Campbell Sticks By His Guns In Atheism Charge

DR. HORN STATES ALL FACTS INCLUDED IN JOINT STATEMENT

"All facts concerning Rev. Campbell's charges and what transpired between us in the conferences may be found in a joint statement signed by both myself and Rev. Campbell Thursday," President Paul W. Horn said this morning when informed that the Baptist pastor had declared his charges had been "sidetracked."

"That is the reason I wanted to get his charges in writing," the president said, "so that there would be a clear understanding of just what he charged against the professors."

The joint statement issued after the conferences between President Horn and Rev. Campbell and signed by both men may be found on page 5.

President Horn indicated after the conferences and hearings with the accused, which were held Wednesday and Thursday, that final disposition of the case would be made in a meeting of the college board of directors here the latter part of February.

No Atheism Found

"I have been absolutely unable to find any evidence of the teaching of atheism by anybody in the Texas Technological college," President Horn said following conclusion of the conferences Thursday.

"It is to be regretted that it is not possible for a state school to discuss all points of the Christian doctrine in a manner to be acceptable to all the citizens of the state," Doctor Horn said. "When different denominations and different branches of the same denominations differ as widely as they do, it would not be possible for anybody to discuss doctrinal matters in a manner satisfactory to the views of all the

BAPTIST PASTOR SAYS THAT HE WILL NOT BE SIDETRACTED

Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church who charged from his pulpit last Sunday night that Tech faculty members were guilty of atheism and infidelity, today declared that he meant to stay by his statements "and not be sidetracked."

Rev. Campbell had planned to leave for El Paso last night to fulfill an engagement in the First Baptist church there Sunday. He said today that he probably would not leave until tomorrow.

Repeats Charge

"My main contention at that time was expressed thus: 'There are a few professors in our college, a group in Tech, who delight in airing their skepticism, and doubts and infidelity in class and conference. Among them is the head of a certain department, who from all reports is undermining the faith of students and leaving them groping and wandering in the dark. The faith of our young people is being toyed, trifled and flirted with in an alarming way'," Rev. Campbell said.

"Atheism, however, has been the one big word in the forefront of the discussions coming from President Horn, the other accusations have been almost totally submerged yet they were the prominent ones in the allegation."

Rev. Campbell said the article appearing in the morning paper was misleading.

"In the first place there has been no probe in this matter," he said. "Only two conferences between the president and myself and the questioning of the men involved which would be similar to a man being charged in a court and answering 'not guilty'. The president told me he did not have authority to decide the matter.

Evidence Given

"In my conferences with him, it was my purpose to show the evidence which I had and to name the professors. This I did. No witnesses were asked for in the case of the head of the department, which professor is the main source of my allegation last Sunday."

In speaking of the contention that his charge of teaching atheism had dwindled to one professor, Rev. Campbell said "the fact is the charge was limited to one professor to begin with, only one was referred to in my Sunday night message. Here is what was said: 'It is reported that there is an atheist on the faculty who says that the Red movement in Russia is a noble experiment.'

"Now what does it matter where such a statement was made, the fact that it was made at all by a teacher in an American institution is unthinkable.

"Much has been said about the fact that I did not carry this matter to the president of the college to begin with the pastor pointed out. 'I had good, and to me sufficient,

MOVEMENT FOR PEACE UNDER WAY TODAY

BOMBARDMENT BEGINS AFTER BRIEF TRUCE AT SHANGHAI

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, China, Feb. 12. — Guns blazed again across the Chapei ruins tonight while American, British and French ministers were discussing over their dinner the possibilities of restoring peace.

They had met at the invitation of Nelson T. Johnson, United States minister to China, who had been asked by the city's Chinese merchants to mediate with the hope of establishing a permanent peace. The diplomats had just reached the demitasse stage when the cannonading began, heavier than usual.

From their dining room window on the tenth floor of the Hotel Cathy, they could see the gun flashes along both the Japanese and Chinese fronts. For awhile they watched from the windows, then mounted the stairs to a tower where they watched the battle through binoculars.

Japanese warships and artillery swung into action on the Woosung front soon after this morning's brief truce expired.

Village Bombarded

They bombarded the village and the forts where the Chinese were still hanging on stubbornly, and machine gun sections on both sides of the river picked away at each other with a sharp crossfire.

The Japanese said their men had killed considerable numbers of the force on the opposite bank. Each side accused the other of having started the fighting again.

Japanese airplanes swung through the smoke and mist above Woosung, dropping an occasional bomb, but they used none of the 500-pounders which have been brought up for the big offensive still to come.

During the afternoon, they flew across the Chapei sector, coming close to the international settlement boundary, but they did no bombing there.

The Japanese naval commander off Woosung asked the captain of

SOUTH PLAINS CONFERENCE UNDER WAY

LARGER ATTENDANCE AT SESSIONS AT TECH TODAY

Advancement made by agriculture along cooperative marketing lines the past few years was stressed by speakers this morning at the annual South Plains Farm and Home conference, held in the livestock pavilion at Texas Tech. Attendance today was larger on the part of farmers than at the morning session Thursday, although there were not as many college students present.

Two speakers, C. A. Barron of Lamesa, vice-president of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association and F. T. Burdick, Dallas, director of publicity, took the place of Lynn Stokes, Ballinger, manager of the cooperative gin organization, who was unable to be present.

A lunch was served at noon by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce with a group of business men serving the meal. Following a short program of songs, led by J. O. Ellsworth of the school of agriculture faculty, M. S. Hudson of Hale Center, presided and introduced the speakers.

Agriculture and railroads are "two major industries" in the United States "that are suffering greater than anything else," W. A. Canon, Austin, department head of the department of agriculture, declared. Mr. Canon took the place of J. E. McDonald, commissioner, who was unable to be present. "Both have been subjected to unfair and discriminatory legislation," he added in pointing out that in 1929-30 railroad valuations were estimated at $26,000,000,000 with an income of $6,300,000,000 and agricultural valuations of $58,000,000,000 and income of $12,000,000,000. Last year, he added, due to the depression, agricultural income dropped about half.

Mr. Canon pointed out inequalities in freight rates on agricultural products and said one of the big problems of the rehabilitation program would be railroad relief. "Government ownership of railroads is coming and its coming right away," he predicted. "The first step," he

OVER HUNDRED INDICTED IN CONSPIRACY

AL CAPONE THOUGHT TO BE DIRECTOR OF SMUGGLING BAND

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12. —One hundred and four indictments, charging conspiracy and violation of the federal prohibition act, were handed down today by a federal grand jury investigating the operations of what authorities described as a far-flung international rum ring.

Federal agents claim they have evidence that indicates Al Capone, Chicago, gang chief now facing a federal prison term, was the directing head of the smugglers. Runners were alleged to have purchased liquor in Canada and shipped it to Belize, British Honduras, where it was reshipped to the Louisiana-Mississippi Gulf coast and trucked to the interior cities.

Radio Station Seized

The ring was uncovered in a series of raids last spring when seven men were arrested and an outlaw radio station was seized on the outskirts of New Orleans.

Ninety-seven men from New York, Chicago, Washington state, Canada, Louisiana, and Mississippi were named in one blanket indictment and other indictments were returned against seven large distilleries of Vancouver, British Columbia.

The agents claim the ring had operated many months before it was exposed and that it owned its own fleet of ships and trucks.

Cargoes, they claim, were landed by small craft in the marshes on the coast and loaded into armed trucks for distribution in the United States.

Have Witnesses

The agents said they had evidence, backed by two hundred witnesses, against the ring. They said Ted Newbury, who they claim as a lieutenant of Al Capone, supervised the unloading of at least one shipment of liquor. At another time, the agents added, the ring's workers on a liquor shipment at Kiln, Miss., were told the syndicate was working with the backing of "big money" and under protection from officers.

Those indicted included Nathan Goldberg, alias Al Hart; Harry Blum, alias Joe Miller; Alt Hartman, alias Hain; Cecil Squires, all described by the agents as Capone men; Lander H. Necaise, ex-deputy sheriff and county supervisor of Kiln, Miss., Albert Morrison, representative of Vancouver liquor manufacturers; Jake Pubacher, sr., of New Orleans, whose home recently was bombed and whose son was convicted of bootlegging; and Silvester Carollo and Frank Todaro, now serving prison terms at Atlanta for bootlegging.

JURY ACQUITS MARSHALL

FORMER SHERIFF HELD NOT GUILTY IN HIS BURGLARY TRIAL

(By The Associated Press)

WAXAHACHIE, Feb. 12—Schuyler Marshall, jr., red-haired former sheriff of Dallas county, stood acquitted today of one of the charges brought against him in Ellis and Tarrant counties.

District Judge Tom Ball yesterday ordered a jury to return a verdict of not guilty in a burglar case. The charge was filed after the attempted burglary of the F. & M. bank at Ferris Nov. 17.

Fisticuff Started

The sudden termination of the trial was a climax to a series of unusual happenings during the hearing. A fist fight was started. J. Robert Kelly, indicted with Marshall, was accused of intimidating a witness and jailed and three witnesses were charged with perjury.

The defense asked for the instructed verdict, claiming the state had not made a case against Marshall, once known as the "college kid sheriff." Marshall, who had maintained the charges against him were a result of a political frameup, jubilantly pointed to the verdict as substantiation.

Pope Asks World To Join In Prayer

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 12 (AP)—Pope Pius, celebrating the tenth anniversary of his coronation, appealed today to all the peoples of the world to join him in a prayer for help from God—at this time of suffering among all the nations."

It was his message to the world, broadcast through the Vatican radio station as he stood in St. Peter's cathedral surrounded by his cardinals and tens of thousands who had crowded in to witness the ceremony.

Club Officer Hurt In Stabbing Fray

HOUSTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—James A. Tucker, 65, secretary-treasurer of the Order of Otters, was in a critical condition today after a stabbing at the club's headquarters here.

A charge of assault to murder was filed against Charles Savells, former member of the order's house committee employed at the club.

HOARDING UNLEASHED

ENID, Okla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Maybe President Hoover's anti-hoarding campaign was responsible. Anyway, a woman paid for a $5 dress at an Enid store with ten 50-cent pieces, the oldest of which was minted in 1814 and the latest in 1934.

CONVICT BECK OF SLAYING

YOUTH SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR MURDER OF WACO MAN

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Feb. 12—William C. Beck, 19, was convicted today on a charge of murder for the shooting of O. L. Jones, Waco automobile salesman, in a purported robbery on the Waco highway. The jury sentenced him to death.

Defense attorneys announced immediately they would appeal the case.

Jones was killed last September by a youth he had picked up on the highway and given a ride in his automobile. His body was found in a field near the highway six miles north of Waco.

In convicting Beck the jury disagreed with a defense claim that the defendant was insane at the time of the slaying.

Relatives, physicians and others who knew the defendant had testified that they believed him mentally unsound.

