

State House, Senate Quit For Weekend

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—A Senate proposal to raise the pay of the governor and other state officials immediately ran into a snag in the House today.

It left the matter hanging and recessed until Monday after adopting a policy of working five days a week this session. But this week, the House worked only three days.

A Senate bill appropriating 1 1/2 million dollars for legislative expense included a rider raising the pay of the governor from $12,500 a year to $25,000; the attorney general from $10,000 to $20,000, and giving other constitutional officers boosts under a constitutional amendment adopted last November.

When the bill reached the House today, Rep. Curtis Ford, Corpus Christi, said the rules prohibited considering it. Ford said the House may not take up any bill except one for legislative expense during the first 75 days of a session until after passage of the general money bill.

Ford said the Senate bill was an appropriation bill insofar as the salary raises for state officials was concerned. Speaker Jim Lindsey said he wanted time to study the point of order and the House quit until Monday.

Earlier today, the Legislature got a new job of bad news: The actual shortage in funds to run the state the next two years is higher than Gov. Shivers figured in his message yesterday.

The bulky executive budget laid out members' desks showed a total lack of 65 1/2 million dollars instead of 61 million announced by Shivers in his first message to the session.

The budget shows an additional 4 1/2 million; 2 million for session expenses and 2 1/2 million for employees' retirement.

Shivers yesterday told the lawmakers they will have to dig up 15 million dollars in new revenue to make up for the shortage and to add what he considers essential spending for state services, including highways.

Other lump sum items recommended in the governor's budget: Judiciary, $7,186,670; state departments, $37,381,152; hospitals and special schools, $55,016,482; higher education, $89,033,359; junior colleges, $6,853,814; all two-year figures.

Actually, Texas spends more than a billion dollars on government operations during a two-year period, but much of it is paid for by federal aid money, fees, and fixed allocations of many types. The Legislature has over-all direction in spending under a policy adopted four years ago.

Both houses were in session today. The House voted 106-19 to follow a policy this session of working at least five days a week because the session faces an unusually heavy workload.

The Senate met for 10 minutes and adjourned until Monday.

In recent years, the Legislature in the early days of a session has often worked three or four days, recessing for long weekends.

Legislators are keenly conscious that they are working for $25 a day rather than $10 and that if the job is not finished in 120 days, the pay drops to zero.

Speaker Jim Lindsey gave the House a quick shove in the direction of getting down to the business of legislating by naming committees to study and process bills before they can be debated on the floor.

LI. Gov. Ben Ramsey said he would not have his committee assignments ready until after the inauguration ceremonies Tuesday.

Formal introduction of bills in the House will probably begin next week. Members today drew for the

Bristow Draws Key Committees

Membership on several important committees of the House have come to Rep. Obie Bristow of Big Spring. Committee appointments were announced in Austin yesterday by Speaker Jim Lindsey of Texarkana.

Bristow was put on the potent Revenue and Taxation committee, which considers all tax measures, and which will have an important role in the state's financial policies for the next biennium.

The Big Spring legislator was named chairman of the Education committee. This could also be a key job. If Gov. Shivers' proposal to base school state aid on average daily attendance rather than the school census is implemented, this committee will have a major task.

The segregation issue also might come under its surveillance.

Bristow also was put on the Constitutional Amendments, Liquor Regulation and Public Lands committees.

STANTON — Sometime in February Stanton voters will be asked to pass upon bonds aggregating $87,750.

Of the total $55,000 would be in revenue bonds for various waterworks purposes. The remainder would be for other municipal improvements.

Included in the water division are $20,000 for waterworks expansion, $15,000 for refunding and $10,000 for purchase of lands in fee for new well field purposes. A $25,000 municipal swimming pool highlights the bond issue along with $6,000 for street improvements and $8,750 for a recreation hall.

ODESSA — Voters were passing upon a proposed $785,000 bond issue for the Odessa Junior College Thursday.

If approved, the bonds would finance the erection of a science building, expansion of business offices, new classrooms, a student union building, additions to the gymnasium and a practice auditorium and stage.

Originally $1,309,751 had been proposed, but when all company representatives entered a protest, the issue was pared.

On pay, he proposed increases only for men willing to serve longer than a minimum time, saying it is necessary to maintain "the experienced hard core of a modern fighting force."

Calling for a "selective" rise, Eisenhower said there should be no increase for officers in the first three years of their service and none in the first two years for enlisted men.

He said extension of the Selective Service law, due to expire June 30 "is necessary because experience demonstrates that active armed forces of the size we must maintain cannot be raised by voluntary enlistments alone."

Acting Officer Named For Vet Land Program

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN (AP)—Dennis Wallace, employe 20 years with the State Land Office, today was named acting executive secretary for the state's 100-million-dollar veterans land program, under state and Senate investigation.

Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder told the Veterans Land Board at a called meeting today he is not yet ready to nominate a permanent replacement for Lawrence C. Jackson who resigned from the post Tuesday. He recommended Wallace temporarily, and the board voted approval.

Gov. Shivers and Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard, other members of the board with Rudder, attended the meeting, flanked by assistants who have often represented them at such meetings in the past.

Senate investigators announced yesterday they will subpoena witnesses to probe deeper into alleged irregularities in the program.

At today's meeting, board members continued their recent "get-tough" policy on pending applications for land loans under the program.

They approved 35 applications and sent back five others for "more information." The hold-ups were ordered when a family relationship was shown between buyer and seller.

Shivers moved for the delay and Sheppard concurred, declaring: "We want to be sure it isn't just a matter of refinancing a farm within the family."

Shivers also wanted to know if there were any "lease-back" arrangements on any of the applications up for approval. Wallace said there were not.

Many cases under recent fire involved land sales in which the seller had agreed to lease back the land for three years at a sum equivalent to payments due on the land during that period.

Shivers, who recently stated he is "taking full responsibility" for administration of the program, called for all future applications to be accompanied by a full information report by state appraisers.

Numerous past transactions have had blanks left unfilled in the appraisers' reports.

"If the appraisers can't get the information, we can get new appraisers," said Shivers.

The decision of the Senate Investigating Committee to subpoena witnesses was announced by Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo, chairman, at the end of a brief executive session yesterday.

Hardeman said he was not at liberty to say who would be subpoenaed or where they are from to avoid any possibility they might dodge service.

The committee went behind closed doors for the first time yesterday after state investigating agencies told the committee they feared public examination of certain witnesses might jeopardize pending grand jury investigations and possible prosecutions.

Hardeman said no date has been set for resumption of hearings, either public or closed, into veterans land matters. Yesterday the committee heard additional figures and affidavits from the state auditor and Department of Safety indicating fast profits for some land promoters and misrepresentations to veterans and to the state in big "block" transactions.

Hammarskjold arrived today from his mission to free 11 American airmen in Red China and stayed in bed during a brief plane refueling stop here.

The big silver Super constellation landed at 5:14 a.m. His personal aide William Rannallo told newsmen:

"You're out of luck, boys—he's staying in bed. He's very tired."

Hammarskjold persistently has refused any comment on his talks with Chou En-lai, Red China's Premier and foreign minister, on the fate of the 11 Americans and other U.N. prisoners.

Rannallo said he doubted that Hammarskjold would report to the U.N. today.

The plane stopped briefly at Stead Air Force Base here before continuing to New York.

Hammarskjold has maintained a stony silence on the outcome of his mission at every point since he emerged from behind the Bamboo Curtain—at Hong Kong, Tokyo and Honolulu, which he left last night wearing a pink sunburn from an afternoon on the beach.

Demo Committee Places Are Announced In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five Democrats regarded as likely to go along most of the time with the wishes of party leaders in the House were nominated today to serve on the legislation-guiding Rules Committee.

The new members tapped for service on the Rules Committee are Delaney of New York, Trimble of Arkansas, Thornberry of Texas, Bolling of Missouri and O'Neill of Massachusetts.

They will serve with the three Democratic holdovers—Howard W. Smith of Virginia, chairman; Colmer of Mississippi; and Madden of Indiana—and with four Republican holdovers—Lee Allen of Illinois, Clarence Brown of Ohio, Ellsworth of Oregon and Latham of New York.

There were no surprises in the committee assignments, freshman members taking what the veterans did not bid for.

Rep. James Roosevelt of California, son of the former President, was assigned to the Labor and Education Committee, Rep. Dies of Texas, serving his second term, was given a post on the Commerce Committee. Dies, first chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee when it was created during his earlier tenure in the House, had sought appointment to that group but the only vacancy was given to Rep. S. Korea Activates First Full-Strength Division of Marines

SEOUL (AP)—Defense Minister Sohn-Wohn II today announced the activation of South Korea's first full-strength Marine division.

A spokesman said the division, of three brigades, includes about 24,000 Marines, roughly comparable to the U.S. 1st Marine Division now in Korea.

Previously the Korean Marine Corps, integrated in the U.S. Marine division on the Korean front line, had only one brigade.

Sohn also said the South Korean navy would be increased by 27 ships, including two destroyers, on loan from the United States. He said the vessels will triple the size of the South Korean Navy.

Other plans to strengthen South Korea this year include the introduction of a wing of F96 Sabrejets and a wing of C47 transports, Sohn said.

All military expenditures are expected to come out of the $27 million dollars in the U.S. military aid program for fiscal 1955.

Guard Fires Upon Earlier U. S. Plane

By CARLOS ESCUDERO
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—A five-nation commission arrived in a U.S. Air Force plane from Panama today to conduct an on-the-spot investigation of spreading warfare in Costa Rica.

A short time later the Army command announced the capture of Carlos Lara Filie and said he was one of the "rebel leaders" who started the uprising at Villa Quesada that set off the warfare on Tuesday.

The announcement said he was captured uninjured in fierce fighting yesterday at Rio Peje, a town near Villa Quesada. The announcement gave no details on Lara's background. It added that large stores of ammunition, including seven Browning machineguns and many Mauser rifles, were seized from retreating rebel forces.

The announcement said the rebels abandoned one of their dead at Rio Peje. In addition to "Lara," "many" other rebels were captured, including two seriously wounded.

A nervous airport guard gave a trigger-happy welcome to a U.S. Air Force transport plane that arrived in advance of the commission from the Organization of American States.

Arrival of the commission in another U.S. Air Force plane from Panama was short time later without incident. But a single shot was fired at the transport by a guard apparently still nervous over yesterday's air attack on San Jose by a single plane. The U.S. plane was a considerable distance away and the shot was aimed low, so no damage was done.

The commission was named by the Organization of American States to conduct an on-the-spot survey of the tense situation that has developed between Costa Rica and Nicaragua. One of the points still to be established definitely is the origin of the opposition forces.

Costa Rica charges that the warfare was instigated and has the active participation of exiles and others from Nicaragua. But the Nicaraguan government, denying this, said it was a rebellion inside the country aimed at the overthrow of President Jose Figueres.

The U.S. State Department announced it was cooperating by ordering American planes to the battle area to make "pacific observation" flights requested by OAS in the hope such flights would halt air raids on Costa Rican towns.

