THE JUNCTION EAGLE

RANDOM OBSERVATIONS

The Junction Eagle will this week deliver to the Chamber of Commerce 10,000 folders printed in three colors, descriptive of this county which will be circulated by the business men and merchants of the town. This folder is an excellent piece of work and is a little above the average coming from a country shop. It is hoped that these folders will be given wide circulation by the members of the Chamber of Commerce and others who care to mail them to friends residing outside the county and State, as they are very attractive and will create a lively interest in the Llano and Kimble County.

We are in receipt of a large booster edition, or rather a Development Edition, of the Comanche Chief. This edition contained 60 pages of interesting reading matter and well displayed advertising by the merchants of that city. Mr. M. D. Shirley of Brownwood assisted the management of the Chief in the issuing of this splendid edition. The business men and merchants of Comanche are to be commended for their wholehearted support and congratulated upon the successful efforts of the management of the Chief in issuing this sixty-page Development Edition.

Workmen are gradually coming to the finishing work on the Junction State Bank building. The filligree work on the very top of the north side and east end gives the building a very satisfying and finished appearance. The work of plastering the inner walls was begun this week and will require several days to complete, when the plaster will then be applied to the outer walls of the upper floor. The building will be equipped with steam heat and all other modern conveniences, and when completed will add much to that part of the city.

The old building known as the Dr. Rogers office building is being removed from the lot to be replaced by a concrete building of approximately 28x85 feet, two stories. This will be erected by M. E. Blackburn and adjoin the one of similar dimensions now under construction by Frank Bissett. John D. Braley has the contract for both buildings.

The public will please bear in mind that Long Distance Booths will be found at Hankins Drug Store, City Cafe, Fritz Hotel, Hodges Hotel and at the business office of the company next to post office. Local people will do us a favor by sending strangers to one or the other of these places instead of to the Exchange office.

Junction Telephone Co.

The Texan Theatre will have on its bill for Wednesday night of next week, Reginald Denny in "Alias the Deacon," and Saturday of this week, for matinee and night, Johnnie Hines in "China Town Charlie." Visit the Texan oftener and prove to manager Lockley that we appreciate his efforts to give the very best shows obtainable.

Albert Bartley closed a deal last week whereby he disposes of his ranch of 1,200 acres, known as the Mack Huffman place, to Mr. J. D. Lucas. Mr. Bartley will give immediate possession and move to his place further up the river directly opposite Seven Hundred Springs.

A light shower Tuesday evening cooled the atmosphere and eliminated the dust for a short time. With all the water available it seems strange that the streets of Junction should remain dusty. Why not start the sprinkler?

A ten days' revival will be opened Saturday night at Eight Mile school house, conducted by Rev. Barney Jackson, a San Antonio evangelist. Everyone who can is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

REPRESENTATIVE OF WEST TEXAS C. OF C. HERE

Mr. B. Frank Bennet, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was in Junction Wednesday for the purpose of enrolling members for the year in the West Texas Organization. A special call meeting for the Chamber of Commerce was held on the Court House lawn at which time thirty memberships in this organization were sold to the following business men of Junction:

Dr. Standifer, Junction Telephone Co., W. J. Blackburn, McDonald Chevrolet Co., Buster's Barber Shop, Junction Publishing Co., Stevenson & Baker, Grande Courts, Junction Hardware Co., Snip's Barber Shop, Clifford Hamer, Borden Ice Co., J. A. Heyman, Wahl Bros., Schraub, Junction State Bank, Price's Camp, M. Awbrey, A. G. Farmer, J. J. McWright, Fritz Hotel, J. N. Hodges, City Market, Powell Motor Co.

Heretofore a small membership only has been enrolled in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce organization and for that reason we have not been having the service we should have had, but now that we have this many memberships in this organization, we feel that we are entitled to and are going to expect to have a membership of the local Chamber of Commerce on the board of directors of the West Texas C. of C. The members present voted Judge Weaver H. Baker to be appointed as one of our directors at a coming convention to be held at Coleman some time next week. If Judge Baker is appointed to a place on the directorate it will insure us that our local organization will have a representative who has the ability to make known our wants to the national organization with proper consideration. Mr. Bennet expressed himself as being highly pleased with the number of memberships which he received, and will place Judge Baker before the convention for appointment.

ALL LOVERS OF OUTDOOR SPORT, ATTENTION

The Junction Golf Course is nearing completion. Green fee books can be had for 2-3 value by applying to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Get your book now, so you will be in on the ground floor when the course opens.

Monday Mrs. J. A. Heyman and Miss Mary Willis motored to Kerrville, where they met Mr. Heyman's cousin, Mrs. Viola Dower, and daughter, Mary, of San Antonio. Mrs. Dower and Miss Mary are spending their vacation at McWright's Tourist Park.

Alex Wahl, wife and little daughter returned Sunday from a pleasant trip out through Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. Alex states that while on the border of Old Mexico he could not resist the temptation to go across for a "cold one."

Gardner Franks and family, V. A. Brown and family, J. T. Brown and family, Joe F. Brown and family, Bozarth Brown and family, and H. G. Franks and family, all of Rocksprings are here on the Llano for a family reunion.

Mrs. W. J. Miller and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. J. M. Cline, Misses Ruth Freiling, Helen Rutherford and Mildred Cline, of San Antonio spent the first of the week with Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Crabb and family.

L. T. Litsy of Fort Worth, father of Mrs. E. G. Lockley, is here for the summer. Mr. Litsy spent last summer in Junction and was so well pleased with the climate that he was forced to return this summer.

Mrs. Ada Crain of San Antonio is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Orth.

Junction Wants to be On Gulf Railroad Route

Junction, July 9.—Business leaders from every profession join hands in the general chorus asking that the proposed railway from San Antonio to San Angelo be routed via this city, Sonora and Eldorado, the largest area in Texas not now served by a road. It is pointed out that some ranches in the area drive their stock more than 125 miles to a railway point. Junction, each year, becoming recognized more and more as a tourist center, would profit immensely by the road, which would make the town more accessible and reduce the cost of living, which however, is not now exorbitant. The world has just discovered this part of the state, which has been known as the jackrabbit country of Texas, and its possibilities have been determined only in a limited way.

