Pilot Is Thankful For 'Miracle'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Pan American pilot gave thanks today for the "miracle" that let him nurse his passenger-filled 707 jet to a safe landing, despite the loss of 20 feet of wing and an engine which scattered in a populated area but hurt no one.

Aboard were 143 passengers and a crew of 10.

Two minutes after the Honolulu-bound jet took off from San Francisco International Airport Monday, Capt. Charles H. (Chuck) Kimes, 44, of Danville, Calif., felt a heavy vibration in his right outboard engine.

Hundred of persons in South San Francisco and San Bruno saw a ball of fire blossom on the end of the starboard wing as the N. 4 engine snapped off and plummeted to earth like a flaming meteor.

Then one-third of the wing, trailing blazing debris, broke off and slanted to earth. In the plane, pilot Kimes told his terrified passengers in a calm voice, "We have had some trouble. Keep calm and everything will be okay."

Kimes, pouring additional power to his other engines to keep his 270,000-pound plane flying, elected to head Flight 843 to Travis Air Force Base 50 miles away, where runways were long and emergency facilities many.

"I kept it going with a lot of help," Kimes said later. "It was a miracle."

At Travis, fighter planes scrambled into the air to escort him and make visual airborne inspections of the damage. A Coast Guard plane was already alongside the crippled airliner. The fire was out by this time.

Shortly after 2:30 p.m. less than half an hour after takeoff, Kimes' plane was circling Travis. Then a new crisis arose. The right landing gear refused to lower hydraulically.

First Officer F. R. Miller of Calistoga, Calif., with help from others of the crew, manually cranked down the gear. The plane landed safely. Passengers wept for joy as they debarked by way of the plane's emergency chute.

All the passengers except nine flew on to Honolulu Monday night on another Pan American 707.

Strategy Is Outlined For Republicans

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)— Chairman Ray C. Bliss outlined to the Republican National Committee today an ambitious program aimed at reclaiming the big-city, Negro and young peoples' vote he said had been stolen away by the Democrats.

Bliss told a closed session of the committee he intends to "enlarge and broaden existing programs to build support among Negro voters." He said the Republicans will concentrate on big-city areas where they had 41 per cent of the vote in 1960 but dropped to 32 per cent when Barry Goldwater was the presidential candidate last year.

There will be a program, Bliss said, directed at getting college students and others of that age enlisted as Republican workers. He noted that by 1970 half of the U.S. population will be under 25 years of age.

Also on the agenda at the meeting was a recommendation by Bliss for appointment of a special committee to study reforms in procedure of national nominating conventions. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told the committee Monday the conventions are chaotic, marked by "confusion, noise, impossible deportment."

US, Viet Troops Hunting Together

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese paratroopers hunted together for the Viet Cong in the jungle 30 miles north of Saigon today in their first such combined operation of the war. About 800 Australian infantry also moved in late in the day.

A Viet Cong grenade killed a young American paratrooper as he groped down a jungle path festooned with vines and creepers. He was the first man from the U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade to die in action in Viet Nam. A rifle bullet wounded another in the chest.

More than 1,200 men of the 173rd and two Vietnamese airborne battalions — perhaps 800 men — were lifted into the area Monday by a fleet of more than 130 helicopters. This followed up a B52 jet bombardment of a three-square-mile section of the Viet Cong stronghold June 18 and a sweep last Thursday by one battalion of the 173rd.

As in the previous operations, visual contact with the enemy was slight. A U.S. military spokesman said American and Vietnamese casualties were light so far.

Meanwhile, U.S. Air Force planes made their deepest strike into North Viet Nam today, hitting a barracks and supply depot 150 miles west north of Hanoi, U.S. military spokesmen announced.

The spokesmen said the Thuan Chau depot was two miles farther north than any previous Air Force target. They said pilots reported destroying 32 buildings and damaging 20 others.

A U.S. Air Force B57 jet bomber was hit by Communist groundfire as it supported a ground operation 15 miles from Saigon and crashed and burned in a rice field two miles north of the Saigon airport, U.S. spokesmen reported.

The two crewmen ejected from the plane after the left wing caught fire, but one man's parachute failed to open, the spokesmen said. His body was recovered. The second airman parachuted into a river and a search was being made for him.

The dead flier was the 430th American killed in combat in Viet Nam.

A second American plane, an RF101, was shot down at low altitude on another raid north of the Hanoi line, and the pilot was presumed killed, spokesmen announced. The plane was flying support for an attack by other aircraft on the Son La barracks and supply depot about 140 miles west northwest of Hanoi. It has been the target of several previous attacks.

Reliable sources reported an American adviser was killed and another wounded in a major engagement being fought by troops of the Vietnamese 7th division near Cai Lay, in the Mekong delta about 45 miles southwest of Saigon. The Vietnamese were reported battling a large Viet Cong force in the marshy area, but no other details were immediately available.

More than 130 helicopters—one of the strongest such forces ever assembled in the Vietnamese war—ferried the combined paratrooper force into the attack zone.

The helicopters drew Viet Cong fire in the landing zones, and four crewmen were reported wounded. U.S. spokesmen said contact with the enemy after that was limited to sniping, probes and mortar attacks.

The Viet Cong concentration, if there was one, apparently got out of the way before the paratroopers advanced.

The landings were preceded by heavy air strikes by Vietnamese and U.S. Air Force planes.

U.S. Marine Corps units have operated repeatedly on a small scale with Vietnamese units in central Viet Nam. But this was the first time American Army troops have been used alongside Vietnamese troops.

WITH THE DELIVERY of the government's check for $179,130 to Pat Moore, president of the Ira Water Supply Corporation, the job of providing Lake Thomas water to 129 customers in the Ira-Dunn area got well underway. Presenting the check Monday afternoon was Joe E. Box, County Farmer's Home Administration supervisor. Watching the presentation are Mrs. W. A. Disheroon, F.H.A. county clerk; Leo Ellis, treasurer of the Corporation, and Leon Decker of Abilene, consulting engineer on the job. Work by Rhode Pipe Co. on the approximately 20 miles of 4-inch pipe line will start about July 12, and although the contract calls for 160 days, the firm hopes to be finished by Sept. 1. Total cost of the project is $185,380.

Celebration Shaping Up

Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. representatives of all the clubs and service organizations who will be participating in the Independence day celebration will meet to draw for booth locations.

Doug McGlaun, who is in charge of this phase of the event for the Chamber of Commerce's committee, said that a number of clubs had already contacted him, and that marking of the locations which will be available for booths has already started.

The drawing for the locations will be held at the pavilion.

Some spots for the activities are already determined. For example, the kiddie rides will be set up on the parking area north of the pavilion. They will be operating Friday evening as well as all day Saturday.

The art show, to be sponsored by the 3-D Art Club, will be held in the National Guard armory, and will be open to the public all day except for the time during the morning while the judges are making their decisions.

The awarding of the four ribbons — first, second, third, and honorable mention awards, will be done at 6:30 p.m.

The hours for the youngsters' fishing rodeo has also been announced. That event, to be held in the Towle Park Pond, will be from 9 to 11 a.m. with the Snyder Jaycees in charge. Merchandise prizes — mostly fishing gear — will be awarded for the heaviest fish, the longest fish, and any other kind of winners the Jaycees are able to figure out.

The tennis tournament will be underway all day, and baseball games will be held Saturday afternoon.

At 4 p.m. the diving exhibitions and swimming contests will be held at the swimming pool, and at 6 p.m., music from the bandstand will be provided by the Jaguars.

All of the activities will officially start at 2 p.m., however, with the raising of the flag at the armory. Following the official opening ceremonies, the parade will get underway.

There will be old cars in the parade, and bicycles, all decorated and competing for the prize to be given to the best decorated bike.

