's crown? Suppose this will be the case if the senior king and the junior queen or the senior queen and the junior king should be elected?

Freshman: "I don't know."
Sophomore: "I am not prepared."
Junior: "I don't believe I can add anything to what has been said."

I heard that two senior girls had a swell Thanksgiving "all by themselves." Can you guess who they were? Well, it was Rutha Mae and Dorothy Mae.

Here's hoping the cast in "Safety First" isn't so frisky as the one in "Meddlesome Maid" last year.

Mr. Mayne: "This history class reminds me of the monkeys I saw in Denver, Colo. You are always chattering."

Wallace: "I bet you saw me."
Mr. Mayne: "I wasn't positive it was you, but it might have been."

Movie Chatter

By a Rogue

The Prescott Kid

Well, here you are folks! Old Tim McCoy is back with us again. This time he appears in The Prescott Kid and is sure to afford you plenty of thrills with his daring. He rides forth as the master of his wide domain, defying wrong and seeking justice for all. He is truly the son of the wide open spaces, and in the role of the Prescott Kid he will draw your deepest devotion. He will be at the Rogue Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee. Also, there will be two good comedies, Krazy Kat and a Sport reel. Saturday matinee starts promptly at 2 o'clock, and the first night show at 6:30. Three or more shows will be run Saturday night, states Lee Guthrie.

Broadway Melody of 1936

The show that "is so new that it is a year ahead" comes to the Rogue, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 9-10, starring Eleanor Powell, the world's greatest tap dancer, and Jack Benny of radio fame. The rest of the supporting cast reads like a who's who from the stage and radioland. This is truly the greatest musical extravaganza of the whole year. And when we say great, we mean GREAT, as compared to any musical comedy that has ever been produced since talking pictures. Owing to the cost involved in making the picture and the license fee required of the local theatre, this picture will be run at a slight increase over regular admission, namely: 10c and 35c. Also a comedy entitled Donkey Baseball will be shown.

This is the Life

Colts to Be Awarded Football Sweaters

The following Colt players have been recommended by Coach Bob Clark to receive sweaters especially designed for the second and third teams. These boys were not picked just because they have played 16 quarters, but because they have shown good sportsmanship and clean playing; they have practiced every day possible and have co-operated with Coach Clark.

The sweaters will be slip-over style in gold with a black letter "W" and will have Colts spelled out beneath. It is necessary that these boys pass all school work in order to receive a sweater award.

Eligible players are:

Havenhill, Grady; Page, Amos; Badley, J. D.; Flynt, Edgar; Adams, Carrol; Havenhill, Lewis; Robison, Guy; Puckett, R. J.; Young, H. E.; Crowder, J. B.; Forest, Joe; Havenhill, Leslie; Hall, Harrison; Gunter, Albert; Nations, Alton; Farris, R. P.; Red, Charles.

The following boys who played on the Pony team will receive sweaters. These players did not letter on the high school team but worked out every afternoon and helped to make the main string what they were.

Boys to receive sweaters are:

Pace, Ocie; Jamison, Junior; Shipman, Troy; Parsons, James.

Colts Schedule

Pony Schedule

0 Magic City	Wheeler 6
--------------	-----------

And so the football season closes with the Ponies playing the last game with the Magic City Eagles. Just between you and me and the future Mustangs, these horses intend to pull the Eagle's tail feathers and send them home screaming. Go get 'em, Ponies!

Stratton of McLean, McIntyre of Shamrock, Bobby Wilson, S. M. U., and Lawrence of T. C. U. are making football history and will probably have the spotlight of attention for the next few years. They were playing ball and a jam-up good game at that in the games over the week end to decide district champions.

The players mentioned were outstanding for their passing and line penetrations. Stratton and McIntyre are possibilities for the all-district football team and Wilson, who plays halfback, and J. C. Wetzel, guard of S. M. U., are to be mentioned as all-American prospects.

There has been some indecision over the guests the Stanford Indians invite to the Rose Bowl, but at the present writing Southern Methodist University seems probable.