Luis Quintilla of Mexico, chairman of the commission, said it would get down to work immediately after calling on President Figueres. U.S. Ambassador Robert F. Woodward was among diplomats at the airport who greeted the commission.

Figueres blamed the outbreaks of fighting, concentrated mainly in the north, on exiles and "mercenaries" trained and equipped in neighboring Nicaragua.

Across the border, Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza continued to deny the Costa Rican accusations, classing the fighting in Costa Rica as a "civil war."

He said he had ordered all rebels crossing his borders disarmed and all Costa Ricans in the country rounded up for questioning.

Fighting flared at half a dozen points yesterday and planes strafed nine towns including the capital. Unofficial estimates placed the rebel force at 400 men.

The Costa Rican general staff gave this general picture of the ground and air action.

On the ground: Villa Quesada: "Many rebels" killed and wounded as loyalist forces claimed to have routed the enemy from the town of 3,500 about 40 miles from the Nicaraguan border. It was seized by armed forces Tuesday at the start of the revolt.

Rio Peje: Government forces repelled the foe from this town near Villa Quesada in "fierce" fighting in which one loyalist was killed.

La Cruz: Authoritative reports said a rebel force was moving down the Inter-American Highway from this town only 10 miles from Nicaragua. The U.S. Embassy said six engineers from the United States who have been working on the highway have been evacuated with their families.

The towns of Pemas, Blanca and the small port of Puerto Sole, all near the Nicaraguan border, were reported in enemy hands, but the general staff voiced confidence it could handle the situation.

In the air: San Jose: A lone fighter plane swooped over the capital, machine-gunning buildings near the President's residence. No casualties were reported. The civil guard said the plane—a World War II P47 described as "a Venezuelan plane which came from Nicaragua."

Desperados Rob Bar In Louisiana, Steal Two Cars

RAYNE, La. (AP)—A group of men, believed by police to include escaped killer Julius Bohannon, burglarized a restaurant and bar here early this morning and then escaped after stealing two cars.

They were surprised by a Rayne police car about 4 a.m. They dumped some loose change and two fifths of liquor into a car bearing Texas license plates and fled on foot. In the car police found a map with Oklahoma City circled and a traced route through Texas into Louisiana.

The men were believed to have escaped in a 1947 Nash sedan stolen here about the same time. A 1949 Ford taken from a home a few blocks from the restaurant and bar was found abandoned here.

The search in Southeast Texas and Southwest Louisiana began after a Baytown, Tex., Negro—Burnice Roberts, 42—said he escaped from two men at Silabee, Tex., after they robbed and kidnaped him.

Roberts said police two men kidnaped him at Baytown Monday morning, robbed him of $90 and a watch, and forced him into the trunk of his car. He said the armed pair went to sleep near Silabee after a tour of East Texas taverns and that he escaped and hitchhiked to Beaumont.

Roberts' abandoned, burned car was found yesterday 10 miles north of here.

One Man Killed In Webb Crash

One man was killed in the crash of a Webb Air Force Base airplane about 14 miles northwest of Sterling City this morning.

Details of the crash were unknown at press time, but sheriff's deputies at Sterling City reported the plane burned after striking the ground. Type of aircraft was not reported.

Apparently the crash occurred about 11:30 a.m. Reynolds Foster, rancher, called the Sterling City sheriff's department at that time to report that the plane hit his pasture.

Webb Air Force Base sent a crash truck to the scene of the crash, which has been pinpointed some 10 miles from Sterling City on the Garden City highway and then four miles north on the Foster Ranch.

Unofficial reports are that the plane was a T-33 and only one person aboard.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Pamela Sue, 17 months old. The Brewers are expecting another baby shortly.

Eisenhower Puts Military Program Before Congress

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
And C. YATES MCDANIEL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to extend the draft law four years, grant pay increases to "career" servicemen and create a powerful military reserve to deal with any "aggressor so criminally unwise as to attempt an atomic attack."

The President set out the administration's military manpower program in two special messages to the lawmakers, saying the measures he proposed would give this country the "proper military posture" for the first time in peacetime.

On pay, he proposed increases only for men willing to serve longer than a minimum time, saying it is necessary to maintain "the experienced hard core of a modern fighting force."

Calling for a "selective" rise, Eisenhower said there should be no increase for officers in the first three years of their service and none in the first two years for enlisted men.

He said extension of the Selective Service law, due to expire June 30 "is necessary because experience demonstrates that active armed forces of the size we must maintain cannot be raised by voluntary enlistments alone."

He said too an effective reserve program to provide a pool of trained fighting men is necessary because:

"We cannot possibly keep armed and in uniform the total forces that might ultimately be required in an all-out war. The inescapable burdens would endanger the liberties and the economic system we are determined to defend."

Major parts of the proposed reserve program had been disclosed late last year by the Pentagon.

The chief feature is a plan for six months' training each year of about 100,000 young men who would go directly into the reserve.

"While the high turnover in military personnel is costly in dollars, even more costly is the loss of experience and operational efficiency which results from it."

"We are losing too many men trained in leadership and technical skills—the experienced hard core of a modern fighting force."

To correct the situation, the President recommended:

1. An increase in compensation of military service personnel on a selective basis.

2. A selective increase in hazard-duty pay for airman and submarine crews and for men engaged in parachute duty, demolition work, deep sea diving and certain other specialties. He did not say how much of a rise he wished.

The President also called for these additional benefits for servicemen:

1. A "dislocation" allowance for military personnel with dependents who are ordered to a new permanent duty station.

2. An increase in the daily allowance for temporary duty travel from $9 to $12.

3. More housing for service families in areas where present facilities are insufficient, and authority for reduced rentals where men and their families must live temporarily in substandard housing.

4. "Removal of 'existing inequities' and provision for better medical care for military families.

Southern Opposition Dims Hope For Presbyterian Church Unity

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The chances of a merger of the three United States branches of the Presbyterian Church appeared somewhat dim today as the result of opposition from Southern presbyteries.

The union would unite the three groups now in the process of voting on the proposal, the United Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern). They have a combined membership of about 3 1/2 million.

Unanimous approval of the three is necessary.

Thirteen Southern presbyteries have voted on the issue and 12 have opposed it. A three-quarters majority of the 84 presbyteries in the Southern branch is necessary for the group's approval.

Only ten more negative votes are thus needed among the Southern presbyteries to kill the plan and one of their leaders said Saturday, "We'll get those in the next two weeks."

The statement was made by Dr. Henry B. Denny, secretary of the Association for the Preservation and Continuation of the Southern Presbyterian Church. Dr. Denny, who is also editor of the Southern Presbyterian Journal, in Weaverville, N.C., predicted there would be twice as many antinunion votes as were needed.

Most presbyteries of the 720,000-member Southern church, with headquarters at Atlanta, will vote on Jan. 18, 19 and 25 and a few will ballot in February.

The only Southern group to vote for the merger is the Texas Mexican presbytery, whose congregation, consisting mainly of Mexican people, are scattered through Texas.

Meanwhile, in Philadelphia, Dr. Walton Rankin, publicity manager of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. said 40 out of 256 presbyteries of his branch had voted for union. He said he has received no reports of any presbyteries in his branch that voted against the proposal.

The branch has about 2 1/2 million members.

The third group, the United Presbyterian Church, is scheduled to begin voting tomorrow in Pittsburgh, where it has its headquarters. This group, whose roots go back to Scotland in the 18th century, has 51 presbyteries with about 220,000 members, mostly in Pennsylvania and the Middle West. The results of its vote will not be known until April.

The United Presbyterian Church was not organizationally related to the other two branches.

The Southern branch and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. separated in 1860 as a result of the Civil War. Dr. Rankin said the basic cause for the division was over the slavery issue.

If the union proposal is approved by all three branches, a meeting will be held in 1956 to form a united church.

Youth Faces Death For Rape-Slaying

TOLEDO, Ohio — Eighteen-year-old Bernard Schreiber, found guilty of the rape-slaying of Mary Jolene Fries, 17, today faces death in Ohio's electric chair.

A panel of three judges yesterday found him guilty of first-degree murder in the woodland slaying near here last Aug. 12. The judges deliberated one hour and made no mercy recommendation.

The youth testified he raped the girl in a wood near her home after a 12-year-old boy companion had knocked her unconscious with a club. He said he stabbed her when she regained consciousness.

The 12-year-old boy denied accompanying Schreiber or striking the girl.

News From Webb Air Force Base
By JAMES F. KRUEGER

NEW COMMANDER ARRIVES
Col. Charles M. Young has taken over the reins of leadership at Webb Air Force Base, and has been seen throughout the base by a majority of personnel who are fast learning to recognize the dark-haired six footer.

A West Point graduate, Col. Young came to Webb from an assignment at Fort Bragg, N. C., where he was chairman of the Joint Tactical Air Support Board. A formal reception to honor the new commander will be held in the Officers' Club at Webb Jan. 15.

TRAINING ENDS FOR 55-G
First class to receive the silver wings of pilot at Webb in 1955 is 55-G, composed entirely of student officers. Graduation ceremonies will be held next Tuesday, Jan. 18.

A Wing Review and Jet Flyover will mark the beginning of commencement activities for the graduates who are to receive their wings from Col. Charles M. Young, Wing Commander, in the Academic Auditorium at 3 p.m.

Guest speaker will be George Champion, senior vice president of the Chase National Bank of New York. His son, 2-Lt. George Champion Jr., is a member of the graduating class.

PAY BY CHECKS FOR NCOs
Airmen of the top three grades at Webb will soon be able to have their total pay deposited directly with the bank of their choice, have their check mailed directly to their home, or pick up their check from their squadron pay agent, depending on their signed choice.

In the past, all airmen have received their salary in cash. However, a survey taken here last October showed a majority of the noncoms desired that payments be made by check.

Capt. Harold A. W. Tibbs, Finance Officer, said the new plan will be put into effect as soon as the necessary machinery can be installed.

NCO ACADEMY RESUMES
Class 55-1, the first to attend Webb's NCO academy this year, will be graduated Saturday. Tentative plans call for the Wing Commander to deliver the commencement address.

Final class of 1954 was graduated Dec. 18 shortly after the academy was opened here. During the holidays, the school building received a complete face-lifting, including a new paint job and the installation of new beds.

Present classes include approximately 20 master and technical sergeants each phase. Six more classes will be held for airmen in these grades. From then on, classes will be for staff sergeants, with airmen first class finally being in-

Chinese Elm Trees Donated To WAFB

One hundred and twelve Chinese Elm trees donated to Webb by the State Hospital have been dug up and transplanted around the base golf driving range along 7th and 8th streets and Avenue "A" and in front of Base Operations.

Lt. Col. R. L. Morris, who was in charge of the project, said that the trees range in height from seven to nine feet. "The trees remain dormant at this time of year, but will turn green next summer and begin growing," he said. The elm will be watered once a week to insure the establishment of their root systems and to enhance their proper growth next spring.

