White House Denies Charge In Statement

Communist Paper Says Americans Aided In Raid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The White House said today there have been no clashes between Chinese Communists and United States armed forces. Eben Ayers, assistant press secretary, made the statement to reporters, at first limiting it to "United States Marines." In response to inquiries Ayers later said he had checked and that the denial of any clashes with Communists applied to all United States armed forces.

CHUNGKING, Nov. 5 — Communist sources charged today that American forces were fighting in China's undeclared civil war on the side of the central government, but a government spokesman said the accusation was groundless.

The Communist newspaper New China Daily, which joined radio Yenan in making the charge, said that American troops helped the central government's armies capture two Communist-held villages in northeast China near the Manchurian border.

Charges Are Denied

Information Minister K. C. Wu of the Chungking government categorically denied the charges and said the Communists had made them only in an effort to alienate the American people and lead them to ask for the withdrawal of United States forces from China.

Communications Minister Yu Fei-Peng, however, revealed that U. S. Marines were accompanying each coal train traveling from North China's largest coal mine at Kailan southwest to Tientsin. Marines also garrison the mine, he said.

North China's second largest mine, at Saochang in southern Shangtung, has been surrounded for 85 days by Communists, he said.

Railways Are Destroyed

Yu charged that Communists have destroyed 848 miles of railways in North China, paralyzing all lines. The government has put 30,000 Japanese railway engineering troops to work repairing the lines, he said.

More Aid For Britain Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP) — The United States and Great Britain were reported today to have agreed on a sweeping program for removing restraints on world trade.

This is the immediate forerunner, officials predict, of another agreement on U. S. financial assistance to Britain. A review of the financial negotiations showed today thata the sum probably will be between $3,500,000,000 and $5,000,000,000.

Terms Are Reported

The terms are understood to include:

1. A 2 per cent interest rate.

2. Repayment in fifty years, beginning five years after the actual making of the loan. This Five year span is to allow the British to get back on their feet.

3. A provision that any time the British Empire fails to take in sufficient funds its payment for that year may be delayed.

The British negotiators, Lord Keynes and Lord Halifax, transmitted these terms to London about ten days ago. So far as could be learned over the weekend, they are waiting for a final decision by the London government.

"Opening Gun" Fired In 1948 GOP Campaign

Sen. Taft Boomed As Candidate For President; Ex-Sen. Lodge Mentioned As Running Mate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 — A House Republican urged today that Senator Robert Taft of Ohio be the party's candidate for president in 1948.

The suggestion came from Rep. Mason (Ill) in what he termed "the opening gun" of the 1948 GOP presidential campaign.

Mason, in an address prepared for House delivery, also:

1. Proposed a cabinet team he said should be placed before voters along with Taft.

2. Proposed that "Jeffersonian Democrats" line up with "Lincoln Republicans" against "New Dealers, Socialists, Communists, professional do-gooders and giveawayers."

Lodge As Running Mate

He suggested that former Republican Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts be the vice presidential candidate and that Taft be bound to name a cabinet including:

Secretary of State, Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich); treasury, former Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, a Democrat; War, Gen. Douglas MacArthur; Navy, Rep. James Wadsworth (R-NY); attorney general, Gov. Earl Warren of California; postmaster general, former GOP National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton; Interior, Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee; Agriculture, Rep. August Andresen (R-Minn); Commerce, Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; and Labor, Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill).

Police Are Hunting For Discharged Vet

FORT WORTH, Nov. 5. (UP)—A discharged veteran, 30-year-old Pvt. Tommy L. Boyd of Godley—long overdue at his home from an Army separation center, is now being searched for by the State Highway patrol.

The soldier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Boyd, who Sunday called upon state patrolmen for help, said that their son was discharged from the Army at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo., on Oct. 15, but has not yet arrived home.

Belief now is that the veteran—a former member of the First Army in Germany—might have been a robber's victim since he was carrying with him a large sum of money.

Girl Is Sentenced In Hijacking Here

Ruth Wilder, 19-year-old gun moll who pleaded guilty of assault with intent to rob two Lubbock service stations the night of Aug. 29, was sentenced this morning to two years in the penitentiary in each of the two cases, the terms to be served concurrently.

The pleas were in the 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue.

Indictments set out that the Monahans girl had figured in two hijackings where $80 was taken from H. F. Buchanan of Lowrimore's East Broadway station, $70 from W. R. Moize of the former Onyx station on North College Ave.

A jury was waived. W. W. Campbell represented the girl, and District Attorney Burton S. Burks prosecuted.

Montgomery Ward Case Not Reviewed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP) — The Supreme court refused today to rule on the validity of the government's wartime seizure of Montgomery Ward and company properties in seven cities.

This action was in line with the Justice department's request that the court refuse to consider the case. The department contended that since the Army relinquished control of the properties in October, there was no longer any basis for a high court ruling.

Wards countered with a petition insisting on a ruling and asserting another seizure of its property was probable.

Thousands Are Stranded After Drivers Quit

Confusion Caused In Texas Cities; Other States Hit

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Strike of Greyhound bus drivers at midnight over the southwestern division, left thousands of travelers stranded in Dallas when the strike began.

Scores of bewildered travelers, among them wounded servicemen, other servicemen and women, and mothers with small children, were faced with the fact that they would be unable to resume their trips unless other travel facilities were obtained.

125 Affected In Dallas

C. K. Wilson, member of the Dallas local of the International Amalgamated Railway, Street and Motor Coach Operators Union of America, (AFL), said 125 drivers in Dallas were affected.

Wilson said Bill Estes, district president at Oklahoma City, telephoned him and requested that Dallas Greyhound employees leave their jobs at midnight. Wilson said ticket agents and porters also left their jobs.

100 Join At San Antonio

In San Antonio more than 100 drivers, operating in and out of San Antonio, joined the strike.

Robert Estep, manager of Greyhound there, said approximately 165 buses are affected in San Antonio.

At Fort Worth, E. E. Freeman, operations manager at the Greyhound terminal, said approximately 100 employes were affected there, including twenty drivers.

19 States Are Hit

The bus strike had paralyzed the Greyhound system in nineteen eastern states and was moving westward.

In Oklahoma City, Estes said he tried to hold drivers on the job until after a scheduled conference with company officials at Fort Worth Nov. 8.

"After the drivers went out in Kansas City, other drivers in the division refused to remain on

Traffic Plan Favored Here

Lubbock county commissioners court in a special called meeting this morning voted its acceptance of an original plan of the state highway commission for a federal-state financed road and street traffic dispersal system affecting Lubbock and Lubbock county.

The state commission already had made a tentative interim agreement with the City of Lubbock, also affected by the proposed dispersal construction.

Subscribe To Agreement

The city had indicated in a letter to D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, that it would subscribe to an agreement whereby it would supply right-of-way and provide for utility lines changes or modifications that might be required in return for the highway commission's pledging actual construction of the dispersal system inside the city under federal-state funds and contingent that the state would maintain such roads.

The county commissioners' action was in reply to a letter from Greer outlining what the city had done and would do, and asking what the county's attitude would be toward construction outside the city.

Furnish Right-Of-Way

In brief, what the county commissioners pledged was this: That they, subject to making available the necessary funds, would agree to furnish right-of-way and clear obstruction for new roads and

Houston Sailor Is Killed In Accident

OCEANSIDE, Calif., Nov. 5. (AP)—Silas A. Dean, 35, electrician's mate third class from Houston, was fatally wounded here yesterday, when a policeman stumbled against a clothesline and his gun went off, Deputy Coroner E. A. Turner reported.

The sailor, attached to the amphibious training base here, was wounded in the chest and died later in a nearby naval hospital.

Two policemen who were dispatched to the scene said they did not think at first that Dean was badly wounded, as he walked to the car.

He said he will stick to his decision to name Nov. 22 as Thanksgiving day in issuing his proclamation now being prepared.

HOPES OF FINDING CHILD ALIVE FADING—DOWNIEVILLE, Calif., Nov. 5 (AP)—"I hope it is kidnaping and that he is alive and safe—rather than lost in those mountains," the grief stricken father of Dickie Tum Suden, 3, (pictured above with his mother), exclaimed last night as weary searchers began to despair of finding the child alive. The father, Joseph Tum Suden, who operates the Brush Creek gold mine, and other members of the family clung to the kidnap theory as one of the last rays of hope as tired searchers and footsore dogs concluded their fourth fruitless day of hunting in the towering Sierra Nevadas. Blonde, blue-eyed Dickie disappeared Thursday from the yard of his home at Goodyear Bar.

Jap Leader Admits Defeat Beneficial

Psychologist Says Japan Paid Big Price In War But Had Learned A Good Lesson

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 5—One of Japan's leading psychologists, Dr. Sadaji Takagi of Tokyo Imperial university asserted today that both the surrender to the Allies and the following occupation of his country by American troops would benefit the Japanese people.

"Japan paid a big price in the war, but it learned a good lesson," he added.

For the first time, explained Dr. Takagi, the average Japanese has learned that his nation isn't the only one, nor even the best, in the world.

Shattered Illusion

The war and surrender shattered his illusion of being "a frog in a well."

"At first the people feared Americans because of stories of their brutality," he said. "But they found out that wasn't true. Now they will attempt to adopt his (American) friendly, efficient way of doing things.

"All feelings are undergoing a change as a result of the surrender. Reaction takes time, but I believe there will be fundamental changes in the people."

Changes Taking Place

Indication that one of the changes already may be taking place was noted by the Tokyo newspaper Mainichi, which reported a wave of labor movements, aimed at ultimate formation of a Japanese national federation of labor, was sweeping the country. Workers already have won concessions from management in two instances.

Robbery Victim Is Near Death

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 5. (UP)—Otis Morgan, supply company owner, fought for his life today in a Wichita Falls hospital as police sought two men who shot him, robbed him and stole his car.

Morgan and a friend, Leo Camp were robbed of $3,250 in cash and checks last night at Morgan's office by two armed men.

Shot In The Back

The wounded man was shot in the back as he reached for a gun, the bullet coming through a window from the pistol of a lookout stationed outside.

Morgan and Camp were in the Morgan Supply Co., office when an armed man entered and ordered them to lie on the floor. Morgan made a move toward a concealed pistol. The man outside shot him then entered and, with his companion, took $3,000 from Camp and $250 from Morgan.

They then turned off the lights, warned Camp and Morgan to remain quiet for half an hour, and fled in Morgan'e 1941 Chevrolet.

Truman Seeks Quick End To War Controls

Labor And Industrial Leaders Meet To Iron Out Troubles Facing Nation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. — President Truman told the national labor-management conference today that industrial strife "cannot be allowed" to slow the drive toward high peacetime production.

Appearing before the 36 management and labor delegates at their opening session, Mr. Truman said a worried public expected them to find "a broad and permanent foundation for industrial peace and progress," without government control.