His asserted mental condition was said to have been caused by being struck on the head with a baseball in 1929.

TO WITHHOLD NAME

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP) — A definite decision was approved at the White House today to withhold President Hoover's name from the North Dakota primary.

Muddy Waters Are Spreading In Town

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 12. (AP)—Muddy waters of the Mississippi river were spreading over the business district of Hickman, Ky., today but merchants were erecting scaffolds in their stores and conducting business as usual.

The scaffolds were being built two feet above the present water in anticipation of higher water in the Mississippi and its tributaries which are stretching out over a wide area in southwest Kentucky and northwest Tennessee.

Canfield Supports Garner Candidacy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—The dean of the Indiana congressional delegation today described Speaker Garner as "the type of leader needed in the country" and said he would be delighted should he become "the national standard bearer" of the Democrats.

This statement by Representative Canfield (R., Ind.), followed reports that an effort will be made to have the Indiana delegation to the national convention instructed for Garner for president.

FINANCE BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

QUICK ACTION LOOMS IN BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The senate banking committee quickly gave its approval today to the emergency measure opening the federal reserve system for cashing of new paper held by the nation's banking institutions.

Senator Glass (D., Va.) was authorized to take his bill immediately before the senate and he announced that would be done during the day.

The committee acted after a one-hour session during which additional safeguards to protect the federal reserve from a loose inflationary process were put into the bill.

The legislation faces prompt enactment in the senate but likely will not be taken up until Monday. Speaker Garner promised quick house consideration.

It is expected by the administration to relieve the national credit strain and take billions of now ineligible paper from the banks—principally the smaller institutions—and convert it into negotiable paper.

The federal reserve is placed in complete command of the new paper to be negotiable in its system—a vote of six of the eight members of the board being necessary on all propositions.

Provisions of the legislation allow only for one year of life.

In providing for permanent revision of the reserve laws to allow for rediscounting of now ineligible paper in cases of emergency upon application of a group of five banks, the banking committee today stipulated that the banks must first exhaust all of their eligible paper before making application for the additional help.

Woman Suffrage Is Favored In France

PARIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The chamber of deputies today voted overwhelmingly to give suffrage to women but its action must be also approved by the senate, whose concurrence was believed by many to be doubtful.

The suffrage measure was adopted as an amendment to the electoral reform bill which was passed by vote of 311 to 0. Deputy De Moni's suffrage amendment, which would permit women to run for seats in the chamber and to vote for chamber candidates was adopted by a vote of 319 to 1.

Utility Injunction Is Made Permanent

FORT WORTH, Feb. 12 (AP)—An order making permanent a temporary injunction restraining the city of Littlefield from enforcing a new light rate ordinance was signed by Judge Wilson in federal court today.

The injunction was granted the Texas Utility company, Littlefield, in January, passed an ordinance reducing existing light rates by 20 per cent.

The temporary injunction was issued in Lubbock. The order making the injunction permanent was not contested.

Roosevelt Name Is Entered In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 12. (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York today filed his entry as a candidate in the Georgia Democratic presidential preference primary to be held March 23.

In a letter to Major John S. Cohen, Democratic national committeeman for Georgia, Governor Roosevelt said, "I gratefully accept the suggestion of my Georgia friends and neighbors that I authorize the use of my name on the Democratic ballot in this primary."

NO REDUCTION SEEN

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling said today he did not plan any immediate reduction in the number of Texas troops occupying the East Texas oil field area under martial law.

Lincoln's Memory To Be Honored In Nation-Wide Anniversary Observance

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—Abraham Lincoln's memory will be honored tonight in nation-wide observance of his 123rd birthday anniversary by the Republican party, led by President Hoover.

The chief executive will speak on the life of the man who preceded him during the troublous days of the Civil war, using the radio to carry his words to the rallies of the party faithful all over the country.

Key men of the party will supplement this address at each dinner gathering and an entire hour of radio time will be taken on a national hookup by prominent speakers.

Lincoln's memory was recalled today in congress too, with appropriate speeches by members in each chamber.

President Hoover will not attend the principal party dinner here tonight but will speak at 9:30 p. m. (C. S. T.) from the White House study in which Lincoln transacted the affairs of the state of his day.

The dinner in the capital, to be attended by several hundred party stalwarts, will be addressed by Senator Watson of Indiana, G. O. P. head in the senate; by Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, by Secretary Wilbur of the interior and Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of the vice president.

Other important party dinners will be in New York City, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Portland, Maine; Evansville, Ind., Louisville,

POLICE STILL HUNT FLOYD

PHANTOM BADMAN OF OKLAHOMA AGAIN MAKES ESCAPE

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 12—After two brushes with the law in Tulsa and a ten-second escape from a gas bomb raid on his hideaway, Charles (PrettyBoy) Floyd, phantom badman of the Oklahoma hills, still eluded peace officers today.

Tight-lipped, his 26-year-old wife, Ruby, sat in the Tulsa jail and refused to give any clew to Floyd's whereabouts or even admit she knew the accused robber and killer.

"That's Daddy"

About her feet played her son, seven-year-old Jackie, whose childish cry of "that's daddy" betrayed the woman's true identity to policemen who questioned her. The boy had been shown a picture of Floyd.

Tulsa city and county officers, state operatives and bank association detectives were concentrated in Tulsa and vicinity today in the belief Floyd still was near.

He escaped them for the third time in as many days when he and a confederate believed to have been George Bidwell, slipped out a rear door of the bungalow where he lived while raiding officers tossed tear bombs through an open window.

Mellon Resignation Accepted By Hoover

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—President Hoover today accepted the formal resignation of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury, at the same time paying tribute to him for his 11 years of service in that post.

The new ambassador to Great Britain said to the president he left his former post "with the highest regard for you and your administration."

The president in reply, said he knew of "no more magnificent tribute that has come to a public servant" than the expressions of esteem coming from both "the press and the public."

SUPPORT NAVY, ARMY MERGER

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS SEEKING TO COMBINE TWO DEPARTMENTS

By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—House Democratic leaders have sent word down the line that they expect support for the legislation to merge the war and navy department.

The expenditures committee is about to complete hearings and reports are that the party leaders have lined up enough committee pledges to assure an early favorable report to the house.

Opposition by the army and navy has been bitter. Both say the new set-up, with a secretary for national defense and three assistant secretaries army, navy and aviation, very likely would cost more than the present organizations.

Chairman Byrns of the appropriation committee, however, insists the move would save $100,000,000 in the first year, or shortly thereafter, and would be very likely to increase efficiency. He also holds faulty the argument that it would be difficult to find a man big enough to be secretary of national defense and replace two cabinet members.

Cannon Demurrers Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The District of Columbia supreme court today sustained the demurrers of Bishop James Cannon, jr., and his former secretary, Miss Ada Burroughs, to their indictments on charges of violating the corrupt practices act.

The churchman and Miss Burroughs were indicted on charges that they had failed to file complete reports of expenditures made in their activities against Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Their demurrer disputed constitutionality of the corrupt practices act which requires that such reports be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives.

McAdoo Proposes A Tax On Bootleggers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A former secretary of the treasury proposes a hundred per cent income tax on bootleggers and drug peddlers as a means of balancing the federal budget.

William G. McAdoo advanced the suggestion in reply to a request from Senator Walsh (D., Mont.) for ideas on revenue raising. If it is true that bootleggers are making a billion and a half a year, wrote McAdoo, it is the government's duty to tax them the whole amount.

FATALLY INJURED

HOUSTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Henry L. Jacobs, 41, Chicago tire salesman was injured fatally in an automobile accident last night. He was dead when he was brought to a hospital here.

VOTE ON RELIEF BILL SET MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Senate leaders agreed today to vote Monday on the various unemployment relief bills now pending.

The decision to defer the vote until Monday was made because many senators found it necessary to be out of town for the week-end.

The first vote Monday probably will come on the Democratic substitute for the LaFollette-Costigan bill. The substitute would provide for loans to states instead of outright gifts as carried by the original proposal.

Both bills now carry $750,000,000 to be divided equally between road construction and relief.

ANGELO ATTORNEY DIES

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Judge J. W. Hill, 75, prominent San Angelo attorney, died at a hotel here at 2 a. m. today. Judge Hill was in Austin participating in the trial of a suit over valuable oil lands in Pecos county in West Texas.

Mistaken Identity Blamed For Attack

"Mistaken identity" this morning remained as the most plausible explanation of the case of Mrs. E. W. Jennings, 29, who was found unconsciousness about 7:30 o'clock last night in a garage back of her home at 1708-B Avenue N, police indicated.

Mrs. Jennings, mother of two small children and wife of a sewing machine salesman, was blindfolded and gagged, when found by Crady Paul Jennings, her six-year-old son, who ran to the back door of the E. W. McClendon home, 1708-A Avenue N, screaming: "They got mother tied in the garage." She said she had gone there to get some clothing.

Several day policemen last night were recalled to duty to assist night police and members of the sheriff's department in a search for two men who Mrs. Jennings said had overpowered her after she evidently had been mistaken for a woman who wore diamonds. No additional patrolmen were on duty today, however, Police Chief John Lemond said.

Police Chief Lemond and Sheriff Wade Hardy talked to Mrs. Jennings this morning. Several correc-

Student Council Of Tech Protests In Resolution Action Of Rev. Campbell

Going on record as unanimously opposed to the charges brought by Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church, against members of the college faculty, the student council of the college met in extraordinary session at the college this morning and protested the minister's action.

The council is composed of twenty students, elected from the various schools and classes of the college. Don Maddox, a senior, of Junction is president and Mary Lois Gamel, a junior, of Lubbock is secretary.

The resolution follows:

WHEREAS, a grave charge that atheistic teachings are being countenanced in Tech has been made by Rev. R. C. Campbell of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, and

WHEREAS, a fair hearing was given wherein Rev. Campbell presented his evidence, and

WHEREAS, this evidence was found to be meagre, based largely on rumor, arising out of a doctrinal viewpoint, and unfounded, and

WHEREAS, only one man was charged with atheism and this man on the false assumption that he was in sympathy with Soviet Russia, and

WHEREAS, a fair investigation of the charges revealed them to be false.

BE IT RESOLVED that we, the Texas Technological College Student Council, assembled in extraordinary session, being duly elected to represent the student body, do deplore and denounce as unfair, unjustifiable and unreasonable, the reassertion of these charges by the board of deacons of the First Baptist church as unfair, and

Just In Case You Are Too Shy—

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—If you are too shy to say "yes" or too loath to say "no," there are wispy kerchiefs of printed chiffon which will answer correctly, for you.

Contrarily, the words "yes" and "no" are printed on the same kerchief. So are such other frivolous and flirtatious invitations and commands as "stop", "go," "danger, curves ahead". They are nice for young ladies who have a penchant for frequent changes of mind. Made in France, they are printed in soft colors and have hand rolled hems. Some have one line love lyrics in French—equally distracting!

