Liquor Program To Encourage Expanded Revenue Offered

Tax Of $2.60 Per Gallon On Distilled Spirits Proposed And $500,000,000 Revenue Is Expected

Power To Negotiate With All Liquor Countries For Reciprocal Trade Agreements Is Asked For President

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A liquor program to encourage an expanded federal revenue, an enlarged two-way foreign trade and to foster a national beer and light wine appetite along with discouraging the bootlegger was proposed to congress today by the president's interdepartmental committees.

The report submitted to the house ways and means committee by acting Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., of the treasury proposed a $2.60 a gallon tax on distilled spirits, estimated to be capable of raising $500,000,000 of annual revenue, including $156,000,000 from beer. The beer tax would remain at $5 a gallon, the present levy for the 3.2 beverage.

Want Trade Agreements

At the same time, the committee suggested to the lawmakers that they grant the president power to negotiate with liquor countries for reciprocal trade agreements under which the United States would expect the right to sell its products in countries from which it bought liquor.

The interdepartmental committee members disclosed that their report had been framed with view to fostering a reasonable price to liquor consumers to battle bootleg opposition and encourage the drinking of light wines and beer.

To Become Public

The report will become public formally on Monday when the fiscal committees of both the house and senate convene together to begin work on a liquor tax bill.

The committee took cognizance of the likelihood that the states would seek to augment their incomes from liquor taxes. It proposed coordination of state and federal liquor taxation "on some basis equitable to both." Suggestions already have been unofficially made that the federal government collect taxes and allocate them to the states.

With rumored threats in the air of government action to force down liquor prices, representatives of the distilling industry gathered in the

Local Officials Blamed For Civil Works Delays

Father Held For Stomping Of Son

DENVER, Dec. 8. (AP) — After several groups of angry citizens had formed on street corners at Littleton today, Daniel K. Smith who is allegedly by Little authorities to have confessed that he stomped his 3-year-old son to death Dec. 4, was brought to the county jail here for safekeeping.

"I didn't want to take any chances, so I brought the prisoner here," Sheriff Mozzingo said.

"Reports to me were that feeling was considerably aroused against Smith, but there was no disorder."

Texas Shows A Total Of 111,106 Men At Work In Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Reporting that the campaign to return 4,000,000 men to work by December 15 apparently was behind schedule, Harry L. Hopkins, civil works administrator, today placed the blame on failure of local officials to provide projects and inability to obtain necessary equipment.

Hopkins said a telegraphic poll yesterday indicated 2,500,000 men were employed on civil works projects, a great majority of whom had been transferred from relief rolls. He explained the original program provided for 3,000,000 at the end of this week.

To Purchase Hogs

Acting in another capacity — as president of the federal surplus relief corporation—Hopkins also announced the government would purchase hogs on the principal markets to meet the needs of the direct relief program. Orders for 6,050 were placed today and 14,069 had been purchased previously.

The civil works administration told newspapermen that when he found the employment program was lagging he directed all state civil works administrators to act on all projects the day they were received, and, if approved, to telegraph the verdict instead of sending it by mail.

Engineers Provided

He said he also sent engineers into a number of states to assist the state administrations.

Under present plans, the civil works program is to continue until February 15.

Hopkins said today that states, counties and cities generally were adding approximately 30 per cent to the federal money, which would make $650,000,000 available.

Seek More Funds

The money supplied locally he explained, will be used generally to purchase materials while the federal money goes for wages.

Funds are available, Hopkins has said, only until February 15, but it is understood the administration plans to ask congress for an appropriation to continue the work if necessary.

Civil works employment figures reported by states as of December 2 included:

Excitement Is Caused During Woolley Trial

Demonstration Whether Shotgun Could Be Discharged By Jar Given; Weapon Crashed Against The Floor

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 8.—Demonstration of whether a shotgun could be discharged easily caused a tense situation today in the trial of Toy G. Woolley, accountant charged with murder for the shotgun killing of his second wife, Dorothy Marie Joynes Woolley, November 5.

M. H. Gay, who sold Woolley the gun with which Mrs. Woolley was killed, was asked by Ted Monroe, special prosecutor:

Weapon Displayed

"That's the most deadly weapon you sell, isnt it?"

"Yes, it's deadly," Gay replied.

"The trigger has to be pulled every time the gun is fired, doesn't it?" Monroe demanded. (Woolley claimed the shooting of his wife occurred accidentally, while he was cleaning the gun.)

"It usually does," Gay responded, "but it can be farred enough to be discharged. Every gun can. I never saw one that couldn't."

"All right," Monroe instructed, "cock that gun and hit it as hard as you can against the floor and try to discharge it without pulling the trigger."

A murmur of amazement arose among the crowd of spectators in

Roosevelt Indicates Peek May Stay In Administration

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt today indicated a possibility that George N. Peek would remain with the farm adjustment administration but the belief still prevailed in other official circles that Peek would soon quit his post as farm administrator.

Peek has differed with Secretary Wallace on matters of general policy and open friction led to a round of conferences at the White House.

Interposition by the president, however, failed to reconcile the two and at the farm administration today both groups frankly said they did not expect Peek to remain.

Mary Charges Doug Is Cruel And She Asks For A Divorce

Reconciliation Rumors Are Set At Rest; Pickfair Is To Remain In Her Name

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—In the cold legal phraseology of a divorce complaint, Mary Pickford, known to millions of movie fans as "America's Sweetheart," today formally ended the perfect romance between herself and her globe trotting husband, Douglas Fairbanks, swashbuckling hero of the films.

Her suit, which seeks an absolute divorce, charged Fairbanks, now in England, with mental cruelty, indifference and neglect. Filing of the action confirmed reports of a permanent separation and set at rest numerous rumors of a reconciliation.

Comes As Surprise

It was filed the day Douglas Fairbanks, jr., returned to Hollywood from visiting his father in England, but he said the action came as a surprise to him and that the "mere fact that it happened on the day of my return is strictly coincidental.

"I say it was strictly coincidental," young Fairbanks added, "because I brought no message from my father and did not see Miss Pickford before her suit was filed. It is none of my business. Whatever they do is bound to be the right thing."

Indifference Charged

Under the charge of mental cruelty, Miss Pickford accused Fairbanks, who, as the warm hearted hero of scores of cinema dramas built a reputation as the greatest of lovers, with indifference and neglect, with having caused her embarrassment and humiliation.

He lacked consideration, the action stated, for Miss Pickford's feelings and sensibilities. He publicly announced that he had no interest in life except travel, she said, which "destroyed the legitimate ends of matrimony."

He absented himself from home for months at a time, the suit charged, and said that, in view of the position of the husband and wife, this caused "much public criticism and unfair comment."

The specific neglect. Miss

Murder Count Will Be Filed

Charges In Mysterious Slaying Of Hayter Family Will Come Today; Second Arrest Is Announced

(By The Associated Press)

LAWTON, Okla., Dec. 8.—Charges in the mysterious slayings of Mrs. Robert F. Hayter, her son, Sidney, 17, and daughter, Nellie, 14, will be filed tomorrow, County Attorney Dwight Malcolm said today after announcing a second arrest in the case.

Hayter, husband and father of the victims found in the locked Hayter home here Nov. 1, is held in the Comanche county jail here for questioning. He has steadfastly denied any knowledge of the slayings.

Name Is Withheld

The county attorney declined to disclose the name of the second person arrested or against whom the charges would be filed.

Mrs. Hayter and her son were shot to death, the daughter apparently was killed by a blow on the head.

A theory of murder and suicide by the son was rejected by investigators who continued tedious efforts to unravel the mystery. Hayter, a salesman, was not arrested until a month after the crime, and then, the county attorney said, only for questioning.

The trio, apparently dead for several days, was discovered by the Hayter's remaining daughter, Virginia, a school teacher at Walters, upon a visit home.

Hayter was in Oklahoma City at the time.

Proposals For Substitute In Industry Made

Two Plans Are Advanced For Elimination Of Price Fixing; Removal Of All Excess Stocks Recommended

Guarantee Profit

Proposals Are Signed By 24 Major Companies; Ickes Is Silent But General Outline Is Given Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Secretary Ickes, oil administrator, tonight made public without comment two proposals of the petroleum industry as substitutes for price fixing. They provide for excess stocks of gasoline from the market and for guaranteeing profit margins to distributors.

The proposals signed by 24 major companies, provide for a national petroleum agency which would employ an equalization fund contributed by the industry to control excess gasoline stocks, and for a code of marketing practices designed to protect distributors from price wars.

Ickes Is Silent

While not making known his decision, Ickes has indicated approval of the general purposes and methods of the proposals.

The primary aim of the industry is to stabilize gasoline prices on the ground that their unsteadiness is the major factor disturbing the oil price structure, and that if this correction is made crude prices may be set successfully under the present program of production control both of gasoline and crude.

The 24 signers of the agreements represent all conflicting factions in the industry and are but the first of many more oil companies which were said to be ready to sign.

Buy Distress Stocks

The first agreement on control of gasoline stocks provides in general for the setting up of an agency supported by the oil industry to buy distress stocks of gasoline where necessary and where possible keep them from the market

Readhimer Jury Retires Last Night Without Verdict Being Reached; Trial Ends At 5:50

Defendant Sits Near Wife And Head Is Bowed As Charge Is Read To Jury; Exceptions To Document Made

FATE of J. R. Readhimer, 57-year-old Hale county farmer, rested with a 99th district court jury last night.

Readhimer, charged with the "honor" slaying of Stokes Campbell, Floydada High school youth, saw his case go to the jury at 5:50 o'clock, after a day spent in attorney's arguments.

No Decision Reached

The jury went to bed last night without having reported a decision, if they had reached one, Judge Clark M. Mullican of 99th district court was in Plainview attending a meeting of attorneys of this supreme judicial district.

Judge Mullican read his charge shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning, after exceptions had been made by defense attorneys and the charge amended. The reading of the charge took 20 minutes.

Instructions Given

The jury was charged on consideration of murder with malice aforethought, murder without malice, the law of self defense, and so forth, instructing them on the various penalties to be given in their decision. As Judge Mullican read the charge, the defendant sat near his attorneys with his head bowed. Near him were his wife and his daughter, Grace Readhimer, holding her five-months old son, the father of whom she named on the stand as the slain youth.

J. E Vickers, special prosecutor employed by the father of Campbell, opened the arguments. He was followed by W. J. Joiner of the defense; G. E. Hamilton, another special prosecutor; L. G. Matthews of Floydada, local attorney, both members of the defense, and District Attorney A. J. Folley of Floyd county.

Lindberghs Land At Para After 1,094 Mile Hop; Crowds Are Gathered To Greet Famous Fliers On Arrival

(By The Associated Press)

PARA, Brazil, Dec. 8.—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, hurrying homeward for Christmas after a six months' air tour, completed a fast hop from Natal, Brazil, today and landed here at 1:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

They covered the 1,094 miles in seven hours and 23 minutes. More than 3,000 miles lie between them and Miami, one of their next objectives.

Crowds Gather

Crowds had gathered hours in advance of their arrival at Guaraja bay, awaiting the first sight of the Lindbergh seaplane, and sirens sounded a shrill welcome as the craft came down in a perfect landing.

The American aviators were received by state officials. George E. Seltzer, the United States consul, and prominent members of the American colony at the Pan-American hangar.

The fliers indicated they will remain the night and will proceed northward perhaps at daybreak Saturday.

The Lindberghs supervised the tieing of the plane to the Pan-American buoy and later, accompanied by the American consul, went to the home of A. Pickerell, a prominent American.

Mob Spirit Is Still High At Burning Scene

Blacks In Kountze Are Uneasy Despite Assurances Given By Officers; Several Being Rushed Out Of Town

Another Is Beaten

Suspected Aides Of Victim To Be Taken From Area And Told To Stay Away; Slayer Badly Mutilated By Mob

(By The Associated Press)

KOUNTZE, Dec. 8.—Negroes residing in this little sawmill city remained uneasy tonight notwithstanding assertions of officers that they were prepared to take care of any eventuality and predictions of many persons that there would be no further disturbance.

The mob spirit gripped approximately 400 white residents of this section last midnight as they seized the body of David Gregory, negro alleged to have criminally attacked and killed a white woman, dragged it through the negro quarters for two hours, mutilated it and pitched the remains on a huge fire which still smouldered tonight.

Another Rushed Out

Another negro was rushed out of town this afternoon at the request of Sheriff Miles Jordan after the negro had reported that he was attacked and beaten by a group of white men.

This was the same negro by the side of whose house the Gregory funeral pyre was made and whose fence palings were torn down to provide kindling for the fire. Many white residents had complained that he had been "uppity." The sheriff advised the negro to stay away from Kountze until feeling here had died down.

Sheriff Jordan planned to take three other negroes arrested after the slaying of the white woman, Mrs. Mellie Brockman, young farm wife, out of the city before releasing them and suggest that they remain elsewhere for a while.