White-collar pickets who stationed themselves before the Labor department auditorium — to protest the absence of independent unions from the conference — withdrew to let the president enter without incident.

Three Broad Proposals

Mr. Truman made three broad proposals to remedy industrial ills:

First — Open-minded collective bargaining, conducted with "a firm resolve to reach an agreement fairly."

Second — If bargaining fails, the use of impartial machinery to reach settlements "on the basis of proven facts and realities."

Third—"Responsibility and integrity" on both sides in living up to agreements once made.

John L. Lewis walked through the picket line to reach the conference table, but labor's other two big names — Presidents William Green of AFL and Philip Murray of CIO—went through a side door.

Talks With Picket

One of the dozen placarded men and women who seek a seat in the proceedings bore a sign: "Undemocratic labor - management conference being held here." Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, talked briefly with a picket, then proceeded.

Eighteen top flight industrialists and as many leaders of organized workers were in the spacious auditorium. Also present were alternates with power to advise and speak, but not to vote.

Mr. Truman told them he had "supreme confidence" in their powed to stop the worry of the people, a worry which he said was justified by the earlier promise of labor and management to "cooperate with their government through the reconversion period. But he added: "I make no effort to fix the blame."

Anxious To Remove Controls

Asserting he was anxious to remove all wartime controls as fast as it is possible, Mr. Truman said labor and management must find a way of resolving their differences "without stopping production." He added:

"Finding the best way to accomplish that result without government directive to either labor or industry — that is your job."

The president said the country is worried and "has a right to be" about industrial relations.

"You have it in your power to stop that worry," he said.

Must Handle Own Affairs

"The time has come for labor and management to handle their own affairs in the traditional, American, democratic way."

"I hope that I can give up the president's wartime powers as soon as possible, so that management and labor can again have the full and undivided responsibility for providing the production that we must have a safeguard our domestic economy and our leadership in international affairs."

The president said the conference presented an opportunity to prove that the two groups "can

Violence Hits Textile Mill At Hillsboro

Union Charge Says Returning Workers Told To Get Out

(By The United Press)

HILLSBORO, Nov. 5—A textile union spokesman reported today that violence had marked the attempted return to work of some 250 striking employes at the Hillsboro textile mill, but company denied any connection with violence and a union charge that workers had been told to "get out, the government doesn't run this plant—"we do."

Paul Shuler, regional director of the Textile Workers Union (CIO), said that "company thugs" kicked and cut up B. B. Powers, president of the local union this morning as the strikers attempted to return to work in the mill at the request of the National War Labor board. He said that the men were "locked out" of the plant.

Told To Get Out

Shuler also was authority for the charge that the men had been told to "get out"—a charge a company attorney branded as "a piece of fiction."

The regional director said that charge of violation of the Texas Manford act, which deems it a penitentiary offense to use violence in prohibiting men from pursuing peacefully his lawful occupation, would be filed against the company.

Denies Company Involved

A company spokesman in Hillsboro admitted that he had "heard of" some violence "between individuals" but denied that the company had anything to do with it.

Meanwhile, some 234 workers at the Itasca mill returned to their jobs without trouble, but at Mexia 204 striking members voted to stay off the job until ordered to return by the NLRB or until a hearing has been set on their grievances.

Buddies Try To Save War Dog

CAMP KILMER, N. J., Nov. 5. (UP)—A fierce war dog, trained to kill, appeared today to be destined for an Army firing squad unless he can make a successful switch to peaceful civilian life.

Only his human buddies can help Rin, the dog, now. And they're trying to remove those things he was taught which made him so helpful in patrol action against the Germans.

He's Plenty Tough

"He's tough all right," said 1st Lt. Arch Akers, 33, of Wheatland, Wyo. "That Rin is as tough as G.I. shoeleather, but I figure he's earned his right to live, if possible. He went out on more night patrols than he's got hairs on his tail, and he always warned the boys anytime the Krauts got close. I guess he must have saved many a doughboy's life."

There are no formal charges against Rin, a huge German shepherd. But within a few weeks, along with the other dogs, he must prove to Army authorities that he is gentle enough to be redeployed into civilian life, or face the consequences.

Must Change His Way

"And, unless he changes his present way of living," Akers said, "he's going to find the change-over practically impossible."

Rin grinned and wagged his tail. He is one of the outstanding dogs in the 38th platoon which fought for 15 months in Italy. "Look at him," Akers said. "Today butter will melt in his mouth, but don't let it fool you.

"There aren't but two men in the world who dare to handle him. And only one of them is with us."

Akers said that Rin already had a bad record when he joined the Army. "They tell me that as a civilian dog, Rin killed his mistress," Akers said. "She was an actress, and liked to take him walking.

Turned On Mistress

"One day she had him out, and he turned on her. You can see for yourself what a big animal he is. He killed her before they could pull him off."

If the story was true, Rin was

Seventeen Texas Tech women students were selected to compete in the Nov. 13 election of eight LaVentana (college yearbook) beauties, when 113 beauty nominees appeared before a 17-man judging committee Sunday afternoon in Tech press building. Decision of judges, who were five Tech students, seven out-of-town and five Lubbock business men, will be announced in Friday's edition of The Morning Avalanche.

Two false alarms sent firemen from their beds early today in search of nonexistent blazes, said Glen Smith, assistant fire chief. The first came at 2:55 o'clock, the other five minutes later. They reported fires in 2300-block Seventh and in 2800-block Twenty-third. Firemen made three Sunday afternoon fire runs. At 1:33 o'clock they found a "short" in a radio at 320 Vernon Ave. Damage was to the radio transformer only. At 4:55 there was a run to 2402 East Ave. C, where an oil stove had set fire to paper in one room. The fire was "out" upon firemen's arrival. At 6:20 there was a car fire at 1611 Sixteenth, but no damage.

Theft of his 1941 maroon Chevrolet sedan, license ED6479, was reported to police by Hardy Woulard, police said this morning, adding that a 1942 black Ford coupe, license BU148, had been recovered by the sheriff's department at Spur, from where the machine had been stolen.

Police said there were four complaints of burglaries and thefts over the weekend. Thirty dollars worth of lumber was reported stolen from Young's Feed and Seed company, from a new building location at Twenty-seventh and Ave. F. Elms Equipment company, at 301 Nineteenth, lost $5.07 and a fountain pen to burglars, said R. L. Elms. A suit and two pairs of trousers were taken from Ross Garrett of Lubbock Feed and Seed company, at Fourteenth and Ave. G. No property was believed taken in a breakin of Evans Drug, at 1717 Ave. A.

Mrs. Della Sumner, 2309 Fourteenth, was adn itted to St. Mary's hospital at 9:05 p. m. Sunday for treatment of a fractured hip suffered earlier in the evening when she fell.

Mrs. Brownie Butler, 21, and her son, Wayne, 3, of Denver City were admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital Sunday for treatment of burns received about six weeks ago when a gas explosion occurred at the family residence.

are of steel construction, completely fire proof.

From a 13 by 30-foot office and store building Kornfield will soon move into a 25 by 100-foot all-steel structure, also to be completely fireproof. The new office is now under construction, using the company's labor and material at a cost of several thousand dollars.

To Face On Avenue H

The new building will face on Avenue H with a stucco and glass front. Large plate glass windows are to be installed for display purposes, along with racks and shelves and the offices.

Pipe racks have been recently added to the expanding company so that 20 car loads of pipe can now be accommodated. Thirteen loads of material are now enroute to Lubbock for the company, mostly to care for the irrigation casing requirements of Kornfield's business.

The company caters to farm, ranch and industrial trade but Kornfield says he plans to be able to care for any and all orders that may come from the oil industry. He anticipates an enlarged business from this source.

Modern Shop Included

A modern shop using the latest type of equipment is also included in the company stock of trade, taking care of any and all types of pipe threading, cutting or other work that might be required.

In stock is pipe ranging from one-eighth to 20 inches in diameter, taking care of the demands for pipe for any use.

A steel fence that now surrounds about 100 by 200 feet of the property is to be extended after the new tracks are laid. The extended fence will surround the entire lot, including the tracks and new warehouses.

Kornfield, who supplies customers from a radius of 125 miles on the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico, was not able to estimate the cost of his improvements due to the use of his own labor and material. However, he said the cost would run into the thousands of dollars.

Lubbock Cops Find New Secret Weapon At Negro's Arrest

Lubbock police, acting under instructions of Sheriff Roy E. Hillin of Crosbyton, arrested 37-year-old Robert Williams, a negro and twice a convict, when he stepped off an inter-city bus Sunday.

They relieved him of his personal belongings, but did not find a gun he was alleged to have fired at another black in Crosbyton.

"Where's the gun?" Capt. Aubrey Fawver of city detectives asked.

Resembled Flare Pistol

"You got it there — in your hand," the negro said.

Fawver, Capt. Lewis Kittrell and Sgt. Bill Lamb looked confused. Then they examined a short tube Fawver held.

It was a sort of flare pistol which had no stock for holding it.

Questioning brought out that the tube also would accommodate a 12-gauge shotgun shell — and had.

Had Trouble With Another

Williams, officials said, had trouble with a black who had a .30-.30 caliber rifle, so slipped a shotgun shell into the tube and let fly. Then he flew the coop.

Fawver said the shotgun shell "almost is longer than the barrel of the flare pistol—if that it what the thing is."

Sheriff Hillin accepted custody of Williams and returned him to Crosbyton for formal charges.

Fawver said Williams had gone to the penitentiary for forgery and for burglary.

October Building In City Tops September

Lubbock's steadily increasing building boom was reflected in October building permits which totaled $149,114.50 more than September permits.

Last month's permits amounted to $408,467.50 as compared with the previous month's $259,353,000.

Lifting of restrictions on residence construction gave impetus to building applications.

Actual building, however, is progressing at a slow rate. Builders of residences reportedly are especially harried. They are finding it difficult to get certain materials, such as flooring and window fixtures, and labor is scarce and high whenever available.

Wool Supply In U. S. Menaced

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP) — Congressmen from wool producing states put on their thinking caps today to see what could be done to remove what they regard as the threat of the British-owned stockpile.

Rep. Barrett (R-Wyo) asserted in a statement that Britain has made informal proposals to the Defense Supplies Corporation looking toward sale of the 530,000,000 pounds stored in the U. S. during the war as insurance against transportation difficulties.

Sale Of Wool Feared

"I don't believe they can sell off that wool to the detriment of this country," said Senator Gurney (R-SD), member of the special senate wool committee. "The wool committee, however, will look into the situation if there is any danger that the British stockpile is going to be a threat to the domestic market."

The United States government has been purchasing the entire domestic suppy during the past few years, just as Britain is buying all wool grown in the United Kingdom.

Barrett says the Commodity Credit corporation has about 530,000,000 pounds on hand and its holdings will reach about 1,000,000,000 pounds under its agreement to purchase the 1946 crop.