Transplanting the Chinese elms was another move toward making the base a better place to live in, the announced purpose of "Operation Oasis" at Webb. There are further plans to bring additional evergreen trees and shrubs to the base in the near future.

Stockholders' Meet Set At Country Club

Annual meeting of stockholders of the Big Spring Country Club is announced for Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Election of directors is scheduled, along with other items of business in connection with the change of the year. All members are urged to attend. Nell G. Hilliard, secretary-treasurer, said proxies will be honored from those unable to attend the meeting.

cluded to prepare them for promotion to NCO status.

BEST MARCHERS GET STREAMER
While men of the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron at Webb stood at rigid attention one day last week, Col. Cleon E. Freeman, then Wing Commander, tied blue and gold streamers to the unit's guidon, denoting its excellence in marching and appearance during the last Wing Review. The squadron will retain possession of the streamers until the next review, following which they will be awarded to the sharpest unit from among the troops passing in review.

PAPER GETS NEW EDITOR
With yesterday's issue of the SPRINGBOARD, official newspaper for Webb AFB, the editorial reins switch from 5-Sgt. Jim Krueger, editor since last March, to T-Sgt. Bill Seiler, who is also NCOIC of the Office of Information Services.

Krueger, who edited the Nagoya AB, Japan, Air Defender before returning to the States and assignment at Webb, will receive his discharge from the AF on Feb. 2. His immediate plans are to finish college.

While overseas, Seiler was co-editor of the Erding AB, Germany, Journal. After rotation to the U.S. he originated and edited base newspapers at Bryan AFB and Harlingen AFB, in Texas.

AIRMAN HAS COLORFUL CAR
Eight basic colors were used to paint A-2C W. J. Nolan's 1950 Ford, which has become almost a moving "landmark" on Webb. The paints were blended and incorporated on the car in a conglomeration even Mother Nature would have difficulty in reproducing in a rainbow.

"A downtown firm handled the 'eight-tone' sedan which is considered 'different'... to say the least. Nolan has plans to replace the upholstery in the car with canvas... but not just ordinary, one-color canvas. The canvas will be painted with oils, displaying color schemes and modern art designs.

GETS TOP GRADE
M-Sgt. John T. Killian of the 3562nd Periodic Maintenance Squadron at Webb recently completed the Aircraft Maintenance Officer Course from the Air University's Extension Course Institute. When his certificate of completion arrived, University officials notified him that his grade was 98 percent—highest ever recorded by the school.

NAMED AIRMEN OF MONTH
A-2C Richard L. Harding and A-2C Joseph G. DeShon have both been selected Airmen of the Month by the Webb Character Guidance Council. Harding received the award for December, and DeShon for November. They each received a $25 Savings Bond, plus the congratulations of the Wing Commander.

12 OFFICERS GET PROMOTIONS
Notification has reached Wing Personnel Office of the promotion of 12 Webb first lieutenants to the rank of Captain. However, the recipients will not be able to pin on the new "double-track" shoulder finery until orders are received here from Hqs., USAF in Washington.

Those on the promotion list, with the effective date of promotion, are: Quinton F. Lewis of 3006 Cherokee, Jan. 5; John Custer Jr., of 2208 S. Monticello, and Leveritt Ficklin of 1301 Grafa, Jan. 7; Francis Jackson of 1402 Marjio, Feb. 14; Wallace Dunning of 104 Canyon Drive, Feb. 17; Richard Raymond of 1507 Young, Feb. 18; and Ronald Youngquest of 1210 Grafa, Roy Johnson of 1301 Barnes, Earl Peck of 1802 Young, George Strader who lives at the OK Trailer Court, and Roy Roberts, Feb. 21; and Frank Bennett, Feb. 23.

ADJUTANT LEAVES FOR TURKEY
Maj. Warren G. Bell, Wing Adjutant since Sept. 8, 1954, leaves Sunday for a six-month TDY trip to Ankara, Turkey, to serve as a member of the USAF Advisory Team for Flying Training.

During his absence the adjutant position will be filled by Maj. John A. Thomas, Manpower and Management Officer, who had held the job prior to Maj. Bell's arrival at Webb. In addition, Maj. Thomas will continue to supervise the M&M Section.

Main Objective Is To Learn Pattern Of Subversive Work

It is perhaps a sound adage to "let sleeping dogs lie." The Peress case is one which does not seriously involve the now celebrated dentist, but it has affected the careers of many others, and has since last March stirred the country by the quarrel between the Army and Senator McCarthy.

Adams had pushed the "honorable discharge" of Major Peress as a solution of the problem. He thought that if Peress was "got out of the Army, McCarthy ought to be satisfied.

POTOMAC FEVER

By FLETCHER KNEBEL

WASHINGTON — Ike inspects his Gettysburg (Pa.) farm. The second battle of Gettysburg will be fought in '56. The question that worries Republican leaders is — will Gen. Meade sound retreat?

Democratic Chairman Butler wants the party's 1956 nominating convention held in late August. It will help the Democratic candidate. The public will have only eight weeks before election to catch on to him.

Republicans think their 1956 nominating convention ought to be in September. Republicans hope to get the election over with before anybody finds out what's in the G.O.P. platform.

After studying Ike's message to Congress, one Democrat says he knows now why Ike has so many Secret Service men around him — to keep him from stealing the rest of the New Deal.

Ike's friend, Gen. Clay, urges a ten-year, $100 billion highway building program. It might be easier just to pave the whole country — and ban all parking south of Canada.

Bernard Shanley, White House counsel, says women have cleaned up politics. Maybe so. But isn't there some way to clean up politics without cleaning the taxpayer too?

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt endorses Adlai Stevenson for president in 1956. Republicans don't think this is very sporting of Mrs. Roosevelt. She at least might have had the courtesy to denounce Ike at the same time.

Ladejinsky Case Provides Democrats New Ammunition For Security Dispute

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Eisenhower, discussing Wolf Ladejinsky's case at his news conference, said this was a situation in which honest men came up with different answers.

The difference in their answers was profound. Because it was, the Democrats had new ammunition for their attacks on the whole operation of the administration's program to get security risks out of government jobs.

The Ladejinsky case broke while many Democrats were still boiling over Vice President Nixon's attacks on them in the 1954 election campaign, particularly for his statements on the number of Communists and other security risks being fired by this administration.

The government can bounce a man as a security risk if he's a Communist, if he has been found subversive, if there's information in his files which can be interpreted as subversive, if he's a drunk, homosexual, or a blabbermouth, or for other reasons.

And who does the interpreting? Officials in the agency where the man works have last say in the matter.

Ladejinsky, born in Russia but now a citizen, was twice found all right by the State Department, which employed him in a job in Japan, Agriculture Department officials, when he was transferred there, found him a risk.

Then Harold E. Stassen hired Ladejinsky to work for his Foreign Operations Administration. So two government agencies didn't consider the man a security risk; one did.

Eisenhower put the responsibility directly on Stassen for keeping Ladejinsky in the government.

From time to time since the administration established the security program in the spring of 1953, it has released figures showing the number of people separated from the government and classed as security risks.

During last fall's campaign Nixon said: "We're kicking Communists and fellow travelers and security risks out of the governments, not by the hundreds but by the thousands."

It was this statement and others similar to it that the Democrats have complained about. No figures have been released to show how many of these persons classed as security risks were holdovers from the Truman administration, how many were first hired by the Eisenhower administration, or how many Communists were found.

Yesterday Eisenhower, who said Nixon had never condemned the Democratic party as a whole, and Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, went to Nixon's defense under new and bitter Democratic attacks.

If Nixon and the Ladejinsky case weren't enough to keep the Democrats steamed up about the security program, the administration gave them a fresh talking point when it released its latest figures Jan. 3. The Democrats, now running Congress, have been talking of investigating the whole program.

That report said, since the program started in mid-1953, 8,008 security risks have been fired or resigned from government jobs. It listed 2,096 of those under the head of subversion with this explanation:

"Number whose files contained information indicating in varying degrees, subversive activities, subversive associations, or membership in subversive organizations."

The Washington Post and Times-Herald, friendly to the Eisenhower administration, took a look at the figures and said editorially: "The great virtue . . . of 8,008 is that anyone can read it sitting upright or standing on his head without changing the figure."

The Post raised questions which Democrats in one way or another have asked: How many of these "security risks" resigned without ever knowing they were accused of anything; how many had information in their files about subversion that was real or imaginary or provided by people who were malicious or irresponsible?

At his news conference yesterday Eisenhower said he doesn't consider the security program perfect, that efforts are being made all the time to improve it.

One Can Carry Questions Too Far For Any Comfort

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle) NEW YORK (AP) — As a public service, we will now dispose of some of the burning questions of our time:

Q. Why do bald men or semi-bald men have to pay full price for a haircut?

A. (From my barber) Because there's less cutting but more research; the hairs are harder to find. Also, with a full head of hair, a barber can hide his mistakes. With a bald man, he must be more careful; each hair is doubly important.

Q. Are TV commercials really louder than the rest of the program or do they just seem that way?

A. In some cases they're actually louder. Where commercials are filmed and intended to be used many times, they are likely to wear out. Therefore the original sound track is made louder, a man at CBS said.

Q. What ever happened to G. David Schine?

A. (From the Pentagon) He is a private first class serving with an MP unit in Alaska and "shortly" will be eligible for promotion. Corporal, presumably.

Q. Why does a short belt cost as much as a long belt?

A. (From a belt manufacturer) It costs as much to support a short girl as a tall girl, doesn't it?

Q. Why are some oil trucks marked "flammable" and others, "inflammable," when both words mean the same thing?

A. (From lawyers at the American Petroleum Institute). "Inflammable" was the original choice to indicate a cargo capable of bursting into flames. That was and is correct. But then the modern technical mind went to work and assumed that some people might be confused by the "in" to indicate a negative or not flammable. So, some companies use the second which is also correct.

Q. Is it fair to deduce from the pseudoscalar meson theory relating quantitatively to meson-nucleon scattering that nuclear forces depend on spin and deduce that there is a quadrupole moment of the Deuteron?

A. Sorry, I got to catch a train.

Solon To Restrict Ex-Convict Title

CHICAGO (AP) — An Illinois legislator says he will seek a state law forbidding newspapers, radio and television stations to refer to anyone as an ex-convict if the person has been a law-abiding citizen for 10 years.

"Maybe we'll cut it down to five years," said Rep. Hector A. Brouillet (R-Chicago). "I don't believe it fair to dig up the long-ago past against a person."

MISTER BREGER

Traffic Speakers Set

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Traffic lights for speakers which say "go," "get ready to stop" and "halt" have been developed by the Industrial Timer Corp. And for those who ignore the visual signs, the device has a buzzer which tells the speaker to sit down.

Larry Neidenberg, general manager of the company, says the gadget is planned for use in schools and legislative halls.

Says Neidenberg: "When the talk starts, the chairman pushes a button which lights a green light in front of the speaker. An amber light warns the speaker one minute before time runs out.

"When his time is finished a red light goes on. If the speaker ignores that, the chairman presses a 'gravel button' to set off a raucous buzzing."

