Fifty City Prisoners Dig In Debris For Bodies Thought To Have Burned; Auditorium Famous Gathering Place

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 27.—The toll of a $500,000 fire which destroyed the coliseum here today reached five known dead with the recovery tonight of the body of Thomas Smith, 26, in the ruins.

Shortly after Smith's body was recovered search of the ruins for more bodies was halted temporarily because of the danger to workmen from parts of the walls which still were standing.

Other known dead were: R. A. (Dick) Mason, 28, city fireman; Dave Meier, 31, packing plant employe; Gordon Smith, 24, used car salesman.

An unidentified negro, four bodies were recovered early tonight and firemen and 50 city prisoners were digging in the still smoking debris for bodies of other persons reported trapped by falling walls as they sought to save new automobiles stored in the coliseum annex.

Six or seven men were reported by witnesses to have been trapped in the annex when the stage wall fell.

Firemen were hampered by great crowds of curious sightseers and the one direct thoroughfare that connects Oklahoma City proper with Picketingtown. The blaze had gained uncontrollable headway by the time the fire department arrived.

Riot, Tumult Reign During Indian Fight

Eighty-Two Reported Killed And 863 Injured In Riots; Hundreds Arrested After Cools, Officers Clash

(By Associated Press)
BOMBAY, India, May 27.—Riot and tumult, or their aftermath of chaos and uncertainty, reigned today in four great cities of Britain's Indian possessions.

A rough computation of official figures showed that in Rangoon, Lucknow, Dacca and Bombay, 82 persons had been killed, 863 injured and hundreds arrested.

The riots have broken out of the bounds of the civil disobedience campaign.

Fight With Coolies
Rangoon, the Burmese capital, not yet recovered from the recent heavy earthquake, tonight was a beleaguered city. Soldiers and police were striving desperately to maintain a hold over fighting coolies and lawless bands.

Fifty-four bodies lay in the city mortuary, and many others were believed carried away by friends. The official death list stands at 60 and the injured list at 740, but these figures are considered much below the unobtainable totals.

No less serious were conditions in Lucknow, the great British stronghold, or the Indian mutiny of 1927-28. Four were known dead and 30 injured there.

TWO THEORIES GIVEN Slayer Of Houston Man Sought By Dallas Officers

DALLAS, May 27.—Clinging to only two tangible clues—mistaken identity or attempted robbery—right tonight's search for the slayer of Charles H. Brown, 36, of Houston, bus driver, who was shot down last night near the state fair grounds here.

Brown, with Barney Manacchia and Miss Luella Mills of Dallas, was sitting in a parked automobile near the fair grounds when the slayer approached, pistol in hand, and ordered Brown to get out of the car.

Brown instead grappled with him. Three shots were fired and Brown fell, mortally wounded.

BRADY MAKES BOND Convicted Slayer Released Under $5,000 Bail

DALLAS, May 27.—John W. Brady of Austin, former civil appeals court judge, today stepped into the sunshine without the guard for the first time since Miss Leblach Highsmith, slight Austin court stenographer, was stabbed to death at her home November 9.

Brady was released on $5,000 bail pending action on his appeal from a three-year sentence. District Judge C. A. Phippen filed bail after overruling a motion for a new trial for the moon-haired former jurist, convicted of murder without malice in Miss Highsmith's slaying.

El Paso Forgery Suspect Refuses to Be Airminded; Is Returned by Train

(By Associated Press)
EL PASO, May 27.—Frank D. Elmer, 32, was wanted so badly in Los Angeles on a forgery charge that the Los Angeles police sent Detective V. C. Miller here for him in an airplane with instructions to return the prisoner by plane.

Equipped with extradition papers, Miller obtained custody of Elmer and trouble started. Elmer refused to return by airplane. Pleadings and threats were useless. He claimed his blood pressure was too high. A physical examination by a doctor refuted this claim. He still refused.

Miller took his prisoner before Judge W. D. Howe, who ruled that an airplane was a common carrier and the prisoner must get airminded. The airplane company officials promised the tickets. Elmer refused to sign. The company refused to take him as a passenger without his signature on the ticket. Miller and his prisoner started for Los Angeles by train.

Bus operators closed their direct testimony in the afternoon with two witnesses on the stand, Arch Tyler, owner of the North Plains coaches and Garnett Abbott, owner of the Pioneer Motor lines. Both were subjected to severe cross examination by opposing counsel.

Six Witnesses Used
Defendants used six witnesses on direct testimony and then several witnesses were used in rebuttal and cross-examination.

In his testimony Mr. Tyler told of the reasons for the change of location and also of the fact that the old station was not suitable to growing business of the line.

He stated that he had attempted to back some of his big motor buses into the station for loading passengers and found the process

The gas will be brought from the Texas Panhandle by a line of pipe 1,200 miles long. Work already has begun at two points in Texas and Missouri, and $25,000,000 worth of pipe has been ordered from the national supply company of Toledo, Ohio.

Officials estimate the construction will provide employment for several thousand men and be completed by December 1.

The line will connect with the Missouri-Kansas company's Kentucky pipe line system near Evansville, Ind.

The Illinois Power & Light corporation and the Missouri Power & Light company, subsidiaries of the North American Power & Light company, have contracted with the Panhandle Eastern company, subsidiary of the Missouri-Kansas company, to purchase the natural gas for cities in Missouri and Illinois.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The opinion that the election of President Hoover in 1928 was attributable to the activities of churches and temperance organizations and not to the republican party was expressed today by the senate joby committee today by the research secretary of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church.

According to Gary charges that the board had released the principal of supporters of church and state by political activities. T. H. West asserted it had done nothing but guaranteed by the bill of rights of the constitution.

Turner was 18 hours, 43 minutes, 34 seconds enroute from New York to here, 31 minutes of which he spent at the Wichita, Kans., airport in refueling. Hawks, who made his record in non-stop flight took 19 hours, 10 minutes, 33 seconds to reach the Pacific coast. Turner lapped off 27 minutes, 38 seconds from Hawks' elapsed time.

Dr. S. L. Newsom Throws In Street After Being Kidnaped By Five Men; Friends Rally To Support

(By Associated Press)
HAMMOND, La., May 27.—(AP)—Two brothers, Charles and Gordon Starnes, members of a wealthy family, were arrested tonight on charges of applying the hands and feathers to Dr. S. L. Newsom, Hammond dentist. Deputy sheriffs were searching for the three other brothers, Henry, Ike and Newton Starnes.

Dr. Newsom, accused by the brothers with improper relations with one of their wives, was kidnaped by the five men last night, handcuffed, tarred and feathered and thrown into a street of Hammond with a warning to leave town.

Dr. Newsom drove to his home at Columbia, Miss., but late today returned with his father. His friends rallied to his support and with the aid of the sheriff and chief of police, plans were made to prosecute the brothers.

The young dentist, a graduate of Tulane University and member of the bar, had a wife and one of the charges and declared he would remain in Hammond and practice his profession.

