FEATURES AT THE AIR DOME

The New Place of Amusement Gives Popular Programs

Three reels featuring the latest in motion pictures will be given the public at the new air dome tomorrow (Saturday) night, which is located across the street in front of the Telephone Central office. The price of admission has been permanently reduced to 10 cents. It is pleasant and cool inside the dome and the pictures for tomorrow night are especially good. Go out for an evening of pleasure and entertainment.

Then the air dome will be open to the public and three reels of pictures are scheduled for each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights of next week also.

A Woman's Way.

Many men do not fully appreciate their wives or perhaps it would be more courteous to say do not understand them. A woman is God Almighty's greatest handiwork and a triumph of creation. Her mental faculties are highly developed and distinctively feminine. She is by nature more lofty, refined and cultured and has a higher sense of duty and devotion. There is nothing that so deadens womanly nature as a home that is commercialized and surroundings that are compelled to yield to the demands of a dollar.

A swing for the children may not be a revenue producer, pictures upon the walls may not pay annual dividends; musical instruments cannot be fattened and sold and good books and periodical will not swell the bank account, but they build character, make happiness and contribute towards our enlightenment. A mother with her ideals stifled by business greed is a queen robbed of her crown.—Mrs. E. P. Turner.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

Politics Overshadow Everything. Much Wrangling and Not Much Work

The second week of the called session of the Legislature now in session ended with much work done in the House of Representatives and a good start made in the Senate, but politics continues to be of much interest. With Hanger and Lane of Fort Worth already in the race for Governor and Chester Terrell, Speaker of the House, W. H. Mayes, Lieutenant Governor, Charley Mills, a member of the House, a son of Senator Rodger Q. Mills, announcing, it looks like things will warm up again next year. Also the candidates for the Speaker of the next House of Representatives are announcing with no good man yet in the race. The House of Representatives passed several appropriation bills and since the State is so much in debt at present by reason of its Penitentiary system and other obligations the appropriations will necessarily be large and the people will meet a high tax rate next year. Mr. Templeton and others tried in vain to reduce the large appropriations but met defeat at every move. The bill for the direct election of Senators to the Upper House of the Federal Congress was passed and altho Mr. Templeton did not get his own bill thru he succeeded in getting several good amendments adopted to the bill passed, which now permits the Governor with the Templeton Amendment, to appoint a Senator in the event of vacancy when Congress is in session but his preferential primary amendment was defeated. The legislation for the Penitentiary System comes up this week and that is decidedly the biggest thing to be considered. There is so much indebtedness against the system and it has used so much money that many of the lawmakers think there is something wrong and matters need mending.

To The Sacred Harp Singers.

There is to be a two days singing four miles northeast of Dodsonville, at Cypritt Hill, the fifth Sunday in August, and Saturday before. All Harp, singers are requested to go.

We will meet the Hollis class there, and expect a good time. Remember the date and go. W. L. Nelson of Dryden, Okla. P. P. Palmer, Wellington, Texas.

THE DOLLAR WITH A SOUL

Cheap Money Secured to Finance Distressed Cotton

Farmer Radford has announced that the bankers have made available $40,000,000 to finance distress cotton at six per cent per annum. It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial age to find so many dollard with souls. The men who sit on the financial throne in Texas have proved themselves shrewd bankers in throwing the strong arm of the dollar around the cotton farmer.

The problem of slow marketing of cotton has absorbed the attention of the leaders of economic thought for the past half a century and as first aid to a glutted market, the bankers will lend money on cotton stored in warehouses at six per cent. It is up to the farmer to take advantage of the facilities offered and to market his cotton more nearly in obedience to the laws of supply and demand.

Gasoline Takes Ten Inning Swatfest

Gasoline got away with yesterday's game with Cocke's pets after a ten inning exercise. The game featured some good playing on both sides.

The home boys deposed Mickey from the mound after the fifth inning but were unable to find Bob's wing. O'Neil began the scoring in the last of the second with a home run hit over center. W. Burleson, first man to bat in the fourth, hit Fuller for three bags and Robinson walked on balls. Fuller was well on the way toward pitching out, having fanned Bob Burleson and C. Burleson, when he was hit again for a single by Pointer, scoring W. Burleson and Robinson.

