New Interest Rate On Bonds Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury today asked Congress for authority to apply flexible interest rates on savings bonds and proposed at the same time to raise the rate from 3 to 3¼ per cent

Identical bills were sent to the Senate and House which would give the Treasury the same flexibility to adjust the interest on savings bonds that it has on other securities.

If Congress approves the higher rate will be offered on all series E and H bonds sold on or after Feb. 1.

Treasury officials said there will be no advantange, therefore, in holding off purchases of the savings bonds until the legislation is passed.

The baby bonds—Series E—still will sell at the same price and carry the same maturity value. But the present 9 year and 8 months maturity will be shortened to 8 years and 11 months.

Redemption values in the early years will be increased substantially, however, to provide a better yield for bondholders who redeem the securities before maturity.

If held for three years, the new bonds will yield 3 per cent, the return received on the present E bonds, if cashd in three years, pay only 2¼ per cent.

The Treasury's announcement followed widespread criticism in Congress and elsewhere of the interest yield, in view of generally rising interest rates on other investments. Sales of E bonds have declined, and during most of last year redemptions exceeded sales.

The most common explanation has been that the public could find better paying investments.

The Treasury said present holders of bonds "will generally find it advantageous to continue holding them."

It gave this example: a $100 bond, which cost $75, has a redemption value of $79.20 when held for 2½ years. If that bond is held to maturity, the Treasury said, it will earn $20.80 more, which is equivalent to 3.28 per cent interest on the $79.20.

Livestock Show Planned

Judge of the annual Scurry County Junior Livestock Show, scheduled here next Thursday through Saturday, will be L. M. Hargrave, associate professor of agriculture education at Texas Tech College, Lubbock.

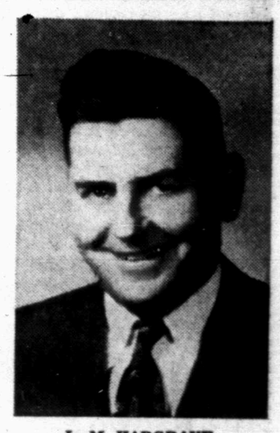

Although the show officially begins next Thursday, that day will be limited to members of the county's Future Farmers of America chapters and 4-H Clubs getting their animals to the exhibit barn in Towle Memorial Park. Judging will start the next morning and continue until about noon next Saturday. After that time, a sale will be held.

Hargrave, in much demand as a show judge, has been agriculture education since 1935, when he began teaching vocational agriculture at Wolfforth. He joined the Tech faculty in 1946.

Some 250 to 300 animals are expected to be entered in the annual show. Entries include project calves, barrows, and lambs, with the various weights and classes competing in each division for grand championships. In addition, there is judging of a group of commercial calves, which cannot compete for championship.

Previously, the steer division had only light and heavy classes of drylot calves, but added to those this year will be medium weight.

Preparing the youths for the show are Oscar Fowler, county agent, who heads 4-H Club work in the county, and high school agriculture instructors Kenneth Goforth and Billy Bob McMullan of Snyder, Frank Barnes of Hermleigh, Bill McMeans of Ira and Ray Herring of Fluvanna.

Pricing Policy Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Seaton said today the government has no authority to seize the oil industry or seek a voluntary agreement to hold down oil prices.

He added he is personally happy that a federal grand jury is reviewing the possibility of anti-trust violations in the pricing field.

Seaton denied in testimony prepared for a joint hearing by the Senate Antitrust and Public Lands subcommittees that he ever told a subordinate not to answer questions of a congressional committee.

The joint committee is investigating the emergency program for oil for Europe instituted after closure of the Suez Canal, and the domestic price increases on gasoline and fuel oils which followed.

Interior's office of oil and gas is supervising the emergency supply program which is being carried out by a group of major oil companies with international connections operating under the name the Middle East Emergency Committee.

Antitrust rules have been relaxed, for purposes of the overseas supply operation, to permit such things as pooling of transport and interchange of oil stocks.

Simultaneously with Seaton's testimony before the Senate group the House Commerce Committee called his assistant secretary, Felix E. Wormser, for questioning about how effective the oil lift itself has been. Chairman Harris (D-Ark) said he expected "clarifying statements" on that point, over which there has been some disagreement in the Senate inquiry.

Program Is Restored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has voted to restore a 30-million-dollar minerals buying program stricken by the House from a supplemental money bill.

The Senate committee also upped House allotments for drought aid and farm ownership loans.

Hart Says Voters Tired Of Extremists

James P. Hart, candidate for the U.S. Senate, expressed confidence here today that Texas citizens are weary of extremists in politics.

Instead of radical elements, in any direction, people want public officials who will base their actions on sound judgment and conscience, Hart declared.

Hart, who said he is a Democrat of long standing who supported the party's nominees in both 1952 and 1956 general elections, warned that political parties are "not an end in themselves." They are a means to accomplishment in the American system of government, he said.

Hart said he favored full parity for farm products, just as he favored a fair break for small business. In connection with the latter he said he definitely is opposed to the present "tight money" policy.

The nation needs its farmers, little businesses and big business concerns, Hart declared. All are required by a strong nation.

Strength is important to the nation, he said. There must be strength in material resources, economic strength, political strength, military strength and, above all, strength in faith, Hart asserted.

As for state's rights, Hart said he believed that local and state governments should carry the load in all areas where they can serve. "The government that is closest to the people can serve the people best," he explaind.

At the same time he reminded that the Federal government is "our government, too," and it is proper for it to serve in designated areas, but without encroachment upon state and local government branches.

Hart said he was asked often about his position on "the runoff bill" now before the Texas legislature. The measure, known as the Pool Bill, would require a runoff in special elections.

Hart said when he announced as a candidate in the race the law did not require a runoff and he felt that he could win such an election. However, he said he would be happy to let the majority of the voters have the final word, and he felt equally as confident that he could win in a runoff.

Hart, who is travelling alone on a swing through West Texas, is a former associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court and a former chancellor of the University of Texas. A native of Austin, he still makes his home there and since resigning the University of Texas post has practiced law in the state capital.

Arab, US Harmony Facing New Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Dulles plan to get Israeli troops out of Egypt threatened today to chill U.S. relations with Saudi Arabia which reached a new peak of warmth only last week with the conclusion of King Saud's talks with President Eisenhower.

State Department officials are understood to have sent a special explanation of the proposal to King Saud who is en route home by way of Spain. U.S. diplomats at Madrid were charged with the task of trying to secure the Arabian monarch's understanding and if possible his good will.

Arabian Ambassador Abdullah al-Khayyal discussed the Dulles plan and expressed Saudian Arabian apprehensions about it in a meeting with Asst. Secretary of State William Rountree yesterday. Rountree has charge of Middle Eastern affairs under Secretary of State Dulles.

The ambassador is understood to have told Rountree he thought King Saud would be upset by news of the Dulles proposal on the ground that it showed a high degree of support for Israeli interests in the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Arabian envoy also wondered whether, if Israel went along with the plan and then failed to get free passage from Egypt into the Gulf of Aqaba, the United States would back up with force its proposed declaration in favor of free passage.

Saudi Arabia has a direct interest in the Aqaba situation because its shores border the gulf and it has sovereignty over the island of Tiran which is on one side of the Strait of Tiran at the mouth of the gulf.

Rountree offered assurance to the ambassador that the Dulles plan does not in any way contemplate the use of force either to assure free passage into the Gulf of Aqaba or to secure the Gaza Strip against use as an Egyptian base of attack on Israel. The United States wants to solve the Gaza problem through the United Nations.

Rountree also is reported to have argued that the Dulles proposition is in the interest of the Arab states themselves because it constitutes an effort to solve the problem of Israeli troop withdrawals from the Gaza and Aqaba regions and thereby bring new stability into the Middle East situation.

The Dulles proposal was not worked out until after Saud left. Apparently somewhat belatedly U.S. officials have become anxious to assure Saud that his delegation here was not misled about the U.S.

