Where Allies Hit Behind Lines

Large arrows show where United Nations forces have landed behind North Norean lines in South Korea. U. S. Marines and infantry pushed ashore at Inchon (1) and drove two miles into the city. The beachhead area is about 150 miles from the southeast front. South Korean marines hit the east coast (2) in the Pohang-Yongdok area at three places. South Korean officials reported another allied landing at Kunsan (3). The U. S. S. Missouri shelled Red-held port of Samchok (4).

Inchon Landing Made Possible By Korean Communist Blunder

By RELMAN MORIN

ABOARD THE FLAGSHIP OF JOINT TASK FORCE SEVEN, Off Inchon, Korea, Sept. 16. (AP)—The landing at Inchon in a large part is the story of six brave little ships and a wonderful blunder.

The North Koreans made the blunder. The little ships, the big ones, the planes and finally a Marine assault force capitalized on it.

A chain of events started by those six ships led directly to the victory of Inchon.

In the entrance to Inchon Harbor, and commanding approaches to it, is the island of Wolmi. It is a wooded island shaped like an oyster shell.

A big question loomed—what did the North Koreans have on Wolmi to defend it? How many guns? How bi? Where?

Six brave little ships—six destroyers—were sent to find out on the morning of Sept. 13.

SITTING DUCKS

They were "sitting ducks." That's what they were meant to be, juicy targets for the concealed guns on the shore.

From all over the elbow of the channel farther down, thousands of binoculars were trained on them from the American and British cruisers and the other ships. The silence was like a blanket. It was a brilliantly sunny day and you could see even without binoculars.

Then the North Koreans made the fateful and wonderful blunder.

Suddenly a necklace of gun flashes sparkled around the waist of the island. The flashes were reddish gold and they came so fast that soon the entire slope was sparkling with pinpoints of fire.

The destroyers were quick to answer.

DUEL FOR HOUR

The duel went on for an hour. Three of the six were hit and one seriously, but not so seriously she could not come out under her own steam. An officer died. There were other casualties.

The destroyers came out proudly and without haste, still firing, flat tajectory fire at close range and then at higher arcs as the distance increased.

If the guns on Wolmi Island had never been discovered, if the north Koreans had not blundered into exposing their armament, it is hard to say what might have happened to the transports and the little landing craft when they came in for hte assault two days later.

Cogdell Well Produces From Strawn Lime

Geier Jackson Inc., of Dallas No. 2 Feldman and Pardo, on the west side of the Cogdell Canyon field, which straddles the Scurry-Kent County line, has developed flowing production from the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian, apparently to indicate a new discovery for that region.

This exploration failed to find production in the Canyon lime although it is only one location north of a producer from that horizon.

It drilled down to a total depth of 8,150 feet to the Ellenburger and found that formation barren of petroleum.

Operator set five and one-half-inch casing on bottom and then plugged back to about 7,600 feet to test shows of oil and gas in the Strawn.

The casing was perforated at 7,593-7,600 feet, and at 7,604-18 feet.

The drillstem test of unreported length was run on those perforations.

Gas showed at the surface in 18 minutes and oil started flowing out at the top in 30 minutes. The zone is credited with flowing steadily at the rate of 25 barrels of oil an hour for the remainder of the test.

A 24-hour production test was then run on the same perforations. The wildcat is reported to have flowed at the average rate of 15 barrels of oil an hour during that period.

No water was developed with the oil produced in that 24 hour test.

No official information was available yesterday as to what the operator planned to do with the development. It is presumed that efforts will be made to complete the well as it now stands. This indicated pay opener is just north of the Scurry-Kent line on the Kent County side of the Cogdell area.

Location is 852.4 feet from the west and north lines of section 703, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it sixteen and three-fourth miles north of Snyder.

Republicans Demand Views Of Marshall

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Republicans demanded today that General George C. Marshall outline to lawmakers his overall view of the military situation as a preliminary to his expected confirmation next week as secretary of defense.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) told a reporter he will ask the Senate Armed Services Committee to call Marshall in a closed session next week for a statement of policies he will follow as the successor to Louis A. Johnson.

Similarly, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he believed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee ought to have the advantage of Marshall's views on how the world military situation affects the nation's international policies.

Both Knowland and Hickenlooper voted against the bill passed by Congress yesterday to let Marshall, a five-star general, take the post Congress had said should never be filled by any but a civilian. They said, however, there is no doubt Marshall will be confirmed for his new job speedily.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said that President Truman is expected to sign the bill Monday and then send Marshall's formal appointment to the Senate for action.

"There is no question that Marshall will be comfirmed but there may be a roll call vote on the nomination so that senators can go on record," Knowland said. "I don't think there will be much discussion."

Denham Firing Hit By Taft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP) — President Truman fired Robert N. Denham today as general counsel of the National Labor Relations board, abruptly ending a long harsh feud between Denham and the five board members.

Mr. Truman asked for Denham's resignation and accepted it on the ground that the differences were so "deep-seated" that Denham and the board were unlikely to restore harmonious relations in their administration of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) co-author of that law, quickly called Mr. Truman's action "another surrender to the CIO Political Action Committee."

Taft issued a statement in Ohio where he is campaigning for re-election. He said the President "last week attended a secret meeting of the labor bosses, and no doubt this is the payoff."

Denham, an aggressive, 64-year-old St. Louis-born Republican with an unusual career as lawyer, banker, machinist, cowhand, and Army officer, has been under fire from union leaders ever since he was appointed by Mr. Truman three years ago.

Taft said the President is, in effect, attempting to "nullify" the Taft-Hartley law passed in 1947.

It was this law which created the office of general counsel with independent powers to prosecute unions and employers for unfair labor practices.

Inadequacy Of Troops Shown In Maneuvers

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 16. (AP)—The current big U. S. army maneuvers have demonstrated the dangerous numerical inadequacy of the present occupation force to defend Western Germany in case of a real invasion from the East.

High officers say, however, they have been cheered by the knowledge that American troops here are fit and ready for combat.

The Army threw into the maneuvers beginning last week nearly every available soldier, sailor and airman in Germany. They faced an "invasion" by only six mythical enemy divisions—only a fraction of the force Russia could hurl into Western Germany if she chose to attack.

Yet, under the conditions of the exercise, American forces had to make a pell mell retreat of about 200 miles in order to make a paper pretense of stopping the invasion later.

The defense line they finally set up in front of Frankfurt and Heidelberg left most of the American occupation zone in the hands of the "enemy."

Even in a mock war, this was disqueting to the Germans who watched the retreat flow westward past their villages and realized that if it were real, their homes would be overrun by the invaders.

The obvious truth was that there were not enough soldiers, planes, tanks guns to make a successful defense against the kind of invasion which could be launched almost overnight.

Work Begins on Towle Place, Newest Addition to Snyder

Streets are being graded and soon will be paved as work gets under way at Towle Place, a new housing development just west of Highland Park and south of Thirty-seventh Street.

Work will begin shortly on the first 100 houses of the development, according to Joe W. Burkett, vice-president of the Towle Place Development Co., and the first of the new houses is expected to be completed by Nov. 20.

ALLIED FIRM

The Towle Place Development Co. is headed by Angus Wynne, Jr., of Dallas, president, who is also president of the American Home Realty Co., which developed the Wynnewood addition in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

Burkett, vice-president of the Towle Place firm, will be a Snyder resident. His home in Towle Place is already under construction and he hopes to move his wife and three children here shortly.

In charge of construction will be Dan Webb, also of Dallas, who has supervised the building of about 850 FHA houses.

Towle Place contains 225 lots, of an average size 60 by 140 feet. FHA commitments have been made on 100 houses, and these will be started immediately, Burkett said.

Sewer and water lines are being laid at the present time to all 225 lots.

SUPPLIES BOUGHT

"We have on hand most of the material for the first 100 houses," he added. "We have the plumbing equipment—bath fixtures, sinks, pipe— and have the steel we will need in the first group of houses.

"Many of these items were bought before recent price increases, which means we can pass on to our customers savings which resulted from early buying as well as those which result from buying in bulk."

Houses in the Towle Place addition will range from 800 square feet to 1,111 square feet. They will have two and three bedrooms plans.

Customers are offered their choice of 10 distinct floor plans, and 30 different elevations. All streets in the development will be paved.

The addition completely surrounds the new high school site and the new stadium, which has recently been opened.

The associated company, the American Home Realty of Dallas, has built a development in Wynnwood of 1,204 FHA homes and 800 apartment units. Now under construction in that addition is a multi-million dollar shopping center, with theatres, a big Safeway store, and other commercial establishments, Burkett said.

German Army May Get Past Pact Nations

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP) The North Atlantic Council appeared today to be advancing toward approval of Secretary of State Acheson's plan for rearming Germans now, despite French protests,

The creation of German military units up to division strength for use in a defense force is a keystone section of the Acheson plan.

PARIS, Sept. 16. (AP)—French officials fear that any decision to rearm Germany immediately, without the strictest kind of controls, would collapse their fragile cabinet.

The French believe the Americans are pushing the problem of putting Germans in uniform again with unnecessary haste. They would like to see the decision postponed awhile.

One Franch official blindly stated that American officials were pressing for German rearmament now for their own domestic political advantage. He said American officials feared the voters would react against the Democrats if Americans are drafted to build up a defense force in Germany and the Germans are asked to do nothing.

East Texas Hit By Cloudbursts

(By the Associated Press)

Cloudbursts drenched much of East Texas Saturday, flooding streams, streets, homes and stores and turning at least two farm-to-market roads into creeks.

Stormy weather—Heavy rain and brilliant lightning—reached as far west and south as San Antonio. But East Texas from the Red River past Marshall on the Louisiana border caught the heaviest going-over.

No human casualties were reported. Some livestock was lost.

As the rains buffeted East Texas the west Texas city of Stanton rushed to completion a 6,000-foot long pipeline to drain off flood waters from its Thursday night cloudburst. The line was run from flooded sections to a ravine.

Churchill Has 50-50 Chance To Oust Attlee

LONDON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Winston Churchill as probable choice for a 50-50 chance of toppling the Labor Government in the House of Commons next Tuesday.

His intended knockout punch is in the form of a motion censuring the Labor Government for proceeding —in the middle of a rearmament drive international crisis—to put the steel industry under state ownership.

If the motion carries, Prime Minister Attlee will ask the king to dissolve the present house. That would mean a new national election, perhaps in November.

The British voters would then have their choice:

1. Hand back to Attlee and the Labor Party the job of rearming against possible Communist aggression.

2. Turn the chore over to the conservatives, with the 75-year-old Churchill as probable choice for Prime Minister again.

On paper, the Labor Party holds 313 seats against 308 for all other parties in the House of Commons. There are three vacancies in the 625-member House, and the speaker is non-partisan and non-voting.

Actually, Labor has a paper majority of seven because two Irish Nationlists listed with the opposition have refused to take their seats as a gesture of-protest against partition of Ireland.

Victory or defeat for the government depends mainly on the labor party's list of absent and ailing.

Twin Curbs On Inflation Cut Loose Monday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The government made ready today for Monday's opening assault on inflation—twin controls applied to easy payment buying by consumers and to speculative hoarding by industry.

Starting Monday, the Federal Reserve Board's new "Regulation W" will hobble runaway consumer credit. Bigger downpayments and shorter time limits for payment will affect autos and major household appliances.

At the same time, the week-old National Production Authority (NPA) will invoke its first order designed to outlaw excessive buying of materials which are in short supply.

This NPA action will not affect consumers, who President Truman says are now generally buying with good sense and restrain.

It will, however, forbid factories and dealers to purchase more than normal stocks of scarcity items like steel, copper, rubber and lumber in anticipation of higher prices or dwindling supplies.

Terms of the inventory order will be announced tomorrow night.

Mr. Truman's chief weapon put to use against soaring prices, however, will be the consumer credit regulation. Its limitation, which can be tightened up if installment credit keeps soaring to new records monthly, were announced Sept. 8.

They provide among other things:

Down payments of at least one-third on autos, and completion of payments within 21 months.

Down payments of at least 15 per cent, and an 18 month payment limit, on refrigerators, freezers, radio and television sets, etc.

Wallace Does About Face On Soviet Russia

SOUTH SALEM, N. Y., Sept. 16. (AP)—In the twilight cool, Henry A. Wallace sat on the wide sun-porch and sipped a glass of grape juice.

"I thought Russia would have more sense," he said. "But she didn't."

Gone is Wallace's trust in Soviet motives that fired him through four hectic postwar years of pleading for mutual confidence between east and west.

"Stalin has gone too far," he said slowly. For a moment he was silent, gazing across the green hills that surround his farm home.

The Korean fighting has been to the former vice president like a call-to-arms.

A few months back, Wallace viewed the Atlantic Pact was war-creating, the Marshall Plan as a weapon of geopolitical pressure, and U. S. stockpiling of the atom bomb as immoral and provocative.

New conditions have modified his position.

"The Atlantic Pact was not justified at the time it was drawn up," he said, "but in view of actions in the interim, I say it is essential."

Tanks Support Attacking Troops On Both Sides Of The City

TOKYO, Sunday, Sept. 17. (AP) — Tank-led United Nations troops overran Seoul's outer defenses Saturday, seized its big Kimpo Air Base, and were reported by South Korea's radio to be fighting inside Seoul itself.

United Nations forces 165 miles to the southeast gouged out gains up to five miles in their new offensive against 140,000 Reds rimming the old beachhead.

As reinforcements and material poured ashore at Inchon, the first air attack was made today against the supporting U. S. and British fleet off that west coast port.

Two Russian-built Yak fighters strafed and bombed but there was no report of any damage to the warships. All bombs missed.

A British cruiser shot down one Yak after its bullets had wounded three men aboard the warship.

UN Calls For U. S. To Keep Forces Ready

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 16. (AP)—The 35,000-member American Association for the United Nations called tonight for the United States to keep part of its armed forces always ready to act as a UN police force.

It urged other members to do the same until the UN has its own military force.

Canada and the Philippines already have announced they favor such a plan.

The association is an organization of citizens and civic organizations dedicated to UN charter principles. Its 46-member board of directors draws up a program of recommendations in advance of every general assembly, directed chiefly to the U. S. delegation.

The fifth general assembly opens at Flushing Meadow Tuesday.

The association also said that the U. S. delegation should keep on urging other nations to send ground troop reinforcements to Korea.

Reds Flee Over Naktong River

By JACK MacBETH

WITH THE U. S. FIRST CORPS IN KOREA, Sunday, Sept. 17. (AP)—An Army spokesman said today reports reaching here indicated "large numbers" of North Koreans were pulling out across the Naktong River southwest of Taegu.

The spokesman said "several hundred" had been observed crossing the river westward.

This is on the front where the U. S. Second Division has been attacking and driving the enemy back toward the river.

The withdrawals were observed on both the central and northern sectors of the Second Division's part of the front.

U. S. troops on the northwest corner of the front advanced about one mile toward burning Waegwan in the first three hours of their renewed drive today. Waegwan is 12 air miles northwest of Taegu.

The enemy has been resisting fiercely here.

Stanton Cleaning Up Before Sanitation Becomes A Problem

STANTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—State and local officials were working desperately today to rid this city of water from a cloudburst before health and sanitation problems become disastrous.

The city is in a former lake bed. Practically no water can run off. The Thursday deluge dumped four to five inches of water on the town. Water 18 inches deep covered U. S. Highway 80 in town Thursday. Today the water level had dropped only six inches.

The flood and accompanying hail caused eleven Negro and Latin American families to lose their homes. Eight other families were forced from their houses temporarily.

Judge James McMorries said today that damage was much greater than at first estimated. He said loss to the homes would be between $50,000 and $60,000. The judge estimated crop loss in the vicinity at a million dollars.

Red Cross and Salvation Army workers are assisting the homeless.

BULLETIN

INCHON, Korea, Sunday, Sept. 17. (AP)—General MacArthur went ashore at Inchon for the first time today.

The United Nations commander went into the shattered port city for a frontline inspection of the west beachhead his landing forces had carved out of Communist-held Korea.

MacArthur was met upon landing at 9:35 a.m. (5:35 p.m. EST Saturday) by Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Smith, commanding general of the U. S. First Marine Division. The division is part of the 10th Corps which staged the amphibious operation at Inchon.

MacArthur was accompanied by Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble, commander of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, and Lt. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., commanding the U. S. Fleet Marine Force in the Pacific.

The UN commander started out in a motor caravan for the frontline, about six miles from Kimpo. MacArthur rode in the lead jeep.

(A U.S. Air Force spokesman earlier had announced the UN capture of Kimpo Airport, 15 miles northwest of Seoul. Kimpo is a village in the vicinity of the airport.

U. S. and South Korean Marine columns struck northwest and southwest of Seoul, supported by 45-ton Pershing tanks.

The South Korean radio said one Marine force captured the suburban ward of Yongdungpo in street fighting led by tanks.

ENTERING KOREA

It said other United Nations units hurdled the broad Han river into Seoul proper and were advancing towards the heart of the city of more than 1,000,000.

Another tank-speared U. S. Marine force came pounding down the east bank of the Han River across from Kimpo Airfield and entered Neungg Kok, northwestern Seoul suburb, the Republicans said.

Reports from 10th Corps headquarters, apparently behind the south Korean radio broadcast, placed U. S. Marines 17 miles from Seoul Saturday, but said they were advancing against "crumbling resistance."

Bill Ross, of the AP, with Marine forward units, said they had "medium" casualties from Red Mortar small arms and machine gunfire as they pushed deeply into Red territory "without much opposition."

Tenth Corps headquarters said 360 North Korean regulars were captured in two days.

MacARTHUR WATCHING

General MacArthur had not yet visited the front, but was following closely the progress of the campaign to sever the Red supply route to the southeastern front.

The North Korean radio took no note of the west coast assault and threat to the Red army's main supply line. It asserted the Northern forces "continue to inflict heavy losses on the enemy."

The Marines captured Kimpo, 15 miles northwest of Seoul, against light resistance. It is the best air base Korea has to offer. A U. S. spokesman predicted it soon would be in Allied operation.

South Korea's naval chief, Rear Adm. Sohn Won Il said at Inchon, "The enemy is different now; he is not fighting. I do not believe the North Koreans have any organized army units this far north."

