Identifies Farm by Wire from Oregon

Roy M. Miller of Junction City, Oregon, wanted to be sure he got his name in the hat for the Herald Mystery Farm of the Air identification last week. So he sent a telegram from Junction City, identifying the farm as the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Saunders of the Balco community. The Millers are former residents of Perryton.

Light Rain Hits Tuesday

Perryton was skirted by a black thunder cloud Tuesday afternoon which swung to the north and east of town, bringing some rain and hail to parts of the county.

Rain totaling .44 inch was reported by Harold Kershaw, four miles north of town and .60 inch was reported at the Blosser farm in Beaver county.

Some hail fell with the rain, but no damage was reported.

Much of the wheat in Ochiltree county is past the stage where a rain would help, but there are a number of fields that could make a crop if rain comes within the near future.

Government May Return Title to Wolf Creek Park Back to Ochiltree County

Plan to Cancel Lease, Get Full Title

Prospects are very good that Ochiltree county will regain full title to the Wolf Creek Park, now owned by the federal government and leased to the county for 99 years. Jim Caserta of the Forestry Department, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, met with the county commissioners Wednesday and outlined a proposal which would restore the property to the county.

The commissioners agreed to a mutual cancellation of the 99-year lease and approved a deed which would give Ochiltree county the land, with the government retaining 75 per cent of the mineral rights and fissionable material.

The county would get all easements presently in force and would have full use of the park property for public use.

Caserta said that the agreements signed by the commissioners would be sent to Washington where, if all were approved by government officials, the final step would be the signing of the deed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

County officials have been working for some time to get title restored to the county on the Wolf Creek Park. Rep. Walter Rogers and Sen. Lyndon Johnson have aided in getting the title restored to the county on the Wolf Creek park, according to county judge Howard Slaughter and county attorney Jack M. Allen.

Once the county has full title to the land, consideration can be given to proposals for rebuilding the dam or restoring the dam site for public recreation facilities.

Grain Sorghum Loan Rate for 1954 Is Established at $2.15

The 1954 government loan rate for grain sorghums in Ochiltree county is $2.15 per hundred pounds, according to Elliott Lee, county ASC secretary. The loan rates for barley is $1.08 per bushel.

These loan rates are less than last year and represent 85 per cent of parity. Last year the grain sorghum loan rate was $2.32 per bushel.

Storage charges come off the loan price, varying with the number of months the grain is to be stored.

The government announcement of the loan prices stated, "The dollars and cents support rates for 1954 will be somewhat lower than those in effect for 1953 production for oats, barley and grain sorghums, as a result of the 'transitional parity' features of the modernized parity formula provided by legislation."

Eligibility requirements and operating provisions are substantially the same as in 1953.

Complete REA Line to Equity Elevator Site

The North Plains Electric Cooperative last week completed a new line around the Ivan Day land at Twichell and have established electrical service to the site of the new Equity elevator.

A special commission in county court had awarded Day $5,927.40 in a suit brought by the cooperative two weeks ago, the amount representing damages for crossing a tract of land about 340 feet wide at Day's farm.

Rather than pay these damages, the cooperative built the line around the Day farm and secured permission from Western Union to parallel their lines on the north side of the railroad track at Twichell, according to NPEC manager Earl Waide.

Waide pointed out that the original line planned to be built across the Day land would not have run above any buildings, but that the nearest building would have been 117 feet away.

Veterans Forum

Q I'm planning to take an evening course under the Korean GI Bill. Since I'll be attending less than half time, the VA told me I will receive an allowance equal to the school's established charge which non-veterans are required to pay. Will this established charge include money for books and supplies?

A Books and supply charges will be included only if all students—veterans and non-veterans—are required to pay for them as part of the school's established charge. If not, your allowance will cover only tuition and fees.

Q Recently I made an investment that netted me several hundred dollars. Could I use this money to pay off part of my GI housing loan? If so, will my lender charge me a penalty for doing so? I understand some do.

A You may use the money to pay off part of your GI loan, and under the law, the lender may not charge you a penalty for doing so.