As far as raising the money for stock for the road is concerned, Junction, Sonora and Eldorado feel that they can raise $400,000 in a week's time. It might be admitted that the tonnage via Fredericksburg, Mason, Brady, Eden and other points might be now larger than available over this route, but it is pointed out that the roads serving that other route are not overburdened with tonnage and that the new road might find itself with a smaller tonnage by going the other route than by coming this way. Again, this is the more direct route, and the long haul and not the short haul is the thing that counts.

Here is what the men operating business houses and feeding the lack of a railway say about the proposed road. Some think it will be built, others think it is a bit of talk, but the general consensus is that San Antonio and San Angelo are to be connected by railways. There is a feeling that there is a prejudice against this route, a fact that these business men cannot explain. It is even suggested that some people in Kerrville do not want this road to come via Junction.

The statements of the business men of the city follow: J. D. Cowsett, ranchman and contractor: "The railway would be the making of this country if we could get it, and it seems to me that we have a fair chance to get it, too. As a contractor the necessity of a road is very apparent. As it is now, our materials are hauled out of Menard, Kerrville or Brady."

H. G. Hubert, grocer and former editor of the Democratic Voice of Coleman: "I believe that the railroad would double the population in two years. Junction is looking toward the front anyway, and there has been more building here in the last twelve months than in the preceding five years. The business of hauling freight from Menard, 30 miles, Kerrville, 55 miles, or Brady, 50 miles, would be ended by the coming of the road and would reduce the cost of living. The ranchmen are in hearty accord with the movement for the railway."

A. W. Browning, real estate and insurance man: "If it is money that is needed to get this railway and the farmers and ranchmen could get interested deeply in the project, there is no doubt but that it could be raised. Some men in this country could afford to give a large bonus and likely would give it. A railway would increase the real estate values by a large percentage. People are interested in this section of the country and it has been my good fortune to locate some outside capital in the hill country. Give us a railway and that outside interest would be multiplied by a large percentage."

N. R. Skaggs, grocer: "I don't know what to tell you about this railway deal. We are all in hopes that it will be built through here. We are kinda up a tree now but are pulling for it tooth and nail." Joe Fritz, operator of the Fritz Hotel: "Sure, I want the railroad, but I haven't kept up with the latest developments. Better see Hodges or Weaver Baker or some of those men." N. S. Cravens, druggist: "I have a little hope of this railway coming this way. This is the most direct route from San Antonio to San Angelo and it looks like that the amount of stuff shipped out of here and into this city ought to justify its coming here. Even if it shouldn't pay, as part of a trunk line system, it would save operating expenses by coming this direct route. Whoever said the Southern Pacific route thru Sanderson and Spofford paid? Again it is becoming more difficult each year for stockmen to ship out their stuff without a railway coming through here." W. P. Riley, president of the Junction State Bank and allied businesses: "We prefer that the railway be built from Kerrville via here. The company with which I am connected has received more than 2,000 pounds of freight in the last six months. As regards any bonus, it seems to me that the people would take more stock than they would pay bonus if the stock is to be worth anything. There would be no need to take stock if it were not to be worth anything as it would be a useless cluttering up of the files. We have had innumerable railway propositions in the last few years. "The county is in the best shape it has been in many a day. "The Frisco is the road for us, as it gives our stuff straight to the north. It now takes four to five days to get cattle to market and seven or eight days for sheep. The road would be a great thing for the stockman. Just now it costs more to truck freight from the nearest railway point, than it costs, in many instances, to ship it over the railway." Coke R. Stevenson, ranchman, attorney and banker: "I am hearing in favor of the railway being routed through Junction and other points." W. H. Baker, lawyer, newspaper publisher and leader of the fight for the routing of the railway via Junction, Sonora and Eldorado: "If the line should be routed via Junction, Sonora and Eldorado it would serve the largest unserved area in Texas, approximately 2,694,078 acres, in Kimble, Schleicher and Sutton counties. In that area there are more than 700,000 sheep and 600,000 goats, from which are sheared annually five and a half million pounds of wool and two and a half million pounds of mohair. In this area there is suitable for agriculture 530,000 acres of land with about 30,000 acres now in cultivation. The annual pecan production along the streams in the counties has been 807,500 pounds for the last ten-year average. What the other possibilities of the counties are in the form of mineral wealth, oil and gas, remains to be determined and the irrigation possibilities have only been scouted. "The directors of the road have assured us that this route will get due consideration when the choice is made. In answer to your question I would say that $400,000 could be raised in the three counties in the course of three weeks in the form of stock. People would rather subscribe stock than to give a bonus. It would make people who subscribe stock a part of the organization. Another advantage of the stock scheme is that if there is any loss at all in the stock, it will be a smaller loss than in the

JUNCTION CATTLE LOAN CO. MAKES WOOL SALE

Monday of this week the Junction Cattle Loan Co. closed a deal with wool buyers whereby they disposed of the Kimble County accumulation of both long and short clips, amounting to 300,000 pounds.

A fleet of trucks began Tuesday to load out this accumulation and take it to Menard to the railroad for transportation to the northern mills.

The ranchmen of this section are beginning to realize the advantages derived from the establishment of the wool warehouse by the Cattle Loan Co. and with the next clip the accumulation here will be much larger.

AIRPLANE HERE CREATES SOME SPECULATION

For the past week or ten days the people of Junction and Kimble County have given much time and thought to speculation as to the reason for the airplane which has circled the city and county numerous times, and is still sailing above the city at this writing.

The best information at this time is that Mr. Edgar Tobin of San Antonio is at the helm of this boat with the purpose of making a topographic map of the country, locating air routes and landing fields, etc., that will eventually be used when an air mail route is established between San Antonio and El Paso, which is being considered at this time.

Mrs. Roy Williams and daughter, Lucile, returned Thursday from San Marcos where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buckner and family and San Antonio where they visited Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Dixon.

Mrs. Chris Schraub and children and Mrs. E. R. Borden and children returned last week from Denton where they were the guests of Mrs. Borden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Slaughter.

Mrs. Frank Wilson is in Temple this week with her daughter, Mrs. Bill Bryan. Mr. Bryan is in the hospital at Temple recovering from a recent operation. He is reported as gradually improving.

