

City, county offices close in observance of Thanksgiving

The City and County offices will be closed Thursday and Friday in observance of Thanksgiving Day. The city offices include city hall, the city manager's office, civic center, museum, tax department and the water department.

The county offices are the county courthouse, the public library, tax-assessor-collector office, Community Action program, county agent's office and all offices located in the courthouse and the annex.

The public schools will also be out for the Thanksgiving holiday. School will resume Monday for both Colorado City, Lorraine and Westbrook.

Mitchell County Briefs

Playoff action

Texas high school playoff action will continue in West Texas with Sweetwater and Big Spring hosting three games this weekend.

District 6-3A representatives Crane and Ballinger will be in regional games in Sweetwater and Big Spring. Ballinger will face No. 1 ranked Littlefield in Sweetwater at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Crane will battle Post in Big Spring at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Big Spring will also be the sight for the Haskell and McCamey showdown. That game is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Christmas program

Lone Star Gas Co. invites the public to attend a Christmas program, December 7th at 2 p.m. at the C. C. Thompson Room.

Kathryn Cawley, consumer information specialist, will give ideas on decorating your table, recipes and ways to package and decorate foods as gifts.

Spanish literature

Fotonovelas, Romances and Westerns, written in Spanish are now available in the Mitchell County Public Library, 340 Oak.

Visit the library to borrow some books from the shelf marked "Novelas Populares."

That way you will receive many hours of pleasure.

Christmas show

The Opti-Ms. Club in conjunction with the Mitchell County Day Care is sponsoring a "Magic of Christmas Show" at the Colorado City High School Auditorium at 7 p.m., December 9.

The program is a fun-filled 90 minutes, chairperson Ann Gregory said. The World famous Fred Cowan Puppeteers will be featured along with a fantastic Fiesta Mexicana.

A drawing will be held to give away a video game or other prizes. Advance ticket prices are $2 for children and $3 for adults. Tickets will be $3 and $4 at the door.

Proceeds from the program will go toward Matching funds.

Volleyball league

Monday and Thursday nights are adult volleyball nights at the Wallace Center. Game time is 7:30 p.m. with a 50 cent charge per player.

Admission to watch is free and players are welcome to bring along their children.

Library closed

The Mitchell County Public Library will be closed Thursday, November 24 in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Local farmers face tough year progress

EVERYBODY'S HOPE EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

By LUIS RIOS
(Editor's note: The Colorado City RECORD is doing a four-part series concerning the economy status of Mitchell County and mainly focusing on Colorado City as the center point. The series is entitled Progress - Everybody's Hope, Everybody's Business. The third part of the series will entail the plight of the local farmer in 1983. The fourth part of the series will concern the Oil Industry).

Progress and growth are two words that have a different meaning for the Texas farmer, especially the West Texas farmers in Mitchell County.

Farming, the economic base for this predominately agricultural community, has always been at the mercy of the government and the natural elements.

Unfortunately, neither were too kind to the local farmer in 1983. The early season's drought See PROGRESS, Page 2

DWI case dismissed

By LUIS RIOS
Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter granted a motion to dismiss against Joe Chavez, who was arrested for driving while intoxicated, in a pre-trial hearing at the county courthouse Monday afternoon.

Chavez, a truck route driver for Frito-Lay, was arrested for DWI March 9, 1983 by Texas Department of Public Safety trooper James Burson. Also riding in the vehicle was Milton Ray Dillard.

The motion to dismiss was granted on grounds of insufficient evidence. Defense attorney Elliott Mitchell said his client was denied the right to take a breathalyzer test after the arrest.

Burson testified that he asked Chavez "four or five times" whether or not he wanted to take the breathalyzer test. Burson said Chavez refused to take the test the several times he was asked.

Chavez said he had nodded his head and indicated that he might have given a negative response but could not recall.

"I just shook my head," Chavez said. "I was scared because I was being arrested and I did not know what was going to happen."

Ground-breaking held for new restaurant

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Monday morning on a new steakhouse restaurant to be located at the intersection of 17th Street and Hwy. 208 in Colorado City.

Owners of the new restaurant are Mike and Mac Humphries, owners of the Sonic Drive In's in Colorado City and Snyder.

