4-H Brahman Crosses

Three Youths Take Steers to Houston

Three Collingsworth County 4-H steer feeders will show and sell six calves at the 1969 Houston Livestock Show which opens Monday, Feb. 24.

They are Bruce Oney, Keith Davis and Mike Davis, and each boy is taking two calves.

All of the steers are Brahman crosses and were bred by the Doneghy Ranch. Five are Brahman-Hereford crosses and the other, a Davis calf, is Brahman-Angus. They are about a year old.

Accompanying the boys and their calves to Houston will be their fathers, J. B. Oney and Neil Davis, and county agricultural agent Don Reeves. They will leave Wellington either on Sunday or Monday.

The steers will be entered in the Junior Livestock Show in the Brahman hybrid class, in which all Brahman and crosses with as much as 50 per cent Brahman blood are shown.

The Junior Steer Show will be judged Thursday, Feb. 27, and the grand and reserve breed champions will be picked.

These champions will then compete against the grand and reserve breed champions of the open division, and the overall breed champions and reserve champions will be named. It is from these that the grand champion of the show will be chosen.

The Houston Livestock Show runs from Feb. 24 to March 2, and has over 900 entries in the steer division, Mr. Reeves said. Approximately 60 to 70 will be Brahmans in the junior show and another 40 to 50 in the open show. Dr. Doug Wythe, professor of animal science at the Texas A&M University, will judge the Brahmans.

The boys will attend the rodeo held in connection with the Livestock Show. It will open with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans appearing Feb. 19 through 21, to be followed by Wayne Newton Feb. 22 through 24, and on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 25 and 26, "The Nashville Sound" will be heard starring Boots Randolph and Number One country-western singer, Sonny James.

Texans' Favorite Texan, Jimmy Dean, will appear Feb. 27 and 28.

County Gets First General Moisture of '69

The Collingsworth area received its first general moisture of 1969 when approximately an inch of rain fell Thursday night, and then in showers through Friday, Feb. 13-14.

This was followed early Monday by approximately an inch of snow which melted during the morning hours.

An exception to this was the north part of the county which was in a band that received from four to five inches. This area included Pampa, McLean, and Shamrock, and on into Oklahoma.

Wheat fields were beginning to need moisture, especially those that are being grazed, but this puts them in good condition along with pastures.

Good ground moisture already existed, and the rain and snow of the past week gives the county good ground moisture, it was pointed out by Gary Reed of Soil Conservation Service.

Small Feedlot Program Set at Quail Monday

A program on cattle feeding has been arranged by the Quail Young Farmer Chapter to be given at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 24, in the Quail vocational agriculture building.

A guest speaker will bring the program on small farm and commercial feedlots, according to Doyle Messer, vocational agriculture instructor. Richard Nall of Wellington is making arrangements for the speaker.

A film showing feedlot operation also will be shown.

In view of the growing realization that feedlots can be a stabilizer in the agricultural economy of the country, and that this area is especially adapted to their operation, the public is invited to this meeting, Mr. Messer said.

Surfaced Road Sought in NW Collingsworth

Delegations from Gray and Collingsworth Counties met with Virgil McGee of Childress, district highway engineer, in Wellington Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 19, to request a hard surfaced road that would serve the northwest part of Collingsworth County and provide a link from this area to the northwest Panhandle and beyond.

The meeting was still in session when The Wellington Leader went to press.

Groundwork for the meeting was laid Monday night when a group of ranchers from northwest Collingsworth and the McLean area and representatives of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce met in Wellington with members of the Commissioners Court, City Council and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and interested business men.

County Commissioner W. R. Breeding was host at a dinner and Ralph Owens, C-C head, presided at the meeting that followed.

The road which the two counties seek would be multi-purpose and it would replace a dirt road that now serves the area, and which county officials pointed out is expensive and difficult to maintain. Most important, it was pointed out, it is a school bus route for both the schools in both Samnorwood and McLean; it is a mail route; a lot of people live in the area, and this dirt road at present is the only way that ranchers can get thousands of head of cattle into and out of the northwest part of Collingsworth.

"I don't doubt that as many cattle go over that road as over any roads in the state," said Commissioner Breeding.

At present, a five-mile Farm-to-Market road is approved to start at the end of FM 1036 in the Abra community and extend westward. The road being sought would be from the end of that approved road, north and west into McLean. The route would be left to Highway Engineers.

It would lie in Precinct 4.

Pat O'Hair, Commissioner of Precinct 3 pointed out that in the last 18 years his precinct has had 62 miles of paved road. But Precinct 4 in that same period has had only 23 miles of surfaced roads, not including the five miles approved for construction.

However, 20 miles of that was

AUSTIN.—C. O. Layne, State Coordinator of Defense and Disaster Relief for the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that Judge Zook Thomas, Collingsworth County, will participate on the program during the Ninth Annual Civil Defense Directors Conference.

The annual Civil Defense conference is scheduled Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 24-25, in Austin's Villa Capri Motor Hotel.

Chief Layne said that Judge Thomas will serve on a panel discussing "Results of Community Shelter Planning."

Laurence T. Ayres, Community Shelter Planning Officer for the Division of Defense and Disaster Relief, will be moderator of this panel portion of the program. Panel members include Judge Thomas, Major Rufus Cleghorn, Civil Defense Director for Waco-McLennan County, and Cuero-DeWitt County Civil Defense Director Dewey Henderson.

Colonel Wilson Speir said some 400 to 450 civic leaders, county judges, mayors, and civil defense directors are expected to attend the two-day meeting.

The conference schedule for Feb. 24 includes a report on defense and disaster relief in Texas by Col. Speir, a discussion on local civil defense promotion by Jake Canglose, director of Brazos County Civil Defense, and a special report by Major General Lyle A. Welch, adjutant general of the State of Nebraska and president of the National Association of State Civil Defense Directors.

James L. Lewis, director of the National Disaster Division, U.S. Office of Emergency Preparedness, will report Monday on federal agency coordination in time of disaster.

The agenda for Tuesday, Feb. 25 will include a review of people's reaction in times of emergency by Col. Edwin T. Cooke of the Department of Neuropsychiatry, U. S. Army Field Service School at Fort Sam Houston. Other featured speakers Tuesday include Bill Parker, regional director of the Office of Civil Defense, Department of the Army, and Big Spring Police Chief E. J. Banks.

Blood Is a Constant Need at St. Joseph's

One way or another, you always get back the blood you give.

Each of the 125 pints to fill the Red Cross Bloodmobile quota in Wellington Friday, Feb. 28, will come back many times over. Records of St. Joseph's and other area hospitals prove this.

The need for blood is constant and sometimes dramatic at St. Joseph's, says Sister Mary Perpetua, administrator.

"We have several patients with bleeding conditions who come into the hospital for blood," she explained. "They may get a pint a day for up to five or six days, it depends on the individual. Some are back in not more than a week. Others go several months between visits."