Bitter Egyptian criticism has cast grave doubt on the success of the Dulles plan.

Slaying Suspect Not To Be Tried As Adult

DALLAS (AP)—A girl who admitted the fatal shooting of another teen-ager will not be tried as an adult because she is one year below the minimum age, probation officer Sam Davis said yesterday.

The girl, 17, admitted she shot Mary Salazar, 19, Sunday night as the climax of a teen-age feud. The victim's sister, Jannie, 15, was shot in the abdomen and was recovering in a hospital.

Davis said the girl faces a maximum sentence of four years if she is convicted. Any sentence would be served at the State School for Girls at Gainesville.

Fog, Drizzle Cover Many State Areas

By The Associated Press

Fog and drizzle prevailed in parts of Texas Thursday, but most skies were clearing after rains up to 4½ inches.

Fog cut visibility to zero at Lubbock, one-quarter mile at Houston and 2 miles at San Antonio where drizzle fell.

Rainfall for a 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. included Austin 1.02 inches, Victoria .48, Palacios .18, San Angelo .05 and Waco .01.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 40 degrees at Amarillo to 72 at Corpus Christi.

Rains fell in Central and South Texas Wednesday. The heaviest downpour was 4.5 inches south of San Marcos. The town itself had only .62 of an inch.

Up to 2 inches fell 10 miles north of Gonzales and Victoria had about 2 inches. The Port Lavaca area recorded as much as 1.50 inches Wednesday.

During the day showers fell at Waco, Midland, Wink, San Angelo and Austin. Drizzle was reported in West Texas around Midland and Odessa.

A cool front was reported skirting along the Kansas area, but it was not expected to reach Texas for 48 hours and then its effect may not be fully felt.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Wednesday, 72 degrees; low Wednesday night, 52 degrees; reading at 7:30 a.m. today, 55 degrees.

West Texas—Partly cloudy through Friday. Windy Friday. Turning colder in Panhandle Friday.

Appeal Made For Mental Health Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—"There are 50 people in this room," a witness told the House Public Health Committee last night. "According to statistics 4½ of us will be in a mental hospital some day.

"Let's fix up these hospitals," said Dr. Raleigh Ross, chairman of the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools.

The Austin surgeon was one of half a dozen witnesses who testified before the proposed mental health code was sent to a subcommittee with permission of the author, Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas.

Only one witness opposed the proposed revision of the mental health laws.

"I guess you would say I'm against it in its present form," said W. L. Sleeper, chief attorney for the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Waco. "It needs more work done on it here and there. For instance under the definition of a physician given here a VA hospital staff member could not qualify. I think there is some question of legal rights also."

Sanders said the mental health code was drafted with the backing and help of the State Hospitals Board, the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene, and the University of Texas Law School.

Fairly Comfortable

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Louis Budenz, 65, former editor of the Communist newspaper Daily Worker, was reported as "fairly comfortable" today, several hours after he suffered a heart attack.

Pigeon Is 'That Way' About Airplane Pilot

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — This being Valentine's Day, it's a good time to disclose that a certain pigeon is "that way" about V. A. Knudegard, a Southern Airlines pilot from Atlanta.

About a week ago when the pigeon began flying alongside the airliner as Knudegard brought it in on morning flight from Charlotte, N.C.

In addition to accompanying Knudegard on his approach, the pigeon also circles around the cockpit as the plane taxis into its takeoff run, peering fondly in at the pilot until the plane outspeeds the feathery flier.

Today, the pigeon perched on the plane's wing in the spell between landing and takeoff.

Reminder Issued For County Vote On Freeway Proposal

Only property taxpayers will be eligible to vote Saturday in the $750,000 county right-of-way election here.

County officials today reminded residents that to vote in the election, they must have paid their poll tax and they must have their names on the property tax rolls of the county.

This announcement was made by county officials to help residents avoid the trouble of going to the polls if they are not eligible to vote, only to be told there they cannot vote. Some residents in the past have mistakenly gone to the polls in bond elections thinking car registration qualified them as taxpayers.

The bond election is being held here in connection with the Snyder freeway proposed by the State Highway Department, which has said it will pay for the freeway if the county will furnish right-of-way.

The bond election is being used not only to authorize or turn down right-of-way but to determine whether taxpayers here want a freeway.

The proposal came as a result of a study the highway department made of the traffic problem here. It would connect U.S. Highway 84 southeast of Snyder on the Sweetwater highway with the same U.S. highway north of Snyder on the road to Lubbock. Another portion of the freeway would connect the main leg with the Lamesa Highway, U.S. 180.

The freeway would be one of controlled access, with entrances and exits only at designated points and with crossings only by overpass or underpass.

All regular precinct polling places will be open Saturday for the election.

An estimated 3,000 persons or slightly more are eligible to vote in the election.

Fire Destroys Building

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fire destroyed a four-story building in the Diamond Market section of the downtown business area last night. Loss was set at $300,000.

Engagement Is Opened By Marlene

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Marlene Dietrich's opening night of a three weeks' engagement at the Sands Hotel was, as the press agents say, supercolossal — really "the most."

She wore a gown last night that her dressmaker says was fashioned with 227,000 hand-sewn diamond beads, required a million hand stitches and was six months in the making. She wore a huge white coat made from down of the breasts of 200 swans (count 'em.)

The coat trailed 12 feet from the top of the collar to the end of the train and was eight feet at its widest point.

Marlene started off with a rock 'n' roll number, gyrating in the Elvis Presley manner. Later, in her dressing room, she confessed she is a fan of Presley. "He's my idol; I think he's the greatest," she said in a serious tone.

Her show included some of the songs that made her famous, 'See What the Boys in the Back Room Will Have," "Toot, Toot, Tootsie" —13 altogether.

Baby Shot In Head In Strike Violence

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—Churches in two Indiana counties were opened for noonday prayers today for the recovery of a baby—daughter of a nonstriking worker, shot through the head.

Deaconess Hospital in Evansville reported Julia Ann Russell, 4-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Russell, still in critical condition but slightly improved.

The baby, struck by one of seven bullets fired into her parents' trailer home early Wednesday, remained paralyzed on her left side but was able to take food. She was kept in an oxygen tent.

Twenty members of the Ministerial Alliance of Princeton asked churches in Gibson and Pike counties to open today for prayers for the baby's recovery. The ministers issued a statement saying they "vigorously protest acts of violence" in the long strike of the Potter & Brumfield electrical relay factory here.

The International Assn. of Machinists, on strike at the plant since Nov. 5 over dismissals, offered a $1,000 reward for arrest and conviction of the person who fired the bullets. The Princeton local of the union also offered a $500 reward, saying it has never condoned violence.

Potter & Brumfield offered $2,500 rewards in the trailer shooting and in previous incidents, in which a nonstriker's cottage was dynamited and another nonstriker's home was peppered with shot.

The baby's father, a machinist, said he had been planning to quit work at the struck plant because he "was fed up with the whole business." His wife is secretary to the director of manufacturing.

About 370 workers have been passing picket lines each day to go to work in the plant, which normally employs 650 production workers, mostly women.

State Police continued patrols of the Princeton area, started Nov. 29 after stonings on the picket line. A team of detectives also was on hand, looking for evidence in the trailer shooting.

Houston Group Faces Restraining Orders

NEW YORK (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz said yesterday he has obtained permanent restraining orders against a group of Houston, mortgage security brokers banning them from trading in securities or soliciting funds from investors in New York state.

The orders affect the Pioneer Mortgage and Development Corp., and Albert Benson, doing business as Benson and Co.

Lefkowitz said the Benson firm, allied with Pioneer, set out to raise three million dollars by offering 300,000 shares in common stock.

No Late Hours Are Slated For X-Rays

There will be no late hours, as originally scheduled, during the last two days of the five-day free mass chest X-ray program here.