In the first of the fifth Gasoline added two more to her load when O. McCollum hit single and W.

AGAIN WITH SHAMROCK

Another Game for Friday August 15th on the Wellington Diamond

On Friday August 15th the Shamrock ball boys will come over again and engage the Wellington boys in a tussell on the local diamond. The Shamrock and Wellington teams are pretty evenly matched and always show a splendid game, so don't miss this game. On account of extra heavy expenses it has been decided to charge admission to both ladies and gentlemen for this occasion, but it will be worth the money. Game to be called at 4 o'clock.

Success sometimes depends upon the ability to smile and then smile some more.

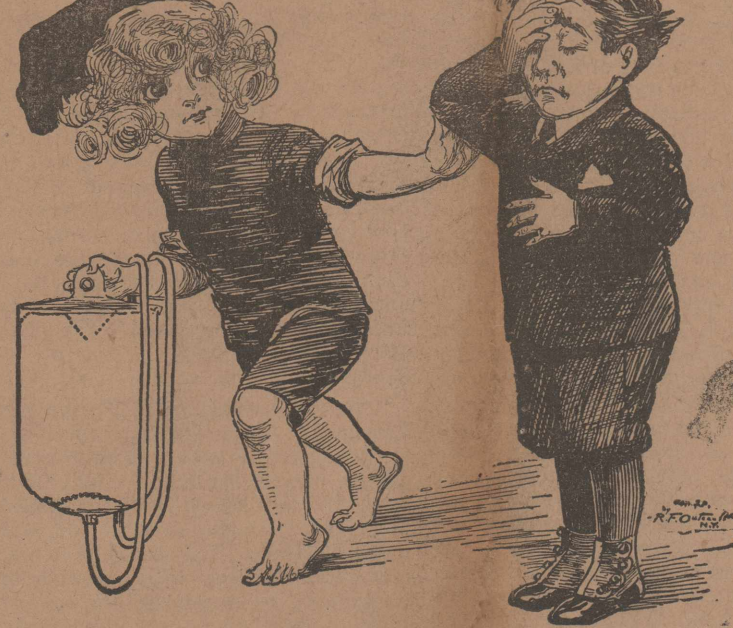

Burleson annexed his second three-bagger for the game. Burleson scored from third on short-stops error.

The home team also did some heavy hitting and got the score chalk busy again in the fifth. Tucker started off with a single, Cocke duplicated the act, Fuller choose two bases and scored Tucker from second and Cocke from first. Jones Sacrificed; Strong Struck out and W. Dean hit single scoring fuller from third and tying the score. Dean retired the side stealing second. Score 4 to 4.

Neither side made anything more until the tenth inning. O. McCollum opened with a single, W. Burleson and Dobinson were caught out by second and third respectively and R. Burleson hit double. C. Burleson came to bat putting a liner through short and both men came in.

The home squad came to bat in the tenth with Moore as a pinch-hitter Moore was thrown out by third, and Fuller by the pitcher. Jones terminated the game by striking out.

DE LESSEPS PALACE

Colan, C. Z.—"The engineer's dream of the centuries has been realized." Everyone who writes of the Panama canal feels bound to use that phrase, and though it is trite, it is no less true.

Possibly when Balboa first stood on the "Peak of Darien" and gazed enraptured at the waters of what he called the Southern sea the thought of cutting through the isthmus came to him. Certainly, within three years after his great discovery or in 1516, he had transported two ships, in pieces, across from the Atlantic to the Pacific and there put them together.

