Communists Smash Viet Nam Troops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas smashed a crack South Vietnamese task force Tuesday and probably captured the three U.S. Army advisers with the 120-man task force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

A second government force of about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, learned of the battle too late to help. U.S. authorities said Communist radio jammers knocked out the channels on all local military radios.

20 KILLED

The operation cost the Vietnamese special forces an estimated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown.

"The day ended with the enemy in command of the field," a high-ranking American officer said.

Names of the missing Americans were not announced.

The U.S. casualty list rose to four late Tuesday when the Air Force pilot of a light spotting plane was hit by machine gun fire. The pilot flew back to his base, however.

Tuesday's fight was in the same area 140 miles southwest of Saigon where another government unit took a beating Oct. 19.

All day today, patrols and spotting planes combed the area where the fight took place but made no contact with the guerrillas. Presumably they slipped away in small groups on sampans.

According to an intelligence estimate, the Viet Cong probably had about 500 troops in the area at one time.

The Viet Cong had been advertising for several weeks that it planned a major attack against Tan Phu, the base of the Vietnamese special forces that took part in the fight.

Military officials said about 300 Vietnamese began moving north against a reported Viet Cong concentration Monday night.

Goldwater May Announce Sooner

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says he may announce whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination sooner than he had planned.

A leading contender for the nomination, Goldwater told a news conference Tuesday night that if he seeks the nomination he will campaign vigorously in New Hampshire's first-in-the nation primary next March 10.

No Vacation Seen For Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tuesday of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. And House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of Jan. 3. The first session of the 88th Congress must—by law—end at noon that day.

If the Senate convenes in the morning of Jan. 3, it will stop at noon and reconvene one minute later to start the second session, Mansfield said.

The Senate will be faced with a bigger load in November and December than the House.

The House has passed one of President Kennedy's two top priority bills, the $11-billion tax cut. The other, a civil rights bill, was approved in committee Tuesday. Both are in the hearing stage in the Senate.

The limitations of the calendar appeared to make it almost certain that Congress cannot pass the bills this year.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told newsmen it was his best guess that the civil rights bill would reach the Senate about Dec. 1.

A Southern filibuster is expected against the measure and that will probably use up December.

UF Regroups For Big Push In Big Spring

Regrouping was underway in some phases of the United Fund today as reports trickled in at the rate of one half of one per cent of the quota per day.

The new total was $83,504, the UF headquarters reported.

Jack Y. Smith, general chairman, was checking with Dr. J. E. Hogan, big gifts chairman. This division still has about one-fourth of its quota to go, and several workers have not reported on contacts. A good healthy surge in this division could help get the lagging campaign back in stride, said Smith.

Some three score firms have reported on employe contributions, but there are many yet unreported.

The public employe group, said Smith, is in relatively good condition although it also lacks fully a fourth of its quota. The teacher division, however, is just now getting underway and should go a long way toward pushing this section to its goal.

The area division has made some contacts but so far no reports have been received at headquarters.

With the exception of some workers turning back blocks of cards, the metropolitan division is making good progress. Leaders are seeking to get a redistribution of these cards and to get them worked in order to attain its quota.

The special gifts division continues to set the pace in percentage of quota. Smith appealed to all leaders and workers to redouble efforts to work outstanding cards — and work them now.

Rescuers Near

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) —Rescuers drilled to within 62 feet of three miners trapped in an underwater air bubble before halting operations early today to prepare for the most critical phase of the rescue.

If all goes well, the three are expected to be freed by late Thursday — ending a weeklong entombment 259 feet below ground in an iron mine that was flooded when a nearby dam broke.

Engineer, Russ Nabbed As Spies

Studies Spy Charge

U.S. Commissioner Theodore Kiscaras studies FBI espionage charge against John William Butenko, 38, left background, who confers with his lawyer, Alfred Arky, in Rutherford, N.J., early today. Butenko, an American electronics engineer with access to top secret material, was picked up last night in Englewood, N.J., with an employe of a Soviet sponsored trading agency and two Soviet diplomats. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Diplomats Released By FBI Agents

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — FBI agents have capped seven months of around-the-clock work with the arrests of an American electronics engineer, cleared to handle top secret material, and a Russian chauffeur on espionage charges.

They were arrested Tuesday night after a rendezvous near an old stone railroad station in Englewood.

Two Russian diplomats serving with the Soviet mission to the United Nations in New York City also were apprehended by the FBI but they were released because of their diplomatic immunity.

TINY CAMERA

Seized in the Russians' car were a brief case that contained information about a secret Air Force contract and a tiny document camera designed to operate from the car's cigarette lighter.

The accused spies, charged early today with "delivering to a foreign government information relating to the national defense of the United States," are John William Butenki, 38, of Orange, and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City.

Butenko, a bachelor of Russian parentage, is a $14,700-a-year control administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus.

TRADE AGENCY

Ivanov, married and father of a 6-year-old daughter, was a chauffeur for AMTORG, A Soviet government-sponsored agency that handles U.S.-Russian trade relations. He came to this country in March 1962.

The two Russian diplomats were Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary of the Soviet U.N. mission and Gleb A. Pavlov, 39, an attache of the mission.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover gave this account of Tuesday night's cat-and-mouse activity:

AS LOOKOUT

FBI agents watched from the shadows as Butenko and the Russians met in the station parking lot and then strode away. The agents moved in, collaring Butenko in his car and Pavlov and Ivanov in their automobile. Romashin was seized nearby, where he was posted as a lookout.

In the rear seat of the Russians' car was a briefcase that Butenko brought to the meeting, containing data relating to a "highly sensitive Air Force contract being handled by the International Electric Corporation." The document camera also was in the Russian car.

RESTAURANT

The first meeting of the accused conspiritors occurred on April 1 according to the FBI complaint, at a restaurant in Norwood, N.J. The first briefcase switch occurred shortly afterward on the side of a road in Closter.

Similar meetings, involving an attache case and brown leather briefcase, occurred on May 26 in the vicinity of Closter, on the following day at a parking lot in Fort Lee; and on Sept. 24 between Paramus and Teaneck, the FBI said.

The bespectacled Butenko has worked for International Electric since March 1960.

Cautious Republicans Take Praise In Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans kept their fingers crossed today as they received administration praise for helping to launch a strong civil rights bill in Congress.

The Republicans have warned the administration all pledges of support for the compromise measure are off if the Democrats seek to make any political gain out of civil rights at their expense.

At the moment, though, bipartisanship was holding firm and the long bottled-up legislation finally began to move through the House.

Even with President Kennedy, Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck behind it, however, the far-reaching compromise bill faces delays and obstacles.

The most optimistic estimate heard Tuesday after the House Judiciary Committee approved the bill by a 23-11 vote was that it would be mid-November before it gets to the House floor. The time will be needed to write a report on the measure and hold hearings in the Southern-dominated Rules Committee.

The biggest obstacle remains the Senate, however, where it is accepted as fact that a Southern filibuster will have to be broken by a two-thirds majority vote if any bill is to be passed.

Tabbed a compromise between a tough subcommittee bill and more moderate measures introduced by Republicans, the bill that emerged from the Judiciary Committee proved stronger than the original administration bill.

It retained several provisions from the subcommittee bill, including one that would create a federal commission empowered to ban racial discrimination in employment in private industry. The commission would have to go into court to get an injunction carrying out its findings, however, instead of having its own enforcement powers, as in the subcommittee bill.

Two other provisions would ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants, theaters and other places serving the public, and empower the President to cut off funds for federal programs where discrimination is practiced.

MRS. TURNER

Ex-Convict Confesses Killing Midland Woman

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A youthful ex-convict has admitted killing Mrs. Fred Turner, wife of a wealthy oilman and racehorse owner. She was bludgeoned Tuesday during a burglary attempt in the family's palatial home.

Police said James L. Marion, 22, a Midland Negro, was charged with murder and jailed. He told newsmen Tuesday night: "I don't want to talk."

Mrs. Turner, 66, was so badly beaten about the face that it was first thought she had been shot.

DAUGHTER

Marion fled after slugging a daughter of the slain woman. Officers pulled him from an attic hiding place in a house two blocks distant a bit later and he admitted the killing.

Marion finished serving a state prison sentence for burglary last June.

Relatives discovered Mrs. Turner's body shortly after 7:30 a.m. Although a wall safe in a closet was open and empty, topsyturvy drawers in her dressing room still contained a fortune in diamonds she had battled to save.

A brother-in-law, Uel Stephens of Fort Worth, estimated the assorted diamond brooches, pins, rings, necklaces and watches were worth $500,000.

WAS ALONE

Mrs. Turner was alone in the house. Her husband was at Las Vegas, N.M., where he has extensive ranching interests. He quickly flew home.

Marion told questioners he gathered loot for several hours before discovering there was anyone in the darkened house.

He said that after knocking a hole in Mrs. Turner's bedroom door "I heard somebody say 'I'm going to shoot you.'"

"A shot was fired," he said, "and I saw her standing on the balcony."

Marion seized the gun and Mrs. Turner sat in the room, he continued, while he searched various drawers.

He laid down the pistol, Mrs. Turner grabbed it and again he wrested it from her, the prisoner related, adding:

FIRST TIME

"That was when I hit her the first time . . . she got up again and got something in her hand. It was a cane or something. I took it away from her and hit her two more times with her gun."

She crumpled to the floor.

Dist. Atty. Joe Mims said he would seek an early trial of Marion on the murder charge.

"The evidence in the case has not been fully correlated," Mims said, "but from what I have received and learned firsthand from talking to some of the witnesses, I am convinced that this was cold-blooded murder and that the authorities have the right man in custody."

ABOUT 6:30

An autopsy report attributed the death of Mrs. Turner to skull fractures which caused massive hemorrhaging of the brain. It estimated she died about 6:30 a.m.

Attendants at Midland Memorial Hospital reported the daughter struck by the burglar, Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer Jr., was in satisfactory condition last night. She suffered a skull fracture but the full extent of her injury had not been determined.

In addition to her husband and Mrs. Scharbauer, Mrs. Turner leaves a second daughter, Mrs. Lynn D. Durham, and 10 grandchildren, all of Midland.

FORMER SECRETARY

Senators Say Secrecy Vital For Baker Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators delving into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker are working behind a barrier of secrecy they say is essential in the early stages of the investigation.

Baker, the one-time page boy who achieved wealth and power as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, resigned under fire Oct. 7.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said it was necessary to take exploratory testimony behind closed doors to avoid hurting innocent persons because of association with the inquiry.

But Jordan said the investigation at "some point" would be opened to the public, with Baker as a witness.

The next closed session of the Rules Committee is scheduled Friday but procedural matters are scheduled rather than the hearing of testimony.

The committee's task is to determine whether Baker or any other Senate employe has been involved in conflicts of interest between official duties and personal business affairs.

They may try to summon a beautiful West German woman from her overseas home for questioning about rumors linking her name with some Washington figures.

The West German press has quoted the woman, Ellen Rometsch, 27, as denying any intimacies with men other than her husband, Rolf, a West German army sergeant from whom she is now estranged.

The West German government has said Rometsch was called home last August from a post at its embassy here because of reports concerning his wife's conduct.

See No Big Price Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housewives, relax—for the time being anyway.