The Humphries will call their new restaurant Mac-Michael Steak and Seafood. The restaurant will contain 3,860 square feet and have two dining rooms with one dining room having the capability of being portioned off for banquets, club meetings, etc.

According to Mike Humphries, the new restaurant will have a seating capacity of 120.

The exterior of the building will be brick with cedar panels on the three sides with a rock front.

Construction of the building is being done by JBS Construction of Colorado City.

The opening date is set for around the first of March.

The Humphries expect to employ approximately fifteen employees after the restaurant opens.

A complete menu featuring char-broiled steaks, seafood and salad bar will be offered.

Grief remembered 20 years later

By LUIS RIOS
It was a grief too great for words for the entire world.

The world remembered the tragedy which shocked the world that Friday, November 22, 1963 in Dallas.

Twenty years later on the eve of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the country not only remembered but relived that gray day in history.

This is the way RECORD News Editor Ruth Coffey described that day:

The President of the United States is dead.

Word of the death of John F. Kennedy on a downtown street in Dallas, Texas, disrupted the even ways of an average day in this average American town as nothing short of global war could do.

Downtown streets in Colorado City were walked by stunned citizens. Some of the merchants went home in shock silence. Some walked about office or stock rooms completely bewildered.

Work stopped. People crowded around television sets to stare in disbelief. Police radios here and throughout the area hushed in stunned silence.

Housewives cried. School pupils old enough to realize the impact of the national and international tragedy dashed out of classes to telephone their homes.

coupled with the flooding before the harvest time really hurt the farmers, Jessie Wright of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service said.

"However, I think its (crop production) is better than anticipated earlier," Wright said. "We don't have much data from the farmers yet. But most of them felt they were not going to make anything because of the drought."

However, the Payment in Kind program (PIK) helped alleviate some of the burden from the farmers' shoulders. It especially helped those who had cattle, aces, and fences, said Curtis Latimer, who farms in the Longfellow Community.

Latimer also said that the situation was not as bad as earlier anticipated.

"The acreage of cotton planted was down from 1983," Wright said. "In 1982 it was 64,600 pounds of cotton planted and for 1983 only 43,924 pounds were planted."

She also said the county produced 26,066 bales last year. The cotton planted in 1981 was 79,238 and produced 57,788 bales.

Although, the 1983 crop was not good, the outlook for next year looks promising, she said. The farmers will be without the PIK program and any type of disaster relief program next year.

The drought, which affected West Texas drastically, had a more severe effect on the other counties, added one farmer.

"The drought was really bad," Latimer said. "Some (areas) had nothing. But from Big Spring on this way it looked better, not good, better."

One local farmer, Travis Turner, added that the rains and flooding following the long summer drought may have hurt the grade and quality of the crop this year. He said the flooding caused about a $20 drop in the bale per acre price. "It wasn't like it was before the rain," Turner said. "We had good quality cotton before the rain."

Turner also said there was a lot of optimism for the upcoming year.

"I think we will look at next year with a lot of optimism," he said. "With the moisture we have, the outlooks good."

"If you stay with it, it will stay with you."

Its looking a lot like Thanksgiving, turkeys, Pilgrims, corn and Indians decorating the tables and walls.

Tuesday the children from First Methodist Church had a Thanksgiving program for us.

Wednesday, the children from the Mitchell County Day Care shared their Thanksgiving spirit with us.

Last Monday, Mary Lynn Hackleman and the Wallace Center choir came to sing for us. Everyone enjoyed that and we hope they will come back soon.

Thursday, turkey and dressing with all the trimmings will be on our table to remind us we all have so much to be thankful for.

Olga Bolin was in the limelight last week as we honored her birthday with cake, punch, pictures and well wishes.

Most of our residents could not run to the store and pick up a "Butterball" to prepare years back. They tell me almost everyone had a turkey penned to fatten and began to cook and prepare a week before the day of celebration.

They have all worked and prepared many Thanksgiving dinners.

Trial

Chavez said he later became apprehensive and asked for a breathalyzer test. Chavez then added that Burson told him that it was too late and had already refused the test.

Chavez's license was suspended by the TDS and he also had a hearing pending in Big Spring about his suspension prior to the pre-trial hearing Monday.

