Larry Winders, manager and executive director of the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture, Friday submitted his resignation from that position to accept a similar position in Sterling, Colo.

Sterling is located in northeast Colorado and portunity has presented itself which cannot be declined."

The letter also stated, "It was with tremendous difficulty that a decision to move was ultimately made. I shall miss Colorado City and especially the splendid working arrangement with the directors and committee chairmen of the Chamber of Commerce."

"I have had a ball working for this Chamber and am very grateful to all present and past officers and directors. Thank you all!"

About his new job, Winders said it involved a substantial pay increase as well as a number of fringe benefits he just couldn't pass up.

In the letter he stated he would like to resign as of Sept. 30 but would stay until Oct. 7 to afford another week for his replacement to be found as well as help with the annual Mitchell County Fair.

The Chamber's executive committee asked that he stay until Oct. 7. See WINDERS Page 8

Stenholm Warns Crowd Of Energy, Farm Needs

"Energy is the most serious problem we have faced since World War II," U. S. Representative Charles Stenholm told a crowd of about 175 people at the Civic Center Friday as they gathered for a meal at the conclusion of the 1979 Mitchell County Farm Tour.

Stenholm went on to add, "We have allowed the OPEC nations to get a stranglehold on us because 50 per cent of our oil now comes from overseas."

As to why we have the energy problems we have now, he stated that it was because the responsibility for the production for oil and gas has been taken away from the industry and has been given to the government.

With a grin, Stenholm then added that Congress has never shown anyone that it can produce one barrel of gas or oil.

He went on to say that no matter how much we may talk about alternate sources of energy such as solar power or nuclear energy, the only way we are going to lessen our dependence for energy on other nations right now is to drill more holes in the ground and discover more oil. Stenholm added that at best, gasoline can take care of only about three per cent of our gasoline needs.

C. Stenholm

He again emphasized that we must produce more oil ourselves and the only way to do that was to give the oil companies an incentive to produce more. Stenholm said that the oil companies have taken care of our energy needs at a reasonable price for many years.

The Representative also stated some of his thoughts on the agricultural problems of this country. He said that many of the problems come from the fact that many people simply do not understand agriculture.

He said that many of his colleagues in congress from urban districts don't understand agriculture problems, there was no way they could since they have never been involved in agriculture.

Stenholm pointed to the farmers and ranchers themselves and added that they must do something on their own about regulating the supply and price of farm products. He specifically mentioned the time in 1973, when because of the low price, the Soviet Union came in and bought American wheat at a price below what it was costing the American farmers to produce it.

On other matters Stenholm said he had hoped the congress could balance the budget by 1981. He added, however, this was always difficult because although everyone is all for a balanced budget, they want the necessary cuts to be made in somebody else's district or state or in somebody else's program.

He went on to add there is no doubt this country has some serious problems but we have had problems such as these for the past 203 years and we have always managed to solve them.

On national defense, Stenholm was questioned about the Salt II agreement and he said the United States shouldn't be naive enough to believe the Soviet Union will keep the spirit of the agreement as we have on our previous agreements. He said we should keep to the letter of the agreement but be wary of the Russians.

When asked if the United States was still the number one military power in the world, Stenholm said we are but if defense cuts are made, such as some of his colleagues wanted, the Soviet Union will catch up and pass us sometime in the 1980s.

The representative was also asked whether he had heard anything about 5,000 Russian troops being in Cuba right now. He said he hadn't but it wouldn't surprise him if they are. He added we should be very wary of Cuba, that he had no doubt that Castro is trying to infiltrate other Central and South American countries right now.

He also said we should be very conscious of everything going on in Mexico because that country is very important to us and our way of life.

In further statements on energy, Stenholm noted it was ridiculous that there should be gasoline lines in Houston, Dallas or in any other place in this country.

He said there is a six per cent shortage in the United States right now but there have been shortages before.

Record To Close Monday

The Record Office will be closed all day Monday in observance of Labor Day.

CAASI SMITH, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, enjoys what for her was the best part of the Mitchell County Farm Tour Friday, the watermelon feast at Westbrook. Watermelons and kids are still a combination that you can't beat.