Bentley Baize, co-chairman of the Independence Day Celebration, said that he felt that there would be something for everyone to enjoy Saturday, and that he and the rest of the committee expected a large turn-out even before the busy day was climaxed by the gigantic fireworks display which will be the final event of the 1965 Independence Day activities.

Peace Calls Deceptive, Says Kosygin

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin charged today that U.S. calls for peace in Viet Nam are a deception and warned American forces "will have to take into account an increase in aid" to the Vietnamese people from Communist countries.

The premier also assailed U.S. policy in the Dominican Republic and other parts of the world, charging the United States with aggression.

"Some in the United States, including the President himself, have tried to justify these aggressive acts," Kosygin said, by claiming a right to intervene in other countries. This means, he added, that Washington seeks to determine the social systems in countries.

"This is the policy of the extreme rightists whose leader is Sen. (Barry) Goldwater," Kosygin said.

He said the Soviet Union fully supports the conditions of North Viet Nam and the Communist-led National Liberation Front in South Viet Nam for a settlement there. He listed them as:

Negroes Rap Poverty War

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today described the administration's war on poverty as "merely an extension of white welfare paternalism."

"We must shed the illusion that there is a war against poverty," said Herbert Hill, national labor secretary of the NAACP. "There is merely a BB shot against poverty."

Earlier, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, told delegates to the 56th annual convention of the group that Negroes must make the Civil Rights Act of 1964 work for them.

Hill mentioned Title 7 of the Civil Rights Act, which is intended to outlaw job discrimination.

Warm Spell To Continue

By The Associated Press

South breezes wafted more warm air inland across Texas today.

Occasional showers sprinkled the northwest corner of the Texas Panhandle in early morning. A few clouds began forming in the south central part of the state. Skies were brassy clear elsewhere.

There also were some light showers during the night in the area embracing Dallas, Tyler and Waco, but none yielded appreciable moisture.

Presidio with 103 degrees and El Paso with 100 posted the state's top temperatures Monday. High marks at other points ranged down to 87 at Alpine, Amarillo and Galveston.

Probers Say Panel Is 'Red-Dominated'

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— A special legislative committee charged today that the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, a leading civil rights organization, is "extensively Communist dominated."

The commission to preserve the peace also said in a written report to the Alabama Legislature that:

— The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) is "an important arm of the procommunist conspiracy and a dedicated agent working toward the Sovietizing of America."

— The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is "actively engaged in promoting the Communist line" and is "substantially under control of Communists."

King, the committee report said, "is probably not a member of the Communist Party, U.S.A., nor of any identified Communist splinter party." But it charged, "the 10-year history of his rise to prominence through advocating social revolution is part and parcel of the Communist operation in America during that same period."

The report said the Negro civil rights leader "has amassed an amazing number of Communist 'fronts' as well as a larger list of groups which follow the Communist line even though they have not been officially declared a part of the Communist solar system of fronts."

At the same time, the committee charged that King "has been closely, even intimately, associated with persons who have been officially labeled under oath before Congressional committees as Communists."

The five-man committee was created by the legislature in the wake of racial troubles in Birmingham two years ago to "investigate individuals and groups who may be engaged in activities of an unlawful nature against the sovereignty of the state and which may be detrimental to the peace and dignity of the state."

King and the civil rights groups also have been active in the recent racial struggle in Selma and neighboring counties.

The chairman of the investigating committee is state Rep. John Hawkins of Jefferson County.

The staff director is Edwin Strickland, a former Birmingham newsman and onetime aide to former Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion.

The 39-page report described the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) as "an extremely dangerous irresponsible group which tends to promote acts of violence to gain support for their own goals."

Stock Market In Vigorous Surge

NEW YORK (AP)—A wave of buying propelled the stock market to a vigorous rally early this afternoon. It came after four straight sessions of sharp losses.

Some of the gain was whittled away around mid-day.

Trading was extremely heavy with 2.63 million shares changing hands in the first hour. This was the heaviest since the New York Stock Exchange began compiling the figures on an hourly basis May 19, 1933.

Brokers said today's buying wave was coupled with widespread covering of short positions.

Orders were reported coming in from all over the country, including institutions.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 2.6 to 310.6 with industrials up 3.9, rails up 1.5 and utilities up 1.3.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had gained 4.72 to 845.31. It had been up 9.32 earlier.

The airlines and aircrafts, which were badly buffeted in Monday's sharp loss, came back with gains of a point or more.

Motors, steels, mail order-retails, rubbers, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals, and rails also advanced.

Du Pont, Eastman, Kodak and General Electric moved up about a point. International Business machines added more than 2.

Prices were higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Irate Women Stalk Vandals

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A contingent of irate mothers plans to return this afternoon to Franz Park, where about 30 women — armed with baseball bats — marched Monday to protest vandalism and rowdy behavior.

Mrs. John R. Guffey Jr., one of the bat-wielding women, said the group will continue to protect recreation counselors, two of whom were harrassed by a group of youths last Wednesday.

The older boys were at the park Monday, but they remained down on the ball diamond and kept away from the children's playground, she said.

Besides an alleged lack of police protection, the mothers also are protesting the failure of the Park Department to repair playground equipment damaged by vandals.

Mrs. Guffey reported that five of six swings had been torn down, a merry-go-round had been pulled loose and rolled onto the baseball diamond and beer bottles had been thrown into a concrete wading pool.

City officials said all damaged equipment will be replaced as soon as possible.

A police detail was assigned to the park Monday. Further discussions will be held on the possibility of adding more officers.

Kadar Still Strong Man In Hungary, Despite Shakeup

By HANS BENEDICT

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Communist party chief Janos Kadar still appears to be top man in Hungary after giving up the premiership in a reshuffle.

Kadar, 53, resigned as premier Monday and handed the job to Gyula Kallai, 55, his deputy since 1960. He retained the top party post, the most powerful position in Communist countries.

At least seven new men were named to the Communist party's top echelon. They appeared to be handpicked by Kadar to insure his control of the party apparatus.

Hungarian officials said the changes did not mean any alteration in Hungary's domestic or foreign policies but were designed to take "some of the burden off Mr. Kadar's shoulders."

The official announcement said the change was made so that Kadar could "devote his whole time to his duties as the first secretary of the (party's) Central Committee."

Rumors that Kadar would resign as premier have been circulating since the ouster of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in October 1964. Khrushchev's jobs of premier and party chief were filled by Alexei N. Kosygin and Leonid I. Brezhnev. A similar division of labor occurred in Romania in March, after the death of Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej.

The Soviet premier's ouster caused a wave of uncertainty in Hungary and the rest of Eastern Europe. In Hungary, there was fear it would bring an end to a liberal trend in the Red regime and a revival of Stalinism.

Kadar may have decided to postpone his resignation in order to calm the public. He probably also didn't want to give the impression that the move was dictated by Moscow.

Safety Test Successful

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)— A dummy moonship flashed over the southern New Mexico desert early today in an apparent successful test of a safety system for astronauts.

Success of the test will strengthen the lifeline of astronauts who will depend on the rocket should their Saturn V booster explode in a lunar launch.

The 155,000-pound thrust escape rocket shot the dummy moonship to an altitude of about one mile in 11 seconds.

The rocket is being developed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for incorporation into the giant vehicle which will power three Apollo astronauts toward this country's first moon landing.

Fear Four In Family Dead

EL ROSARIO, Mex. (AP) — Four members of a California family were feared dead today, after a 14-year-old girl told of a ship sinking at sea, her 1½-mile swim to a deserted Mexican coast and two days of wandering — cold and hungry — before being found.

