Pirates Play Refugio Friday

By Bob Crawford

On Friday night here, the Rockport Pirates will host the defending State Co-Champ, Refugio Bobcats, who were beaten by Cuero last week.

In order to insure a high rating in the state rankings, Refugio will have blood in their eyes. Rockport will be without halfback Glyn Landrum due to injuries, and linebacker Drew Carlin because of illness. Others who will be doubtful are quarterbacks Craig Thornton, Joe Dominguez and tackle Abel Salazar.

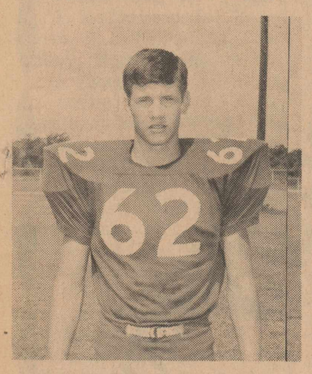

Last Friday at Poth, after battling to a 0-0 first half, the Pirates of Rockport-Fulton yielded two touchdowns to Class

JERRY PICTON

A power Poth to come out on the short end of a 13-0 score. Poth picked up the two TD's, one coming after the opening kickoff of the second half, as they marched 75 yards in only seven plays, and the Poth team scored an easy touchdown after the Pirates fumbled the ball at their own three-yard line.

Again, it was the Pirate defense that kept Rockport in the ball game. In the first half the Pirates recovered four loose footballs coughed up by Poth, but never could the offense generate enough drive to push the score across. Charles Cruser, Jerry Picton, and Clifford Mixon made needed tackles to stop Poth, as well as Mark Wright and Steve Arispe in the Pirate defensive backfield, making open field hits to stop potential scores.

Offensively quarterback Craig Thornton was on the beam with his passes as he threw for nine completions, five of those to Freeman Lamar, and was the victim of six dropped passes, one of those with touchdown written all over it.

The Pirates were meeting an annual Class A power which is not in the habit of losing; the Poth team was on the rebound after being clipped by Woodsboro.

Variety, Grocery Store Lease in Shopping Center

Leases have been signed for location of a grocery store and a variety store in Sea-Aire Shopping Center, soon to be built in the three-acre tract of land at the intersection of Highway 35 North and Fulton Beath Road, according to Ed Harper of Harper Real Estate Co., who is handling leases for the developers.

Harper said the grocery store, occupying 13,500 square feet, will be owned and operated by the Fleming Company. With home office in Topeka, Kan., and division headquarters in Houston, Fleming Company is a national wholesale grocery chain which operates more than 2,000 stores, Harper said. Construction work on the grocery store is scheduled to start within 30 days.

The variety store, Harper said, will be a Ben Franklin store, a subsidiary of Household Finance Company with headquarters in Chicago. There are 2,929 Ben Franklin stores in the nation.

The land on which the shopping center will be built is owned and leased recently by Co. and Mrs. Harry G. Kautz and Mr. and Mrs. James G. Kautz for 50 years at $10,000 a year.

The shopping center developers are a group of Dallas men, including Bob Lilly, a star lineman with the Dallas Cowboys professional football team.

Band Boosters Are Needed

It was brought to the attention of the Band Booster president, Mrs. Nancy Lang, that many parents had failed to receive the membership form sent home last week by band students.

The dues are still $1.00 and all parents and interested citizens are encouraged to join. This organization supports the band in many ways - band camp, extra meals, extra equipment, sponsors - and each member is greatly needed.

There will be a Band Booster table at each entrance to Pirate Stadium Friday night or contact Mrs. Corinne Crabb, membership chairman. If you are not already a member, please join. This is an excellent way to be a part of and make a contribution to the Fighting Pirate Band.

The annual 4-H Horse Show is one of the 140 projects of the 4-H Club. In all a total of 75,000 boys and girls are involved in the program in Texas. The competitors appearing in Fort Worth were winners from their districts.

In the local horse project activities the club members study horse science, as well as horsemanship, and are challenged to learn all they can about horse nutrition, disease, management, grooming and training.

There will be a fellowship at the First Baptist Church following the Refugio game. All young people are invited.

The background and experience of the four men on the City Police Department provide Rockport with a well qualified law enforcement agency.

Following is information about the four men who are members of the Police Department.

Everett D. Taylor, a native of Amarillo and former oil driller and nitroglycerin shooter, has been Chief of Police at Rockport for the last three years. The Chief has fifteen years experience in law enforcement, including three years as Chief of Police at West Columbia, Texas and two years as Chief at Troup, Texas.

Taylor was at Jacksonville, Texas for seven years where he served as Night Chief, Motorcycle Patrolman, Identification Officer and Criminal Investigator. He was also a Motorcycle Patrolman at Kilgore, Texas for two years.

His specialized training includes the Texas Department of Public Safety's Law Enforcement Academy, Criminal Investigation at Texas A&M University, The Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs Course under the Department of Justice, and other special law enforcement classes.

In addition to his police experience, the Chief is a very competent photographer as may be seen by the storm photographs shown in a recent issue of the Rockport Pilot. He maintains and operates his own photo lab and darkroom where he develops and prints his own pictures.

The Chief is acutely aware of the narcotics problem in this part of the country and has ordered a Field Test Kit to provide quick identification on dangerous drugs and narcotics.

He lives at Palo Alto Trailer Park with his wife, Bennie.

Police Sgt. Daniel F. Vargas has been a member of the Rockport Police Department 18 months. Vargas started here as a rookie patrolman, but had six years experience with the United States Air Force Security Police. While in the Air Force he served as Flight Commander, Desk Sgt, Security Guard, Patrolman, Sentry Dog Handler and Training Instructor. Sgt. Vargas is certified as Law Enforcement Officer by the State of Texas.

He is a native of Beeville, Texas and a graduate of A. C. Jones High School in that city. He and his wife Helga reside in Rockport at the Aransas County Airport with their four children--Ramona age 14, Thomas age 13, Miguel age 7, and Gabriela Sabina, age 2.

The newest member of the Rockport Police Department is Patrolman Daniel F. Sullivan, who started work one month ago. Sullivan came here from Ingleside, where he was a Dispatcher for the Ingleside Police Department. He is a graduate of the Coastal Bend Regional Law Enforcement Training School at Sinton, where he obtained his Texas Law Enforcement Certificate. He lives at 814 North Live Oak Street in Rockport with his wife, Shirley.