Sohn said he thought the Reds would surrender if they had a chance.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday, with scattered showers in the Panhandle. No important changes in temperature.

EAST TEXAS: Cloudy to partly cloudy Sunday and Monday. Scattered thundershowers in north and eastern portion Sunday, with little change in temperatures. Moderate to fariable winds on the coast.

Nations Eyes On Maryland Primary Vote

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—A slam-bang Maryland primary Monday, in which friends of Senator Millard E. Tydings look for him to win a fifth term Democratic nomination, will mark the final week of candidate-picking before the voters choose a new Congress on Nov. 7.

That is, it will be the last primary in which there is a contest for statewide office. A routine Republican primary in Rhode Island Sept. 27 to nominate an unopposed list of candidates will complete major party slates.

Three other states will choose nominees during the coming week—Rhode Island Democrats Monday, and both parties in Wisconsin and Massachusetts on Tuesday.

During the week, candidates will be chosen for three Senate seats, 30 House memberships and four governorships.

Maryland has a scrap on both tickets for the Senate nomination, as well as a heated contest for the Democratic gubernatorial spot.

Democratic Senator Tydings, chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, has two opponents—John A. Meyer, Baltimore attorney and former congressman, and Hugh J. Monaghan, 30-year-old Baltimore lawyer.

Both have attacked Tydings' handling of the Foreign Relations subcommittee which investigated charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) of Communists in the State department. Tydings has struck back at what he calls this "mud-slinging and political propoganda."

SOUTH REDS FRANTIC

This was not true, on the rain-lashed southern front, where UN forces launched a general offensive. They advanced in hard going through deep mud and against an enemy who sometimes ran but more often stood and fought with the desperation of death. It was a bitter, seesaw conflict at most points.

U. S. Second Division troops had the best success in the early hours of the southeastern general offensive. They drove four and one-half miles to the east bank of the Naktong River against Reds pulling back westward in a "general exodus" and in "vast, mad confusion" a Division spokesman said.

The Second Division failed in the first attempt to drive North Koreans from Hill 201, which commands a vast sweep of the Allied central front. They smashed to within 300 yards of the hilltop late Saturday but nightfall forced them to retire.

Other Allied forces struck forward one to five miles against stiffer Red opposition on the extreme south, the north and the northeast sectors of the 120-mile United Nations perimeter.

STUBBORN FIGHTING

The U. S. First Cavalry Division, part of the newly-formed First Corps, gained on both wings of the 30-mile front. Stubborn resistance stalled the big push in the center north of Taegu.

On the left flank the drive moved rapidly within three miles of Waegwan, 16 miles northwest of Taegu. On the right flank Korean Republicans scored three-mile gains in a northwesterly drive from positions 12 miles north of Taegu.

The assault, which was begun cheerfully despite rain that robbed it of tactical air support, ran up against dogged Reds in the central hills. South Koreans gained very little against Red mortar and small-arms fire from the walled mountain town of Kasan, a dozen miles north of Taegu.

Thus, against a hard Red nut, the giant Allied cracker was beginning to squeeze, as General MacArthur, the UN commander, had gambled it would when he laid first plans for the Inchon landings July 12—less than three weeks after the Korean Communists had invaded South Korea.

Field dispatches from the southeast beachhead said UN attacks were resumed at daybreak today. Associated Press Correspondent Jack MacBeth said there wasn't an air of optimism at long imperiled Taegu. A U.S. First Corps spokesman said the offensive was "going about as we expected."

But first corpsmen fighting with-

Inchon, Place Of Misery And Pillage, Resembles Cherbourg

By RELMAN MORIN

INCHON, Korea, Sept. 16. (AP)—The port city of Inchon is another Cherbourg today, blackened and badly torn by the brief but sharp fighting that took place when the Marines swept through it Friday night.

Nevertheless, a high-ranking South Korean navy officer said, "the people are happy."

Rear Adm. Sohn Wun Il, chief of naval operations, said inhabitants were glad the Communists were driven out. He is commanding South Korean marines who are policing the city and still flushing out snipers and rounding up Red stragglers.

His command post was a battered shack near the waterfront. On either side and stretching as far as I could see were piles of debris, burned-out buildings and shell-torn docks.

The admiral said "the enemy is different now. They are not fighting—they fire a few times, then run away."

He said he did not believe the North Koreans have any organized army units this far north. The officer added that they had forcibly recruited large numbers of men from Inchon and surrounding areas, giving them quick training and put them into the lines.

He said he did not think they would fight if they had a chance to surrender.

UNHAPPY LOOK

The people certainly do not look happy. If they are glad the war has finally passed them by, they do not show it. Perhaps that is just Oriental impassiveness. Today they were going about the sad business of trying to live in the midst of great devastation, to bury their dead, get a bowl of rice to eat.

All those things were taking place in Inchon today. The people were not so much as glancing at the Marines and Sailors pouring through or the masses of equipment and strange looking machines coming ashore.

You saw two men wheeling the frightfully mangled body of a young girl through the streets to some lonely burial place. They had a kind of wheelbarrow. One was pushing, the other held a rope and pulled.

You saw a woman sitting on the edge of a stone pier, as motionless as the stones themselves, she stared out across the harbor. It was littered with junks and half sunken small craft. Perhaps one of them had been hers. Her eyes never shifted and her head never moved.

A Koran boy—he looked about 14—made his way painfully down the street, holding his right leg stiff and straight. A blood-stained bandage was wrapped around his knee.

BOTTLES UNBROKEN

You saw a fire still guttering in the skeleton of a wrecked building. Close by the pier was a sagging rickety shack that had been a soft drink stand. The tiny structure itself was barely standing. Miraculously, its bottles of cider and carbonated water were intact, though tilted sideways like tin soldiers in a child's game.

At an aid station in the open street American soldiers and Koreans—south and north—lay side by side on litters. The medics were working over each as they came to them, without regard for nationality or political affiliations.

A few miles away, bright white and clean, a Navy hospital ship was riding at anchor. Many of these people would go there.

With the typical contrasts of war, boxes of ammunition were being unloaded from barges and manhandled into trucks right beside the rows of casualties on the dock.

A truckload of prisoners passed. They wore white clothing, not uniforms. They stood in the truck, packed tight and holding their hands over their heads. The Marines said they had surrendered easily and "seemed anxious to be friendly."

Possibly this sudden change of heart was the explanation as well for the numerous flags of Nationalist China that fluttered from scores of houses and shops.

RED SYMBOLS

Some of the symbols of the Red regime were still lying around. They made interesting looking, if not reading material.

I picked up a whole sheaf of large photographs of Russian Premier Stalin. It was good lithography. The pose was one you seldom see—a profile shot. There were also propaganda posters, lurid in color and in message.

One showed a dead woman, blood streaming from a dozen wounds, and a crying baby nestled against her naked breasts. American planes were overhead. One was strafing a cow in the field nearby.

General MacArthur was the "star" of another Red poster. It was a poor likeness, recognizable mainly for the dark glasses and braided cap. He was brandishing an airplane with one blood stained hand while heroic-looking North Koreans were pressing bayonets against his chest, causing a faint frown on the general's face.

The posters were eloquent evidence of the Red Korans' fear of the planes.

Beyond that you got the feeling that the people of Inchon were intensely apathetic to the whole business. They looked as though all they wanted was to be left alone.

U. S. Favors Giving Japan Say In Fixing Of The Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—American officials said today the United States wants to give Japan a voice in fixing the terms of the prospective Japanese peace settlement.

Formal exchanges with Japanese leaders are scheduled at Tokyo within the next few weeks, at the same time consultations are going on at Lake Success in an effort to get agreement with the representatives of the 12 World War II Allies.

John Foster Dulles, State Department adviser who had the leading role in the terms favored by the U. S. talked last June with Prime Minister Yoshiga and Japanese parliamentary leaders. Dulles now is an American delegate to the UN General Assembly.

Officials said the new exchanges presumably will be through Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his staff.

Giving the Japanese a voice in the treaty planning is in accord with the American program disclosed Thursday—of welcoming Japan back into the world family without reparations or limitations on rearmament or trade.

It involves transforming Japan from the role of a conquered nation to that of an ally of the anti-Communist nations. It also calls for stationing American troops in Japan by voluntary agreement with Tokyo, just as U. S. Air Forces are currently stationed in England to help bolster Western European defenses.

Labor Developments Of Nation Saturday

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 16. (AP)—The cream of the country's women softball teams began arriving today on the scene of the 1950 world championship tournament which opens here Monday and continues through next Sunday.

Leading the pack were the P.B.S.W. Ramblers of Phoenix, Ariz., defending champions.

Sixteen teams representing 12 states and the District of Columbia are due to be on hand at 4 p.m. Sunday when the pairings for the week-long affair will be made.

Wooten Motors' Motorettes of Fort Worth represent the Southwest as regional champions.

118 More Are Listed As Killed In Korea

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Defense Department announced 118 deaths in Korean casualty list Number 97 made public today.

In addition to deaths, the list showed 286 wounded, 12 injured, and 72 missing.

Those listed as wounded were hurt in action; the injured in accidents.

Young Scripps Sued By Wife For Maintenance

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. (AP)—Samuel H. Scripps, 22-year-old grandson of late newspaper publisher E. W. Scripps, has been sued for separate maintenance by Patricia Scripps. Mrs. Scripps, 22, said that he deserted her and, despite a $6,500 monthly income, failed to provide for her.

Steelman Asks More Work, Saving, Taxes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman last night called on the nation to "draw in its belt, work more, save more and pay more taxes."

The fight in Korea is "only an incident" in the strategy of Communist imperialism and there can be no relaxing after victory there, Steelman told the National Association of Women Lawyers.

Martin County Wildcat Is Completed As Pumper

The Texas Co. No. 1-X State (University), Northwest Martin County wildcat, 15 miles north of the Mabee field, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block 7, University survey, has been completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 14 barrels of oil and 308 barels of salt water.

The production is through perforations in the casing at 13,275-300 feet. That interval had been treated with a total of 7,000 gallons of acid.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 13,260 feet, which is on a datum of minus 10,216 feet.

The 5½-inch casing is cemented at 13,342 feet. Total depth is 13,420 feet. The section below 13,300 feet is plugged off with cement.

This small producer is only one half mile east of the east line of Andrews County.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, right, Army chief of staff, pointing to a map of Korea showing present front lines, told Sen. Chan Guerny (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Service committee during a hearing in Washington that from now on United Nations forces will go forward not backward.

World Wonders What Reds Are Going To Do Now With Heat On

TAEGU, Korea, Sept. 16. (AP)—The great question remaining in the Korean War today is whether the Red battleline can be played now like an accordion.

Will the North Koreans fold or hold?

The tremendous amphibious invasion by the United Nations behind enemy lines at Inchon, key port of Seoul, has changed the entire complexion of the war.

The landing at Inchon is one of those massive, calculated military gambles which may quickly speed the war to its conclusion or provoke a long, wintry stalemate.

It is similar in many respects to the situation in Italy in the last war when the Allies tried to flank the Germans holding the Cassino line by landing from the sea behind them at Anzio.

Unfortunately, the Germans did not fold up like an accordion. They stubbornly refused to retreat from Cassino.

The result was a long and bitter battle finally won only when the Allies massed enough men and armor to crack through Cassino and to break out at Anzio.

The recent landing shows the allies now are confident they have massed the power to do a knockout job.

The operation surprised and caught the enemy off guard. The sudden swift offensive after weeks of discouraging retreats and defensive fighting stirred American doughboys into an electric elation.

Twenty-two Bales Are Ginned Here So Far

Cotton harvest, due to get into full swing in the next few days, has made its beginning.

Cotton ginning companies in Snyder have ginned 22 bales from the nearby farms since the first bale was ginned Aug. 26.

William Green Happy Over Resignation Of N.L.R.B. Councilman

HOUSTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The president of the American Federation of Labor was in a jubilant mood today because of the resignation of Robert N. Denham as general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board.

William Green told a news conference:

"The resignation will be accepted by labor throughout the country with a feeling of genuine pleasure and satisfaction.

"The Taft-Hartley law was bad enough, but with Mr. Denham administering the law, it became unbearable."

Green arrived here today for the FL's 69th annual convention which opens Monday.

The veteran labor executive also indicated that if President Truman wants a no-strike pledge from the AFL during the national emergency all he has to do is to ask for it.

The AFL, Green said, is certain to respond wholeheartedly to such a request.

"I do not believe things have reached the stage yet that such pledges are necessary," Green said.

Green is to give the keynote address at the convention's first general session at 10 a.m. Monday at City Auditorium.

The AFL executive council's annual report and about 150 resolutions also will be presented to the membership.

Vice president Alben W. Barkley heads the list of guest speakers but the date of his appearance has not been announced.

Building Contract Let

SHERMAN, Sept. 16. (AP)—Contract for construction of a $48,000 health center and infirmary building was let here today by Austin College. The building is a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adams and Sons through the Adam-Best Foundation, Austin.

Sheriffs Association Asks 4-Year Terms

GALVESTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Texas Sheriffs Association thinks all county officials should have four-year instead of two-year terms.

The association, ending its annual convention Friday, passed a resolution stating "the tenure of county officials in Texas is wasteful both as to efficiency and from a monetary standpoint."

Sheriff Charlie Meyer of Beaumont, who was elected first vice president, said the sheriffs will ask the Governor to request four-year terms for them in his message to the Legislature Jan. 17.

13 Bodies Recovered From Weather Ship Blown Up By Mine

ST. MALO, France, Sept. 16. (AP)—Rescue ships searched stormy waters off St. Malo tonight for additional survivors of the weather ship La Place, which sank shortly after midnight after striking a drifting World War II mine.

Only 42 have been saved so far of the 93 persons known to have been aboard, a Navy Ministry communique said. Thirteen bodies have been recovered.

Hope for the lives of the rest faded as night fell on a coast churned by near hurricane winds.

It was believed by official naval sources that a magnetic mine, sown during the war, had been ripped loose from the bottom of the sea by the storm and washed against the La Place, tearing its steel hull asunder when it exploded. Most of those aboard were asleep at the time.

Scores of vessels rushed to the rescue when the explosion occurred and picked up the survivors.

Oil Man Arraigned

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Arraignment of William Burton, Lake Charles oil man, on an indictment charging evasion of income taxes today was set for next Wednesday in federal district court.

The indictment charged evasion of income taxes of $135,739 for the years 1936-38.

Drilling Cutback Would Be The Only Reason For Output Fall

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Sept. 16. (AP) — New oil wells are being completed at a record pace which industry spokesmen say must be maintained.

Most oilmen see no difficulty in the industry meeting heavy military and civilian demand for petroleum products unless a scarcity of material forces cutbacks in drilling programs.

This is why most of the annual meetings of petroleum groups this fall are placing particular emphasis on the availability of ample steel supplies.

SEASON FROM 1942

They want to make sufficent advance preparations to prevent a recurrence of 1942 should the nation onee again be faced with a full-scale national emergeney.

Domestic crude output in 1941, the year of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor, was 3,841,700 barrels daily. The average dropped to 3,799,000 in 1942.

Despite the heavy military demand, it was not until 1943 domestic output began to climb. Daily output averaged 4,125,000 that year, and another 459,000 barrels were added in 1944 and 110,000 more in 1945.

NO EARLY RATIONING

Any setback in drilling operations probably would govern to a large degree the extent of gasoline rationing for civilians in event of another war.

The president of the National Petroleum Association this week was confident there will be no need for rationing of petroleum products in the near future. W. S. Zehrung, Oil City, Pa., said at Atlantic City, N. J., there is plenty of oil for everyone.

Domestic crude output last week reached 5,908,830 barrels daily, a second consecutive weekly record. Barring a drop in the rate of new wells completed, the national daily average should be above the 6,000,000 mark sometime next month.

COMPLETIONS GAIN

World Oil magazine this month said oil well completions the first seven months of the year totaled 24,422, 10.5 per cent above the same period last year and 13.3 per cent above the 1948 all-time high pace.

The oil and gas materials committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America met in Fort Worth this week to study the steel supply outlook.

Bryan W. Payne, Tyler, committee chairman, said reports of shortages and maldistricution of steel supplies already are being reported by some oilmen.

"A high drilling rate must be continued in the present emergency in order to find and develop the needed oil reserves and producing capacity," he said.

SOME STEEL SHORTAGES

He said a survey among operators in 10 states indicates the supply of tubular goods has been tight, some deliveries have been delayed, procurement is difficult, and shortages are developing. The committee is to make its recommendations at the IPAA convention next month in St. Louis.

Crude oil output should continue upward in October but possibly at a slower rate of climb.

Major purchasers of Texas crude have indicated their October needs will be only 10,135 barrels daily above their September requirements. The Bureau of Mines predicted October Texas crude demand at 70,000 barrels daily over the September estimate.

One member of the Texas Railroad Commission has cautioned against any October decrease in Texas allowables.

Olin Culberson said the state is producing more crude than ever before but warned "the fact remains only the current demand has been met."

HEARING TUESDAY

Culberson and the two other members of the commission meet in Austin next Tuesday to set Texas' October production allowable.

Culberson placed empty Texas oil storage at 146,427,000. He said this must be reduced by a "substantial degree" before production cutbacks can be ordered.

On a national scale, above ground storage of the four principal refined petroleum products increased last week by 4,496,000 barrels. Light fuel stocks again accounted for most of the jump, increasing by 2,418,000 barrels.

Booster Pump For Pan-Am

Pan-American Pipe Line Co. announced yesterday that it had begun construction of a temporary booster station and auxiliary facilities near Sterling City, Tex., to increase the capacity of its West Texas 10-inch line from 37,500 barrels a day to 49,500 barrels.

Pan-American's 10-inch line moves oil out of Scurry, Borden and Howard Counties to a point approximately 25 miles west of San Angelo. It is planned to complete the booster facilities before the end of September.

With record allowables granted producers in Borden, Howard, Scurry, Kent and other Canyon Reef Counties, the increase in the capacity of this line will help producers in the area to produce their full allowables, and contribute appreciably to the increasing military demand for petroleum.