Denise Winter of Murieta, Calif., said Monday she was apparently the only survivor after her family's 45-foot cabin cruiser developed engine trouble and sank Saturday afternoon off La Punta San Fernando, on Baja California's sparsely populated coast.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 18-year-old daughter, a straight-A student and faithful church member, has gone with a boy (her age) for over a year. He moved here from another state. The other evening he told our daughter that he wanted to tell her something before somebody else did. His parents own and operate a nudist camp! He told her his mother never did approve of it, but his father is the boss and they make a very good living from it. He said when he was eleven his father took a belt to him and put him in the car and made him go up to this camp. He hated it and hitchhiked back home. I think no less of this boy, but I'm afraid if this gets out our daughter's reputation will be ruined. He says he sometimes goes up there to see his mother, but he always wears shorts. Please advise us.

STRICTLY ANONYMOUS

DEAR STRICTLY: Children are not responsible for their parents' behavior. You are right to judge the lad on his own merits. You can't still wagging tongues, so ignore any talk that occurs, and don't waste your energy worrying about it.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter on how to propose marriage. May I tell you how I did it?

First I bought a diamond ring. Then I invited the young lady to my apartment, and proceeded to serve her an old fashioned. I had the diamond ring frozen in an ice cube. The girl almost swallowed the ring before she discovered it. But she put it on her finger and it's been there ever since.

GEORGE

DEAR GEORGE: I would.

DEAR ABBY: I have a small problem but it seems to bother me more every night. My husband is a wonderful father in all ways but one. When our little ones go to kiss him goodnight, he turns his cheek for them to kiss, but he never kisses them in return. I have told him many times that a kiss should be mutual — and that he should kiss them in return — but he says he can't see where it matters, and as long as the children are satisfied I shouldn't criticize him. I would like your opinion and am willing to go along with your answer. Thank you.

N. J.

DEAR N. J.: If your husband smokes heavily, chews tobacco or has beer breath, he's doing the kids a favor. But if he's a "wonderful father" in all other ways, I say leave him alone.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the husband who reported that his wife "sweet-talked" her plants and flowers and it made them grow: I understand how it works and think it is all well and good. So now I am wondering if the opposite treatment would work on unwanted weeds. Let's all go out in the back yard and cuss out the weeds and see what happens!

May's Gold Loss Smallest Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. gold holdings declined $117 million in May, the Federal Reserve reported today.

The loss was the smallest of any month this year. The gold stock on May 31 stood at $14,363,000,000.

TAKING THE MEASURE of what Scurry County soil is able to grow is Mrs. B. N. Stone, 2008 Avenue R, as she measured a 16½ inch radish which she let grow in her garden just to see how big it would get. It measured 10½ inches in circumference. Although this radish won't be eaten, Mrs. Stone reported excellent success with her garden crops this year.

New Debt Limit Is $328 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new temporary national debt limit is $328 billion.

President Johnson signed the bill into law Monday just two days before the legal ceiling would have reverted to the permanent level of $285 billion.

Congress approved the new temporary one-year limit several weeks ago. It is $4 billion above the ceiling in effect this year, and reflects continued deficit financing by the government.

Shortage Noted In Woodchoppers

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Rep. James C. Cleveland, R-N.H., has filed a protest with Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz against attempts to curtail the use of Canadian woodchoppers in New Hampshire timberlands.

Cleveland said all available U.S. woodsmen are employed and unemployment in the pulp and paper mills could result from any slack in the pulp wood harvest.

Uniforms Are Not Popular

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Officials of a savings and loan association have uniform thoughts on the subject of women's dress.

They think the 65 women employed there should wear uniforms and, with this in mind, ordered that they do so beginning Aug. 9.

The announcement was met by some with less than enthusiasm.

"Who wants to become a blob?" asked one.

"We want to stay individuals," said another. "If we didn't, we could join the women's army."

A third asserted her fashion-consciousness by giving the firm two week's notice.

The firm's officials said they wanted to take their employes out of "a hodgepodge of costumes."

"It's almost a raise for the girls," said Kenneth F. Spencer, the association's chief managing officer. "We not only pay for the clothing, but we do the laundry."

Each woman will be given three sets of suits: one blue, one black and one checked. Plans call for all to wear each set for one week, changing every Friday afternoon to the uniform to be worn the coming week—a kind of fashion preview.

Court Requires Backseat Driving

NASVHILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Unless you're a confirmed backseat-driver, the Tennessee Court of Appeals says, you can't collect damages in this state if the man behind the wheel has a wreck.

Judge Allison B. Humphreys' decision upholding dismissal of a damage suit said a passenger riding as a guest in a motor vehicle "must protest against the reckless and unlawful operation of it or be deemed in law as having acquiesced therein."

HOME ON LEAVE—PFC Robbie Lowel Herrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas Herrington, 2905 Avenue Y, is home on 30-day leave enroute to his new assignment in Korea. PFC Herrington enlisted with SFC Joe Welch, local Army Recruiter on Aug. 10, 1964, and is a 1964 graduate of Snyder High School.

Fireflies Finding Market In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fireflies are turning up in Baltimore refrigerators again.

Mishap Reported

The Snyder police department reported a minor two-car mishap at 10:41 a.m. Monday on the East Highway near Cherry Street.

Involved were a 1963 Ford driven by Ivan L. Jones of Atchison, Kan., and a 1965 Ford driven by Philip A. Hamilton of Lubbock. Damage to each car was estimated at $25. There were no injuries.

Pleas Are Heard In County Court

Four persons charged with DWI entered pleas Monday afternoon in county court.

James Leroy West of Snyder, who had been charged by the Highway Patrol and sheriff's office, pleaded not guilty. Bond was set at $500.

William A. Martin of Sweetwater, charged by the sheriff's department, also pleaded not guilty. Bond was set at $750.

George Morris of Snyder pleaded guilty and was fined $100 plus costs and was sentenced to three days in jail. The charge had been filed by the sheriff's department.

Dudley Oscar Randolph of Sweetwater also pleaded guilty to the charge which had been filed by the Highway Patrol. He was fined $100 plus costs and was sentenced to three days in jail.

New Stew Good For Party Flair

Tops on every homemaker's "Wanted" list are those rare recipes for a one - dish dinner that lives up to its name — without being complicated to prepare.

For the hostess who seeks a buffet entree which is festive, fast and fussless, the search can be equally endless.

For homemakers and hostesses alike, the problem is solved with Ranch Style Ribbon Stew, a quick - to - fix blend of ready-to-eat canned vegetables and steak strips. Hearty enough for the hungriest family, this easy-do dish adds a gourment touch to social gatherings as well. Unlike ordinary chunk-cut stew meat, this dressed - up version calls for round steak to be ribbon - cut in Stroganoff style. With the addition of vegetables, however, the dish becomes more than a Stroganoff and because all the ingredients are of the canned, ready - to - eat variety, cooking time is shortened to half an hour or less. The subtle, yet satisfying, blend of ranch style beans' zingy sauce with bouillon and vegetable flavors creates a unique entree with special character so appetizing even light eaters will call for seconds.

Prepared in either skillet or chafing dish, Ranch Style Ribbon Stew can be completely cooked in advance or, for guest functions, the hostess can create this showpiece entree—and make prestige points, besides—before the eyes of the guests themselves.

Served over noodles (or rice, if preferred), ribbon stew needs only hot bread, a beverage, and salad or fresh relishes to complete a full and hearty dinner equal to any occasion.

Ranch Style Ribbon Stew

1 pound ¼-inch thick round steak
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 15 ounce can ranch style beans
1 can bouillon (or 1 cup water)
1 cup small whole canned onions
1 cup quartered fresh tomatoes
1 can button mushrooms
4 cups cooked egg noodles

Cut steak into 3 inch ribbons, ¼-inch thick (with kitchen shears, if you have them). Sautee in olive oil just until barely seared outside—not browned. Add flour and salt, and stir until steak strips are coated. Stir in all other ingredients except noodles, cover and simmer until meat is tender — about 15 minutes. Serve over noodles. Makes four to six servings.