Dr. Newsom gave this version of the attack:

"At 9 o'clock Monday night I stepped into a restaurant with some friends. We had a wife and one of the five brothers came up and joined our party. We talked about ten or fifteen minutes and this man remarked that he didn't have his car and wondered how he was going to get home. I told him I'd be glad to take him and we drove

Floyd County Old Settlers Will Hold 2nd Annual Reunion Today with All Counties of South Plains Represented

(Special to the Journal)
MOQUINA, May 27—From every county on the South Plains and also from all sections of Texas, the men and women who helped make Floyd county a quarter of a century and more ago, will meet here Wednesday, May 28 for the second annual reunion of the Floyd County Old Settlers association.

Hundreds of men who came here more than a third of a century ago will be here with their help-mates to greet those who have remained here and to talk over old times before there were many people on these South Plains.

Came Before 1893
 "Old settlers" the old timers define as those who came to the county before 1893. Members of the association must have lived here prior to 1905.

The program is to be given on the lawn of the court house. There will be a huge cauldron of coffee, the way the old timers made it, steaming hot, for the basket dinners at noon.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Floyd band and the Plainview band. Tom W. Dean is chairman of the music committee.

Judges to Be Given
 Judges will be given to each person registering by Mrs. William McGeehan and her committee on registration.

Program has been in the hands of the arrangements committee headed by Walter Ross and Glad Snodgrass general manager.

President J. J. Day recently named a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws. They will report at the business session. Tom Dean is chairman with W. B. Clark and R. C. Scott, members.

"We are trying to give the old timers a day of real enjoyment this year," Elder J. J. Day, the president, said in announcing the program.

Long talks by members will not be asked for, but each one will be limited to two minutes.

Must Bring Basket
 "Every one who comes is asked to bring a basket filled with good things. Dinner will be served in picnic style. We are going to furnish coffee made the way the old timers made it in a huge cauldron, right here on the court house lawn.

"There will be plenty of time at noon for old timers to exchange stories of early days in the county."

Judge L. E. Kinder of Plainview had been invited to speak but was forced to cancel his acceptance because of unexpected business engagements arising late last week.

Discussion Scheduled
 At the round table in the afternoon discussion will be on "Was our section of Floyd county as our home justified?"

Floyd county was organized in May of 1890 and on May 28, the first election, to determine the county seat, was held. There were 28 votes cast in the balloting and of these 13 were for Moquina, Delia Plaza, a town long forgotten and the only other town in the county, received 13 votes.

Records of the county for 1897 were secured by General Manager Snodgrass to show the growth of the county in 33 years.

Land valuation in the county for 1897 was $600,000, town lots in Moquina, $17,014, with other properties, personal and real, to bring the total to $617,014.

Among the listings were $1,787 in farming tools and implements; $7,494 in cash; buggies, wagons, etc. $7,883, horses and mules, $46,561; cattle $332,488.

Today the county valuation is in excess of $13,000,000, with city valuations of $2,700,000.

In 1890 there was not a single mile of public road in Floyd county. Nearest towns were: Amarillo on the north, Childress and Wichita Falls on the east, Colorado and Colorado City also were near towns.

There was not a railroad then. Today there is a 109 miles of track with 1,400 miles of county and state designated highways.

Not all of the land in the county had been filed upon in 1897. First settlers had filed under the $2 an acre act. They had filed to the west in 1897 and then refilled under a new law in 1898 that "bet them $1 an acre on four sections at 3 per cent interest that they would not stock."

Officers and directors of the association include: J. J. Day, president; Rev. R. E. L. Muncey, vice president; Thomas W. Dean, secretary; directors, Mrs. William McGeehan, Mrs. E. C. Henry, Mrs. George Plawer and Glenn Snodgrass, general manager.

Program for the day is as follows:

10 a. m. registration, "Get Acquainted" hour.

11 a. m. address of welcome, Rev. R. E. L. Muncey.

11:00, response, Rev. G. T. Palmer.

12 noon, lunch served on the lawn.

1:30 p. m. main address.

2 p. m. music by the band and round table discussion.

3 p. m. election of officers for year, adoption of constitution.

Five Rabies Cases Are Reported Here

Five cases of rabies, possibly the most unique ever encountered in this section of the state, have been reported here to workers on the Spade ranch, 25 miles west of Lubbock, in Hockley county.

The men, Tom Arnett, Albert Arnett, Bass Arnett, Jack Anders and Jim Shaboy, became exposed to hydrophobia while trying to offer treatment to a bull, which had been suffering with throat ailment. The men tried to remedy the animal's suffering by swabbing its throat, thus coming into contact with the froth in the animal's mouth. A veterinarian later pronounced that the bull is suffering from hydrophobia.

ONE PERMIT ISSUED
 A permit was issued yesterday to J. S. Rusterlied for brick veneering a residence at 1417 Eighth street at a cost of $2,000, to bring Lubbock's building valuations for the month to $113,565, for 17 permits.

Total for the year now stands at $1,140,295, for 123 permits.

Defendant Favored In Case Judgment

Defendant in the suit of J. A. Sampson versus J. H. Green was rendered judgment in trial before Judge Robert H. Bean in Lubbock county court. The suit, for real estate commission, involved a consideration of $200.

Judgment in the amount of $140 was rendered plaintiff while the defendant received decision in amount of $117 on a cross action in the suit of C. D. Crump against Dora Julian Hicks. Suit resulted in difficulty over notes.

Judge Bean is withholding judgment probably until today in the case of Ed S. Hughes company against Floyd Nichols. The case was tried yesterday and is being held under advisement by the judge. Involving a consideration of about $400, the suit is for foreclosure of a chattel mortgage.

Operating the British Museum in London last year cost $1,077,000.

expected to remain there for three weeks or longer, on account of a heavy criminal docket. There are said to be 30 liquor cases in the court there.

TO SEEK ACTION
 WASHINGTON, May 27. —(AP)—Advised of the Supreme Court decision, Senator Sheppard—co-author of the Eighteenth amendment—said today he would press for immediate action on his bill to make the purchaser of liquor equally guilty with the seller.

Lions Delegates To Confab Named

In meeting yesterday noon at the Hilton hotel, the Lubbock Lions club chose Dr. S. S. McKay, president, and Vaughn E. Wilson, vice-president, as official delegates from this city to the annual convention of Lions International, which is to be held at Denver beginning June 15. Plans also were made to get a delegation of 20 local Lions to make the trip to Denver via motor bus.

Dr. McKay was yesterday's principal speaker, talking upon the subject of the future of the club. He announced that he will be absent from Lubbock for the next six weeks, being engaged as instructor in history at the summer session of the East Texas State Teachers college at Nacogdoches.

Co-Op Branch Is Sought By Several Towns

Littlefield In Campaign To Have City Designated As Concentration Point For Texas Cotton Cooperative

D. F. Eaton, county agent, yesterday stated that several other towns in this district besides Littlefield are expected to get into the campaign within the near future to land designation as concentration points for the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

"I am looking for Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland and Crosbyton to try and get concentration locations," he said. "It required the signing up of 10,000 to 15,000 bales of cotton. Sixteen and other towns may get in too."

Handled 50,000 Bales
"Most of these towns can easily come under those classifications. I understand at Littlefield that they handled 50,000 bales through their compress last year."

"Any town that can sign up 15,000 bales will be given consideration by the committee in charge of the location of the concentration points."

Mr. Eaton added that it probably would be some time the latter part of the summer before anything definite in the way of branches would be made known.

