Bits Of THIS-N-THAT

By BETTY BOYD

I am happy to report that Wendell Nesbitt, who was shot about two weeks ago and is in the Wichita General Hospital, has been steadily improving.

Burkburnett, and especially the Optimist Club, will miss Mr. and Mrs. G. T. England, Jr., who recently moved to Andrews, Texas.

The Englands were active in programs at the Burk Swim Pool and really enjoyed working with everyone there. They said that they enjoyed all the young people who used the pool also.

G. T. was a member of the local Optimist Club for two years and devoted much of his time to Little League Baseball and other programs for boys in this town.

He worked with the Little League for the past seven years.

Good luck and good fortune to them in their new home. The town of Andrews is very fortunate to increase their population with such civic minded persons as the Englands.

Mrs. Alvin Zeiss, 1107 Bishop Rd., who appeared on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour this summer, was the winner on that show. She played a Dulcimer, a stringed instrument which dates back to Bible days. She will go to New York, September 5th, when she will tape the next show she is to appear on. The date of that show is not known to her at present.

Service Center To Hold Meeting Tonight, Aug. 21

On the agenda of the Community Service Center's regular neighborhood meeting, to be held tonight, August 21, in the Booker T. Washington School, will be the election of an Advisory Board for the Day Care Center.

Rev. Don Youngblood, chairman of the Community Service Center, will preside.

Entertainment will be provided by girls 6 to 16, who recently attended Day Camp, sponsored by the Center.

All interested persons are invited to attend. The Day Care Center will be open to baby-sit for parents wishing to participate.

Carol Blankenship, director of the Community Service Center, states that she has a list of job openings available for those interested.

Walsh Services Are Held Friday

Services were held at 2 p.m. Friday from First Methodist Church for Harry Lee Walsh, 79, who died Wednesday in a Wichita Falls hospital following an apparent heart attack.

Rev. Don Youngblood, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Burkburnett Cemetery under direction of Owens & Brumley Funeral Home of Burkburnett.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth, of the home; a stepson, Max Bryant Swenson of Tulsa; three sisters, Mrs. Pearl McDonald and Mrs. Vada Burns, both of Ryan, Okla., and Mrs. Anna Gregg of Waurika, Okla.; and four grandchildren.

Good luck, Mrs. Zeiss. We hope you win again.

Did you read about the fellow in South Carolina, who had a flat tire and discovered a sharp white thing sticking into the tire?

He pulled it out and took it to a laboratory to learn what it was. He was told that it was the fang of either a rattlesnake or a moccasin.

How fortunate that the snake punctured his tire and not him!

People who criticize the younger generation usually can't remember who raised it. Ain't it the truth?

Recently some of our younger generation climbed to the top of the water tower near the Burk Swim Pool and undid all the work of Haril Green, who risked his life to repaint it.

They printed, in paint, names and some very filthy messages. They, too, risked their lives, but for a foolish reason.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if these kids would use their courage, energy and talent for something worthwhile; something they and the town could be proud of and brag about?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if they cared about and took pride in their town, so that we had no juvenile delinquents?

How I would like to be able to brag about them in this column!

Come on, younger generation! Give me a good story about you so that I may praise and tell the world about you. Try me and see what I will say and do for you. It takes courage to follow the straight and narrow.

Can you do it? The rewards are worth it.

Our dog pound was full last week. Was one of them your dog?

There is a town which recently made it a law that all dogs must be fenced or on a leash at all times.

Perhaps that is the kind of law we need to protect the dogs from slaughter on the highways as well as to protect our children and citizens.

Can't we dog owners do better in this area?

I may never fish again! Over the weekend I took a picture of a local 7-year-old boy, Jay Holly, who reeled in a beautiful 3 pound blue catfish Sunday morning.

Well, I have had to resort to playing with those small bluegills and such, for I can't seem to hook into anything larger.

Did I tell you about the big one that got away?

HURRAY! Lola is back from her vacation! I hope she had a fine time, but BOY, am I glad to have her back here in the office!

Welcome back, Lola!

LAUGH, IT'S GOOD FOR YOU—

There were these parents, see, and they had a son who was 7-years-old, who had not spoken a word since the day he was born. They took him to several doctors and they all said that he would probably grow out of it, as they could find nothing wrong with him.