Ashford

Pauline Ashford, 86, of Colorado City, died at 6:15 a.m. Sunday at Root Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Services were at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Henry Salley, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Burial was at Colorado City Cemetery, directed by Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Born Pauline Massey December 23, 1896 in Hays, she had lived in Colorado City since 1926. She married Charter Moore in December 1927 in Sweetwater. He died on October 1, 1964. She married Leon Ashford June 1, 1968, in Colorado City. He died January 29, 1982. She was a member of First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Bonnie Brown of Colorado City and Lucille Byrd of Fayetteville, Tenn.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Harley Maberry of Odessa; a son, Johnny Moore of Sweetwater; three sisters, Jessie Williams of League City, Gussie Williams of Abilene and Juanita Chriss of Toledo, Ohio; three brothers, John W. Massey of El Toro, Calif., L. D. Massey of Harlingen and Dempsey Massey of Doniphan, Mo.; 11 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Grief

Several college students, hundreds of miles away from home, called long distance.

"It's unbelievable. I'm too shocked to think straight. It can't be true. I keep thinking we'll all wake up to find that it couldn't happen."

Those were the thoughts, hopes and dreams of the American people.

They were thoughts, hopes and dreams that vanished with time. But those very things which died with JFK were rekindled 20 years later on the anniversary of his death.

And the American people now look back and they know what a great man died, what what he stood and fought for, still lives today. Those very same thoughts, hopes and dreams that seem to have vanished still prevail and are what the people now know as the American way of life.

Lorraine Sr. Citizens enjoy dinner meeting

At the regular dinner meeting of the Lorraine Senior Citizens Club Tuesday night, the Lorraine Senior Citizens kitchen band entertained with some very fine music. Though they stated they were still in the practicing stage, the audience was very enthusiastic with their applause.

Mrs. Willie Taylor accompanied for the group. Willie Taylor and Allie Ruth Wiggins played harmonicas, Raymond Wheeler took over the percussion. Though his improved drum was a discarded nail key, he was featured along with the harmonica players in solo numbers. Other members of the band played pans, spoons, washboards, etc., all together making the musical notes.

The pot luck meal was enjoyed before the program. The walls of the hall are decorated with beautiful fall colors.

A large crowd enjoyed the food, program and fellowship.

What Is Thanksgiving?

Thanksgiving is a day that is celebrated mainly in the heart.

It is a time when families seem closer and friendships dearer...

A time when troubles are forgotten and blessings are remembered...

When "love" is the theme, and "thank you" the prayer...

When young and old stop to meditate and decide,

"This is a pretty wonderfull world we live in, after all..."

Thanksgiving is that time of year when we gratefully say,

"Thank you, God..."

Thank You for everything!"

Contel reaches compromise on increase

Continental Telephone of Texas, which services Lorraine, has officially announced that it has agreed on a compromise settlement with the Public Utility Commission of Texas regarding its recent request for increased rates.

The Commission has approved an annual increase of $1.769 million, effective November 3, 1983.

Director of Public Affairs, Loma Allen, Jr. stated that while his firm feels that the original amount of its request was fully justified, they are nonetheless pleased with the PUC decision. "This decision approved and established several new service and pricing methods," Allen stated, "and we feel they are critical in the new competitive environment of our industry."

An important new method approved was usage pricing, where customers in certain exchanges pay for local service based on how much they use it. Another important feature that will affect all customers is charging for directory assistance. After three free requests each month for local or intrastate directory assistance, customers will be charged 25 cents for each additional request.

Also approved was charging for mobile telephone air time usage, and for time and materials involved in installation and repair functions. These new offerings are important in that they help establish the principle that customers pay for what they use," Allen continued, "and don't pay for what they don't use. The approval by the Commission of these new concepts will be more equitable for customers and make the adjustment to the changes in our industry easier for everyone," Allen concluded.

Mr. Roy Beights of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ruby Compton of Memphis, Texas visited their sisters, Mrs. W. R. McAfee of Colorado City and Mrs. W. R. Bruce of Loraine during the weekend.

Members of the Beights family gathered in the home of Mrs. Bruce Saturday at noon for a pre-Thanksgiving dinner and an afternoon of visiting. Those present were Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. McAfee, Mr. Roy Beights, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bruce, Leslie and Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bruce and Brad of Colorado City, Ralston Bruce, Loraine, Mrs. Roland Landfried and Mrs. Ida Beights of Roscoe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ivan Bell of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Beights, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Beights, Loraine, Tracey Beights of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lefevre, Loraine.