The government's economists see no danger that the autumn outbreak of price boosts in a dozen industries will unbalance the family budget.

Increases on items ranging from steel and aluminum to carpets and black pepper—was followed — perhaps by coincidence—by revival of a New York federal grand jury probe into steel-pricing policies.

Coincidental or not, that Justice Department move underscored President Kennedy's warning that Uncle Sam is "watching with concern" any price trend that might start an inflationary spiral.

Kennedy's Consumer Advisory Council, set up last year to give consumers a lobby in Washington, announced a special study of recent increases in steel, electrical equipment, aluminum and chemicals.

Rematch For Gonzalez But Foreman Says No

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Gonzalez is ready to fight, either "Marquis of Queensberry rules or alley fight rules." But his intended opponent, Rep. Ed Foreman, says "as far as I'm concerned it's over with."

So no rematch of Tuesday's one-punch fight just off the floor of the House of Representatives is in prospect.

Gonzalez and Foreman are both Texans. Foreman is 29 and husky. He's a Republican who espouses conservative causes. Gonzalez is 47 and a Democrat who espouses liberal causes.

Foreman said, "I didn't call Gonzalez a pinko or a Communist. What I did say was that his ultra-liberal leftwing voting record was a disservice to the Constitution of the United States and furthers the Socialist-Communist cause."

Gonzalez was angered by a news story that quoted Foreman as calling him a pinko, and confronted his fellow Texan Tuesday on the House floor.

What happened next is in some dispute, but in the speaker's lobby just outside the House chamber Gonzalez gave Foreman a single punch on the shoulder.

"I'd still like to have it out with him man to man, but he's a Joto—that's Spanish for a yellow-livered sissy," Gonzalez said.

Foreman, discussing the incident later in his office, said, "I played four years of college football. I'm 6-feet-4 and 200 pounds and I exercise regularly."

Gonzalez said he weighed in at 174½.

DEAR ABBY

You Waited Too Long

DEAR ABBY: Six weeks ago a neighbor of ours lost a child. They were all broken up about it and the mother was under sedation for several weeks. Our problem is we did not send them a sympathy card and now it is bothering me. Do you think it would give them a lift if we sent them a card now? We need an answer. NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS: Don't send a card now. It could only open the old wounds. Only one who has just learned of a loss can properly send a condolence message six weeks later.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago a new girl moved into our neighborhood. She is 12 and I am 13. My mother insisted that I be nice to her, because this girl didn't know anyone. She has turned out to be the world's biggest pest. She is a show-off and loud mouth. She calls me on the phone and invites herself over. Sometimes she doesn't call, she just appears at the door. Once she is inside, she will not leave. I have run out of excuses to give her. Please help me. DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: When she telephones you, tell her you can't invite her over because you have studying to do, or have to help your mother. When she appears at the door, greet her with the above information, and tell her she may come in—but only for ten minutes. She'll catch on.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been married several years now — I might add, to a good man. But a very important matter has come up, which is: This man was married before and his first wife was (and still is) in a mental hospital. They have children. As far as I know he never was divorced from her, but he said, under the circumstances, it was all right to get married again. I would like to know, is our marriage legal? I am not a young woman and I have never earned my own living. Thank you. THINKING OUT LOUD

DEAR THINKING: There are NO circumstances under which a man may marry again while he is still married to another woman.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "J": We may not ask of God, "Why did this have to happen?" Rather we should say, "Since this HAS happened, Lord, give me the strength to bear it, and show me where to go from here." Then refrain from adding the burden of your own sorrow to the troubles of those who love you.

Ford Notches Sales Record

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. set a nine months' sales record this year, but its profit picture wasn't as rosy as that of Chrysler or General Motors.

Tuesday Ford became the last of the nation's three biggest auto makers to file its financial report for the first three-quarters of 1963.

All reports agreed the auto business has been very good.

For economists who consider the auto industry a key indicator of the nation's business situation, there was heartening news.

GM in its third-quarter report Monday said its profits through September exceeded a billion dollars. Chrysler reported over $100 million in the same period.

Ford sales for the first nine months this year were almost $6.2 billion with profits of $346 million, or $3.14 a share. The previous record for a nine-month period was in 1962 when sales were about $5.8 billion, with profits of $350 million, or $3.18 a share.

There was no comment on the decline in profits in the report to Ford shareholders, which was signed by Henry Ford II.

An examination of the figures told the story: Of eight domestic Ford cars only two—Ford and Mercury — showed an increase in the first nine months of this year over production for the same period of 1962. The Fairlane, Falcon, Thunderbird, Meteor, Comet and Continental showed declines. The Mercury Meteor was discontinued this year.

Explaining the small drop in profits, Ford spokesmen said increased costs of materials and increased wages are among the factors involved. They also cited "unusually heavy expenses in tooling up for our 1964 models."

Texas Workmen's Insurance Ripped

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas industry is paying more for workmen's compensation insurance, but workers are receiving less benefits than in other states, a study has revealed.

"It's one of the worst situations in the nation," said Ed Burrus, vice president of the Texas Manufacturers Association, which released the study Tuesday.

Burrus reviewed the report, compiled by a New York firm, at a news conference.

He called the Texas workmen's compensation situation "a sour note" in an otherwise healthy picture of the state's industry.

"Insurance rates for workmen's compensation paid by Texas industry are considerably higher than other states while the injured worker in Texas is receiving lower benefits," the report said. "Premiums in Texas have increased to the point that Texas' rates are among the highest in the nation, increasing approximately 40 per cent during the past 10 years."

For a better workmen's compensation program, the study recommends that:

1. The legislature give the State Industrial Accident Board more funds so it can do a better job, thus reducing appeals to the courts and accompanying attorneys' fees.

2. Plaintiff's attorney fees should be set at 25 per cent of funds recovered to eliminate the current higher fee for appeal cases.

3. Reforms are needed in Texas' rate-making process to reduce the percentage of the premium dollar allocated for insurance companies' expenses, which now stands at 42.2 per cent, compared to 40.4 per cent in most states.

4. Employers should be permitted to self-insure workmen's compensation risks "by guaranteeing the payment of benefits provided under the law to the injured employes under the supervision of the Industrial Accident Board."

LISTENING

We are being told these days that you talk to God in prayer, then listen for Him to talk to you; that it is a two-way conversation. But, frankly, I do not find Bible backing for this idea. Even in the days of miracle workers, God did not talk back to everyone who prayed acceptably.

The Bible says we know our prayers are heard because we comply with the conditions of acceptable praying, and have the promise of God's answer (I Jno. 5:14, 15); not because we hear God talking back to us

Listen to God. Certainly we must do this. But God speaks through the Scriptures (Ps. 119: 105; II Tim. 3:14-17). So often it is the person who will not listen to the Scriptures who thinks God talks to him when he prays. And we suspect that this doctrine was invented to nullify the need for listening to the Scriptures. People are made to think they can listen to God some other way.

No Regrets For Scare Of 1938, Says Orson Welles

LONDON (AP)—Orson Welles choked back a chuckle and said he has not the slightest regret for his Martian invasion radio drama that panicked Americans 25 years ago tonight.

"Looking back I wouldn't change a thing," the actor, now 48, told an interviewer.

Six million Americans heard Welles' broadcast of "The War of the Worlds" on Oct. 30, 1938 and one million were disturbed, researchers found.

It began at 8 p.m. on the CBS Sunday night "Mercury Theater of the Air." Interspersing H.G. Wells' 40-year-old fantasy with realistically styled news bulletins, the Mercury players created this scene:

Flaming objects landed in New Jersey. "Things" emerged. As tall as skycrapers, they waded the Hudson River to destroy New York. A mysterious Martian ray dealt instant death.

With Nazi Germany nibbling at the Sudetenland and America jangled by European war nerves, newspapers and radio stations were flooded by calls from frightened listeners.

A Pittsburgh man found his wife in the bathroom, hysterically grasping a bottle of poison and crying, "I'd rather die this way."

A San Francisco man called police, volunteering to fight "this awful thing."

Toward the end of the hour-long drama, the Martians were destroyed by some bacteriological reaction.

Recalling the circumstances of the broadcast, "Sure I had a pretty good idea it would touch off a wave of jitters, but I still went ahead.

"I just thought it was time to demonstrate that everything said on radio isn't necessarily true. The radio had been speaking ex cathedra (with authority) on every subject under the sun and I thought it needed sending up a bit."

Oilmen Ask Tight Imports

DALLAS (AP)— Independent oil operators have renewed pleas for tighter restrictions on oil imports and for a new natural gas bill.

They instructed officers of the 7,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America to seek prompt Washington action on both objectives before closing their annual meeting Tuesday.

In addition to calling for an over-all cutback in imports, the independents drafted nine proposals for strengthening the mandatory program to control oil imports.

Officers of the trade group, which represents independent producers in 40 states, also were directed to place the natural gas price control problem before Congress immediately.

A natural gas resolution said nine years of experimentation by the Federal Power Commission with efforts to control prices of gas sold wholesale into interstate commerce have led only to confusion and chaotic conditions.

The resolution asked that Congress outlaw public utility type regulation of wellhead prices and strip the FPC of any authority to impair or invade conservation powers of any state.

Little progress has been made toward such legislation since similar decontrol bills were vetoed by former Presidents Truman and Eisenhower.

A policy statement on imports said the mandatory control program has prevented complete deterioration of the domestic producing industry but has not accomplished its basic objective of maintaining a healthy industry.

In five years, the statement said, exploratory crew activity has been reduced 50 per cent, wildcat wells drilled have declined 33 per cent, and the total number of wells completed has declined 25 per cent.

The major recommendation made by the independents calls for pegging imports to a percentage of actual domestic crude production instead of a percentage of estimated future production as at present.

The current ratio of 12.2 per cent applies only to crude imports. The independents not only want this ratio lowered but want it to include all imports except heavy fuel oils.

Field Ready For Webb Use

The runway at Snyder's Winston Field has been made ready for use by Webb Air Force Base student pilots and should be put into use shortly.

The runway has been swept and seal-coated, a center line and markers have been painted and a crash truck is on duty.

Because of the short length of the runway, 4,800 feet, the field will not be used by pilots taking basic training in the supersonic T-38. The field will be restricted to landings of the T-37.

The auxiliary field at Colorado City has been used by Webb since the coming of the jet-engine T-37. Prior to that time, the Midland Air Park was used for landings of propeller-driven T-28's, and jet - powered T-33's used a strip at Sweetwater. When the Air Force took over the facility at Colorado City, use of the auxiliary fields at Midland and Sweetwater were discontinued.

Opening lead: Jack of ◇ South was so pleased to see the king of diamonds appear on the opening lead in today's hand that his sense of relief temporarily disorganized his thinking processes. The result was a setback that could have been avoided had he not given in so completely to his emotions.

The game contract in spades was reached in easy stages. Since North did not have a biddable suit of his own, he raised diamonds. Then, when South showed his spades, North supported that suit too, and South carried on to game.

Altho both of his opponents had bid diamonds, West opened the jack inasmuch as he had a perfect sequence in the suit. The three of diamonds was played from the dummy and, when East's king appeared, South impulsively produced the ace—so pleased was he to locate this key honor without having to resort to any guess.