One morning at the breakfast table, after the mother had served him some toast, the boy suddenly said, "This darn toast is burned to a crisp!"

"Oh, Dad," cried the happy woman, "Our son talked!"

Turning to the boy, she asked, "Son, why haven't you talked before?"

"Up to now, everything has been satisfactory," was the reply. B.E.

DOGS IN POUND

A first-time offender, on the left and a repeater, looking for a home and someone to love them and protect them, peer through the fence of the dog pound. Beautifully and friendly, they hope someone will claim them before they are sent to the gas chamber.

An Officer of the Police Department locks the final gate after placing another stray, or lost, dog in the city dog pound. The animal will be held for three days, then if it is not called for, a trip to the gas chamber will become its fate. Is your dog headed for this end?

City Council Attend Regional Meet August 17

Members of the city council and other city leaders, attended a Texas Municipal League Regional meeting Thursday, August 17th, in the Chamber of Commerce building in Electra and heard Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League, speak about the interest in implementation of a city sales tax as a method of obtaining desperately needed additional revenues by communities, both large and small.

Members of the council have been discussing the possibility of putting the idea of a city sales tax to the vote of the citizens of the town. They had discussed the legality and procedures of this action, earlier Thursday, with Matthews.

Members of city councils, mayors, department heads and other civic leaders, from many other nearby communities, attended the meeting last Thursday.

Bryants Lose Tractor In Garage Fire

A tractor garage and one of two tractors were completely destroyed by fire, Tuesday, August 15, about 4:30 p.m., at the Bryant farm, southeast of town.

Both the Burkburnett Fire Department and the Sheppard Fire Department answered the call and soon had the blaze under control.

The Bryants were not injured, though Mrs. Bryant received a slight burn on her right leg.

She received the burn as she tried to save the other tractor.

A nearby barn was not damaged, due to the prompt response of the city firemen.

Judy Kauer To Attend Meeting

JUDY KAUER, daughter of Marjorie Kauer, will be among young people attending the First Church of Christ, Scientist Conference in Boston, Mass., August 24-26.

The three-day international meeting will feature outstanding guest speakers discussing subjects ranging from premarital chastity and the identity crisis to problems of world peace.

VANDALS HIT WATER TOWER

It was just about two weeks ago that Haril Green risked his life to climb the water tower near the Burk Swim Pool to repaint it for the city. All of his risk and work went for naught.

Last Thursday night vandals also climbed the tower at the risk of their lives and produced a type of art which makes young girls blush red and decent people SEE red.

Names along with filthy sayings and words were painted for the whole town to view. Haril Green's risk was for nothing. The culprits risked their lives for adventure; a useless, ignorant act caused by stupidity.

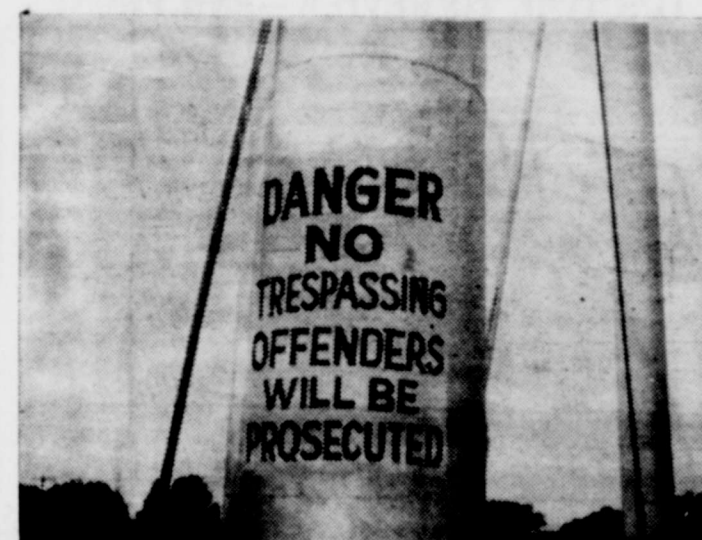

City Hall is not responsible.