Mrs. Pauline Griffin and son, Charles Griffin of Roscoe and her daughter, Mrs. John Mayse of Pleasanton returned home last Tuesday after spending a week in Alexander, Va., visiting her grandsons and families, Mr. and Mrs. David Griffin and two little daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Griffin.

While there they visited all the places of interest they could. The day were filled with sightseeing trips. There was so much to see it was hard to choose where to go. The grandsons took off from work and accompanied them, which gave them time for a visit and also seeing sights at the same time.

News from

Loraine Nursing Home

By MARSHA RICKARD

Family night Thanksgiving dinner was again a great success due only to our many family members and friends. Approximately 120 people attended our dinner Friday night and to compliment the marvelous turkey, dressing, green beans, yams, mashed potatoes and cranberry jelly was a vast array of colorful and tasty desserts. A film featuring the State Senior Olympics held in Austin was shown to the attending guests and residents. It displayed the talents of our 100 Texas nursing home residents and their ability to com-

TEHA club observes Thanksgiving

Members of the Baumann TEHA Club met at the Loraine Cree-Mee Tuesday November 15, for a meal of turkey, dressing and trimmings, observing Thanksgiving.

After they meal, they went to the home of Inez

Webb for their regular business and social hour.

The president, Bernice Hallmark presided. Club prayer was led by Pauline Smiley and Vada Preston directed a quiz for recreation. Roll call was answered with

"How I dress up food to make them attractive."

A thank you note was read from the State Childrens Home in Abilene for the love offering the club had sent them recently.

Plans were made to attend the Country Club's Christmas luncheon in Colorado City on December 8.

Those present were Mmes. Pauline Griffin, Inez Webb, Bernice Hallmark, Clara Butler, Lynn Compton, Vada Preston, Gladys Payne, Era Mae Cornutt, Stella Harris, Pauline Smiley and Adel Thompson.

Easy ways to save.

When the temperature starts to drop, here's what you can do to help hold down your heating bills and save money. Set your thermostat at 68° or lower.

Remember, the lower you set your thermostat during the winter, the lower your electric bill will be. At night and when you're going to be away, set it at 55° or lower. Open drapes during the day to let sunlight in, and close them at night to help hold in warm air.

These easy ways to save can help you use less energy this winter. And you can learn more ways to help hold down your electric bill — winter and summer — with a TIPS booklet from Texas Electric. For your copy call us or ask for it on the comments section of your electric bill.

AWARD WINNING PHOTOGRAPHY

White continues to campaign for teachers

By GOVERNOR MARK WHITE

Texas teachers, who began their classroom careers back in 1973, earned the same $6,000 starting salary as a state prison guard.

Today, those teachers with a decade's experience on their resumes have learned a bitter economic lesson.

Although Texas teachers earned an average

$19,500 during the 1982-83 school year, they experienced an overall loss in purchasing power over the last 10 years and that beginning Texas prison guard now earns $2,600 more than the base state salary paid first-year teachers.

I have attended Select Committee on Public Education hearings in Dallas, Austin and Beaumont and heard teachers, parents, business leaders and labor union representatives argue the inequity of paying beginning teachers less than an apprentice pipe-fitter or Houston garbage collector. It is a convincing argument.

Last April, a report by the National Commission on Excellent in Education warned of "a rising tide of mediocrity" in the nation's educational system and recommended increasing teacher salaries, extending their contracts from nine to 11 months, and providing more incentives for the brightest students to enter the teaching profession.

Texas' school children cannot wait for better economic times to get a quality education, and teachers cannot meet their challenge in the classroom if they have to moonlight at a second job to make ends meet.

The Texas Education Agency expects more than 4,000 teaching positions will go unfilled this year. When a teacher with a bachelor's degree and 23 years' experience makes the maximum state-appropriated pay scale of $19,620 per year, it is no wonder that high-paying industries are luring the brightest college graduates away from careers in education, leaving acute shortages of math and science teachers.

A bipartisan Congressional task force reported last month that paying teachers based on merit is worth an experiment but offers no real solution to the problem of attracting more qualified people into the teaching profession.