Task Husband Most Despises Is One Wife Pushes Hardest

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note.

Why is it that the task a feller despises the most is the one his wife is always after him to perform?

For me that's painting. There's always something around the house that needs a paint job. I'd rather do anything. Dig holes, shovel dirt, cut weeds, mow the grass, wash the windows, go get groceries, drive nails. But no painting, please.

A paint brush always does disagreeable things to me. Besides getting paint in my hair, face and elsewhere, it hurts my hand, arm and back. I can't make any progress with one of the things. Start painting something and it seems to grow and grow. Take a fence, for example. Begin on one end and paint for what seems like hours. Straighten up and look towards the other end and it's farther away than when the job was started.

This generally gives me a feeling of desperation, and if I feel well enough to continue I start stopping the paint on as rapidly as possible, hoping to get it done with.

The result: most of the paint goes on the surroundings, which weren't even supposed to get a paint job in the first place, and I either run out of paint before the task is finished, or the complete job has a striped look because of the places that were missed and the streaks where too much paint was applied.

Another result: the looks of the mess constitute an eternal reminder of the misery that caused it and the fact that pretty soon it's going to have to be done over — and properly, next time.

Substituting a spray for the paint brush doesn't help. I tried that once, too, and wound up with a case of paint-osis in the lungs, in addition to painting my outcides and everything nearby.

But it seems like there's forever something needing painting. Right now, my life's companion is insisting that we paint the woodwork and some other stuff around the house, even though you can still see the old paint in spots and it looks perfectly good to me.

I've stalled this off for several months, by suggesting that we wait until after Christmas, etc. But the showdown is coming. Already, Dorothy's shopping around for the paint.

What she probably realizes is that she'll do most of the job herself. That's the way it always has been, and — well, maybe that's the way it's gonna be. —WAYLAND YATES.

Austin Recollections—Raymond Brooks

Political Playback

Episodes in the W. Lee O'Daniel campaign, in short-perspective, appear not so much political as psychological.

There hadn't been anything like it in recent times. My conclusion at the time was people had made up their minds without even having seen O'Daniel, most of them without ever having heard his North Texas homilies as the perpetrator of a hillbilly radio program.

I saw the opener of the O'Daniel campaign at Waco. There I saw 18,000 or 20,000 people swarm around the old courthouse for his first speech. They seemed steeped in all that pervasive fervor that I have felt in a meeting of the oldtime Townsend Club groups. That first audience of the state campaign didn't need any convincing. Where and how they'd heard about the man, how they had been convinced in advance, how they had been stirred to a crusading fervor, are questions yet to find answers.

But they were there. They looked on the new campaigner as some sort of messiah. I made what, if possible, was a serious wisecrack about the Waco crowd; and heard O'Daniel repeat it at Austin, in another of his very early speeches. I reported that a woman fainted three blocks from the speaker's stand, while W. Lee spoke, but there wasn't room for her to fall down.

In Austin, O'Daniel brought together for the first time, sophisticated and generally enured political campaign speech crowd in its history. His lieutenants passed around those little baskets like they use in church, and the money really trickled in. One of the "spotters" sent by another candidate to report on the crowd, found himself putting in a dollar bill.

After Austin, one of the next speeches was in one of the smaller T&P towns west of Fort Worth. They couldn't find an auditorium or hall big enough, and the city didn't have a courthouse square. So O'Daniel went out beyond the city limits and rented a whole pasture. Reports said he filled it.

The mass emotionalism died away after his first election. O'Daniel won second-term renomination, as is customary. Then, when he made the race for United States senator, he just barely squeaked in.

No use for me to try to analyze what caused that vote for O'Daniel for governor. Nobody else has offered an explanation either, not even contemporary historians like McKay. It was something spontaneously ignited in the minds and emotions of a lot of people. Unless he's the biggest egotist since Napoleon, it is probably as much a mystery to O'Daniel as to the rest.

Good Purpose Would Be Served With Public Works Coordinator

Short treatment for big subjects: President Eisenhower did not spell out in his State-of-the-Union message the functions of his proposed Coordinator of Public Works. But here's one strong vote for that office.

The federal government now spends about five billions annually on roads, dams, reclamation projects, housing, hospitals, etc. State and local governments spend about seven billions.

Right now, amid the highly optimistic New Year forecasts, recession is out of the mind. People aren't thinking about slumps. Nevertheless, a Public Works Coordinator would come in mighty handy in case one came!

Presumably, the Coordinator would have on hand a sheaf of federal projects ready to be unfurled in an unemployment emergency. He'd know what states were doing. He'd know where federal projects would do the most good geographically. And, most important, he'd be able to save time in launching the projects—having before him a national blue-print.

Bearing on this, the President ought to hold projects in reserve for such a contingency—to plug the economic gap when private employment falters.

W. Averill Harriman, new governor of New York, underscored the need for a Federal Coordinator of Public Works—unintentionally, of course, in his State-of-the-Union message on Wednesday. This was just the day before the President spoke.

Harriman declared that New York is in a "serious fiscal position," and added: "I am reluctantly issuing instructions that for the time being no new contracts for construction be entered into."

As a governor, Harriman takes a parochial point of view. He said so, himself, declaring that "no single state can stimulate the activity of the entire economy." That applies even to New York, the most populous state in the union, with 14,000,000 persons. It doesn't have the resources or borrowing power of the federal government.

Harriman's decision on New York State construction seems at variance with his recommendation to the Eisenhower administration to "encourage a steady expansion of production and purchasing power." But it emphasizes that when economic indicators are falling and unemployment is rising, the federal government must be prepared to provide the upward stimulus. The states may not be able to afford to.

The Treasury has found a way to raise money without increasing the federal debt. The Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae), which helps to make a market for guaranteed mortgages, will shortly raise a half billion dollars in the open market.

The Treasury disclaims guaranteeing the bonds, but does undertake to "make loans to FNMA, if needed, to provide for interest payments and repayment of principal." How close can Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey come to guaranteeing a bond without guaranteeing it?

The Commodity Credit Corp. also has been selling securities in the open market. It looks as if the Treasury, under the Republicans, may be approaching what President Roosevelt once called a "capital budget." In a capital budget, you don't consider a self-supporting or self-liquidating debt as an expenditure.

Incidentally, the proceeds of the Fannie Mae financing will go to the Treasury to reduce Fannie Mae indebtedness to the Treasury. A perfect circle—the Treasury guarantees to pay back the money it is getting, but doesn't guarantee the debt Fannie Mae incurs!

Blast Is All Wet

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Workmen laying a gas pipeline into a clothing store said they used "only a light charge" of dynamite to clear away some rocks in the path of a line they were building. The blast left 400 homes without water and 15,000 gallons spread over the landscape while 35 workmen took 40 hours to repair a fractured water main.

Experts explained that the "light charge" must have hit the rock strata on which the water main rested.

Travel Hints Given By Carol Lane

"Budget is the real basis of travel," said Carol Lane, Shell Oil Co. travel director in a talk Wednesday evening under the sponsorship of the Desk and Derrick Club and Spoudario Fora. She said that the more one travels the easier it becomes. A road map hint she offered was that even-numbered federal highways go east and west and odd-numbered ones go north and south.

Crosby Tourney Starts Friday

By BOB MYERS
PIERRE BEACH, Calif. — Bing Crosby stages his 14th annual national pro-amateur golf tournament for a $15,000 purse starting Friday and today this bright, wintry green Monterey Peninsula country teemed with activity.
 More than 250 professional and amateur players are on deck for the 54-hole event, one that is officially designed the Crosby Glambake. On hand are the nation's top pros and a wealth of amateurs, most of them more famous as personalities rather than golfers. It appears you get invited to this Crosby party if either you play a top game, entertain, or have no less than three $5,000 automobiles in the family.
 The leading pros include last year's low-score pro winner, consistently dangerous E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, and the winning pro-amateur team of amateur Harvie Ward and pro Bud Ward.
 The golf is serious enough but there is time for fun and frolic—about 24 hours per day, from all reports to a newcomer to the scene. As Phil Harris, the comedian, might say, this can be real stimulating country.
 Harris, you may recall, won the pro-amateur honors with Dutch Harrison in 1951, nor will Phil let anyone not recall it. He sank a putt that time that has enlarged to 120 feet. Actually it was 60, and it was truly a beauty.

CHARLES JOHNSON Will Start Game

Dogies Oppose Coahoma Quint

Big Spring's B team will be the underdog in its game with Coahoma this evening, a first round contest in the annual Coahoma Invitational Basketball Tournament.
 The two teams clash at 7:30 p.m. for the right to go into the semifinals. The survivor meets the winner of the Westbrook-Stanton B game at 2:45 p.m. Saturday. The loser tangles with the loser of that game in consolation round play at 4:15 p.m. Friday.
 Coahoma is leading District 4-A's standings, with a record of two wins in as many starts. The rapidly-improving Bulldogs have beaten O'Donnell and Stanton, in that order.
 Big Spring holds wins over Hermleigh (67-54); Andrews (64-52); Snyder (48-38); and Sweetwater (48-44). The Shortorns have lost to Odessa twice (55-54 and 45-40); Midland twice (62-54 and 57-50); and Gail (49-48).
 Probable starters for the Shortorns in this evening's game are Jimmy Bice, Leroy LaFever, Charles Johnson, Marvin Wooten and Tim Kimbrell.
 Michael Musgrove, Billy Johnson, Mike Hill, Gene Smith and Donald Lovelady will be poised for action.
 Coach Grady Tindal of Coahoma is apt to go along with Billy Paul Thomas, Dudley Arnett, Grady Barr, Norman Spears and either Jack Morrison or David Hodnett.
 Other first round games in the Coahoma Tournament will send the Westbrook boys out against the Stanton B team at 5 p.m. and the Westbrook girls against Stanton B at 8:15 p.m. That is a second round game. Both teams drew a first round bye.

Rules Group Hits At Unfair Offense

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Football will be more honest next fall—on the field, at least—if the wishes of the NCAA Rules Committee are respected.
 Winding up 2 1/2 days of deliberations, the committee Wednesday adopted six changes in the rules and made two strong appeals to coaches for more honest and careful observance of other important rules.
 Two of the three rules changes were designed to prevent unfair deception on offense—the outlawing of the "hideout" play and a new proviso concerning plays where a middle lineman (tackle, guard or center) becomes eligible to receive forward passes. Another will help keep the defense "honest" by providing more opportunities for fake place kicks.
 The most important change was in the substitution rule—a short step backward from the "no-play" rule adopted two years ago. This will permit any player who starts a quarter to leave the game and re-enter once during that quarter. The four-minute "segment" in the second and fourth quarters was eliminated.
 But the committee decided not to try this time to solve two of its biggest headaches—false starts and elbow blocks—by changing the rules. Instead, a strong appeal will be addressed to officials and commissioners for stricter enforcement of the rules and to coaches to observe them.
 It was the second straight year the committee had declined to change the rule on false starts after a hullabaloo over "snicker shifts" in 1953. Last year an appeal to coaches and officials, plus some fresh interpretations, brought "considerable improvement," according to Committee Chairman Fritz Crisler of Michigan.
 Explaining that discussion had taken up about a third of the committee's discussions, Crisler said any rule limiting the movement of linemen could lead to any number of complications.

