WHS Band to Present Spring Pops Concert Friday Evening

The Wellington high school band will present its fourth annual Pops Concert Thursday, April 30, directed by James Larson. The concert will be in the community building, beginning at 8 p.m.

Fifty-five students make up the full band, which will be presented in the latter half of the program. The first half will be presented by the award winning high school stage band, Larson said.

In keeping with the traditional pops concerts, this will be more informal than the usual concert, with the audience seated at tables and refreshments available. Also on this informal note, there will be a cake auction late in the program.

Two awards may be given. The National Arion Award for outstanding music achievement will go to a student whom Larson rates musically and the other high school teachers select on the basis of scholastic record, citizenship, attendance, diligence and other points. The Outstanding Band Member, chosen by Larson and the band students, will be chosen as the one who has contributed most to the band program during the year.

If, however, either of these is a senior, the award will be presented at the annual Senior Awards Program rather than at the concert.

FFA Western Day and Rodeo Gets Under Way Friday

Horses by the dozen will be seen on the streets of Wellington Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, when the Future Farmers hold their annual Western Day and Rodeo.

High school students will wear western clothes on Friday as a prelude to the rodeo and big parade of Saturday. Some will come to school horseback.

The big parade will form at the high school and come down East Avenue to the business section, go around the square and return to the high school along West Avenue.

A number of business firms also will have entries.

Immediately after the parade, the junior class will serve a smorgasbord dinner at the school cafetorium. Proceeds from this will help finance the junior-senior banquet.

There will be no events Saturday afternoon, but the rodeo will start at 730 p.m. at the Wellington Rodeo arena near the northeast corner of town.

This is the first time that the rebuilt arena, not yet finished, has been used.

All the traditional rodeo events will be included Saturday night, and many of these will be open to all high school age boys of Collingsworth county and the adjacent area, according to Danny Garcia, vocational ag instructor.

County Voters Ballot in Two Primary Elections on Saturday

Collingsworth county voters will ballot in both the Democratic and Republican primaries Saturday, May 2, ending a campaign that locally failed to stir much interest until the closing days.

District, county and precinct officials will be elected from the Democratic side.

Democrats also will name a county chairman. A precinct chairman will be named in each precinct by the write-in method.

Only two county races are contested, that of sheriff, in which the incumbent, John Rainey is opposed by Elzie White; and tax assessor-collector sought by Hubert Mauldin, filling an unexpired term, and Rita Owens.

Ninety-one absentee ballots were cast by the Tuesday evening deadline.

John Eron Forbis of Wellington is opposing Woodrow Wood for commissioner of Precinct 1.

In Precinct 3, a write-in campaign started this week for W. C. Harwell, opposing Clyde Emmert.

Collingsworth has been bypassed this year by candidates above the district level, for none has campaigned here.

There was a noticeable drop in the number of college students voting, she said. attributing it to the tightened laws on absentee voting.

Congressman, 18th District: Walter Rogers of Gray county.

Commissioner, Precinct 3: J. C. (Clyde) Emmert.

Constable, Precinct 1: G. Bruce Hite.

County Democratic Chairman: Paul Spillman.

Here are the state offices to be voted on, in the order the names will appear on the ballot:

Exchange Student Speaks Before Rotary Club

William R. Clark of Gateshead, England, an exchange student in Shamrock high school, was the guest speaker at the Wellington Rotary Club Tuesday, April 28.

Clark, who is classed as a senior in SHS, will continue his studies there until the end of the current term and will return to England in June.

In his talk before the Rotary Club, Clark explained some of the differences in the English educational system and that in the United States. He said that in England the students go to grade school for six years and then they are divided into two groups, one going to the Technical School and the other to the Grammar school.

When he returns to England, Clark will have two more years in the Grammar School for Boys at Gateshead, where they will study Latin, Greek, and foreign languages, science, history, etc. The grammar schools prepare the students for college.

Young Clark also explained the differences of the parliamentary system of government as compared to the U.S. system of executive, judiciary and congress with its checks and balances.

Clark's father is a veterinarian at Gateshead and he is living in Shamrock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. Byron Range, who is also a veterinarian. Gateshead is a residential town in the northern part of England near the industrial city of Newcastle. In his native England, he likes to play rugby, tennis and badminton, and swims for pleasure since Gateshead is only 10 miles from the sea.

When asked how he liked football, he said that he could not see much skill in it at first but that at the end of the season he was sorry it had stopped. Asked about the Shamrock girls he said: "I have several friends. The teenagers are English at heart since they like the Beatles.

Boll Weevil Threat at a Minimum

Texas cotton farmers can take some comfort in the fact that fewer boll weevils went into hibernation this winter than last year, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Boll weevil counts were made at random over the state by Texas and federal entomologists with special attention to the most troublesome areas in Central Texas. The winter survival is expected to be about half of what it was in 1962.

During the late fall of each year, Texas and USDA research teams take samples of wood trash adjacent to cotton fields to determine the number of weevils in hibernation. The number surviving the winter, combined with weather condition during the early part of the cotton fruiting period, will determine potential boll weevil damage to the 1964 cotton crop.

"I am certainly pleased with the report this year which indicated our control efforts to hold the destructive weevil at an absolute minimum are working," Commissioner White said.

"Our neighboring state of Louisiana shows increases of the insect are in prospect for their area, however," he said.

Trash samples collected from four Central Texas counties are indicative of results over the rest of the state. Falls, Hill, Limestone and McLennan county areas averaged only 517 weevils per acre, compared to 1781 in 1962.

Commissioner White attributed a major part of this winter's decrease in hibernating boll weevils to low spring populations that survived the winter last year. A cotton planting and plow-up program administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture is designed to control the pink boll worm and also achieve benefits in boll weevil destruction.

Mandatory plowup of cotton stalks in much of the state destroys hibernating quarters for many insects.

This is the second year in which substantial decreases in boll weevils have been noted, White pointed out. Last year also showed a decrease from the spring of 1962 in numbers of surviving weevils. As a result, damage to the 1963 crop from boll weevils was gratifyingly light.

Nematodes Cost Two to Three Billion Annually

The nematode has now been exposed as the principal agent for destruction of at least two to three billion dollars worth of crops in the U.S. annually.

The small worms attack virtually every plant in every climate and injure them by sucking their juices.

Soil fumigants are the weapons used against nematodes which parasitize animals as well as plants.