Be Here in August
At the present time workers of the co-operatives are engaged in the south part of the state. They are coming up north a little ahead of the crop maturing and it will be the latter part of July and more likely August before they get up around Lubbock," the county agent said.

This section of the state is expected to receive considerable attention from officials of the co-operative group in the matter of concentration points. The expected change here from short staple to a longer staple is to have an effect on the marketing of the crop, cotton men believe.

DON'T

be "talked out" of the World's

greatest TIRES

There is a lot of exceedingly good salesmanship in the retail tire business.

Sometimes we suspect there are more brands of good salesmanship than there are brands of good tires.

But don't be confused or misled when you are sprayed with high-powered language or beset by over-attractive inducements. Stand steady and keep focused on the big idea—which is, the most quality and value you can get for your money.

Goodyear Tires are the most popular tires in the world. They outsell any other tires because people have learned by experience that they outperform any other tires.

This has been true not for a year, but for more than fifteen years.

It is true with regard to truck tires, bus tires, airplane tires, just the same as with automobile tires.

Therefore, when shrewd salesmanship seeks to tempt you away from the tested values of Goodyear Tires, ask yourself these questions:

What has this other tire to offer me in place of the superior traction of the Goodyear All-Weather Tread?

What has this other tire to offer me in place of the special Goodyear

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than 1/4 of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

method of toughening rubber? What has this other tire to offer me in place of the super-elastic super-enduring Goodyear Supertwist cord?

What has this other tire to offer me in place of the values made possible by Goodyear's record-breaking production?

What has this other tire to offer me in place of the exclusive features produced by Goodyear's matchless development department?

What has this other tire to offer me in place of the standard Goodyear after-sale service that backs up every tire?

Finally—if this other tire is as good as I'm told it is, why is it "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind"?

Ask yourself these questions, and don't worry—you won't be "talked out" of the tested values of the World's Greatest Tires.

"Since, on July 4, 1929, I declared my purpose to become a candidate for governor before the democratic primary election, for the purpose of carrying the anti-Tammany message to the people of Texas, there has never been the slightest thought on my part of withdrawing from the race for governor."

"Greater Hobbs" Has Three Business Sections; Districts Grow Together

(Special To The Avalanche) HOBBES, N. M., May 27.—"Greater Hobbs" has the distinction of being the only city in the world in which three business sections of the city were built and then before either of these sections had become old enough to be an incorporated town, had grown together.

Such has been the situation here. A month ago there were three separate localities set about a mile from each other on a triangle but now these streets have filled in until the original townsites are connected by their business sections and the fourth side of the square is rapidly being built so that the main street of "Greater Hobbs" will soon be four miles long and built around a square mile of land. The Jal-Wink highway connects All Hobbs and New Hobbs. Turner avenue and Main street in New Hobbs connect that townsite and the Hobbs townsite and Carlsbad connects Hobbs and All Hobbs. A month ago it looked a long way for a new town to stretch to try to cover the vacancy existing between the three business sections. Today buildings are springing up so rapidly around this mile square of land that values are changing to higher levels each day.

A few more weeks and it will become necessary for the visitor to be directed about the town by streets and numbers rather than by street names.

SHANGHAI, May 27.—(Special)—Nationalist government forces have severely defeated the northern alliance rebels with heavy casualties, said government dispatches today, and are driving them in general retreat toward Kaiteng, Honan province. The nationalists took 20,000 prisoners.

It will be impossible for the stranger to distinguish where one stops and the other begins.

General Yen Hui-Shan, governor of Shanai province and head of the revolt against the central government, is said in government dispatches to be planning flight to a foreign country in anticipation of the collapse of the insurrection. The national, advancing northward on the railway beyond Kankow, are reported thrusting the rebel army before them on another front to converge on Chengchow.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Equipose, Harry Payne Whitney's candidate for 1930 two-year old honors, again asserted his claim to the title today as he galloped down the Widener course at Belmont park, winner of the historic Juvenile stake.

The victory was the third straight and the fifth in seven starts for the brilliant youngster, which fact makes him a leading contender for the Belmont. Whitney's champion juvenile in 1929. As in Equipose's previous victorious jaunt over the straightaway course, Manuel Ross' runner lost second, beaten by Equipose in their place, trailing him to the finish.

Indians Annex Double Header From Chicago

Tribe Captures 4th Game In Two Days From Pale Hose; Senators Whip Yanks And Macks Down Red Sox

CLEVELAND, May 27.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians won both ends of their double header from the Chicago White Sox by scores of 3-2 and 6-2. A ninth inning rally by the Sox in which they scored four runs gave them a momentary lead but Cleveland staged a rally of its own, scoring two runs in their half of the ninth and winning 9 to 8. Jolley hit a home run in each game.

The first was a pitching duel between Harder and Henry. Both the Sox runs were on home runs by Jolley and Harris.

In the second, the Indians held a three-run lead in eighth, but the Sox went ahead by scoring four runs in the first of the ninth. The Tribe scored two in the last half of the ninth to win.

Shires and Posseca were knocked out simultaneously in the final inning when they collided and Shires' side home. Physicians were called to revive them.

Sizzling Cissell Once Fizzle

BY JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer
Last year a fizzle, but this year he sizzles. That briefly describes Mr. Chalmers Cissell of those Chicago White Sox.

One thing that must be credited to the baseball brain of Manager Donie Bush is this improvement in Cissell.

Spider Bill, as Cissell is known by the faithful who follow the White Hosed crew, has been moved this season by Bush from short to second and the change this move has made in the one-time $123,000 beauty is a revelation.

Last year as a shortstop Spider Bill was 'vay down there in the batting order and his fielding was nothing to evoke cheers. This year he is a brilliant performer on the greenward and has been making the horsehide at a mark not so awfully far from 400.

Amarillo's Tactless Texans Here Sunday For Clash With Lubbock Nine; Gober Is Pilot

The Tactless Texans, of Amarillo, led by the Veteran Emmer Gober, will be in Lubbock Sunday to battle the local diamond aggregation it was learned last night following agreement on terms between the rival managers over long-distance telephone.

Boasting one of the strongest lineups in history of the club, the Panhandle team is coming here with full intentions of halting the winning streak of the Lubbock sluggers. Veterans and youngsters alike are included on Gober's roster, a majority of whom are well known in local baseball circles.

Sled Allen With Club
Lefty Middleton, Ted Nicklaus and Freeman are the mainstays of the Texans' hurling staff. Sled Allen, former manager of the Lubbock Sluggers, and Hank Boston carry the pitching staff for the club.

Manager Gober covers first base for the team; Hamer is at second; Bernie Vaughn remains at shortstop and Windy Nicklaus will cover the hot corner. Gibson, McCasland and Gih Jackson will roam the outer gardens.

Jackson Joins Texans
Jackson, another Lubbock star of former years, recently joined the Texans after accepting a position with an Amarillo sporting goods house.

The same lineup that handed Plainview a 25-1 beating last Sunday will take the field against the Amarilloans. Sam Scott is again scheduled to start on the mound for the locals.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare; but the righteous doth sing and rejoice. The righteous considereth the cause of the poor; but the wicked regardeth not to know it.—Proverbs, xxix, 6, 7.