Cowboys To Play Arizona Friday

ABILENE (SC) — Coach Bill Scott's junior dominated Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys move into Arizona for their next Border Conference action.
 Friday night the Cowboys meet the University of Arizona Wildcats and Saturday they journey over to Tempe for an engagement with Arizona State College.
 Without a senior on his squad, Scott has already demonstrated that his Purple and Gold cagers could easily be in the thick of what promises to be one of the best basketball races in the history of the three-state conference.
 Boasting the number one defensive record in the loop, the Cowboys opened Border Conference action on their own Rose Field House floor with a 75-57 victory over New Mexico A&M and an overtime 58-56 thriller over Texas Western College.
 The Cowboys have an overall season record of five wins and a like number of defeats. The Baptist one of their own Rose Field House floor with a 75-57 victory over New Mexico A&M and an overtime 58-56 thriller over Texas Western College.

Mays, Gomez Mix It Up On Diamond

SAN JUAN, P.R. — Usually affable Willie Mays and Ruben Gomez, key players in the New York Giants' drive to the world championship last fall, apparently were on good terms today after a fist fight.
 The two players, members of the Santurce club of the Puerto Rican League, engaged in fistfights during a practice session Tuesday. Mays knocked Gomez down before other players stopped the squabble.
 But today both players refused to discuss the incident and teammates said they had shaken hands. "There's nothing to it," said Gomez. "We both consider the case closed and are good friends."
 Newspaper reports said Gomez attempted to intervene in a scrap between Mays and batting practice pitcher Milton Ralat. Mays mistook Gomez's intentions and threw a punch, knocking the Giants right-hander down.
 The senior boys' win provided a three-game sweep in the triple-header for Big Spring teams.
 The Big Spring junior boys prevailed, 28-18, in the evening's first game while the Lakeview girls won their first game of the year, 29-21.
 For the junior boys, B. P. Newton scored 15 points, J. T. Kennard nine and Robert Allen and Steve Hopper two each.
 Lamesa's attack was led by Albert Brown, with nine points; Johnny Williams, with six; and Bill Talbot, with three.
 Lamesa was unable to score in the first half and Big Spring led the intermission, 10-0.
 Kay Frances Henry paced the Lakeview girls' offensive, with 19 points. Mary Gilbert had six and Cynther Wood four for Big Spring. For Lamesa, Ethel Fleming tossed in 11 points, Gloria Fleming six and Clara Blake five.
 The Rockets will compete in a tournament at Midland on Saturday. They play Colorado City in a District 21-B game here Monday night and in Stamford on Tuesday. The Rockets are leading the conference at the present time.
 Scoring in the senior boys' game went thusly:
 LAKEVIEW (53) — Hubert McCoy (16); Willie Miles (15); Lieutenant Scagg (12); Alvin King (7); and Ernest Byrd (3).
 LAMESA (52) — Henry Wade (32); Thomas Smith (11); Leo Hunter (6); Robert Conway (3); and Johnny Whitfield (0).

Curtice Is Called For An Interview

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack Curtice, head football coach at the University of Utah, was expected to confer here today with University of Houston officials.
 Curtice, Gomer Jones of Oklahoma, and Rusty Russell, formerly of Southern Methodist, appear to be the top candidates for UH's football coaching vacancy.
 Clyde Lee resigned the post Dec. 6.
 Johnny Vaught, University of Mississippi coach, asked this week that his name not be considered for the Houston job.

Few Rookies Due In Camp Of White Sox This Year

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Trader Frank Lane is so busy making multiple trades with rival major league clubs that he simply has little room on his Chicago White Sox roster for minor league hopefuls.
 As a result only a dozen rookies will be on hand at the White Sox training quarters in Tampa next March.
 Several outstanding prospects adorn the small group of newcomers, however. These include pitchers Connie Johnson, Dick Donovan, catcher Earl Battey, outfielder Ed White and infielders Jim Marshall, Stan Jok and Joe Kirrene.
 Lane is most enthusiastic about the possibilities of Johnson, the towering Negro righthander who posted a 17-5 record at Toronto last year. According to the Sox energetic general manager, Johnson finally has learned to pitch at the age of 32. Lane also thinks Donovan, 18-8 at Atlanta and Bill Fischer, 14-12 at Memphis, will make the club.
 "Pitching has been our strongest department for the last four years," he said, "and our staff looks even stronger for 1955. With the addition of Johnson, Donovan and Fischer for the minors and the acquisition of Ted Gray, Bob Chakales and Al Brazle from other big league clubs, we can challenge both Cleveland and New York in quantity as well as quality."

Ron Peterson Will Rejoin Rockets

ROSWELL, N.M. (SC) — The Roswell Rockets have signed Ron Peterson, a pitcher who was last active here in 1952.
 The hurler is recently out of the service. As a rookie two years ago, he won four and lost six games for the Rockets.

Mims' Crowd Cries 'We Wuz Robbed'

By BILL NEWKIRK
CLEVELAND (AP) — Rocky Castellani's unanimous decision over Hally Mims last night almost carried over into a dressing room rematch as the Mims entourage burst into the winner's quarters screaming various versions of "we was robbed."
 Castellani had been louncing in his robe. His eyes widened in surprise, and then he lunged to his feet, fists clenched, and muttered in flat, cold tones:
 "I'll show 'em who won it."
 Quick grabs by Castellani's trainers stopped what might very well have become a free-for-all, out of sight of the 5,348 fans in the arena and the television viewers who watched the 12-round middleweight bout.
 Mims, along with his manager Nick Trotta and his trainers claimed that Castellani butted him in the clinches and rubbed him on the ropes.
 Castellani's manager Al Naiman said later the rubebarb "was only the result of the heat of battle, and disappointment."
 "They didn't really mean it. Everything's ironed out now. Everybody's happy."
 Castellani's victory, which probably earned him another crack at Bobo Olson's middleweight crown, was fairly impressive. He let Mims take the offensive in the early rounds, but outboxed him all the way and dumped him to the canvas for a mandatory eight count in the eighth round with a hard left hook.
 After the fight, Al Naiman, Castellani's manager, said Olson "has definitely agreed to fight Rocky within the next 90 days."
 "Maybe," qualified Olson's manager Sid Flaherty, who sat with the champion at ringside and watched the fight. But Flaherty conceded that the only major obstacles in the way were arrangements, "money for instance."
 The 37-year-old Castellani, at 150½, was four pounds heavier than Mims, 25, in last night's fray. He was rated No. 2 among middleweight contenders, behind Joey Giardello, while Mims was No. 3. Castellani fights out of Cleveland. Mims is from Washington, D. C.

Musial To Get Homer Assist

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan (The Man) Musial, St. Louis Cardinals veteran outfielder who already owns most of baseball's batting honors, may find the key to an elusive home run crown through a bit of carpentry work on Busch Stadium.
 The club decided yesterday to take down the screen in front of the right field pavilion—a move which cuts 25 feet 2 inches off the distance needed for a homer.
 The screen, which since 1930 has been known as a pitcher's friend, extends from the right field foul line 136 feet toward center field. A batter, in the past, had to loft the ball over the screen to the pavilion roof, which is 36 feet 8 inches above ground level.
 Now only an 11-foot, 6-inch concrete wall stands between south-paw sluggers such as Musial and a quick trip around the base paths.
 "I think it will be a tempting target," Musial remarked, obviously thinking about the 310-foot distance to the base of that wall. The distance at the point the screen ends is 354 feet.
 Stan led the Cardinals with 35 homers last season and belted 10 balls off the screen, hits that will go out of the park this season. Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati led the National League with 49 and big Kluz, incidentally, bounced three off the screen to lead the opposition in this department. But he didn't belt a homer in Busch Stadium.
 Musial, a six-time National League batting champion, has yet to walk off with home run honors.

Ameches Get Big Reception At Home

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — "The Horse" who carried Wisconsin's football fortunes for four years got a ride himself Wednesday night.
 Alvin Ameche, the Badgers' All-America fullback and the greatest ground gainer in collegiate football history, came home to a banquet in his honor perched on a fire engine at the head of a motorcade. With him were his oldest son, Brian, just under two, and his wife, Yvonne.
 By the time it was over the Ameches had netted something like $6,000 in cash and assorted gifts, including a palomino horse and the title to a brand-new automobile.
 And "The Horse" also received a scroll, official recognition of being selected on the All-America team by The Associated Press.
 The banquet climaxed "Ameche Day," officially proclaimed in this industrial city of 50,000 where Ameche and the girl he married grew up.

Crouch To Receive Sportsmanship Cup

FORT WORTH (AP) — Johnny Crouch, Texas Christian end and captain named the top sportsman of the conference during the 1954 football season, was to receive the conference sportsmanship award today from the Fort Worth Kiwanis Club.
 Crouch received national notice last season when he was first believed to have turned down a touchdown for the Horned Frogs against the University of Oklahoma on the grounds that a forward pass in the end zone was trapped rather than caught.
 "The incident led to the award for Crouch when he disclaimed that he merely asked the official what a statement, saying instead what the ruling on the play was, then said, "O.K., good call."

Home Of The Denver Bears

Here's an aerial view of Denver Bears Stadium where American Assn. games will be played in 1955. Denver and Omaha were drafted by the triple A circuit from the Class A Western League late in 1954. Denver drew only 230,681 to Western League games last year but averaged 432,000 a season from 1949 through 1952.