Cotton is stronger when wet.

RANCH STYLE RIBBON STEW brings zing to spring buffets with a dressed-up, speeded-up version of an old family favorite. Savory strips of beef are combined with ready-to-eat canned mushrooms, onions, and ranch style beans to create a chafing dish dinner in half an hour for famished guests or fast - moving families.

STRAWBERRY FRITTERS—They get a sweet and crunchy coating before they are fried.

Strawberry Fritters, Delightfully Different

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

HOW OLD-FASHIONED cooks loved fritters! Pick up one of their cook books and the chances are you'll find recipes for these delicacies.

Clam, corn, oyster and tomato fritters were favorites for the main course of a meal. But dessert fritters — apple, banana, orange and strawberry — were also served.

The strawberry fritters are probably the most unusual of all, and it's this recipe we've resurrected — in modern style. Our berry fritters get a coating of corn syrup and chopped almonds, then they are dipped in beaten egg and rolled in graham cracker crumbs. The corn syrup makes the almonds stick to the berries, and the egg helps the graham cracker crumbs to adhere. To make life easy, we use the graham cracker crumbs that come in a handy package.

Each of these strawberry fritters is a delightful mouthful of surprise: the berry sweet, fresh and still cool, the coating slightly crunchy.

In the following recipe, we suggest that you serve these fritters with a favorite pudding sauce. What flavor? Lemon, vanilla, brandy or what you will. If you are adept at concocting the continental Sabayon Sauce — a combination of egg yolks, sugar and sherry or marsala — you might want to offer that.

STRAWBERRY FRITTERS

1 pint medium or large strawberries (about 30)
½ cup light corn syrup
1 cup finely chopped blanched almonds
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup graham cracker crumbs
Corn oil (for frying)

Wash and hull strawberries; drain. Insert the sharp tines of a fork into the top of a berry; dip into the corn syrup and allow excess syrup to drip off; roll in almonds. Holding berry on fork again, dip into egg and allow excess egg to drip off; roll in graham cracker crumbs. Repeat process with remaining berries. Chill for 2 or 3 hours.

Fill a heavy saucepan one-third full of corn oil; heat over medium heat to 375 degrees on a candy or fat theremometer, or until a 1-inch cube of bread turns brown in 40 seconds. Fry batches of berries, without crowding, until lightly browned — about 30 seconds. If you like, you may fry the berries in a basket, but do not crowd. Serve at once with any favorite pudding sauce. Makes 6 servings — 5 berries per portion.

wIlLiAmSon'S WiLDneSS

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

There were many interesting events and happenings at last Friday's Pro-Am Golf Tournament, but probably the most notable side glance was the appearance of two professional football greats in the form of Jack Spikes and Bob McLeod.

Of course, Spikes is a former Snyder High School graduate and an all-state football player for the Bengals. He played his college stint at Texas Christian University where he was an all-American choice by most polls. Spikes then went to Dallas to play for the forgotten Texans in a franchise that moved to Kansas City. He then went to the San Diego Chargers and now is with the Houston Oilers.

Bob McLeod played his high school ball at Merkel, and entered his college play at Abilene Christian College. Since graduating from ACC he has played for the Houston Oilers, and has been the American Football League's all-star tight end for the past two seasons.

Last Friday marked the first time that these two boys had met as teammates instead of rivals. Spikes is to join the Oilers for the first time July 15 when the team's football camp will open.

McLeod gave a word to the wise about the Houston climate at that time of the year. "It sure is hot and humid down there." But all Jack could answer with was, "I just wish we were playing in the dome instead of Rice stadium next year. I'm not sure that weather is going to be too nice for football."

Neither Bob or Jack gave any clues as to the reason why the Oilers chose to play in Rice Stadium instead of the Harris County Dome Stadium. Both said they would rather play in the comfort of the dome.

I asked Jack about the trouble he had with the San Diego Charger front office. "We just couldn't agree on a salary, and there were some other minor difficulties that could not be ironed out with the Charger coach. (Sid Gillman)" Spikes played with the Chargers a little less than a full season.

Jack seemed to think that he could benefit the Oilers as well as the Oilers helping him. "I could possibly play a little more with the Oilers; Kansas City had so many good running backs it was hard to stay in the lineup."

Both Spikes and McLeod played in the Pro-Am classic. McLeod managed a nifty 76 score which was among the top ten golfers at the tournament. Jack finished a little off the pace with an 81 score.

Speaking of the tournament, it was interesting to talk to Carson Bendict of the Sweetwater Country Club. Carson finished in a tie with Plainview's Horace Moore in the Pro-Am. He made a fine showing with a score of 69.

"The par three holes gave me the most trouble on this course. I had five birdies and one bad bogey. The bogey completely got me off of my game, and it took three or four holes to settle back down."

Carson seemed to think that the course was in excellent shape for the tournament although he had never played the course before. "I think it was to my disadvantage not ever having played on this course."

Tiger football fans will remember Sweetwater's Benny Pace. Besides being a fine quarterback he is a fine golfer in his own right. He shot a 115 score in the 27 hole medal play Sunday in the Invitational. It was good enough to be the third flight winner. Pace, however, has chosen football over golf in college. He plans to play for Coach Darrell Royal's Longhorns.

All in all, Snyder was the host to many intriguing people this past weekend. It might prove interesting to follow the progress of these four in the next few years.

Ralston Confident On Wimbledon Win

By ROBERT JONES

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, the United States' hope in the men's singles of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships, is a relaxed and confident young man today on the eve of his semifinal match with Roy Emerson, the defending titleholder.

Ralston, the U.S. No. 1 player who is just one month short of his 23rd birthday, got a quarter-final fright against Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., Monday. He dropped the first two sets, then came back to win in five.

And, he said, "Once you've hoked a match like that, you've really got a chance."

Ralston, seeded fourth, is the only U.S. player to reach the semifinals out of three hopefuls.

Allen Fox of Los Angeles, lost to the up-and-coming South African, Cliff Drysdale, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5, 7-5.

The other semifinalists are the Australians, Emerson and Fred Stolle, the No. 2 seed who has been on the losing end the last two Wimbeldon finals. They are on opposite ends of the draw. Stolle beat Rafael Osuna of Mexico 11-13, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2.

Ralston is hopeful he can beat Emerson. "We've played several times and I think he's got the edge on me by about a couple of matches only," said Ralston. "But now I feel much more relaxed and confident."

This is the first time Ralston has gotten this far in the singles at Wimbledon. He got his name on the championships rolls in 1960, when as an 18-year-old he won the men's doubles with Osuna.

The United States has an impressive squad of four girls left in the quarter-finals.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., seeded fourth, and Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., the fifth seed, both scored easy victories Monday. Nancy made short work of Mrs. Joyce Williams, the young British girl, 6-0, 8-3. Billie Jean defeated Robin Lesh of Australia 6-2, 6-0.

With them in the quarter-finals are 19-year-old Jane Albert of Pebble Beach, Calif., who upset the rankings with an impressive 6-4, 7-5 victors over eighth-seeded Francoise Durr of France, and Justina Bricka, who reached the last eight for the first time at Wimbledon by beating Britain's Virginia Wade 5-7 6-4 8-6.

Sox, Braves Take Victory In FL Play

In Farm League action Monday night the Braves beat the Giants 16-11 and the White Sox defeated the Athletics 14-4.

The Braves broke the game open against the Giants when they scored eight runs on five hits in the third inning. Going into the third inning the Giants had a 7-6 lead, but lost it in the third and never regained it. The Giants had scored four runs in the second inning to take their early lead.

The White Sox had two six run innings in their win over the Athletics. They scored six in the first and six in the second to gain their victory. The A's could only manage two runs in the first and two in the third. The White Sox were never behind in the contest.