Ira O. Walker, president of the company, stated that the facilities being constructed were of a relief nature because of the difficulty of securing materials in the face of current war demand.

However the company has formulated definite plans to replace these temporary facilities with permanent equipment, which will further increase the capacity of the line to approximately 55,000 barrels a day, as soon as such equipment can be secured.

Pan-American's 10-inch line connects with the Humble Oil and Refining Company's 18-inch main trunk line from Kemper to the Gulf Coast area.

Midland Well Finds Pennsylvanian 10 Feet High To Discovery

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 H. S. Collings, Central-West Midland County exploration, 11 miles southwest of the city of Midland, and a one location north offset to the opener of the Parks-Ellenburger field, topped the Pennsylvanian lime pay at 10,370 feet, which is 10 feet higher than the same zone was encountered in the Parks discovery.

No. 1 Collings logged oil stain and odor and some porosity in drilling to the present bottom of 10,434 feet. Operator is now taking a drillstem test at 10,365-434 feet.

Magnolia No. 2 Parks flowed oil in commercial amounts from the Pennsylvanian on a drillstem test and then drilled on down and completed as a flowing discovery from the Ellenburger. Its Pennsylvanian pay is cased off.

No. 1 Collings has already indicated a discovery from the Wolfcamp lime of the lower Permian. It is to continue until it explores the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from south and 898.6 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 7, Matt Daugherty survey, SF 4169.

Tests Of Northeast Stonewall Wildcat Ready For Completion

Skelly Oil Co. is running five-one-half inch casing in the No. 1 Cleve Hamilton, offset to the discovery in Northeast Stonewall County, preparatory to taking completion test.

Operators took a drillstem test of the Mississippian at 5,912-26 feet. Length of the test was not reported. Recovery was 150 feet of gas-cut mud and no water.

A core of the same section had recovered seven feet of Mississippian bleeding oil, gas, and water. The prospect had flowed oil on a drillstem test of the Bend Conglomerate immediately above the Mississippian lime section.

Exact location is 467 feet from the north and west lines of the A. M. Reed survey, abstract 1,106, which makes it seven miles north of Old Glory and 3,000 feet southeast of the Roark and Hooker No. 1 C. W. Williams discovery from the Beng Conglomerate.

Approval Sought To Increase Pipeline

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Co., Chicago, asked the Power Commission today for authority to increase the capacity of its pipeline project from 305 million cubic feet daily to 374 million cubic feet.

The estimated cost of the new construction is $11,581,800. The company said this would be financed by issuance of first mortgage bonds for 75 per cent of the required capital, and sale of common stock for the remainder.

The commission authorized the company last June to build a 1,331½ mile, $117 million pipeline from Texas to Illinois to supply places in Illinois and Indiana.

The additional gas would be sold in part to some of the following presently authorized customers: Public Service Co. of northern Illinois; Northern Indiana Public Service Co., the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Co., and Western United Gas and Electric Co.

Kent Location West Of Young

A 7,000-foot wildcat has been staked in Central-West Kent County 12½ miles due west of Clairemont by General American Oil Co.

The prospector is the No. 1 George Beggs, located 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 61, block 7, H&GN survey.

Drillsite is one and one-half miles west and slightly north of Lohman and associates of Dallas No. 1 J. W. Young and others, and one and three-quarters miles northwest of Spartan Drilling Co. and others No. 1 E. E. Wallace estate.

The Lohman No. 1 Young was completed as a pumper for 51.23 barrels of oil plus 50 per cent water daily from 7,348 to 7,356 feet in the Strawn. That production is the first from the Strawn in Kent County.

The No. 1 Wallace is an Ellenburger failure abandoned at 7,865 feet. The Ellenburger was topped at 7,837 feet, minus datum point of 5,494 feet.

General American No. 1 Beggs will test through the Pennsylvanian.

East Vealmoor Field Extension Completed

Skelley Oil Co. No. 1 Frances Gunn and others has been completed as a west extension to the East Vealmoor field of Central-North Howard County.

The No. 1 Frances Gunn, southwest offset to Brown No. 1 Branon, one mile south extension of the East Vealmoor field, potentialed for 3,048.8 barrels of 44.8-gravity oil daily through a three-quarter inch choke.

Production came through perforations at 7,284-7,328, 7,342-70, 7,387-7,430 and at 7,444-66 feet.

Hole is bottomed at 7,500 feet with five and one-half inch casing cemented on bottom. Cement was drilled out to 7,476 feet.

The potential is based on an actual natural three hour flow of 380.6 barrels of oil and no water.

Gas-oil ratio on the completion test was 1,109-1. Casing pressure was 1,250 and tubing pressure 650 pounds.

Three Scurry Locations Are Staked; Two in Kent County

Locations for three new explorations have been staked in Scurry County since last report, one of which is in Kent County.

Two of them is to try for production in the North Snyder-Strawn pool and the other two are in the Kelley-Snyder field.

Standard Oil Co. of Texas No 9-2 A. C. Martin is to be the new project in the North Snyder-Strawn field. It is located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 391, block 97, H&TC survey.

Projected depth is 7,500 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Pan American Production Co. plans to drill the two tests in the Kelley-Snyder field about seven miles northwest of Snyder.

Both these projects will go to 7,000 feet and will be drilled in the near future with rotary tools.

Pan American No. 3 W. H. Hight is located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 391, block 97, H&TC survey.

No. 3 J. N. Bates is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 346, block 97, H&TC survey.

KENT COUNTY

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 14 LeRoy Spires, Jr., will be a new project in the Cogdell field of Central-South Kent County.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 719, block of Snyder.

Rotary tools will be used in drilling to 7,000 feet. Operations will begin immediately.

In the same field and 22 miles northeast of Snyder, Chapman & McFarlin Producing Co. staked location for No. 27 D. M. Cogdell.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to the projected depth of 7,000 feet, beginning at once.

Exact location is 660 feet from south and east lines of 40-acre lease in section 771, block 97, H&TC survey.

Howard Well Flows 2,153 Barrels a Day

Amcan Oil Corp. and Southland Royalty Co. No. 1-B Branon, one-quarter of a miles north of the discovery well of the south extension to the East Velamoor field in Central-North Howard County, has been completed for a 24-hour potential of 2,153 barrels of 44-gravity oil, flowing naturally from open hole in the Pennsylvania lime at 7,381-7,431 feet.

The flow was through a 20-64th inch tubing choke. There was no water. Gas-oil ratio was 880-1. Flowing tubing pressure during the potential test was 1,500 pounds. Shut-in casing pressure was 2,100 pounds.

The potential was calculated from an actual 12-hour flowing of 1,076.58 barels of oil.

Location is 667 feet from north and west lines of the 667 feet from north and 652 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of section 18, block 27, H&TC survey.

Amcan No. 1-A Branon, the south offset to the East Vealmoor south-extension is bottomed at 7,430 feet in the lime and is preparing to cement 5½-inch casing on bottom.

It will then drill 50 feet deeper and complete from the open hole.

Location is 667 feet from north and 652 feet from west lines of section 19, block 27, H&TC survey. It topped the reef lime at 7,260 feet, on a datum of minus 4,710 feet, to make it 30 feet high to the discovery. It has not tested the pay—but samples show it will make an oil well.

South Borden Wildcat Is Set

W. C. McBride, Inc., No. 1 W. Holbein, will be an 8,000-foot wildcat in southwest Borden County, 22 miles southwest of Gail. Nearest production to the proposed wildcat is the George P. Livermore No. 1 J. C. Shepherd, about one mile to the northwest.

The No. 1 Shepherd was recently completed as an east extension to the Reinecke field for 3,499.68 barrels of 36 gravity oil and no water through a one and one-half inch choke through perforations at 6,811-14 feet. The pay horizon was treated with 3,500 gallons of acid.

Drillsite of the No. 1 Holbein will be 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 54, block 25, H&TC survey.

It is also about one and one-third miles southeast of the C. H. Sweet and others No. 1 McNeil, dry and abandoned at 7,018 feet.

If the Canyon which yields petroleum in the Reinecke field above 7,000 feet is found to be barren, the projected depth will carry the Holbein to the Ellenburger.

New Producer From the Reef

Weatherford-Heep Oil Corp. has completed its No. 3-A T. L. Griffin as a new producer in the Reinecke field about seven miles north of Vincent.

The well flowed 24 hours through a one-quarter inch choke and made an initial production of 525 barrels of 46 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 1,050-1. No water was present.

Top of the reef was reported at 6,814 feet with a minus datum of 4,460 feet. Total depth is 6,893 feet.

A string of five and one-half casing was cemented at 6,872 feet. Production was natural.

It is located 973 feet from the east and 467 feet from the south lines of section 36, block 25, H&TC survey, and seven miles northwest of Vincent.

Lawyer Guild Is Ruled To Be Subversive By UnAmerican Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP) The House Unamerican Activities Committee today labeled the National Lawyers Guild "the legal bulwark of the Communist Party." It recommended that the organization be put on the Justice Department's subversive list.

The committee further urged that the group be required to register as agent of a foreign principal.

It proposed that guild members be barred from federal jobs and suggested that the American Bar Association "consider the question of whether or not membership" in the guild is compatible with admission to the bar.

An official said the guild was preparing a statement.

Thomas I. Emerson, president of the lawyers' guild, called the House committee's report "another typical demonstration of the fantastic standards, methods and distortions which have earned that committee the disrespect of most thoughtful Americans."

In a 50-page report, the committee also called the guild the legal bulwark of the Communist party's "front organizations and controlled unions."

As evidence of its view of the guild's position the committee cited "Its legal defense of communists, including espionage agents."

It said the "dominant forces" in the guild "are known Communists and fellow travelers."

Dallas County Farmers Take $3 Million Loss

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP) — There were estimates here today that worms, weevil, hail, and rain would cost Dallas County cotton growers at least $3,000,000 this year.

The price of cotton was at a 30-year high: $245 a bale with seed. But thousands of Dallas County acres were bare, riddled by the worst insect infestation on record. The county's 53,000-acre planting appeared likely to yield one of the smallest cash returns in years. A few bales already are moving to gins.

Plug Tom Green Venture

Daneiger Oil & Refining Co. and American Republics Corp. No. 1 Susan V. Easterwood, wildcat in Southwest Tom Green County, was making an electric log survey after recovering 2,700 feet of salt water on a one-hour drillstem test from 6,275 to 6,304 feet in dolomite, the total depth.

The top of the Ellenburger was picked tentatively from samples at 6,278 feet. Elevation is 2,014 feet. This prospector will be plugged and abandoned.

Loving County Wildcat Will Go To 4,000 Feet

Intercoast Petroleum Corp. has staked location for a 4,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Loving County to be drilled in the near future.

It is No. 1 Josey and is located 2,310 feet from north and east lines of section 6, block 55, T&P survey. That makes it 16 miles northeast of Orla and one mile northwest of Intercoast No. 1 M. K. Kyle which is a recently completed half-mile extension to Delaware production in the Mason pool.

Intercoast No. 1 Kyle was potentialed for 30.24 barrels of 42-gravity oil. Production came from pay section between 3,887 feet and 3,940 feet after being shot with 120 quarts of nitro glycerin.

In the same area, Intercoast spotted No. 1 Cozart as an outpost to production in the Mason field about 15 miles northeast of Orla.

It is located 1,650 feet from east and 2,310 feet from north lines of section 18, block 55, T&P survey. That puts it one-quarter of a mile west of nearest production from the Delaware.

Projected depth is 4,000 feet. Combination cable and rotary tools will be moved and drilling will begin soon.

Texas Crude Oil Is Over 12,000 Barrels

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—Allowable production of crude oil in Texas was up 12,801 barrels daily last week.

The Rail Commission today reported average calendar day allowable rose from 2,873,657 a week ago to 2,886,458.

Its weekly report also showed continued gain in drilling.

So far this year, 7,443 oil wells have been completed, compared with 6,220 in the same period last year. There were also more dry holes, with 3,144 this year compared with only 2,800 last year.

Location Near Notrees

Texas Gulf Producing Co. of Midland will drill a 9,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in West-Central Ector County seven miles south of Notrees.

It will be the No. 1 Woodward and others, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block 45, T-2-S, T&P sruvey.

Drillsite will be two miles east of the TL-Wolfcamp field and two and one-quarter miles southeast of the TXL-Silurian field which has production from the Ellenburger.

Operations are to commence immediately.

Reds Top Philadelphia 2 to 0 As Phils Lose Third Pitcher

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16. (AP)—Ewell Blackwell fossed a three hitter to give Cincinnati a 2 to 0 victory over the Philadelphia Phils today.

The Phils lost another starting pitcher. Bob Miller was unable to start the seventh because of shoulder soreness.

He was the third Phil hurler lost in a week. Emory (Bubba) Church was hit by a batted ball last night and will be out for ten days. Curt Simmons was inducted into the Army.

First baseman Ted Kluszewski batted in both Red runs.

Rookie Homers Account For Cleveland's Win

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16. (AP)—Home runs by Rookies Al Rosen and Jim Lemon powered Cleveland to a 5-1 victory over Washington today.

Rosen's 35th four bagger scored three runs.

Lemon, up from Oklahoma City, belted another in the seventh with none on.

Bob Feller gave up only five blows in pitching his 14th win against 11 loses.

Cards Take Brooklyn 4-3 on Rice's Homer

BROOKLYN, Sept. 16. (AP)—Del Rice's homer in the ninth broke a 3-3 tie today and enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to whip Brooklyn 4-3. The Dodgers loaded the bases in the ninth with one away but relief hurler Al Brazle got Duke Snider to hit into a double play. The Dodgers remained 7½ games behind the league-leading Philadelphia Phils.

Schmitz Hurls Six Hitter To Give Cubs 6-4 Win At New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—Johnny Schmitz hurled a six-hitter today to give the Chicago Cubs a 6-4 victory over New York.

The Cubs scored the winning run in the seventh without a hit to break a 4-4 tie. A walk, a sacrifice on which the batter was safe, another sacrifice and a fly out by Hal Jeffcoat provided the marker. Preston Ward doubled Jeffcoat in with an insurance run.

Ward also got a homer and Hank Sauer slammed his 29th for Chicago. Alvin Dark and Bobby Thomson hit homers for New York.

Chambers Hold Boston To 4-0 For Pittsburgh

BOSTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Pittsburgh batted around in the 12th today to give lefty Cliff Chambers a 4-0 shutout over the Boston Braves. The winning rally against Vernon Bickford comprised four singles, two bases on balls and a wild pitch.

White Sox Score On Every Hit Off Kellner

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored a run for every one of their 10 hits off Alex Kellner today in defeating Philadelphia 10-3.

One Run for the Tigers

Hoot Evers, Detroit outfielder, slides home with a run for the Tigers in the first inning of their game with the New York Yankees in Detroit Sept. 14. Evers scored on a long fly by Arron Robinson, Detroit catcher, to Yankee outfielder Cliff Mapes. Mapes threw to Yankee catcher Yogi Berre who attempts to tag Evere. Umpire is Jim Nonochick. At left is Don Koloway of the Tigers. The Yanks Won 7-5.

Yankees Run In Lead Again

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Staff)

DETROIT, Sept. 16. (AP)—Lefty Ed Ford, 21-year-old rookie sensation, pitched New York back into the American League lead today behind a crackling seven-run explosion in the ninth that sunk Detroit, 8-1.

Turning back the Tigers with six hits, young Ford grabbed the all-important rubber game of this vital first place series before 56,548 stunned fans.

Yankee power routed Dizzy Trout in the last inning a few minutes after Detroit fought back to tie the score in the eighth. All during this chill afternoon it had looked as though Joe DiMaggio's 30th homer, a 425-foot clout to left center in the sixth was to be the only score of a throbbing struggle.

As a result of the Yankee triumph and Boston's 5-2 loss at St. Louis the league race looks like this with two weeks to go:

| TEAMS | W | L | GB | TP |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 89 | 51 | | 14 |
| Detroit | 88 | 51 | ½ | 15 |
| Boston | 87 | 53 | 2 | 14 |

The leading Yanks now move on to St. Louis for a two-game series to be played in a doubleheader tomorrow afternoon. Ed Lopat and Tommy Byrne probably will do the honors. Boston comes into Briggs Stadium tomorrow for the opener of a two-game set with Lefty Mel Parnell primed to face Freddie Hutchinson.

Porky Oliver Jumps Into St. Louis Open Golf Tourney Lead

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle, Wash., jumped into the lead in the $15,000 St. Louis open golf tournament today with a third round 62, eight under par, for a 54-hole total of 200.

The 62 represents a new competitive record for Algonquin Course and ties the PGA record for 18 holes.

At 204 were Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Orville White of Winston Salem, N. C.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Cary Middlecoff, Ormond Beach, Fla., last year's National Open Champ, were tied with 205.

The top scores included Fred Hawkins, El Paso, 74-69-69—212.

Snyder Falls to Stamford 12 To 7 in Last Minute Reverse

Tense spectators Friday night saw a game as wild as the Snyder Tigers and Stamford Bulldogs seesawed the score in the last minutes of the game, finally putting Stamford over 12-7 in the Tiger Stadium.

Wasting no time, Stamford Fullback Kenneth Lowe took the skin after a Tiger fumble on its own 35 and crossed the goal after two runs around right end, scoring for the Bulldogs on the sixth play of the game.

Snyder Half Franklin Wood appeared to be a match for Lowe during the last three quarters. Wood made several runs to score finally, late in the last quarter after another half, N. J. Harrison, took the Tigers from the 20 to the 5. Lowell Bearden, end, made the point good and the tally 7-6.

Time ran short as Bulldog Quarter Tommy Alexander began wild pass attempts to Lowe, Charles Gary, Don Stearns, and raced the Bulldogs to the one yard line where Eugene Lyckman, 131-pound left halfback, plunged over on a fourth down for another touchdown, making the final score of 12-7.

Every Tiger play was a pass attempt following the Stamford scoring, but to no avail.

This is the second loss for the Tigers in non-conference tilts, the first being to Winters last week 18-6, while Stamford added its second win after running over Hamlin 8-0.

Officials in the game were J.E. McCaleb, referee; C. M. Satterwhite, umpire; Lewis Crowder, head linesman; and Fred Stirman, field judge.