Believe Men Innocent

Two of these negroes were suspected of having deceived officers regarding Gregory's movements after the killing six days ago. The third was suspected of having aided Gregory in plotting the crime but Sheriff Jordan said officers had

Amelia Earhart Carries Audience On Ephemeral Flight Over Restless Sea

BY MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche Staff Writer

AMELIA EARHART carried a Lubbock audience with her across the restless Atlantic last night. For over an hour students college faculty and town people quietly sat in the Lubbock High school auditorium and listened, gasped and giggled as the world's premiere aviatrix delivered her famous lecture, "Flying For Fun."

This slim prophetess of aircraft, in the most charming manner, predicted that her audience would be accepting airplane rides along with other forms of transportation within two years and that many present would make transatlantic trips in scheduled air lines. In her lecture, which was interspersed with humor, she described her Atlantic flight and related the meaning and possibilities of flying in general, especially as they relate to women.

Miss Earhart was modest. She quickly won the admiration of her audience. She talked as if

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

IT ISN'T unusual to find a list of questions to be answered in determining your popularity. Colgate University experimental psychologists have out a new set of laws which are designed to test whether you will be a bore or a good fellow among your associates.

You answer with a yes or no such queries as "Do you exaggerate in your conversation?" "Do you possess an overbearing modesty?" or "Do you forget to bring your own cigarettes along?" You count your answers that are negative and, if your average is as high as 67, you are supposed to be pleasantly received whereever you may choose to go.

The tests are interesting. Almost anyone is caught by the spirit and begins marking down affirmative or negative answers and placing question marks after the rest, but it is hard to think popularity can be gauged by anything quite so superficial. There are some qualities that discourage friendship, to be true, and others that are apt to make you well liked. But that personality, that intangible thing that draws us to people or makes their presence offensive, is often so subtle that no set of questions can begin to suggest its presence. Attractive qaulities are as individual as the people who make up the world.

NEW PASTIME

ADD chess to your games that are growing in popularity here. There is at least one chess club that meets regularly and people are taking to the game with as much enthusiasm as they followed jig saw puzzles last winter.

Perhaps that is another product of the New Deal. With more leisure people are apt to fancy more leisurely games and chess seems to offer unlimited opportunity to sit by a board and ponder.

There is a dominoe club in Lubbock, too. We passed the sign recently and glimpsed men sitting around tables inside. Some folk probably waste considerable time over games but I like to see people who are satisfied to play when they have leisure—particularly these slow games where men play, smoke pipes and seldom talk. Somehow I have a hard time believing that any harm is being done.

WANT TO PLAY?

HAVE you been down to see the girls play soft ball? It is lots of fun, according to players and spectators. And because of the interest four more clubs are about to be organized. Marty Fiedler, who is looking after the organization, is hoping to have the other four teams ready by next week and now he has a number of girls and women lined up to play. If it all works out satisfactorily, he is hoping to have an eight-team league playing by the first of the year.

Do you want to play on some team? If so, let me know or call Mr. Fiedler at 2200.

WHAT ABOUT THESE?

BY the way, what about those recipes for which we had requests the other day? Mrs. J. A. Raley wanted a recipe for mince meat. Mrs. J. A. Fortenberry was calling for recipes using left-over bread and Mrs. Rufus Rush wanted a recipe for candied orange peel.

ANOTHER CAMPAIGN

THAT campaign for planting tulips and lilies is progressing, according to Mrs. A. B. Cunningham. Many bulbs have been going into the ground in the last few weeks and it is not too late to plant more.

There is going to have to be another campaign to protect the blossoms next spring. People with tulip beds have been discouraged in the last few years because so many of their plants and blossoms have been pulled. Occasionally, children or other people have pulled the plants, bulbs and all, out of the ground. Some have been carried away and others have been left on the ground.

* * *

The neighbors' chickens and dogs are other problems. A campaign for beauty is not going to be very successful unless other people assist those who do the planting to preserve the beauty.

Paul In Caesarea

Text: Acts 24:10-23

* * * *

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson For Dec. 10
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of The Congregationalist

PAUL was in Caesarea, a city on the Mediterranean coast not far from Jerusalem, founded in honor of the Caesars. He had been brought there to appear before the governor, Felix, following his arrest in Jerusalem to which he had returned for the last time from his third missionary journey.

It might be remembered that Paul had returned from his third missionary journey and the affecting farewell at Miletus, to the elders of the church in Asia, assuring them that he was going to Jerusalem with the conviction that bonds and afflictions were awaiting him there, but with the determination that nothing should deter him from the fulfillment of his ministry as a faithful soldier of Jesus Christ.

The premonitions that Paul had had were quickly fulfilled. Some Asiatic Jews, who had also come to Jerusalem from the region where Paul had been carrying on his missionary activities, had found Paul in the temple and had raised a great outcery against him, charging that he had assailed their religion, rejecting the teaching of Moses and defiling the temple.

In the uproar Paul probably would have been killed by the mob, but he was rescued by a Roman captain, who, on Paul's declaration of his Roman citizenship, gave him permission to speak to the people.

IT was on this occasion that Paul gave his defense and the fine account of his life contained in Acts: 22. But when Paul spoke of his ministry to the Gentiles the uproar broke out with renewed violence, and to save Paul the captain had him brought into the castle.

Paul later was freed from his bonds and the chief priests and council were commanded to appear, while Paul was brought before them. Here he made a further defense of himself, but dissension arose again, this time between the Sadducees and the Pharisees.

The Roman captain, fearing that Paul would be pulled to pieces between them, commanded the soldiers to take him by force and bring him back into the castle.

Meanwhile a band of Paul's foes conspired under oath declaring that they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed him, but the Roman captain, hearing of this conspiracy, provided a company of soldiers and horsemen to escort Paul safely to Caesarea for appearance before Felix, the Roman governor.

IN our lesson Paul has come before the governor and has been permitted to speak for himself. It is a dignified statement of Paul's religious convictions and purposes and Felix was so well impressed that he decided to postpone further consideration of the case until he could have more exact knowledge.

Possibly Felix was anticipating some disposition of the case that would turn to his own advantage; but when Paul was again called before Felix, who sat on the bench with his wife Drusilla, the Roman governor discovered the quality of the prisoner with whom he had to deal.

We have the dramatic story of how the governor trembled as this humble minister of Christ stood before him and reasoned "of temperance, righteousness and judgment to come." It was on this occasion that Felix gave the excuse that innumerable others have given under the challenge of conscience, "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee."

What a contrast between the decisiveness and conviction of the lowly Christian tentmaker, and the weakness and indecision of the proud man of affairs! Truly, as Paul said elsewhere, "God hath chosen the weak things of this world to confound the mighty."

Fifth Annual Poultry Show Is Opened Friday With Entries Running High; Contest Will Be Held Today

ABERNATHY, Dec. 8. — Fair weather Friday favored the opening of the fifth annual Abernathy Poultry show and a checkup of the entries showed 290 birds from 18 varieties. R. A. Box, superintendent, said today.

Canning Plant Ready To Open

Regular Operation Is Expected To Start By Middle Of Next Week; Many On Relief Rolls To Get Work

Plans are under way for preliminary opening of the new federal meat canning plant at 1312 Avenue G on Monday or Tuesday. Regular operation of the plant is expected to be started by the middle of next week, Mrs. Reynolds Wilson, supervisor, said Friday.

Miss Myrtle Murray, College Station, district home demonstration agent leader, is here to attend the formal starting of the plant. Definite action will depend upon orders for purchase of beef, the orders to come from College Station.

Will Use Women

"We will use about 100 women, in four shifts working six hours a day," Mrs. Wilson said. "We are using women on the relief rolls, as well as about 50 men for cutting and other work. All of these are to be on the relief rolls.

"Every worker must have a blood test taken, to see that they can work in a packing plant. These tests are being sent into Austin by W. E. Inmon at the rate of 15 a day and it may be some of the workers will have to wait a few days before they can start.

"Our schedule calls for 34 cattle a day. We hope to be able, after we are started, to turn out 12,000 cans daily. The work must be finished by January 15."

Shifts Are Divided

Shifts will start at 6 a. m., noon, 6 p. m. and midnight. All operations will be under sanitary conditions, with the same care taken of the killing, butchering and canning of meat as in all inspected plants. The animals will be killed at the McDonald Packing company's plant and chilled there before being brought down town for completion of the task.

H. C. Harding, buyer for the Lubbock plant, said he expected about 1,000 animals to be killed here. He has instructions to purchase only cutters." No canner cattle should be offered, as we are not authorized to buy them," he added.

Four supervisors are to be named, one for each shift. These probably will be announced Saturday.

Heart Diseases Jumping Higher

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—A marked increase in deaths from heart disease was reported today to the association of life insurance presidents.

Dr. William Muhlberg of Cincinnati, medical director of the Union Central Life Insurance company, estimated from a study of records of 51 leading life insurance concerns that the death rate from organic diseases of the heart will be 159.1 per 100,000 policy-holders during 1933 This compares with 149.9 last year.

However, in discussing mortality from all causes, he said the 1933 record will be one of the most favorable years, and that "medical resources have more than held their own against the forces of death."

He emphasized that the winning fight against tuberculosis gives hope and courage. The tuberculosis death rate dropped from 57.3 in 1932 to 54.8 this year, and "the word tuberculosis no longer holds the terror it once did."

RANCHERS TO MEET

MIDLAND, Dec. 8.—Ranchers of Midland will hold a meeting Monday afternoon at the chamber of commerce office with Eddie B. Ligon, U. S. assistant predatory animal control chief, to plan a coyote eradication campaign. Coyotes are killing dozens of lambs and are attacking calves. The county will be solicited to help the ranchers. The new county agent, S. A. Debnam, will be in charge of the meeting.

A program of game and fish conservation has been drafted by the Kentucky state game and fish commission with the aid of the American Game association.

Science Stands To Enhance Greatly To Knowledge Of Cosmic Ray After Recent Ascension Into Stratosphere

BY W. R. WALTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. — Preliminary scientific findings indicating that science stands to enhance greatly to its knowledge of the elusive cosmic rays as a result of the recent ascension into the stratosphere by two Americans, were announced today by Dr. Arthur H. Compton, University of Chicago physicist.

Dr. Compton, who with Dr. R. A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, is vitally interested in the cosmic ray data obtained by Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle and Major C. L. Fordney on their flight from Akron, O., last November 20, made his first official report to the National Academy of Science for publication in the January issue of its monthly.

Argument Not Settled

First of all, he said that data computed so far from readings of instruments placed in the gondola of the balloon by himself and Dr. Millikan do not settle their argument over the nature of the rays. However, it was learned that the rays are 100 times greater in the stratosphere than at sea level.

"Both Dr. Millikan and myself are confident that the information obtained was so excellent that it is only a matter of time until our individual theories are sustained or disproved," he said.

Dr. Compton, Nobel prize winner in 1927, holds to the theory that the rays are molecular—that is electrically charged particles, while Dr. Millikan maintains they are light waves resulting from the formation of heavy atoms in interstellar space. Both have their followers.

Two Tests Made

To ensnare the rays and attempt to solve the mystery of their nature and origin two tests were made. For one an unshielded ionization chamber was installed in the gondola and for the other an ionization chamber shielded by the equivalent of a sheet of solid lead to keep out other rays.

Then as the balloon rose to the layer of thin air surrounding the earth the rays set up an electrical current in the ionization chambers.

"Both sets of apparatus for measuring the ionization were self-recording," he said, "and gave satisfactory records. Due in part to an unexpected rapid rotation of the balloon, the program of directional experiments could not be completed, although valuable data on the number of rays were obtained."

The oscillations of the gondola also made impossible use of the adjustable support for the quartz spectrograph, and attempts to secure spectrograms by holding the instruments in the hands were unsatisfactory.

By use of a crystal of calcite painted with uniformly spaced black bands, so as to compare visually the intensity of the ordinary and extraordinary rays, he said Settle and Fordney determined that the skylight at 90 degrees from the sun was completely polarized within an estimated limit of about five per cent.

Cramped For Time

Whereas Commander Settle had planned originally to make the ascension alone, Dr. Compton said it was fortunate indeed that Major Fordney was included. Even with the balloon aloft eight hours he said the men found themselves cramped for time and were unable to make all the readiness scheduled beforehand.

Tho those who have maintained that the sky at great heights is black instead of blue, the flight said Dr. Compton, proved definitely their error.

By using a hand spectrocope he said Major Fordney found the sky close to the horizon to be white, due to clouds. Higher up it shaded into a steel blue and then into a saffron yellow, due apparently to light scattered from distant cirrus clouds.

"Above this highest layer of clouds or hazy air, the color shaded rapidly through green to a deep blue," he said. "This blue showed no tinge of purple of violet hue."

Oklahoma Youth Is Trapped In Alleged Extortion Plot

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 8 (AP)—Trapped by officers in an alleged extortion plot, Haskell Collier, 20-year-old Norman youth, was turned over to federal authorities here today for prosecution.

Collier, arrested at Norman last night at the scene of a proposed delivery of $1,000 demanded from J. H. Biard, superintendent of schools at Ripley, confessed, officers said, that he had made the extortion attempt.