Teachers' exodus from the classroom is not a problem unique to Texas. Teachers in all but eight states experienced a loss of buying power in the past decade, forcing many to enter different lines of work.

Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching reported this summer that the average amount spent per student increased 182 percent nationwide from 1972 to 1982. Teachers' salaries, as a portion of total school expenditures, dropped from 49 to 37 percent during the same 10-year period.

Polls have shown that the public is willing to accept some form of tax increase to support improvements in education but objects to paying more for the same programs packaged in fancy new labels.

I am confident the Select Committee on Public Education will recommend a far-reaching package of education reforms—one that will improve state aid to poor school districts, achieve a balanced curriculum, and significantly increase teacher pay. I look forward to signing a bill which recognizes, in tangible dollars and cents, the contributions and dedication of Texas teachers.

ROSS PEROT, left, Chairman of the Select Committee on Public Education, listens intently as Governor Mark White makes a point about teacher salaries and the quality of education in Texas during a recent hearing of the committee.

CowBelles furnish packets to school

The Tejas CowBelles met November 8, at the La Pasado Restaurant in Big Spring. Lucille Sterling, president, announced that the nutrition packets have been placed in the third grade classrooms in Mitchell, Scurry and Howard Counties. "Food Power Tower" kits will be assembled to use for demonstrations in the classrooms.

The Texas Beef Cook-off for 1984 will be held in Lubbock in April. This year each recipe must contain two pounds of beef and each serving must have three ounces of beef. Anyone interested in entering the contest should contact a local CowBelle.

Jean Bullard discussed the Dairy Bill before the legislature and asked each member to call her Congressman.

A book review on the "Five Thousand Year Leap" by Cleon Skousen was presented by Susan Alexander and Kathy Pickett.

The next meeting will be the Christmas Party at 11 a.m. December 1 at the Snyder Country Club.

Changes beginning from breakup of Bell system

Local business managers and owners are already experiencing changes resulting from the breakup of the Bell System, scheduled to occur January 1, 1984.

"The first local evidence of the effects of divestiture on customers is that business telephone customers now have a new AT&T number to call for Bell telephone service and equipment," Harold Pelzel, AT&T district manager, said. "They now should call a toll-free number, 1-800-392-7100, which will be answered by a business service and sales center."

That business service and sales center is one of 79 opening nationwide this year, as AT&T prepares to assume national responsibility for all customer premises equipment formerly provided and serviced by the Bell operating companies, such as Southwestern Bell.

The new center, now technically a Southwestern Bell facility, will be operated after January 1 by AT&T Information Systems and staffed by experienced customer service representatives transferred from the Bell companies.

In January, according to Pelzel, AT&T not only will sell, lease, and service existing business telephone equipment, but will offer a broad range of state-of-the-art voice, data, software, and switching products and systems.

"We're geared to meet any and all communications needs of the business customers in our serving area," Pelzel said, "including offering customers the convenience of what we call 'one-stop shopping' for equipment and service."

Pelzel said business customers need to use their own time efficiently, which means they will want someone knowledgeable and experienced to handle their communications needs for them.

Nationally, the new business service and sales center will serve more than seven million business accounts, large and small. On a daily basis, they will handle an estimated 80,000 order-related contacts and 20,000 billing-related contacts associated with customer premises equipment.

Pelzel said every effort is being made to transfer responsibility for customer service to the new business service and sales centers during the last quarter of 1983 with as little disruption to customers as possible. The move will be integrated into what AT&T terms its "Circle of Service" structure, which links the service and sales organization with a network of skilled service professionals.

"Nationally, we now have 30,000 highly-trained systems technicians assigned to specific geographic areas or specific business customers," Pelzel said. "These are the same people, the same familiar faces, who now install and maintain Bell business phones."

He added, "In our business service and sales centers, we'll have another 12,000 equally knowledgeable professionals working closely with both our customers and the systems technicians."

"And backing up all this expertise is a national network of technical, logistical, and administrative centers—and of course, the technology of Bell Laboratories and the product reliability of Western Electric."

"Quality is the name of the game," Pelzel said. "Quality of product, quality of service. In both arenas, we've set the standards. We now have the largest telecommunications services force in the nation. We plan to give customers what they want, when they want it, and at a competitive price."