It could not have been very much later that the idea of an isthmian canal was born, for during the reign of Philip II. of Spain (1556-1598) the Inquisition declared that any such project to alter the face of the earth was impious, and the Spanish ruler forbade its further discussion. The ban of the church was effective for some time, but in 1699 a Scotchman of the name of Patterson revived the scheme, established a colony on the shores of the isthmus and even made a crude survey of the proposed route. Caledonian bay, on the north shore of Panama, alone preserves the memory of that attempt. French scientists in 1735 advocated a Nicaragua canal, fifty years later the Spanish government ordered a survey of the Darien route, and early in the nineteenth century von Humboldt declared a canal was practicable. In 1825, immediately after Latin America had freed itself from Spain, the Central American and United States Atlantic and Pacific Canal company was organized, and one of the directors of the concern with the high-sounding name was DeWitt Clinton. Various schemes were started and fell through, and in 1835 the United States senate voted for the building of a Nicaragua canal. An expedition was sent to that country and reported that the canal could be constructed at a cost of $25,000,000.

After the Civil war there was much negotiating by our government for a canal concession, but when the Nicaragua route seemed to be the favorite the Bogota government became impatient and gave the concession for a Panama canal to Lucien Napoleon Bonaparte Wyse, a French lieutenant. He made some maps and organized a company which sold out to the financiers with whom Ferdinand de Lesseps had associated himself.

Albert Edwards in his admirable book on Panama thus describes the beginning of the tragedy of de Lesseps and his company:

"The digging of the Suez canal was the accomplishment of his life. All his vigor and energy had gone into it. He came back to Paris literally carried on the shoulders of his nation. The government made him a 'comte' and the people called him 'le grand Français.' But he fell among thieves. The old man tumbled blindly into the trap of speculators, who foresaw a rich harvest in the drawing together of his great name and the shady concession of Lieutenant Wyse. They set the stage by summoning the scientists of the world to a great congress to discuss an Atlantic-Pacific canal. Although it was called a 'scientific' congress, most of its 136 members were speculators and politicians. Only forty-two were engineers or geographers. They elected Count de Lesseps, railroaded through a resolution that the Panama route was the only practicable one, and formed the Universal Inter-oceanic Canal company by buying the Wyse concession for 10,000,000 francs, before the bona fide members of the congress knew what had happened and in the face of much protest. There can be little doubt that the congress was packed like a ward caucus, but there is no evidence that de Lesseps realized that it was.

"The company was launched with many banquets, florid speeches by le grand Français, and champagne without end. And all the time those who were on the inside were playing the market from both ends, sending the stocks tumbling down the steps of the bourse on a manufactured report that the United States was again waving the Monroe Doctrine, shooting them up again with a misquotation from the president's message to the effect that we were enthusiastic in favor of the French enterprise. A sorrier exhibition of conscienceless finance has seldom been seen."

Old de Lesseps, however, was in earnest. He sent over engineers who discovered that Wyse's maps were inaccurate and that yellow fever was deadly. Then in December, 1879, the count himself, with his wife and three children, arrived from France. After receptions and speech-making in Colon he crossed to Panama, and there, on January 1, 1880, the formal opening of the canal was performed with elaborate ceremony. Mile, Ferdinand de Lesseps struck the first blow of a pickaxe at the point where the canal was to enter the Pacific, each of the party followed with a blow, and there was a vast quantity of applause and champagne.

STATUE OF COLUMBUS AT CRISTOBAL

on their hands when the final break came. The scandal was immense. Many government officials were involved. The shame of it drove the old man—le Grand Français—insane. He died a few years later in an asylum."

The company went into the hands of a receiver who organized the New French Canal company, and this concern sold all its rights and property to the United States in 1902. Many of its buildings, ranging in size from de Lesseps' palace in Cristobal to houses for laborers, were found worth preserving and have been used by the Americans. The hospital buildings at Ancon and Colon were nearly all erected by the French.

When Uncle Sam took hold of the canal work, the jungle all along the route across the isthmus was found full of expensive machinery abandoned to the ravages of rust and decay. Much of this was recovered and used in the earlier years of the American regime, and even now French dredges and locomotives may be seen at work there. Nearly all the old French equipment, however, has been sold to a Chicago wrecking concern which has been piling it up in orderly heaps and disposing of it as scrap.