GASSER COMPLETED

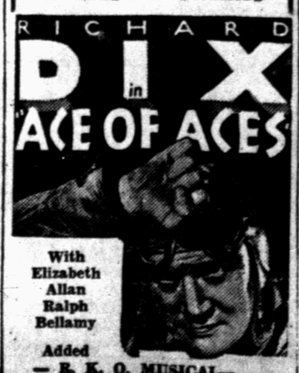

MIDLAND, Dec. 8. — Completion of a small gasser and the bringing in of a 75-barrel well are the chief recent developments in the Eddy county field. Leonard et al, State No. 9, sec. 22-17-20 has been completed at 3002 for a 200,000 cubic foot gasser. State No. 1 of the Red Lake Oil Co., sec. 22-17-28, is making 75 barrels following a 90-quart shot.

Westerners Thump Cisco, 26-12; Hunk Anderson Ousted At Notre Dame

Chapman Squad Blasts Loboes In First Half

Newton, White And Ryan Star For Driving Westerners In Benefit Game At Cisco; Do Damage Early In Game

(Special to The Avalanche)

CISCO, Dec. 8. — Coach W. B. Chapman of Lubbock said "howdy" to his former charges of Cisco High school here this afternoon from the top of a 26 to 12 score that his hard-driving Westerners piled up at the expense of the Loboes. A rock-ribbed line and a set of slashing backs cut the Cisco defense to pieces in the first half of their benefit game to amass a total of 20 points. Cisco tallied once in that half, Rutledge, end, taking St. John's long pass for the count.

Newton Goes Over

Newton scored for the visitors with a nine-yard twist through right tackle that concluded a drive in which he was the featured performer. He put the final touch on the score with a well-planted boot from placement. Cisco retaliated shortly with St. John's pass to Rutledge for 37 yards and a touchdown, but failed to convert for the extra point so that Lubbock retained the lead.

In quick succession the visitors struck twice more for touchdowns before the half ended, capitalizing upon the breaks with an alertness that left the Cisco team floundering. Even a blocked punt was turned into grist for the Westerner mill when Hale seized the bounding ball out of a swarm of Loboes and ran it to the Cisco 31-yard line, for the first down that his mates had been unable to make. Newton and Ryan promptly drove to a second touchdown in four plays. A Cisco fumble was converted to the Westerner cause shortly thereafter, when the visitors, aided by penalties against Cisco, which were frequent pounded from the home lad's 40-yard line for the count.

Even In Last Half

The play was more even in the second half, each team scoring six points. A long run by Ryan carried the ball to the Cisco 12-yard line in the third period from which point Newton and White rapped out the score, Newton crossing the pay stripe from the one-yard line to which the Loboes had been sent back by a penalty.

Cisco scored when St. John twisted his way through right tackle from the five yard line after Beasley had made a sensational catch of his long pass and had run to the Lubbock 17 yard line. The ball was advanced 48 yards on that play. Lubbock made 23 first downs to Cisco's 11.

Starting lineups: Lubbock—Griggs and Whitehorn, ends; Doherty and Wimberley, tackles; Phillips and Barnes, guards; Young, center; Hale, quarter; Ryan and White, halves, and Newton, full. Cisco—Rutledge and Page, ends; Graves and Brown, tackles; Merkett and Buackburn, guards; Littlepage, center; Harrison, quarter; Caffray and St. John, halves, and McMahon, full.

Schleuter Case Comes Up Today As Loop Meets

DALLAS, Dec. 8 (AP)—The annual meeting of the Southwest conference will be held here tomorrow at the Dallas Athletic club. Dr. D. A. Penick of the University of Texas, president, will preside.

The most important matter before the faculty athletic committee of the conference is the awarding of the current conference football championship. Whether the committee will forfeit Arkansas' championship for playing an ineligible man or not is speculative. "Heinie" Schlueter, substitute tackle, who played against Baylor, Rice and Texas Christian, was declared ineligible when it was discovered he had previously played with the University of Nebraska and had failed to list his Nebraska credit when he enrolled at Arkansas.

Beside awarding the conference championship, the routine business of approving the 1934 basketball schedule and the awarding of various other conference titles will be made. Centenary college and Texas Tech, as usual, are expected to request admittance to the conference.

The Lone Star and Texas conferences also hold their annual meetings here tomorrow and award championships.

COACHES TO ATTEND

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith and Dr. W. A. Jackson of the Texas Tech athletic council are in Dallas to attend the annual meeting of the Southwest conference, but with no intention of seeking membership for Tech in that loop.

After two years of effort at membership in the Southwest loop, Texas Tech officials decided to let effort come from the other direction. If Tech is invited to become a member of the league, it will "consider" the invitation, but will not open the discussion.

In addition to meeting with Southwest conference officials, the Matador representatives will attend the meeting of the southern branch of the American Football Coaches association.

Lamesa Tornadoes Wreck Rotan; Win Bi-District

Ted McCollum's Warriors Turn Back Heavy Yellowhammers To Win 32 To 13 Victory

(Special to The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Dec. 8 — Clicking in every department, the Lamesa Golden Tornado, coached by Ted McCollum, swept to a bi-district, Class B football championship here this afternoon by turning back the Rotan Yellowhammers, 32 to 13.

Featuring Gabel, Wilkes and Berry in a fine running attack, Lamesa charged down the field for two touchdowns in the first quarter, but failed to add the extra points. The blocking of Boswell and an almost impregnable line aided and abetted the Tornado in its rush.

HEREFORD IS WINNER

HEREFORD, Dec. 8 (AP)—Hereford High school won the football championship of District One and Two, Class B, today by defeating Dumas 27 to 0. Hereford previously had lost to Shamrock but the latter team was declared ineligible and the district title was given to the Whitefaces.

Rotan, champion of the Class B District 10, scored in the second quarter, the result of a completed forward pass and a 45-yard sprint around the Lamesa end. The 'Hammers failed to kick goal.

Both Score in Third

Both teams scored in the third period, each converting after touchdown. Lamesa stretched its lead in the final period with two touchdowns and an extra point.

A frenzied crowd of about 2,000 saw Lamesa turn back an ever-threatening Rotan team and win the right to play Hereford for the Regional One title. Rotan's two touchdowns constituted the first scoring against Lamesa in 21 Class B ball games.

55-Yard Punt Returned

Outstanding features of the game were the return of a Lamesa punt by Rotan, 55 yards for its second touchdown, and Lamesa's sustained 80-yard drive for a counter after receiving the ball on downs on Rotan's 20-yard line.

Lamesa rolled up 14 first downs to Rotan's 9, and completed three passes out of five attempts for good gains.

The officials were: McMillan (Texas A. & M.), referee; Morgan (Austin college), umpire, and McMurray (Austin college), head linesman.

The appointment of Dr. H. O. Nichols, instructor in chemistry, and a member of the Rice committee on outdoor sports, as director of athletics. Dr. Nichols, former Oberlin quarterback, several years ago was Rice's freshman football coach. He has his Ph. D., from Yale.

Hjertberg Resigns

The acceptance of the resignation of Ernie Hjertberg as track coach, effective at the end of the 1934 track and field season.

Chairman McCant said Dr. Gaylord Johnson would continue as business manager of athletics at Rice institute.

When advised of his appointment, Coach Kitts said: "It's all news to me".

However, the former S. M. U. all around athlete indicated he would accept the post.

Kitts was graduated from S. M. U. in 1922. He was outstanding in football, basketball and baseball. He was an all-southwestern quarterback.

Kitts coached at Dallas university from 1923 to 1927, going from Dallas university to Athens, Tex., where he won fame as coach of national championship high school basketball teams.

Kitts came to Rice in the fall of 1932 as varsity basketball coach. The new head mentor next fall will have excellent prospects, although Rice plays a strenuous schedule, which includes games with Purdue, Santa Clara, L. S. U., and Creighton.

Coach Meagher has just completed his fifth year as head coach at Rice. During his tenure he pulled Rice out of the doormat class, and made the Owls respected Southwest conference contenders in football. The 1933 season was disastrous for Rice. Meagher's friends blamed the poor showing of the 1933 team on the fact eight outstanding Rice football players last fall were suspended on account of an examination irregularity, making them unavailable for this season.

Frogs Plan To Play Two Or More Intersectional Games

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8 (AP)—Texas Christian university will, if it can get the games, launch upon a new policy in football for 1934 and thereafter. The Frogs will break the bounds which have limited them almost exclusively to the Southwest. They will play a limited program of intersectional games, perhaps two a year.

An informal announcement to that effect was made by L. C. "Pete" Wright, athletic director and university business manager, today when he confirmed reports from California that T. C. U. is seeking a game with Santa Clara for next December.

Wright revealed that bids for games during the next two and three years have been sent to outstanding schools in many sections.

Matadors And Westerners To Be Honored Thursday At Dinner; Public Invited

A full course dinner, honoring the football squads of Texas Tech and Lubbock High school, will be staged next Thursday night at the Hotel Hilton ballroom. The Lubbock Matador club, an organization of business and professional men, will be the host.

Supporters of Westerners and Matadors are cordially invited to attend the banquet, which will be open to the public. Plates will be 60 cents each, and the Matador Club officials urge that a large number of fans buy plates for themselves and for as many football players as possible.

For details, and to accept the invitations, fans are asked to call Lucile Barr Smith, at the Avalanche-Journal office.

Mustangs Arrive At Frisco; Meet St. Mary's Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8 (AP) — Football's noted pigskin jugglers, the gridiron troupers of Southern Methodist university, will match their aerial maneuverings against the stone wall line and crushing ground offense of St. Mary's Gaels here tomorrow in the season's outstanding intersectional clash in this sector.

The boys from Texas arrived this morning and smiled their way through a rousing reception. After acknowledging the city's greeting from Police Chief William Quinn and Fire Chief John Brennan, coach Ray Morrison said: "Well, we're here, 25 players and twice as many passes. The San Francisco fans seemed to like our passes two years ago and if that's what they want, we aim to please. But that doesn't mean we haven't a ground attack. It may be possible we can cross up St. Mary's by staying on the ground."

Two years ago, when St. Mary's won by a 7-2 score, the Texans kept 35,000 fans jittery by flipping the ball backwards, frontwards, sideways and even between their legs.

Coach Morrison sent his boys through a brisk workout today at Kezar Stadium, where the game will be played.

St. Mary's will have an edge in about everything but speed.

The Gaels average well over 200 pounds to the man on the line while the backfield quartet hits the scales around a 187-pound average. The Mustangs run 190 pounds on the line and 170 pounds in the backfield.

A 36-piece band came along with the Southern Methodist and the Texas horn tooters enlivened the afternoon by parading through San Francisco streets.

Manager Cochran? Detroit Says So

DETROIT, Dec. 8. (AP) — Mickey Cochrane is going to manage the Detroit Tigers in 1934, unless unforeseen complications arise.

Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit baseball club, made that plain today. He said he hopes to return from the baseball meeting in Chicago next week with Cochrane, fiery catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, signed as Tiger boss to succeed Stanley R. Harris.

"I'll see Connie Mack in Chicago," Navin said, "and the chances are, if there are no upsets and things go as planned, Cochrane will be our next manager."

Elmer Layden Named Mentor And Director

Jesse Harper Also Out; Former Member Of "Four Horsemen" To Assume Both Jobs; Huff And Puff Too Strong

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—Scholarly Elmer Layden has been summoned back to South Bend to rally the retreating ranks of the Irish and revive the glory that was Notre Dame's, but he hasn't much to say about his new job as yet.

However, the man who coached Duquesne university football teams from comparative obscurity to a ranking place among the nation's pigskin powers did confess tonight:

"I am going to have a conference with Father O'Hara in Indianapolis tomorrow."

Father John F. O'Hara is acting head of Notre Dame university in the absence of Father Charles O'Donnell, the president, who is ill.

Fills Two Jobs

Announcement of Layden's appointment was made unofficially in South Bend today and Father O'Donnell is expected momentarily to make an official announcement of the resignations of Head Coach Heartly (Hunk) Anderson and Jess Harper, director of athletics, and the signing of Layden to fill both posts.

Layden, an attorney and a keen executive for his 30 years, was tight lipped on the whole subject tonight. While messenger boys raced into his office carrying messages of congratulation from all over the country, and scores of newsmen peppered him with questions, the former member of Notre Dame's famous four horsemen smiled broadly and asserted:

"About all I know is what I'm reading in the newspapers."

Funny That Way

Joe Bach, one of the "seven mules," who screened the four horsemen back in 1924, Duquesne line coach for the past three years and mentioned prominently as one of the men Layden may take with him to South Bend stepped in about this time to say:

"You won't get the gentleman to talk very much."

And to demonstrate the tendency of Layden to keep his own counsel, Bach related the following story:

"Layden wanted me to go down town with him the other day while he picked out a suit of clothes.

"Well the salesman showed him everything in the place. Layden never said a word. The upshot of it was that he didn't buy a thing and I came out with a new suit, an overcoat and a pair of shoes. You won't get him to say anything until it's all down in black and white and he's right."