Good Crowd Due At Park

About 9,000 visitors, including 132 campers, are anticipated to utilize the state park over the Labor Day weekend according to Park Superintendent Bill Griffin.

All 79 electrical sites have been reserved as well as 11 non-electric sites, he noted.

"We will allow campers in as long as there are sites left. Campers must register at the desk and we operate on a first come basis if no prior reservation has been made," he said.

Griffin noted the park had been filled to comcapacity for the holiday last year and more than 9,000 persons had spent the holiday in the park facilities.

Griffin noted the lake is down just a little but conditions are good for skiing. "It is a little too hot for fishing to be great but it is always good," Griffin said.

Since Mitchell County is without a Game Warden at this time, Warden Larry Ryer of Jayton and Rue Gambol of Snyder will be supervising use of the waters, Griffin commented.

Cemetery Water System Is Ready

Saturday will be red letter day for the city, when the water system at the city cemetery is put into full operation.

Residents voted in a bond issue in 1976 to install a permanent watering system at the cemetery.

"This has been impossible up until now for many reasons. We have ignored it out of necessity," City Manager Ray Mason commented.

"Now, I am proud to say, the system is nearing completion and should be in full usage by Saturday," he said.

Two new workers, hired under the CETA Program, will tend the grounds at the cemetery and city park, Mason noted.

"Buzz (the water superintendent) has recently completed installation of a six inch main leading to the cemetery and a two inch lateral line with 20 risers which will cover all areas in the cemetery," Mason said.

"There has been a lot of concern expressed about the care of the cemetery grounds. We have formulated a new plan for tending and caring for the lots and from the results already evident, it will improve the appearance of the cemetery 100 per cent," Mason noted.

The Cemetery Board met Wednesday to discuss completion of the watering system and maintenance plan. They will meet again in two weeks to review progress, Mason commented.

"We plan to close some of the roads, fill in with dirt, level the ground and plant grass next spring," Mason added.

Members of the Cemetery Board are G. D. Foster, Roy Byrd, Rick Perkin, Mayor Marian Bassham, Mason and Frances Chesney.

Energy Laws Are Enforced

Recent rulings handed down by the Energy Department requiring thermostats in businesses to be set not lower than 78 degrees in the summer and not higher than 65 degrees in winter are currently being enforced in some areas of the state.

The agency has allocated $327,000 for spot checks of business in the state of Texas.

From information obtained from Judge Bill Carter, a goal of 100,000 spot checks, has been established by the Energy Department, to be carried out during the nine months in which the ruling is effective.

"In some areas, including parts of Dallas, 25 checks have already been made," Carter noted.

Under the ruling, residential buildings, places serving food, hospitals, health care facilities and elementary schools are exempt from compliance.

Alternative methods of compliance are provided for buildings which do not have centralized temperature control capabilities.

No exemptions are included based solely on personal comfort.

RAINDROPS just kept on falling Thursday night during the annual Wolves Pigskin Preview but that didn't stop spectators from staying around. They found cover in a number of ways and some members of the new flag corps discovered their banners were pretty good shelter. See related photo Page 2.

Vaccination Clinic. The clinic will be held from 1-4 p.m. at the Maintenance Barn located on old Highway 80.

Dr. Larry Helms will administer medication and though not free, vaccinations will be given for a reduced fee.

"We are holding this clinic because I have had several requests from citizens who were unable to attend the last clinic, also there have been a number of skunks seen in the city limits in the past two weeks. This makes immunization of pets even more important," City Manager Ray Mason commented.

"We have also been required to pickup quite a few dogs for observation recently. These animals have bitten someone and it is necessary to determine if they are rabid or not," Mason stated.

"The city has been losing a great deal of money on this lately," Mason added.

"We have been picking up the animals and after the 14 day observation period has ended, the owner refuses to claim the pet and pay the bill. Usually the bill will amount to about $40 and the city has to pay it if the owner defaults."

"We have started a new policy to help in this situation. The dog-catcher will carry a form letter of intent with him when he has to pick up an animal for observation."