During the war, about the only market for domestic wool was the armed services. Rep. Holmes (R-Wash) thinks other outlets should be available now.

No Benefit From War

"Our wool," he said, "should be moved into textile manufacturing as quickly as possible."

The sheep industry apparently is one of the few that did not benefit from the war. High costs of labor and feed have been cited as the cause of a heavy reduction in sheep numbers in the war years. Little liklihood appeared that these expenses would drop soon. Experienced and competent labor still is not available and the continuing need for fats and oils is acting as a prop to protein feed prices.

This country uses considerably more wool than it produces — perhaps 3,000,000 pounds more annually, Barrett says. He suggests three ways in which the threat of foreign wool might be minimized: (1) an increased tariff; (2) establishment of import quotas, and (3) government purchase of all wool (both foreign and domestic) to be sold in this country.

Austin Paper Suggests "Pleasant Change" By Having Tech In Southwest Conference

AUSTIN, Nov. 5. (U.P) — The Austin American today editorially protested against the University of Texas playing three football games in Dallas in one year.

It proposed that the Texas-Oklahoma university game, annually played in Dallas, be dropped or be changed to a home and home basis.

It proposed also that Texas Tech be admitted to the Southwest conference.

Beside the Texas - Oklahoma game, the paper pointed to the alternating game with Southern Methodist and the "occasional" Cotton bowl game.

"Naturally Dallas is proud of the University of Texas team," said the editorial in conclusion. "The Longhorns win their creditable share of the conference championships, so in time will occasionally play three games in a single season in Dallas.

"That's what it looks like this year, and it is rather hard on the home town, that also is just as proud of the university and its team."

The editorial did not expatiate on it suggested addition of Texas Tech to the Southwest conference, mentioning it merely as a possible "pleasant change."

Dutch Plan To End Uprising

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 5 (AP) — Dutch officials were understood today to be considering a plan to gain firm control of a small part of western Java and establish that area as a rallying ground from which they could extend their efforts to end the native Nationalist uprising in the East Indies.

The Dutch plan to bring in many more troops, although there has been no official announcement on the subject. Some unofficial estimates of the size of the reinforcements run as high as 20,000 men before Christmas.

Island Quiet Today

Strife-torn Java was quiet today following the flare-up of sporadic fighting in the northern section of Batavia during the night, but it was like the quiet before the storm. The picture as a whole is blacker and more ominous, with tens of thousands of trigger-happy Indonesians armed to the teeth and determined on revolution.

The British are in a dilemma, apparently undecided whether to fight their way through and return the island empire to Dutch control or merely continue to disarm Japanese, rescue internees and defend themselves.

Refuse Mediation

At present the Dutch will not accept American mediation, claiming that the Russians, French and Chinese also may wish to have their thumbs in the pie.

If the Dutch gain control of Western Java they could be expected to try to make it a center where pro-Dutch elements of the population could come and live without fear of being molested by Indonesian extremists.

Indonesian extremists and Dutch troops were involved in the night fighting in Batavia, which broke out when grenades were hurled into the Dutch-guarded area around the Hotel Des Indies.

An official British announcement said a Seaforth Highlander captain, investigating the disturbance at the hotel, was wounded by an Ambonese soldier in the Dutch forces, who had just undergone a grenade attack by Indonesians.

"GREATEST FORD EVER BUILT"
Says Public from Coast to Coast!

"How Soon?" and "How Much?" Ask Throngs in Dealer Showrooms

On October 26 the new Fords for 1946 went on display in dealer showrooms the country over. In city after city, town after town, dealers reported that the crowds who came to view these fine new automobiles equalled those who greeted the introduction of the famous Ford Model "A" back in 1927—when showroom attendance passed the 10,000,000 mark.

The opening day throngs were matched by those who came Saturday and later. And their opinion has been unanimous. The words most frequently heard have been "The Greatest Ford Ever Built". They backed up their acclaim with orders—326,840 on "V-8 Day", October 26—and Saturday, October 27.

This advertisement is published to record the deep gratification of the entire Ford organization at this splendid public reception . . . and to answer, as directly as we possibly can, the two questions most often asked.

"How Soon Can I Get My New Ford?" We sincerely believe the answer is: "Sooner than you think!" And here's why—Ford, first with assembly line production of postwar cars, first to stock dealers for a nationwide display, is first in quantity production—1,000 units a day reached last week . . . 2,000 a day in prospect within 30 days.

"How Much Will My New Ford Cost?" We think the answer to this is found in Ford's unvarying policy through more than 40 years of operation: always the highest quality at the lowest possible cost.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE NOT YET SEEN THE NEW FORDS: All our dealers have them on display. Please make it a point to see if you, too, don't agree that these are the "Greatest Fords Ever Built".

Sacking Of Manila Blamed On General

(By The United Press)

MANILA, Nov. 5 — Lengthy cross-examination failed today to shake the testimony of two Filipino collaborators that Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita personally ordered the sack of Manila and slaughter of its inhabitants.

The defense questioned Narcisco Lapuz, former personal secretary to the pro-Japanese Filipino revolutionary, Gen. Artemio Ricarte, for an hour and a half without getting him to retract any of his damaging accusations against Yamashita.

Author Of Order

Lapuz on Saturday had named Yamashita as the author of the notorious order under which Japanese forces murdered, raped and otherwise tortured thousands of civilians in Manila last February.

Yamashita is on trial for his life before a military tribunal. He is charged with responsibility for the Manila massacre and other war crimes throughout the Philippines during his command of the Archipelago from October 1944 to last September.

Lapuz testified that the Japanese brought Ricarte, who fought the Americans at the turn of the century, out of exile and sent him to the Philippines with the ultimate aim of establishing a dictatorship once the islands had been "liberated" by Japan.

Collaborator Is Called

The prosecution called Joaquin Galang, another Filipino collaborator, to corroborate Lapuz's testimony.

Galang said he was present at an interview between Ricarte and Yamashita in December, 1944, when the Japanese general announced that henceforth he considered all Filipinos as enemies.

"Let's not talk about it any more," Galagn quoted Yamashita. "I know what's really happening."

Galang said Ricarte interrupted to ask Yamashita to revoke his order "to kill all Filipinos and destroy Manila."

Yamashita frowned and clenched his hands, Galang said, then told Ricarte:

"Order Is An Order"

"An order's an order. It's my order. Because of that, it ought not to be disobeyed and it will be carried out."

Asked to identify Yamashita, Galang pointed to the fat, bald man sitting in the defendant's chair.

On cross-examination, Galang admitted that he had remained in Manila until he was arrested by American counter-intelligence agents Feb. 17 despite his knowledge of Yamashita's alleged plans to exterminate the population.

Dominador Santos, Manila police detective, testified that he saw six Japanese carry dynamite into a building which 20 minutes later was wrecked by a blast.

Set Bank Afire

Another witness, Armanda Alvarez, said he saw Japanese throw gasoline-soaked rags into the Bank of the Philippines, then set it afire. Cross-examination brought out that the Japanese had funds deposited in the bank.

The court permitted Yamashita's defense staff, headed by Col. Harry E. Clarke of Altoona, Penn., wide lattitude in its cross-examination of the witnesses despite frequent prosecution objections.

The first session of the second week of the trial ended with the prosecution introducing many photographs detailing the destruction of Manila by the retreating Japanese.

China Fighting

tion in North China, the New China Daily said that American forces and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist troops swept Pehtaiho, 10 miles southwest of the Manchurian border fortress of Shanhaikwan, with heavy machine gun fire last Wednesday.

Suffered Crushing Losses

"After suffering crushing losses," the Communist organ said, "we evacuated Pehtaiho."

Similarly, the newspaper added, Americans and the 94th Nationalist Army attacked and occupied Haiyang village, also in the Shanhaikwan area. Eighteen Communist guerillas were said to have been disarmed in Haiyang.

The Americans are using American trucks to move central government forces forward for the offensive against Shanhaikwan itself, one of the principal gates through China's great wall into Manchuria, the newspaper said.

Charge Is Echoed

The dispatch was carried under a five-column banner: "American armed intervention in China's internal politics."

Radio Yenan, voice of the Communist government in Yenan, echoed the charge that American forces had fired on Communist Eighth Route Army guerillas last Wednesday in the Shinhaikwan aera.

Consideration Refused

Radio Yenan said Eighth Route Army headquarters sent six representatives to negotiate with the American command at Chinwangtao, but the delegates were "flatly refused reasonable consideration" of their complaints.

There was no confirmation of the Communist charges in either central government or American quarters. Although there are no U. S. Army troops in the Chingwangtao district, U. S. Marines landed there without opposition last month to garrison the city pending the arrival of Nationalist forces.

The U. S. Seventh fleet landed Chinese Nationalist forces there last week for a march on Shanhaikwan, but United Press dispatches from Chinwangtao emphasized that Marines were not participating in the attack or indeed moving outside Chinwangtao itself.

their jobs," he said.

W. C. O'Kelley, business agent of the union, said at Kansas City the union is asking a one-cent-a-mile increase in drivers' pay. Present rate is 4½ cents a mile, he said. He added that since bus schedules were speeded up Oct. 1, the company had withdrawn a 15 per cent increase granted by the War Labor board to compensate for longer hours caused by the wartime slow-down of schedules.

Refunds Are Made

Military police in Dallas said they had been informed of the impending strike and were told to direct all military personnel to other bus lines.

Refunds were being returned to civilians as well as military personnel bound for towns covered by Greyhound lines only. Those going to points on lines paralleled by Greyhound were able to transfer their tickets to the other lines.

MP's assigned to duty at the Greyhound station were swamped with inquiries from service men, all wanting to know what would happen—they were due at their camps, after a leave and with most of their money spent, except for their return tickets. If there were no connections to their camps, the MP's assured them there would be no repercussions.

Leaders Tackle Hot Problems

come to an understanding and agreement without political or governmental pressure."

People Do Not Like It

The American people, he said, "never expected anything like the amount of strife which has been threatened" since the war. Mr. Truman continued:

"And I know that the American people do not like it — especially after the solemn promise by representatives of both management and labor that they would cooperate with their government through the reconversion period.

"If labor and management in an industry or in a company, find that they cannot come to agreement, a way must be found of resolving their differences without stopping production."

At the basis of the problems involved, Mr. Truman said, "is not only the right, but the duty, to bargain collectively."

The president said a substitute must be found for jurisdictional strikes and management must not look upon labor relations "as a stepchild."

Business Can't Stop

"Business simply cannot stop," Mr. Truman declared, "there can be no moral or economic justification for stopping production while rival organizations contend with each other. Labor has a particular interest in this matter — for nothing is so destructive of public confidence in the motives of trade unionism as a jurisdictional strike.