Night watchman Jack Baird has been on the Rockport Police Force for the last five years. His duties consist largerly of checking business houses in Rockport and to make certain that they are secure and to prevent possible burglaries. He also reports persons or cars of suspicious nature to the patrolman on duty.

Chief E. D. Taylor stated "Mr. Baird has done an outstanding job and had been a real asset to the Police Department". Baird and his wife Irene live at 1030 N. Church Street and have lived here for seventeen years.

New Schedule For Navy Man

Chief Sneed, Navy Recruiter from Corpus Christi, wishes to convey to the public the new times he will be in Rockport. Chief Sneed will be here every Friday at the V.F.W. hall from 9:30 to 10:30.

Chief Sneed said that he encourages high school graduates who qualify to enlist in the Navy's 180-Day Delay Plan whereas they may enlist now and not have to go on active duty up to almost six months from the date of their enlistment. The delay time counts on their remainder six-year military obligation, plus for pay purposes.

Also, highly qualified graduates are needed in the Navy's Advanced Electronics Field and the Nuclear Field. All applicants enlisting in either of these programs are automatically advanced to the pay grade of Seaman (E03) upon enlistment instead of the usual pay grade of enlisting as a seaman recruit (E-1).

See Chief Sneed at the V.F.W. on Fridays for futher information on any of the Navy's many fine educational programs.

1970 Petroleum Production Worth $12,988,263 to County

Petroleum production continues to play a significant role in the economy of Aransas county with a direct input of $12,988,263 last year.

According to the latest compilation of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., the county in 1970 produced 2,085,053 barrels of crude oil valued at $6,880,675 and 41,832,796 thousand cubic feet of natural gas valued at $6,107,588. It ranked 88th in value of petroleum produced.

In addition, the county received the stimulation of $1,623,533 in royalty payments to landowners and others with mineral interests.

"Aransas was one of 187 Texas counties that had petroleum production valued at more than $125,000," says Kenneth E. Montague, Texas Mid-Continent president, "Its ability to produce helped Texas meet a record demand with record production of both oil and gas in 1970. This demand has again diminished Texas petroleum reserves as additions failed to offset withdrawals. In Texas, we only drilled 8,114 wells -- the smallest number since 1946."

Texas state government benefited from the county's petroleum, receiving $316,511 in production taxes on crude oil and $458,069 on natural gas.

Drilling expenditures in the county totaled $1,918,688 with $818,148 being lost on dry holes. Drillers completed 1 oil well, 7 gas wells and 12 dry holes. Nine wildcats were drilled with all of them dry.

Also adding to the economy were the county's one carbon black plant and two natural-gasoline processing plants with 85 million cubic feet daily capacity.

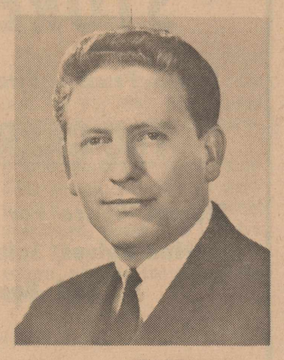

The Texas Employment Commission shows 96 persons were directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county with an annual payroll of $773,564.

Revival Set at Fulton Baptist

A revival meeting has been scheduled to be held at First Baptist Church in Fulton Oct. 3-10. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m.

The speaker will be the Rev. Young Tucker, pastor of Alamo Heights Baptist Church of Port Lavaca.

Since March, 1962 when the call to evangelism came to Tucker, 200 revivals are history. So too are nearly 5,000 additions in churches where his messages have been heard; but the call to evangelism remains fresh and urgent.

His experience as a successful pastor is qualifying testimony for his work in evangelism. Fourteen years as an evangelistic pastor, with 2,000 additions in the last six years of pastoring, and an average of 100 baptisms yearly during those years, bear this out.

In addition to the thousands of decisions made for Christ, the effectiveness of his full-time evangelism is revealed by the fact that nearly one-half of his future meetings are return engagements.

The prayer of this evangelist is that he may be used of God in this most needed field. His theme remains---"Evangelism from a Pastor's heart."

JUNIOR HIGH PLAYS REFUGIO

The Rockport-Fulton Junior High 7th and 8th Grade Football teams begin their season tonight against Refugio. This will be the first game for both the 7th Grade and the 8th Grade since two scheduled scrimmages were rained out.

Refugio was the only team to beat the Junior High last year and both Junior High teams are getting ready for a tough game. Game time Thursday is 5:30 for the 7th Grade and 6:30 for the 8th Grade. Admission is 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Tourism Official Speaks To Rotary Refuge Expects

Tourist promotion includes no secrets, just following what has worked successfully for other major vacation areas in the nation, Bob Conwell, executive vice president of the Corpus Christi Area Tourist Bureau, told members of the Rockport Rotary Club Sept. 15.

The tourist chief repeatedly emphasized that the only way to promote tourism is on an areawide basis. He said Corpus Christi is the focal point for tourism in this area, but said the actual attractions are in the cities throughout this area.

Bank Holidays Are Announced

In compliance with the Texas bank holiday law as amended at the last session of the state legislature, James H. Sorenson, Jr., First National Bank president, announced a revised schedule of holidays for the local bank. The new law becomes effective September 30.

The law requires that all Texas banks be closed for nine holidays each year. The schedule makes possible a three-day weekend in most instances. Many of the holidays will be on Monday.

"We regret the inconvenience this schedule may cause some of our customers, but we have no choice in the matter. We must comply with the law", Sorenson said.

First of the Monday bank holidays to be observed will be Columbus Day, the second Monday in October-October 11. Next will be Veterans Day, the fourth Monday in October-October 25. Other Monday bank holidays will be George Washington's birthday, the third Monday in February; Memorial Day, the last Monday in May and Labor Day, the first Monday in September. The Thanksgiving Day holiday will be the fourth Thursday in November.

A special rule applies to New Years Day, Independence Day and Christmas Day. In these three instances when the holiday falls on Saturday, banks will be closed the preceeding Friday. When it falls on Sunday, banks will be closed the following Monday.