"This letter will be signed by the owner and will state his intent to pay the costs of confinement or not, so if the animal is not to be returned to the owner it resembled an Old Testament prophet and whose cabin was built into the mountainside.

In Murphy, N. C. he lived for several months with a black family and almost had to leave sooner than he planned to when a rumor spread around town that he was an undercover agent searching for illegal whiskey stills.

Near Summertown, Tenn. he suffered his big loss on the journey when his dog, Cooper, was killed by a truck. He described the animal as his, "Forever, Friend."

He traveled through Alabama, walked into the state capital in Montgomery and shook hands and chatted with George Wallace.

In Mobile, Ala., which he described as the most beautiful city he had ever seen, he attended a James Robison Crusade one night instead of going to a party as he had planned and became a Christian.

He reached New Orleans, La. on April 11, 1975. His nine month journey having already lasted over a year-and-a-half. He had worn out 13 pairs of shoes.

He stayed in New Orleans over a year and when he left in July, 1976, he had another champion, a wife, named Barbara.

She traveled with him through the Louisiana swamps and up through East Texas to Dallas where they spent the winter of 1976-77 and he worked as a waiter at an El Chico's Restaurant.

They walked on up through the Texas Panhandle into Northwestern New Mexico and finally into the Colorado Rockies where they spent the winter of 1977-78 in a log cabin 9,000 feet up.

Near Salt Lake City, Barbara was hit by a car and was only saved from serious injury when her backpack cushioned the blow.

They reached Oregon, the 17th state Peter had traveled, in the latter part of 1978.

Oregon seemed to be the only state Jenkins crossed in which he was disappointed in what he saw. He said that they had expected to see lots of trees and beautiful scenery but instead found mostly desolate ranchland. One suspects that they weren't able to appreciate the state because by this time they were completely exhausted.

They reached the Pacific near Florence, Ore. on Jan. 18, 1979 and waded into the ocean. In the closing lines of the article describing his trip, Jenkins summed up his feelings about the entire five plus years.

"I knew the God who had guided this walk was guiding us still."

I'd started off disillusioned and without hope, and now I had an unshakeable love for my country.

Although I'd lost my "forever friend," Cooper, I'd found the one, eternal love of my life, Barbara...the waves were really cold. Our legs were turning numb. We slogged back out onto the shore to begin the rest of our lives."

Living By God's Word

Rev. Harold Davis Pastor Oak Street Baptist Church

"But be ye doers of the Word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves." James 1:22

One year ago, pollster George Gallop, Jr. completed a comprehensive survey of religious life in our nation. Gallop concluded that although most Americans say they are religious, still only a small minority follow up their beliefs with faithful living. In other words, we are increasingly becoming a society that holds religious "preferences," but yet is not living by religious "convictions." What is the difference: A religious preference is some belief you might "favor" or believe mentally and intellectually, but do not live by. A religious conviction is a religious truth you are willing to live by even if it cost you dearly. For us as Christians, a conviction must be a Biblical truth which we are willing to base our daily living upon no matter what it costs us.

James says: "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only." One basic conviction you and I need to live by is this: "The Bible is the Word of God and is therefore the supreme authority in my life." Notice, this includes two basic parts: (1) the Bible is God's Word, it is divine, and (2) it therefore is to be the supreme authority in our lives.

THE BIBLE IS GOD'S DIVINE WORD. As early as Moses, God spoke to His messenger and Moses was to speak God's message to the people (Exodus 19:9, 24:3). In Deuteronomy Moses was to place into writing the oracles of God (17:18-19; 31:9). Later on there are repeated references where God divinely inspired the prophets (for examples see Ezekiel 1:3; Hosea 1:1-2; and 4:1). The message of the prophets was "Thus saith the Lord." God then used the prophets and others to record their messages into written form (Jeremiah 36:2). In II Peter 1:21 we read: "For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Spirit." II Timothy 3:16 says: "All scripture is given by inspiration..." Passages like Hebrews 1:1 and I John 1:1,3 reveal unto us that the message of the New Testament is the "good news" that salvation has come in Christ Jesus. The Bible is the divinely inspired Word of God.