Some receive blood as outpatients.

One of these is a man with a rare blood type. There are not enough walking blood donors here to fill the need. He, himself was a former walking donor and gave at each bloodmobile visit.

"I have already received many times the amount of blood I gave," he told the hospital administrator.

There are bleeding peptic ulcer patients who come in seven or eight times a year and use from three to eight units of whole blood each time.

It may be one of the blood derivatives that is called for.

Routine lab work revealed one woman scheduled for surgery was a pseudo-hemophaeliac—a bleeder.

One factor that aids in clotting was deficient and she received 13 units of fresh frozen blood plasma, one every 12 hours. Col. Mason of the Amarillo Red Cross Blood program made three trips to Wellington to bring the fresh plazma. Without it, the patient could not have lived through surgery.

"She was not a real hemophaeliac, but as far as the immediate effect is concerned, you bleed as much," Sister Perpetua said.

Most surgical patients aver-

Provide Youth Skills to Work, Davis Urges

The answer to bringing industry into Wellington is to have a reservoir of educated, skilled young people who can work in it, Texas Youth Leader Robert T. (Sonny) Davis told a Chamber of Commerce banquet audience Thursday evening, Feb. 13.

His down-to-earth address, mainly about youth, was addressed to the almost 200 adults who were present.

Two special awards were presented which are traditional at the annual C-C banquet. Mrs. Yvonne Brewer, Collingsworth County treasurer, received the plaque as the most courteous person in a service position in Wellington, with outgoing President Jeff Wilson making the presentation.

Troy Gene Thomason, youthful Wellington farmer, then received the plaque as the outstanding farmer of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District from Pat Bradley, a member of the board of superivsors.

Mr. Davis' talk came last on the program. He pointed out that in Texas, only 10 students out of 100 graduating from high school will ever receive college degrees. Those 90 who do not will have to make a living in other ways.

He recalled an interview in which Astronaut John Glenn said as he sat in his space craft before blast-off he was thinking of the 183,000 moving parts that were beneath him and the people who made them.

"Ask your school what skills they offer so young people can make those 183,000 moving parts," Mr. Davis urged.

Respect for law must be rekindled, he said, then reminded that many of the ills of youth are fostered by older folks who are greedy for gain.

After 25 years of helping other nations around the world, and $180 billion spent doing it, the United States stands accused by those it has helped, Mr. Davis noted.

"I hope we are raising a younger generation that when they are told 'American, go home' will reply 'Buster, we're fixing to do just that. We have problems and need our own money'.

"And then I hope they will build a country that other nations will see as a model community."

Declaring his faith in free enterprise, and individual initiative, Mr. Davis told briefly of some of the young people who through their work in the Texas Youth Conference have proved this amply.

Musical entertainment was furnished by a girls chorus from the Skyrocket Youth Council that included Mickey

For County Teachers

Dr. Brim Tells of "Discovery School"

Dr. Burl Brim, who teaches in the education department of West Texas State University, came home to Wellington Monday night, Feb. 17, to tell teachers of the Discovery School he conducts each summer.

He was the speaker at the meeting of the County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association. Dr. Brim and his wife, Mary, who accompanied him here, are the authors and artists of that Collingsworth best seller, "The Magic Train at Sad Monkey."

Children in a rural environment, such as Collingsworth, still have the advantage of discovering things for themselves, Dr. Brim reminded. He established this school to give a group of children 5 to 14 years of age such an opportunity.

"I like to call it an 'input school'," he said. "A computer is no better than what you feed into it. Kids are the same way.

"On television, they get only second hand experiences, not the touch-taste-sight-and-smell experience. When you restrict a child in a room, you restrict him in many ways," Dr. Birm said.

Using slides and commentary he showed the teachers through a day when his school visited a box canyon off Palo Duro and logged 600 kid hours without the need of so much as a band-aid.

"They found juniper trees 50 feet tall, because the walls of the canyon hold heat—things people don't know about. They found a cactus that grows only on the coast, and the kids identified it."

Such simple things as climbing a tree builds motor skills and confidence and gives children a chance to cooperate, Dr. rBim said.

His down-to-earth observations about children (the Brims

Baccarini Due at West Texas Coaching Clinic

CANYON. — Bob Baccarini, head coach at Henderson County Junior College, will lecture on his type of offense at the sixth annual West Texas State Coaching Clinic March 7-8.

Also headlining the clinic will be John Ray, new head football coach at the University of Kentucky and former assistant at Notre Dame.

The Cardinals have participated in bowl games at the end of each of these regular seasons, including the Junior Rose Bowl in 1965 and 1966 and the Las Vegas Championship Bowl in 1967. Last year Henderson played in the Wool Bowl.

Mary Ann Roark Wins Trip to New York, Washington

A former Wellington girl now living at Victoria, Mary Ann Roark, is one of 30 Texas seniors who will tour New York City and Washington, D.C. during the first half of March.

The Texans, along with 30 Oklahoma students, are going on a Tex-Homa International Affairs Seminar for Youth, according to her mother, Mrs. J. J. Roan.

They will leave Dallas Friday morning, March 7 and the Oklahoma group will join them in Oklahoma City for the flight to New York.

There they will sit in on United Nations sessions, go sightseeing, and attend television and Broadway shows.

After three days in New York they will go by bus to Washington, where they will sit in on congressional sessions and visit government offices. Texas Congressmen are due to have some events planned for them.

The group will return home March 15.

There will be lots of serious study for the students. Register Motor Vehicles Properly — It's the Law

AUSTIN. — The chairmen of the Texas Highway Commission and the Texas Public Safety Commission today issued a joint appeal to motor vehicle owners to be sure they have their vehicles registered properly as required by state law.

J. H. Kultgen of Waco, chairman of the Highway Commission, and Clifton Cassidy Jr. of Dallas, chairman of the Public Safety Commission, said computerization of all vehicle registrations in the Highway Department being completed now, will make enforcement of this law by highway patrolmen much swifter.

"Many motorists, knowingly or unknowingly, have their vehicles registered illegally in counties other than where they reside, and others who live in cities show only a Post Office box number instead of their residence address, as required by law," Kultgen said.

"Through the efforts of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association, many dealers have offered their cooperation in urging vehicle purchasers to register their vehicles in accordance with the law."

Cassidy said computerization of registration records in the Highway Department will be of significant help in enforcement of the registration law, because of the speed with which a patrolman can determine whether a vehicle is legally registered.

"For example," said Cassidy, "one of our highway patrolmen who stops a vehicle can learn by radio within a very few minutes how it is registered and compare it with the owner's address.

"This information will be immediately available from the computer at the Highway Department in Austin, and the patrolman can obtain it through the Department of Public Safety communications system very quickly."

Cassidy said the computerization of the vehicle registration records also will be invaluable in criminal law enforcement work, pointing out that in the majority of the crimes committed, the criminal uses an automobile in one way or another.