A heart was led over to the ace and a small spade was returned to declarer's king. West was in with the ace of trumps and he returned the ten of diamonds. North's queen was ruffed away by East, and there was no way for declarer to avoid losing two more diamond tricks. The outcome was a one trick defeat.

When East played the king of diamonds at the first trick, South is in a position to count 10 tricks, and only an incautious gesture will permit the prize to slip from his grasp. In addition to the five top tricks available in the side suits, declarer can arrange to ruff two hearts in the dummy and take three spades in his hand. Since he cannot complete the trump drawing process until his side washing is attended to, however, South must take measures to protect his side winners from an adverse ruff.

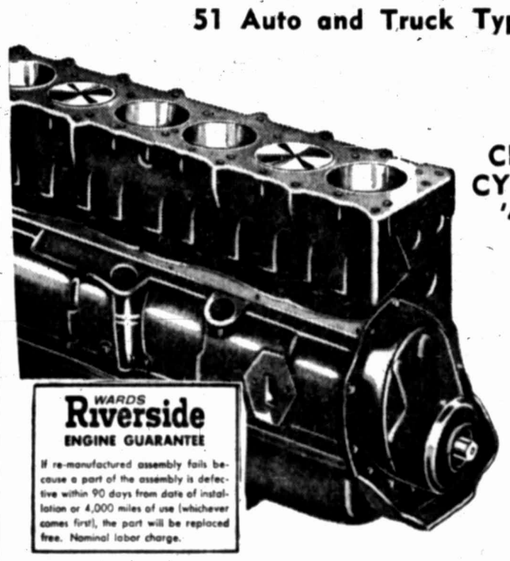

Since East's king of diamonds is an obvious singleton, West will be able to give his partner a ruff in the suit if he has the ace of spades. Declarer must see to it that East is not offered the opportunity to trump an honor. The way to achieve this objective is to permit East to hold the first trick.

If he returns a club, South puts up the king and proceeds to go about his business. When West gets in with the spade ace to play the ten of diamonds, declarer can follow from dummy with a small diamond since he has retained the ace in his own hand. If East ruffs, it will be a trick that South had to lose anyway. The defense will thus be restricted to three tricks — one spade, one diamond, and a diamond ruff.

A Devotional For The Day

Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? (Romans 8:35.)

PRAYER: O God, give us an unquestionable love for Thee. Touch us anew with the Holy Spirit so that we may feel Thy great love for us in our daily lives. Use us to help others to know Thy love for them and to love Thee. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Poll Tax Issue

Despite some high - level support, repeal of the poll tax is by no means assured in the Nov. 9 election. Persistent reports from all parts of the state indicate that the proposal has no better than a 50-50 chance.

The issue in all its parts may be in need of review. Voters certainly should not be permitted to go to the polls thinking that they have the simple choice of rejecting or retaining the poll tax.

If voters repeal the poll tax, a registration system for voters will go into effect automatically, as provided by the 58th Legislature. If voters reject the proposal a number of unpredictable situations will arise.

Sometime early in 1964, with the approval of two more state legislatures, a U. S. constitutional amendment prohibiting the requirement of a poll tax in federal elections may become effective. This means that Texas would then be required to set up two rolls of qualified voters, one of poll tax holders and one of those who would be qualified to take part in general elections. The issue may not prove to be even that simple, however, if the question of "What is a federal election?" is raised and the courts should hold that the election of a U. S. senator or representative begins with a primary.

Most of the opposition to repeal of the poll tax appears to be based on the rather narrow grounds that it would make "Crystal City" incidents easier. This type of argument can appeal mainly to those who do not believe in the full participation of citizens in the choice of their officeholders.

Only five other states still require a poll tax as a requisite to voting. The amount of revenue loss through doing away with the poll tax is inconsequential, and even if it were of substance, it should not be a consideration for justification. The main reason for wanting to retain the poll tax is the vain hope it will keep some people from voting. This is hardly the democratic spirit.

Getting Signals Mixed

Football has changed over the years in many ways, from a game of bulldozing to thrusting, from brute strength to nimble wits and feet. Of course, it is a better and more exciting game. The once invincible elephants are now done in my the smart, quick boys.

Holes are punched or brushed on the basis of split second timing, and backs suddenly spurt through into the secondary before you have time to figure who has the ball.

IT'S STILL A game of block, tackle, run, throw and kick, but the game is one of quick maneuver rather than thud, thud, thud. As always, football operates on a system of plays, but the days of yelling the signals is largely gone. In the huddle, plays are called by a number and the slot where they will go. A "go" count when the play will start also is announced in this tight private conference behind the line. Most of the time, plays are sent in from the bench.

NOT SO IN THE olden days. The quarterback was the field general and shaped his plays on the strength of the way the defense lined up. The signals were called audibly, hence it took not only a smart cookie to figure out the tactical move, but it also required someone with a penetrating or resonant voice.

There were all sorts of combinations or codes for calling signals. Usually there were about three sets of numbers, followed by a "go" count, "Hup, one, two . . ."

FOR INSTANCE, the first number (13) might designate the ball carrier (by position) and the go count, 1 (the quarterback) would carry the ball, and the play would go on the count of 3.

The second number might tell the hole for which the play would head. Thus, 22 could mean that the play would go to the right (because of the even number) between center and guard, 32 between right guard and tackle, 42 off tackle, 52 cutback around end, and 62 an end sweep. Sometime the use of fives and multiple of fives meant a pass was being called. By using odd numbers, the play would be called to the left.

SOMETIME the quarterback would call the formation to be used, such as box left or right, short punt, punt formation, etc. Sometimes the plays would be numbered specifically and mixed in at an agreed spot in the midst of a series of meaningless numbers. Sometimes plays were given pet names.

The opposition would try to crack the code, so to speak, and thus "play signals." This is what players did in practice, much to the annoyance of the coach. It wasn't too much to crash the interference if you knew the play was going inside, or float it out if a sweep had been called.

WHILE EMPHASIS was on the bullish boys, you had to admit that they got some mental gymnastics when they had to figure instantly from the numbers the quarterback called just who was going to get the ball, where he was going, how to block on that particular play, and when to take off. "He got his signals mixed" was a common phrase. Yet when you consider that signals were changed now and then to cheat the spies, maybe those big boys weren't so dumb after all.

The Economic Grease

We have been told in many ways that our children are the hope of the future. Because this statement must be the truth, it would be interesting to know what the youngsters think about today's world. For if they think differently than we do, tomorrow's world will be different.

It is startling, therefore, to read the results of a poll taken among several high school seniors. Or at least it is startling to discover their answer to one particular question: Can business survive without profits? Believe it or not, 62 per cent of those answering said it could!

It would be difficult to determine from what this belief arises. It could be a reflection of the fact that, for some reason or other, "profits" has gotten to be almost a dirty word. More than likely, the attitude stems from a misunderstanding of what profits really are, an essential grease for our economic machinery.

If more than half of our teen-agers believe that business can operate without the stimulus of profits, their education has gone awry somewhere. This same poll gives us a clue. The schools, apparently, are not misleading the kids; it's the parents who are doing so. Whatever the source, if the citizenry of the future lose confidence in the importance of profits our society, as we know it, will certainly retrogress. There are other things just as important, but if our highly productive economy is to survive, so must profits.

Kennedy May Still Be On Ropes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has won the first big round in his attempt to get a civil rights bill through Congress this year. But he may be on the ropes, with no bill passed before the year ends.

Time, because there isn't much left of 1963, and the opposition of Southern Democrats in the Senate will work against him. There have been four main steps in this struggle so far.

1. THERE was no indication until June 19 that Kennedy intended to ask Congress for a strong, new civil rights law this year. In the spring Negro demonstrations, with accompanying violence, built up tensions.

On June 19 he presented Congress with a fairly strong program. There was instant opposition from Southern Democrats. Republicans, or some of them, in House and Senate were rather reserved.

The bill, as a necessary preliminary before it could get to the full House for a vote, went to the House Judiciary Committee. On this committee, headed by Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., liberals of both parties dominate.

2. UNDER the urging of civil rights advocates they decided the Kennedy bill wasn't strong enough. So they scrapped Kennedy's proposal, although retaining some of it, and put together a much stronger one of their own.

It should be remembered that in this Congress, where there is a big gap between Southern and liberal Democrats, not all Republicans see eye to eye with their House leader, the conservative Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Instantly Kennedy was afraid this strong bill was too strong to pass in this overwhelmingly conservative Congress which, although run by huge Democratic majorities, has been less than ecstatic about a civil rights bill at all.

He sent his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to Celler's committee to plead for a softer bill. This didn't make a dent. So the President himself took a hand.

3. HE BEGAN calling White House conferences, a number of them over several days, of Democratic and Republican leaders to ask them to use their weight to tone down the committee bill. He finally got his way.

But it was worked out in amazing fashion.

The Kennedy administration and Republicans in the House—but not House Democrats — worked out a compromise bill which Republicans agreed to and Democrats on the Celler committee were finally persuaded to accept.

4. SO TUESDAY the House Judiciary Committee voted to scrap the strong bill its members had wanted and approved the one manufactured by the administration and the Republicans.

This is stronger than the first Kennedy bill but weaker than the one the Judiciary Committee wanted to substitute for it. It was promptly denounced as too weak by some of the leaders among the civil rights advocates.

And — the Kennedy administration was so grateful to the Republicans that the attorney general publicly praised them. Any chance of a civil rights bill becoming law this year without their help would have been remote.

It was an astonishing admission when it is remembered that in this Congress Democrats so far outnumber Republicans they could put anything through—if they operated as a single party and stuck together. But they don't.

Military's Need For Nurses

WASHINGTON — The shortage of nurses in the United States and the resultant nursing crisis across the nation is equally critical in the armed services.

The Army Nurse Corps is in the midst of the greatest personnel shortage in its 62-year history. There is an active-duty shortage of 40 per cent, which means 2,000 nurses, in the corps. That acute shortage is reflected in the Navy Nurse Corps and the Air Force Nurse Corps, also.

THIS IS ONE of the problems with which the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Service (DACOWITS) has wrestled during its semi-annual meeting.

There is simply no easy solution to this crisis, any more than there is an easy solution to the same problem in civilian life. We on the committee have listened with sympathy to the problems but have come up with no instant solution.

THE ARMY is tackling the problem by inaugurating a nurse's training program covering a four-year period and leading to a college degree. It is an all-expenses-paid, plus a stipend, program aimed at attracting the bright high - school graduate. The girl can spend the first two years in an accredited college of her choice. She will spend the last two years of training in schools near Washington, D. C. and near such Army hospitals as Walter Reed.

To this member of the committee, it seems highly likely that the Navy and Air Force nursing corps will eventually be forced to offer such four-year programs in order to meet the Army competition.

IN THE MEANTIME, the Army is offering the girl interested in nursing a college degree as well as one in her chosen profession, and all free. It will be interesting to see if such a program can produce recruits to the nursing field, where they are so badly needed.

In the meantime, at the earnest suggestion of the three nursing corps, and to help alleviate the present crisis situation, the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services has recommended to the Secretary of Defense that the former service nurse who wishes to re-enlist may do so when her youngest child has reached the age of 15.

AT PRESENT such a nurse cannot re-enlist if she has dependents under 18.