Ben Karnes in Abilene Concert

Ben G. Karnes, director of music at the First Presbyterian Church, Breckenridge, and a group of musicians from Eastland and Ranger were presented in a concert at Redford Auditorium, McMurry College, in Abilene Sunday, April 12.

Karnes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karnes of Wellington, and is well known through the Breckenridge-Eastland-Ranger area for his work as a piano instructor.

Also an artist, one of his colleagues was exhibited recently in Abilene Fine Arts Museum.

Anaplasmosis, which is spread by small amounts of blood carried on dehorning instruments, is often transmitted from one animal to another at dehorning time. This danger can be avoided by washing the dehorning instruments after each animal is dehorned.

She attended Arnett, Okla., school through the 10th grade, then Dodson for the 11th and 12th grades.

Lawn Care Pays Dividends, Regier Says

COLLEGE STATION.— For an attractive lawn this summer, homeowners should review and plan lawn care, reports Cecil Regier, county agent.

Proper fertilization, watering and mowing are important, he says.

Fertilization should continue through the growing season. Regier said. Start when grass begins to grow, using a complete fertilizer. He suggests one having equal amounts of nitrogen, phosphate and potassium for this first application. Apply at the rate of 2 pound of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet.

During the growing season, apply nitrogen every 8 to 10 weeks at the rate of one to two pounds of nitrogen per 1000 square feet. Regier says nitrogen is the key element in turf growth. It produces the deep green color homeowners desire.

When watering the lawn, Regier believes you should soak the soil to a depth of six inches.

"This encourages a deep root system that will utilize plant nutrients more efficiently and be more resistant to diseases," Regier said. "Light sprinkling produces shallow, weak root systems that encourage weed infestation and disease."

Mowing should be frequent with a small amount of plant growth removed with each cutting. Regier recommends only one inch off St. Augustine lawns at each mowing. St. Augustine should be cut at a height of two inches and Bermuda at 1½ inches.

"Lawn mowers should be sharp," Regier said. "The blade should cut the leaves, and not shredding or crushing tips. The machine should be in good running condition and have adequate safety devices. Stones, sticks and other objects should be removed so they won't dull the blade or be thrown dangerously by power mowers."

Additional information about lawn care can be found in the Extension publication B-203, "Home Lawns", available at the county Extension Service offices.

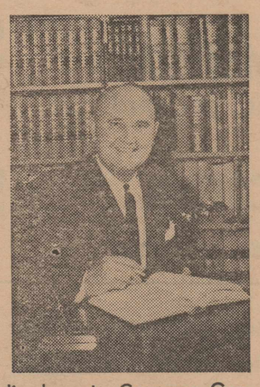
JIM LANGDON—A WINNER!



Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon is a 49-year-old native Texan with a winning record in public office. When John Connally appointed him to the Railroad Commission, the Governor said:

"I have for several weeks been attempting to find a man I consider to have outstanding ability, integrity and honor... I am happy we have found that man — Judge Jim C. Langdon."

Jim Langdon has fully lived up to Governor Connally's expectations. He has conducted his office in the spirit of Governor Jim Hogg, who had the Commission set up in 1891 to look after the public interest in railroad and freight rates. It now regulates also truck and bus rates and the production of oil and gas. Judge Langdon will continue to keep transportation rates in line and see to it that our oil reserves are protected against waste and greed. This will help keep down Texas gasoline prices, already among the lowest in the nation.

Jim Langdon was elected District Judge twice and re-elected Chief Justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals.

ON THE OTHER HAND—

Jim Langdon's Opponent Is a 10-Time Loser!

Jesse Owens, 69-year-old attorney, is still running for office after 38 years and TEN DEFEATS. He has lost the following races:

1926—Defeated for Sheriff of Foard County by L. D. Campbell.
1930—Defeated for District Attorney by John Meyers.
1932—Defeated for District Attorney by Ed Gossett.
1940—Defeated for District Attorney by T. Gene Rogers.
1946—Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by Tom L. Beauchamp.
1952—Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by K. K. Woodley.
1956—Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by W. A. Morrison.
1958—Defeated for District Judge by Tom Davis.
1960—Defeated for Court of Civil Appeals by James Denton.
1962—Defeated for Texas Supreme Court by Meade F. Griffin.

A Winner All the Way—
Jim C. Langdon
for Railroad Commissioner

I Will Appreciate Your Continued Vote and Support for Sheriff in the May 2 Democratic Primary

First, may I express my appreciation for the fine cooperation the people of this county have given me while I have been your Sheriff.

I am asking you to re-elect me solely on my record in handling the law enforcement duties while I have been sheriff. I have tried to be fair and just with all people handled through my office, seeing that each one is informed of and receives all the rights given him under the law. I will continue to abide by this principal as long as I am your sheriff.

I believe prevention of situations that may breed crime is where law enforcement begins, and you are aware through the papers and TV that this county has a lower crime rate than most. Your co-operation has helped make this possible.

If you have any question as to the operation of my office, I hope you will come in and discuss it with me. In the meantime, if I have missed seeing any of you, please take this as my personal request for your support and vote.

Loyalty Day Proclamation

By Act of Congress in 1958, May 1 of each year has been designated at National Loyalty Day. For the past twelve years the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States have sponsored patriotic observances designed to make May 1 (May Day) a "Loyalty Day" for every American.

Loyalty Day is set aside as a special day for the reaffirmation of loyalty to the United States of America—for the recognition of the heritage of American freedom—and calling upon officials of the government to display the flag of the United States on all government buildings on Loyalty Day—and inviting the people of the United States to observe Loyalty Day in Schools and other suitable places, with appropriate ceremonies.

WHEREAS, the V.F.W. has in recent years won ten consecutive Freedom Foundation Awards for its untiring and diligent Loyalty Day and similar Americanism programs seeking to rid this country of all Communist and other un-American groups and philosophies, now

THEREFORE, I, Hiram L. Cudd, Mayor of the City of Wellington in the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim and designate May 1st as Loyalty Day and respectfully ask the entire citizenry of this community to render a special tribute to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and wish it God speed in all its future endeavors.

Dunson Explains War Orphans Education Law

"There appears to be considerable confusion concerning the entitlement of many war orphans to educational assistance, as provided by federal laws," Riley Dunson, veterans service officer, declared this week.

He also gave a clarification of five major areas of misunderstanding, which he believes may be keeping eligible children of deceased service men or veterans from applying for educational benefits.