Two parts of the actual work done on the canal by the French have proved of great help to the Americans. These were the dredging at the Atlantic entrance and the dry excavation in the Culebra cut.

The Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Things are looking pretty blue for the exposition to be held in San Francisco to celebrate the opening of the canal.

It was to be a world-show, and all civilized nations who had anything to exhibit were invited to participate. It was not in the national forecast that the invitation would not be accepted, but Uncle Sam is getting some "regrets" that will greatly cripple the big enterprise.

First, Japan fell out of the prospective exhibitors because of the California antialien land law muddle. It was said that the "honorable" feelings of the little yellow brother were so much hurt that he felt he would not be at ease among the other nations.

Now comes a far more serious blow in the announcement that neither England, Germany nor Russia will send exhibits, and have asked for no space reservations. The explanation of England's action no doubt is found in the fact that this government will exempt American coastwise shipping vessels from payment of the canal tolls. For months this has been a subject of debate between the two countries, England maintaining that such exemption would be in violation of the treaty which, so she understood, was to provide for equal rates for all countries. That this government has not so interpreted the treaty, but has made itself the exception, is possibly the "milk in the cocoa" of England's "regrets." She probably wishes to express to us and to the world her keen disapprobation of our action.

Germany does not see the necessity of making an exhibit because England is out of the rivalry, and there need be no special effort on her part to win American trade. With England making no bid, her chances are just as good without the enormous effort and expense of publishing herself at the far-off exposition.

Russia offers no excuse, just adopts a resolution to take no active part in the show.

Here are three big European nations entirely out of the count and because of the Balkan war Greece and Turkey will no doubt make the number five. This narrows down the foreign interest very materially. And here at home there seems to be no glowing enthusiasm over the occasion, for many state legislatures have failed to make appropriations for adequate exhibits. Here in Tennessee our politicians spent their time in fusing and unfusing and running away, to the detriment of big public questions.

And this exposition is, in a way, a big public matter, for it has been published to the world as our jubilation over a notable achievement. Its success becomes a matter of national pride. We do not wish to see what was prophesied as something great dwindled to something insignificant.

If foreign nations decline to share in the celebration, certainly the home states should not show a like lack of interest. On the contrary, these foreign refusals should put this country on its mettle to make a brilliant success of its undertaking. California won the coveted honor of the exposition, and San Francisco is hard at work on the grounds and buildings. The absence of the three big countries mentioned above will be greatly deplored, but that very absence renders it necessary for us to make a more heroic effort. Every state in the Union has a patriotic duty to perform in lending its best aid to those who are getting up the show.

The exposition ought to be a brilliant success, or it ought to be dropped before it shrinks to a failure.—Commercial Appeal.

Much Interest in Texas Building At Worlds' Fair.

Fort Worth, Texas, August 7.—Considerable interest is being manifested all over Texas in the movement by the Texas Commercial Executives Association for a state building at the Worlds' Fair, San Francisco, 1915. At the recent Institute of that Association a resolution was passed and forwarded to the Governor asking his assistance in securing an appropriation to cover the cost of constructing the building and gathering an exhibit. In connection with the resolution passed by the State Association it was decided to place the matter before the clubs represented at the meeting and as a result of the movement over forty petitions have been sent to Austin asking for favorable action on the appropriation. Practically every commercial organization is in favor of a building at the Exposition.

Lilly News.

Mrs. Clarence Spencer is right sick at her mother's Mrs. Alfred Philipps.

The Baptist meeting began at Lilly last Sunday, August 3rd, and will probably continue 10 days or more. Rev. Wilfred Perry and Rev. J. W. Hembree, are conducting the services.

Dave Thomas and family of Wellington, spent Saturday night and Sunday with friends here.

Little Robert Estes has a pretty bad case of the measles.

Prof. Vaughn, wife, and little son from Dodsonville, visited at Dr. People's Sunday.

Mrs. George McAdams is visiting relatives in Montague County.

Mr. Estes from Oklahoma, visited his son, Earnest Estes, last week.

Mrs. Siske and family were trading in Wellington Wednesday.