When plans were first made here, the local committee working with the State Department of Health in the program scheduled early and late hours for the last two days, next Monday and Tuesday.

It was learned today, however, that the state health department cannot schedule the overtime hours for the unit to be open.

Monday and Tuesday, then, will have the same hours as those this week, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The unit will be making X-rays tomorrow and will then be closed Saturday and Sunday.

Yesterday, the first day, a total of 673 persons had X-rays made. By noon today, there was another 250. The figure was expected to reach a total of 1,000 shortly after noon.

Persons 55 and older are especially being urged to get the free X-rays, since it is among people of that age that the majority of deficiencies show up.

No undressing is required for taking the X-ray.

The unit is located in the basement of the courthouse.

Congress Is Like 'Old Bossy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is like a cow, Sen. Cotton (R-NH) said today. But the cow's digestive machinery, he hinted, sometimes works better.

Seeking in his weekly news letter to give his constituents a word picture of the task before the 85th Congress, Cotton came up with this "homely but apt illustration":

"As a boy," he wrote, "I was amazed and impressed by a lecture on the internal mechanism of the dairy cow.

"Thereafter I regarded bossy with a new respect as a complex machine — a milk factory on legs.

"She has four stomachs — one true stomach, three for storage. In one day she can cram 150 pounds of wet grass into her compartments. Then she retires to a shady place, regurgitates it in small amounts, chews it thoughtfully and thoroughly, and digests it in her 'true stomach.'"

Now the comparison:

"During the first days of the congressional session," Cotton said, "a vast amount of fodder is crammed down its gullet. During the weeks and months that follow it brings it up bit by bit to chew and digest.

"Six messages have come down from the White House and three more are on their way. The special Middle East message and the State of the Union message have laid down broad questions of policy.

"The budget message, in addition to appropriations which will require months to go over, contains nearly 100 specific legislative recommendations.

"The economic report calls for 37 new laws.

"The messages on immigration, school construction, small business, Taft-Hartley revisions, and veterans benefits will prove complicated and bristling with points of controversy. . . .

"The mind balks when confronted by this mass of material. We can only deal with it in parts. It can't be digested as a whole."

Almost Killed By Love

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Jasper Evans stood in Superior Court to receive a three to seven year sentence for shooting his girl friend nearly to death — and a few minutes later he married her.

The wedding took place yesterday in the probation officer's quarters, adjoining the court before an assemblage of deputy sheriffs, court clerks and other courthouse employes.

State's Attorney Abraham S. Ullman said he couldn't object to the marriage if the bride, Miss Francine Hicks, was willing to forgive Evans "to the extent of marrying him."

Public Defender Thomas R. Robinson explained in court that Evans, 33, and his 20-year-old fiancee quarreled and separated last Nov. 21. In a drunken condition, Robinson said, Evans returned to her apartment later that day and shot her.

Evans kissed his bride after the marriage and left immediately for State Prison. He will be eligible for parole in 24 months.

Rio Grande Water Suit Is Planned

EDINBURG (AP) — A committee was appointed yesterday to work with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and legislators to secure legislation needed to bring the Rio Grande Valley's complicated water suit to trial.

Attorneys in the suit discussed legal problems with Wilson and his staff. State Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville attended.

Wilson suggested that legislation be sought allowing the transfer of another district judge here to try the suit.

Judge W. R. Blallock disqualified himself from hearing in his 93rd District Court because of his ownership of partly irrigated lands.

Wilson suggested the needed legislation should permit transfer of a judge from a district where the docket was not too crowded.

"To get the kind of man you want come here from outside the Valley, I think you'd have to have compensation more than a regular district judge receives," Wilson said.

The legislation could permit payment of per diem and expenses to pursuade a judge to take on the extra duties.

Efforts to secure a permanent judge for the suit have been with considerable difficulties. The suit has been without a judge for sev- weeks. The suit asks the court to adjudicate the priority and variety of water rights on the Lower Rio Grande.

Announcement Of New Antibiotic Is Made

DALLAS (AP)—A group of research scientists said yesterday a new antibiotic named dalacin, apparently named after Dallas since it was isolated from a soil sample collected in Dallas, is "highly effective in destroying tubercle bacilli."

The scientists made the report at St. Louis, where research workers from the Upjohn Co. told of the new drug at a conference on tuberculosis.

Body Of Pilot Is Recovered Wednesday

AUSTIN (AP)—The body of a pilot killed Monday in the crash of a jet trainer in the Gulf of Mexico was recovered yesterday.

Bergstrom Air Force Base officials identified him as Capt. Robert E. Chase of Los Angeles.

The plane crashed into the Gulf near Matagorda Island while on a training flight from Bergstrom.

Report Given On Boys Club

Snyder Kiwanis Club members heard a report on operation of the Scurry County Boys Club at their regular luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

Speaker at the meeting was Michie Brous, executive director of the Boys Club.

Brous said the Boys' Club was making progress in its efforts to provide a wholesome program for youngsters ranging in age from six to 18. The boys are organized into age groups, with regular activities scheduled at the club.

Participation in the program has increased sharply in recent weeks, and interest is expected to increase, Brous said.

Objective of the Boys Club is to fill a need in recreation, character building and physical fitness supplementing the role of the school, church and the home.

Brous was introduced by Victor Baze, who was in charge of the program. Visitors included a delegation from the Colorado City Kiwanis Club.

By Second Year Of Life, Baby Begins To Do Many Things

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newsfeatures

TOWARD THE BEGINNING of the second year of life there comes a change in the attitude of parents toward their baby. This is a very important change, but one of which many parents are only dimly aware.

The baby becomes able to do things "on purpose" — real things, such as pulling lamps over, throwing food on the floor, biting, soiling himself. By this time the baby is able to go places — first with lightning-like speed in crawling and soon upright on those wobbly legs. His ability to get about increases the number of things he can do, many of which can drive his mother crazy. Also he is learning to communicate his wishes with words. Soon after he can say "Mama" and a few such words he learns the all powerful "No". Often it seems this is the most important word in his vocabulary.

Good and Bad

When the baby is able to do all these things, we begin to expect him to conform to our way of life. We talk about good behaviour and bad behaviour. Good is what pleases us, bad is that which is troublsome for us. Good and bad are from the adult point of view. They have little or nothing to do with what pleases the child. Now this is where the big change in attitude comes in. When the baby is tiny we think only of what pleases the baby. Mighty few mothers become annoyed with their baby because he soils himself, spits up a mouthful of milk or accidently bumps over a dish of cereal. We don't expect a baby to be able to help doing these troublesome things. Mothers clean up the mess, and hug and love the baby just the same. Love is free, so to speak, to the baby. He can just be himself and it's all right and he is loved.

But later, love begins to have a price. Mother shows her love when her baby is good and she withholds it when he is bad. This is all right if it doesn't go too far. Little children do have to learn to conform. But it's helpful to look the matter squarely in the face and understand what we are doing — try to understand looking up at life from the eyes and heart of the baby himself.

Baby Needs Love

A baby needs to be loved, he needs to feel he is pretty much O. K. with those two important people Mom and Dad. Also he needs to learn to do some things and not to do others.

When you really think about love having a price it's not hard to figure out how to manage. Make sure that you show your love when things are going well; don't just ignore the baby with a sigh of relief that he's not into something and you can get your work done. Talk to him, sing to him (even from the other room) throw him a toy as you pass, let him know you think he's wonderful.

Try your best to make it impossible for him to do many bad things. He is not old enough to understand the laws of physics. It's fun to pull on the dangling edge of the tablecloth; he doesn't yet know that disaster will follow, so keep him and the tempting cloth apart. Prevent as many "bads" acts as you possibly can.

For those you can't prevent, stop the child and say and do nothing. This is a kind of love, rather than punishment. It's quite enough. Your child wants and needs you to love him and he will learn the difference between behavior that brings your warm enthusiastic approval and behavior that brings cool indifference from you.