1. The fact that one parent still lives makes some children believe that they do not qualify as "orphans." For this benefit, an "orphan" is a child whose veteran-parent is dead as the result of a wound. accident, or illness attributed to service in the Armed Forces of the United States.

2. The fact that the dead parent had no wartime service makes others believe they are ineligible. If the veteran-parent's death resulted from the performance of duty or from extra-hazardous service during a period of peacetime service, the child is eligible.

3. The fact that they are married makes some believe they are no longer "children" under this law. Marriage does not affect eligibility under the war orphans program, Any son or daughter of a serviceman or veteran, whose death is attributable to his service as outlined in item 2 above, is eligible for the educational benefits provided he or she is between 18 and 23 years of age. There are some exceptions to these age limits and full details may be obtained from Veterans Service officers or from the Veterans Administration.

4. The fact that their living parent, usually their mother, has remarried and their stepfather has legally adopted them makes some children believe they are ineligible. In reality, the marriage of the living parent and the subsequent adoption does not affect the eligibility of the children. Under the law, a child of the veteran remains a child of the veteran, regardless of the fact that the child may be legally adopted by someone else.

5. The fact that many children do not wish, nor are they prepared for education at the college level makes some believe they cannot take advantage of this benefit.

Although training for a high school diploma is not permitted, eligible children may take vocational courses and other non-college training that will help them earn a living.

In many instances, children are eligible for educational assistance under the provisions of the War Orphans Program, although for some reason or other they have not applied for benefits.

Even though it appears from first study of the fact that a child does not meet the provisions of the law, it is still incumbent upon us as Service Officers to encourage the filing of any application. The VA is permitted to make an official determination only after a formal application has been received from a claimant. Urge these children and their mothers to file application for War Orphans benefits.

Plants May Eat Better Through Their Leaves

COLLEGE STATION.— Fertilizer applied to the leaves of plants is sometimes more effective than when spread in the root zone in the conventional manner, says County Agricultural Agent Cecil Regier.

Though it is possible to supply only a small portion of the total nutrition needed by the plant in this manner, he adds, if a foliar fertilizer spray is applied at precisely the right time. outstanding results can be obtained.

Research conducted to correct specific nutrient deficiencies and to provide nutrients at critical growth periods have proven beneficial. Almost all crops respond to a foliar spray of nitrogen, and show a slight response to phosphorus and potassium, according to Regier. He also says that crops in many areas of the state respond to foliar application of certain micronutrients, like iron and zinc.

He continues that probably the greatest value of foliar feeding plants would be with crops where certain deficiencies can be corrected easily by spray treatments, where spraying is already an established practice, where total leaf areas are large, and where there is a great demand for nutrients at a certain time; such as during flowering and fruiting.

Precautions for foliar applications that Regier lists include limiting the fertilizer salt content to 2%, because leaves can be damaged by high salt concentrations. He also advises that certain plants, especially strawberries, should not receive foliar sprays during the heavy blooming period.

Frill Courses to Be Abolished

Texas Commission on Higher Education allocated $3,980.000 in appropriations to meet student enrollment increases in the twenty state-supported senior colleges for the coming school year.

At the same time, the Commission took a step toward higher standards in the state colleges when it moved to abolish state financial support for "questionable" or "frill" college courses, including:

1. Courses not counted toward graduation requirements;
2. Tour or travel courses;
3. Certain "work experience" courses;
4. Dramatic and forensic activities not in regularly organized classes;
5. Courses devoted exclusively to learning the operation of one or two simple business machines;
6. Social and self-improvement courses;
7. Remedial courses on the high school level not carrying college credit;
8. Orientation courses aimed at counseling or guidance of freshmen students.

Commission approved recommendations to strengthen graduate and research programs in the North Texas area and authorized new third and fourth year courses for Angelo State College, San Angelo.

Washing Machines Most Popular Appliance Buy

A recent survey by the Census Bureau shows that 16.8% of the families in the nation plan to purchase one major household appliance during the next few months, reports Mrs. Eula J. ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION TAUGHT

Two approved methods of applying artificial respiration as taught in the Red Cross First Aid Class are demonstrated here. The "victim" is Billy Britton, while Glenn Norman works over him. Both are members of the Fire Department, which sponsored the course.

New Methods

16 Finish Red Cross First Aid Training

Sixteen Wellington men and women completed the 10-hour Red Cross First Aid Course last week and will be awarded certificates, Fire Chief Buster Hughs announced.

Members of the Fire Department, townspeople and high school students were included in the class, taught by Ed Schaffner and Loyd Pool, members of the Shamrock Fire Department.

Considerable time was given to first aid treatment for heart attacks, burns, and artificial respiration.

One of the newer approved methods of artificial respiration, heart massage, was taught. In this method, pressure is applied on the breast bone, pushing it inward as much as two inches, then releasing it suddenly.

But the Wellington group was told that mouth to mouth artificial respiration is the most accepted, as it can be used on anyone at any place and it is not necessary to have the patient on a flat place.

The Shamrock firemen, at the last session, described their experiences in caring for victims at the explosion at the Celie plant near Shamrock two weeks ago, in which five men were critically burned. They explained how a framework was built to hold sheets off the burned bodies of the men in transporting them to an Amarillo hospital.

Registered for the course were Billy Britton, Joe A. Coleman, Hiram Cudd, Wayne Cudd, John T. Forbis, Earl Ford, Leon Hartman, Buster Hughs, Jimmie Kelso, W. T. McAdams, Glenn Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nunnelley, Vernon Rudy, Rie Schneider, Beth Sikes, J. P. Sikes, Walter Williams, Alton Wilkins, Billy Williams, Elvis Pitts, J. B. Oney, Mrs. Billy Britton and Mrs. Joe Terry.

Overcast Head Coach at Miami

Lawrence Overcast, former Samnorwood all-state basketball star, has been named head football coach of Miami high school, replacing Bill Hines, who resigned. He had been basketball coach and assistant football coach since 1962.

This will be Overcast's first head football coaching job, although the long-time cage coach has been an assistant grid coach at several schools while completing a brilliant basketball record.

A native of Samnorwood, where he was an all-state basketball player and district shot put and discus champion, Overcast went on to West Texas State, making All-Border Conference in basketball and graduating in 1956.

He became head basketball and assistant football coach at Vega, and then went into the Army as an officer in the physical education program.

After service, he went to Quail as head coach in basketball, baseball and track, setting an all-time school record for cage victories in one year —27.