"On the other hand, management too often has looked upon labor relations as a stepchild of its business, to be disregarded until the controversy has reached a point where real collective bargaining becomes difficult — if not impossible. It happens all too frequently that in the actual process of collective bargaining, delaying tactics are practiced with the result that there is no real bargaining. There can be no justification for such tactics at the present time, or in the future."

Industry's delegation enters perhaps the most important domestic conference since the start of the war well agreed on one policy: A minimum of new government labor machinery.

If any new agency is recommended to replace the expiring War Labor board, one high official of the National Association of Manufacturers said, management delegates will want it divorced from the labor department.

Determined By Poll

The official, who asked not to be named, said this policy was determined by an industry poll taken by the NAM.

The AFL and CIO, which held separate pre-conference caucuses over the weekend, kept their counsel on any decisions that might have been reached. There were known to be divisions of opinion, however, within both the labor and industry groups.

But a big hazard was the explosive wage issue.

The CIO wants to put it on top of the conference program, contending that a decision on wage levels is essential to economic stability during reconversion.

Management spokesmen are opposed. They hold that the nation's wage level should be "bargained out" industry by industry and that the meeting should devote itself strictly to finding ways of keeping the bargaining peaceable.

No Magic Expected

Even the most hopeful federal officials do not expect the conference to work magic on the troubled labor scene. But they do look for it to produce recommendations which would minimize work stoppages and thus speed reconversion.

Both cabinet officers have announced they will not press for adoption of a "government plan." Any suggestions they decide to offer will be submitted to the conference executive committee. The committee then will decide whether to send the proposals to the floor, just as it will with any other suggested additions to the agenda.

and attempts of some employers to slash wages have given impetus to unionization. No major strikes have yet been called under union auspices.

The most important strikes since occupation began—and the first in Japan in 15 years—were the sit-down by Chinese and Korean slave laborers in frigid, coal-rich Hokkaido island.

Tenseness Is Eased

Tenseness between the former slaves and the Japanese on the northernmost of the home islands has been eased however by American insistence on fair treatment by both sides and improvement of the Chinese-Korean position, Sgt. John Cowden reported in a feature article in the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes.

The Tokyo press reported the forthcoming extraordinary diet session in December would last about 10 days, and would approve revision of election laws, ratification of the abolition of the wartime public peace and order maintenance law, and other repressive measures ordered abolished by General MacArthur.

Traffic Plan

widening of old roads outside the city in Lubbock, in return for construction of such important dispersal roads at no cost to the county other than the right-of-way.

County commissioners made it clear that they do not believe they can pay for the right-of-way without a bond issue. Such an issue could be provided for only by a public election, which in turn would have to be called only after the court were petitioned in accordance with law.

To Spend Millions

Under the overall plan, the federal and state government would spend 2½ millions of dollars in Lubbock county, inside and outside the city, on roads that would divert traffic along routes which would shunt it where it was destined for at a minimum of time and with a view to relieving traffic arteries already made dangerous by too much vehicular load.

Only one vote was lodged against the county's acceptance of the state proposal, by Commissioner Ben Mansker of Slaton. Said Mansker: "I'd like to make it clear that I voted against the proposal. At the same time I'd like to say why. "In the state's proposal, the state would kick back on the county several stretches of state-designated highways, some of them inside the city of Lubbock. I feel that removal of such designations would injure some sections of the city and the county. As to the overall plan, I'm heartily in favor of it except for that one objection."

Other commissioners, all voting in favor of the proposal, were T. L. Holt of Idalou, P. B. Penney of Lubbock and Vol Farris of Shallowater. County Judge Walter Davies presided.

Curfew Order For Palestine

JERUSALEM, Nov. 5. (AP)—A precautionary dusk-to-dawn curfew was in force at Palestine trouble spots today after a quiet week-end in which there was no recurrence of last week's Arab-Jewish disturbances.

(Cairo also was reported calm. There was only one small anti-Zionist demonstration yesterday and police quickly broke it up. However, dispatches said that 1,000 persons were under arrest as an aftermath of rioting Friday and Saturday).

Must Remain Indoors

Maj. Gen. C. F. Loewen, military commander of the northern area, issued the curfew order. It commanded all persons living in specified sections between Tel Aviv and Haifa as well as residents of the Haifa port and refinery areas to remain indoors between 5:30 p. m., and 5:30 a. m.

The only new incident reported yesterday occurred when six persons were detected tampering with the Royal Navy depot fence near Haifa. They fled after an interchange of shots with guards. There were no casualties.

A conciliatory voice was raised over the weekend when Musa Bey El Alami, Palestine delegate to the Pan-Arab league, said that the Arab people would agree to additional Jewish immigration into Palestine if an impartial United Nations body decided the country's economy could carry the load and if all Allied nations also agreed to accept Jewish immigrants.

The spokesman explained that the Arabs object not to "the Jews as such" but to political Zionism. He criticized the Jews for segregating themselves into "watertight Jewish communities."

Lights Of Hope In Palestine Trouble

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

For almost a generation now lights of hope from time to time have gleamed through the darkness surrounding the problem of establishing a Jewish national home in Palestine, but always they've proved to be will-o'-the-wisps which danced away as quickly as they came.

So one is cautious in approaching what look to be encouraging signs in connection with this highly dangerous Arab-Jewish imbroglio. Still, despite the fresh crisis, with its outbreaks of violence, (or perhaps better, because of this crisis) there are new flashes of hope, though only time will tell whether they are real or only more of the delusive phosphorescence which we have chased before.

England Wants Aid

One good indication is that England seems anxious for aid in carrying out the responsibility of her Palestine mandate. She's fishing for American assistance in solving the problem—and wants more than the advice we have been giving her. The significance of the development as I see it is that ultimately the Jewish national home might be dealt with, not solely by Britain or by Britain and America, but by the United Nations security organization. The Jewish national home has become an international issue.

Certainly the time has come when some concrete action must be taken. If the affair drags on, there will be the danger not only of war in Palestine between the Arabs and the Jews, but neighboring Arabs are threatening to take a hand in support of their brothers.

Would Accept Mediation

What looks like another flash of hope is seen in the statement issued by Musa Bey El Alami, Palestine Arab delegate to the powerful Pan-Arab league. He says the Arab people would agree to additional Jewish immigration into Palestine if an impartial United Nations body decided that the country's economy could carry the load—and if all Allied nations also agreed to accept Jewish immigration.

Here against the real significance seems to lie in the suggestion of bringing the United Nations into the settlement. If Musa Bey's statement means what it seems to mean, the Palestine Arabs are willing to accept United Nations mediation.

And It's All For "Two Yen A Dance"—
Two Thousand Jap Girls Ready To Jitterbug Or Foxtrot With GIs At Big Oasis Of Pleasure

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO.—When the Japanese open a new dance hall, it's strictly like launching a battleship. They do everything but crack a bottle of champagne over the prow of one of their "two yen a dance" girls.

The latest venture in the Nipponese campaign to get the American soldier to pay Japan's war debt is a colossal dance hall in the basement of a bombed-out department store on the famous Ginza.

This oasis on the Ginza is the "Willow Run" of the world's dance halls—with 2,000 Japanese girl dancers ready to jitterbug or foxtrot with any American G. I.—and it is aimed specifically at pulling yen out of G. I. pockets.

Japanese Financed

It promises to be one of the most popular entertainment spots in the Japanese capital for occupation troops. Japanese-conceived and Japanese-financed, it originated with a group of businessmen who formed a "recreation and amusement association" to develop the project.

They sank more than $100,000 in remodeling the huge, concrete-walled department store basement. The 2,000 dancing partners have been given English lessons and taught at least the rudiments of American style dancing.

Because of the possibility of disturbances, no Japanese men patrons will be allowed. It will be solely a dance hall for the Yank soldier. For two yen—about 14 cents—he can have a three-minute dance with any girl of his choosing, and a big bar will serve him a large mug of Japanese beer for six yen—about 40 cents. There will be no hard liquor.

Jap Girls Make Big Hit

Majordomo for the financial interests involved is spry, elderly little M. Kanechiko—generally known as "Little Tokyo," who in his gray, race-track-checked suit looks like a character from a Damon Runyon story.

The girls made a big hit with American soldiers at the formal opening.

Story Of Courage In Prison Is Revealed

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 5 (AP)—A story of courage spurred by the records of Tennessee's Alvin C. York was told here when a returned Army officer relayed a message from far-off Calcutta, India, to the World War I hero.

The officer, Maj. L. Malcolm Morris of Hohenwald, Tenn., said that York's cousin, Tim C. York of Tyler, Tex., had spent three and one-half years in a Japanese prison camp, "living on little more than the inspiration of his famous relative's courage."

"I saw the boy in Calcutta after he had been liverated from the prison camp, said Morris "and he asked me to tell his cousin "howdy" when I got back to Tennessee.

"Young York had been living in a work camp in the Malayan jungle and looked as though he had been starved nearly to death," Morris continued. "He brightened up, though, when he found I'd met his idol, and told me and his family pride had kept him going."

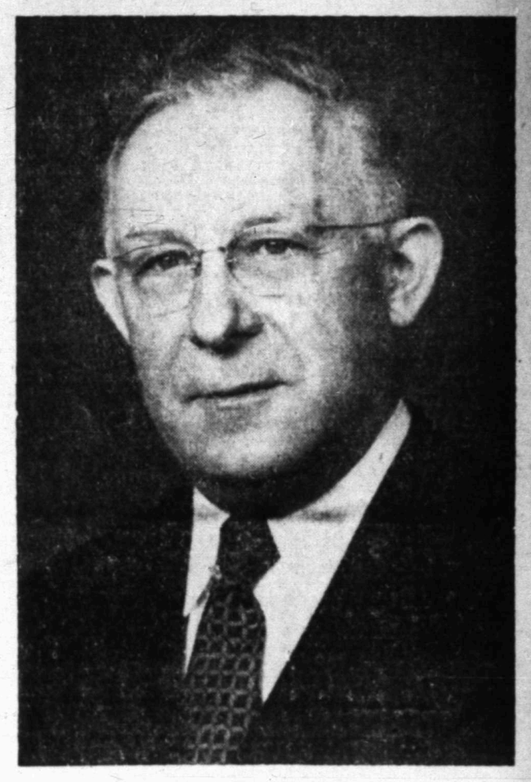

CONVENTION OPENS

HILLSBORO, Nov. 5. (U.P.)—Supervisors of 123 state soil conservation districts today opened their fifth annual convention, a two-day meeting to exchange ideas on better farming and ranching. Gov. Coke R. Stevenson will speak here tomorrow.

The use of gloves, it is believed, was known even to the pre-historic cave dwellers.

Baseball Returns As Seven Clubs Form WT-NM League

Several Cities Seeking Eighth Spot In Loop

Professional baseball was brought back to this area Sunday when the West Texas-New Mexico League was reorganized at a rousing meeting at the Hilton hotel here, and seven of the eight member teams of the league were named, and voted to return to baseball as a Class C league next season.