Q I hold a National Service Life Insurance term policy that will soon come to the end of its term. Before it does, I expect to be called back on active duty. What happens to my term policy if I apply for a waiver of premiums, and the term expires while the policy is under waiver?

A Your NSLI policy will be renewed automatically for another five-year term while it is under waiver. Premiums on the renewed term policy will continue to be waived while you remain in active service, and for 120 days after you are separated.

Q I'm a Korean veteran who left the service before August 20, 1952. I understand I'll have to begin Korean GI Bill training before a cut-off date of August 20 of this year. Could I file an application before the cut-off date.

Cleanup Drive Should Include Rat Killing

AUSTIN, Texas—This is the time of year that most towns in Texas conduct their annual clean-up campaigns. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, suggests that whenever such activities are planned to keep in mind the various measures necessary to get rid of rats.

Rats are noted carriers of disease. Some of the diseases transmitted by rats or their hosts are bubonic plague, typhus fever, dysentery, food infection, trichinosis, infectious jaundice and Rocky mountain fever. Rats are scavengers that live on filth as well as edible foods. They thrive in unsanitary places such as garbage dumps, trash piles and sewers.

If you don't see rats it doesn't necessarily mean that they are not near you. Rats are not often seen but their destruction is evident wherever they have been. Sometimes they can be traced by their dirty runways. In storehouses, sacks and boxes of grain and food with holes gnawed in them and the contents spilled are evidence of rat destruction. Occasionally rats start fires by gnawing and short-circuiting and actually begin my studies when the fall semester starts in September?

A No. Under the law, you actually must begin your Korean GI training before the August 20, 1954, cut-off date. Filing an application alone is not enough to comply with the law. So long as you start your training before the cut-off date, it won't be necessary for you to be in training on August 20 itself.

electric wires or by chewing on matches.

The rat lives in filth. Almost any pile of trash, small piles of lumber, cluttered barns, garages, yards or homes afford harborage for him. Rat proofing is effective and permanent. However, even rat proofed buildings may become infested if rats are allowed in through open doors or windows. It has been calculated that a pair of rats having plenty of food and shelter could be responsible for the production of 1400 rats in a single year.

Because of the danger rats bring to humans and because of their enormous destruction of food, crops and merchandise, the importance of getting rid of rats is apparent. In addition, homes and communities are more enjoyable if they are clean and free of animals and insects that cause disease.

Christian Science Services 11 a. m. each Sunday Public Cordially Invited

A central theme of the Lesson Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday is that salvation is an individual thing that every man must work out for himself, and that the mortal experience called death is not the culmination of this work. The subject of the Lesson is "Probation After Death."

These two selections from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook which will be read in the Lesson brings out this point: "If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth; and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be" (Eccl. 1:3).

"In the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." So we read in Ecclesiastes. This text has been transformed into the popular proverb, "As the tree falls, so it must lie." As man falleth asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change. Mind never becomes rust. No resurrection from the grave awaits Mind or Life, for the grave has no power over either.

"No final judgment awaits mortals, for the judgment-day of wisdom comes hourly and continually, even the judgment by which mortal man is divested of all material error" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 291).

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Flaming and son of Borger visited Monday in the J. H. Ellis home. Mr. Flaming also visited with his brother and sister-in-law, the Kenneth McLains and family.

Sandra and Randall were in Oklahoma City, Okla. Thursday, where Mr. McLain consulted a doctor.

The seven room house once stood on the Ochiltree townsite and was owned by L. D. Turner. The Grahams have been Herald subscribers for 19 years.

Guymon Ready For Annual Pioneer Day

Plans have been completed, the drift fences are up and the latch string out for the 22nd annual Pioneer Day celebration at Guymon on April 30 and May 1. Carl McKinnon, president of the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

Held annually on May 2 to commemorate the signing of the Organic Act in 1890, the act which made No Man's Land a part of Oklahoma Territory, the big event has been moved up a day this year to avoid Sunday conflict, McKinnon explained.

Headlining the two-day celebration again this year will be the gigantic, five-mile long pioneer parade at 11 a. m. on Saturday, May 1. Last year, more than 150 entries marched the mile-long parade route. Bands, riding clubs, floats and other features are expected to swell the parade to record proportions this year. Carl Imboden, chamber vice president and general Pioneer Day chairman, has reported.