A JEWEL FROM THE DEAN

DEAN WALTER WILLIAMS, sage of Columbia and president-elect of University of Missouri, sprinkled many jewels of thought while a guest of Tech college here, but among those jewels there stands out one anecdote which The Morning Avalanche feels is of particular value.

Several years ago, while touring the world in the interest of an enlightened press, Dean Williams found himself the guest of the president of a great Chinese university, also minister of education for China. Dean Williams, invited to address the university's student body, graciously accepted and soon faced several thousand youthful Orientals from the auditorium's platform.

Although he had seen other methods of interpretation of his speeches in foreign lands, Dean Williams noticed that as he spoke in English an interpreter transcribed words and phrases in Chinese on a huge blackboard just behind him. The visitor was interested in the interpretation—so interested in fact that he turned to watch the blackboard writer, talking to the audience all the while.

After and faster the interpretation was transcribed until, as the Dean reached the middle of his talk, the writer slowed down. Slower and slower went the transcription until 15 minutes before the address had been completed he stopped altogether and the Missourian finished without additional help.

Leaving the auditorium with the Chinese educator, the Dean remarked: "I was very much interested in your method of interpretation. I never saw that type used before."

"Yes?" said the Chinese educator. "Tell me," pursued Dean Williams, "just how it was handled."

The Chinese smiled in Oriental fashion, childish and bland, but seemed reluctant to go into further discussion so Dean Williams tried another method.

"I noticed," he said, "that toward the middle of my talk the interpreter slowed his writing and, 15 minutes before I concluded, he stopped altogether. What was that?"

"Well," returned the Chinese, resignedly, "it was this way. The interpreter wasn't writing your speech word for word—he was only noting the ideas!"

And in telling the story the venerable educator adds this thought: "Wouldn't it be fine if our newspapers, our public speakers and all of us, in our daily walks, were to halt our discourses when the ideas cease to flow?"

The Morning Avalanche heartily agrees—but we see no hope for it this side of Utopia.

WOMAN, LOVELY WOMAN

Lady Armstrong, wife of the British Consul General in New York says women are becoming soft, and says it delightfully and approvingly.

During the war, she points out, girls put on men's clothes, did men's work and became more or less mannish, and after the war they acquired some of men's habits in the matter of drinking and smoking; but now, she says, a change is taking place. The smokers and drinkers are becoming more and more feminine, and they have taken to the wearing of strictly feminine things, ribbons and laces and such.

There is evidence in plenty that the lady is right. Indeed, at first glance it would seem that Woman, having received from Man all the freedom she desired, no longer prizes it. It would, perhaps, be nearer the truth to say that there has come a realization that woman is wisest who uses her freedom in a strictly feminine way.

Whatever the cause, the sure thing is that no man will object to woman's return to frills and furbelows. It may be nothing but the fellow's conceit, but he likes his woman womanly.

Even if she does rouge nicely, find out if she can cook. Two can't live on rouge.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

THAT "SENSATION" OVER FORT'S SPEECH

BY CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 27. — Being supposedly bone dry, Representatives Frankfort and Fort of New Jersey created quite a sensation a few weeks ago by a speech he made in congress, reminding folk who insist on their tupples that the law does not necessarily restrict them to one-half of one per cent — provided they make their own stuff in their own homes, and drink it themselves or serve it to their own company, without trying to sell any of it.

All that latitude, the dry Jerseyman seemed to think, ought to be enough for anyone but a bootlegger.

However, the astonishment caused by Mr. Fort's remarks was nothing to compare with the amazed comment which more recently followed testimony of the representative said, but mentioning that the league actually is broadening copies of the latter's speech, as a fine piece of prohibition literature.

The fact is, the entire mixup harks back to the same old "cider and fruit juices" clause in the Volstead act which has puzzled so many people, including enforcement officials.

There is, indeed, a certain amount of elasticity about the "cider and fruit juices" clause. Yet it is a risky sort of elasticity, which is liable to snap back on anyone who attempts to monkey with it, and maybe snap him into the Atlantic or the Leavenworth penitentiary—if a dry sleuth happens to drop in inopportunist, and the right sort of a jury gets into the box, and the judge chances to feel that the time has come to make a horrible example, under the Jones "five and ten" law.

Of course a mere non-commercial home-brewer is not apt to get the "limit." Nevertheless it is a theoretical possibility. It probably depends somewhat on how influential or popular a citizen he is and what kind of community he lives in—a severely dry neighborhood or a sympathetically wet one.

Again and again the exact meaning of the Volstead statute's "cider and fruit juices" clause has been debated.

It always simmers down to the same interpretation.

The law, after reciting the various penalties which may be inflicted upon a violator, continues: "The penalties provided in this chapter against the manufacture of liquor without a permit shall not apply to persons for manufacturing non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home."

Well, why should they?—if the "cider and fruit juices" are non-intoxicating? Non-intoxicants are not prohibited anyway.

Obviously the clause must mean something more than that.

The enforcement folk long ago agreed that it must. They decided that it must mean this: "The penalties . . . shall not apply to a person for manufacturing . . . cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home" if they are non-intoxicating IN FACT, even though they may exceed the one-half of one per cent limit.

On this basis the home-brewer would be safe enough—if it were left to him to decide as to the potency of his own concoction.

It is not, however, if his beverage touches or exceeds the one-half of one per cent mark, in case of his arrest it is up to him to convince a jury that it is not, in fact, intoxicating. The law assumes that it is, unless he can prove the contrary.

Let the jury pronounce 15 per cent non-intoxicating; he is exonerated. Let it pronounce five per cent intoxicating; he is guilty.

"Cider and fruit juices!" But as to home-brew?—meaning beer, presumably.

Representative Fort discussed this issue. Whether the "cider and fruit juices" clause "can be stretched to cover home-brew, non-intoxicating in fact is in question," he said in his speech of last January, "but clearly the making, the possession and the use of non-intoxicating light wines and cider is not prohibited."

Chief Counsel James J. Britt of the prohibition bureau solves the home-brew problem. The "cider and fruit juices" clause, he says, cannot "be stretched to cover" it.

On the subject of light wine the Jersey congressman is correct—but, from one-half of one per cent cent on upward, it takes a jury to decide what is non-intoxicating, if the point is raised.

Thus, on examination, it is evident that the "cider and fruit juices" clause in the Volstead act hardly threatened to flood the country with alcohol. Of the act itself Congressman Fort is a warm defender.

So there is nothing so remarkable after all, in the American-legalistic distribution of his speech as a "cider and fruit juices" clause that can get any satisfaction out of "non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices," at the risk of anything up to five years in the penitentiary, let them. The league had that clause put into the law anyway, to give a little play to the machinery.

THREE KINDS OF FOOD INVOLVED IN PROPER GROWTH OF BONES

BY DR. MORRIS FISHERIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association And of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

More and more experiments are being performed in an endeavor to find out what it is that controls the deposit of calcium in the body.

Calcium is associated, as has been said again and again in this column, with the growth of the bones and the teeth. Already it has been well established that in addition to liberal intakes of calcium and phosphorus, bone growth is dependent on a supply of vitamin D and perhaps of other vitamins.

The most recent series of studies made by Prof. H. C. Sherman and H. K. Stebbing indicate that any one of the three main factors may be a limiting factor in bone growth. If the calcium is high and the phosphorus low, the bone growth may be added by the simple addition of phosphates. If the phosphorus is sufficient and the calcium low, there is no material out of which the bones may be built.