Lost To Pitt

Layden, whose team bowed only to the powerful Pitt Panthers this year, whipped Detroit and Bucknell, left tonight for St. Louis where the Duquesne All-Stars, a team of varsity seniors and recent grads will play a charity game Sunday with a picked team from St. Louis, Missouri and Washington universities.

Harper and Anderson took the helm of Notre Dame football after the tragic death of Rockne in a plane crash in March, 1931. Things went well on the gridiron for Notre Dame that fall but the pigskin fortunes of the Irish have suffered since and this season was the most disastrous in the history of Notre Dame football with the team scoring only three victories.

Morgan Instructs Varsity And Fish Candidates Last Night; Practice To Start Tuesday At Texas Tech Gym

With seven returning lettermen and a raft of former squad members, transfers and likely sophomores, Coach Dell Morgan was feeling optimistic last night as Texas Tech's basketball forces convened for their first session of the 1934 campaign.

"We've got a good team coming up on paper," said Morgan, "how they will be on the court is something else yet." Last evening he gave all candidates for the squad, both freshman and varsity, a short lecture on the rules of the game.

Next Tuesday the first official practice will be held. Twenty men have been working out informally for the past few weeks, and this number is expected to be swelled next week. Marion Harris, Lefty Sollis, and Matt Hitchcock, gridmen, are going to take their first fling at the floor game this year, according to Coach Morgan.

Eight Lettermen Return

Alvin Crews, Polk Robison, Henry Loter, Wil Gilmore, J. C. Tomas Trueman Green and Laurence Priddy are the returning letter men. Crews and Thomas are seniors. Former squadmen trying out for the team are Bulldog Hale, Robert Butcher, George Nixon and J. W. Maggart.

The Matador basketeers expect to compete in the National Intercollegiate Athletic association tournament at Chicago toward the end of the season. On January 4 and 5 they clash with the hirsute hoopsters from Benton Harbor, Michigan, the House of David. Later they meet the Ogden Boosters, who, as the Wichita Henrys, won several national championships in past years.

Local National Guard Cage Team Challenges Opponents

Ambitious college and independent basketball clubs seeking games with self-admitted "tough" opposition are invited to contact the National Guard team at Texas Tech.

The soldier boys want some games, and they are not particular, so long as the opposition is capable of putting up stiff competition. J. M. Conner, sergeant, is in charge of "bookings," and is anxious to schedule any number of games with any number of teams.

On the National Guard team are such popular collegians as Stoops Bryant, "Bear" Curfman, Carlton Luper, Malcolm Martin, Ted Wilson and Lefty Sollis. The team has started its workouts and is ready to take on all comers at any time.

Oklahoma Aggies To Battle Centenary On New Years Day

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 8. (AP) Missouri Valley conference schools today gave their approval to their football champions, the Oklahoma Aggies, to uphold the prestige of the valley against Centenary college in a Dixie grid classic proposed for Dallas New Year's Day.

Dean C. H. McElroy announced each school had approved the proposal.

Coach Lynn Waldorf is in Dallas for the Southwest conference meeting, which opens tomorrow, and probably will conclude arrangements for the game.

Big Ten Coaches Want Training Table Restored And Dead Ball Rule Kicked

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. (AP)—Bristling with new ideas and voting for them almost to the man, the Big Ten football coaches today asked for the return of the training table on a modified basis within their own conference and recommended three drastic changes in the playing rules for the national football rules committee.

The recommendations of rule changes to the national committee were:

Adoption of the rule in use in the National Professional football league whereby forward passes may be thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage instead of "a point at least five yards back of the line of scrimmage" now in effect.

Removal of the present collegiate rule whereby a ball is declared "dead" when any part of the ball carrier's body except his feet or hands touch the ground.

Re-instatement of an old "windy day" rule, used 25 years ago, providing that on an extremely windy day upon agreement of coaches and officials, the offensive team could exercise an option of surrendering the ball to its opponent at a spot 25 yards down the field, instead of punting. The rule would apply only when the offensive team was within 20 yards of its own goal.

Corsicana Is Beaten, 49-0 By Eagle Team

Brackenridge Of San Antonio Scores Almost At Will For Bi-District Honors, Eliminating Tiger Entry

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 8.—Scoring in every quarter, almost at will, the Brackenridge High school Eagles ran up a 49 to 0 victory over Corsicana, defending state football champions, here today.

Corsicana made but two threats—one in the first period and one in the third, and did not get inside the ten yard line.

Most of the Brackenridge offensive came from a powerful running game.

The Eagles were out for revenge against a team that stopped them 13 to 0 last year in a bi-district tilt and turned loose their speed aces, Howard Baker and Cecil Slater who raced through the lighter Corsicana line almost at will.

The Eagles scored first in the opening period, started the second quarter with a field goal by F. M. Daugherty and then pushed over three touchdowns with a fast working ground attack.

The second string opened the second half and two more touchdowns were chalked up before the period ended. The second string continued to work out in the final period after Charlie Moore, big fullback, had shot around left end five yards for another touchdown.

Temple Trounces Ranger, 20 To 7

TEMPLE, Dec. 8. (AP)—The Temple High school Wildcats, undefeated in District 11 of the Texas Interscholastic league, today trounced the Ranger Bulldogs, undefeated in District two, 20 to 7. Both teams had lost their district titles because of ineligibility. It was the final game of the season for both teams. Temple previously defeated Corsicana, District 11 champion, 26 to 0, and defeated Brackenridge High of San Antonio, District 12 champion, 51 to 0. Brackenridge walloped Corsicana today 49 to 0.

Smarter Lines, Colored Fenders And New Ventilating System Featured Along With Motor Improvements

Labeled as offering greater power, more speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance plus refined body lines and a new built-in system of clear-vision body ventilation, the 1934 V-8 model Ford will go on display today at the showrooms of the Lubbock Auto company, 820 Texas avenue, it was announced Friday.

Several models of the new car will be on exhibit here, the showing to be the first on the South Plains.

Improvements Pointed Out

Improvements in the new car were pointed out by Harry Morris, manager, who returned Friday from Dallas where he and a group of local salesmen attended the zone meeting introducing the new model. The improvements in engine performance are the result of the use of a new dual down-draft carburetor and dual intake manifold which increase the engine's power approximately 12 per cent and provide a remarkable improvement in pickup. New water line thermostats enable the engine to reach quickly and to maintain operating temperature.

"We are anxious to have the public inspect the new car because we believe it is the finest the Ford Motor company ever built," Mr. Morris said. "Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8's on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chasis design, the new body ventilation system and refinements in body styling and appointments developed during the past year."

Permits Clear Vision

The new ventilation system, which is built into the body, permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides the desired amount of fresh air in any weather.

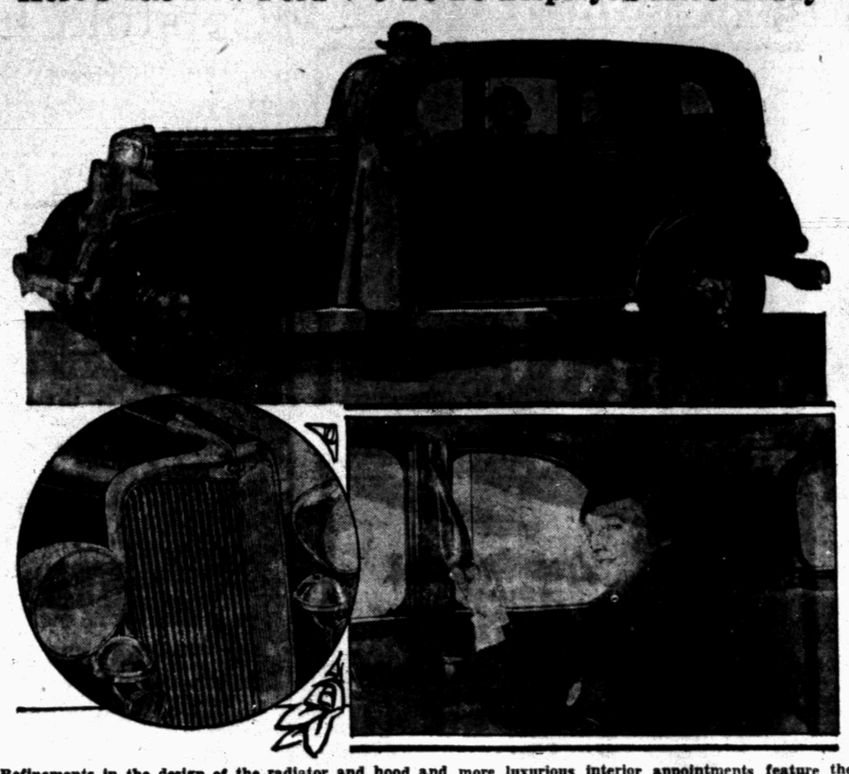

The distinctive lines of the Ford V-8 have been refined in the 1934 car by a newly-designed radiator shell and grille, new hood louvres and new hubcaps. Fenders on the de luxe car are now in color to harmonize with body colors. Interiors reveal new tufted upholstery and garnish mouldings, a cove-type head lining, new instrument panel, arm rests, door pulls and hardware. Sun visors are provided in all closed cars. All body type are equipped with safety glass windshields and de luxe types have safety glass throughout.

Operation Better

The new carburetor and other engine improvements not only give better gasoline mileage and oil economy, but also improve pickup and smoothness of operation. Gasoline economy is said to be improved two to three miles per gallon. The engine is fitted with aluminum cylinder heads, heat resisting high tungsten chrome alloy steel exhaust valve seat inserts and an entirely new cast alloy steel crankshaft.

Riding comfort has been improved with a more flexible transverse rear spring, improved shock absorbers and seat cushions with deeper, softer springs. Chassis features include double X-type frame, silent synchronizing transmission, torque-tube drive, one-piece welded steel spoke wheels and 17 by 5.50 tires.

Here's The New Ford V-8 To Be Displayed Here Today

Refinements in the design of the radiator and hood and more luxurious interior appointments feature the appearance of the new Ford V-8 for 1934. Colored fenders are standard on all de luxe cars. Dual downdraft carburetion and dual intake manifold give greater power and speed to the engine, increasing flexibility and smoothness. Gasoline and oil economy is also increased. A clear vision ventilating system prevents drafts and provides the desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Ventilation may be controlled by passengers individually. The easy riding qualities of the Ford V-8 have been increased by the use of more flexible springs, improved shock absorbers and softer seat cushions. Illustrated are: (top) the de luxe Tudor sedan; below (right), rear compartment of the de luxe Fordor sedan showing the ventilating slot and (left), the attractive front end.

Amelia Earhart Has No Earmarks Of Fame; She's Just A Gracious And Slim Young Woman Of The Every Day Type

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Staff Writer

CURLED up in a corner of a divan with her feet drawn under her skirts, drifting from one conversational topic to another, Miss Amelia Earhart, America's best known woman flier, might have been just any slim young woman Friday. For, on the surface, she has no earmarks of fame.

Arriving in Lubbock about noon yesterday, she might not have been distinguished from other young women except for her famous tousled hair. She wore a tailored brown suit and blouse, walking shoes and no jewelry, not even a wedding ring. She received reporters as graciously as she might have received friends and chatted while she had lunch in her room at Hotel Lubbock.

She Drives Alone

Driving alone into the city she stopped at municipal airport but did not go inside for an inspection. It "appeared adequate" in her opinion. Today she is driving on down to Fort Worth alone and will take an airplane to Omaha from there. She likes to drive and has an aversion to train trips.

"It is interesting to see this country from the ground," she explained, saying that she is familiar with every river and creek in the country from her numerous air trips across here. She has been by many times, night and day, when the people below knew nothing of her presence, she said.

Wears No Make-Up

This famous woman flier is as approachable and as natural in her conversation as a neighbor. She speaks familiarly of Mrs. Roosevelt or Mary Pickford and in the next breath giggles about the fancy paper covering her steak. She is deliberate in speech and unaffected. She wore no make-up Friday and sat on her feet almost throughout the visit, eating her cocktail with the glass perched on one knee.

She would like to see a society in which all women earned their livings but does not believe that the making of a home and the maintaining of an outside job should be attempted simultaneously. She does not mind using her married name—she is the wife of George Palmer Putnam who is well-known in publishing and motion picture circles—but feels just as free to retain her maiden name of Miss Earhart.

Takes Hubby's Cue

"My husband always introduces me as Miss Earhart and I take my cue from him," she explained.

Aviation is an industry and those who go into it need to have that conception of it she believes. She does not have much sympathy for those who are interested only in thrills. Flying alone is no more a part of aviation than running a train is of importance to railroads. "All of the men are not engineers," she added.

She feels that women have a place there as much as men and that sex has little to do with qualifications.

Health First Requisite

When young women come to her for advice about flying as a career, and they frequently do, she tries to make them understand that aviation is an industry and that one of the first requisites for flying is good health.

A knowledge of mechanics is essential before one is granted a license to fly but some people, and Lindbergh is in this group, have a natural mechanical mind that makes it easier for them to understand the ship, she explained.

Preparation is at least sixty per cent of a flight such as she made across the Atlantic, she said, and stressed the importance of understanding a motor and keeping it in condition.