The Bulldogs led in most gain other than score, having eight first downs to the Tigers' seven. Bowing to Snyder in ground gained, Stamford made 108 yards, Snyder 112. Alexander completed all five of Stamford's good passes, while Snyder had no completions. Both teams made 12 pass attempts. Snyder took eight penalties for 66 yards, while Stamford had six for 70 yards. Having only one fumble, the Bulldogs saw the Tigers fumble five times.

Next game for the Tigers will be Friday night with Lakeview in the Tiger Stadium.

Browns Deal Red Sox Out By 5-2 By Giving Up Only Five Hits

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16. (AP)—The giant-killing St. Louis Browns, using a pitcher who had completed only two of his last 16 starting assignments, dealt another stunning blow to Boston's pennant hopes today by defeating the Red Sox 5-2.

The pitcher was Cliff Fannin and he yielded only five hits to the fence busters, struck out seven and issued no passes.

Outfielder Ken Wood struck the most telling blow—a home run into the left field bleachers good for two runs that sent the Browns ahead 3-2 in the fifth inning.

The triumph was the ninth in ten games for the seventh-place Browns, who took the series from the Bosox two games to one.

Wood's smash, which came after Billy Demars had singled, appeared to unnerve Walt Masterson, the starting and losing pitcher for Boston. Masterson walked the next two men and was replaced by Maurice McDermott, who got out of the inning without further trouble.

The defeat dumped the third-place Red Sox two full lengths behind New York, which took over the league leadership by defeating Detroit. Boston still trails Detroit by a game and a half.

Southwestern Conference To Open this Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The coaches have dried away the tears since nobody was paying any attention anyway and the thirty-sixth Southwest Conference football campaign swings open this week.

Five intersectional games and a battle with a next-door neighbor make up the schedule as six of the seven conference members start the weary march down the autumn trail.

Rice will be an interested spectator. The Owls, always making a late start, wait until next week to get into the swim. Rice will be opening a new big stadium on that occasion.

Texas A&M, which needs one hand to count its victories and both hands and both feet to show the defeats over a two-year stretch, hops out to Sacramento, Calif., to play Nevada.

Baylor, considered least likely to succeed, journeys to Laramie, Wyo., to play Wyoming.

Texas Christian's ebullient Horned Frogs traveled to Lawrence, Kan., to clash with Kansas.

Southern Methodist, picked as the team to win if Texas doesn't, tackles Georgia Tech of razzle-dazzle renown, in the cavernous Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Texas, the choice of the masses—and the sports writers—to sweep up the conference championship, tackles Texas Tech of the Border Conference at Lubbock.

Arkansas, looking as tough as those Razorbacks for which the team is named, engages Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock.

All are night games except Baylor-Wyoming and Texas Christian-Kansas.

It marks the opening of one of the gaudiest and most far-reaching intersectional schedules in conference history, by taking a majority of the games on this schedule, the conference could claim national top rating.

Rice's opener next week will be against Santa Clara. It will be a distinctive game in that it will match the champions of the Cotton and Orange Bowls.

The conference will be favored to score a sweep in its first week of strife with Texas A&M probably running into the most trouble against Nevada.

Polo Championship At Meadow Brook Sunday

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 16. (AP)—The Hurricane Polo team, seeking the title for a third straight year, will tackle a California squad in the 1950 National Open Championship Tournament tomorrow at the Meadow Brook Club.

The champion Hurricanes will rely upon the same players who triumphed in 1948—Larry Sheerin, Peter Perkins, Cecil Smith and Stephen (Laddie) Sanford at back.

California will field a quartet consisting of Bob Fletcher, Clarence Combs, Bob Skene and Carlton Beal.

Texas League Paid Admissions Counted

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Texas League baseball club drew 1,648,828 paid admissions during the past season, a decrease of 350,099 from last year, League Secretary Milton Price announced today.

Beaumont, the only club to show an increase, drew 170,536, a gain of 54,272. Shreveport attendance dropped the most 117,854, down 104,477 from 1949.

Lightning does about $10,000,000 damage to U.S. farms every year.

Longhorn Attendance, Topping 460,000, Is Less Than During '49

ABILENE, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Class D Longhorn Circuit drew an all-time high of 461,751 fans but the average daily attendance was slightly below last year's, League President Hal Sayles said today.

The 1950 figure was 34,888 above last year's, but the league played a 154-game schedule against 140 for 1949, Sayles explained.

Thus the daily average draw was about 3,040 in 1949 as compared with 3,000 for this season.

San Angelo also set a new club record in attracting 97,017 paying customers. Last year the same club paced the attendance with a draw of 83,245.

Three other clubs came up with attendance increases. Roswell, Odessa and Sweetwater. The others lagged behind last year's totals.

Here are the other club totals for the 1950 season:

Roswell 82,671, Odessa 73,226, Big Spring 49,302, Midland 47,042, Vernon 46,099, Sweetwater 39,773, and Ballinger 26,621.

Joey Maxim Signed For El Paso Bout Oct. 4

EL PASO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Promoter Jimmy Erwin said today he has signed Joey Maxim, world's light heavyweight champion, to meet Dolph Quijano of El Paso in a ten-round non-title bout here Oct. 4.

Quijano, noted for his right-hand smashes, is Texas light heavyweight and heavyweight champion. He was decisioned here by Maxim Dec. 12, 1946—his only defeat before local fans.

"This fight is expected to draw the largest gate and highest attendance record of any boxing show staged in the Lone Star State since legalization of boxing in Texas in 1930," Erwin predicted.

Texas League Veteran Umpire Will Retire

BEAUMONT, Sept. 16. (AP)—Chester Fowler, dean of Texas League umpires, has announced that he will retire when the current season ends.

Fowler is working the Beaumont-San Antonio play-off series.

Fowler started in professional baseball with Cincinnati of the National League in 1922.

He started umpiring in 1936.

Texans Share In Top Golf Money This Year

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Six Texans are among the top 24 money winners of golf this year, the PGA announced today.

Henry Ransom of Bryan is third with $18,885.03, Lloyd Mangrum of Dallas is fourth with $18,850.83 Jimmy Demaret of Houston is fifth with $16,268.16, Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston is seventh with $14,641.50, Ben Hogan of Fort Worth is fifteenth with $8,185 and Fred Hawkins of El Paso is twenty-fourth with $4,437.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., is the leader with $31,992.17 and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco is second with $24,191.66.

Burke and Mangrum are third and fourth in contention for the Vardon Trophy while Demaret, Mangrum and Burke are second, third and fourth in Ryder Cup points with Ransom eighth and Hogan ninth.

Scoff At Report

BERLIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—American authorities here today branded as "too absurd for comment" a Communist report that the U. S. Army was sending to Berlin a "special commando force of eight thousand men with the assignment of preparing for the destruction of West Berlin in case of war."

Southeastern Title May Be Won Saturday

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—The title in the Southeastern Conference may be decided this coming week end.

Louisiana State, the area's Sugar Bowl representative last January, and Kentucky, noted by the conference coaches as the probable 1950 champion, tangle Saturday night under the lights at Lexington, Ky.

There are at least a dozen other bruising games on the program but none carries the title implications of the LSU-Kentucky affair.

Georgia Tech invades Texas to see if all the pre-season raves about Kyle Rote and his Southern Methodist mates are true. And then there is North Carolina entertaining North Carolina State. Southern Carolina gets a very severe test in its opener against Duke.

The idea of opening with a tough one also has spread to the West Coast where UCLA and Oregon open by playing each other in Los Angeles. Santa Clara, the Orange Bowl winner, is the guest of California, coast conference champion the past two seasons.

Wyoming will be ready for Baylor. The Texas Bears ruined an otherwise perfect season for Wyoming last year by taking a 32 to 7 contest. It will be George Sauer's debut as Baylor coach, after leaving Navy.

In intersectional football:

Maryland is at Georgia; Oregon State comes East to test Michigan State; Texas Christian tries Kansas; Tulsa treks to San Francisco.

Two new coaches will be getting the first look at their charges under game conditions in Little Rock where Oklahoma A&M, now tutored by J. B. (Ears) Whitworth, and Arkansas mix. The Arkansas outfit now is bossed by Otis Douglas, formerly an assistant to Greasy Neale of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Texas University End Under Examination

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Baylor Hospital specialists are examining Rudy Bauman, University of Texas football end, to find the extent of a head injury received in practice. It has not been determined whether the Amarillo boy will be able to play again. He had been on the varsity.

Detroit Sells Tickets With Fingers Crossed

DETROIT, Sept. 16. (AP)—With fingers crossed, the Detroit Tigers today announced they will accept applications for world series tickets.

If Detroit wins the American League pennant, and barring weather delays and playoffs of ties, there will be three series games here Oct. 7, 8, and 9. The first two games are scheduled to be played in the National League champion's park.

Tulsa Takes Ft. Worth In Playoff Series

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 16. (AP)—The Tulsa Oilers survived a two-run Fort Worth uprising in the ninth inning today to edge the Cats, 4-3, and go three games up in the best of seven Texas League playoff series.

Fort Worth will be battleing here tomorrow night in its last chance, behind Pitcher John Rutherford (11-12). He will face Walker Cress (17-11). Tulsa by winning would go into the championship finals with San Antonio, victor over Beaumont.

Few Surprises As Strong Teams Win In Texas Schoolboy Games

By WILBUR MARTIN
(Associated Press Staff)

"Big names" of Texas schoolboy football flattened foes in humiliating fashion last night as action stepped up in the three top divisions of the Interscholastic League.

Port Arthur slammed one of Louisiana's top teams, Fortier of New Orleans, 33-0; Odessa blanked San Jacinto of Houston, 26-0; Wichita Falls mauled Denison, 39-2, and New Braunfels—toast of Class A—walloped Hondo, 74-0.

Scores were high and some results were minor surprises as City Conference and Class AA clubs broke loose in their first big week of the 1950 season. In Class A, it was a continuation of wild and hectic play.

New Braunfels' one-sided victory boosted its scoring average to better than a point a minute. Last week it won, 51-7, over Peacock Military Academy of San Antonio.

Port Arthur's easy victory gave solid basis to stories that the Yellowjackets were again pointed for the Class AA playoff.

And Odessa seemed back in accustomed ways of running roughshod over all comers.

City Conference teams—schools in San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston—fared badly against Double A opposition. Only three managed victories. Lamar (Houston) beat Baytown, 13-7, and Alamo Heights (San Antonio) knocked off weak Laredo, 32-7. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) showed power in a 33-21 decision over Abilene.

In Class AA, San Angelo rompled to a 57-0 victory over Gainesville; Breckenridge took Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), 25-0; Corsicana walloped Northside (Fort Worth), 41-0; Austin blanked Waco, 21-0, in a game matching two always strong elevens.

Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City knocked off Borger, 20-0, in an intersectional game and Carlsbad, N. M., beat Bowie (El Paso), 20-0, while Ysleta blanked Roswell, N. M., 27-0.

Tyler surprised Dallas fans with an easy, 20-7 decision over Forest.

Texarkana, looming as an East Texas power, had little trouble with Orange, 40-0.

Freeport won its second straight game by a top-heavy score, this time bouncing Austin of Houston, 20-7.

Kerrville, one of Central Texas' best, came back from its licking by Port Arthur last week to knock off San Antonio's Thomas Jefferson, 6-0.

In Class A, Arlington swamped Ennis of Class AA, 33-12; Mission licked Edinburg, 21-6, and Sulphur Springs kayoed Class AA Greenville, 20-7.

Wink made it three straight and win No. two in District 5-A by squeezing past Denver City, 3-0. Pecos took a 24-19 win from Andrews in this same district.

Newcastle continued to roll, tripping Throckmorton, 21-0, while Muleshoe whammed Portales, N. M., in an intersectional game, 39-0.

Mt. Vernon blanked a strong New Boston eleven, 27-0, and Atlanta swamped Gilmer, 40-0. Wills Point continued undefeated, beating Kaufman, 14-0.

Taylor, a Central Texas power, had little trouble with Burnet, 34-7, while Georgetown had less with Round Rock, 35-0.

Frank Saucier Takes Texas League Batting ChampionshipFor1950

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Frank Saucier of San Antonio led the Texas League in batting with an average of .343.

Official averages announced today by Statistician W. B. Ruggles show the mission outfielder beat out Gil McDougald, Beaumont second baseman, by seven points.

Saucier got 151 hits in 440 times at bat.

Ruggles said the averages were all completely official except subject to recheck.

Beaumont and Oklahoma City swept up most of the individual titles. Bob Marquis of Beaumont led in runs with 124, McDougald in hits with 187, Stu Locklin of Oklahoma City in doubles with 43, Eddie Knoblauch of Tulsa in triples with 15 and Bob Lemon of Oklahoma City in home runs and runs batted in with 39 and 119 respectively.

Dee Fondy of Fort Worth was the leading base-stealer with 39.

The league produced three 20-game pitchers. Jim Blackburn of Tulsa led in percentage with 21-7 for .750. Wayne McLeland of Dallas had a 21-8 record and Ernie Nevel of Beaumont 21-12.

Joe Presko of Houston topped in strike-outs with 165.

Oklahoma City, which finished sixth in the league race, led the circuit in hitting with .270. Beaumont was second with .266.

Commodity Index Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Associated Press index of wholesale commodity prices advanced this week for the 13th straight week.

It now stands at 192.63, compared with 191.61 a week ago and 160.19 a year ago.

Snyder Veteran Recalls Army Days in Inchon

Landing of American forces in Korea at the port of Inchon causes some Snyder veterans to recall days when they were with occupation forces there shortly after the end of the war with Japan.

Working as a technical sergeant in a quartermaster depot, Loyd McGlaun of Snyder spent several months at Inchon.

Scrub pine and hilly country dominates the inland between Inchon and Seoul, where our forces are working their way toward the Red capital, McGlaun said.

Scenery is hardly that of beauty, McGlaun recalled, since most of the trees have been cut by the Koreans for fuel. But the small island of Wombli, where the U. N. forces made their landing, still held its beauty when McGaun was there.

Wombli, which is connected with Inchon by a causeway, is the city's park, the veteran remembered. The island is covered with trees and has at the top the ruins of an ancient shrine.

Deer and other animals were in captivation on the isle. On the Inchon side of the island is a high cliff overlooking the channel that separates it from the city.

Not far from Inchon, where allies are now cutting off Red supplies, is the Yong Dong Po Rail Terminal, which is probably the focal point of all the Korean railroads, McGlaun said.

McGlaun lives in Snyder at 2402 Avenue M. Since his discharge from the army he has been attending the University of Texas.

Smoking Not Harmful To Growing Canines

VENICE, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP) — Smoking does not stunt the growth —of dogs.

Butch, a Dalmatian terrier, will be a year old next month and owner Bill Hill said today that he weighs a bulking 45 pounds.

That's a good weight even for Dalmatians that don't smoke. Butch has been smoking since he was four months old.

Hill, a furniture store owner, said he had to teach Butch to smoke in order to break him of another vice-chewing tobacco.

He said the pup had an annoying habit of jumping on customers and snatching away their cigarets and cigars—and eating them, fiery ash and all.

Hill then bought an aluminum cigaret holder and taught the dog to smoke like non-dog smokers do. Butch averages about six cigarets a day and inhales.

The dog also likes beer, Hill said, and added he once got hold of a bottle of wine and "made a sorry spectacle of himself."

Red Flag Is Run Up Over School House

SEAL BEACH, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP) — Who ran up the Hammer and Sickle banner over an elementary school here?

The question still burned today. The flag of Communist Russia was discovered flying last Saturday, although the incident was disclosed only yesterday.

"It was no home made flag run up as a joke," said Police Chief Lee Howard, who pulled it down and turned it over to the FBI. "This was a brand new flag." Veterans of Foreign Wars promised to get "to the bottom of this thing."

Everybody wants it known their little schoolhouse is not Red.

Canadian Labor Unions Cleaning Out The Reds

MONTREAL, Sept. 16. (AP) — An anti-Communist House cleaning was underway today within the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Convention delegates to the congress, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, revised the TLC charter to compel union affiliates to get rid of any Communist officers or be read out of the organization. Red delegates also were ordered barred from congress conventions at the discretion of the TLC executive council.

Educational Leaders Being Asked To Attend State Conference

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—More than 300 local leaders from over Texas are being sent invitations to participate in the Citizens Advisory Conference on Education here Oct. 9.

State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar said today these participants are being asked to bring the facts about their local school systems to the conference.

"After one year of operation of the new state educational program all of us need to know what the basic ideas of Gilmer-Aikin legislation have accomplished and what next actions we should take to improve the educational system," Edgar said.

Members of the state board of education, sponsor of the conference, nominated the participants. Others interested in the new educational system are publicly invited to attend.

Juries Find Against Two In Cases Before County Court Friday

Two persons were found guilty of misdemeanors by county court juries late Friday, which assessed fines against both of them and sentenced one to the county jail.

After 15 minutes of deliberation the first jury assessed a fine of $500 against Paul Dwight Cline, 33, of Snyder, and sentenced him to serve 30 days in jail on a charge of possessing liquor for purpose of sale in a legally dry area.

Cline was charged with the possession of 23 half-pints of whisky, 20 pints, of whisky, 11 half-pints of gin, three four-fifths-quarts of whisky, and 387 12-ounce cans of beer, confiscated in a raid on his trailer house three miles south of Snyder on the Big Spring highway July 10.

The raid was made by J. M. Brumfield, of the liquor control board, and E. W. Green, highway patrolman, who both appeared in the trial as witnesses for the state.

The defendant was represented by J. Ray Martin, Snyder attorney. The case was prosecuted by Ben Thorpe, county attorney, and his assistant, Jack Kennedy.

In the case of Darwin D. Long, 24, of Snyder, charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the jury returned a verdict of guilty about 8 o'clock, assessing his fine at $200.

Long was charged with the offense July 28, following an accident in which his automobile was involved. He was represented by Pat Beene, of Snyder and prosecuted by Thorpe and Kennedy.

Harvesting of Cotton Is Held Up By Rains; Few Picker Shortages

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—Rains throughout most of the state's cotton belt slowed cotton harvest to a snail's pace, the Texas Employment Commission reported today.