As the child gets a wee bit older he comes to understand that Mommy doesn't like certain things and that life is pleasanter when Mommy is nice. And he also understands that it's the "bad things" Mommy doesn't like; that it's never Joe she doesn't like. Mommy loves all of Joey all the time — it's just some things Joey does she doesn't like.

Farm Program Is Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The soil bank conservation reserve allotment for Texas had been increased by $7,222,000, the Agriculture Department announced yesterday.

The 33 per cent increase should be of material assistance in meeting demands on the program within the state, said Rep. Joe M. Kilgore (D-Tex) of McAllen.

Kilgore said applications from Texas farmers for participation are running considerably beyond the prior allocation of $21,667,000 for Texas.

He added the same is true of the soil bank acreage reserve program, and attempts are still being made to determine if the Texas allotment under that program can be increased.

Legislators Flunk In Test Of Measure

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Maryland legislators ran their automobiles through an inspection line today to test the effectiveness of a bill to require such inspections annually in Maryland.

All 50 who participated flunked.

So did a bunch of other people who decided to test their autos just for the laughs.

Joseph G. G. Robinson, chairman of the Safety Committee of the Baltimore Junior Chamber of Commerce, said of 185 cars tested in the special project, only eight passed.

Man Is Run Over By Train And Lives

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Damon Floyd, 49, a shoe-repair shop proprietor, fell in front of the Congressional Limited as it pulled into 30th Street station here. The locomotive and one car passed over him, but he suffered only head and face cuts.

Two cars had to be uncoupled to get him out and the New York-to-Washington train was delayed 24 minutes. Floyd told police he couldn't explain the fall.

Preacher For 9 Months Now In Jail

ELMDALE, Kan. (AP) — Calvin Laskey had revived the Elmdale Christian Church and more than trebled its membership in the nine months he was pastor, but today he's in jail.

The FBI said his record showed he'd been convicted 26 times on felony charges. Sheriff Francis Towle said Laskey himself acknowledged he had been in prison most of the past 20 years.

Elmdale is flabbergasted.

"He was the best preacher we ever had," said Miss Carrie Wood, 88, and a lifelong resident of this little town (population 180) in the Flint Hills of southeast Kansas.

"We got value received," said George Dawson, Elmdale banker and member of the church board. "He didn't take a cent from us. That's the surprising thing about it."

"I don't figure I'm out anything," said Tom Wells, farmer and insurance agent who loaned $125 to the preacher. "I think he balanced the scales by all the good he did. It might be just a case of split personality, some kind of insanity. The man was very pious."

The Elmdale Christian Church almost had faded away when the lanky 43-year-old Laskey appeared on the scene nine months ago and talked himself into the pastorate. He said his name was Dean Barton and he'd been a Presbyterian preacher. The Christian Church is made up of self-governing congregations. Many of the smaller ones do not demand credentials of their ministers.

Elmdale Christian grew to 70 members. When Sheriff Towle stepped in and arrested Laskey he was instructing a class of 15 who planned to confess their faith and join the church on Easter.

Laskey pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of illegally marrying a couple Dec. 2. He was sentenced to six months in jail.

The sheriff began to suspect Laskey after hearing one of his stirring talks to service clubs about being a prisoner of war in Korea. Laskey said he'd lost his discharge papers. He said you couldn't get duplicates. Towle knew that wasn't true.

The FBI's record on Laskey dates back to a boy's industrial school at Ottawa, Canada, when he was 14. He was committed to a Montreal insane asylum after conviction of forgery in 1935 but escaped in three months. He has served terms in the Arizona and Minnesota prisons for stealing. He escaped from jail in Boston in 1945. The U. S. and Canadian armies and the U. S. Navy have desertion charges against him.

It's Valentine Day For Roger Valentine

DETROIT (AP) — Today is "Roger Valentine Day" in suburban Dearborn.

The 2½-year-old boy is dying of leukemia, a blood disease.

His father, James Valentine, a postman, said he used to write letters to the boy, who lives to receive mail.

A Detroit newspaper, telling of the child's condition, printed the parents' wish that Roger could be showered with letters.

On hand are some 10,000 cards and letters wishing Roger a "happy St. Valentine's Day."

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

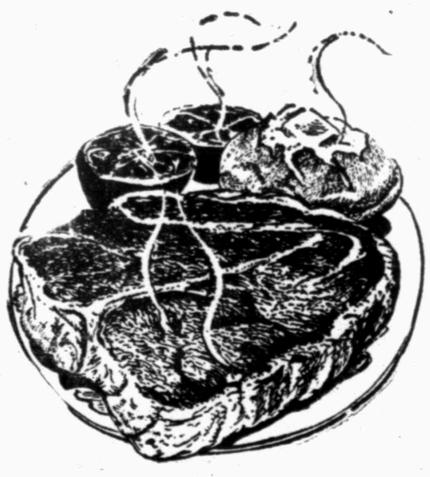

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

OKLAHOMA COACH BUD Wilkinson makes no bones about it, he wants all the Texas boys he can possibly get.

Wilkinson told a group of a dozen or so sports writers and announcers in an interview last night prior to the All-District 3-AAA banquet at Colorado City that the Sooners are continuing to comb the Texas Panhandle and West Texas areas for football talent.

"When we hear of a good boy in this area we contact him and if he sounds the least bit interested, then we go to work on him," Wilkinson said

"Recruiting will be much more difficult in this area for us than in the past with Texas Tech coming into the Southwest Conference," Wilkinson said.

"Heretofore we were just about as close to West Texas boys geographically as any of the other SWC schools," Bud went on. "That is one reason we have been able to get some of West Texas' outstanding boys in the past."

The state of Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle and West Texas just about sums up the entire recruiting area of the Sooners, according to Wilkinson.

Got McDonald By 'Accident'

Bud was asked how they obtained their All-American halfback of last fall, Tommy McDonald, from New Mexico, and he gave this answer:

"W egot him quite by accident. Dudley DeGroot, former New Mexico University coach, was responsible for us getting McDonald," Bud said.

"DeGroot is a good friend of mine and the year he got mixed up with NMU (he was fired) Dudley had recruited McDonald and one other Albuquerque football player."

"DeGroot then recommended Oklahoma to these two boys and, of course, we were glad to get them."

The way it stands now, two Texas boys are in line to take over the quarterbacking duties of the Sooners next fall, according to Wilkinson. One of them, Lonnie Holland of Plainview, played against the Tigers while in high school.

The other is Dale Sherod of Odessa. Wilkinson also expects a lot from another quarterback from Texas, Bennett Watts of Breckenridge, who also performed against the Tigers during his schoolboy days.

Watts, however, will only be a sophomore next fall and isn't expected to crowd anyone out for the starting post.

Bud Impresses All

We were very impressed with our first meeting with Wilkinson and can see how he is able to get the job down as a football coach. Bud spoke "off the record" on a few of the questions fired at him during the interview but believe he won the admiration of all who were present.

Wilkinson has a very charming personality and it isn't hard to understand how he might get all of the potential out of a football player.

We doubt if Wilkinson will ever leave Oklahoma. He knows when he's well off, what with being a cinch to win the Big 7 title each year and then he's probably drawing down one of the top coaching salaries in the country.

The 3-AAA banquet, itself, was a very fine affair. It was an occasion that the All-District 3-AAA players prhaps will never forget.

Eight of the nine Tigers who made the first or second All-District 3-AAA teams were present. The Tigers present were end Milton Ham, tackle Wiley Denson, center Joe Reaves and quarterback Powell Berry of the first team and end Robert Dabbs and backs Tommy Prichard, Bobby Pollard and Bill Fowler of the second team.

Gary Hill, first team Tiger guard, was unable to attend because of work.

Wilkinson delivered a very inspiring address to the 400 banqueteers. This address, incidentally, may be heard over the local radio station, KSNY, tonight at 8:15.