Kiltgen said the modern system of record-keeping will be of considerable convenience to the individual motorist next year when he has to obtain new license plates for his vehicle.

"Instead of having to wait in long lines while clerks laboricusly type the needed information, he will be provided in advance with a pre-prepared form containing such information which simply will present when he pays his registration fee," he said.

Kultgen reminded that the period for registering vehicles is from Feb. 1 through April 1, and urged motorists to be sure they are registered correctly and legally so as to avoid penalty under the law.

Ask a man who owns 68!

Pay the energy bills for 68 dryers and you've got to form some opinions on economy. Dallas washateria owner S. D. Dean does, so he knows gas dryers cost far less to operate. For instance, a typical home model costs five times less to run than an electric dryer. Is that the kind of economy you want? You can have it with a gas dryer...whether you're paying the bills for 68 of 'em ...or just one! See your gas appliance dealer or Lone Star Gas during Washday Wishday Sale. THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER

Drugs, Narcotics Discussed for B&PW and Guests at Banquet Tues.

The subtle ways in which narcotics and mind-bending drugs may infiltrate a community were described in detail by Bert Keith, a member of the Amarillo Police Department intelligence unit, when he addressed the Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club and its guests Tuesday evening, February 11.

He was accompanied by Joe Bowers, also of the PD intelligence unit.

Referring often to cases they have handled, Mr. Keith told the Wellington group that kids can have marijuana under the very noses of adults. He cited a 10-year-old school boy who was picked up for selling marijuana. Another youngster told his mother he was growing a school project. She faithfully watered a marijuana plant.

In itself, it is not habit forming, but Mr. Keith warned that marijuana coming into the United States from Vietnam is cured with opium. Police find three types in Amarillo, he said — homegrown, that from Vietnam and that from Mexico.

An amount of LSD no larger than a pin head can send the user on a "trip", the police officer said. Last year an investigator who accidentally picked up LSD on his fingertips during an investigation, then touched them to his lips, also went on a "trip".

The ways of transporting LSD are ingenious. One airline passenger arriving in Amarillo aroused suspicion by the manner in which he clutched a large blotter under his arm. After his arrest, examination showed many tiny spots of LSD were absorbed on it. This blotter was to have been sold in tiny pieces, each with enough of the drug for a "trip".

But LSD is not the most potent of the hallucinogenic drugs. "Speed," Mr. Keith said will deeply affect the mind for 40 hours in comparison to the 8-hour average of LSD.

This was the club's Valentine banquet.

In a memorial service honoring the late Miss Sara Jones, Mrs. Bura Handley presented a book, "The Walls Come Tumbling Down," to the Collingsworth County Library.

Miss Helen Wright, representative of the Educational Division Simplicity Pattern Company of New York recently gave a program in Amarillo on "Fashion Artistry." In her discussion she emphasized the five fashion looks for spring.

(1) "The Village Look" which is casual but a total, well-thought-out look.

(2) "The American Look," which is classic elegance such as Jackie Kennedy wore.

(3) "Look of 1930's and 1940's" which uses soft fabrics on the bias cut.

(4) "The Gypsy Look" which is an international look for fun times and colorful occasions.

(5) "The Indian Look" which is predominantly an at home fashion or young people's fashion.

Miss Wright said that voiles, lawns and organdy, laces and sheers play an important part in the fashion picture for this spring. Red, white and blue are popular colors with the youth while pastels are important colors for fashion-conscious adults. Scarfs, belts, (especially jeweled belts), chains and beads are important accessories. Wear your scarfs like the cowboys and you will be in fashion.

In wearing pins, place the larger ones further from the face. Small pins can be worn on the neckline or on collars.

Miss Wright stressed that bell-bottom pants and stovepipe pants are very good this year. Capri pants are out with the fashion conscious.

Handbags for the New Season

Handbags are big and boxy this spring. The box-bags may be square, oval, hut-like, treasure chest and elongated shapes for casual and for dressy afternoons.

For evening wear, designers have trimmed the box bags to mini size.

Bags are styled as a satchel, shoulder bags and tote. Each may have striking details such as luggage handles, and lock closings, outside pockets, and stitching and buckles.

For springtime, many leather satchels are waxy, embossed, antique-shaded and grainy leathers.

Banana Split Pie

Mrs. Duggie Jameson called my attention to this delicious pie recipe that she copied from a gourmet program on television. I believe you will agree with us that it is delicious! One warning — it is not a calorie-free recipe!

Line a 9-inch pie plate with cocoanut macroons. Cover the entire bottom and sides of the plate. Add a layer of soft vanilla ice cream, then add sliced bananas over the ice cream. Next cover the bananas with a layer of pineapple preserves. Then spoon chocolate syrup over the pineapple preserves. Top with whipped cream, nuts, chocolate syrup and cherries. Place in the refrigerator until firm.

Consumer Clips

• Of every 10 household food dollars, convenience foods today claim three—compared to $2.75 in 1955. Buying trends are shifting from canned to fresh fruit juices and from fresh to processed potatoes. The average householder in 1965 used 30 percent more condensed soups and 100 percent more dehydrated soups than he did in 1951 and bought more bakery products in advanced stages of preparation than he did bakery mixes.

• Convenience foods may ease kitchen chores but they complicate food shopping. With more convenience foods being used, family decision-making of food is becoming more complex. More foods are now in convenience form and the homemaker must choose whether to include convenience foods in her shopping, she must compare seemingly identical products and she must know how to shop.

Sue Whitson Weds David Pollard III in Church Ceremony at Brownfield

Miss Sue Margaret Whitson was married to David Orren Pollard III in the Crescent Hill Church of Christ in Brownfield Friday, February 14, at seven-thirty in the evening. Douglas Jameson, minister, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Stanley Whitson of Lutie, while Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Owens Pollard of Hemet, California, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Mr. Whitson gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a white velvet A-line wedding gown of classic design, with wrist-length sleeves.

Dainty white flowers edged her veil and her bouquet was an orchid surrounded with forget-me-nots.

Miss Laura Whitson, youngest sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her floor-length red velvet dress was designed similar to the bride's and her headpiece was a flat red velvet bow holding a short veil. She carried pink carnations.

Clifford Niles of Brownfield, formerly of Wellington, was the best man. Candles were lighted by Van Whitson of Amarillo and Bart Baldwin of Kermit.

After the ceremony, more than 400 guests attended the reception which honored the couple.

The guests were served by the bride's sisters and sisters-in-law. Mrs. Wayne Whitson of Lubbock poured, while Mrs. Neil Billingsley of El Paso and Mrs. Tom Whitson of Amarillo served the wedding cake.

Mrs. Pollard was a member of the Brownwood school faculty for a number of years. She was graduated from Samnorwood High School and received the Bachelor of science degree from Abilene Christian College in 1951. Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

Q. I'm a farmer and I would rather file early than pay the estimated tax. When do I have to send in my 1968 tax return?

A. The filing deadline for farmers who have not made an estimated tax declaration return is Feb. 17. Be sure to attach a schedule F to your form 1040 and pay in full any tax that is due.

