Anson Man Is Killed Friday While Painting On An Oil Rig Near Silver

The Mitchell County Sheriff's Department reported Friday they received notice that the Mitchell County Ambulance Service was dispatched to go to the Westex Drilling Rig No. 14, located close to Silver.

Sheriff Wendell Bryant and Deputy Sheriff Tommy Headrick went to the rig. They arrived at 12:10 p.m., and received information that a justice of the peace was needed.

Joe Jimenez, 22, of 731 11th Street in Anson, was reportedly painting on the rig, when the air hose on the paint gun fell into the working parts of the rig, thus pulling him into the working parts of the rig. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Henry Doss.

The sheriff's department also reported that at 7:30 a.m., Sunday morning, Sheriff Bryant received a

Bids Are Received For Equipment For The Westbrook Fire Department

The Mitchell County Commissioners met in regular session Monday with the commissioners facing a full agenda. After the reading of the minutes from the previous meeting and the paying of the county's bills, The Court got down to new business. The official tax rate for Mitchell County was set at $0.19 county and $0.06 per $100 of property valuation for roads. This rate had previously been set, but for the rate to be official, all county commissioners must be present for the voting of the rate. Commissioner Paul Logsdon was absent from the rate setting session due to a death in the family. The vote was unanimous.

The Court next discussed the election process for the Appraisal District members. A new Texas law states that if the Commissioners Court takes no action to change or to keep the election process the same, the state will automatically change the process for them.

Currently the Appraisal District is operating with a seven man board. The Court voted to keep the process as it now stands.

Had no action been taken, the State of Texas would have changed this to a five man board as of January 1, 1982.

The Court next looked over the bids received for a water tank and pump to serve the Westbrook Fire Department. The first bid was in the amount of $2,875.00 for a 775 gallon coated metal tank to be built and installed by Ron Afton. The only other bid

C.I.S.D. School Board Consider Vehicle Bids

The Colorado Independent School District's Board of Directors met in regular session Monday night at 7 p.m., in the Administration Building.

Oliver Energy Master, Inc., sent two representatives, Darrell Oliver and Rick Morris, to meet with the board about electrical equipment to control the amount of electricity and gas that is used in the school buildings. This equipment, if bought, would pay for itself in two years, according to Charlie Uselton, CISD Superintendent. This system would not take away from comfort, but, it is used in banks and industrial buildings, added Uselton.

There was a presentation by teachers Roxanne Myers and Donna Cook and Coach George Martin.

The board took bids for the lease of three vehicles for the school. These bids came from Hutchins Ford Sales with a lease or buy option. The board decided to

Lone Wolf 4-H Club To Meet

Lone Wolf 4-H Club will meet Monday in the Lone Wolf Medallion Room at 7:30 p.m. Everyone interested in becoming a member of 4-H should plan to attend this meeting. We will be organizing our plans for the coming year as well as electing new club officers.

The Texas 4-H Program has recently adopted a state wide program to enroll each 4-H member annually. Each interested 4-Her must fill out an enrollment form in order to participate in 4-H related activities.

4-H is a national youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service. 4-H is for all males and females, ages 9-19, regardless of socio-economic level, race, religion, color, or national origin. Each member selects and completes one or more projects per year. The members elect their own club officers who preside at the monthly meetings.

There are no dues or fees to enroll in a 4-H club. Each member selects and finances his or her own project. Examples of projects are livestock, clothing and textiles (sewing), foods and nutrition (cooking), dog care and training, vegetable garden, health, aerospace, public speaking, electric, automotive, recreation, safety, child care, photography and others. Projects are designed so that members "learn by doing."

4-H is a family oriented organization and parents are requested to attend as many activities as possible. Families have an opportunity to share work, success, failure, and good times through the projects and activities 4-H offers.

For further information about 4-H club work or the September 21st meeting, please feel free to contact your County Extension Agents Bob Benson or Marian Morris, Box 1349 or phone 728-3111.