Moving to Canadian as head basketball and assistant football coach, he won the first boys basketball district championship in Canadian history, setting an all-time school record of 26 wins and six losses.

Overcast came to Miami in 1962, as assistant to Hines in football as they won the District 5-B grid championship and then producing both boys and girls district basketball champions that year, with the boys going to regional finals before losing to state Class B champion McAdoo.

This year, Overcast's Warriorettes went to regional finals, losing to Roosevelt.

Overcast is married to the former Betty Jean Reed of Clarendon. They have two children, Ronnie, 7, and Tamara, 5.

SCD Coops Set Up Income Sources

Tickets on Sale for Fandangle at Palo Duro

The box office for mail orders for tickets to Fandangle will open on May 1, 1964, and the mailing address is Fandangle, Box 268, Canyon, Tex.

This is the western satire which is to play in the Palo Duro State Park in the new amphitheatre there on June 11, 12 and 13. It will be an opportunity for the people of the Panhandle to see how the western life and traditions look on the stage of an outdoor theatre which is so magnificently located.

Buses, cars, buggies and wagons of all kinds will head for the Palo Duro Park June 11, 12, 13 just before sundown. As the stars come out, the delightful western musical Fandangle will bring gaiety and reality of pioneer life to the theatre which was built by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Many clubs across the Golden Spread have arranged for buses and caravans of cars to bring groups of men, women and children from all over West Texas to see the three performances of Fandangle. This delightful musical show inspired by early life at Fort Griffin, Texas will be a financial benefit for the Panhandle's own pioneer story which is to be ready in 1965, and for the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation which will produce it.

The buggies and wagons that come to the theatre will form a background for the pageantry part of the show.

Fandangle was written and produced by the community of Albany, Texas, and as it has been recreated through the years, it has attracted a tremendous following. Robert Nail, the author and producer, will bring forty members of the Albany cast to the Panhandle.

Then he will select talented actors, dancers, singers, animals, and equipment in shape to be driven at high speed to complete the spectacular presentation of western life in song, dance and story.

Nail will be in Canyon May 10 to start bringing together all the delight of the Fort Griffin Fandangle and our local talent.

In order to attend Fandangle, write to Fandangle, Box 268, Canyon, Texas.

Enclose payment and self-addressed stamped envelope. Chairs will be $4.00 a piece and seats on risers will be $2.50 each. All seats will be reserved.

Tickets will be sold across the counter at Cooper & Melin in Amarillo after May 18, and at the Heritage Foundation office in Canyon, 415 16th Street on the square.

Texas general revenue fund deficit as of April 13 has risen to $38,800,000, State Treasurer Jesse James calculated, with balance in all state funds at $178,100,000.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM, COMFORTABLE, TOO

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at Saied's Department Store, ttelephone 447-5747.

Waco Judges Help Appeals Court Here

The Texas Supreme Court, apparently feeling that the docket of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo is overloaded, has directed the 10th Court of Civil Appeals in Waco to lend a helping hand.

Two members of the Waco court are in Amarillo today hearing oral arguments in the cases alloted them. The two judges are Chief Justice Frank G. McDonald and Associate Justice Frank M. Wilson.

The Texas Supreme Court in equalizing the dockets of the civil appeals courts in the state has assigned 13 of the appeals filed in Amarillo to the Waco court.

Under statute the cases must be heard in the court in which they are filed. For this reason the Waco judges are hearing arguments in Amarillo.

Elmo Payne, clerk of the Amarillo court says the Amarillo judges heard oral arguments in nine cases on April 6-7 and currently are working on their decisions in those cases.

The Seventh Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo encompasses the largest Supreme Judicial District in the State of Texas—with 46 counties, Payne explained.

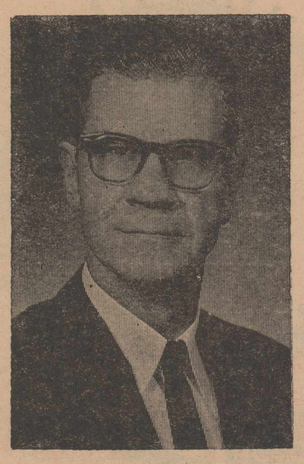
FOR DISTRICT JUDGE 100TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT



Neither my opponent nor I were ever defeated for County Attorney — neither of us had an opponent.

In order to be licensed to practice law in Texas every person must pass the State Bar Examination, without regard to law schools attended. I passed this examination and was duly licensed in April, 1947. Since that time I have served as District Attorney, County Attorney and City Attorney and have been actively engaged in the practice of law.

I served as official Court Reporter for this District Court from August, 1941, to September, 1947, with leave of absence for military service. Previously, I served as State Representative.

In conducting my campaign I have sought to exemplify the same qualities of honor and integrity essential to the proper performance of the duties of a District Judge and in accord with the highest tradition of the jurist.

Your vote and support is solicited on the basis of my own qualifications, and on this basis alone.

I have managed my own campaign and spent my own money in the race. If elected, I will be in a position to perform the duties of the office impartially and in all good conscience toward God and man.

Respectfully submitted,
ALLEN HARP

Bargains galore in every store on May 1, 2 and 4. This rhyme may not be poetry, but it is a fact for Wellington this week end. The merchants have gone all out in promoting dollar days this month. Just name it and you'll probably find it advertised in this issue.

Over in Russia the government newspaper Izvestia complains that Soviet advertising is boring and cites such examples as: "Tea is a tasty and useful drink" and "Use the railway transport". When you get to thinking about it that is not very alluring advertising appeals. It may take a hundred years, but those people will have to turn capitalistic if they ever produce enough food and fiber or move merchandise.

Election time has slipped up on us and next Saturday is the day. There was a time when election day would have brought a tremendous crowd to town. They stayed until midnight with Tom Benge and Joe Hardy selling ice cream sodas and banana splits by the hundreds and Bill Burden dishing out the hamburgers and the near-beer, and people flocking around the newspaper office to get the state returns that were sent by wire by the Texas Election Bureau. The radio and TV have taken care of that; but it will pay you to stay open a little later than usual because people still come to town to learn the outcome of the county races.

Four years ago this county gave Preston Smith of Lubbock a resounding majority over several opponents in the first primary and they will undoubtedly do the same thing this year. In addition they will probably give the same majority to Gov. John Connally who has made an excellent governor in spite of what that Childress editor says. In fact Morris Higley may have made the Governor more votes than anybody else around here. Mr. Higley is disgruntled because the Governor combined the Fish, Game and Oyster Commission with the Parks Board. It put Morris out of a state job.