Practically all boys who played enough football to letter will receive sweaters if they pass the required number of subjects. The Mustang sweater will be like the ones of last year, black with gold, and a black "W" and the customary stripes on the sleeves, denoting experience. The Ponies will have sweaters practically the same as the Colts, the main part of the sweater will be gold with the team's name on each and the letter "W" in black on the front.

W. J. Ford, Herbert Whitener and Bob Tillman were in Pampa Friday.

CLUB NOTES

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of Wheeler County

In her wardrobe demonstration for the Pagan Home Demonstration club for this year, Christina Pagan has six shelves 3x3 feet and three shelves 1x2 feet, which are used for folded garments and books. They are covered with oilcloth of a cream color with small orange flowers and green stems and leaves. On one wall is a laundry bag, and on the door are pockets for slippers. The walls of the closet are papered with white and silver colored paper, which tends to give more light in the closet. A rod for hanging extends from one side of the closet to the other, with a rack for belts at one end. On one of the shelves are two hat racks, painted green.

As pantry demonstrator for 1933, Mrs. Paul Macina has 14 shelves, seven of which are 12 feet long and seven of which are 10 feet long. They are all four inches wide, which makes it quite easy for Mrs. Macina to find the food she selects in preparing a meal. She has 546 containers of food a sack of Irish potatoes and a bag of kraut.

Mrs. J. W. Stauffer, as co-operator in pantry work, has canned 174 quarts of fruit, meat and vegetables. She has four shelves 1x18 feet. Mrs. Paul Stauffer, demonstrator in wardrobe work, has a shelf 3x6 for quilts, one shelf 4x5 and one 2x5 for folded garments. Under the curtain around her dressing table are two more shelves, each of which is 1x5 feet. One is used for a shoe rack and the other for folded garments. She has a rod for hanging. On the door of the closet are several pockets. In her bathroom, Mrs. Stauffer has a heater made of a discarded gasoline tank, and in the basement the three windows are made of discarded car windows.

Stored products in Miss Louise Risian's pantry are sweet potatoes, winter onions, apples, pears, Irish potatoes, meat, several jars of lard, and six gallons of kraut. She has six shelves four inches by fourteen feet. In her wardrobe she has a rod for hanging and hat rack above it in one corner of her bedroom. This is covered with a curtain.

"One of the great advantages of being a pantry demonstrator is that the person cleans her basement," stated Mrs. C. P. Gott to members of the Lela Home Demonstration club and the Lela 4-H club at her home Wednesday. After cleaning the basement, she had 16 shelves 1x4 feet, and four 1x5 feet built and painted green. She has 572 containers of 41 varieties of food. On the emergency shelf she has onions, peppers, canned ham, canned hamburger, crackers, macaroni, pop corn, apple jelly, chili, carrots, cabbage, cheese, butter, canned corn, apples, dried beans, Irish and sweet potatoes, walnuts, peanuts, peaches and a jar of cocoa, sugar, and flour mixed together ready to be put with the egg and milk for chocolate pies.

In remodeling her bedroom, Jimmie McCormick, 4-H club girl, tore the old paper off the room, nailed pasteboard on the walls to prevent the rains soaking through, tacked old sheets and curtains over the pasteboard and then papered the room. With strong lye water she took the old paint off her bed and repainted and varnished it. She bought a mattress pad and a mattress cover and made a spring cover of worn trousers. A writing desk was made of a discarded victrola and varnished. For her washing table, she bought a pitcher and washpan to match, an oilcloth and a mirror. In one corner she has a "what-not" shelf, and on the wall are two scenery pictures she bought. At one side of the room is a cedar chest. She made the closet in her room longer, and built a door for it of two boxing planks. At the top is a shelf 1x5 feet for quilts, and at one side are three shelves 1x2 for folded garments. At the other side is the rod for hanging and a rack for belts. On the door is a bag for soiled handkerchiefs. Below the shelves is a shoe rack.

Doris Mayfield, 4-H club girl, has 821 quarts of 38 varieties of food in her pantry. She has four shelves 1x12, and four 1x8. They are painted white. Four of the shelves were taken from the cellar to her pantry, and four were built. Her stored products are popcorn, dried apples, pecans, peanuts, green tomatoes, ripe tomatoes, three kinds of dried beans, sweet potatoes, pumpkins, watermelons, dried peas, apples, a box of homemade soap and three pods of vine okra.