Social Security Schedule Visits

A change in schedule was announced today by the Social Security Administration. Beginning October 5, 1971, the representative will visit Rockport on Tuesday instead of Wednesdays, according to H. M. Cleveland, District Manager.

"The representative will be in the Grand Jury Room of the Courthouse twice a month from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon. He will be able to help you in a variety of ways with almost any business you may have with social security," Cleveland said. "Social security business might range from applying for benefits to changing an address to simply asking questions about the retirement, disability, survivors, or Medicare programs."

Cranes' Arrival In Mid-October

Austwell - The annual arrival of the whooping cranes at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge should begin in mid-October, according to Robert Brown, refuge manager.

Brown said the refuge may be host to some 60 of the rare birds, four more than last year. The cranes make their annual winter migration to the refuge from Wood Buffalo National Park in Northwest Territory, Canada.

The refuge manager said the bird's total population had dropped to 15 in 1937, a year before the refuge opened. The species gradually is increasing --but slowly, due to infrequent reproduction.

They had set up a new four-point program to improve VFW organizations. He told of the project they discussed concerning the use of dangerous drugs among our youth, and, suggested setting up meetings with other civic groups and order the kits on dope prevention.

Mrs. Fred Williams has "Retarded Children" as her project for this year. She will remain in Corpus this week so she may visit their Retarded Children's home.

B&PW HOLDS MEETING

The B&PW Club met on Monday, September 27. There were thirty-seven present, including five guests. They were Rossi Clark, Irene Soria, Mary Lou Ashley, Helen Bayreaux and Jane Browning. Two new members were welcomed into the club: Gwynne Howland and Corrine Homburg.

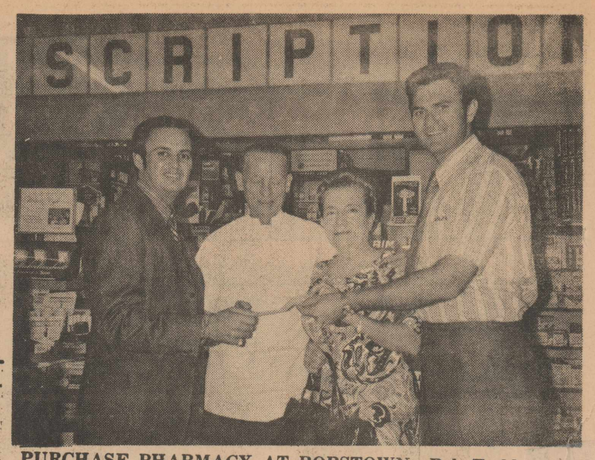

L. D. Nuckles, Regional Information and Education Director of Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept., was the speaker and showed an interesting film on "Seafood".

Following the program a business meeting was conducted by the president, Penny Baldwin. Margo Del Rocco, legislative chairman, reported that Rep. John Young had phoned in answer to the many letters he had received from the Rockport club to inform the members that bill HJR #208 had not come up for a vote on Sept. 15 as planned but would be voted on October 4. He will support the bill as first written, without the Wiggins Amendment. This is the bill for Equal Legal Rights as B&PW has advocated.

A District Conference will be held in Corpus Christi at the Master Host Inn (formerly Sandy Shores) on Saturday and Sunday Oct. 2 and 3. Fourteen members plan to attend. Members who need rides should contact Penny Baldwin. Loyce Ogle will also attend the Action Conference in San Antonio on October 29. Any member who can accompany her is urged to do so.

Flo Griffith and Louise Smith, co-chairmen of the bazaar in December, had a number of items on display and a work meeting has been called for Tuesday, November 2 at Loyce Ogle's.

On October 25th the meeting will be held at the Sea Gun for the Annual Boss's night. Virginia Shivers is in charge of arrangements.

Bob Eschberger and Jerry Evans, co-owners of Johnson's Drug in Rockport, recently completed the purchase of Central Pharmacy in Robstown, formerly owned and operated for 26 years by Howard Land of Robstown.

Central Pharmacy will be under the management of pharmacist Alan Farnell, a third stockholder. Although Bob and Jerry will be dividing their time between the two stores in Rockport and Robstown, they will both continue to make their homes in Rockport. Land, a registered pharmacist for 47 years, will also be lending a hand at Central as a part-time pharmacist.

Central Pharmacy is presently undergoing almost daily changes as Bob, Jerry, and Alan remodel and remerchandise the store in a style similar to Johnson's in Rockport. The store will offer, in addition to its regular prescription and drug services, a full line of beautiful gifts, appliances, electronic equipment, cameras, jewelry, cosmetics, and greeting cards. Just as in Johnson's, the stress will be on friendliness and comfort while shopping, so there will be soft drinks and free coffee available to customers while they shop, wait for a prescription, or just come in for a visit.

The Grand Opening of Central Pharmacy is planned for November 1, and Bob and Jerry are so proud of their new "baby", they invite all of Rockport to come to Robstown and help them celebrate!

Full-Color Fish Book Ready For Fishermen

Austin - Is the long "ear" on a long ear sunfish longer than the long ear on a yellowbelly sunfish? And is the yellow belly of the yellowbelly sunfish yellower than the yellowish belly of the longear sunfish?

The answers to these and many more fascinating questions are now available in easy-to-read language and colorful illustrations in "Freshwater Fishes of Texas," a 40-page magazine-size bulletin published by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

There are 53 full-color paintings of 35 popular freshwater species by wildlife illustrator Nancy McGowan Pruitt, all orginally published as a series in Texas Parks and Wildlife Magazine from February, 1967, through April, 1969. Descriptive text on each species is by department fisheries biologist Robert J. Kemp, Jr. and the publication was edited by Richard McCune.

"This new bulletin fills a long-awaited need for an accurate and understandable fish identification guide," said executive director James U. Cross. "It is virtually a required manual for anyone who would hope to set a new Texas freshwater game fish record." The department began keeping the official state records in December, 1970.

So will the occasional weekend angler, student or newcomer to Texas find it useful and informative. In addition to a narrative description of each species, the text also gives their life history and angling importance along with fishing tips.

The publication is singularly unique among such fish books in that illustrations show a wide assortment of variations in fish coloration -- caused by such factors as water conditions, spawning seasons, age, sex and exertion.

Included are 11 species of sunfish, three basses, four gars, five catfish, three carp, several newly-imported species and other unusual fish ranging from the American eel to the paddlefish.