Across the line in Oklahoma, they say that Bud Wilkinson will be nominated in the first primary. That is where the gentleman needs to be—in politics and not running around all over Texas recruiting our best football talent. Of course we had to go over to Hollis to find a coach so I guess it is just another case of the pot calling the kettle black.

Texas' most famous winter visitors, the whooping cranes have left on their 2,500 mile trip to the far north and here is hoping they increase in numbers this season. A pair in the New Orleans zoo have raised four young ones in recent years and now they are going to try the same thing in San Antonio. The race between propagation and extinction is a tight one for these majestic birds.

Hayrides often cause a lot of talk afterward, but the one that caused the most talk in Wellington is the one that didn't happen last Friday.

Co-op Members Told to Tell Own Story

Greenbelt Electric Cooperative. Inc., members should know about their cooperative that is their own business and tell other people about it, they were urged by Jim Cobb, general manager of the Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., as he spoke at their 25th annual meeting Friday, April 24.

Cobb's talk followed a business meeting in which members heard a report of their cooperative for the last year and re-elected three directors: Selba Rainey of Lutie, District 3; A. J. Garland of Clarendon, District 6; and elected one new one, Harold White of Hedley, District 7.

Many people are confused about the name and confuse electric cooperatives with the various alphabetical government agencies, Cobb reminded.

"This is a local business that borrows money from the Rural Electrification Administration," he declared. "Many don't give the local organization credit. when it did it all."

Electric cooperatives have grown from their own strength to what they are today, he told the Greenbelt members.

Garland, president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting, and Fred Bourland, secretary, read the minutes of the 1963 meeting and other reports, and Selba Rainey gave the financial report.

George Henry, Greenbelt manager, introduced the cooperative's employees and later gave the manager's report.

Entertainment was by the Quail high school chorus, which has sung for the meeting 12 years.

A near-capacity crowd filled the community building auditorium.

Demo Women Offer Rides

The Collingsworth County League of Democratic Women will furnish transportation to elderly people or anyone in need of transportation to the polls on Saturday, May 2.

This will be another community service of the League, according to Mrs. John Coleman, president.

"If you are in need of the transportation, call me, phone 447-2188. I will in turn send some one to your aid. You should request the transportation before noon Saturday," Mrs. Coleman said.

VFW Sponsors Loyalty Day on May 1

May 1 is National Loyalty Day, and the Glyn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is asking all business houses in Collingsworth county to display the United States flag.

The announcement was made jointly by Commander Raymond Horton and Louis Berg, District 13 trustee.

"Loyalty Day is set aside to inspire greater love of country and for a re-dedication to the principles of Freedom," Berg declared.

For the past 12 years the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States have sponsored patriotic observances designed to make May 1 "Loyalty Day" for every American. That day was officially designated by an act of Congress in 1958.

All city residents who have flags are asked to display them, Horton said.

Not only are the teachers and trustees of Quail included, but those of the 13 school districts that were consolidated to form the present Quail district, the superintendent explained. The school was consolidated in 1935.

Banquet Saturday Evening Honors Eighth Grade

Eighth grade students had their "Evening in Paris" Saturday, April 25, as they turned the community building into a sidewalk cafe for their traditional spring banquet.

The Eiffel tower was the focal point of the black and white decorative scheme, but duplicated by miniature towers on each of the tables for four. Spring flowers were used to complete the decorations.

Patriotic Theme

Norwood Elementary Program on Friday

A patriotic program, "The Pageant of Our Flag," will be presented by Samnorwood grade school students as their spring entertainment Friday, May 1 at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Approximately 150 boys and girls will take part.

At the colorful climax, the flags of the 50 states and the commonwealth possessions of the United States will be on the stage together, each held by a young student, who has identified the state and told when it received statehood.

Nearly 50 children of the first and second grades will open the program with a flag drill, using only the flag of the United States.

Children from the third grade up will be flag-bearers and form the choir. More than a dozen songs of patriotism, some of them tied to the nation's history in the making, will be sung, along with two hymns, 'Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" and the Doxology.

The soloist will be Cecilia Snear, who will sing the inscription on the Statue of Liberty, "Give Me of Your Tired, Your Poor . . . " by Emma Lazarus and set to music by Irving Berlin.

The narrators will be Karon Cunningham and Kenneth Wischkaemper. There will be two other speaking parts, by Laura Whitson and Rita Lackey.

Mrs. Jack Lowry is directing the pageant and is pianist. She is assisted by Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. Minor Hiett, Mrs. Barney Walker, Mrs. Charley Hill, Mrs. Ed Dwyer and Loyd Stephens.

Rockets Start Spring Work

With a golden year of athletics behind them, the Wellington Skyrocket grid team this week turns its eyes on next year's work.

Coach Don Beck said the football players will meet for the last period from now until the end of school.

Under Interscholastic League rules, they do not wear pads and work-outs are limited to passing, punting, running, drills, etc.

Athletes Do Well in Region I Competition

The two members of the Wellington high school tennis team, Betty Courtney and Bill Spillman, advanced to the finals of the Region I Interscholastic League competition before losing out to two opponents from Marfa Saturday, April 25.

One member of the track team, Bryan Hatch, placed third in the 120 yard high hurdles, and other members of the team ranged from seventh to eleventh in the various events.

Team-wide, the track men were 20th in a field of 48, according to Coach Don Beck. This is considerably better than their record last year.

Playing in the Class A girls singles, Betty defeated a girl from Rotan, then another from Sanderson before losing to Marfa's Diane Baker 3-6, 6-0, and 6-3 in the finals.

Spillman, competing in the boys singles, won over boys from Idalou and Seagraves then lost to Ronnie Webb of Marfa 6-0, 6-0 and 7-5. Baker placed second in the state last year.

Betty advanced to the regional finals last year before being defeated. Bill placed second in the district in 1963.

Both are juniors and have one more year of tennis competition, according to tennis coach E. W. Clement.

Hatch's time for third in the high hurdles was 15.3.

In the 180 yard low hurdles, Hatch placed ninth and Danny Martin was eleventh.

Joe Rudy was 9th in the shot put; Kenneth Patterson was seventh in the pole vault; and the mile relay team placed tenth. Members were Olan Moore, Gary White, Ray Floyd and Patterson.