Q. I have a stock sale to report. What form do I use and where can I get a copy?

A. Stock sales and other sales or exchanges of property should be reported on Schedule D. The net profit or loss from these sales should be entered on line 5, Part II of your form 1040.

Copies of Schedule D are available at local IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices.

Q. My refund was held up last year. What can I do to avoid the same thing happening this year?

A. File a complete, accurate return and send it in early. Refund claims filed now can be processed and the refund issued in five to six weeks.

A major reason for refund delays last year was incomplete returns. Over one and a half million returns were received with a missing or an incorrect social security number. Other common errors were failure to sign the return and failure to include W-2 statements.

Missing supplementary forms, such as those to claim the sick pay exclusion or a moving expense deduction, also delayed some refunds.

Q. My paycheck has been smaller the last few weeks. Have taxes gone up?

A. The Social Security tax rate for individuals increased from 4.4 percent to 4.8 percent in January. This may account for the increased withhholding from your paycheck.

Q. A W-2 form came last week for my son who is now in the Navy. Does he have to file a tax return?

A. Yes, he does if his income was $600 or more last year. A return would also have to be filed to obtain a refund of tax withheld even if income was less than $600. However, if he is stationed overseas he has additional time to file his return.

Taxpayers out of the country have an automatic extension from April 15 to June 16 to file 1968 returns. If your son is in Vietnam, his return isn't due until 180 days after he leaves that area.

Q. I am a widower. Does the fact that my nephew now makes his home with me allow me to file as head of household?

A. If your nephew also qualifies as your dependent then you may be able to file as a head of household. Check your 1040 instructions for details.

Q. Social Security tax was taken from my pay on both jobs I held last year. Is there any way I can get part of this back?

A. If more than $343.20 was withheld from your wages last year for Social Security taxes, then the excess can be claimed as a credit on your income tax return. The amount of the credit should be entered on line 18, page 1 of the form 1040.

Be sure to attach W-2 forms from both employers showing the amounts that were withheld.

Q. How much can a self-employed person deduct for contributions to a retirement plan?

A. A self-employed person can set aside up to 10 percent of his earned income in an approved plan with a maximum of $2,500, and deduct this on his return. This is explained in Publication 560, "Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals". Send a post card to your District office to obtain a free copy.

Q. What taxes can I deduct on my return?

A. You may deduct state and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property, and real estate taxes.

Deductions are not allowed for: Federal taxes, drivers licenses, state and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous items. Also, the cost of auto tags are deductible only to the extent they are based on the value of your car.

FIRST TWO PARTIES

The first two political parties in the United States were the Federalists, who followed Hamilton's lead, and the Republicans (later Democrats) who accepted the leadership of Jefferson.

Errors Hamper Tax Returns

COLLEGE STATION.— Avoid delay in getting income tax refunds by avoiding mistakes in tax reports, advises an Extension home management specialist.

Mrs. Wanda Meyer says the ten most frequent mistakes on individual returns last year were due mostly to carelessness. She suggests rechecking a return and rereading the instructions for overlooked items.

Failure to sign the return, or in the case of a joint return, failure for both partners to sign is a frequent mistake. Use of the wrong tax table or tax-rate schedule and calculation from the wrong line of the tax table or rate schedule are common errors.

Other mistakes include using wrong Social Security numbers or failure to list the numbers, entry on the wrong line of the amount due or owed and failure to complete the return.

Mrs. Meyers reminds self-employed persons to calculate Social Security tax.

Dependents other than children should be explained, she says, adding that space is provided on form 1040. Unusual deductions need explanation, too, she says.

TB STILL ACTIVE

..Texas had 3,209 new cases of infectious tuberculosis in 1967.

Take ice cream along on a picnic by packing it with dry ice. Wrap with several pieces of dry ice in heavy paper or in a corrugated box tightly sealed.

21-6 Season Record

Rockets End Season With Victory Duo

Wellington Skyrockets ended their 1968 season with a couple of victories and had some fun doing it, since the district title was no longer on the line as far as they were concerned.

Wellington boys ended the season with a 21-6 record, and a conference record of 11-3.

Only four boys will be lost to next year's team, the fewest since Coach James Stavenhagen came to Wellington High School. These are Chuck Wilbur, Tony Hurst, Glen Barber, and Herman Moore.

One of the choice victories of their season came Tuesday, Feb. 11, when they defeated the Childress Bobcats 59 to 52. This avenged a skin-of-the-teeth loss to the Bobcats a few weeks ago.

But it also forced Childress into a play-off game with Seymour to see who will represent the district.

"Wellington played a real good game. They didn't hit as good a percent as they have in some games, but they made fewer mistakes," praised Coach Stavenhagen.

"I was real pleased with the overall showing of our team this year. I feel at the present time we have the best ball club in the district, but we had to play conference games earlier, and our team wasn't seasoned during the first go-round."

High point for Wellington was Lester Robinson with 25. Bruce Morey had 12 for Childress.

The Rockets came on strong Friday night, Feb. 14, to defeat Quanah 68 to 63 and close their season.

Wellington had the Quanah boys down bad at one time, then let up a little and Quanah came back and played real good basketball.

Glen Barber scored 21 points to lead Rocket scoring and Chuck Wilbur had 14. James Page had 15 for Quanah.

Cynthia entered the hospital Feb. 5 and tests were completed late last week.

She cannot have company, but mail-call is a big event for her, Mr. Clement said.

Cards of Thanks

We want to acknowledge our most sincere appreciation for the flowers, cards, expressions of encouragement, and prayers while we were in the Wellington and Amarillo hospitals.

In Christian love.
Mr. and Mrs. Ira Morgan.

My sincere thanks to each of you who were so thoughtful of me during my recent illness. For each kind deed I am truly grateful.

Jake Tarter

May we express our sincere appreciation to each of you for the sympathy extended us at the passing of our loved one. We are especially grateful to Dr. Holcomb, the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital, to all those who sent flowers or brought food, and to everyone who in any way sought to bring us a measure of consolation.

May God bless each of you.
The family of
Mrs. C. R. Burney

We wish to take this means to say Thank You to everyone who helped in any way to bear our sorrow. We deeply appreciate the prayers, visits, cards, flowers and food. May God richly bless you.

The family of
Robert Lee (Bob) Seale

May we take this little bit of space to tell all the Collingsworth County people just how wonderful they are. First, we live in the garden spot of the world. But you hear all around us that our children are going to the bad, that we are going to have a depression and that God is Dead. Be optimistic. Have no fear, for God is not dead but hears all our prayers.

But the main thing I wanted to write about is St. Joseph's Hospital. I do not have the words to express how much I appreciate all the nurses and doctors have done for me.

Thanks to all my friends and the Hospital Staff.