There is another major problem common to all the services, whether male or female. That is the problem of housing, which is in great need of improvement for both enlisted personnel and for officers. The members of DACOWITS are, I believe, a little awed to have any connection with so formidible an establishment as the Pentagon, but, womanlike, not so overawed as to lose our tongues.

WE HAVE GIVEN considerable tongue to the housing inadequacies for women in the armed services. Since the woman in the services cannot expect to be better housed than the men, the committee has, by implication, been vigorously crusading for better quarters for them, too.

In this project the committee has had the handsome support of Norman S. Paul, Assistant Secretary of Defense. "Housing is a problem of primary magnitude," he told the committee, "and more important to morale than pay. That is, many men and women in the services would rather have improved housing than a pay increase."

THE COMMITTEE has discovered that the man and woman in uniform, like his counterparts in civilian life, longs for at least a minimum of privacy in his living quarters.

Some Personality – Some Nation

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—Pride and prejudice. You look for them in a man, unless he happens to be either denatured or genuinely sanctified. The same qualities are to be found in a nation, subject to the same exceptions, which Argentina is not.

So, the Spanish pride, blended with Italian gentility, both married to the sense of order and beauty, are instantly perceivable here. Indeed, something of that total impression begins as the traveler leaves the dry coastal ridges of Brazil and drops southward, by a three-hour jet journey, into a green and pleasant land, pridefully marked by the silver river, Rio de la Plata and its threading tributaries.

A POET MIGHT understandably be touched with ecstasy. Even the work-a-day political hack writer feels an uplift at the opulence of verdant meadows and the fecund rolls of chocolate-brown soil that follow the several ploughs at work just off the airport runways. Right away, there is something significant in the fact that the ploughs are drawn, not by soulless tractors, or by a straining single horse, but by teams of two or three horses throwing strong shoulders into the collars, as if neither they nor their drivers ever heard about the ignobility of sweaty and productive labor.

PRIDE, MEANING self-respect and not arrogance, sits in family and comradely groups at the many roadside, riverside, food stands on the way from airport to town. They are not pop-and-peanut joints. The savory odor of sizzling Argentine beef floats from the open-air tables where people feast between fishing-and-strolling activities, between soccer and romancing.

Later, in the city itself, the newcomer finds himself driving among pleasant parks, or walking between brilliant show windows of department and specialty stores. There are tailor shops as smart as Bond Street in London, furniture emporiums with stage sets of elegant dining rooms, establishments that display the silver, the china, the crystal, the velvet of Paris and Manhattan.

IN THE DULL language of economics, here is a country with a predominant middle class. Argentina is quite different from the poor-house nations of Latin America, where a visitor's attention reels between the lavish rich and the squalid poor. If the visitor from the United States is surprised to see so much social moderation and contentment, that must be because he's been reading too many columns and books of the Liberalissimos who automatically equate a history of political dictatorship with mental and economic dismay. If dictatorship kills national personality, you couldn't prove it here. An off-and-on bosshood of nearly twenty years ended only in mid-October—perhaps temporarily—with the inauguration of President Arturo Illia, the homespun back-country physician. Whatever their distaste for Dictator Juan Peron and his military successors, the Argentine people give every evidence of a composure that comes from their innate sense of personal worth. Call it pride.

AS FOR PREJUDICE, the Spanish-American of Argentina doesn't mind sharing his country with Italians and other Europeans, but you can look long—as I have for three days—and never see a Negro.

Not everybody will think this an admirable population statistic for a major 20th century American republic, but it's unique. Argentina has no trace whatever of the racial problem which hardly lets anybody sleep back home.

THERE IS SOMETHING very human, very appealing about a country where pride-and-prejudice, a universal trait often treated with prudish unmentionability, is so candidly admitted.

Fingerprints Of The Soul

NEW YORK (AP) — Every man's life is measured by his memories.

They are his mental Baedecker, the fadeless guidebook of the mind.

Memories also are the lasting fingerprints of the soul. No two people, no matter how deeply shared their lives, ever have quite the same set. We are born individual, and as we age our memories accent that individuality.

BUT THEY also help keep us mutual. And you've passed a lot of milestones yourself if you can remember when—

Dad first let you drink from the nozzle of the garden hose as he watered the lawn—and it had the most wonderful flavor in the world.

White collar workers earned more than blue collar workers.

The wealthiest guy in the block was the kid with the most marbles.

THE WORST fate that could befall you was to be picked last when the gang was choosing up sides to play a game of scrub football.

Voters would listen patiently for two hours in the hot sun while a politician orated on the benefits of the protective tariff.

When you wanted to plant a garden, you wrote to your congressman and asked for free seeds.

Girls thought curls were a blessing and freckles a disaster. Only farm girls had a tan; mothers of city girls never let their daughters venture out bareheaded in the summer for fear this would ruin their complexion.

EVERY YOUNG lady could play a musical instrument—even it if was only the tambourine.

You could tell how cold it was in winter by how far the frozen cream stuck out of the bottle the milkman left at the front door.

Only rich families had oranges except at Christmas—or when one of the children had to take castor oil.

A specialist was a doctor who charged $3 for an office visit.

Nothing in a five-and-ten store cost more than a dime.

The Cost Of Going To The Moon

WASHINGTON—Dollars and sense—with a capital "S" in that third word—applies as a slogan of national policy in the Soviet Union, too. For it's the principal reason why Premier Khrushchev has called off the race to the moon. The Russians simply haven't got the money for the contest and, if the Americans want to go broke on such an adventure, Moscow wishes them "success."

Intelligence sources available to our European allies, plus information gathered by diplomatic observers, several weeks ago prompted the conclusion that Premier Khrushchev was up against a serious dilemma in his spending policies.

THE BASIC INGREDIENTS of depression in Russia are easy to recognize. The agricultural situation is bad. It has led to an ignominous maneuver—the decision to purchase $250,000,000 worth of wheat from the United States. Despite the fact that for the last eight years Khrushchev has gambled on the development of "virgin lands"—an effort which cost an enormous amount of money — the areas have turned out to be dust bowls. Waste and inefficiency in the farming system and, indeed, in the central planning has been revealed.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV, in his desperation, has decided to try out new projects in fertilizer production and irrigation, thus bowing to the agricultural experts who wanted him to do this before. More than $12 billion now have been allocated to this scheme alone, as compared with an annual appropriation heretofore of $5.5 billion a year for the whole agricultural program.

But $12 billion is big money even in the Soviet Union, and the expenditure comes at a time when a huge waste of funds in thousands of industrial projects has been noted. Nearly $30 billion have been poured into this field alone. It's a way of taking care of unemployment but, as happened in the 1930's in this country, "made work" doesn't last forever. The progress in the Russian industrial projects has been very slow. While more and more persons have been given jobs, the expected contribution of the industrial projects to the Russian economy as a whole has not been realized. Very few projects have been completed.

SO MR. KHRUSHCHEV now has had to apply priorities and suspend work on some projects while accelerating others. The result has been chaos in economic planning, as the work on electric-power stations and chemical plants, for instance, has been held in abeyance. British experts who have studied at first hand the facts about Russia's economic problems say that, in the face of the crisis in agriculture as well as in the plans for industrial projects, Premier Khrushchev has no choice but to cut down arms spending.

MAYBE THE IDEA of going to the moon has some scientific value, but it will be noted that Chairman Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in discussing the moon project in a speech the other day, significantly used the word "priorities" in respect to American policy. That's a graceful way of saying that the objectives remain good but that there are other more pressing needs for $5 billion a year supplied, respectively, by the taxpayers in the United States and by the overburdened peasants in the Soviet Union than just to find out whether there is any life on the moon.

IT'S A CASE of sense finally emerging at the top, whether it be in spending dollars or rubles. First things come first, and a trip to the moon isn't in the cards for either country for many years in the future.

Billy Graham

My wife is twelve years younger than I, and she is a woman of means. She is so possessive it worries me although we are very happy. What is your advice? L.S.

Men often marry women younger than they are, so I see nothing wrong with the age difference. But reading between the lines, I see two other elements of your marriage that could spell difficulty. You say she is a woman of means. In other words, she holds the purse strings. If perchance you married for financial security, you are beginning to reap who you sowed. If she regards you as a puppet on a string—well, she bought you as she has bought other things in the past.

You see, you are concerned about this wealth and the possessiveness that goes with it because the normal position of a woman is dependence, not independence. The husband is to be the provider, and all sorts of abnormal developments occur when the woman becomes the provider. My suggestion to you is that you stop depending on your wife's income, and go out and succeed in your own right. Be a man! And if she sees you in this new light, she may cut you loose from her apron strings.

To Your Good Health

There's No Cure For Cerebral Palsy

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: We have been told that our 5-year-old son has cerebral palsy. Is this a permanent disorder?—J. A.

Cerebral palsy is really a group of disorders, rather than a single one.

It is a permanent condition. Treatment and training are possible—indeed, I hope all C. P. children get such care—but not with the hope of curing a child.

The problem is that certain portions of the nervous system have been damaged—nerve cells contolling the muscles.

In about two out of three cases, it will be the "spastic" type of cerebral palsy. The child's muscles (well, there are adults, too, with C. P. but it usually begins in infancy) are tense and rigid.

For most of us, the muscles relax when they are not in use.

For example, take the leg muscles. One set of them moves the leg forward. Another, opposite set moves the leg backward. We walk by alternately tensing and relaxing these muscles—one set goes loose while the other works.

With the spastic child, both sets of muscles remain tense. When he walks, he has to overcome the resistance of muscles that should be relaxed. Difficult? Extremely. Such a child uses a great deal of energy to do things which for the rest of us are easy.

There are a number of kinds of cerebral palsy, and there are many degrees of it, from slight to severe. Some youngsters have trouble speaking and swallowing; others don't. Some find that their muscles don't react as intended. They reach for something and the arm goes in an unexpected direction. A few have a tremor type—they may have good control of their muscles while at rest, but begin to shake when they are excited or when they try to do something. And there are still other variations.

Relaxing drugs, physiotherapy, patient training in how to use the muscles despite the handicap, braces, and in a few cases even surgery can help. Since cure cannot be expected, the next best thing is to teach the child how to be as efficient as he can despite his handicap, and that is what you must keep constantly in mind.

Whatever type of this disorder the child has, he needs sympathetic help from parents and doctors and therapists. He needs the courage to keep trying, and the optimism to make him realize that he can improve.

There are organizations in many cities devoted to helping children with C. P. I strongly advise you to get in touch with one in your area. If you have any difficulty finding such a group, consult your city, county or state health department. Not the least of the values to be gained is in showing you that others have the same problem and can do something about it.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Bleach And Powders Remove Grout Stain

Dear Heloise:

Please tell us how to get the mildew and mold out of the grout between the ceramic tiles in our bathrooms and shower.

Heda

• • •

Dear Heda:

Household bleach removes the color of the mildew but does not kill the fungus . . so I am told by a very reputable chemist in a big laboratory.

HELOISE

Ammonia will kill the fungus but the two procedures should be used separately. Here's how:

First make a paste of scouring powder and plain household bleach. (I use a powder which says "contains bleach" and our chemist says it's perfectly safe to add more bleach to it.)