Mrs. W. P. Riley and children and Mr. J. C. Kountz returned Sunday from a month's visit in Bisbee and Phoenix, Arizona, with Mrs. Riley's brothers, Fred and Paul Kountz.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Horney of San Angelo moved here last Saturday and are located at present with Mrs. Horney's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Carpenter.

Mrs. W. C. Wharton and children of Carrizo Springs were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowsett and family last week.

Mrs. J. M. Livingston returned Sunday from San Antonio where she visited her sister, Mrs. N. Smith.

bonus proposition. The chances are good that one of the major road systems would take over the line after it was built, thus making the stock worth par. If any serious action is made toward the building of the road, the $400,000 will be raised.

"The area in question is now inhabited by about 10,000 persons, and a reasonable market value of all the property is about $75,000,000. If the road is made a part of a trunk system it will connect the cotton country of the Panhandle with deep water at Corpus Christi. It will also give the vegetable growers of the valley a chance to compete with California stuff in the Panhandle. "By following the plateaus in this country the cost of constructing the road would be reasonable. The route would also have an attractiveness to tourists."—San Angelo Times.

GEORGE CLIFFORD BRALEY

On the morning of July 3rd, 1928, news of the tragic death of George Braley in Dallas, Texas, the previous night, cast our community into gloom, due to the many life long friends of the deceased and his family living here. Following in the wake of a similar tragedy recently, in Junction, the occurrence especially affected our people.

George was born in Karnes County, Texas, on the 13th day of May, 1896, but spent most of his life in Kimble County. His earlier days of employment were with his father in the contracting business in this county. He quickly developed into a skilled workman and even before he attained manhood his services were much in demand.

In the eventful days of April, 1917, George heard the call of his country, to the defense of American liberties and enlisted in a company of infantry organized at Kerrville, Texas. He was soon transferred to the 36th Division in Fort Worth, Texas, and went overseas with that organization. Many of our Kimble County boys served in the same company with him and can attest his loyalty to his country. He was one of the boys who never shirked his duty and gained favorable mention from his government for bravery under fire. He participated in several of the most severe engagements of the war and was always brave and fearless, as a soldier. The same characteristics that were evident in his military service, made him many close friends in civil life, all of whom knew, from intimate association with him, that he valued friendship above all other things and was true and loyal to them under all circumstances.

He entered the furniture business after the war, selling out to go into the drug business, known as the Wiggle's Drug Store. The many acts of kindness and words of affection spoken after the news of his death reached our little city, bespoke the high regard with which he was held by his friends.

George has heard Taps sounded and answered the assembly call to that Great Bivouac in a new and happier land, where the mud and slush of Flanders Field and the shot and shell and poison gas of the enemy will threaten his life no more. Our sincerest sympathy goes out to his friends and relatives.

ARE STUMP SPEECHES PASSING?

In years gone by the stump speaker played an important part in national political campaigns. Candidates went on the road and took the stump in cities and towns from coast to coast. Is the radio going to rob us of the good old political meetings?

Now a candidate can sit comfortably before a microphone and with one speech reach millions of persons throughout the country by means of the gigantic radio "hook-ups" now used in the reporting of big events over the radio.

What a difference between this method of reaching the public and the method of addressing many comparatively small groups of persons, one after another, day after day and week after week!

Radio has already carried countless speeches of political nature over the air, and it seems very likely that from now on until the November elections the radio will be used extensively by politicians to get their messages over to the public.

One difference between stump speaking and radio broadcasting, as far as political speeches is concerned, is that while the main attendance at political gatherings is made up of many friends and admirers of the orators, the radio reaches friend and foe alike.

Another thing that must be considered is that stump-speaking and radio broadcasting each have their own technique. Of what use in radio broadcasting are the quick changes of feature, the waving of arms, the gesticulations that play so large a part in increasing the effectiveness of stump speeches? Radio requires a different technique; the voice must do everything.

Time will tell whether the radio will take the place of the stump, whether public men will in the future turn to it or from it when desirous of making public utterances.

BUTTER CAKE MAKES POOR THERMOMETER

Butter was once upon a time the standard thermometer in all kitchens. If butter remained firm in the place where the family provisions were kept, the housewife was satisfied that she was keeping her food in the best possible manner. Once the butter turned soft she began to look about for a cooler place.

Refrigeration standards have changed a great deal since that time and but few housekeepers now rely upon the butter cake to tell them about the temperature in their food storage box. It is now realized that butter turns soft at 63 degrees. Ideal refrigeration calls for a temperature not above 50 degrees.

At temperatures above fifty degrees, bacterial growth begins and at somewhat higher temperatures these organisms multiply very rapidly. In other words foods remaining in temperatures which would be satisfactory by the butter test would become fertile ground for bacterial growth.

ANCIENT LOVE APPLE NOW IN HIGH FAVOR

Many elderly people can recall the time when the succulent tomato, now a standard vegetable in every household, was regarded as poisonous. In those days it was known as a "love apple" and children playing in the woods were cautioned not to eat it, when they came across it growing in the wild state.

Originally a native of Peru, the tomato was brought to the North American continent at a very early date, where the climatic conditions particularly favored its general spread about the country. Pioneers in the modern field of dietetics searching about for vegetables to include in a well balanced diet gave the neglected "love apple" their approval and it has ever since been welcomed on the table and took its rightful place in the refrigerator.

Tomatoes require but little refrigeration, unless they are to be kept for extended period. In an automatic refrigerator they can be preserved almost indefinitely.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff of any County:—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Robert Hammer, L. E. Crane, Allen M. Pratt, Joseph Cornell, F. N. Davis, J. A. Yelaman, Leonard Gatties, Wm. M. Keating, F. L. Welch, Barbara Zapp, S. R. Smith, G. A. King, Mr. and Mrs. E. Baker and J. K. Kinship by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 32nd Judicial District, but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in any newspaper published in the nearest District to said 32nd Judicial District, to appear on the next session term of the District Court of Kimble County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1928, there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1927, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1031, wherein W. D. Parker is Plaintiff, and Robert Hammer, L. E. Crane, Allen M. Pratt, Joseph Cornell, F. N. Davis, J. A. Yelaman, Leonard Gatties, Wm. M. Keating, F. L. Welch, Barbara Zapp, S. R. Smith, G. A. King, and Mrs. E. Baker and J. K. Kinship are Defendants, and said petition alleging that herebefore in and until the 30th day of June, 1927, plaintiff was the owner in fee simple of an undivided one-sixteenth interest in all the oil and gas and other minerals contained in the following described lands, situated in Kimble County, Texas, to-wit: Abet. No. 1473; Cert. No. 3056; Sur. No. 1041; Grantee R. C. Doell; 264 acres. Abet. No. 1474; Cert. No. 3057; Sur. No. 2; Grantee, R. C. Doell; 550 acres.