SPOILED SPOILS

LOS ANGELES—A thief looted the basement of a home on East Fifth street and attempted to remove a 25-gallon cask of wine. He got the cask out of the basement all right, but in rolling it down an incline his hold broke and the barrel slipped out of his grasp. Gathering momentum as it rolled down the hill, it struck a curbstone and splintered. The wine flooded the street.

"I am happy to tell other women about this medicine." Mrs. V. E. Schnepper, 1409 E. Sycamore St. Evansville, Indiana.

YOU'LL NEVER GET ANY SAD SURPRISES IN HILLS BROS COFFEE

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . .
a little at a time
. . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting — the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . "a little at a time."

Because of Hills Bros' patented Controlled Roasting process, the exquisite flavor never varies

Roasted evenly, continuously, "a little at a time" instead of in bulk

You'll be perfectly pleased with some coffees week after week. Then a pound gives you a sad surprise. The flavor is a disappointment . . . different from what you have had. The coffee was probably roasted in bulk, and was under-roasted or became over-roasted.

Naturally, batches of several hundred pounds make it difficult to always roast every berry alike. And every variation in roast results in flavor-variation. That's why Hills Bros. use their patented Controlled Roasting process!

Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. roast a little at a time . . . as the coffee flows evenly, continuously through the roasters. Small amounts, automatically controlled, assure an ideal roast for every single berry. They are always done to a perfect degree!

Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness — the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can — it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

There isn't any question about Hills Bros. being the world's finest coffee. A cupful will convince you. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

LINCOLN'S STEPMOTHER

It is no easy task to be a good stepmother. You and I have seen some who have been really wonderful, and we must admire them. Such was the stepmother of Abraham Lincoln.

At the age of eight Abe Lincoln lost his mother. Tom Lincoln, about two years later, leaving Abe and Sarah alone for several weeks, walked over the hundred miles back to Kentucky where he had grown up, and married Sarah Brush Johnston, whose husband had died a few years before, leaving her with three children. No one knows how much these three children and Sarah contributed toward the personality and education of Abe Lincoln—undoubtedly a very great deal.

Tom Lincoln didn't walk back home. Four horses drew them, along with considerable furniture. "Here's your Mammy," said Tom Lincoln, to young Abe. She took the corn husks Abe had been sleeping on, piled them in the yard and said they would be good for a pig pen later, and Abe sunk his head and bones that night in a feather pillow and a feather mattress.

When Tom Lincoln proposed to the widow he got quickly to the point. "I have no wife and you no husband. I came a-purpose to marry you. I knowed you from a gal and you knowed me from a boy. I've no time to lose; and if you're willin', let it be done straight off."

She replied, "I got debts." He asked for a list of these debts, paid them, then bought a license. Here we find one good reason, at least, for Abe Lincoln's honesty.

Tom Lincoln could write: his new wife couldn't. Although he often complained about the waste of time for "eddication" she, just as the real mother of Abe had done, strongly encouraged the boy in his eagerness to learn.

Of her sense of humor Carl Sandburg writes:

His stepmother told him she didn't mind his bringing dirt into the house on his feet; she could scour the floor; but she asked him to keep his head washed or he'd be rubbing the dirt on her white-washed rafters. He put barefoot boys to wading in a mud puddle near the horse trough, picked them up one by one, carried them to the house upside down and walked their muddy feet across the ceiling. The mother came in, laughed an hour at the foot tracks, told Abe he ought to be spanked—and he cleaned the ceiling so it looked new." Have you ever seen more commendable behavior in any parent?

She understood the adolescent boy as few parents do. "If he broke out laughing when others saw nothing to laugh at, she let it pass as a sign of his thoughts working their own way. So far as she was concerned he had a right to do unaccountable things."

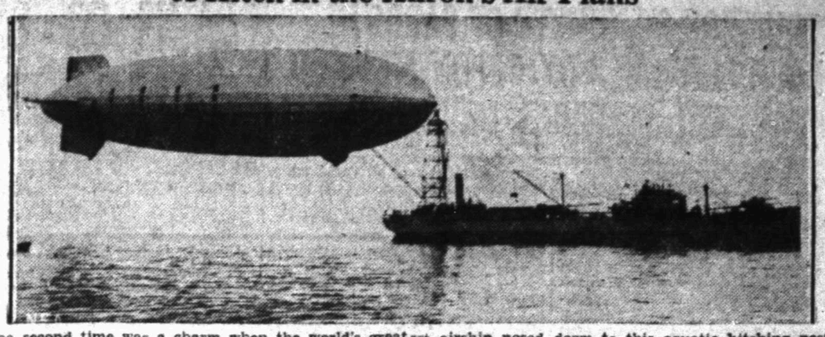

And Abe responded to her. Do you suppose she nagged at him to make him clean those rafters or that they had an argument about it? Of course not. She understood and so did he. No wonder she said of him: "Abe never spoke a cross word to me in his life since we lived together."

SMOKE, BUT NO FIRE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — The old saying that where there's smoke there must be a fire was partly refuted here when observers thought J. O. Chamberlain's car was on fire. Dense clouds of smoke poured out of his car. But he explained that he saw a huge rat in the vehicle. He was burning sulphur in the car in an effort to kill the rodent.

C. C. COGSWELL LAUDS AMERICA AT FARMERS SUPPER THURSDAY

Speaking at a farmers supper in the Lubbock hotel last night in connection with an annual South Plains Farm and Home conference underway here, C. C. Cogswell, master of the Kansas state grange, asserted:

"America is still better than any other nation in the world; if any one wants communism, let him go to Russia; if any one wants to live under a dictator, let him go to Italy."

Cogswell's subject was "Pioneering and Pioneers." He declared in no other way could American farmers secure their rights than by cooperation of farm groups. He spoke of the splendid results that had been accomplished by cooperation and complimented residents of the South Plains on what he had seen of the cooperation shown by farmers and business men at the conference.

"The organization I represent is the pioneer," he said by way of introduction. "It laid the foundations for present organizations." He mentioned that he had three sons and added "I know that I must be interested in the things the boys are interested in if I am interested in the boys."

H. J. Bower, of Texas Tech, introduced the toastmaster, L. T. Mayhugh, of Runningwater, Hale county, as "Iapland," where "the North Plains laps over on the South Plains." Mr. Mayhugh read a poem written by Dr. J. W. Hunt, of Abilene when the college president was a cowboy many years ago.

Elliott Speaks

Arvile Elliott, county Four-H president, gave a brief summary of the work of that organization, from its inception in Texas a score of years ago, to the present time. Miss Virginia Massingale gave a reading and responded to an encore. James Potts sang two cowboy numbers and also led in group singing. Several special numbers were furnished by a Four-H club group of four girls and five boys, the audience responding to their contribution to the program.

Three hundred and seventeen persons were served, it was announced at the close of the program.

Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, who was a speaker last year and who came again by request, announced that the light talk she had planned to give, she found she had to change by the character of the program of the day. "This is not a time for nonsense," she declared. "This is a heart-searching time for our country."

Asking the question "What was it that made us great?" Mrs. Cunningham pointed out our belief in the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, the right to assemble, the right to petition our rulers and the determination to worship God in our own way."

"There is a question in our minds today as to the freedom of the press," she said, adding that formerly the people looked to the newspaper for ideas on public affairs. "We do not get our information from the press," she pointed out. "Freedom of speech is limited by our lack of courage. It was only in the year of our Lord, 1931, that in Texas a meeting was dispersed by the military."

Today's program opens at 10 o'clock in the livestock pavilion at Tech with talks by W. A. Canon, B. R. Burgess and Lynn Stokes. This afternoon John C. Burns, Mrs. Cunningham, R. J. Murray and John Manley are to speak.

A larger attendance than was had Thursday is expected for today.

Seabury Is Asked To Reveal Charge

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP)—Samuel Seabury, Tammany foe, was called upon Thursday to air in public before Governor Roosevelt his reasons for demanding the chief executive remove Sheriff Thomas M. Farley of New York City, a high chief of the Tammany Wigwam.

Mr. Roosevelt called the hearing for February 16, in the executive chamber of the capitol.

The Farley charges, chiefly "unfitness," have been a focal point of political speculation because of the considered importance of the Tammany influence in Democratic politics. Mr. Roosevelt is a candidate for the presidential nomination.

DEDUCTION OF NUMBER OF CARDS IN EACH SUIT HELD BY OPPONENTS AND PARTNER PROVIDES BRIDGE THRILL

BY TOM O'NEIL

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—One of the bridge master's greatest thrills, whatever the result of a hand, is the correct deduction immediately after the dummy is down of the number of cards of each suit held by partners and opponents. In a duplicate tournament Shepard Barclay and partners once had top score for a particular board because his ability at card reading enabled him to make a better defense.

The hand:

North
S—Q J 10 9 4 2
H—Q
D—9 7
C—A K 10 6

West
S—K 8 6 5
H—J 10 7 5
D—Q J 3 2
C—9

Barclay, (East)
S—3
H—9 8 3 2
D—K 10
C—Q J 8 5 4 2

South (Dealer)
S—A 7
H—A K 6 4
D—A 8 6 5 4
C—7 5

South bid one no trump, his partner two and South then went to three, which became the contract. West and East did not bid.

West led the five of spades. It was obviously the fourth highest of his best suit. Barclay noted the four and two of spades in the dummy and the three in his own hand. It was clear to him, therefore, that West had four spades, since if West had a five card suit, he would have led from that.

A look at the clubs in his own hand and dummy showed Barclay that the declarer had only two clubs. Ten clubs were in sight. If the declarer had all three missing clubs West would have none and necessarily would have had a five card suit and led from it. West therefore had only one club, four spades, four hearts, five diamonds and two clubs.

The first trick was won by South with the ace o fspades. He led the seven, which was won by West with the king. West attacked the heart weakness in dummy, leading the five. Barclay played the nine spot to show his partner he had four hearts and would protect them and that West should protect diamonds if possible.

After dummy won the second trick with the queen of hearts four spades tricks were taken, Barclay discarding two clubs and the king and ten of diamonds. Dummy then cashed the ace and king of clubs and led to the South hand. South played the ace of diamonds and ace and king of hearts. On the last trick he had the six of hearts left. Barclay took the trick with the eight.

The declarer made five no trump. At all tables in the tournament except Barclay's six no trump was made by the holders of the North and South cards, including Barclay's partners in a team of four thus giving Barclay's team top score.

SPEEDING HATCHING

LONDON—By exerting a pressure of nearly a ton to the square inch, scientists at work in the Imperial College of Science at South Kennsington have succeeded in hatching a hen's egg in a tenth of the normal time it ordinarily takes. The eggs were placed in special steel cylinders and the pressure was exerted. Despite the weight, the eggs were not cracked.