Vitamin D may be the limiting factor when the mineral content of the diet is good, but vitamin D cannot take the place of calcium which is needed for the best bone development. One of the richest substances in calcium is milk. Milk, on the other hand, very poor in vitamin D.

Hence it is desirable to supplement milk, which provides calcium, with vitamin D in the form of cod-liver oil, or sunlight, which encourages the development of vitamin D in the body.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE tries to console her husband, ALAN, but they quarrel over BERNARDINE LAMBORN, a night club business, who asks him to look after Bobby, whose father had saved Alan's life during the war. Alan seeks sympathy from his secretary, PHILIPPA WEST, who successfully schemes to arouse Natalie's suspicions, and one day Alan finds her gone. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to Phillipa, who plays her part cleverly.

Natalie regrets her hasty action, but does not write Alan, hoping he will beg her to return. Her silence spurs him on with Phillipa, who helps make him feel neglected and abused. Fearing that he does not mean to propose marriage, Phillipa tells Alan that her parents object to her going with a married man, whomupon she confesses to more than a passing fancy for him.

Natalie, unhappy and repentant, writes Alan that she is returning to their home, without, however, mentioning a reconciliation. A friendly letter from Natalie's mother leaves Alan hopeful, but baffled as to Natalie's intentions. Phillipa, fearful of losing Alan, tells him she is obliged to leave home because of trouble with her father.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII

Alan's hand shook, as he laid the telegram he had just read on his desk, and looked up at Phillipa. "I'm afraid I can't go with you," he said simply.

Phillipa almost lost her role of meekness. "Why?" she said fiercely, sensing that a third person had interfered through the telegram. Then, instantly, "Why can't you?" she added more submissively.

"I'm to meet Natalie at the Grand Central at five o'clock."

Phillipa's face went chalk white. "You're going to meet her?" she asked, and the words were more hissed than spoken.