A modest fee to cover costs of printing and handling has been set at 48 cents with two cents state sales tax. Copies are available at department regional and district offices or may be obtained by mailing 50 cents to: "Freshwater Fishes of Texas," Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Reagan Bldg., Austin, Texas 78701, along with name, address and zip code.

The Kinsey Report

If I were my son-in-law, this is what I would think of me:

"Can't that guy accept the fact I married his daughter and that her name is Pamela Herbort, not Pamela Kinsey?"

Twice in recent weeks I have made the mistake of using the name Kinsey instead of Herbort regarding our daughter.

The first time was when I sent a telegram to the hospital in Kerrville congratulating her on the birth of her second son. I carefully gave her name to the Western Union operator as Mrs. Pamela Kinsey. Pam later told me the nurses had some difficulty figuring out who was to receive the wire, but there was only one Pamela who had become a mother, so she got the message.

The second time was when I went to First National Bank and purchased U. S. savings bonds as presents for Michael and Jay Herbort and added: and/or Pamela Kinsey.

Mrs. Tom Shults, the cashier who was waiting on me, asked: "Isn't Pamela your daughter and the mother of Michael and Jay?"

"Certainly," I answered.

"Then her last name is Herbort," Mrs. Shults explained patiently.

This is to inform Ken Herbort, my son-in-law, that I am sorry I am so stupid. I not only approve of him, but I'm glad he married our daughter. He is a good husband and father and I like him very much.

I guess I'm like a lot of dads who love their daughters and always will think of them as "their little girls."

En Papillote or In Plastic?

Austin - Traditionally one of the most elegant dishes on a menu is "Baked Fish En Papillote." It is usually red snapper, pompano or flounder baked with an elegant sauce and served with a few vegetables.

The original French version was baked in oiled parchment paper, but modern American recipes use aluminum foil, which doesn't have the same elegant atmosphere of parchment. Now there is a new product which more nearly gives the results of the old way -- heat-proof plastic bags used for baking in the oven.

The following recipe can be used with any of the fresh Gulf coast products, namely, trout, redfish, snapper, flounder and drum. The secret to the success of this and all fish cookery is to use fresh products and not over-cook them.

The test of freshness is to sniff -- there should be no strong, objectionable ordor. Test to see if the fish is done by probing the flesh gently with a fork, and if it flakes easily, it is done. Using the plastic brown-in-bags you can put the fork right through the bag to accomplish this. Just follow these steps and you'll have a meal fit for a gourmet.

BAKED FISH EN PAPILLOTE

2 pounds fish fillets
1 green pepper, sliced
1 onion, sliced
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
dash pepper

Rinse fresh fish and pat dry. Brush with half of the butter and sprinkle with the seasonings. Place bag in a baking pay. Add remaining butter, lemon juice, green pepper and onion to the bag. Use a broad spatula and slip fish into bag on vegetables. Close bag and puncture a few holes according to instructions with bag. Bake in a preheated oven, 375 deg. for 20-25 minutes. Test for doneness by inserting fork through bag. Fish flakes easily when done. Split bag and serve fish directly to plates or arrange on serving dish and garnish with lemon. Spoon juices in bag over each serving.

THE WAGE-PRICE FREEZE — Questions and Answers — Internal Revenue Service

This column of questions and answers on the Wage and Price Freeze is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about the Wage and Price Freeze announced August 15 by President Nixon.

Q: Can travel agencies raise their prices on tours in foreign countries?

A: Yes. Travel agents can raise prices on tours to the extent that the costs of foreign services offered in the tour package, such as foreign hotel rates, restaurant meals, transportation costs, etc., are increased. However, prices cannot be raised on that part of the tour package relating to services in the United States. In addition, markup for overhead and profit cannot be raised.

The records of the travel agency must clearly establish that each increase meets this test. If it cannot be so demonstrated, this exemption will not apply to the increase.

Q: I'm a Federal employee and I'm supposed to get a within-grade increase next month. Can I still get this raise?

A: No. Merit and longevity increases, such as Federal Government within-grade raises, are not permitted during the freeze.

Q: My landlord is installing dishwashers in each apartment in my development. Can he use this as a reason to raise rent during the freeze?

A: An increase in rent can be charged for property which undergoes a substantial capital improvement, if this improvement equals at least three months rent (with a minimum of $250) and would be classified as a capital improvement by the Internal Revenue Service.

The monthly rent must not increase by more than 1 - 1/2 per cent of the amount spent for capital improvement.

Q: Who is running the wage-price freeze program?

A: The new Cost of Living Council determines the policies of the freeze and the Office of Emergency Preparedness answers questions and investigates complaints. Assistance with information and complaints is provided by 360 Internal Revenue Service offices throughout the country and 2,800 offices of the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Q: Can my union raise dues during the freeze?

A: No. Dues for professional associations, trade associations, unions, country clubs, etc., are a fee for service, and, as such, are frozen.

Q: My employer wants to give me a cash award for a suggestion I made. Can I still get the award?

A: Yes. Businesses and government can continue to make cash awards during the freeze to employees for outstanding performance, provided that such awards continue to be given under the same formula and controls that existed in the month prior to the freeze.

Employers will have to maintain records on the incidence and amount of these awards which demonstrate that these programs are not used to give employees wage increases in violation of the freeze.

Katie Lee Clarke Taught Hundreds

"Memories of the hundreds of children I taught are my most precious possessions."

Miss Katie Lee Clarke, 77, retired school teacher, made this remark recently while visiting in her home at the northeast corner of Magnolia and Liberty Streets.

And indeed she has memories, for she taught school here for 50 years, retiring only eight years ago. She did most of her teaching at Rockport Elementary School but also spent some time teaching English in the Junior High School.

Asked if she had any particular philosophy of teaching, any particular technique she concentrated on, she replied:

"Well, about the only thing I can say is that I thoroughly enjoyed teaching, I was happy, and I like to think that I helped bring happiness to the children along with learning."

She must have been successful because one former student recently told her, "You know, Miss Clarke, when you were my teacher I always thought of the song, 'You Are My Sunshine' every time I saw you." Pretty fine compliment.

Katie Lee has no idea how many hundred boys and girls she taught, but she does recall that she taught six children of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Armstrong while she was teaching fifth grade.