Charlie Spivak and his orchestra will fill the traditional "big name" modern dance at the fairgrounds at 11 p. m. on Saturday.

Old Time dances, being held each Friday night during the two months preceding Pioneer Day, will climax the annual season with Friday and Saturday night dances. Dances both evenings begin at 8 p. m.

Carl Lamar, Norman, will produce the RCA-approved rodeo in Guymon's spacious city stadium on Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night.

Visiting old-timers will register at the American Legion hall on Saturday and will be served a free pioneer chuck wagon breakfast early Saturday on Guymon's main street. At noon, the old-timers will hold their annual banquet in Hotel Dale. A pilot's breakfast for fly-in visitors, is slated at 8 a. m. on Saturday.

A carnival will set up at the fairgrounds west of Guymon earlier in the week and provide entertainment through Saturday night. All day Saturday, special street entertainment—from tall tales by the old-timers to old-fiddler's contests—will be held at the fairgrounds.

Miss Essie Barlow and Mrs. Emma Hoke and son George all of St. Louis, Mo., arrived Easter Sunday for a week's visit with Mrs. H. C. Barlow Sr. and family. Miss Barlow, a sister of the late H. C. Barlow Sr. and family. Miss Barlow, a sister of the late H. C. Barlow Sr., visits annually with the Barlow family here. Miss Barlow and Mrs. Hoke and son will visit relatives in Gruver before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Flaming, Joe and Gayle of Lamesa visited over the week end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellis, and his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McLain and children.

Mrs. Walt Whitaker and son Michael Thomas left last Wednesday for their home in Tuscaloosa, Ala., after a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Thomas.

"MISS DROUGHTBREAKER" IS CROWNED—With the first real rain in months falling on thirsty West Texas farmlands, citizens of Brownfield, Tex., decided that it called for a celebration. They hauled out the high school band and hastily organized a 20-minute parade. At the height of the celebration, Harlan Glenn crowned "Miss Drought-breaker of 1954," above, 15-year-old Kay Kissing. The badly-needed moisture, measuring from 2 to 6 inches, which fell in the Brownfield area gave farmers their first assurance of a crop this year. (AP)

Brazil Has 4-S Clubs

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The farm country in Brazil is getting to know 4-S clubs the way Yankee farm children know 4-H clubs, because O. V. Winks, passed through. Winks is back on his job as Hamilton County agricultural agent after a two-year leave of absence to teach Brazilians the "American way" of planting and tilling crops.

Remembering 4-H clubs, Winks organized 30 such clubs in the South American farmlands. To translate the four H's—head, hand heart and health—into the Brazilians' Portuguese, he used four S's—saber, senior, server, and saude, which stand for know, feel, serve and health.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

So They Stopped Baiting Each Other

If you want to hear a real hassle, listen to Cob James and Whitey Baker on trout fishing sometime. You'd think it was more important than anything.

Cob favors dry flies. Whitey pooh-poos anything but wet flies. Cob swears by a Fan-Wing Royal Coachman; Whitey won't hear of anything but Silver Doctor. And so it goes—they can't even get together on steel rods versus bamboo rods.

But on Saturday, each got back from Fox Creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than a couple of ounces! Then over a friendly glass of beer, they allowed as how maybe they were both right... which is how so many arguments should end.

From where I sit, life would be a whole lot pleasanter if we all respected one another's opinions—whether about trout flies, or having a glass of beer, or voting. After all, a person has a right to follow his own line of thinking.

Amazing New Tire Developed at Indianapolis
Now Available for Your Car

WORLD'S FIRST
All-Nylon Tubeless
Firestone
"500"

TESTED AND PROVED AT THE "500" SPEEDWAY
FOR USE ON TODAY'S HIGH-SPEED SUPER HIGHWAYS

Runs safely up to 15 m.p.h. faster than ordinary tires

Withstands continuous high-speed running many hours longer

Endures up to 40° higher summer road temperatures

A combination of race-tire engineering and nylon construction makes the Firestone "500" the safest high-speed tire ever developed. In hundreds of tests at the Speedway, this tire was proven safe at speeds far in excess of normal highway driving speeds, giving the motorist up to 15 mph safety margin over ordinary tires.