Take a sponge or old brush (tooth brushes, fingernail brushes and vegetable brushes are excellent for this) and scour the walls with this paste. The abrasive in the cleanser will remove lots of the fungus growth and the bleach will bleach the color out of the spore! Also the scouring powder will help hold the bleach on the wall while it does its duty.

Leave this paste on the ceramic tiles until it dries, a few hours or even overnight won't hurt.

Then rinse with clear water.

Dip a cloth in household ammonia (I hold my nose and use it straight! But you can dilute it) and scour the tiles. The ammonia will help kill the tiny spores which are there, even if you can't see them. Let this dry.

Most people just bleach the grout and the mildew grows right back and they wonder why . . . that spore has to be killed! Since we can't shoot 'em with buckshot, why not use something legal, like ammonia?

Now, if you would like to help prevent soap film and accumulations from forming back on your tile, take an old wash rag, dip it in some plain kerosene and wipe the tiles after they are completely dry.

This will give the tile not only a sheen but the soap suds and water will "bead" and run off.

The kerosene odor will soon leave. I do this once every week or so in our bath. Use only on walls. It might be slippery if used on the floor.

For fun—when you buy a fresh pineapple, cut off the top leaving about one-half inch of the pineapple attached to the top.

Put this top in either a glass of water in the house, or in the ground outside and watch it take off . . .

Mine is doing beautifully outside and causes quite a lot of comment and many questions.

Deadline Near To Get An Over 65 Policy

Texas senior citizens who are interested have only until midnight Thursday to enroll in the "Over-65 health insurance program."

Only those who turn 65 on Nov. 1 and after will be accepted for enrollment before the next enrollment period. After the Thursday deadline, residents of the state who are now 65 years and over will have to wait until the next enrollment period, which may not be scheduled for several months.

Rietz reported that almost 25,000 senior citizens have made application for Texas 65 so far. He expects 35,000 to be enrolled during the initial enrollment period. No medical questions are asked.

Three plans are available under the program. The basic plan of hospital, medical and surgical insurance is $9 per month. The major medical plan is $10 per month and the combination basic and major medical plan is $19 per month.

Texas 65 is available from any insurance agent licensed to sell health insurance in the state. Most Big Spring agencies handle the policies.

Steel Chief Rejects Idea Of Economic Race Weapon

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., rejects the idea that a corporation should use "economic compulsion" as a weapon to deal with community race relations problems.

At the same time, Blough endorsed discrimination - fighting employment and promotion practices, and leadership by business executives in outside-the-plant efforts to break down barriers between the races.

His views emerged from a discussion of U.S. Steel's role in Birmingham, Ala., scene of recent racial strife.

"Big Steel," through its Tennessee Coal and Iron Division, is the Birmingham area's largest single employer. It ranks among the top half dozen corporate employers in the nation with nearly 200,000 on the payroll.

Asked Tuesday about criticism that the company had not used enough "economic influence" in Birmingham, Blough replied:

"For a corporation to attempt to exert economic compulsion to achieve any particular end in the social area seems to me to be quite beyond what a corporation should do and quite beyond what it can do."

Critics, among them attorney Charles Morgan of Birmingham, have suggested that a corporation in awarding business should favor banks and suppliers that are committed to the goal of expanding opportunities for Negroes.

Residents Urged To Join Delegation

Local farmers, ranchers and others related to agriculture are being urged to join the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce delegation which will meet with Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman Monday in Lubbock.

According to Frank Moore, Plainview, West Texas representative on the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Sec. Freeman has expressed a desire to meet personally with these and other groups and individuals who will attend the meeting. Sec. Freeman will be at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 2 p.m. He is currently on a tour to make personal contact with individuals and groups in farming and ranching.

The local delegation will present Freeman with copies of a petition circulated here and in other cotton-producing areas of West Texas asking that additional research be undertaken to bring about effective control of insects which attack cotton. Present insecticides are not effective and costs are becoming prohibitive.

Man Leaves 'Em Mystified

Doctors at Howard County Hospital Foundation and Clinic Wednesday were wondering whether or not they "had been taken."

John Oliver Taggart, 69, was taken to the hospital about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday after he apparently collapsed on the sidewalk in front of the C. R. Anthony Department Store, 305 Main.

Ambulance attendants said the man told them he was a cardiac patient. He asked attendants to give him two "nitro" tablets.

Admitted to the hospital, Taggart showed a remarkable recovery. Hospital officials said they could find nothing wrong with the man.

After a hearty breakfast Wednesday morning, Taggart left the hospital "against medical advice," according to doctors. "He told us he was going to Dallas for surgery," a nurse said.

No one seems to know Taggart's address. Asked where he lives, he told ambulance attendants he stays at the Salvation Army.

Capt. W. H. Thomas, local commander of the Salvation Army unit, said his records indicate the man stayed at the Salvation Army Monday night.

"He was here last May 12th," Capt. Thomas said. "At that time, he told us he was en route to a VA hospital in Amarillo," the commander added.

Algerians, Moroccans Meet With Peace Team

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — After a day of haggling, King Hassan II of Morocco and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria met today with mediators trying to end the border conflict between the two nations.

The meeting lasted 45 minutes. There was no immediate indication of progress. But the fact that the leaders met face to face for the first time since fighting broke out raised hope for a compromise settlement.

A Moroccan source said, however, that a luncheon Hassan and Ben Bella had been scheduled to attend with the negotiators was called off. Each delegation was eating by itself, the source said.

Ben Bella and Hassan sat down at a conference table in the Mali presidential palace with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. Since the arrival of Ben Bella and Hassan Tuesday, Selassie and Keita had been working to bring them together.

Mr. Gonzales had lived in Coahoma since September, 1923. He was a member of the Catholic Church.

Pleads Guilty

Silviano A. Coronado, charged with DWI, entered a guilty plea in Howard County court Tuesday afternoon. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and spend three days in county jail.

Grand Jury Still Hearing Cases

The Howard County grand jury was about two-thirds through with its assigned investigations at noon Wednesday. There was some doubt on the part of observers whether the body would be able to complete its work by Wednesday night.

The jurors still have six or seven matters to investigate. The third floor corridor of the courthouse is still thronged with witnesses waiting to be heard.

The grand jury was empanelled Tuesday and spent all day working on initial cases on its list of 24 matters prepared for its consideration.

Four Charged In Litter Crackdown

Charges of violating the city anti-litter ordinance were filed Tuesday against four northside residents, according to Police Chief Jay Banks.

"They failed to keep their property in a clean and sanitary condition as provided for by law," Banks said, adding that "all were warned."

The city commission, at its last regular meeting, authorized a crackdown on violators of the anti-litter ordinance. Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor offense which carries a $1 to $100 fine upon conviction.

Along with the crackdown, city workmen have been carrying out a campaign to clean alleys and public right-of-ways on the northside.

According to the ordinance, property owners or persons in charge of property are responsible for maintaining their buildings, property and premises in a clean and sanitary condition.

Filing of the charges Tuesday serves notice that the police will back up their warnings with formal complaints.

Sun Power For Space Craft

Robert W. Jones, Hughes Aircraft Co. scientist at Culver City, Calif., demonstrates how a 12-inch parabolic mirror concentrates enough sunlight to burst a wooden tongue depressor stick into flame. The aircraft firm has a NASA contract to construct larger solar concentrators and demonstrate how they could be "folded up," then carried into space by a space craft and inflated to 100 feet in diameter. Last Rites Held For Connally

MARLIN (AP) — Funeral services were held this afternoon for the late Sen. Tom Connally, D-Tex., who died Monday in Washington.

The last rites were conducted at Marlin's First Methodist Church by the Rev. Asbury Lenox, pastor.

In failing health for several years, the courtly former senator died of pneumonia. He had lived quietly in Washington since leaving the Senate in 1953.

Connally practiced law here when he was fresh out of the University of Texas law school, which he attended after graduation from Baylor University. Later he was the county's prosecuting attorney. He was born in adjoining McLennan County.

Surviving are his widow; a son, U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally of Houston, and a sister, Mrs. Sparks McKay of Tyler.

Dissatisfaction Rising For Nkrumah's Ghana

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—George Orwell's "Animal Farm," a bitter allegory on totalitarianism, has been banned from Ghana's secondary schools by government decree.

Too many teachers were drawing a parallel between Orwell's fictional regime of the pigs and that of President Kwame Nkrumah and his convention People's party. Ghana's press is censored and controlled.

In private, civil servants and the professional classes express mounting dissatisfaction with Nkrumah and his government. Students at Ghana's two universities are in the vanguard of these demanding greater freedom of expression.

OUT OF JOB

"Whisper a word of criticism in the wrong place and you're out of a job," complained one senior ministry official.

"Intellectually, the atmosphere in Ghana is stifling," said a student. "Free exchange of political opinions is a thing of the past."

Nkrumah's Ghana abounds with trappings markedly similar to those of communism.

His party and the government are regarded as one and the same. The Ghana Young Pioneers follows a Soviet pattern. The trade union movement is a carbon copy of the Soviet Union's. Strikes are illegal. There are 105 state farms. Government is in the building, furniture, and many other businesses. Innumerable Communist bloc technicians have been assigned to the country.

OTHER SIDE

But there is another side. In Nkrumah's grand design there is a place for private as well as state enterprise and recent legislation encourages foreign investment.

Six years of independence have brought progress unmatched elsewhere in Africa in many fields. Tribalism has been largely eliminated. Ghana spends more on education in relation to national income than any other country in the world. Roads are the best in West Africa.

A $92-million artificial harbor at Tema was paid for entirely out of Ghana's own resources.

Construction of the $196-million Volta River dam and hydroelectric scheme is ahead of schedule. Ghana is putting up half the cost and borrowing the rest from the United States, Britain and the World Bank.

FROM WEST

Both the West and the Communist bloc countries have helped but most aid has come from the West.

"Remember Ghana has never broken its ties with the British Commonwealth," said one Western diplomat.

"Perhaps Ghana is not as democratic as we would wish. But then there are almost no countries in Africa which practice democracy as we know it."

Nkrumah seeks to turn Ghana into the nonaligned showpiece of Africa. He thinks he can do it with his homespun brand of socialism, and by walking a political tightrope between West and East.

The 54-year-old president is a professed Marxist. He is also a shrewd and practical politician, ambitious and fiercely independent. Westerners here are convinced he never would willingly become the puppet of Moscow.

Guadalupe Park Eyed

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, reported Tuesday night that Texas' tallest mountain, Guadalupe Peak, is being eyed as a state park site.

He said he understood Texas Tech was conducting a survey of the area with this in mind.

Wirth came here with the Park Service Advisory Board.

With Associate Director George B. Hartzog and the advisory board, he plans to visit the Guadalupe Peak area Thursday.

It covers 50 square miles and has been proposed as a national park site. The area borders on the Texas-New Mexico line and extends into Texas.

Rep. Joe Poole, D-Tex., introduced a bill in Congress for a feasibility study of the area as a national park site.

Wirth said the proposed park site probably will be discussed Friday when the advisory board and other park service officials reach Big Bend National Park in Texas. They expect to spend three days there in a projects meeting.

Race Unrest Grips Small County Seat

CLINTON, La. (AP) — Wide-brimmed, Western-style hat clamped tight on his head, the judge strode toward the ancient courthouse, a landmark of 1838 vintage.