Joint Statement Issued In Tech Atheism Charge

"REV. CAMPBELL and I have reduced to writing a signed and agreed statement in regard to the charges recently made by him concerning certain members of the faculty of the Texas Technological college, and the circumstances under which these charges were made. This statement at least defines the issue as made. It should be carefully read by anyone interested in getting at the merits of the case," President Horn said after the conference.

The joint statement "concerning the interview between Rev. Campbell and President Horn relative to charges made recently in a sermon by Rev. Campbell" was signed by both Rev. Campbell and Dr. Horn.

Has No First-Hand Knowledge

"The matters referred to in Rev. Campbell's sermon were not presented to the president or the board before the sermon was preached," the joint statement said. "Rev. Campbell states he has no first-hand knowledge of the things charged, but made the charges on testimony that he considers authentic."

"Rev. Campbell states to begin with, that he has never known a finer body of young men and women than those in the student body of Texas Technological college. He states that there is more interest in church and religious work among the young people of this college than in any other state school he has ever known, and as much as there is in many church schools. He states that the great majority of the faculty are, in his judgment, fine men and women, and that the majority of them are active in church and religious work in the city of Lubbock.

Friend To College

He states that he is a friend to the college, to its student body, to its president, and to the faculty as a whole. He says that it is genuine interest in these that has caused him to make the charges against a few exceptions.

"The president of the college states that it has always been his purpose and desire and that of the board to maintain good religious conditions in the college and that if there is any teaching of atheism going on he is just as anxious to know of it as is anybody else and to see that it is not continued."

When asked for a list of the names, the charges and the witnesses, Rev. Campbell submitted a list of four names. These, with the charges, may be described as follows:

(1) The first case is that of a young man who is said to have spoken disrespectfully of religion in the class room. Rev. Campbell states that he has no specific evidence that he could offer against this man. He does not charge him with atheism. The young man in question is a member of one of the Protestant churches of Lubbock.

(2) The second charge is that a certain faculty member at a certain club meeting made the statement that the atheistic movement in Russia is a noble experiment,' and that the man expressed sympathy for that plan. He does not charge him with making any statements of an atheistic nature in class or to students.

3) The third man is charged with having said, grinningly and cynically, when asked as to whether Joseph was the father of Jesus, 'I was not there and therefore I do not know.' He is also charged with 'unsettling the faith of students.' Rev. Campbell specifically states that he does not charge this man with being an atheist although he considers him to be a dangerous man.

(4) The fourth man is a man who is reported to have said in class that 'God is a myth.' He is also stated to have spoken disrespectfully of the Bible. The name of one student is submitted as that of a witness to this effect. Rev. Campbell does not charge him with being an atheist.

President Horn urged Rev. Campbell to be perfectly open and to make a statement of all criticisms he had to make against the religious teachings of any members of the faculty. Rev. Campbell assured President Horn that these four cases covered all the criticism he had to make and with these exceptions the faculty had his entire confidence.

"The above is agreed upon as a correct statement of the charges made and as a correct synopsis of what transpired between Rev. Campbell and President Horn."

EVERY WOMAN faces this question

"How do I look to other people?" If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

LUBBOCK COUNTY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT OPENS TODAY

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

TODAY we have with us some sixteen basketball teams from various points in Lubbock county gathered to decide the school basketball championship of the area.

The tournament gets under way at 4 o'clock this afternoon. All games will be played at the Lubbock High school gymnasium, a fine setting for a county tournament or any other kind of a tournament. It is the most up to date gymnasium and basketball court in this end of the state, and games are just a bit more interesting to play and to watch when they're played on a full size court.

The public is invited to see the games, though a nominal charge of admission will be made at the door. The single admission price will permit visitors to sit through an entire session. For instance, you pay once to see all of this afternoon's and tonight's games, then again in the morning and then again tomorrow afternoon. A large attendance of fans from towns and communities in which the schools are located is expected.

Coach Paul Wright of Slaton High school, who is also county athletic director, will be in charge of the tournament. He has procured the services of experienced men as officials. Burl Huffman of Lubbock High and Ed Hambright, official-at-large, will do the refereeing. Sammy West, Washington Senators' outfielder, is slated as official timer.

The tournament is for both boys and girls teams, and since there are no pronounced girls teams in Lubbock, local fans who are curious as to how the femmes play the game under the new two-division court rules should gather quite a kick out of the proceedings.

The department ran a "name-the-man" puzzle picture yesterday designed to cause some argument as to the true identity of the man pictured, and it was just that. But the three tickets were gone much earlier than we anticipated. Joe McCarthy, boss of the Yankees, was the number released. Some guessed Rogers Hornsby, others suggested Gabby Street and Max Carey. We'll have another Monday afternoon, tickets to be good to either of the Tech-A. C. C. games.

Some of you may remember the attempts made last year to organize a Panhandle-Plains Baseball league, and the ensuing headache connected with the attempts. J. J. "Honest John" McCloskey, popular old skipper of other days, was here as the main guy behind the works that never worked. So "Honest John" has shifted his activity to more fertile fields. He has gone back to Akron of the Central league and is to manage that team this season.

All of which means little or nothing. But McCloskey's venture over the Panhandle and Plains territory last year was not all in vain. He looked over the various teams in this section and jotted down a few names. He told us at the time that he was somewhat interested in a few of the fellows hereabouts. Now comes the news that he is back at Akron as active manager. The Central league did not operate last year and its reorganization means new players altogether. McCloskey has consulted his notes and addressed envelopes containing contracts to some of the local and sectional boys.

The Lubbock Hubber team especially pleased the old baseball skipper. He liked the work of Ed Hambright, Raymond "Evolution" Marshall and Red Gaither in the outfield, Jimmy Ballard at second and Willis Knight on the mound. He also liked the offensive punch these lads delivered, and to show his appreciation he has mailed contracts to them. Marshall, Gaither and Ballard have signed the papers and will report to the Ohio town come training season. Willis Knight has not been located since he refused to vacate the hillock at a certain game here last summer at the urgent request of his manager, but McCloskey thinks he's on his trail. Old John also wants Lefty Dillon, a man with Texas League experience who played around with Borger last year. Hambright returned the contract, unsigned, asking for a heftier price. A second was mailed him calling for a slight advance in salary over the first and Ed says he may send that one back, too, because maybe it will be raised again.

Hambright was easily the classiest all-around baseball player in the section last year. He was with Wichita Falls until the last rookie was raked off the Spudder list. He is a natural outfielder but can play the infield when called on, and he heaves a pretty fair knuckle ball. He led the Hubbers in batting last with something around .400. Gaither is a dependable hitter but has his off days in the field. He's about as good in the infield as out. Marshall, who played a little with Galveston early last year, failed to live up to hitting ballyhoo for the balance of the season, though there are few who outclass him as an outfielder. Knight can pitch when he wants to and before he gets mad, which is not very long. Ballard is pretty safe at second but is an erratic hitter. McCloskey saw him the day he knocked two home runs in succession. We don't think he hit a lick after that.

If these guys all leave us, Lubbock is going to miss them considerably when the baseball season rolls around. We don't have much baseball in this section but the boys named above have been the backbone of the Lubbock team for several seasons.

DEMPSEY ADDS TO KO LIST

CHRISTNER CUT DOWN IN THIRD ROUND BY MANASSA MAULER

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12 (AP)—Jack Dempsey added another knockout to his barnstorming string here last night over the old Akron rubber puddler, Meyer (K. O.) Christner, who took the count in the closing minutes of the third round of a scheduled four round bout.

A pair of left hooks to the chin tumbled Christner to the canvas for the fourth time, and he was attempting to get his wabbling legs under him again when the count cut him down for good.

There was a hearty sprinkling of "boo's" from the crowd of nearly 10,000 persons during the first round, when the warriors resorted to clinching. At the end, however, the Manassa mauler was given a great ovation.

A left to the chin knocked Christner down for nine in the first, and a pair of right crosses to the jaw sent him to the canvas for two more nine counts early in the third. But the Akron fighter won the second, shaking Dempsey twice with hefty rights.

Dempsey looked tired and old at the end of the second, but he was back with plenty of life in the third to wind up the bout with old time eclat.

Jack's left eye, cut in a fight at Milwaukee Monday night, gave him considerable trouble as Christner worked on it. Blood trickled from the wound shortly after the action started, but apparently did not greatly hamper Dempsey.

In the ten-round semi-final, Adolf Heuser, the German light heavyweight, was awarded a technical knockout over George Manley, Denver, in a little more than two and a half minutes of the fifth round.

SEVEN EVENTS ON PROGRAM FOR MEN

MEN OF LUBBOCK AND TECH INVITED TO MONTHLY PARTY

Texas Tech athletic department is host tonight to the menfolks of Lubbock and of Tech at the February "Fun and Fite Nite" program. The blowout begins at 7:45 o'clock and will be timed so that everything will be over by 9:15 at the latest. That will provide time enough for an annual program which is planned for tonight.

The popular demand for more and better fights has caused the athletic department to put on a show tonight composed almost wholly of boxing and "wrazzlin'" contests. Seven of these are carded, and every one is featured by fighters of experience. Three wrestling matches and four boxing bouts between the best fighters in the college are on tap. The Matador band, under the direction of Harry Le Maire, will furnish music throughout the program.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith, promoters of the all-men events, promise something new and modern tonight. A new ring, built to stand the tussles, replete with mats and canvas, will be ready. The gymnasium will be darkened for the fights, one big floodlight illuminating the ring.

The program, starting at 7:45, is due to be over by 9 o'clock. The boxing bouts will consist of four one-minute rounds, and the wrestling events will be clocked at seven minutes each.

Tonight's card:

No. 1: Boxing—"Wonder" Davis, 146, vs. "Tuffy" Cook, 146.

WESTERNERS WILL MEET PLAINVIEW CAGERS TONIGHT

The Lubbock High school Westerner cagers, who have had more than their share of setbacks this season, are in Plainview tonight for a second battle with Froggie Lovvorn's state championship seeking Bulldogs.

Last week the Bulldogs, favorites for the District 2 crown and heralded as among the leading contestants for state honors this season came to Lubbock and drubbed the Westerners, 39 to 23.

"The Bulldogs are not incinvible," Coach McMurry said yesterday, "and we're going over there to try and prove it. They showed some weaknesses in the game here last week and we've been working on an offense that is due to bring about results, if we can apply it correctly."

Both teams will be in action here next week in the district tournament, with Plainview considered a strong favorite to sweep through undefeated.

The Westerners lost a tussle to the Dickens High school Owls Wednesday night, 20 to 15. The game was played at Dickens.

Roche Newton On Examining Board

City commission Thursday afternoon named Roche Newton to the examining board of plumbers.

W. H. Rodgers, city manager, and R. A. Holland, tax collector and assessor, were authorized to attend a meeting Saturday in Waco of Texas assessors and collectors of taxes.

The commissioners also purchased a car of salt for the electric department, at $10.20 per ton. Commissioner J. E. Rosch was absent.