Only shortages of cotton pickers reported was in the San Antonio area, TEC said it was not serious. The control station there was scheduled to be closed about Sept. 20 when the area's harvest is expected to be virtually completed.

TEC said it expects to get underway about Sept. 22 in the Aspermont area, Oct. 10 at Pampa, Sept. 25 in the southern part of the Dallas area, between Sept. 20 and Oct. 1 in the Vernon and Wichita Falls areas, and around Oct. 1 in the Plainview, Littlefield and Lubbock areas. Some harveting was getting started south of Fort Worth and Dallas and in the Brownwood and San Angelo areas.

Over 5,000 Invited To Building Ceremony

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—More than 5,000 have been invited here next week end for the three-day dedication of the new B'rai B'rith Hillel Foundation building for Jewish students at the University of Texas.

Dr. H. J. Ettlinger, chairman of the building committee, said the main dedication services Sunday, Sept. 24 will be preceded by religious services Friday night and Saturday morning and an open house Saturday night. A Sunday noon luncheon and afternoon symposium are also planned.

Scheduled speakers include Rabbi Arthur J. Lelyveld, B'rai B'rith Hillel Commission national director; University President T. S. Painter; Supreme Court Associate Justice James P. Hart; Milton Mehl of Fort Worth; and Dr. Davis Jacobson of San Antonio.

Soviet Wheat Sold To Italian Government

ROME, Sept. 16. (AP)—Italy has signed a contract with Russia to buy 200,000 tons of Soviet wheat. An Italian foreign ministry communique said the agreement was signed Tuesday after long negotiations. The price was not disclosed.

Tornado Injures Five In Oklahoma Town

SASAKWA, Okla., Sept. 16. (AP) Five persons were injured by a tornado which struck three miles north of here late yesterday, but miraculously there were no casualties when the twister tore a path through this town.

The town, of 1,000 population, is 75 airline miles southeast of Oklahoma City.

No estimate of damage has been made. More than a dozen houses, a school bus garage and two business buildings were leveled or damaged. All power lines should be restored by tonight.

The storm formed southwest of town, hit one small section of the business district, went through residential areas and blew itself out after hitting a car and a farm house north of town where all the injuries occurred.

Conservation Tour of Area Will Be Made

A soil conservation tour, sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has been planned for Thursday afternoon, according to Bentley Baize chairman of the chamber's agriculture committee.

"Despite the growing importance of oil in Scurry County, agriculture still is one of the main supports of our economy," Baize stated. "Soil conservation and proper use of the land is not exclusively the interest of the farmer, but are of tremendous importance to city dwellers and rural people alike."

Baize urges all members of the Chamber of Commerce to join the conservation tour, or send a representative from their business.

The trip, which will begin at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the chamber offices, will visit the Raymond Smith farm, Mrs. E. P Van Winkle's farm, Guy Stoker's irrigated alfalfa, and A. B. Eicke's farm.

At the Smith place, the group will be shown blue panic grass, Madrid sweet clover, and registered Hampshire hogs. At Mrs. Van Winkle's, they will see fine turf of native grasses, which will demonstrate how healthy Scurry County range land can be if it is not overstocked and made susceptible to inferior plants.

The tour will last three hours.

Most Non-Farm Job Placements in 5 Years

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission reported today it placed 50,000 workers in non-farm jobs during August—the most placements in any one month in five years.

They included 14,570 women placements.

Contributing to the banner month, TEC said, was increased hiring by military installations and firms with defense contracts, a flurry of consumer "war-scare" buying and the rush of construction contractors to finish jobs ahead of possible material shortages or government controls.

Gossett Acid About U. S. Tideland Acts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Rep. Gossett (D-Tex) today denounced proposal of U. S. Solicitor General Philip Perlman that Texas and Louisiana be held accountable to the federal government for oil revenues from lands under the marginal seas off their coasts.

"The power-hungry, power-mad boys who run the Department of Justice and Interior have surprised nobody in their proposed decrees in the tidelands cases," declared the Texan in a news release.

"They would gladly rob the states of their last vestige of sovereignty.

LOOKS TO CONGRESS

"Solicitor General Shylock Perlman will continue to do everything within his power to exact from Texas and Louisiana the last pound of flesh.

"We hope and believe that the 82nd Congress will at last act favorably upon a tidelands bill and save a federal government from a disgraceful and unconscionable act.

"We will start pushing the states bill on the first day of the next session of Congress."

ACCOUNTING ASKED

Perlman, speaking for the Justice Department, asked the Supreme Court yesterday to declare that the federal government is entitled to an accounting from Texas and Louisiana for all money received from the diputed oil lands.

The request was in a memorandum to the court in connection with its recent decision that the U. S. has first rights to oil lands under the marginal seas of the two states.

Oil Field Accident Victim Improves

Cecil Greer, 43-year-old Colorado City man, was reported to be slightly improved last night at the Snyder Hospital, where he was taken in a critical condition Friday, suffering multiple injuries after an oil field accident.

Greer became entangled in the sand reel, suffering a fracture of the right arm, multiple right shoulder and rib fractures, a skull fracture, and lacerations of the scalp.

Greer is an employee of the Nickel and Mellette Drilling Co. The accident occurred two miles west of Ira.

County Oil Failure

Three failures in Crockett County have been plugged and abandoned.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1-GG University, old producer in the northeast portion of the county and 25 miles northeast of Ozona, failed in an attempt to get production from the San Andres at plugged back total depth of 2,000 feet.

It was completed in 1948 at a plugged back total depth of 8,377 feet for a pumping potential of 58 barrels.

Location of the failure is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block 39, University survey.

Byron Williams No. 1 Ruby Helbing, northwest offset to a 9,000-foot dry hole, six miles southwest of Ozona, was plugged and abandoned at 1,725 feet in black shale.

The failure was 330 feet from north and east lines of section 17, block QR, GC&SF survey.

C. P. Laubenheim and others No. 1 F. D. Henderson, wildcat nine miles northwest of Ozona, was plugged and abandoned at 1,603 feet in white lime. The failure was 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 18, block ST, GC&SF survey.

Wildcat Location Is Staked in Andrews

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. and Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. have filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill their No. 1-E-32 Fasken as a wildcat, about seven miles east and slightly south of the Stanolind No. 1-H David Faskin, discovery well of the Grayburg in the Fasken field.

This is the third of eight wildcats the two concerns agreed to drill in the Midland Farms area of Southeast Andrews County by April 1 1951.

Exact location of the No. 1-E-32 Fasken will be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 32, block 41, G&MMB&A survey.

The prospector will be drilled with rotary to around 5,000 feet.

Drillsite is 14 miles northeast of Odessa.

Offset Scheduled For Southeast Hockley

Honolulu Oil Corp. has staked location for a one-quarter mile diagonal northeast offset to its No.1-13 M. D. Underwood, discovery well of the Ropes-Pennsylvanian pool of Southeast Hockley County.

It will be drilled as the No. 1-9 Beulah L. Burleson, 510 feet from the south and west lines of labor 9, league 5, Wilbarger csl survey. That makes it about 5 miles south of Smyer.

The No. 1 Burleson is projected to 9,500 feet.

The No. 1 Underwood was completed as a discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime for a daily potential of 2,236 barrels of 42.1-gravity oil through a one-inch opening on two-inch tubing.

Flow was natural from open hole from 9,290 to 9,315 feet.

Spot 2 Shallow Wells In Crockett County

Two shallow wildcats have been spotted in Crockett County. One in the northeast portion and the other in the north-central sector.

Hill D. Hudson of Pecos, No. 1 Stanolind-University, slated 2,500-foot cable tool test 21 miles northeast of Ozona, will be 330 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block 39, University survey.

Malco Refineries and others No. 1 Tide Water-Bean, projected to 1,500 feet with cable tools, will be 2,200 feet from south and 3,000 feet from west lines of section 11, block UV, GC&SF survey, 10 miles northwest of Ozona.

May Be Formed In The Interior Department

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—There is speculation of a possible announcement soon by Secretary of the Interior Chapman creating a Bureau of Minerals and Energy.

One report is that such a bureau would be divided into three divisions: oil and gas, coal and electricity.

Although this arrangement probably wouldn't please most of the oil industry as much as the old Petroleum Administration for War, there is talk former Deputy PAW Administrator Ralph K. Davies may be made Undersecretary of the Interior to handle oil affairs.

* * *

Rep. Gavin (R-Pa), who hails from Oil City, paid tribute in the House Friday to the petroleum industry.

After noting that the first oil well in the U. S. was discovered in his Congressional district 91 years ago, Gavin said the industry had met all demands upon it.

"Individual initiative has been the principal factor," he added. "Men free to exercise their own judgments have found the oil and developed the processes and the methods of converting it to bene-

Oil Producer Attack Government's Right To Fix Gas Field Prices

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—A group of Texas independent oil producers will fight the Federal Power Commission's claim to authority to fix the field price of natural gas sold to interstate pipelines.

The Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association announced here today it has joined in a petition seeking to intervene in a FPC proceeding against the Phillips Petroleum Company on that score.

Taylor County Venture Flows 387 in 13 Hours

Kemp Drilling Co. No. 1 E. L. Young, discovery from the Upper Strawn sand 10 miles southwest of Buffalo Gap in Southwest Taylor County, flowed 387 barrels of oil in 13 hours on the latest gauge.

The well flowed through one-half inch choke through perforations at 4,590-96 feet. Tubing pressure was 200 pounds. Casing pressure was 510 pounds.

It is now shut in for storage. Potential is slated to be taken early next week.

Location is 2,182 feet from west and 467 feet from south lines of section 266, block 64, H&TC survey.

From Queen Sand In Northeast Crockett

The first shallow producer from the Queen sand in the Midway-Ellenburger field of Northeast Crockett County, has been completed by Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. for a 24-hour flow of 33.12 barrels of oil. It is the No. 7-67 University.

The petroleum came from open hole between 930 and 1,100 feet. The open hole was shot with 60 quarts of nitroglycerin.

Failure Is Abandoned

Orders have been given by Gulf Oil Corp. to abandon its No. 1-CS TXL, wildcat in central Reeves County, at total depth of 5,297 feet in Delaware sand and shale.

Recovery was 330 feet of slightly gas-cut muddy salt water and 360 feet of salt water on a two-hour drill-stem test from 5,222 to 5,297 feet. The failure is 339 feet out of the northwest corner of section 1, block 31, T-8, T&P survey.

Youth Center Gifts to $435

Eight new gifts to the Youth Center have been received in the last week, according to the Rev. Charles Mathes, chairman of the building committee.

A total of $10,000 is being sought. $6,000 for the building and $4,000 for the first year's operation. So far about $3,000 has been received. George Westbrook is in charge of the finance committee.

Work is proceeding on the building, but some delays have been experienced. It is expected that the two tennis courts, which will be next to the center building, will be poured tomorrow.

A dance, with Bib Wills and his Texas Cowboys providing the music has been planned for Saturday night, Sept. 30, on the tennis courts. Sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the dance will be for the benefit of the Youth Center.

The recent gift are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Snyder Abstract | $25 |
| J. C. Williamson | $25 |
| Pollard Motor | $25 |
| Bickerstaff Motor | $100 |
| V. F. W. | $245 |
| Western Auto | $5 |
| The Army Store | $25 |
| Dr. D. K. Ratliff | $5 |
| Total | $435 |

MacArthur Reviewed Invasion Plans Two Days Before Landings

TOKYO, Sept. 16. (AP)—General MacArthur said two days before the invasion that he believed the capture of the Inchon-Seoul area would lead to the defeat of the North Korean army.

"We are going to try to seize that distribution area so that it will be impossible for the North Koreans to get any additional men or more than a trickle of supplies into the present area," he said in a briefing to correspondents.

The text, dated Sept. 13, was released today. The landing occurred Sept. 15.

MacArthur said that if the Inchon Seoul area can be seized, "and the enemy is caught between two wings of our forces he will be subject to the additional combat effort of both those forces working in cooperation and he will be deprived of his reinforcement and supplies."

"If that can be accomplished," he said, "these forces will sooner or later disintegrate and cease to be a co-ordinated fighting army."

San Angelo Council To Hold Budget Hearing

Topping the San Angelo City Commission's regular Monday morning meeting this week will be the public hearing on the 1950-51 budget, effective Oct. 1.

The budget, recently presented by City Manager Garland P. Franks to a selected local group of lawyers, auditors and bankers, totals $2,180,070, including the independent city water system.

The new budget is supported by anticipated tax income of $741,985 and revenue from other sources in the amount of $1,462,004.

Flood Threatening Trinity Lowlands

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Farmers in the Trinity lowlands around Elm Fork of the Trinity River northeast of Dallas were warned today to remove livestock from the area immediately because of a flood threat.

Water in the Elm Fork rose five feet between 6 p.m. yesterday and 6 a.m. today.

The water height of Elm Fork at Carrollton, Dallas County, was 12.2 feet this morning, more than six feet above flood stage.

Couple Who Have 18 Celebrate 22nd Wedding Date

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. 16. (AP)—Mrs. Robert Gosford is back home from the hospital with her 18th child in time for today's celebration of her 22nd wedding anniversary.

The newest member of the Gosford family is Ellen Carol—just three weeks old.

The Gosfords have only one set of twins.

Asked if it was much trouble to handle such a large group of children, she remarked:

"Oh, no, the school trains them in the daytime and we train them in the evening."

Chain Of Command In Korea Is Outlined

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—This is the way, in brief, the United Nations chain of command operates inKorea: mand operates in Korea:

Supreme commander— General Douglas MacArthur.

Southern commander—Major General Walton H. Walker, commander of the Eighth Army. Under him are two corps. One of these is the first corps, commanded by Major General Frank W. Milburn and composed of the U. S. First Cavalry Division and 24th Infantry Division, the 27th British Brigade, and other Allied forces. The other is the Ninth Corps, commanded by Major General John B. Coulter and including the U. S. Second and Twenty-Fifth Infantry Divisions.

Northern commander under General MacArthur — Major General Edward M. Almond, commanding the 10th Corps, which is composed of the U.S. First Marine Division, an unidentified infantry division and supporting troops.

Asian Assured As Next Head Of UN Assembly

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Agreement between Sir Zafrullah Khan of Pakistan and Nasrollah Entezam of Iran virtually assures an Asian will be the next United Nations Assembly president, it was learned tonight.

Both have been candidates for the post to succeed Carlos P. Romulo, Phillippines foreign minister.

Zafrullah Khan and Entezam have agreed to a caucus Monday night, just before the Tuesday opening of the fifth general assembly, to canvas how many pledges each has for the presidency. Low man has agreed to step out and deliver his pledges to the other, an informant revealed.

Limited Call Set For Air Force Reserve

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Air Force announced Friday that a limited number of air reserve units are being called to active duty and a few small supporting units of the Air National Guard will be called up soon.

These are in addition to calls announced earlier.

The new calls will complete the unit recall requirements for the time being, the announcement said.

Hambrick Officially Listed As Missing

A check with the Associated Press has shown that Pvt. S. R. Hambrick, son of Mrs. Dora Allen, 2412 Twenty-eighth Street, is officially listed as missing in action.

Hambrick twice before had been listed as missing in action and once as wounded in action.

Police Payoff Charged In A Gaming Probe

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—New York City's police commissioner sat stunned in a Brooklyn court last night as a bookie's voice—rasping from a wire-tapped recording—told of police payoffs and fake arrests to shield an alleged $20 million gambling ring.

Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien reddened with anger as he listened to the recording played by Assistant District Attorney Julius Helfand.

Other principals in the bizarre scene in Kings County Court were presiding Judge Samuel Leibowitz; the Brooklyn Grand Jury which has been probing gambling and other rackets for the past eight months; and Chief Inspector August W. Flath, top uniformed men in the entire New York City Police Department.

"We have others (records) beside this," Helfand said, "naming names in the police department. I ask you not to make me play them as it would prejudice our investigation."

The wire-tap recording was made on telephones in a Nassau County, Long Island headquarters of the alleged bookmaking ring.

A Brooklyn gambling squad earlier yesterday raided the headquarters, took telephone numbers after monitoring gambling bet calls and subsequently arrested 23 men, including four found at headquarters. All were held as material witnesses.

In addition, the alleged head of the ring, Harry Gross, 32, was seized by police while asleep in his Brooklyn hotel suite. They also took Gross' brother, Jack, 23, into custody. Helfand first requested that the brothers be held in $100,000 bail.

Business Newspaper Reports Ford Company Ready to Build Planes

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Chicago Journal of Commerce in a copyright stoy today said the Ford Motor Co. is soon to start manufacture of B-36 aircraft engines in a huge Chicago plant.

The newspaper said Ford will start making a "substantial quantity" of engines for the Air Forces big bomber "just as soon as possible."

The newspaper said thdere c

The newspaper said the "order for the deal was signed at Wright Field, Dayton, Friday and sent to Ford."

Col. C. H. Welch of the Air Material Command at Wright Field, said "no such contract was signed Friday."

The Journal of commerce account said that "Ford officials are planning to move immediately to get the huge plant (largest in the world) into production."

Man Celebrating His 106th Birthday Abed

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 16. (AP)—James A. Willis, who danced a little jig a year ago, stayed in bed today—his 106th birthday.

Willis, a Civil War veteran and a native of Paisley, Scotland, has been recuperating from the effects of a fall last May.

His birthday wish, he said, is "to regain my health—and keep my faith in God."

School Bells Ring Again - Tomorrow

School Crossing—Jack Fillyaw, patrolman, holds up traffic on Twenty-sixth Street while a young scholar makes his way across the busy thoroughfare. Police plan to paint white crosswalks at all school crossings, and to mark them as danger zones with 72-inch letters on the pavement. No right turns on red lights will be permitted in school zones. (Craft Studio photograph)

Mrs. J. P. Nelson catches upon some last minute work before school term begins and she is on duty as librarian at the high school. Mrs Nelson has worked at the school library 9 years, and last year became head librarian. She recalls that her first year at the school here, the library was simply the "east end of the study hall." Now it occupies a much more important position. —(Craft Studio photograph).