Mrs. W. W. McClaskey.

Mobile Homes Part of Fantastic New Industry

The selection of a site here for Orbit Travelers, Inc. to manufacture its 35-ft. model brings Wellington into one of the fastest growing industries of the mid-century.

In 1968, the industry had its "boom year of all boom years," with more than 311,000 units shipped. This was 50,000 more than in 1967.

Representatives attending the 33rd National Mobile Home Show in Louisville, Ky., in Jan. predicted that sales this year would be up at least 10 or 15 per cent.

We think of mobile homes and travel trailers as taking us places. But they also form the nation's only low-cost housing industry. Each year, increasing numbers are used for permanent homes and Orbit's 35-footer is large enough to be included.

Last year, mobile homes captured 86 per cent of the housing that sold for under $12,500, according to industry spokesman. The creation of mobile home site developments is new in the field of design.

And when you think of it, there's already a number of permanently located mobile homes in Collingsworth.

Other Editors Say . . .

It Could Happen Here

The front page of the state's press has been for the past few weeks—literaly—bordered in black. A sad note of mourning has dominated the news.

There was that wreck down the way a ways . . . . the one that involved so many cars . . . and so many lives. There was that other one closer to some.

Those names weren't just casualty lists or statistics. Up to that moment they had been good, enjoyable neighbors . . . in their own home towns. Those were people and friends . . . living, breathing, talking, singing and sharing in community tasks and enjoyments.

And the real, sobering shuddering, thought about it is just this.

It could happen here!

If there is anything this great state has going against it, it is the number and magnitude of its highway fatalities. It isn't necessary to go to the national records to understand. These news stories appearing regularly in the daily press tell the sad, sad story.

The tragedy is there each day in big, black and tear-glistened letters. Only the size and scope of the tragedy varies . . . and that seems to have reached an all-time crescendo in these past few months.

These big casualties of the roadways have been bearing the datelines of another community. But, again, it could happen here.

And it will happen here unless a new and more responsibile concept is absobed by every man or woman who takes to the wheel on the roads of the area. If the carnage is to stop, it must be the personal project of every individual.

This big gun of the highways is pointed square at us.

Yes, the sobering truth—at the risk of repetition—is that it can happen here.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—Legislators are beginning to move along with some of the important decisions facing them.

A Senate committee gave approval to a constitutional amendment by which voters will be allowed to say "yes" or "no" at the general election, November 1970, whether they want liquor by the drink in Texas on a local-option basis.

A House committee gave the companion proposal a friendly reception, and is expected to approve it there, too. But sponsors agree that it will be hard to get the two-thirds majorities necessary in each house to pass the proposal on to voters.

Next big proposal for the House Constitutional Amendments Committee is the $3.5-billion water bond proposal sponsored by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake. This is the state's share of financing for the $10-billion Texas Water Plan. It, too, will go to the voters in November of 1970, if two-thirds majorities in each house agree to submit it.

Bills Advance

A bill to raise retirement benefits of state employees to 25 percent (up 10 percent) landed on the governor's desk following passage by both houses.

Another measure approved by both houses raises the maximum interest rate on state and local bonds from 5% to 6½%.

Senate has passed proposed constitutional amendments to guarantee equal legal rights for women, grant state funds to governors-elect and to exempt rural water supply districts from taxation.

Bills passed by the Senate include measures to transfer 45 acres from Harris to Waller County, permit Texas A&M University to issue revenue bonds for water and sewage facilities on its campuses and authorizing sale of a Texas Woman's University lot in Denton to finance a music scholarship.

Bills Galore

Usually the number of bills filed at the Capitol slackens after the first few weeks. So far this session, it hasn't happened.

—Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene has introduced a bill to add at least 50% to the tuition fees of non-Texas students at state colleges while increasing tuition for Texas students only slightly.

—Rep. George Hinson of Mineola has a bill through committee to allow school districts to get full state aid for students taking vocational courses in another district.

—Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur has dropped a bill into the House which would allow public employees to have labor unions.

—Four House bills to strengthen the obscenity law have been introduced.

—Rep. Cletus Davis of Houston has announced that he will introduce a bill to replace article 1220 of the Texas Penal Code (known as the paramour statute) which allows a husband to murder legally a man "taken in the act of adultery with his wife".

—Two bills to up the punishment for firearms crimes have been introduced by Sens. Jack Hightower of Vernon and Henry C. Gruver of Houston.

—Rep. Parker also has introduced a bill to regulate and license private detectives and guards and their employees.

—Sen. Criss Cole, Houston, has introduced a bill providing that subdivision plats in unincorporated areas must be approved by the county commissioners court before they may be filed and recorded.

—Senator Cole also has introduced a bill providing for improved control of solid waste disposal and giving authority to counties, the State Health Department and the Water Quality Board. Rep. Rex Braun of Houston also has introduced some pollution control bills and opposition between the two has arisen.

School Consolidation

The Little Red School House Committee, made up of rural landowners, farmers and ranchers from all over Texas, will lobby against the companion bills by Sen. A. R. Swartz of Galevston and DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi. Their bills would reduce the number of school districts in Texas from 1,218 to 353.

Charles Schreiner III, Mountain Home rancher and chairman of the Committee, said, "Mere bigness is not an absolute guarantee of excellence."

College Knowledge Climbs

Higher education planners handed the Legislature an explosive new issue—higher tuitions and steep building use fees for college students.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System adopted by a wide margin the finance committee proposal to double tuitions and establish $165 a year fee for students at six proposed new schools. Fee would go to retire building bonds.

Levies are necessary, Board concluded, to finance a $401-million building program and college - university operating costs expected to read $404.2 million by 1975-76.

Board is asking the Legislature this year not only to approve controversial fund-raising methods but also to appropriate $6 million to begin coordinated master planning for new institutions. Latter would be located at San Antonio, Midland-Odessa, Dallas, Corpus Christi and two at Houston.

Opposition outcries already have been raised against the recommended $7 per semester credit hour (about $210 a year) tuition for residents and $20 an hour for non-residents. Milder protests have been lodged against building use fee as discriminating against new college enrollees. Board claims both increases are necessary and that new school students really will be saving money by having higher education brought to their hometowns.

Texas Population Boom

Texas' population has grown to 10,945,000, according to a new study by UT's Research Center.

Growth rate from 1960 has been a steady, average 1.7% a year.

Major cities have been growing beyond that rate. For example, Harris County with 1.5 million inhabitants as of last April 1, grew at a rate of 3.1%; Dallas with 1,131,000 population jumped 3.2%; and Bexar with 802,500 inhabitants has jumped 1.9% a year since 1960.

Inspection Deadline Near

Only a third of Texas' six million cars have been inspected, warns the Department of Public Safety.

DPS noted that April 15 is the deadline and urged motorists to have their cars checked before long lines form around the state's 5,466 inspection stations.