The first of the Armstrongs to enter her classroom was Clydene, now Mrs. T. L. Heffernan, in 1949. Two years later Miss Clarke taught Betty Mae, now Mrs. Danny Adams. Geraldine, now Mrs. Van Forshee, was the next. Then came Linda Sue, now Mrs. Derace Ayers, then Edmund (Bubba), and the last was T. W. Armstrong.

Former students often write or stop in to visit with Miss Clarke. Just recently Mrs. Audrey Fern Haynes of San Antonio stopped in and said, "I'm sure you won't remember it, but you were my first teacher when I started to school and I still remember what you might call memory glimpses of being in the first grade with you making me feel at home."

Katie Lee was born and raised in Rockport. In fact, she was born in a home that formerly occupied the location directly across the street, to the west, of her present home. She attended local schools and then completed her education at Texas A&I and the University of Texas.

Many honors have come her way. In 1945, The Pirate, the high school annual, was dedicated to Miss Clarke and Mrs. Bertha Harper, another outstanding retired teacher.

The dedication stated: "To these two teachers, we proudly dedicate the 1945 edition of The Pirate. These two teachers have seen the Rockport schools progress and develop into their present status, and have been a part of that development.

"They are as much a part of the public schools as the name of the schools indicate. They have counseled with many boys and girls who are now grown and have families with children in school.

"Truly they have done great service in this community, and to them we take this opportunity of expressing our gratitude for that service. To them we still go for guidance and wise counsel, and will continue to do so as long as they are with us."

Another honor bestowed on both Miss Clarke and Mrs. Harper came in 1967 when the Chamber of Commerce named them the "Outstanding Citizens of the Year."

Filing for GI Training Benefits Explained

Veterans who plan to enter colleges or universities for their first time under the GI Bill should contact the Veterans Administration immediately, P. J. Mims, VA Regional Director, said today.

"The veteran should first choose a school and an educational objective," P. J. Mims explained.

"He should then request a certificate of eligibility from the nearest VA Office. VA will send two copies of the certificate which should be submitted to the school. The school will endorse one copy and forward it to the Regional Office," P. J. Mims said.

He also suggested the veteran follow through to insure the school forwards the certificate so that he can start receiving his monthly checks promptly.

If the veteran is returning to the same school, it is not necessary to get another certificate. If he plans to change schools or his educational objective within the same school, however, he must get VA approval.

P. J. Mims underlined the importance of acting promptly because many colleges and universities have already been filled. But he noted that many schools give special consideration to veterans.

To be eligible for educational benefits, a veteran or serviceman must have served at least 181 days of continuous active duty, any part of it after January 31, 1955. Or, he must have been separated for a service-connected disability without regard to length of service.

Veterans desiring further information on educational benefits were urged to contact their nearest VA office or their local veterans service organization representative.

Ignocis Espinoza, spokesman for the local congregation of Spanish speaking Jehovahs Witnesses, announced today that Kingsville had been chosen for a convention to be held Oct. 1-3. Some 1,000 delegates will meet at Kleberg park for the three-day meet.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

ATTACK ON ALCOHOLISM

"Alcoholism is one of the most tragic, destructive, and costly illnesses in the Nation today," Secretary Elliot L. Richardson of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, said recently. "Alcohol or alcohol-related problems directly or indirectly affect the lives of an estimated 36 million persons, or one of every six of our men, women, and children."

The Secretary said this in announcing the establishment of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism within the National Institute of Mental Health, marking the launching of a major national effort to combat this serious and widespread health problem

The new Institute was authorized by Federal legislation passed unanimously by both houses of the 91st Congress and signed into law by President Nixon December 31, 1970. Principal sponsor of the law was Iowa Senator Harold E. Hughes.

There are an estimated 9,000,000 alcoholics and problem drinkers in the United States today, and about 100,000 new cases of alcoholism develop each year.

More than 25,000 Americans are killed annually in alcohol-related traffic accidents alone.

There are also thousands of additional deaths in accidents involving alcohol on the job, in the home, or on recreation. Alcoholism is listed as the cause of death annually on 11,000 death certificates, and approximately one-half of all homicides and one-third of all deaths reported as suicides are known to be related to alcohol.

These figures reflect only partially the needs the New Institute will serve to meet through developing and conducting comprehensive programs of research, training, community activities, and public education in prevention and treatment.

For the first time, programs and resources have been authorized for a concerted effort of the kind that is critically needed. The new Institute thus represents the beginning of a major expansion in the field of alcohol abuse and alcoholism.

Seattle's Francis X. Cabrini Hospital, in the interest of contributing to deflation, reduced room rates by $2 a day.

Fix-It Tip

If mildewed wood is a problem, you might consider applying mildew-resistant paints. Special chemicals in these points help retard the growth of mildew. Be sure to prepare the surface properly before you begin to paint. It is important to remove all mildew spores before painting, since the growth will continue through the new paint. There are many prewash chemicals sold at paint and hardware stores.

Life With the Rimples

History of 1893 Brought to Light

When Dr. A. Ray Stephens was here this summer digging up information for a History of Aransas County, 1871-1971, he and Emory M. Spencer contacted many pioneer families and asked for assistance. The Rockport Pilot also urged local people to search for old copies of newspapers, family scrapbooks and other material which could be reproduced by copying machines to supply Stephens with a vast amount of data.

Dr. Stephens has returned to North Texas State University at Denton to resume his duties as professor of history. Local people continue to offer old documents which will add to the thoroughness of the written history. Such material can be given to Mrs. Thelma Barber in County Judge John D. Wendell's office and it will be returned after being copied.

Just last week, Spencer gave the Pilot a sample of this type of interesting information. This was a copy of a scrapbook compiled by the late Mrs. Lucy Janie Bell in the 1890s. Mrs. Bell was the mother of Mrs. Dick Johnson of Fulton and Mrs. Janie Gray of Floresville and Fulton Beach Road.

The first page of the scrapbook featured a program which read as follows:

Rebecca's Triumph! A Drama. At Bailey's Pavilion, Dec. 22, 1893. Under the aupices of The King's Daughters, for the benefit of the Cemetery.