Forty men attended the meeting, representing ten cities from three states, and word came from others expressing interest in the league.

The six teams operating in the league in 1942 when play was shut down on July 5 because of war conditions, were named as the foundation of the new league. These teams were Borger, Pampa, Amarillo, Lubbock, Lamesa and Clovis, N. M.

Abilene Is Voted In

After a lengthy discussion, these six teams voted in Abilene as a seventh member to the league, after hearing the report from Hal Sayles, Abilene newspaperman, on the groundwork that had been laid in that city for its return to professional baseball.

A committee was then appointed to investigate the other cities that were being considered, and report back to the league for a later vote on the eighth member of the league. This committee plans to start out this week on contacting interested parties in these towns.

The committee is made up of Bob Seeds of Amarillo, John Rollis of Clovis and Harry Faulkner, representing the Lubbock club.

Others Are Represented

Besides the seven cities accepted into the league, others who were represented Sunday were El Paso, Albuquergue, N. M., and Pueblo, Colo.

Among other towns that were mentioned during the course of the meeting were Roswell and Carlsbad, N. M., Odessa, Big Spring and Wichita Falls.

Milton Price of Dallas, secretary of the Texas League, was renewed as president of the WT-NM league. Bob Seeds, owner of the Amarillo club, and Sam Rosenthal, owner of the Lubbock club, were named vice presidents.

Start Signing Players

Price pointed out to club members that clubs could start signing ball players as soon as the official reinstatement was received from the National Association of Baseball Leagues. This application from the league will be forwarded right away to the office of Judge Branham.

Lubbock was represented at the meeting by Rosenthal, Harry Faulkner, Hack Miller, Herman Brown, L. Rankin, W. D. Girand, D. W. Huckabe, Sylvan Skidue, Paul Faulkner, C. W. Ratliff, John King, Elmer Tarbox, Charley Bryant and Mack Turner.

Clovis was represented by John Rollis, Jack Holt, C. J. Stanfield, Bob Wollard, R. B. McAllister.

Amarillo was represented by Bob Seeds, Sled Allen, Rusty Crider, Putt Powell, Frank Banner and Lloyd Mulligan.

Borger was represented by Bob Takewell, Whitey Warren, George Finger, Johnny Warren and J. H. Holcomb.

Pampa was represented by R. L. Edmondson and Scott Rafferty.

Lamesa was represented by Dutch Luenberger.

Abilene was represented by Hal Sayles, Dr. J. P. Bridges and George Steakley.

H. R. Miller represented Albuquerque, Neal Rabe represented Pueblo and Buck Fawcett represented El Paso.

Milton Price, league president, presided at the meeting.

Three "Sudden Death" Tilts On Tap In Southwest Conference; Horned Frogs Tackle Raiders

(By The Associated Press)

Three more of those "sudden death" games are scheduled this week in a Southwest conference football race that may be decided by discharges from the armed service.

The campaign has reached that stage where a defeat is enough to kick any team out of the championship picture.

Vets Take Big Hand

Returning service men already are taking a big hand in the proceedings as the race rolls down its final four weeks.

At Dallas Saturday Bobby Layne, who got out of the merchant marine a few days before Texas played Southern Methodist, passed and ran the Longhorns to a 12-7 victory that shoved the Orange back in the middle of the title drive.

In that game Doak Walker, who was discharged from the merchant marine the same time as Layne, almost carried S.M.U. to victory. He made the Mustangs more potent than any time this season and indicated the Methodists would be powerful factors in deciding where the championship is to rest.

Texas Faces Baylor

Texas faces Baylor at Austin Saturday. The Bears cling only to a mathematical chance of figuring in the title. Defeat by Texas would definitely kick the Bruins into the discard along with Arkansas, which lost whatever hopes it may have had when it was trounced 34-0 by Texas A. and M. last week.

On the other hand, Texas, now tied for the lead with A. and M. and Texas Christian, would find itself pretty close to the shadow of the eight-ball should it lose to Baylor.

Down at College Station Southern Methodist and Texas A. and M. will battle it out for survival while Rice risks its changes at Houston against Arkansas.

Frogs Meet Tech

Texas Christian is the only team that runs no risks this week. The Horned Frogs play Texas Tech of the Border conference at Lubbock.

T.C.U. did itself proud last Saturday in toppling Oklahoma 13-7 to improve the conference's intersectional record and to show Texas will have its hands full Nov. 17 when the Frogs play the Longhorns at Austin. Texas had all sorts of trouble beating Oklahoma; T.C.U. did it comparatively easy.

Baylor downed Southwestern 19-0 and Rice beat Texas Tech 13-0 in other nonconference tilts.

Rice Owl Snatched; May Hoot For Ags

HOUSTON, Nov. 5. (U.P) — Rice institute students ate crow today because their owl was missing.

The owl, a blue composition fowl about six feet high, is lugged about at Rice football games as an idol for Rice freshmen to worship.

The snatch came after the Rice-Texas Tech game Saturday when three youths got the bird and tossed it in their rumble seat in a highly irreverent manner.

Houston papers later received telephone calls saying the owl was on its way to College Station, stomping ground of the Texas Aggies. The caller said something about the owl hooting for the Aggies in the Aggie-Rice game in two weeks.

Professionals Will Meet In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (U.P) — The nation's leading golf professionals will take time off from the tournament trail to attend the 29th annual meeting of the Professional Golfers' association of America here Nov. 12-14, it was announced today.

Election of officers, reports on the P.G.A.'s wartime activities and the study of new equipment rank high on the agenda.

Present officers are President Ed Dudley, Atlantic City, N. J.; Secretary Frank T. Sprogell, Belmont, Mich., and Treasurer Willie Maguire, Houston, Tex.

American Pros Will Enter British Open

LONDON, Nov. 5. (U.P) — Five top American golf professionals, including Byron Nelson, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan, will play in the 1946 British Open golf tournament, according to the London Sunday Chronicle.

The paper said that Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen would compete, along with South African Champion Bobby Locke.

Toledo Mudhens To Train In Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5. (U.P) — The Toledo Mudhens, as in the days before travel restrictions, will come to the San Antonio area for their spring training, and another American association baseball team, the Minneapolis Millers, may use New Braunfels as a training site.

President Eddie Gilliland of Toledo, who made the announcement, said of the 100 players to be brought to San Antonio around next March 1, many of those not kept by the Mudhens would go to the San Antonio Missions of the Texas league. Both teams are St. Louis' farm clubs.

Crucial Games Set This Week

Sandie-Plainview Tops In Section

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Only five of the sixteen districts of Texas schoolboy football have undisputed leaders as the campaign enters its final month.

Paschal tops the Fort Worth district, Crozier Tech is the Dallas pace-setter, Waco leads in district 10, Milby is the No. 1 team at Houston and Galveston is out in front in district 14. The other districts present this picture:

Three Tied For Lead

1. Amarillo, Plainview and Pampa tied for the lead.
2. Wichita Falls and Vernon tied.
3. Odessa and Sweetwater.
4. Austin (El Paso) and El Paso High.
5. Paris and Denison.
6. Denton undefeated but Highland Park (Dallas) has not yet played a conference game.
9. Brownwood and Breckenridge.
11. Marshall and Tyler; Longview undefeated but once tied.
12. Jacksonville and Lufkin.
15. Austin, Corpus Christi, Jefferson (San Antonio) and Brackenridge (San Antonio) tied for the lead.
16. Brownsville and Edinburg tied for the top.

This week brings some of the most crucial games of the conference race.

In district 1 Amarillo meets Plainview, in district 3 Odessa tangles with Sweetwater, in district 5 Paris plays Dension, in district 6 Denton tackles Highland Park, in district 12 Breckenridge clashes with Brownwood, in district 11 Tyler engages Longview and in district 16 Brownsville plays Edinburg.

The Odessa-Sweetwater, Paris-Denison, Highland Park-Denton, Breckenridge-Brownwood and Brownsville-Edinburg games are considered as decisive struggles in the district championship battles.

Milby probably will become the first district champion actually crowned. The Buffs have either to beat or tie Austin Friday night to clinch the title.

Just eight teams remained undefeated and untied in the state and more than half of these appear in danger of falling this week. The schools with perfect records are Pampa, Plainview, Odessa, Paris, Brownwood, Lufkin, Milby and Brownsville. Plainview faces all sorts of trouble from Amarillo, Odessa may find Sweetwater hard to handle, Paris is none too sure about beating Denison, Brownwood has a rugged foe in Breckenridge, Milby might lose to Austin and Brownsville is uncertain against Edinburg. Lufkin should beat Nacogdoches without trouble and Pampa should take Lubbock.

Army And Notre Dame To Clash This Week In Top Grid Battle; May Decide Mythical Champion

BY MURAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 — One of the top gridiron spectacles of the year — the annual clash between Army and Notre Dame — matches the first two ranking teams of the country Saturday in a game which may decide the mythical national championship.

A crowd of 75,000 will jam New York's Yankee stadium to see the Cadets go gunning for their 16th straight victory over a two-year span while the unbeaten Irish will be striving to avenge the 59-0 licking they took from Army last season.

Irish Tied Navy

The Irish come up to the big tussle fresh from the eventful 6-6 tie with Navy Saturday while the Cadets were polishing off Villanova 54-0. Notre Dame outplayed the Middies throughout the contest.

Navy will need all its good fortune Saturday when it takes on the improved Michigan Wolverines at Baltimore in the No. 2 contest of the day. Fritz Crisler's youngsters staged another impressive last period offensive in overwhelming Minnesota 26-0.

The east has another big tilt scheduled at Philadelphia where the all-conquering Columbia Lions tangle with the powerful, once defeated Penn Quakers for Ivy league honors. Columbia scored its sixth in a row by beating Cornell 34-26 as fleet Gene Rossides raced for all five of the Lions' touchdowns. Penn's regulars engaged in only a brief workout as they spilled Princeton 28-0.

Other Important Games

Other important games of the weekend pair Tulsa against Oklahoma; Oregon State vs. Washington; California vs. Southern California; Utah vs. New Mexico; Mississippi State vs. Louisiana State and Temple vs. Penn State.

Outside of Mississippi State's 14-13 licking by Tulane, few upsets occurred over the weekend and here is the way the sectional races stand.

EAST

Ranking behind Army, Navy, Columbia and Pennsylvania, come Temple, Holy Cross and Penn State. Temple and Holy Cross remained unbeaten and untied by beating LaFayette (28-0) and the New London sub base (20-6) respectively. Penn State's Nittany Lions, beaten only by Navy, walloped Syracuse 26-0. In other games Yale nipped Dartmouth 6-0, Brown trampled the Coast Guard 33-6 and Rochester whipped New York U. 19-3.