Baseball Box Seats Reduced In Price

Box seats for the 1955 Longhorn League baseball season went on sale here today, at a reduced price. The boxes between first and third base which sold for $100 in 1953 and 1954 are being offered for $80 this year. The $60 boxes are being reduced to $50.
 Individuals who had boxes last year have until Jan. 31 to renew their rental. After that, those not claimed will be sold on a "first-come, first-serve" basis.
 Pepper Martin, owner-manager of the Broncos, said he was reducing the price of all boxes as a gesture to all fans who stuck by him last year.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart
 When James A. Nelsmith put his think tank to work and planned out the game that is now called basketball, he contended that players should work the ball down court by passing it. He wanted no truck with dribbling.
 Perhaps because the Jim Thorpe and the Broncho Napruskis were threatening to muscle in on the athletic endeavor, however, the rule-maker decided that bouncing the ball would become a legal and necessary maneuver.
 It's one of the few things that hasn't been changed about the game. Unchanged, yes, but the art of dribbling has been enormously improved upon since Nelsmith's day.
 A joy to behold on the basketball court is HCJC's nimble Jimmy Robinson, who rarely takes pot shots at the basket but who reports for action when Coach Harold Davis is trying to nurse a lead and contain an enemy threat.
 Though he is only a freshman, Jimmy is a wizard at keeping the ball away from the opposition. He scoots hither and yon on a court, through, under and around the opposition in moves calculated to run out the clock.
 Lon Morris put his peerless Rooster Emerson, quick as a cat and deadly as a cobra, on Robinson in the waning moments of the title game in the recent Howard College Tournament here, in efforts to wrest the ball from the Lovington, N. M., rookie but Jimmy easily outmaneuvered him.
 Rooster approached the job with all the cunning of the All-American he is, but when he groped for the ball, he got only handfull of air where Robinson had been split seconds before.
 With the audacity of a bank robber Jimmy several times weaved his way through the Bearcats as if he were a spider spinning a web. The Hawk pepper-pot treated the ball, all the time, with loving care, as if it were money collected to pay off the mortgage on the old home place.
 Lon Morris, trailing by one to three points at the time, put the clamps on Robinson with a "two-on-one" strategem—by sending Guard Billy Tubbs as well as Emerson out after Robinson.
 A bad pass by Jim or a "tied-up ball" could have changed the complexion of the game in a hurry but Jimmy coolly and unerringly passed off to a team-mate and Lon Morris had to relax its defenses.
 Robinson, perhaps because of his size but more probably because of his sunny disposition, has become the darling of local followers of the Jayhawks.
 Jim is always straining at the leash to get into action. Whether he's playing or sitting on the sidelines, the fortunes of the Hawks are mirrored in his face.
 Robinson isn't the only dribbling wizard on the HCJC team. Jimmy Castleberry, a freshman from Meadow, Tex., is equally adept on defense and will see more and more service as the season progresses.
 Few players have progressed more since the season began than Wiley Brown of the Hawks.
 Brown gave the Big Spring High ex a chance to make good after last season, when Brown was just a journeyman ball player for the Steers, but they reckoned without Coach Harold Davis' patience or Wiley's willingness to listen to what was being taught.
 Wiley worked long and hard on a hook shot. He mastered it so well that Lon Morris' tall Kenneth Roach found he could do little to defend against it.
 There came a time in the HC Tournament when Wiley's ability to zero in on the basket meant the difference between victory and defeat of the Jayhawks.
 The occasion occurred during the first round of the Howard College Tournament, when the Hawk aces, Jim Knotts and Paschall Wickard, were cold and couldn't find the range.
 San Angelo pressed the Hawks down to the wire but, in the end, it was Brown's hook shots, coupled with some amazing back-court work by Ray Crooks, that pulled the locals through.

Saddler To Risk Feather Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Saddler has agreed to take his featherweight title out of the deep freeze for a Feb. 25 defense against Red Top Davis at Madison Square Garden.
 Saddler hasn't given anybody a crack at the crown since the September night in 1953 when Willie Pep "quit" in the other corner, a ninth-round TKO victim. Of course, Sandy was in the Army for two years and didn't get out until last April.
 Davis, veteran of 107 fights with a 58-47 record, is 31, three years older than the champion, who has a gaudy 137-12-2 career mark for 151 fights. Sandy has knocked out 97 opponents including Pep three times.
 Contracts will be signed later but the two managers have a verbal agreement with the International Boxing Club. Sandy will get 40 per cent and most of the TV cash.
 President Anthony Etronella of the National Boxing Assn. said the NBA undoubtedly will recognize the winner as the world champion but he "would still prefer to recognize Davis as champion before the fight." He said the matter would head the agenda at the organization's quarterly executive committee meeting in New York tomorrow.

Dons May Earn Trip To NCAA

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
 While college basketball rambles along in what may be its most prolific scoring season—with 100-plus game totals popping up all over—the lads who bump into San Francisco are having a tough time getting 50 points. And that stingy treatment may lead the Dons into the NCAA title tournament as an at-large representative.
 The Dons, ranked fifth in this week's Associated Press poll, shocked Santa Clara by a 54-44 count last night for their 11th victory in 12 games and their ninth straight. The lean Santa Clara point production chopped San Francisco's nation leading team defense average to a scant 47.9 allowance a game.
 San Francisco, which lost to UCLA 47-40 but reversed it with a 54-44 triumph, went into a seven-minute stall against Santa Clara at the close of the California Basketball Assn. game, Kenny Sears—who has starred for Santa Clara in three NCAA playoffs—was high with 17 points.
 Only four other teams ranked among the nation's top 20 were in action—and two of them were knocked off. LaSalle (No. 4) had a rough second half, but finally defeated Muhlenberg 88-79, while George Washington (No. 8) was sending William and Mary to its first Southern Conference defeat 79-65 with Corky Devlin canning 29 points for the Colonials.
 Three-beaten Cincinnati trounced Dayton (No. 12) 85-78 and Louisville, tied for 20th with Auburn, dropped a home court decision to remarkable Marquette 82-78. It was Marquette's 12th straight victory after an opening defeat.
 Duke's Ron Mayer was stopped with seven points before fouling out midway in the second half, but substituted forward Kerky Lamley hit for 20 as the Blue Devils defeated South Carolina 82-64 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Trinity University football team, which went through two straight unbeaten seasons and wound up the only college team in Texas with a perfect 1954 record, will be honored here Feb. 2.
 The Trinity Touchdown Club, junior and senior chambers of commerce and local radio stations and newspapers yesterday announced a special banquet and program in honor of the players and coaches of the Presbyterian school.

Mendes-France Sets Parleys With Adenauer On Arms Pool

By WEBB MCKINLEY
 ROME (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France leaves today for a visit to West Germany and talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on postwar French-German differences. The energetic Premier carries with him partial Italian support for his controversial European arms pool plan. During two days of talks here with Premier Mario Scelba and other Italian leaders, the French Premier won agreement-in-principle for his plan to set up a seven-nation agency to control arms output and distribution within the proposed Western European Union. The two nations also announced records on several economic questions, involving trade, industrial cooperation and immigration. Despite the promise of partial support, Mendes-France reportedly was disappointed in the reception given the arms pool plan by Italian leaders. Sources indicated he had hoped for more enthusiastic backing, which might aid him in getting an okay from a less receptive West Germany. The plan, designed to prevent West Germany from overarming within the WEU, comes up next Monday before a meeting in Paris of the seven nations which signed the still-unratified WEU treaty. In addition to France, Italy and West Germany, they include the Netherlands, Britain, Belgium and Luxembourg. The Bonn government has said it is ready to cooperate with other nations in sharing the manufacture of heavy weapons, like tanks and guns, and in the standardization of arms among the treaty partners. West German officials have emphasized, however, they do not intend to give up the right to manufacture any of those arms they would be permitted to make under terms of the interrelated Paris treaties for German rearmament.

'Attack By Wolf' Call Near Genuine

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Cormack P. Hearn, employed at Tinker Air Force Base here, thought his wife was kidding when she telephoned him at work and said frantically: "I've been attacked by a wolf." Hearn hurried home. His wife was telling the truth — at least basically. He found a coyote in his front yard. He killed the animal with a shotgun borrowed from a neighbor. His wife told him she went outside to "investigate a noise like an animal" and was attacked and bitten on the leg. The wound was not serious. Mrs. Hearn was given antirabies shots. Several hundred stars are known to broadcast radio waves.

Soldier On Trial In Baby's Death

FORT WORTH (AP)—How a young soldier allegedly squeezed the life out of his infant son was told yesterday to a jury in criminal district court.

The Alliquippa, Pa., youth is Carl George Malloy, 22, and details of the crime of which he is accused were read to the jury by Dist. Atty. Howard Fender.

Fender said Malloy made the confession last Oct. 12. As Fender read the statement, Malloy remained impassive.

The state seeks to send Malloy to the electric chair. The defense indicated an insanity plea.

The statement told how on at least 10 occasions Malloy squeezed the 7-week-old infant until it had lost its breath and changed color. He told of finding the baby with its eyes "not healthy looking" and its body with a "bluish cast."

Jamaican Leader's Government Falls

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Chief Minister W. A. Bustamante's 10-year dominance of Jamaican politics ended today. The veteran leader conceded his Jamaican Labor party had lost the island's House of Representatives election. Returns from yesterday's polling gave the opposition People's National party 18 seats in the new chamber to 13 for the Laborites. Three seats remained to be decided and the PNP was leading in the race for two of them. Though his party lost control, Bustamante retained his own seat in the House. The leader of the PNP, Norman Washington Manley, pledged in a victory statement to work for Jamaican self-government and the economic development of the British-ruled island with the aid of capital from abroad.

Missouri Reform School Inmate Dies In Escape Attempt

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—One inmate was shot to death and six others captured after eight youths escaped from the State Training School for Boys here last night. The dead boy was identified as Jesse Dean Wood, 15, of Kansas City. He was shot in a stolen car on an unfinished bridge at Jefferson City, where three companions surrendered. Three others were caught in nearby Columbia. Highway Patrolman Paul V. Volker said he fired at a tire and the shot went wild, killing Wood as the youths' car crashed through a barricade and sped onto the bridge across the Missouri River. Volker said he feared the boys did not know the bridge was incomplete and they might drive off into the river. Heavy, wind-driven snow made visibility poor.

He helped capture 40 men accused of illegal card and dice games in the cellar. The two prowlers reported to Neuhaus were the captain and lieutenant about to surprise the gamblers.

Original Names Dot Texas Map

By BRUCE HENDERSON
The Associated Press

There's a Bonanza in Texas. A Bonus, too. Also Cash.

There's Energy . . . and Deadwood.

These are names of Texas towns. Early Texans branded their settlements with originality and independence.

Colorful names dot the map.

Enough of them starting with just the first seven letters of the alphabet conjure up many a legend, famous woman, water hole or historic mark.

Adobe Walls . . . Bald Prairie . . . Whiteface . . . Antelope . . . Bend . . . Bluebonnet . . . Briar Desert

Women's names stamp many. There is Alice, Addielou, Alma, Anna, Duval County has Bess, Upshur County has Bettie, There's Christine, Desdemona, Dixie, Dolores, Donna, Ethel, Gail.

Also Dimple—population 25, Red River County.

"Big" is a big word in the hands of Texas towns. We've got Bigfoot, Big Hill, Big Lake, Big Sandy, Big Spring and Big Wells.

But it took a hamlet in Reagan County to come right out and name itself Best, Texas. Nolan County has Champion, though.

There are still many more—less traditional names. Like Athens, Arlington, Atlanta, Augusta, Beverly Hills, Detroit.

But then there is Belcherville. And Admiral (Texas had a Navy, you know), Cheapside, Dad's Corner.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 12 (AP)—For two days officials of suburban Griffing Park couldn't get into the town safe.

She eventually came home, and official wheels resumed turning.

VA Hospital Contributes

I. G. Sims, manager of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, presents Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. a check from hospital employees for $300. Mrs. Thomas is chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Big Spring, and the money will be used to fight polio. The hospital employees were 100 per cent in contributing, and one patient gave $2 which Sims gave to Mrs. Thomas separate of the check. The drive is under way here with much activity. Coin collecting cards have been mailed out, and collection posters are on display about the city. Miniature crutches are being sold in high school, and other money making plans are to sell balloons, hold bucket brigade solicitation drives, give talent shows, and sell rides on fire trucks to children.