Bentsen reminds Americans of "good things"

By LLOYD BENTSEN

No one claims our country is trouble free.

I spend most of my time in the Senate, in fact, wrestling with a host of problems ranging from budget deficits to bilateral trade, from the high cost of medical care to higher education.

In spite of all our problems, though, we as Americans have a lot to be thankful for.

This is the season when we pause to reflect on what's right with our country and to give thanks for our many blessings.

In 1621 the Pilgrims of Plymouth Colony faced far more formidable obstacles than we do today. They were grateful for just surviving their bitter first winter on the continent and for harvesting their first corn crop, so they took time out to observe our first Thanksgiving. Three days of feasting were declared, with the neighboring Indians invited to share in the rejoicing.

The custom of setting aside a Thanksgiving Day spread throughout the colonies. It was observed at various times down through the years.

President George Washington proclaimed in 1789 that November 26 would be observed as a day of national Thanksgiving, but observations were sporadic, varying from state to state.

In 1863, President Abraham Lincoln declared that the last Thursday of that November would be a national Thanksgiving Day. Each year for the next 75 years succeeding Presidents formally proclaimed the holiday. In 1939, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt moved the observance up by one week.

It wasn't until 1941 that Congress finally took action to set aside the last Thursday in November as a national, legal holiday.

It has become a time for families to gather and give thanks, each in its own way, for the good things we as Americans are blessed with.

Even though we are just emerging from one of the bitterest recessions in the history of our country, we should remember, during this season especially that for nine out of 10 people on this planet, our problems would be their solutions.

Our country remains the biggest, most important, freest market in the world. At a time when half the world goes to bed hungry, the American farmer can feed about 78 people and some of our best-selling books are on how to lose weight.

Here we can live and worship and work as we please. We are committed to peace, but none should ever doubt that we have the will and the means to defend our freedom.

Sometimes we worry about the quality of our educational system—and with cause—but we should also remember that year after year we win more Nobel prizes than all other nations combined.

For the rest of the world, America still shines as the dream of a better, brighter future. We who are privileged to be living that dream have an obligation to preserve and defend it.

This is a time for each of us, in the midst of our problems and worries, to pause and look at the other side of the coin. It is a time to count our blessings and to give thanks for them.

You'll Rake In Results in the WANT ADS

I would like to take this opportunity to say thanks to all my customers for making this past year a great success. Your tremendous response to our remodeling and expansion was more than I expected. Your support is very much appreciated. I look forward to serving you again in the future and may your blessings at Thanksgiving be many.

Pratts entertain Loraine Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Pratt entertained the Loraine Bridge Club last Tuesday evening with a Thanksgiving dinner and evening of games at the "The Special Place" in Sweetwater.

The meal consisted of baked turkey and all the trimmings in this beautiful and unusual setting which consisted of antiques, gift items and etc. Three tables of bridge were played. Those enjoying the evening were Messrs. and Mmes. Glen Coon, Ray Preston, Tharon Henderson, Royce Mahon, the Pratts, and Mrs. Billie Ruth Tarrt and Mrs. Harris Hamilton.

8th grade girls lose opener to Coahoma

By TONY FRANCO
Colorado City's eighth grade girls basketball team never quite found teamwork in their 43-33 season opening loss at Coahoma last Monday night.

Individual stellar performances for coach Kathy Marshall on offense and defense were Jennifer Monroe and Christabel Molina respectively.

The scoring for the Wolves came too few and far apart though. In the first period, Colorado City could only muster a total of three points, while Coahoma totaled 17. In the stanza, Yolanda Salazar dropped in a bucket and Molina made one free throw.

Monroe found her touch in the second quarter. Along with Misty Strain's two points and another Molina free throw, Jennifer connected for nine points to cut Coahoma's halftime lead to 25-15.

In the third period, Colorado City's offense matched Coahoma bucket for bucket, but the defense allowed Coahoma to stay up by nine points. Monroe led third period scoring with six more points while getting help from a bucket by Strain and a free throw by Salazar.

A lack of ball control really hurt the Wolves in the last period. After having kept up with Coahoma after the disastrous first quarter, the Wolves simply couldn't swing control of the game to their side.