WE GLADLY ACCEPT FOOD STAMPS

My Predictions

By LON MOORE
Well, it is a shame that I could not keep up with the game last week. Out of seven games attempted, I missed two. The Red Raiders were surprised, to say the least, and Post gave the Colorado City Wolves no room to run. Maybe this week will bring better things for all. Dallas at New England

The Cowboys are a legitimate NFL powerhouse. The Patriots are perennial "also rans." This, teamed with the fact that the 'Pokes are ready to play in a little cooler climate after Sunday's steam bath, spell out an impressive Cowboy win. Cowboys by eleven.

Miami at Houston
This will be one of the better games for the upcoming weekend. Miami is coming off an emotional upset of the Steelers and the Oilers are coming home for the first time this young season following two upset victories on the road. Since the Oilers are at home (and since I am a Texan) I'll give the nod to Houston, just because they are at home in the Astrodome. Houston by four.

Baltimore at Denver
This game pits two teams that cannot score touchdowns. However, since the Broncos have a far superior defense they should beat the Colts. Denver by six.

North Texas State at Texas
I wish all the picks I make were as easy as this one. The Mean Green has no business on the same field as the Longhorns. The Orange Gang will absolutely slaughter NTSU. Texas by at least 21.

Denver City at Colorado City
After being stung two weeks in a row, I don't see how I can pick anyone but the Wolves. They are too lively a bunch of young men to lose three in a row. Look for a homecoming win against the Mustangs tomorrow night. The defense will win it by six. Until next week . L.M.

The Wolves continued to score giving them their 22-6 final score with Slaton scoring six in the last couple of minutes of the game.

Coach Mike Hart stated that it was a good game overall. "The offense and defense both looked good," he added. The defense shut Slaton out twice.

A Look Back At Loraines' Founding

By IDA BAIRD

The town of Loraine was given an official sanction as being an incorporated town in 1906, though it didn't just grow into being on that day. The beginning was in 1881, the year the Texas and Pacific Railroad was being built from Fort Worth to its ultimate destination, El Paso.

The railroad had come as far as Abilene by January 1881 and on April 16 of that year came on through Sweetwater to Colorado City. Although no homes were known to be here at that time, it is a known fact that there were people here in 1883 and there could be a story told of how Loraine got its name if space permitted.

Loraine's founder was the late W. T. White who came to Loraine from Kaufman County. He could see the future of this sparsely settled region as a fertile farm land. This has proven to be true except for a few drought periods. White bought a half section of land, and in early 1906 this land was divided into lots and White advertised widely that the lots date was set and a Merry-Go-Round, a band from Weatherford came. He used what sounds like a modern promotion scheme, and advertised a house to be given away to one of the lot buyers. The lucky winner did receive White's own house and he built a larger one later. Shortly after, Loraine became a corporate town. In those early days, Loraine began to build as people coming west decided to make Loraine their home.

One of the first town promoters was Dr. W. H. Henthorne who was part Indian. He came through Loraine in 1901 with a medicine show and liked what he saw and returned in 1905 to make his home here. He was Loraine's first dentist. He was a great promoter and initiated many public gatherings, the most famous was the great Indian fight and sham battle. This presentation which lasted two days was such a success, he was invited to bring the show to Abilene, which he did. All of this publicity was good and a drawing card for Loraine. Another boost for Loraine about this time was Highway 80 which ran parallel to the railroad.

The town's first source of water was a windmill where the stop light is now, in the middle of Main Street and Pacific Ave. A horse trough beside it.

Today, several wells on the hill in South Loraine furnish the city water. Electric service was initiated in Loraine August 1, 1914 and gas service in 1927.

Back in 1903, the business section of town was located on McKinley Ave., running parallel to the railroad. Located on this street were the Deles Hotel, post office building, Foy Grocery, J. H. Howell Grocery and Dry Goods, the Summers Dry Goods, Bakers Hardware and Nelson Grocery. After the sale of lots in 1906, Main and Broadway Streets began to develop. W. L. Edmonson opened the town's first bank in 1907. The present First State Bank was organized Jan. 8, 1908 with a capital of $18,000 with S.E. Brown elected president. He served in this capacity till his death in 1925. Stockholders who organized the bank were S. E. Brown, H. R. Looby, T. J. Coffee, J. M. Templeton, O. J. Smith, D. C. McRae, G. B. Coughran, D. C. Hooper, G. M. Thomason and W. C. Brown. It was this year that Mr. Edmonson built a full block of buildings on Broadway, just west of Main Street.