SOUTH

Alabama's Red Elephants were ready for bowl bids after defeating Kentucky 60-19 for their fourth Southeastern conference victory in as many games. Georgia Tech saw its bowl chances disappear after losing 14-6 to Duke and L.S.U. shellacked Mississippi 32-13. North Carolina was beaten 20-6 by Tennessee and Clemson was nosed out by Miami of Florida 7-6. William and Mary subdued Maryland 33-14. Virginia continued its all-winning ways by beating West Virginia 13-7.

MIDWEST

Indiana bowled over Cornell (Ia.) college 46-6 in an outside game and still led the Big Ten with three wins and no defeats. Ohio State's Buckeyes, who rallied in the last quarter to beat Northwestern 16-14, took over second with 4-1. Purdue thumped Pittsburgh 28-0. Wisconsin racked up its first conference triumph by belting Iowa 27-7.

In the Big Six, Oklahoma's Sooners are tied for the lead with Missouri at 3-0 while Iowa State, following its 40-13 victory over Kansas State, is in third place with 2-1-1. Oklahoma lost an interconference tilt with Texas Christian of the Southwest 13-7 and Missouri had its winning streak halted by Michigan State, 14-7.

The undefeated and untied Oklahoma Aggies put their bowl hopes on the line against once-beaten Tulsa in a game that will decide the Missouri valley title. Both teams were idle Saturday.

ROCKY MOUNTAINS

Colorado lost 12-6 to unbeaten and untied New Mexico, an independent, but moved in front in the Big Seven as Utah defeated Denver 33-21. Colorado is first with 2-0.

FAR WEST

St. Mary's boosted their own bowl hopes while blasting Southern California's Pasadena dreams by a 26-0 count. Only a Pacific coast conference team is eligible to represent the west in the Rose bowl and Washington's Huskies improved their position by beating Oregon 7-0 for a 5-1 conference slate. Southern California and U.C.L.A. are tied for second with 2-1 league records.

Washington State and California tied 7-7 and Oregon State whipped Idaho 34-0.

All Records Broken For Racing Wagers

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP) — A record-breaking sum of $421,156,932 was wagered on thoroughbred racing in New York state this year with Jamaica's $4,330,471 handle Saturday winding up the regular 144-day campaign which started on May 21.

The figure exceeded last year's previous record betting total of $388,995,250 by $32,161,682, despite that this year the racing season was 36 days shorter than in 1944.

PROS MAY STRIKE

LONDON, Nov. 5. (AP) — Britain's professional football players will announce today whether or not they will strike in an effort to gain higher wages. The athletes started balloting on the question about 10 days ago and the votes were to be counted today at the Manchester headquarters of the player's union.

Ben Hogan Winner In Richmond Open

RICHMAND, Va., Nov. 5. (AP)— Big league golfers finally found a course they couldn't lick this year and Ben Hogan's five-over-par 289 was good enough to win the Richmond open golf tournament's first prize of $2,000 in war bonds.

Hogan's score over the Hermitage Country club's par 71 layout was the highest 72-hole winning figure for a big-time tourney since Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., won the Portland open a year ago with an identical card. Hogan, who registers from Hershey, Pa., added a 74-73 yesterday to his 142 of the first two days.

Anent the housing situation in Lubbock:

Be it ever so humble, there's no place . . .!

AROUND the first of the year, workmen will start remodeling what for nearly 20 years has been the finest example of an architect's nightmare—the present Junior High school.

And, believe it or not, when the remodeling is completed, students and teachers will be able to go from the south to the north wings of the building, or vice versa, without having to go out doors, or trek through the auditorium and climb over the stage.

That really will be something.

And here's some dope on the school cafeteria situation:

Numerous mothers of school children (including one who shares our bed and board) will be glad to learn that the school "eating problem" will be solved—to a great extent, if not entirely—with the opening of the 1946-47 school year next Fall.

Cafeteria equipment, frozen during the war years, is beginning to commence to start to be available again and every effort will be made to have cafeterias in operation in every school in the system by next Fall, with the exception of one or two which may be in the process of being remodeled and enlarged.

The school "eating problem" has been bad for years; in the past couple of years worse than ever, especially for Junior and Senior High school kids.

But an integral part of the school expansion program is a cafeteria system for all buildings, under the direction of a dietician and persons trained in the food business.

THERE will be no "leasing out" of school cafeterias in Lubbock, under which deserving persons are permitted to operate individual cafeterias despite lack of experience, and/or ability. The schools will operate the cafeteria department, properly staffed and run and the cafeteria department will be as much a part of the school system as the athletic department, the teaching department, or the tax collections department.

All schools will have identical equipment and identical menus, so there can be no squawk from anybody that one school is getting something better than some other school.

Between now and the time the cafeterias will be set up, both Supt. R. W. Matthews and Business Manager A. C. Jackson will visit Fort Worth and study its cafeteria system from top to bottom. The Fort Worth school cafeteria is conceded to be the very best in the Southwest and Lubbock's system will be modeled after it.

From what we hear, all the new model automobiles will be really sumpin' to look at—but all we'll be able to do for six months or so is look at 'em!

DIFFERENCE of opinion frequently is a remarkable thing when you stop to analyze it. It is amazing how two people of similar education, experience, economic and social status will see the same thing in entirely different lights.

This thought occurred to us the other day when one of our friends was discussing President Truman. This friend, who is a level-headed, run-of-the-mine Lubbock business man with no more than the average number of vices and a lot of virtues, simply can't see anything good about the President.

On the other hand, The Plainsman can't see anything greatly wrong with him.

One or the other of us is as wrong as can be, of course.

Yet as the writer views the Truman record to date he cannot see where Mr. Truman has committed an important blunder, nor can be imagine anyone's doing a better job than the down-to-earth Missourian.

When we stop to think how Mr. Truman was dumped onto the world's hottest spot in the twinkling of an eye; in the midst of a war; with widespread dissatisfaction and suspicion on the domestic front, and with heaven only knows how many national and international secret agreements already made, we marvel at his ability to keep the boat steady.

Never a disciple of the theory of the "indispensable man" in any community, nation, or private business, we are sure that there are many other able Americans who could and would have done as good a job under the same circumstances as Mr. Truman thus far has done. But in our book, none of those who have criticized the president the most—on or off the floors of Congress—are among them.

WHILE it is true that the "honeymoon" is over for President Truman and politics is the order of the day, we find the rank and file of the people to be strong in their support of and admiration for the President. The fact that he has powerful enemies within the ranks of his own party, and that his Republican rivals naturally are sniping at him as they lay plans for unseating him if they can, doesn't fool the ordinary citizen, or his wife.

PARENTS are being urged to keep their children home from school at the first sign of sneezes or sniffles. This—they are told—would cut down immeasurably on the spread of colds and other contagious diseases that in the early stages seem to be only colds.

MILLETT

If parents would really do that—there also would be a future benefit to society. At least we might bring up a generation in which these types of pests wouldn't be quite so common:

The woman who comes sneezing and coughing into a bridge party saying brightly, "I really should have stayed in bed—but I just couldn't miss your party."

The man who sits beside you in a movie, coughing his way through a double feature.

The office worker who hasn't missed a day from work in so-many-years, even though in that time he has often exposed the entire office force to colds that never got him down.

The neighbor who sends her small child to play with yours because, though he has a cold, she just can't keep him in bed and he is miserable without someone to play with.

The hostess who goes through with her dinner invitation even though she confides she knows she is comng down with "a terrible cold."

HOPE FOR BETTER WORLD

WE'RE afraid of colds. But seldom of our own. The only ones that really frighten us are the colds of other people.

So if children can be taught that when they have a cold they are a menace to others, we may yet have a generation of adults considerate enough to worry as much about exposing others to their ills as they worry over being exposed.

During the last month, The Plainsman has interrogated as many people in as many walks of life as he has been able to query—not only here in Texas, but in the East, as well—we find those removed from poltics are almost unanimously behind Mr. Truman. They're pulling for him—and they respect him.

Of course, he may "stub his toe" farther down the line and if he does, John and Mary Doe, however sorrowfully, will desert his standard.

But until he does, John and Mary, generally speaking, will continue to support him and to give him every break his efforts deserve.

Real, spiffy society — shelved during the war—is now bustin' out all over in the capital and most white vests of pre-war vintage have yellowed, so new ones are needed.

Best price quoted from Washington for white vests thus far is 30 slugs—a lot of dough, even for a lobbyist!

THE "OFFICIAL" DEATH OF HITLER

The Allies, in an official statement, say that Hitler is dead. All evidence leads to the conclusion that he is no more of this world, which is good. But not as good as it would have been if Hitler had been captured and put to death by the nations that he intimidated into war. As it was, he perhaps got a lurid satisfaction out of taking his own life before his enemies could reach him.

While Germany's foes tend to believe that Hitler is dead, there are probably many, many Germans who believe to the contrary. The fate of Hitler has been as much of a mystery to them as it has been to the Allies. No Allied investigation will satisfy them.

Here are the makings of a Hitler legend to inspire the fanatical Hitler youth to promote and fight for the Nazi creed. For years to come there will be Germans who will fight to the death in response to what may be disguised as Hitler's commands. Any bogus message purporting to come from their leader, issued from an under ground cell, would be one technique for stirring up trouble. Already, underground German broadcasts picked up in Sweden have stated that Hitler is not dead, but alive and "ready to lead the people against the invaders."

Up to recently, the Russians have believed that the charred body found in the ruins of the Berlin chancellery was not Hitler's, and British intelligence has been emphatic that Hitler is still at large.

The official Allied statement does not mention any new evidence. Apparently, the conclusion was drawn on information previously made public.

It probably is reasonable to state that one of the greatest problems the Allies will face in the regeneration of Germany is the myth that "Hitler will return."

Solons Discover New Pearl Harbor Report

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The joint congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor has a hushed-up War department report on the disaster, which is going to be very hot to handle. It shows woeful, unexplainable or deliberate neglect inside the Army-Navy in Washington.

The report, prepared but never released by the Army's Pearl Harbor investigating board, directed by Lieut. Gen. George Grunert, is marked "top secret." It unfolds a fantastic chain of developments, beginning November 20, 1941, more than two weeks before the Japs struck.

PEARSON

On November 20, the Japanese government sent a coded message to its embassies in Washington and London, warning them to be on the lookout for an important announcement dealing with the "winds," which would be broadcast on a news program from Tokyo.

This was to be the tip-off to Jap diplomats as to whether Japan would go to war against the United States, Great Britain, Russia—or all three. It was also to reveal whether the war would be made against the Dutch. In addition, the approximate time of the breaking of relations with these nations was to be given.

This communication was known as the "winds alert" message.

It was intercepted and decoded two days later by U. S. experts, according to the secret Pearl Harbor report. Thus Washington higher-ups knew on November 22, about two weeks before the Pearl Harbor attack, that the Japs were definitely preparing for early war.