Signs warning of danger and stating that trespassers will be prosecuted, are very much in evidence, but were completely ignored. They are there for anyone who can read and if he can print, he can read.

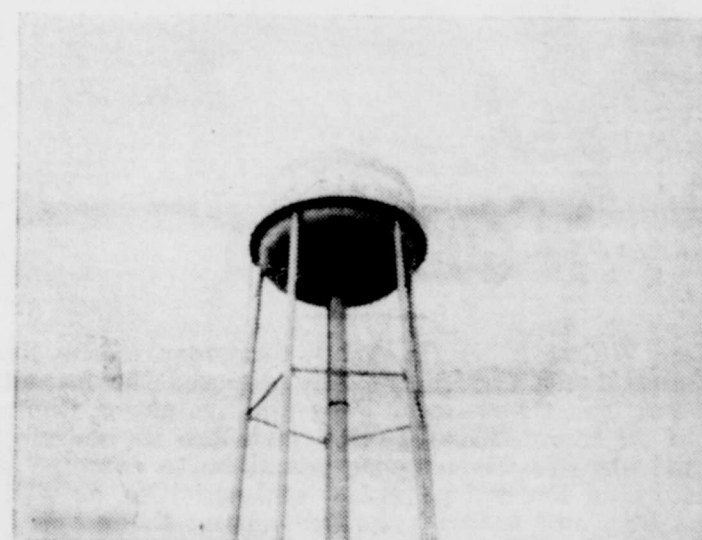

It was not long ago that the police received reports that boys were climbing the tower. It was because of this report, which was never proved fact, that the tower ladder was shortened by an extra ten feet and signs warning of the danger were placed by it. None of these preventive measures deterred the vandals.

Fortunately for them, none of the "painters" were injured.

Water Tower Defaced

Since the extra ten feet of ladder was removed from this leg of the water tower, by the city, it is approximately twenty feet to the first rung. This fact and these signs did not prevent culprits from climbing the tower at the risk of their lives, to show the world, the extent of their filthy vocabularies, in printed messages done in paint.

This is the water tower near the Burk Swim Pool, which was recently repainted. Vandals painted it again, Tuesday night, printing filthy words and messages in paint.

IT'S TIME TO REVIEW—AND PRUNE!

GOOD IDEA

Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has proposed the formation of a bipartisan Government Program Evaluation Commission, to be composed of twelve members to be selected from private life. Its purpose would be to examine new and projected Federal programs and activities, as well as current one, and assign priorities among them.

This proposal merits widespread support, since the country today is in an unpleasant fiscal situation because of its earlier failure to exercise control over the growth of federal spending. This continuous growth of non-defense spending is the heart of the nation's present fiscal problems.

After the tax reduction in 1964, it appeared that the rate of Federal spending had moderated. But in September 1965, the spending rate rose quickly and now, if certain contingencies occur, the nation is faced with the prospect of a possible fiscal year 1968 budget deficit of nearly $30 billion, the largest since World War II.

It is time that Congress and the Administration undertake a program for stringently reducing federal expenditures and controlling their future growth. Taxpayers, who bear the cost of government and to whom the government turns when emergencies arise, should insist that members of Congress favor such a proposal as the Government Program Evaluation Commission.

County H-D Agent News

Mrs. M. R. Warren is serving as a home improvement demonstrator, in home demonstration work, this year. She has the results of well made plans to show.

As demonstrator, Mrs. Warren planned a remodeling project to include: closing old windows and doors and opening new ones, wall and woodwork finishes, floor coverings, window treatment, furniture selection and arrangement and storage improvement.

Mrs. Warren has done much of the work herself. She has completed work to show the value of do-it-yourself projects. Projects in home improvement not only give a homemaker personal satisfaction but give them things they could not otherwise have.

The home of Mrs. Warren will be open to visitors this fall as a part of the annual Wichita County Home Demonstration Club Achievement Tour.

While you're giving the rest of the house a new face this year, check the frame around those pictures, suggests Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Good pictures properly framed add much to the beauty of a home. Therefore, it's important that the frame be selected to go with a particular picture rather than trying to suit a picture to a frame.