THE BIBLE SHOULD THEREFORE BE THE SUPREME AUTHORITY IN OUR LIVES. It is a great sin to not believe the Bible is the Word of the Lord. However, it is a greater sin to believe the Bible is the Word of the Lord, but yet be unwilling to live by its truths. Since the Bible is God's Word, then it is to be approached as God's authority over our daily living. God told Joshua (Joshua 1:8): "The book of the law shall not depart out of your mouth: but you shall meditate therein day and night, that you may observe to do according to all that is written therein." Psalm 1:2 says: "Blessed is the man...whose delight is in the law of the Lord: and in His law does meditate day and night." Romans 15:4 says that the truths written in God's Word are written there for our learning. II Timothy says that all scripture is inspired and "is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." Indeed, the Bible is to be lived by. James 1:22 even says to not live by it is the worst kind of deception.

Our nation, our community, yes our churches, need people who are willing to hear and to do God's Word. Might each of us commit ourselves to this task.

Stenholm went on to say the difference is, in the past the industry would simply redistribute fuel from an area in which there was an ample supply to the area in which the fuel was needed. Now, however, this isn't possible because of government interference.

Stenholm jokingly said it made him very humble when he learned that congress' popularity rating is 10 points below President Carter's at a time when the President himself has a rating that is at an all time low.

Prior to Stenholm's speech, some 175 people made a tour of five Mitchell County farms, mostly in the Westbrook area.

The first stop was at the Manford Hardegree farm near Lake Colorado City, where eight varieties of cotton were on demonstration. The cotton was planted on June 9 at a rate of 26 pounds per acre. There were 200 pounds per acre of 16-20-0 fertilizer laid down with the cotton.

Hardegree said that so far the cotton had wilted very little and even though it was planted about 20 days late, he expected it to make, provided the freeze held off until Nov. 1.

The second stop was at the Berman-Stubblefield stock farm, about 15 miles south of Colorado City, where a wagon wheel type grazing system is installed.

David Stubblefield, who installed the system, stated 405 acres is divided into nine pastures and 32 cows are grazing and rotated from one pasture to another once a week. Stubblefield said this prevents the cattle from over grazing any one particular area and killing the grass.

He added normally he would only be able to graze from 15 to 20 head of cattle in the area but now he is grazing 32 head.

The Ronnie Feaster farm near Westbrook was the third farm visited on the tour. Ten varieties of cotton were on demonstration. It was planted on May 24 at a rate of 15 pounds per acre.

The next stop was the Richard Gale farm also in the Westbrook area. About 300 acres of cropland is being converted into rangeland.

The land was root plowed and raked twice during the conservation process and in addition, all of the remaining roots, limbs and stumps were picked up by hand.

The Lois Briley farm was the final stop on the tour. A rope-wick herbicide applicator, used in the control of Johnson grass, was on demonstration.

The cost to convert the area to cropland was about $100 per acre, cultivation of the 300 acres is expected to begin next year.

The applicator is attached to the back of the tractor. Elmer Martin who also uses the applicator stated a once over trip on a field using one part round-up herbicide to four parts water is usually enough to control the Johnson grass. The cotton is not hurt because the applicator is high enough off the ground so it is never touched.

Volleyball Girls Ready For Season

"The girls are enthusiastic and are really pulling together," Head Volleyball Coach George Martin stated Friday as his volleyball program at Colorado High School entered its second week.

Martin stated that he had the philosophy that everybody who came out deserved to play some in every game if at all possible. He added that if a girl knows she will be fitted in somewhere in the program she will naturally try much harder.

The Coach said that the girls will play a varsity and junior varsity schedule this year and that he plans to keep at least 12 and maybe 15 girls on the varsity squad.

There are 41 girls, Freshman through Seniors, who have signed up to play volleyball.

This 41 includes seven lettermen from last year's District 6-AA Champions. The returning lettermen are Seniors Jessica Randle, Holly Neff, Esther Martinez and Brenda Smith. The returning Junior lettermen are Delores Martinez, Kathy Garcia and Kim Hardegree.