Rich Allen To Play In All-Star Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "If there is an All-Star Game this year, Rich Allen is going to play some third base for the National League."

That's not a guess or a prediction, but a direct quote from the man who is going to manage the National League All-Stars in the game at Minnesota next month.

"Maybe I shouldn't say that," said Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies, who has been named skipper of the National All-Stars.

"I know that Allen doesn't want to get into the All-Star Game by my direction. He wants to be voted in."

"But honestly, he's as good a third baseman as anybody we've seen this year," said Mauch after the Phillies defeated St. Louis 3-0 Monday night.

Dodgers Lose Third Game In Row As Don Drysdale Commits Two Errors

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Juan Marichal pitches against the Los Angeles Dodgers in the Candlesick Park wind tunnel, there's only one way to describe it — a breeze.

The high-kicking San Francisco right-hander, who has never lost at home against the Dodgers in his six-year major league career, made it 10 in a row Monday night when he scattered six hits and outdueled Don Drysdale in a 5-0 victory over the National League leaders.

Both Marichal and Drysdale went into the game with 11-6 records.

Marichal came out with his fifth shutout — high in the majors this season — tied the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax and Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati for most victories in the majors and lowered his earned run average to an eye-opening 1.65.

Drysdale allowed one less hit than Marichal but committed two errors that led to his downfall, and lost his fourth straight game while the Dodgers went down to their third straight defeat — the first time this season they've lost more than two in a row.

Despite the defeat, the Dodgers maintained their one-game edge over the second-place Cincinnati Reds, who dropped a 5-4 decision to Pittsburgh.

The third-place Giants, meanwhile, closed to within 2½ of the top.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from Milwaukee 5-2 and 6-3, Philadelphia blanked St. Louis 3-0 and the Chicago Cubs belted Houston 7-2.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox crushed Minnesota 17-4, Cleveland walloped Boston 9-2, Detroit edged Baltimore 4-3 and the New York Yankees defeated Washington 3-0 and 4-3.

The Giants scored in the first on singles by Dick Schofield and Willie Mays around a sacrifice, then broke it open with a four-run fifth inning after Drysdale opened the door with two consecutive throwing errors.

Drysdale first threw away Hal Lanier's grounder, then fired wildly on Randy Hundley's bunt. Lanier, however, was caught in a rundown trying to score but Drysdale's batterymate, John Roseboro, was charged with interference while blocking the plate and Lanier was allowed to score. Singles by Matty Alou and Jim Hart brought in the other three runs.

Roberto Clemente stroked a two-run single in the seventh inning, driving across what turned out to be the decisive runs for the Pirates when the Reds chased Don Cardwell with a four-run ninth. Cardwell, now 6-2, socked a homer and checked Cincinnati on three hits through eight innings before needing Al McBean's relief help.

The Mets snapped a five-game losing streak in the opener with Jack Fisher, 5-9, scattering nine hits and Roy McMillan providing the key hits. McMillan singled home a run in the third, then lashed a run-scoring triple in the fifth and scored on Ed Kranepool's sacrifice fly.

The Braves went down to their fourth straight defeat in the nightcap — their longest losing streak of the season — as the Mets wrapped it up with a five-run fourth inning uprising. Kranepool's homer and a two-run single by Chuck Hiller, who had six hits in the doubleheader, were the big blows.

Chris Short checked the Cardinals on four hits while Johnny Callison provided the only run the Phillies needed when he tripled in the third inning and scored on a wild pitch by Tracy Stallard. Short posted his fifth straight victory for a 9-6 record while St. Louis went down to its 23rd defeat in 32 games over the last month.

Larry Jackson, 5-10, pitched a six-hitter and Ron Santo and Don Landrum slammed two-run homers in the Cubs' victory over the Astros. Landrum, stole home in the eighth inning. Joe Morgan and Walt Bond connected for homers off Jackson.

Michael Yap, one of Army's 17 varsity tennis players, comes from Waialua, Hawaii.

Dodgers, Buffs Gain League Wins

Two was the unlucky number Monday night as the Buffs beat the Rebels 5-2 while the Dodgers downed the Sports 6-2.

Brad Morgan led the Buffs to their victory over the Rebels. He pounded out three hits while scoring three runs in three trips to the plate. One of his hits was a triple. The Rebels took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Craig Alexander scored after he had walked to open the game. The Rebels tied the score in the bottom of the first and gained the lead for good in the second inning when Morgan led off the inning with a single and eventually scored.

The Dodgers scored four runs in the third inning to take a sure lead and win over the Sports. Jerry Northcott got two hits for the Dodgers and drove in a run with a single in the sixth scoring Bennie Ward. David Casey of the Sports scored their first run in the fourth after he had doubled. Cliff Voss scored the Rebels other run in the fifth after a single.

Braves And Sox Score Victories

The Braves trounced the Giants 13-0 while the White Sox downed the Athletics 7-3 in Little League games played Monday night.

Billy Evans of the Braves threw a no hit shutout as his team scored 13 runs on six hits. In the scoring department, Lee McNair was the story as he pounded two home runs and two singles while scoring four runs in the process. Evans only trouble was of control. He walked six men during the course of the game, but had to face only 18 men in gaining the victory.

Again it was a combined pitching performance by Jack Tovar and Robert Phariss for the White Sox in their victory over the A's. Phariss had a little trouble with the A's in the third as they scored all three of their runs. The White Sox had scored four in the third to keep a lead throughout the game. Mike Hodge got three hits for the Sox while Phariss managed two. Both had a double.

Nicklaus Is Leader In Money Earnings

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, who added $4,050 to his bank account in the St. Paul Open over the weekend, continues to lead professional golf's money winners this week.

Nicklaus took the money lead early in the season and has earned $57,700 in tournaments sanctioned by the Professional Golfers Association. Money in unofficial events boosts his total to $68,488.

WHAT YOU HAVE

the BIGGER we get the easier we DEAL

This has been one of those years. Great. Buickwise, we mean. And no wonder. The 1965 crop of Buicks are all beautiful. They ride well, handle well. Buick engineers, you see, have a way of doing things that please people.

So what's this ad for?

To brag about Buicks?

No, sir.

We have something that'll interest you more. It's called how to get yourself a Buick the easy way.

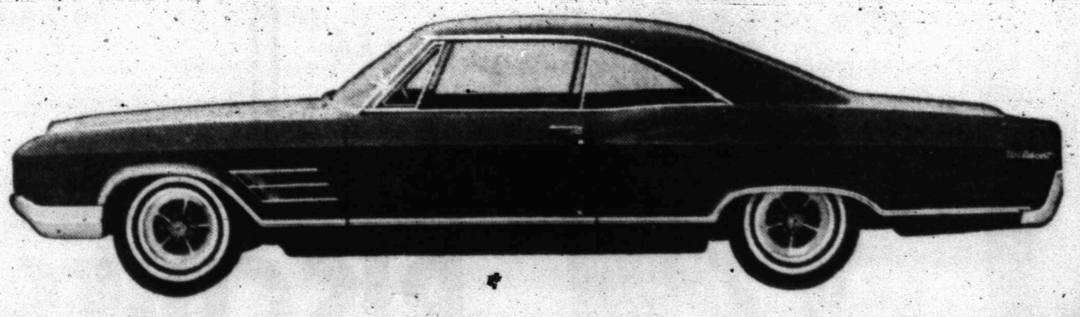
Because we've had such a great sales year, we can make it easy. The easier we make it, the closer we'll come to breaking our all-time Buick sales record.

This goes for any Buick: Riviera, Electra 225, Wildcat, LeSabre, Skylark or Special. You name it — we'll deal.

It all adds up to this: If you'd really rather go first class, go Buick.

We'll make it worth your while.

Wouldn't you really rather go first class? Go Buick!