Unfortunately, checks must be filled out as well as registeration blanks in getting children back to school. Above is shown Mrs. J. S. Teague, left, shopping with her daughter, Miss Shirley Teague, right. In the center is Mrs. Gladys Matheson, manager of Mildred's. Miss Teague is a senior in Snyder High School and a majorette with the school band.—(Craft Studio photograph).

Representatives of 39 new teachers added to the Snyder school faculty this year are these two shown above looking over trophies at the high school. At the left is Mrs. Jane W. Harmon, sixth grade teacher. With her is Miss Clyde Connell, who will teach high school English. Mrs. Harmon is a graduate of the University of Texas and taught in Corpus Christi. Miss Connell was graduated from Louisiana Tech and taught in Oil City, La. —(Craft Studio photograph).

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BIOW

MARTHA SUE HUBBARD, the fourteen-year-old daughter of MR. and MRS. MYRON HUBBARD, 2900 Avenue V, threw native fishermen along the lower Rio Grande Valley into fits when she towed in a 6-foot man-eating shark on last week's fishing trip with her parents.

Using ordinary fishing equipment in the gulf waters near Aransas Pass, the indefatigible young woman, who is a ninth grader in the local school, landed the ugly sea monster all by herself.

He came well trimmed with venemous tusks and teeth and hungry mien, enough to scare a hardened man of the sea. But Martha Sue did it calmly enough, or, at least she will be in fine shape to enter classes tomorrow with the best tall story of all. Her father, a seasoned lover of fishing, caught a measly few that they brought home and put in the ice box. The shark they left for oggling spectators.

When MR. and MRS. JIM NORRED took the post as manager and caterer of Country Club back May 19, Mrs. Norred was already mentally running over favorite recipes and rearranging the kitchen. Mr. Norred was no doubt figuring how they could seat so many on the terrace if need be. With able spirit they have served up piping hot meals to civic clubs, have helped fete visiting firemen with "tastiest food we ever ate," and have dissolved perhaps a mountain of congealed salad for ladies' bridges. By next Saturday they will have said good-bye to the steam table, the big, roaring range, and the expansive dining room. They are taking another post, undecided as yet.

Dr. Harry Ward may get to return home in about three weeks now, said MRS. JOHN BROADDUS. After surgery Dr. Ward is recovering in Parkland Hospital, Dallas. "He was getting mountains of mail from Snyder," Mrs. Broaddus said.

"What fascinated me most in Parkland Hospital was the special room for premature babies," Mrs. Broaddus added. "My favorite was the one weighing one and one-half pounds—doing fine, too. It all brought back my nurse's training to me."

* * *

PLEASE NOTE: Would-be bridge enthusiasts may become bridge enthusiasts. MRS. W. P. THURMON, who loves the game and is adroit with a hand, is managing the Beginner's Bridge Club which will be sponsored by Newcomer's club. According to MRS. V. V. McGREW Newcomer's president, the new club to teach the girls who don't know how, begins this week. If interested, contact either lady.

MRS. ROSS BLANCHARD is in the throes of bliss over the swank school cafeterias purported to be mostly ready for hungry kiddos after school gets under way. Of the high school cafeteria, she said: "It has rose and aqua green walls, and those floors, you should see them! They're red and green asphalt tile, all blended exquisitely." The elementary cafeteria is equally glamorous.

My family, the FICKAS BELLS, are back, stated MRS. W. R. BELL, SR., tired but happily. She was baby sitter in their absence. "They took their first vacation after 10 years of marriage and three children. I say they deserved it. Of course I kept one child for them, or tried to, and they farmed one out to another member of the family, and took one. We're all glad it's over—but they enjoyed it!"

Cheer--Leaders for Snyder High School

Clad in black skirts and weskits and fold b louses with full sleeves, these cheer leaders are properly conspicuous at all Tiger games. They are, left to right, Martha Gayle Carey, Barbara Lewis, Islasu Blakely, and Betty Frances White. Sponsored by Mrs. Arel Favor, high school faculty member, 41 girls began daily practice for the pep squad last week. Members wear black skirts, white blouses, and gold sweaters. —(Joe Dave Scott photograph).

Ingenunity of Snyder Women Beats Rising Food Prices

"Steak cuts have gone up eight cents a pound in the last three weeks," sadly stated Mrs. J. C. Morgan, bookkeeper at the big D & R Food Store, 2518 Avenue R.

A woebegone housewife will find, as she pushes her food cart down the mammouth aisles of her favorite gorcery that soap powders have bounded from 29 cents to 35 cents a box in less than a month. Milk, so valuable to those rosy cheeks in the younger fry, shot up two cents a quart last week.

The same story held true at Furr Food Store. Dupree Woodruff, assistant manager, sounded unhappy, himself, about rising costs of living essentials.

"Coffee sold for 75 cents a pound last January; today it's 89 cents, headed for 90. A can of peaches went from 25 cents to over almost overnight. Shortening, the life blood of the cook's larder, went from 83 cents to 99 cents in the past unrestful two months."

WOMEN GRUMBLE

"It doesn't pay to live!" grumbled a harried young matron, as she coaxed her two children out of the store, obviously disgruntled by what her money didn't buy. Perhaps she had to forego Hershey bars for the kids; maybe the fresh produce counter, so crisp and enticing, would have shattered her budget. At any rate, the little family went home to their trailer home with a much slimmer grocery sack, fewer small luxuries.

Well, two alternatives present themselves to those of us who must budget on food.

1. Complain bitterly and skimp as you must. But you've got a long, weary road ahead of you if you choose this way. For we are entering a world conflict that may see your babies married!

2. Whip out that ingenuity which every son's mother has in ample quantities if she has the grit and energy to tap it. Avail yourselves of nutrition tips, money-saving recipes; and a big grin when the airy cheese casserole pleases the family practically as much as the Sirloin Tip would have. And it will if you don't forget the grin.

Here are some recipes we consider worth trying, if the 1c dollar is pulling a runaway on you. If you want to entertain a group of new made friends, perhaps in the yard on these ideal late summer nights, and yet must nip that cost, here it is. Mrs. Edward Bolger, recently from Waco, Tex., offers "an economical, easy-to-do, and filling meal-in-one, which always goes over with hungry crowds."

- franks
- tomatoes
- rice
- onion
- green peppers
- garlic
- canned tomatoes and tomatoe paste.

Saute the onions, garlic, green peppers until brown. Add tomato paste and canned tomatoes. Simmer shortly. Add cooked rice and chili powder. Cut your franks (pre boiled about 2 minutes) into ½ inch pieces and mix. Bake this meal in the oven 20 to 30 minutes. Cheese grated over the top adds a filip.

* * *

Mrs. Bruce Greer recommends this recipe for a bunch. She tried it many times on her church circle before coming to Snyder, and says it's grand, as it may be prepared the day before you serve it, placed in the ice box and forgotten.

It happily combines meat and about everything else one could want in an inexpensive luncheon or dinner dish. These quantities serve a small bridge group; triple for 20 people.

- 2 cups finely diced ham, or Chicken or tuna.
- 1 tblsp. granulated gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- cup boiling water
- ¾ cup vmiegar
- 2 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
- ½ tsp. salt
- ½ cup diced celery
- 1 can chopped pimento
- ½ tblsp. finely minced onion
- ½ cup mayonnaise

Soak the gelatin in cold water, dissolve it in boiling water. Add vinegar and salt, and cool. When the mixture begins to jell, add the other ingredients, with the exception of the eggs. When it is all mixed, rinse out a mold in cold water and slice eggs. Line the mold on bottom and sides with egg slices. Turn the mixture out on top of the egg slices. Set until firm. Turn the mold out, rinsing with warm water. Serve the individual salad on a lettuce leaf. No trim or dressing is needed, as it contains everything. With hot rolls, potato chips and, maybe, a slice of beet pickle, you're a hostess, my dear!

Now for Real Woman Talk. Say the food budget is Shot. Everybody is coming in to dinner. It's Friday. . . Well, you've got potatoes, surely. Mrs. Homer Graham, who has won blue ribbons on excellent dishes over several states, produces three potato recipes which should aid the most distraught and broke cook.

Potatoes Au Grautin

Boil your spuds. Cream them, like always. Add 1 cup of grated cheese. Put it in a casserole dish in the oven. Add grated cheese to the top. Heavily butter 3 slices of bread and crumble on top lavishly. Salt and pepper. Bring to a golden brown. Says Mrs. Graham, "Tisn't fancy, but they always eat it with relish, and isn't that the real test?"

Fancy Potato Recipe

Boil your potatoes three-fourths done. Slice them ¼ inch thick and line a casserole (good, old casserole. . . you need one til the day you die) Add a small green pepper, slivered fine, a small can of pimentos. Make a not-thick cream sauce, using butter browned and 1 tablespoon flour and milk, salt and pepper. Pour on sauce stirring a bit. Oven cook until sauce is thick.

Sweet Potato Puffs

Boil sweet potatoes, mashing them with masher throughly. Add a dash of sugar, cinnamon and butter. When they cool, form croquette balls by placing a marshmellow in the center and forming the ball of mashed potatoes. Dip this into beaten egg and then into corn flakes or potato chips, crumbled. Fry in deep, hot fat.

* * *

Mrs. Leona Weathers, who once ran the Manhattan Coffee Shop and has a keen feeling for good food served up properly, suggests a French Toast dish for your family's breakfast now and then. Growing kiddos love it; it cuts down on egg intake, is easy and tasty.

Mrs. Weathers mixes her batter of ½ cup of sweet milk and one egg. Salt added. She dips already-toasted bread into batter, then drops it into hot grease. When it comes out brown and succulent, immediately apply sugar and cinnamon. Serve piping hit.

Another Weathers favorite is a dessert-salad. Instant favorite with everybody, the best she has ever found through the years, the lady avers: It requires 1 box of orange jello mixed and chilled to thicken. She adds four large carrots, shredded, 1 cup of pecans. Chills thoroughly.

Mrs. Herod Hostess To Duce Bridge Club

Mrs. Leland Herod entertained the Duce Bridge Club at her home, 1603 Twenty-seventh Street, with a dessert bridge party Thursday afternoon.

Prizes went to Miss Thelma Leslie for high score; to Mrs. Marcel Josephson for traveling prize; and to Mrs. Roland Bell, Jr., for bingo prize.

Mrs. Herod served chocolate pie and coffee to Mrs. Josephson, Miss Leslie, Mrs. Bell, Miss Polly Harpole, Mis Katherine Northcutt, Mrs. R. M. Phillips, Mrs. Armour McFarland, Mrs. John Blum, Mrs. C. W. Popnoe, Mrs. Dell Smith, club members, and Mrs. Jimmie Rhodes, a guest.

Dale Walton to Marry Miss Alice Whitlow

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Whitlow announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Alice Whitlow, to Dale Walton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Walton. The couple will be married at 7 o'clock the night of Sept. 23 in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. E. K. Shepherd will perform the ceremony.

Miss Whitlow came here with her parents from Kilgore, Tex., where she was graduated from Kilgore High School in 1948. She lives with her parents at the Cabenhead Butane Co., Lamesa Highway, where Mr. Whitlow is employed.

Mr. Walton, a native of Snyder, lives with his parents on a farm northeast of Snyder. He graduated from Snyder High School in 1947 and attended Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and North Texas State College, Denton. He is employed as a reporter for the Snyder Daily News.

The couple will make their home in Snyder.

Cotton Industry Ready To Meet Emergency

MEMPHIS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Cotton is more capable than any other industry of quickly meeting the nation's military and essential civilian fiber needs, the Cotton Mobilization Committee was told Friday.

Harold A. Young of North Little Rock, Ark., president of the National Cotton Council, sent htat message to members of the industry-wide committee, in session here.

Mexico To Send Friend To Friendship Week

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16. (AP)—Mexico has promised to send a representative to "Friendship Week" in San Antonio this month. Tom Sutherland of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission made this announcement. President Aleman did not say who would represent the government. Mexico City already had promised to be represented at the celebration.

Texan Is Found Dead

WETUMKA, Okla., Sept. 16. (AP)—A man identified as Elmer Yandle McDanile, 47, of Greggton, Tex., was found dead at a railroad crossing here Friday. Sheriff R. C. Scott said he apparently went to sleep under a box car and was killed when a switch engine moved the car.

New Grand Jury For Conroe Ballot Case

CONROE, Tex., Sept. 16. (AP)—A new grand jury has been sworn in to continue an investigation which already has resulted in a total of 188 indictments against three persons charged with ballot tampering.

Judge Ernest Coker of special Ninth District Court swore in the new grand jury Friday.

The indictments by the previous grand jury were returned against La Verne Smith, unsuccessful candidate for county commissioner in the Democratic primary run off, his wife, and his brother, Clyde Smith.

Dallas Girl Drowns

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Hazel Agnes Pew drowned in a gravel pit in West Dallas Friday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Pew of Dallas.

Regimental song of the Seventh Cavalry is "Garry Owen".

"Roof-bolting" is a means of making mine tunnels safe.

New Insurance Law Is Sought By Agencies

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—A group of Texas insurance agents wants a new law that would permit accident insurance rates to be based on the cost of the insured's accidents or injuries.

The Texas Association of Insurance Agents announced it will support such a proposal before the next Legisiature.

Association President Hollis F. Denvers of Houston said the new plan would "place a premium on safety" because cost of the insurance would depend on cost of the claims covered by the policy.

Under the plan, he said, the insurance buyer would not pay the final premium until his policy expires. Then he would pay a premium based on the cost of accidents or injuries in which he was involved during the year.

Denvers said the present law, which provides for the buyer to pay a predetermined premium for a stated coverage, does not carry enough incentive for the buyer to keep down claims.

13 Texas Congressmen Vote To Admit General Marshall To Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The bill to allow Gen. George Marshall to serve as secretary of defense was approved Friday by 13 Texas congressmen. One voted against the bill, and the remaining seven were listed as not voting.

Both Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson voted for the bill when the Senate passed it.

For the bill in the House were Beckworth, Combs, Fisher, Gossett, Kilday, Mahon, Patman, Pickett, Regan, Teague, Thomas, Thompson, and Wilson. Lucas was listed as voting against.

Truman Leadership Can't Give Nation Unity in War Crisis

By J. EVETTS HALEY

In this relatively liter country it takes no presidential proclamation to remind us that we live in a world swayed by prejudicial appeal to special interests. The worst of these is not big business but big government. For years officials in Washington, obsessed with the idea of their omnipotence, have held to a policy of bombarding the people at well-timed intervals with the big guns of their propaganda forces. Speaker Sam Rayburn has usually laid down the verbal barrage against Texas.

Now again this perennial apologist for the major mistakes of Democratic presidents has tossed off one of his oratorical but hardly oracular statements. There was a time when congressmen returned to give an accounting of their stewardships. That worthy sense of individual obligation seems to have gone out the window, and the anointed leadership is now under primary obligation to the party instead of the country. Thus of late years the veteran Speaker has made frequent junkets back to Texas, either just in advance of, or to the so-called State Democratic Conventions, to help keep the slightly rebellious comrades regimented to the party line.

This year the carefully arranged stage was set at McKinney, where the regulars met at the home of a member of the Democratic Committee. The publicized devotion of the gathering to the cause of conservation of the soil was a stroke of political genius. Everybody — even to the rankest reactionary now getting 30 cents for calves and 40 for cotton—is agreed on soil conservation. Besides, there is a federal agency devoted to the purpose when not prostituted with politicking.

A DEEPER EROSION

Underneath this public window dressing at McKinney, however, was a genuinely serious problem of erosion. It has to do with the steady wearing away of public respect for the leader of the Democratic Party. Nearly every time the President opens his mouth, he unlooses a flood of resentment that cuts the gound from under his supporters, and leaves a gully of disapproval that no amount of federal funds can shore up. Erosion, therefore, is a proper subject for any caucus of fair dealers during these stormy days.

Yet out of this meeting so seriously concerned with conservation came no mention of saving the financial stability and the independent [illegible] of America. The group voiced no public concern over the conservation of the lives of American boys, now liquidating the costs of our political ineptitude. The occasion afforded a fine chance for a resounding statement on the kind of conservation the people are interested in most. Significantly, it was lacking.

Instead we received Mr. Rayburn's political ultimatum that this "campaign of knock and smear must cease." He had hardly got the words out of his mouth before they were relegated to the back page by Mr. Truman's callous and unjust smear of the Marines.

ANOTHER CRISIS

The second observation played up by the press was Mr. Rayburn's remark that "we are in a great crisis." We have all heard that before. Since the days of the first new deal we have heard little else. Could Mr. Rayburn be surprised that the eternal cry of wolf should at last pall on our sensibilities, and dull the reaction of the American public as to real danger when the wolf—or rather the bear — eventually did appear? People cannot continually live at a peak of emotional excitement, especially when it is pitched on a false base. But let us return to the profundities so freely shelled out by Speaker Rayburn.

"I care not whether you hate or love Harry S. Truman," he said, with his emphasis of the unfortunate truth. "He is President of the United States and will be until Jan. 20, 1953," of course not adding, unless impeached." Then he drove home his telling argument. "He is our leader, or we have none." At last Mr. Rayburn planted his mental feet on solid ground, and succinctly summed up our situation in the final words of this quotation. Such obvious candor should assure his continued re-election from the Red River District.

NEED MORE THAN UNITY

Yet it will hardly recoup the erosion of public respect and confidence suffered by Mr. Truman. After all any man of common sense, not because, but in spite of what is said from Washington, knows that the country is in danger. That it is of our own making but accentuates the deadly nature of our predicament. But that it can be resolved by blind allegiance to an administration of political chicanery and inepititude, as Mr. Rayburn urges, is fantastic. That is not the way to salvation but to suicide.

Mr. Rayburn pleads that "we must have unity at home and unity among the democracies of the world if Democracy and civilization are to survive." That too may be true. But only a change in leadership can bring us unity. We must be able to look to men of integrity; to men primarily interested in the future of America.