Since July, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harris, who live in the Bethel community, have made a level green lawn on a place that was a sand bed before. Six cottonwood trees and several salt cedars were set out. At the north side of the house is a well-trimmed shinnery thicket, which furnishes shelter for the chickens and a wind-break for the house, and screens the barn and other outbuildings. Eight grape vines have been started from cuttings.

As yard demonstrator for the Bethel Home Demonstration club, Mr. and Mrs. Harris will extend the salt cedars along the north side of their lawn, making a hedge to screen the garden. Flowers and shrubbery that will last from year to year will be placed for a foundation planting near the house. The sandy driveway south of the house will be sodded and more trees will be set out.

Eight hundred thirty-three quarts of 45 varieties of fruit, meats and vegetables, of which 160 cans were canned this year by Mrs. John Grogan, Ramsdell 4-H Pantry Demonstrator for this year. Her six shelves in the basement are 1x12 feet. She has some dried beans and seven bushels of sweet potatoes. Mrs. Grogan exchanged some things she raised for things she did not have, as several pantry demonstrators have done.

"I have made three closets, and each one I made, I liked better than the last one," stated Mrs. Hester Dodson to members of the Twitty Home Demonstration club as they viewed her wardrobe demonstration Monday morning. Mrs. Dodson plans to build her fourth closet in January. The one she now has cost $3.35, which included lumber, paper, paint and cretonne. She has six shelves four feet long, one of which is two feet wide, and the others are a foot wide. One is used for slippers, one for suitcases and bags, and the others for folded garments. Below her shelves is a large, papered pasteboard box, used for laundry. At the back of the closet are nine small pockets made of cretonne. Mrs. Dodson was wardrobe demonstrator in 1931.

Although Mrs. Glen King was not pantry demonstrator this year, she has canned 1,205 containers of 221 varieties, valued at $258.19. On Nov. 14, 1934, she had 726 quarts of fruit, meat and vegetables, and on Nov. 14, 1935, she had $68 1/2 quarts. From her produce during that time, she received $306.85, and spent $107.11 for groceries, making a net profit of $299.74. Besides all the canned articles on her emergency shelf in the kitchen, she has eggplant, cabbage, peppers, tomatoes, ham, home-made bread, cake, pears, eggs, butter and cream. In her pantry she has stored potatoes, tomatoes, pumpkins, cushaws, fresh onions, mustard, peppers, pears, turnips and watermelons. Mrs. King saved the tin cans from the tomatoes and oysters she bought, and canned in them. She was pantry demonstrator in 1934.

The cost of Mrs. George Braxton's closet was 10 cents, which was spent for nails. It was made of scrap sheetrock and scrap lumber. She has four shelves 1x3 feet. The rod for hanging was made of a windmill sucker rod, painted white. The 4x5 foot shoe rack was made of an apple crate. The closet is papered like the room. As yet, she does not have the top shelf for her quilts or a door for the closet, but she plans to have these as soon as possible. Mrs. Holt Green, as pantry demonstrator for the club this year, has canned 1,014 containers of 140 varieties of food, valued at $252.93. She has seven shelves 1x14 feet. On her emergency shelf she has four meals prepared as follows: breakfast—grape fruit halves, cereal, milk, plain omelet, and buttered toast; dinner—tuna fish patties, mustard greens, sweet pickled peaches, milk, lima beans, corn and blackberry cobbler; supper—cream of tomato soup, meat loaf, cake, milk, peaches and whipped cream, and her sick meal, consisting of oyster soup, poached egg, buttered toast, peaches and tomato juice.

Some of her stored products are peanuts, cabbage, white lima beans, pinto beans, Irish and sweet potatoes, green tomatoes, jumbo pumpkins, pie pumpkins, sweet potato pumpkins, citron, seed sweet potatoes, popcorn, watermelon, pie squash, spaghetti squash, cushaw and turnips. Besides the four meals on her emergency shelf, she has grape fruit, bananas, apples, oranges, fresh coconuts, pecans, a box of raisins and a box of prunes. In her Electro-lux, she has stored part of a beef and some cheese. The shelves of her pantry are painted white. Total cost of her pantry was $10.40.