The frame should harmonize with both the picture and the wall, says Miss Wirges. One guide is to select a frame that isn't quite as dark as the darkest color in the picture. It is also correct to select a lighter value than that of the picture.

Usually the frame should be darker than the picture mat. Repeating a picture color in the frame places emphasis on the picture and ties the two together. The lines of the frame should emphasize those of the picture whether they're simple, complex, straight, or curved.

Frames that look worm-eaten or weathered are suitable for natural subjects used in an informal room. Traditional portraits have elaborate, carved frames and are hung in formal rooms.

The frame should be the same period as the picture. For example, if the painting is by a Dutch artist of the 17th or 18th Century, the frame should be simple with no carving.

Frames for all paper pictures, such as water colors and pencil sketches, are usually made from fairly narrow, simple molding. They are smooth textured and shallow, with little grain or carving, and no deep carving.

Work on picture selection, framing and changing has been planned by the Wichita County Home Demonstration Committee. Mrs. John Jones is the chairman and Mrs. Bee Eryant will be chairman after the September meeting.

Take precautions when washing fiberglass curtains in the washer. Articles washed next in the machine will pick up the glass particles left behind from the fiberglass fabric. The particles are so tiny they can't be removed. When the articles come in contact with the skin the small glass fragments will work into the skin and are impossible to be located even by a doctor.

Set a television tray beside the hostess' place at the table to hold rolls and relishes to pass during the meal. You can also use the tray when serving coffee or dessert.

Select plain or small-patterned wall paper for small rooms. If you like large-scale patterns, use them in big rooms. It will seem to fill empty space and give a furnished look. Put a small over-all pattern on walls and ceilings of rooms with gable windows and slanting walls. Widen long, narrow rooms by covering long walls with plain paper, end walls with patterned paper. Raise a low ceiling with light paper or by using striped paper on the walls.

To pack shoe polish for travel, wrap in plastic or enclose in a small plastic bag. Be sure the cap is tight. Heat and pressure can cause leaking of even the tightest packages.

LIBRARY CORNER

The library has a modest, but we hope useful, collection of religious books.

Heading the list are 3 beautiful editions of the Bible including the Sears edition illustrated with the work of Michelangelo. To help Bible students we have CRUDEN'S CONCORDANCE, HARPER'S BIBLE DICTIONARY, and the 4 volume set, THE INTERPRETER'S DICTIONARY OF THE BIBLE. EVERYONE IN THE BIBLE. ALL THE WOMEN OF THE BIBLE. WHO'S WHO IN THE GOSPELS, and OLD TESTAMENT PORTRAITS are useful if you need information on a Bible personage.

If you are interested in Church history, THE HORIZON HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY CENTURIES FROM CHRIST TO DANTE and NEW TESTAMENT TIMES are very readable histories of the early years. THE BOOK OF SAINTS and FOXE'S BOOK OF MARTYRS may answer your questions about figures in Christianity through the ages. THE REFORMATION published by Time-Life is a beautifully illustrated short account of this turbulent period in church history. THE HANDBOOK OF CHRISTIAN FEASTS AND CUSTOMS gives a short account of the origin and history of modern observances.

For information about denominations consult the HANDBOOK OF DENOMINATION or HOW WE GOT OUR DENOMINATIONS. The YEARBOOK OF AMERICAN CHURCHES lists, gives origin and brief history, and the main beliefs of denominations in the United States and Canada. It also lists theological seminaries, church related and accredited colleges and universities, service councils, religious periodicals and recent trends and developments in churches. In addition we have books about specific denominations and a book of all religions, THE WORLD'S LIVING RELIGIONS.

For readers in search of spiritual uplift there are several books by Peter and Catherine Marshall, and PEACE WITH GOD AND THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS by Billy Graham. The religious books in the children's section, among them DE LA MARE'S STORIES FROM THE BIBLE, ANCIENT BIBLE LANDS, ANIMALS OF THE BIBLE, books about the life of Christ and stories of the Christmas and Easter feasts have proved to be popular. THE BIBLE ENCYCLOPEDIA FOR CHILDREN is interesting as well as informational.