There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Economic Upturn Exceeds Forecasts In First Half

EDITOR'S NOTE—At the halfway point of 1965, a record shattering year is besieged by some uncertainties and doubts. Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, in this the first of two articles, looks at the fabulous first six months.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The economy has had its best ever six months. But that in itself is dampening some of the celebration. The first half of 1965 has set records which some—notably stock market traders—fear may be hard to top or even sustain.

Most business firms and most of the public have done better so far this year than they had expected to, in production and sales and in personal income.

The first three months far exceeded earlier predictions. Then most observers warned that a breather was due during the spring months. But where there has been any slowing down it has added up to less than anticipated.

The business upturn since the low point of the last recession reached in February 1961, is now ending its 52nd month. At midyear the question is: How long can it last and how high can it go?

There is a little question about the gains so far in most of the economy—or of the losses in the stock market in the last six weeks.

The prediction in January was that this year the Gross National Product, the total output of goods and services, should hit a record $660 billion to top the previous record of $622.6 billion in 1964. This prediction still holds, if only because the first half was so much better than expected.

The year started off with a bang. Auto and steel production was going full blast and setting records. This has continued, with very little slackening. Many other industries were playing the same kind of ball.

To set the pace it did in these last six months the economy has had to offset a number of blows. A dock strike from Maine to Texas in January and February crippled some industries. For six months the steel labor negotiations have been a cliffhanger, upsetting business planning.

The weather has damaged many sections; snows crippled auto production in February; floods, drought and earthquakes brought havoc in many places.

But despite all these things the general economy has expanded. In May, 72.4 million Americans were employed, 1.1 million more than in January. Personal income was at an annual rate of $517 billion in May, with the five months average 6.2 per cent higher than in the previous year. Dividend payments in the first five months came to $6.4 billion, up 10.5 per cent from the 1964 period. Retail sales are running 8 per cent ahead of last year.

Too good to last? Pessimists and optimists are sharply divided at the midpoint, but they agree the first half could hardly have been better.

Next: How the second half is shaping up.

Heroes May Not Look Like Heroes

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Heroes often don't look like heroes.

Airman 1.C. Jon H. Young, 24, of Portland, Ore., is an example. He is a boyish-looking fellow who on his days off likes to walk around the streets with a medical kit and treat Vietnamese civilians.

"If I see a kid with a sore or a bad infection, I try to patch him up on the spot," he said. 'Some of them will simply die if nobody does anything for them."

It takes considerable prodding to get Jon to tell how he won his Silver Star. He got it in an action last March in which he became the first American airman to land intentionally in the enemy's lair in North Viet Nam.

Young is a pararescue team member, one of the flying daredevils whose mission it is to try to bring back alive U.S. fliers who have bailed out at sea or been shot down in enemy territory.

He spent 13 months learning his job. He studied emergency medicine. He can perform a tracheotomy if necessary. He made 22 parachute jumps, became a skilled scuba diver, proved he could survive in the jungle, swim 1,500 yards and run five miles. He melted down from 155 pounds to a lean 135.

Of the 250 missions he has flown so far, the one Jon remembers with most mixed emotions is the one that won him his medal.

Two rescue helicopters were at a forward base.

The other members of his crew were the pilot, Lt. Joe Phelan, 27, of Stamford, Conn., whose wife lives in Charlotte, N.C.; the copilot, Capt. Clyde Lemke, 30, of Utica, Mich., and Sgt. John H. Regan Jr. of Tampa, Fla.

"Both helicopters scrambled when we got word an F100 fighter plane had been hit north of the 17th Parallel, and the pilot had ejected," said Jon.

On the way they were told that an F105 pilot also had bailed out in the same area. That gave them two to go after. Then they sighted flare in the sea.

"A Vietnamese Skyraider pilot had wet-ditched after being set afire over North Viet Nam," said Young. "We dropped the hoist 35 feet and pulled him up. He had second-degree burns, and I fixed him up."

The two helicopters flew on to the rescue of the two American pilots.

"It was like flying through a popcorn machine," said Young. "The guerrillas must have fired at least 2,000 rounds at us from the foothills.

"They lowered me 20 feet to the ground. I saw the bloody helmet and harness of the F100 pilot. I picked up the helmet and searched for him for 10 minutes. I was on the run all the time.

"Then ground fire hit one of the blades of our plane. I got on the hoist and was pulled up while they kept firing at us."

A few moments later the second helicopter successfully picked up the F105 pilot, and they headed home. Jon's plane was damaged, however, and they had to land it at the nearest airport in safe territory and hitchike the rest of the way.

Negro Teachers To Instruct Whites

HOUSTON (AP) — Negro teachers will instruct white pupils in public schools here for the first time starting July 6, Dr. Alberta Baines, director of Project Head Start for Houston, said Monday.

At least five Negro teachers will be assigned to four predominantly white schools, he said.

The project, sponsored under a $390,000 federal grant, requires faculty desegregation. It is a summer school for preschool children who have been culturally deprived.

Junior Editors Quiz on VIVARIUM

QUESTION: How does one make a vivarium?

ANSWER: If you live anywhere within reach of a patch of woods or a pond, there are few more interesting things you could do in summer than to make yourself a vivarium. The word comes from the Latin vivus, or living, and means a place where you can keep small living creatures indoors and become acquainted with them. Your vivarium might be (1) an ordinary fish bowl (large sized if possible); an aquarium with glass sides (2) or you might make one yourself (3). A wooden box is ideal for this. Take off one side and get a sheet of glass cut to fit it, then tape the glass firmly to the edges of box. Make an overlapping cover with a screened top which can be lifted up to put creatures in. Place a flat pan containing water on the bottom and fill with sand or earth to the level of the pan, putting in some interesting plants and branches. Now catch some little turtles, salamanders, insects, snails, etc. Some turtles will live well for a long time if you feed them bits of meat and lettuce, but some of the other animals may be difficult to feed, so you can let them go after studying them for a few days.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you don't live near woods or ponds, you can have a fine vivarium featuring American chameleons, the little lizards which can be bought in pet stores. Feed them flies and mealworms, and sprinkle water on plants in the vivarium so they can lap the drops. 6-29

Honduras Regime Faces Strong Foes

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Gen. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano, who denied any interest in a political career when he led a military coup here Oct. 3, 1963, settled down this month to start a six-year presidential term.

Although the political outlook for the general's term is placid at the moment, the future is uncertain.

The Liberal party, whose President Ramon Villeda Morales was overthrown by the 1963 coup, is busy reorganizing its strength. The new Liberal party chief, Carlos Roberto Reina, said in an interview the party is in firm opposition to the new government.

Lopez Arellano, 44, was backed for the presidency by the Nationalist party — but not all of it. Nevertheless, Lopez Arellano has the important and apparently unified support of Honduras' armed forces of 7,200 men.

Lt. Col. Armando Escalon, who aided Lopez Arellano in the 1963 coup and was subsequently named minister of defense during the period of military government, has been replaced and removed from active duty. According to reliable reports, Escalon opposed the idea of the general taking over the constitutional presidency. Escalon has retired to private life.

After the 1963 coup, the military regime of Lopez Arellano took over full power. It called an election for a national constituent assembly last February.

The announced result of the races for 64 seats in the assembly gave the Nationalists 35 and the Liberals 29. The Liberals charged frauds robbed them of victory and two Liberals refused to take their seats in the assembly. The seats went to the Nationalists, giving them a 37-27 margin.

The assembly began its sessions March 16. It wrote a new constitution, decided to convert itself into a national congress and gave itself power to elect the next constitutional president. The man: Gen. Lopez Arellano.

The new government took office June 6.

In a conciliation move, Lopez Arellano named Liberals to two posts in his cabinet: Jose Angel Ulloa Donaire as foreign minister and Amado H. Nunez as minister of labor.