BAD WEATHER JINX IS HOVERING OVER LAKE PLACID AND THE THIRD WINTER GAMES; BOB SLED RACES POSTPONED

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP)—The bad weather jinx, active here all winter, hovered over Lake Placid and the third winter olympic games again today.

Rain, which swept down on the Adirondacks yesterday, brought about two postponements of the four-man bob sled races, one of the big features of the games, and right now it looks as if they won't take place until Sunday.

Four major championships are yet to be determined. The four-man bob sled, the ski jump, winner to be acclaimed olympic champion; the pairs figure skating, and hockey. The skating and hockey events can be run off on the artificial ice of the arena.

It was predicted last night that the heavily-packed snow of the intervales ski jump would be proof against the persistent rain and that the jumpers will go through their stunts this afternoon as scheduled. Yesterday 62 skiers went down the slushy sixty-meter slide and the olympic hill below and one of them, the lithe Hans Vinjarengen of Norway, made a hill record of 204 feet on his second try.

Fifteen of those who competed under yesterday's moist and dripping conditions are scheduled to try for the jumping honors today. The only other event on today's program is the pairs figure skating event in the arena tonight. Seven pairs, representing four nations, are entered. European skaters were favored.

Tomorrow's program, outside of the bob sled possibility, includes the 50 kilometer ski race and two hockey games. Canada, so far undefeated, and the United States will clash in the final and probably the deciding game of the hockey contest.

Cowboys Win In Last Tech Game

The Texas Tech Matadors wound up their week's work on the maple floor last night by dropping a 46 to 41 decision to the Simmons University Cowboys in the second and final game of the series. Tech won the opening game, 50 to 46, the Cowhands scoring as many points in one game as in the other.

Next Monday and Tuesday nights the Matadors will be at home to another Abilene basketball team when the A. C. C. Wildcats come here. The teams divided a series in Abilene earlier in the season. On Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week the Matadors are in Canyon with a couple of contests against the West Texas Teachers Buffaloes.

The victory last night gave Simmons a 3 to 1 lead over the Matadors in games for the season.

McCollum hit the goal from almost any position and location to lead the scoring with nine field goals and three free goals. He rarely missed the basket, and his passing was just as commendable as his goaling.

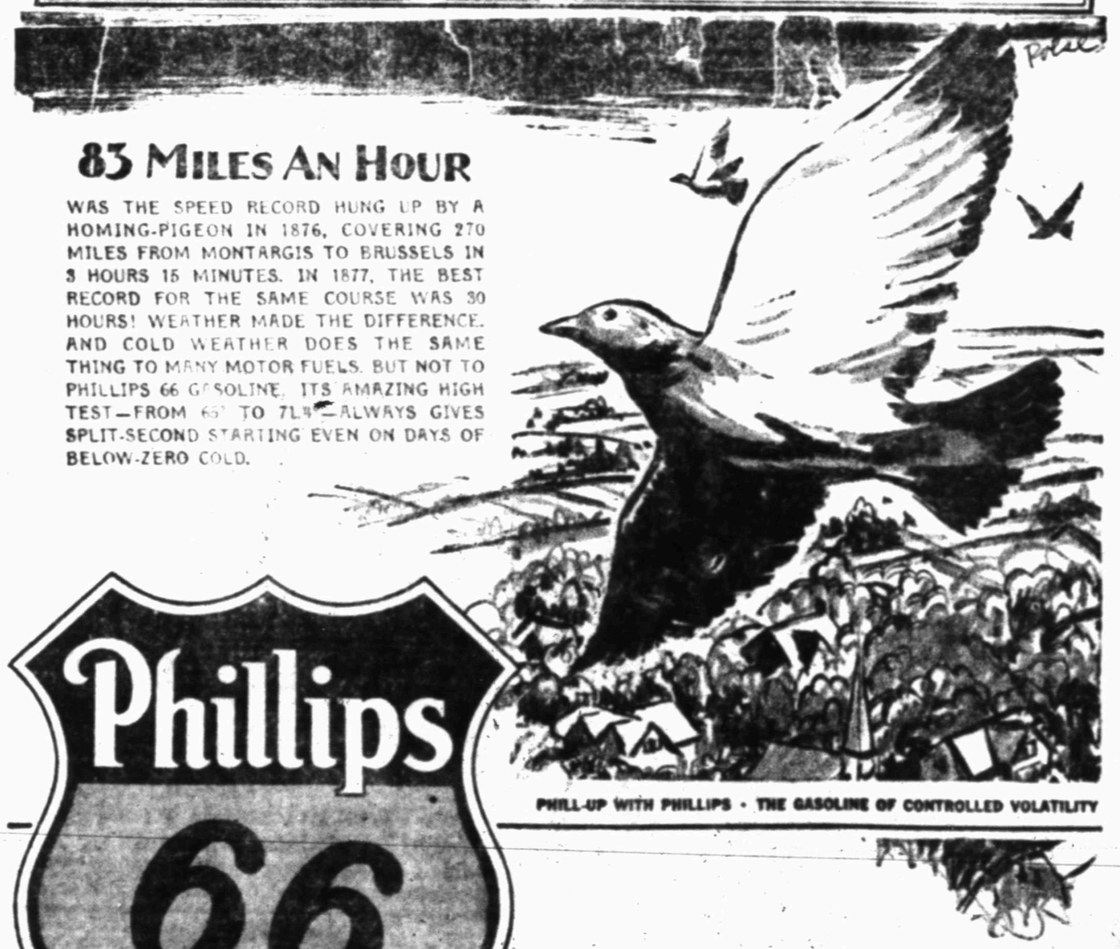

Jim Neely, center, was an effective thorn in Tech's side with four field goals and a lot of fine defensive work. The Cowboys rode the Matadors from opening whistle to final gun, holding the lead all the way and were rarely in danger. They were off to a 30-16 lead at the half, and the Bullfighters never caught up. The final score was as close as it was anytime during the melee.

Clarence Hodges led Tech's shooting with four of the first kind and one of the other. Haden Moody shot some neat goals and Leon Fisher's two field goals were long, arched shots from near mid-field.

Captain Tad Tadlock had one of his better nights last night and two of his three field goals brought the crowd to its feet. Captain Tad scored two free goals, and intercepted some long passes that seemed headed to Gene McCollum and the basket. He was the only Matador on the floor able to grab the ball off the backboard, and herein was Tech's great failure. The Cowboys, apparently no taller than the local collegians, swarmed under the goal posts and swarmed right out again with the ball in their possession on nearly ever occasion.

Toward the last of the game, according to their usual style, the Matadors began to wake up and take notice of the goings on around them. They waxed warmer and warmer and maybe if they'd had another half hour or so they'd have accomplished the ostensible purpose; they were right, but it was too late. They brought the score up from 29 to 38 within a twinkling, and in another twinkle they had their 41 points. McCollum and Neely were pouring in an occasional one but not so fast as the Matadors.

DIRECT LOANS TO BE MADE

MILLIONS ARE TO BE LOANED TO TEXAS CROP PRODUCERS

DALLAS, Feb. 12 —(Special)—Confirming location of a crop production loan regional headquarters, R. J. Murray, manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, last night said millions of dollars would be loaned directly to crop producers through the headquarters.

Federal officials have accepted office space in the cooperative's state office in Dallas, it was said. The offer to locate the regional headquarters here was made recently by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

While it is impossible to estimate the amount of money which will be loaned through the headquarters to the producers of this section, Murray said it is safe to estimate that the district will get a good share of the potential 200 million dollars maximum loaning power of the recent governmental appropriation. Last season, in the drouth areas of the state the government loaned approximately three million dollars. It is Mr. Murray's opinion that this sum will be multiplied many times within the state.

"The cooperative association," said Murray, "has been very active in initiating and following up the effort to bring this government agency to Texas and we feel that it will be of far-reaching effect to the producer of Texas."

That the location of the office in Texas also would mean increased deliveries to the association next season was the opinion of the manager.

No announcement has been made as to personnel of the Dallas regional office or the exact date on which the office would be opened.

FACTOR WINS IN HIS COURT FIGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—John Factor, the immigrant boy who became an internationally active stock promoter, won a legal victory Thursday which may end Great Britain's efforts to try him on a $7,000,000 swindling charge, but he still was in custody today.

Federal District Judge George A. Carpenter reversed the extradition order issued by a United States commissioner after seven months of arguments, and granted Factor a writ of habeas corpus.

The former west side barber, now a man of wealth, has been in custody of federal deputy marshals since he surrendered on the charge last May 30.

Factor still is on the defensive, however for the British government appealed from Judge Carpenter's decision to the circuit court of appeals. The court admitted Factor to $50,000 bond.

Waco Baby Clawed By Zoo Chimpanzee

DALLAS, Feb. 12 (AP) — Sandy, four-year-old chimpanzee at a Dallas zoo, played too roughly yesterday with six-weeks-old Josie Kate Wickersham and sent the Waco infant to a hospital.

Mrs. G. J. Wickersham held her daughter close to the bars of Sandy's cage so the chimpanzee could see the baby. Sandy became excited while playing with the baby's blanket and Josie Kate was scratched about the face. She was released from the hospital after treatment.

different denominations in the state. It cannot be done and it should not be tried.

"I have tried to set forth the views that controversial questions ought in college to be avoided as far as possible," he continued. "I believe that every man who teaches in a college should undertake to teach the truth; and yet, that he ought to undertake to do so insofar as is possible, without undermining either the religious or the political faith of students, especially upon matters of controversy."

Charge Is Explained

"The charge of atheism was preferred against one faculty member and one only," President Horn declared. "The charge was based upon remarks said to have been made by this man at a meeting of a certain club of adults, mostly faculty members, in a discussion of the plans and purposes of Soviet Russia. It is not even alleged that these remarks were made in the schoolroom or in the presence of any student. Even in this case, the accused man claims that his remarks were wholly misunderstood and were not of the nature charged."

The Baptist minister named only one student as a witness to substantiate testimony of his charges, President Horn said.

Others "Unsatisfactory"

"There were three other names mentioned as not being satisfactory, though no one of the three were charged with the teaching of atheism," the president continued. "In one case, Rev. Campbell told me that he had no specific information to submit, but had merely heard a rumor. The young man in question denies positively ever having spoken disrespectfully of religion. He is a member of one of the Protestant churches of the city."

The meeting in which the man charged as being an atheist was that of the Questers club of the faculty, a group of professors who meet to hold round-table discussions on various topics of note.

Discussion Admitted

"The man in question admits freely that he discussed the general question of Russia at the meeting referred to," President Horn said. "He denies positively that he expressed any sympathy with the project, or that he even mentioned it in any other than an informative and scientific manner. He states that he is a member of the Lutheran church, that he is not an atheist, that he is not a communist and that he has no interest whatever in the project, except as a matter of public information.