Listed as members of the cast were the following persons whose names will be familiar to many oldtimers: Miss Janie Kennedy, Mrs. Crowe, Miss Maud Seymour, Miss Sadie McClung, Mrs. L. F. Bailey, Miss Josephine Strauss, Miss Julia Waterwall, Miss Lula Weir, Miss May Mathis, Miss Dora Butler, Miss Blanche Westbrook, Miss Georgie Sheldon, Miss Emma Waterwall and Mrs. W. W. Wood.

The description of the three acts of the drama was as follows:

Act I: "Out of the shadows points a skeleton finger, and in your blasted heart is imprinted in letters of fire, one word: Remember!"

Act II: "A sphook! Och, murther! I'd not walk here in the night if it was broad noonday."

Act III: "There's no love like mother love, no tie so sacred as that of kindred. These are mine, and over doubts and fears I triumph at last."

Regarding another activity sponsored by the King's Daughters, here's what the local newspaper stated:

KING'S DAUGHTERS ENTERTAINMENT

"A man's work is from sun to sun, A woman's work is never done."

Meaning that it is perpetual, not incomplete. Last Friday night the King's Daughters, of Rockport, continued their self-assumed task of feeding the hungry and clothing the ragged of Rockport, by giving one of their inimitable concerts at Herzfeld's Pavilion. A goodly number of people assembled and were thoroughly well entertained by the program (we used to spell it programme) arranged by Mrs. Mathis and Miss Kenedy and others of the bann, artistically carried out by those thereto assigned.

It was all good, particularly the music -- instrumental and vocal. The cakewalk by very little Miss Booth, was one of the first events of the evening, and was a success from the start. Without disparaging any part or performance of the evening's entertainment, we must also call special attention to the "cup drill" of the 24 little misses who went through such motions, evolutions and postures, and makebelieve with their little china cups and saucers.

Variety seemed to be the way of life for the King's Daughters. Here is a newspaper account of an old fashioned cornhusking and cakewalk:

THE CORN-HUSKING

At an early hour last Saturday evening the City Hall was bright with many lights and happy faces.

The King's Daughters had prepared for an old-fashioned cornhusking and cakewalk, and as that good order never fails to provide more than is advertised, all came prepared for a real jolly time.

About 8:30 the music began filling the hall preparatory to the cakewalk. This was led by Mrs. T. H. Mathis, who is president of the King's Daughters, and Mr. Zac Farmer. Soon all space available was filled by those in the walk. The most graceful couple was to receive a large horseshoe cake, and the most clumsy and awkward one was to be remembered with corncake. Mr. Isbell won the booby prize--"with much ease"--so it is said. Not so though with the other. For after the time was up and all those who participated had taken their seats, it was announced that the judges could not decide which of the three following couples had won, viz: Mr. W. P. Terry and Miss Janie Kennedy, Mr. Will Smith and Miss Ora Terry, Mr. Jno. Smith and Miss Hallie Holden. Therefore, it was necessary for those three to walk again. It was then decided that Mr. W. P. Terry and Miss Janie Kennedy were the rightful winners. Coffee, chocolate and gingerbread was then served.

Later followed the cornhusking. In one corner was piled the corn and all were privileged to husk, the young man who husked a red ear had the privilege of kissing any girl in the house. And though there were but very few red ears, the interest did not flag, for there are in the neighborhood of a half dozen young ladies who can justify that fact that one red ear did duty on more than one occasion. There was a lively scramble in each instance and a cry for help, which did not always arrive. And there certainly is one young lady who will never help another out of such a place at her own risk.

Every one was pleased with the affair, and after an hour more enjoyed by pinning on the donkey's tail, blind-man's-bluff, etc., the stream of pleasure-seekers turned their footsteps homeward.

Many thanks are due Mayor B. M. Sheldon, who so kindly tendered the use of the City Hall, and arranged everything so well, that the King's Daughters were left without the necessity to attend to the hundred and one things that usually rise to be arranged.

The net proceeds were about $18. This will be added to the charity fund of the order.

Mrs. Bell's scrapbook also contains the following account of a social event given by Mrs. B. M. Sheldon:

MRS. SHELDON ENTERTAINS

The most enjoyable event for some time in Rockport's social circle occured on last Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. B. M. Sheldon entertained from 4 to 6 in honor of his sister, Mrs. C. R. Bell, of San Antonio.

The house party was composed of the ladies of the Sans Souci Club, with several visiting guests, and the two hours were spent in playing progressive forty two. Miss Bessie Bell, daughter of the honoree, kept score and at the close of ten enjoyable games, it was found that Miss Kathleen McMullen had scored the highest. The hostess served delicious refreshments. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. J. M. Hoopes.

Sadness also entered Mrs. Bell's scrapbook with the following reports of deaths:

DEATH OF CLAUDE BELL

Mr. Claude R. Bell, formerly of Neches, died in San Antonio on the 11th of November, 1909, and the remains were brought back to his old home, where the funeral took place on the 13th in the Baptist church.

Rev. Ramsour conducted the religious services, the choir led by Mrs. Robert Hooper and Miss Mattie Williams, Mrs. Kiltie at the organ rendered some beautiful hymns, and then the Masons took charge and the remains were placed in mother earth according to the grand old liturgy of that order.

His brother, Mr. N. P. Bell and wife went out to his bedside and were with him eighteen days before the coming of the end.

When all was over, accompanied by the wife and children they all came back to Neches, and Mrs. Bell is still visiting relatives at that place.

All that loving sympathy can do is hers, but who can take the place of the loved one gone or what can console for such a loss?

May the memory of this noble character and life and the hope of a happy reunion beyond the gates of death bring her some sustaining comfort, and in the love and care of her little children may she find peace for her sorrowing heart.

C. R. Bell, brother-in-law of Mrs. B. M. Sheldon of this city died in San Antonio yesterday and the remains were taken to his old home at Neches for burial. Mr. Bell, who frequently visited this city, was a prominent merchant of Neches and was a close friend to Governer Campbell, who visited his bedside while in San Antonio.

Postmaster Sheldon received the sad intelligence by wire this (Friday) morning that his brother-in-law, Mr. C. R. Bell of San Antonio, died Thursday night. The body was shipped to Palestine for burial. The many friends of the family here sincerely sympathize with them in this sad bereavement.