Liberal party leaders declare, however, that their position is one of opposition to the new regime and that the two men who accepted the posts acted strictly as individuals, not with the blessing of the party.

Much of the power in the new government is said to lie in the hands of Ricardo Zuniga Augustinus, who holds the title of secretary of state in the office of the presidency. He is a lawyer who was legal adviser to Lopez Arellano when he was minister of defense under President Villeda Morales. Zuniga is credited with having arranged the quiet removal of Col. Escalon without causing an open fuss in the armed forces.

Villeda Morales, now writing his memoirs at home here, said about the new government in a recent interview: "Any regime that arises by force can sustain itself only by force."

He said the new regime is not a government of conciliation but of discrimination.

Noting that Honduras badly needs economic and social development, Villeda Morales said this cannot be achieved without political stability.

There is broad agreement that Honduras, the most backward of the Central American countries, badly needs political peace to work on its economic and social problems.

But the outlook for political peace is doubtful: The Liberals have declared opposition, the Nationalists are divided. The Communists, estimated at less than 100, with perhaps 1,000 sympathizers, appears to be biding their time.

The illiteracy rate here is about 65 per cent, health standards are low, administrative skills are scarce. The population, a little over two million, is growing at the high rate of about 3.3 per cent annually. There are only approximately 230 miles of paved roads in the country, which has an area of 43,000 square miles.

Economic conditions began to show general improvement last year. The gross national product of $462 million in 1964 was an increase of 6.4 per cent over the previous year. But a Honduran economic expert said the real figure, adjusted for price increases, was only a little over 4 per cent.

Electoral College System Likely Target For Reform

By RONALD THOMPSON

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The nation's electoral college—termed by one law professor "an oxcart method of electing space age presidents"—may be headed for rough sledding as a result of recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings.

State attorneys general from over the country were warned Monday by authorities on the subject that suits questioning the constitutionality of the college are just over the horizon.

The controversy is brewing out of the court's 1964 "one man, one vote" order that each house of a state legislature be apportioned on a strict population basis.

James Kirby Jr., professor of law at Northwestern University, told the attorneys general during the first day of their annual three-day convention:

"Something should be done. We have an oxcart method of electing space age presidents. We risk serious trouble by continuing it. It's a loaded pistol with which we play Russian roulette every four years."

He noted that it is possible for a president to be elected even though a majority of the voting citizens didn't vote for him.

During the panel discussion Dr. Robert Dixon Jr. of George Washington University also told the attorneys general:

"Your badge of office, perhaps, should be a crown of thorns. By now most of you have been drawn deep into the political thicket of state legislative reapportionment and congressional redistricting, and electoral college suits may lie ahead for some of you."

And John Gosnell, general counsel of the U.S. Senate subcommittee on constitutional amendments, pointed out that President Johnson has proposed an amendment that would eliminate electors but preserve the system of weighted state electoral votes.

"They would be cast automatically for the candidate who wins the popular vote of a state," he said. "This would freeze into the Constitution the present winner-take-all or state unit system."

"Winner-take-all" means that even though the leader in an election polled only 50.1 per cent of the state's popular vote, he gets 100 per cent of its electoral vote. The loser gets no votes.

Kirby said those that would change the winner-take-all rule are sharply divided into three camps for (1) a proportional division of the state's electoral vote according to the split of popular votes, (2) a district rather than a statewide at-large system of electing electors or (3) elimination of the college in favor of a direct national popular election.

Gosnell foresaw two possible forms of suits.

In one, he said, citizens would be suing their own state, complaining that their minority vote under the winner-take-all system has consistently defeated their right to participate on an equal basis in presidential elections.

"A second approach to litigation would be a suit brought by a small state against a larger state . . . seeking to protect the political interests of its citizens," he added.

Atty. Gen. David Buckson of Delaware reported his state is researching the possibility of filing a suit aimed at forcing all states to select members of the college separately by congressional districts.

At present the electors are selected from each district, but on an at-large basis with citizens from throughout the state voting on them. Since Delaware has only one congressional district, it is already following the system.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF SCURRY

By virtue of an Order of Sale issued on the 16th day of June, A.D. 1965 out of the 42nd District Court of Taylor County, Texas, in Cause No. 28000-A wherein The Citizens National Bank in Abilene, J. C. Barrow and R. M. Wagstaff in their capacities as Independent Executors of the Estate of and under the Will of A. B. Barrow, Deceased, Plaintiffs, recovered judgment against D. G. Barrow, Jr., Defendant, I did on the 21st day of June, A.D. 1965 levy upon and seize the entire interests that the said Defendant, D. G. Barrow, Jr., is to receive or might be entitled to receive from the Estate of the said A. B. Barrow, Deceased, under the terms and provisions of the Will of the said A. B. Barrow, Deceased, that part of same situated in Scurry County, Texas, being described as follows:

An undivided interest in Lot No. 3, Block No. 17, Blankenship Addition to the Town of Snyder, Scurry County, Texas, with improvements thereon consisting of concrete block building, containing 9,750 square feet measuring 75 feet by 130 feet.

And on the 3rd day of August, A.D. 1965, being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of ten o'clock A.M. and four o'clock P.M. on said day at the Courthouse door of Scurry County, Texas, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all of the right, title and interest of the said D. G. Barrow, Jr., in and to said property.

Sheriff, Scurry County, Texas

Antipoverty Plan Aids 3.1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver, who is running President Johnson's antipoverty program, says it already has helped 3.1 million people and the figure should jump to 5.9 million in the year ahead.

He told a Senate Labor subcommittee Monday that 102 Job Corps centers are being opened, 3,100 community action grants have been made, 75,000 college students assisted, 260,000 youngsters enrolled in neighborhood Youth Corps projects, 10,000 rural loans made, and 88,000 adults brought into work-experience projects. In addition he said 530,000 children were enrolled in preschool centers in Project Head Start this summer.

The gin was invented in 1793.

South Africa Races Come In All Colors

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Race comes in all colors here — black, white and Coloured, meaning mixed blood — and the rules designed to keep them apart are confusing and annoying even to South Africans.

The United States aircraft carrier Independence, a huge new ship carrying 100 planes and a crew of 3,500 men, failed to call here recently. The reason: South Africa would not let her Negro crewmen go ashore here. When the United States canceled the carrier visit, South African newspaper and public opinion criticized many aspects of race segregation here.

Even supporters of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's all-white government are condemning parts of the racial policies which forbid all social contact across the color line.

"We have become world's best busybodies, the world's most fanatical bureaucrats, the world's arch-meddlers and expert troublemakers," declared the African poet and author Yus Krige, during a recent Cape Town protest meeting.

"Where there was clarity, we bring confusion. Where order, — chaos. Where there was quiet harmony we bring discord, disunion, clash and conflict, frustration and suspicion. Worse than all these, we bring hate."

Apartheid crops up in the most unusual places.

Africans and whites attending a church function may kneel and pray together, talk, eat, read, attend lectures and doze together on the lawns of the cathedral precincts — but cannot sleep under the same roof.

No black spectators are allowed to watch white golfers competing in national tournaments at the plush Royal Durban Club — yet Indian and Coloured spectators are allowed.

The rule of apartheid is relaxed when it comes to caddies — they can be Africans.

Indians and Coloureds are allowed to watch soccer matches at Johannesburg's football stadium — but not Africans. Yet a black man selling soft drinks is allowed.

Even flower shows come under the complex segregation laws. In the Cape Province town of Stellenbosch only Coloured people were allowed to attend the autumn show — but whites judged the floral displays. Twenty miles away in Paarl, flower-lovers of all races were allowed to rub shoulders at a similar show.

Even diehard nationalist supporters have begun to criticize apartheir laws.