Warrensburg, Mo. Star-Journal: "The effectiveness of the United States shutting off all aid, monetarily and otherwise, to a nation that becomes stubbornly defiant, is a question we have pondered for some time, as have many others. In observing the dismal failure of doing otherwise, we are strongly inclined to believe this may be the only means of attaining positive results . . . We would like to see just what would happen if all United States aid were chopped off the moment a country became a party to actions of hostility toward the United States."

Heritage Hall Is Interesting Place To Visit When In Fort Worth

You can still hear the lowing of cattle, the galloping of horses and even the cry of a Comanche Indian any day of the week in the middle of busy, modern Downtown Fort Worth.

What's more, you can see the history of this city "Where the West Begins," depicted through more than 100 cowboys, Indians, soldiers, horses, cattle and other animals, in a three-dimensional setting with dramatic sound effects and dialogue as real as life.

Heritage Hall, a project of the Downtown Fort Worth Association, celebrated its first birthday recently with a record 2,493 visitors during festivities on July Fourth. More than 50,000 have come from all over the world to see the action-packed scenes, called dioramas, which tell the story of the Westward movement and the building of Fort Worth from 1841 to the coming of the railroad in 1876.

The ten dioramas, some life-size and some in miniature, are accompanied by special sound effects heard by pushing a button in front of each exhibit. The squeaking of the wagon wheels, the snort of the horse and the startled cry of a bluejay interpose the conversation of a father and son in the first scene. Ephram Tucker, his wife, son and baby are pushing west with a covered wagon.

The grave of Captain John B. Denton, killed in an effort to drive the Indians westward, is followed by the figure of a Tonkawa Indian woman. A Tonkawa brave who believed himself a blood brother of the wolf, is shown prepared for combat with a Comanche, ruthless enemy with a bow and arrow.

Comanche family life in a buffalo skin teepee is a sharp contrast to two later scenes, one of pioneer home life and the other, a young couple's new city home in 1876. Two different scenes show the Fort, only a rectangle of buildings, as it passed to civilian control and business began to appear on the square, and the town of 1875.

The bronze busts pictured in another diorama and the chuck wagon scene are popular parts of the "living museum." And the final scene is of the coming of the railroad on July 19, 1876, at 11:23 a.m. Representative Nicholas Henry Darnell, though seriously ill, continued his filibuster in the House (because the railroad to Fort Worth had to be operating before House adjournment) until the tracks were complete. Citizens gave money, articles of value, even garden goods, so that Fort Worth itself could lay the lines into town. Men left their offices and joined train crews in laying the rails. With the success of this venture, the town had the one remaining material facility for industrial growth.

"This is the saga of those forefathers who won this land for you," reads an animal hide at the front of the Hall, which was dedicated June 11, 1966. The future success of this early settlement as an All-American city is attributed to the dedication of its leaders.

"Heritage Hall invites you to journey backward in time to the danger-fanged era when the Battle of San Jacinto and the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo opened legal gates for a surge of westward immigration into this land of boundless horizons, tall grass, buffalo, wild turkey, panther, deer and savage Plains Indians."

Heritage Hall, located at 604 Main Street in downtown Fort Worth, is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays. Admission is $1 for adults and 50c for children, with discount rates for groups of 10 or more.

Anyone interested in group tours may write the Main Street address or call ED6-8703 (Area Code 817), specifying the desired time and the size of the group. It takes approximately an hour and a half for a group of 20 to see the entire display. Larger groups are split up and, although groups of 100 may be easily accommodated, it takes slightly longer.

The story of the westward movement is Phase I of plans for the Hall. Phase II calls for a Gay Nineties floor, with restaurant, general store, pavilion for live entertainment and provision for artifacts. Live entertainment is scheduled to begin this summer on the lower level, which is also an art gallery. Future plans include a Floor of Presidents, one devoted to historic Texas ranches, and a collection of antique cars and other vehicles.

Heritage Hall is now subsidized by private donations, which are tax deductible. The people of Fort Worth and Texas supplied antiques and relics to authenticate the exhibits.

Was It Sudden?

Jerry Marcus

52,500 died and 4,400,000 were injured in highway accidents in 1966.

One visitor wrote that he "was particularly impressed with Heritage Hall. In concept and execution it stands second to none in this area of historical presentations . . . Heritage Hall is a must-see attraction for everyone."