Turning to a happier note, the scrapbook offers the following account of a birthday party:

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday afternoon the handsome home of Judge and Mrs. B. M. Sheldon was the scene of much gaiety when Mrs. Sheldon entertained a large number of children in honor of her nieces, Misses Bessie and Janie Bell of San Antonio, the occasion being Janie's ninth birthday. At four o'clock the guests had arrived and began at once, on the spacious lawn, to enjoy the many games so dear to children's hearts. After some two hours spent in merry making, delicious refreshments of punch, cake and fudge were served. Many pretty little presents were received by the popular little honoree, Janie. Those honored were: Misses Lola, Emma, Katie Lee, Ruth and Alice Bracht, Lucile Bardwell, Pattie Bailey, Helen Brittian, Thelma Brundrett, Ethel, Harriet and Clara Barnard, Elizabeth Dietrich, Mattie Gray, Mary Pearl Herring, Carroll and Rosalee Hoff, Ethel and Marie Johnson, Alma Jacobs, Charline Lowery, Theo. McMullen, Josephine Moore, Hallie Morrell, Wanda O'Neil of Port Lavaca, Velma Picton, Lillie Roberts of Port Aransas, Leslie Perrin, Iris Sorenson, Alma Sparks, Lois Sparkman, Dorothy Travers, Opal and Alma Desmond; Masters Harold Buckley, Herbert and Dudley Bracht, Arthur Bardwell, Ben and Joe Dorothy, Jeff Davis, Wallace Cunningham, Ira Hahn, Jr., Charley Hoff, Roy and Stephen Jackson, Noble O'Neil of Port Lavaca. Stanley Jacobs, John Lee Herring, Lawrence Sorenson, Douglas Travers, Vernon and Harold Ponnish.

Remarried Widows VA Benefits Explained

Many widows of Texas veterans may not know they can receive Veterans Administration benefits even after their remarriage if the remarriage has been terminated by death or divorce.

P. J. Mims, Director of the Houston VA Regional Office, said qualified widows are eligible for VA guaranteed home loans, educational benefits, death pension, and dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC).

Previously, the widow of a veteran was declared permanently ineligible for these benefits if she remarried, but a recently passed law has amended that provision to again make the widow eligible if her remarriage is terminated.

P. J. Mims urged widows of veterans with questions about their eligibility status to contact the VA Office at 515 Rusk Avenue, Houston, Texas or their local service organization representative.

Tourists are friends with millions to spend!
(over $137,000,000 here last year.)

That's a return of $118 for every $1 we spend luring them. Good investment? You bet.

Tourists are just people who may save 50 weeks a year, to enjoy for a few days the life we live year around. But when they come in the thousands, they spend in the millions.

Who profits? YOU!

Tourists bring FRESH-MINTED DOLLARS earned somewhere else and spent here on food, hotels and motels, gasoline and oil, gifts, clothing, cosmetics. Some spend money on doctor bills and legal fees. So the millions quickly spread throughout the area-wide community.

Here is how our tourists spend their money:

26% for food
24% for hotels and motels
21% for gasoline, oil and automotive services
15% in retail stores
14% for entertainment and other things

The second time around, these dollars went for:

35% salaries to local people
32% purchases from suppliers and personal industries
16% business services (insurance, utilities, laundry etc.)
12% taxes
5% miscellaneous goods and services.

And don't forget, each dollar "turns over" 6½ times.

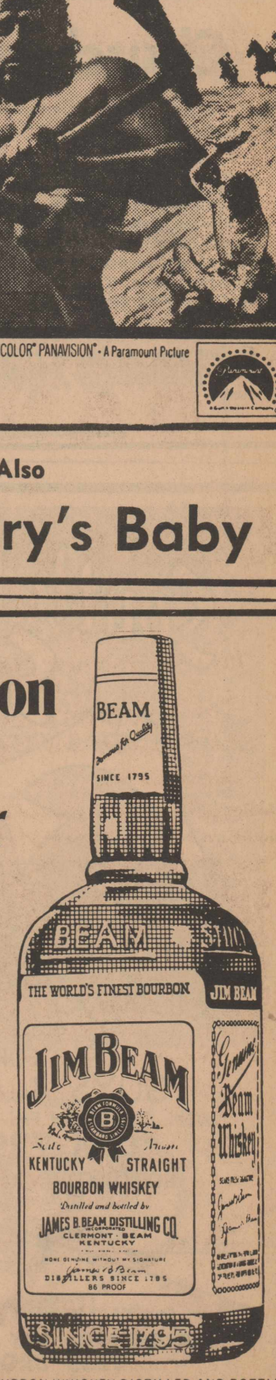

So it's a fact. Tourists are BIG BUSINESS. Now about our second largest industry. They provide many people with good jobs, add greatly to our economy and pay quite substantial taxes. They represent a welcome industry without smokestacks.

Tourists are Everybody's Business

Age Proof Makes Social Security Claims Easier

People who will soon be eligible for social security benefits can make the claims process easier by getting birth or baptismal certificates in advance, according to H. M. Cleveland, District Manager of the social security office in Corpus Christi.

A birth or baptismal certificate recorded before age five is usually sufficient proof of age. Persons born in Texas may request a birth certificate by writing to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, 410 East Fifth Street, Austin, Texas 78701. The charge is $1.50. They may also write to the county clerk of the county where they were born; however, in some of the larger towns, separate records are kept by the city, Cleveland said.

Claimants born in Mexico may request a birth certificate by writing to the Archivo General de Gobierno, Palacio de Gobierno, located in the city that is the capital of the state where they were born. The charge is usually $2, according to Cleveland.

If a birth or baptismal record established before age five is not available, other records may be used. These may include an old insurance policy, a school record, the birth certificate of a child that shows the parent's age, or a Federal census record.

Persons who apply for social security monthly benefits or Medicare, need some proof of their age. The folks at the social security office will help, Cleveland said, but if you have these records on hand when you apply, the claims process is easier.

Question And Answers to Veterans Benefits

Q: Is the Veterans Administration deeply involved in medical research?

A: Yes...nearly 6,000 research projects are underway at VA hospitals and private clinics. It has paved the way for the successful treatment of tuberculosis, developed use of the Pacemaker for heart vicitims, and played a key role in medical breakthroughs such as the first successful kidney transplants, the laser cane for the blind, cobalt treatment of cancer, and use of psychotropic drugs that have revolutionized mental health care.