Someone spoke to him, but Judge John R. Rarick retorted: "Hell, I'm worried about Negroes—I got no time to talk."

For Rarick and about one-third of Clinton's 1,600 population, there was reason to worry. Negroes, comprising the other two-thirds of the population, had gone to the streets with their grievances for the first time.

GRASSROOTS

Clinton, little more than a cluster of stores around the old courthouse, is typical of the Southern grassroots. Located in a cattle farming area of south Louisiana, it is only 25 miles south of the Mississippi line.

Change in racial customs is inconceivable to a large majority of the white minority which controls the economy and the government—as in other Southern towns.

A militant Negro group, jolting the town awake to racial issues, raised the threat of change that would leave no small town immune.

KEEP DRIVE

Perplexity and resentment prevail among the white residents; Negro spokesmen vow to keep up their drive, apparently triggered by a voter purge of six years ago.

The voter rolls of East Feliciana Parish, of which Clinton is the governmental seat, were purged after Henry Earl Palmer became the parish registrar.

At that time there were about 1,500 Negro voters among the 4,100 persons on the parish's poll list. Palmer said that since the purge, 2,600 white persons and 119 Negroes have re-registered.

PASS TEST

"We don't discriminate," said Palmer, who operates a dairy. "I enforce the law to the letter. I don't care if a thousand register if they pass the test."

Sheriff Arch V. Doughty said that before Palmer took office unqualified Negroes were registered.

"I doubt if some of them could even read," said Doughty.

Negro spokesmen protest that discrimination keeps them off the voter list. William Brown, 19, a college student from Tucson, Ariz., and a volunteer worker for the Congress of Racial Equality, said he believed some points in the test are administered illegally to Negroes.

MEETINGS

Brown and other CORE workers began holding mass meetings in August to push voter registration. Rarich issued a restraining order against demonstrations.

The Negro unrest spilled into the streets Oct. 12-13 when pickets walked in front of four stores. The pickets were arrested.

"Our picketing," said Brown, "is aimed at voter registration —at some communication other than the courtroom."

But, as in similar situations, the Negro drive aimed at one issue then spread over other areas of discontent. With a high unemployment rate, Negroes want better jobs; they want biracial talks.

RING UP SALE

"The variety store has a Negro clerk," said Brown. "He serves the customer, then the white manager rings up the sale. Negroes aren't allowed to use the cash register."

A Negro boycott has hurt business at several stores.

A merchant, I. G. McKnight, said: "At this stage, I'm not going to be surprised at what happens."

What about the outcome? What can the Negroes hope to gain?

There's no chance of changing our customs," said McKnight.

But Emmett Collins, Negro clerk in a drugstore and the father of the local CORE chapter leader, said most of the Negroes support the drive in Clinton.

"I don't think they'll stop," Collins said.

Phone Talks Off Indefinitely

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Discussions by the Communications Workers of America and General Telephone Co. of the Southwest of a new contract have been recessed indefinitely.

Company spokesmen said Tuesday the halt was called at the request of union negotiators, who wanted to await developments in a CWA strike against an affiliated firm, General Telephone Co. of California.

The company said the union suggested the recess also in light of respective positions taken by parties in the negotiations.

Issues here are similar to those in California, the company said. It stressed that the negotiations were recessed and not broken off.

"The union previously had filed a request for permission to conduct a strike vote," the company said in a statement. "However, at the close of today's negotiations the company was informed that the union did not contemplate an immediate strike vote."

Negotiations have been in progress since June 20 over changes, amendments and modifications to the present contract. It contains an "evergreen clause" which keeps the agreement in effect until and unless either party goes 30-day notice of termination.

The company said such a notice has not been filed by either party. It added:

"Union demands include improved pensions, improvements in company-paid major medical insurance and expanded paid vacation benefits. The company has made offers and proposals to these demands."

No Deadly Whitefish Found Here

None of the smoked whitefish from the Great Lakes area, connected with serious cases of botulism in other areas of the United States, has been found so far in Big Spring stores, Lige Fox, sanitarian of the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit, said Wednesday morning.

"We have checked with several merchants and will continue to check," Fox said. "We also advise individuals to check their freezers. The smoked fish is not cured. It is only a partial process and unless it was refrigerated, and kept refrigerated immediately after being packaged, there is danger in it."

Canned fish are not involved, and neither are packaged shipments from other areas, Fox said.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, state commissioner of health, ordered all smoked whitefish, processed in the Great Lakes area, confiscated. He said Tuesday he acted at the request of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration following outbreaks of botulism.

LAMESA (SC) — Bob Goolsby, sanitarian for the South Plains Health Department here, surveyed all grocery stores in the city and found none of the smoked whitefish, normally packaged in a plastic container marked "ready to eat" but not under refrigeration.

Home Symbolizes 'Establishment'

LONDON (AP) — Ten days of political turmoil are fading into history, but the British middle classes are waking up to what they thought was a dead dream of the past.

"All the chaps are back in again," said one young progressive conservative. The "chaps" are more than just a group of well mannered, well dressed and well bred members of the upper class. They are all that the 14th Earl of Home symbolized to the man who catches the 8:17 to London from his suburban home. To this middle class commuter, Sir Alec Douglas-Home may have shed his hereditary titles on the road to power, but he is still the same aristocrat with the same hereditary connections.

BORN TO LEAD

In short, Douglas-Home belongs to the Establishment — — members of old families, graduates of a few old schools, officers in the right regiments. He is one of those in Britain born and trained to lead.

"The Establishment," political commentator Kingsley Martin has written, "is that part of our government that has not been subjected to democratic control. It is the combined influence of persons who play a part in public life, though they have not been appointed on any test of merit or election."

This system of choosing a governing elite worked handsomely while Britain was a world power. It produced men of talent, vigor and courage who built an empire.

MIDDLE CLASS

It had one virtue not often found on the continent — it was open to successful men from all ranks, especially the middle class.

Rough Jack Churchill, a 17th Century soldier, became the Duke of Marlborough and ancestor of Sir Winston Churchill. The Cecil family, country yeomen in the 15th Century, created the Salisbury line and served as advisers to the first Queen Elizabeth. Harold Macmillan is the grandson of a farmer but the son-in-law of a duke.

As an example of the continuity and strength of the Establishment, go back only to 1957. Churchill and the present Lord Salisbury engineered the choice of Macmillan as prime minister. This month Macmillan almost singlehandedly picked Douglas-Home.

Castro Curtails Daytime Beer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio has announced a government ban on daytime sales of beer during work-days, starting today.

Fidel Castro's Interior Ministry set 6:30 p.m. as the time Cubans can start buying their their brew.

"In this way workmen can buy beer after they finish their daily work, and vagrants and parasites will not be in a position to obtain great amounts of the product," said the broadcast, monitored in Miami.

A Gathering Of Pumpkins

Little Shawn Marie Murray, 15 months, is fast getting into the swing of Halloween. She's perched among carved pumpkins on steps of her home on Chicago's near north side. The carvings are the works of her grandfather, John Bianco, who passes them out to youngsters in the neighborhood this time of year. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Czechs Enjoying Surge Of Foodstuffs, Goods

PRAGUE (AP)— "De-Stalinization is here," a man in a Prague butcher shop said, patting his ample belly and wrapping an enormous chunk of pork in a copy of the Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo.

His family's Sunday dinner cost him nearly 1-20th of his monthly salary, but he was looking around for more things to buy. All over Prague a shopping spree was in full swing, from canned strawberries from Red China to North Korean cigarettes, Russian vodka and East German cameras.

A flood of food and consumer goods unprecedented in Czechoslovakia's 14 years of Communist rule illustrates the regime's efforts to make people forget the harsh facts of life behind the Iron Curtain.

"The Communists obviously reckon that with more to eat and dress people might more readily accept the party's claim that things have truly changed and that the old times under Stalin are gone forever," one Western diplomat says.

The greater availability of many consumer goods made many Czechoslovaks apparently forget the continued power shortage, insufficient housing and lagging industrial production.

Side streets in Prague are virtually unlighted at nights and the lights are dimmed to near-darkness in the villages under drastic power saving measures in force since early this year. Workers have to show up for shifts in the evenings and on Sundays when power use elsewhere is usually low.

Stalin's statue, the biggest that ever loomed over the Communist world, has finally disappeared from its place on the Voltava River banks — seven years after the dictator was discredited. The pedestal of concrete is crumbling.

Talk Planned By Freeman

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will deliver the keynote address at a Wichita Falls meeting honoring five Texans with "man of the year awards in Texas agriculture".

The quintet will be presented the awards at the Texas County Agriculture Agents Association meeting Nov. 3-5.

The men were chosen by county agents on the basis of their contributions to agriculture. They are:

David Gault of Manor: He runs a 1,400 - acre ranch with 160 Holstein and 85 Jersey dairy cattle. Gault is manager of the Mid - Tex Milk Producers Association and currently is a member of the Agriculture Department advisory committee on milk and dairy products.

C. G. Scruggs of Dallas, editor of Progressive Farmer magazine. He is past president of the American Agricultural Editors Association and the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation. Scruggs received the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association outstanding service award in 1962.

Rufus Peeples of Tehuacana. He is a graduate of Texas A&M and has been superintendent of collegiate livestock judging contests at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. He grazes 250 commercial cattle on his 2,000-acre ranch.

W. W. Harral of Fort Stockton. He owns sheep and goat ranches in Upton and Pecos counties and runs 3,900 Rambouillets on his 42 sections in Pecos County.

W. L. Stangel of Lubbock. He is dean emeritus of the school of agriculture at Texas Tech.

Rotary Hears Methodist

Dr. Lloyd Hamilton, superintendent of the Northwest Texas District of the Methodist Conference, spoke to Rotarians Tuesday on a citizen's responsibilities to his community.

"All of us are interested in our own businesses," he said, "but some of us are empty as citizens because we are not doing the things we should be doing in and for our communities. If we are doing what we believe to be the best in every way possible, instead of what we talk ourselves into believing, our country would be safe from anything—from without or from within.

"Just being against something is not enough," he said. "We should ask ourselves what we are for. When we do that, and project life as we should, no foreign ideologies can come in to this nation. Our trouble is within us."

15,000 Homeless

MEXICO CITY (AP) — At least 15,000 persons were left homeless as rains from Hurricane Flora flooded most of the state of Campeche in Southeastern Mexico, Campeche Gov. Jose Ortiz Avila reported Tuesday. He was here to see President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Dragon On The Loose

A rare Dragon of Komodo escaped from a fair sideshow in Houston Tuesday night and was on the loose Wednesday morning as police tried to track it down with a police dog. The Indonesian dragon, shown here with keeper William Graham, is described as a meat-eater that preys on rodents and other reptiles. Show officials said the reptile is not believed to be poisonous but cannot be handled by one man when crawling. They said it is valued at $2,000. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Jurors Continuing Debate On Slant Drilling Lawsuit

AUSTIN (AP) — Jurors resumed deliberations today in a state $3.6 million slant-hole suit against five East Texas oilmen.

This case is the first to be heard by a jury among numerous civil penalty suits filed by the attorney general in the wake of last year's directional drilling investigation. The verdict is expected to influence the outcome in similar suits.