A mother wrote that their visit to Heritage Hall was "one of the highlights in the life of my eight year-old daughter. She was completely captivated with the life-sized figures in their realistic settings . . . she said, 'Heritage Hall is a fun way to learn history.'"

More than 25 million men and women in the U.S. today were former 4-H Club members. Among them are many of the nation's leaders.

Mrs. Clyde Taylor Is Hostess To Pinkston Circle

The Florence Pinkston Circle of the First Baptist Church met Monday evening, August 14 in the home of Mrs. Clyde Taylor for a mission program.

Mrs. Clifford Willmon gave the devotional thoughts after reading I Kings 17:17-24 and closed with a prayer for our missionaries.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. R. P. Thaxton. She called for a report from the nominating committee. Mrs. H. S. Butts, chairman of the committee, presented the names of Mrs. Jack Robinson for the new circle chairman and Mrs. R. L. Quattlebaum as secretary. The nominees were accepted by the circle members.

Mrs. I. C. Evans introduced the program entitled "Christian Missions and the Tide of Nationalism." She placed emphasis on Nationalism in Bamba and Malawi in Africa and she was assisted in the discussion by Mmes. Hal D. Mabry, George Gray and Clyde Taylor. Mrs. Evans concluded the program by answering questions on the effect of Nationalism on our Christian Witness.

Those present and enjoying delicious refreshments were Mmes. Ida Kerr, Clifford Willmon, Howard McCrary, H. S. Butts, Hal D. Mabry, James Taylor, George Gray, R. P. Thaxton, I. C. Evans and the hostess Mrs. Clyde Taylor.

It is their belief that volunteer fire departments have contributed to the reduction of the amount of loss by fire and that the program will help Burk Burnett Firemen, all volunteers, do an even better job in the future, for the residents of Wichita County.

Burk Burnett men on the Board of Directors of the Wichita County Farm Bureau are: Raymond Schroeder, Newt Crane, Brack Preston, Jr., and Norman Roberts.

Driver's License Law Changes Are Effective Aug. 28

AUSTIN — The Department of Public Safety reminded Texans today that August 28 marks the effective date of several amendments to the drivers license law which are designed to benefit Texas motorists from the standpoint of providing added protection.

The law sets new minimum age limits for acquiring a license, provides for issuing a provisional license to any person under the age of 21, and increases the penalties for driving without a license and violations calling for automatic suspension.

It also sets penalties for counterfeiting or forging a license, or for possessing such a license.

The age limits were raised to a minimum of 16 years for obtaining a license when a person has satisfactorily completed an approved driver education course and to 18 years for persons who have not had such a course.

The minimum age for operating a five-brake horsepower motor scooter was raised to 15 years. A special examination will be required after January 1 for applicants desiring a license to operate a motorcycle which includes an "off-street phase" and an "on-street phase." The applicant must provide the motorcycle and a passenger vehicle and licensed driver to convey the License Examiner during the road test.

Licenses issued to persons under 21 years of age will be stamped "Provisional" and may be suspended if the operator is convicted of two traffic law violations in a twelve month period. This becomes effective January 1.

Upon conviction of driving without a license, a motorist is subject to a fine of up to $200 for the offense and increasingly stiffer penalties on each successive conviction.

Persons convicted of driving while intoxicated (or a similar offense) are subject to a first suspension of twelve months. Any subsequent suspension on the basis of this type of conviction will be a period of 18 months. In addition, any driver whose license has been suspended or revoked may be required to attend a program of rehabilitation for problem drivers.

Any person applying for an original license must furnish the Department with certified copy of the applicant's birth certificate or other documentary evidence deemed satisfactory by the Department for proof of age. The Department is also authorized to require any other information necessary to determine the applicant's identity, competency and eligibility for licensing. Thumb prints will be required on all original applications after August 28.

Among other provisions designed to ban unsafe drivers from the highways is the requirement that the Department of Public Welfare furnish the DPS with a list of the persons who apply for or receive assistance to the needy blind. The license of such persons must be revoked to comply with the law.