"Mr. Campbell did not give the name of any witness who would substantiate this charge, but suggested that I talk to those present at the meeting. I have already talked to some of them, though not all. Those to whom I talked confirmed fully the statement made by the man under accusation to the effect that it was simply a presentation of facts connected with the present condition in that great extent of country known as Russia.

Horn Gives Views

"There may be some people who would say that it is improper to discuss the subject of Russia even at a meeting of mature men," the president said. "There are many who would not take this view. In fact, there are those who think that the subject is well worthy of study for information as to what is going on in the great world about us."

"I have talked with the one and only student whose name Rev. Campbell gave me as a witness against one of the faculty members accused," Dr. Horn's statement continued. "This young woman was evidently sincere in making statements concerning the impressions which she received from one member of the faculty. She understood him to say that the idea of God originated with a myth. The man whose teachings were objected to states that he was misunderstood and that he was merely trying to show the development of the Jewish idea of God from that of a tribal god to that of the Great Father of all the world. He states that he urged his students to read the Bible and told them it was as fascinating and interesting as any book of modern literature. This gentleman is likewise a member of a Protestant church, was educated largely in a church school, and taught for several years in a church college.

Denial Is Voiced

"The other man mentioned is likewise not charged with atheism, but is charged with speaking disrespectfully of the virgin birth and of unsettling the faith of students. This man denies positively that he has ever manifested any cynicism or levity on such a subject, or that he has ever denied the virgin birth or the inspiration of the Scriptures. He says that he has never made any effort to undermine the faith of anyone, but that he has consistently undertaken to build up that faith. A number of students have voluntarily spoken concerning him and have borne testimony of the fact that his historic studies have helped establish their faith. Others have found it difficult to become adjusted to what they have understood him to teach.

"It is interesting to me to note that all four of the faculty members accused are members of some evangelical church. Three of them are members of the same church, the fourth of another. All four of these were educated at least in part in church schools. All four of them have taught in church schools. At least two of the four have been and still are active in church work."

ROMANCE IS DISCARDED FOR SOUND ECONOMICS IN AMERICAN AVIATION

BY F. A. RESCH

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—The president of an air transport line whose planes fly 12,000,000 miles a year leaned back in his swivel chair today and declared that aviation definitely had discarded "romance" for sound economics.

And as a result, says Philip G. Johnson, 39-year-old head of United Air Lines, the industry has achieved the most business-like setup in its history.

He attributes this transition principally to consolidation of air lines for increase defficiency and economy of operation, to the reduced number of planes serving the same territories where more ships once were used, and to development of modern ground facilities for servicing planes.

"But we still have a long way to go," he cautioned.

He thinks new reduced fares for air travel will have their rebound this year with even greater passenger business than in 1931, when the 1930 record was broken.

Fares now average less than six cents a mile on virtually all lines.

It is Johnson's conviction, after 15 years in both the manufacturing and operating end of the business, that air lines of the United States have taken significant steps toward adjusting their operations to current conditions.

"The time has come when aviation is thinking in terms of hard-headed economics instead of the highly-publicized romance once attached to everything pertaining to flying," he said.

Already, Johnson pointed out, vastly increased numbers of business executives are making a regular use of air transportation.

The ideal transport plane of the near future, Johnson believes, will not be a huge ship, but rather a normal-sized plane carrying from eight to twelve persons which flies equally well at sea level or high altitudes and which can take off from small landing fields.

YES, HE SHIVERED.

TULSA, Okla.—Homer King and Coy Jones found a jug of "jelly" while hunting. They took it home and found that small pinches of it would burn with a bright blaze. They called Officer E. H. King, who came and got the jug. He took it in his car over some rough roads to headquarters. They found the "jelly" was nitroglycerin. He shivers every time he thinks of his rough trip with the "jelly."

FARM CONFERENCE

added, would be the government relief.

B. S. Burgess, field director for the T. C. C. A. pointed out some of the lines of progress made by cooperative marketing, especially by his organization. After declaring that there are "plenty of statistics to bear out" the statement of its gain, he added. "Conditions are better than a year ago."

"The three big problems are: 1—to set up a system that will give a return to the producer on the basis of quality production; 2—to devise a system of distribution to handle that with the utmost economy and 3—to establish a system owned by the producer that will enable them to control the price."

Independent thinking is necessary to help solve problems of distribution or marketing and all other agricultural problems, Mr. Barron told the audience. "We don't dare think" he added, "the man who does dare to think is liable to be sent to an insane asylum.

"During the past 50 years all legislation has been for the wealthy, for business and to make money" he said. "Unless we pass some legislation for humanity we must fail."

In spite of the "almost unprecedented depression" conditions of the past year, Mr. Burdick pointed out, cooperative marketing has made progress. "Progress cannot always be made on a dollar basis" he stated. "We have lost sight of the real accomplishments."

This afternoon will be the closing session with talks by John C. Burns, Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, R. J. Murray and John Manley.

Ask Modification Of Volstead Act

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Immediate modification of the Volstead act to permit manufacture and sale of beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic contest by weight was demanded of congress in a petition adopted Thursday by labor's national committee for modification of the Volstead act.

It will be presented to every member of congress.

The organization said in a statement last night "modification of the Volstead act would constitute the greatest contribution to employment the government can make without delay."

Thought For Today

A wise man is strong; yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength.—Proverbs 24:5.

WISDOM is to the soul what health is to the body.—La Rochefoucauld.

A New Problem

Among the many improvements that automobile manufacturers have built into cars in the last few years is higher speed capacity. Rapid acceleration is the rule, now; so is the ability to cruise along an open road at a mile-a-minute clip without suffering from excessive noise and vibration.

But all of this, evidently, has been a gift to motorists who aren't ready for it yet. Our automobiles do their job better than we do ours. We aren't, on the whole, quite fit to be trusted with fast cars.

This becomes evident from figures on auto accidents recently compiled by the Travelers Insurance company.

In 1931 automobile registrations in the United States declined by about 2 per cent. The number of traffic accidents also fell off. Yet the number of traffic deaths increased by more than 3 per cent, and the number of severe but non-fatal injuries increased even more.

The insurance company's investigators conclude that increased speed was the factor chiefly responsible. It is hard to disagree with them.

The meaning of this new trend is clear. The odds of death in an auto accident have been shortened. In 1930 there was one death in every 26 accidents; last year there was one death in every 25.

Nor does the indictment against the motorist stop there. The pedestrian seems to be getting more cautious; accidents involving pedestrians fell off markedly last year. Deaths resulting from collisions between two automobiles, on the other hand, shot up 24 per cent, and deaths resulting from autos colliding with fixed objects—such, for instance, as lamp posts—also increased materially.

This makes extremely unpleasant reading. It indicates that the average motorist must realize more clearly than ever before the exact nature of the responsibility that rests on his shoulders when he starts out for a drive. It indicates that state and municipal supervision of driving is not nearly stringent enough. It indicates, in fact, that we still fail to appreciate the great seriousness of our automobile traffic death problem.

Mechanized

Professor Clifford C. Furnas of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, repeated the other day the old prediction that civilization will eventually become so thoroughly mechanized and intelligently operated that the ordinary man will have a working day only two or three hours long.

Hand in hand with this, he said, will come steady employment and high wages, with annuity provisions which will protect the sick and the aged. He added that this forecast is no pipe dream but a sober prediction based on "an engineer's consideration of various scientific and sociological facts."

It is a charming vision, certainly; and it is one of the things that make the present depression so hard to endure. To stumble along with unemployment, poverty and hunger in a world which has the capacity for achieving such a Utopian scheme of things—is it not a painful and ironic mockery?

Senator Wheeler Has New Panacea For Business Ills In "16 To 1" Silver Measure; Farm And Mining Aid Claimed

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana has introduced a bill which, as William Jennings Bryan and the Democratic party proposed in 1896, would monetize silver at the ratio of 16 ounces of silver to one ounce of gold.

Dutcher

A dozen plans involving the restoration of silver are contained in other bills offered in Congress, each backed by a large or small segment of expert opinion. They are advanced as recipes for a restoration of the silver industry and a restogation of prosperity. The arguments for some seem to place more emphasis on the one aim than on the other.

Senator Wheeler says that he is not concerned with the state of the silver mining industry, but only with the restoration of prosperity.

In order to understand the Wheeler bill you must know what the bill provides. It says this:

By law "the proportional value of silver to gold in all coins . . . shall be as 16 to 1, according to quantity or weight, of pure silver or pure gold, that is to say, every 16 pounds weight of pure silver shall be of equal value in all payments with one pound weight of pure gold, and so in proportion as to any greater or less quantities of the respective metals . . . There shall be free coinage of both gold and silver, at the ratio fixed in this act . . ." And all laws relative to gold shall apply equally as far as practicable, to silver. The present gold dollar shall continue to be the standard unit of value.

"Other countries have gone or are going off the gold standard," says Wheeler, "and the countries which go off cannot trade with the countries which stay on because the rate of exchange makes it impossible. The farmers in this country who raise wheat or cotton must sell on the European market in competition with Canada, Australia, Argentina or India. They receive the same amount of money, but it is discounted 25 or 30 per cent when it comes back to this country."

Wheeler admitted that the strongest support for his bill came from members of Congress representing the farming and silver-producing states. The same thing was true, of course, in the eighties and nineties. Bimetallism, he says frankly, would deflate the gold dollar and allow the farmers to pay off their debts with comparative ease. In fact, he says, it will help every debtor in the country.

At present, of course, silver is acceptable at the mints for its market value—around 30 cents an ounce. If remonetized at 16 to 1 it would bring about $1.29 an ounce. But gold is similarly given an arbitrary value, according to Wheeler, because the mints of the world are now open to it. It is impossible to summarize his arguments in this space—or those of the bill's opponents—but here are some of Wheeler's high spots:

"Sixty per cent of the people of the world use silver for money. Remonetization of silver would enhance the purchasing power of the Orient and of Latin America. It would raise the purchasing power of our farmers and stimulate every business activity.

"We will have to choose between going off the gold standard and bimetalism. Everyone now agrees that we need a certain amount of inflation. But whereas there is no limit to inflation if we go off the gold standard and depend on paper money there is an automatic limitation in bimetallism because of the limited supply of gold.

"And for 500 years the average of production has been about 14 of silver to one of gold. Everyone admits that there is not enough gold in the world today to provide a basis for our currency. Europe can make us go off the gold standard whenever it likes—simply by withdrawing her gold."

Speaker Garner rode to that brilliant White House reception in a "twenty-cent taxicab." Wonder if he told Mrs. Hoover he was glad to meter?

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1439 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Diet of Boyhood," "List of Books," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Nervousness," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Indigestion and Constipation for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

LEAD POISONING

EATING PAINT off the furniture, woodwork, toys, or pencils, is not just a bad habit, vaguely "not good for the child." It results in a quite definite disease—lead poisoning.

Dr. Clendening

That this occurs frequently in infants and children has only recently been recognized.