Abet. No. 1473; Cert. No. 1865; Sur. No. 33; Grantee, R. C. Doell; 440 acres, and containing 2346 acres of land, more or less. Plaintiff further alleges that on the aforesaid date, to-wit: June 10th, 1927, the agent for one H. J. McMullen, through fraudulent statements with reference to the lands herein secured from plaintiff herein, W. D. Parker, a mineral deed to an undivided one-sixteenth interest in the aforesaid lands and further represented to the plaintiff, W. D. Parker, that said mineral deed would never be placed of record in the records of Kimble County, Texas, and believing such representations to be true the said W. D. Parker did execute a mineral deed whereby he conveyed an undivided one-sixteenth interest in all oil and gas and other minerals in and under the aforesaid lands to the said H. J. McMullen. That thereafter the said H. J. McMullen did cause said mineral deed to be placed upon the records of Kimble County, Texas, and is now of record in Vol. 31, page 146, of said records, and that subsequent to the filing and recording of the aforesaid mineral deed, the said H. J. McMullen did at various times execute and deliver transfers and assignments unto the defendants herein named, an undivided interest in the aforesaid mineral, deed covering the lands heretofore described. Plaintiff alleges that the claimants to the title or interest in and to said lands, set up by the defendants herein are fictitious, simulated and inferior to the rights and claims of plaintiff in said lands, and is a fraud upon plaintiff and his said lands and plaintiff further asks that defendant herein be cited to appear and answer this petition and that he have judgment, that said mineral deed be cancelled, set aside and annulled, and that all the aforesaid assignments be cancelled, set aside and annulled, and that the defendants be ordered to deliver possession of said premises to plaintiff, for work of possession for all damages prayed for; for cost of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as the plaintiff may show himself entitled to and to the court seems just and proper. Heroin Fail Not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. PLAN TRACING OF PIPE LINES TO FIND CAUSE

The following article taken from the Dallas Times Herald of July 3rd, gives very clearly and correctly the account of the explosion in which George Braley lost his life. The account follows:

"Federal investigation of the fatal gas explosion at the Tennant-Ballard Filling station, Ross avenue and Pearl street Monday night which resulted in the death of two men and the probable injury of a third, is being conducted Tuesday.

Jack Thompson, city fire marshal, has asked federal authorities to trace the gas lines in an effort to determine the cause of the explosion.

Police are also conducting an investigation to determine whether the explosion of Monday night had any connection with the recent acts of vandalism where in one day more than fifty filling stations were damaged through the breaking of glass casings in the oil pumps.

George C. Braley, 32 years old, 2519 Reagan street, salesman for the National Cash Register company, died Tuesday morning at St. Paul's hospital from the effects of burns and injuries received in the explosion.

Kenneth Ballard, 36 years old, 707 North Glasgow drive, co-owner of the filling station, died at Baylor hospital a few hours after Braley as the result of burns and injuries to his entire body.

Nevin C. Hathorn, 30 years old, 4315 Scurry street, is at St. Paul's hospital in critical condition from burns over the entire body. Hathorn is salesman for the National Cash Register and had gone with Braley to deliver cash registers to the filling station.

The three men were at the door of the filling station when the explosion came.

Braley was hurled twenty feet from the door and his clothing was burned from his body.

Ballard and Hathorn were found inside the station by men who ran to the scene after the explosion. Ambulances were called and the injured taken immediately to the hospital.

The explosion came when Kenneth Ballard opened the door of the filling station and pressed the button to turn on the lights. The ceiling and walls of the building were blown down upon Ballard and Hathorn. The building was torn and twisted, the force of the explosion cracking the new brick walls on practically every side.

Glass from the windows was hurled across the streets a distance of 100 feet. The lawns around the Lauderhill-Sparkman Funeral home and the Catholic cathedral, across the street, were covered with glass.

An automobile in which Hathorn and Braley had gone to the station was parked directly in front of the door and was blown into the street thirty feet. It was later pushed back under the shed. A cash register which was in the back of the machine was wrecked.

Ballard was attending to business in connection with the car wash business which was to have been opened officially Tuesday morning. His wife and child were there when Hathorn and Braley came up and called him about the cash register.

The three men walked over to the filling station about forty feet away and Ballard unlocked the door and turned on the lights.

When the first ambulance to reach the scene arrived Braley walked to it and climbed in saying, "Do something for me but for God's sake don't touch me." His clothing was dropping from his body.

His coat was found later in the station blown to shreds.

Ballard and Hathorn were placed in ambulances and taken to the hospitals. Hats worn by the three men were found among the debris. They were scorched and burned.

Several automobiles, which were being driven past the station when the explosion came, were peppered with flying glass and the occupants' faces and hands stung from the small pieces.

Residents in the vicinity for a block each way declared the windows in the houses were rattled and the buildings shaken. Tuesday mornnig Jack Thompson, city fire marshal, conferred with F. E. Tennant, Sr., and announced to him that he would immediately call upon the federal inspectors to aid in an investigation of the case.

The new station was to have been officially opened Tuesday morning and demonstrations of car washing made. As Ballard was being taken to the hospital he asked that the place be opened as planned and the demonstrations be carried out.

Tuesday morning a score of workmen were running automobiles through the lines. Mr. Tennant declared that at 1 o'clock Tuesday they would stop for a time, but that business would be continued later, carrying out the wishes of Ballard. This was before he was notified of Ballard's death.

Hundreds of automobiles were standing in the streets about the scene of the explosion Tuesday morning, the drivers waiting their time to enter the wash racks.

Police were stationed at the corner to keep traffic open as the scene was visited by thousands of persons during the day.