Average cost to drivers this year has been $3.02. That includes the standard $1.75 fee and whatever else is necessary to secure the red, white and blue safety sticker. Headlight alignments and brake adjustments account for most of the ordered corrections checked to date.

Short Snorts

• State Senate authorized Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes to name a 6-member advisory committee on youth problems.

• Dallas families are challenging in federal court the Texas Department of Public Welfare's cut in financial aid to dependent children.

• Senate labor and management committee approved a compromise workmen's compensation bill to raise benefits to injured by 40%.

GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKES MANY FEEL OLD

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where a federal court is being asked to rule that the Constitution guarantees ample food for every citizen.

My taxed-hungry neighbor says he hopes this message is found between the lines of the great document, and that it not only guarantees food for all, but T-bone type food.

Because he figures that with such a guarantee being brought to light, we will finally have a ceiling on taxation. The state and federal more-grabbers will then be Constitutionally required to leave each taxpayer with enough money to buy his Constitutionally rightful ration of groceries.

Conservation Leaders Hear Watershed Development Urged

Attending the Panhandle Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Silverton Wednesday, Feb. 12 were Dan Henard, Jr., supervisor of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District and Gary Reed, work unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service.

The Wellington men considered the outstanding speaker to be O. R. Stark of Quitaque, who discussed community improvement and told how conservation played an important part in the rural life of that area.

He told how watershed development improved the recreation and wildlife potential around Quitaque and added that with further development, that area could have a million dollar industry in tourism, recreation, etc., just from utilizing existing resources.

During the business session, members voted to send a resolution to Congress asking for the extension of the Great Plains Conservation Program.

They also voted to ask the state legislature for appropriations for soil and water conservation districts to be used in promoting educational and informational programs. The districts have received no funds from the state in several years, Mr. Reed said.

Approximately 65 district supervisors and SCS conservationists attended.

Seminar Slated on Developing Feeder Cattle

With the cattle feeding industry skyrocketing to new heights on the Texas and Oklahoma Plains, the demand for feeder cattle has also zoomed upward. And this development has added tremendous potential to the area.

This potential and the development of a profitable feeder cattle operation will be the key topics of discussion during a beef cattle seminar slated for Feb. 26 at the Perryton High School auditorium. Registration will get under way at 9:30 a.m.

Headlining the seminar will be a discussion on the potentials in animal agriculture by Dr. L. S. Pope, associate dean for administrative affairs, Texas A&M University College of Agriculture.

Other topics which will be discussed during the morning session include "Nutritional Backgrounding" by Ross Cooley, consulting nutritionist, Hereford, and "Preconditioning" by Dr. H. R. Rinker, veterinarian, Perryton.

Lloyd Bergsma, executive secretary, Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Amarillo, will kick off the afternoon session with a discussion on the future outlook for feeder cattle.

Following will be a panel discussion on "Management of Profitable Feeder Cattle", led by Pope. In addition to the above speakers, other panel members will include Lad Hitch and Ray Kimsey, cattle feeders, Guymon, Okla.; Martin Gossett, cattle feeder, Dumas; John Pitts, cattle feeder, Perryton; and Stanton Brown, manager, League Ranch, Benjamin.

A special feature for high school juniors and seniors will be a luncheon with Pope at which time the Texas A&M official will discuss careers in animal agriculture.

All individuals in Collingsworth County interested in the beef cattle industry are invited to attend the seminar. The sponsors are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Cattle Feeders Association and the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations in Perryton.

Additional information on this seminar is available at the office of the county agent.

Mail Tax Return to Correct Place

DALLAS.—If you have a refund due on your 1968 Federal income tax return, a sure way to slow it up is to mail your return to an incorrect address.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today that Northern Texas taxpayers should mail returns showing refunds directly to the Southwest Service Center, 3651 S. Interregional Highway, Austin, Texas 78740.

A pre-addressed envelope for this purpose is included with your tax-forms package. If it was mislaid or lost, a mailing label may be obtained from your nearest IRS office.

Checks or money orders in payment of the tax should be made payable to: "Internal Revenue Service."

Only Fifth of Local Vehicles Are Inspected

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 21% of the registered vehicles in Collingsworth County have been inspected," said Capt. Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Unless there is a rapid increase of inspections, long waiting lines will be formed at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches. The authorized inspection stations are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles if owners will not wait until a few days before the deadline," Johnson said.

"Any driver operating a vehicle without a 1969 sticker on public roads after April 15 that is required to be inspected will be operating in violation of the law," Johnson added.

Capt. Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program in 1951, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents has decreased from 13% to 3%.

Johnson said, "The purpose of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident and, by removing the link, prevent the accident."

Joe Brock

Joe Brock certainly has come a long way in a year.

Last year at this time he and his family moved to Portales. He had been born and raised at Wellington, Texas, where he had competed in football during his high school career.

As a 17-year-old junior transfer, Joe was disappointed at first about leaving Wellington. He wanted to finish high school there and continue playing football. He was uncertain about his chances of landing a starting position with the Rams.

Today he is the Rams' lone representative on the South All-Star prep football team. Joe was selected earlier this week to play at the Albuquerque classic in August.

The 6-2, 180-pound senior linebacker and offensive tackle and end had been named to the All-District 4-A team; and the AP and UPI all-state second teams at linebacker spot earlier in the winter.

After hearing that Rams' end Marv Markham had played on the all-star team last year, Joe was hopeful but pessimistic of his chances. When told by his principal, Russell Knudson, of his selection, Joe was extremely surprised and pleased.

He expects to receive a letter notifying him of his selection, and looking toward the summer classic, figures it to be a rough game. After seeing Artesia (the state Class AA champions) defeat Clovis last year, he knows very well the calibre of the competition.

Joe began playing football in the seventh grade at Wellington, mostly, he says, "because everybody else did." He prefers playing defense, and after being named district honorable mention his sophomore year, his football hopes increased.

He started both years and his junior year, Wellington compiled a 6-4 record. He had high hopes for his senior year. Then came the move to Portales.

Here in Portales last year, Joe learned the Rams' style of football. "The coaches taught the type of football I like to play," he said, and quickly Joe won a starting berth as linebacker.

Looking back over the year, Joe has unbridled enthusiasm for the Rams, who finished with a 5-5 record but lost several squeakers. He was named a team co-captain and sparked the Rams' defense countless times.

Joe also throws the discus and enjoys acting in high school dramas. During his spare time he likes to work on a farm. When time permits, Joe enjoys hunting and fishing.

Looking toward his football future, Joe simply states: "I just want to play somewhere."

With aspirations of majoring in engineering or in agriculture, he favors Texas Tech. So far, he has received letters from Abilene Christian College and the University of Texas at El Paso.

After his selection to the all-star team, no doubt, Joe will be much sought after. But he cannot make a commitment until after the game. In the meantime, he dreams of a gridiron future.

Rockettes Drop Two Practice Games in Week

Wellington Rockettes, champions of District 2-AA, lost to the strong Panhandle and Canyon girls in practice games last week.