She Likes People

Miss Earhart likes to appear before college audiences. She likes people and is amused on her jaunts about the country at those who do and do not recognize her.

Some people recognize others readily. It is a talent they might use to advantage in detective or some related work, she explained, and added that few people recognize her when she wears a hat. "I use one as a disguise. It is my false mustache," she laughed.

Teeth are formed completely in the gums at time of birth.

Trading Of Wives By Army Officers Proves A Success

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Dec. 8. (AP) The "wife trade" by two army officers, in which a captain exchanged his blonde mate for the brunette spouse of a major through the medium of Arkansas' 90-day divorce law, appears to have been successful so far as Capt. William B. Bradford is concerned.

The captain and his bride, the former Mrs. Stuart MacDonald, looked like picture of happy newlyweds as they took part in the American Royal Horse show at Kansas City.

Captain Bradford rode his jumper, Suzanne, and then he and his wife, upon Suzzanne and Don, took part in the event for hunters jumping in pairs.

A gay crowd of 11,000, present for "society night" at the show, made the Bradfords their favorites, cheering the fast army style of riding the couple employed. Another pair of riders, however, won the judges' preference.

The decision of the Bradfords and MacDonalds to make the exchange came while both officers were stationed at Fort Leavenworth. The wives went to Bentonville, a small town in the Ozark region of northwest Arkansas, sharing an apartment until the residence requirements of the law had been met.

When the decrees were granted the officers came to Bentonville and completed the legal formalities of the exchange before a justice of the peace.

Captain Bradford's 10-year-old daughter, Anne, by his former marriage had remained in the Bradford quarters at the fort here.

At Berwick, Pa., where Major MacDonald was transferred for duty with a Civilian Conservation Camp, the new Mrs. MacDonald expressed the belief that "all of us are happier now."

Details Of Another Battle In Hollywood Are Described

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (AP)—Details of another Hollywood fist fight and the possibility of legal action as a result of it were discussed today by Francis (Bunny) Weldon, dance director, who said he had been beaten by a noted stage and film comedian.

Weldon, formerly with the late Texas Guinan, night club hostess, said the attack grew out of an incident at a fashionable film rendezvous here. He said he had engaged an attorney "to see that justice is done."

The entertainer said the comedian, whose name was not announced had objected to a "kidding remark" after the actor's wife had commented on it. Weldon said the film player demanded later that an apology be made to his wife and Weldon said he agreed to go to the actor's home and express his regret.

With his wife, Weldon said he went there and "I was knocked down and my lip cut; I wasn't given an opportunity to apologize." His assistant took him to a hospital for treatment, Weldon said.

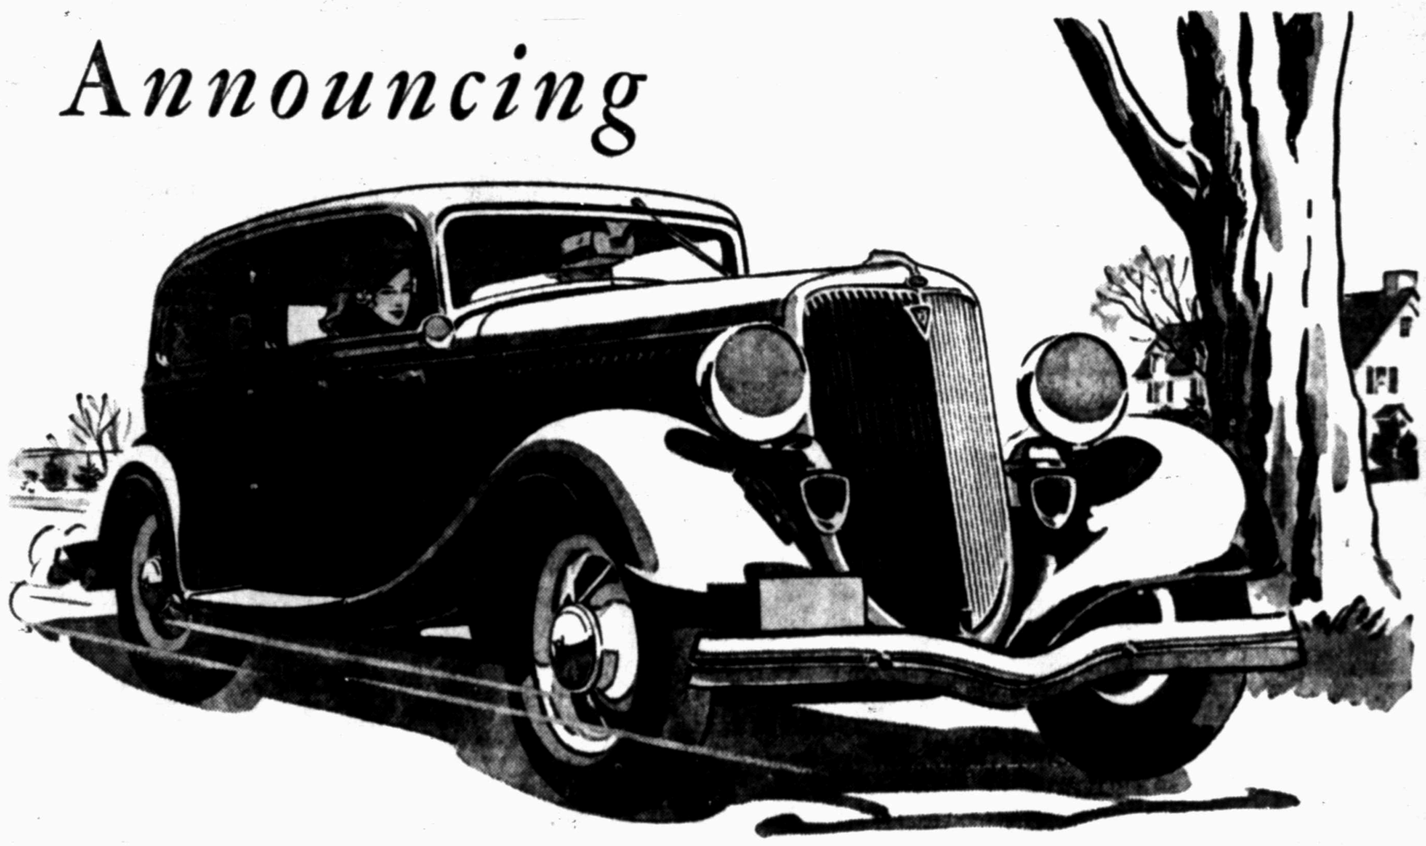

Later, it was learned, the comedian expressed amazement at the charges and said he had never been in the club where Weldon appeared.

NEW FORD V·8 for 1934
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
The New Ford V-8 for 1934 is now on display at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See this car today and drive it at the first opportunity.
OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V·8
BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New waterline thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.
NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot, as illustrated.

Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.
DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvres, new hub caps. Bundles Make Progress

GET ready, Lubbock, Slaton, Spur and the rest of the South Plains buying headquarters!

Bundles, more bundles and still more bundles. Bundles, rather than people, will be walking the streets from now until Christmas. There is much truth in the cartoon picturing the typical man bringing up the rear like an overloaded clothes tree. Bundle time begins about six weeks before Christmas and ends after the gifts that do not fit or suit have been exchanged at the store.

A bundle is an indefinable mass done up in brown paper and tied with string. It exists for the purpose of being carried. Bundles may be divided roughly into two classes, those that are forever coming undone and those that seem utterly incapable of coming undone.

Bundles are such frequent incidents in life that no well-directed household would think of going without a supply of brown paper and string for doing them up. It is a curious fact, however, that no matter how large and miscellaneous the supply, it is rarely ever possible to find just the right size sheet of paper, while the string is almost invariably too short. A parcel is a bundle trying to put on airs.

Persons who make up bundles hold the belief that the greater the number of knots the stronger the bundle. On the other hand, persons who open bundles would as soon spend principal as cut a knot. Between the two the labor expended annually in the United States in tying and untying bundles would be sufficient to build a broad highway from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon.

One good bundle deserves another, it seems. At least it invariably happens that when one bundle must be carried away or brought to the house there are others to occupy the attention of the other arm.

TRUTHS FOR ALL MEN

"There are truths which are not for all men, nor for all times," Voltaire once said, but certain truths now coming to light are for this time and for all men.

Some of them are being uncovered by a Senate committee investigating into the mysteries of international banking and high finance as they were conducted during that grand national spree which ended with a crash and a headache just four years ago.

It will do the taxpayers, the depositors and the investors no harm to learn where their billions went, why they went that way and who did the plucking. Owners of a Latin-American republic's bonds now worth but a fraction of their cost are interested in knowing that part of the profits for marketing those bonds in the United States went back to the republic's president in the form of a $2,000,000 personal loan. A perfectly legitimate transaction, of course.

Before federal juries the lottery connections of a United States Senator have been aired and the alleged liquor and gambling racketeering of a Pennsylvania State Senator are being unfolded. More truths for all men and for all times.

At last in these United States one half the people are learning how the other half live. If it does not destroy their faith in human nature, it will at least make them more careful in their financial dealings and more judicious in their choice of public representatives.

U. S. Food and Drug Administration may require cosmetic manufacturers to put vitamins into their lipstick. And more life into love.

Egyptians hold the fly sacred and won't harm it no matter how it pesters them. We didn't know there were so many Egyptians in this country.

GOD AND A TOWN

"Thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, . . . out of thee shall come a governor, that shall rule my people Israel".—Matthew 2:6.

It seems that God prefers small towns as birthplaces for great men and saviors. Out of this small town of Bethlehem came His son. The wickedness in that and all other towns was in danger because "all wickedness is in danger when God comes down to a town."

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

REMEMBER Sol Bloom? He's the New York Congressman who made George Washington immortal last year.

Sol's labors as head of the Bi-Centennial commission have finally found terminal facilities. The last page of the last fat report has been written and the commission's office space has been given up to the Federal Surplus Relief corporation.

This is the agency that buys foodstuffs for distribution by Harry Hopkins' Federal Emergency Relief administration. Captain C. E. Parsons is procurement officer and has Bloom's old office.

At Parsons' request one bit of furnishings was left behind. The Navy officer asked Sol to leave with him one of those busts of Washington on a pedestal with which the country was re-forested last year.

"It looks down on the situation," Parsons explained, "and keeps all the food men honest when they come in to bid for our orders."

DOUBLE-ENTRY: The House Appropriations committee is just getting wise to something.

Last spring they cut to the bone in an effort to balance the budget. Proposed construction work on hospitals, prisons and other public buildings was slashed left and right.

At that same special session Congress passed the $3,300,000,000 Public Works bill.

Now the gentlemen of Ways and Means have reassembled to start working on new appropriations.

As they dip into schedule after schedule they discover that any number of projects they turned down to save money are being carried out with Public Works funds. The plans were ready and so were the sponsors when the money had to be spent.

All of which demonstrates the beauty of keeping two sets of books.

GANDHI: Washington hears that Mahatma Gandhi's reign is about at an end.

The old man of the loin cloth has been deserted by more than a third of the National Congress of India, the defectors having formed a new party.

Jamnadas Mehta, once Gandhi's right-hand man, leads the new party. They accuse the Mahatma of having hade tall promises over a 12-year period without delivering a thing.

NOTES: When General Johnson was in Atlanta an old negro mammy sidled up to him as he left his hotel. . . . "Lor' bless you, General," she said, "I'd 'a' recognized you anywhere. You've done more for us colored folks than any man since Abraham Lincoln.". . . She was referring to the raising of wages in southern factories. . . . Two Senate newspaper men almost got a rise out of Winthrop W. Aldrich, new chairman of the Chase Nat'l bank. They were arguing with one of Aldrich's associates in a vain effort to persuade him to withhold presentation of his bank reform formula to the Senate Banking committee until a date they had decided upon themselves. . . . Finding their wishes for holding a story against a dull day were going to be ignored they gravely threatened the Chase official that when Aldrich started his testimony they would have two girls in the audience who would rise and sing "Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolf?"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK doffs its hat to the State department for getting away with white magic on Argentina.

Argentina is the prize trade battleground between England and the United States. The English seemed to have the inside track. Their exchange agreement to bolster the peso practically put the country in their pocket.

Now Argentina has shoved this arrangement overboard by pulling the props from under the peso. This puts us back on even terms with the British. But Argentina has also adopted our own price-raising philosophy which puts us definitely one up.

Watch for a lowering of the linseed oil tariff which will permit the Argentine product to be imported here. That would mean a big increase in our exports. Britain cannot respond in kind because South Africa won't let her. This means an important edge for the future battle.

The clever timing is the most important factor of all. Argentina's prestige in Latin America gives enormous weight to her decision to follow our economic lead instead of England's. Secretary Hull's position at Montevideo shifts from uncertainty to dominance.

New York bankers knew the State department had been quietly dickering with the Argentine. They had no idea it had come out on top.