Braley came to Dallas four months ago and went to work in the office of the National Cash Register company. His parents live at Junction, Texas. They were notified by wire of their son's injury and later of his death. They arrived at Dallas soon after noon Tuesday.

The body was kept at St. Paul's hospital under instructions from Mr. Braley until they arrived.

Mr. Ballard has lived in Dallas for many years and has been engaged in the service station business here for more than twelve years. He had operated a station at Pacific avenue and Harwood streets for ten years and had recently joined the Tennant Ballard company to open the new station at Ross avenue and Pearl street.

THE LAST JINX DAY

Friday, July thirteenth, will be the last Jinx Day of the year.

For some reason as a particularly unlucky day. This superstition has hung on where many have been forgotten. Not so long ago there were hundreds of superstitions, and all were implicitly believed. Now, with the masses more generally educated, there are fewer superstitions and fewer persons take any stock in those that are left.

At one time a man was sure hard luck would come his way if a black cat crossed his path or if he happened to walk under a ladder. And sometimes hard luck did come his way, but it really was not the black cat or the ladder that was responsible. It was his own mental attitude. Expected disaster, he met it!

A great sign of progress is the lessening of superstition! And one of the strongest of these old superstitions is that one which pertains to Friday, the thirteenth. At one time many people would not take chances or make investments or get married on Friday, the thirteenth. They seemed to think it was a day of calamity—a Jinx Day.

Make up your mind on Friday, the thirteenth, that it is not different from any other day. It's the mental attitude that counts. When Friday, the thirteenth, comes around, there are many people, no doubt, who will watch their steps pretty closely. One consolation—they are greatly in the minority!

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Chemical Wizardry

To most of us laymen the words sodium nitrate, nitric acid, nitrogen, hydrogen, ammonia, sulphur and sulphuric acid are mere mouthfuls of words, but as our knowledge increases we add to the catalogue the mysterious terms of coal tar intermediates, glycerine, glycol, ethyl alcohol and other alcohols and solvents. Finally confusion and understanding increase, and we find words like cellulose, cotton and wood fiber.

Great needs of civilization are met by chemical industries through the production of articles used in every day life that spring from chemical wizardry that has made these products possible.

From them the factories get paint, varnish and stains, explosives of all varieties for military uses, commercial blasting and sporting purposes, acids and heavy chemicals, plastics, pyralin, as well as American dyes that supply all of our domestic needs. There are laquers, solutions, and enamels, and their importance is verified by attractive finishes that cover 20,000,000 American automobiles.

From these chemicals there are also produced textiles that include substitutes for leather, and snapper rain coats than rubber ever furnished. There is that wonderful product of rayon; and cellophane, too, that makes a perfect wrapper for everything from noodles to nuts, or from candies and candles to ribbons and fruits.

The tremendous mechanical development and growth of the last few decades has furnished the world its supplies of fuel, iron, copper, vanadium, barium, chromium, aluminum, magnesium, tin, zinc, and other base metals. It would not have been possible to obtain these base products in ample quantities except for the fact that explosives have brought them from the ground, and made them available for the uses of men.

While older civilizations knew gunpowders the high form of the modern explosives were not discovered until 1846, and it was twenty or thirty years later before they began to show up in the uses of railway and highway construction, and in mining, and in other great industrial undertakings.

Chemical wizardry has opened the lane down which our new civilization has trodden its journey of peace and war.

YOUR FLOWER GARDEN

(By Romaine B. Ware)

A Choice Selection of Iris

It is truly lamentable that so few gardens are familiar with the better Iris. As one goes through the country at Iris blooming time with a few exceptions all the varieties that are seen in the average yard are the old purple Kochi or American Black Prince, the white Florentine Alba and the older and poorer still, Honorable, gold and mahogany brown. These were all of them out of date a decade ago and still they are the most grown today.

Last week I was in a garden that had in bloom twelve hundred of the finest American and European productions in the Iris world. It was truly a sight to behold. I made a lot of notes and will today suggest two lists of varieties that you will find worth planting in your garden. The first list is of the less expensive ones, that any one could afford. None of them at more than fifty cents in the newest 1928 list I have before me. I will not attempt to give colors or any descriptions. You will find all that in the catalogues. Here are the ten: Afterglow, Edouard Michel, La Neige, Dejazet, Neptune, Sindjha, Merlin, Frost, Mother of Pearl and White Knight. Every one of the above are prize winners and they are all easy to grow.

For rush jobs ask about "Incor" Cement

To attempt to select ten of the better and higher priced ones is not as easy as there are so many very good ones among them. I will keep this list within those that are priced at not more than a dollar, though there the many at two to ten times as much that you might want if you could see their exquisite coloring and the quality of bloom. Here are ten that are the best at the price, you will like every one: Ambassadeur, Crusader, Anne Leslie, B.

Y. Morrison, Camelot, Dream, Leverrier, Prospero, Cretonne and Shekinah.

In buying Iris I would urge you to get them from a grower that makes a specialty of them and grows the better things. You will be more likely to get roots that are true to name and will give you the flowers you expect.

Some politicians evidently fear a wet back would prove too slippery.

W. F. Knudsen, Chevrolet president, offers cheerful news to General Motors. In May his company turned out 140,749 Chevrolet cars. On one day, May 28, the product was 7,075 finished cars and trucks. May, 1928, is 25,000 cars ahead of May, 1927.

That's good production, but high General Motors officials should bear in mind that the machinery in their brains is more valuable than any other asset of General Motors. Men like President Sloan of General Motors and Raskob, head of General Motors finance, work themselves as they wouldn't work any piece of machinery.

They take the night train from New York to Detroit, begin work there at 8 o'clock in the morning, work through the whole day, eating sandwiches at noon, still working, and take the night train back to New York.

No machine can stand that, and no duty to stockholders justifies it.

Dr. Walsh, of Fordham University, tells young men "The world is confronted with more mysteries than ever before. Science solves only a few problems."

Yes, indeed. Why does the hydrogen atom have a single proton in the center, and a single electron revolving around it, why does the helium atom, first discovered on the sun thru the spectroscope have four nuclei with two electrons revolving around them, and how does the formation of four grammes helium from hydrogen, produce energy as great as though eighty tons of coal were burned? There are some mysteries for you.