Kermit Grid Coach Takes Conroe Post

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—Conroe High School officials announced today they signed Mack Jones, 33, to a one-year contract as football coach and athletic director.

Jones, who will come here from Kermit, will get $7,500 a year. He spent four years at Kermit and four years at Iraan, Tex., in Pecos County.

Jones, a brother of T. Jones, assistant coach at the University of Texas, attended Southern Methodist and Southwestern University.

J. D. Roberts New Denver Line Coach

DENVER (AP) — J. D. Roberts, an All-America guard at Oklahoma in 1953, will become line coach at Denver University of the Skyline Conference this spring.

He will replace Cal Stoll, who resigned 10 days ago to accept a similar job at the University of Georgia.

A native of Dallas, Tex., Roberts played for Hamilton in the Canadian pro football league before going into the Marines. He is now a first lieutenant at Camp Lejeune, N.C., where he is awaiting his discharge.

All Five Tiger Regulars Rank High In 3-AAA

Thirteen players, including three Tigers, averaged in double figures for the 1956-57 District 3-AAA basketball race, according to the Snyder News statistical figures.

Rex Wilson of Lake View edged Milton Ham of the Tigers for the individual scoring crown, 160-159. Sammy Harvey of Sweetwater was a distant third with 122 points.

The Champion Tigers, runnerup Lamesa and third place Sweetwater each had three to average 10 points or better in district play while the other two teams, Lake View and Colorado City each had two.

The Tigers were the only team with all regulars averaging eight points or better.

Other Tigers averaging in double figures were Robert Dabbs 93 points for 11.6, and Dwayne Prince with 88 for 11.0.

The other two Tiger regulars, guards Ronnie Smith and Powell Berry had 71 and 67 points respectively. Smith's average was 8.9, Berry's 8.4.

Lake View's Wilson won most of the "single game" honors with his 38 points against Colorado City early in the season. Wilson hit 13 field goals and 12 free tosses against C-City, both of which are high single game marks for the year.

The Tigers' Ham had the most field goals for the season with 60 while Jerry Wright of Sweetwater had the most free throws for the year with 49.

Following is the individual scoring chart for the 1956-57 District 3-AAA race that includes all players who scored at least one point during the season:

Sul Ross 5 Fails To Show For Game

SHERMAN (AP)—Lee Galloway, coach of the Sul Ross State basketball team, said he had "no comment" about his team's failure to appear for the second game of a two-game series with Austin College here last night.

Austin won a 2-0 forfeit when the Loboes didn't show up. The Sherman team took the first game, 79-51, Tuesday night.

Dr. John D. Moseley, Austin College president, said the president of Sul Ross, Dr. Bryan Wildenthal, telephoned him and apologized for what he called "the unauthorized action" of Coach Galloway in returning the team to Alpine without playing the second game.

The Loboes checked out of their hotel in Sherman about 5 a.m. yesterday and arrived back at Alpine about nightfall.

Austin College officials said they were at a loss to explain the team's departure.

KSNY TO AIR BUD'S SPEECH

A portion of the All-District 3-AAA banquet program at Colorado City last night will be aired over Station KSNY tonight, Roy Meador, of the KSNY staff, has announced.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's entire speech at the banquet will be heard on the re-broadcasts.

The program will be aired tonight at 8:15 which follows the nightly KSNY sports broadcast.

Mixed Foursome Into 2nd Round

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Don Hoenig of Wethersfield, Conn., and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., meet Ann Quast of Marysville, Wash., and J. Walcott Brown of Manasquan, N.J., today in the top duel of the National mixed foursomes golf tournament's second round of match play.

Miss Quast, defending champion, and Brown defeated W. B. Merry and Ellen Gery, both of West Palm Beach, Fla., 6 and 5 without difficulty yesterday. Their opponents today eliminated Jack Cendoya and Lourdes Mestries, Cuban champions, 7 and 6.

Vosseler Enters Colonial Tourney

FOR WORTH (AP)—The Colonial Country Club announced yesterday that Ernie Vossler, former Texas amateur champion, has entered the club's 12th National Invitational Golf Tournament to be held here May 1-5.

Vossler has been out of action since last November with a chipped right ankle—the result of a golf car accident. He was the nation's 21st money winner last year.

The tournament committee said Vossler's earnings rank was not sufficient to qualify him for an automatic bid, but the committee voted him one of its 10 special places and extended his invitation as a "good luck token."

Small Dogs Have The Worst Bite

DALLAS (AP)— Small dogs have the worst bite, says postal supervisor Roy Frederick.

A North Dallas woman wrote Postmaster William Hudson Wednesday, asking forgiveness for "my little dog who attacked our carrier and bit him."

Frederick, who inspects all dog bite cases, said:

"The little ones are the worst kind. They grab hold of a man's ankle and never let go."

101 TOP PROS ENTERED

No Favorites In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A free-for-all in which, to quote the touring hotshots, "any one of 101" can win, was forecast today as a champion-filled field moved into the first round of the $20,000 Texas Open.

The system of having a new winner each week along the winter trail made the experts shy away from picking a favorite but if there was one it probably would be huge Mike Souchak, the man who first wrecked Brackenridge Park course beyond hope of repair.

Big Mike shot a round of 60 and a PGA record of 257 for 72 holes in 1955 — the last time the Texas Open was played at Brackenridge. He didn't think he could approach that this time. But then, none of the other players thought it either. Brackenridge, while still not too tough, has been made much more difficult than in 1955.

It's 300 yards longer and its par 36-35—71 and 6,940 yards are considered a good test even by the fellows accustomed to taking the courses apart on the winter tour.

National Open champion Cary Middlecoff and PGA and Masters king Jack Burke along with five of the six winners of tournaments along the winter tour gave the field real class. But none of the tuneup rounds warned of sensational scores. The was a 67 by Henry Williams, Reading, Pa., and Bob Keller, Royal Oak, Mich.

But most of the players were not trying for low scores; they didn't even keep cards.

One top threate was lost when Dow Finsterwald, winner of the Tucson Open last weekend, withdrew to give an aching hand a rest. He hurt the hand about a month ago but intended to play here. However, when it gave him trouble in a practice round he decided to sit this one out.

Ed Furgol, Billy Casper, Doug Ford, Jay Hebert and Jimmy Demaret are the other winter tournament winners playing here. Gene Littler, Texas Open champion last year when the tourney was played at Fort Sam Houston Course, is present to defend his title.

Texas To Enter Mexico Track Meet

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Twelve University of Texas track men will come here April 13-14 for an invitation track and field meet.

The Vaqueros Athletic Club announced that Texas Coach Clyde Littlefield had agreed to send the athletes.

All Name Players Enter Texas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The golf tour comes to Texas this week and chances are that there'll be some kind of rhubarb. Big ones have flared in this state in the past and they included the Texas Open at San Antonio, a tournament that goes on for the 30th time starting Thursday.

The last time the golfers visited Texas—for the Dallas Open Tournament—they were working to fire the supervisor. He quit later.

Last week the linksters were criticized when some of the big names skipped the Tucson Open because, it was explained, they didn't like to play on a poor course.

There are no indications of a similar situation at the Texas Open because all of the hotshots are going to play there. Brackenridge Park in San Antonio hasn't been a very good course but the golfers never skipped it on grounds they didn't like to play on a so-called pitch and putt layout.

But there are other ways that the golfers can devise for creating a rhubarb.

Probably the main reason there are troubles at the golf tournaments is because the linksters are think they are obligated to anyone. In the first place they pay their own expenses, even pay an entry fee, and get nothing except what they can earn with their golf adeptness.

The question of the top golfers showing up at a tournament still is considered quite a problem by the sponsers, however. How to solve it is something that has stumped the best minds in the game. Forcing a man to play in a tournament where he doesn't know whether he will make money or lose just can't be done by passing rules.

The only way this question can be anywhere near solved is for all the tournament sponsors to band together with an agreement that any top golfer who fails to enter one of the tournaments without an ironclad excuse such as illness will be banned from further tournaments.