CUBA: The grapevine from Cuba whispers that opponents of San Martin are thinking of using De Cespedes in a surprise move to win our support. San Martin has no control outside of Havana. The idea would be to set up a new capital at Camaguey and name De Cespedes president. Then they could say: "Here's the man you recognize. How about it?"

The unexpectedly warm reception to Sumner Welles on his return to Havana is seen here as a move to speed recognition. Insiders expect San Martin to last not more than 60 days unless he can obtain our official O. K.

STEEL: U. S. Steel has a dicker on with Russia. The Russians are in the market for steel products of all kinds and are set to place a large order as soon as credit terms can be arranged. U. S. Steel is holding back on confirming the business until it finds out how much credit protection it can get from the U. S. government. The size of the order will make news.

RUSSIA: New York authorities interested in Russian credit arrangements are studying the German system closely. The German government guarantees a flat sixty per cent of all credit extended to the Soviets by German manufacturers. The Russian notes run from two to four years and the majority of them have not yet matured. They have been discounted at an average of between 20 and 36 per cent.

The Germans are sore about one feature of the arrangement. The notes are payable by contract in marks or dollars. Right now the Russians are choosing to pay in depreciated dollars which is swell for them but not so good for their creditors.

COOPER: American engineers planning to go to Russia should take lessons from Colonel Hugh Cooper on how to get along with their Soviet hosts. Despite his reputation for being hard-boiled the Colonel put through the Dnieprostroi job with far less friction than usually attends the efforts of foreign exports.

The Colonel made a special feature in his contract of three points which the average American is apt to take for granted. He insisted on adequate housing for himself and his staff, the right to import anything he wanted for his personal use, and payment of the bulk of his salary in dollars instead of roubles. Lack of attention to these details has caused plenty of grief to other foreigners brought over to aid the five-year plan.

The UNKNOWN BLOND

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN
©1933 NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAVID BANNISTER returns from Hollywood to his former home, Tremont, for a rest. He is trying to forget ADELE ALLEN, film actress, who has jilted him.

Bannister dines with JIM PAXTON, an old friend, now editor of the Tremont Post. Later he takes a cab to drive home. Passing the Shelby Arms, apartment hotel, a traffic light halts the cab. A girl comes out of the hotel, sees the cab and rushes toward it.

When she sees Bannister she is embarrassed. He offers her the cab and she agrees to ride with him to her destination. The girl drops her handbag and Bannister sees that it contains a revolver. A few minutes later she leaves.

Next morning at breakfast Bannister reads that TRACY KING, orchestra leader in a movie theater, has been found dead in his apartment at the Shelby Arms.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

Kate Hewlett read the words aloud, shock and amazement in her voice, "TRACY KING, BAND LEADER, SLAIN IN HOTEL."

"It's terrible," she exclaimed. "Simply terrible. Oh, David—!"

He was not looking at the huge, black banner headline but at two lines of smaller type. "Unknown Blond Is Sought By Police," the lines read.

Bannister stared at the six words. Mrs. Hewlett went on, reading aloud:

"Tracy King, orchestra leader and master of ceremonies at the State theater, was found dead from a bullet wound in his head in his apartment at the Shelby Arms hotel shortly after 11 o'clock last night."

Over her spectacles she eyed her nephew. "That's why he wasn't at the theater!" she said excitedly. "My stars! Think of that! The poor young man was lying dead all the time. Oh, but isn't this terrible!"

"Read the rest of it," Bannister said abruptly.

Mrs. Hewlett read on, "Police who believe King was the victim of a murderer are searching for an unknown blond woman, said to have visited the orchestra leader during the evening."

Again she looked up. "A woman!" she exclaimed. "What did I tell you about that fellow not being good enough for Denise Lang Denise is a blond, too—"

The words trailed off and she continued reading: "Captain Oliver McNeal of the homicide squad said a detailed description of the woman's appearance is in the hands of the police and that she is certain to be apprehended within 24 hours.

"The bullet which caused King's death entered the left side of the head. There were no powder burns, eliminating the possibility of suicide. According to Coroner Charles J. Westwood, King had been dead more than an hour before the body was discovered. The body was found by Al Drugan, also a member of the orchestra, and J. A. Link, night clerk of the hotel. Drugan explained that he went to King's rooms to find out why the band leader had not appeared at the theater for the 10:45 vaudeville performance. Unable to enter the apartment, which is on the third floor, he summoned Link and together they entered the three-room suite.

"King's body was found lying on the floor of the bedroom. He was fully dressed. There were no signs that a struggle had taken place but a desk in the living room had evidently been rifled. Two of the desk drawers had been pulled out and their contents was in a disordered state.

"Occupants of nearby suites, when questioned, said they had not heard the shot. Mrs. Lucian Fraser, who occupies the suite directly across the hall from King's, said that her radio had been turned on most of the evening and that part of the program was a drama of underworld warfare. Mrs. Fraser said she might have heard the report of the gun that killed the orchestra leader and thought it was a part of the radio drama.

"C. A. Nelson, living directly above King's apartment, reported that he reached home about 10:30 and had heard no sounds of any sort from the rooms below.

"Two employes of the hotel are said to have given police descriptions of King's mysterious feminine visitor but that description has been withheld from publication. The employes said they saw the woman enter the building but did not see her leave.

"A. B. Kauffman, manager of the State theater, could ascribe no possible motive for the crime. King's absence last night, he said, was the first time the orchestra leader had missed a performance. During the 10 months in which King was employed at the theater he had become widely known in musical circles of the city. His engagement to Miss Denise Lang, daughter of Arthur J. Lang, 4862 Sheridan Road, was announced last week. The marriage was to have been an important social event of the Christmas season.

"Miss Lang, when informed of her fiance's death, became prostrated—"

"I should think she would!" Kate Hewlett interrupted herself matter-of-factly. "That's a silly thing to print. I should think any girl would become prostrated to hear that the young man she was engaged to had been shot and killed. And to think it was by another woman! What did I tell you, David Bannister?"

It was an exclamation, not a question. Bannister did not answer. He had turned away and was looking out through the crisp, white ruffled curtains at the maple trees, almost shorn of their foliage, at the smoothly cut lawn. Last night's rain had brought down many of the yellow leaves. They lay in a scattered, irregular pattern, still wet and glistening in the sunshine.

It was a morning serene and cloudless but, instead of the blue sky and golden sunshine, David Bannister saw dark drizzling fog. He saw a pair of wide set gray eyes in a white, girlish face—half-hidden in the depths of a taxicab; lips that moved tremulously; a small gleaming revolver in the woman's handbag.

Good God, no—it couldn't be! That girl was no murderess. She looked more as though someone had tried to murder her. Frightened within an inch of her life, he had decided, seeing her clearly for that moment just before she disappeared into the hotel.

There was a point, too! Would

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons
Associated Press Staff Writer

Charles E. Simons

AUSTIN, Dec. 8. (AP)—The attorney general's department has started what may be a long court fight involving the question of whether a state law requiring railroads operating in Texas to maintain general offices in this state is valid and enforceable.

The point became a subject for litigation when the interstate commerce commission ruled that the Kansas City Southern could not be forced to maintain general offices of its subsidiary, the Texarkana and Fort Smith Railway Co., in Texas. The question has been thrashed out before the interstate commerce commission.

State Is Favored

In one instance the commission, by a five to four decision, ruled in favor of the state. In a later ruling the state's contentions were overruled by the same vote.

The state has filed suit in the federal court in Missouri to test the right of the commission to issue the ruling in direct conflict with the state law.

Much more than the removal of the offices of the Texarkana and Fort Smith offices is involved.

Operate Under Charter

All railroads operating in Texas maintain general offices in the state and operate under a Texas charter. If the interstate commerce commission is upheld, it is contended there would be nothing to prevent railroads from moving their offices outside the state. It is doubtful whether there would be any considerable exodus because the large amount of incoming and outgoing traffic in Texas requires a considerable office force to handle it.

The final decision in the controversy will be written by the United States supreme court since both sides have shown a desire to fight it out to a finish.

The state demanded that rail lines operating in Texas subject themselves to state control many years ago and has held tenaciously to its right to force them to accept the state's jurisdiction. There has been some agitation in the legislature to require all foreign corporations doing business in Texas to submit to the same control.

Bearded faces became so fashionable in 14th century Spain that many men wore false beards of various shapes and colors to match their clothes and moods.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN, No. 42

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

For a moment Rokoff stood sneering down upon the wife of Tarzan. Then as he saw the baby in her lap and realized life had departed from it, his rage was frightful! "You have robbed me of the child!" he shouted. "I cannot make him the son of a cannibal chieftain, now. But I can make you, its mother, the wife of a cannibal. And that I shall do—after I have finished with you myself!"

While the Russian stamped up and down, cursing terribly in his disappointment and rage, Jane studied him closely. Now she was convinced that Rokoff himself was not aware that he had kidnapped the wrong child. Perhaps somewhere, her own baby, Tarzan's son, was still safe from harm. For the moment she was content with this thought and a faint, almost happy smile touched her lips.

No, the Russian must never know that this was not her own little Jack. "So you are laughing at me," Rokoff shrieked. "I'll show you yet—you and the miserable ape you call your husband—that you cannot escape my vengeance." With that he shook the girl roughly by the arms and dragged her, half swooning with numb terror, out of the hut and toward the jungle blackness where his followers awaited them.

Along their pathway she could hear the stealthy footfalls of great beasts. The earth fairly trembled with the roar of hunting lions. The native porters lighted torches, waving them to frighten off the beasts of prey. Vividly it recalled to Jane her fearless and unconquerable Tarzan, the days and nights they had spent together in a similar jungle. Where now was her forest god?

Chuck Klein On Top Third Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—If there was any doubt that the Chicago Cubs got their money's worth when they bought Chuck Klein from the Phillies, the "miscellaneous" records of the National League for 1932, featuring the slugging marks, should reassure them.

Klein not only was the league's leading batter last year but the official slugging percentages, released today, show him on top for the third straight year with a mark of .602. In his 152 games, Chuck had 606 times at bat and hit for a total of 365 bases. In addition he batted in 120 runs, more than any other player in the league.

Klein's .602 slugging percentage followed a .646 mark for 1932 and .584 for 1931. His composite mark for six seasons is .632.

Second place in slugging among the league's regulars went to Wally Berger of Boston, whose percentage was .566.

Willie MacFarlane Leads In $10,000 Biltmore Open Play

BILTMORE COUNTRY CLUB CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 8. (AP)—Wee Willie MacFarlane. 42-year-old Scot, who came to this country years ago as a plasterer, carded a sparkling 33-34—67, four under par, to establish a new course record and lead the field at the end of the first day of play today in the $10,000 Biltmore Open tournament here.

The Tuckahoe, N. Y., professional, who holds the Metropolitan open championship and is a former American Open title holder, collected two birdies on the outgoing nine of his sensational round, and two more on the incoming frame, to top 12 other holes he made in even regulation figures.

MacFarlane's great card, turned in after the sun had set on the 6,640-yard, par 71 course, blasted the hope of lanky Denny Shute, Philadelphia, the defending champion, and three other top notch golfers of holding the lead with 71's.

Included in that quarter with Shute who also holds the British Open championship, were Johnny Goodman, Omaha amateur, the wearer of the American Open crown; debonair Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., and Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis.

The Greek government having restricted the movement of currency, one Greek firm gave a four months' vacation in Athens to the family of an English manufacturer from whom it had purchased goods; this was a novel means of clearing off the debt.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Speculative markets lacked initiative today and final prices were generally lower, though many bonds maintained the current week's record of firmness.

Pressure against share was light and appeared to represent profit-taking. Losses were moderate all around, being largest in issues which had recently been favorites of buyers. A few specialties still clung to the upside, but in general leaders were down fractions to around a point net. The average dip was eight-tenths of a point.

Heaviness in wheat gave stock traders a poor example. However, last prices were above the lows and this tendency to resist offerings did not escape notice in many speculative quarters. Government bonds traded narrowly at mixed changes as Washington announced a heavy oversubscription for the new treasury certificates. The cotton report tallied closely with forecasts and that market did little.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8. (AP)—Cotton was unusually quiet for a crop-report day today and the effect of the government's final estimate of 13,177,000 bales on prices was negligible. The figure was very close to trade expectations and values after a slight rise later eased with grains. Final quotations were 4 to 5 points net lower.

The opening was steady as Liverpool came in better than due and sterling was steadier. First trades showed declines 3 to 4 points and just before the government's estimate was issued prices were at 10.12 for March and 10.26 for May or 4 points above the previous close.

After the bureau figure was posted, prices advanced 1 to 2 points more with March at 10.13 and May at 10.28. The market later eased off moderately on selling by ring traders on the large yield of 209.4 pounds per acre, March dropping to 10.04 and May to 10.17 down 9 to 11 points from the highs and 4 to 5 points under yesterday's close.

After rallying 4 to 5 points in the early afternoon, the market again reacted with grains to 10.02 for March and 10.15 for May or 11 to 13 points under the highs of the morning and 6 to 7 points under the previous close. After a slight recovery March closed at 10.04 down 4 points net and May at 10.17 down 5 points net.