Everything is a mystery if you go far enough into it. And the greatest of all mysteries is thought, which has no proton of electron so far as we know and is driven by an energy that has no more practical name than "soul" or "mind."

A $20,000 prize is offered for the best ending to Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony." It won't be worth $20,000.

To finish Schubert's symphony you would have to be a Schubert. To restore her arms to the Venus of Milo, or to show how the winged Victory looked before she got into that fight, you would require the brain and the feeling of the artist that made the statue. Every mind ever born is absolutely different from every other.

James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, will visit the plant of the New Haven Wire Company. When he was sixteen years old he worked there twelve hours out of every twenty-four for $4.65 a week. If you stick to your job, even that kind of job, you can get somewhere.

In New York a young man brought into court by his father admitted that he had an income of $400 a week, and employed his father as hostler to take care of his saddle horses. His excuse was that the father had not led a moral life. The Japanese religion, that includes twenty different kinds of hell, probably would find one especially prepared for him, that wouldn't include saddle horses.

A visitor to the White House feeling important said to President Coolidge: "Mr. President, I must tell you I did not vote for you."

"Well," replied the President, "some did."

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company insured a man past fifty for $1,500,000. A few generations ago, when the second biggest city in France had no inhabitant over fifty years of age, such insuring would have been financially suicidal. Men live longer, intelligence counts. A wise man at fifty is a safer risk than a fool at twenty-five. And the Metropolitan has promoted longer living by intelligent health advertising.

TURN IN YOUR TOES AND LIVE LONG

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Dr. W. Lee Austin, attending the Southern Convention of Chiropractors, says persons who walk pigeon-toed may live to be centenarians. This is the way he explains it:

"One step in six is saved in walking slightly pigeon-toed because one rises higher on his feet and consequently takes longer strides. Pointing the toes outward causes the body to be thrown out of alignment, thus infecting the hip bone and the spine.

"Spinal trouble means worry and disruption of the nervous system, and upset nerves lead to indigestion."

Chrysler Has Done It Again!

Decide Now to Let No Influence Persuade You to Buy Any Automobile, Regardless of Price, or Previous Consideration, Until You Have First Seen and Driven the New Chryslers

The announcements of July 5th, and July 7th, have again marked a new era in the automotive world.

The new "CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH," and the new "CHRYSLER SIXES," the "65" and the "75" have been produced in pursuance of those principles upon which the Chrysler business was conceived and built.

These new Chryslers are deliberately designed and executed to inspire public admiration to such a pitch that they will immediately supercede all that has gone before, and usher into existence an entirely new motoring vogue.

We tell you, our friends in Junction and this Section, honestly and frankly that these new Chryslers will reveal to you at first sight, strides forward that would have been thought impossible even twelve months ago. We tell that these new Chryslers will establish striking new standards of beauty. We tell you that you will recognize in them unusual advances over even Chrysler power, speed and efficiency. We tell you that we offer you such great value for your money irrespective of any and all competition, that you owe it to yourself to withhold purchasing any automobile until you have first given us the opportunity of showing you these new Chryslers.

DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS:

An International Bugaboo
One of the most persistent international bugaboos, a principal cause of the senseless race for armaments, not to say one of the causes of war, is the notion that seems to be popular in every country that diplomats of every other country are deep, sly, cunning fellows, while the diplomats of our own country are babes in innocence and childlike trustfulness.

Each year, said of President Wilson being deceived and misled by the deep and crafty representatives of other governments at Paris. It has always been my suspicion that President Wilson and his advisors were about as shrewd as any of the others.

Somehow it pleases us to think that the statesmen of Europe are oily, tricky Metternichs and Talleyrands, while our own statesmen are merely Sunday School teachers from Kokomo, Indiana.

We are bluff, hale and frank, while the people of other nations are crafty and shy.

I was once in a boat sailing along the coast of Japan. My daughter exclaimed, "What a beautiful coast line!" One of the party replied, "Yes, but the Japanese are tricky." Even a coast line must have some deep and sinister significance.

There are doubtless bad and devious people, also nations, in this world, but the world is never going to get along well until we learn to trust each other. That was the teaching of Christ and he was about the most adult-minded of human beings.

"He who trusts everybody will probably be bitten," said Surgeon, "but he who suspects everybody will be devoured."

Some time ago a man wrote a book—I think he was from Arkansas—called "My Neighbor Is Perfect." The book showed how human knots could be untangled by simply trusting your neighbor.

It is a long step in the dark to get the habit of trustfulness, but it is a good habit to form, nevertheless.

The Golden Rule is right, but it needs an amendment. To the advice, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" should be added the supplement, dare to do it first.

To get along well with your neighbors requires after all a lot of daring, more courage perhaps than to quarrel with them.

It is easy to be suspicious and captious and touchy. It is hard to be trusting, but it pays.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Don't wrap the ice in a paper or cloth "blanket." It is true that you will save ice by so doing, but you will not save food. In order to reduce temperature in the refrigerator, the ice must melt.

Fish loses its fresh flavor when kept, and spoils very easily in hot weather. Since the flavor is likely to be absorbed by other foods fish should be kept in a very tightly covered dish in the refrigerator, and used as soon as possible.

Here's a good menu for a summer evening party: Fruit salad, made from lettuce, oranges, pears, peaches, cherries, and sliced pineapple, dressed with whipped cream, and garnished with nut meats; crackers spread with cottage or Roquefort cheese; iced tea or a fruitade of any kind.

Watermelon can be served as a first course, like fruit cup or muskmelon, for lunch or dinner. The watermelon should be thoroughly chilled, then sliced, the rind removed, and the flesh cut into convenient-sized blocks which are piled on a plate. See that salt is at hand for those who like it on watermelon.

Home methods of setting colors in fabrics, such as soaking them in salt water, or water with vinegar added, are of no avail. Textile specialists of the Bureau of Home Economics point out that if there were any such simple way of securing fast colors, manufacturers would use it. Dyes, however, have greatly improved in recent years. If you take home a sample of the material you like, and wash it, and expose it to the strong sunshine, you can tell for yourself whether the goods will be reasonably fast to water and to light.