Actually, it wouldn't appear that the skipping of tournaments by anyone would be as hurtful as it was a decade ago. There are so many golfers of equal ability that missing one of them couldn't hurt much. A look at the tournament results of the past year show that not many golfers win more than one and that the championships are well-distributed. A comparative unknown wins a title almost as much as a big name.

It's quite a thrill to see one of the youngsters, just making his way in golf, win a tournament away from the fellows you've seen win them for years.

No 4-Minute Indoor Mile Seen This Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Dan Ferris, the man who has watched them all go 'round and 'round the indoor saucers since the turn of the century, predicted today that a four-minute mile was "unlikely" Saturday night when Ron Delany and Fred Dwyer hook up in the New York Athletic Club Games, but that it was "possible" next week.

It should be remembered that, although the four-minute-mile club no longer is particularly exclusive it never has been done indoors.

But there are few coaches around the country who don't think Delany could do it any time the spirit moved him. He already has hit 3:59 outdoors.

Featherweight Scrap Set For Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Sal Vegas of Odessa, Tex., and Johnny Nicholas of Milwaukee, Wis., tangle here Tuesday night in a match billed as part of the series of featherweight fights to secure a successor to retired champion Sandy Saddler.

The winner of the Vegas-Nicholas fight will get a crack at fifth-ranked featherweight Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., in about a month.

ABILENE (AP)—Guard Lawrence Hill and quarterback Ken Ford have been elected co-captains of the 1957 Hardin-Simmons football team.

Hill is a two-year letterman and Ford has won three letters. Both will be seniors next fall.

Coach Sammy Baugh said the Cowboys will wind up this week's spring drills with a scrimmage.

Heated Battle On For Scoring Title

By PETE PEDERSEN
The Associated Press

Is there a statistician in the house?

If so, please report to college basketball's individual scoring department. On the double — and bring your decimal points!

Assignment: Determine how far one mathematical point can stretch in separating these frontrunners for the national scoring title: Chet Forte of Columbia, Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas and Grady Wallace of South Carolina. As of this reading, 27-100ths of one point cover the trio, who have been exchanging the lead with bewildering rapidity.

Forte forged past Chamberlain last night with 45 points in Columbia's 93-75 Ivy League victory over Penn. He brought his average to 30.17 points per game. Tomorrow night Wallace gets his chance to improve on a 29.90 mark when South Carolina hosts Virginia.

Saturday night, Forte and his Lions visit Dartmouth, while Chamberlain takes his 29.93 average along as the Jayhawks invade Missouri.

While Forte was enjoying the best night of his college career, North Carolina, the nation's top-ranked team, belied dire predictions by whipping Wake Forest 72-69 for its 20th consecutive victory. Bradley, ranked fifth in the weekly Associated Press poll, toppled 20th-rated St. Louis 76-70 to tie Wichita for the Missouri Valley Conference lead.

Louisville, No. 8, trampled Marquette 99-79. Dartmouth clung to third place in the Ivy title race by overwhelming Brown 67-42; Furman fought to a 99-97 double overtime victory over Richmond in the Southern Conference; Harvard set a Crimson single-game scoring record in routing Boston College 101-86; and Seton Hall upset 14th-ranked Canisius 102-87.

But the night's limelight belonged to Forte, the 5-foot-9 crewcut who hopes to enter medical school after finishing at Columbia this year. Chet hit the magic number needed to pass Chamberlain —41—with 4:50 remaining.

NOT MANY KICK

Army Mules Now Civilians

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP) — They have made civilians of the Army's last pack mules.

Some of them took it a little stubbornly, but generally the non-military pastures seemed to look green.

The 136 mules making up the Army's last two pack outfits were sold yesterday.

It was a sad parting. While a group of veteran Army mule-skinners looked on unhappily, the mules kicked up dust and some of them refused for a time to be herded into trucks for the ride to new homes in several Western states. There were 47 buyers, most of them ranchers.

They paid from $10 to $40 each.

"I don't like to see the mules go," said Sgt. L. C. Lawrence Cnozzen, a 67-year-old cavalry man who has spent most of his Army years as a muleskinner.

"They're awfully good soldiers. You can tell an animal what to do and he'll do it. He won't argue with you."

A board of three officers carefully screened a list of 77 potential buyers. There were mail requests for 280 animals.

A formal ceremony last Dec. 16 retired the 4th Field Artillery (pack) and the 35th Quartermaster Pack Company. The men were assigned to other companies, but there was no place in the service for the mules.

Fifty of the youngest went to the National Park Service for use in Yosemite and Sequoia national parks in California. The U. S. Forest Service got 89 others for use in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming and Montana.

There were a few other "special" requests for individual animals before the 136 sold yesterday were left.

Two mules singled out for praise at the retirment ceremony —Hambone and Trotter — were sold to the Pike's Peak or Bust Rodeo Assn. of Colorado Springs. Both were promised a "life of luxury in lush pastures."

In his 14-year Army career Hambone won many jumping contests. He and Trotter are to be used now in fund-raising charity programs for disabled veterans.

Farmer Found Dead

SAN SABA (AP)—A retired stock farmer of Lometa, Ben. T. Underwood, 70, was found dead yesterday near his car, one mile south of here on State Highway 16.

He was believed stricken by a heart attack.

Now He's Really Going To Object

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—A civil suit was in progress in Municipal Court, and a lawyer was questioning a witness on the stand.

"I object!" cried the witness' counsel.

"I object!" cried yet another lawyer.

"I object too," came a voice from the rear of the courtroom.

The latter objector, despite his protests, was hauled off to jail yesterday on a drunk charge. He was booked as Beryl L. Solvey, 28, a courtroom spectator.

Speed of clocks is based on the turning of the earth which varies less than 30-100ths of a second in a century.

2 Soldiers Are Hanged Early Today

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—The Army hanged two soldiers early today for separate slayings almost four years ago in Germany and North Carolina.

They were Winfred D. Moore, Virginia Beach, Va., and Thomas J. Edwards, Ardmore, Okla., both 23-year-old Negroes.

They went to their deaths calmly without any last words.

They wore regulation olive drab uniforms without insignia.

The executions were carried out at the Army's disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth.

A general court-martial at Ft. Bragg, N. C. sentenced Moore to death after convicting him of slaying Charles Pettit, a cab driver, on June 30, 1953. Pettit was slain in the course of a robbery at the military post.

Moore's wife Patricia lives at Columbus, Ga. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Moore of Virginia Beach.

Edwards was convicted of the slaying of a German girl at Kitzinen, Germany, in March 1953. His wife, a daughter, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Edwards, live at Ardmore.

Fast Change Made

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jerry White's pay lasted only about 10 minutes. White, 35, told police he cashed a $79 paycheck and started home. A man opened the door of his car at a red light, got in, demanded his wallet, took his money, got out and drove off in another car.

Still In A Coma

CHICAGO (AP) — John Brookhouse, a 39-year-old taxicab driver, today started his fourth year in a coma at Cook County Hospital. Doctors held slim hope that Brookhouse, beaten in an $18 robbery, will emerge from the coma. His wife Anne, 36, and their three children haven't given up hope.

Lunch Boxes May Contain Tasty, Delightful Meals

A packed lunch, taken to school or work five days a week, can be appetizing and interesting.

Because of their nature, packed lunches are limited, but pleasing change is easy to achieve with a rich imagination. Little paper cups with tight-fitting covers and a vacuum bottle for carrying milk drinks or soup help not only with variety but with nutrition.

A frequent change of bread is one of the easiest ways to get sandwich variation. Use hard and soft rolls and buns, rye bread, pumpernickel, banana, raisin and nut breads.

Instead of the usual ham sandwich, make fillings of corned beef and pickle, tuna, salmon and chicken salads.