Though Colorado City closed out the game with nine fourth period points, Coahoma answered with ten to end the game.

Scoring for the Wolves were Monroe with 19, Salazar with six, Strain with two and Muncie with two.

Boxers travel to Mexico for tourney

By TONY FRANCO
Last Saturday and Sunday, the Mitchell County Boys Club boxing team got in a bit of international competition.

Along with teams from Eagle Pass, Del Rio and Uvalde, the county boxers travelled to Ciudad Acuna, Mexico and fared very well.

The team, coached by Vince Gaona, returned with four championships and two runners-up.

Champions and weight classifications were Joe Flores in the 135 pound division, Gabriel Gaona 98, Bobby Arocha 92 and Jeremy Strawcutter in the 65 pound division.

Leonard Rico in the 105 pound division and Greg Gaona at 50 captured runner-up titles.

On the tournament, coach Gaona felt "The boys are coming along good. They're coming on stronger this time."

Gaona said that Ciudad Acuna "wants to fight Colorado City again," though a rematch hasn't been finalized.

"They had never boxed before," stated Gaona, adding that "it was good experience for both clubs."

Next Friday and Saturday the boxing team will be in action in a tournament at Seminole.

8th boys start season on winning note

By TONY FRANCO

Last year the seventh grade boys basketball team was 15-1. This year the eighth graders have picked up where they left off.

Colorado City's superb young athletes proved too much for host Coahoma as they raced by 43-15.

Coach Ronnie Gainey, attributed the season opening win to "good street ball. We didn't have much of a team game, but some of the players came through."

The Wolves did play together on defense though. Time after time pressing defense turned into easy baskets for Colorado City.

In the first period, Colorado City hardly had any offense at all. Ito Davilla turned two offensive rebounds into four points and Ismael Silva added a bucket for the Wolves 6-0 lead after a quarter of play.

The passing game gave a turn for the better during the second period as two more players got into the scoring. Davilla continued his dominating play down low with six points, while Guy Compton and Cory Ritchey were adding four and three points respectively.

With the thirteen points, Colorado City extended its halftime lead to 19-6.

At the start of the second half, Colorado

City immediately went to high post Davilla, who maneuvered to the basket for easy points. In the quarter, Ito burned the Bulldogs for eight quick points and then sat out the remainder of the game to finish with a game high 18 points.

In his absence, Ken Norman showed good rebounding ability while adding four points of his own. Also in the third quarter, Compton continued producing as he added four more. The big scoring spurt for the Wolves provided a 35-13 lead after three periods.

By the final period, Coahoma was just worn down. Colorado City, using fresh players, continued its pressing defense and running offense to put the game away.

For the game, Colorado City scorers were Davilla with 18 points, Compton with nine, Norman with four, Ritchey and Cory Flanagan with three points each and Silva, David Garcia and Dwayne Jones who each finished with two.

7th grade girls fall to Coahoma Monday, 26-21

By TONY FRANCO

In last Monday's season opener, the seventh grade girls basketball team hustled well and gave host Coahoma a tough battle before falling 26-21.

From the onset of the game, the Wolves' defense hung in tough and caused the Bulldogs to commit turnover after turnover.

The play from Wolves Mary Reyes and Oria Gonzalez and others on defense kept the Pack in the game during the first half, but the inability of the offense to get the ball to the open man did the same for Coahoma.

In the second period, Denise Lowrance and Sylvia Alvarez both made buckets for Colorado City's 4-2 halftime lead.

In the third period, behind the ever pressuring defense, the Wolves offense finally came to life. Along with one bucket apiece by Sheila Monroe and Kim Wulfen, Reyes connected for six of her team high eight points. That made for a 14-7 lead for Colorado City after three periods.

The defense that had been so tough for the three previous quarters finally made a big bend in the fourth.

Coahoma outscored the Wolves 13-6 in the last quarter to force an overtime period. Two buckets by Monroe and one by Reyes kept the Wolves in the game at the end of regulation play.

After having come from so far back, the Bulldogs new found life carried into the overtime period. Coahoma reeled off six straight points before Lowrance answered with one free throw to end the game.

Scoring for Colorado City were Reyes, eight points, Monroe six, Lowrance three, Alvarez two and two.