Also, any person who is convicted of driving while his li-

MUSIC FACTS AND FANCIES

You may thrill to the sounds of Debussy or Herman's Hermits, but historians believe that the thud of one log on another sounded like music to our ancestors 100,000 years ago!

We've had some odd musical instruments since then, including wooden boxes and leather bags. But the largest musical instrument ever constructed is the Auditorium Organ in Atlantic City, New Jersey; completed in 1930, this heroic instrument has 12 "keyboards," 1,477 stop controls and 33,112 pipes—and produces the volume of 25 brass bands!

Who made the first piano? The earliest in existence is one built in 1720 by Bartolomeo Christofori of Padua, Florence, Italy, and now preserved in the Kröller-Museum of Florence.

The player piano was invented in 1862 by a Frenchman named Fornaux; called the "Pianista," it operated by means of a handcrank which produced a vacuum to work a set of "fingers" which in turn played the keyboard of an ordinary piano. The player piano reached its peak in 1923, when almost 350,000 players were produced, but in a few short years, the industry was just about out of business.

Then in 1936, Aeolian Corp. introduced the first new player manufactured in 25 years. Last year, more than 8,500 players were sold! Why the re-birth of interest in players? More and more families are discovering that a player piano can be a lively centerpiece of family entertainment. And piano rolls are available in thousands of selections, ranging from reliable favorites like "The Old Piano Roll Blues" to popular hits such as "Mame" and "Winchester Cathedral."

A modern Pianola piano isn't only a two-way player that can be pumped by pedal or electrically operated; it also fills two basic family needs: a regular-play spinnet for lessons, and a fine piano for use by the accomplished pianist.

Who had the "worst ear for music"? Perhaps it was Ulysses S. Grant. Asked how many songs he was acquainted with, he replied that he was familiar with two: one was "Yankee Doodle," and one was not.

License is suspended or revoked shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500, and shall be imprisoned not less than 72 hours nor more than six months.

Health Hints

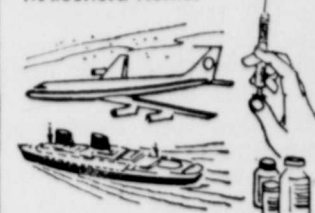

DRY AIR

Cold outside air contains little moisture. When brought inside and warmed it contains far less, causing the air in many homes to be too dry. A humidifier can help, perhaps enough to relieve uncomfortably dry nose, throat, or skin, as well as prevent damage to furniture, paintings and other household items.

GOING ABROAD?

If you plan to travel outside this country, make sure you have proper immunizations. You can obtain, for 35¢, a pamphlet entitled "Immunization for International Travel" from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. Actually, it is a good idea for everyone to carry a record of his most recent immunizations or boosters, especially tetanus, for quick reference. Do you?

WEIGHT WATCHERS

In the war against too many pounds, the most preferred attack is a once-and-for-all program of weight reduction and re-education of eating habits. But a constant state of slight or moderate (no more than 15 percent) overweight is less harmful to health than frequent sharp fluctuations. No one should go on a diet as restrictive as 900 calories (many common formulas) without first consulting his physician.

USAF To Exhibit
Art Collection In Area On Aug. 28

Sheppard AFB — "This is art everyone can appreciate; from the former World War II pilot to the youngster who thinks in terms of the latest jets and missiles."

"This portrayal of Air Force life is different. It certainly proves that the eye of the skilled artist sees more than the lens of a camera."

These comments may be typical of those which will be heard when a unique art exhibit comes to Wichita Falls on Aug. 28. The selection of over 40 original paintings is from the USAF Art collection and is being brought here by Sheppard Air Force Base in cooperation with the city of Wichita Falls and the Chamber of Commerce.

The show will be set up in the City Auditorium and will be open to the public from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. There is no admission charge for the exhibit.

The paintings in this display were donated mostly by artists from the Societies of Illustrators in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco. To record on canvas the contemporary life of the U. S. Air Force, they were flown to all parts of the world. Their impressions of what they saw and felt have been documented on over 750 paintings donated during the past 10 years.

are but a small portion of the Air Force Art collection. The entire library includes more

PREPARATION

Thousands of Christians throughout this great nation spend hours of serious study, searching the scripture and commentaries written by scholars who have dedicated their lives to the task of seeking out the full meaning of God's Word.