The Panhandle Pantherettes won 76 to 64 Tuesday, Feb. 11 in a return match from last season.

This was mostly an offensive game on the part of both teams but Panhandle girls were able to hit the basket more consistently than the Wellington players.

Mary Lou Holton of Wellington and Sally Miller of Panhandle tied for scoring honors with 42 each.

Wellington	10	17	35	64
Panhandle	11	34	54	76

The Rockettes traveled to Canyon Saturday night, Feb. 15 and in the Eaglettes ran into one of the strong AAA teams of the area. Wellington lost this game 61 to 29.

"They have a good club," said Coach James Stavenhagen. "They score well and play real good defense. This is probably one of the finest ball clubs we have ever faced. I feel they will probably win the state championship.

"Our girls didn't play a real good game. We missed lots of easy shots, and didn't play very well at all," the coach continued.

Mary Lou Holton led Wellington's scoring with 16 points while Pam Richardson had 32 for Canyon.

$4,475 Damage

County Has One Fatal Accident in January

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Collingsworth County during the month of January, according to Sgt. Floyd Etheridge, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, one person injured and an estimated property damage of $4,475.

Collingsworth was one of four counties in District 5-B with fatal accidents. The others were Gray, 3, Hutchinson and Oldham, 1 each.

The accident report for January in nearby counties is:

Childress county, two accidents, none killed, 1 injured, $2,725 property damage.

Cottle county, 5 accidents, 1 injured, $2,105 property damage.

Donley county, 5 accidents, 1 injured, $1,275 property damage.

Gray county, 14 accidents, 3 killed, 9 injured, $12,985 property damage.

Hall county, 7 accidents, 8 injured, $3,100 property damage.

Wheeler county, 8 accidents, 4 injured, $6,525 property damage.

One county had a perfect record, Foard, with no accidents reported.

For District 5-B as a whole, in January, there were 159 accidents, 6 killed, 98 injured, and $125,435 property damage.

In comparing the rural traffic deaths in January, 1969, to January 1968, of the 60 counties which comprise the Lubbock DPS Region, there was a 37% increase in deaths.

The veteran patrol supervisor said, "If January is a representation of the next eleven months in Texas, traffic accident will claim 3,900 lives in 1969, an all-time high."

The sergeant also issued a reminder that April 15 is the deadline for obtaining the 1969 inspection sticker of all motor vehicles registered in Texas.

Leland Hendricks, New Mexico Rancher, Dies

Leland Hendricks, 39, member of a prominent ranch family of the Roswell, N.M., area and of prominent early Collingsworth County families, died of an apparent heart attack Thursday, Feb. 6.

He was a managing partner of the Flying H Ranch, southwest of Roswell, where he and his family made their home.

He was the son of Mrs. Clement Hendricks, the former Pearl Boverie, and the late Mr. Hendricks, both of whom lived here. As a child and youth, he visited Wellington frequently.

Mr. Hendricks, who was a county commissioner just entering his second term, became ill while watching the morning news on television. His wife put him in a car and started for St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell, but Mr. Hendricks died before reaching the emergency room.

Born in Lubbock in 1929, he moved with his family to New Mexico at an early age. He attended grade school at Flying H and was graduated from St. Michael's High School in Santa Fe.

He attended New Mexico State University and later, Colorado State University. He received his bachelor of science degree from the Colorado college.

In 1950, Mr. Hendricks entered the U.S. Marine Corps and spent 18 months in Korea as a gunner, 1st Tank Battalion.

July 17, 1954, Mr. Hendricks married Elsie Coyne.

He is survived by his mother, his wife, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. A. C. Hendricks of Sunset Villa, by a sister, Mrs. Bill Brainerd of Roswell, wife of the mayor, and six children.

Children are Harry, Pat, Anne, Mary, Michael and Mark.

Mr. Hendricks was a 4th Degree Knight, Roswell Council 3030, Knights of Columbus.

He was a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Dexter.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning, Feb. 8.

He was a past president of the Upper Felix Artesian Conservancy District and for 12 years was a member of the Penasco Consolidated School Board.

While on that board, four schools were consolidated and a new school building constructed which serves the Penasco-Dunken area.

Mr. Hendricks' maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Boverie, came here in the early years of this century. He was a nephew of the late Miss Katherine Boverie, long time librarian. His paternal grandparents, Mrs. A. C. Hendricks and the late Mr. Hendricks owned the telephone exchange here about 50 years ago.

Mrs. A. C. Boverie is the only relative still living here.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet last Thursday presented a distinguished speaker, Robert T. Davis, plenty of entertainment, the installation of officers, an account of the accomplishments of the organization during the past year, and a look into the coming year. It was a complete program as well as being an excellent one and it set some kind of a record. It is the first time I can remember such a program here or elsewhere being over well before 10:00 o'clock. We have been getting a little better in this respect with each passing year; but this one was about as near perfection as you can come without leaving out some that is essential to such an occasion.

C. T. Hubbard was at the Kiwanis meeting last Friday looking drawn but cheerful although he had not returned to his duties at the Wellington State Bank at that time. You never saw such an eager group of well wishers and it required no extrasensory perception to realize that all were sincere and deep felt. All too often and much to our later regret we often fail to recognize or express our appreciation of a man's worth to the community until some emergency occurs. This was an instance where there was time for a welcome and tribute to a man who has done much for the Wellington area.

The rains last week changed the outlook for wheat pasture and with it the possibility that the stockmen who have cattle on wheat can continue to watch them gain weight at a figure that is under the cost in many years. They are feeding various formulas; but the wheat helps a lot in keeping down the expense.

Our cattle industry is growing. Not only in raising stockers but the feeding is growing. Our attention should also go to the production of hogs in greater quantities, A&M says we have one of the best climates anywhere for the production of hogs profitably. If we are ever going to secure a meat packing firm in this area, there must be an increase in the production of pork. A meat packing plant cannot operate on beef alone.

Sometimes someone says something or writes something that expresses your feelings exactly although you may have used different words. Here is such a paragraph from Glenn Shelton in The Wichita Falls Record News about spring rains:

The satisfying rain we had the other day reminds that the spring storm season is near at hand, and that soon the cycle of cumulonimbus clouds looming in late afternoon far to the northwest will begin. It is a season I love; for though storms can be destructive, an aspect I deplore, there is something terribly exciting in drumming rain, booming clouds and flashing lightning. I can be hot and bored in a normal spring afternoon, interested in nothing and become an entirely new individual when nature throws one of her meteorological tantrums. When the clouds open up and the downpour begins accompanied by the cacophony of thunder and crackling lightning, I want to run out into the streets and glory in it all. It's even better at night. Sleep is sweet when a nose is in an open window and a rainstorm is under way outside.

Bobo Castleberry's -Farmers Almanac has many bits of interesting information such as: "A peanut is not a nut, it is a bean."