The state seeks more than $25 million in penalties in the various suits.

Defendants in this case are H.M. Harrington Jr., Charles Lutes, Reid Allgood, Douglas Godfrey and J. W. Baton, all of Gregg County.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Cecil Rotsch asked the jury Tuesday to "assess a penalty so severe they will know it is not profitable to do this."

"The state of Texas has been insulted by this conduct," Rotsch said. "You are called upon to put a stamp of disapproval upon it. Here and now is the time to stop this monkey business."

Harrington, who also is a lawyer, argued in his defense that the state did not show that the Wood County well in question is deviated because the state's well survey is inaccurate.

The state contends the well is bottomed illegally under an adjoining lease 1,600 feet from the wellbore surface location, and produced illegally during 3,650 days over a 10-year period.

Program Planned

Area Athletes At Texas Western

Pictured above are some of the boys from the Big Spring-Sweetwater-Abilene area who are playing varsity football for the Texas Western College football team in El Paso. The back row includes (left to right) Dexter Pate, Big Spring, center; Jimmy Evans, Big Spring end, captain of the team; and Jerry Tucker, Big Spring quarterback. Front row, they are Jack Irons, middle linebacker from Big Spring; Leroy Johnston, middle linebacker from Abilene; and Larry Durham, Sweetwater, a halfback.

Big Spring Athletes Big Help To Texas Western

EL PASO — At recruiting time, when the college coaches start their annual roundup, one of the first stops in Texas is at Abilene while many fine athletes at nearby Big Spring are overlooked.

Not so by the Texas Western coaching staff. The 39-man Texas Western varsity roster lists no fewer than four athletes from Big Spring and all figure high in the Miners plans.

Three of the Big Spring athletes are currently operating on the Miners' Orange unit while the fourth is splitting time between the Orange and White units.

Lean Jim Evans is a typical example of Big Spring talent. The gifted left end for the Miners came to Texas Western on a basketball scholarship, but is currently one of the top pass receivers in the nation.

The other three Big Spring Dandies are quarterback Jerry Tucker, a 5-10, 180-pound sophomore; center Dexter Pate, a 5-11 190-pound sophomore, and middle linebacker Jack Irons, a sophomore who checks in at 5-10, 185.

Evans, Tucker and Pate draw starting assignments with the Orange unit while Irons works as the middle linebacker for the White unit and often sees service with the Orange team when the Miners are on defense.

The Tucker-to-Evans passing combo has been one of the chief weapons Coach Warren Harper has in his ammunition dump. In the first six games Tucker has hit Evans with 25 passes for 362-yards and one touchdown.

In last week's national statistics Evans ranked No. 4 in pass receiving with 21 catches for 308-yards. He caught 4 against Colorado State for 54-yards.

Tucker has been the No. 1 passer for the Miners all season. He has completed 45 of 114 attempts for 603 yards and two six-pointers.

Like Tucker, Pate drew the starting assignment offensively for the Miners as a freshman last season when Texas Western was still using yearlings on the varsity.

Pate has been described by opposing coaches as one of the quickest linemen to cover punts they've ever seen recently.

Irons came into his own during spring training. He put on additional weight following his freshman campaign and appears to be a sure bet to fill co-captain Leroy Johnston's spot as the No. 1 middle linebacker next season.

PAT WASHBURN'S
The Roundtable

Big Spring's ALBERT FIERRO, District 2-AAAA's leading passer in the yardage covered department, is ahead of his 1962 pace despite a bad night against the Abilene Cooper Cougars last Friday.

After six games, Fierro has completed 35 of 102 tosses for 601 yards. At the same point in last year's grid campaign he could only show 446 yards as he was completing 21 of 60 attempts.

In the rest of the passing statistics, Big Al is coming along sub-normally compared to his 1962 mark that made him the top aerialist in the district.

During the Steers drive for a title in 1962 he was chunking the pigskin at a commendable 21.2 yards per catch—this year's total shows a 17.2 mark. Last year at this time he had only suffered three interceptions—he had that many alone picked off in the Cooper game as he now has seen seven of his bombs go astray into enemy hands during the first six games of this fall. In the touchdown category, he was producing at a double rate last year, having thrown six a year ago while he has connected for only three this year.

Although his passing has tapered off in some areas from the hot streak he hit against area 11's in 1962, he has shown himself to be a better than average running quarterback. After the Cooper contest, he had amassed 227 yards in 56 carries for five TDs and a 4.1 average to completely overshadow all performance figures of last year. At that time, he showed a mere 30 yards on 14 attempts for a 2.1 average per carry. He hadn't scored a touchdown by the rushing route.

These figures make Fierro one of the top running QBs to play for the Steers during their modern football era.

* * * *

The Jayton Jaybirds are moving up to District 8-B, 11-man football next season. That in itself is cause for a day-long celebration with waving of Confederate flags in Forsan and Garden City.

Jayton has been tough on the Buffaloes and the Bearkats, not to mention most everyone else it's met in eight-man football circles in this part of the state. Last year the Jaybirds soundly thumped Oscar Boeker's Forsan Bisons in a bi-district contest and then this year turned the trick again as they roared over the locals, 50-20. Jack Woodley and his Bearkats met a similar fate—a 48-8 mauling last Friday night from the black and gold.

The Jaybirds and their wide-open winning style of football is unforgettable. They run approximately nine types of pass patterns, and the thorn of the matter is that they have a quarterback who's a good passer. But that's only sprinkling compared to the rough running game they possess—they have both the backs who can bruise you up the middle for yards and also the speed demons who'll eat you alive around the flanks. Anyone who saw either the Forsan or Garden City games felt sorry for the locals who were obviously outclassed but everyone admitted it was one of the most marvelous high school coaching jobs that they had ever seen.

Next fall could be a different story. District 8-B could easily be called the roughest of its kind in the state. Almost everyone of the teams is a powerhouse—Loraine, Bronte, Trent, Robert Lee. Hermleigh is the lone black sheep who gets badly whacked. Jayton is in for trouble, even though the worse season their coach has had in 10 years with the Jaybirds is 7-3. It has won district the last five years and gone on to the playoffs.

Head coach Sonny Arthur needs five more games to round out his schedule. He shouldn't have any trouble. Anyone want to get slaughtered?

Montgomery Ups Scoring Lead

Midland's Ross Montgomery, who faces the Big Spring Steers this week, enjoyed a good week against Odessa Permian last Friday and now leads District 2-AAAA in scoring with a total of 58 points.

Montgomery is an even 20 points ahead of Bill McKinnon, the Abilene Cooper halfback, who was held scoreless by Big Spring last week.

A Midland end, Mack Lawrence, is third in the scoring derby, only one point back of McKinnon.

Eddie Cotton Poised To Challenge Champ

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—It may take a while for Eddie Cotton to get a crack at the world light heavyweight championship. But the quiet Seattle fighter will take the title in pieces if he has to.

Cotton ranked the No. 1 contender to World Boxing Association champion Willie Pastrano, won the Michigan version of the world title with a unanimous decision over sixth-ranked Henry Hank of Detroit Tuesday night.

Cotton has won decisions over highly rated foreign fighters, including Scotland's Chick Calderwood, but has yet to get the fight he wants—with Pastrano.

Cotton, 36, gave away seven years and 2½ pounds to Hank, but used his six-inch reach advantage to keep the Detroit slugger off balance with an effective left jab. Cotton weighed 172½ pounds and Hank 175.

The Seattle puncher, a tool and die maker with an aircraft firm when he's not fighting, admitted Hank hurt him in the ninth round.

"He hit me good, but I didn't let him know it and was able to box out of it," Cotton said.

Hank sat dejectedly in his dressing room and talked of quitting the ring.

"When a man fights as good a fight as I did in his home state and loses, then it's about time to quit," he said.

Chemeres also asked that a check for the $4,500 Cotton was guaranteed for the bout be posted. He later backed off on the request.

Cotton's manager, George Chemeres, had threatened to pull his fighter out of the match after finding out a 90-second rest period would be used between rounds, instead of the usual 60 seconds.

He later backed off on the demand.

Cotton, of course, would like to fight Pastrano, but it appears a bout with either Germany's Gustav Schultz or Italy's Guilo Ranaldi will be next.

Tony Trabert Calling It Quits As A Pro Netter

PARIS (AP) — Tony Trabert today cleaned out his desk, buttoned up his memories and turned his back on competitive tennis.

For the past 10 years, Tony's life has been devoted to playing, winning and promoting tennis tournaments. Now he's turning to business.

After coming out of the Navy in 1953, Trabert won the United States singles championship twice, Wimbledon once and the French title twice. Then he turned professional in 1955. For the past year he has been executive director of the International Professional Tennis Players' Association, acting as impressario and promoter for the pro tour.

By next week, Trabert will be in Los Angeles to take charge of the branch of a Cincinnati-based firm making men's and women's hosiery.

Tony admitted that there were other considerations than money in making his decision.

"I've lost the desire to work at training so I could play in the tournaments," he said. "And if I'm going to organize the tour, I don't really have the time to play. All the glamor has gone out of traveling for me and I've had to spend so much time away from home that family life is bound to suffer. Our children are getting to school age and I think I owe it to them to get settled in one place."

High Scoring 'Dogs Face Steers Friday

The second highest scoring team in District 2-AAAA comes to Big Spring Friday night to do battle with the club that has yielded the fewest number of points to five opponents.

Midland, which has scored only one less point than San Angelo (164 to the Bobcats' 165) tangles with the resident Steers in a game that will make or break the local club's chances for a first place finish in the league.

The Steer scouts didn't have to warn their charges of the gravity of the situation at hand. The Bulldogs, who are coached by able Harold King, were selected as one of the two favorites to win the conference crown (sharing the distinction with San Angelo).

The Bulldogs might have lived up to that promise had injuries not hit them at a critical time. They lost successive decisions to Abilene (a long runback on a kickoff by Rusty Harris beat them) and San Angelo but at a time Chubby Rice, an ace halfback, and tackle Eldon Shirey were on the sidelines with physical miseries.

Shirey got in some part-time action against Odessa Permian last week and Rice could return to play this week.

Midland had seven full-time offensive and defensive starters back from last season, including the one-man gang, Ross Montgomery, who personally led the Bulldogs to an upset victory over Big Spring as a sophomore in 1962. Montgomery is bigger and faster than ever this fall. Only San Angelo, with its massive line, managed to slow down big Ross.

Bill Wood, who had a lot to do with Midland's win over Big Spring last fall, is back and will be at the quarterback spot for the Bulldogs. Against Big Spring in 1962, he passed like Sammy Baugh and ran the club like a pro.

Coach King, of course, builds his offense around Montgomery, a 210-pounder, and few opponents have been able to do much with him. They simply give the ball to Ross, aim him at some part of the line and crank him up. He reacts like a cow pony with a burr under its saddle.

Ronnie Anderson, another Midland back, does an effective job of blocking for his teammates and goes down for an occasional pass.

The Steers' defensive challenge is complex, according to scout Delnor Poss, because they must gear to slow Montgomery on his off-tackle slants and stop Wood on his sprint outs and 'belly keeper' plays. Bill Murray is still another Midland hand who screens effectively for the Midland ball carriers.