In adults the manifestations of lead poisoning have been recognized for a long time. They are, of course, almost always associated with occupations which involve the handling of lead. Nobody ever thinks of exposure to lead in little children—and that is probably why so many cases go without diagnosis or even suspicion that anything definite is wrong.

Lead gets into the body in very insidious ways—through the skin, by being breathed in, etc. All animals are susceptible to it. Birds that feed on berries in the neighborhood of smelting furnaces have been found to be affected with lead poisoning.

In adults the symptoms are strange metallic pallor to the skin, a blue line on the gums, various nervous symptoms and colic. "Devonshire colic" was the name first given the disease. It was proved by old Sir George Baker that the colic was due to drinking the cider of Devonshire which had lead in it from the habit of stirring the cider in the vats with a lead weight.

In children these symptoms are not so marked. Since during the teething period children have the habit of chewing anything or everything it is during that time—one and two years—that the condition is likely to be found.

The children are restless and irritable and have a perverted appetite (or pica). Pallor is usually present. Constipation, a symptom of the condition in adults, is marked; colic may be suspected even if the child cannot explain it. Vomiting has been noted. In very severe cases, nervous symptoms similar to those in adults come on. Even paralysis, which has been mistaken for infantile paralysis.

X-ray examination is a way to detect it, as is pointed out by a recent writer in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

It is well known that in lead poisoning in adults the lead is deposited in the bones, replacing calcium there. It does this also in children and can be easily detected by a heavy line on the X-ray plate at the ends of certain bones, especially the ribs, but also the bones of the forearm.

Headaches From Colds Relieved In 3 Minutes

It is so unnecessary for you, lady, to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B.C." a pleasant acting remedy, will bring soothing relief in three minutes.

"B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time.

"B.C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B.C." wherever drugs are sold, in 10c and 25c packages. (Adv.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12—Notes from a convenient cuff:

Ho, hum! Another theatrical producer trying to do an "Abie's Irish Rose"! Ever since the phenomenal success of that dramatic freak, there has been at least one "Abie" a year. . . . Not one of them lasted. . . Yet they go on hoping, and someone puts up the money. . . The latest is called "East of Broadway." . . . And the program indicates that several members of the cast have been taken from "The Rise of the Goldbergs" radio act. . . It would be funny if radio fans put the show over. . . . However, to me the nicest thing about a radio is the ease with which one can play critic. . . Just turn a nob and you have expressed your final opinion. . . I have yet to hear a radio drama that could last 10 minutes in a theater. . . Nor even on a show-boat or stock company circuit. . . . By the way, whatever became of Anne Nichols, the gal who made her millions out of "Abie"?

Speaking of show-boats, Billy Bryant has shown New Yorkers how to bring a show-boat troupe into the big town and make the sophisticated gents adore it. . . Veteran that he is of the country that lies between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati; or around the bend to Charleston; or southward toward New Orleans, Billy Bryant has become a showman worthy of his Broadway success.

To be a "ham" actor is one thing, but to disarm the audience by a clean admission of hammery is rare. And Bryant came clean. On the opening night, when half the celebrities of the town were present, Billy told the crowd: "Say, if you think this is bad, wait until you're seen me in 'Hamlet'!"

Wherewith, he invited the audience to go on stage and help themselves to the property beer used in "Ten Nights in a Barroom." The ermined ladies had the time of their lives. Everyone from Al Smith to Police Commissioner Mulrooney made a rush for the stage. A few days later Al gave a party on stage for one of his sons.

Just a nice big hick town on a night off!

Life, it would seem, becomes just one press agent after another! . . . Pola Negri, for instance, arrives in New York after an operation and talks about recuperation. Yet she is out with a gay party at the Park Casino. . . And was it accidental that a few days after her coming, the newest of the Pola Negri pictures opened on Broadway?

Here's a note for the folk out Iowa and Kansas way: your home-town lad, Philip Stong, is just about to join the Limited Order of Big Shots. . . His book, "State Fair," which will make its appearance in spring or summer, promises to gain wide attention. . . How wide? Just wait and see! . . . Stong is a graduate of the Des Moines newspapers and worked on the old Morning World. . . . Like most of us, he has been annoyed at times over novels written about small-town people. They have either been David Harums or else the author has followed the Knut Hamsun or Sherwood Anderson patterns of soil novels. . . Stong does neither.

And Sidney Whipple, the byline gent of the United Press, has a book coming out in March titled, "Scandalous Princesses," which concerns a certain Theresia Cabarrus, a gay, reckless and practically unknown lady of French revolution days. . . Being an avid reader of tomes concerning that hectic period, Whipple ran across a casual mention of this gal and curiosity caused him to do considerable research while on a repertorial job in Paris.

The hobby horse rocked to and fro. Said Duncy, "Gee, how he can go. But, say, he's jerked me 'round so much I'm dizzy as can be. I really think 'twould be a treat if, stead of rockers, he had feet." Just then the horse rocked faster and wee Scouty shouted, "Whee!"

"I think we've had enough of this and now, ere something goes amiss, I'm going to make this horse stop. Watch me, lads. You'll get a thrill." He pulled up on the reins real quick which made his plan work real slick. The horse stopped very suddenly and Duncy took a spill.

This made the others laugh in glee and Windy shouted, "Mercy me, you're not so good at riding. I will teach you how some day. Right now we'll wait here for the man And up to them he shortly ran "I'm out of breath," he cried. "It's wrong for me to run th's way.

"From now on I will lead this horse. We'll go a straight and narrow course and in a half an hour we all can rest right at my place He took the reins and walked along The Tinies broke out into song They way they sang amused the man. A smile spread on his face.

"We're having quite a time today," they sang, "and we are on our way to see some dandy new things that we've never seen before. Oh, goodness gracious, sakes alive, please hurry so we'll soon arrive. It's very hard to wait until we find what is in store."

And then they pulled up to a spot where all the bunch could see a lot of dandy things to have fun with. Some wee men stood around. "They are my workers," said the man. "Hop down, now, quickly as you can." It didn't take the Tinies long to scramble to the ground.

TWO READERS DISCUSS CAMPBELL-TECH CASE

Dear Plainsman: Do you think it a Christian act for one to judge another?

If each of us would remember that often we judge unjustly, and that is dangerous and many times tragical, for didn't we crucify Christ, burn Joan of Arc and poison Socrates, while at each death there was popular applause?

It is unusual for one who professes to be a minister of theology to accuse one of disbelieving in a supreme power—any person of intelligence realizes there is a power he cannot explain that is superior to man. So many times one uses a statement he doesn't know the meaning of—I would suggest that certain terms be defined and studied before one uses them. Do you suppose Rev. Campbell can explain intelligently what an atheist and infidel are?

I am not attempting to judge Rev. Campbell, for I am so far from perfect myself that I'm not even capable of judging one of much less renown as he, but am merely asking if such an act of judging is Christian.

Sincerely,
A Member of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock.

Dear Lady: I don't want to try to judge another any more than you do but in answer to your query will reply "Judge not, lest ye be judged". For other opinions on this subject see letter below. The Plainsman.)

Dear Plainsman:—I see by the public prints that a charge of atheism being taught out at Tech has been broadcast and that Rev. R. C. Campbell, local Baptist pastor, has made the charge, which, he says, he can substantiate.

First, what is meant by "teaching atheism?" If some student asks a question in class concerning a biblical controversy, etc., and the class is not one in theology, then, to my mind the student who asks such a question is as guilty as the instructor making an answer. Students should not ask questions of that nature in classes not being held on the subject.

Second: what is teaching? Is it merely giving an open expression to a view or position, or is it the actual pronouncement of a view and the seeking to instruct or inculcate into the mind of class members, the holding of that view as a fact. Merely the holding of a certain view on any subject, secular or religious, or stating a view in response to a question as to belief, is not teaching.

This brings up the question: did the four or five instructors at Tech take the time in class they were paid for devoting to their particular subject, to actually teach atheism? Then, they may be charged with such act and if proof is afforded, action should be taken.

But if they did not actually take the time to teach a subject while paid for teaching another, then the charge of teaching is not substantiated.

Should the alleged teaching have been done in a theological class at the college, there is room for criticism and investigation; if the teaching was done in one of the church classes, held in a local church, then the question is one for the pastor and the board of control of that church, session, deacons, stewards, etc. If it was in a Baptist church, Dr. Campbell is interested; if in another denomination, he is not.

I presume there are as many, if not more, members of Tech faculty engaged in church work, as in any similar group in the state. At the same time there probably are as many men who hold different views of theology as in any like group. The mere holding of a view, so long as the one holding it is morally above reproach, does not, to my mind, take from his ability or his value as a teacher. Each member of the faculty has a right to his or her own views.

Another question arises: did that particular student or any group of them, seek to ask "trick" questions of that kind, in class just to trap a professor? If so, then the charges are unfairly made.

I rather think some of the public would like information along these lines before passing judgment in the case. I have met a score or more of the faculty at Tech, but among those I have met I can recall none whom in my opinion would "teach" in class atheism, even though they hold that view.

Signed
Fourteenth street.

(Dear Fourteenth street: Thanks for your letter. I cannot attempt to say whether Mr. Campbell is right or wrong in his allegations but will agree with you in one angle. That is, in my conversations with Tech professors none has ever made any statement which might be regarded as atheistic. The Plainsman.)

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12 (AP)—With the New York market closed today for Lincoln holiday and Liverpool rather lower than due the cotton market here opened somewhat irregular, one point down to one point up.

Owing to the improved financial outlook and the sharp advance yesterday in stocks, the market turned somewhat firmer right after the start on trade buying and shorts covering. March advanced to 6.65, May to 6.84 and July to 6.98, or 3 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

While trading was very quiet the market appeared firm at the end of the first hour with a continued upward tendency.

The market was quiet all morning with prices fluctuating within the early range except for July which made a new low at 6.95, or 3 points under the highs and even with yesterday's close.

There was a little trade buying but very little disposition to trade because of the holiday elsewhere.

At noon March was trading at 6.61 and May at 6.80, or 4 points under the highs, while July had recovered to 6.97, or 2 points above the lows and only one point under the high of the morning.

Weekly statistics showed a falling off in mill takings for the week but they were much larger than the corresponding week of last year.

ATTACK

tions in first reports materialized. The chief of police reported Mrs. Jenning said she did not faint until after she was taken into the house, that she was not kicked although a shoe struck her head lightly when she was forced to the ground, and she was confident the pair had no automobile in the immediate vicinity for a getaway. She was conscious while they were there and heard their conversation, Mrs. Jennings told Police Chief Lemond.

Theory Unshaken

Although the theory of mistaken identity evolved from the woman's incoherent statements last night, it remained unshaken today, as she repeated declarations of one bandit to his partner, including: "I told you we were in the wrong block." Police said they had found no one who had seen the attack, seen two men leave the premises, or seen an unfamiliar automobile nearby.