That same day—Nov. 20—another message was sent by Tokyo to Japanese Ambassador Nomura in Washington stating that November 29 was the "absolute deadline" for Nomura to reach an agreement with the United States.

"After that, things are going to happen," Tokyo bluntly informed the Jap ambassador. The message was decoded by U. S. experts that same day, so Washington knew about it immediately.

On November 28, another communication, known as the "winds code" message, arrived at the Jap embassy, informing Admiral Nomura and his aides in Washington that the war tip-off mentioned in the frist "winds" message would come soon.

If the phrase "east wind rain" were broadcast on the news program from Tokyo, it would mean that war with the United States would come at any moment.

If the phrase "west wind clear" were broadcast, it would mean that war between Japan and Great Britain would come at any moment.

War with Russia was to be signalled by the words "north wind cloudy." A similar message, referring to winds, also was included in the coded communication to warn of a Jap attack on the Dutch East Indies.

On December 4, 1941, three days before Pearl Harbor, the awaited announcement came on the daily Tokyo broadcast. It was heard in Hawaii at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The key words, signaling war against the United States, the British and the Dutch—all three—were broadcast.

Russia wasn't mentioned, indicating that Japan had abandoned all notion of war against Russia, if she ever seriously had any.

About the same time, Tokyo instructed its embassy in Washington to destroy all its code equipment, except the barest essentials necessary to receive one or two more messages, and then to destroy the remaining essentials once those messages had been received.

In the opinion of those questioned by the Pearl Harbor board, this meant certain war. It meant that Japan had decided to cut off all communication with the United States.

This development, together with the final "winds" broadcast, touched off a fresh frenzy of activity in the high-up Army-Navy councils. However, as far as realistic action to prepare our Pearl Harbor defenses was concerned, there was little or nothing done.

The Federal Communications commission picked up the final "winds" message on its short-wave monitoring system. The Navy also got it, but there is nothing in the report to show that the War department was listening in.

The secret Pearl Harbor report reveals that the first information about the broadcast came to the War department when Rear Adm. Leigh Noyes, chief of the naval communications section, phoned Col. Otis K. Sadtler of Army intelligence at 9:30 a. m., December 5, and reported.

"Sadtler, the message is in."

(Editor's note—Another installment in Drew Pearson's revelations regarding Pearl Harbor will follow shortly.)

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT

PESSIMISTIC as it may sound, the betting is ten to one that the long anticipated labor-management conference fails . . . Should the conference collapse, labor is in for the most repressive legislation in history. Labor knows it . . . But the cold fact is that neither labor nor management thinks they can reach agreement, and some labor men don't want to . . . Crux of the entire conference will come in about 10 days over the trick issue of compulsory arbitration . . . This will be the big stumbling block . . . Labor won't arbitrate issues like the union shop or union security . . . management won't arbitrate wage increases as long as there are price ceilings.

Actually, some management leaders don't care much about the conference's success . . . They are banking on failure . . . Some industrialists won't be angry if they don't manufacture another product during the rest of the year . . . The present tax structure doesn't make it profitable for them to produce. They've already reaped the harvest on war contracts for 1945.

The man to watch at the conference is John L. Lewis . . . Murder lurks under his bushy eyebrows . . He's out to take over the leadership of labor again, thinks this is his opportunity . . . Lewis was supposed to rejoin the A. F. of L. last month but suddenly declined . . . Before the A. F. of L. board meeting in Cincinnati, Lewis lunched with A. F. of L.'s Bill Green, told Green he would send a per capita dues check to the A. F. of L. to guarantee reaffiliation. As a result, Green opened a place for Lewis to attend the conference as an A. F. of L. delegate . . . To do so, he asked reactionary carpenters' union Chief Big Bill Hutchison to step down and be an alternate . . . Hutchison screamed bloody murder. Meanwhile, the executive board sat on its hands for five days waiting to hear from Lewis . . . On the fifth day, Green deputized A. F. of L. Vice President Matthew Woll to call Lewis on the phone, find out what was holding up his check . . . "I don't care to affiliate with the A. F. of L." Lewis told Woll. "Why should I go as an A. F. of L. delegate when I can go representing John L. Lewis?"

SCHWELLENBACH'S TEST

THE conference is a big test for Labor Secretary Lew Schwellenbach who is squarely on the spot. GOP Senator Vandenberg forced the meeting. If it fails, Democrat Schwellenbach may be out on his ear . . . One danger signal is the absence of any clear-cut federal wage policy . . . Truman's general, vague speech on wages didn't give definite percentages for wage increases. The speech made both industry and labor mad, though neither said it very loud.

This may be Bill Green's last big appearance . . . George Meany, the tough, cigar-smoking secretary-treasurer of the A. F. of L., is out for Green's job, may win. A. F. of L. Vice-President Matt Woll now represents no union, is actually a big business insurance man, holds no union elective office . . . The meeting will pit CIO President Phil Murray against his old friends, John L. Lewis and mouse-like Tom Kennedy of the miners' union. The three were inseparable for years. Now their thoughts about each other are unprintable . . . At Murray's right hand will be Sidney Hillman and the auto union's hustling, bustling R. J. Thomas, both formidable foes.

For management, star performers will be Eric Johnston of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and conservative eagle-eyed Ira Mosher of the National Association of Manufacturers . . . Mosher refused to sign the labor-management postwar charter which the A. F. of L., CIO, and U. S. Chamber of Commerce agreed to last summer.

JOHN BARRYMORE once confounded an audience with a startling stunt—right in New York, at the height of the run of Redemption.

There was an epidemic of coughing throughout the first act. When it broke out again in the second, Barrymore was all set. He suddenly yanked a five-pound seabass from under his coat and flung it over the footlights. "Busy yourselves with this, you damned walruses," he bellowed, "while the rest of us proceed with the libretto!"

It Was Too Good To Be True

We Should Paste This On The Wall And Read It Every Day

There Are No Easy Answers To Our Troubles

By MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—At the close of his wage-price address, President Truman said something that we could all paste up on the wall and read with profit at least once every day.

There are, said the president, no easy answers, there is no simple formula, for solving our difficulties.

CHILDS

This advice should be taken to heart especially by those who clamor for the president to "do something." Those who fiercely denounced Roosevelt for centralizing too much power in government are now crying out for a strong man who will "end the strikes and get people back to work."

How much the president's speech contributes to this end, it is hard to say. He carefully avoids any estimates on either price or wage increases.

In fact, the only figure mentioned at all is taken from the report the White House economists made to the president's reconversion board—the report buttressing labor's arguments on high profits in industry which was so carefully and thoroughly leaked to the press. Drawing on this report, the president says it has been estimated that the annual wage and salary bill in private industry will shrink by more than 20 billion dollars unless the process of shrinkage is stopped.

In stating labor's case, the president rightly puts emphasis on the effect on all of us if wage earners do not get enough dollars out of the industrial pie to buy back the goods poured out by the ever increasing productivity of the machine.

This is the case that labor is taking to the country. It is a brand new phase of collective bargaining in America.

IT takes into account the productivity and the profits of industry. The CIO unions are not asking merely for a wage increase. They are claiming a share in the national economy; and they are arguing that unless labor gets its legitimate share, another breakdown is certain to come.

Because it supported their case so completely, the CIO put great pressure on the White House to release officially the text of the economists' report. It showed that because of the shinkage of wages, plus other factors, wage earners would have $35 billions less to spend next year.

With all the speculation about percentage price increases that proceeded the president's talk, labor is likely to find the speech disappointing. Despite the cautious attitude maintained by the White House, a slight hope had persisted that the president would give official backing to labor's position.

Not Much Comfort

Nor can industry take very much comfort from the president's words. If wage increases force up costs to such a point that industry cannot produce at "a fair profit," then after a test period of six months business can come in and ask for a price increase based on the increased wage bill. In some respects, this seems to be merely postponing a solution of the dilema of the moment.

Arguing the case for wage increases without price rises, the president cites the provision in the tax laws enabling corporations whose earnings drop below their peacetime level to recapture a high proportion of the excess profits taxes which they paid during the two preceding years. In other words, no matter how high wages are raised, most companies are guaranteed profitable operation by the government during the next two years.

THERE will be many to find fault with the president for not coming forth with a magic formula to resolve the industrial feud that has come out of the war. But it is a fact that no such formula exists. Whether Franklin Roosevelt at the top of his political power and prestige could have resolved the present tension is a question.

If, on the side of either labor or management, there is a determination for a showdown fight, then the president's appeal for reasonable collective bargaining is so much wasted breath. He leans heavily on the management-labor conference which is to open today.

A new approach, a solution, could come out of that conference. But there must be a willingness to bargain on both sides of the table if that is to come about.

Research "D-Bunks" DDT

It Kills Bugs, But There Are Plenty "Bugs" In Insecticide

By NEA Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—DDT—the magic insecticide discovery of World War II—is not the wonder-preparation it's cracked up to be, Department of Agriculture research has revealed.

Here are some of the things a disillusioned public is finding out about DDT since its recent appearance on the market:

1. It is not a good all-purpose insect spray. DDT is very fussy stuff. For use against each bug or insect it requires a different, sometimes complicated application. A person almost has to be an expert to use it properly. For one kind of bug you have to mix it with water. For another you have to mix it with oil. For still another purpose, it must be dusted. Government experts admit that for general use around the home it is not much better than some of the popular insecticides sold before the war. One of the reasons for the Army's success with DDT is that only experts used it.

Cannot Kill Larvae

2. It cannot kill the larvae of clothes moths, and it is the larvae which eat holes in your overcoat. Properly applied, DDT does kill adult moths in a clothes closet, but not before they would have time to lay the eggs, which become larvae.

3. DDT acts much slower than most other commercial sprays. It takes up to an hour, sometimes, before the insect dies after contact. You can't spray a room-full of mosquitoes and kill them immediately, as you can with most commercial insecticides. DDT spray has to dry on the walls, screen or furniture. The insect must come in contact with it, and then some 45 minutes or so later it will die.

Harmful To Honeybees

4. DDT is harmful to honeybees and other beneficial insects. It is highly toxic to fish and certain other cold-blooded animals.

5. Against the screwworm, the heel fly or cattle grub, the chigger, and the poultry mite, DDT offers no protection.

6. Only some species of ants are affected by DDT. At best most of those can only be controlled for a few weeks with a time-consuming application. For cockroaches DDT is not quite as good as sodium flouride, which has been used for many years.

7. If used in a water spray, DDT leaves an undesirable white rust on furniture and walls. If used with kerosene or other oil it can soil clothing and furniture and is dangerous as a fire hazard and to persons and animals if it touches the skin.

Useful In Dairies

First reports of DDT's most successful peacetime use is from dairy farmers. Sprayed around barns it has been very effective in killing flies which are carried in on the cows.