Lynn Wolf placed eleventh in the mile run.

Region I includes an area extending from Wichita Falls to El Paso, south as far as Abilene, and all the Panhandle.

ELITE CORPS

Only the upper 15% of Texas high school graduates ought to be taken in the state's top universities, the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has been told.

FIRST WHS GOLF TEAM

Official Memorandum

By

JOHN CONNALLY
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The right to vote is a treasured instrument of a democracy, and a solemn responsibility on the part of every American citizen of voting age. Unfortunately, it is a responsibility that is often treated lightly, for many eligible voters consistently fail to exercise their right and duty to cast their ballot.

Texans will vote in the primary elections on May 2 to select their nominees for public office at the local, state and national level.

On the same day the party precinct conventions will be held to select delegates to the county conventions and to consider resolutions affecting state and national policy. These conventions are the genesis of our entire political and governmental structure.

It is vital to our state and nation that as many persons as possible participate in these essential functions of representative government.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate Saturday, May 2, 1964, as

and urge all eligible voters to participate in the primary election and precinct conventions of the party of their choosing.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 20th day of April, 19 64

John Connally
Governor of Texas

Norwood Board Sets Graduation Requirements

The board of education of the Samnorwood school, in a special meeting March 16, set up a policy for graduation requirements beginning with the 1964-65 school year. Announcement of the new policy was made Saturday by Supt. Orville Cunningham.

"Students have been permitted to carry five subjects plus a physical education for the last three years, and every student the junior year has as many as 15 credits, and some have as many as 18½ at the beginning of their senior year," Cunningham explained.

Requirements for graduation by the board are:

Four units of English, two units of math, two units of science, two and one-half units of social studies, two units of physical education, two units of agriculture or homemaking, and five and one-half units of electives.

"As many as two correspondece or two summer courses or a combination of these totaling two units will be allowed," the superintendent said.

The basis for these will be (1) an emergency. as when a student is expelled from school or is required to leave school because of finances or hardship; (2) enrichment, not for advancement, as when required subjects conflict or when the semester load would be too heavy to allow students to take all the courses he or she desires. These courses will be accepted only when an approved plan of graduation is followed.

Correspondence or summer courses may also be taken for make-up or to repeat grades if the student has failed; or if he is unable to schedule enough courses at Samnorwood, as is sometimes the case with a student transferring in.

Any case not covered by these requirements must meet the approval of the administration and board of education, Supt. Cunningham said.

Elm Leaf Beetle Control Work Outlined

It's time to start control measures for the elm leaf beetle. This pesky insect caused severe damage to elm trees in this area last year—and can be expected to do the same this year.

County Agent Cecil Regier says the insect overwinters in sheltered places such as plant debris or buildings where it can get protection from the weather. Several of the beetles have been found in local houses and buildings the past month. In the spring they emerge and fly to elm trees with unfolding leaves. Here they feed and lay eggs. When the eggs hatch the larvae emerge and begin feeding on the leaves.

The destructive insect can be easily controlled if chemicals are applied at the proper time. Chemicals that can be used include malathion, Sevin, chlordane, Dieldrin, lead arsenate, DDT and toxaphene. The safest ones to use are Sevin and malathion — especially if used around the home.

The chemicals should be applied soon in order to prevent tree damage. Also, early application is essential for good larvae kill, as young worms are much easier to kill than old worms. When applying the chemicals, use sprays rather than dusts when possible for better overall chemical coverage. Spray the base of the tree, in addition to the foliage, to eradicate worms coming down the trunk to pupate on the ground.

For additional information, call or come by the County Agent's office. Ask for a copy of Extension publication L-199

I am familiar with handling renditions, assessments and collection of property taxes, the procedures for handling car tags, titles, and other papers, as well as the many other duties of this office.

I am aware of the great responsibility this office has to the tax payers and I am ready to accept that responsibility. I will operate it as courteously, efficiently and conscientiously as I can.

I am trying to see each of you again before election, but if I miss someone, please take this as my personal request for your vote and your influence in my behalf.

A style show, a unique revue, "Hats and History," and a discussion of the ready-made garment industry will be three parts of a program "Clothing and the Consumer," Friday, May 1 in the Wellington school cafetorium.

It will begin at 2:30 p.m. and all women of the county are invited.

The guest speaker will be Miss Claudia Koobs of Fort Worth, regional representative for the Sperry & Hutchinson Company. She will show authentic reproductions of hats from the National Art Museum in New York and the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., tracing the history of millinery for 70 years.

Wellington merchants will have exhibits of merchandise.

Guests will be welcomed by Mrs. J. L. Alexander, chairman of the clothing committee of the county program building committee, which is co-sponsor of this program with the Home Demonstration Council.

Mrs. Bill Brewster will give a reading and Mrs. Barjenbruch will explain the purpose of the meeting.

Dodson Land Judging Team to State 4-H

The Dodson 4-H land judging team was declared eligible to compete in the state land judging contest at College Station June 6, after no opposition showed up at the District I contest in Canyon recently.

The team, composed of Dale Derrick, Cody Crosnoe, John Hightower and Mike Gulley, was the only team entered in the local contest, conducted by the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District supervisors, and received first place.

This is the third time in five years the Dodson team has competed on the state level.

Coaching the land judging team are County Agent Cecil Regier and Lynval Black of Dodson, himself a member of the team that won second place in the state.

University Gets Strange Gifts

Not all the private support given to The University of Texas comes from somebody's checkbook, UT's Development Board reports.

Among unusual—but useful—private donations received by the University during 1962-63 were (1) several hundred cattle, proceeds from the sale of which were used for research and faculty improvement at the Galveston medical branch; (2) a yacht for research in marine biology and oceanography at UT's Institute of Marine Science at Port Aransas; (3) a 40,000-specimen fossil collection for geological research, and (4) original scores from several Broadway musicals.

'Average' American Eats Six Pounds of Rice per Year

If we can believe national statistics, the "average" American consumes 6 pounds of rice a year.

Louisiana residents eat 30 pounds of rice a year, and South Carolinians rank next at 27 pounds, a recent USDA survey shows. Even these two states are pikers compared to Hawaii, where residents eat 113 pounds of rice a year.

SPRING FANCY—When it comes to support, a young man's fancy turns to springs—especially if the young man is a space man. These springs are used to support missiles in their underground silos. They are shown in Chicago Heights, Ill.

real danger, he insists, is that civil rights backers also may wipe out individual freedoms in their zeal for reform. He cites our experience since World War II with state enforcing agencies, which start unobtrusively but in time become aggressive, power hungry, and expansive.