7th graders bring Coahoma to knees

By TONY FRANCO

Last Monday, the Colorado City seventh grade boys kicked off their basketball careers with a 39-11 thumping of host Coahoma.

In an offensive showing that saw nine different Wolves get in on the scoring, it was tenacious defense that gave the Bulldogs fits all night.

The Wolves, coached by Mark Merrell, continually pressed Coahoma into making errant passes that hustling players such as Georgie Lara, Mark Russell and Pat Ridge promptly stole.

Though ball control lacked in the scheme, the Colorado City offense, behind Paul Ausbie and Dennis Smith steadily picked Coahoma apart for a 14-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Beau Rees started contributing to the Wolf cause. Along with Ausbie, Rees rebounded well and got into the scoring picture. Before game time, Rees went on to collect a game high 10 points.

Meanwhile, the Wolf defense was as present as ever as Coahoma trailed by a score of 26-4 after three periods.

Michael Morales on defense and Bubba Bailey on offense in the fourth quarter further buried the Bulldogs in a show of bench strength.

Contributing to the Wolf scoring were as follows: Rees 10 points, Ausbie, Lara and Smith six, Bailly four, Heath Watlington, Morales and Victor Luera each with two points and Jerry Hulme with one point.

What was your initial reaction after viewing "The Day After"?

Traci Blackwell, "I didn't watch it but I've heard other's reaction to it. I think it motivated them because they knew if it did happen they wouldn't have a chance to survive and they should try to accomplish all of their goals. It made them think about life and how fortunate we are. I don't think the world will be destroyed by nuclear war. God created us and he'll destroy us but not by the ignorance of man."

John Marrion, "The threat is real but the number of people killed would be much greater although total destruction wouldn't happen. It wasn't as realistic as it could have been. It could have been better."

Francis Godwin, "My reaction was that I thought about what had happened before at Hiroshima. Nuclear war is terrible and no country should have to go through it. I have read about Hiroshima and I feel they tried to depict that in the movie. They showed the affects of radiation poison and how people will die a slow death. Our cities will be destroyed and I feel it must never happen."

Carolyn Walker, "I thought it was as graphic as we could stand as a society. I understand that it would be much worse. I feel that it is very close to our times. At this time there are 42 wars going on in the world. We realize in viewing this film that if a nuclear war begins, there would be nothing left. I felt good that people could be aware of this. I talked to people before the movie and some said they wouldn't watch it. I think if we understand it then we'll make sure that it won't happen. I don't feel the U.S. and Russia would ever begin a war because of the outcome. What frightens me are the third world nations coming up. For instance like Khaddafi, he wouldn't mind destroying the world with him because he's extremely radical and has no sign of responsibility. This is what frightens me. I told my history class that we can't look and be fearful of something like this and not continue our lives. We have to live our lives to the fullest day by day."

Doris Green, "I did watch it and it was kind of scary but I don't think it will be like that. Some people lived through it but I don't know."

Yvonne Lujan, "I did watch it but I didn't think it was very good but it did make me realize that it could happen. It scared me too. I'm not afraid to die but I'd hate to watch the world that God created go to pieces. I hope it doesn't happen. We don't have the right to destroy the world God made for us. After I saw it, I went outside and just started thinking that it wouldn't be right. It's not fair that unborn children have to live in that kind of world. If it does happen, I hope I die because I wouldn't want to live."

Stephens announces his candidacy for State Representative

Wednesday morning, November 23, Republican F. L. (Steve) Stephens, President of Town & Country Food Stores, Inc. announced his candidacy for State Representative, 66th district of Texas.

The 66th District includes Coke, Mitchell, Sterling and Tom Green Counties.

With him for the announcement were his wife Pollyanna, their daughters Susan, 19, a sophomore at Texas A&M, Liz, 16, a sophomore at Central High School in San Angelo and a large number of friends and supporters.

The primary election will be next May, with the general election being in November, 1984.

"For a number of years I have considered seeking a seat in the Texas Legislature. For business and family reasons the time has not been right for me to do so prior to now. Over the past several weeks I have been encouraged by my family, my business associates as well as a large number of friends in the district to consider running in the upcoming election," Stephens said.

The present State Representative is Democrat Dick Burnett of San Angelo.

It's estimated that 75 percent of Americans know their astrological sign.