Experiments with DDT as a spray for fruits and vegetables are still in preliminary stages. Already they show that DDT in soil at the rate of 25 pounds per acre retards the growth of most kinds of beans, onions, spinach, tomatoes, strawberry plants and rye. In a few years of spraying, the land could accumulate injurious amounts of the chemical and make it unfit for use. Some injury to squash and other cucurbits has resulted from light applications of the material.

Little Known Of Effect

Little is known about the toxic effect of DDT on humans. So far there has only been one reported death—in England—and there was no official investigation made of it. Persons who have worked with it and have had most opportunity to assimilate it in small amounts report mild cases of the jitters and nervousness.

It is not yet known how effective DDT will be against mice and other rodents.

Much confusion has resulted over the popular sale of DDT recently. Most users will have to learn what form or with what solution they want to buy it. There's a very specialized form of DDT for each use. Some dealers are reported selling very weak solutions and making exaggerated claims for it. To protect themselves purchasers are advised to read the labels carefully and acquaint themselves with the potency needed for the job to be done.

CHINATOWN CELEBRATES

SEATTLE (U.P.)—Seattle's Chinatown celebrated Chinese independence day this year, but not as usual. Vying with the traditional Lion dance in honor of "The Double Tenth," as Chinese call the holiday, was a 20-piece popular American dance band.

When a huge deep-sea game fish, such as a marlin or tuna, is hooked, it often hits a 45-mile-an-hour speed in attempting to escape. Special reels fitted with high-speed anti-fiction ball bearings permit the spool to revolve at 4,500 revolutions per minute to keep pace with the sea giant.

'Old Ladies' Of Fleet To Quit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP) — The Navy is saying farewell to six "old ladies" of the fleet who hung up quite a fighting record in their dotage.

Veterans of two world wars, the battleships Arkansas, New York, Texas, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Mississippi are slated for retirement. They are all over 26 years old.

The postwar fleet will still have seven battleships in the "old lady" class — the New Mexico, Idaho, Tennessee, California, Maryland, Colorado and West Virginia. All except the New Mexico were commissioned since World War I, but the youngest, USS West Virginia, is 22 years old.

When the United States entered the war 15 of the Navy's 17 battleships were "old ladies." Eight of the 15 — the Arizona, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Tennessee, West Virginia, Idaho and California — were lying peacefully in Pearl Harbor when the Japanese made their sneak attack.

All were damaged, five very badly. The Arizona was a total loss. The Oklahoma was refloated and repaired but did not take an active part in combat. She was decommissioned a year ago. The other six came back strong from the inferno and mud of Pearl Harbor to avenge the Navy's greatest disaster.

The 31-year-old Texas has been at war with the Germans twice. In the recent war she saw action as a bombardment ship in the North African landing, the Normandy invasion, the landing in southern France and the shelling of Iwo Jima. At the end of World War I the Texas was present at the surrender of the German imperial fleet.

Rep. Combs To Probe Death Of Texas GI

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP) — Rep. Combs (D-Tex) said today he will ask the secretary of war to investigate the death of a Texas private, killed Oct. 7 in an India plane crash.

Combs said that the soldier, Pfc. Willis E. Callaway, Beaumont, Tex., was killed about ten miles from Shillong, India, while enroute from Barraskpore, India, to Kunming, China.

The investigation will be requested, Combs, said, because Callaway wrote his brother seven days before his death that an order had been issued "that no plane flying the 'Hump' with intentions of bringing passengers back will carry parachutes.

"That takes us in," the soldier inserted parenthetically.

Combs said he wants to know if the order relative to 'no parachutes' was enforced in Callaway's case.

"If true," the Texan asserted, "I shall demand that the person responsible for the order be court martialed."

He described the soldier as a younger brother of W. M. Callaway, president of the South Coast Life Insurance Co., of Beaumont.

Danger For World Found In Orient

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5 (U.P.)—The Orient is filled with peril to world tranquility, Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, said today in an address to publishers of northern California.

Baillie's appearance before the publishers came only a few hours after his return from a 20,000 mile trip through the Pacific area during which he interviewed General MacArthur, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and Emperor Hirohito.

Potential Resistance Seen

He reported that he had detected potential resistance behind the veneer of "bowing and smiling" in Japan and that the strife in China was far from ended. He predicted that deaths from starvation, exposure and disease in Japan would be widespread this winter.

At a press conference with representatives of San Francisco and Oakland newspapers which preceded his appearance before the publishers, Baillie paid tribute to the correspondents covering the war-beaten Orient where limited supplies and facilities make life rugged.

"Even routine items like transportation, food and shelter which we take for granted here," he said, "often loom as major problems for the men who have to get out into the hinterland in a hurry, wherever the news is breaking."

Problems Are Explained

In his address before the publishers, Baillie explained some of the problems that are facing American occupation forces and told why any semblance of economic recovery in Japan and China would be extremely slow.

"General MacArthur, who has the tremendous responsibility of enforcing the Potsdam declaration to the letter and seeing to it that Japan's reform is genuine, must cope with the overwhelming fact that the civilian Army wants to go home ,the folks in the States want the boys home and they are going home," he said.

"At the same time MacArthur is building up an Army of occupation to police Japan so that the various measures he is imposing upon that conquered country will be inflexibly driven through. He has a tough winter ahead, with Japan rapidly assuming the condition of a concentration camp run by the inmates. Deaths by starvation, exposure and disease are sure to mount, even if they don't reach the figure of ten million which Jap propagandists predict.

Chance To Start Something

"General MacArthur told me that in his opinion the Japanese people never would bet again on militarism, their favorite horse, which had just run last in the race. But it would be surprising to me if some die-hards in Japan did not see in that country's present misery and chaos an opportunity to start something.

"Despite all the surface bowing and smiling, it will be astonishing if under this veneer there are not a great many Jap irreconcilables trying to figure a way out.

"In fact, a member of the present Japanese cabinet told me there was danger of the Communists and militarists shaking hands underground.

"This is the same member of the cabinet who also warned me that the entire bloodless occupation was only 'by virtue of the imperial will' and that if anything were to happen to the emperor it might cause a great change within Japan which would be unfortunate for the 'invader.'

Red Problem Grave

"I have reason to believe that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek views the danger of possible Communistic troubles in Japan with considerable concern.

"Japan is still the scene of one of the greatest military exploits in history, but General MacArthur's work is far from finished.

"To what extent our Army might have to go into action in Japan if riots and civil war break out there or if an attempt were made to overthrow the emperor without going through the orderly proceeding of having the people express their will at the ballot box, remains to be seen."

With regard to China, Baillie said, "whether or not we are militarily involved in supporting Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops against the Communists in northern China and Manchuria is controversial. Certainly Chiang's troops would not be in contact with the Communists at many points if our ships and planes, manned by our men, had not transported them to the scene. Yet General Stratemeyer told me in Shanghai that in any real trouble developed between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces and other Chinese armies, we would pull out. He said we were only moving the generalissimo's troops to various strategic points for the purpose of disarming the Japs.

Developments Disappointing

"The present developments in China must be rather disappointing to Generalissimo Chiang since he told me during my interview with him in Chungking that he felt more optimistic than ever before about the possibility of averting further civil war in China. As a matter of fact, the way he phrased it was, 'it is so much easier than ever before' and he thanked American Ambassador Hurley for his efforts toward bringing about peace within China. But the developments since have not gone in the direction which the generalissimo hoped, I feel sure."

Regarding the atomic bomb, Baillie, who flew over Nagasaki, said that from the air the town looked like a real estate development which never got out of the blueprint stage. "The streets were all there," he said, "but where the buildings formerly stood were just vacant lots."

Millions Not To Pay Income Tax This Year; Levy Is Different

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 — Here are things to remember about — and a way to figure out — the reduction in your income tax which Congress just okayed.

It means a cut in your income tax in 1946, starting Jan. 1. It has nothing to do with — and means no cut in — your 1945 taxes.

All taxpayers will benefit from the cut. About 12 million of them paying taxes in 1945 won't have to pay any in 1946. They're the lowest income people.

Millions Won't Worry About Tax

Most people — because most people make under $5,000 a year — won't have to worry about figuring out the new tax.

Employers regularly withhold — by deductions from the paycheck — the full tax on employes making up to $5,000 a year.

They've done that in 1945. They'll do it in 1946. They do it by tables given them by the government. The government will give them new tables for 1946.

The 1946 reduction does three things: gives a taxpayer the same number of normal tax and surtax exemptions; knocks 3 percent off each surtax rate; and then, after all this, knocks 5 percent off the total tax.

This is what that means:

There are two kinds of taxes on individuals: a flat 3 percent normal tax on all incomes, no matter how large or small; and a surtax which starts at 20 percent on taxable income under $2,000 and then rises, by brackets, as the income rises till it is 90 percent on the highest incomes.

In 1946 there is a reduction of 3 percent in each surtax bracket. So the 20 percent surtax of 1945 becomes 17 percent in 1946. There is a 3 percent cut no matter how high the surtax.

Before you apply your surtax to taxable 1945 income you deduct $500 each for yourself and each dependent. These $500 deductions are exemptions.

But in 1945, before applying your normal tax to taxable in-

Everybody's asking..."When can I get new tires?"

HERE'S THE FIRST POSTWAR NEWS ABOUT

U.S. ROYALS

When can I get new tires?

It won't be long now. War production is over. The entire facilities of our 5 giant plants are rolling out tires and tubes 100% for civilian use. This great production capacity is devoted to turning out more and more tires for you.

By January 1, 1946 we expect to be making as many civilian tires every day as we made before the war. Next spring we will be turning out more tires than we ever built before.

What about rationing?

We expect the government to continue rationing for at least 60 days. Present indications are it will be removed or greatly relaxed before the end of 1945.

How good will the new tires be?

Since Pearl Harbor, "U. S." scientists have made as much progress in applying synthetic materials to tire manufacture as had been made in the previous three decades with natural rubber.

When you buy your U. S. Royals, you'll buy more than just a good tire—you'll buy a great tire. Car owners are sending us reports from every section of the country that they are getting prewar performance and better from their U. S. Royals.

From tire dealers, tire service men and tire engineers, men who have made tires their life work, the evidence piles up — U. S. Royals are out in front in mileage, in safety, in all-around performance.

Where and How can I get new U. S. Royals?

Your U. S. Royal Dealer offers you a plan to assure the earliest possible delivery of tires and to keep your present tires rolling during the waiting period.

Here is the plan:

- Go to your U. S. Royal Dealer today for a thorough tire inspection.
- If you are in urgent need of new tires, he will show you how to get them at the earliest possible moment.
- If your need is not immediate, he will use his expert knowledge of tire care to keep your car on active duty until new U. S. Royals are available.
- The quickest way to get new U. S. Royals is to register your tire needs with your U. S. Dealer now.