For all too long there has been woeful lack of faith in the men who pretend to lead us. The rest of the reds and misfits must be cleaned out of Washington. Some relatively innocent folks may be side-swiped and hurt because of the rosy-tinted company they have been keeping. In spite of the hullabaloo raised, the injustices will hardly be excessive. For in a world still responsive to natural law there is no rule to exempt a man from his indiscretions. Even the lovable Falstaff lamented, tongue in cheek, that "company, rotten company, has been the ruin of me."

Meanwhile Mr. Truman, whom the Speaker characterizes as "a man of courage and decision," categorically asserts that there will be no change in the company he keeps as President. It seems possible that Mr. Rayburn confuses arrogance with courage, and muleheadedness with decision. In the breakdown that threatens the nation the Constitution provides a way out. However it will take character in Congress to use it.

College Professor Is Stooley, 15 Warrants Issued From Evidence

MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 16. (AP) — A 40-year college professor fashioned his own course in organized gambling and came up with results which enabled Delaware County to pass out 15 warrants.

District Attorney C. William Kraft, Jr., said his undercover man in the county's five-month investigation of horse race book-makers, numbers men and gamblers was Harry W. Allison who teaches at the Penn State Extension College in Swarthmore.

Kraft said Allison took the job during the summer vacation and his work resulted in the issuance of 15 warrants and the holding of eight men for grand jury action on charges of gambling.

The district attorney said Allison answered an advertisement in Philadelphia papers for a part time criminal investigator. He was hired because gamblers in the county too easily recognized police officers, Kraft said.

Inmate Of A Mental Institute Wins Vote

MARUETTE, Mich., Sept. 16. (AP) — Marquette County Democrats are trying today to find out how to get rid of their nominee for county treasurer—because he was in a mental institution when he won Tuesday's primary.

He is T. Edward Aho, 52, whose vote-getting Finnish name carried him to a 1,241 to 818 victory over Stephen Sarka.

Probate Court sent Aho to a state hospital in July on a charge of accosting and soliciting a small girl for immoral purposes.

Information on sex cases involving children is not given out as a matter of court policy, so the story didn't get far. Aho had filed for the primary a month earlier.

Democratic leaders have asked Attorney General Stephen J. Roth for an opinion on how to remove Aho from the ballot and substitute another candidate.

Ride Of 50 Years Ago Paid For By Woman

MOUNT VERNON, O., Sept. 16. (AP) — Nearly 50 years ago a young girl on her way to Zanesville to be married boarded a Baltimore & Ohio railroad train here.

She didn't buy a ticket because she thought her fiance had. Later she found out he had not.

Friday, Francis Ault, B&O agent, here, said he received $1 in the mail from the woman, whom he did not identify, now living in Glendale, Calif. With the bill was a note which said:

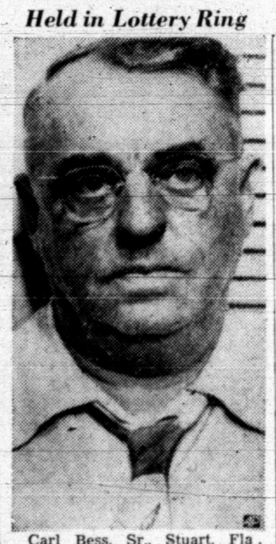

"Now I am an old woman and have not long in this world, and I want my house in order."

Mighty Mo Goes Into Action

The U.S.S. Missouri — shown here firing a broadside at her target during Caribbean maneuvers — went into action Friday in the Korean war. The world's mightiest battleship blazed away with her 16-inch guns at the east coast Red-held port of Samchok on the Sea of Japan. The battleship made an 11,000-mile speed dash to the battle area from Norfolk, Va.

Held in Lottery Ring

Carl Bess, Sr., Stuart, Fla., hardware store owner, is one of several men arrested by FBI agents in an alleged two-million dollar international lottery racket. Bess, released on $10,000 bond, was listed by the FBI as "world agent" for the ticket distribution.

Sham Fighters Slowed By Rain In Germany

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 16. (AP) — American troops fighting a mock war in defense of western Germany today encountered a real foe—rain.

The rain slowed the building of a pontoon bridge across the Main River and held back a major offensive drive by the First Constabulary Brigade. It also grounded fighter planes counted upon by the ground troops for tactical support.

Texas Retail Sales Up 22 Per Cent Over August Of Last Year

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP) — Retail sales in Texas were up 22 per cent in August over August of last year.

They receded four per cent under July's all-time high, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said today.

In the July to August drop, the bureau reported household and appliance stores had a 23-per cent reduction. Motor vehicle dealers' sales were off 16 per cent; those of farm implement dealers, 12 per cent; and hardware stores, 7 per cent. Contrary to the over-all monthly decline for durable goods stores, jewelry sales jumped 21 per cent from July; lumber and building material dealers and furniture stores had smalled increased of 6 and 3 per cent respectively.

All durable goods stores recorded higher sales last month than in August, 1949. Lumber and building material sales were up 63 per cent; jewelry, 35 per cent; farm implements sales, 32 per cent; furniture and household appliances, 29 per cent; and motor vehicle dealers sales, 25 per cent.

Houston Drivers Ask Increase In Wages

HOUSTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Houston bus drivers have asked for a 25-cent hourly wage boost.

Such a hike would boost the wage scale from a current $1.31 to $1.56 an hour.

Earlier this week C. C. Stone, president of the bus drivers union local, had said the group had asked for a "substantial" increase. The exact figures were not announced until today.

"Dear Joannie"

This is three-year-old Joan McCormick of Collingdale, Pa., whose soldier-father wrote a touching letter to her and her six-year-old sister, Rosa Marie. The letter was received three days after the girls' mother was notified their father, Pfc. John J. McCormick, 28, had been killed in action in Korea.

Pictures Of Coeds In Nude Burned In Heat Of Parental Protests

SEATTLE, Sept. 16. (AP) — Undeveloped negatives of 284 nude University of Washington freshmen girls were burned Friday, and school officials hope the fuss stirred by the photographs would die as quickly as the flames.

The films were tossed into a heating plant furnace, with Dr. Raymond B. Allen, university president, and Miss Barbara Honeyman of the Columbia University Constitution Laboratory, among those looking on.

The pictures were taken early this week as part of a Columbia research project on the study of body builds and human behavior. Miss Honeyman was the photographer.

A storm of parental protest broke when some of the girls complained over being "snapped" in the raw. University authorities said the pictures were to have been taken only with the consent of the subjects, but in the rush of a big lineup of girls undergoing entrance physical examinations the explanations were overlooked.

Conferees Agree On Cuts In Administering Economic Control Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP) — Senate-House conferees on a huge emergency defense bill reportedly agreed tentatively today on about a 50 per cent slash in funds for administering the new economic controls law.

The conference committee was said to have decided to allow around $30 million for operation of the controls program, instead of the $60 million voted by the Senate.

The conferees are ironing out differences between a $17,192,000,000 measure approved by the Senate and a $16,771,000,000 House bill. They scheduled another meeting later in the day, hoping to finish the job by nightfall.

Rayburn To Dedicate Stadium In East Texas

COMMERCE, Tex., Sept. 16. (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn is to speak Sept. 23 at dedication ceremonies for the new $300,000 memorial stadium at East Texas State Teachers College here.

The stadium will be dedicated to 76 former students killed in the last war. Others to speak include H. L. Mills and Walter Woodull of Houston and Mrs. Willa K. Fall of Dallas. The Kilgore College Rangerettes also will take part.

Mickey Rooney Catches Up On His Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. (AP) — Mickey Rooney is caught up in his alimony payments to his former wife, Betty Jane Rase.

She dropped contempt of court action against the actor Friday, disclosing that he had paid $3,541 in support payments and a $3,000 promissory note which he owed. Rooney had agreed to pay $12,500 alimony yearly plus $5,000 for support of two sons, Mickey Jr., 4, and Timothy, 3.

He is now married to Actress Martha Vickers.

Boilermakers Union Says Wages Are Up

HOUTON, Sept. 16 (AP) — Boilermakers union officials today said members in a five-state southwestern area have received a 12 1-2 cent hourly wage boost.

They said the contract was signed Friday by union representatives and a committee representing 150 contractors who employ boilermakers in the area. The new hourly wage is $2.37 1-2.

States involved are Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, and New Mexico.

Negroes Suing For Equal Facilities

WINNSBORO, Tex., Sept. 16. (AP) — An attorney for Negores suing the Winnsboro Independent School District says they want equal school facilities and "do not want their children put into white schools."

Attorney Otto Mullinax wrote attorneys for the district, "no fair minded person could walk through the two establishments, or even drive by them, without having the inequalities strike him in the face.

"Nearly all the Negro patrons of the school express themselves as pleased with improvements made and proposed to be made and say that they do not want their children put into white schools."

Draft Notice Is Late

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 16. (AP) Pat Rosemann's draft summons reached him yesterday, too late. The 19-year-old Marine reserve left for the West Coast, and Korea, with his unit Aug. 2.

And his parents think he may have been in the invasion forces which landed on the west coast near Seoul.

The last letter received from him said: "Don't expect to hear from me for awhile."

His father, H. L. Rosemann, wrote the draft board.

Theft Reported From Home on Twentieth St.

Groceries, dishes, and cooking utensils were reported stoken from the home of Paul Lee, who lives behind the Wells Trailer Court on Twentieth Street.

Lee told police the goods were taken from his home when he and his family were out of town, sometime between last Sunday and Thursday afternoon.

Lee said his door was not locked, but the screen was hooked. Police found that entrance was gained by the burglar when he pushed the screen loose and unhooked it.

Capt. Robert J. Mills To Japan From Korea

Mrs. Robert J. Mills has received word that her husband, Capt. Mills, is now in Ashiya, Japan, after having seen active duty on Korea.

Captain Mills expects to be sent back to Korea again in the future. He has not yet seen his son, David William Mills, born Aug. 28, in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Mills lives here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Terry, 2604 Avenue V.

Prowler Escapes When Police Are Summoned

Police were unable to locate a man last night who reportedly broke into Mallards Cafe on Twenty-sixth Street.

The incident was reported by John W. Mallard, owner of the cafe, about 10 o'clock last night.

Mallard said he wa trying to open the rear door of his cafe when he saw a man inside. The cafe owner immediately ran across the street to call police and the man escaped.

Business Outlook

Climbing Stock Prices Show People Lose Faith in Dollar

By J. A. LIVINGSTON

During the wage-price-profits boom of 1947 and 1948, a favorite comment in Washington was: "At least the speculative fever hasn't caught on in Wall Street." That can't be said today. Wall Street is its old, volatile self and having a gay, exciting time participating in the post-Korean inflationary upsurge.

The stocks of the nations railroads, Pennsylvania, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, New York Central, which have been despised for so many years as not having any oomph—any growth potential—have been particularly splurgy. As a group, rail shares have pushed to the highest level since mid-1946. And industrial stocks, which early this year surpassed their 1946 highs, are climbing toward the heights attained just prior to Korea. This is not all to the good. It's a warning to Washington that people aren't too happy about the dollar.

NOT A MARGIN MARKET

This is no I.O.U. market like 1929. The rise has been financed pretty solidly, with cash, not borrowing. In the last two months, debit balances of customers of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, giant brokerage firm, whose offices blanket the country, have increaed only seven-tenths of one per cent. And, if more evidence is needed, brokers' loans, as indicated by the weekly statements of reporting Federal Reserve members banks, are down from $1,300 million before Korea to less than a billion today. No margin buying that.

Contrarily, the stock market advance comes in the face of a higher normal corporation tax and a pledge of a retroactive excess profits tax next year. Normally, such tidings would be bad news. But, apparently, investors and speculators care not. The inference is that they are more afraid of inflation than of lower corporation earnings and dividends.

Again in August, redemptions of savings bonds rose, and topped new sales. Presumably most of these cash-ins were "invested" in electric refrigerator, down payments on homes, new cars, etc. People feared wartime shortages. But some of the bonds may have gone into common stocks.

PROPERTY DESIRED

The Treasury faced the job of persuading Americans that savings bonds are good "buys." The 43 per cent deterioration in the purchasing power of the dollar since 1939 has made many persons property conscious. Unlike the depression 'thirties, people are less worried about safety of principal than of "real" value. They have the feeling it's better to buy soon than later, because prices are going up.

Commodity prices are not going up quite as rapidly as they did immediately after Korea. Nor are department store sales. But business men are still bidding up prices of raw materials and housewives are still buying more facily than they did a year ago. The story can best be told statistically. The following table shows (1) how sensitive commodity prices have gone up each week from the preceding week after Korea and (2) how much department store sales have week of a year ago

|---|---|---|
| First Week | 1.9 | 10 |
| Second Week | 3.0 | 8 |
| Third Week | 3.2 | 25 |
| Fourth Week | 3.8 | 46 |
| Fifth Week | 1.0 | 42 |
| Sixth Week | 1.6 | 20 |
| Seventh Week | 0.3 | 25 |
| Eighth Week | 2.0 | 12 |
| Ninth Week | 1.8 | 16 |
| Tenth Week | 0.7 | 5 |
| Eleventh Week | 2.6 | 8 |

Korea obviously changed the economic atmosphere. Prior to June 25, when the North Koreans took the plunge beneath the 38th parallel, commodity prices were showing downward tendencies, and department store sales were barely holding their own above a year gained over the comparable week of a year ago.

WORKERS GET COCKIER

The inflation air has gone to workers' heads. If they don't like the boss or the job, well. . . . For the fifth successive month the quit rate has risen. It's now 19 per 1,000 workers, as against 14 a year ago. At the same time, the layoff rate has dropped to six per thousand, as against 21 per thousand a year ago. No boss can spare manpower. And, as during World War I, the tobacco, textile, and food products plants are having an especially hard time keeping help. Workers are quitting to go to higher-paying jobs in metal-working plants.

The price boom here has pleasant repercussions abroad. The Wall Street Journal reports that Europe is selling steel in the U. S. gray market at double standard prices here. Imported zinc is "higher by 50 per cent and copper by a third." Coffee, rubber, wool are 75 to 200 per cent above a year ago in price. Result U. S. imports from foreign countries are at the highest level since December, 1948. That contributes to a much better trade balance between this country and the rest of the world—especially since foreign nations have cut their purchases here because of a shortage of dollars (see chart).

Man Injured In Truck Car Collision Friday

Willie Greenway, 37-year-old Snyder carpenter, suffered fractured ribs as a result of an automobile-truck collision Friday morning three miles northwest of Snyder on the Lubbock highway.

The accident occurr. 7 Mr. Greenway, driving north in a 1937 Chevrolet coach, was attempting to turn left into the yard of a tourist court, according to E. W. Green, highway patrolman.

The car and a 1950 Chevrolet truck driven by Lyndon Allen Porter, 27, of Seagraves, Tex., collided, the truck then striking a parked 1936 Ford sedan owned by Raymond McBride, of Snyder.

The truck and both cars were damaged heavily, Green said. Greenway was charged in justice court with failure to yield right-of-way to an approaching vehicle, and Porter was charged with operating a vehicle with defective brakes.

Gallup Poll

Survey Finds Europe and Asia Rated Equally for U. S. Defense

By GEORGE GALLUP

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 16 — Should major American emphasis be placed on the defense of Asia—or Europe?

This question, one of the fundamental issues of our time, was posed anew last week by Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a television broadcast. He gave priority to Europe, for the present.

The American public rates the situation this way:

More voters questioned in a national survey by the Institute give priority to Europe than to Asia. For every one naming Asia there are four who name Europe.

But by far the largest number think that both hemispheres are equally important for our defense—in other words, that we cannot afford to let one take precedence over the other.

Clearly, the average American voter has no inside information about the relative status of the defenses of Europe and Asia, or the relative problems involved. Facts not known to him may make it compelling that we concentrate for the present on rearming Europe.

But as a general principle or policy the public apparently hesitates to see one sphere given top importance, judging by the following vote:

"What do you think is more important for the United States to do?

"A. Try to keep the rest of Asia from falling under Russian control, or,

"B. Try to stop Russia from taking over Western Europe?"

Here is the division of sentiment:

| | Per Cent |
|---|---|
| Keep Russia out of Asia | 9 |
| Keep Russia out of Western Europe | 31 |
| Both Equally important | 48 |
| No opinion | 13 |
| Total | 100 |

Acheson's View

In television broadcast Secretary of State Acheson said, in answer to a question, that it is "very hard" to put major attention anywhere in the world, that all points of tension must be looked at.

"But I think," he continued, "we must put out major effort at the present moment into creating strong North Atlantic defense forces.

"If we have those forces—strong, well-equipped, able and ready to deter aggression—then problems all over the world take on a different shape. Such forces alone will change problems in Greece, in Turkey and in Yugoslavia, in the Middle East and in the Far East."

Today's survey results are interesting in the light of Rebublican attacks in recent years on the Truman administration's policy in China and the Far East. Republicans have accused the administration of short-sightedness in "washing its hands" of China and paying too great attention to Europe.

The question of where to concentrate our strength came up in a major way during the first two years of World War II.

A fundamental decision had to be made whether to knock out Hitler first, while fighting a holding action in the Pacific, or to go after Japan first and then finish Hitler off.

The decision, of course, was to settle the European war first.

Love Charm Used In Identifying Skeleton In Field Near Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP) — A love tag—the kind you can make in a coin-operated machine—was one of the links to identification of a man whose skeleton was found in a grassy field here.

The skeleton was found Thursday under a tree. Detective Captain Will Fritz identified the man as Harry McCready, 35, of Tulsa, Okla. There were no apparent marks or injuries. Justice of the Peace Pierce McBride ordered an autopsy.

Fritz said McCready was to have reported to a Tulsa siesmograph company to go to work, but never showed up. His wife reported him missing July 16. The missing persons report said he frequently suffered from amnesia.

The tag found in the man's pockets said: "June and Mac-love."

It was the kind that is made in machines in depots or fair grounds.

Fritz found the missing person report by Mrs. McCready. He called the Tulsa address. But she was gone. He was put in touch with the siesmograph company. The company gave him the name of McCready's mother in Denver. The mother told him the missing man's wife had gone to live with her parents, who are Mr. and Mrs. Ace Phillips, in Pampa, Tex.

Finally Fritz reached Mrs. McCready by phone Friday. She described her husband's wedding band, and laundry marks on his trousers. She told Fritz her husband had been in Brazil with a seismograph company; that they were in Dallas early in July; that her husband was supposed to have gone to a job in Tulsa, and she was to follow later.