In addition, there are 11 other girls, Seniors through Sophomores, who will be vying for spots on the varsity. They are Seniors Marty Callaway and Janice Ridge and Juniors Sidney Stewart, Josie Rodriquez, Rosa Ausbie and Vickie Franco.

The Sophomores who will be attempting to make the varsity are Teresa Bradley, Karla Herm, Diane Castillo, Deloria Johnson and Debra Jackson.

In addition to these, 23 Freshmen girls will play on the junior varsity team.

Martin stated that his teams would play a 4-2 offense which meant that they will have four spikers and two setters. They will employ a 2-4 defense, two blockers to the net and the other four girls covering the remainder of the area.

Martin was impressed with the number of girls who have come out. He said that in addition to the high school program, there have been 33 seventh graders and 28 eighth graders who have signed up for the junior high squads.

Pat Parker will assist Martin with the varsity team and will coach the junior varsity squad. Linda Mathis will coach the junior high girls.

Martin was highly complimentary of his assistants, saying they had done a great job so far.

Craig Carter Named Reporter

Craig Carter, 19, son of Judge and Mrs. Bill F. Carter, 1409 Chestnut Street, has recently achieved several honors in the court reporting field.

The son of Mitchell County Judge, he has been named a Certified Shorthand Reporter by the Texas Court Reporter Committee, making him among the youngest CSR reporters in the state of Texas.

Carter, a state champion typist, graduated from Colorado City High School in May of 1977. He won the state AA typing championship of the University Interscholastic League at

Craig Carter

Austin in his senior year. In addition, he joined with Chop Love to place second in the State AA tennis doubles the same year.

While in high school, Carter lettered in football as a defensive safety and lettered three years in basketball, as well as four years in tennis.

It was recently announced that Carter had become a Registered Professional Reporter (RPR) with the National Shorthand Reporters Association. In both the CSR and the RPR, the recipients have to pass shorthand tests ranging from literary matter at 180 wpm, jury charge at 200 wpm and two-voice material at 225 wpm. In addition, they have to pass written knowledge tests.

Carter's most recent honor was to graduate from Stenographic Institute of Texas, in Abilene, the oldest court reporting school in the South.

"Carter is one of the brightest young men and most promising that I have ever trained in my 25 years' experience," H. Don Rodgers, president of the school said upon completion of young Carter's graduation requirements.

Carter is now a full-time reporter with the firm of Rodgers & Rodgers in Abilene, having started more than a year ago as a typist and transcriber.

He now works in County and State District Courts, Federal Court, Bankruptcy Courts and takes varied and sundry depositions over a wide area in West Texas.

Back To School Is For Whole Family

From preschool age to grandparents, people of all ages are going to school. "Going to school" no longer only means reading, writing and arithmetic.

"Going to school" may be a Cake Decorating class, an Auto Mechanics class at the high school, or a Disco Dance for youth in the Wallace Gym. Little ones might attend the Summer Program and learn through play at the Wallace Center. Grandparents might go to school for a noon meal or just to have a place to find a good domino or card game.

During 1978, according to the Texas Education Agency, more than 74,000 people in Texas involved themselves more fully in their communities by participating in Community Education sponsored activities (over 2,000 people participated in Colorado ISD Community Education).

Millions of taxpayers dollars have been invested in the many public facilities that exist. Community Education seeks to make a more efficient use of these existing facilities by bringing representatives and community members together in Community Councils to plan for the maximum use of schools, parks, gymnasiums and other public facilities by all of the community's citizens.

Local Advisory Council members are: Drew Ballard, Donna Burnam, Ray Mason, Ray Anne Carlock, Bill Carter, Ben Costin, Bertie Costin, J. O. Dockrey, Mildred Free, Fleta Lewis, Charlie Uselton, Wilma McKinney, Mac McKinnon, Jesse Munoz, Donnie Phillips, Bob Reilly, Kenneth Rogers, Charles Root, Dorothy Walthall, Johnny Shackelford, Ann Gregory, Stan Shaw, Bobbie Steakley, Olson Sweet, Lulu Turner, Roger Wells, Kathy Wilson and Larry Winders.