Port receipts 66,148, for week 261,172 for season 5,043,804, last season 5,173,948. Exports 44,840, for week 269,461, for season 3,595,785, last season 3,414,581. Port stock 4,116,214, last year 4,772,561. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 138,662, last year 165,336. Spot sales at southern markets 17,488, last year 26,007.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—The government crop report, being within a few thousand bales of average expectation, failed to stimulate business in the cotton market today and slight early advances were followed by reactions under scattering liquidation and southern selling. March contracts which sold up to 10.18 early, eased to 10.04 and closed at that figure, with the general market showing net declines of 4 to 7 points.

Trading was quiet from the start. The opening was 3 to 5 points higher in response to steady Liverpool cables which were followed by some foreign buying here and some pre-bureau covering. January sold up to 10.00 and May to 10.30 late in the first hour showing net gains of about 4 to 7 points, when trading was suspended to receive the crop estimate. This proved within 2,000 bales of the average expectation of New York cotton exchange members as revealed by a recent canvass, and the first sales after the report were at about the pre-bureau figure. This was evidently a disappointment to some holders of contracts, and the market worked gradually lower later under scattered selling promoted by the indifferent showing of the wheat and stock markets.

The government report placing the indicated crop at 13,177,000 bales showed an increase of 77,000 bales over the increase of the November indication due to an increase of 108,000 in the estimated acreage for harvest and a slight increase in the indicated yield per acre. Comment accompanying these figures said bales were running unusually heavy and that the crop in running bales would probably be about 400,000 less than the indicated yield in bales of 500 pounds gross. Exports today 46,590 making 3,643,667 so far this season. Port receipts 46,209. U. S. port stocks 4,087,391.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 8. (AP)—Cattle trade today maintained a steady basis with sales of fed steers and yearlings listed at 3.90 @5.50, supplies being light at all markets. A few sales of light mixed offerings and long yearlings came in at 6.00@6.40. Short fed steers predominated cattle supplies this week at various markets and were under pressure on most sessions although in some instances near the close an upward trend resulted in partial or complete recovery of early losses due to smaller receipts. Short-fed steers were considered unevenly steady to 25 lower for the week while choice long fed kinds maintained about a steady basis. Extreme weight beeves were slow to move at all times and in some cases prices of averages 1450 lbs. and above were listed as low as any time this season. Light yearlings around 900 lbs. and below continued met a ready outlet and good to choice kinds closed steady to 25 higher. Supplies of stockers and feeders were rather small this week and selling levels for the most part ranged steady to strong with stockers 25 higher at some points.

Mostly steady prices prevailed on hogs today with a top of 3.60 paid freely in Chicago.

Lambs were rated at steady to 25 lower levels, most better grade wooled kinds selling around 6.75@7.25 while shorn offerings made 5.75@6.25.

Oil Proposals

by specific agreement among the companies.

It also sets out as a statistical objective of the industry a proposal that total crude oil stocks on July 1, 1934, shall show no increase over December 1, 1933, and the decrease, if any, shall not exceed 10,000,000 barrels.

It is similarly proposed that gasoline stocks on July 1 shall not exceed 46,000,000 barrels. These objectives were said to represent the industry's idea of how fast present stocks of gasoline and oil should be reduced.

Set Prices In Ratio

For the purposes of the agreement it was stated that gasoline and oil prices should be established in the ratio set in the oil code—the mid-continent crude should be priced at 18.5 times the price of average grade gasoline.

The agreement further binds signatories to aid in developing new oil pools and allocating production therefrom.

Refiners are guaranteed a supply of crude if regulations inadvertently cut off their supply.

It is agreed that any member may petition for the establishment of minimum prices after 90 days or may do so before that time if prices fall below present level or if they are reduced by some member.

Regions Set Up

The market agreement sets up six regions wherein marketing margins are to be established for distributors, jobbers and wholesalers. The minimum gross marketing margin shall not exceed one and one-half times the gross margin which is to be determined.

Likewise retail dealers are guaranteed gross margins on average fuels of from 3 1-2 to 4 cents, and on below average fuels, 2 1-2 to 3 cents.

The marketing agreement provides for the cancellation of all top price contracts for motor fuels, and establishes that if there is any violation of the agreement suppliers shall stop deliveries of gasoline to the offending distributor for such period as may be determined.

The marketing agreement would not go into effect until at least 85 per cent of total runs to stills, during November, sign.

The national petroleum agency would become effective on its approval by the president.

The manufacture of shoe blacking takes care of part of Poland's huge molasses production.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8. (AP)—Fair demand continued for all offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market.

Prices ranged as follows basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to delivery points:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat No. 1 hard 89 3-4@90 3-4.

Barley No. 2 nominally 60@61; No. 3 nominally 59@60.

Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.02@1.04; No. 3 milo nominally 1.00@1.02. No. 2 kafir nominally 85@87; No. 3 kafir nominally 83@85.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 mixed 63 3-4@64 3-4; No. 2 white 65 1-4@66 1-4; No. 2 yellow 64 1-4 @65 1-4. Oats No. 2 red 45 1-2@46 1-2; No. 3 red 44 1-2@45 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. (AP)—Unusual curtailment of speculative buying, together with considerable selling to stop losses, tumbled wheat down a maximum of 2 3-8 cents a bushel today.

Price setbacks were in the face of unofficial estimates that 5,000,000 acres of domestic wheat territory would afford no winter pasturage, and that the southwest demand for feed grain would consequently be 50,000,000 bushels greater than normal. Doubts regarding the monetary situation were looked upon by numerous traders as the main factor in refusal of the wheat market to respond to constructive news.

Wheat closed unsteady at virtually the day's bottom level, 1 5-8 to 2 3-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 to 7-8 down, oats 5-8 to 7-8 off, and provisions 2 cents to 17 cents up.

Amelia Earhart

they were in her reception room and she was trying to convince them that flying was lots of fun and not a dangerous undertaking.

She wore a dark blue dress made on simple lines. Her long fingers were clasped and unclasped from time to time and sometimes placed behind her. Her only ornaments were a bracelet and her "wings." Her tumbled blonde hair, unparted, gave her the appearance of a boy in his teens. Although she laughingly said she had been mistaken for Mrs. Roosevelt, Colonel Lindbergh's mother and "that woman who swam the Atlantic," Miss Earhart does resemble the famous colonel.

That the slim pilot made her solo flight on the fifth anniversary of Lindbergh's pioneer adventure was described as merely a coincidence. "It just happened that the weather broke on that day," she explained.

In her lecture Miss Earhart paid tribute to the help given her by her husband, George Palmer Putnam, who aided her; and, as she termed it, "respected her judgment in things aeronautical."

She took her audience with her on that momentous flight. They went with her down the dangerous runway in Newfoundland, worried with her when the altimeter went "haywire." went through storm clouds, barely escaped the dangerous waves of the Atlantic. As she described her solo trip through the dark skies and told of the sun rising only to shine with such intensity on the white clouds that she was nearly blinded. The large group listened attentively. And when Miss Earhart told of landing in the little farm yard in Ireland and of her whimsical "I'm from America" they laughed with relief.

This modest speaker told nothing of the adulation heaped on her after the flight nor of the many honors she has received. Her main object in lecturing seemed to be to interest women in becoming pilots or in becoming passengers or in allowing their husbands to fly.

Her appearance marked the last number of this semester's artist course at the college.

Woolley Trial

the courtroom.

Gay examined the gun carefully, to see that it was not loaded, then crashed the butt against the floor.

He struck it on the floor three times, at Monroe's behest, the prosecutor asking, each time, "did it discharge?" and Gay replied "no."

J. A. Pierce, salesman for a store near the Woolley home, told of an attempt by Woolley and his wife to buy a shotgun there, and of their purchase of a rifle. He said they told him both guns were to be Christmas gifts, the rifle for Dorothy from her husband, and the shotgun as her gift to him. Pierce said she paid for the rifle — her Christmas present from her husband—with a check.

Miss Bonnie Meinast of Cameron, Milam county, a friend of the slain bride, called as a defense witness, said Woolley brought Dorothy to her home the night of September 23, but did not get out of the car "dan let her carry her own bag into the house." She said she asked Dorothy about the absence of a wedding ring and Dorothy said "she supposed she would get one."

Eleven Persons Are Blown To Pieces At Sugar Mill

LINARES, Mexico, Dec. 8. (AP) — Eleven persons, including Jose Maria Bonilla, former general in the federal army, were blown to pieces today in an explosion at a sugar mill owned by Bonilla.

The cause of the blast which wrecked several nearby buildings, was not determined.

Young French Peasant Girl Awarded Highest Honor Of Catholic Church

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 8. (AP)—A 14-year-old French peasant girl whose visions of the virgin were responsible for the world-famous Grotto of Lourdes was made a saint today by Pope Pius XI.

The solemn canonization ceremony was in St. Peter's in the presence of a score of cardinals and an estimated half-hundred thousand pilgrims. She became Saint Bernadette Soubirous.

A tremendous cheer burst forth from the throng when the pope decreed in Latin that Beradette Soubirous "be inscribed in the catalogue of the saints and her memory be celebrated in the universal church every year with pious devotion."

Simultaneously, six silver trumpets were sounded by Swiss guards in a balcony high over the main door of the cathedral. The basilica took up the paeon of rejoicing and spread it to the bells of Rome's more than 400 churches. The cathedral choir, joined by the faithful within the church, chanted the "Te Deum."

Thus the humble French girl, whose life was passed as a provincial nun, received the highest honor that can be conferred by the Roman Catholic church.

Texas Negroes Feel Insecure

Blacks In Kountze Are Uneasy Despite Assurances Given By Officers; Several Being Rushed Out Of Town

convinced themselves that there was no evidence on which to base charges and that the men were guilty of nothing but "a little lying."

The negro who reported he was beaten claimed that another negro also had been attacked.

Feeling against unpopular negroes and negroes believed to have had a part in the escape of Gregory reached a high pitch when officers and posses of hundreds of armed citizens were unable for several days to get a trace of the accused killer.

Negroes Leave Quarters

Early this week nearly all the negroes left their quarters and came to spend one or two nights with their friends among the whites. However, most of them had returned home by yesterday.

Gregory was shot last night after officers had located him in the belfry of a negro church at Voth, between Kountze and Beaumont. It was reported that a "tip" that the negro was in Voth was received from his aunt. He was shot after he reached for a pistol and shouted that he had plenty of ammunition to defend himself, officers said.

Wounded in the right side of the face and neck, the negro was rushed to a Beaumont hospital, where physicians said he probably would die before morning. He had been there only about two hours, Sheriff Jordan said, when the sheriff received a warning that a mob was planning to rush the hospital.

Statement Sought

The sheriff said he whisked the negro out of jail and took him towards Orange. He still had hopes of getting a statement from Gregory before the negro died, he said. However, Gregory breathed his last shortly after their automobile sped across the Orange county line.

Jordan first took the body to Silsbee but the undertaker there refused to accept it, he said. He then headed towards Kountze.

As he entered the town a mob of about 400 persons blocked the highway. The sheriff and a bystander, reported to have been a preacher's son from Saratoga, pleaded with the mob to leave the body alone but it refused.

Explains Attitude

"I probably could have got part of the way through by running over and killing a bunch of white men, but I wasn't going to do that to save a dead negro who was guilty of a most revolting crime," the sheriff said.

Chaining the body to the rear end of an automobile, the mob, occupying about fifty cars, paraded through the negro quarters several times. Then they fell upon it with knives. Finally they pitched it in the fire.

Negroes who passed near the fire's glowing embers today were ordered by white men standing nearby to come over "and see what happened to David Gregory."

No move to bring charges against members of the mob had been made. However, Bryan Coe, county attorney, said he would welcome information concerning the identity of participants.

city during the day to form a trade organization.

No Concern Expressed

Dr. James M. Doran, head of the recently formed distilled spirits institute, the distilling code authority, expressed no concern over threats of government intervention.

The $2.60 tax on distilled spirits would be an increase from the present rate of $1.10 a gallon.

Other taxes proposed by the committee included: 16 cents a gallon on wines of less than 14 per cent alcoholic content, compared with the existing four cent levy; 40 cents on wines between 14 and 24 per cent; $2.60 a gallon, the liquor rate, on all wines and brandies above 24 per cent. Sparkling wines of less than 24 percent content would be subject to an 80 cent tax and to the full liquor tax when over 24 per cent would bear a 40 cent tax.

Blended and rectified spirits would be taxed $2.76 a gallon, contrasted with the $2.60 for the naturally distilled brands.

CHILD IS INJURED

AUSTIN, Dec. 8. (AP)—Velma Halgard, 12, was probably fatally injured when struck by an automobile today. At the time of the accident she was trying to get her baby sister out of the way of another automobile. A negro was arrested and charged with reckless driving.

Judge Mullican's charge read in part:

"If you believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant is guilty of some form of culpable homicide, then you are instructed that you may consider the condition of the mind of the defendant at the time of the killing, if any, if in determining the grade of offense, if any, and the punishment, if any, to be assessed against the defendant; and in determining the condition of the mind of the defendant at said time, you may take into consideration all the facts and circumstances surrounding the killing and the previous relationship existing between the defendant and the deceased together with all facts and circumstances in evidence.