The new Firestone "500" is a brute for punishment. With a nylon cord body, a full 91% stronger than ordinary tires, it defies road shocks. Unlike other tires which develop "body fatigue" after a few hours of driving, the "500" can be driven continuously without growing weak or "tired."

The "500" was subjected to thousands of miles of high-speed driving over blistering desert roads where the mercury reached 120° in the shade. Under these tortuous driving conditions, ordinary tires frequently "pop" like toy balloons, but the Firestone "500" was proved blowout-safe at these higher road temperatures.

Special Safti-Liner
Protects Against Punctures

Safer from flats because the air-tight butyl Safti-Liner that's bonded to the inside of the tire clings to nails to prevent air loss. Since there's no tube to pierce or explode, you get extra blowout protection too.

New Tread Increases
Skid Protection

The outer ribs remain open to provide a suction-cup action on slippery pavement, while the inner ribs mesh together to create a positive biting action for sure-footed traction on starts, stops, and turns.

Race-Tire Construction
Increases Mileage

An entirely new cold rubber tread compound developed under a new chemical formula makes possible a tread of race tire toughness, providing much longer mileage. Stronger cord body permits more retread miles too.

Robert Rudie, Violinist, Is Well Received

By Alvin Klotz

Fourth and final presentation of the North Plains Mutual Concert Association for the 1953-54 Season was Robert Rudie, violinist, who appeared in concert at the High School on Monday evening.

Mr. Rudie is a man of rare artistry. His personality is complete when he draws the bow across the instrument. He plays the violin as if it were a part of him. He was accompanied at the piano by his wife, Mertina Rudie, who is a most excellent musician in her own right. They possessed an unusual knack of togetherness, that intuitive something that can characterize a good husband-wife combination.

Rudie represents a most unusual type of concert personality. He has a flair for getting along with his audience from the first measure to the last. Secret of this rapport is his informality.
He began the concert with the familiar music of Fritz Kreisler.
Following his first group he commented on the fact that he was doing the unorthodox thing by not placing the familiar at the very end of the concert. Then he invited the audience into the unused front seats in order that we might actually feel more a part of what was taking place.

Of special interest was the instruments used in the concert.
At one point in the concert, Mr.
Rudie used all three of the violins in playing a single number by Beethoven. The violins were venerable instruments, a Strad-ivarius made by the master in 1683, a Guadagnini produced in 1747 and an American instrument which was made in 1930.
After giving a sampling of the music each instrument produced by using them alternately in the Beethoven number the audience were asked to identify the Strad-ivarius. The American instrument was quite identifiable. There was actually little difference between the two well aged violins.

The program was extremely classical but very well received by all. The informality of the occasion added greatly to the appreciation of the total program.
It ended on a familiar note with the playing of the Schubert Ave-

Maria. Last encore was the humorous "Banjo and Fiddle" by Crowe.

Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Boyer of Wichita, Kansas and their son Bernard W. Boyer, who is stationed with the navy at Philadelphia, Penn., were guests in the Charles Taylor and Max
Boyer homes last week end.

Earl Olmstead visited his parents, the V. O. Olmsteads, and other relatives and friends over the week end. Earl attends Southwestern Medical School at Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilliam and children of Petroila, Texas visited friends here during Easter.

Faith for the Future

The year of 1954 to date has been dry, dusty and disagreeable. It may be even more so before things take a turn for the better.

So far, and all fingers are crossed, conditions lack much of being as bad as the 1930s. There is fervent hope they won't be. Things certainly aren't as rough as some quarters make them out to be. Many farmers are in debt, so are some businesses, but it certainly hasn't reached the stage where people are leaving this country by being starved out.

What if the county did disburse about $3,700 in relief payments to needy Ochiltree county citizens last year? This is a drop in the bucket compared to the expenditures in other parts of the country.

Faith in the future of this country will not be built on memories of the 1930s, but on the lush years which followed them and, as certain as anything can be, will follow the present dry period.