The town's first newspaper was "The Loraine Advertiser," established in 1906. It ceased publication a year later. That year, the Loraine News started publication. Loraine was then without a paper for three years but in 1920 Earl T. Williams started publishing the Loraine Leader. First copies of The Mitchell County News was published in 1931 and operated until 1972.

In those early days, there were four doctors in Loraine. Dr. T. A. Martin, Dr. W. E. Beck, Dr. J. A. Copeland and one dentist, Dr. W. H. Henthorne.

On the date of the town's incorporation in 1906, the school's enrollment had outgrown the little red school house built in 1883, and taught by Mrs. Samuel Gustine and a newly built white wooden structure two blocks north of the present building was built. Increased enrollment resulted in the construction of a two story concrete building in 1907, which served until 1923. Later a building of red brick and another in 1951 was built.

Loraine has always been known as a "Church Town." Records show a Baptist Church was founded in 1892, a Methodist Church and Church of Christ in the early 1900's. Later a Lutheran, Presbyterian, Pentecostal Mission, a second Church of Christ and a Catholic Church were founded.

City government was and still is headed by a mayor and elected city councilmen.

Harris Toler was the first child born in Loraine. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Toler. Mr. Toler was manager of the Higginbotham-Harris Lumber.

Loraine's biggest industry outside of agriculture was the Cooperative Cheese Factory and Locker Plant which operated in the late 1930's and early 40's and did a $100,000 yearly business, but agriculture was the foundation on which Loraine was laid and cotton was then, as now, "King" of the area.

Mrs. E. J. Schroeder was hostess for the September meeting of the Ready Class of First Baptist Church Loraine, Monday night.

The class song "Ready" was sung to open the meeting and prayer was led by Mrs. Lorene McNeill.

She gave eight keys for better living: "The Key of Love," was the first and she stated if we have love all the other keys would be easy to obtain. Nuclear energy's safe, and we need it . . .

let's let it work for us.

This Room Is Equipped With Edison Electric Light.

Do not attempt to light with match. Simply turn key on wall by the door.

The use of Electricity for lighting is in no way harmful to health, nor does it affect the soundness of sleep.

When electric lights first replaced gas lamps in some hotels, guests had to be reassured that Mr. Edison's newfangled invention was safe.

We Americans have always been determined and resourceful people—determined to build a better life for ourselves, and resourceful in controlling the hazards involved. From the Mayflower to the Columbia space shuttle, that's the way we've been—cautious, but not easily scared.

Every new technology we've developed has been frightening to some: steamships, automobiles, even the cotton gin, and electricity itself.

Some people still think of nuclear power that way. They're afraid that using one of our most plentiful and inexpensive energy resources involves uncontrollable hazards and unacceptable risks. In fact, it does not.

We're already using nuclear fuel equivalent to about 1.2

million barrels of imported oil daily to generate electricity. In 24 years of commercial nuclear operation, there has never been a nuclear-related injury to any member of the public. That's a record few if any industries have ever matched. It demonstrates clearly that generating electricity with nuclear fuel is at least as safe as doing it any other way.

We routinely accept other risks that are many times more dangerous, because we have become accustomed to them. Just being 30 pounds overweight is at least a 450-times-bigger risk than generating all our electricity with nuclear fuel.

At your electric company, we need to use nuclear fuel to help generate the electricity you use. We're convinced the risk is acceptable. Nuclear energy is essential, if future generations are to enjoy as good a life as we do now.

Life Expectancy Reductions	Days Off Your Life
Activity or Risk
Cigarette smoking (1 pack a day)	1,600
Being 30 pounds overweight	900
One diet drink per day (saccharin)	2
All-nuclear electricity	0.04-2*
*Government scientists estimate 0.04; nuclear critics estimate 2.