Rev. J. W. Hembree and family are visiting relatives and friends here this week, also assisting in the meeting.

E. L. Tarpley made a business trip to Dodsonville this week.

Miss Ruby Haralson is visiting her sister Mrs. W. M. Williams.

The Misses Aron from Plymouth, attended church here Sunday.

Marvin Seal, Mrs. Meadlin Arch and Curt Thomas, returned Monday from New Mexico.

Relatives of Mrs. J. A. Brandon from Oklahoma, are visiting with her this week and attending the meeting.

It is very dry around here and crops are suffering very much for rain.

Houselog Items.

Dear Mr. Editor. I wish you would please turn on some water and shovel in some wind, for things are getting dry out this way, and stock water is scarce.

Poor old farmers are laying up in the shade pouting, and watching it "burn up" some few have gone fishing.

Quite a crowd was out to our little Houselog Sunday afternoon, Jim Withrow and his singing class from Fresno, came over and entertained us awhile. Their singing was fine and we cordially invite them to "come again."

Most every one was out Sunday except Miss Clemmie Winter, we haven't been able to learn whether she was ill, or if it was Mr. Hickmon that caused her absence

We are glad indeed to learn that Clem Maples is able to be out again. He has been visiting down in Oklahoma. Probably some attraction down that way.

A large number of young people were present at the entertainment Saturday evening given at the home of Miss Ethel Wyley. Refreshments consisting of frozen peaches, cream and cake were served, and all who were present enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Ethel Self, and Miss Ella Pritchard of the city spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Misses Meadows.

Mr. C. A. Rodgers and family visited Mr. Woodruff and daughter Sunday.

Miss Gereda Mefford of Aberdeen, spent the past week with her sister, Mrs. Fred Wyley, the latter returned home with her Tuesday.

Several of the young folks attended church in town Sunday night.

Miss Ethel Wyley visited Miss Theo Rodgers, Monday and Tuesday.

Will come again if We dont "dry up" down here.

Sheriff's Sale.

The State of Texas, County of Collingsworth:

By virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Collingsworth County, on the 4th day of August 1913, by O. L. Couch Clerk of said Court against W. L. Langford et al for the sum of Four Hundred Dollars and Interest ($400.00) Dollars and cost of suit, in cause No. 296 in said Court, styled C. F. Berry versus W. L. Langford et al and placed in my hands for service, I, L. T. Sullivan as Sheriff of Collingsworth County, Texas, did, on the 5th day of August 1913 levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Collingsworth County, described as follows, to-wit all of the Northwest (N. W. 1-4) of section No. Twenty Eight (28) in block No. Fifteen (15) H. & G. N. Ry. Co. lands in Collingsworth and levied upon as the property of said W. L. Langford et al.

And on Tuesday, the Second day of September 1913, at the Court House door of Collingsworth County, in the City of Wellington, Texas, between the hours of ten A. M. and four P. M. I will sell said Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said W. L. Langford et al by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Wellington Leader a newspaper published in Collingsworth County.

Witness my hand, this 5th day of August 1913.

L. T. Sullivan.
Sheriff Collingsworth Co., Texas.

Farm Facts.

Facts always have stubborn enemies.

Money is the motive power of civilization.

Those who surfeit can be as sick as those who starve.

We have learned how to produce, now we must learn how to market.

The two most powerful influences in agriculture are markets and credits.

Cheap money is one of the greatest ministers to human needs the world possesses.

Cheap money is afforded every business man in every line of business except in the business of farming.

The inventive geniuses are the most valuable farm hands we have and they perform an enduring service to mankind.

What is sometimes called an overproduction is merely the clogging of the markets by a bad system of distribution.

The farmer gets more out of a fair than anyone else. The fair to a city man is an entertainment; to a farmer it is educational.

An exhibition of perfect products of the soil stirs the genius in artists, and their purity furnishes models for growth of character.

The farmer's assignment in the vineyard of industry is one of toil and his compensation is fixed by competitive lines of industry.

The home dollar should take up the burdens of the hour rather than lie in wait to drink prosperity from the dripping wings of outside capital.