Remember that the roast for dinner provides nice slices for tomorrow's lunch box, as does a meat loaf. Here's an example of a lunch menu which shows how wider variation in packed lunches may be obtained by using a vacuum bottle for beverages and paper containers for salad and dessert.

2 ounces (2 squares) unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked

Sift together flour, salt and soda into a bowl. Add sugar, shortening, eggs, milk, vanilla and chocolate (cooled to lukewarm). Beat until smooth. Blend in oats.

Drop by spoonfuls into greased cookie sheet. Bake in 350 degree oven 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet. When cool, glaze.

For glaze, combine 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar and 2-3 cup maple syrup in saucepan. Bring to boil over medium heat; boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat and stir vigorously until glaze thickens. While glazing cookies, place pan over hot water to prevent too rapid hardening. Sprinkle with ½ cup chopped nutmeats or top with pecan halves.

Industry Is Lured By Freight Rates

LUBBOCK (AP)—Freight rates are a major factor to attracting industry to regions such as West Texas, according to Dr. Roy J. Sampson, Texas Tech economist.

Dr. Sampson says industry-conscious regions like West Texas must be prepared to pay the required price in higher rates if it is to attract more industry.

He said few regional industrial development organizations give adequate recognition to long-run implications of freight rates in promotional activities.

"Instead," writes Sampson in the Oregon Business Review, "Colonial-type regions generally attempt both to eat their cake and have it."

"Chambers of Commerce and similar organizations strive concurrently for more manufacturing firms and lower freight rates, both on manufactured goods shipped into their regions and on raw materials shipped out," he said.

Sampson warned that industry isn't as likely to come in with new plants in an area to which it can ship its products to market economically.

Consumers must be willing to pay higher prices for outside goods if freight rates are raised enough to make industries consider moving plants into that region, Dr. Sampson says.

"It is not necessarily the function of a mere transportation economist to resolve these conflicts by advising a region whether it should work for increasing industrialization or for maintaining the status quo.

"It is within my province, however, to point out the effects of various alternate transportation policies on whatever goal a region chooses to set for itself," he said.

INSURANCE

Hundreds of years ago, insurance was often a one-man business: One man would insure a ship cargo, say, and in doing so he might lose his fortune.

But in 1825 the British House of Commons looked into England's insurance business, and said this:

When there's a risk, the best way to guard against it is to join with others; so that each man might lose a little, but no man can lose a lot. Spread the risk.

As a result, insurance today is a big business. We have millions of policies worth billions of dollars in force.

An insurance policy is a contract. The company promises to pay you a certain sum for loss or damage of the thing you insure — your life, your home, your health and the like. And you promise to pay a premium for this protection. Your policy sets out what you have both agreed to. Most of the rules of the law of contracts apply to insurance policies.

There are many types of policies. And individual policies may vary. Check each clause carefully. Then have the insurance man explain it. Be sure all details of the agreement are written into the policy. You and the company are, in general, bound by the written word.

As a home owner, you have many risks, like fire, against which you can insure yourself. Other insurable risks are theft, windstorm, hail, glass breakage, cloudbursts, explosion, and the like.

Other household hazards also cause damage. But people don't expect them and may not insure against them. For example, a tree may fall on your house; or near some crossroad, a car may crash into your home.

Sometimes you can make the person who caused the damage pay. But if he has no money, and neither of you has insurance, you often must pay yourself.

Suppose a guest slips and falls on your floor and breaks his arm or your dog bites the postman. You could be liable. You can insure yourself against many of these risks under the contracts we call insurance policies.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Stock Market Dip Explained

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Businessman Meyer Kestnbaum views the national economic situation this way:

The country's one real trouble is that it can't stand prosperity. Citizens have been spending a little too freely; so have businessmen; ditto the government.

That explains the recent stock price dive.

But the people basically are highly productive and prudent with money. So the stock drop is only symptomatic of a temporary condition.

"Five years from now, we all will be much better off," said Kestnbaum, president of the clothing firm Hart, Schaffner & Marx, and a special assistant to the President.

Driver Fails To Finish His Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When examiners for the Department of Motor Vehicles asked 81-year-old John Rigby to show up for a driving test they didn't imagine he'd drive right up on their lawn.

Police said he struck three cars before his auto smashed into a fence near a branch office of the department during part of the examination.

Examiners said Rigby didn't come back to finish the test.

WHERE 14 PATIENTS DIED—Fourteen persons were known to be dead after flames flashed through this 75-year-old convalescent home in Council Bluffs, Iowa. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Taylor Hires Taylor

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — When you call the sheriff's office here and ask for Taylor, be sure to say which one. J. M. Taylor was just hired as a deputy. Joe B. Taylor is a special investigator and James T. Taylor is the jailer.

14 Die In Rest Home Blaze

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — Fire that "all of a sudden" enveloped a three-story rest home killed 14 patients yesterday.

Thirteen other patients and employes needed hospital treatment, with one patient listed today as in critical condition.

All together 17 patients, 10 employes and three children of the home manager, Kenneth Patin, were carried from the blazing building, hobbled out on crutches, ped their wheel chairs onto the illton lawn of the 71-year-old tructure or raced out on foot.

Many of the 13 found dead in ne tangled mass of debris died their beds. The 14th victim died a hospital.

Firemen who answered the larm within four or five minutes ter it was sounded told in tremblng voices of seeing one woman neeling in prayer in her bed as ames swirled over her.

Firemen could find no survivor who could immediately tell them what started the fire. Today fire officials dug through masses of debris in a search for the cause.

The home—in which one person died in a 1942 blaze—was operating under license suspension.

Iowa State Health Commissioner Edmund C. Zimmerer said the license of Mrs. Ivy Lee Gilmore had not been renewed after an inspection Jan. 30. Zimmerer said that following the inspection he withheld renewal "pending certain corrections at the home." He did not specify what corrections had been ordered.

But the Council Bluffs public service director said he and a Health Department inspector looked over the home last month and it met requirements for fire safety. He said an automatic fire detection system was recently installed.

Fire Chief Waldo Merrill described the flames as sweeping the building all of a sudden. Violet Hedrick, an employe, said she sprang up from her lunch table at the sharp cry of "fire" and ran to the ladies room where she saw curtains ablaze.

"The next thing it looked like the whole place was on fire," she related.

Cats Banned From Plant

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — The Westinghouse cats must go.

This decision at the Westinghouse Corp. plant here is rooted in the feline proclivity for batting marbles about.

A radioactive ball of cobalt, marble-size, was found on the floor yesterday. It was surmised that one of the stray cats which prowl the plant had knocked the ball out of place and then chased it about. The cobalt balls are used for X-ray tests of castings.

Since radioactivity can thin the blood, it was decided to banish cats if possible from the 57-acre plant.

The county pound was called upon for help.

Special Election Bills Stir Controversy

By JERRY MARTIN
The Associated Press

Two bills affecting the special U.S. Senate election in Texas continued to kick up controversy Thursday.

Republican Thad Hutcheson repeated his demand Wednesday for an "impartial and bi-partisan committee to investigate immediately illegal and immoral pressures" in support of the Pool special election bill.

The bill by State Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas would require that a candidate poll a majority over his combined opposition in the special election April 2 or face the next highest man in a runoff. It has passed the House and is scheduled for debate Monday in the Senate.

In a wire to Gov. Price Daniel, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and House Speaker Waggoner Carr, Hutcheson said:

"I hereby respectfully repeat request for impartial and bi-partisan committee to investigate immediately illegal and immoral pressures brought to bear on Texas legislators in support of Pool bill attempting to change election laws as to special Senate election ..."

Hutcheson, the lone GOP candidate, is conceded a chance of winning under the present laws which give the office to the high man in a special election. He faces a field of eight other candidates, mostly Democrats.

The Pool bill is being supported by Democrats who feel their party's votes would be split among the large field even though a majority of the votes were Democratic.