Litigation patterns (he cites examples) are developing the idea that racial balances of schools and neighborhoods must be altered into a different ratio from that which has normally developed.

We are allowing liberty, Mr. Cummerford shows, to be subordinated to "equality."

Leaders of government, the press, of churches and of education are today giving more support and encouragement to mob action, he remarks, than to the maintenance of maximum freedom of thought and deed for individuals.

We may now be on the threshold of the era predicted by Orwell, when Big Brother watches to maintain the "terrible equality that is slavery," Mr. Cummerford suggests.

How can we disagree with his view that it is high time to ask ourselves where we are headed?

CIVIL RIGHTS OR WRONGS

Two very thoughtful expressions in the difficult area of "civil rights" recently have been called to our attention, in view of public interest in the legislation being debated in the Congress.

One was a speech by Associate Justice Charles S. Whittaker of the U.S. Supreme Court. The other was an article by a member of the New York bar, Edward F. Cummerford, which appeared in the "American Bar Association Journal." Both have been reprinted recently in "U. S. News & World Report" and they make very excellent reading for any thoughtful American.

What these two discourses seem to have in common is an implied warning that it is time for all of us to engage in some reflective thinking for ourselves about the so-called "struggle" for rights that rages in our land.

Our judgments will have to be tempered with concern for America and for the standards of decency and fair play that are American traditions.

These judgments ought also to be leavened with emotion derived from our basic respect for human dignity, but they must be reached with dispassionate reason. It is a very big challenge.

Such thoughtful observers as these are disturbed not simply because they see the disunity, bloodshed, and unrest. They are seriously concerned about what effect the turmoil, the divisive propaganda, the loose thinking, the arrogance of power politics will have on the soul of America.

They are concerned, too, about the net losses to the individual that are experienced in the total struggle. They think in terms of the future as well as the present. And they are convinced that it is time for some serious soul-searching and some questions about where we are going.

Justice Whittaker was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1957, and therefore did not participate in the school integration decision in 1954. Without passing personal judgment upon that ruling or even upon present arguments in Congress, Justice Whittaker has warned the nation against holding out false expectations for a panacea of law, or even the hope that a democratic government can be, or even should be, a "leveller" of its people.

His remarks particularly caution the nation to use prudent care in employing catchwords and cliches that appeal more to passion and prejudice than to reason.

In exploring some democratic fundamentals, Justice Whittaker finds that many persons misunderstand "equality of opportunity" and argue that everyone is entitled to permanent economic equality.

But our system, he patiently explains, was intended to permit the energetic, the creative, the thrifty, to rise as high as they will, so that each may "find his own level on the stairway to the top."

Men may find permanent equality only in Communism, but not without surrender of their freedoms and liberties.

Current tendencies for people to obey only laws they like, to act with haste to avoid the delays of "due process", to believe the end justifies the means—all are among the cliche arguments that he explodes.

Mr. Cummerford describes the relentless zeal with which some Americans and certain public agencies strive to wipe out all the "bias" and "discrimination" they can find. The

This Is the Year Athletes Stand Tall in Collingsworth

A year of athletic glory is near the end for Collingsworth county high schools, in which seven district championships in three classes were shared, and one more, baseball, remains to be determined.

When has that happened to us before?

The bulk of the honors have come to Class A Wellington, since it has the most teams, but Quail came in with a boys basketball championship in Class 9-B, and the Booker T. Washington girls track team not only won their district but went on to place second in the state, losing the championship by only one point.

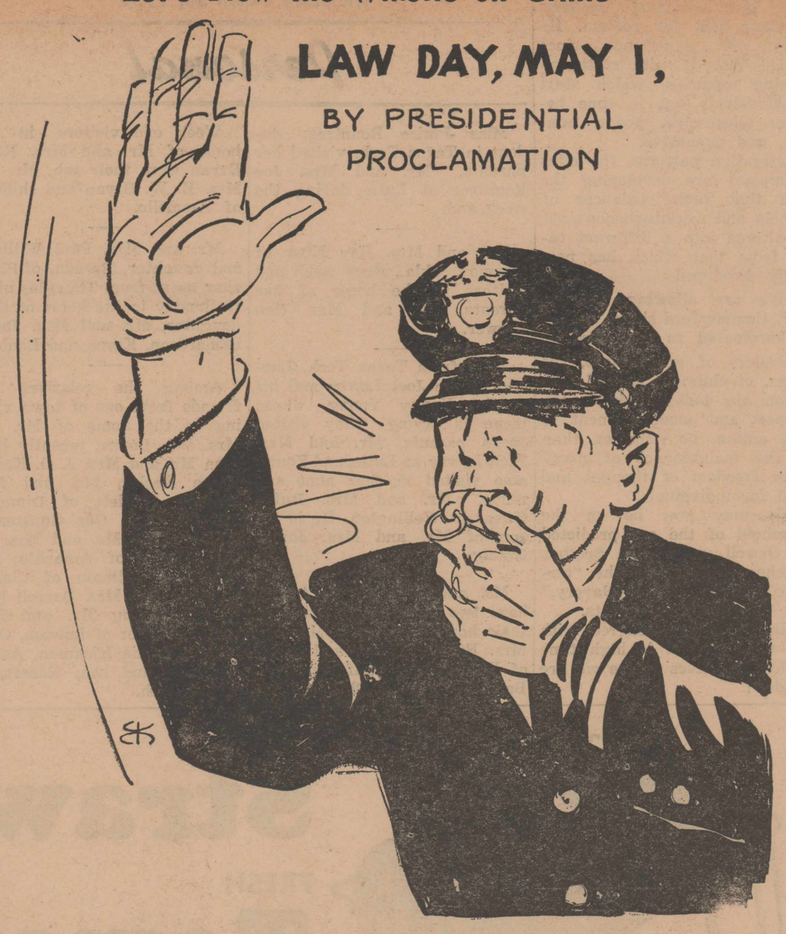
There should be pride in every heart for these young athletes, for never has physical fitness and stamina meant so much.

A closer look brings out something more. A surprising number of these athletic champions are also outstanding scholastically.

It would have been well if every athlete in the county could have heard Coach Berl Huffman of Texas Tech when he told the Wellington boys and girls there is no longer any place for mediocrity. Scholarship and athletics must go together, he told them bluntly. The course is fast and the race is getting faster, and students will have to work harder if they are to keep up.