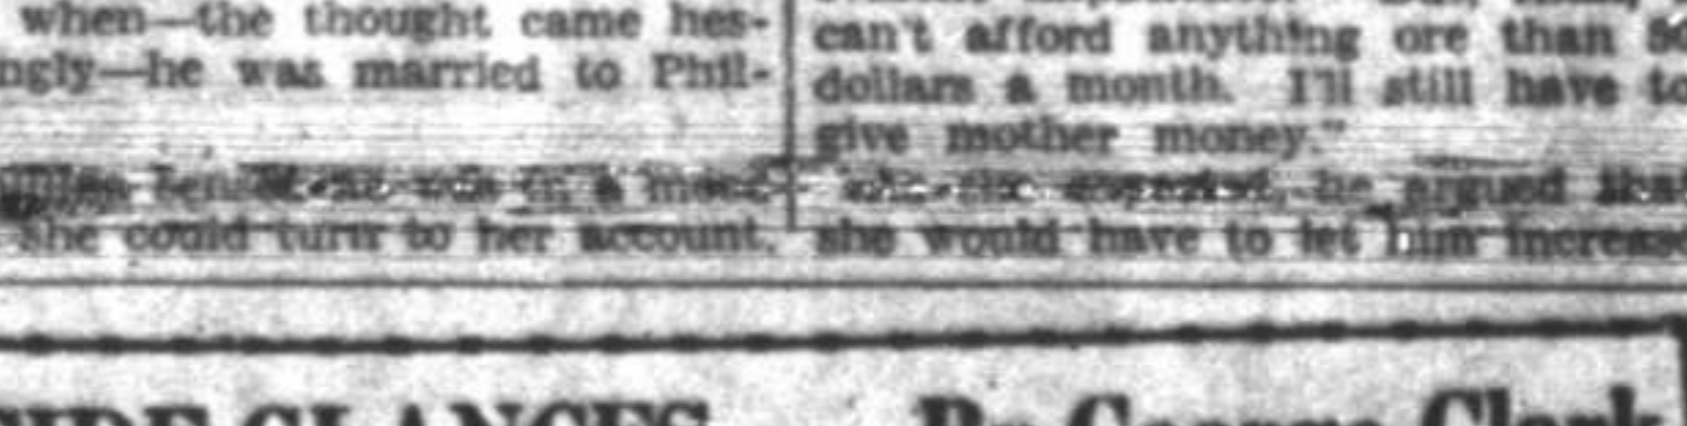

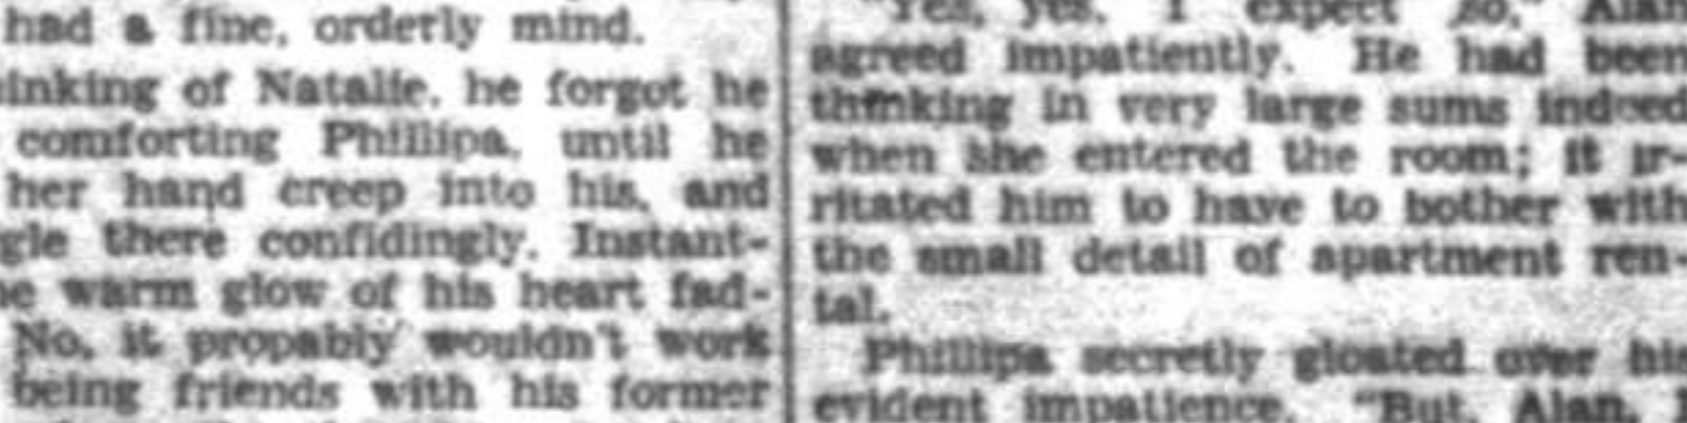

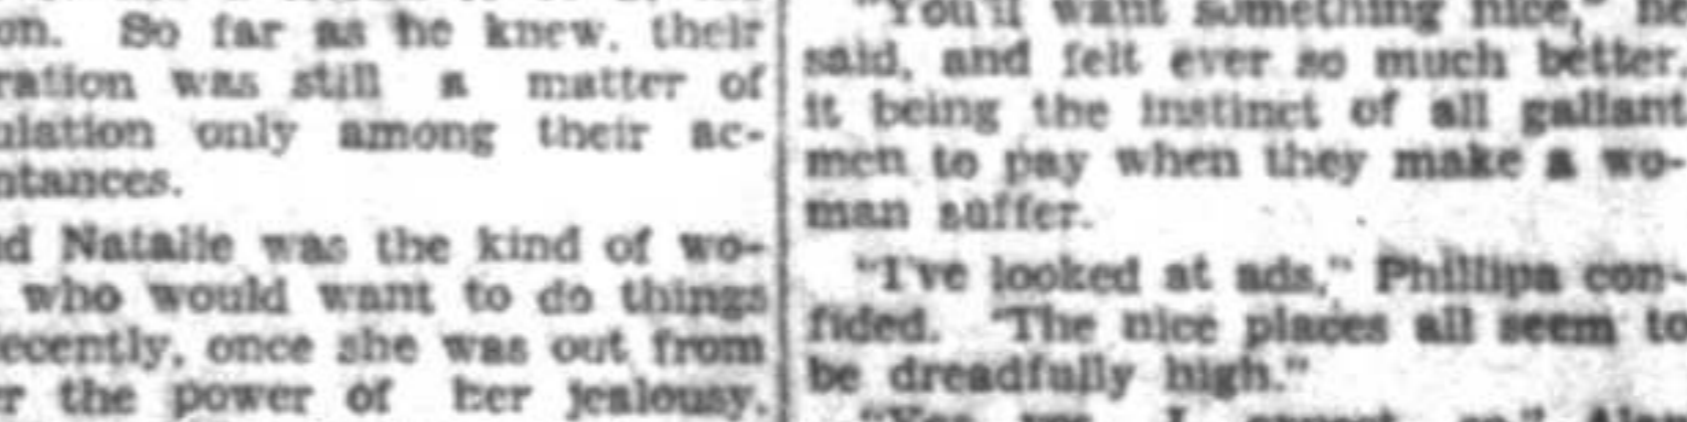

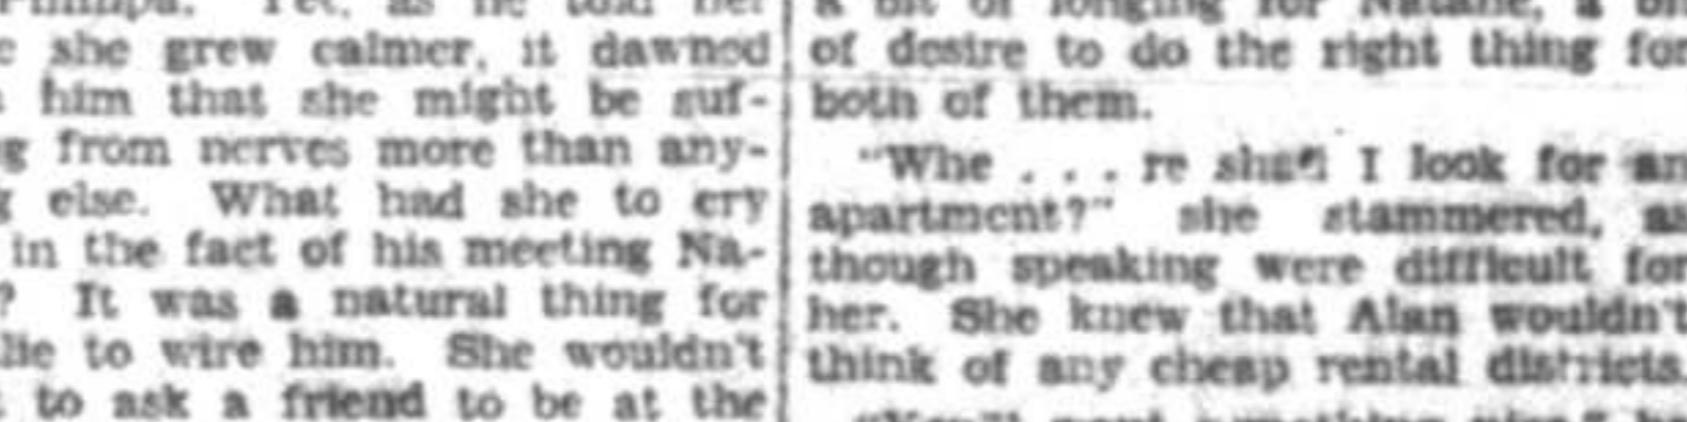

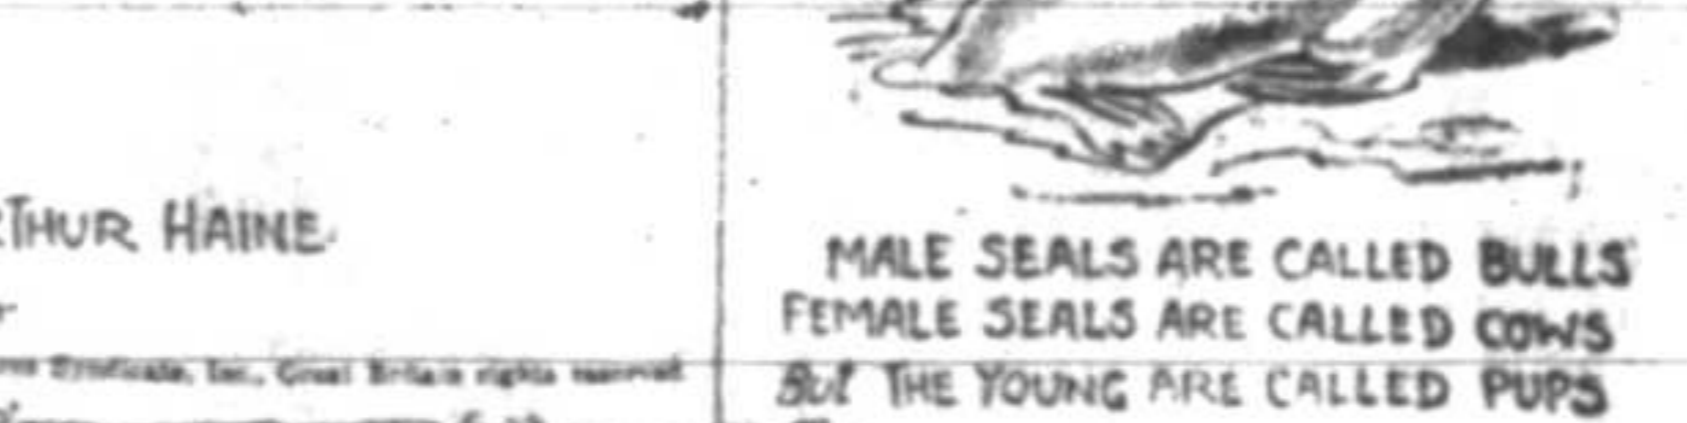

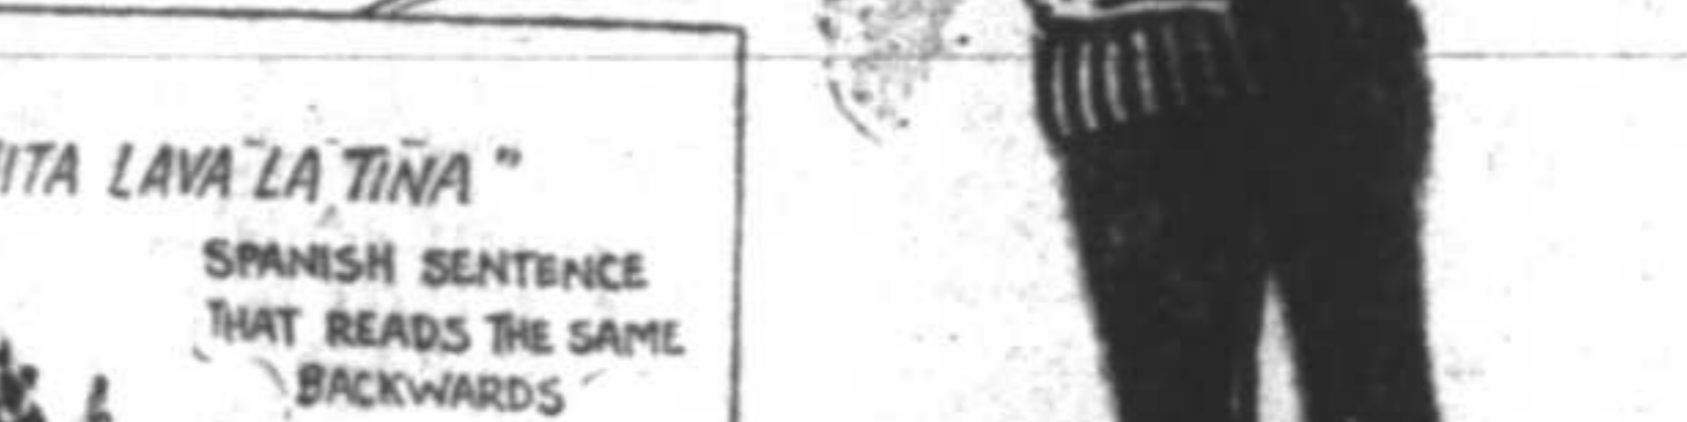

Alan nodded.

"Alan!" Phillipa waited his name, and sank into a chair, her head on her arms, her shoulders shaking pitifully.

Alan's heart was torn. God, what a mess he was making of things! Here was this girl, who had given him unstintingly of her sympathy and company, and was now about to be kicked out of her home—what kind of beast did she have for a father anyway? Here she was, sobbing her heart out on his account, and he planning to meet Natalie.

But he didn't see how he could help it. Unless . . . unless he didn't meet Natalie. He glanced down at Phillipa, went to her and put his hands on her shoulders. Phillipa leaned against him.

He knew he was going to meet

The younger generation displays a growing respect for the law.

her salary. She would have much preferred to have him agree to pay the rent outright. It would have made it so much clearer that it was he who was paying the rent—in case she should wish to make that point clear.

But at least she had gained her chief point. She would be living alone, away from her parents. The inference would be—to a jealous wife's mind—that Alan had wanted it so.

And with a place where she could entertain Alan she would have greater power over her. Having thought it all out before she came in she realized that Alan might, if he wished to, use the fact that they always had to go somewhere together as an excuse to stay away from her. That is if he wanted to be with Natalie. And Phillipa foresaw he might want to be with his wife.

It might be merely expediency that would bring them together at first; but Phillipa was certain that Alan cared too much for Natalie to keep away from her. If not, then why wasn't he more affectionate with her? No, even if she hadn't known about Natalie, she could have guessed that there was another woman holding him back.

But it amused her that Alan could not guess how far from her, veritably he was separated from Natalie.

Let him claim weariness now and she could offer him a resting place. Let him say he needed more sleep, and she could coax him to take a nap. She would fairly smother him with attentions. Cuddles just so, a match lighted for him whenever he wanted a cigarette, newspapers and a good reading lamp—even slippers. She made a mental note to buy him a pair of her first shopping trip after she found an apartment.

She thanked him for the promised increase in her salary and left. She hadn't dared try to stop him from going to meet Natalie. Her tears had failed. He had comforted her, yes—she could still feel his hand upon her shoulder—but he had said not one word to indicate that his decision was changed.

While weeping there at his desk, she had controlled herself enough to know that if he could not be softened by her tears, he would be shaken to stormy pleading. As was too aroused to be wise. Fortunately for her, he knew it.