The description fitted. Fritz asked:

"Was there a charm, or something, that said, "June and Mac-love?"

"Yes," she said. "We got it at the railroad station."

Onion Truck Burns

MARHALL, Sept. 16. (AP) — A blaze of undertermined origin destroyed 10 tons of onions and a trailer truck near Hallsville Friday. Clarence Ray McClain, McKinney, was the truck driver.

Shrimp Go To Shallow Water In Bad Storms

PASCAGOULA, Miss., Sept. 16. (AP)—Shrimp head for shallow water when hurricanes churn the sea, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service believes.

Stewart Springer, fishery engineer in charge of the government trawler, Oregon, said it has been determined that this happened during the big blow of Aug. 30 which went inshore near Pensacola, Fla.

"We may eventually know in what way the weather affects activities of shrimp," Springer said. "We think we know now, but we need to establish more proof."

PERSONALS

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Cockrell and family, 2311 Thirtieth Street, returned to Snyder Friday, after spending several weeks summering at their ranch home at Van Horn, Tex. Miss Joan Cockrell, their oldest daughter, who attended the Hockaday School in Dallas last year, will enroll this year in Snyder High School as a sophomore.

Mrs. W. S. Cumbie, 2606 Avenue K, is ill this week. Mrs. Cumbie is the manager of the high school cafeteria. She will not be able to begin duties there tomorrow. Mrs. Ross Blanchard will replace her until she returns.

Mr. and Mrs. George Killam had as house guests Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford from Stamford, Tex. Mr. Ford, an attorney, is associated in Stamford with Judge Charles E. Coombs. The Fords attended the Stamford-Snyder ball game with the Killams.

Mrs. Jake Springer has started to work as clerk in the offices of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Randolph and children of Gage, Okla., and Mrs. Randolph's mother, Mrs. Vera Temple from Amarillo, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burleson, 811 Twenty-ninth Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Haney have as visitors this week Mrs. Charles Batridson from Nevada. Mrs. Batridson is Mrs. Haney's sister.

Willard Jones was in Snyder on business last week. Mr. Jones, who is the owner of the Lazy J Ranch near Camp Wood, Tex., left Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Devers went to Midland Thursday night to attend a singing convention, but were stopped at Stanton where a cloud burst halted all traffic. They returned to Snyder after sitting for hours on the flooded road, along with occupants of at least 100 other cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Yoder and family, 2300 Thirty-second Street, went to Roswell, N. M. last week and spent a few days visiting Mr. Yoder's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Yoder and family. The Yoders went to Abilene Saturday and brought back with them Mr. Yoder's mother, Mrs. D. P. Yoder, who has been ill in Hendrick Memorial Hospital. She will be at home at the Thirty-second Street address.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Worrell, 809 Twenty-seventh Street, went to Lubbock one day last week. Mr. Worrell attended to business; Mrs. Worrell visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. C. Worrell.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Roe and small son, Jerry Roe, 3107 Avenue U, are in Clovis, N. M., where they are visiting with Mrs. Roe's mother, Mrs. C. N. Firestone. They are expected back tonight.

Mrs. Betty Wendell Snyder is now associated with City Floral. Mrs. Snyder will continue her radio programs and will do publicity work for the florist's shop on the Big Spring highway.

Mrs. W. W. Adcock and her children went to Midland Saturday to visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Spivey.

Ben Pennington left Friday for Flagstaff, Ariz., where he will visit friends. Mr. Pennington is a building contractor here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sides and daughter, 314 Twenty-eighth Street, returned Friday from a two week's vacation trip to San Antonio and other Texas cities. Mr. Sides will return to his post as executive at Woolley Tool & Machine Co.

Mrs. Gaither Bell and daughter, Miss Belinda Bell, were expected to arrive in Snyder this week end. Mr. Bell will follow shortly. The Bells who have been ranching near Bison, S. D., are returning to make their home in Snyder. They will live temporarily with Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Morris, 1802 Twenty-eighth Street. Another expected visitor to the Morris household is their daughter, Mrs. Audra Johnson from San Antonio, who will arrive early next week for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gross, 1704 Twenty-eighth Street, have had as visitors Mrs. H. B. Broaddus from Colorado City and Mrs. Broaddus' daughter, Miss Mary Broaddus from Bakersfield, Calif.

Miss Ruby Bruton, 2008 Twenty-seventh Street, will leave Tuesday for her annual vacation from her duties as secretary of the First Baptist Church. Miss Bruton plans to visit with her mother, Mrs. Willie Bruton in Hale Center, Tex. She will be away two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Moss, 3749 Avenue V, had as visitors last week Mrs. Bill Moss, Mrs. I. Williams, and Miss Dixie Williams, all from Joplin, Mo.

Dr. Merton Minter of San Antonio and James B. Dunnigan of Breckenridge joined C. T. McLaughlin at the Diamond M ranch yesterday, and the group left at once by air for Las Vegas, Nev. They plan to return the middle of this week. While in the West, they plan to spend a day or two in Los Angeles.

Wounded in $23,000 Payroll Holdup

Police and a priest give aid to two critically-wounded messengers who were shot in the back by three cold-blooded gunmen who escaped with a $23,000 payroll in New York City. Police said the messengers were shot without warning in a third floor corridor as they left the office of Moran-Lindall Co.

Buddy De Sylva's Son Left Out Of Will

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. (AP) — Buddy de Sylva's illegitimate son is without funds for his support, the child's mother alleges, and the late composer-producer's $5 million estate may have to be tapped.

The petition asked probate court Friday to allow $750 monthly for the boy until his $50,000 trust fund comes due when he is 21. The child, Stephan, now six, is De Sylva's acknowledged son by his former secretary, Marie Ballentine.

Miss Ballentine, 35, once testified that De Sylva offered her $500,000 for the child, and paid $750 monthly support for more than a year. De Sylva, 55, died July 11, leaving the bulk of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Marie de Sylva.

Another East German Official In Trouble

BERLIN, ept. 16. (AP)—Dr. Hermann Kastner, deputy prime minister of East Germany, appeared today to be the latest official marked for political oblivion in the Russian zone.

Kastner, chairman of the Liberal Democratic Party (LDP), was not mentioned in the party's list of top candidates for next month's parliamentary elections. In Communist-controlled East Germany, that usually means one thing for a politician—he's all washed up in the big time.

Already, half a dozen leading officials in East Germany have been made to walk the political plank, presumably for their waning ardor to Soviet Russia.

Army Major To Return To Germany For Probe Into Missing Funds

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Maj. Harold D. Banning, held by the Army here in the alleged "misapplication" of $250,000 in government funds, will be flown to Europe to face questioning in Berlin.

Sixth Army headquarters at the Presidio, where the 39-year-old finance officer has been held since his arrest Monday in Reno, announced Friday they had been ordered to return Banning to his former post to face an Army probe.

The major said he was in Reno on a 60-day leave to obtain a divorce from his wife who is now in Germany. He insisted his accounts were in order when he left Europe.

He said he entered Germany a year ago with two suitcases containing $100,000 in cash and that he returned to the United States with the same amount.

Doctors Come and Go

ALBANY, Tex., Sept. 16. (AP)—The people of Albany hardly got to know Dr. Jack Walker and Dr. J. W. Terrell.

The two young physicians opened their office here in July—two months ago.

This week Dr. Walker reported for duty in the Navy and Dr. Terrell for duty in the Air Force.

I could not get the nomination because I reserved the right to vote as I pleased but Hurrah for McKinley! L. J. Nichols.

The reproduction of Triss by our home talent club last Thursday night was well attended, in fact the largest audience they have ever had was present, and the actors did their parts to perfection.

You... and Your Home

By JAY TROST.

Mmm..m..m..m!...IS FOR MAPLE!

Have you been promising yourself for a long time to do something about that dull, drab bedroom in your home? If I only knew where to start," you say.

Let's start with MAPLE. There is nothing like it to give a room that feeling of mellow friendliness. One reason for this is that MAPLE blends so wonderfully with color.

The first and most important consideration in a bedroom is, of course, a comfortable bed. Around this, your entire decorating scheme is built. MAPLE makes itself at home with many fabrics. You can't go wrong with chintz, gingham, or provincial-print cotton. Give a little time and thought to selecting your colors and patterns.

In the room sketched above, a gay, plaid gingham has been effectively combined with unbleached muslin for spread, curtains and dustruffle . . . all tubable. You can make these yourself if you're clever (and you probably are). The color is repeated in the oval braided rugs. A platform rocker in the same rich burnished MAPLE as the bed adds an authentic touch of Early American charm.

MAPLE is good in any room in the house. It combines well with other woods, too, so don't be afraid to use an old walnut chest, or an odd mahogany or oak table with it. That makes for interesting contrast.

Come in and see us, won't you? We'd like to assist you with your decorating and furnishing problems.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

TO CUT COSTS wherever possible, C. H. Goodall, 2116 Monroe St., LaPorte, Ind., designed this brick veneer house to accommodate family with limited budget. This interesting rambler, Plan G-23, was built and sold in Indiana for $10,000, including garage and land. Window walls of double pane insulating glass feature the 14 by 23-foot living room. A corner fireplace is built at one end of this room. A movable bookcase creates the den, which can serve as a child's room. Later the bookcase can be swung against the wall to provide a second living room or study.

More Advanced In Scurry Than Dallas County

The county clerk's office here is nine years ahead of the Dallas County office, at least in one respect.

The office in Dallas announced this week the use of a new type of birth registration certificate, billfold size, set in laminated plastic, for use in lieu of a regular certified copy.

Jimmie Billingsley, county clerk here, says this type of certificate has been available through his office since 1941, differing from those used in Dallas only in that these are not set in plastic.

Now that school has started in three of the county's four schools, and will start in Snyder tomorrow, there is an increased demand for birth certificate copies, Billingsley said. It is mandatory that schools in Texas have proof of the age of all students.

Persons registering with the selective service board must also show proof of their nativity and age, he said, but the draft here has not so far been great enough to show any increase in the call for certificates. Also, most persons obtained ther certificates during World War II and still have them.

The clerk's office occasionally has calls for certified duplicates of marriage licenses that have been lost, and sometimes issues new licenses for couples wishing to remarry after being divorced.

Five Texans Killed, Ten Wounded on Korean Casualty List

Annapolis, Md., was at one time called the "Athens" of the new world.

Police Hold Two Men After Knifing Here

Two men were being held by police yesterday for creating a disturbance Friday night near the Southland Ice Co. on Twenty-sixth Street.

Police went to the scene when the night manager of the company called and said that one man had been cut with a kinfe.

Officers found the victim slashed with a knife over the left kidney. The wound was about five inches long and one inch deep.

The victim was taken to the Snyder Hospital and upon completion of treatment he stated that he had been attacked by two men, whom he named.

Both men were taken to the city jail, one charged with being drunk and creating a disturbance, and the one who did the knifing charged with assault, Ed Basinger, assistant chief of police, said today.

Representative Of Social Security Here

E. Glen McNatt, field representative of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration, will be at the Chamber of Commerce here at 2 o'clock Tuesday. Persons wishing assistance with retirement claims or death claims under the Social Security Act, or needing information about their social security accounts, should call at that time for necessary help and information.

Woman's Culture Club Opens Fall Sessions

Mrs. A. P. Morris delivered the president's address at the fall opening session of the Woman's Culture Club Thursday afternoon. The group, meeting for the first time since early summer, gathered at Mrs. Morris's home, 1802 Twenty-eighth Street.

A short business meeting was held before the women played 42.

Two guests present were Mrs. Lois Wilsford and Mrs. J. E. Le Mond.

Members there were Mrs. A. C Alexander, Mrs. J. P. Avery, Mrs. J. W. Clawson, Mrs Mabel Y. German, Mrs. Henry Kelley, Mrs. Lora Miller, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, Mrs. Roy Stewart, Mrs. S. L. Terry, Mrs. J. A. Woodfin, Mrs. R. W. Cunningham, Mrs. A. C. Martin, Mrs. W. W. Gross and Mrs. Morris.

The hostess served ice cream and cake.

The club will meet next on Tuesday, Sept. 26, in the home of Mrs. R. W. Cunningham.

Be left Out Of Alice Election Contest Suit

ALICE, Sept. 16. (AP) Witnesses won't be asked about their political affiliations in an election contest suit brought here by Dan J. Scruggs against W. R. Perkins.

Scruggs' attorneys agreed Friday to confine their questioning to efforts to prove enough illegal ballots to show him the winner.

No Advance In Lunch Price At Snyder Schools

The school cafeterias in Snyder will continue to offer meals to students at the regular price of 25 cents and to adult school personnel at the regular rate of 35 cents, M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of schools, said yesterday.

Schools in some sections of Texas have raised their cafeteria prices because of the general advance in food costs. The cost of food has risen in Snyder also, but no change has been contemplated in the cafeteria prices, Stanfield said.

Gifts of surplus foodstuffs—commodities purchased by the federal government under its farm price-support program—are sent to Snyder's schools as well as other schools with cafeteria service, but it is impossible to determine beforehand how much will be sent, he said.

These gifts materially lessen the financial burden of serving meals to the students and faculty members in the various schools. The nominal price of the meals does not pay the cost of serving them, even with the federal gifts of food products, but if helps to lower the operating costs of cafeterias.

Meals are served without cost to students unable to pay the regular price.

The cafeteria at the new elementary school northwest of the city will not be open for about two weeks, Stanfield said, and students there must bring their lunches until the cafeteria is completed.

Home Demonstration Club Meets in Home Of Mrs. H. J. Schulze

Mrs. J. J. Schulze of the Bethel community entertained the Union Home Demonstration Club Wednesday at its first meeting since the summer vacation.

Mrs. Mildred Sparks, acting County Home Demonstration Agent, demonstrated children's clothing and using steam gauges on sewing machines. The club elected Mrs. Schulze and Mrs. Jack Wright as club demonstrators.

Appointed to buy Christmas cards to help the treasury were Mrs. Bill Pate, Mrs. Howard Hogue, and Mrs. Wright.

Ice cream and cake were served to the following Mrs. C. L. King, Mrs. Jim Moss, Mrs. Lester Gladson, Mrs. R. E. Smith, Mrs. John Langford, Mrs. Myrtle Banks, Mrs. Wright, and Mrs. Hogue.

Marriage of Helen Shield and Charles Hougland Announced

Mrs. Eupha Shields, 2901 Avenue M, announces the marriage of her daughter, the former Miss Helen Shields, to Charles Hougland Aug. 25, in the First Presbyterian Church Denton, Tex.

Mrs. Hougland wore a beige street frock with brown accessories for the ceremony. She is widely-known in Snyder, having been graduated from the high school here.

Mr. Hougland is from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hougland are studying in the education department of the North Texas State College. They make their home in Denton.

Invitations Out To Silver Tea September 28

"Well, 700 stamps have been licked and 700 invitations have gone out for our big wedding gown silver tea!" said Mrs. Sid Worrell, publicity chairman for the event which will be sponsored by the circles and Woman's Guild of the First Methodist Church.

To be held in the home of Mrs. R. H. Curnutte, 2306 Thirty-second Street, from 3 to 7 o'clock Thursday, Sept. 28, the much-talked-about event is slated to make silver tea history.

"Where-oh-where can I ever find a woman weighing 90 pounds who can get into my wedding gown?" worried Mrs. J. D. Scott. "I was the size of a small drink of water in those days and I don't believe girls are that small today. Finding a model for my gown has me stumped!"

Mrs. Fritz Smith will model her own wedding frock, something most of the women won't attempt. Her gown is supposed to be something special. Mrs. Floyd Boston, who was a bride in 1949, will wear her nylon marquesette over satin.

Much interested speculation centers around Mrs. R. E. Gray, who will be the narrator for the modeling shows, to be presented four times, once hourly, for each "shift" of guests. Mrs. Gray will wear a beautiful, handmade gown from her mother's trousseau.

Music will go on continuously by a different group of entertainers each hour.

Many Belgians speak both French and Flemish.

About 3,100 Liberty and victory ships were built during the war.

Altrurian Club Hears Program For Next Year

Mrs. R. D. English entertained the Altrurian Club with a re-assembly covered dish luncheon Friday in her home, 2305 Thirtieth Street.

Mrs. W. R. Bell, Sr., presided at the meeting, with Mrs. D. M. Cogdell giving the invocation. Mrs. R. L. Gray acted as luncheon toast mistress.

Mrs. Ella Cooper and Mrs. Fritz R. Smith gave a travelogue of their European tour and showed the group linens and perfumes brought from foreign countries. They gave each member of the club a small gift from abroad.

The club heard their program for the year discussed. They will study "These United States of Ours."

Their next meeting will be held Sept. 29.

Guests present Friday were Mrs. T. D. Ellison, Mrs. B. J. Weaver, Mrs. A. C. Alexander, and Mrs Jack Harris from Austin, a former club member.

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)

BAKED CHICKEN BREASTS

Ingredients: 1 frying chicken (about 3½ pounds), ½ teaspoon kitchen bouquet, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, ⅛ teaspoon marjoram, 1 tablespoon fat, 2 slices cooked smoked boneless pork butt or ham (about ¼-inch thick), 3 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon finely graded onion, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 cup milk, 1 three-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Method: Have meat dealer cut breasts from chicken in two fillets and cut rest of chicken in serving-size pieces. Place chicken breasts in a bowl. (Reserve remaining chicken for another meal.) Sprinkle breasts with kitchen bouquet, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, and marjoram. Toss lightly to coat evenly. Melt 1 tablespoon fat in skillet. Lightly brown ham and remove to shallow baking dish, about 10 x 6 inches. Place chicken breasts in pan and lightly brown on both sides. Place chicken on each slice of ham. Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add onion and stir a few seconds over mocerate heat. Stir in flour, ½ teaspoon salt, and mustard. Add milk, contents of can of mushrooms, and Worcestershire. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils. Pour sauce over chicken. Cover baking dish, using aluminum foil if pan has no cover. Bake in moderate (350F.) oven until chicken is tender, about 1 hour. Serve immediately. Makes 2 servings.