". . . . from all the facts and circumstances surrounding the alleged killing, the previous relationship existing between the parties, together with all facts and circumstances in evidence, you believe there was created in the mind of the defendant, J. R. Readhimer, a reasonable apprehension of fear of death or serious bodily injury at the hands of Stokes Campbell viewed from the standpoint of the defendant, J. R. Readhimer, at the time, and if you believe or have a reasonable doubt thereof, that J. R. Readhimer, acting upon such reasonable expectation or fear of death or serious bodily injury to himself at the hands of Stokes Campbell shot and thereby killed the deceased Stokes Campbell, or if you have a reasonable doubt thereof, then you will find this defendant not guilty.

"You are charged that the defendant, together with his son, Vert A. Readhimer, had the right to seek the deceased for the purpose of having an interview to request him to marry Grace Readhimer. In this connection you are further charged that the defendant had no right under the law to use any degree of force or compulsion toward the deceased, Stokes Campbell, to compel him to comply with such request for marriage."

Testimony in the case closed Thursday afternoon after an entire day spent in presentation of rebuttal witnesses, the majority of whom testified regarding details of the shooting.

Clyde Barrow Is Believed To Have Hidden In Woods

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8. (AP)—That Clyde Barrow, elusive killer, might have hidden in the woods near Everman while recuperating from his wounds, was revealed by officers today after they had received information from a farmer living in the locality.

The farmer, Jack Stead, brought to the sheriff's office a first-aid kit, purchased in Davenport, Iowa. The kit had been mashed but the contents were intact. Stead found this in the road near his farm house Sunday and nearby he found a long blood-stained bandage.

LAMESA, Dec. 8. (Special)—Ten Boy Scouts were to have received recognition at a court of honor tonight here.

Tenderfoot rankings were to have been given to F. M. Mitchell, jr., of troop 22; M. L. Haley of troop 23, and J. W. Anderson, "Curley" Service, Gilliam Abbott, Raymond Sutton and Junior Reagan, troop 44.

Douglas Holden of troop 22 was to have attained second class ranking. Merit badges were to have been given to Elton Roberts and Jack Keisling.

More Than 200 Turkeys Are Dressed Here In Two Days

More than 200 turkeys, belonging to a group of Lubbock county farmers who are shipping cooperatively through the Plains Cooperative, Inc., of Plainview, were dressed Thursday and Friday at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds.

The birds are to shipped late today through the Plainview group. The birds were chilled last night for shipment.

In order to take care of some late comers, who were unable to get their birds ready in time, another killing is to be held at the same place Monday and Tuesday of next week, O. G. Tumlinson, county agent, said. It is planned to ship not later than Wednesday, he added.

Barksdale Field Flier Is Killed As Two Planes Crash

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 8. (AP)—One Barksdale field flier of the 77th pursuit squadron was killed late today in a spectacular collision of two planes at a height of 4,000 feet over the field reservation, and another floated safely to earth with his parachute.

Second Lieut. Ernest E. Holtzen, jr., 25, of Sedalia, Mo., was killed. Second Lieut. Samuel C. Dunlap, 23, air corps reserve, of Atlanta, Ga., pilot of the other single seater pursuit ship which figured in the crash, escaped with only scratches.

Gold Drop In France Slows

Wall Street Forecasts Of An Early Abandonment Of Gold Standard Are Modified By Bank Statement

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Wall street forecasts of an early abandonment of the gold standard of France—last stronghold of the monetary basis dear to the hearts of the orthodox economists — were modified somewhat this week with the appearance of the weekly Bank of France statement showing a marked slackening of the efflux of gold.

The statement showed a loss of gold reserves of only $18,000,000, calculated at the par of exchange, in contrast with the drop of $58,000,000 in the previous week, the largest shrinkage in the French gold hoard in any week on record.

Reserves Still Strong

France's total gold loss since Sept. 1 is close to $200,000,000, but her reserves are still almost $3,100,000,000, which is far above the total of $2,340,000,000 just before England went off the gold standard in 1931, which marked the beginning of the acute phase of world wide monetary uncertainty.

Foreign balances in France are now believed in international banking quarters to be moderate, and inasmuch as the present gold reserve of the bank of France is slightly over 79 per cent of liabilities, bankers believe that withdrawal of virtually all foreign balances in France could be accomplished without reducing the reserve ratio anywhere near its legal minimum of 35 per cent.

If France eventually leaves the gold standard, the prevailing opinion now in Wall Street is that it will be caused by Frenchmen themselves. Should they start a run on the bank's gold reserves, for hoarding purposes, similar to the one that developed in the United States last February, it is conceivable that the bank might have to suspend gold redemption of the currency.

Depends On Confidence

If such a run does materialize, Wall Street observers are inclined to the opinion that it will be the result of impairment of confidence by continued inability of the government to balance the budget. The declines in such leading world currencies as the pound sterling and the dollar, it is acknowledged, have undoubtedly tended to cause a little uneasiness over whether the franc might not follow, but that seems to have been relatively unimportant.

The declines in pounds and dollars have brought some demand of depreciation of the franc from French exporting interests, but France, it is pointed out, is a relatively self-contained country, and not so dependent upon her export trade as for instance England or Holland.

The French people, however, are believed to understand fully the inflationary implications of a series of unbalanced budgets.

Divorce Asked

Pickford charged, began in June, 1930 when Fairbanks is said to have disregarded her wishes and to have assumed an attitude of indifference toward their marital status.

"For the past several years," Miss Pickford said in a formal statement after the suit was filed, "my married life has become increasingly unhappy. Being convinced that under the existing circumstances the future offers no solution, it is with the deepest regrets that I am filing suit for divorce."

She said a property settlement had been effected out of court. The deed to Pickfair, the couple's palatial home atop a Hollywood hill, was recorded here during the afternoon in her name. Since they have kept their business interests largely separate, Pickfair is believed to represent the major part of the community property.

Travels Abroad

Fairbanks has spent most of his time during the last two or three years traveling abroad. Many European notables have been his companions and have visited Pickfair. Prior to June, 1930, Miss Pickford traveled with him, but since then he has roamed the world alone. He is now in England, where he recently announced he planned to produce motion pictures.

Numerous rumors have connected his name with at least one titled English woman.

Some months ago "America's Sweetheart," admitted she and Fairbanks had separated. Her admission came when Pickfair, always referred to by the actress as her "dream home," was advertised for sale. Later it was withdrawn from the market. Since then she has been residing alone in the great mansion.

The key to the situation which has engulfed the lovely Mary was contained in her separation admission.

"I love my husband," she said, her voice choking with emotion. "I don't want to say there will be a divorce. Divorce from someone you love as dearly and tenderly as I have loved Douglas for 16 years is almost an unbearable thought. Our separations, as you know, have become more and more frequent."

The city of London had its origin as a resting place for sale traders.

Terry Feeding Project Opens

Midland Man Is In Charge Of Huge Project At Brownfield; Over 9,000 Head Of Cattle Are Concentrated

MIDLAND, Dec. 8. (Special) — Homer W. Rowe, Midland business man for many years, went to Brownfield this week to take charge of the feeding of 9,000 head of heifers and steers from the Babicora ranch of Mexico.

The first train load of the cattle arrived at Brownfield Tuesday. The cattle are being shipped from the Mexico ranch under bond and will be fed for 150 days on ground corn grain sorghums and cottonseed meal. Rowe will have 90 tons of Terry county feed ground daily for the enormous herd of cattle.

One feature remarkable to West Texas cattlemen is that all of the cattle bear the same brand, which is the marking of the Babicora Development Co. J. M. Barbee, manager of the vast Mexican ranch is in charge of the movement of the cattle to the Terry county feeding pens. Rowe has practically doubled the size of the feed pens used last year. Terry farmers are getting nearly twice as much for their feed this year as last, due to the increase in commodity prices.

The feeding job at Brownfield is said to be the largest single project for consumption of West Texas feed ever attempted. The project has provided several jobs for Brownfield labor.

NEW CHIEF CLERK

MIDLAND, Dec. 8.—R. Clay Underwood is the new chief clerk of the proration office of the state oil and gas commission at Midland. Underwood, former oil man and banker of Wichita Falls, succeeded Joe Wilson, resigned to work for the Standard Oil Co.

Hogs Are Killed Thursday, Friday

First killing of hogs for a community commercial kill to secure South Plains Home Cured Hams and Bacons, was held at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds Thursday and Friday.

Four men brought in 12 hogs for the first killing. A. D. Vaughn, Abernathy and E. R. Evans, Shallowater, had four hogs each and George Whiting and Vic Barner, Becton, two each.

V. L. Cade, county chairman, supervised the work. The animals weighed 225 and 250 pounds each. The hams, bacons and shoulders left for curing weighed 672 pounds. Several hundred pounds of sausage will be made and cured.

The remainder of the approximately 2,000 pounds of dressed pork will be used by the owners for their own use, or sold.

Killing is done under city health supervision, Mr. Cade pointed out. The killing plant has been inspected by the city and approved and the work is meeting with all requirements of inspection.

Claude Forbes Is Hanged At San Quentin In Murder Case

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Dec. 8 (AP)—Claude Forbes, 25, who pleaded guilty to murdering Harry Nelson, Alameda county official, in a conspiracy with the latter's wife, was hanged here today.

Forbes refused whisky that was offered to him as a possible means of easing his drop to death.

"I didn't drink before and I won't start now," he said.

Forbes, a half-breed Indian, and Mrs. Bess Nelson, wife of the county official, eloped, finally stopping at Santa Cruz. From there Forbes, after plotting with Mrs. Nelson, went to Oakland and beat Nelson to death with a piece of iron pipe. Mrs. Nelson was convicted as an accomplice and is serving a life sentence in San Quentin.

The UNKNOWN BLOND

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN © 1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

any woman who had just killed a man walk calmly into the largest hotel in town? She might as well have called at police headquarters and said "Arrest me!"

But there was the headline—"Unknown Blond Is Sought By Police." He could not shake the words from his mind. She was blond. She had come out of the Shelby Arms some time after nine o'clock. She had carried a revolver in her handbag.

"Oh—sorry—Aunt Kate!" Bannister's voice was apologetic. "I'm afraid I wasn't listening. What did you say?"

"No, I should think you weren't listening! I asked if that was Harvey Knowleton who just went past. Was it?"

Bannister grinned. "Aunt Kate, I haven't the faintest idea who Harvey Knowleton is or what he looks like."

"Oh, that's right." The woman was mollified. "I guess they did move in after you left." She turned back to the newspaper. "Look," she said, "here's a picture of Denise Lang. And here's another of her with Tracy King—"

Bannister crossed the room and inspected the photographs. The face of the pretty, fair-haired girl who smiled up at him was one he had never seen before. The picture taken with King was a news photograph, showing the couple as they sat watching a tennis match. There was another photograph of King, probably made for theatrical use. It showed him as a slender, dark-haired and rather handsome youth.

"He was real good-looking, wasn't he?" Kate Hewlett conceded. "I suppose that's why Denise Lang wanted to marry him—"

Bannister picked up the newspaper. There was more of the account of the Tracy King murder but the rest was made up of rather inconsequential details. An attempt was underway to trace fingerprints. Police Chief Henley had given out a statement. There were interviews with Link, the hotel clerk, and with a switchboard operator. There was a review of King's career as a musician.

Bannister read it all through hastily, then tossed the newspaper aside. His aunt had begun stacking up the breakfast dishes, getting ready to take them to the kitchen.

"Think I'll take a walk down town," Bannister said casually. "It's a fine morning—"

"It's all of two miles down to Broad street," his aunt warned.

"Exercise will do me good," he told her.

By 11 o'clock that morning David Bannister was still wrestling with his problem. The walk down town had in no wise eased his mind. He could, of course, stroll over to Central headquarters and say to Captain McNeal, "I think I saw the weapon she used and helped her escape. I think I know the time of the murder—"

He could tell McNeal the story and he was certain that, as an aggressive, thoroughgoing police official, the captain, the captain would pounce upon it as first-hand testimony.

Bannister could say, "I left her at the Tremont some time before 10 o'clock—"

Only he couldn't. He remembered that look in the girl's eyes and knew he couldn't do that. He didn't even know her name but he couldn't believe that she had killed a man.

Years of newspaper experience reminded him. "The hardest ones always look the softest."

Even then he couldn't do it. The devil of it was that the problem was getting on his nerves! He wanted to forget the whole thing but he could not do that either.

"Damn!" Bannister swore vehemently and decided to buy a New York newspaper. He'd find something to read that wasn't plastered all over with details of Tremont's latest crime.

There was only one place in the city to buy a New York newspaper—the news counter in the Tremont. Bannister went there, threw down a coin and picked up the newspaper.

He hesitated, then started toward the writing room. He had to cross a short passageway that was rather dimly lighted. Bannister took a dozen steps forward and then stopped.

Just ahead, directly facing him, was the girl of the taxi ride—the girl in the green suit!