Make sun suits from your romper pattern by cutting the legs very short and trimming out the neck and armholes as much as you can. Make the upper half of some transparent or thin material, such as fine lawn, cross-bar muslin, marquisette, or net. The lower part should be of print or other opaque cotton goods of pleasing pattern. Make a sun hat to match, to shade the eyes. It should be light and washable. Let the children play in sun suits, after they have acquired a coat of tan, on any summer day when the temperature rises above 80 degrees F. Their legs may be bare or they may wear bare-foot sandals without socks.

SAVED FROM SUICIDE BY COP'S THREAT

New York.—Philip Leary decided to commit suicide, and jumped off a pier in the East River.

A policeman saw him, concluded he was drowning and threw him a rope. He did not touch it.

The rope sank beside him, the policeman hauled it out and made another cast. Again he spurned it. The policeman then understood the man was committing suicide, and drew his pistol.

"If you don't come out of the water at once I'll shoot you," threatened the officer of the law.

Leary, who had jumped in to end it all, clambered out of the water lest he be killed!

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kimble County:—
You are hereby commanded to summon George F. Maier, Mary Robinson, William F. Maier, Elphinstone O. B. Herring, E. H. Tomlinson, W. F. Daugherty, E. F. Kamy, John C. Smith, Eugene Gavril, Alfred R. Schindler, Edgar L. Flury, Jr., L. Lichter, Carl A. Johnson and G. R. Murravie by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1927, in suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1051, wherein T. F. Parker and Claud Parker are Plaintiffs, and H. J. McMillen et al are Defendants, and said petition alleges that hereinafter recited, and until the 26th day of June, 1927, plaintiffs were the owner in fee simple of an undivided one-sixteenth interest in all the oil and gas and other minerals in and under that might be produced from the following described lands, situated in Kimble County, Texas, to-wit: Abt. No. 1525, Cert. No. 3051; Sur. No. 181; Grantor, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co.; 157 acres. Abt. No. 1587, Cert. No. 1552; Sur. No. 42; Grantor, F. E. Hubbard; 640 acres. Abt. No. 1659, Cert. No. 1659; Sur. No. 41; Grantor, F. E. Hubbard; 640 acres. Abt. No. 1688, Cert. No. 1579; Sur. No. 41; Grantor, F. E. Hubbard; 640 acres. Abt. No. 1641; Cert. No. 3051; Sur. No. 100; Grantor, J. H. Parker; 240 acres. Abt. No. 1544, Cert. No. 3100; Sur. No. 186; Grantor, J. H. Parker; 240 acres, and containing 3024 acres of land more or less.

Plaintiffs further allege that on the aforesaid date, to-wit: June 28th, 1927, the agent for one H. J. McMillen, through fraudulent statements with reference to the value of an undivided one-sixteenth interest in the aforesaid lands and further represented to plaintiffs that said mineral deed would never be placed of record in the records of Kimble County, Texas, and believing such representations to be true, said T. F. Parker and Claud Parker conveyed an undivided one-sixteenth interest in all oil and gas and other minerals in and under the aforesaid lands to the said H. J. McMillen.

That thereafter, the said H. J. McMillen did cause said mineral deed to be placed upon the records of Kimble County, Texas, and in now of record in Vol. 31, page 18 of said records, and that subsequent to the filing and recording of the aforesaid mineral deed, the said H. J. McMillen did at various times execute and deliver transferred statements unto the several defendants herein named, an undivided interest in and to the aforesaid mineral deed covering the lands heretofore described.

Plaintiffs further allege that the claim to the title or interest in said lands as set up by the defendants herein are fraudulent, and inferior to the rights and claims of plaintiffs in said lands, and is a cloud upon plaintiffs' title to their lands, and plaintiffs further ask that the defendants herein be cited to appear and answer this petition and that they have judgment as prayed for; that said mineral deed be canceled, set aside, annulled and held for naught, and that defendants be ordered to deliver possession of said premises to plaintiff, for writ of possession, for all damages prayed for; for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as the plaintiffs may show themselves entitled to and to the court seem proper and just.

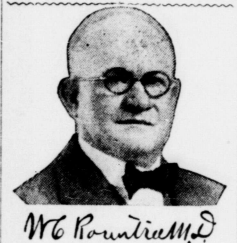

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this 26th day of June, A. D. 1928. (SEAL) L. R. RODGES, 11-4 Clerk District Court, Kimble County appear and answer this petition and that they have judgment as prayed for; that said mineral deed be canceled, set aside, annulled and held for naught, and that defendants be ordered to deliver possession of said premises to plaintiff, for writ of possession, for all damages prayed for; for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as the plaintiffs may show themselves entitled to and to the court seem proper and just.

Dodge Brothers Standard Six is the fastest car, with the fastest pick-up, under a thousand dollars.

HOWEVER
That is only HALF the story. The IMPORTANT point is that this exceptional speed is made practical by Dodge ruggedness of chassis and body construction.

OWNERS
Might succeed in building a car at this price with equal SPEED, but to do so successfully they would also have to build a car with equal STURDINESS.

AND
That is where Dodge Brothers, with years of experience in building a dependable low-cost product, are years ahead of the crowd.

YOU
Can buy the Standard Six knowing that it is not only the fastest car in its class but the sturdiest—and the one is every bit as important as the other.

R. L. Becker was in Mason county the past week taking off the second crop of honey from his apiary. He expects a third crop in September and the fourth in October. The second crop, now on the local market, is from white brush and catclaw and is especially fine of flavor. It is sold in tins, in glass, extracted and in the comb. Gann Grocery Company.

Judge Oliver C. Aldrich and family, of San Juan, Rio Grande Valley, were visiting friends and vacationing in Junction early in the week. They would have extended their visit on the Llanos had a cottage been available.

Walter U. Early of Brownwood, district attorney of 35th judicial district, is taking his summer vacation here and is delighted with the landscapes of the Llanos and local environment. His wife is not with him, she having run off with a patent medicine man.

Fine home-grown tomatoes were on the local market this week from Reece Bros., Llano valley ranch and from the farm of A. F. Fritz of London. E. J. Kendrick of Junction and Mr. Gary of the Yates community are marketing home-grown corn and squash, and Mrs. E. J. Nethery is marketing select Bermuda onions, okra, black-eye peas and green beans thru Gann Grocery Company.