Suppose she made a scene? What good would it do her? It was only when the man loved and the woman hated, that she held the winning trick. It was only when she came to break with him. But even that could be overcome, Phillipa said to herself, thinking of Natalie's many threats to leave Alan.

One thing was clear to Phillipa—

Phillipa left the office as Alan had gone out with friends, Mr. Royden and Adams, to meet Mr. Payne. She was back after with a receipt on a deposit on an apartment in Fifty-sixth Street.

She had liked it well enough to take it without waiting for Alan's approval. But she did not want to tell him that she had paid a deposit.

She found him seated before his desk, which was littered with papers, and instantly guessed that had not been able to connect on his work.

She looked at him for the first time. Evidently everything had gone off satisfactorily at the conference and luncheon. He was smiling.

She looked wan and tired. As she for this fight to keep Alan an earnest one with her. She worried over it all the night.

"Any luck?" Alan asked sympathetically.

"I nodded. 'I think so,' she doubtfully. 'There's a place East Fifty-sixth Street. I said I would be back tonight to look at it.'

"Alan frowned sharply. 'But,' he said, and then clamped his lips together.

"Phillips was going on in a tone of high fashion. 'It's nice, really. I'm sure you'll like it. Alan. Apart from hunting is terribly trying.'

"Her eyes met, and she smiled slightly, as though she knew he understood what it was that really troubled her. It was a good imitation of a brave little girl trying courageously to hide her wounds.

"I made Alan feel like a brute. She grasped her opportunity—decisive—decisive—and got up. 'I'll rush through my work and be early, if you don't mind,' she said. 'I'd like to get a hot bath and dinner. And Alan, I wonder you'd mind calling for me tonight? I'm sorry—but I had no time last night—I'd like to go to that quiet place near home, or in the Village.'

"Alan flinched. He hadn't thought of dining with Phillips that night. Perhaps it would be better for her to stay home and go to bed. He suggested hopefully.

"Oh, Alan, Phillips's voice was laden with reproach. It got to be like an arrow. 'It was such a terrible row I had with father. I wouldn't want me at the table. My mother's worried nearly as much as it is. If she thought that, that... her voice broke, and turned away with a despairing half choked back by a handkerchief hastily applied to her lips. Lady Says That After Taking Cardui Her Nerves Seemed More Settled.

Spartanburg, S. C.—'About a year ago, I found myself in a weak run-down condition, and so nervous that at times I felt like I wanted to scream,' writes Mrs. J. T. E. Thomas, of 448 South Arch Street, this city.

'The least noise would make me tremble and feel weak and nervous,' she explains.

'I felt so bad, I decided to take a tonic. I read where Cardui had helped other weak women, and I decided to try it for myself.'

'I felt better after I began taking Cardui, and decided to keep it up. I took six bottles in all.

'I was in better condition after taking Cardui, and my nerves were more settled. I think Cardui is a good medicine.'