Nonsense Song Sweeps Japan, Enriches Those Who Hate It

By FRED SAITO

TOKYO (AP)—The critics deplore it, the author abhors it and the singer thinks it stinks. But the song, "Oh, My Otomi-San" is sweeping Japan.

The despised tune has made rich everyone connected with it.

The record of "Oh, My Otomi-San" has sold 441,000 copies in just four months, by far a record for Japan.

Imitations flooded the market. The original blares forth from juke boxes, band stands and theater stages all over Japan.

"Oh, My Otomi-San" is a nonsense song set to a brisk melody with the tempo of a drinking song. It is the Japanese equivalent of those freakish American hits which once or twice every generation sweep the United States—like "Come On-a My House," or the war-time "Malay-Doats"—or, for the older set—"Yes, We Have No Bananas."

It is a distinct switch from the ordinary Japanese hit, which tends to the tear-jerker.

Otomi-San, the girl in the song, is the glamor element in a long-forgotten Kabuki drama. Neither the singer, the composer nor the author ever saw the play.

The crooner who introduced the song, Hachiro Kasuga, 30, has rocketed from cheap cabaret jobs to expensive theater bookings as the nation's favorite singer.

The composer, Masanobu Takuchi, of Okinawa, is swamped with orders for new songs and is rolling in royalties. Like Kasuga, he had been scratching out a precarious musical living since the war.

The poet who wrote the lyrics is also flush, but his artistic soul protests outrage.

"They turned my fine original work into this miserable thing," Tadashi Yamazaki says.

"But," he concedes, "the miserable thing has made me rich."

Their version takes admitted liberties with the original Kabuki theme.

Poet Yamazaki wrote an ode to Otomi-San and submitted it to the King Phonograph Co., where it gathered dust in a drawer for months.

"Then composer Takuchi fished it out," Yamazaki said. "Together we completely ruined my poem, against my better judgment, and the hit song was the result."

Crooner Kasuga was reluctant to sing what he called "this lousy hillybilly song," but he needed the money.

Music critics lavished only scorn on what they called the "silly song."

It was a losing fight. Nothing could stop "Otomi-San."

INCOME TAX FACTS

Medical Expenses

(This is the seventh in a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

Taxpayers with heavy medical expenses in 1954 get a big break under the new tax law.

In the first place, certain sick benefits are not even counted as income. This was true before in the case of insured plans, but now applies to benefits from the uninsured employer-as well. Here's what you can receive free of tax from your employer or his insurance company:

1. Payment for medical expenses.
2. Payment for permanent injury (not based on time absent from work).
3. Damages for injury or sickness.
4. Payments under Workmen's Compensation acts.
5. Payment up to $100 a week for loss of wages while you are absent due to injury or sickness, except that the first week's pay is taxable unless you are absent due to an injury or are hospitalized for at least one day.

Using the long form and itemizing your deductions, you can now deduct more than you could last year. First you add up your expenses for medicine and subtract 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Add the remainder to your other medical and dental expenses, including doctor, dentist and hospital bills you have paid, transportation (but not living expenses) for medical treatment away from home, and medical insurance premiums.

From this total you must subtract any benefits received from your medical insurance and, unless you are 65 or over, 3 per cent (instead of the old 5 per cent) of your adjusted gross income. This will give you the amount of your medical and dental deduction. It cannot be more, however, than the maximum based on your exemptions.

This maximum has been raised to $2,500 per exemption (except those for old age and blindness) up to $5,000 for a single person and up to $10,000 for a head of household or as a joint return.

There is still the 20 per cent limit on charitable contributions in general, but you can take a deduction for an additional 10 per cent of your income contributed to religious organizations, schools and hospitals. Within the 20 per cent limit you can now include gifts to non-profit cemeteries, as well as any "religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational" organization.

In general you can deduct taxes you have paid for yourself or a member of your household, except to the federal government. You cannot deduct "hidden" sales taxes (not separately stated to the customer), or fees for hunting licenses, dog licenses, water supply or auto inspection.

Interest paid by you on mortgages and on loans is deductible. Don't forget FHA loans, car loans, collateral loans, personal loans and loans against your life insurance.

There is a new provision this year that may help you if you purchased anything on the installment plan. Formerly you could deduct interest only if it were separately stated. Now you can deduct the amount of any "carrying charges" up to 6 per cent of the average monthly unpaid balance as interest.

Another type of deduction is the casualty loss. If your home, car, or other property was damaged by fire, storm, flood, lightning, explosion or freezing—or if any of your property was stolen—your loss not covered by insurance is deductible. See the official instructions for the method of calculating your loss.

Be sure to read the official instructions. You can also get help from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult only qualified advisers.

Dies Of Head Injuries

FLORESVILLE, Jan. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Bettie White Karm, 23, of Houston, died today of head injuries suffered shortly before midnight Tuesday when her car overturned twice three miles south of Floresville.

Mrs. Karm's father, brother, and three small daughters were not injured.

Rain, Snow, Sleet Aid Small Grain Prospects In State

AUSTIN (AP)—Rain, sleet and snow helped small grain prospects in many sections of Texas last week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Rains of one-half inches or more generally extended over the Plains southward from Amarillo and West Texas from Abilene through Uvalde eastward. Snow covered much of the western Cross Timber country, the Low Rolling Plains, the Southern High Plains, and parts of the Trans-Pecos.

The outlook for small grains improved in most areas except the important wheat country north of Amarillo. Soil is dry there and the condition of wheat is very poor.

Livestock were being maintained in fair condition over much of the state by heavy supplemental feeding.

Snow temporarily forced stock out of the fields and pastures in many sections, but the moisture was welcome and should bring on some small grain pastures, weeds and grass. Grains and grass were making fair to good growth in parts of East Texas and along the upper coast which had benefited from earlier rain.

Asphyxiation Death

VICTORIA, Jan. 12 (AP)—Ramon Garcia, 24, died during the night apparently when flames from a gas heater in his home blew out. A verdict of death by asphyxiation was returned.

Income Tax Charge

DALLAS, Jan. 12 (AP)—Dallas Thompson, 50, Arlington contractor and lumberman, was charged with income tax evasion today. The government says he reported an income of $13,764 for 1948-49-50 when should have reported $67,125.

MRS. LADD SMITH

Young Housewives Will Appreciate Her Recipes

Mrs. Ladd Smith, 1803 Montclair, is an attractive young mother who obviously has the problems of housekeeping licked. When we called on her for this week's recipe, her home was spotless, her two little girls were napping right on schedule, Mrs. Smith herself was well-groomed and a savory odor floated from a neat kitchen. She admits that even when she was first married she had no trouble with cooking. Her sister came to the rescue with a complete card file of tried and true recipes. Mrs. Smith and her husband have lived all their lives in Big Spring. They attend the First Methodist Church and he is a Sunday School teacher there. Before the children came Mrs. Smith worked here and in Denton where her husband was attending

North Texas State College. But now that she is staying at home she has more time to cook and experiment with new recipes. Two that she has had lots of success with are Spanish Chicken and a delectable chocolate pie. The chicken is an ideal main dish when another couple is invited in.

SPANISH CHICKEN
 Ingredients:
 1 fryer (cut in pieces)
 1/4 pound margarine
 2 medium-sized onions (chopped)
 1 bell pepper (chopped)
 1/2 cup celery (chopped)
 1 clove garlic
 1 bay leaf
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
 2 cans tomato paste
 1/4 cup uncooked rice
 Method:
 Fry chicken until golden brown, then add all other ingredients except rice and let simmer for 1 1/2 hours. Add rice and cook over low heat until rice is cooked—about 1 hour. Serve with tossed salad and hot rolls.

CHOCOLATE PIE
 Ingredients:
 1 cup sugar
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 tablespoons cocoa
 1 cup sweet milk
 3 eggs
 Pinch salt
 Butter
 Method:
 Mix dry ingredients, then add milk and eggs and cook over low heat until mixture thickens. Add vanilla and butter. Pour into baked 8-inch pastry shell. Top with meringue and cook until brown—about 12 minutes.

HERE'S HOW:

Wake Up Your Kitchen And Enjoy Your Work

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newsfeatures Writer

Is your kitchen sound asleep—dead as a doornail, dreary, cold? Maybe that's why you don't like to work in it.

A pretty kitchen is a joy to any housewife—even those who dislike cooking chores. A little ingenuity and the lady of the house can enjoy her kitchen whether she is a gourmet or queen of the can opener brigade.

One way to insure a rozier outlook is to plan a real coordinated color scheme. A new paint job will liven up the coldest looking room. Try pink or yellow on the cool north side. Blue is pretty on the south side where sunshine reigns. Two colors besides white may be used. Accessories such as dish and hand towels and wash cloths may be color coordinated.

Pale yellow walls with blue or brown accessories can be very cheerful, pink with cherry red or black and white, or black and white with cherry accents may be smart and lovely.

Floor tiles may be colorful, although black and white is neutral when other color is used in the room. Rubber or vinyl tiles may be used in attractive designs for a new look.

When selecting kitchen utensils pick attractive things that may be displayed such as colorful casserole dishes, copper-bottomed pots and pans that may be put at the wall, straw bread and wine baskets, salad bowl, spice racks and shelves for holding pepper mill, salt grinder, garlic press, wall knife racks, wooden spoon holders.

Put your blender, mixer and electric broiler where they may be used easily. Most of this equipment is attractive enough to be displayed.

An attractive little painting or two may be used on your kitchen walls if you like.

Luncheon Ideas

Marinate thin onion rings in wine vinegar to which a little sugar has been added. Serve the drained rings with solid-pack tuna fish, homemade mayonnaise, a bowl of crisp greens and crusty rolls for a delicious and satisfying lunch. Fresh fruit and coffee for dessert!

Sundaes Can Make Job Of Club Hostess Easy

There is no need to keep one eye on the gavel and one on the kitchen when you are a club hostess. Choose simple refreshments, which can be prepared ahead of time, and yet are different or unusually good. Then relax and enjoy your meeting, your guests, and your home.

The best formula for a happy time for all is advance preparation. This means frozen or chilled refreshments or baked dishes, prepared in the morning and still good in the afternoon.

Take ice cream. It's good plain, but it would be better as a sundae or mixed with fruit for a mock parfait. And why not let your guests choose their favorite flavors? It means less work for you and more pleasure for them.

Sauces have always been the basis for good sundaes, and they can easily be made at home. Placed in wide-mouthed tightly covered glass containers in your refrigerator, they will keep for weeks. Just pour the sauces into suitable dishes, dip the ice cream therein. If you want a few garnishes for an extra touch, add a bowl of whipped cream, toasted or plain coconut and nutmeats. Here are three favorite sundae sauces. (If you don't have time to cook, remember that fairly good sauces can be bought ready-made).

BUTTER SCOTCH SUNDAE SAUCE
 1 can (14 1/2 ounces) evaporated milk
 2 egg yolks
 2 cups (1 pound) dark brown sugar
 1/4 cup butter
 Pour evaporated milk into top of double boiler. Beat in egg yolks. Add brown sugar and butter. Cook over hot water, stirring occasionally until sugar is completely dissolved and sauce thickened slightly.