Clayton Powell, representing the Martin Brick Co. of Coleman, makers of the finest brick in Texas, was in Junction during the week on business for his firm. He observed that there is not a brick structure in the town of Junction, but he admired the native building stone.

The airplane that has circled over Junction every day of the past week is said to be making a survey for the Texas Company pipeline projected from the oil fields of West Texas to deep water at Houston.

Fifty to sixty truck loads of wool is moving this week from the Junction wool warehouse to railroad at Menard, where twelve railroad cars will be required to move the product to the eastern market. The Junction wools were sold early in the week at prices in line with other markets.

Tea watermelon and soda pop were served to Mesdames H. O. Denman, E. G. Lockley, Coke R. Stevenson, Guy Wynne, Rudolph Tatum, Pierce Hoggett, Irvin Jarvis, Ovie Buster, C. H. Gough of Waco, Hellmuth of Bellville, Miss Clara Fritz and the hostess, Mrs. L. E. Standifer.

RECIPES

The automatic refrigerator has opened new possibilities in the way of chilled salads, particularly soothing to summer appetites. Here are a few good salads which will relieve the monotony of the usual summer meals, and tickle the palates of the entire family.

Shrimp and Cucumber Salad
2 1/2 teaspoons gelatin; 1-3 cup cold water; 1 cup boiling water; 1 teaspoon sugar; 1-3 cup juice; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1 teaspoon salt; few drops onion juice; 2-3 cup shrimps, cut in small pieces; 2-3 cup cucumbers, diced.

Soak the gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then dissolve it in the boiling water.

Add the sugar, vinegar, lemon juice, salt, then cool. When thickened slightly arrange alternate layers of jelly and the shrimp and cucumber mixture in individual molds. Chill in the automatic refrigerator. Serve on shredded lettuce leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise dressing. Eight servings.

Salmon Salad in Mold
2 cups red salmon (canned); 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar; 1/2 teaspoon flour; 1 teaspoon mustard; few grains cayenne pepper; 2 egg yolks; 1 1/2 tablespoons melted butter; 3/4 cup milk; 1/4 cup vinegar; 1/2 tablespoon gelatin; 2 tablespoon cold water.

Remove bones from salmon and separate in flakes. Mix dry ingredients above, add yolks of eggs, butter, milk and vinegar. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes and pour hot mixture over it. Add salmon and stir until dissolved, fill individual molds. Chill in automatic refrigerator. Serve with cucumber sauce. Eight servings.

Frozen Fruit Cheese Salad
1 cream cheese; 2 tablespoons cream; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 cup canned pineapple, cut in small pieces; 1/2 cup marshmallows, quartered; 1/2 cup pecans, cut in small pieces; 1 cup Royal Anne cherries, pitted; 1 banana, sliced; 2 cups whipped cream; 1/2 cup mayonnaise.

Work the cheese, cream, lemon juice and salt together until smooth. Add the pineapple, marshmallows, nuts, cherries and banana. Whip the cream and stir the mayonnaise into it. Fold this into the fruit mixture. Freeze in cubes and serve on a lettuce leaf. Eight servings. Time for freezing, about three hours.

Chicken Salad
2 cups chicken, cut in dice; 1 cup celery, cut in small pieces; 1 cup white grapes, seeded; 1/2 cup mayonnaise; 3 tablespoons lemon juice; 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Combine the chicken, celery and grapes. Mix the mayonnaise, salt and lemon juice. Chill for an hour in the automatic refrigerator. Just before serving, combine the mixture. Garnish with lettuce leaves and a dash of paprika.

Frozen Fruit Salad
1 tablespoon lemon juice; 2 bananas, halved and sliced; 3/4 cup white grapes, peeled; 3/4 cup sliced pineapple cut in pieces; 12 maraschino cherries; 1-3 cup French dressing; 1/2 cup mayonnaise dressing; 2 cups whipped cream; 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Combine the lemon juice with the fruits and marinate with French dressing for two hours in the automatic refrigerator. Mix the mayonnaise with the whipped cream and add the fruit. Freeze in cubes in a freezing tray. Serve on a lettuce leaf with a red cherry garnish. Eighteen servings. Time for freezing, about three and one-half hours.

Farmer Finds Out His "Ghost" May Net Him a Fortune

Campbellford, Ont.—Frank Keating, Seymour Township farmer, expects to be made fabulously rich by the most terrifying "ghost" ever raised in this section.

In Keating's house there has been blood-chilling pounding under the floors, the water has been unfit to drink, and other manifestations led to the belief that a ghost was making it a habitat.

The scare created caused extensive investigation, and it developed that the strange disturbances were caused by a natural gas escaping in the Keating cellar. Now Keating has got in touch with oil companies, and expects oil men to take options on the farm.

He believes that either oil or gas underlies his whole farm. At various points throughout the district gas has been found in small quantities when wells were dug.

CHILDREN SHOULD KNOW

About Birds

The English sparrow was brought to the Atlantic Coast a little more than seventy-five years ago. For thirty or forty years these birds increased in great numbers, but in recent years, according to the Agricultural Department in Washington, they have declined in numbers, both in cities and in rural districts. Nature seems to be setting a balance against them. They may go the way of pigeons which were once so thick that they blackened and shut out the skies in their flights.

Quail, including the bobwhite, thrive in certain parts of the country, but in other sections they do rather poorly. In some of the Northern States results in raising quail have not been entirely satisfactory. Virginia and the Carolinas have had remarkable success with them. At one time Mexican quail were imported into Massachusetts at prices as low as $1.50 per dozen. According to Dr. Phillips of the United States Biological Survey, more than 233,000 bobwhites are recorded as having entered the United States from Mexico in a period of fifteen years and the price has steadily risen to $24 and as high as to $36 a dozen.

The Chinese ringnecked pheasant increases rapidly in many parts of the country. This is a great new game bird. Reports from Minnesota say that this bird multiplies twice as rapidly as any other species. Iowa has recently distributed about 67,000 pheasant eggs, and the birds have developed healthily and strong, and they have materially increased their species. There is splendid pheasant hunting in Western, Middle Western and Eastern States, including New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, where game authorities have given special attention to propagating pheasants.

The most abundant of our native birds is the robin; next to this is the English sparrow, and following these are the song sparrow, chipping sparrow, meadow lark, and cat bird.