And here is an interesting item from The Old Farmers Almanac of 1801:

CHEAP SCHOOLS

"A cheap schoolmaster makes a dear school," says Common Sense. As this is the season for opening schools in the country, the above adage may be worthy of attention. Experience teaches that the master who will keep for 8 dollars per month is not worth the keeping: yet some towns, to save 2 dollars, give away 10.

TURNPIKES

Control of early American highways was given to the individual states, which levied tolls for their maintenance. Toll houses were euipped with long pikes to stop travelers for the collection of tolls and, after collecting the fees, the gate keeper turned the pike. The roads thus came to be called "turnpikes".

Appeal Begins Feb. 28

Neeley Heads County Easter Seal Drive

The 1969 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Collingsworth County on Saturday, March 1, according to Jack Neeley, who serves as Easter Seal representative for the county.

Mr. Neeley said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about Feb. 28.

As Easter Seal representative Mr. Neeley is the person to contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing program and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by families of handicapped children and adults.

Special emphasis is being given in 1969 by the Easter Seal Society of Texas to locate disabled children and adults who may need rehabilitation services and do not know where they are available. Anyone who could benefit from treatment and services offered by the Easter Seal Society can contact Mr. Neeley.

The Easter Seal Society was established in Texas 40 years ago to assist disabled persons and their families in finding and making effective use of all resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more useful lives. The Society helps support 21 treatment facilities where crippled children and adults are treated regardless of their ability to pay. Wheel chairs, walkers, and related services are provided to those who cannot provide for themselves.

Mr. Neeley said the Easter Seal Society depends on the annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance this program of rehabilitation in Texas. He urged county citizens to increase their support of the Easter Seal Society, and its program to help crippled children and adults.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes is the state chairman for the Appeal.

Some months ago, an Amarillo salesman who visits Wellington regularly became ill a few miles out of town and blacked out. Someone saw his car go off the road and called for help.

He received five pints of blood at St. Joseph's and more on the ambulance plane as he was transferred to Amarillo. He was given 18 pints more in a hospital there. His peptic ulcer had eroded into an artery.

Because Collingsworth has the Red Cross blood program, people living here may receive blood from the Red Cross while in out-of-county hospitals. They do not pay for the blood. The only charge is for processing and lab work.

Men in the armed forces receive all the blood they need. This must come from volunteer blood donations to the Red Cross.

Also, any civilian overseas may receive blood from the Red Cross if it is needed, and if he or his family are from a county having its program, Sister Perpetua said.

Quail Board Re-Elects Mrs. Morris Principal

Mrs. Lewis Morris, now in her 25th year of teaching in the Quail School, was re-elected principal and given a two year contract in a recent meeting of the trustees.

She became grade school principal in 1952 and principal of the entire school in 1963.

Her teaching career, however, extends over 36 years, all of it in this county. Her first school was at Salt Fork in 1932, two years after she, herself, was graduated from Wellington High School.

She taught at Lillie and Rolla, then was hired as one of the teachers at Cottowood for the 1941-42 term. That year, Cottonwood school was contracted into Wellington and she came with it.

The following year, Cottonwood contracted to Quail. As one of its faculty, Mrs. Morris also went to Quail and has remained there.

She recalls that there were around 500 students in the Quail School at that time. There were 410 when she was elected grade school principal in 1952.

Mrs. Morris holds bachelors and masters degrees from West Texas State University. This year she is secretary of the Collingsworth County unit of the Texas State Techers Association.

Quails Win District 4-B Tourney, Crown

The Quail Quails cinched the District 4-B boys basketball championship by winning the district tournament Thursday and Friday, Feb. 13 and 14 at Clarendon College gymnasium.

Earlier Quail won the round robin play which is half in determining the district title holder. The four top teams play in the tournament.

It was John Blevins 15-foot jump shot with only two seconds left on the clock that gave the Quails their 50-48 victory over Hedley in the finals. Earlier, they defeated Samnorwood 72 to 61.

Hedley held an 8-point lead at half time, but the Quails narrowed this until the last quarter saw the lead changing hands with the seconds.

Blevins led Quail scoring with 23 points and Leon Ward had 20 for Hedley.

HANDLING A COUNTERFEIT BILL

Do you know what to do when you receive a counterfeit bill? During the exchange of currency people do not usually examine each bill. Nor do they question its validity.

There are purchases made and bills received in change. Seldom is a thought given to the source of money!

Thus a person could wind up the day with a counterfeit bill. So, what should be done about it? The first step is to try to recall from where the bill came. Then take it to your bank, the police station or the local Secret Service office.

You will not be reimbursed. Your reward will be knowing that you have done a good deed.

Announce Advanced Pay on Feed Grain

Producers signing up to participate in the 1969 Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation feed grain and wheat programs before the March 21 deadline can request advance payments up to 50 percent for voluntary extra acreage diversion, according to Millard Brown, office manager.

This also applies to certain small cotton farms, he said.

Collingsworth operators have been a little slow in signing up, Mr. Brown said. For example, only 232 cotton farmers out of the approximately 950 eligible had signed up through Friday, Feb. 14.

Announcement of the 50 per cent advance payments clears away misgivings that arose.

Fifty percent is the maximum advance that can be made on the diversion payments.

Announcement of the 50 per cent advance payment came after the President instructed the Secretary of Agriculture to make available 50 per cent advance payment to participate in the 1969 feed grain program. Earlier in the year, a budget request to Congress on Jan. 15 had this advance reduced to 25 per cent.

The 50 per cent advance payment is for acreage producers voluntarily retire from production beyond that required to qualify as a participant.

For cotton, there is no acreage diversion program for 1969. However, planting cotton is not an eligibility requirement to receive a special payment for small farms with allotment of 10 acres or less (or projected production of 3,600 pounds or less).

These can request up to 50 per cent advance payments based on a total of 11.26 cents per pound on the projected yield of 35 per cent of their effective allotment, it was pointed out.

built when the people of Precinct 4 formed a road district and voted a 30¢ road tax.

There is only three miles of existing FM road built with state funds in Precinct 4, Mr. O'Hair pointed out.

The complete route, as proposed by the Gray and Collingsworth County supporters, would start at Texline, where US 87 enters Texas, and pass through Dalhart, Dumas, Stinnett, Borger, Pampa and to McLean, where it would pick up the surfaced road being sought. In Collingsworth it would go through FM 1036 to Dozier, along FM 1056 to Quail, State Highway 203 into Wellington, FM 338 to Dodson, then south to connect with US 62.

Attending the Wellington meeting from Pampa were Red Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, James A. McCune, Fred Thompson and George Newberry;

McLean-Collingsworth ranchers and business men included F. Jake Hess, John C. Haynes, Truitt Johnson, C. J. Magee, Mayor Boyd Meador, John Dwyer, Carl A. Dwyer, high school principal, Jess Coleman, and Spencer Sitter.