Humans can do about anything today except control the weather and fly to the moon. Indications are that man will reach the moon, but prospects are dim about regulating the weather.

Short of regulating the climate, the population can but make the best of what comes and if that's not good then look forward to better days. Fortunately among the current crop of adults, the contrast of 15 years of good weather with a few years of bad two decades ago is vivid enough to minimize thoughts of despair for the future.

Coronary Club Membership

The Wisconsin Press Association bulletin recently listed these methods of qualifying for "Coronary Club Membership," where members work themselves to death:

1. Go after the almighty dollar; your job comes first, personal considerations are secondary.
2. Go to the office evenings, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.
3. Take the brief case home on the evenings when you do not go to the office. This provides an opportunity to review completely all the troubles and worries of the day.
4. Never say "no" to a request. Always say "yes."
5. Accept all invitations to meetings, banquets, committees, etc.
6. Do not eat a restful, relaxing meal. Always plan a conference for the meal hour.
7. It's a poor policy to take all the vacation time which is provided for you.
8. Fishing, hunting, golf, bowling, pool, billiards, cards, gardening, etc., are a waste of time.
9. Never delegate responsibility to others. Carry the entire load at all times.
10. If your work calls for traveling, work all day and drive at night to make your appointment the next morning.
11. When you run out of worries about your business or personal affairs, take on the worries of the nation and the world.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

It now appears as though the United States will get into the fighting in Indo-China, on some scale or another, and will be asked to get into the thing with men in addition to the material supplies being sent into that area for the past year or so. This no doubt will please the Frenchmen very much to turn the fighting over to someone else.

We don't have very much regard for the French, as a nation or as fighters or anything else. When we were sent into France with the 3rd Army during WWII, about the most striking thing we noticed was the large number of young, able-bodied Frenchmen around the streets or in a round the cafes. This was in direct contrast to England, where you never saw a civilian between the ages of 18 and 60. So we asked a Frenchman about this situation. "Why is it you don't get some of these young Frenchmen into the fight?" we inquired, pointing out that the Americans were furnishing the equipment for the so-called "Free French" fighters.

"But, mieu," he said, shrugging his shoulders. "How can we fight—you have all the guns."

Which explained their attitude quite well, we have always thought. Talk a good fight, but always let someone else do the dirty work.

The Perryton Blue Sox baseball club is dragging its feet and here it is nearly time for the season to open and still no ball club. The teams at Liberal and Hooker have been working out for several weeks and are way ahead of Perryton in that respect. At least, biggest difficulty, as we understand it, is in getting a manager. The manager, at least in years past, has had to do most of the work—scheduling the games, arranging transportation, buying bats and balls, getting umpires, checking the gatekeepers, etc., and the Perryton club has plumb burned out about three managers since the war.

And baseball, in spite of pretty good crowds, hasn't made enough to pay its own way all the time. Players on a team of this sort lose their enthusiasm sometimes when they have to pay their own expenses on the road trips.

Still and all, it does look like Perryton could support a club of Blue Sox calibre. The Tri-State League has some pretty good baseball playing and this program provides a lot of good recreation in the summer time. The facilities at the local ball park are about as good as you can find in the Panhandle and we know they won't go unused.

Brighter colored clothes are in the offing for the American male, says the national clothing manufacturing association. Maybe that's to take his mind off the fact that the manufacturers took away his vest in wartime with out decreasing the price of the suit and have been absent-minded ever since about putting a sack.

This old gag about brighter colored clothes for the males is just wishful thinking on the part of the clothing manufacturer.

Ask Me About My Business

turers. They would like nothing better, we are sure, than to have the men tied to a style dictator like the women. Then they could raise or lower cuffs, pleat or unpleat the trousers, double or single breast the coats, and make the males buy more clothes just to be in style. Way it is now, a man can wear a suit bought back in 1940, if without holes, and wear it almost anywhere without feeling the least bit self-conscious about it. Any kind of suit except those with a pleated back, that is the one, is out of style. We have one.