One of Wood's favorite passing targets is Max Lawrence, one of the top scorers in the district and a hard man to defense in the flat zones and down the middle.

Montgomery also does the punting for Midland and he is very effective. Coach Poss says he's never seen a better punter than the big junior. In games Delnor has seen, Montgomery has been able to kick the ball without a runback within the ten-yard line on five occasions. One of the reasons is the excellent coverage the Midland team gives its kickers on their punts.

Midland started out with a sensational 50-0 victory over Ysleta, then followed with a 44-15 rout of Amarillo Palo Duro. Palo Duro is the same team which knocked off Borger, a 1962 state finalist, last week.

The Bulldogs have given up 98 points this season but 44 of those came in the San Angelo game, at a time the Bulldogs were gravely wounded.

Six-Man Offense

Flower Grove, the only area team playing Class B six-man football, sends these boys on the field every time the Dragons begin a series of offensive downs. In the line, on the front row (left to right): end David Cave, center Anthony Hanson, and end Bobby Deatherage. In the backfield, on the second row (left to right): halfback Norbert Gonzales, halfback Jack Webb, and quarterback Mike Roman. Head coach J. W. Massingill is in the background.

Pros Conquer Amateurs, 10-5

DALLAS (AP) — The professionals are champions of the Texas Cup Matches for the fourth straight year.

They beat the amateurs 3-2 in the doubles and 7-3 in the singles and came out ahead 10-5 in the 30th annual matches.

The amateurs had high hopes after holding the pros to a one-point margin in the doubles. But only John Paul Cain of Lubbock, Bobby Greenwood of North Texas State University and Ed Hopkins of Abilene could win matches in the singles, closing feature of the meet Tuesday.

Gay Brewer of Dallas beat Marty Fleckman of Houston 3 and 2, Don January chipped in from 35 feet way on 18 to edge John Farquhar of Amarillo 1-up, Jack Sellman of Houston beat Ross Mitchell of Lubbock 1-up, Bobby Morris of Dallas won over George McCall of Austin 3 and 2, Doug Higgins of Fort Worth downed Jim Greenwood of Houston 5 and 4. Dick Turner of San Angelo beat Mike Glover of Dallas 6 and 4 and Shelley Mayfield of Dallas beat Don Addington of Dallas 2 and 1.

Hopkins had the distinction of shooting the low score—a 5-under-par 66—as he beat Ray Gafford of Fort Worth 7 and 5. Cain won over Earl Stewart of Dallas 1-up and Bobby Greenwood defeated Byron Nelson of Roanoke 1-up.

The pros now lead the series 18 matches to 11 with one tie.

Johnson Proves Worth To Cards

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlie Johnson's arrival as a top flight quarterback is reflected in the team statistics of the National Football League which show the St. Louis Cardinals leading in both total offense and passing at the season's halfway mark.

The Cardinals also can move the ball on the ground with Bill Triplett and Joe Childress carrying the mail. The St. Louis rushing total of 1,016 yards is topped only by Cleveland and Green Bay.

Johnson's passes to Bobby Joe Conrad, Sonny Randle, Jackie Smith and Triplett are the big gainers in the St. Louis attack that has rolled to 2,744 yards, including 1,728 in the air.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Craswell, who managed the Syracuse Chiefs to the Northern Division championship in the International Baseball League last season, will manage the team next year, the club announced Tuesday.

Lakeview Loses To Blackshear

San Angelo Blackshear defeated Big Spring Lakeview, 28-14, in the old stadium here Tuesday night but had to work for everything it got.

The visitors scored one touchdown in the first round, two in the third and one in the fourth.

Big Spring managed its tallies in the first and second quarters.

Midway in the first quarter, Carl Johnson ran 50 yards for San Angelo's initial score. Carl Coles tried to run on the conversion try but was stopped.

Big Spring scored in the first on a pass from quarterback Tommy Mitchell to Claud Tucker, good for 11 yards. Leonard Evans then added the extra two points on a run.

In the second, Lakeview scored again with about 90 seconds left in the period when Robert Jackson recovered a San Angelo fumble in the end zone.

Coles went one yard for Blackshear's second tally in the third at the end of a 67-yard drive and Johnson boomed across for the two extra points.

Again in the third San Angelo's Samuel Bradley passed to Reuben Ross and Ross churned across the double stripes. The play covered 70 yards.

San Angelo iced the decision by scoring again in the fourth when Johnson raced over from 15 yards out on a sprint around left end. That particular drive covered 85 yards. Coles then added two more points to the Blackshear aggregate on a run.

On offense, Mitchell, Evans and seventh grader Claude Tucker played outstanding ball for Big Spring.

Defensively, Tucker, Robert Jackson and Albert Wilborn stood out for the Rockets.

The defeat left the locals with a 1-2 record. They return to action Nov. 9, at which time they go to Midland to meet Carver Junior High.

CRMWD To Check On Dam Sites

Field studies of two prospective dam sites on the Colorado River will be started Thursday by Colorado River Municipal Water District officials and consultants.

W. L. Eeds, Fort Worth, representing Freese, Nichols and Endress, the district's engineers, and William F. Guyton, Austin, hydrologist consultant, will join with E. V. Spence, CRMWD manager, and O. H. Ivie, assistant mnager, in surveying one site in Mitchell County and one in Coke.

Considerable study has been given to the Mitchell site, about a mile north of the Coke County line, but additional information may be sought. Arrangements are being made for core drilling in the area of a prospective site just north of Robert Lee. This is the beginning of an exhaustive analysis of the two sites to determine which would be most advantageous.

Actor Adolph Menjou, Suave Veteran, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Adolph Menjou, who typified the suave, elegantly attired man-about town to a half century of filmgoers, is dead.

The veteran actor, whose career spanned more than 50 years and over 200 films, died of chronic hepatitis Tuesday at his Beverly Hills home. He was 73.

Menjou's third wife, the former Verree Teasdale, and their adopted son, Peter, 27, were at his side.

The actor had been in ill health nine months, his son said.

Menjou, born in Pittsburgh, Pa., was filmdom's epitome of the European gentleman.

His clipped mustache and precise speech, along with his dapper clothes gave him the image. He said it was deliberate.

Menjou attended Cornell University where he wrote, produced and directed college theatricals.

Before World War I, he made screen love to such stars as Marguerite Clark and Norma Talmadge.

After the war Menjou followed the film industry to California. He hit his stride in 1923, appearing in "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks," "The Sheik," with Rudolph Valentino, and "Woman of Paris," with Charlie Chaplin.

From 1924 to 1929, he earned a reported $7,000 a week. He signed a contract with MGM in 1927 for the same figure, but declined afterward to sign exclusive contracts and remained a free lance actor for the rest of his career.

In 1953-54, Menjou starred as narrator of a television series, "My Favorite Story."

Man Injured In Scaffold Fall

A 58-year-old employe of a Midland advertising company fell about 10 feet from a scaffolding at the west viaduct Monday morning, according to Nalley-Pickle ambulance drivers, who took the man to Medical Arts Clinic Hospital.

Louis Arrelin, Midland, was treated for possible cracked ribs, according to hospital authorities. High winds apparently caused the scaffolding to topple.

Mother Panics, Killed By Auto

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Hoyle Turner, 36, panicked when her car began rolling down her driveway with her 16-month-old son inside.

She reached the car after it sped across the street and was pinned by the vehicle against a tree.

She was killed. The little boy was unhurt.

Injured Infant, Mother Join Family After Delay

Charlotte Green, four-month-old infant who was injured in a two - car collision 6½ miles south of Big Spring on US 87 on Oct. 18, was flown Monday to an Oklahoma City, Okla., hospital.

She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Green. They were flown in a Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. airplane. Company spokesmen said they had a flight "going in that direction" and were "happy" to have the two as passengers. Arrangements for the flight were made at the request of Mrs. Lester C. Wilbanks, 1206 Harding.

Charlotte was treated at Cowper Clinic and Hospital here for a brain concussion and a fractured arm following the accident. A brain specialist from Midland was called in as a consultant Saturday when the concussion resulted in convulsions, hospital spokesmen said.

Ten members of the Green family were involved in the accident as Thomas Green, the father, was moving the family from San Angelo to Oklahoma City. Green was recently discharged from the Air Force at San Angelo.

The infant and her mother will be reunited with the family in Oklahoma City.

Charlotte's condition was described by hospital authorities as much improved.

Showers Missing From Dry Texas

By The Associated Press

Rain stayed conspicuously absent from bone - dry Texas Wednesday.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy over the state. About the only change in prospect was a slight warming in most sections Wednesday night.

Extended forecasts, looking five days ahead, called for temperatures 2 to 7 degrees above normal and little or no moisture anywhere in Texas.

Top temperatures Tuesday ranged from 70 at Dalhart, Dallas and Galveston up to 83 at Brownsville and Laredo.

Westerners Hold Dance

Big Spring square dance groups will host the fall Westerners Association Dance to be held Saturday evening at Webb Air Force Base.

The event will begin at the Service Club at 8 p.m. with a Grand March and will run until 11 p.m. About 20-25 squares of dancers from the West Texas area are expected to turn out for the occasion.

A new president, vice president and secretary - treasurer will be elected and will assume their new duties for the coming year.

The organizations hold 3-5 such dance festivals each year, with the one in Big Spring always popular. Spectators are welcome.

Hosts for the event will be the Big Spring Squares, Cosden Promenaders, Howard County Hoedowners and the Mates and Dates Teenage Club.

Warrant Issued

LAREDO (AP) — A warrant for the arrest of Laredo insurance and real estate man Reynaldo Gonzalez, 32, was issued Tuesday. He is the 13th person charged with conspiring to smuggle arms and ammunition into Mexico.

Only 14 Vote

With just one week remaining in which to cast absentee votes, the lack-luster interest which has marked the operation since it opened continues. Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that only 14 absentee votes have been requested—one of the smallest totals of such votes in many elections. The absentee voting is for the Nov. 9, special election.

Life is a jigsaw puzzle with most of the pieces missing. —Anonymous

DAILY GUIDE—Try putting the pieces together in the particular puzzles you have on hand. This is a day for clearing up pending matters, getting last minute confirmations, winding up negotiations, etc.

Around the lunch hour there could be much generous hosting or many gifts. Take off a little time to relax. Arians are especially urged to make this day a big one in pushing ambitions, seeking favors, obtaining appreciation or publicity.

Sagittarians and Leos can also count on enjoyment through friends or loved ones, travel or inspirational contacts.

Late evening excellent for conversational get - togethers, hospitality and happy fellowship.

Tomorrow back to routine, but with a pleasant overall atmosphere lingering. "Trick or treat" activities in the evening likely to be more strenuous and costly than usual; young people take over with excessive pressure for the loot they can collect.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, SCORPIO! Get your ideas down on paper and discuss them with others; work out details which you initiated in past few weeks. Be extra careful of financial upsets in the coming week, especially of involvement through new or erratic friends.

In the late spring a year-cycle of favorable relationships with others begins, and could improve marital affairs or bring marriage, if eligible. Seek opportunities through alliances.

Home base has caused you some worries perhaps, -and there could be more difficulties in February. Parental, romantic or social matters of concern in the summer months; choose old ties rather than be influenced by recently made friends.