This well-known medicine is an extract of valuable medicinal herbs, and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It has been proved by the experience of thousands of women.

Try Cardui in your case.

Cotton Quiet; Stock Market Erratic

Price Trends
Are Downward
In Slow Mart

Indisposition To Trade Is Feature

of Tuesday Session; Cables Come In Worse Than
Due During Day

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.

The cotton market was very quiet today and the price trend was downward, although there was no aggressive selling, there being a marked indisposition to trade. Cables came in worse than due and the weather overnight was favorable which accounted for an easy opening of 1 to 7 points down.
There was a slight rally in the first hour on some covering and buying in October after the official weather map and forecast were posted. Prices turned easier again and by mid-session had dropped to 9 to 10 points down from the early high.

Others Thought Trapped

Approximately 150 new automobiles were stored in the annex of the building and volunteer rescue workers rushed in to get them out.
It was not believed that the danger was great, as the fire at that time was confined to the main section of the building. Several workers who escaped reported that two groups of men pushing cars were caught when the stage wall fell.

The auditorium, completed in 1928, had housed most of the great gatherings since their Alfred E.

Smith spoke there in 1925. John McCormack, Sir Harry Lauder and Gall Curri had sung there. Paderewski, Souza's band and the Lindborg, Kansas, Messiaen, chorus had given musical entertainments.
Jack Dempsey, Young Stribling and more recently, Primo Carnera, appeared there in boxing exhibitions.
Annual livestock shows, horse shows and automobile exhibitions were held there.

Downturn Feature
Of Wheat Market

CHICAGO, May 27.

Despite announcement of a reduction of world stocks of wheat, prices underwent decided downturns today.
The action of the wheat market was attributed largely to trade uncertainties resulting from reported plans of the federal farm board to make 1930 crop loans on a varying basis to be fixed from time to time.
Reports were also current that the national grain stabilization corporation would withdraw from participating in the wheat market as soon as the existing wheat surplus is eliminated.

LABOR WINS CASE

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Union labor won an important case before the Supreme Court today when an injunction against a railroad restraining it from interfering with its employees in their selection taken for a tour of the city early president of Texas Tech, who briefly addressed the group.

By the time I had finished my first bottle of Argotane I was eating with a hearty appetite and enjoying my meals for the first time in years, was the statement made by L. C. Shubert, residing at 313 Avenue G, Lubbock, Texas.

"I had suffered from a terrible case of stomach trouble and everything disagreed with me so I had to restrict myself to the very lightest of diet until sometimes it seemed to me I was most starved. I was badly constipated and suffered agonies from gas in my stomach and my heart ached so severely at times I was afraid it would stop.

"People in my fix are always on the lookout for something to relieve them and when I read the statements in the papers about Argotane I got me a bottle right away. It just went to the spot and in no time I was eating anything I wanted and had no trouble at all from gas or heart palpitation.

My digestion is all O. K. My constitution has been relieved, I feel better and stronger and have more vital energy than I have had in years. I am telling you it Argotane cost $10, a bottle, I would not be without it and I gladly recommend it to anybody for the wonderful work it has done in my case."

Genuine Argotane may be obtained in Lubbock at the Brown's Drug Store. Adv.

Bears Single Out Farm Implements In Search For Weak Spot; Utilities Boosted By Bull Forces Tuesday

By JOHN L. COOLEY

Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, May 27.—The stock market behaved erratically today in a relatively dull session. Professionals, virtually the only participants in the closing of the trading day, seemed uncertain whether to take the short or the long side in this abbreviated trading week, and tried hands at both, with the result that the market, viewed from the close, was highly irregular.

Bears searching for weak spots single out the farm implement shares in view of the dimming shares reported by manufacturers of agricultural machinery for April and the first half of May. Bulls singled out the utilities, finding them the most certain of the current run to send up prominent issues to five points.

In the natural gas stocks, recent strength on Missouri-Kansas pipe line was explained by announcement of $40,000,000 project to pipe gas from Texas to Indian. The stock appeared to have discounted this development, however, and moved narrowly.

Both costly and impractical, I scratched the sides of the buses several times in backing in and out of the rear room because of the narrow space," he declared.

Garrett Abbott stated the old station was "unsatisfactory" and that "unloading and loading in the street was a hazard." It will not be necessary to use Broadway, he stated, in operating from the new station.

Any Route O. K.

Under cross examination he stated that bus operators were "willing to use any route entering or leaving the city that the commission or the city of Lubbock might order."

Inspector Marshall ruled that in order to shorten the record he would ask both sides to concede facts as to the old and new locations and to the willingness of operators to obey regulations.

In closing their statement the petitioners introduced a copy of the contract between the bus operators and the Hotel Lubbock. It was the subject of several clashes between counsel.

Carnahan Testifies.

Arthur L. Carnahan, director of public relations for the Hotel Hilton, was first witness in his testimony before the city of Lubbock traffic committee which followed the hearing on the proposed bus station which followed the dinner hour.

Tuesday Night; Interesting Program Is Presented

Twenty-five dealers and salesmen of the Purina company, from three districts in West Texas, were out-rained in this city at a banquet last night in Hotel Lubbock. Raymond Thompson, of Lubbock, was toastmaster of the occasion.

An interesting and instructive program had been planned for the evening which was featured by musical and dancing numbers together with short addresses and a discussion of business conditions in this and surrounding territory.

Stangel Makes Talk

W. L. Stangel, of the animal husbandry department at Texas Tech, was one of the feature speakers at the banquet. He discussed the importance of the Purina program and the value of the Purina feed.

Miss Mildred Price entertained the group with several singing and dancing numbers, accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Sarah Price. Each of the entertainers was cordially received by the listeners.

Jantzen... the preferred swimming suit

Many, indeed, are the reasons for Jantzen world-wide popularity. The appeal of its permanent fit is universal. There's never a wrinkle, wet or dry. Tightly knitted from pure long-fibred wool, by the famous Jantzen-stitch process, it retains its shape always. Its remarkable elasticity gives you perfect freedom in the water.

Simply sparkling with style! You'll find Jantzen suits the latest, the most authentic beach modes. Smart simplicity is the keynote of Jantzen style... lithe, slenderizing lines a distinguishing characteristic.

And the Jantzen colors... so rich and alluring! Vivid hues or pastels, to suit every type, to suit every taste. The colors of today and tomorrow... correct, color-fast. But see the new models and colors, they're here now!

As an instance of Jantzen style leadership, witness the Jantzen Shoulders... the suit designed for smart sun bathers. An ingenious tie holds the front in place while the shoulder straps are dropped for an even coat of shoulder tan... a suit entirely new in style inspiration.

THE Fast-Freezing KELVINATOR

the new, better help in food preparation

KELVINATOR freezes desserts faster and more successfully than any other domestic refrigerator. That is just one of the results of its wonderful 4-Way Cold.

Now, for the first time, automatic refrigeration—as developed exclusively by Kelvinator—becomes of major importance in the preparation of foods.

With the new and greater Kelvinator you can always have ready those dainty and delicious dishes which—lacking Kelvinator's help—are so difficult to prepare.

More than this—Kelvinator's "below-freezing" Cold Storage Compartment—in de luxe models—enables you to keep these desserts or salads for days at a time.