Last year, 82 school districts and city governments endorsed the concept of Community Education which provides for the use of community facilities to meet identified community needs.

Wolves Lose To Crane

Colorado City's Wolves again were unable to score Friday night as they lost two touchdowns to nothing to Crane in the controlled scrimmage at Wolf Stadium.

They lost two touchdowns to nothing to Frenship last week but the Wolves coaching staff was happier with this week's performance.

Both of Crane's touchdowns came on long runs, one on their second offensive play covering 65 yards through their left side and then 53 yards around their right end on their second offensive possession.

The deepest Wolf penetration was to the Crane 18, a drive stopped by a fumble.

Wolf Coach Tom Ramsey said a number of last week's mistakes were corrected and there were a number of bright spots including the fact that the backs are now seeing their running lanes and broke loose a number of times.

Ramsey said he had been impressed with both Frenship and Crane, their speed and quickness.

He pointed out that the Wolves didn't want to show anything to scouts as they just ran "vanilla" defenses and worked on some problem areas on offense.

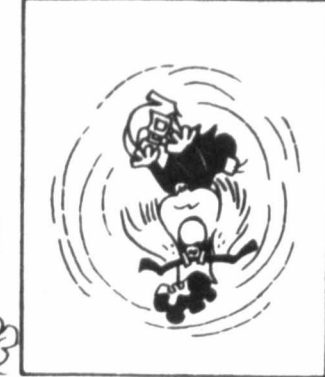

It was a different story for the Wolves Junior Varsity as they won over Crane one touchdown to nothing on a pass play covering about 60 yards. The pass was thrown by Jeff Hammond to Tim Nobles.

Coach Mike Hart had praise for a number of players including Fred Salazar, Todd Neff, Randy McPhaul and Dennis Heredia on defense and Mike Scott and Victor Jackson on offense.

The only time that Crane threatened, a fumble was created on the Wolves five and recovered by Doug Tucker. Tucker also created a fumble against Crane.

★ WINDERS..... From Page 1

About the resignation Chamber President McKinnon stated that he regrets seeing Winders leave but wished him well in his new job. "Winders has been a tremendous asset to our Chamber and community," McKinnon said. "he has done a great job for us and has worked far harder than anyone could be expected to do."

"The Chamber Board realizes that Winders should have been drawing a bigger salary here but we were paying all we could afford at the present time," McKinnon added. Among the many accomplishments of the Chamber with Winders as manager includes two tremendously successful rodeos and fly-ins, a great deal of work in industrial prospecting, work on a large number of varied community projects such as promotions for merchants and parades and the acquisition of the old Col-Tex Refinery grounds for industrial sites, a joining venture between the Chamber and the Industrial Team.

Winders also has helped in increasing the Chamber's stature in the community through his efforts in increasing membership, development of a brochure and a wide variety of other work. "He will be missed," McKinnon said.

We'll Be Happy To Explain Value and Economy For Your Tire Dollar

Every Michelin 'X' tire is backed by a 40,000 mile warranty for tread wear on domestic cars. That's just about twice the mileage you'd expect from a conventional tire under the same driving conditions. Also, because of its radial design the Michelin 'X' rolls with less road resistance than conventional tires, and that means you can save up to 10% on your present gas consumption (pretty good considering today's fuel crisis.) Plus, every Michelin 'X' tire gives you all the distinctive radial tire advantages over conventional bias-ply tires; smoother ride, easier handling, better traction and firmer road holding. And, they add up to a lot of comfort and safety. Invest in better driving. Stop in and have a set of Michelin 'X' radials installed today.

BILL MACK

If you're planning a trip to Nashville anytime soon to see the world-famous Grand Ole Opry along with its various satellite points of interest, I think you should consider a few things. These are what I consider notes of importance, especially if it is your first visit to The Athens of the South.