Drik Richards, editor of Verwoerd's newspaper Dagbreek, recently said:

"In a multiracial community, laws which forbid and limit, for whites and well as nonwhites, are essential for orderly living. But precisely for this reason we must never get tired of seeking opportunities and methods which can eliminate unnecessary friction and hard-handedness."

Few white South Afrieans use the word apartheid — they refer to the segregation of the races as separate development. Seldom do whites and nonwhites get together socially or in public. They use separate transport, public facilities, park benches hotels, bars, shops and recreational facilities.

Minister of Justice Balthazar Vorster — the strong man of South African politics — voiced his government's attitude toward apartheid in a recent speech.

"The government's policy is that members of the different racial groups would eventually be able to exercise their own votes for their own people in their own areas. There will never be a black or Coloured man sitting in the white Parliament," Vorster declared.

"There was that part of South Africa which was white and that part which was black."

New York Youths To Spruce Up Property

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Nearly 2,000 New York State youths will be sprucing up public property this summer.

Under a $657,000 appropriation passed by the legislature last week, 64 communities will hire 30 youths each for such jobs as improving the appearance of roadside areas, beaches and parks.

The youths, aged 16 through 20, will be paid $1.25 an hour and will work 35 hours a week for eight weeks.

Appeals For California Students Due

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Attorneys for University of California demonstrators judged guilty of law-breaking in last December's sit-in on the Berkeley campus say they will appeal. More of their clients were due in court today with the same verdict in prospect.

The attorneys said in a joint statement Monday night they were hopeful that a higher court would uphold their contention that the sit-in was "legitimate and unfortunately necessary" and that "what these young people did was not criminal."

Municipal Court Judge Rupert Crittenden pronounced guilty verdicts Monday for 293 of more than 700 demonstrators arrested in the Dec. 2-3 sit-in at Sproul Hall.

That nighttime demonstration in the university's administration building climaxed months of student rebellion against a university rule banning on-campus campaigning for off-campus political causes such as civil rights.

Of the total, 287 were convicted of resisting arrest and trespassing. Each faces maximum sentence of 18 months in jail and a $1,500 fine. The other six were convicted of trespassing only. Each could get a sentence of six months and $500 fine.

'Outcast' Tomato Now Respectable

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — For something that was once an American outcast, the tomato is doing nicely.

"Though the tomato had to go abroad to make good, it has become one of America's favrite vegetables," said the National Geographic Society today in a rave notice possibly timed to counter any discouragement among home gardeners as they fight weeds and bugs in the garden patch.

"Until a century ago," said a society news bulletin, "most Americans regarded the tomato as poisonous and grew it mainly as an ornamental curiosity.

"Now they are gobbling up tomatoes at a rate of about 5.5 million tons a year."

Digging into "the rags to riches story" of the tomato, the society offered these additional conversational tidbits for the weekend man with the hoe:

The tomato sprang up in the Peru-Ecuador-Bolivia regions of the Andes and was probably carried into Central America and Mexico about 2,000 years ago. It was the Aztecs who gave it the name "tomato."

Explorers from Europe took tomato plants back to the old world, but the folks there were at first very cautious.

"Tomatoes probably were reintroduced to America by Maine seafarers in the form of 'Spanish sauce,' or catsup," the society theorized, "but there is no record of tomatoes being grown in the colonies until after the Declaration of Independence."

"For decades," says the society, "most Americans refused to eat tomatoes. Some of the nonsense was dispelled one summer day in 1820 when a crusader named Robert Gibbon Johnson stood on the steps of Salem County courthouse in New Jersey and ate an entire tomato with, of course, gusto. Some onlookers expected Johnson to drop dead."

Work Associated With Longevity

ROSETO, Pa. (AP) — "I said it over 65 years ago, and I say it now, with more conviction than ever — I've got to work till I die."

That is the birthday text of Peter Ronca, who turns a sturdy and determined 85 today. He is the pride of this Lehigh Valley town of less than 2,000 which has become famous in the last few years for the longevity of its citizens.

Ronca, one of Roseto's oldest residents, still works daily as a blacksmith in the area's slate quarries, turning out frequently as early as 4 a.m.

Boasting remarkable health for a man of any age, Ronca also helps one of his sons, Nicholas, in his garage business, cultivates a large garden, rides a bicycle for sport, picks fruits by climbing trees, crusades against indolence.

It cost him a pang even to take his birthday off, but since it is practically a community holiday he could do little else. Hundreds of visitors, members of the Ronca family — some of them from Italy—plus the unabashedly curious are expected. And there are letters, cards and telegrams from many admirers, including governors, senators and other dignitaries.

Ever since Roseto moved into focus as the town all but devoid of heart ailments — although Rosetans eat as if there were no tomorrow — Ronca has been getting letters galore.

"I try to reply to all these good people," Ronca said. "They have problems, most of them, and I want to help.

"But I have no sure-fire answers. I think we live long here, keep well and stay happy because we work hard and have real peace of mind."

Ronca and his wife, Maria, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary April 30.

Two States Decide Fees Too High

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A report signed by Texas and Louisiana state auditors says a $37,000 fee charged to the jointly operated Toledo Bend Dam project on the Sabine River appeared to be improper and should be refunded.

The report was signed by legislative auditor J. B. Lancaster of Louisiana and state auditor C. H. Cavness of Texas.

The fees were paid to E. S. Emerson and Co. for services in the issuance and sale of $15 million of Sabine River Authority of Texas revenue bonds to the Texas Water Development Board.

The report said proceeds of the bonds "represent the contribution by the Sabine River Authority of Texas to the Toledo Bend project—joint operation. The contribution by Sabine Authority, State of Louisiana, in a like amount of $15 million is derived from taxes and involves no cost to the joint operation."

The auditors also said it appeared reimbursements to the Louisiana department of public works, representing Louisiana authority, and the Sabine River Authority of Texas for a pro rata portion of their salaries and applicable benefits "may be in excess of the costs of the services rendered.

"We suggest again," the report stated, "that a further review be made of the services rendered so that a re-estimate can be made of the reimbursements actually due each authority."

Red Nichols Dead At 60

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Ernest Loring Nichols, known as "Red" to swing music fans since the big band era and most famed for his Five Pennies combo, is dead at 60.

Nichols, who once briefly put aside his trumpet for a welder's torch, suffered what doctors said was a heart attack Monday in his motel room.

He had called the Mint Casino, where he and his combo were booked, and told the switchboard: "Get me a doctor. I can't breathe." Nichols was dead on arrival at a hospital.

In his years with the big bands, Nichols hired and brought forth some of the all-time popular music makers: Benny Goodman, Joe Venuti, Artie Shaw, Gene Krupa, Jimmy Dorsey, Eddie Lang and Arthur Schutt. His first arranger was Glenn Miller.

Nichols, sometimes referred to as "the man who plays the horn of plenty," coined the Five Pennies in 1927.

He was a native of Ogden, Utah.

Bulletproof Cars Taken From Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a compromise bill appfopriating $7,669,444,000 to run the Treasury, Post Office, the executive office of the President, and various independent agencies in the next fiscal year.

The bill, passed by voice vote Monday was minus its most publicized item — $522,000 for two special bulletproof cars for President Johnson. He had opposed this expenditure and the Senate Finance Committee deleted it.

How to keep your kitchen cooler while you're cooking...

COOK FLAMELESS ELECTRIC! With flameless electric cooking, pots and pans sit directly on electric heating elements, and absorb the heat before it can escape to warm up the kitchen. Air circulation isn't needed to support combustion, so flameless electric ovens are fully insulated on all four sides, top and bottom to "lock" cooking heat inside where it's used and wanted. This means your air conditioning equipment will have an easier task . . . work more efficiently and economically because it doesn't have to overcome heat wasted into the kitchen air by cooking flames. See the new electric ranges at your dealer's soon . . . and enjoy a cooler kitchen . . . electrically!