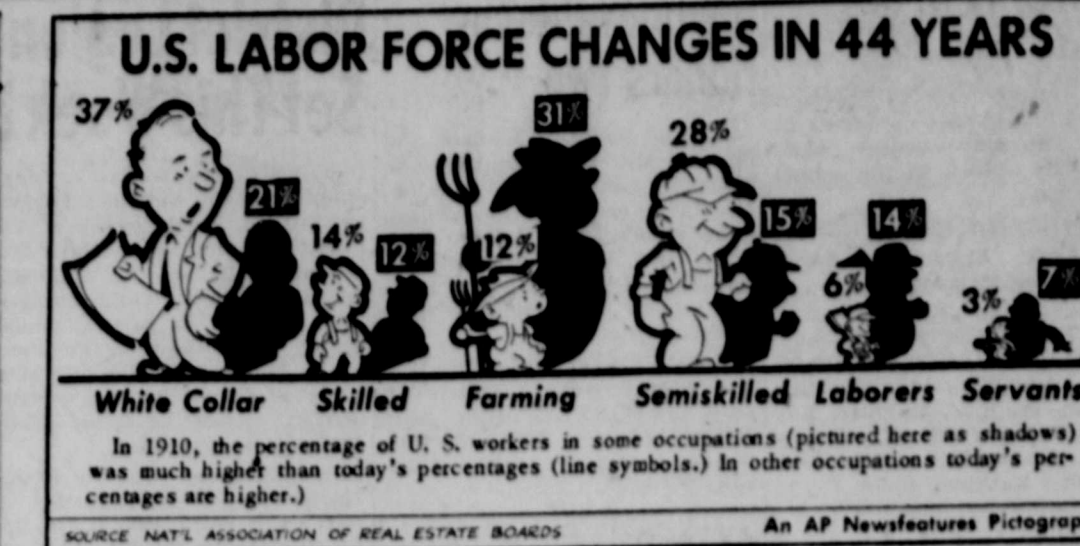

If a woman can't keep a secret, she'll at least try to distribute it equally.

We're beginning to have our doubts about Bug Tussle, Texas. The Herald carried an Associated Press story about Bug Tussle a couple of weeks ago, quoting the mayor, etc., and this story got a rise out of Mrs. Ellen Logan of Perryton who says she used to live in Bug Tussle, Okla. Mrs. Logan wrote a letter to the mayor of Bug Tussle, Texas, and then could not find the town on the map. So she sent us the letter to forward on to Bug Tussle.

Not having much imagination, we merely addressed an envelope to Bug Tussle and dropped it in the mail. Back it came, stamped "No such Post Office in State Named." It was returned from Fort Worth, Texas, which ought to give some sort of clue as to the whereabouts of Bug Tussle. What we're wondering is, have we been snookered? Was this story made up out of thin air?

A budget is a wonderful thing. It lets you know exactly how much over your income you are spending.

We are looking forward to the Teen-Age Rodeo contest and it will be interesting to see the drivers perform. It's a good thing this is restricted to teen-agers, because we doubt if any adults would have confidence enough in

Wolf Creek Philosopher Has Hydrogen Bomb Defense

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but that never has stopped him.)

Dear editor:

I was out here the other afternoon watching my rain gauge while we were getting a little shower, there are few pleasures in life greater than the fun of watching rain fall after a long drought, even a shower, and I want you to know I appreciated that little rain last week even though I got a little jealous reading about the floods in south Texas, anyway, found a water-soaked newspaper caught in a clump of weeds and took it to the house and dried it out, some newspapers are dull enough when dry but when wet they're about like water-logged light-bread.

The only article in the paper that attracted my attention was one about a United States Senator who was urging the government to put up cash awards for inventions for defense, to head off the inventions for attack.

According to this Senator, the government ought to put up some real money to get the inventors to turn their minds toward defense, and he wants to offer as much as $75,000 per idea if it'll work.

I think this fellow is on the right track, although I don't know what the results will be. There are some people who say man isn't as smart as insects. Take flies. When man brought out DDT a few years ago, it must have been as alarming and nerve-racking to flies as the hydrogen bomb is to man, but what happened? The flies went to work and in less than two years had maneuvered around to where they had developed an immunity to DDT, even without the help of government cash.