A farmer who produces a crop he can neither use nor sell at a profit is an unsuccessful farmer, regardless of the science he employed in production.

—Peter Radford.

City Building Notes.

Demagogy is the thief of progress.

Capital seldom enters where home folks fear to tread.

Mud holes act as depressions in the confidence of investors.

Confidence will accomplish great things in community building.

A little imagination will sometimes blossom into a great actually.

Success sometimes depends upon the ability to smile and then smile some more.

When you have a prospective investor within your midst, land him—not stand him.

It's well enough to investigate thoroughly everything undertaken, but afterwards get action.

There is no city so prosperous but that co operation will benefit if only to perpetuate the prosperity.

If some cities would but take advantage of opportunities, there would be no limit to their growth and prosperity.

Enthusiasm may load the wagon to its fullest capacity, but it takes financial assistance to make the wheels turn.

When a stranger tells you of the greatness of his home city, respect him and his opinion, for he is usually a good citizen and a neighbor to be proud of.

Too Many

In looking over my stock of goods, I find that I have too many goods and I need money worse than the goods, so will sell anything at bargain prices, and some even at actual cost. I have got a lot of aluminum ware that I will sell at cost to close it out.

Get an umbrella for your plow or wagon at McCauley's Dry Goods store. They cost but little and save you from exposure to the hot sun, and may save a doctor's bill.

Custer Davis left Tuesday for his home at St. Jo, Texas, after a visit of several months to his brother here. V. V. Davis, the genial manager of the Cicero-Smith Lumber Co., and also city clerk.

M. L. Boss and John Waller with their families went on a fishing trip over on Elm last Saturday. Mr. Boss says they caught some sixty odd pounds of fish from twelve to sixteen inches long.

M. J. Moore one of the splendid farmers of the Cross Roads community, was in the city one day this week, and reported that while crops as a whole, are suffering considerable, cotton was holding up very well.

B. F. Ford of the Kelley community was in the city last Saturday, accompanied by his brother-in-law, J. D. Cash, who with his family are on a visit to the latter. We hear Mr. Cash will probably locate here.

McCauley Dry Goods Co. have just received a nice shipment of the Celebrated Kabo Corsets. They are guaranteed as wearing quality and against rust. All latest styles.

Our good friend R. W. Robinson near Fresno in attempting to burn out and kill the mites in his chicken house accidentally let the building catch on fire and it burned up, and he is now the subject of considerable joking on the part of his neighbors.

Mrs. Joe Hardy left last Saturday for a visit to Clarendon and was joined by Mr. Hardy Tuesday, and they returned to Wellington Thursday. Mr. Hardy reports conditions around Clarendon about like they are here. Crops possible a little later. The last rain-falling here did not reach as far as Clarendon, he says.

Last Saturday Jack Bevers happened to the misfortune of getting one of the bones in his left arm near the wrist fractured and the other bone strained and ligaments bruised and torn, which was quite painful. In some manner a large amount of flour which he was hauling and had stacked up at the Leader Grocery fell and caught him in such a way as to cause the injury. The fracture was reduced and he will be compelled to carry his arm in a sling for some time.

W. D. Collins, erstwhile citizen of Collingsworth and County Clerk here, writes us to change the address of his paper from Texline, Texas, to Clayton, N. M. Mr. Collins says further: "This is a good country and Clayton is a good town, about 3000 feet higher than Wellington, it almost makes one dizzy to look through the minds eye down upon those he loves 3000 feet below. But we are not yet on top of the world for Mr. J. C. Worley is 2000 feet further up than we are. Another curious fact is that the west bound passenger train on the F. W. & D. due in Texline at 6 p. m. arrives in Clayton at 5:32."

W. H. Griffis, R. T. Nunn and E. M. Dukeminier each received a new Metal Perfection Silo, and are busy putting them up. They purchased them in a car lot brought in by J. C. Wooldriege, which firm expects to receive another car lot next week. The two first named gentlemen put silos last year, and are evidently well satisfied with them.