In all the praise of teams, we who sit in the bleachers must not forget those who make the teams possible, the coaches. In every case in the schools of this county, the coach is also a classroom teacher, and in several instances also a school administrator. But this year these and all other obstacles have been overcome with glory.

Let's Blow the Whistle on Crime



Bratten Explains Service Cuts in Post Office

The limited adjustments in some postal services ordered in Washington March 10 by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to save $12.7 million will begin to take effect in Wellington and other cities May 4, Postmaster L. B. Bratten said today.

Parcel Post delivery service will be provided on a five-day week basis for the city delivery area. The rural and star routes will continue to give six-day service on the parcel post as well as other classes of mail. Wednesday has been designated as the non-service day for parcel post delivery in Wellington. Special Delivery, First Class Parcels and Air Mail Percels will be delivered as they have in the past.

Also effective May 4, only one consolidated stamp and parcel post window will be open on Saturday morning. The money order window will be closed and no money orders will be issued. Since the money order window will be closed on Saturday morning, all meter settings, trust fund deposits, and box rent collections will be transacted on week days.

The postmaster emphasized that no essential major services are affected under the orders. There will be no change in home delivery or special delivery, for example. Regular business mail deliveries will continue as usual. Letters and other first class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

The economy step, Bratten explained, is in line with President Johnson's programs under which the recent Federal income tax cut was provided.

Only two bridges connect Venice with the mainland of Italy.

Father of Mrs. Henry Injured

Jesse Shurbet of Floydada, father of Mrs. George Henry, is in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, for treatment of injuries received in a car accident about two weeks ago.

He reecived a broken leg near the hip, and while his condition is improved, he will be in traction several weeks yet before he can be placed in a cast, Mrs. Henry said.

The accident occurred when Mr. Shurbet's car hit a soft shoulder and went out of control as he was driving alone on a country road. No other car was involved, his daughter added. She has been with her father much of the time since he was injured.

In addition to having visited here many times, Mr. Shurbet also judged the first Quarter Horse Show held here in connection with the Fair.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the earthquake-shook citizens of Alaska are getting help from Washington, which consists of about 90% runaround and 10% cash.

But it wouldn't do, of course, for the federal money spreaders to go around pouring out Domestic Aid as spreely as they do Foreign Aid.

After all, they can't afford to corrupt good sources of tax money by getting them accustomed to free help every time they get disastered by some natural calamity like flood, earthquake, or April 15.

I see where the sub-war we are fighting down in South Vietnam is not going overwhelmingly in our favor.

Which my Southernfied neighbor says may be due to some of our leaders just can't put their whole hearts into a fight for any area which is South of somewhere.

Says it's been noticed that numerous North USAians have still got some Southernphobia in their systems, even after 100 years, but it might have taken a hundred centuries to breed it all out if the South had won.

I see where a Purdue professor has worked out a system whereby kids in the first, second and third grades can be taught Economics.

But my coffee-soaked economist neighbor says the good professor has failed to announce what type of Economics he is fixing to teach to these little children.

After all, there are two distinctly different branches of this science. to-wit: Economics with Your Own Money, and Economics with Other People's Money. And only the folks with official conflict-of-interest permits are entitled to practice both kinds.

I see where school teachers in some big cities are wanting combat pay and death-in-line-of-duty benefits because the kids are getting so aggressive.

It appears that some children and a few other people just haven't yet heard that modern social etiquette is to use Quiet Reason instead of force and threats in all differences except racial squabbles and tax collecting.

My pioneer pedagogue neighbor says some early day country school teaching was pretty hazardous, too, but amity usually prevailed where teachers used quiet reason and an axe handle.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with spring flowers cut from Mrs. Hightower's yard.

Family Size Farm Still Produces Most Food, Fiber

The family farm is the dominant producer of food and fiber in the U.S. today.

Music for the Dance and Drama Studied in Music Club Meeting

"Music for Dance and Drama" was discussed for members of the Wellington Federated Music Club by Mrs. Richard Nall, program director, on Tuesday evening, April 21.

Mrs. Mack Bush was hostess and Mrs. Bill Bradley cohostess.

Following her discussion of music for the dance, Mrs. Nall presented Karen Richardson, high school music student, who sang "Velvet Shoes," by Thompson. Joyce Holton was her accompanist.

"The Operatic Cook Book" was reviewed by Mrs. B. M. Sims, in which she gave summaries in verse of operas bearing womens' names: "Aida," (Verdi); "Salome," (Strauss); "Madame Butterfly," (Puccini) and "Carmen" (Bizet).

Mrs. Orville Vaughan then presented Miss Richardson as the junior musician of the month. and she sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Miss Holton.

The hymn of the month, "Come Ye Faithful, Raise the Strain," by John of Damascus, was led by Mrs. Hiram Cudd.

Entertaining rooms were decorated with arrangements of iris, tulips and bridal wreath.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. William Barjenbruch, Mrs. Cudd, Mrs. Claude Groves, Mrs. Glenn Hickey, Mrs. Jack Kopp, Mrs. Nall, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Bernice Welch, Mrs. John Holton, Mrs. Jack Durham, and the guests, Mrs. James Richardson, Mrs. Mildred Starr of Amarillo, Miss Richardson and Miss Holton.

Mrs. Crawley Entertains Club

The membership of the 1924 Study Club met April 23 in the country home of Mrs. R. R. Crawley.

Emphasis was placed on words as that day was the 400th anniversary of the birth of one who used words so eloquently—William Shakespeare.

The theme "Feminine Focus . . . on Colloquialism at Home and Abroad," afforded the members a chance to learn and to reminisce.

"Words," a very timely quotation from an anonymous author, was read by Miss Sara E. Jones.

Mrs. A. L. Elliott presented "Patois Internationale" as a medley of lingos. She explained that words come into our language in many ways—from foreign languages, myths, legends, from literary works and from slang. Through distortion or misunderstanding a word usage may eventually change. The audience was amused as Mrs. Elliott told of our "western lingo" and our "Texas talk."

Roll call was on word usage and grassroot expressions.

Attending was one guest, Mrs. Earl L. Bartlett, and members, Mmes. Edward Bawcom, Crawley, Elliott, Chester Fires, L. E. Gribble, Jack Moreman, B. M. Sims, J. F. Michael, Henry Vaughan and Miss Jones.