These willing workers, teaching from the Bible each Sunday, feel that their work is vital to the fulfilment of your spiritual life. Won't you accept the invitation to attend church as offered by the sponsors of this space, and receive the benefits offered by these willing teachers.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

New Information Chief Is Named At Sheppard Base

MAJ. H. E. SWINNEY

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — Maj. H. E. Swinney, who came to Sheppard recently from Tokyo, Japan, is to become chief of information at Sheppard Technical Training Center upon the retirement of Maj. Robert W. Stephenson, Aug. 31.

A veteran of almost 28 years of military service, Major Swinney entered the Army Air Corps from Houston, Tex., in 1939 and was at Hickman Field, Hawaii, on Dec. 7, 1941, during the Japanese raid which plunged the United States into World War II.

He received the Purple Heart medal for injuries sustained on that date. His decorations also include the Air Medal and Army Commendation medal.

He went to Hickman for his basic training and remained there as an aircraft armorer and later became an aircraft mechanic. He volunteered for combat duty, flying 23 missions in a B-17 as a ball turret gunner during the Solomon Islands campaign.

Major Swinney went to Officer Candidate School in Miami Beach, Fla., receiving a commission in July 1943. He then went to Topeka Army Air Field, Kan., as an engineering briefing officer where he remained until he was released from active duty in June 1945.

Three months later he began his work in the information career field of the Army Air Corps after reenlisting. He ran the newspaper at Fort Worth Army Air Field, now Carswell AFB, until he went on recruiting duty in April 1947.

The following year he was recalled to active duty as first lieutenant, serving three months in the States before going to Burtonwood, England, as assistant wing information officer. During the three years that he was in charge of the wing newspaper, he drew cartoons for the newspaper and "Air Force Times."

From January 1952 until April 1955 he was assistant officer in charge of Armed Forces Press Service in New York City.

Major Swinney was one of the officers chosen for Air Force Academy duty at the temporary site at Lowry AFB, Colo. He went there in April 1955 as press, magazine and books officer. In September 1958 the Academy newspaper, "Falcon News" was established under his direction and he remained with that newspaper until July 1959.

For the next five years he served as Air Force representative in Armed Forces Professional Entertainment branch, a joint activity administered by the United States Army with offices in Washington, D.C. This organization coordinates a world-wide live entertainment program for all Armed Forces. He was project officer for the Bob Hope Christmas shows for the five years and was escort officer for the tour for four years.

During this tour of duty Major Swinney made 16 overseas trips, visiting 27 geographic entities. They were Alaska, Hawaii, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Taiwan, Philippines, Guam, Newfoundland, Labrador, Greenland, Iceland, Bermuda, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Antigua, W. I., Grand Turk-Eluthera-San Salvador (Bahamas), Panama, Germany, Turkey, Crete, Greece, Libya, Italy and Spain.

NEW FREEDOM SHARES

What are they?
Who may buy them?

Americans have put their savings to work for freedom through U.S. Savings Bonds for many years. New Freedom Shares do the same job . . . plus. Read how.

Freedom Shares are U.S. Savings Notes. They pay a higher return than Savings Bonds, 4.74% when held to maturity. And they mature in just four-and-a-half years.

For regular Bond buyers only

These new Freedom Shares—which are not redeemable for the first year—are offered on a one-for-one basis with E Bonds, but only to people who belong to the Payroll Savings Plan where they work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where they bank.

There are four denominations of Freedom Shares, each of which may be paired with a Series E Bond of the same or larger denominations as a "package." For instance, for $39 total, you can purchase a Savings Bond that matures at $25 and a Freedom Share that matures at $25.

America needs your help

When you buy Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares you do an important job for freedom, backing our men in Vietnam and helping to keep the country economically strong. The need is urgent. What you do counts.

Sign up

Tell your supervisor or the Payroll Department where you work (or any officer where you bank) that you'd like to join a Bond purchase plan. Decide how much you'll save . . . whether you want Freedom Shares as well as Bonds . . . and just sign the authorization card.

You'll be helping your country as you help yourself. And the country needs your help.