But I contend man is as smart as most insects, and I would like to see this new program of defensive invention started. What the defense against a hydrogen bomb will be, I have no idea. As I understand it, it'll dig a hole 150 feet deep and spread heat for miles around, so bomb shrel-lows are out. Tryin' to blow a plane carryin' one of 'em is hazardous, or later one of 'em is bound to get through.

What we really need is a thing along the line of a bomb of some sort which can be put out all over the world in a spot and explode the head of time. Probably anything slow a man's makin' a bomb as the somebody else was ready to drop it. Very few would be interested in a time bomb around a coat pocket if someone was in charge of the work. If you think this work, go ahead and work mechanical details on to other things, split the $75,000. I admit though, We may not have time.

Yours faithfully,
J. L.

THE SWORD of the spirit is the word of God, Eph. 6:17. The cutting word is a two-edged sword; truth cutting through falsehood or the hurting word cutting into innocent hearts. Talking is a terrible responsibility. Words create or crush. Your words are your union card; they put you in the construction crew or the wrecking gang. Words are ambassadors of the mind...choose those that will make treaties of peace, not declarations of war. In America there are nearly 300,000 Churches where "His Word" is fed to hungry souls. The word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword. Jesus offered life to those who would hear His words and believe. You can be sure the best people are church-going people...do you go to church?

AGGIE POINT GETTER—Bobby Gross, above, is the fellow winning the most points on the Texas A&M track team these days but he wasn't even wanted by the coach in his prep school days. Bobby was state champion in the shot put and discus at Big Spring High School in 1951 but coach Frank Anderson of the Aggies had his eyes on another prep star. He was given special help in the shot put at Big Spring by Honk Irwin, ex-Aggie weight champion, who talked Bobby into going to A&M anyway. He tossed the shot 52 feet 8 1/2 inches at the Texas Relays to take the title. (L.P. Photo)

Concrete Pipe Now Deductible

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In response to hundreds of letters and telegrams from Panhandle and West Texas farmers, Senator Price Daniels has asked the Senate Finance Committee to include a provision in the new Income Tax Revision bill to permit farmers a deduction for the installation of underground concrete pipe as a current farm operating expense.

Under present law, expenditures made by farmers to improve their land are required to be capitalized rather than deducted as a current expense. As passed by the House of Representatives, the new bill would allow the farmer to deduct the cost of soil and water conservation improvements as a current expense, up to a maximum of 25 percent of the gross income derived from farming in any one year.

Brando Stars In Thriller

Marlon Brando plays a loud youth with unpleasant ways in "The Wild One" which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

In this production, Brando is seen as the leader of a band of outlaw motorcycleists who roar into a small town, and in a day and night of terror, reduce it to a shambles in an orgy of destruction.

They cow the local constable, insult the citizenry, chase the girls and tear up the town while the citizens stand by and let them do it.

Montgomery Is Star of Frontier Battle Picture

"Fort Ti," epic of frontier America, will be seen at the Ranger Theatre on Friday and Saturday, April 23-24, starring George Montgomery.

In "Fort Ti," Montgomery plays an officer of Rogers' Rangers ordered to lead a desperate foray into hostile Indian territory while the main British Army under Lord Jeffrey Amherst gathers for an attack on French-held Fort Ticonderoga and Quebec. Another, and more personal objective, is the rescue of his sister and her two children imprisoned by the French in Fort Ti. How he accomplished both objectives, after forced marches, bitter hand-to-hand encounters with Indians and French is said to make a thrilling outdoor epic as action sequences pile rapidly one on top of another.

Best Seller Now Movie Adventure

Adapted from a best selling novel by Edison Marshall, the production of "Yankee Pasha" will be seen at the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday, with Jeff Chandler and Rhonda Fleming in co-starring roles.

The story of "Yankee Pasha" deals with the efforts of a New England fur-trapper to find and rescue his sweetheart who has been captured on the high seas by Moroccan pirates and sold into a Moorish harem. How the backwoodsman ingratiates himself into the Islamic court and eventually the escape provides the picture's action.