CHOCOLATE MINT SAUCE
 20 mint flavored chocolate wafers
 1/2 cup heavy cream
 Melt mint wafers in top of double boiler over hot water. Slowly stir in cream; blend until smooth.

COFFEE PECAN SUNDAE SAUCE
 1 (15 ounce) can sweetened condensed milk
 1 tablespoon instant coffee
 1 tablespoon hot water
 1/4 cup chopped pecan nut meats
 Pour sweetened condensed milk into top of double boiler. Dissolve instant coffee in hot water; stir into sweetened condensed milk. Heat over hot water until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add chopped nut meats.

Sour Cream Steak
 Rub one-half inch thick round steak with salt, pepper and a little garlic powder. Brown meat well in a little hot fat and add 1/2 cup water and 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce. Cover and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours. Add 1/2 cup dairy-soured cream mixed with 1 teaspoon paprika. Pour over meat and continue cooking for 15 minutes or until tender.

Wine Adds Flavor To Vegetables

Ever taste vegetables in wine? The same quality of wine that brings out hidden flavors in meats, fish and fowl can do the same wonderful trick for vegetables and fruits.

You'll notice the difference in these western style beans.

WESTERN STYLE BEANS WITH WINE
 1 pound pink or red beans
 1/2 pound salt pork, diced
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 large onion, thinly sliced
 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
 1 cup burgundy wine
 1 tablespoon chili powder
 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

Salt to taste
 Wash and pick over beans; soak overnight in cold water. Drain, add remaining ingredients and just enough boiling water so that beans are covered with liquid. Bring to a boil, cover and simmer gently for about 3 hours, or until beans are tender. Stir occasionally during cooking, and add more boiling water if necessary. When beans are done, the sauce around them should be medium thick. Serves 6 to 8.

For fancy carrots, melt 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add 4 cups of shredded carrots and one minced onion. Salt and pepper lightly; add 1/2 cup of sauterne wine. Cover and cook 10 to 15 minutes, or until tender.

For a fruit compote, arrange drained canned pear halves and black sweet cherries in a shallow bowl. Heat enough port wine to almost cover the fruit, add 2 or 3 thin strips each of lemon and orange peel and a little sugar; heat just to the boiling point. Cool slightly, pour over fruit, chill thoroughly.

Save Salt Container
 Empty salt containers with metal spoons can be converted for use as glass jar covers. Cut off the top of the salt box and carefully fit it into a jar ring. Makes a pouring spout for rice, bread crumbs, or flour.

But Mrs. Homemaker—

What about prices that are not in the ads?

Checking food ads is a good way of learning about low prices. But the ads can't tell the whole story. At best they include only a small percentage of the items on your entire shopping list. So savings made on "specials" can easily be wiped out unless your other purchases are made at the right prices.

That's why the basic part of Safeway's pricing policy says that every item—we repeat—every item must be priced low. Consider what this means to you. It means savings right down the line... not just on our advertised specials, but on everything.

You'll find too, that Safeway is quick to pass on to customers the benefits of any reductions made possible by changes in market conditions. Watch for special markers on our shelves, calling attention to reductions.

Remember, it's easy to cancel savings from "specials" unless other prices are low, too. So start today to save at Safeway, where all prices are always low.

Power Fight Within Kremlin Seems Probable To Observers

Editor's Note—Is the top about to blow off the "Communist rule" that succeeded Stalin as the governing force in the Soviet Union? Two Moscow correspondents, who regularly read and analyze the Russian press, appreciate the significance of this article.

By TOM WHITNEY and WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press Foreign Staff

Moscow's recent pronouncements suggest that two distinct factions in the Soviet hierarchy are struggling for supremacy. The argument may yet have to be resolved by another power in high places.

Unmistakable references in the Soviet press to serious heresies and factionalism within the Communist party hint at a showdown.

Foreign policy seems definitely involved, particularly to the extent that it is concerned with plotting the course of world communism in the immediate future. Thus world peace—or the lack of it—may depend upon the outcome of such an internal Soviet struggle.

All signs seem to point to this sort of division:

On one side—the Communists of the Stalin school, devoted to the principle of dynamic communism which has produced such dangerous situations as the Berlin blockade and the Korean War.

On the other side—the Communists of more conservative and cautious leanings who believe that time is on their side and they can play the waiting game while building internally. This sort of approach led to the Korean and Indo-Chinese truces and to a surface slackening of world tensions after Stalin's death.

The Soviet press, reflecting the views of the Communist leadership, has been going through a strange series of reversals ever since Stalin died. From a peaceful tone, it has gone over to one of belligerence on the international scene. Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's statements bristle with threats and bluster.

Yet, with confusing suddenness, the Soviet press then switches to a tone of hurt dismay that Premier Malenkov's proposal for a big power negotiation of Far Eastern tensions received so cool a reception in the West.

All this is accompanied by increasing prominence for the first secretary of the Central Committee, Nikita Khrushchev. His name is appearing in authoritative statements with rising frequency and importance.

By Leninist definition, Soviet foreign policy simply is an extension of domestic policy all keyed to the ultimate goal of a world dominated by Soviet communism. Thus twists in Soviet foreign policy can reflect indecision and even disputes inside the Kremlin walls.

For the first time since before Stalin's death, the Soviet press refers to the blood purges of the late dictator and praises the methods by which he maintained the "steel unity" of the party. Articles in important journals on the 75th anniversary of Stalin's birth are dotted with such references.

Pravda, official Communist newspaper, carried a six-column editorial Dec. 21, by an outstanding party propagandist, which twice referred to Stalin's services in ridding the party of heretics. Twice he mentioned "Trotskyists."

The last time that sort of thing occurred in the Soviet press was just after the notorious "Doctors' Plot" of January 1953, when doctors were accused of plotting the deaths of Soviet leaders. Those denunciations of "Trotskyists" and other public enemies signaled an impending purge which did not come off because Stalin died in March 1953.

Ordinarily, the Soviet press does not dwell on the history of the great Stalin blood purges. The party seems quite conscious that the Soviet public—particularly the intellectual class—hates the very thought of what happened in the mid-1930s. The blood purge idea is trotted out at moments when the party considers it vitally necessary, possibly to justify a political need to resort once again to the old party remedy for heresies: terror.

Suit For Partition Of Ranch Interests Is Placed On File

Helen Griffin of Howard County has filed suit for trespass to try title against Thomas Louis Griffin of Howard County, Carl Griffin of Borden County and T. L. Griffin of Brewster County.

She asks for partition and accounting of the partnership interests of her late husband, Hardy B. Griffin, and Thomas and Carl Griffin. She claims that Thomas Griffin has had control of all records of the partnership since the death of her husband on Aug.

23, 1953, and that he has refused to permit her to examine the records.

Mrs. Griffin says in her petition that the partnership was engaged in ranching and that its net assets were $75,000 at the time of her husband's death. She says that since that time Thomas Louis Griffin has mixed assets of the partnership with his own properties and that she doesn't know the extent or the nature of the partnership properties at this time.

The petition states that T. L. Griffin, son of the late Mr. Griffin, is made a defendant in the suit only because of his interest in the properties as an heir.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Underwater camera man taking pictures of porcupine fish.

Thanks to certain persons, our knowledge of the sea is growing. These persons include divers of several kinds.

Many divers belong to the "shallow water" group. They do their work mainly at depths of from 10 to 75 feet, but some of them go down as much as 150 feet. Members of this group have made motion pictures of various kinds of fish.

During recent months some shallow water divers have added a special kind of new equipment, designed to add to their speed. By pushing pedals with their feet, they cause a propeller to turn and the propeller makes them go faster.

Dr. William Beebe, a pioneer among the scientific divers, used equipment of an entirely different type. Entering a large, hollow ball, he was lowered to depths which ranged to half a mile. His ball, or bathysphere, had a window which made it possible for him to photograph fish. At one time, while in a shallow place hardly 100 feet below the surface, he saw hundreds of fish of the puffer type resting on the bottom. Later he made this report:

Boards At City Banks Stay Pat

No changes were made in the official family of either Big Spring bank following annual stockholder meetings on Tuesday afternoon.

Directors were renominated and then officers were re-elected at the State National Bank. The slate included Robert W. Currie, president; Edith Hatchett, vice president; T. S. Currie Jr., vice president; C. M. Havens, cashier; Ima Deason, assistant cashier; Fred E. Haller, assistant cashier; John Currie, assistant cashier. Other directors were Bernard Fisher, M. J. Fisher and A. L. Cooper.

All directors and officers of the First National Bank in Big Spring were re-elected at annual meetings Tuesday afternoon.

At the stockholders' session, the following directors were returned to office by unanimous vote of all shares voting: R. T. Piner, Ira L. Thurman, R. W. Middleton, H. H. Hurt, Hardy Morgan, T. J. Good, L. S. McDowell Jr., G. H. Hayward, Horace Garrett, R. L. Tollett and C. T. McLaughlin.

The entire directorate was present for the board meeting, with these officers being re-elected.

Piner, president; Thurman, Middleton, Hurt and Garrett, and Reba Baker and Larson Lloyd, vice presidents; Clyde Angel, cashier, and Stella Mae Hayworth and Fay Stratton, assistant cashiers. Directors were sworn in by W. S. Morrison, marking the 51st consecutive year that some member of the Morrison family had performed this service.

"Two or three were piled half over one another. At some spots five or six of them lay side by side, or head to tail. They were sleeping right side up, nearly all of them with a thin coating of sand over them."

The puffer family includes porcupine fish. These have spines, or spines, which are about two inches long. The spines can cause painful wounds.

Some persons have found the flesh of porcupine fish poisonous. Many Japanese, however, have eaten newly caught fish of this kind without suffering harm. The statement has been made that the vital organs start sending out poison within an hour or two after the fish are caught.

More dangerous are other fish which belong to the same family but are without spines. These are called death puffers, and some persons have died after eating their flesh.

Tomorrow Slippery Eels.

Income Tax Forms Now Being Mailed

The 1954 income tax books and forms are being sent to local taxpayers, according to A. A. Porter, assistant postmaster here.

Porter said that many of the forms have already been delivered by carriers to Big Spring homes and that most of them should be delivered by the end of the week. The forms were not due to arrive here until the weekend but they came in Monday, the assistant postmaster said.

Postal carriers didn't miss a delivery Monday on account of the snow. Porter said that all 15 carriers made their regular routes delivering all the mail which had been received in the post office.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster in Big Spring, is in Dallas this week in connection with the illness he contracted during December. He is expected to be back in Big Spring by the end of the week.

Defendant Put On Probation

James Wren was placed on two years' probation Tuesday when he pleaded guilty in 118th District Court to felony theft charges.

Wren was charged with William McNew and Wayne Myrick with the theft of a drilling bit and some well pump bases last March 8. McNew and Myrick were given two-year penitentiary sentences in the case last year.