The men approached from behind and one clamped a gloved hand over her mouth to prevent an outcry, Mrs. Jennings related. She never saw them.

The attending physicians said she was not seriously injured and suffering only of severe nervous shock. Late last night she was resting at her home, Mr. Jennings said. The woman's left shoulder was wrenched and twisted and both wrists wrenched. The left wrist showed finger nail prints. Her clothing was not torn.

The men, she said, demanded her diamonds. She replied she had no diamonds. One of the pair threw her to the ground in the garage, and cursed his companion for carrying him to the wrong place, Jennings said his wife told him. Only jewelry she was wearing was her wedding ring. The finger was bruised.

While one held her, the other threw a piece of clothing from the clothes line around her head. A cloth was jammed into her mouth. She was threatened with death if she screamed. From their voices she said she knew they were not negroes.

The garage, facing east, is divided by a partition into two spaces. There are no doors. Mrs. Jennings was found near the front and south side of the north garage space, McClendon said.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings moved here from Abilene early in November.

SINO-JAPANESE

the British cruiser Berwick to change his berth, and the implied warning was taken as an indication that the Japanese intended to begin another heavy bombardment there.

"Mercy" Truce Broken

Japanese consular officials charged this afternoon that the Chinese soldiers had broken the "mercy" truce, authorized from 8 a. m. to noon to permit removal of civilians and wounded soldiers from ruined Chapei.

The Japanese charged that during the four-hour period Chinese soldiers and snipers fired at least five times on Japanese troops who were standing by in accordance with the truce agreement.

Comparative quiet continued over Chapei through the afternoon, however, although heavy fighting was in progress between the massed armies at Woosung, the stubborn fortress and city where the Chinese have withstood terrific onslaughts more than a week.

More than 3,000 marooned victims of a terrible two-week battle were brought out of Chapei during the four-hour truce. Many wounded soldiers in ambulances were taken to hospitals.

Jap Fliers Cautious

There was every indication the Japanese aviators were taking special precautions to avoid a recurrence of the incident of yesterday when one of their bombs fell withing the settlement on a cotton mill, endangering the lives of United States marines. None of the planes that flew over Chapei during the afternoon came close to the settlement boundaries.

In Hongkew, as a truce was declared to permit a search of flattened Chapei, streets which had been deserted since the outbreak of hostilities two weeks ago suddenly teemed with life.

Scarcely had the clocks of the scarred city struck before the rush into Hongkew began. Trucks and taxis streamed into the empty and silent streets in the evacuated district, and thousands of Chinese jostled with them. They had come to retrieve belongings they left behind.

On Szechuen road, two blocks from the war zone a stream of vehicles and humanity crushed past. Truck loads of wounded soldiers came first, guarded by Japanese bluejackets with bayonets on their rifles. They were whisked off immediately to hospitals.

STUDENT COUNCIL

THAT we formally assert that no atheistic or unpatriotic doctrines are being, or ever have been in our knowledge, taught in Texas Technological college, and

THAT we deplore and denounce the starting of malicious rumors alleging these false accusations, and

THAT we further deplore the making of doctrinal views a basis for a criticism of a state institution open to all denominations and creeds alike, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we desire to maintain the most friendly relations with the citizens of Lubbock, to cooperate with them in all useful and mutual interests, and merit their approval and support, but

THAT we deeply resent and protect the attempts of certain citizens of Lubbock to discredit the college through unwarranted criticism of its faculty, and

THAT we deplore the fostering of jealousies and antagonisms between students and townspeople, and

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED, ED that we in unanimous vote express appreciation and affection for President Horn and our faculty, and

THAT we reaffirm our belief in their high moral character and religious leadership, and

THAT we appreciate their friendship, their scholarship, their tolerance, their varying viewpoints, and their guidance in the search for truth and knowledge, and

THAT we formally and vigorously protest the attempts being made to make their views conform to a doctrinal dictatorship in denial of their inalienable rights to freedom of conscience, thought, speech, and research.

The matter concerning a socialistic meeting on the college campus last August which involved one of the parties now in question was carried to him for investigation and with very unsatisfactory results."

"Matter Not Closed"

"I further want it understood that the statement quoted in the morning's paper that if the matter goes no further, good will come of it, is not to be construed that the matter is closed. It only expressed my satisfaction with the fact that some progress was being made."

"LAST MAN" GIVES VIEWS OF LINCOLN

FORT SNELLING, Minn., Feb. 12. (AP)—Memories of Abraham Lincoln paraded before the sick bed of Captain Charles Lockwood, 89-year-old "last man" of the Last Man's club today as he observed reverently the birthday of the commander-in-chief under whom he bore arms four years.

"He had a handclasp like steel," the old Chamberlain, S. D., soldier said repeatedly as he lay on a veterans' hospital bed recovering slowly from a long siege of bronchitis, the first serious illness of his life.

As he recalled impressions of the president of Civil war days, Lockwood forgot his physician's instruction to refrain from conversation. Forgotten, too, were his plans for observing next summer the anniversary of the club which for 44 years rallied around a bottle of old burgundy wine, until Lockwood, the only survivor in 1930, opened it and drank a toast to his comrades of the battlefields.

"I remember Lincoln best as he sat on a horse on Arlington Heights, just outside of Washington, back in 1862," he said.

"We troopers marched in review before him. I had finished about a year as a soldier and when a few days later I went back to fight some more I carried with me a picture of the president as he was that day, and it is still with me.

"He did not smile. He seemed very sober, a little sad, but very determined. His face was firmly set and he looked straight ahead. He sat very erect and I was certainly impressed. I was a corporal and I got a good look at him as I passed—I had learned how to look out of the corners of my eyes pretty well by that time.

"The first time I saw him was in the White House. It was soon after the first battle of Bull Run on July 21, 1861, later the anniversary of our club meetings which started back in 1885 when 33 of the fellows had a wine supper and saved a bottle for the last man who turned out to be me."

Evans To Be Feted At Lamesa Affair

LAMESA, Feb. 12 (Special)—Open house will be held here for W. W. Evans, Dawson county farm agent who has accepted a corresponding post in Hale county, and Mrs. Evans, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock tonight in the American Legion hall.

Several hundred persons are expected to meet Mr. and Mrs. Evans there to bid them good-bye and good fortune. Refreshments will be served.

The Lamesa Chamber of Commerce entertainment department is sponsor of the farewell. Evans has finished three and a half years' work in Dawson county.

Handcuff Provided Police Automobile

Suspects in police custody will have less opportunity to jump out of the night police automobile here, now that a five-foot chain with a single handcuff and a ring at the other end has been provided, Chief of Police John Lemond reflected this morning.

The police department received two pairs of nickeled handcuffs and the single cuff with a "come-along" chain. The ring at the other end of the chain will be held by an officer or can be attached to the police car. The cuff will be around a wrist of the suspect. The length of that chain will be the limit of the freedom any ordinary hoodlum can obtain.

Necessity of shooting at fast moving legs will be less probable, too, the police chief reminded.

SAVE THAT VINE!

PARIS — The historic Napoleon grapevine is to be saved for posterity. The French government has declared this vine, located on the Bastia highway in Corsica, to be a historical object and that it is not to be destroyed by man. This is the vine Napoleon said made his career possible, because it belonged to his parents and produce from it enabled them to send him to school.

(By The Associated Press)

HAMBURG — Only half of Hamburg's 4,000 cafes are selling beer. The other half has launched a "beer strike" protesting against a decree ordering a price cut.

GROCER FREED OF LIQUOR CHARGES

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 12 (AP)—Clifford S. Dailey, grocer, arrested last Nov. 9 with C. Van Ness Leavitt, brother-in-law of President Hoover, on a charge of possessing liquor, was acquitted by a municipal court jury of six men and six women last night.

Leavitt, who previously had been tried and acquitted, was a witness. He testified that when officers approaching the store the grocer thrust a sack containing 19 pints of liquor into his hands and asked that he take it away.

He did not know what the sack contained at the time, he said. He admitted having taken several drinks of liquor before the incident.

Defense witnesses sustained Dailey's claim he was not in the store at the time and knew nothing of the liquor. One, Walter Butterly, testified that when Leavitt entered the place he was "staggering drunk."

When Dailey was arraigned in the present case, it was erroneously stated he had been convicted once before of "bootlegging." He was arrested last March on charges of possession liquor, but the case was dismissed before it was brought to trial.

Theft Of Auto Is Reported To Police

Theft of a 1928 Chevrolet coupe owned by Garnet Reeves, secretary of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association and publicity director for the chamber of commerce, Thursday night from a parking on Broadway was reported to police.

Thefts of an automobile at Roswell, N. M., and another at Plainview have been reported to the sheriff's department here. A Ford roadster was taken at Roswell and a 1927 Ford at Plainview.

NONE INJURED

None was hurt when a small coupe collided with the rear end of a truck last night on state highway No. 9 near the Lubbock Country club, attendants of Bynum-Morgan ambulance reported. A young woman fainted and was revived and appeared to be uninjured. The only damage was a broken windshield, it was reported. Both machines soon afterward left the scene.

COSTIVENESS

Confining indoor work—skillful work with the hands that does not include plenty of exercise for the body, often results in the bad feeling and unpleasant signs of faulty bowel movement. W. S. Conant, a saddler and harness maker living in Somerset, Ky., says: "I had to take something for costiveness, as I would just get so tired, or have a dull feeling. After I heard of Black-Draught and began taking it I avoided this trouble. I take it in small doses and it is most satisfactory."

AGENTS' WORK TO BE TALKED HERE

County Commissioners court and Miss Myrtle Evans, district home demonstration director and Sterling C. Evans, district farm agent, today will discuss the work of Lubbock county's agents. The two district leaders are here for the South Plains Farm and Home conference at Technological college.

Some discussion regarding cutting of salaries of the county farm workers has been made. Some of the commissioners are understood to favor such a move for additional economy. At a meeting Monday afternoon a group of farmers and farm women met with the court and urged that the agents' work not be curtailed.

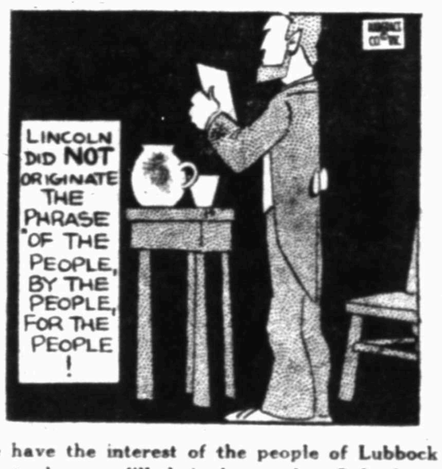

Salary paid the county home demonstration agent was cut from $1,680 to $1,200 at the time, or soon after, Miss Isla Mae Chitwood succeeded Miss Ruth Stockton here in January. Judge E. L. Pitts said last night. Remainder of Miss Chitwood's salary is paid by the state and federal governments.