Q: I receive 30 per cent disability from the Veterans Administration. I will soon be 65 and retired. Can I waive my disability compensation and come under the VA pension program?

A: Yes. Suggest you make application for pension. VA will pay you the higher amount if you are eligible for two benefits.

Q: I have a large dividend accumulation on deposit with VA on my insurance. May I withdraw a part of it?

A: You may withdraw all or any part of accumulated dividends.

A: Can a veteran pursue any educational program he desires?

A: Yes, if the course or program given leads to a recognized educational, vocational, or professional objective, and if the school and course are approved by the state-approving agency.

Q: After World War II, I converted my G.I. insurance to a 20-year endowment plan that matures next year. Will I have to take face value, or can I convert it to another type of insurance.

A: You may exchange it for a policy of lesser cash value if you prove to be in good health. This must be done before the policy matures.

Q: My son died in serving during the Korean Conflict. Am I eligible for educational benefits from the Veterals Administration?

A: No. Educational benefits are not available to parents.

Q: I am interested in purchasing a VA repossessed home. Where may I obtain a list of brokers?

A: A list of offerings in a particular area may be obtained from the loan guaranty officer in the VA regional office serving the area in which the buyer is interested.

Q: Must a selection or change of a G. I. insurance beneficiary be on a specific form?

A: No. Any clear statement signed by the policyholder is sufficient. However, it is preferred that VA Form 29-336 be used.

Q: Do I have to report as income the interest earned on my Series E Bonds when I complete the annual income questionnaire?

A: Not if you don't cash the bonds. Interest earned should be reported only for the calendar year in which the bonds are cashed.

Q: My VA pension was discontinued when I received an extra large dividend which put me over the ceiling. Does this mean that I will no longer receive a pension?

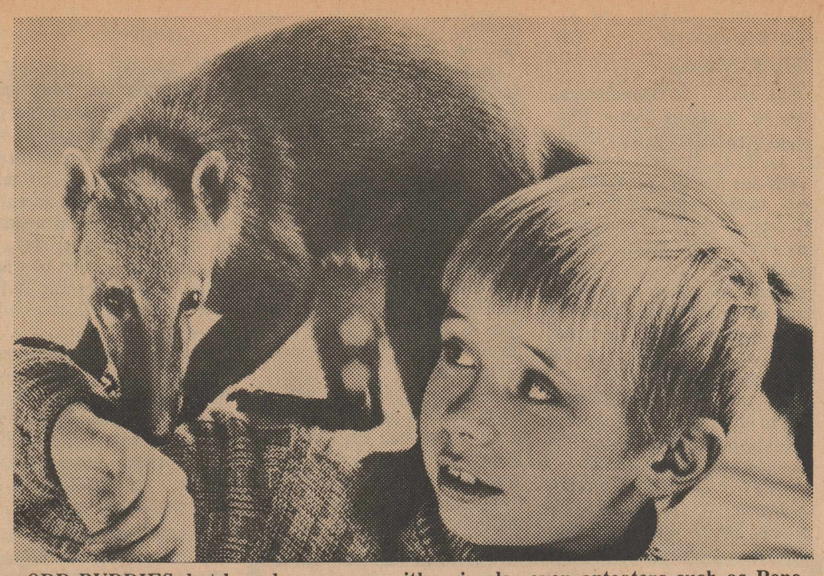

A: If the dividend was a one-time payment, your pension will be discontinued only for the current year. Next year, you will again be eligible if your income reverts to the status it was prior to the time your pension was discontinued.

Q: Is a woman who draws VA benefits as a widow of a veteran entitled to an extra $50 allowance if she becomes a patient in a nursing home?

A: Yes.

Q: I understand that option one is a lump sum payment of a government life insurance policy. Does this mean that the beneficiary must take the proceeds in a lump sum?

A: No. The lump sum payment is available if desired, but the beneficiary, for example, may take part of the proceeds in cash, and the balance in monthly installments if desired. Or, he may take all payments on a monthly basis.

Question: Does Deuteronomy 22:5 forbid a girl to wear slacks or trousers?

A: Not necessarily. As I see it God is laying down the principle of distinction between man and woman, and we are to preserve this distinction. The distinction is a safe guard against a careless association of the sexes, or a familiarity which breaks down respect as well as self-respect. Some women want to prove equality by aping men. They ought to know that no ape ever achieved greatness.

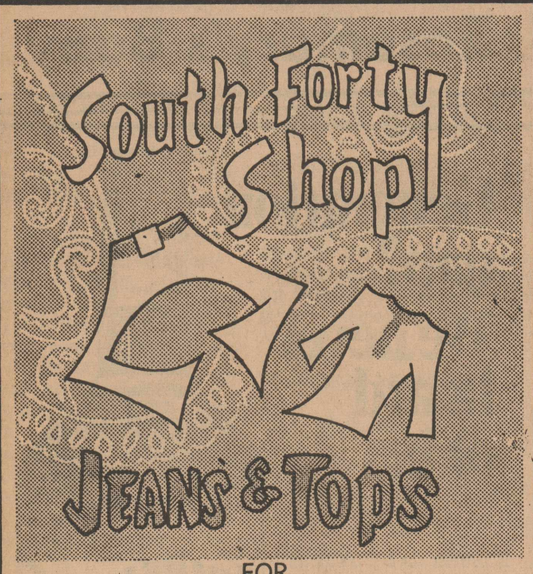

Remember that men in the times of Deuteronomy did not wear slacks nor even trousers; they wore robes. But who cares to see a mannish woman or a womanish man?

HOW ABOUT A CITY POLICEMAN?

An editorial on this subject appeared on page one of the Pilot. It stated, in part:

"There is one thing lacking in Rockport. What about city police protection for the citizens and taxpayers? In recent weeks there have been quite a few crimes attempted and committed that might have been prevented had Rockport had city police protection.

"Just this week two robberies were reported. The sheriff's department has been on the job and have recovered a safe that was stolen and they are working on leads that will probably lead to the arrest of the guilty ones.

"But the need is apparent for a city policeman, one that will devote his entire time to police duties. This man, or men, should be paid out of city funds, out of city taxes. We cannot expect the county to provide adequate city police protection for a city the size of Rockport. That responsibility rests with the city."