Another candidate, Hugh Wilson of Port Arthur, released a copy of a letter in which he asked the U.S. Senate Committee on Elections for a ruling on a bill by State Sen. Charles Herring.

The bill would eliminate the special election and would allow William Blakley of Dallas, the interim appointee, to serve out the remaining two years of Gov. Daniel's unexpired term.

Wilson said the Federal Constitution requires a special election to fill a vacancy and "guarantees a Democratic form of government in each state, based on the authority of the people, not on an appointed lawmaker."

The Herring bill has been approved by a state Senate committee.

Hutcheson has a speaking date in Fort Worth Thursday night. Friday he will be in Dallas for an appearance at a young Republican meeting.

James P. Hart of Austin, former Supreme Court justice, was being honored Thursday with a series of valentine coffees and teas. Nine of the women's gatherings will be in Austin. Others will be held in Abilene, Fort Worth, Commerce, Amarillo, Dallas, Sulphur Springs, Houston and Bryan, his campaign headquarters said.

Missing State Copter Found In Guatemala

PANAMA (AP)—A missing Texas Pe[illegible] Co. helicopter reported sighted yesterday in the Guatemalan jungles.

Three Americans were aboard the plane, but no sign of life was seen.

U.S. Army Caribbean Headquarters said a search plane spotted the helicopter. An Interamerican Geodetic Survey plane reportedly sighted it at Paso Caballos, 200 miles north of Guatemala's capital city. A report from Guatemala said the helicopter's position was near a lake south of Carmelita, in Peten Province.

The missing Americans have been identified as K. Kemmener, pilot, of Philadelphia; Owen Brown of Fort Worth, a geophysicist; and Jack Morris of Wyoming, a field supervisor.

In Houston, H. J. Shimek, a partner in the geophysical firm, said Guatemala air force pilots spotted the plane resting on a river bank with its rotary blades tied together.

"Apparently the three men in the plane are safe if the blades were tied up," said Shimek.

The Army report said they were wearing only street clothes and did not have survival gear, food or water.

Free Polio Program Is Set Up In Tyler

TYLER (AP)—A program to give 11,000 free polio shots to 11 000 school children was set up yesterday by the Smith County Medical Society.

Some 50 to 60 doctors are expected to participate in giving the mass innoculation. The first shots will begin Feb. 28 and the second shot of the series will be given in March.

The society said the State Health Society has said it will make vaccine available for the program.

Texan Writes First Novel

LONGVIEW (AP)—A first novel, written by Nathaniel E. Jones, 32, of Longview, is being distributed this week.

The book will appear under the title, "Saturday Mountain."

The story is described as a humorous hillbilly novel but with moral and religious impact.

It is built around four sons of a mountain farmer.

The publisher, Ace Books, Inc., issued the novel in a paperback edition and the royalty arrangement calls for 100,000 copies.

Jones heads the publicity department of R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., manufacturing firm here.

He is what he calls a "Sunday writer," after being a newspaperman and working in other editorial positions.

MULLENS, W. Va. (AP) — Little Judy K. Sisk of nearby Dud died on her first birthday anniversary apparently from strangulation. mother, Mrs. Garland Sisk Jr., said she found Judy on the floor of their home with her little red dress caught on the hook which supported a magazine rack under a television set. Judy leaves three brothers.

He Gives Up Romance But Not Long Enough

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Mrs. Gloria Jacobi sought a divorce last June, Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson told her to go home to her husband William, try a reconciliation for the sake of their two children, "and report back to me on St. Valentine's Day."

Mrs. Jacobi came back yesterday with this report; "We were reconciled. My husband promised to give up associating with a Mrs. Cloud. After a while he began seeing another woman named Mrs. Baxter."

She was granted a divorce and $420 allmony and child support. Had the reconciliation held, the judge was to have entertained them at dinner in his home today.

Boy Changes Dad's Plea

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The father of a 13-year-old boy forfeited his driving privileges for six months rather than have his son believe he could grow up ignoring the law.

Carl Ray Heyser pleaded guilty in Quarterly Court to drunken driving. He was fined $100 and his driver's license suspended for six months.

Defense Attorney Robert Zollinger said Heyser decided to plead guilty when he heard his son say, "My dad is going to beat this charge in court."

Heyser said "I'd rather lose my license and pay a $100 fine than have my boy grow up thinking he can disobey the law."

Prizes Eaten Up

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — It was awful to watch but the kids enjoyed it. At a breakfast, six young winners of a contest run by the Oklahoma Dairy Products Institute, waded through their own concoctions of rich ice cream variously topped with pineapple, candied cherries and chopped bananas—all free.

Congressman? What's That Teenagers Ask

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Rep. William H. Ayers (R-Ohio), hemmed in by shrieking teen-agers in a hotel lobby, said he was impressed with the enthusiasm of Albany's "Young Republicans."

One of the girls set him straight. The tournout was for actor-singer Tab Hunter.

"Who's he?" Ayers asked.

Shocked, the girl told him and asked, "Say, who are you, anyway?"

"A congressman."

"What's that?" she inquired.

CHICAGO (AP)—Leonard Glenn, 35, who killed his wife and infant son, was ruled insane yesterday by a criminal court jury.

DAVIS & HUMPHRIES, OWNERS & OPERATORS

Woman Mad, Firm Wrecked

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Darlene Jenness, 24, was arrested after the owner of a heating gas station said she made a mess of his station and office.

Shirley Avery, owner of a freight service which supplies heating gas here, said he turned off Mrs. Jenness' fuel supply for non-payment of bills.

Later she broke 10 windows at his station by hurling rocks through them pulled off his glasses and stomped on them, beat him about the face with her fists, brushed everything off his desk, and then went outside and hurled rocks through the windows of his truck.

She was arrested by the town marshal.

Cafe Psychology

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—An official of the National Restaurant Assn. says restaurant operators should apply psychology. Phil Johnson of Chicago, director of member relations for the group says signs reading "waitress wanted" tend to drive away potential customers "because they feel that they won't be able to get good service." He suggsts "Another waitress wanted."

Darling, Pa. Residents Get Soft-Hearted

DARLING, Pa. (AP) — Tucked away in the Delaware County folds of the southeastern tip of Pennsylvania, this hamlet of maybe 50 people normally is a quiet, serene world away from headlines.

But when Valentine Day comes around, Darling falls into the focus of boundless romantic attention, along with other U.S. heart-throb places such as Loveland, Valentine Kissamee, Paradise and Coy.

For years thousands of sweet talkers have sent their Feb. 14 mail to this dateline in order that their letters and Valentines might bear a suitably sentimental postmark. GIs the world over have received greetings sent out from here.

The residents of Darling are quite matter-of-fact the rest of the year. They become soft-hearted and a bit moonstruck today, however, especially when they see certain devoted couples who travel to Darling year after year for an extra Valentine Day thrill.

Benny Signs Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jack Benny of radio and TV is going to make the first night club appearance of his career. He has signed a contract to open June 20 for three weeks at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev.

Scurry County Taxpayers–Vote for the Freeway–We only pay taxes on the $750,000.00 which is spent by the county–Let's get our gas tax money spent at home–The government is already collecting $140,000,-000.00 gas and oil tax from Texas . . . Let's get a part of it spent in Scurry County.

Vote For The Freeway

Let's offer these butane, gasoline, propane-explosives of all kinds and oil field heavy equipment a safer route

WE COULD HAVE A MAJOR FIRE, EXPLOSION OR ACCIDENT DOWNTOWN DUE TO THIS HEAVY EQUIPMENT.

It happened twice lately in Kennedy, Texas . . . It can happen here. Let's build a FREEWAY and get this heavy traffic out of our downtown area.

The FREEWAY will cost the average home owner in Snyder and land owner of 320 acres approximately $1.76 per year for five years. Don't you think a five million dollar improvement in our county would be a good investment for such a small amunt of tax money?

Vote Wisely . . . Cast Your Ballot In Favor Of The Freeway!