All the members of the Heald Home Demonstration club have shelves in their pantries, excepting one new member who enrolled Tuesday when the club made a tour of their demonstrators' work since they have been organized.

Mrs. George Reneau, pantry demonstrator for this year, has canned 2,190 quarts of 43 varieties of fruit, meats and vegetables. She has eight shelves 1 1/2 x 9 feet. Mrs. E. H. Kreamer, who was pantry demonstrator a few years ago, has canned 500 containers of food, of 42 varieties. She has two shelves six inches by 10 feet, two eight inches by 10 feet, and two 1x10 feet.

Mrs. Nida Green, pantry demonstrator in 1934, has approximately 25 varieties and 300 containers of food. She has stored apples, sweet potatoes and hot pepper. Five of her shelves are 1x7 feet, and six are six inches by six feet. Mrs. Woody Green, wardrobe demonstrator for this year, has made a closet with two rods for hanging, and two shoe racks. She has a rack for ties and belts, and four shelves 1x3. Pockets of a light color are fastened on the door. Her closet is painted a pale blue, and papered a light color to match the bedroom.

Mrs. Jack Bailey has a low rod for hanging where her small son's shirts, suits and jackets are hung, and a high rod for hanging her clothes. She has five shelves 1x4 for folded garments, and one shelf 3x4 for quilts. On the door are two pockets made of cretonne. Two shoe racks have been made below the shelves. Mrs. Olen Davis, who won second in the state of Texas on her closet in 1933, has a low rod for the children's clothes, and another rod for her clothes. She has five shelves 1x4 feet and a shoe rack below them. Her shelf for quilts is 2x4 feet. At the back of the closet is a rack for ties. Her closet is papered a light color.

Since November, 1934, Mrs. Zura Bullock, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Davis Home Demonstration club, and her family of six have eaten 407 quarts and 72 No. 2 cans of food, 75 pounds of beef, 120 pounds of bacon and 400 pounds of pork, which had the total value of $153.60. At the present time she has 304 quarts and 22 No. 2 cans of food in her pantry, and 48 hens and pullets. She has had 248 dozen eggs, 153 dozen of which they ate and the other 95 dozen they sold, which had a total value of $41.42. They have an adequate year-round milk supply. Mrs. Bullock has made 30 pounds of cheese, valued at $5.00. Her canning expenses for the year, including garden seed and lumber for shelves for the pantry, has been $20.15.

"My food bill for this year has been much less than in past years," stated Mrs. Bullock to members of her club as they made their tour Wednesday.

Nineteen quarts of pumpkin were canned from one pumpkin by Mrs. Lena Harvey, pantry demonstrator for the Bethel Home Demonstration club in 1930. This year she has canned 658 quarts or 1,136 containers of 60 varieties of fruit, meat, and vegetables for her family of four, and 40 quarts for other people. She has eight shelves 1x5 and 10 boxes full of fruit. Mrs. Harvey also showed members of her club, as they made their tour Thursday of the demonstrations since 1927, her wardrobe demonstration. On the door of the wardrobe are 17 pockets of pink print material. A shelf 1x4, on which are three hat racks, extends across the top of the closet, and at one side are five shelves 1x2 for folded garments. The shelves and hat racks are painted a light grey. She has two rods for hanging, one of which is low enough for the little boy to hang his suits and coats without difficulty. Below the rods is a rack for slippers.

Mrs. Burley Morgan has a wardrobe 2x11 feet, which has two partitions. In one side are two shelves, 2x3, for quilts and suitcases. In the center is a rod for hanging, above which is a shelf 2x5. Two hat racks, made of pasteboard boxes, are on this shelf. In the other side are four shelves 2x3, the top three being used for folded garments and the lower one for slippers. The three doors of the closet are painted white.

Mrs. Roy Oswalt, pantry demonstrator in 1930 for the Twitty club, has moved to Bethel, and dug a cellar 8x12 feet, the top of which is sheet iron, and built eight shelves 1x12. She has canned 750 quarts of 42 varieties of food. Her stored products are brown beans, popcorn, four bushels peanuts, 30 pounds butter beans, three bushels sweet potatoes, seed sweet potatoes and one bushel onions.