First of all, don't strike out for Nashville without reserving your tickets if you plan to make The Opry your main purpose in tripping South. Although I was told the gasoline crisis had put a damper on attendance at the super show, I would still advise you to have assurance your Opry tickets will be waiting for you when you get to the auditorium. To reserve your tickets, you may write or call Grand Ole Opry Ticket Division, Nashville, Tennessee.

There is the Friday Night Opry you might prefer to attend as well as the regular Saturday night function. Talentwise, you see just as many stars on the Friday night show as the Saturday night blow-out. Also, during the summer months, in order to accommodate the tourist overflow, WSM presents a Saturday afternoon matinee. Even though the matinee usually boasts a few well-known country music stars, the lineup is no match for the nighttime shows.

Another important point you might take into consideration is lodging. There are plenty of motels and hotels in Nashville. However, if you and the family are vacationing on a limited budget, as most people are, make certain you plan ahead with reservations at a motel or hotel within your means. Believe me, if you're taking a few kiddos with you, your stay in Music City could be cause for a visit to the loan company when you get back home.

Although many of the nice spots for bedding down in Nashville remain within the normal price range, there are a couple that can set you back $55 or $65 per night, and when you open the menu, the prices remind you of figures printed in the New York Stock Exchange.

For instance, here are some prices from a menu I brought back with me (along with a few towels) from a recent trip to Nashville.

Want to start the day off with a couple of cups of coffee and a couple of muffins? The tab for this short order will cost you $4, including the room service charge of 50 cents per person, gratuities not included.

A cup of coffee in the bar, by the way, will sober you up. It'll cost you $1.50 for one cup.

Wanna toss caution to the wind for breakfast for two? Try this one: A slab of ham, one fried egg, hash browns, gravy and biscuits plus a couple of cups of coffee will cause you to burp to the tune of $10.30. Add tomato juice for two and the bill jumps to $12.80.

Let's hop to lunch. Something light brought to the room for just the two of you: Two cheeseburgers and two Cokes will satisfy your appetite, but it will set you back $10.40. Cut the cheese and the two hamburgers and Cokes will run you only $10.

Let's have a few snacks brought to the room before dinner. How about some iced shrimp (with cocktail sauce)? That'll be $12 per dozen, please. That adds up to a dollar a shrimp.

A dozen deviled eggs, to whet your appetite, will cost you $8.40. Plus, don't forget, there is a charge of 50 cents per person for room service, besides tips.

If you order a small jug of Lancers wine ($12.50) and have the dozen shrimp brought to your room, you can munch to the tune of $24.50. That doesn't include the tip.

How about a couple of steaks? Come to think of it, let's go down to the 24-hour Moonlite Restaurant, grab a couple of cheeseburgers and rush to the Opry.

Bowen Attends Clinic

Deborah Bowen, a freshman cheerleader at Howard College, has recently returned from the NCAA Cheerleading Clinic where her squad won three superior ribbons and one excellent ribbon according to Becky Smiley, Art Instructor at HC.

Deborah is a 1979 graduate of Colorado High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bowen of Colorado City.

"A Letter to Heaven"
Oh, dear Mother, please rest in peace.
For you are in a land of love,
A land of flowers, and huge shade trees
And beautiful gold winged doves.

I know you will be protected
And you will be sick, no more.
You will never be neglected
Just good health and peace is in store.

I'm sure in time we'll be alright
Though we are all, very sad,
Even though your not, within our sight
What glad memories all of us have.

Things aren't like they use to be
Like calling and hearing your voice,
Or bringing our children for you to see
But I guess you were the Lord's choice.
Mom, you are always in my mind
And my heart is aching so,
You were always so very kind,
But your pain, would not ever show.

You know what really seems so sad?
We always had you to lean on
Our problems never made you mad,
And your advice, we could always depend upon.

I thank God for letting me have you
Through my most important years,
But Mom, I'm going to miss you
And in time, I'll stop these fears!

Well, maybe, I'll be with you soon
To live in the wonderful place your in,
I just can't wait to be in your arms
Or to tell you "I Love You", again!

"Rest In Peace"
Debbie
